Those who were members last month must re-enroll if they wish to be eligible.

I was pleased to hear that the Oakland County Sheriff's Department has been keeping a close watch on the buoys at Deer Lake. A young man found hanging on to a buoy was hailed out of the water by an officer during the weekend. The talk he received may or may not have sunk in. I hope it did!

Sure is a small world. After getting our camping trailer set up on a sight in the State Park in Ludington I started for the checking in office. Four sites from ours I was hailed down by a Clarkstonite and his family, Doug Cowdin.

During our stay, traveled to Silver Lake about 20 miles from Ludington and rode a Dunes Car over the dunes that separate Silver Lake from Lake Michigan. Although the kids, and I enjoyed the exciting ride immensely, wife Sonja, who I might add, is expecting, felt it was a bit daring and bumpy for anyone in her condition.

No, we didn't forget part of your paper this week. Its just that on our yearly vacation week the paper is apt to suffer a bit as it did this year. A shorttage of advertising and time to gather such, left us with four pages.

Don't forget the circus, parade and fireworks which will be part of the big 4th of July celebration in Clarkston this weekend.

The brides home was the setting for the reception following the ceremony performed by Reverend George C. Widdiffield.

Parents of the couple are the Thomas Hunter Wilsons 11, Clement Rd., Clarkston, and the John Byron Spauldings, Winnetka, Illinois.

The bride wore a traditional gown of white peau de soie designed with a scoop neck and short sleeves. Re-embroidered alencen lace and seed pearls trimmed the bodice and full skirt ending in a chapel train. A single matching lace flower held her cathedral veil of imported illusion.

With Miss Patricia Wilson (sister of the bride) maid of honor, were bridesmaids Miss Dorothy Wilson (sister of the bride), Miss Joyce Harlan, and Miss Carolyn Wilson. Elizabeth Connally was flower girl. They appeared in Peacock organza sheaths with floor-length overskirts of embroidered organza and matching bows with maline veils in their hair.

On the esquire side were Mr. Kenneth Brown, best man, and ushers Mr. Gerald Sears (brotherin-law of the groom). Mr. Rockwood Bullard, Mr. Clif Zwirner, Mr. Jon Lundberg, Mr. Vance Biggs, and Mr. John Becker.

Mrs. Wilson chose a Sohie gown of jade marquisette for her daughters wedding and Mrs. Spaulding, mother of the groom, wore a print dress and jacket of organza in two shades of aqua blue, with hat and shoes to match the deepest blue in the dress.

After the honeymoon, the couple will live in Birmingham. The bride attended Kingswood School Cranbrook, Hollins College, (1 year at the Sorbanne), then Connecticut School of Dance, and the Pontiac Business Institute. She is a member of the Sigma Gamma Soronity. Her husband attended New Trier High School, Avon Old Farms School and Cornell University. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi
