Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

It has been brought to the attention of our Board that an appeal to "Buck Cancer With a Buck" is being made though the taverns in this area.

This appeal is not the Michigan Cancer Foundation, your local cancer control agency, asking for more funds. When the residents of Clarkston gave to the United Fund they gave to the Michigan Cancer Foundation, an agency dedicated to research, education, and service to cancer patients.

Volunteers of the Michigan Cancer Foundation, under the direction of Mrs. Maynard Kizer, are carrying on a cancer control program in Clarkston.

High School students as well as adults in the community are learning about cancer — what it is, its seven warning signs, and the importance of early detection and treatment. Dressings, sickroom supplies, transportation to and from treatment centers, and professional counseling are available through our Service program. Research projects are supported both on a local and national level by your contributions to cancer through united giving.

Continued support of the Michigan Cancer Foundation through the United Fund is helping to control, and we hope someday conquer, this dread disease.

Glenn W. Bylsma, M.D., President Board of Trustees, North Oakland County Unit, Michigan Cancer Foundation

"So Says Sonja"

Peanut butter is for kids, not adults with false teeth. — What do you mean, you can't find the scissors? They're right on the table under the papers, in plain sight! — What is it mother always finds to do in the house while the rest of the family is waiting for her in the car? — Even with all the newfangled inventions, I can't seem to get myself and three children 'ready to go' in the same amount of time it takes Daddy to get ready. — Who ever invented the 2 and 2 1/2 bathroom homes, certainly had children. — I guess we're better off without a luxury such as a 'cloud like' carpet. Even with a $30 rug I can hardly keep the children from laying on the floor and watching TV. — Strange how much worse some small misbehavior looks when done by a child other than your own. — A football helmet is the one sure protection for a five year old boy, but is it needed in bed, too?

★ Brandon School News ★

By Bev Austin
Brandon High School students are very active. Last week they traveled to Ann Arbor, Flint and Linden, Michigan spreading the reputation of our fine school.
On Saturday, September 28, the Brandon High School marching band under the direction of Mr. William Gardner, attended the fifteenth annual Band Day at the University of Michigan.
One hundred sixty-seven bands made up the "world's largest massed band in the world's largest college stadium."

Loaded with instruments and forty-seven anxious band members, the buses left for Ann Arbor at 7:00. At 8:30, they met with the other participating bands to rehearse for the pre-game and half-time shows. The marching, which began at 11:45, was followed by the game of University of Michigan vs. Southern Methodist University.
The bands marched at half-time under the direction of the famed director of the University of Michigan Marching Band, Dr. William Revelli, and his assistant, George Carvador. Many well-known songs were presented. They were: "The River Kwai March," "You're a Grand Old Flag," "God of Our Fathers," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "America the Beautiful."

This was a great opportunity for the Brandon band members to play before thousands of people and to place the musical standards of our schools before the citizens of our state.
