Home Destroyed By Flames

Fire swept through a nine room home and a 20 x 40 utility shed on 542 Baldwin at 5 p.m. Tuesday, completely destroying the buildings and contents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cole who were purchasing the home, were eating supper with their three children, Charles 6, Teri 5 and John 7 Months, when they first discovered the fire. The family escaped unharmed, but the flames spread so rapidly that they were unable to save any of their personal possessions. Two pet beagles and a cat were believed to have perished in the fire.

Oxford, Orion Township, Independence Township, and Addison Township Fire Departments battled the blaze for most of the evening. Members of the Orion Township Fire Department remained into the night to keep the smoldering embers from reigniting. High winds hampered the fire fighting.

The building and contents, valued at 30-35,000.00, were only partially insured, according to Mr. Cole.

Mr. Cole stated that he had re-decorated the home and purchased new furniture for most of the rooms just prior to the fire. A new water heater, delivered the day before the fire, had not been connected. The recently purchased deep-freeze, nearly full of vegetables and meat, was among the family's possessions destroyed by the fire.

Charred remains of appliances, and furniture reduced to ashes, strewn in what was previously the basement of the Cole's home, are the only visible evidence of the recent family dwelling.

Mr. Cole and his family are temporarily staying with Mrs. Cole's sister at 5281 Dixie Highway. They hope to rebuild on their Baldwin Road property.

Accident Takes Life of Local Honor Student

A Clarkston youth, Tor-Olav Heiland, 21, died July 10 of injuries sustained in an automobile accident in Pontiac. Tor-Olav, commonly known as "Ted" by his family and friends, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tor A. Heiland of 6085 Cramlane Drive.

TOR-OLAV "TED" HEILAND

A graduate of the Dearborn High School, he was among eight students to receive the National Merit Award for academic achievement.

He attended the Michigan University of Technology at Houghton, Michigan for two years majoring in Civil Engineering before transferring to Oakland University where he was a student at the time of his death. Ted hoped to make a future in law or foreign service. He maintained a high scholastic average in both high school and college and was recently named to the Dean's List for scholastic achievement at Oakland University.

Ted's 6 foot 6 1/2 inch physique were attributes during his high school and college days. At Dearborn High he was a member of the varsity basketball team during which time he participated in the Michigan Regional Tournament. He was also a member of the Michigan University of Technology varsity team. At Oakland University he played intramural basketball. During this past year he was voted most valuable player by his fellow teammates.

Besides his parents, Ted is survived by a sister Mrs. Thomas Routhieux of Oregon and a brother Roy, at home.

Also surviving are grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Dokka of Norway.

Newly elected to the Board of Trustees of Kingsbury School, Oxford is Ben M. Snyder, assistant headmaster of Cranbrook School.

At Cranbrook since 1948, Snyder is also Master in United States History.

He is currently directing Cranbrook's newly initiated Horizons Program, an experiment to provide private school training for 50 students from Detroit's core city.

New Instructional System for Community College

A significant step forward in the implementation of the "tutorial" approach to instruction to be used by Oakland Community College this fall is the contractual agreement reached by the College and Litton Systems, Inc., George Mosher, OCC Board chairman, announced today.

Litton personnel will assist in the analysis and design of the complete educational system, planning and implementing the curriculum, development of instructional materials, and staff orientation and training.

"Oakland Community College has charted for itself a pioneering role in educational systems," Alfred Strogoff, Litton Vice-President, said. "Litton accepts this challenge and desires to participate by making a substantial investment in order to insure the success of this most significant educational model of higher learning."

"This advanced instructional system, including the tutorial technique, which is designed to serve the varying needs of individual students by means of supervised, self-instruction, will make Oakland Community College a model not only for community colleges but for schools of all levels," Strogoff declared.

A key part of the program will consist of 60 self-instructional tutorial units developed by Litton. These programmed instruction courses will be used in 10 different subject areas such as business accounting, electronics, college chemistry and physical science.

Development and implementation of the tutorial concept in the OCC academic and technical training programs will be carried on by the Educational Systems Division of Litton Industries in cooperation with the OCC staff.

Each student at the College will be provided with the necessary instructional materials and equipment for use in a specially designed study carrel. The range of instructional aids includes audio tapes, visual displays, books, periodicals, setups for experiments and programmed materials.

"Courses of instruction will minimize group teaching methods," Dr. John E. Tirrell, OCC President, said. "Instead, students will use a carefully designed system which stresses supervised self-directed instruction. The system is controlled and paced by each student according to his ability to perform successfully. Responsibility for achievement rests primarily with the learner."

Litton was selected by the College, according to Mosher, because of the organization's extensive experience in the application of advanced concepts and technologies in the fields of education and training.

Litton operates Job Corps Training Centers when its responsibilities include education and vocational training. The company is also a leader in the design of closed-circuit instructional TV systems.

Oakland Community College will accept its first students, an anticipated 3,000, on September 7 at its Highland Lakes and Auburn Hills campuses.

Police Chief Issues Warning

Clarkston Village Chief of Police Robert Phillips, has announced that he and his officers are issuing tickets and enforcing excessive noise and speed limit laws.

Violation of these laws, especially by motorcycle drivers, has been a problem in the village according to Mr. Phillips. Patrolmen have been instructed to issue tickets to offenders.

Local Girl Attending International Roundup

Sixteen year old Joette Schultz, daughter of Mrs. Anita Schultz of Wompole Street, Clarkston and Mr. Joseph Schultz of Pontiac, is among the eight Senior Girl Scouts from the Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council attending the 1965 National Senior Girl Scout Roundup at Farragut, Idaho, July 15-28.

Joette is one of more than 9,000 Girl Scouts from all over the world attending the Roundup, which is held once every three years and made up of delegates chosen on the basis of leadership, scout activity and responsibility.

"Girl Scouting - A Promise is Action," has been the theme chosen for this year's event. The activities the girls will engage in will be similar to those in Girl Scout camps everywhere. Some of these are arts and crafts, cooking out-of-doors, or singing around the campfires and along the trails.

"On the Trail to Tomorrow" will be the slogan for the event in which girls will be re-examining their Scouting concepts and preparing for full scale participation in the world of tomorrow at an almost adult level.

At the encampment Service Aides will have the opportunity to use their training and experience. These girls will work with adult experts in public relations, merchandising, nursing, office management, forestry, conservation, the performing arts and many other fields, gaining valuable information about future career possibilities while giving service to the Roundup.

Activities carried over from past round-ups along with new ideas which grew out of suggestions from former campers will combine to make this a memorable Round-up.

Some of these activities include patrol demonstrations and exhibits, girl reporter, commentator, photographer projects, color ceremonies, Arena events and religious observances.

Joette will serve as the commentator for station WPON, Pontiac. Her duties in this capacity will consist of making five one minute tapes recording information about the Roundup activities.

Building Report

The Building Department of Independence Township reported 32 new buildings being erected in the township during the month of June at an estimated cost of $330,850.00.

Twenty permits for additions or remodeling were issued with approximately $38,350.00 being involved in these projects. A total of $13,125.00 was spent by area home owners to build 10 garages.

A dwelling was demolished in a "purple fire". There was no cost for this project.

A total of 64 permits were issued during June at a total building cost of approximately $588,325.00.

The third road barrier, erected by a group of Rockcroft Road residences in Lakeland Vale Subdivision, remains as a staunch protest to public use of what is claimed to be a private road. Two previous barricades were destroyed by Marvin Road residents, according to Lakeland Vale residents.

The barricade which was erected to "discourage" through traffic has been temporarily effective, and legal advice is being sought by a group who erected the barrier in an attempt to permanently close the street. Residents of Marvin Road are opposing the action claiming that a permanent barring of through traffic will cause hardships during heavy snows and in case of emergencies. These residents claim that Marvin was originally designated as a through street and therefore question the legality of the barricade.

We spend our summers by the Inlet. Eddie and I love to walk the beach, watching with fascination the wild churning of the water where the ocean waves meet the strong river current.
"That's my name," he said, when I told him the churning water was called an "eddy."
It's more than his name. It's a picture of his life — and every child's.
Growing up is a succession of crosscurrents. The influences of the home meet those of the school — the playmates — the community — the times. Strange, new experiences must be fitted into the child's ever-widening world.
Religious training is the surest stabilizing force in this turbulent period of growth. Strengthened by parental faith and example, a child discovers in his Church that there are values greater than whim or adventure. He realizes that his own and his family's standards are rooted in the truths of God. And he learns with the firm rudder of faith to steer a bold course — out of the Inlet's swirling eddies — across the sea of life.

Service Men in News

Shipfitter Third Class Robert J. Vargo, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Vargo of 5424 Cecelia, Clarkson, Mich., is participating in amphibious exercises in the Mediterranean while serving aboard the attack transport USS Fremont as a unit of the U. S. Sixth Fleet.

The Fremont, which departed Norfolk, Va. June 2 for deployment with the Sixth Fleet, will conduct amphibious operations throughout the summer. Marine assault troops will be landed on the beaches of several Mediterranean countries in routine training exercises.

Before returning to Norfolk in November, the attack transport will make port calls in Spain, Italy and Greece.

Marine Private First Class Charles A. Rockwell, son of Mrs. Grace H. Rockwell of 11 S. Holcomb Clarkson, a member of the 1st Battalion 5th Marine Regiment of the 1st Marine Division, completed advanced combat training with his battalion recently. The training was in preparation for his unit's transplacement overseas to the 3rd Marine Division on Okinawa.

Entire battalions in the transplacement system move as units from California to the Far East as part of a continuous training and replacement cycle. While in the Orient, the battalion will undergo mountain warfare and cold weather training in Japan, counter-insurgency warfare training on Okinawa and in the Republic of the Philippines and take part in amphibious operations throughout the Western Pacific.

After approximately 12 months in the Far East, the battalion will return to Camp Pendleton for advanced mountain, desert and amphibious training exercises.

Navy Ensign Glenn R. Underwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Underwood of 5680 Hillsboro Road, Davidsburg, participated in the largest combat amphibious operation since Inchon, Korea in 1950, while serving aboard the dock landing ship USS Comstock.

Initial elements of the Fourth Marine Regiment and Third Reconnaissance Battalion were landed at Chu Lai, Republic of Viet Nam on May 7. This was the first completely "over the beach" landing in the four American amphibious landings that have been made in South Viet Nam.

Without the harbor landing ramps of Da Nang to rely on, all the Marines' equipment and supplies were landed over the Seabee-installed causeways or flown in by Marine helicopters from the ships anchored off Chu Lai, to the south of Da Nang.

Seaman Paul D. Hotchkiss, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle S. Hotchkiss of 6707 Williams Lane Road, Waterford, is attending the basic Radioman School at the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Maryland.

During the 24-week course, he is learning basic code sending and receiving electricity and electronics, and communications procedures on voice, short wave and teletype systems.

Upon graduation, he will be able to send a minimum of 15 words-per-minute of International Morse Code, and receive at least 18 words-per-minute.

We have examined the statements of assets and liabilities on a cash basis, of the various funds of the Township of Independence as of March 31, 1965, and the related statements of cash receipts and disbursements and fund equities for the year then ended. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures, as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements of assets and liabilities and the related statements of cash receipts and disbursements and fund equities present fairly, on a cash basis, the financial position of the various funds of the Township of Independence as of March 31, 1965, and the results of operations for the year then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Very truly yours,

State Fair Wants Teen-age Advice

To keep abreast of the changes in tastes and attitudes of young people in terms of Michigan State Fair programs, exhibits and entertainment, the formation of a Youth Advisory Committee is announced by Charley Figy, of Morenci, chairman of the Michigan State Fair Authority.

"The young people actually were recommended by their high school principals or administrators and form a geographical cross section representative of the heavily populated area in and around Detroit," Figy said.

The task of working directly with the Committee will be in the hands of State Fair Manager Walter A. Goodman and Albert Basil, an Ecorse high school teacher, who is the Director of Youth Programming for the State Fair, August 72 through September 6.

"All over the country teen-age interests have been changing with great frequency in recent years," said Goodman. "The State Fair wants to know, to have its ear to the ground."

"High school students are one of our largest and most important patron groups. We have ideas of what they might want but we must be sure we are 'hep'!"

"For example, do they want information on careers, job opportunities, colleges, work training programs; more youth farm exhibits; new contests? What do they think of our entertainment talent? In other words, just what do young people want to find at the Michigan State Fair."

Clarkston Teachers Attend Workshop at Central Mich.

Fifty four teachers and administrators from 14 Michigan high schools are attending a special eight-week workshop at Central Michigan University in preparation for this fall's opening of CMU's Partnership Vocational Education Project.

The project, supported by a $496,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, involves CMU, Michigan industries, high schools and community colleges in an experimental approach to industrial-technical education.

The project will function at three levels—university, community college and high school. At each level emphasis will be on the inter-relationship of industrial arts with academic areas, especially in the fields of English, physical sciences and mathematics.

Each participating high school has selected a four-member team representing the areas of English, industrial arts, mathematics and physical science. Each team will teach the selected courses in its home school, working with Project Director Dr. Ernest Minelli and the Central project staff.

The eight-week workshop now in progress serves as an introduction to the project for team members from the participating schools. After six weeks on Central's campus each team will spend two weeks in its home school planning next year's program.

Generally, the high school portion of the program will emphasize modern technology and provide stimulation for current and future education.
