

Clarkston Schedules Adult Education Classes

The winter term of the Clarkston Community School Adult Education Program will begin January 17th.

The registration fee will remain at 7 dollars for all regular classes and 5 dollars for the men's and women's physical fitness program. Men's physical fitness class will also be offered to father and son combinations for 7 dollars.

Classes available in the domestic area include knitting, cake decorating in beginning and advanced, rughooking, and problems in sewing.

In the art and industrial arts area, classes offered are ceramics, beginning drafting, welding and metalworking, and woodworking and furniture refinishing.

The business department will feature beginning and intermediate typing, beginning and intermediate bookkeeping.

The bishop method of sewing will again offer its No. 1 course and also offer the No. 2 course for those who have completed the first course.

It is the desire of the school system to make available any course on the adult level where there is sufficient interest. All that is necessary to include an additional course is evidence that there are at least 15 persons desiring the course and the availability of an instructor.

Registration for any course may be obtained by mailing your name, class desired and registration fee to Clarkston Community High School 6595 Middle Lake Road Clarkston, Michigan or the fee may be paid at the first class meeting. Individuals may reserve registration in any class by calling 625-5841.

For additional information please contact Mr. Wm. Dennis at 625-5841 between 9 AM and 4 PM.

A little girl referred to the Oakland County voice clinic helps Robert Baynes in his study of voice disorders.

Clarkston Man Makes Strides in Voice Disorder Research

The first steps toward computer research in voice disorders of children have been made by a Clarkston resident.

Robert Baynes, speech and voice consultant for the Oakland Schools Speech and Hearing Clinic, has adapted a data processing card to carry a three-second sample on a strip of attached sound tape.

A second strip on the tape carries the voice of a medical expert reporting his visual diagnosis of the child's vocal chords. Other cards, each carrying up to 125 items of information about the child, can be punched to include necessary research data.

Baynes' interest in this area began five years ago in search for his master's thesis at the University of Michigan. In a study of 1,010 children, he found eight per cent chronically hoarse and in need of voice training medical attention or both.

The first group of young voices to be recorded for counter study were 70 children referred to a voice clinic held in November as a cooperative service of the Oakland County Health Department and the Oakland Schools Speech and Hearing Clinic.

Since the inception of the voice clinic four years ago, 350 school children have been examined by Baynes and a consulting laryngologist. Thickened vocal chords or nodules (wart-like growths) on the chords were found in 58 per cent of the children examined.

Baynes is using the three second taped samples of voice disorders and the diagnosis of each case to provide further information to the 100 speech clinicians of Oakland County in order to assist them in recognizing young voices that may need further attention through voice re-education.

"Some cases of Voice disorders are temporary, caused by colds and throat ailments," Baynes explained.

"However if hoarseness persists more than two weeks, a throat specialist should be consulted. Permanent damage to the vocal chords can occur if the child or adult attempts to use the voice during periods of hoarseness due to laryngitis."

He stresses the role of speech clinicians in preventing life long voice disorders through early recognition, diagnosis, and treatment. This can be done only through the close cooperation between the speech clinician, physician, and parent.

"The speech clinicians in the schools can learn to identify these boys and girls," he said, "and teach them less strenuous ways to produce voice. Proper use of vocal chords would have prevented the majority of the voice disorders we are finding in children."

Baynes' work is receiving widespread attention in his field. He presented a paper on voice disorders to the National Convention of the American Speech and Hearing Association in Chicago. The December issue, Journal of the American Speech and Hearing Association contains a report of his initial study on the incidence of voice disorders. The Journal of the Michigan Speech and Hearing Association contains his most recent article entitled "Clinical Observations of Children with Voice Disorders." Current publications are directed towards the presentation of information surrounding "the medical-paramedical management of voice disorder in children and adults" as well as "the management of voice disorders within the framework of the Public School."

Bank Promotions at Pontiac State

Two promotions at Pontiac State Bank were announced by Edward E. Barker Jr., Bank President.

Juanita B. Tarlton of 3285 Airport Road, Waterford Township, has been named assistant cashier. She joined the bank in 1955 and worked as assistant to the manager of the Drayton Pains office for nine years. For the last year she has been in the Mortgage department at the Main office.

She has a son, Ronald, who is in the military service and a daughter, Linda, who works in the Pontiac Motor Division Personnel Department. She is a member of the executive board of the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association.

William L. Shaw of 139 Draper Road, Pontiac has been named manager of the bank's Odyke-Walton office. He joined the bank in 1962 and worked as assistant manager at the Baldwin Avenue office prior to being put in charge of the Odyke-Walton office.

He served three years in military service in Germany during World War II, is now a member of the board of Governors and Chairman of School Relations of the American Institute of Banking in Oakland County, also, is presently taking a course in Business Management at Oakland Community College.

Barker stated that these promotions were made in line with the banks expansion program.

Civil Service Jobs Given on Merit

Michigan's civil service system applies the merit principle to more jobs than any other state, a University of Illinois political scientist told an international conference of public personnel administrators meeting here.

Professor Thomas Page of the U of I Institute of Government and Public Affairs reported on his study of "merit and patronage in state manpower systems," which specifically compared state civil service in Ohio, Illinois, and Michigan. He described the Michigan system as "highly autonomous, stable, and operating in relative political neutrality."

"Probably no other state manpower system is so comprehensively on a merit basis," he said. In contrast, he pointed to wholesale exemptions of state jobs from civil service in Ohio and Illinois and political tampering with civil service jobs there.

"In Ohio," he said, "the merit system is turned off and on like a faucet, as each successive party administration claims that the former administration blanketed in incompetents who must be purged to make way for a really loyal group."

Page reported that over 12,000 of the state's 47,000 civil service jobs are "provisional" who have not yet passed merit tests, and that membership in political clubs plus three per cent assessment of salary is common. In Illinois he reported 8,200 jobs exempted from 42,800 covered by the state civil service code, including 1,000 investigators and inspectors of tax and enforcement agencies.

In Michigan provisional appointees in the civil service have averaged less than three per cent of the total state workforce during the past several years. Under the new constitution less than 120 of the State's 35,000 jobs will be exempt from civil service.

Two State Police Officers Injured in Accident

Two State Police officers escaped serious injuries in a collision which occurred during the high speed chase of a traffic violator December 31.

Treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital were officers Richard Chartier, 6311 Peach, Clarkston; and Charles Moyer of Pontiac.

According to State Police records, the accident occurred when the troopers attempted to stop for a red light at State Street near Johnson. The brakes failed and the patrol car collided with a parked vehicle.

Nine year old John Ehlers of 4019 Olmstead, Drayton Plains, was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital after he and his brother, Donald, 7, were struck by a car December 31, at Telegraph Road near Huron. Donald was not injured.

Witnesses told State Police officers that the two boys darted into the street. Driver of the vehicle which struck the pair, Audrey Morris, 911 E. Glass, Ortonville, was not held.

A Pontiac Osteopathic hospital spokesman reported John in good condition suffering laceration of the forehead, a fractured leg, and a possible concussion.

Alan Stigleman, of Franklin, got his deer December 30, out of season, but legal. Stigleman was traveling on I-75 near Dixie Highway overpass, when the deer darted in front of his vehicle. In an unsuccessful attempt to avoid the animal, Stigleman lost control of his car. State Police records show that Stigleman took the deer.

Richard Robenault, 9551 Ellis, Clarkston was injured in a three car collision in the Village of Clarkston, January 3, according to Sheriff Department records. The accident occurred when a

Singer Featured at Pontiac - Oakland

The Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall will feature Bob Wright in a program of songs from musical comedy and light opera January 12. The performance will be held at the Huron Theater in Pontiac at 10:30 a.m.

Mr. Wright is a singer and star of stage, screen, and television. He has appeared on Broadway in Kiss Me Kate, South Pacific, and Tall Story. His performance in The Merry Widow at the Fisher Theater last year was well received.

Devon Gables will be the site for a celebrity luncheon following the concert. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. H. T. Baker of 217 Navajo Drive, Pontiac.

Episcopal Bishop Will Confirm Class

The Right Reverend Richard S. M. Emrich, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, will be present at the Church of the Resurrection, Clarkston on Sunday, January 9, 1966 to confirm this year's class of confirmands.

Those being confirmed include Timothy Adams, Mary Susan Boast, Kurt Carlson, Jeff Doremus, Sara Doremus, Roberta Howenstine, Marcia Johnson, Brian Leak, Phyllis Stewart, John Whitmer and Julia Wilford. Mr. and Mrs. Garbis Mechigian will be received from the Armenian Apostolic Church.

Bishop Emrich preaches widely throughout Michigan and the nation and is the author of two books and numerous articles and pamphlets. He writes a weekly column which appears on the editorial page of the Sunday Detroit News.

Besides confirming the class, he will also be the guest speaker at the Sunday services. A reception honoring the Bishop and the confirmands will be held in the Parish Hall following the service.

Roy, Perry Guilty of 'Junk' Violation

Jean J. Roy and Joseph Perry Jr. were found guilty of violating an Independence Township 'junk' ordinance at a hearing in Justice Court, December 30. Both trials were presided over by Justice Robert W. Carr.

Roy paid a $150 appeal bond and his case was bound over for trial in circuit court.

Perry was sentenced to six months probation and fined $25 plus $10 court costs.

Project Successful

A total of 135 area children were made a little happier at Christmas time through the efforts of the Clarkston area Jaycees. The Jaycees collected, wrapped, and distributed the gifts to 24 families on Christmas Eve. The gifts for this annual project were mostly donated by local residents.

Canisters placed in area business' have netted as much as $214 in a single March of Dimes Campaign. Firemen Robert Tilley (center) and George Partow exchange canisters with Rawley Hallman of Center Pharmacy.

Grace Johnson helps Lori Gusie and Laura Johnson (left) select cookies for a class party held at the fourth branch of Tasty Bakeries recently opened at 6910 M-15, Clarkston.

The business is owned and operated by Ted Hennig, a resident of Clarkston for the past fourteen years, and the founder of the first Tasty Bakery.

The bakery will be open from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. daily except Sunday.

March of Dimes is Aided by Firemen

"You might say our March of Dimes coin collectors are like piggy banks," said Chief Don Beach, a canister chairman of the Clarkston March of Dimes, today.

"We keep putting money into each until they're full. But then comes the difference. The piggy bank money goes into a bigger bank to be saved for old age while the March of Dimes money goes to work right away to make a young age possible for birth defect children."

Chief Beach explained that a great deal of the money raised by the March of Dimes last year went to provide improved care and treatment for birth defect victims through more than 50 birth defect treatment centers, affiliated with university and community hospitals and staffed by teams of medical experts.

He added that it will probably be necessary to spend even more this year because of the rise in the number of birth defect babies whose mothers were infected during the recent sweeping German measles epidemic.

"Those mothers," pointed out the campaign director, "know what caused defects in their babies, and they are thankful that medical science is on the track of a vaccine for German measles."

"Unfortunately," he added, "millions of other mothers of birth defect babies must continue to ask, 'why.' So, we must expand the March of Dimes scientific research program to find more answers to that tragic question."

Chief Beach also expressed thanks to the men of the fire department for delivering March of Dimes coin collectors throughout the area.

One of the hardest secrets for a man to keep is his opinion of himself.

Obituaries
JOSEPH F. SHOLTS
Services for Joseph P. Sholts, Jr. 8 week old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sholts, 6275 Sashabaw Road, was Monday, January 3, from the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home with burial in Ottawa Park Cemetery. Rev. Geoffrey Day officiated. The infant had been ill since birth. Besides his parents he is survived by a sister, Debbie, and a brother, Edwin, both at home; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sholts, and Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miller of Clarkston, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Songerath of Pontiac.

ROY DERNBERGER
Services for Roy "Real" Dernberger 83, were held Friday December 24 at the Haley Funeral Home in Southfield. Burial was at Fulton, New York. Mr. Dernberger, a retired electrician from Detroit Edison, passed away Wednesday morning December 22 at the Arnold Home in Detroit. He is survived by a daughter Mildred Loftus of New York, two sons Jack of Wyandotte and Roy of Farmington, and seven grandchildren.

Did you know, Mother, that more children fall victim to spiritual neglect than any of the crippling diseases we dread? It has wrecked the fond hopes and bold dreams of hundreds of thousands of parents. Yet it isn't a disease, at all! It is a HESITATION; hesitating to start our child in Church School; hesitating to go with him and his mother, God hesitating to discuss at home the need for moral and religious foundation for the whole family. Face it today! Do something about it next Sunday! Choose YOUR church. And make it YOUR church! And through a lifetime of worship and faith it can be for your child... HIS church.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CAP Places Signs

Near Clarkston

Clarkston Composite Squadron, CAP recently acquired a new senior member — Clifford Moore, 6650 Amy Drive, Clarkston.

A salesman for M. L. Parker Company of Detroit, Mr. Moore incorporated one of his company's products, translucent plastic, with a CAP emblem and lettering to create signs showing that a Civil Air Patrol unit meets at 90 N. Main Street every Wednesday at 7:00 P.M. These signs have been posted on M-15 near the village limits with those of other organizations which meet in Clarkston.

Clifford Moore is shown by one of the new signs he made for the Clarkston Composite Squadron CAP.
