Library Advisory Board Selected

Independence Township officials established a library advisory board Tuesday to serve for the balance of the fiscal year. Three of the five board appointments were named with two still remaining unfilled.

Serving as temporary chairman will be Mrs. Kenneth Valentine. Also named were Rev. Paul Johns of Calvary Lutheran Church and Mrs. Evan J. Leonard. Appointed as ex-officio member was township board representative Merle Bennett.

Recommendations for library operation will be received for approval by the township board following a discussion session scheduled for today at noon by the library group. Subjects to be considered will be a schedule of hours, fines, library cards, types of help needed and persons suggested to fill staff needs. An election of officers will be conducted once the full advisory board membership has been attained.

Additional action at the Township meeting included the adoption of a schedule of procedures for handling applications and hearings for appeals regarding zoning ordinances. Also officially adopted was a schedule or preliminary plat submittal procedures.

An amendment was made to the existing burning ordinance, as recommended by Independence Township fire department, that a trash burner be defined within the ordinance and permits to burn subjected to cancellation by the local fire department or the Department of Conservation. It was felt that in order to maintain safety, dry weather conditions warranted a no open fire warning and cancellation of permits.

Board discussion centered around the possibility of passing the resolution to join the Water Utilities Authority of Genesee County. Action on the matter was tabled until clarification of the resolution could be given by Township Attorney Paul Mandel. The escape clause and name change suggestions have been accepted and are in the process of being incorporated in the articles of the water authority group.

Approval of the application for transfer of a class C SDM license from Oliver Wright to Nicolas Manzella was tabled for further study.

March of Dimes Campaign Ends

The 1965 March of Dimes campaign in Clarkston, raised $1,902.17 to support the fight against crippling birth defects.

Funds were raised through the traditional Mothers' March, canisters, mailers, big-gifts division, business and industry division, teenage division, and special events.

The following volunteers served as divisional chairmen: Mrs. Kelly Burnette, 74 East Washington, Mothers' March chairman; Don Mauti and Journalism class of Clarkston Jr. High School, Peanut Sales; Volunteer Firemen, canisters; Tink Ronk, three-piece dime boards.

Monies are used to support medical research; local diagnostic and treatment centers at University Hospital, Ann Arbor; local health career scholarships; and rehabilitation of victims of crippling birth defects and residuals of polio, stated Al Kaline, County Campaign Director.

Crippling birth defects victims in Michigan number approximately 12,800 each year compared to 3,912 polio victims - more than three times the polio rate. The March of Dimes funds totally supported the discovery of the Salk and Sabin Polio vaccines.

Contributions may be sent to the county chapter office at 2279 South Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan.

Expanded facilities at Waterford Hill Country Club, now in the finishing stages, will provide an additional nine hole par three lighted course for night golfers. Bob Schumde, manager, attributes the addition to an increased demand for evening golf.

One of the few Michigan areas providing this facility, the new par three course will cover an 1100 yard area. Completion date for the project has been stated for June.

Local golfers' dilemma of not enough hours to play and extremely congested courses was solved at Waterford Hill last year when they pioneered lighting installations for night golf. Lighting the soon-to-be 18 hole par three are a combination of mercury and filament floodlights placed on 35 foot metal poles.

An additional accommodation for golfers and would-be golfers will be a club conducted golf clinic. Two free class sessions for the morning and two for the evening have been scheduled for the near future, according to the club manager.

William Howard Taft was the first U.S. president to receive a salary of $75,000 a year.

State Highway Projects Told

Bids on highway construction projects totalling more than $11 million were opened yesterday according to Howard E. Hill, acting director of the Michigan State Highway Department.

Locally in Oakland County, plans call for 4.5 miles of grading and drainage structures and dual concrete pavement, some bituminous surfacing and the construction of eight bridges on M-59 from Mott Road east to existing M-59 at an estimated cost of $3,070,000. Completion date for the project will be November 30, 1966.

Village and School Board Meet Monday

The regularly scheduled monthly open meetings of Clarkston Village and Clarkston Community Schools Board of Education will be held next Monday at 7:30 p.m. Agendas for the meetings, to be conducted at the Village Hall and Board of Education building, were not available.

Nobody ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep trying.

Clerks File Township Zoning Is Discussed By Clerk

By Howard Altman
The first three articles from the Clerk's File were intended to give some idea of Township Government background and structure in relation to the State of Michigan and its Constitution and also to list the numerous boards and commissions that Township residents may have reason to be familiar with. Again we remind the readers that detail is often omitted, for the purpose of the article is general information. It is hoped also that reader interest and questions will lead to a better understanding as well as a better appreciation of your township Government.

Often stated is the fact that we are a rapidly developing area and equally true that with increased activity a number of questions or problems arise that require special attention.

Zoning, the permitted use of land as established by a Zoning Code for a given area and adopted to control the types or pattern of development, cannot perceive every situation and unless frequently changed, cannot continue to meet modern demands.

Because it would be impossible to meet every request for change and maintain desired order, while still providing a means for considering a request that would not violate the law, the Township Zoning Board of Appeals was established and plays a very important part in our local governmental functioning.

Accident Injures Five

An accident on I-75 south of Sashabaw Road last Sunday resulted in the hospitalization of two people and minor injuries to three others. Driver of the auto, Frank Straus 21, stated that in attempting to pass another vehicle, his car blew a tire causing him to lose control. The auto rolled over, damaging the right side and roof.

Passengers in the car were Laura Straus, 19, Ronald Grundy, 17, Marlene Grundy, 16, and Dorothy Grundy, 42. All involved in the accident were from the Detroit area.

If you find life is empty, try putting something into it.

The Township Appeals Board has its authority and receives guide rules from the Township Zoning Act, 184 of Public Acts of 1943. Since the Board, in effect, serves as the final local authority to act on zoning appeals, it is advisable to use legal counsel on all questionable cases.

They may also consult with the Planning Commission to consider the intent of the Ordinance in certain cases.

Every Township having a Zoning Ordinance must have an Appeal Board with membership consisting of the Chairman of the Planning Commission, (currently Joseph Rhoades); a member of the Township Board, (Merle Bennett) and a third member appointed by the first two from among resident electors of the unincorporated by the Township, (Harry Jackson).

Board members are paid at the rate of $10.00 per meeting, called by the chairman at times specified in the Board's rules of procedure. All meetings are open to the public as are the records and minutes which must be filed with the Township Clerk.

Four primary types of action may be taken by the Appeals Board:

1. Make an interpretation of the Zoning Ordinance and map.
2. Make changes in applying the Zoning Ordinance to 2 particular parcels of land.
3. Grant special exceptions when they are permitted under terms of the Ordinance.
4. Decide such other matters permitted under the terms of the Zoning Ordinance.

Generally, all appeals to the board are the result of a hardship in trying to comply with the code. In such cases the Board may vary or modify any of its rules or regulations.

In keeping the spirit of the Ordinance, securing public safety and still giving substantial justice, the Appeals Board has no power to change or alter the Township Zoning Ordinance or map, nor can they permit a person to use property for any use contrary to the permitted use by Zoning.

Our Township Board and Board of Appeals has adopted rules of procedure for appeals and basically this would be the course of action.

Any person who has been denied a permit to build or denied the use of his land or property because such a building or land use is not (Continued on page 3)

Local Firemen Have Busy Week

Two grass fires, two vehicle fires and a home fire were recorded this past week by Independence Township Firemen.

Seven men responded to grass fire blazes at William and Clintonville Roads. In both instances the cause was attributed to careless burning of trash. At the William Road location, where the fire spread 150 feet before being brought under control, the home owners were not at home and the trash fire left unattended.

The cause was listed as unknown in an automobile fire which occurred May 1. According to firemen, the fire started in the rear seat of a 1964 Catalina Hardtop belonging to William Fortner of Delhi Road.

Two fire trucks and nine men were needed May 2 to extinguish a blaze in an auto belonging to Robert Matheson of 12 North Main. Possible electrical wiring failure was the reason given as the contributing factor in a fire at the home of John Flanagan of 9760 Sashabaw Road last Monday. Three fire trucks and six men were called into action to extinguish the fire which originated in a bedroom of the home. Damage loss was not known.

Clarkston High School To Participate In Experimental Project

Clarkston High School is one of 17 Michigan high schools and community colleges selected to take part in an experimental project in industrial technical education.

The plan, the Partnership Vocational Education Project, was conceived by Central Michigan University which will direct the project when it gets underway next fall.

Support for the project will come from a $496,000 Ford Foundation grant which was announced May 2. The four-year grant becomes effective July 1 and is the second largest ever received by Central.

The project will function on three levels - university, community college and high school - with cooperation from various Michigan industries. At each level emphasis will be on the inter-relationship of industrial arts with academic areas, especially in the fields of English, physical sciences and mathematics.

The interdisciplinary approach, industrial internship and other features of the project make it unique in U. S. education.

Dr. Ernest L. Minelli of the Central industrial arts department is project director and Charles B. Park of CMU's Special Studies is administrative director.

Key aspects of the project include:

1. A five-year university curriculum for industrial education majors at Central with emphasis on additional teaching and on-the-job industrial experience and an inter-departmental academic sequence.

2. A high school program in industrial-technical education emphasizing modern technology, employment procedures and stimulation for further education.

3. A community college program aimed at providing maximum technological training augmented by the interdisciplinary approach.

In addition to Clarkston, schools already selected to take part in the project include Algonac, Port Huron, Bridgeport, Big Rapids, Vassar, Corunna, Essexville, Alpena, Petoskey, Rockford and Saginaw Township, Alpena and Port Huron Community College have also been admitted to the program.

C.A.I. Plans Annual Fair

Community Activities, Inc. of Waterford Township sets June 18, 19 and 20 at the dates for their 21st Annual Fair.

This year's chairman, Arthur Salley, asks any merchant or individual wishing to participate to contact him. The event will feature large merchant displays, game room, cultural displays and Happyland carnival rides.

One of the outstanding events of the fair is the Queen's Contest. Mrs. Ivan Norgrove, chairman, stated that the contest is open to girls 15-19 and that they will participate in a popularity canister vote. The contest that receiving the highest number of votes will be crowned on the final day of the fair, June 20th. Those interested in entering the contest are asked to call the C.A.I. office.

Riding in high, wide and fancy style is 12 year old Gary Lockler of 121 Main, Clarkston. The rather unique method of transportation is the creation of Hugh Coventry of the same address. Starting girl's bicycle, turned upside-down, ideas and proportions grew into this final result.

A mother's thoughts

Atomic bombs darken our skies . . . radioactive fallout threatens unborn generations . . . there is strife, unrest, even war in many parts of the world! How can we face the future with confidence when humanity stands at the very brink of destruction?

There is only one way: to be courageous and steadfast, and trust in the wisdom and mercy of God!

This little girl, my own daughter, does not know what troubles my heart. She is not afraid of tomorrow . . . not yet! Through the Church she will learn the ways of the Lord and how to live a truly Christian life. Through prayer may God help me set an example for my daughter . . . teaching me to put my trust, yes, my very life into His hands, no matter what the future might have in store for us!

Clerks File

permitted by the ordinance, may appeal within 10 days by filing a request with the Township Clerk a $45.00 charge to cover the cost of the meeting is also required.

The Clerk sends the appeal to the Appeals Board who in turn sets a date to hear the appeal within 30 days. Hearings, held at the Township Hall, may be adjourned to review the question and continue at a later date. A notice, sent by first class mail, is sent to the applicant 10 days prior to the hearing. Stating the time, place, date. The person making the appeal, his agent or attorney may then appear in person in behalf of their request for special consideration.

Zoning and/or land use control is only as effective as the administration and a good deal of responsibility is placed upon the Township Building Inspector, (Leonard Bullard) and the Board of Appeals to see that township property owners are treated fairly under the terms of the ordinance.

Since the zoning ordinance itself cannot be prepared for all conceivable situations, provisions were needed to take care of problems arising from the strict enforcement of the Ordinance. Thus it is that the Appeals Board, acting as a safety valve, is called upon to provide a possible solution. For this reason members of the Appeal Board should be familiar with the Township Zoning Act, the local ordinance and the procedures for handling appeal cases.

Quite often a property owner will exercise the right to appeal when the local Ordinance does not clearly state property regulation or fails to list the different uses for which the property may be used. In appeal cases the applicant must prove or claim hardship. Simple inconvenience is not sufficient grounds for an appeal. The board may, from time to time, approve certain requests only after imposing restrictions or regulations.

Appeals Board action does not necessarily set precedent, for each appeal will stand on its own merit.

Finally then the Township Zoning Board of Appeals keep foremost in mind the following:

1. In all of its actions the public interest must be served.
2. The spirit and intent of the Ordinance should be upheld.
3. Justice must be done to the applicant as well as the adjacent property owners.

Lighting the way of man to betterment is the finest profession known.

Exper. Project

sending the areas of English, industrial arts, mathematics and physical science. Each team will teach the selected courses in its home school and will work with Dr. Miffelli and the University project staff.

An eight-week workshop for high school team members will begin June 21 at Central.

Team members from Clarkston High School include: William Dennis, William Hanson, Ralph Kenyon, and Janet Gabler.

At the university level, the five-year plan will lead to a bachelor's degree and a teaching certificate with "earning while learning" and "earning by doing" provisions.

Central students enrolled under the plan will spend their first two years on campus in specially designed programs of inter-departmental study. The remaining three years will consist of alternating semesters of on-campus and off-campus on-the-job, paid experiences in schools and industry. A 10-week summer session will also be spent in industry, during which time the student will work in his speciality area.

The student's final semester in college will consist of an independent research and study course dealing with "The Study of American Industry." A team of University professors from sociology, economics, commerce and industrial education will advise the research.

Explorers Attend Delegate Meeting

Seven local Explorers from the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, were appointed as delegates to attend the region seven Explorer delegate conference, held April 30 through May 2 at the Great Lakes Naval training station, in Illinois. They joined nearly 1,500 representatives from 80 other councils in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin.

The purpose of the conference was to coordinate programs and events on a regional basis and, at the same time, offer a training experience for Explorers in new techniques and programs.

One of the highlights of the conference was the election of delegates to attend the National Explorer conference at Indiana University, August 14-18, 1966.

Attending the region seven Explorer delegate conference from Oakland county were Dale Fitch of Clarkston and John Krapohl of Drayton Plains.

"Horses and Horse Power" will be the theme highlighting an unusual horse and auto show this Saturday at Brandon High School in Ortonville. The 7:00 p.m. grand entry made at the school athletic field will feature horsemen representing several organizations, antique autos, and equestrian fashion show and an exhibition of various breeds of horses. Also participating in the show will be the J. D. Bush family of Clarkston who will demonstrate the gaits of the Tennessee Walker Saddle Horse. Shown demonstrating the talents of his palomino, Shining Geld, is Flint riding instructor, Chuck Grant. A jumping course has been constructed for students to show the correct form of riding. The Oakland County Sheriff's Posse quadrille team will perform as will the ringmaster team of the John Ivory Farm. Ringmaster for the event will be Clinton Williams of Bleamfield Hills and announcing the events will be Thor Nielsen of Fenton. Included in the antique auto parade will be a 1930 Model A Ford presented to a Clarkston resident as a gift from Henry Ford. Chairmen of the affair will be Mrs. Leonard Weeks and William Sutton of Ortonville.

Drag Racing at Motor City

F. J. Potter, self-styled "Michigan Madman", and his two-wheeled "Bloody Mary" drag racer will be featured at Motor City Dragway -- 26 Mile and Edsel Ford Expressway -- on Mother's Day (May 9).

His drag-racing creation, basically a motorcycle that is powered by a full-blown nitro-burning, fuel-injected Chevy engine, is capable of 200 miles per hour and will be able to reach a maximum of about 160 mph on the quarter mile strip.

Time trials start at 9:30 a.m. with eliminations and exhibition runs beginning at 2 p.m.

Police Post To Hold Open House

Michigan State Police will hold their ninth annual open house at each post May 18, Hospitality Day of Michigan Week, it has been announced by Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Visiting hours at the Pontiac post will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. according to Sgt. John Amthor, commanding officer.

Persons calling at the post will be escorted on tours of the quarters and see an exhibit of equipment and facilities.

"Visitors are always welcome at a State Police post," Sergeant Amthor said, "but this is a special reception and a fine opportunity to see how a post operates and learn about the many activities of the State Police."

The Pontiac post is located at 1295 N. Telegraph Road, Pontiac and is easily identified.

Open house has always been a popular event and Sergeant Amthor is hopeful the response is repeated.

The Michigan State flag as well as the American flag will be flown at the post each day of Michigan Week, which extends from Sunday, May 16, through Saturday, May 22.

Students Present Recital

Seven piano students of Mrs. Fred Davidson were presented in a recital at her home, last Sunday.

Participants were Kyle Ann Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Anderson; Cathy Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Campbell; Jan Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hanson; Holly Hawke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Hawke; Julia and Virginia Underwood, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Underwood, and Erick Eggert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwyn Eggert.

Refreshments were served to students and their parents following the recital.

Country Vocational Survey to Begin

School census enumerators will ask questions about the adults in Oakland County households this month.

In a Federally-financed survey of employment needs in this area, vocational education survey cards will be filled out for persons between the ages of 14 and 50.

There is no blank on the card for names of employees, explained David Soule, Oakland Schools director of vocational education. The purpose of the survey is to find out how many people are working at what kinds of jobs, and how many of those not working would like to be employed.

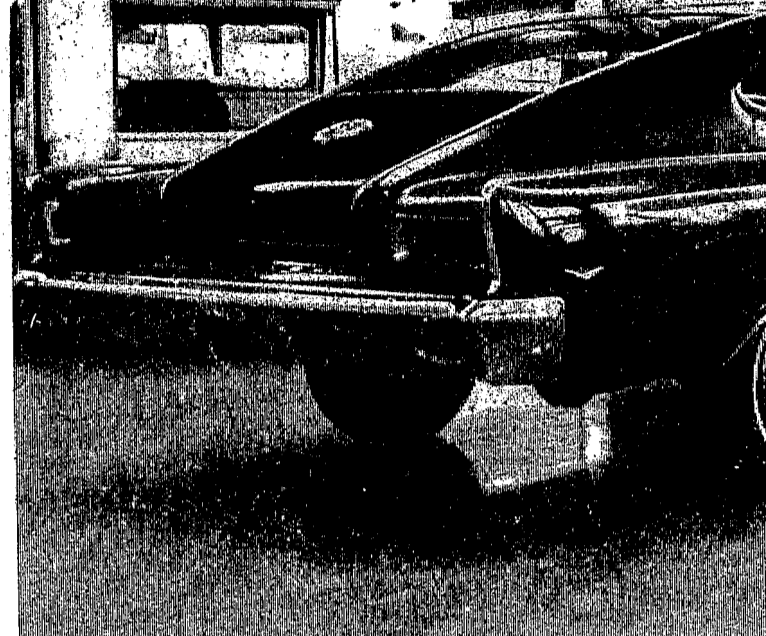

Those who employ two or more people will be asked their names and addresses. This will be a step toward finding out what kinds of training employers demand in people now on the job and what skills they would like to find in future employees.

Information will be coded into census cards with special electrographic pencils. Mark sense equipment in the Oakland Schools Data Processing Center will read, tabulate and print out the statistics to be gleaned from the survey.

There are ten spaces for occupational categories on the card, beginning with "none" and ending with "miscellaneous." Between those more specific categories are listed as professional, technical and managerial; clerical and sales; service; farming, fishery and forest; processing; occupations; machine trades; bench work; and structural work.

Cards will be marked to indicate whether individuals are in school and the level of education completed.

The vocational census is being made in every school district in Oakland County in conjunction with the annual school census. Two hundred fifty enumerators have been hired by the 25 school districts for the month of May.

Bill Spence proudly shows the new Marlin recently introduced by Rambler. Owner Bill Spence, Inc. he has been inviting area residents to stop in and test drive this new man-size sports fastback at his showroom on Dixie Hwy. in Clarkston. Clarkston News Photo Information coded on the vocational education survey cards will be analyzed by computers to form a basis for recommendations for vocational courses in this area.

Buick Open set for June 3-6

The $100,000 eighth annual Buick Open will be played at Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club in Grand Blanc only four weeks from now, Thursday through Sunday, June 3-6.

Michigan's present record for golf galleries is held in fact by last year's Buick Open - 48,695 spectators for the 72 holes over which Champagne Tony Lema beat Warwick's 7,280-yard course with a 277, 11 under par and only three off the tournament record. The '64 Open, counting the Wednesday Pro-Am, drew a total of 51,051.

Several factors explain the earlier increased interest in the Buick Open this year. First, once again it is the only bigtime golf, PGA-sponsored, to be played in Michigan this year.

Other factors are the Buick Open's bigger purse, the increasing interest in tournament golf reflected in larger galleries earlier on the 1965 PGA tour, and the anticipation of Champagne Tony Lema's defense of his Buick Open title just five weeks before he also must defend his companion British Open title.

Lema as reigning British Open champion is one of the current Big Four in Golf with Jack Nicklaus, Masters champion; Bobby Nichols, U. S. Open champion; and Ken Venturi, PGA champion, all expected in the Buick Open, Venturi's health permitting.

The Golf World, too, will be watching to see whether Lema can catch fire this year as he did last, when with his Buick victory he was the first pro in 1964 to put PGA championships back to back and then went on to win three of the four PGA tournaments in that single month.

It was that hot streak which carried Lema to his British Open victory.

Only two weeks ago it was announced that Buick's total purse would be $100,000, including television money divided among the participating pros, up from $66,000 last year and $52,000 the year before.

The winner will take down $18,000, free use of a current-model car for five consecutive years, and another $1,000 for making instructional sequences in the annual color-and-sound Buick Open motion picture for free year-round showing.

It was announced earlier, too, that the Buick Open will be on national television, live and in color, on the Sports Network, 4:00 to 5:00 p.m. Saturday, June 5, and 4:00 to 5:30 p.m. Sunday, June 6.

For tickets contact Warwick Hills Golf & Country Club, P. O. Box 205, Flint, Mich.

Area Youth to Attend Annapolis

Seven youths will become cadets at West Point, Annapolis and the Air Force Academy this July, announced Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) yesterday.

Broomfield said youths chosen were the top scorers of 86 who took comprehensive competitive examinations last year. Two will go to the Military Academy, three to the Naval Academy and two to the Air Force. Upon completion of four years of intensive education, they will be graduated as officers in their respective branch of service.

Among those selected for Annapolis was Roger Keith Roose, age 18, of 4033 Athens, Drayton Plains. He will be graduated from Waterford-Kettering High School this June.

Oakland County Schools

Add "Quiet Room"

A pleasant sitting room with some of the characteristics of a walk-in refrigerator has become one of the most important classrooms in Oakland County.

Dr. Milton Hill, the audiologist who uses the room to test and teach deaf children, objects to the refrigerator comparison.

"It is a nice Quiet Room." He insists on capitalizing the last two words.

The room is quiet. Constructed of eleven layers of sound-proofing material, it does not admit outside noises. A deaf or hard-of-hearing child can hear one sound, one voice at a time and be taught to interpret that particular sound.

Both Hill and the Quiet Room are recent additions to the Oakland Schools Speech and Hearing Clinic. The profession of audiologist is also relatively new. It has been described as a combination of some of the areas of knowledge of the speech pathologist, ear-nose-and-throat specialist, pediatrician, psychiatrist, psychologist, physicist, electronics engineer and educator.

To the toddlers who are his students, Dr. Hill is a slender, friendly man who plays games with them, games with bells and cymbals, or games that you wear ear-phones or hearing aids to play.

They are games only to the children. Working with them, Hill is also eliminating their degree of hearing loss.

In testing older children Hill uses a complicated electronic console to produce sounds of precisely controlled pitch and intensity. Sounds can be sent through either the left or right earphone to measure the hearing of a child in either ear or at any pitch.

Some children can hear low pitched sounds at an ordinary volume, but are deaf to sounds of higher pitch. Since the range of pitch of ordinary conversation goes from middle C to the highest C on a piano, these children are able to pick up only a distorted idea of speech.

Through a single six-paned window to the Quiet Room Hill can watch a child's reaction to the intensity of sound. The youngster listens as a faint sound becomes louder. When he hears it, he raises a hand as a signal. Younger children drop a wooden bean into a can. A graph is charted for the hearing ability in each ear.

Hearing needs of the child are matched with the aid that will most effectively reduce his handicap. Aids that amplify only in ranges in which the child does not hear can be recommended. When parents cannot afford to buy a hearing aid, it is purchased for the youngster by the State Department of Public Welfare.

Children with hearing problems can be referred for testing by physicians, public health nurses or school districts.

Precise hearing evaluation is one of 393 Oakland Schools programs for handicapped children financed through a half mill special education tax. The number of programs has not increased for more than a year because of insufficient revenue. More than 600 children are known to need special classes. A proposition to raise the tax to one mill, or a dollar per thousand of equalized assessed valuation in on the June 14 ballot.

Pace Steps Up on Area Highway Projects

The Michigan State Highway Department is gearing up for spring. That means a lot more than just revving up the pace of construction on projects now underway costing a total of $110,000,000, including about 265 miles of roads and 130 bridges, separations and similar structures.

Howard E. Hill, acting director of the State Highway Department, said the program is like "spring housecleaning while building new additions and landscaping and all the other things we do around the house this time of year."

"The difference, of course, is that our Department's work is continuing on a multi-million-dollar-a-month scale and it affects the living of not only everyone in Michigan but the thousands of tourists who will visit the state in the coming months," Hill said.

Edge-marking with paint (as a safety measure) approximately 3,400 additional miles of highways and re-painting every mile of center marking needing brightening.

Patching pavements damaged by winter freezing and spring thawing. (Reports indicate there's no extraordinary damage, Hill said.)

Clearing ditches and culverts along roadsides wherever needed to insure drainage.

Sprucing up the Department-operated 1,950 rest areas, roadside parks and picnic table sites.

Refurbishing signs and replacing or repairing reflectors.

Spreading seed, fertilizer and weed killer.

The scope of landscaping activity is indicated by the volumes of materials that will be used between April 15 and June 15.

Highway Department crews will spread or spray:

600,728 pounds of fertilizers, 190,000 pounds of grass seed, 1,450 gallons of preventive against Dutch elm disease, 6,100 pounds of soil sterilant, 5,410 gallons of weed killer, 2,150 pounds of cat-tail killer, and 995 gallons of wild carrot killer.

In more direct personal contact with motorists, the Department's five Travel Information Centers already are in operation and reported queries from 1,792 travelers in two weeks before the weather caught up with the calendar.

Said Hill: "We are looking forward to the biggest summer of highway travel ever. We want to look our best—particularly for visitors from out-of-state."

Cub Scouts Get Awards

Andersonville Cub Pack 133 received awards during the April 27 meeting. Honored for their achievements in cub scouting were:

Roger Zander, Forrest Cooper and Bobby Wooley from Den 8, each receiving their Lion badges.

From Den 3, Dennis Lova, 3 silver and one gold arrow and wolf badge; Jim Lova, one gold and 2 silver arrows;

Den 7, Fred Willockx, bear badge and gold and silver arrows; Jerry Jackson, bear badge and gold arrow; David Parker, bear badge and gold and silver arrows; Jerry Pope, gold and silver arrows.

Following the presentation of awards, den mothers received the candy for the annual candy sale now in progress.

The trip to Tiger Stadium is set for August 14. A bus will be chartered for the trip.

Correction — It was erroneously reported in last month's cub scout news that David Moore won the first place trophy for workmanship in the Pinewood Derby. The winner was actually Donald Moore.

Success comes before work only in the dictionary.

O.C. Retirees Get Highest Benefits

Social Security benefits amounting to $4,270,372 a month are being paid to 54,740 people in Oakland County, William E. LaRock, Pontiac district manager of the Social Security Administration announced today. Latest available figures show the average retired worker in the county receives $91.56 a month, compared to a national average of $77.37.

About 27,000 retired workers and 2300 disabled workers receive $2,728,188 of the total, LaRock said. The balance represents payments to dependents of retired and disabled workers, and to survivors of workers who have died. The number of beneficiaries increased 5.5 percent and the amount paid increased 6.5 percent during the past year.

Eligible persons over age 65 should apply for social security even if they are still working, LaRock said, since in many cases some benefits can be paid even while the worker is still employed. The widespread impression that earning over $1200 in a year bars a person from receiving payments is incorrect, he explained, and an application filed with the social security office will prevent any possible loss because of the misunderstanding.

Retired Oakland County workers receive higher average benefits than in any other county in Michigan. In the entire state, 808,462 persons are drawing $59,700,576 a month, LaRock said, and benefit for 1965 are expected to exceed $750 million.

Gov. Will Sponsor Program

For the third consecutive year Governor George Romney will be sponsor of the Governor's Conference on Student Leadership for high school students instruction in the practice, theory, and philosophy of leadership.

Counselors at every high school in Michigan have been invited to select outstanding students who are present or potential officers of school clubs, teams, student governments, and publications as delegates to the conference.

Students and faculty advisors from 20 Michigan high schools served on the planning committee for this year's Conference. Attending locally will be Robert Mills, teacher at Clarkston High School and students, Jim Jackson and Kris Smith. Participating from Waterford Township will be instructor James Amell and students Jerry Charter and Sandra Malone. Waterford-Kettering representatives will be teacher Howard Benmetes and students Bill Graha and Pat Nutter.

They have designed a program which will include breakout discussions on: group psychology and human inter-relationships; practical organization structure; parliamentary procedure; management principals in administration, publicity, discussion leadership, etc. Each student will have a choice of three breakouts during the 8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m. Conference. Governor Romney will give the closing address at 2:30.

Test Driver Tension in Detroit Traffic

A test to determine the truth about driver tension in Detroit traffic is underway.

Tell-tale devices to record reactions of drivers making test runs on both freeways and other principal routes have been put into operation by the Michigan State Highway Department.

Four seasoned male drivers selected by the State Highway Department are making the test runs over a ten-day period.

Calibrating their emotional reactions to the stresses and strains of traffic on various routes is a Galvanic Skin Response instrument.

Double-checking on the Galvanic Skin Response instrument is a Drivometer, developed by University of Michigan and Ford Motor Company technicians. It records and evaluates the driver's behavior by measuring maneuvers of the car.

The tests are the most complete ever undertaken in actual driving situations, Edward F. Gervais, State Highway Department administrative engineer who is director of the National Proving Ground for Freeway Surveillance, said. The City of Detroit, Wayne County, Michigan and 11 other states are cooperating in the program through the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads.

The Galvanic Skin Response instrument was developed by the Bureau of Public Roads, Gervais said.

It records on tape, much in the manner of a lie detector, the responses of the driver as he proceeds over a given course.

Wires leading to fingertip attachments relay to the tape impulses triggered by such traffic conditions as traffic jams, weaving cars, and slowdowns, Gervais said.

"As a driver becomes more excited, the resistance to electrical impulse in his skin changes, and the varying responses vary the current," he said. "This sends data to the recording device."

As the initial testing project, the four drivers, all experienced and emotionally stable, are making "rush-hour" runs over given courses on the John C. Lodge Freeway and on a selected non-freeway section. The surface route starts at the signal at the Seward service ramp along the Lodge service drive, continues north on the drive to Hamilton, then on Hamilton to a point just beyond the Tuxedo intersection.

The test runs are being made between 3 and 6 p.m.

After completion, analysis of the data will be made by utilizing computers.

While the Galvanic Skin Response is recording the driver's inner reactions, the Drivometer, a device that is fitted into the glove compartment and is wired to various parts of the car, makes separate recordings. Steering wheel reversals, accelerator reversals and brake applications are tabulated by numbers on the Drivometer.

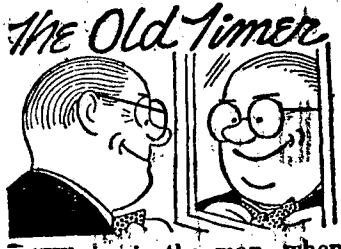

The electro-mechanical device was developed at the University of Michigan's Transportation Institute with funds provided by Ford Motor Company. Co-directors in developing the Drivometer were Dr. Bruce Greenshields, assistant director of the U or M Institute and Fletcher N. Platt, manager of Ford's Traffic Safety and Highway Improvement Department.

Platt predicts the Drivometer will have many applications for both testing drivers and determining their adaptability to the road and its environment.

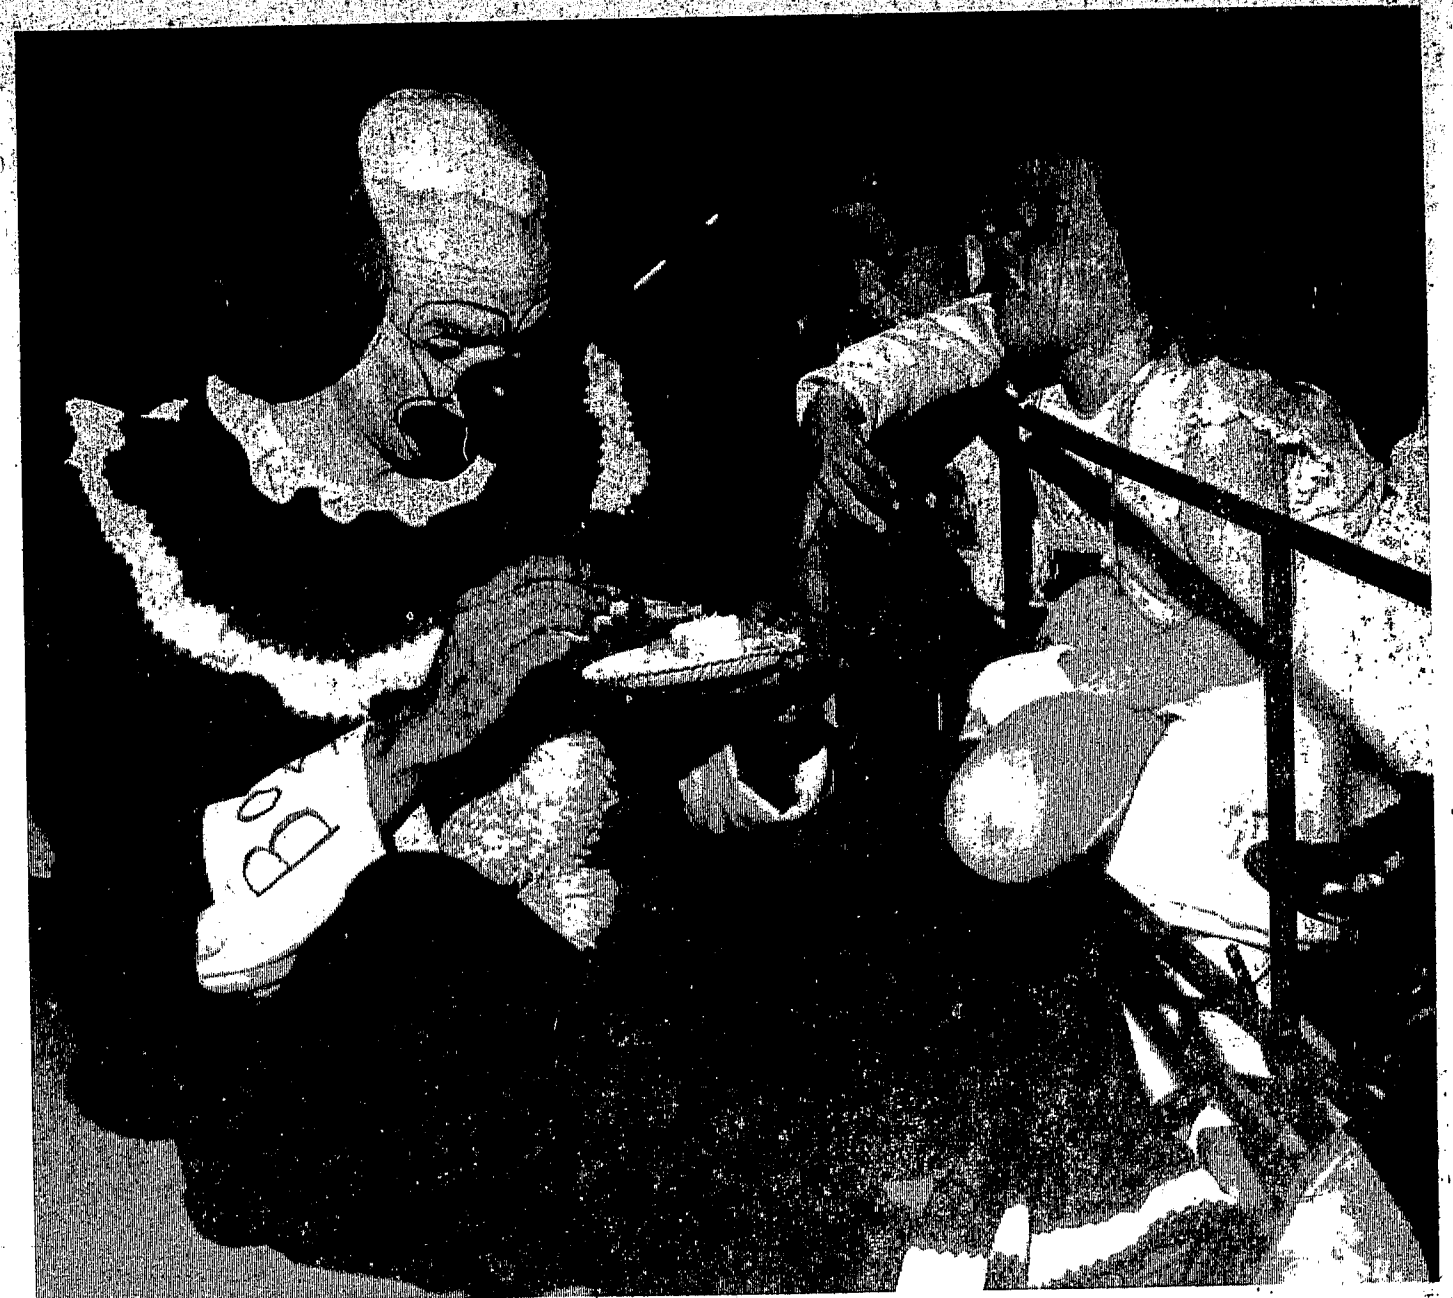

The information gleaned from both the Galvanic Skin Response instrument and the Drivometer will be collated in a State Highway Department computer.

"This type of testing demonstrates that we are interested in the driver and his reactions to our traffic control system," Gervais said.

"We will try to use what we learn to make freeway driving more pleasant."

"Where is the man, when he looks into the mirror who doesn't admire his wife's test?"

Bringing sparkling radiance to the eyes and faces of children is a full time effort of love for Bozo the clown . . . and there's no better way to celebrate an anniversary, according to the merchants of the Pontiac Mall. Today, Friday and Saturday will be the third birthday celebration of the Mall and heading the special performance programs will be Bozo. Invited guests for a 2:30 p.m. Friday performance and birthday cake party will be children of Oakland County Society or Crippled Children. Regular programs have been scheduled for 4:30 and 7:30 p.m. Today, Tomorrow and Saturday.

Warning Given About Contact With Strangers

Because child molestation incidents increase heavily in spring and summer, parents should caution their youngsters now against going for walks or rides with any stranger, said State Police Sgt. John Amthor, commander of the Pontiac post.

He advised that this seasonal warning be occasionally repeated to children as they are outdoors more in good weather months. Sergeant Amthor said the State Police each year investigate many cases of child molestation and a large percentage could have been avoided if the children had been forewarned. The high months for such sex offenses are in summer.

Where adult supervision over children in outside activity is not possible, parents should insist that their youngsters be in company with others, Sergeant Amthor emphasized. A child alone on a playground, exploring a vacant building or loitering in an alley can too easily become the prey of a molester.

Any incidents involving molestation of children should be promptly reported by parents to police. Sergeant Amthor said this will expedite investigation which can help thwart possible other attempts by an offender. He stressed that names of minors molested and their parents are not made public except where warranted in cases of abduction or murder.

Sergeant Amthor listed these guides for parents in cautioning youngsters about molestation dangers:

Children should not go for walks or rides with any person without parental approval.

Since there is greater safety in numbers, children should have companions going to and from school, at playgrounds, going to or from movies, when running errands, etc.

Because public rest-rooms, isolated places or vacant buildings can be high danger areas, children should be instructed not to loiter there.

Youngsters should be advised to remember unusual features about a suspected molester and about any car which may be involved.

Children having questions about their safety or suspecting a stranger should report the matter to parents, teacher or police.

Conservation Program Grows to Meet Demand

During the past 30 years the programs and activities of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service have broadened to meet the resource needs of a growing Nation. When SCS was established by the Congress on April 27, 1935, soil erosion by water and wind had taken a heavy toll of the Nation's private lands. Winds in the Great Plains had whipped soil from millions of drought acres. Uncontrolled water runoff elsewhere had washed topsoil off the land to clog and pollute reservoirs, streams, and harbors.

Know Your Fescue

When seeding your lawn this spring, don't confuse your fescues. Some make attractive, fine-leaved lawns; others look more like tough, hardy clumps suitable for roadsides, but not for front lawns.

Carter M. Harrison, Michigan State University crop scientist, points out that the preferred fescues are members of the "creeping red" species. Any one of its improved varieties is a worthy ingredient in a lawn seed mixture.

Harrison says the varieties to look for include "Cheewings," "Ilahee," "Pennlawn" and "Rainier." All are excellent companions for Kentucky bluegrass, he says, and are noted for persistence on poor, droughty or shaded areas.

But the MSU crop scientist warns home owners to beware of the less favorable coarse, bunchy, "tall fescue." This includes "Alta" or "Kentucky-31" which are not suitable for attractive lawns.

Control of soil erosion, labeled a national menace by the Congress, was the top priority job of the new agency. It began its work on demonstration areas with the aid of Civilian Conservation Corps camps. It established a new science -- soil and water conservation -- using the techniques of all pertinent branches of agricultural science and of engineering, hydrology, biology, geology, and others. SCS meshed this combination of skills into a new type of scientist -- the soil conservationist -- and assigned him to give help to land owners and operators on their land.

The soil conservationist became the action arm of the agency when the program shifted to one of local control and direction as landowners began to organize soil conservation districts under State law in 1937. The scope of the program broadened rapidly as the districts spread across the land. Today there are nearly 3,000 covering 1.7 billion acres that are owned or operated by about 2 million farmers, ranchers and others.

In addition to assisting local district cooperators, the programs and activities of the Soil Conservation Service now include the Small Watershed Program (PL 566), Great Plains Conservation Program (PL 1021), River Basin Investigation, National Cooperative Soil Survey, and Resource Conservation and Development projects.

Growing urbanization has brought about new competition for land and water resources and created new conservation problems.

As an urban Nation we look to land and water for many uses other than food and fiber. We use and need increasing amounts of land for housing and highways, for shopping centers and industries, and for airports and outdoor recreation. This calls for coordinated urban-rural land use planning so that all needs may be served without unnecessary waste of soil and water resources.

Safety Group to Study Accidents

"In the Detroit area when there is an emergency, people from all walks of life get together to do something about it. The rising traffic accident rate in Oakland County is an emergency." The statement was made at Oakland University last week by James O. Wright, president of Federal-Mogul-Bower Bearings, Inc. recently appointed chairman of the board of directors of the new Oakland County Traffic Safety Committee of the Mott Center for Community Affairs at Oakland University.

Among the citizens named who will serve on the board was Waterford Township Supervisor, James Seetorlin.

Rid Your Home of Damaging Wood Pests

Wood damaging insects can be eliminated from your home if certain control measures are followed

"Wood Damaging Insects in the Home," a new publication by Michigan State University entomologist, Ray L. Janes, points out effective control measures for common Michigan wood pests.

You can obtain this publication free of charge from the Oakland County Extension office at 155 N. Saginaw St., Pontiac.

Bark beetles, carpenter ants, long-horned and metallic wood borer powder post beetles, and termites are identified by their physical characteristics.

The damage caused by each of these insects displays certain identifying points. For example, termite damage is characterized by "shelving" in the wood and a corky material which is yellowish and often black specked. Carpenter ants "shelve" wood similarly to termites, but a coarse sawdust is present. The sawdust is often held together by a webbing secreted by the insects.

The identification of the problem and of the insect is the first step in the elimination of the insects.

Control measures depend on the type and extent of the damage present. Do not delay control measures. The damage, the harder it is to control the insects and to repair the

Traffic Deaths Are Reduced

Michigan's 125 provisional traffic deaths in April made that month the sixth in a row to show a reduction in fatalities compared with corresponding months a year earlier, the State Police reported.

Deaths were 19 less than the 144 reported in April a year ago and brought the provisional four-month total to 520.

While deaths, however, have decreased in the last six months the number of injured and accidents continued to show increases.

Factors involved in the fatality reduction include these:

The early months of 1965 showed several periods of prolonged bad weather which helped curb fatal accidents, and reduced traffic mileage.

Tremendous publicity given to Michigan's highway safety problem by the press, radio and television in response to the growing seriousness of the death toll which reached 2,120 in 1964, the third worst annual mark on record.

The emphasis focussed on traffic matters by Governor Romney's Special Commission on Traffic Safety which thoroughly researched the problem before presenting recommendations for improvement.

Though the death reduction in the past six months is encouraging, the summer months will provide a truer test of improvement in traffic safety.

Clarkston P-TA Meets Next Thurs.

He has been a teacher at the Henry Ford Elementary School in Hazel Park for the past eight years and has a masters degree from the University of Michigan in guidance and counseling. Mr. Scott has also done post graduate work in clinical psychology at Wayne State.

The program should be very interesting and with a little imagination the audience will be taken on a trip to the classroom of tomorrow. They will gain an insight into what their children or grandchildren may find a reality.

There will also be installation of the new P-TA officers. They are: president, Mr. Wallace McLay; mother vice president, Mrs. Gerald Anderson; father vice president, Mr. Don Hamaker; teacher vice president, Mrs. Walton Robbins; treasurer, Mr. Don Fox; secretary, Mrs. Walter Norberg; and historian-parliamentarian, Mrs. Norman Daniels.

Reading Program Author To Visit Oakland County

John Downing, reading research officer of the University of London Institute of Education, will visit twelve Oakland County classrooms next week to check the progress of children learning to read with the 44-symbol Initial Teaching Alphabet. He will have two after-school sessions with teachers and administrators.

This is Downing's second visit to Oakland County this school year. He is the author of a beginning series of text books in the new alphabet, which three hundred children in twelve school districts have used this year.

Use of the Initial Teaching Alphabet is part of a federally-sponsored study to test the effectiveness of different approaches to teaching young children to read. Philip Hilaire, Oakland Schools reading consultant, has direct the I.T.A. phase of the study.

News Notes from Clarkston High

John Merkel

The student population at the high school took a sudden dive during the last three days of this week. The cause for the decrease is easily explained in just two words: Senior Trip.

Wednesday, at 5:30 in the morning the Seniors who were going on the three-day trip to New York reported to the high school.

After having their luggage and other equipment checked, the hundred or so students and their sponsors boarded the bus on the first leg of their journey.

They took a jet from Detroit to New York City where they had three days to see various places around the city, on supervised tours, and to visit the World's Fair.

The halls of the high school will seem unusually clear without the Seniors walking around. It will be about two hundred less people in the school.

The Seniors who don't go on the trip aren't required to come to school on the days the others are gone on the trip.

The curtain closed for the sixth and final time last Friday on Clarkston's first musical, "My Fair Lady" by Lerner and Loewe.

It was a moment of relief and sadness for the thirty-five cast members who put in so much work, as well as the directors, Mr. and Mrs. Moore and all the other people who helped out.

Souvenir pictures were taken a few weeks ago and are available to cast members from Mr. Moore.

The high school chorus class is busy building the sets for their spring program which will feature several familiar songs, many new ones and a few folk songs.

Something new has been in operation in the high school for a little over two weeks. A paper-back book rack has been set up in the commons area.

Students volunteer time during their lunch hours to operate it, and, though it shouldn't be necessary, to see that no books are stolen.

Thus far, many books have been brought in for the students' reading enjoyment. The Explorers Club is donating all profits to the Student Aid Fund, but it cannot have very big profits if books continue to be stolen.

The high school library had a book display last week of books that could be ordered for next year.

Students came in from their English classes and wrote on a slip of paper which books they would like to have in the library next year.

Some time this month some of Mrs. Horrigan's and Mrs. Palmer-Smith's English classes plan to go to the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

Senior announcements are expected to be in shortly. Also in the way of class news, the Sophomore class rings arrived last week and can be picked up in the office.

Bailey Lake Elementary

Mrs. Marsh's third grade class of Bailey Lake School recently enjoyed making bread as a culminating activity of a health unit entitled "My Engine".

The objectives of this activity were:

To make each child aware of his responsibility in caring for his body by eating the proper foods; to learn that many things are used in the process of preparing just one food; to learn that many people were involved in the supplying of the ingredients and to learn that yeast is a very important ingredient of bread.

The students also learned to appreciate the many things in the world that are necessary to sustain life and to produce a healthy body.

It was learned that yeast is a tiny plant and needs sugar for food and heat to help it grow. This process the children observed as they saw the bread rise.

After Miss Tenuta's second grade class finished studying about the wind, they were told to write a story concerning anything about the wind. Following are some creative thoughts described by the second graders.

WIND HELPS US

My mom likes the wind because it dries her clothes. I like the wind because it flies my kite. It helps planes to fly. It can put out fire. (???) It helps us to live. My Father likes it because it blows seeds. It plays tricks on you. The end. Cuthbertson, G.

WEATHER IS FUN

Some weather is dry. And some weather is wet. I don't like rain. But I like a storm in the night. Ford, L.

WHAT WIND CAN DO

The wind makes the roses grow. You can get a cold from the wind. It can kill some people. The wind makes the water sway. The wind blows us. Gardner, L.

WIND

You can't see the wind but you can feel it. And you can hear it. Yes, it is our friend, but at times the wind isn't so friendly. It is an oxygen, it also makes damage to a lot of things. Wind is gentle.

but it still can be very hard. A tornado is a damaging wind. A gentle breeze is a friendly wind. And in spring the wind helps to dry up the extra water and mud from winter. The breeze helps cool you when you are hot in the summer. Wind is helpful and sometimes not because it can make tornadoes. The End. Gates, C.

HOW WIND HELPS

When you have sailboats on the lake, the wind helps by blowing the sail. The sail is hooked to the boat and the wind blows the sail. The sail pole is hooked to the boat. When the pole tips the boat starts to move. The faster the wind blows the faster the boat goes. And which ever way you want to go there is a wood stick on the back that you steer with. And that's how wind helps. Gross, R.

THE WIND

The wind is from the hot air going up, and the cold air coming down. This forms small breezes and large winds like "tornadoes", gales, and hurricanes. Hart, D.

Wind moves the clouds. Wind dries the fields. Wind makes a kite fly. Wind turns the windmill. It makes waves on the lakes and rivers. Wind makes noise. Lang, G.

Cause Concern Water Accidents

Water accidents are on the increase. The governor's Water Safety Advisory Council met in Detroit April 27 to tell the public what it has been doing about the problem. John Church, Midland Coast Guard Auxiliary and chairman of the Water Safety Advisory Council created by Gov. Romney last year, says a massive water education program is about to begin in Michigan. Boat owners and others using lakes and streams for pleasure, he says, will have more chances in 1965 than ever before to learn how to play safe.

One of the council's efforts is a safe boating course to be offered this spring and summer in high schools, to boating groups, and to industry.

The course was developed by a water safety council member, the state Boating Control Committee. It covers state boating laws, water safety rules, and lifesaving techniques.

The course has been well received by the public, according to its originator, James Hadley, Administrator of the Boating Control Committee.

Other safety efforts are directed at the boating public by another water safety council member, the Michigan Marine Dealers Association.

Association members often are the only persons who stand between a novice boater and the potentially dangerous water, says Frank E. Burch, executive secretary of the association.

"Our dealers do all they can to advise a person new to boating about equipment he needs," says Burch. "They even discourage the buyer from selecting a motor too large for his boat. That's going pretty far with ethics."

As another solution to the growing problem of water safety Burch proposes that "we let the public know there are policemen on the water." He says he thinks much of the carelessness inherent in boating accidents could be prevented if more skippers realized they could get tickets or be fined for violations.

One of the answers may be the marine deputy. About 100 of these waterborne sheriff's deputies are training now for patrol work this summer.

Among the members of the governor's safety council are the U. S. Coast Guard, Power Squads, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America, American Red Cross, the Michigan Sheriff's Association, and the state police.

In Uniform

Fire Control Technician Second Class Charles L. Ott, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Ott of 5030 Cecelia Ann, Clarkston, departed Norfolk, Va., April 2 for duty with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean Sea aboard the destroyer tender USS Tidewater.

The Tidewater is equipped with supply and repair facilities, in order to support ships of the Sixth Fleet while at sea.

Shipfitter Third Class Robert J. Jargo, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Jargo of 5424 Cecelia Ann, Clarkston, is serving aboard the attack transport USS Fremont, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

The Fremont, presently in Norfolk for repairs and overhaul, is scheduled to leave in early April for a week of operations with Marines from Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The Fremont's primary mission is transporting, landing, and supporting Marine battalion landing teams.

The transport is scheduled for deployment in the Mediterranean Sea later this year.

A man whose normal weight is 150 pounds would weigh about 50 pounds if all the water in his system were dried up.

Churchwomen To Sponsor Breakfast

The Fellowship of Churchwomen of Waterford Township will hold their annual May breakfast May 21, at 9:30 a.m. in Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church. The Presbyterian Church of the Atonement will be co-hostess.

Mrs. Ione McMillan, who recently returned from missionary work in the Congo, will be guest speaker.

Those wishing to attend are asked to contact their church representative for reservations by May 18.

The host church will contact each church for these reservations.

Students Plan Exhibition

Projects from the art department, industrial arts, science, and home economics will be on display May 13 for the Clarkston High School Achievement Night.

During the evening at 8 and 9 p.m., two style shows will be presented by the home economics students. Musical selections by the vocal department will be presented in the Little Theater at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

Achievement Night will not be continuous scheduled program so area residents are welcome to come anytime between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m.
