BURGLARS DYNAMITE TOWNSHIP SAFE

$4500 Overlooked In Early Morning Raid

Dynamite was used to gain entrance into the treasurer's safe in the Independence Township offices early Wednesday morning.

According to Howard Altman, township clerk, $160 was taken from the safe while approximately $4500 in cash and checks was overlooked by the burglars.

Entrance to the building was gained through a basement window.

According to reports, the explosion was heard by some village residents around 5:30 a.m. The damage was discovered at 8 a.m. by William Wilson a township employee.

There was evidence of ruminating in the clerks office, although that safe did not appear to be tampered with.

The explosion broke several windows and forced bits of metal into the walls. A hole, 12 inches in diameter was the damage to the safe, as well as damage to many township records.

State Police and the Sheriff's Department are investigating.

"Fifteen Minutes For A Better Community"

The major aim of The Clarkston Area Junior Chamber of Commerce is community improvement. We need your co-operation in what is called The Citizens Attitude Survey. Through means of the survey we want to discover from you, the citizens of Independence Township, the areas which need improvement in our community.

Before constructing our questionnaire for this survey, we met with both Independence Township Officials and various administrators within The Clarkston School System. We also contacted many people from different sections of our township. From their comments and suggestions we constructed a checklist type questionnaire which can be completed in less than fifteen (15) minutes.

The results of this survey will be presented to the general public, as well as to the personnel directly involved in the areas covered in the questionnaire. Members of the Jaycees will then offer their assistance for improving current services, as well as for providing ad-

Benefit Skating Party Held

A benefit skating party was held by the Clarkston Neighborhood girl scout council on February 6th and 13th at the Clarkston Rollerade.

A total of 72 juniors and cadette scouts and 60 brownie scouts turned out to make the party a success.

Additional services such as recommended by the people of Independence Township in this survey. We will need your co-operation. If you receive a questionnaire from a Jaycee member personally or through the mail, please give it fifteen (15) minutes of your time for a better community.

Thank you. CLARKSTON AREA JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Clarkston Takes West Bloomfield; Downed By Bloomfield Hills

By Mel Vaara

Clarkston put a hole in the laker boat and sent them sinking by the score of 73-68. Bloomfield Hills took the fangs out of the Wolves by the score of 58-51.

In the 1st half of the West Bloomfield game, Clarkston played beautiful basketball. They ran and shot well, played defense and looked like the No. 1 ball club in the league. They left the half with a 20 point lead. The 3rd quarter was just as rapid as the 1st half, but Clarkston started to have foul trouble. Before the game was over four starters were sitting on the bench, Jon Gary, Ken Miskin, Dan Fife and Mike Bray. Dan Craven evaded the five foul limit and responded with 30 points. His 30 points put him 5th in scoring in Oakland County. With 4/5ths of the regulars sitting on the bench, West Bloomfield was able to score at will. The 20 point lead vanished to five before the game was over.

Clarkston was upended by Bloomfield Hills by the score of 58-51. Bloomfield Hills defeated Clarkston in the 1st two minutes of play in the game by scoring 8 straight points. The Wolves never recovered from the opening shock of the game. It was an even ball game from that point until the fourth quarter when Clarkston narrowed the gap to 5 points. But a jump ball violation was called against the Wolves and the momentum was lost.

Bloomfield Hills is now tied with Clarkston for the leap lead, with a record of 10-2. Bloomfield Hills plays Clarenceville at home, Holly away. Clarkston plays Clarenceville at home, Northville away. If both teams continue winning they will tie for the title. Clarkston shared the football title with Northville.

The big boy for the Wolves Mike Bray, played an outstanding game by scoring 18 points and leading the team in rebounding. Dan Fife played well and scored 11 points.

If the rest of the crew would have played up to expectations, Clarkston could have subdued the flashy barons. Bloomfield Hills played a hustling 1-2-3 zone defense, which resulted in sloppy play and many erratic passes thrown by Clarkston.

When Clarkston appeared to have some spark, Miskin and Craven missed numerous close-in shots. Consequently it took a lot of starch out of the Wolves. It changed the style of play of the Wolves, which resulted in poor defense, poor rebounding position and careless fouling.

This certainly was the "Week that wasn't".

JV Wins Two More Games

The J. V. team has upped their record to 12 wins and 1 loss by defeating West Bloomfield 50-41 and Bloomfield Hills 58-51.

In the West Bloomfield game Clarkston blew a 13 point lead and found themselves behind 38-36 at the end of the 3rd quarter. In the fourth quarter, West Bloomfield was held to 3 points and the J. V. scored 14 points, Clarkston won going away. In the 3rd period West Bloomfield scored at will when the defense fell apart — the zone press was working like a worn out iron. With a change in defense and rebounding position the team was able to win by 9 points. When a team is winning by 13 points and then loses the lead, it can crumble in all directions. This team thrives on competition and seems to do their best when the chips are down. Rod Allen led the team in rebounding (he controlled the boards in the 4th quarter). Scoring with 18 points King (dead eye) Robinson again came off the bench in the 1st quarter and scored 16 points.

In the Bloomfield Hills game they blew an 11 point lead in the 2nd quarter and Clarkston was able to tie them 28-28 at half time. In this game and especially in the 2nd quarter, the zone press was working like a rebuilt iron and it resulted in 10 quick points.

In the 2nd half it was a see-saw affair with the Junior Wolves winning by 7 points.

The game was led by the fine play of Mike Madison (it was Mike's turn to enter in the game as replacement for King) and responded with fine rebounding and 10 points. Tom Allen scored 9 points and led the team with assists and steals. Bob Bray scored 9 points and hustled every minute of play. The key to the victory was the foul shooting of Dave Osgood. Dave had 0 for 6 in the 4th quarter and 12 out of 14 for the whole game for a percentage of 86. Dave scored a total of 22 points, a fine out put for the sophomore boy.

Next Friday will be mom's night, a night the school honors all the mothers of the players and managers. We will be playing Clarenceville that night.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

This week is being observed throughout the country as Brotherhood Week, an annual event in which Americans are urged to rededicate themselves to the brotherhood of all men of all races and all religions.
I am wholeheartedly in support of this event, although it strikes me as unfortunate that such a reminder should be necessary nearly two centuries after the Declaration of Independence firmly committed our young nation to the idea that all men are created equal.
But a strong argument can be made that while such a reminder is not necessary, it is highly advisable at a time when the tides of hatred are running strong in many parts of the country.
We in Michigan can be proud of our record in recognizing the brotherhood of man. Congress is now debating a civil rights bill which, among other things, would guarantee equal access to public accommodations for all men. We have had an equal accommodations law in Michigan since 1885.
As a result of the new Constitution which took effect January 1, Michigan has a new Civil Rights Commission with far-reaching powers to combat discrimination in housing, in employment, in education, and in all areas of life in which it still survives within the boundaries of our state.
Our proud accomplishments in the field of civil rights are not those of government alone, however.
Much of the credit for our enviable record in civil rights should be accorded the thousands of individual citizens in our state who to the Philippians (2:5) "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus."
Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include this: "Having no other gods, turning to no other but the one perfect Mind to guide him, man is the likeness of God, pure and eternal, having that Mind which was also in Christ" (p. 467).

we must have the general support and participation of all citizens.
The state's chief executive and the Civil Rights Commission cannot do the job without active, continuing citizen involvement at every level.
Our participation in the continuing American Revolution must go beyond the support of laws and regulations designed to eliminate discrimination.
It must involve the attitude we have toward all of our neighbors and co-workers - an attitude which springs more from the heart than from the mind.
I believe that we are all children of God and I believe that we are all brothers and sisters, regardless of race, color or creed.
This concept is firmly embedded in the Judeo-Christian heritage upon which our country was founded. The more quickly all Americans find it in their hearts to accept it, the sooner Brotherhood Week will become a relic of the past.

The nine-week training includes naval orientation, history and organization, seamanship, ordnance, and gunnery, military drill, first aid and survival.

During the training recruits receive tests and interrogations which determine their future assignments in the Navy. Upon completing the program they are assigned to service schools for technical training or to ships and stations for on-the-job training in a Navy rating specialty.

Naval training produces the manpower seapower by supplying qualified personnel to man the ships, planes and shore stations of the U.S. Navy.

By Attorney General Frank J. B. B. (This is a public service article explaining in general terms a portion of Michigan law. Individuals who wish to determine the effect of any law upon their private affairs should consult a private attorney.)

How can a child put his hands on your property? Under Michigan law, a child is not a legal person and cannot own property. If a child takes something from your property, it is considered a public nuisance and the child is liable for the value of the property. The child's parents are liable for the value of the property if the child is under 14 years of age. If the child is 14 or older, the child is liable for the value of the property if the child has the ability to understand the nature and consequences of the act.

Emergency Shock Treatment Steps Listed by WSU Prof.

DETROIT — Automobile accidents in Michigan during the past year resulted in over 1,500 human lives lost — many the result of shock.
"It is likely that some lives could have been saved or recovered had it shock had been recognized and initially treated while the patient was awaiting transport to the hospital," says Dr. Alan P. Thal, chairman of the Wayne State University College of Medicine's department of surgery.
Dr. Thal, who has been collaborating with research data obtained from a study of the effects of shock on victims, says that such a victim may be recognized by a few symptoms. He is usually pale, clammy, sweaty, and has a rapid, weak pulse. This distinguishes him from the fainting victim who is usually unconscious, breathless, deeply and slowly breathing.

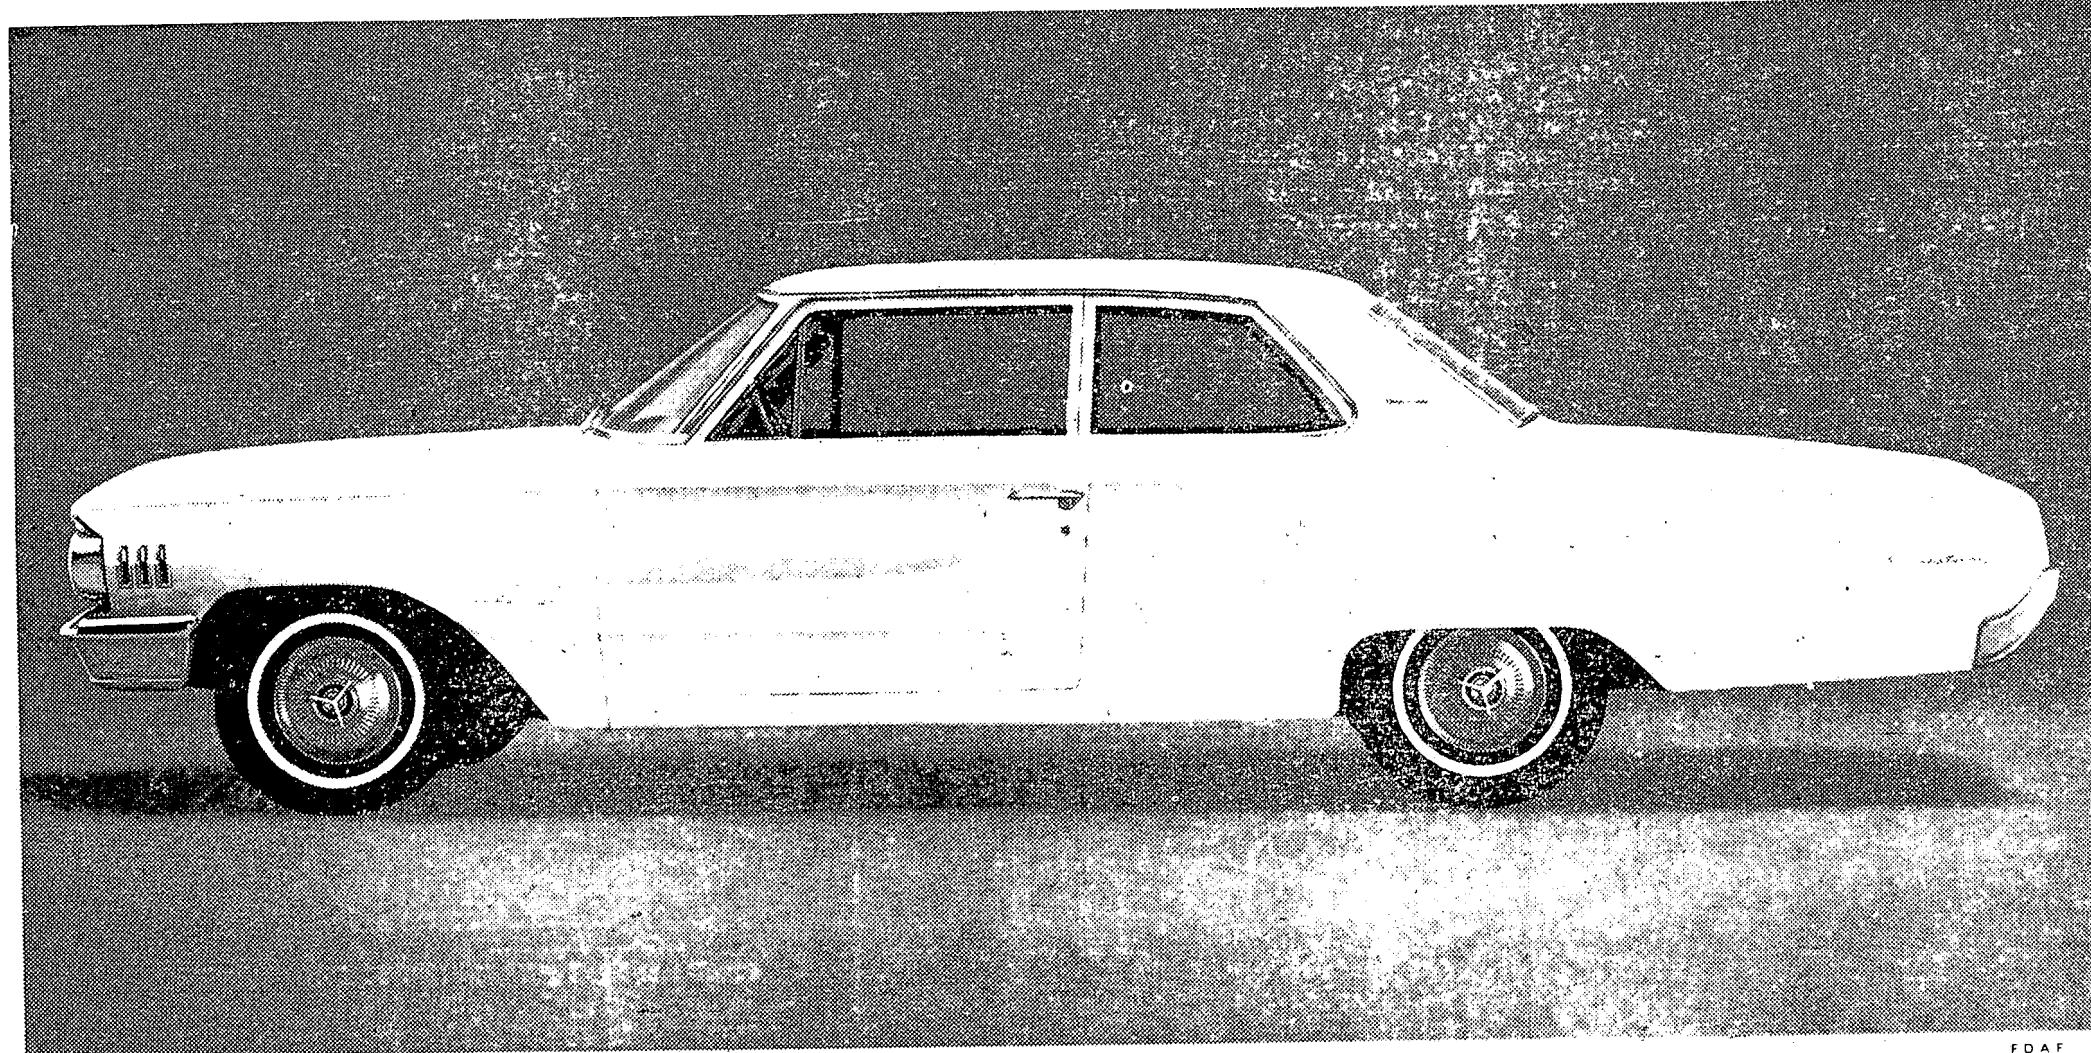

1. Move the victim as little as possible.
2. Have the victim's head lower than his feet. This will bring the blood back to the heart.
3. Maintain the victim's normal body temperature and prevent chills by covering him with blankets, clothes or newspapers. Do not attempt to administer any liquids by mouth.
4. Hold the victim's jaw forward so that natural air passage to the lungs is possible.
5. In case of vomiting, turn the victim to his side so that choking will not occur.
6. Stop bleeding by applying pressure directly to the site of hemorrhage.

Dr. Thal advises untrained persons not to attempt any treatment involving pressure on the chest when chest injury is suspected.
A summons to a physician or a professional ambulance service should be made as soon as possible after any serious accident. Pending the arrival of such help, Michigan State Police can also give aid above the amateur level, for each state policeman is trained in shock may follow to help the victim until a doctor arrives.

Romance of the Organ

By the end of the ninth century organ building was so advanced Pope John VIII had one built in Rome. The keys were so large the organist had to pound them with his fists.

Keys shrank to buttons in the 13th Century with the development of the Portative. The organist carried this instrument around his neck and played it by pushing buttons.

Keys of today's compact, graceful electric organs so popular in homes and churches respond to the gentle touch of the player, yet produce all of the music of great organs of the past.

A fund has been started to help the family through this difficult time, you may call Mrs. James Leaver at M4pte 5-1307 for any information regarding this.

Is Diphtheria A Threat In Your Family

Diphtheria, once one of the great killers of children, is no longer a major threat in the United States. Widespread, routine immunization has greatly reduced a highly contagious epidemic disease that once killed thousands of children each winter.

But diphtheria isn't entirely gone. There still are a few hundred cases and some deaths each year, largely in the winter. These cases almost invariably occur among those who aren't properly immunized.

The first sign of diphtheria usually is a sore throat, with patches of grayish membrane formed in the throat. There usually is a slight fever. The throat swells and swallowing may be difficult. The swelling sometimes blocks air passages and causes suffocation.

The very fact that there are relatively few diphtheria cases today makes the disease even more insidious. There are fewer "carriers" spreading the germs, and thus children have less opportunity to build immunity through repeated small doses of natural exposure.

Immunization against diphtheria should start at a very early age, possibly two or three months. Physicians today routinely give the

KAY'S KITCHEN KAPERS

By Kay Lewis

QUICK CORN PUDDING

1 can cream-style corn
1 can whole-kernel corn drained
1 egg slightly beaten
1/2 cup packaged dry bread crumbs
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
Salt and pepper
Mix all ingredients and turn into buttered casserole. Bake in moderate oven about 40 minutes or until firm.

I tricked a male chef out of this so-simple economical way to fix baked macaroni and cheese.

MACARONI and CHEESE

Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until just tender. I prefer the long macaroni broken in small pieces for this though elbow will work just as well. Don't drain the water off. Just pour off enough so macaroni is well covered. Pour the macaroni and water in a casserole stir in butter and cubes of cheese (we like a med. cheddar) add pepper and pop into oven. You will probably have to add a little salt and I keep a few cubes of cheese to toss on top of casseroles before putting in oven.

"DPT" shots to babies, immunizing against diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), and tetanus (lockjaw) at the same time. Another injection several months later is recommended for full protection, plus boosters every few years as the child grows.

Your doctor will be aware of the schedule of shots, and what shots are needed in your family. If your children haven't had a booster diphtheria shot in the last three years, ask your doctor to bring your family's protection up to par.

If someone in your family is exposed to diphtheria, check with your doctor immediately as to whether a shot of diphtheria antitoxin is needed. This is a short-term protection, lasting only a few weeks, that may help prevent the disease after exposure.

Immunization can prevent diphtheria. Even though the disease is almost gone, enough cases still occur to make diphtheria a threat to the unimmunized, or to those whose shots are too far in the past to be effective.

HIGHER EDUCATION

As never before, this nation is experiencing a dynamic upsurge of concern over our future supply of what is logically referred to as "specialized or leadership" talent. Accelerated economic and technological growth conflicting with international tensions has made us more aware of our dependence upon qualified scholars and leaders.

What do these facts mean to us as a nation? Quite basically, they mean that we must become more active in the areas of higher education as well as becoming a greater degree more reliant upon our colleges and universities. It is from these sources that will rise the professional careermen who will operate or guide our schools, hospitals, plants, farms, churches and research centers. Now, and in the future, the 71 Michigan public and private colleges and universities, community colleges, professional and technical schools will train men and women for responsible positions within their communities and at the various state and national levels.

Currently, more than 178,000 students are filling the campuses and classrooms of Michigan's schools where they share the talent of 10,000 faculty members who "light the way to a brighter future for all of us." Your support is vital to the continued development of higher education in Michigan.

This is one of a series of education features published as a public service in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association, the Michigan Education Association and this newspaper.

Wiring Goes Underground

Communities Get New Clear Sky View

JANESVILLE, Wis. — Underground wiring for a residential subdivision is not unique, but the installation technique used in a new development here is the first of its kind in the state. The subdivision, Second Claremont Park, was laced with a network of trenches dug about three feet deep. Electric power and telephone cable then were laid in together without regard to separation by type. Separation of the cables is no longer required, since the state's public service commission has amended its code covering such installations.

Allis-Chalmers undertook the project on a "turnkey" basis. In acting as general contractor, the company not only supplied pad-mounted distribution transformers, but provided trenching service and handled procurement and installation of cable.

The project called for 12,000 lineal feet of trenching, including 2,500 feet to accommodate telephone cable. A small portion of the telephone cable was put into a separate trench — most went into a common trench with the electric cable.

Allis-Chalmers used the smallest crawler tractor in its line, an HD-3 equipped with front loader and rear backhoe, for some of the trench cutting and filling.

The company's 25 kilovolt ampere transformers, designed to be inconspicuous and resting on concrete bases, are positioned throughout the 108-lot subdivision.

The subdivision is situated on Weighing only 666 pounds and 28½ inches high, an Allis-Chalmers transformer installed in a Janesville, Wis., subdivision is easily maneuvered into place on its concrete pad. The subdivision is the first in the state with both electrical and telephone wires buried together in a common trench. The underground wiring system eliminates overhead poles and wires. Allis-Chalmers acted as general contractor for the entire project.

the city's northeast side, and utility services are being supplied by the Wisconsin Power & Light Company and Wisconsin Telephone Company.

Underground residential wiring is not unique in itself, but it is far from commonplace in Wisconsin. It is considered preferable not only from an esthetic standpoint because it eliminates above-ground poles and overhead wires (both electrical and telephone) but it is also free from storm and other above-ground destructive forces.
