The magic of Christmas begins for all of us when we are very young. A babe in arms responds with delight to twinkling lights on a Christmas tree. A toddler reaching for an ornament feels the spell. The rhythm of "Christmas is coming, the geese are getting fat. Please put a penny in the old man's hat."

intriguing child the year 'round. And, then we grow to sense the wonder of the Bethlehem story, as it is told to us in words and pictures.

From these early years, the experience of Christmas grows more through literature than through any other medium. For the adult, it may be more meaningful from each year's rereading or rehearing of the Bible. But for the child it will come from many writings, the most prominent being, "Twas the night before Christmas. . ."

Less known, but a great favorite with those youngsters from first hearing is "King John was not a good man," from King John's Christmas in A. A. Milne's book of poems, "Now We Are Six."

Laura Ingalls Wilder, in her "Little House" books writes from her memories of Christmas as a child. Christmas was frugal, but not forgotten by the pioneer families of the woods and prairie.

In "Little House on the Prairie," the story of Mr. Edwards' meeting Santa Claus tells of other delights, creating pleasures for adult readers as well as young listeners.

Some think that Mrs. Wilder's best writing, though, is in the story "Surprise," from "On the Banks of Plum Creek."

Another writer, Tasha Tudor, has charmed all ages with "A Doll's Christmas," which can be read and reread for all who love dolls and doll houses. Miss Tudor has often captured the special thrill of Christmas in her lovely illustrations in the long list of books she has written.

Some of the most poignant writing about Christmas is in the short stories of O. Henry, with "Gift of the Magi."

These stories, and many more, are to be found in the Independence Township Library: "Han Brinker and the Silver Skates," "The Little Match Girl," by Hans Christian Anderson, "The Southern Christmas Book" by Harnett T. Kane, and of course, Charles Dickens' immortal "Christmas Carol."

Big Lake Beavers

The monthly meeting of the Big Lake Beavers was held at the home of Mrs. Vincent Giacalone co-hostess Mrs. Marvin Jackson and Mrs. William Ovink.

The members all elected to donate towards Christmas toys for the children at the Pontiac State Hospital, electing Mrs. Robert Parrott as buyer for the toys.

The members plan to attend a Christmas luncheon at China City on December 19th.

The afternoon was spent working on aluminum tray etching. The hostess for January will be Mrs. Odin Johnson with co-hostess Mrs. Frank Kelly and Mrs. Marshall Gratz.

How To Make Someone Happy

Christmas is such a happy time of year with so much to look forward to that the spirit of Love and Good Will is in the very air we breathe. Its hard to imagine that this might not be true for everyone, but, sadly enough, that is the way it is.

Take for instance, some of the patients in hospitals and homes, who have either no relatives at all, or else relatives who have neglected or forgotten them. Such is the plight of at least 1,000 patients at Pontiac State Hospital and, also, for many at the Oakland County Infirmary. What will Christmas be for them without anyone to remember them, even with a card?

The Future Teachers Association would like to erase this gloomy picture, and they need your help.

Boxes will be placed in Local Stores for your convenience where you can easily slip a small, inexpensive gift, and these gifts will be collected and distributed to patients at both the Pontiac State Home and The Oakland County Infirmary, by the Future Teachers, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Purslow.

Stationery, envelopes, toiletries, kleener, games, books, combs, brushes, soap, toothpaste, ballpoint pens, paint-by-number sets, shampoo, socks, etc.

Some of the patients at the Pontiac State Home are youngsters (8 to 18) and would like anything that would delight a child or teenager.

Its so easy to take our blessings for granted, but stop a moment and picture yourself in their place. Wouldn't you be happy if someone remembered you on Christmas? So will they be happy if you remember them.

"Amahl and the Nigh Visitors" - First Methodist Church

"AM AHL and the NIGHT VISITORS," the Christmas play with music by Gina Carlo Menotti, will be presented at First Methodist Church, Clarkston on Sunday, December 10th at 7:00 p.m. This story of the three wise men and the little crippled boy which is given annually on NBC-TV is to be presented here by the Music and Drama departments of Mercy College, Detroit. Leading roles will be sung by Mary Beth Kennedy and Maria Gallagher, students at the College. The 3 kings will be Bruce Francis, David Lemelin and Dan Beggs.

Also on the program is the cantata, "The Childhood of Christ," by J.C.F. Bach. This is the story of the shepherds and their coming to the manger at Bethlehem. The role of Mary will be sung by Carol Jackson, a sophomore at Mercy. Two of the shepherds roles will be sung by Bruce Francis and Dan Beggs. Like "Amahl" this, too, will be presented in costume.

Musical Director for the production is Anthony Marlowe; drama director is Albert Zoltan, and choreography is by Mirzda and Oswald Lemanis, all members of the faculty at Mercy College. Mr and Mrs. Lemanis is also ballet instructors on the staff of the Clarkston Conservatory of Music.

Adele Thomas, Director of Music at First Methodist is accompanist for the College choir.

"BOBBINS" FROM BOB

by Robert Wilson

To satisfy my curiosity and to get straight in my mind what is going on at the school, I spent 2 hours with Dr. Greene last Friday. Our visit, at least to me, was very enjoyable and informative.

Did you know that the Elementary School principal has to share a space about the size of a large closet, with his secretary; that the sick bay is in the lobby; the speech class is in another very small room; the Band meets in the boiler room? These are all facts. I saw it and you can too, just by visiting the elementary building.

These are only a few of the reasons for the building of an Administration Building. With the Board of Education offices moving out, there will be a couple more class rooms, and the Board can do their work more efficiently when they aren't so crowded as they are now.

I would like to make it clear to my readers that the Board meetings are open to the public. You are free to look over the schools and ask the Board members any questions that may be bothering you. The meetings are held the second Monday of each month, at 7:30 p.m. in the first kindergarten room of the Elementary School. The next meeting will be this coming Monday, so let's see some people there instead of sitting home watching TV and hollering about what this group of fine men are doing.

Troubles, troubles, troubles! The assembling mechanism of the linotype (type setting machine), which is the part that puts the mats (letters) in order, decided to quit working Tuesday A.M. Why it had to be when I had an 8 page paper to get out, I'll never know. Well anyway, I got out my hammer and tongs and went to work tracing down the trouble. I found it all right. With idea in mind, down to Hawk Tool I ran. With some gracious help from them, I returned to the shop thinking the bloom'ing thing was fixed. But, no, so up I go to Bob's Hardware. Back again with a fist full of washers, but no dice. My last hope was Marty, at The Lake Orion Review. I called him, and he said to bring the part over. I tossed everything in a "bushel basket" and to Lake Orion I rushed. After some arm twisting, I persuaded Marty to let me take a part off one of his Lino's, until I could order a new part.

Back to the shop, success at last, it worked. Nevertheless, a whole day shot.

I want to thank all my readers and advertisers for being so patient with me through my troubles. A special thanks to Marty at the Lake Orion Review.

Cite 4-H Pair For Achievement

Hazel McCuaig Richard Foster

Two industrious Michigan college students will compete for scholarships at the 40th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30.

They are Richard Foster, 18, of Clarkston, a student at Kalamazoo College, and Hazel McCuaig, 18, of New Boston, a coed at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant.

The two won the state's top award for 4-H achievement and will vie for 12 scholarships to be given national achievement winners by the Ford Motor Company.

Ford donated an all-expense paid trip to the congress for Foster. Both Miss McCuaig and Foster will receive a special citation.

Foster will be among some 32 state delegates to the congress in Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Foster, who was reared on a 300 acre farm, has been an officer in a key post in the 140 member East Orion Club during all of his eight years in 4-H.

He won 11 previous 4-H awards in project competition. Miss McCuaig, a 4-H'er for six years, was acclaimed by her leader, Dorothy Sullivan, who said:

"Hazel often would let her own projects wait so that she could help other members with theirs. She has been an inspiration to many boys and girls."

Miss McCuaig, who has held several offices in her club, won 23 previous 4-H awards.

Wolves Win Opener- Thriller, 56-42
by Lon Howey
The Clarkston Wolves opened their 1961-62 Basketball season with an impressive 56-42 win over the Clarenceville Trojans. The Wolves started their season with an away game, but many Clarkston fans appeared in the stands. The Wolves' rooters were given something to cheer about as Clarkston dominated play throughout most of the game.

Clarkston jumped to a 16-5 lead at the end of the first quarter. Both teams added to their totals in the second quarter, but when the half time buzzer sounded, Clarkston came off the floor with a commanding 48-17 lead. The scoring efforts of Chuck Funk paid off as he scored 17 points in the first half to lead the Wolves' offensive attack.

When Clarkston came back out on the gym floor they resumed play with a 21 point lead. In the third quarter, Clarenceville came one point closer to Clarkstons lead while they scored 11 points as compared with Clarkston's 10. Chuck Funk was held to two points in the third quarter and saw no action in the fourth; however, the Clarkston offense was not dimmed as they produced an additional 8 points. The Trojans outscored the Wolves in the last quarter, but could not overcome the commanding Clarkston lead.

The Wolves finished the game 14 points ahead of the Trojans. Everyone on the Clarkston squad saw action but all did not score.

Director of the play is Peg Rickard, with Bub Crigger as Producer.

The game was tight throughout the first half, with Clarkston holding a 21 to 16 half time advantage. With Bob Yahnke leading the way with 10 points in the third quarter, the church team sped to a 10 point advantage at the ¾ mark and coasted the rest of the way.

In addition to Bob Yahnke, other former Clarkston High athletes are the Thompson brothers, Pete and Pat, Lanny Leak, and Dick Lippert; and Clarkston teachers Bob Mills and Bob Castele.

LIVELINESS AND LUXURY AT A LOW, LOW PRICE

NEW CHEVY II

Never before such a team of totally new cars! Sedans, hardtop, station wagons, even a convertible... you name it, Chevy II has it. Nine models in all now in production. They're easy on the eyes, easy on the road and easy on your pocketbook. Two spunky engines, a four and a six (your choice in most models), purr along merrily on regular gas—and darn little of it, too. Thanks to Monoplate rear springs, the ride reminds you of the big Chevrolet—and you know how smooth that is. The space and cushy comfort inside put you in mind of big cars, too. But Chevy II parts company from anything else around when it comes to offering all these fine features —at a sensible low price. Check your Chevrolet dealer and see for yourself.

CHEVROLET

CHEVY II 300 4-DOOR 3-SEAT STATION WAGON. Packs a whopping 76.2 cu. ft. of cargo.

CHEVY II NOVA 400 CONVERTIBLE. It's Chevrolet's newest and lowest priced convertible.

CHEVY II 300 4-DOOR SEDAN. Chevy II's saving ways in a practical 6-passenger family model.

Now... look 'em over and try one out!

CHEVY II NOVA 400 SPORT COUPE. Handsome hardtop with top-of-the-line go and glamor—at a pleasin' kind of price.

The concluding passage states: "Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. It is not well to imagine that Jesus demonstrated the divine power to heal only for a select number or for a limited period of time, since to all mankind and in every hour, divine Love supplies all good" (Science and Health p. 494).

It is not Christmas yet. It is still Advent. In terms of the cycle of the Christian year, we are still under the Old Covenant, still waiting for the promised Messiah. In spite of the urging of certain commercial interests upon us to think that it is already Christmas, the great festival is not with us yet. The time of preparation is still with us.

There is more to preparing for Christmas than merely getting your shopping, wrapping and mailing done. In order to enter into the true spirit of Christmas we must prepare ourselves spiritually for the mighty act of God we are to celebrate. This can only be done through study and understanding of the Scriptures, through worship and through private personal devotions, and in relating these to our lives. If we let Christ come into our personal lives now, this Advent of 1961, we will know in a deeper sense than we ever thought possible the true significance of Christmas Day.

The Episcopal Church in Clarkston invites you to join with it in preparing for the coming of the Savior, and in celebrating His arrival in Christmas.

Man

What a piece of work is man! how noble in reason! how infinite in faculty! in form and moving how express and admirable! in action how like an angel in apprehension how like a god! the beauty of the world! the paragon of animals!

—SHAKESPEARE, from Hamlet

Men may seem detestable as joint-stock companies and nations; knaves, fools and murderers there may be; men may have mean and meager faces; but man, in the ideal, is so noble and so sparkling, such a grand and glowing creature, that over any ignominious blemish in him all his fellows should run to throw their costliest robes.

—MELVILLE, from Moby Dick

Man alone, the king of this globe, the last and greatest work of the Supreme Being, below the sun; man alone hath basely dishonored his own nature...

—HENRY FRIELING, from A History of Tom Jones

FROM THE ASSISTANT EDITORS DESK

It looks as if the cold winter months are here to stay. Winter days aren't just shiver and shake times, they have their warm spots, too. Christmas and New Years Day warm the heart of many. Dozens of winter sports bring entertainment to a lot of people. Skiing, skating, bowling, sledding, basketball and countless other activities are all a part of winter.

December first opened the Clarkston basketball season and the action of this game provides thrills for many people. December also means that happy day of Christmas. Many hectic days of shopping precede Christmas, but to see a smile on the face of a small child receiving a favorite toy makes it all worth while. This day is awaited by thousands of people all over the world.

Do you remember last Christmas when you received that watch you wanted or that radio you wished for? How about when you received that tape recorder? Think how happy you were to be fortunate enough to receive that wonderful gift. Giving is also a part of Christmas. When you can see the expression of joy on the face of someone you just gave a gift to you probably felt as happy as he.

I can remember last Christmas Eve when our family went north to spend Christmas Day with some of our relatives. I helped my little cousin fix Santa a snack. She then hurried off to bed to wait for him to make his appearance. Late that night she awoke me and took me to the window. As we gazed out we saw a familiar figure silhouetted against the moon. As it made its way through the sky a deep voice echoed for miles around saying, "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

CHRISTMAS VACATION!

MYSTERY PERSON

by Cricket Embrey and Linda Keller

Can you identify this week's Mystery Person? He is 5' 6" and is a Sophomore. He has bright blue eyes and there is always a smile for everyone on his face.

His personal interests include drawing and designing cars. His favorite sports are baseball and bowling.

He is better known to most students by the nickname "Doc". Look in next week's paper to find out who this week's Mystery Person is.

Last week's Mystery Person was Bob Rutzen.

STUDENT POLL

by Connie Papi

Kathy Poehlman: "I would have liked it better if the girls didn't wear SPIKES".

Mike Howey: "I liked it and thought it was a very good idea."

Mr. Connors: "It is a very, very good idea. When students are dressed up they act much older."

Pat Jordan: "I think dress up day is going to extremes, because I think people should be properly dressed all the time."

Marty Madison: "I thought it was good and it made the appearance of the school look better."

Amy Barber: "I thought it was pretty good."

Mr. Bird: "I think it was a very good idea. It adds dignity to the school."

Dave Dengate: "I think it's a pretty good idea. Everyone looks better except when the girls wear spikes."

Nancy Gotschall: "I think it is a good idea, occasionally."

Raymond Roy: "I think it was pretty good. Everyone looked real sharp."

TOP NOTCH

by Sue Munsee
 The 1961 Hilltopper, due to a well organized yearbook staff, received an "A" rating at the annual yearbook grading.

The Hilltopper was carefully examined by yearbook specialists from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association in New York City. In order for a yearbook to receive the honor of first place, it must have within 850-1000 correct characteristics about it.

You indeed have the right to be proud of the 1961 annual; it was your Hilltopper that met the required standards, and ranked FIRST PLACE!

STRICTLY CORN

Friends are like blisters, they show up when the work is done.

Q. Why did the birds fly over the hill?
 A. It was too far to walk.

Q. Why do Eskimos wash in Tide?
 A. Because it's too cold to wash out-Tide.

Overheard at a P. T. A. meeting — The trouble with teenagers is that when you ask them what comes after 9, they tell you it's OPERATOR.

Q. What would the U.S. be if everyone owned a pink car?
 A. A pink car-nation.

A BETTER UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN STUDENTS

by Connie Papi

What do you think about yelling, pushing, and running in the halls? I think that students show bad manners when they go through the halls in this improper and most uncourteous way. Students should realize the difficulties teachers have teaching their students when suddenly a shriek comes from a person in the hall or when a loud noise comes from students running in the halls. If you are a victim of shouting or running in the halls then you should have more consideration for our teachers and fellow classmates.

Have you ever been taking a test when all of a sudden some of these discourteous students come running down the hall, shouting. This can prove to be very annoying. If these rude people would only realize the trouble the cause, and do something about it, our students would have a better understanding for each other.

Furniture Refinishing-

by BOB WILKIN

Having read my two preceding articles, you've climbed into some old clothes, taken the table to be refinished to the cellar, spread many layers of newspaper around, and opened all the windows. And you've bought a scraper and a semi-paste, which seems the most practical for the job you have in mind.

Q. Does neatness count?
 A. No. Pour the remover into an old can and really slop it on. The thicker the better. WAIT. If the finish is thin, test it in about 15 minutes by pushing a blunt instrument (corner of a small board, etc.) against it. If the instrument goes through to bare wood you can remove the sludge with a scraper and steel-wool pads.

If your finish is made up of several layers, the blunt-instrument test may inform you that your remover has not reached bare wood. Load up your old brush with additional remover and slop it over the old. WAIT.

Q. How about pieces that are simply varnished, shellacked or lacquered?
 A. Ten to 15 minutes ought to be sufficient.

On veneered and other fine surfaces, never use metal instruments for scraping. Even a putty knife with rounded edges can produce hard-to-repair grooves. As mentioned in the first article, it's worth your while to whittle out a wooden scraper shaped in the general form of a regular putty knife.

A cuticle stick or other small wooden dowel cut on a bias is first rate for getting the old finish out of turned rungs or deep grooves. And an old toothbrush dipped in remover is a help in curved and carved areas.

The edge of a metal scraper is helpful in digging the finish out of such areas when scraping with the grain. But when you have to work against the grain, use your wooden dowel in order to keep from fraying up wood fibers.

Q. After I get the finish off my table I find I'm still struggling with the stain. Apparently the wood itself had a base stain before any finish was applied.

A. About the only way to remove this stain is by applying a light coating of the remover and then rubbing with coarse steel wool. Finish up by washing the bare wood with a wood bleach.

Excel in 4-H Home Projects

Miss Arlene Crites, 17, of Albion, who redecorated her bedroom and helped her parents in planning the remodeling of their home, won the 4-H home improvement program award for 1961. The Sears-Roebuck Foundation donated her award, a trip to Chicago and the National 4-H Club Congress.

Arlene Crites

Kathleen Peppel

Miss Crites, a junior 4-H leader and camp counselor, previously won 20 other county, district and state awards in home improvement. She has been in 4-H seven years.

Kathleen Peppel, 18, of Standish, a student at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, placed first in the earning project, sponsored by the Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation.

She has been in 4-H for nine years and has completed a canning project the last seven years, winning five previous awards. She has canned 350 quarts of fruits, vegetables, jams, jellies and pickles.

The two girls will compete for scholarships that Sears-Roebuck and Kerr Glass will award to national winners in home improvement and canning.

The girls will be among Michigan's delegates to the congress, opening the "anday after Thanksgiving.

The congress each year is arranged by the Cooperative Extension Service, the National 4-H Service Committee and more than 50 of the nation's leading business firms.

Civil Rights

It is certain that the right of property is the most sacred of all the rights of citizenship, and even more important in some respects than liberty itself: either because it more nearly effects the preservation of life, or because, property being more easily usurped and more difficult to defend than life, the law ought to pay greater attention to what is more easily taken away.

—JEAN JACQUES ROUSSEAU

The only purpose for which power can be rightfully exercised over any member of a civilized society, against his will, is to prevent harm to others.

HOME ECONOMICS

by Margaret Keech
 In Miss Thayer's eighth grade Home Economics classes, the girls have been cooking. On Friday, November 24th, they made Butterscotch refrigerator cookies. And on Wednesday, November 29th they made different kinds of cookies and candy for Christmas. Some of these cookies were: cherry coconut cookies minced meat cookies, and many other kinds of cookies. These cookies will be frozen, then they will wrap them and take them home for Christmas.

LETTERS

by Virginia Vliet
 Tuesday the 14th, Mrs. Beattie brought over a hundred letters to school that her sons, Kirk and Kim, had received. The letters were from the President, his cabinet officers, governors and many other important men whom they had written to over the summer.

Some of the letters consisted of pictures of the men their autographs and literary pamphlets from the states they represented.

These letters were very interesting and all the history classes enjoyed them.

Mr. Wilkinson visited Mrs. Beattie's fourth hour history class the day the letters were shown.

He talked about the letters and some of the men with us. He also gave us some interesting facts about some of the men and their works.

Talking about the letters took up the whole hour, but they were very interesting to see and hear about.

Some of Mrs. Beattie's students also plan to write to many of the men in the letters and may even be able to find more to write to.

PER CENTS IN MATH

by Sandy Smith
 In Mrs. Richley's eighth grade classes we are starting to study per cents.

We saw a movie recently about per cents and how they are needed in daily life. It helped some of us. Most of the eighth graders had per cents in seventh grade so it really isn't new. Half of the class finds it hard while the other half finds it a whiz. (But we will all get it someday.)

POTTERY IN ART

by Star Bailey
 For the past few weeks, Mrs. Turner's Art classes have been making pottery, using the coil method.

Some of the finished pieces are on display in the showcase. Some of the students who have finished their pieces have started mosaics.

After all the pottery pieces are finished the Art Classes are going to make jewelry.

MAPS FOR GEOGRAPHY

by Joette Schultz
 Thursday, November 30th, Mrs. Parker's geography classes made maps of Italy. They showed the boat-shaped peninsula of Italy, the seas that border Italy, and the important rivers, mountains, and cities in Italy.

Mrs. Parker collected them, graded them, and handed them back. They had alot of fun drawing them.

The games in the stage league are played to seven points and are played on the stage.

The second kind, the gym league, is played when we have the gym.

tending and nineteen seventh graders attending.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday November 6.

SCIENCE

by Cindy Mosler

Mrs. Beach's eighth grade classes saw colored slides on the rising and falling of tides on November 29. These slides were taken at the Bay of Fundy in New Brunswick last summer by Mrs. Beach. Mrs. Beach sat for hours at a time waiting to get pictures of the high and low tides. They were very beautiful and I am sure they were very helpful to her students in the study of tides. Mrs. Beach has visited many places including Alaska.

SCIENCE REPORTS

by Marty Tisch

Mr. Hathaway's science classes have had a test covering the first two chapters of the third unit in the eighth grade science books. The test was given December 1.

The students are also having a science vocabulary test the first part of this six weeks.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN

by Carol Quertermous

Everyone at the Junior High has been moaning and groaning about various six-week tests again. But it's over now and report cards are out so we can start seeing happy faces around here again pretty soon. That is for a while until it's report card time again.

GYM CLASSES

by Margaret Keech

Mrs. Isola's seventh and eighth grade gym classes saw a movie on many different stunts. Some of these stunts are: jumping jacks, frontward and backward rolls, the turk stand, measuring worms, knee dip, heel click, and many others. The girls are being tested on each stunt.
