Letters To The Editor

Clarkston News
Clarkston, Michigan

Dear Editor:

I am planning my ninth annual trip in taking boys to Alaska and as you know the purpose is to teach boys to save for the things worth while in life.

Every trip has been a great success thanks to many wonderful organizations such as the Kiwanis Club, Optimist Club, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club who have entertained the boys each year when we arrived in their city.

I Do Not Make One Cent on the trip. I am only interested in building character in boys and want to show my appreciation for what the late George E. Buchanan did for me and 500 other boys of the nation.

Again would appreciate your kindness if you would put an article or announcement no matter how small telling about the trip that leaves Detroit July 17th so that boys throughout the area will have the opportunity to go on this trip and have time to start earning and saving their money.

Sincerely Yours,
Edward J. Kuhn

Skippers Surprised by Clarkston Wolves 83-72

Clarkston continues to surprise and impress the critics. They took care of Waterford Township 83-72. One has to go back to 1954 to find when Waterford defeated Clarkston.

This is the third time this year that Clarkston has scored 80 points or more. The team has to do a lot of running, and shooting to score 80 points, and the Wolves are certainly playing 'Indiana' brand of ball.

Clarkston opened up a six point lead the first quarter mark and led 22-16. Waterford suffered a fatal blow when one of their leading scorers and playmakers, Bill Lemeavx, left the game due to an ankle injury. Clarkston played a little pressure defense which gave them the lead; the important first quarter lead.

In the first quarter Fife had 5 p.n.s, Wilberg 4, Pearson 5, Allen 4 and Lippert 4.

Clarkston had a cold streak in the second quarter and was outscored 21-14 by Waterford. The Wolves switched to a man-to-man defense, but later went back to their 1-2-2 zone defense to combat the drive-in shots by the Skippers.

In the second quarter Fife had 4 p.n.s, Wilberg 3, Pearson 4, Allen 1 and Madison 2.

Clarkston really began to burn the nets in third quarter and outscored Waterford 28-16. The Wolves continued to hustle on defense spearheaded by Fife and Wilberg. The defence caused the Skippers to either throw the ball away or take many shots beyond the good shooting range.

Fife scored 12 points, Wilberg 4, Pearson 2, Allen 8 and Lippert 2 in the third quarter as Clarkston led 64-53.

In the fourth quarter Waterford cut on a full court zone press. This didn't bother the Wolves, as it resulted in easy buckets and many free throw opportunities. At one time in the second half Clarkston made 15 straight free throws. Up to that point they had made 22-26 free throws and the string was broken by Rod Allen.

Clarkston ended up with a 78 per cent shooting percentage from the free throw strip, hitting on 29 out of 37 attempts.

The five starters from Clarkston were in double figures. As former Coach Mauli commented, "A most unusual feat."

The hustling Fife was tops with 25, Ron Allen added 19 and what a game he played Pearson followed with 13. John Wilberg had 11 and Ron Lippert had 10. Mike Madison, the sixth man on the team, had 5 points.

Zeim of Waterford made 34 points for Waterford as he impressed everybody with his fine out-court shooting. After Lemeavx was hurt the scoring burden was left on Zeim's shoulders and he certainly carried them the whole ball game.

The J.V. score was Waterford 67, Clarkston 53.

News Notes from Clarkston High

John Merkel

Out of the seventeen people who signed up to go to Grand Blanc to see "Peter Pan", approximately fourteen showed up.

The Grand Blanc High School, with the help of several students from the Junior High and elementary schools, put on a very good performance.

Aside from taking the scenic route back, it went completely without mishap. All things tolled, it was a very worthwhile trip.

It gave the members of our cast an idea of how a musical should be run and could be done very well.

Mr. May's Problems of Democracy classes have done quite a few original things, project-wise. A new bulletin board on Sir Winston Churchill is in the back of the room.

Last Tuesday, Mr. Thomas spoke to the Problems classes about the various types of intelligence tests and how it affects your ability to go on to college or jobs.

Just before he spoke, the Problems classes saw a film strip discussing the types of intelligence.

Here is one example. Your space factor is the ability to tell if there is enough room between objects for another to pass through.

Some IQ tests can't be accepted as a one hundred per cent measurement of a person's mentality, Mr. May and Mr. Thomas both said.

After all, a person has to have a certain amount of word fluency just to take the test in a decent amount of time.

If a person does poorly on an intelligence test, it could be because he doesn't have much word fluency. It doesn't mean he is lacking in other abilities.

After Mr. Thomas' lecture Tuesday, Mr. May pulled a fast trick on us. He asked how many of us enjoyed Mr. Thomas' speech.

Most of us quite naturally said that it had been very good and that we liked it very much. Mr. May had us each write Mr. Thomas a thank you note.

The purpose of this was to see if everyone knew how to write a good thank you note, or if we should spend a few days working on it in class.

Mr. Lytle's English 12 classes are doing creative papers for their second semester projects.

These can take the form of poetry (a few poems), a story or some descriptive essays.

They will comprise a major segment of the semester grade.

Have you heard about the latest food rage at the high school? Hot dogs, etc. are on their way out.

Everyone's after bagels.

What's a bagel? That's a simple little question, asked of a certain teacher, started the whole thing.

A bagel is sort of a hard, sugarless doughnut, only it tastes great.

No one's immune to them. Several teachers and a few people in the office have placed orders for them.

This week that teacher purchased a total of ten dozen bagels for the students, faculty and administration. Can you imagine carrying all of them?

This week I interviewed Mr. Davidson, who is teaching ninth and tenth grade English.

This is his second year at Clarkston and also his second year of teaching. He graduated from Eastern Michigan University and has a Bachelor of Science Degree.

He is a coach on the junior varsity football and junior varsity basketball teams and assistant track coach. He is also a sponsor of the Freshman class.

This is my commandment, that ye love one another. — (John 15:12)

We can deal with almost any situation—even when we encounter those who antagonize us—if we remember God's admonition to show love, at all times, for our fellow beings. This attitude could lead to some remarkable transformations in the feelings of others for us.

Paintings Depict Michigan's Historic Past

The building in the scene of 1912 still in existence are, from left — the 1st, 2nd, and 14 still exist and a parking lot has replaced the Hotel Ste. Claire; The building in the center, across Monroe, is now occupied by Sears; The buildings on the right no longer stand.

Many old time residents of Detroit's east side — or those who visited "Grandma and Grandpa" — may remember the intersections of Randolph, Monroe, Miami now Broadway) and Grand as it looked in 1912. This is the scene artist Robert Thom has painted for the series "A History of Michigan in Paintings" which has been commissioned by Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

In the painting "Putting the World on Wheels" the talented artist, Robert Thom, has placed on the far side of the street, just behind the streetcar, a Rapid Electric truck of the Detroit Free Press, while a Detroit Electric coach is passing the Kaiserhof and Bowman's Bar on the right.

Model 30 Packard, a luxury car that sold in the $4,000 bracket.

In the foreground is the five-passenger Buick touring car, which at about $1,200, was popular with the middle-income families.

This is one of 12 original oil paintings, representing events in Michigan's "childhood" road, which will be seen at the 1965 Home and Flower Show at Cobo Hall February 20-28. The 12 paintings, colorful and amazingly realistic in their detail, are the work of artist Robert Thom of Birmingham who has been commissioned by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to do the series on "A History of Michigan in Paintings."

Measles Can be Dangerous

Far from being a harmless disease, measles is dangerous to children, Oliver B. McGillivuddy, MD, president of the Michigan State Medical Society, warned in launching the Society's extensive public service campaign for immunization against this widespread childhood illness.

The intensive statewide campaign, starting March 1 and running for six weeks, will inform parents of the dangers of measles and encourage them to consult their physician regarding their child's vaccination for their children.

"The eradication of measles is now a medical profession," Dr. McGillivuddy said in announcing the war against measles.

Exploding the widespread myth that measles is a harmless disease of childhood, Dr. McGillivuddy pointed out that practically every child is susceptible to measles by the time he is nine months old, and nine out of 10 will have measles.

"In fact, of those who suffer," he stated, "one child in six will develop a serious complication such as pneumonia, encephalitis, or inflammation of the brain, and in some cases it is fatal."

"This situation can and should be corrected," Dr. McGillivuddy emphasized. "Measles can be virtually wiped out by use of vaccines available to physicians."

"We have the means of wiping out measles almost completely," Dr. McGillivuddy added. "But this is possible only if susceptible children are vaccinated."

Child Education Vital To Good Dental Health

LANSING: Children who are taught good dental habits can look forward to a lifetime of healthier teeth. The Michigan State Dental Association says early dental care coupled with good home care not only helps prevent decay but helps to avoid conditions which lead to crooked teeth, faulty bite and other major dental disorders.

The dental association is stressing the importance of child dental health as part of the observance of National Children's Dental Health Week, February 7-13. The Week has been proclaimed nationally by President Johnson and in Michigan by Governor Romney.

The state dental group says that figures released by the American Dental Association show that approximately 50 per cent of all two-year olds in the nation have one or more decayed teeth, and that the Children's Dental Health Week observance is designed to get parents to consider early professional care for their children, and to begin home care by teaching children regular and proper dental health habits.

Regular Visits
Dr. Kenneth J. Ryan, of Flint, president of the state dental association, says that regular visits to the dentist, beginning at age three, help assure that "baby" teeth are shed at the right time and permanent teeth are properly aligned. "If parents show a genuine awareness of good dental habits, this is usually transmitted to children," he added.

Significant Strides
Over the past two decades, the dental profession has made significant strides in dental health. The philosophy that teeth can last a lifetime is much closer to reality because of the advances made within the profession and greater public acceptance of good dental health. Even "dead" or devitalized teeth can be treated and often preserved through the science of endodontics. Each year contact sports, such as football, claim an untold number of children's teeth in Michigan and the nation. But, thanks to dentistry's development of new, more effective mouthguards, thousands of teeth are saved each year. High school boys require all football players to wear a mouthguard during a game.

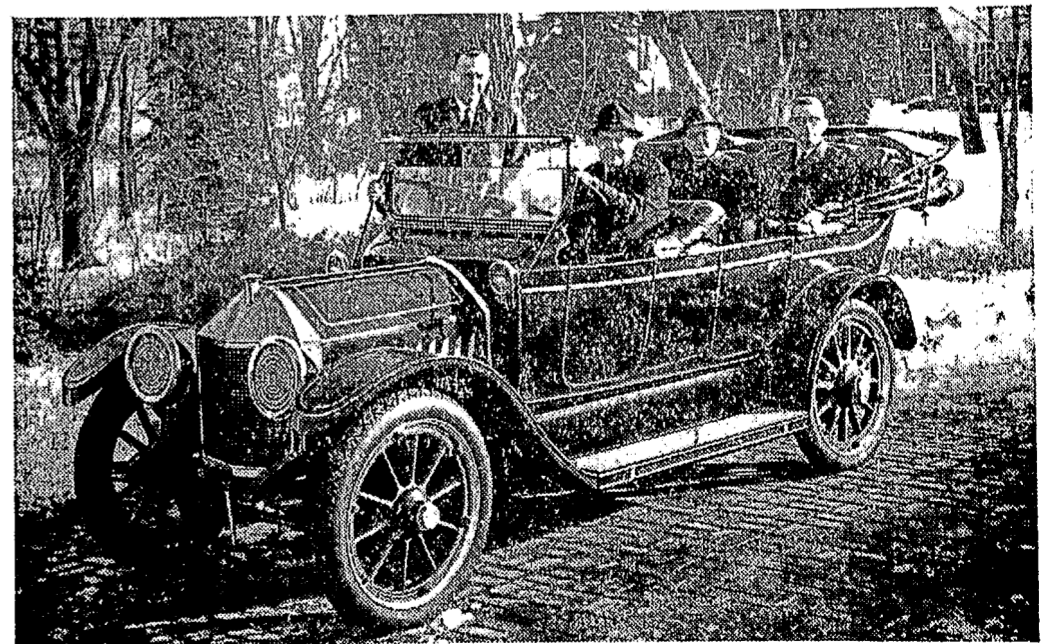

GOV. ROMNEY proclaimed the week of February 7-13 as Children's Dental Health Week in Michigan. Showing Gov. Romney the official poster of the Week during proclamation ceremonies are, left, Martha-Lynn Travis, 10, and her sister, Lisa-Jo, 6, of Detroit. In proclaiming the Week, the Governor called on parents to seek early, preventive care and to educate children as to good home-care habits.

Educate Children
Whichever way you look at it, there's no better time than now to start educating your children on sound dental health habits. Nationwide statistics reveal that less than 50 per cent of Americans visit dentists regularly. It's incongruous that less than half of the population receives regular dental care in a nation that leads the world in dental science.

Michigan dentists hold hopes that children and parents will continue good dental health habits learned during National Children's Dental Health Week.

Oldest Chevrolet Known to Exist

The oldest Chevrolet known to be in existence—a 1912 touring model—is destined for an honored place in the city that produced it. One of the first Chevrolets made in Flint, the car was purchased by the Industrial Mutual Association for donation to the Alfred P. Sloan Panoramia of Transportation in the city's College and Cultural Center. Seated in the car (l. to r.) are Allen J. Dillon, IMA president; Dr. Roger Van Bolt, Sloan museum director; William Crik, IMA managing director; and Gregory Fauth, a Flint insurance man and antique car buff who located the car.

EDUCATION — IT IS "BEST BUY" FOR U S

Rep., 19th Michigan District
Because I've been tagged "watchdog of the tax dollar" so often — as a result of my work as Michigan Auditor General — some apparently view me as a miser who wouldn't spend a penny on anything else. I'm sure that I'll back necessary additional measures so long as spending your tax money seems to me to be a good investment. Let me explain what I mean by "good investment":

Unless some "hooker" is introduced in the bill I'll vote to help improve the quality of education in schools — particularly in low-income families. There is evidence they will turn many who grow up to be welfare recipients into men and women able to carry out the responsibilities of citizenship.
That's a "good investment" in our future — worth every dollar spent — especially since for practical purposes — I have no money — supplementary elementary courses — but also because making it possible for the needy to get the help needed to carry on their business for all of us.

As for "If you 'got me' it would have to be for some other reason. For economy — every dollar spent — has that doesn't mean I'm against progress. Particularly in education. Much recent progress has been made in developing the nation's edu-not a miserly "penny-pincher" but proof also that when I vote for anything I want to see that all of us get full value for our tax money.

Mrs. M. W. may also like to know that after I explained this position to various groups concerned with education — both educators and parents — I received widespread endorsements from them.

More than 225,000 persons will spend nearly $25 million to ski in Michigan this winter, the Michigan Tourist Council predicts. This compares with about 65,000 and $6 million 10 years ago.

State Home and School Looking for Volunteers

Sometimes it isn't a question of what a mentally retarded person needs so much as it is "whom" he needs. Such a philosophy furnishes guidelines for the Volunteer Services Committee of the Lapeer State Home and Training School as it begins a new volunteer recruitment program. Now working with Mr. Frederick J. Campbell, Director of Community Relations, the committee is seeking volunteer workers to help care for their little needs. As a new hours each week helping patients at Lapeer.

Perhaps one of the institutionalized person's greatest needs is a contact with the world outside, someone who cares, who has time to listen sympathetically, who will write a letter or go for a quiet walk in a beautiful Lapeer for one who has time to give this kind of individual attention to patients in care for their little needs. As a

The Volunteer Services Committee has been in existence at Lapeer State Home and Training School since 1960. Miss Nellie Koster, Assistant Director of Nurses, was the staff person instrumental in the formation and growth of the Volunteer Program. Mrs. Stephen Raf-

COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Advanced education and specialized training are becoming more and more important in our technically-oriented world. In many fields of work a high school diploma is just not enough. For many high school graduates, however, a college degree is neither practical nor desirable.
An ever-increasing number of these students are looking to the community and junior college, a relative newcomer in education, for their training. In Michigan alone, nearly 40,000 students are enrolled in the state's 18 public community and junior colleges. In addition, some 3,500 are enrolled in the 11 private junior colleges and technical institutes.
The majority of these students are enrolled in one of three curricula: a semi-professional training course running two years or less, the first two years of a four-year curriculum leading to the bachelor's degree, or a general liberal education program.

Recently the community and junior colleges have been called on to act as retraining centers for workers who have lost their jobs to automation. The two-year schools have also proved valuable as continuing education centers for people who must keep abreast of current developments in their field.
The community and junior colleges can be the answer to many of our educational problems — they can take some of the load off the universities; they can provide a quality education for those who do not wish to pursue a degree; and they can serve as educational and cultural centers for the entire community.

THIS IS ONE OF A SERIES OF EDUCATION FEATURES PUBLISHED AS A PUBLIC SERVICE IN COOPERATION WITH THE MICHIGAN PRESS ASSOCIATION, THE MICHIGAN EDUCATION ASSOCIATION, AND THIS NEWSPAPER.

Volunteers . . .

fenty, Mrs. J. S. Thompson and Mrs. Tillie Jones of Lapeer and Mrs. G. T. Etheridge and Mrs. Amy Heron of Detroit formed the nucleus of the first committee according to Miss Koster. This group working with Lapeer staff members prepared application blanks, evolved a list of duties and wrote a manual to assist new volunteers. They also devised a screening procedure for interviewing applicants.

Early volunteers were recruited through area women's clubs and church groups. Organizations working with teenage youngsters were also approached for volunteers. About twenty-five volunteers attended the first training session at the Home. Of these, about four are still working regularly. About 5,000 hours were given in volunteer work at Lapeer in 1963. Some of these people came from the area around Lapeer County, but some drive from as far as 60 or 80 miles to work for an afternoon or a morning with the patients at Lapeer.

A group known as the Volunteers, composed of teenagers from Lapeer and Genesee Counties, has worked actively in the Nursery. Some of these are girl scouts who used volunteer work with the retarded as a project to earn an Aid Bar (an award requiring 50 hours of service work without pay.) Lapeer State Home officials are enthusiastic about the Volunteer program and hope to see it grow as a volunteer activity for young people in the Lapeer area.

Has the volunteer program at the Lapeer State Home and Training School been a success? Hospital officials feel that in spite of its small size, that it has been tremendously successful in the tiny areas it has been able to reach. But Lapeer is one of the largest institutions for the mentally retarded in the world and still contains many areas and many patients where volunteer help can improve not only the overall efficiency but contribute so much to the well being and in some cases to the habilitation of many of its patients. It stands to reason that if a retarded person can return to the community to live and work, that he needs to know that there is a community outside the institution, his fellow humans, who know and care about him.

In a recent television interview, Sargent Shriver enthusiastically endorsed the idea of volunteer work in hospitals for the mentally retarded, and he suggested that there is a great reservoir of such help to be found in women whose children have grown but who still have time and energy to burn, in retired or semi-retired men and women of stability and good health whose talents are going to waste and finally to teenagers and young people who have leisure time to use constructively. Any of these people, provided they have an initial wish to give service to others, can be trained to work in a hospital like Lapeer.

To the person who may ask, "Is volunteer service for the retarded something I could do?" the answer is yes . . . if. If you have some time to give, if you are a reasonably happy, friendly person and if you really enjoy doing things for others, you may find helping retarded children a deeply satisfying way of helping your fellow humans. If you have special talents you would like to share, or the ability to be endlessly patient with someone whose steps will never be as quick as your own, then you may be one of the volunteer workers so badly needed at the Lapeer State Home.

Additional information on volunteer service at the Lapeer State Home may be obtained by writing or calling Mr. Frederick J. Campbell, Director of Community Relations, Lapeer State Home and Training School, Lapeer, Michigan.

Volunteer work at Lapeer isn't a job which is going to make anybody famous, nobody will probably even give you a medal for it and you will be tired when you go home. But you will have the inner satisfaction of knowing that you had to be a little special even to qualify for the work and the real joy that comes with an act of the kind of charity St. Paul talked about. And your only reward may be nothing more than a smile of recognition from someone whose recognition is a real accomplishment. But it will be enough and more.

This article was written for the Volunteer Committee by Mrs. Betty Hansen of Saginaw, Michigan, a mother of a retarded child.

Recipe Idea's for Dinners, Luncheons and Snacks

Rich and Chocolate-y Good

Three different desserts from one recipe. First make a Bosco Bavarian cream then take your choice from three ways to serve it. Layer it with cake or cookie crumbs in tall glasses for Parfaits, cut the center out of an angel food or chiffon cake and fill with the Bavarian, or turn the Bavarian into a pie. Whatever your choice, it's delicious.

Bosco Bavarian Dessert

1 envelope unflavored gelatin 1/2 teaspoon vanilla or almond extract
1/4 cup cold water or 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 cup Bosco chocolate or 1/2 teaspoon instant flavored syrup coffee powder
1 pint heavy cream
Sprinkle gelatin over cold water. Let soften 5 minutes. Bring Bosco to full boil in medium saucepan. Remove from heat. Add softened gelatin; stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is thick and syrupy. Do not let mixture become too stiff. Whip cream; gently fold into chilled chocolate mixture. Fold in flavoring. Pipe into baked pastry shell, lay 2 with crumbs for a parfait or fill an angel cake to make a good, rich dessert. Chill until firm.

Cooking to Please a Man?

Keep him interested in asking, "What's for dinner?" Cook the traditional man's favorite—beef pot-roast—with new seasonings. Try this unusual man-tested recipe—certain to please him. There's one ingredient he'll never guess. Seven-Up, with its natural lemon and lime oils, is the secret to the subtle bright flavor.

This distinctive meat dish deserves the simplest of accompaniments. Serve it surrounded by hot, buttered noodles.

Contemporary Pot-Roast

4 to 5 pounds beef pot-roast (chuck) 2 bay leaves
2 large onions, sliced 2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 clove garlic, minced 1 table. spoon brown sugar
2 bottles (7 oz. each) 7-Up 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup raisins 1/2 cup catsup
Brown meat on both sides in melted shortening. Add onion, garlic, 7-Up and bay leaf. Cover and cook slowly for about 2 hours to 1 hour or until tender. Serve with hot, buttered noodles. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Quick, Tempting Party Snacks

Planning an array of help-yourself snacks for a party? Naturally, you'll want to please the eye and tastes of your guests, yet spend as little preparation time as possible.

Here's a quick and tantalizing idea. Begin with several packages of completely baked frozen rolls. The Parker House Rolls, Dinner Rolls and Finger Rolls recently introduced by Sara Lee would be perfect.

Then you can easily turn them into appetizing snacks by placing a variety of fillings inside. Your guests will love them, and the idea is so simple you'll never be caught in the kitchen missing the fun!

Some quick-to-make fillings might include: Tuna Salad Supreme: Combine a 7-ounce can of tuna, drained, with 1/4 cup grated cheese, 1/4 cup mayonnaise, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, plus a dash of salt and paprika.

Easy Ham Salad: Combine cooked and chopped ham with mayonnaise and pickle relish.

Miniature Hamburgers: Shape ground beef into 2-inch patties. Cook and place inside Sara Lee Dinner Rolls. Serve hot.

Tiny smoked sausage links or cocktail franks tucked nicely into the Parker House Rolls. You could also offer cold slices of cooked meat, salami, bologna, and Swiss or cheddar cheese slices. Meat and cheese combinations are delicious, too.

At serving time just arrange the snacks on an attractive platter and watch them quickly disappear.

Delft Stew--An American Favorite

In America a chicken stew is an all time favorite. When you make that stew with Knorr's chunk chicken noodle soup mix as seasoning it is just about perfect. The blend of seasoning and chicken broth with bright colorful vegetables and freshly cooked tender egg noodles is just right for the delicate chickens now on the market.

Delft Stew

3 tablespoons corn oil 1/2 cup chopped onion
1 large broiler-fryer chicken, 1 bay leaf quartered 1 (10-ounce) package frozen lima beans 1 (1-pound 13-ounce) 1 (8-ounce) can corn can tomatoes 1/2 cup sliced celery
1 envelope Knorr chunk chicken noodle soup mix

Heat corn oil in a large skillet. Add chicken; broil well. Drain off excess fat. Add tomatoes, soup mix, onion and bay leaf. Bring to boil. Cover, reduce heat and simmer 30 minutes. Add vegetables. Bring to boil; simmer until chicken and lima beans are tender, about 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Cooking with Herbs

Spicy Stuffed Lobster

The stuffing makes the difference in many meats and fishes, and lobster is no exception. For a buffet supper or a Friday night feast, make Spicy Stuffed Lobster Tails. The flavorful filling is a blend of two unusual spices, crushed dried mint leaves and ground cumin, mixed with a base of crushed thin-style saltines, green pepper, onion and garlic. Garnish lobster tails with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley for a delicious dinner. Here's how:

Spicy Stuffed Lobster Tails

22 double thin-style Sunshiner Krispy Crackers, 1/4 of 1-lb. box
3/4 teaspoon dried mint leaves, crushed
1 1/2 teaspoons ground cumin
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 cloves garlic, minced or crushed
1/2 cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
6 South African rock lobster tails, each about 4-oz.
Boiling salted water

Crush crackers between waxed paper with rolling pin into fine crumbs. Stir in mint leaves and cumin; set aside. Cook green pepper, onion and garlic in butter or margarine over moderate heat until soft; do not brown. Remove from heat and stir in lemon juice. Mix well with crumbs and set aside. Drain frozen tails in boiling water; when water boils, cook for 4 minutes (not completely since they finish cooking in the oven). Drain immediately and blanch with cold water. With scissors cut down each side of membrane and remove. Bend tails outward and back, cracking slightly, to prevent curling. With sharp knife, cut meat down center of each tail to the shell. Stuff slits and cover tops with crumb mixture. Place in shallow pan or on baking sheet and cook in moderate oven (350°F) for 15 minutes, or until tops are slightly golden. Yield: 3 servings.

Bouillabaisse Prepared In a Jiffy

Bring out a pot of hot and hearty bouillabaisse for a lunch or supper and just watch the pleased expressions.

Bouillabaisse, a delightful French-style chowder made with seafood and fish, is a main entree homemakers prepare very rarely, simply because the old method requires hours of kitchen labor. However, here is a quick version that you can have on the table in a jiffy.

Hurry-Up Bouillabaisse

1/2 cup chopped onion 1/2 cup ReaLemon bottled lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped green pepper 1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 small clove garlic, crushed 1 can (6 1/2 ounces) crabmeat
1/2 cup butter 1 can (5 ounces) lobster
2 cups tomato juice 1 can (4 1/2 ounces) shrimp
1 cup water
Cook onion, green pepper and garlic in butter until tender. Add tomato juice, water, bottled lemon juice and oregano; simmer 15 minutes. Drain canned seafood; break into chunks. Add to tomato juice mixture; heat through. 6 to 8 servings.

Foods for Lenten Luncheons

Knorr cream of mushroom and cream of leek soups are both made with a meatless base and therefore are suitable for use on fast days and for meatless meals during Lent. These soups are packaged with 2 copper foil envelopes in an attractive light green box. Each envelope makes 3 to 4 servings of soup. The mushroom soup makes an excellent chowder when combined with corn or with other vegetables or fish or shrimp. Cod, sole, halibut, haddock—any of the popular varieties may be used.

Fish Stew

1 envelope Knorr cream of mushroom soup mix 1 (16 to 17-ounce) can whole tomatoes
2 1/2 cups water 1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup milk 1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 cups diced, cooked potatoes 1/4 teaspoon salt
1 pound cod or haddock cut into 1 1/2 inch cubes Dash thyme
Empty soup mix into 3-quart saucepan. Gradually stir in water. Bring soup to boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; partially cover and simmer 5 minutes. Stir in remaining ingredients. Simmer until fish is tender, 15 to 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Ripe Olives in Mammoth Meatless Salad

A mammoth salad can make a meal—and can make a meal most memorable if it's "Salad a la Nicoise." Inspired by Mediterranean cuisine, this meatless whole-meal salad needs only French bread or hot rolls to accompany it. Fruit and cheese for dessert round out a Continental menu.

Filled with olives stuffed with whole almonds are among the salad's unusually tasty ingredients. Give the olives a handsome sheen by draining them well, then rolling them in a bowl with a few drops of olive or salad oil.

Ripe olives from California are extremely plentiful in markets this year. Enjoy them often in salads, casseroles and sandwich fillings—or simply eaten out-of-hand.

SALAD A LA NICOISE

1 green pepper 1 clove garlic
1 can (4 oz.) pimientos 3 to 4 tablespoons red wine vinegar
4 hard-cooked eggs
1 can (2 oz.) rolled anchovies 1/2 teaspoon salt
1 can (7 oz.) tuna
Olive oil or salad oil Freshly ground black pepper
1 cup large pitted ripe olives 1 head butter lettuce
1/2 cup blanched whole almonds 1 bunch chicory or romaine
Cut green pepper and pimientos into thin slivers; slice eggs. Drain oil from anchovies and tuna into measuring cup; add olive oil to make 1/2 cup. Flake tuna. Stuff olives with almonds. Peel and crush garlic in salad bowl. Pour in combined oils and vinegar; let stand at least 30 minutes. Remove garlic; add salt and black pepper. Wash greens; tear into salad bowl, saving some of frilliest leaves to line sides. Arrange remaining ingredients on greens. Toss lightly until well coated with dressing. Makes 6 servings.

TIPS FROM THE TACKLE BOX

by B. F. GLADDING
Making The Most of Minnows
ONE OF THE BEST baits for still fishing is a live minnow. Here are some tips on getting the most from this bait with the built-in appeal.

Use hooks of fine wire, in the smallest practical size. Your bait will suffer less damage from hooking, live longer and be far more active.
Hook each minnow as lightly as possible, just ahead of the dorsal fin. Fish don't swallow head first, and the forward hooking gives the hook a better chance to engage.
For one of the most fetching effects, use a sinker that barely sinks in a foot of water to pull the bait down. Your minnow will strive to stay near the surface, and if you pinch on only a small spot, his descent will be gradual and erratic; he'll sink a few feet, struggle upward, carrying the light weight, then be pulled down again as he tires. Sensing that he can almost make it to the top, the minnow will try repeatedly — and his frantic efforts will tend to win him one way passage down some lunker's gullet.

There's a knack to hooking fish on minnows, for a yank at the wrong time means only a bare hook. Fish don't capture and gulp minnows in a single swoop. Their first grab is to catch and kill; they seize the minnow between their jaws and apply pressure. So don't try to set the hook on the strike; it's likely to be outside the fish's mouth where it cannot possibly connect.
Your fish will move off with his prey, then halt to swallow it. Pay out slack to allow him to move off freely, then wait until he moves again after downing the minnow. Now's the time to whack it to him, and if you've had the patience to wait you're going to hang yourself a fish!

Any fishing questions? Send them to me, in care of this newspaper.

Those Wolves keep on winning as they trounced Clarenceville by the score of 88-62. Clarkston could have reached the century mark very easily, but Coach McGrath let his reserves play all of the fourth quarter.

Clarkston played a "pressure zone defense" in the first quarter and they built a 17 point lead in the first quarter. This pressure defense caused Clarenceville to lose turnovers caused Clarenceville to give up a possible 22 points. Ron Ed three passes each and Gary Lippert and John Wilbert in front Pearson gathered in two Clarenceville passes.

The Trojans had almost no offense as Clarkston scored a will. Gary Pearson had 20 points in the first half and ended up with 31. Everything Pearson threw up in the air went through the 18 inch diameter hoop.

In the third quarter Clarkston outscored Clarenceville 25-2 and from there on coach McGrath let the reserves enjoy the game.

All 15 players scored for Clarkston with the reserves adding 24 points to the winning cause.

Dan Frye picked up three quick fouls in the first quarter and sat out over half the game. But, he still scored 15 points. Ron Lippert was next with 13 points.

The J.V. came back in the second half to defeat Clarenceville's J.V. 66-57. Mark Erickson continued his fine scoring by adding 23 points. Erickson is the only consistent scorer on the J.V.

I keep hearing favorable comments about Dave Funk. In a game last week Dave scored 48 points for the Florida school. Having a 21-37 free throw record for his school. As we said last week, Funk has a good chance to make a star in basketball.

White Placer, a team that had lost some 37 basketball games in a row and then won three in a row holds the record for most games lost in a row. However, there is a school in the U.P. that is pushing that record. They have lost 41 in a row. The name of the school is Bes-emer. They are losing basketball games and iron ore mines at a very consistent rate.

Clarkston will play Northville this Friday at home. Clarkston has an inside chance on first place honors. This will be an important game.

Agent Gives Tips On Cost of Pies

Cost, time, quality, and/or personal preference enter into the home-maker's decision to make or buy a pie relates the Consumer Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

U.S. Department of Agriculture researches recently determined the costs of equal weight servings of comparable apple, cherry, and coconut cream pies in four different purchase items. Ready-to-serve baked pies cost roughly two times more than pies prepared at home from separate ingredients, while frozen pies cost one and 1/2 to 2 times more.

Home preparation of these pies took from 51 to 57 minutes constant time, including an embling of ingredients and equipment, but excluding time needed for thawing. Making a pie from up. Using mixes saved 55 per cent of the time. Using ready-to-serve pies practically eliminated preparation time.

For many families, quality of the pie is as important as its price or convenience. In the U.S.D.A. study, the cost of bakery pies were consistently less than those of the corresponding frozen and mix pies, and than those made at home from separate ingredients. Two-crust apple and cherry pies, whether frozen or prepared from separate ingredients or from the mix, usually had from 35 to 45 per cent crust based on total weight of the pie in contrast, some bakery two-crust pies had from 53 to 88 per cent crust.

The Daughters of the American Revolution in General Richardson Chapter met Thursday evening at the W. Iroquois Read home of Mrs. U.E.C. Huthwaite.

Captain R.E. Neely from the Airfield base at Selfridge Field was the guest speaker. He illustrated with films the speed and accuracy with which orders and messages can be dispatched.

A business meeting was conducted by Regent, Mrs. T.U. Jackson. Members selected a slate of officers to the next DAR conference to be held in March in Detroit. Attending will be Mrs. Frank Allen, Miss Jessie Brewster and Mrs. Harry Bates.

Members brought various goods for two schools which the chapter helps to support. Mrs. Lloyd Porter will take the donations to the Kate Duncan Smith School in Grant Alabama and to the Tamassee School in Tamassee, S.C.

Assisting the hostess was Mrs. Hubert Hill who presided at the silver service on a table decorated in a valentine decor.

Also serving were Mrs. Elbert Wilmot, Margaret Wilmot, Iva Jane Price, Mrs. Robert Meikle and Mrs. Charles Whipple.

Several early civilizations realized the need for convenient forms of money. The Egyptians used gold, silver, and other metals as long ago as 2500 B.C. And the Chinese used measured cubes of gold to buy goods in 2200 B.C.

Before midnight tonight, ten children and 22 adults will be burned to death in accidental fires, if this is a typical day in fire damage in the United States. In addition, fire will damage or destroy 500 homes, 14 schools, eight churches, five hospitals and hundreds of stores and factories, according to figures released by the National Fire Protection Association.

These shocking figures will be stressed throughout the fall and winter by responsible civic organizations and community leaders to create greater public understanding of the tragic losses caused by fire — and to underscore how personally involved is every citizen.

"Perhaps the most encouraging thing in our fight against fire damages is the great progress made by medicine in the treatment of burns," said W. O. Elson, medical research director, Bauer & Black division, Kendall Company.

"In the past 25 years, doctors and scientists made amazing advances in their knowledge of burn treatment, and in perfecting techniques and equipment to speed recovery," Elson said.
