People Discuss Space Ships at Meeting

Extra chairs were needed to seat the audience of Mr. Warren Goetz, of Detroit, Michigan.

Mr. Goetz spoke to area residents about his experiences with flying saucers.

Mr. Goetz covered several fields of explanation, from scientific to religious.

He explained how he felt the principle of flying saucers worked from his visual observations of them.

He has made miniature models of flying saucers.

According to Mr. Goetz he saw a saucer at the age of seven.

Since that time he has become familiar with what is described as swamp gas, fox fire, and St. Martin's fire.

He claims that none of the recently sighted objects are any of these.

Goetz related several instances of his many sightings and encounters with space ships and their occupants.

When the Universal law of the land (having love and consideration for your neighbor) is reached on earth, Mr. Goetz then feels the people from the space ships will land and allow people from earth to go with them to their planet.

According to Goetz he shook hands with men from the satellite Ioe.

The meeting was closed after a question and answer period from the audience.

Cathy Lessard and Bill Wertman engage in a serious question and answer period with Warren Goetz.

Mr. Goetz had just completed his discussion on flying saucers, which had been heard by a large audience at the Township annex on April 24.

How to Proceed With A Request for Rezoning

Rezoning procedures are not as complicated as they may seem to the average citizen. Proper procedures are set up by the state and local governmental bodies.

Ordinarily in a rezoning procedure a petition is received by the Planning Commission. In some cases, where the Township or Commission feel it necessary to rezone property so it will fit more properly into the overall development of a community, either body may request rezoning.

Following are the regulations and procedures established by the township which must be met by anyone requesting rezoning:

- (1) Application shall be in writing, signed by the record title holder, and state names of all title claimants, other than record title owner.
- (2) Application shall state the location of the property involved, (a) by reference to roads, streets, etc.; (b) by description as contained in tax assessment rolls; and (c) description as contained in deed or other evidence of ownership.
- (3) Map or drawing showing location of property in reference to nearest public highway; adjacent land; and any public plots. This map shall have inserted thereon the reputed owner's name of adjacent land.
- (4) Statement of present zoning classification of land requested rezoned and classification of adjacent land.
- (5) Specific and detailed reasons for rezoning with statement concerning intended future use.
- (6) Statement setting forth notice to adjacent land owners; reasons for not giving notice, if such is the case; and adjacent land owners' consent to rezoning to new classification of their land.

The state law provides that a notice shall be published in a local paper not more than 20 nor less than 10 days prior to the date of the public hearing on the request and that the property in question shall be posted with a sign stating the request for rezoning.

The Planning Commission, upon receiving the request for rezoning, ordinarily determines the validity of the request in relation to application and the present zoning use of land and adjacent land and the intended use.

Whether or not a public hearing on the request will be held is then decided by the Planning Commission.

After a public hearing (if held) the Planning Commission, in accordance with its limited power, will make its recommendation to the Township Board for approval or disapproval.

This recommendation is forwarded to the Oakland County Coordinating Committee which will review the zoning request in relation to its effect on the overall county picture.

The recommendation of the Coordinating Committee is forwarded to the Township Board for final action. The board may or may not accept the recommendation of the Planning Commission and Coordinating Committee.

Note — If the Township Board doesn't receive the recommendation of the Committee within a 30 day period, it may be assumed by law that the Committee has recommended approval.

If the Township accepts the recommendation of the two bodies and the zoning change is approved, the changed use of the land becomes effective as an amendment to the zoning ordinance 30 days from the date of publication as a public notice.

Within thirty days after the action of the Township Board, if anyone should object to the action, a petition bearing the signatures of 10% of the registered electors of the unincorporated portion (excluding the Village) of the Township may have the question placed on the ballot of the next regular election to be approved or disapproved by the people.

If all else fails, there's always the courts.

Council Summoned by Water Com.

Commission Approves Rezoning

The Planning Commission of Independence Township recommended the rezoning of section 18 north of Holcomb Road and I-75 from Agricultural to R-1 during a Public Hearing April 21.

Eighteen of the twenty-eight property owners in section 18 were present.

V. Fulton, speaking for the group, said that 75% of the affected land owners (in section 18) were opposed and wanted to continue raising cattle.

The recommendation for rezoning passed with a five to three vote.

Property in section 18 ranges from two to fifty-eight acre parcels.

Also recommended for rezoning from Suburban Farms to R-1 was a portion of section 28 which is at the south end of Gulick Lake.

Recommended also for rezoning was the NW¼ of the SW¼ of section 14 from Agricultural to R-1.

A petition to rezone a parcel in section 34 from Suburban Farms to R-1 was tabled for further study.

Mr. Brazier and Mr. Longair objected to the use of frontage on Sashabaw Road as road access to this property.

A. Ayes inquired as to the planned use of the property.

Also tabled was a petition to rezone part of section 5 from Suburban Farms to R-1.

Mr. Felthaus and Mr. Fuller were present to have the preliminary plans of Pine Knob Estates approved. This property is located on the corner of Pine Knob and Waldon Roads.

The Commission moved by a seven to one vote to recommend to the Independence Township Board approval of the preliminary plan of Pine Knob Estates containing 17 lots, subject to meeting drainage requirements as presented by the Township engineer.

A special meeting of the Planning Commission will be held Thursday, May 5 at The Independence Township Hall.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is Thursday, May 19.

The Clarkston High School forensics team won the Regional Championship at Dearborn last week and went on to the Finals at Ann Arbor Saturday to win 3rd place in the State with their interpretation of Arthur Miller's play "Death of a Salesman".

Previously winning the local contest and the Wayne-Oakland County League Championship, this Multiple Reading group, directed by Lee Moore, includes Hugh Rose, Chuck Pearson, Kurt Priebe, John Slade, Jodie Strother, Paul Taylor and Brian Thorpe.

In the State finals Saturday, the CHS team survived four rounds of double elimination competition to reach the 5th and final round with 4 other schools. Only one point separated the 1st, 2nd and 3rd place teams in the final standings.

The State Championship was won by Dearborn High School (who placed 2nd to Clarkston in the Regional contest) with 13 points; Lansing Sexton was 2nd with 14 points; Clarkston, 3rd, with 15 points; Grand Rapids Marywood, 4th, with 17 points; and Battle Creek Central, 5th, with 21 points.

Other forensics students who won in the Wayne-Oakland County contest and represented Clarkston in the Regional were Penny Cook, Humorous Reading, finishing 4th in the region; Terry Dutcher, Extemporaneous Speaking, 3rd in the region; Luella Wilford, Original Oratory, 5th place; Mary Cornado, Declamation; and Charlene Bachand, Serious Interpretation.

This is the spot believed to be where N. W. Clark first began his small trout stream. Trees on its banks have grown tall and its water remains clear.

Book Reveals Clarkston Setting of Early Michigan Trout Hatchery

Delving into the history of trout origin in Michigan, Keith Hallman of 6024 Overlook, has made the interesting discovery that Clarkston played a very important role in the early trout development.

With the trout season officially opening this Saturday, April 30, a book titled "Recollections of My Fifty Years Hunting and Fishing" by William B. Mershon has furnished us with an enlightening account.

In the book Mr. Mershon refers to the difficult-to-answer question of who might be the first person to privately hatch and plant brook trout fry in the State. Mr. Mershon goes on to say: "I can add but little to the meagre fund of information on this most interesting point, but probably N. W. Clark of Clarkston was among the first.

It is of record that in 1867 Mr. Clark had private ponds at Clarkston in which he raised stock fish and hatched fry from their eggs with considerable success.

And further in his revelation Mr. Mershon states: "Clark also built a small hatchery in Clarkston village, in a gorge or valley below the millpond, mainly for hatching whitefish and salmon, the water being a gravity flow from the pond above. A small supply of spring water near this hatchery also enabled him to carry a small pool or two of brook trout, mainly I suppose for experimental purposes."

Information and experience was gained by Mr. Clark from a Seth Green, who also supplied Mr. Clark with his first trout eggs and "coached" him in the business, which proved successful as a fish culture enterprise on what would now be considered a small scale. But, it was not a moneymaker.

However, it was sufficiently promising financially to induce Clark to seek another location affording a greater supply of spring water, so in 1873 he pulled up stakes and transferred his activities to Northville, where at that time there was an available supply or flow of spring water amounting to 300 to 400 gallons per minute.

Accused of Pollution

A letter received by the Clarkston Village Council early in March from the Water Resources Commission contained the following statement.

"Our information shows that such discharges (of raw sewage) have been and now are taking place within the boundaries of your local governmental unit. . ."

The Commission further requested the appearance of authorized representative of the Village Council at a meeting in Detroit on March 31 to review the record of said discharge and to consider the Village proposals for their abatement.

It was charged that sewage from the Village is eventually dumping into the state owned Clinton River Basin.

Trustees, Keith Hallman, Harold Goyette and James Mahar appeared before the Commission on behalf of the Village Council.

Other Oakland County Municipalities ordered to appear were Pontiac, Waterford and Orion Townships and the Village of Oxford.

Keith Hallman, in answer to the charges of the Commission, read portions of a report by Village Engineer, Howard Kieft.

A portion of that report follows: "The present disposal consists of a large septic tank followed by a second tank of smaller capacity originally designed as a pump lift station and now being used as a secondary septic tank."

"Outflow from the secondary tank runs to the upper level of a filtration field with under drains below the field emptying into the stream. There is no connection between the upper and lower level of the fields and the outfall at the stream is crystal clear with no indication of damage to the stream."

"In fact, the outfall flow is much clearer than the normal stream water, but no tests have been made on the outfall."

The system described serves the Clarkston business district which consists of approximately twenty-five stores.

It is believed that the Commission was under the impression that the sewage plant served the village as a whole rather than the business district only.

Unlike many towns, the business district of Clarkston has remained dormant. There has been no growth.

The area surrounding the village (Independence Township) has grown tremendously, but does not affect any sewage condition inside the village.

According to Hallman, the Water Resources Commission implied (after he had answered to their charges) that the Village of Clarkston has no sewage problem.

Mr. Hallman answered, "If there is anything wrong with the present sewage system the Village Council would like to know about it."

When interviewed on the matter, Mr. Hallman emphasized, "We realize the importance of the contamination problem in the state and entire nation. It is very serious."

"We on the Clarkston Village Council will do everything in our power to prevent pollution in our area."

Highest Bidder Takes Prize

If someone brings some soup and nuts, the J.C. auction could well end up with "everything".

J.C. members have been high in hope and low on discouragement as they go into final days of searching for auctionable items — auctionable items meaning any usable item you don't need.

Auction lovers will be automatically drawn to the Clarkston corner of Washington and Main on Saturday, April 30, to hear Mr. Hall begin at 11:00 with "And what do I hear for . . ."

Many household pieces, clothing, toys, and appliances are already on call to be picked up.

Howard Weaver may still be reached at 625-9353 for April 29 and 29 tickets.

Refreshments will be sold by the J.C.s that day.

Lions Start White Cane Week

The major project of the Lions is sight-conservation work, and aid to the blind. They sponsor free eye-clinics and donate eye glasses to the needy.

The Waterford Club also supports the Pendrick Children's Nursery for the blind and physically handicapped. It is the only nursery of its kind in the country.

This week all members of Lions Clubs in the state will sell miniature white cane lapel pins to raise money for these worthy causes.

All citizens are reminded that there is a Michigan law which states that all blind persons carrying a white cane have the right-of-way, and all vehicles must come to a full stop while they are crossing a street or a highway.

There are more than 15,000 Michigan citizens who are blind or partially blind. The Lions are trying to help those so afflicted to help themselves.

As Jeff Sees It

By Jeff Fisher
Within a few days, Clarkston High's Senior class will embark on a very coveted voyage. On May 4, several hundred students will become airborne as they begin the traditional Senior trip. This year they will go to Washington D.C. and New York. Sophomores dream about it, Juniors begin saving for it, but the Seniors are the ones who take it.

This long awaited event is more than a spring jaunt. Much to the contrary, it is a reward for four years of trials and tribulations. All their joys, victories and defeats culminate in that fun-filled spring week in another city. All the dreams become reality, the expectations are fulfilled.

In a month all the exams and complicated mathematics will be over. But for many it will just be beginning, for when they return, a flurry of college preparations will begin.

When college is over and the students of today are the leaders of tomorrow, it will be with fond thoughts and memories that their tedious six hours a day they loosely referred to as school.

This time of the year seems to be dedicated to the Seniors, as everything is happening to them. They received their graduation announcements last week and are now looking forward not only to the trip, but to the day their cap and gowns are distributed. Even now so, they are awaiting the evening of June 13, the night they graduate.

Last Friday evening April 22, the Clarkston High School gym was full of students asking numbers of their fellow-friends and students from West Bloomfield High School. This took place at the computer dance entitled the Bermuda Sock-Hop. The computer-matched-dancers enjoyed dancing to the music of the UFO's, a local band.

After a long time of hard practice and making up a completely new cheer, 9th, 10th and 11th grade girls were able to show their ability at cheerleading. Tryouts for the Varsity were held Monday after school, while the competitors for the Junior Varsity squad waited until Tuesday. While everyone is looking forward to the end of the year and the arrival of the Hilltopper, the school yearbook, the sophomores have something else in mind. Their class rings will be here May 3.

In the state forensics competition held April 23, Clarkston was placed third for their group presentation of "Death of a Salesman". The group consisted of Jodie Strother, John Slade, Brian Thorpe, Kurt Priebe, Hugh Rose, Chuck Pearson and Paul Taylor.

On display in the commons area this week are registration and general information about the classes being offered next year. Each subject sheet tells something about the course, the pre-requisites and how much credit is given to each subject. Freshmen, sophomores and juniors are urged to examine these in aiding them when they make out their schedule for next year.

One of the main gossip subjects filling the halls now, is the night of May 21. This is the evening of the annual Junior-Senior Prom. "Tender is the Night" sponsored by the Junior class, will be held from 8:30 to 11:30.

Students Busy on Operetta

Sneak previewing of the forthcoming H.M.S. Pinafore will be given to the Clarkston Junior High students at a school assembly next week.

The preview will be the warming up to a public show scheduled for Friday, May 6 and Saturday, May 7th.

Under the direction of Miss Grayce Warren, all signals are go for costume making and stage settings.

The Gilbert and Sullivan operetta has a cast of over eighty-five. Staunch support for the six leading roles will be given by eighty one boys and girls.

Leading roles will be played by Linda Sanchez, Tammy Mahar, Roy Jennings, Mark Taylor, Tim Mapes and Jim Decker.

May Date Set for Players

"Toys in the Attic" by Lillian Hellman will be staged by the Clarkston Village Players on the weekends of May 13, 14 and 20, 21. Returning to the Depot Theater stage will be both old and new members to the players group.

Pat Breidenbaugh, who has consistently turned out outstanding performances will team with equally talented Pat Thomas, as sisters who manage to twist and tangle the life of their brother Julian, played by Jim Frady.

Julian's wife will be played by Marie Luzi, who is also a veteran with the players.

Ticket information may be received by calling Jack Frost at MA 5-1735 or stopping to see Dr. Denne at 22 South Main.

Talking their way to the top, this forensic group from the Clarkston Senior High school represented Clarkston at the Regionals in Dearborn, with the Multiple Reading group going on to take third in the Finals at Ann Arbor, April 23. "Death of a Salesman" narrators were: standing left to right, Paul Taylor, Hugh

Quick flag ceremony reviewing was in progress just before this picture was taken at the Sashabaw Neighborhood Mother-Daughter banquet. Preparing to do their Girl Scout Honor Leads were Gail Brokenshaw, Vicky Cheek, Liza Shaw, Sandra Bliss and Lorrie Klyder. Almost four hundred spectators were later treated to a fashion show.

Banquet feasts drew large crowds of mothers and daughters last week. All attending shared the common bond of Girl Scouting. Arrivals here are for the Davisburg Neighborhood group, who met at the Clarkston Junior High School on April 20.

Pat Briedenbaugh and Pat Thomas are a side scene at the Waterford Hill Carriage house to publicize their role as set for in the Clarkston Village Players dramatization of "Toys in the Attic".

The play is scheduled at the Depot Theater for May 13, 14, 20, 21. For information may be received by calling 625-1815.

Marvin Hubbard, 6966 Tappan Drive stands by his own UFO. Mr. Hubbard will be driving his car in competition at the State Fairgrounds on May 1st.

A jovial mood prevailed at the United Fund Luncheon held at Pine Knob on April 20. Rising to the occasion were Mrs. James Cowen, Pontiac Women's Campaign Chairman, Mrs. Richard Kroninger, Mrs. Horsch, and Mrs. Robert Jones, who has just been appointed the chairman for Independence Township.

We Get Letters Bar Incident Discussed

For a country that believes in individual rights and justice, the realization of the lag between the principle and the practice is a sad one.

A recent situation in a local Clarkston bar is the case in point. It would seem that news papers carried stories that were more fact than fiction, that were more honest at presenting material that really did happen, than speculating and hypothesizing in terms of the editor's particular bias. It is time now, that property owners could feel fully confident of their rights in their own establishments; in protecting themselves, their property and their customers.

The episode alluded to here is a particular event that took place about three weeks ago in this Clarkston area bar, and which now has been blown out of proportion and greatly exaggerated. A customer in the bar, who is probably a proper gentleman most of the time, but demonstrates some aggressive tendencies when drinking took advantage of the ground rules of the establishment by walking behind the bar in pursuit of a book of matches. The gentleman was asked to return to his table, did so, but apparently upon reflection decided that his manhood was at stake and decided to return behind the bar to challenge the owner. He then began threatening the owner and raised his hands to strike him. The owner's brother who was also code so that the aggressor is always right? The law, as so many other things can be misused by individuals seeking secondary gains or the sadistic pleasure of hurting someone because of some need for revenge that may not even be correctly leveled at the individuals who may suffer unjustly.

If any individual can commit an aggressive act toward the owner of an establishment, while in that establishment, without any provocation, then there really is something wrong with our definition of justice.

Perhaps there is a need for a more definite delineation of the rights of property owners and the rights of people coming upon their property. Just what are the rights of the owner of a publicly attended establishment when a customer behaves in a disorderly fashion and refuses to obey the rules? What happens to us as private citizens when we refuse to obey the rules when it comes to speeding, parking, obeying city ordinances — WHERE IS THE DIFFERENCE!

Wayne Long

planned for the community and seemed unaware of the buildings that are going up in Section 18 that do not meet the present zoning requirements.

It was pointed out that overcrowding on land without proper sewerage contaminates the land and water supply with the possibility of contagious disease. There are already nearby communities with this problem. We do not want it here.

The majority of the land owners of Section 18 at the meeting purchased their land because it was zoned Agricultural, and would like it kept that way. In spite of this widespread feeling, after a discussion period, the commission passed the rezoning proposal by a vote of 5 to 3.

We would like to suggest that our elected officials and any of their appointees are in office to protect and improve the living conditions of the landowners and taxpayers who placed them in office, and in this instance they are betraying this trust.

Respectfully submitted,
Landowners of Section 18

Residents Angry About Rezoning

To the Editor:

A public hearing was held April 21, 1966 at 7:30 by the Planning Commission of Independence Township. It was very well attended with more than 75% of the property owners of Section 18.

One of the proposed changes under consideration was the rezoning from Agricultural to Residence 1 of all of Section 18 lying north of Holcomb Road and I-75. The only reason given for the proposed change is that this constitutes progress and is good for Section 18 because the members of the Zoning Commission believe it is. They made no presentation of what is

SPORTS

By MEL VAARA

Action Starts in Spring Sports

Clarkston High School offers a variety of athletics for their spring program. They have track, golf, tennis and baseball for all boys. However, due to the inclement weather the spring sports are having a rough time in starting this particular sport. With all the cold and rainy weather, the athletic director will have a monumental task in rescheduling all the meets, games and matches.

Tennis

The coach of the tennis team is Larry Thibault. Mr. Thibault has an army of boys out for tennis. Tennis is one of the fastest growing sports in Clarkston. The team has had two matches so far, they whitewashed Clarenceville 5-0, and Northville did the same to Clarkston 5-0. Mike Dougherty, Mark Erickson and Neil Green are the leading single players. Tom Bullard and Kim Beattie represent the 1st doubles team and Jack Samson and Brian Galipo are the 2nd doubles team. Bill Bullard and Freshmen Kirk Beattie and Mark Griffiths have looked impressive for coach Thibaull. Tennis teams continue to have the best record of all spring sports, their record is 5-1. They have defeated Clarenceville 5-0, Waterford Twp. 5-2, Bloomfield Hills 5-0, Holly 4-1 and Midland 5-0. Their only loss was to Northville. Kim Beattie and Tom Bullard continue as the leading doubles team, with Mike Dougherty as the leading singles player.

Golf

The coach of the golf team is Ralph Keayon. Their first meet was Wednesday, April 20, at Holly. The No. 1 boy on the team is Senior King Robinson. John White, Kurt Maslowski and Larry Parker will probably make up the rest of the foursome. Fighting is out for the 5th position. The golf team has lost two matches to Holly and Bloomfield Hills. Holly took Clarkston by 14 strokes and Bloomfield Hills took Clarkston by 14 strokes at the last. The five leading golfers in the Holly match were — King Robinson, 40, John White, 41, Larry Parker, 43, Kurt Maslowski, 41, Jim Navarre, 50.

Baseball

The baseball team is coached by a former Clarkston athlete, Pete Thompson. The baseball team has defeated Holly 12-6. However, Lake Orion defeated Clarkston 7-6 and Northville edged the Wolves 3-0. In the Holly game, Dan Fife struck out the 11 batters and had three hits. Rod Allen had the big blow, hitting a home run with two mates aboard. The Lake Orion game was a non-league game. Coach Thompson did some experimenting. Rick Johnson did the pitching and if he would have had any support on the defensive side, he had the stuff to win the game. Clarkston ran into a buzz row when they traveled to Northville. The Northville pitcher Steve Evans tossed a nighthitter at the Wolves.

Track

The coach of the track team is Bud McGrath, assisted by Max Luman. The track team has had two meets. The first one was against Clarenceville in the snowstorm and Don Spangler did the throwing for Clarkston. The baseball team lost a heart-breaker to Milford, 4-0 in ten innings. Dan Fife pitched nine strong innings of ball but he tired in the tenth.

In the tenth Fife gave up two walks and a double to fill the bases. Coach Thompson brought in Dan Spangler to put out the fire. But in the first pitch the Milford batter slammed a triple to clean the bases and eventually scored himself. Clarkston had a golden opportunity in the 7th inning when Fife doubled. Rod Allen walked and John Getzan sacrificed both runners a-long.

However the next two batters failed to produce the winning run. Dan Fife struck out fifteen batters in his nine inning stint. This loss gave Clarkston a 3-3 record.

- The seven leading hitters are:
1. Tom Allen 471
  2. John Getzan 445
  3. Dan Fife 375
  4. Wayne Goms 358
  5. Bill McElm 334
  6. Rich Johnson 300
  7. Rod Allen 295

was suspended half way thru the meet. The other meet was against Lake Orion and the speedsters from Clarkston trounced Lake Orion 6-25.

Clarkston also participated in the Mansfield relays held at Mansfield, Ohio.

Fourteen boys took part in this fantastic meet. Over 2,000 boys from four states and Canada took part in this meet. One hundred and ninety-nine schools were represented in the meet.

The City of Mansfield opens the doors wide to all the track boys and their coaches. They provide free rooms and meals to all participants.

Sherrif Dept.

Crossing on the Dixie Highway at Rockcroft, a car driven by Howard Schmidt of Waterford struck a southbound car driven by James Thorton of Detroit.

Mr. Schmidt stated he had waited for some time before crossing and believed he had sufficient time to safely do so.
