Getting ready for a vacation trip couldn't be easier: just pick a Chevrolet, pack your family and go. And that first part is easiest of all with what your Chevrolet dealer has to pick from. The Jet-smooth Chevrolet, America's favorite family car, with a ride that only seems expensive; the Chevy II, about as lively and luxurious as you can get for a low, low price; the sporty Corvair, a rear-engine beauty that just refuses to be run-of-the-mill. One of these 4-doors (or a two-door for that matter) is sure to fit your family and budget just fine. Sookay-what are you waiting for?

early one million boys and girls 16 and 17 years of age, who should be in high school, are not. They have left their books behind and hang out in gnags on street concers, or work casually from time to time at low paid jobs. Few are equipped for regular employment. Many of them are habitues of the juvenile courts.

These are high-school dropouts.

They are a big problem now, and in a few years will be an even bigger problem. The U. S. Labor Department has estimated that within the next 10 years 7,500,000 youths will quit school before finishing high school. Educators are concerned about this prospect, unless the schools are able to provide courses that will keep these young people in school and train them for useful lives.

The number of jobs available for unskilled workers is decreasing year by year, because of advances of technology. But the number of people who will be seeking such jobs is increasing rapidly.

Why are large numbers of young people leaving high school before graduation and why is this problem considered so serious by educators and other civic leaders? Will your child be a high-school dropout?

This is one of a series of Michigan Press Association Education features published as a public service by The Clarkston News in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Education Association.

FALSIES FOR STEERS

Rodeo rider fastens a set of false plastic horns to steer prior to a roping practice. Fake horns are fastened by a chin strap, do not hurt the animal. Approved by the Rodeo Association, they solve the problem of finding scarce steers with real horns, according to Popular Mechanics for August.
