Sewage or Not?

The lack of juicy controversy undoubtedly is the reason few Independence Township residents have shown little or no interest in the sewage disposal system which may or may not be installed here in the near future.

A whopping $28,627,500 is the estimated cost (including interest) for this sewage proposal which is designed to cover eight municipalities. This amount is for the main trunk-line only. Independence Township's share here is 9.81319 per cent or approximately two and eight-tenths of a million dollars.

Once the main trunk line is installed, each municipality must absorb a second expense, installation of the lateral, or connecting sewer lines.

In an effort to create some interest and shed more light on the proposed sewage system The Clarkston News will publish a series of questions and answers on the subject for the next few weeks.

If you have a question or comment on this sewage proposal call 625-1611 or mail to The Clarkston News, Box 38, Clarkston, Michigan.

Following are these weeks questions and answers:

Q — Will it be necessary for residents to hook up when the lateral or internal system is complete?

A — Yes, if it passes in front of your home it will be mandatory that you hook up within an eighteen month period.

Q — What happens if one of the municipalities doesn't participate in the sewage system at the present time?

A — A determining factor here would be, which community. If it were Waterford Township, who will be paying 40.4% of the total cost of the project, there undoubtedly would be no sewage system installed at this time. The other municipalities couldn't possibly absorb Waterford's share. If it were a municipality like Independence Township who's share is 9.81319% the other participants could possibly divide that portion of the cost among them and continue with the project.

Q — Is this sewage system the most economical answer to sewage removal in our Township?

A — Definitely, other than individual sewers, it's the only feasible answer.

Q — Has the Independence Township Board passed or rejected the proposed sewage system?

A — Neither. The Board is carefully studying the possibility and necessity of a better sewage disposal method in this area.

Q — Would the sewage disposal service be sold to the Village of Clarkston as a municipality or to residents as individuals?

A — Anything the Township does in the realm of utilities, the Village, as a unit of government, will be considered as to their needs. It is more likely than not that any sewage program in this area would be so designed to include the Village should they desire it. This, of course, would be through the approval and cooperation of the Village Council.

Oakland County Considering Several Vocational Schools

A Committee of Thirty, composed of one member from each school board in Oakland County, has been asked to recommend the next step in the establishment of area vocational education high schools.

More than a hundred school board members heard recently the report of a year long study of vocational needs and offerings.

According to the report:

(1) Approximately half of the young people now in secondary schools need more specific training to qualify for their first employment; (2) Ten percent of the Michigan public school population is enrolled in Oakland County Schools; only 2.7 percent of the money reimbursed by the state for vocational education is spent here; (3) Federal funds are available for the construction of multi-district vocational education facilities; last year Oakland County schools did not qualify for a dollar of these funds.

The possibility of a vocational education plan that would parallel the special education program in Oakland County was outlined by Royal Oak superintendent, Dr. Donald Currie. He suggested seven area vocational schools each serving three to five school districts.

This 30 man committee will meet March 3rd at the County Service Building.

Election Soon In Village

Candidates for the Clarkston Village Government are beginning to find their way to the March 14th ballot.

The Citizens Party which has been previously unopposed, is being faced with a new opposing party this year. It is called the Clarkston First Party and is still in the process of organizing.

The Citizens Party ticket reads as follows:

Clerk, Art Pappas, Mary Ann Pappas; Assessor, Ralph Thayer; One Year Trustee, Keith Hallman; Two Year Trustee, Harold Goyette, A.E. Butters, Donald Cooper; Representing the Clarkston First Party so far:

Village President, Dick Weiss; One Year Trustee, Jack Hagen.

The voting will take place at the Village Hall, which is next to Ronk's Barber Shop on South Main. The March 14th election will again accept write in candidates.

The first Asian International Trade Fair will be held this fall at Bangkok.

Teachers Attend Math Conference

A mathematics conference for both elementary and secondary teachers will be held at Pontiac Northern High School on March 8.

How to develop understanding of mathematical processes and vary drill to retain children's interest will be the subject of both a demonstration with a group of Pontiac third graders and a talk by Dr. Lola May, mathematics consultant of Winnetka, Illinois Public Schools. Dr. May has been a television teacher and author of newspaper and magazine articles on modern math.

The past president of the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Frank Allen of LaGrange, Illinois, will speak at two special sessions for junior and senior high school math teachers. Allen is chairman of the department of mathematics, Lyon Township High School and Junior College at LaGrange. He will discuss continuity of courses offered older students and the role of proof in learning mathematics.

The characteristics and responsibilities of an excellent teacher will be described by Eugene Smith, Professor of Mathematics Education at Wayne State University at a dinner meeting.

Dr. David Wells, Oakland Schools director of mathematics, said the conference will open at 12:30 to give teachers time to examine exhibits of new math texts and instructional equipment.

FLASH

Independence Township Clerk Howard Altman and Treasurer Kenneth Johnson appeared in Oakland County Probate Judge Pratt's courtroom yesterday (Wednesday) on a subpoena order. Supervisor Duane Hursfall and Trustee Merle Bennett were on vacation and were unable to appear.

The Township Board members were subpoenaed as individuals by Gene and Jack Roy to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued against the Township.

Upon two motions by the Township attorney, Paul Mendel to (1) dismiss the individual defendants and (2) to have the property (in question) owner included in the pre-trial hearing, the show-cause hearing did not take place.

According to Judge Philip Pratt, it is necessary to have a pre-trial hearing in order to brief the court on the matter in question.

Club Gives to Student Aid

The entire membership of the Clarkston Community Women's Club shares the pleasure of their President, Mrs. Richard Johnston, as she presents a check for $400 to Mrs. Paul Hanson counselor of the Clarkston Senior High School and coach McGrath. This sum of money is to be placed in the Student Aid Fund to help provide further education for deserving young people in the Clarkston area. The entire Women's Club group worked faithfully on both their rummage sale and recent Syncopated Skirts production to raise this amount. They extend their appreciation to the Clarkston community for generously supporting these activities. Staff Photo

Sashabaw School Windows Broken

Sixteen classroom windows were reported by the principal of the Sashabaw Elementary School to have been broken between the twenty eighth and twenty ninth of January.

The thoughtless destruction was accomplished with beer bottles and sticks. A group of teenagers were charged February 13 in Juvenile Court with malicious destruction.

Businesses Are Broken Into

Numerous tools were stolen from the Ann Arbor Construction Co. on White Lake Road the night of February 15th.

Albert Milkey, the company's branch manager estimated the approximate value of the tools at $400.

Small change was taken from an office in the Davisburg Lumber Co. at 7880 Ormond Road.

Marlan Hullman said he found the rear door open when he arrived for work on the morning of February 12th.

A cupboard was originally a shelf for cups, but later the term was used to describe a piece of furniture containing compartments and shelves for dishes and other articles.

Two sign bearing men pace back and forth in front of a barber shop called Mr. 'G's.' The signs they carry claim he is unfair.

Inside a man occasionally glances up as he goes about his barbering business. His name is Gerald Hamlin; he is defending a principle he feels is right.

The problem stems from the belief of the Organized Barbers of Local 50 that all the barbers should close on the same day, in this case, on Wednesday.

Mr. 'G' feels if he closes on a Monday instead of Wednesday he can give himself and his family the importance of a two day weekend and make short trips possible.

Bulletin Board Is Installed

The curiosity of the community will find appeasement at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, February 23rd, with the official unveiling of the Clarkston Community Bulletin.

The five by ten board, of colonial design, was erected by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to publicize forthcoming events of interest.

For a dollar, community organizations and clubs can rent the bulletin board.

The nominal fee is asked to cover the cost of upkeep and night lighting.

A cleaning house will be used to check each message which must be non commercial. Further information may be obtained from Donald Auten, 3 So. Main, Clarkston.

Eleven Accidents Reported - 4 on Dixie

State Police and Sheriff Dept. Busy over Slippery Weekend

Every precaution was taken to avert the possibility of a tipped over gas storage tanker from exploding, February 18.

The driver of the tanker, Ralph Lorenc, of Flint, told police and firemen of his attempt to avoid hitting a car which had pulled out in front of him from the A & P parking lot, onto the Dixie Highway.

The sudden action caused his truck to jackknife with the trailer section flipping over on its side.

The unknown possibility of leaking gas set up an immediate re-routing of traffic. Had the gas been leaking, the spark plug from a car could have ignited it.

In control of the tense situation were the Independence Fire Department and the State Police.

Hazardous driving conditions later the same day attributed to the death of two women just north of the Dixie Highway and M-15 intersection.

Victor Babka, of Waterford Township was the closest witness to the tragedy. He told of seeing a car driven by Mrs. Alex Harrower, of Holly, start to skid across the centerline into the path of the car in front of him.

The suddenness of the head on collision between the two made it impossible for him to keep from striking them also.

In addition to Mrs. Harrower's death was that of Mrs. Robert Fettig, of Mt. Morris. She was the only passenger in the car driven by her husband. He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital with serious injuries. His condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Both women were reported dead at the scene of the accident.

A car stopped for a left turn at Dixie Highway and Tripp Rd. was hit February 18.

The driver, James Pierce, of Ortonville, was unable to give a description of the car that hit him, after it left the accident scene without stopping.

Two Clarkston girls were uninjured after their car went out of control on that slippery February 18th.

Heidi Buehrig, was a passenger in a car driven by Cynthia Johnson of 6555 Eastlawn, when it slid into the path of another car on the Dixie Highway near Hatchery Road.

Also uninjured were the other car driver and his passenger, Alfred and Erma Swansey, of Pontiac.

Bedford Smith, of Pontiac received minor injuries February 19th, when his car was struck while stalled on Sashabaw near Maybee Road.

Blinded by the lights of an oncoming car, Donald Richardson, of Clarkston did not see the car which was unlit, in time to avoid hitting it.

Coming onto Pine Knob Road off Stickney Road resulted in minor injuries to Nancy Davis, of Or-

Clarkston Man Gets Jaycee Award

DISTINGUISHED — the recognition of one from among others. SERVICE — performance of labor for the benefit of another. AWARD — that which is awarded as a prize or honor.

These three words defined by Webster's dictionary are together to title an annual Junior Chamber of Commerce award. After nominations were considered by a panel of four judges, the man meeting those qualifications was Harry Fahrner, 10 Robertson Court in Clarkston. It represented a belief he could be depended upon at all time, to help when help was needed, without expectation of personal gain.

Mr. Fahrner has been a Clarkston resident for twelve years. He is married and the father of four.

He is a payroll auditor for the Fisher Body plant in Pontiac. This is however only one of his jobs. He is also a volunteer fireman, very active in the Clarkston Village Players, Clarkston Junior Chamber of Commerce and Clarkston Cedar Lodge F & AM.

Perhaps it was his own personal qualifications that made Mr. Fahrner nominate as a boss, Donald Beach, 6780 Hidden Lane, Independence Township. Mr. Beach is the fire chief in Clarkston, plus his full time job as an inspector at GMC Truck and Coach. He is married and the father of two. Judges for the awards which were presented February 16th at the annual "Bosses Night" were Floyd Vincent, assistant superintendent of the Clarkston Community schools; Rev. Lewis Sutton, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Clarkston; Duane Hursfall, Independence Township Supervisor and Frank Ronk, a local barber.

Smiles on well deserved personal satisfaction are worn by three Clarkston Junior Chamber of Commerce members. Awarded Donald Beach, a Senior Fire Chief, is the man in the center. He is flanked by Harry Fahrner, right, distinguished newly acquired Distinguished Service Award and Donald Beach, a Senior Fire Chief. Appreciation was shown by Chairman J.C. President Robert New...

A careless driver, pulling from the A&P parking lot on Dixie Highway near M-15 into the path of this truck, caused the truck driver to swerve. The truck jackknifed and the trailer overturned causing a dangerous possibility for an explosion. Luckily (for near-by businesses) the tanker was placed back on its feet without trouble.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
Oxford, Michigan
Luke's reverent account of the divine origin of Jesus is the opening theme of the service in Christian Science churches this Sunday on the subject: "CHRIST JESUS."

The Lesson-Sermon continues with Mark's record of Jesus' baptism in the river Jordan when "the heavens opened, and the spirit like a dove descending upon him: And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." And it culminates in John's powerful rhetorical question: "Who is he that overcometh the world, but he that believeth that Jesus is the Son of God?"

Explaining the continued importance of these words to humanity are passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: "An apostle says that the Son of God (Christ) came to 'destroy the works of the devil.' We should follow our divine Exemplar, and seek the destruction of all evil works, error and disease included. . . . Those who slew him to stay his influence perpetuated and extended it. . . . The persecutors had failed to hide immortal Truth and Love in a sepulchre."

Reaching Out

Father of His Country

George Washington left public life in 1796 at the end of his second Term as President, returning to his beloved Mount Vernon at the age of 64, a statesman of world-wide renown, a man of sound moral principle and a great Christian. The Farewell Address announcing his retirement is one of the greatest State Papers ever put forth for the guidance of the American people, and we quote from it here only in part.

"Of all the dispositions and habits which lead to political prosperity said Washington, religion and morality are the indispensable supports. In vain would that man claim the name of patriot who would subvert these firmest props of the duties of men and citizens. Let us ask where is the security for property, for reputation, for life itself, if men lack the sense of religious obligation. Therefore one should with due caution indulge the supposition that morality can be maintained without religion. Whatever may be conceded to the influence of education on the minds of men, reason and experience both forbid us to expect that national morality can prevail in exclusion of religious principle."

These are the words of a prophet of a man of wisdom and understanding, a man of great faith, truly the Father of his Country.

OUR FATHER: Endow us ever, we beseech Thee, with great faith in the power of Thy guiding Hand, and in Thy Providence and Mercy.

AMEN

A Great Leader Still Leads

It has been said that a man is tallest when he is on his knees. The familiar picture of George Washington kneeling in prayer at Valley Forge reminds us that the "Father of our Country" was a man who walked close to God and who taught his soldiers to pray.

Washington recognized that human frailty is not a sign of weakness—that it is the first step toward finding the needed strength. To call upon God for the resources we lack is to supply our deepest want.

The example of our first President still points men to God. Just as George Washington found God's strength available, so do men in our time when they call upon Him in faith. Discover Him in your own life. Worship God in your church next Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

McGaffies in Afghanistan

Learning Takes Time in Farah

Following is the third of a series of articles written by David and Betty McGaffie as they work in Farah, Afghanistan. They are the son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McGaffie of Holly.

The real changes that have occurred have been in ourselves. For one, we have really learned Farsi. We received a 'professional proficiency' rating on the Foreign Service exam this summer, but we notice it mostly in our ability to share the ordinary conversation of the teachers and our other friends. After an evening of arguing about politics, religion, women, the weather, world affairs, hunting, school intrigues, I realize how much I missed that last year. All of you know me, know that I'd rather argue than eat. Betty had a much harder time than I did, because she also had to overcome their reluctance to speak to a woman but now they talk freely with her as well.

We have also learned how to teach much better. Our first rosy glow of assurance was replaced by something approaching sheer panic when we realized that they didn't really understand the book, and that most of the tidy little techniques of teaching we learned in the States just didn't apply here. Through painful trial and error, we have learned how to teach them now, and both they and we have benefited from the experience. We've also learned to stop trying to 'figure people out.' We now know enough to know that Afghans are just as complicated as everyone else, and no more subject to 'interpretation.' We even dislike some of them. The first year, we thought we just didn't understand them, but now we just say we like or dislike them.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald R. Bird, 7661 Allen Road, Clarkston, announced the engagement of their daughter Kathleen to Richard T. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Williams, of 2627 Shenandoah, Royal Oak.

No date has been set by the couple now attending Michigan State University. Kathleen is a Junior and Richard a Senior.

Anti - Doe Killing Committee Hears Strong Testimony

The following article was sent to the Editor of the Clarkston News by Floyd Hubbard, editor of the Lake County Star in Baldwin. Mr. Hubbard covered this meeting and felt that people in this area would be interested in the outcome.

A recently formed Anti-Doe Killing Committee is comprised of Clarkston residents: Edward Whipple as chairman; Robert Jones, treasurer; Milton Cooney, legal advisor; and Paul Kemp head of the finance committee.

Following are portions of the article which appeared in the Lake County Star following the meeting in Baldwin.

Barney Betka, Baldwin, a former employee of the Conservation Department for 17 years, quoted an official spokesman of the Lansing Conservation Office as saying, "We don't give a damn what the public wants; we will cram it down their throats!" Betka was testifying before the Michigan State Senatorial Conservation Committee at a hearing held in Baldwin recently.

An estimated crowd of over 700 people filled the high school auditorium in Baldwin, Michigan to listen to the hearing concerning the practices of the Conservation Department's deer program.

Members of the Senate Conservation

Committee conducting the hearing, were: Carl O'Brien, (D) Pontiac, chairman; Basil Brown, (D) Highland Park; and Stanley Novak, (D) Detroit. Other members of the committee who did not attend were Sen. Thomas Schweigart, (R) Petošky; Sen. Robert Richardson, (R) Saginaw; and Sen. Terry Troutt, (D) Romulus.

Also on the platform were Sen. Jan Vanderploeg, (D) Muskegon and Rep. Gene Cater, (D) Lansing.

Sen. O'Brien, on opening the meeting, explained to the group that everything said, was being taken down on tape, which would make a complete record that could be referred to in the committee's deliberations.

Sen. Vanderploeg said that there were 600,000 deer hunters in Michigan in 1965 (35,000 more than last year). He said that 108,350 deer were shot this year (45,650 fewer than last year) and that of the 108,350 deer taken this season 45,000 were antlerless.

Rep. Gene Cater said that he favored a moratorium on antlerless deer hunting for a period of from two to five years.

Gunnar Eckstrom, a native of Lake county and a guide for 45 years told the committee "I have never seen a starved deer in Lake county, and I guided since

I was 13 years old." Eckstrom said that 65 per cent of the antlerless deer killed here were "button bucks," which would have been "legal bucks" next season. He said that he had found dead deer at times but the examination showed that the cause of death was not starvation.

Fred H. Haskin, district forester supervisor, Donald X. McReath, district game biologist, and Theodore Fairbanks game habitat biologist presented a 15-page report. Following are a few of their remarks:

"The excellent hunting you have had for the past 35 years first rabbits then deer, is largely a result of the basic forest land management program. The decline came in part because we have had 25 years in which very little basic forest land management has been done when much was needed. We know how and desire to do forest management, which will produce wildlife at a high level.

"If you want to invest about $1 an acre each year for about twenty years, I believe we can do range and timber management on the State forest lands. By the end of that time it seems reasonable to expect most of the timber types would be maintained in optimum wildlife conditions by timber sales and we should be well on the way to $1,000.00 annual timber sales in the state forest area in the Cadillac District is capable of producing.

"I don't say we will have as many deer as we had in 1945 or 1955 or even as many as we had in 1965. You will never have the deer you had in the 1940's and 1950's. The dropoff has not been as fast as I expected and predicted, but it is going to continue. The sooner we start a program, the higher we can hold the wildlife populations. We are already 25 years late in a realistic forest land management program. Let's not wait any longer.

"If you want to maintain and add to the recreation facilities at campgrounds, we need about $7,000 more annually to adequately maintain the existing facilities.

"To build the suggested additional facilities will require about $50,000 annually. Added maintenance funds will be required to maintain additional facilities at a rate of about $8,000 for each 100 additional units.

Several speakers recommended that the deer hunting season be the same for the upper and lower peninsulas.

A representative gave the committee a petition with the signatures of 7,800 hunters from that district requesting the abolishment of antlerless seasons.

Sen. Novak said after hearing the hunters' complaints that he would "end 10 years of supporting the Conservation Department and support the people of the north country."

Following is the speech made at the meeting by a former Conservation Department employee, Barney Betka.

This is a very heart warming event that we are witnessing here today: having a committee of our State Senate come forth into the back country to feel the public pulse. I believe that we all owe you Senators a big "thank you" to Representative Gene Cater for having been instrumental in arranging for this hearing.

Today we are witnessing democracy in action and, I might add, democracy in action in a field where it has been practically non-existent for far too long a time. Oh yes, a good many of the same citizens who are gathered here today have at various times appeared at meetings of the conservation commission or have testified at local hearings conducted by the Department itself. But I know that a good many of these same people would be among the very first to testify to the lack of democracy in conservation, for many of them have learned the futility of their efforts, and have gone through the exasperating and bitter experience of trying to reason with people whose minds have already been made up, — they have learned the hard way (like most of us here) that entrenched administrators—especially when they are not held accountable to the people—can, and have, made a mockery and a sham of giving consideration to public opinion.

Those here who have made many fruitless journeys before the commission, those here who appeared in overwhelming protest at the reorganization hearing in Traverse City a year and a half ago, and those here who tried to defend your rights at the hearing in Wellston last spring know full well how little impact your views have had. It can safely be said that this attitude on the part of the Department and of the commission is one of the reasons why we assemble here in protest today. The Department has lost contact with the people, and only through the intervention of elected representatives can we hope to restore democracy to conservation and gain fair recognition for local opinion.

You have probably already noted that I am here testifying from prepared notes and I wish to apologize for this, for I personally feel that ad lib testimony is usually more effective. But frankly, I am not much of a public speaker and, in addition, things like this give me a bad dose of stage-fright, so I hope you will bear with me. But, in addition, these notes are for another purpose, for as we proceed on into the subject of deer, of discretionary power and of administration of that power, I intend to touch on some rather touchy subjects, and I hope to pry open the door and let a little light into some rather dark and dirty corners, and I need the notes in order to make certain points without compromising the safety of certain other people.

I was employed by the Michigan Department of Conservation from April of 1948 until last winter—a span of approximately 17 years. I have known and worked with a good many Department people, and I know most of them to be honest, dedicated public servants, who would like to do a good job for all of us. I consider a good many Department workers to be among my very best friends and I certainly sympathize with them in these trying days when they must, individually and collectively, suffer because so much distrust, so much ill-repute has fallen upon that agency because of the course of action, and of inaction, which their leaders have persisted in pursuing.

Anti-Deer Killing Hearing

And at this point let me assure you of one thing, and I can say this from my own personal knowledge; you would be surprised at how many of the rank and file workers of the Department sympathize with us who are gathered here in protest today, for they realize just as well as we do that it is time for a change and time that public opinion commenced to play its proper role in the administration of our resources.

Today we are gathered together primarily because of the deer controversy, although I feel that that is a rather poor term for there is really very little controversy as far as the people are concerned. It has been perfectly obvious ever since the season ended what the overwhelming majority of people are thinking—and what they want. The only controversy is that which has been injected by the Department's propaganda mill as it frantically grinds out reams and reams of press releases seeking to alibi for present conditions, seeking delay of corrective action—or as they put it: "avoidance of hasty action"—but which we all are smart enough to interpret in its correct meaning: that they do not want ANF ACTION—especially any action that may trim their powers or dent their pocketbooks!

I am no authority on deer management or fisheries management, or forestry practices, or any of the other technical phases of conservation, nor do I pretend to be so. I can only say to you that during my years with the Department, and some 15 of which was as office manager of the former headquarters here at Baldwin, I have also had ample opportunity to witness discretionary power in its practical application, and I have also had ample opportunity (both then and since) to compare notes with other Department workers in every district and region in this state. The things that I wish to point out about the practical application of discretionary power are therefore not of unlimite or limited occurrence, but rather they reflect a general condition that extends from the shores of Lake Erie clear up to the copper country.

A good many times I have sat in at Department meetings concerned with the setting of seasons, areas, quotas, and other regulations pertaining to the taking of fish and game and under the various discretionary powers that that agency has accumulated. Supposedly, we were told, that these meetings were for the purpose of receiving recommendations and suggestions from the various field biologists, foresters, and wardens, which seems like a good procedure on the face of it, since these local field workers are the only segment of the Department who are consistently out on the firing line and in a position to have knowledge of local conditions and local opinion. (Incidentally, sometimes these local employees are not even consulted at all on affairs that directly, and often very importantly, concern their areas.) But in the instances which I am referring to, and which are more often the case, the field workers are assembled and a pretense is made to listen to what they may have to offer.

But time and time again I have seen the suggestions and recommendations of these local workers overruled—ignored—cast by the wayside—and it has been completely and disgustingly obvious to all that these meetings were nothing but a sham, nothing but a ritual so that the Lansing office might later be able to say, "the field has been consulted"—but that the actual decisions had already been made in advance.

But the most sickening of these displays would develop in those instances where the field biologist, or warden, or supervisor would have the fortitude to stand his ground—and man, many times I have seen them trying to stand their ground—arguing, pleading, and doing their best to fight for what they believed right for their local areas and local citizens, crying out that they did not need enlarged areas, or enlarged quotas, or heavier kill, or relaxation of regulations designed to curb the cheaters. I have seen these men flushed with rage and arguing desperately for these things, pleading that their areas could not stand the proposals that were being made, and pleading that their local citizens not only did not want these things BUT THAT THEY WERE VIOLENTLY AGAINST THEM!

And it would be then that we would witness this most disgusting, this most sickening display of the callousness of the Lansing hierarchy. It would be then that we would hear some spokesman of the Lansing office come forth with the standard reply to their pleas by Mr. Heffner: "WE DON'T GIVE A DAMN WHAT THE PUBLIC WANTS! WE'LL RAM IT DOWN THEIR THROATS!"—Let every one of you here today mark well these words, for they typify the type of mentality and philosophy against which we are fighting.

And here, too, is one of the primary reasons why discretionary power has been applied with such a sad lack of discretion: they simply do not give a damn what you want! they will force their own programs down your throats! This is the "Big Brother" approach, the philosophy of an entrenched bureaucracy that seeks to be the master rather than the servant of the people. There may be room for such philosophy in Cuba or in China, but there should be no room for it here in Michigan!

I could cite to you a good many instances and examples of this sort, but I realize that time is limited, and that there are many other who wish to testify. Still, I want to stress this point: we are gathered here today primarily because of our dissatisfaction in the manner by which the Department of Conservation has exercised its discretionary authority over the deer herd. The sentiment of our citizens is that this power must either be removed or at least curbed by moratorium. I agree wholeheartedly with this, for at the moment we have no other alternative. But is this the real answer to our problem? Is this the final solution to our needs in the field of conservation?

Let us just stop for a moment and consider this: do we see any similar mass demonstrations against any other State agency? Do we find any other agency to be the topic of so much discussion, and distrust, throughout our State? Do we find any other agency the subject of so many letters and petitions directed to our legislators? No, we do not, and it is obvious that we are dealing with something rather special and basic here—and this deer situation is just part of the overall picture.

For example, I am sure that many of the people assembled here today because of our deer are equally concerned over the Department's programs, or lack of programs, in maintaining a respectable amount of fishing success in our inland lakes, over the decline of our small game in many areas, over the Department's approach towards fox and other predator control, and a good many other controversial subjects. Now this general disagreement on so many issues by so many people is not at all surprising when we view it in the light of the Department's dictatorial "Big Brother" approach. And this situation is not something that has materialized overnight. A few years ago Governor Romney appointed a special conservation study committee to look into the Department and in their findings they made some very hard and pointed comments about the Department's poor relationship with our citizens and its lack of heed toward the desires and opinions of our citizens. Agitated razzle-dazzle then ensued which was termed a "reorganization" and which was supposed to correct this situation—among a number of others. But can we see any improvement today?

There has certainly been no improvement when we must assemble in protest such as this in order to seek legislative intervention. And, I might add, and here again from my own personal knowledge, that a good many Department workers will confidentially admit that the internal situation in the Department, as well as its relationship to the public, are worse now than before the so-called "reorganization". This was borne out in the results of a survey made of a cross-section of Department workers last year and which, I believe, has been made available to you members of the legislature.

Now, why do we have this continuing trouble with this agency? Just what is the real problem? Why is this agency so unique in its troubles that it comes to the point that an outraged citizenry must assemble in protests such as this?

Part of the reason, of course, is that we are dealing with our woods, waters, and wildlife—with affairs that are close to the heart of many of us. But we are also dealing with some things that strike close to the heart, too!

First, I doubt if there is a person in this room who believes in bowing our heads in submission to this "ram it down their throats" philosophy.

Second, and here I believe that the members of the legislature here today will agree, we are dealing with one of the larger State agencies, and governmental agencies are sometimes among the most aggressive and vociferous lobbyists.

This is very true of the Department of Conservation and it would be interesting to know the exact amount of public monies that have been expended, directly or indirectly, in what they term "selling their program", or just plain out-and-out lobbying operations.

The Department of State Highways has started distributing fourth quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

Howard E. Hill, State Highway Director, said net receipts of the Highway Fund during October, November and December of 1965, amounted to $62,124,339, an increase of $3,594,979 compared to the same period of 1964.

Oakland County's share totaled $992,750 while Clarkston received $1,755.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor State Vehicle Highway Fund.

After deduction of collection cost and the Waterways Commission's share, the money is distributed under provisions of state law which provides that 4 percent goes to the Department of State Highways for use on state roads, and 18 percent to the state's 83 counties for use on county roads, and 18 percent to 520 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets, to 520 incorporated cities and villages for their roads and streets.

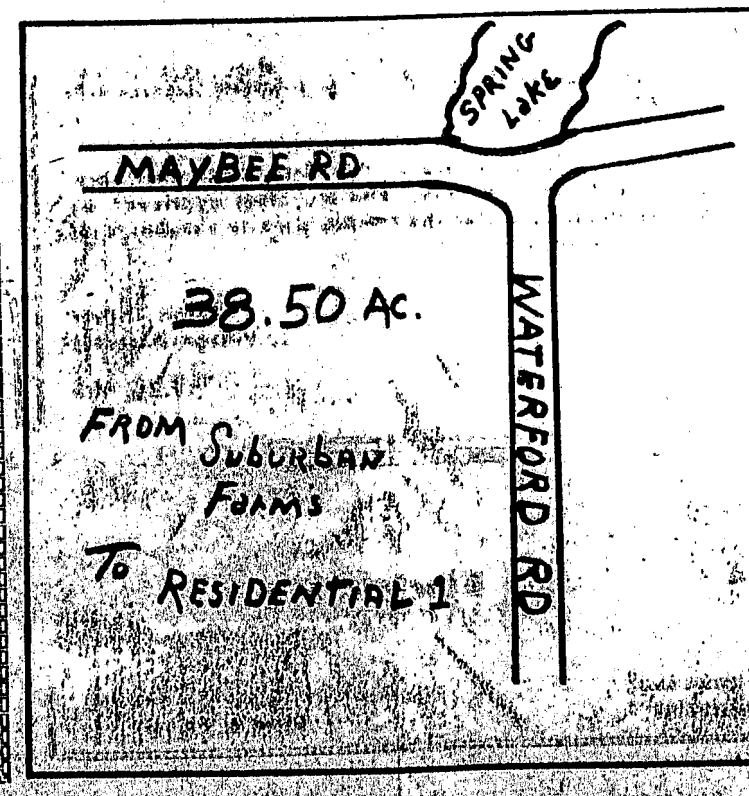

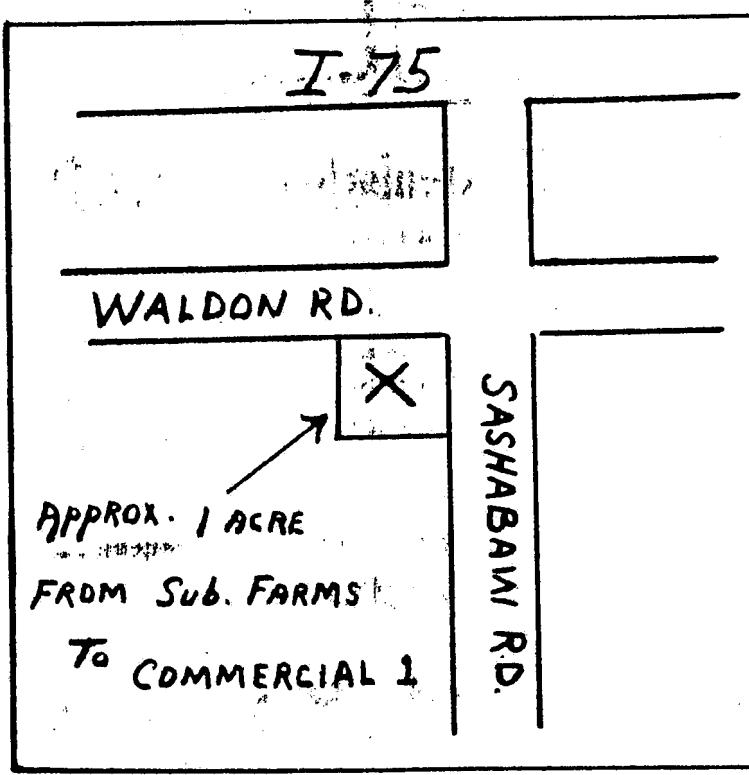

Under this formula, the Department of State Highways will receive $29,198,439 as its share of the fourth quarter collections, while the counties will receive $21,743,519 and the incorporated cities and villages will get $11,182,381. The amount paid to counties includes snow removal funds in the amount of $671,523 distributed on the basis of snow fall in each county during last winter.

By Mel Vaara

Clarkston Downs Holly 72-67

In a game marked by the dominance of three players — Dan Fife, Bill Taylor, Mark Phalen — Clarkston defeated Holly 72-67. This win gives Clarkston a shot at the title, as Bloomfield Hills upset Northville by three points. However both Bloomfield Hills and Northville would have to lose their last league game and Clarkston would have to defeat Milford. If and a might big if — this would happen, there will be a three way tie for first place.

Northville plays at West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills will tangle against Clarencville.

The "Big Three" certainly put on a big show for the fans.

1. Mark Phalen — this 5'7" player from Holly did a fantastic job at the guard post. He has great ability in working his way towards the basket for a better shot. He drives for the bucket with finesse. He is a good shooter from anywhere on the court. Give him freedom and he will take advantage of the situation. This boy earned many laurels in football — he is deserving of them in basketball too! Phalen scored 22 points.

2. Bill Taylor — This boy is only a junior — and probably the finest out-court shooter in the league. But Taylor hurt his teams chances by getting himself in foul trouble. He had four fouls in the first quarter, the same situation prevailed in the first encounter between these two teams.

Taylor had to set out most of the third quarter and it was in this quarter that Clarkston outscored Holly 18-12. With Taylor sitting on the bench, the scoring lead fell on the shoulder of Mark Phalen, and he couldn't do it himself.

Clarkston cannot survive without Dan Fife, Holly sure suffers without the likes of a Bill Taylor. Taylor scored 28 points.

3. Dan "Dugan" Fife — This boy from 5553 Dvorak certainly gave the fans a splendid performance in the game of basketball. It doesn't seem possible, but Dan's play is improving in every game. He gets his shot away quicker, uses the screens better, his outside shooting is improving, a better foul shooter, you name it — he does it and better. Fife took 31 shots and made 14 of them. He took eleven shots in the fourth quarter and made eight. He took 26 free throws and made 21.

Dan Fife scored five points in the first quarter, eleven in the second, nine in the third and 24 in the last quarter. Fife led the team in rebounds and in assists. He also broke his own scoring record of 43 points against West Bloomfield by scoring 49 against the Holly Broncos.

Clarkston was a little sluggish in the first half, and as a result Holly outscored the Wolves 37-29. Clarkston took 28 shots and made only 8. A percentage of 29.

Even though Holly had an eight point lead, one could tell it would not be long for Clarkston to bust the game open. Two of Holly's starters Bill Taylor and Jim Hanks had four fouls and two more starters had three each.

Sure enough as the third quarter started Clarkston changed the tempo of the game. They started to run with reckless abandon. Holly was in foul trouble, Clarkston knew it and took full advantage of the situation and before the fourth quarter was two minutes old, four starters from Holly had four fouls each.

All four Holly starters, Taylor, Phalen, Hanks and Irwin picked up their fouls by attempting to guard Dan Fife. Dan had the fine touch at the free throw stripe and he dropped in 21 of them.

With Holly's starters in foul trouble Clarkston's Dan Fife went wild in the fourth quarter. Coach Mills of Holly gave everybody a chance to corral Dan Fife — No one was successful. Fife scored 24 of Clarkston's 25 in the fourth quarter.

Clarkston took 12 shots in the fourth quarter. Dan Fife took eleven of them, Mike Madison took the only other shot.

Dan Fife took 31 shots and made 14.

Tom Allen made 2 out of 7; Rod Allen, 3 out of 7; Mike Madison, 0 out of 1; Mark Richards, 2 out of 8; Mark Erickson, 1 out of 3; Randy Nicolson, 1 out of 2. The Clarkston J.V. team won a thrilling overtime game, 58-57. Kurt Maslowski's only basket of the game won it for Coach Davidson's crew. It was a close ball game, with both teams missing easy opportunities. The boy that impressed me with his hustle and shooting was Gerry Ostrom. This Ostrom boy gives 100% every game.

Waterford Rec. Basketball Results

Spencer Floor (6-0) emerged from last week's action in the Waterford Township Men's Recreation Basketball League as the only undefeated team as Lakeland Hardware (4-1) took a spill in the Continental Division and fell into a three-way first place tie with Ryeson's Market and Buckner Finance in that loop. Spencer's fine score from Lakeland Pharmacy's a scare from Lakeland Pharmacy's (3-3) third place quintet but a last minute flurry carried them on to victory and maintained their one game American League lead over Frushour & Struble (5-1). Fredman Construction and 6 R's Construction both were pressed hard Monday night in National League games but took victories to remain tied for the lead with 6-1 slates. Last week's American League card saw Spencer's nudge Lakeland Pharmacy 84-80, Drayton Drug (3-3) even their record with a 77-58 decision over cellar-dwelling Powell's Trucking (0-6), and Frushour & Struble stayed one game back of Spencer's with a 73-58 nod over fifth place CIO. Local 594 (1-5). Continental action found Buckner Finance bumping Lakeland Hardware's "scoring machine" 69-64. Wayne's Service (1-4) tasting victory for the first time this season with a 68-67 verdict over Bundy-Built Homes (1-4), and Ryeson's (4-1) taking a 2-0 forfeit win from Zilka's Heating (1-4) when the Zilka's squad could not put a full team on the floor at game time. Monday's National League games resulted in wins for 6 R's Construction (6-1) wins for 6 R's Construction (6-1) 53-49 over Joe's Bar No. 2 (0-7), Fredman Construction (6-1) 57-49 over Howe's Lanes (3-4) and Coleman's Crew (4-3) 94-71 over Joe's Bar No. 1 (2-5). Four point efforts by Tom Deroaher and John Herrington in the last three minutes broke a 72-72 tie and carried Spencer's past Lakeland in the American League feature. Herrington led Spencer's with 22 points. Tom Nickman meshed 22 for the losers. Mike Miley's 24 markers sparked Drayton Drugs conquest of Powell's which pulled the winners into a third place tie with Lakeland. Drug outscored the Truckers in every quarter and held a 35-27 halftime bulge. Ron Lundy bucketed 34 points for Powell's who remain winless in seven starts. Local 594 played second place Frushour & Struble even for two and a half quarters but wilted in the late going as the realtors won going away. Bill Bryce led R & S with 20 points as top scorer. Jim Chamberlain sat out the game with an injury. Gary Heaton's 16 points were high for the Unionmen.

Buckner Finance earned their first place tie as they beat off three fourth quarter Lakeland Hardware surges to send the losers down to their first (1966) loss. Jerry Paul's 34 points sparked Buckner's attack while Mike Reed scored 25 for Lakeland. Seven free throws (5 by Paul) held the losers at bay in the last two minutes of the game. Lakeland took only two brief leads in the contest 55-53 and 61-60, both in the final quarter. In another close affair Wayne's Service Chuck Goff's bucket in the final minute brought Wayne's its first victory when three last shots at the bucket and a free throw went away for Bundy Homes. Jim Hoke's 16 markers were high for Wayne's. Randy Parsons threw in 20 for the losers. The game was tied 51-51 after three quarters. A basket by Tim Kault, and four free throws in the final 90 seconds by Ken McClintock carried R's past a scrappy but winless Joe's Bar No. 2 outfit. Andy Miceli took game honors as he poured in 24 points for the losers while Jim Skinner's 17 markers led 6 R's.

Fredman's built up a 32-19 half-time lead and then held on as Howe's second half rally cut the margin to 36-35 only to fall back again for good. Paul Emerson (15) and Bob Peterhans (16) accumulated 31 points for the victors while Jim Devine led three Howe's players in double figures with 14. Peterhans meshed 10 of his 16 points in the final quarter and was largely responsible for putting the game out of Howe's reach in the latter moments of the game. In the finale Coleman's Crew exploded for a 35-28 half-time lead, expanded it to 73-48 at the three quarter mark and coasted to the final gun. Coleman had 5 players in double figures with Mark Harrington's 21 points high. Joe's No. 1 in losing their fifth in seven attempts had four men in double figures with Joe Umphrey's 23 taking game honors.

Town Hall to Hear

Dick O'Connor

Glorious and uproarious; a Leprechaun of Letters; like the subject of his recently published biography Dick O'Connor is impossible to copy-hole. Poet, biographer, drama critic, journalist, criminal lawyer champion athlete and ventriloquist, he's master of a wit as sharp and dry as a pint o' bitters.

Mr. O'Connor will speak in Pontiac on Wednesday, March 9, 10:30 a.m. at the Huron Theater under the auspices of Pontiac Oakland Town Hall, Inc.

At 34 his literary accomplishments have already begun to snow-ball. He has had two volumes of poetry published, and his recent biography, "The Times I've Seen — A Biography of Oliver St. John Gogarty," was welcomed here with huzzahs. Within two weeks of its publication it reached the best-seller list of the NEW YORK TIMES, and rave reviews were flying in. In order to complete this work on the Dublin "character" who became a legend in his own time (seven years in the writing), O'Connor was granted a Huntington Hartford Fellowship.
