Typical Design Used in Schuler Type Restaurants

SCHULER STORY PART III

Mr. Schuler's system of menu control is much more complex than most. Devised by his executive vice-president, Michael E. Hurst, (a recent guest of the Clarkston Rotary) it's called "menu scoring". Under this system, the profit on each entrée on the menu is figured frequently. The restaurant also keeps careful track of the number of patrons who order each entrée. Figures for the entire menu are combined to provide a menu score. If the score slips Mr. Hurst starts going through the menu, item by item, to determine what should be done; some items may be dropped some added.

We will go now from the Schuler story to the type of buildings that house his restaurants, and how it would effect Clarkston.

In the pictures are the three buildings to be replaced by the Schuler restaurant also pictured, should the residents of Clarkston vote in a "liquor by the class" issue this coming Monday. The buildings are the first three north of the parking lot in Clarkston on the West side of M-15. The assessed value of this property now is $4300. Should Schuler build there the assessed value would be approximately $125,000. Thus, taxes would be higher, benefitting the village of Clarkston. It is estimated that the annual Schuler payroll for this restaurant would be $75,000 to $100,000, annually most of which would go to local people.

Clarkston Business Men's Association Urges YES Vote, Monday March 12, 1962

At this coming Monday's Village election the following proposition will appear on the ballot: Shall the sale of spirits in addition to beer and wine be permitted for consumption on the premises within the Village of Clarkston, under the provisions of the law governing same?"

The Clarkston Business Men's Association unanimously urges you to vote yes on this proposal. We are taking this stand in direct support of our main objective—community development. By community development we are not referring merely to the downtown business area. It is our belief that with the anticipated rapid growth in the area and the near completion of the new highway, that we are forced to face many changes whether we want them or not. This is no time for complacency. We feel that we must do everything in our power to keep our Village and our community a place of which we are proud.

The passing of this referendum vote is essential to enable Win Schuler Restaurant's, Inc. to locate in Clarkston. The timetable on this according to Mr. Michael Hurst, Executive Vice-President of Schulers would probably enable them to be open for business in Clarkston on November 1st, 1963.

Apparently there are some who are concerned about parking, water supply, sewage disposal, and other problems that might develop with the establishment of Schulers on the proposed site. It must be remembered that the Village Council has full authority to recommend transfer of this liquor license. This authority should be the guarantee to the people of Clarkston that the operational matters such as parking, sewage disposal, etc., are solved to the satisfaction of all concerned. The business men of the Village realize that the Council has full authority in the granting of this license, and we are confident that the Council would not approve it until these operational matters are solved to the satisfaction of all concerned.

It has been brought to our attention that some clarification is necessary in regard to just who is eligible for a liquor by the glass license in the event that this proposal passes. According to law there can be but one license for the consumption of alcoholic beverages on the premises for every 1500 of population or major factor thereof. At present a tavern license (beer and wine for consumption on the premises) is held by the Clarkston Cafe. The vote Monday is to approve the sale of spirits in addition to beer and wine."

Win Schuler's Restaurant's, Inc. has taken steps for securing an option from the Clarkston Cafe on the available license through acquisition of the business and leaseback. The net result of the transaction will be Win Schuler's holding the one liquor by the glass license available in Clarkston.

It must be remembered that the law protects the local citizenry by letting them control who gets this license through the Village Council. The law also protects us in that this license is subject to review yearly when it comes before the council for its annual approval. Your control is absolute and continuing.

When you come downtown to the Village Hall next to Ronk's Barber Shop on Monday to vote take a look at Schulers proposed site, adjacent to the Village parking lot. Observe what you see. Make your choice.

Keith Hallman,
President, Clarkston Business Men's Association

This giant replica of a Minute Maid orange juice can hangs over the freezer case in Rudy's Market to point out the sale on this orange juice.

Byron Converse of Paul Inman Associates, a Minute Maid representative, congratulates Mr. Rudy Schwarz, pictured with his son, Robert, on his fine promotion. Last year Rudy's Market was one of the many markets which helped Paul Inman Associates receive the Broker of the Year award from Minute Maid.

The can was made of brussels sprout crates roved with heavy paper, and hand painted.

The rose center-piece is a mail-in offer for Rudy's customers.

Clarkston Junior Varsity Basketball Team Goes Undefeated!

Coach Mel Vaara's boys just completed the most successful J.V. season in the history of the school.

All boys had a part in making this an outstanding team. Dan Craven was top scorer on the team, scoring 130 points, 16.3 average per game. After 8 games Dan was moved to Varsity.

Ken Miskin then took up some of the scoring slack along with the rest of the team, and ended up with 164 points, and second high on rebounds with 127. Ken's best game was against West Bloomfield, with 22 points.

After the boys left for varsity, the team really pulled itself together. Larry Gardiner showed everybody how to hustle more. He started scoring 13 to 15 points a game and took over some of the team leadership. Larry's best game was against Milford, scoring 15 points. Mike Bray started rebounding like he owned the boards, ending up with 214 rebounds and 120 points. Mike's high game was 18 points against Oxford. Mike controlled both boards in our last key ball game.

Dave Funk, a very good Freshman helped with the team leadership. He starting scoring 13 points a game. Dave led the team in assists, with 55. He was instrumental in winning many games late in the year especially Milford and Holly.

Jack Lundy joined the team half way during the season. Because of illness. It took Jack time to get into shape to play the fast game of Basketball. But finally his hard work paid off with 18 points in the Brighton game, also by making the only shots in the 2nd half of the Bloomfield Hill's game.

Jon Gary was the first sub to enter in the game. But, after two boys were lost to varsity, Jon stepped into the first team. Jon's greatest asset was his rebounding, getting ten key rebounds in the Bloomfield Hills game.

Skip Walker then became the first sub to enter the game. Skip's best game was against Clarenceville.

Tom Weber, Gary Bass, Steve Bolyea, Gary Pearson and Larry Faust had a part in making the season a successful one. They didn't score many points for the team on the score board, but they scored in many, many other ways. Manager was Dave Ingross.

Coach Mel Vaara is proud and happy to have coached this team toward an undefeated season.

A book review: "JAPANESE INN" by Oliver Statler (Random House, 1961; Pyramid paperback, 1962). In his account of 20 generations of innkeeping and history. Oliver Statler reveals the one entre to Japan which is most available to the foreign tourist or businessman—the Japanese inn. The book provides a valuable and delightful insight, an "inside Japan" to the traveler or reader who may feel, with some frustration, that Tokyo's big hotels, downtown department stores and restaurants, Osaka's office buildings, Kyoto's temples, are only exotic versions of similar sights and establishments in New York, Detroit or Chicago.

Statler spent eleven years in Japan as a civilian, working for the Army from 1947 to 1958. He came to know a particular inn well, the Minaguchi-ya at Okitsu. From documents, intimate conversations with his friend the innkeeper, and talks with the people of the town, the author reconstructs history from an unusual vantage point—responsive, sensitively and with charm and wit. The vantage point is that of the innkeeper's predecessors, who from their location on the Tokaido—the highway linking Kyoto, Osaka and Tokyo—were witness to the events large and small that make up the history of a people and a nation. Feudal lords, poets, priests, couriers with news of triumph and disaster, saltmakers and fisherman, slave salesmen and silk merchants, Dutch traders and Korean emissaries to life in the rooms and garden of the inn. Legends of love, spiritual turmoil, political intrigue; facts of pomp and poverty are in this lively record.

Throughout, Statler provides contemporary environment, accounts and glimpses of his stays at Minaguchi-ya. "I climb out of my hot shoes and into cool slippers—down dim corridors marked by gleaming, polished floors. The door to my room slides open. I kick off my slippers, feel the springy mats beneath my feet—maid appears with tea and cakes—great glass doors have been slid open to the garden—beyond I hear the sea. My bath is ready—the scoured wood room. Later—good food, fish from the sea, vegetables from the hill's, rice from the countryside. My bed of soft pads is laid upon the woven mats.—In the darkness I see them: warriors marching across Japan, lovers fleeing to a new life, pilgrim on their merry expeditions, great men going to or from the capital."

Statler's writing is vivid and deft; needs no pictures. But the book includes 48 woodblock print illustrations as a parallel chronology of people, customs and events—as well as of art styles.

George Lang Home Damaged By Fire

Interior Completely Destroyed

Spontaneous combustion was the cause of smoke and intense heat damage and the large gaping hole which was burned through the living room floor (see picture) in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Lang, Sr., 6185 Orion Road, Clarkston, Tuesday morning. An estimated $15,000 in damages was done to the house and contents.

A neighbor, Mrs. Carl Lindahl called in the alarm when she noticed the blackened windows & smoke coming from around the chimney of the Lang home. The Langs were on their way home from Florida when the fire struck.

Although there were no flames, the heat was so great it melted fixtures, paint and articles throughout the house. Furnishings and clothing were left covered with a thick, black, oily mixture thus ruining them.

The house was completely gutted leaving only the frame. Aside from the blackened windows, one driving by would probably never notice the house had been completely destroyed inside.

Paint and supplies stored in the basement were the cause of the spontaneous combustion. Due to the fact that the house had been closed up, flames didn't break out.

"BOBBINS" FROM BOB

by Robert Wilson

Following is a note I received the other day on which I would like to comment—"Frankly, don't you think you are imposing on your paid subscribers, giving so much front page advertisement for Schuler? Who is he, to deserve such "pressure"?—Possibly he is so, or at least some people may think so. My reason for the articles concerning Schuler is to show people, unfamiliar with the type of restaurants he operates, just what sort of a business they may or may not be bringing into Clarkston. Should a "liquor by the glass" vote be passed, it is important that the voters know what type of an organization may receive this license.

May I say in closing the issue, even with the articles this paper has run on Schuler and the vote Monday, we still receive a few calls from people wishing to know more about these two important articles. Whether you are for or against the ensuing issue, don't hesitate to call the News office (625-1611) for information. If we can't answer your questions we'll refer you to someone who can.

February Thaw A resident of Tappan Drive proved to his neighbors he means what he says. Everyone laughed when he said he was going to build a fire and melt some of the snow in his yard. Sure enough a neighbor called the News and said her "crazy" neighbor had built a fire to melt the snow. Just between you and me Mr. "Crazy" it sounded like a pretty clever idea to me.

The spiritual relationship of God and man will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Highlighting the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Man" is the Golden Text from Psalm 100: "Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture."

One of the citations to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states (p. 265): "Mortals most gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual, — they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite, — in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

D.A.R. Meeting

INDIAN TOOLS UNCOVERED
 Members of the General Richardson Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met Thursday at the Ottawa Drive, Pontiac home of Mrs. Maxwell Shadley. Regent, Mrs. Frank Allen, opened the meeting at 2:00 and it was decided to transport the Good Citizens girls and their mothers to the state conference in Detroit. They will all be entertained by the D. A. R. at the Statler Hilton Hotel on Friday, March 16. Mrs. Willard O'Laughlin, chairman of the local committee, will accompany them. Other delegates to the three day conference will be Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. T. V. Jackson, and Mrs. Everett Peterson.
 In her National Defense report Mrs. Allan Monroe advised members to observe the U.S. Bond drive to be held during May and June. Keep freedom in your future by buying bonds.
 The program featured the American Indian. Mrs. Eldon Gardner stated that the red man is a modified by climate Mongolian who came from Asia 10,000 years ago. Legend tells the Indian story of the Sleeping Bear Point, Mackinaw Island, and other Michigan places and things, and has been recorded by Henry Schoolcraft the writer.
 Mrs. Harry Bates took up the second phase of the account of more recent Indians. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bates live on their Sashabaw Ranch in Waterford Township in the summer. They made a new road and in the excavating unearthed a large quantity of curious stones. One had a smooth hole through it. Others were designed apparently for skinning animals, scalping and for scaling fish. Mrs. Bates feels sure they were walking on true Indian ground and that perhaps it was the hunting ground of the good Indian Chief Sashabaw. That friendly man was a true friend to the whites and his squaw helped people through the illness of malaria.
 Mrs. Maxwell Shadley finished the Indian program in showing slides and commenting on our Indian Schools in the West. Buildings and students in a D.A.R. school in the Pine Ridge Reservation at St. Mary's School in Springfield, S.D. The Daughters help also at Bacone College in Muskogee, Oklahoma.

Tips From the American Medical Association

Dogs are wonderful pets and companions. Just about every American family at one time or another has a dog. They're great company for the kids and the older folks enjoy them too.

But dogs are, after all, animals. Sometimes they bite. Often, if you or your child are bitten, it's at least partially your fault.

While training your dog in how to get along with humans, it might be well to train your children in how to get along with dogs, advises Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association. The child who treats a dog with proper respect runs much less risk of being bitten. A few simple rules will help to keep you from becoming one of the 600,000 Americans who were bitten by dogs last year.

Don't give a dog to a very small child, say under six unless you are prepared to be constantly on the scene when dog and child are together. The toddler doesn't realize that pulling the dog's tail, vigorous cuddling, trying to ride piggy-back, pulling his ears just aren't appreciated by the animal. Too much such attention and the dog may snap back.

Never allow the child to abuse or tease the dog. Check with your local branch of the anti-cruelty society for advice, or check out a library book on dog care and training. Make your child a partner in the training and care.

Let the dog alone while he is eating. Even the best trained of dogs resent interference with their feeding time.

Sometimes dogs, just like children, get over-excited running or playing. If the dog is running and barking while the child runs, or races on a bicycle, he might bite from sheer excitement.

Don't waken a sleeping dog abruptly. Startled, he may snap out.

Be careful in trying to separate fighting dogs. One or both of them may turn on you.

Learn these rules, teach them to your children and enjoy your pet. The dog wants love and affection. He deserves respect.
