Leader Dog from 4-H Project

Midge, now, has a life of leading — instead of romping and playing with the Alvin Caverly family on Waldon Road. She was raised by Cecil Caverly for a 4-H project. Last May the Leader Dog trainer placed the gangling black puppy with Cecil to raise until she got to be a year old — after which she would start her training at Rochester's Leader Dogs of the Blind school. The dog played all summer and fall at Caverly's with the kids there, their other dogs and other animals. Her one special playmate was "Sugar" — the big black Labrador that Cecil's sister, Kerry Lynn, had raised the year before. Sugar had been rejected as a Leader Dog in April 1963 and had returned to Kerry Lynn to be her very own dog.

Midge returned to Rochester just before Christmas with John Webb, the trainer. She was 11 months old then.

Last week Kerry and Cecil received this letter and picture from the Leader Dog school.

March 31, 1964

Miss Kerry Caverly
5800 Waldon
Clarkston, Michigan
Dear Kerry:

It is with a great deal of pride we write to advise of the graduation of "Midge". The beautiful Labrador Retriever is now the proud Leader Dog of Dr. Neva Dakin of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa.

You played a very important part in the success of this Leader Dog team. In a few months you helped condition and qualify a Leader Dog that will serve his master for eight to ten years. One more deserving blind person has been placed back in the mainstream of life — because of your generosity.

You may be proud of the enclosed photograph of the New Leader Dog and its master. Your kindness made this possible.

Sincerely yours,
Leader Dogs for the Blind
Harold L. Pockington
Executive Director

Dr. Neva Dakin

In the Clarkston area, Mrs. James Casper of Delmas Rd. is the 4-H Dog Project leader. She has lead this project for 2 years.

At present there are two more 4-H members, raising Leader Dog puppies. They are Janet Casper with "Major" and Sue Ann Baer with "Sassy" — both pups being Black Labrador Retrievers — now 8 months old. These two girls take their dogs every two weeks over to Rochester for training under the Leader Dog trainer — Mr. John Webb.

Anyone, youngster or adult, 4-H or not, interested in raising one of these puppies, from the Leader's for a year to be a potential leader of a blind person, please contact Mrs. James Casper, MAple 5-1507, for information.

For those people who take these puppies — knowing when they start that the dog is to be cared for and loved for almost a year and then to give it up for such a worthwhile cause, it is not so hard to do when each person keeps in mind his temporary ownership.

If the dog is rejected because of some capacity, the dog is returned to the person raising it or is left for the Leader's to be placed with someone else — not blind.

Graduation to a Leader Dog is the goal — and there is such a need for more dogs, raised that are acceptable and capable for the extensive training necessary to be depended on by a blind person.

This puppy raising idea is another way thought out to increase the available dogs. There are at least 24 reasons or traits that cause only 3 or 4 dogs out of every 10 started in training to graduate.

The need is so great! The satisfaction is great, too.

When and How To Prune

Pruning seems more frightening than it really is. Most home gardeners, who raise their bushes and trees from "mere seedlings," have a tendency not to prune often enough and far enough according to Michigan State University horticulturists.

First, why prune at all?

(1) To remove broken, dead diseased and insect damaged branches.

(2) To produce a more sturdy and dense plant.

(3) To control the growth of the plant and produce the desired size and shape.

(4) To improve flowering and fruiting.

From the point of view of necessity, you can prune at practically any time of the year. Boughs can be cut from evergreens for Christmas decorations. Early blooming spring shrubs like pussy willow and forsythia can be pruned early and "forced" into blossomed boughs in the warm basement.

Normally, plants which lose their leaves in the winter can be more easily pruned during the dormant season because it is easier to see the framework of the branches.

As a general rule, shrubs and bushes flowering on new growth during the current season (roses for example) grow better if pruned early in the spring. This induces the production of flowering wood.

Those that flower on last year's growth (like forsythia) should be pruned as soon as flowering is finished.

Maple and yellow wood trees bleed less when trimmed in the summer. It's easier to trim most shade trees in fall and winter months.

How far do you go when pruning? When pruning hybrid tea and floribunda roses early in the spring, before growth begins, you cut back the black and dead canes, MSU horticulturists recommend. Old canes that look diseased and split are cut to the crown. Vigorous growing roses can be cut back more severely.

Climbing roses should not be pruned until flowering ceased. Then remove all the old stems that have produced flowers and cut back the new vigorous canes to where they are the size of a lead pencil.

Shrubs that are over-grown should be pruned by cutting back older, discolored canes to the ground level. Reshape the clump by pruning back the branches to side shoots.

Ground covers and vines can be pruned to suit the location. Vines need to be trimmed to keep them within bounds, away from windows or on a trellis.

An evergreen will become more bushy and maintain its natural shape. You remove the tips of

P-TA To Elect Officers

There will be an election of officers for the Clarkston Elementary P-TA 1964-65 year. Everyone, come and vote for your favorite candidate. Then a most pleasant surprise! The Clarkston Village Players will present a one act play, "Suppressed Desires". This is a comedy about a psycho-analyzed wife and the effects it has on her husband. We hope you will find this an entertaining evening to remember.

The Reverend Lewis Sutton of the First Methodist Church will give the Invocation. Girl Scout Troop 501 will present the colors. The Kindergarten, 1st and 3rd grade rooms will be open to the parents after the meeting. See you there!

Banquet Planned For Dom Mauti

Plans are underway for a recognition banquet in honor of Mr. Dom Mauti, retiring basketball coach of Clarkston High. The banquet will be co-sponsored by the Clarkston High Varsity Club and the Clarkston Area Jaycees. It will be held in the Clarkston Junior High Cafeteria on Friday, April 24, at 7:00 p.m.

Mr. Mauti recently resigned as coach to take an administrative post in the school system. This brings to a close a brilliant coaching career which has seen Clarkston capture 10 district championships in 12 years. Mauti's dedication and sincerity have been admired by the athletes who played under him, and by the many people of the community who know him well. This banquet is an opportunity for the community to show its appreciation for his service.

Tickets are available from Varsity Club members, and may be purchased at both the Clarkston Junior and Senior High offices, and at Runk's Barber Shop. Both the Jaycees and the Varsity Club wish to extend an invitation to the community to help in honoring Mr. Mauti.

OU Building Pavilion

Sweet are the sounds of bulldozers and concrete mixers to the ever-growing committees of Mr. and Mrs. Semon E. Knudsen, general chairmen of the exciting new Meadow Brook Music Festival performing arts center coming to life on the campus of Oakland University.

Construction of the striking Howard C. Baldwin Memorial Pavilion, first stage of the project, is slated for completion in time for the Festival's opening July 24. Twelve concerts will be presented through August 15 by the Detroit Symphony Orchestra under Sixten Ehrling's direction in the first year of the festival.

General area co-chairmen Messers. and Mesdames Rinehart S. Bright, Louis J. Colombo, Jr., Walter F. Skinner and Richard C. VanDusen have appointed season ticket chairmen to 42 sections in the Metropolitan Detroit area.

Season ticket committee members will offer four concerts with subscribers choosing to attend Thursday, Friday or Saturday evening performances. Only 3,000 are available for each evening.

Clarkston committee members are Mrs. Rockwood Bullard, chairman — Mrs. Edward M. Gates, Mrs. Gerald L. Anderson, and Mrs. Owen R. Baker.

Festival committee heads include Mrs. Alfred C. Wilson, honorary chairman; Chancellor and Mrs. D. B. Varner, executive; Messers. and Mesdames John S. Bugas, finance; C. Allen Harlan, building and grounds; and Charles F. Adams, promotion.

The advisory committee includes Governor and Mrs. George Romney, Mayor and Mrs. Jerome P. Cavanaugh, and Messers. and Mesdames Roy Abernathy, Peter Clark, Harold Fitzgerald, John Ford, Jr., John Gordon, Lee Hills, Arley Miller, Walter Reuther and Lynn Townsend.

Mrs. Cooney to Host Coffee Hour

A coffee hour to acquaint friends with the 1964-65 concert series of the Oakland University Community Arts Council will be held Friday, April 10th, at 10:30 A.M. at the home of Mrs. Milton F. Cooney, 56 E. Washington Street. Mrs. Cooney was recently appointed an area representative of the O.U. Community Arts Council. Mrs. John Bell is assisting on the campaign in this area.

The eight concerts of the Oakland University Community Arts Council series will feature: Ballet '64, a group of young dancers from the San Francisco Ballet; The DeCormier Folk Singers; a performance of the Christmas portion of Handel's Messiah, and the piano duo of Whittemore and Lowe. Whittemore and Lowe are among the few serious music performers to sell over a million records. Other concerts will present James Oliver Buswell, violinist; a Program of Opera; New York Pro Musica, an instrumental and vocal group presenting works of the 14th and 15th centuries; and a concert of works by David DiChiera of the Oakland faculty.

Local Dealer to Display Antiques

Once again it is time for the women of All Saints' Church, Pontiac to roll out the carpet for their Antiques loving friends. The 12th Annual Antique Show and Sale will be held April 14, 15, and 16, in Stevens Hall, 171 West Pike Street at Williams, from 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. daily. A door prize will be given each day.

Eighteen dealers from Michigan, Ohio, and New York will display antiques of every description. Coming from Clarkston will be Doris Ballentine, 7870 Eston Road, with whose shop, Green Shutters you no doubt are familiar. Among the items she will offer for sale will be a figurehead from an 18th century Finnish ship, an all-wood washboard, an iron hanging scale for weighing cotton, and a Clark slant-top stool desk.

Heirloom quilts will be on display on the balcony Tea Room overlooking the show and in the dining room. All of the food will be prepared and served by the women of the church. Many gourmet dishes will be featured. The proceeds from the show will be used to help support missionary projects at home and abroad.

Announcing the birth of a son, Mark Todd, April 5 in Pontiac General Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn D. Sommers of King Road. Mark weighed in at 6 lbs. 11 1/2 ozs. and is 20 1/2 inches long. Waiting patiently at home are sisters Glenda and Lynn and a brother Bruce.

Grandparents are the Garrett Marks' of Clarkston and the William H. Sommers of Davisburg.

Conservatory to Hold Concert

The fifth annual Gala Concert to be presented by the students and faculty of the Clarkston conservatory of Music will be held April 26th at 3:30 p.m. in the Clarkston Little Theatre.

Highlights of the Concert will be a performance of the Beethoven Emperor Piano Concerto by the Clarkston pianist, Kathleen Aldrich; The Pas de Deux from the Sleeping Beauty Ballet danced by Jon Rodriguez and Mary Frizzell; three Songs by the Modern English composer, Benjamin Britten, sung by Edward Giggins and a first Detroit area performance of Dussek's Sonata for Two Pianos, 1 French Horn and two cellos.

The work by Johann Dussek, important contemporary of Beethoven's time, will be performed by Norman Gifford and Sally Dow, duo pianists, Edward Sauve, French Horn and Arthur Bachmann, cellist.

Fancy Lemon Pie

There's almost a taste of sunshine in this lemon-cheese pie. The filling is fluffy as a cloud, and is poured into a flaky pie shell you have baked beforehand. Easiest pie—and prettiest—you could whip up! Mint leaves and sliced lemon garnish the swirled top. The recipe uses cream cheese, pie filling and lemon peel. These delicious flavors are enhanced by the addition of 7-Up with its delicate blend of lemon and lime oils.

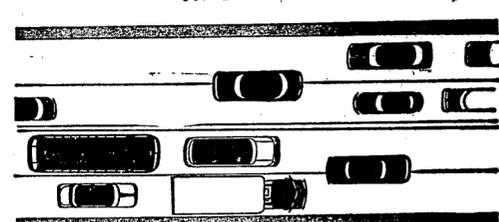

Lemon Sunshine Cheese Pie
1 package (9 ounces) lemon pie filling mix (not instant)
2 1/2 cups 7-Up
2 eggs, separated
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup sugar
1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
Combine pie filling mix and 1/2 cup 7-Up in saucepan. Blend in 2 egg yolks. Add remaining 7-Up. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat to a full boil. Remove from heat. Add lemon juice, lemon peel and cream cheese, beating until smooth. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Gradually add sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold into lemon mixture. Pour into baked pie shell. Garnish with lemon slice and mint leaves. Makes one 9-inch pie.

TRICK OF THE WEEK?

He huffed and he puffed, but he could not blow a little card over. Even if he is a big bad wolf. HERE'S HOW! Place the card on the table as shown in the sketch. Now challenge your guests to blow it over. They can't—even if they turn a purple shade. But you can! Keep your mouth 18" to 20" away from the card and blow lightly over as the arrow in the illustration shows. The closer the mouth to the card, the less chance of blowing it over.

THE STUDENT

Perhaps you picture him as the grinning, energetic kindergartener who is taking a pet to school to show and discuss with his friends or you might view her as the smart high school beauty who leads her class scholastically. Possibly, the student you know best is mentally or physically handicapped, attends school in your neighborhood or maybe it's a parent who works days and attends the local college extension center at night. No matter what your mental image is, they are all recognized as students.

According to the latest U.S. Bureau of Census, the 46,259,000 students enrolled in public and private schools across the country range from five to over 55 years of age.

The composite picture of the student can vary as much as the background and the reasons which bring each child and adult to the 130,807 public schools in the nation. Additional students attend the colleges and universities which carry on the learning process begun at the elementary and secondary school levels.

The personal goals, the style of dress, the speech, the personality, and the mind will combine to produce the individual characteristics that mark the boy, girl or adult as the student, unique from all others, who is anxious to learn something about himself, the world about him and is doing his best to improve all related dreams, conditions and situations.

This is one of a series of education features published as a public service in cooperation with the Michigan Press Association, the Michigan Education Association and the newspaper.

GOVERNOR ROMNEY REPORTS

Three measures currently before the Legislature could become a distant early warning line in the public's war against delinquency. The bills deserve the support of every citizen who believes that the emphasis of the campaign against delinquency should be on prevention instead of cure.

I have asked the Legislature to appropriate funds for a network of half-way houses which will serve as way stations for young people on the road to rehabilitation.

As important as these halfway houses are to the total youth program, they are only part of the answer. The number of delinquents is increasing faster than we can build institutions to house them.

Government does not meet its obligations to delinquent youth simply by building structures to isolate them from society.

Although incarceration may be a convenient way to remove these youths from the public eye and thus from the public conscience, it does not ease the burden of suffering which they and their families must endure.

The state's principal responsibility in the field of delinquency is to strengthen the means by which it can be detected and treated before wayward youths pass the point of no return.

Three bills now before the Legislature would provide us with excellent tools to detect and treat neglect and delinquency at an early age.

These are House Bills 469 and 555 and Senate Bill 1342. All of them have bipartisan support and are backed by the Michigan Crime and Delinquency Council.

House Bill 469 grants the State Department of Social Welfare authority to provide juvenile probation services upon the request of a probate court.

Many counties already have adequate probation services for delinquent youths but some of the sparsely populated counties do not have the funds to establish adequate programs.

Although this bill would allow the state to provide probation services to any county in the state, it is designed to improve probation programs where the need is critical.

House Bill 555 grants the State Social Welfare Department specific authority to administer programs and services for the prevention of delinquency, dependency and neglect of children.

This bill would create a statewide protective service which would bring social services to bear on incidents of neglect, cruelty or abandonment.

One of its strongest qualities is its high degree of adaptability to specific situations. The department would have three options:

(1) It could refer the case to existing agencies; (2) it could provide services itself; or (3) it could initiate action in court.

Senate Bill 1342 requires doctors who detect physical injury caused by beatings to children under 17 to report the injuries to the prosecuting attorney, the county department of social welfare and the State Department of Social Welfare.

There is no question that government has a responsibility to act when parents cripple or maim a child willfully. Presently, many of these cases go undetected, or when they are detected, no action is taken against the offending parents.

Tuberculosis Still Is A Threat to Man

Tuberculosis, once a great scourge in the United States, has been cut down to a small fraction of the cases of half century ago through the use of new treatment methods. But it has by no means been eliminated and continues as a threat to life and health.

Tuberculosis is caused by a germ that can easily be spread from one person to another. A person with active tuberculosis sneezes or coughs and sends the germs into the air. The germs can infect anyone, at any age. Fortunately, the body's resistance usually is sufficient to overcome and bottle up the infection. But, now and then when bodily resistance is low, active tuberculosis flares up.

Tuberculosis has been with us since the dawn of history, and it is still one of the great killers in many parts of the world. It has been selected as the prime target of the World Health Organization in 1964 for the annual observance April 7 of World Health Day.

"No truce for tuberculosis" is the World Health Day theme, with a supplemental slogan of "Nobody is safe from tuberculosis until everybody is safe." The disease knows no geographic or racial boundaries.

Some 50,000 new cases of TB are reported annually in the United States, and millions of Americans are infected with TB germs that are now dormant but have the potential of causing illness.

What can you do about TB? There is a simple tuberculin skin test that signals the presence of TB germs. If the test is positive, that means living TB germs are in the body, though not necessarily causing illness. It takes an X-ray and some laboratory tests to tell if active disease is present in the lungs.

At the time of physical checkups for you and your family, ask your doctor about the tuberculin skin test. And, very important, if you have ever had a positive test, get a chest x-ray once a year.

TB can be cured a lot faster today than in the past, but it still takes months. Treatment usually begins in a hospital and then continues at home when the disease is no longer contagious. Many continue to take their drugs for months and even years.

Symptoms of active TB are apparent only in an advanced stage — fever, cough, weight loss, constant fatigue and perhaps, spitting blood. At this stage the cure is more difficult and will take more time. Doctors recommend a TB checkup every year so that the disease may be discovered early before it gives any outward sign.

Two junior members and state officers in C.A.R. are from this area. They are Diana Deyo who is on state board and Catherine Francis is state treasurer.

Mrs. L. L. Echninaw reported on the American Indian school, Bacone College located in Muskogee, Oklahoma which is aided by DAR. She said young Indians are coming off the reservations, learning the usual subjects and acquiring skills in technical things.

The National Defense program was given by Mrs. Allan Monroe and supplementing it was Mrs. Harry Bates with the plea that students be schooled more in patriotism, prayer and survival being worth more than things social.

Mrs. L. C. Barner was the chapter's latest new member and present. A committee headed by Mrs. Maxwell Doerr assisted Mrs. Bidsrup at serving refreshments from a table centered with cut flowers. Mrs. Echninaw poured and others assisting were Mrs. L. B. West, Mrs. Harry Austin, Mrs. Ivan B. Royal, Mrs. Frederick Ward, Mrs. Veimor Lewis, Mrs. Jas. Isles, Caroline Lewis, Mrs. Elbert Wilmot and Mrs. E. G. Clark.

Boating Tips...

Making your boat fast to a dock shouldn't cause knotty problems, if you know the most versatile knot of all—the bowline. Its chief advantages, say the Mercury boating authorities, are that it's easy to tie, won't slip and can be loosened easily. Here's how to fashion one: make a loop in the "standing part" of the line as shown. Pass the end up through the loop, around the standing part, then return it down through the loop. Tighten by pulling on the free end—loosen it by tugging at the rope where it circles the standing part of the line. It's the best knot devised for any situation where you need a temporary loop in the end of a line.

Easter Baskets were made by both troops for the children at the State Hospital in Pontiac.

Will Your Chicken Lay a Golden Egg?

Start a 4-H poultry project and find out

Shown here are starting salaries and potential earnings in five of the poultry sciences

The 4-H Club members enrolled in a poultry project soon learn that to raise even a small flock successfully requires some knowledge of the poultry sciences related to feeds, breeds, disease control and production.

They get this information from extension poultry bulletins, from the local 4-H Club leader and from the extension worker. And applying what they learn often produces the "golden egg" that discloses a future career.

Project Determines Career

High school students say that experience gained in tending a flock of birds determined their choice of college courses to prepare them for a career in the poultry industry.

The $6 billion industry in the United States involves scores of specialized fields such as engineering, genetics, nutrition, pharmaceuticals, and large-scale production. And, according to a recent survey made by the Western Poultry Congress, there is a shortage of college trained young people to fill these jobs.

Among 500 commercial firms surveyed recently, the lowest starting salary for college graduates was $5,000 (see illustration above) and potential earnings over $30,000.

Jobs Go Begging

What's more, the survey reveals that in one year less than 100 students were graduated with a bachelor's degree in poultry science. There were more than 250 jobs waiting to be filled.

One prospective employer, Heisdorf & Nelson Farms, Inc., helps to get 4-Hers started in a poultry project, and offers incentive awards along the way.

Through arrangements made with the National 4-H Service Committee and the Cooperative Extension Service, the firm annually provides six national $500 college scholarships, educational trips to the National 4-H Club Congress and medals for high ranking poultry members in the county.

Statistics forecast that many boys and girls will leave the farm to earn a living elsewhere. There appears to be a golden egg in the poultry industry.

Workers Preview GM Futurama

WORKMEN who helped build the General Motors Futurama exhibit at the New York World's Fair took time out yesterday for a preview of what GM designers say the world may be like tomorrow. Seated in an endless train of lounge chairs the craftsmen are shown passing the Futurama, ride's underwater industrial area where a two-man "aquascope" probes the ocean floor for mineral deposits. Miniature loudspeakers in the headrest of each chair will carry an explanation of the ride scenes to an estimated 70,000 Futurama visitors each day when the fair opens April 22.

About Pruning

At planting time, trees should be pruned to produce an even distribution of main branches. When you trim trees first remove dead and injured branches. It becomes dangerous for inexperienced people to trim large trees and a professional should be called in, MSU authorities advise.

You can prevent the weight of the limb from tearing the main trunk when removing a large branch. Make the first saw cut from beneath the branch a few inches from where the limb joins the trunk. Then make the next cut a few inches farther out on the limb. When the limb breaks with its weight you will have a stub left. This can be sawed flush with the main trunk and the wound treated with asphalt wound dressing or sprayed with a aerosol spray specially prepared for this purpose.

County Extension offices, which are a part of MSU's Cooperative Extension Service, have a free publication on "Beautiful Home Grounds."
