

Asking for One Mill from Property Owners

This is the second in a series of three articles explaining the six items to appear on the June 13 ballot during the Clarkston Community Schools election.

One of the most easily misconstrued items on the ballot is the operating millage proposition.

It reads: "shall the constitutional limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be imposed in any one year upon property in the school district, be increased for the period of ten years from 1966 to 1975, both inclusive, by five mills on assessed valuation as finally equalized, to defray a part of the operating expenses of the school district?"

Presently 16.38 mills are being levied for operation.

During the regular May meeting of the Board of Education, two contracts, were ratified. They allowed increased wages for the secretarial and cafeteria help in the schools.

The district is also faced with increased operation costs due to expected demands by the teachers for higher salaries and increased cost of supplies, utilities, insurance, etc.

The five mill operating millage proposition would increase the taxes of property owners $1.00 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation should all five mills be needed.

In actuality the Board is asking for permission to reduce, on a graduated scale, the debt mill levy from the present 11 mills to 7 and thus, increase, on a graduated scale, the operating mill levy from the present 16.38 mills to 21.38.

The cost of doing business will determine how rapidly the transfer of the mills will take place.

Following is a sample of how the increase and decrease system could work. One mill at a time will be transferred in the chart below.

In preparing the budget the Board would actually decide whether one or more mills are to be added for operation.

Year	Debt Mills	Operational Mills	Total Mills
1966	11	16.38	27.38
1967	10	17.38	27.38
1968	9	18.38	27.38
1969	8	19.38	27.38
1970	7	20.38	27.38
1971	7	21.38	28.38

Notice that the sample shows that in 1971 the one mill requested in 1966 from the property owners of the school district was not levied until 1971.

Perhaps you are wondering why the chart stopped at 7 debt mills. In order to receive aid from the school bond loan program which is set up to favor districts such as Clarkston, the amount of mills in the debt levy cannot go below seven.

Clarkston receives approximately 75 per cent of the monies for operation from the school bond loan program.

Notice from the chart that if and when all five mills are used in operation the total school tax will be 28.38, one mill over the present 27.38.

Fourth on the ballot is the fund transfer proposition. Property owners will be asked to allow the transfer of $37,224.82 now remaining in the debt retirement fund to the building and site fund and used for construction of a physical education running track on the present football field and for blacktopping driveways and parking lots at the Bailey Lake and Sasnabaw

Elementary schools.

Monies accumulated in a schools debt retirement fund cannot be used by the Board without approval from the districts property owners.

The Board by law, has spelled out the planned use of the monies. In 1954 the people of this school district approved a $600,000 bond issue for twenty years. The Board was able to call the bonds ten years early, thus saving thousands of dollars in interest.

The early calling of these bonds and the investing of principal and interest saved, account for the $37,224.82 in the debt retirement fund.

Property owners are merely being asked to approve the transfer of funds.

It is important to note that only property owners in the school district can vote on the four propositions.

All registered voters in the school district may vote on the school board opening and Community College board candidates.

Next week information compiled on the three people running for the one opening on the school board will be presented.

Harassing Phone Calls the Target of New Michigan Bell Equipment

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company has launched a campaign against obscene and harassing phone calls.

Charles Woodhead, manager, said Michigan Bell is deeply concerned with the increase in the number of obscene, harassing or crank calls and that the company is stepping up its efforts to protect customers against them.

In a concerted attack on the problem, Woodhead said, the company is using new equipment and developing new techniques to identify the calling number of anyone making obscene, harassing or crank calls.

Among the new devices is one which has the capability of "locking in" on a call. In some cases, it can lead to identification of the calling telephone line even after the person who made the call has hung up.

In addition, Woodhead said, the phone company has set up new procedures for the handling of complaints of such calls at each of its business offices throughout the state. In each office specially trained service representatives have been assigned to handle the complaints.

In the Detroit metropolitan area, a centralized Annoyance Call Bureau has been established. There specialists will coordinate action by the company's security people with the customer and police agencies.

Steps which customers can take to cope with abusive calls also were outlined by Woodhead.

"Should you or your family receive obscene, harassing phone calls, don't talk. What the caller really wants is an audience. Don't be that audience and don't listen to his abuse," Woodhead cautioned.

"Hang up whenever a caller uses obscenity, doesn't properly identify himself, or says nothing. Use the telephone on your terms to guard against these invasions of your privacy."

In most instances, the customers can solve the problem by not talking, or by hanging up, Woodhead said.

If the obscene, harassing calls persist, customers are urged to call their telephone company business office.

If the nature of the calls is in violation of the state law, the customer may want to sign a complaint so that action can be taken by the appropriate law enforcement agencies.

Michigan law provides up to 90 days in jail and $100 in fines for making obscene, harassing calls. In addition, the telephone company is permitted to disconnect or remove the phone service of anyone proved to be making obscene or harassing calls.

"The telephone company has always tried to protect the privacy of customers. In this new program, we are going all out to eliminate this source of customer irritation," Woodhead said.

Planning Commission Busy With Three May Meetings

With six of the nine members attending the May 5 Independence Township Planning Commission meeting, two corrections to the minutes of the April 21 meeting were approved.

The description of the zoning change in Section 18 was corrected to read "all of section 18 lying north of Holcomb Rd. and I-75."

Use of land for Power and Clarkston Real Estate was changed to read "vacant-proposed subdivision."

Mr. Feldhauser of McAlpine Engineering was present to discuss the preliminary plan of Cranberry Heights No. 2. The Commission moved to recommend that the Township Board approve the subdivision which is located in Section 16, subject to four provisions.

They are the installation of a water system in conjunction with Cranberry Lake Estates No. 4; the revamping of lot lines on lots 18 to 21; the placing in escrow with the township money for paving half of Perry Lake Road abutting that plat; and the presentation to the Township of plan and study data for lake construction.

Final plats of Cranberry Lake Estates No. 4 were presented for review by the township engineer.

A revised petition for rezoning an area in Section 5 from Suburban Farms to Residence-1 was presented by Mr. Whipple.

The Commission moved to recommend to the township board the approval of the zoning request.

Approval was also recommended for the Whipple Hills subdivision preliminary plan.

A public hearing was scheduled for June 16 at 7:30 p.m. to consider the rezoning from Suburban Farms to Residence 1 a part of sections 31 and 32. The rezoning petition was presented to the commission by H. C. Shingledecker.

Independence Township Board members, Robert Dieball the Township Planning Consultant and all Planning Commission members were present at the May 12 meeting.

Requirements of water systems in subdivisions were discussed. It was suggested that the Township Board set a policy for water systems.

The township master plan and how to inform the public about it was discussed.

One member was absent from the May 19 Planning Commission meeting. These minutes are still subject to approval.

Ben Soave and his attorney, Mr. Patterson, discussed the rezoning in section 34.

A revision in the proposed Pine Knob Estates was reviewed by Mr. Feldhauser of McAlpine Engineering.

The revised preliminary plan of Pine Knob Estates was approved subject to two provisions. They are the addition of ten feet in width to lot 3 and an approval letter from the township engineer on drainage.

A public hearing was scheduled for June 30 at 7:30 p.m. to amend the zoning ordinance to include Residence 3 District, designated R-3, as well as an amendment to section 13.8 of the zoning ordinance to add item 6, "Statement setting forth notice to adjacent land owners; reasons for not giving notices, if such is the case."

Residence 3 zoning could allow the parking of house trailers.

Michigan Driver Improvement Totals High

Monthly and quarterly records for driver improvement work here shattered by the Michigan Department of State through the first quarter of 1966.

Secretary of State James M. Hare reported that 6,385 hearings held in March represented the largest single month's work in DI history. It sparked the three-month totals to 13,982, a new quarterly high.

Actions taken against errant drivers in cancellations, revocations, point suspensions, and other restrictions were also at a record level, Hare reported. The 4,267 such actions taken in March shot the quarterly total up to 9,721, still another peak level.

While "tougher" enforcement was the single more important factor stimulating increased actions under the Michigan point system, mandatory suspensions resulting from accidents and unsatisfied judgments swept to a three-year high total of 4,929 for the first quarter of 1966.

March figures in this area were 1,877, the highest monthly total since September of last year.

Hare said he didn't expect that actions would continue at such high levels during the entire year but predicted that April would be another "big month" in DI work.

Improvements for Area Road

The Department of State Highways took bids in Lansing on 27 construction projects in 25 Michigan counties.

Total construction costs will be more than $12.9 million. Biggest contract will go to Charles J. Rogers, Inc. of Detroit, who bid $3.6 million for the first portion of the M-78 freeway to be constructed in the City of Flint.

Pickett & Scherer, Inc. of Allegan, will receive $1.5 million for construction of overpasses of US-27 in Cassiopolis and Roscommon Counties.

One of the 27 projects will be 2.6 miles of grading and surfacing on Seymour Lake Rd. east from M-15 north of Clarkston. Completion date: November, 1966. Lowest of seven bidders: O. E. Gooding Co., Ypsilanti, $203,008.

At home with his family, Hans relaxes after a day of training at Lansing. He and the children are obviously enjoying the play break. Respect for the special work which often takes their dog and father away has been learned by the Chartier children.

Dog Aids State Police

"Oh man I love him," said seven year old Nancy Chartier when asked what she thought of the German Shepherd dog her father brought home three years ago. Dad Richard Chartier, is a State Police trooper assigned to the Pontiac Post. He, his wife Jeanne, five children and Hans (the dog) live at 6311 Peach Drive in Clarkston.

Three years ago Trooper Chartier was among over fifty "volunteers" screened by Michigan State Police prior to choosing five men to whom they assigned dogs.

The dogs are used for tracking everything from criminals to lost children.

Hans is a five year old, black German Shepherd. He stands 25 inches at the shoulders and weighs 105 pounds.

He is one of the thirteen active dogs owned by the Michigan State Police which consists of 50 posts. Hans was donated to the Department by a family in New Baltimore.

Training sessions for Hans occur at least once a week. This job is very well executed by Trooper Chartier.

Although the dog is much busier in the summer, he is needed on an average of twice a week throughout the year.

The Chartier children enjoy playing with Hans although he is quite large, it is not unusual for the dog to be in the house. Susan Chartier, age 8, Nancy and Dad keep Hans neatly brushed and combed, while Dad has the task of bathing him.

Other children in the family are six year old David, four year old Dree and three month old Bethany.

According to Chartier, Hans is very playful where the family is concerned, but must retain an unfriendly attitude toward strangers. This is part of his training.

When asked how she felt about having a police dog at her home, Mrs. Chartier remarked "I love him".

The two pounds of dog food consumed by Hans once a day is rationed from the State Police headquarters in Lansing.

"Keeping the dog is no expense to me", Chartier commented.

Should the occasion arise, Hans could be kenneled in Lansing or at a local veterinarian's.

Chartier, who has been a trooper for six years, has been at the Pontiac Post for three years and has lived in Clarkston since that time. He is a member of the Clarkston Area Jaycees.

Hans is the first dog he has had in his charge. No other troopers at the post are able to handle the dog.

Chartier pointed out that Hans will be able to work until he's seven years old, two more years. Neighbor children occasionally tease Hans when he is in his pen, and on two occasions, Hans has rebelled to the point of biting them.

The State Police post in Pontiac has a staff of approximately thirty men. Of these, eight live in Clarkston.

They are besides Chartier, Cpl. Charles Clark, Cpl. Max Waterbury, detective Edward Seath and Troopers Robert Hagstrom, George Plummer and Alfred Strlecky.

A retired State Police detective, Sgt. Warren Cannon, also lives in Clarkston.

On May 27 at 9:30 in the morning Hans and Trooper Chartier were called to 9204 Commerce Rd., Union Lake to trace a subject who fled from that scene after allegedly breaking and entering.

Hans picked up the scent and tracked the minor to the location where police officers had already apprehended him.

At 4:14 a.m. May 28 they were called to Lasher Rd. between 13 and 14 Mile Roads after two men, who were spotted taking furniture from a model home, fled on foot.

Hans tracked one subject to his hideout behind a tree some distance away. The other subject was not apprehended.

Counseling Clinic at High School This Summer

This summer Clarkston High School will begin a summer counseling program according to Mr. Terry Thomas, Director of Guidance.

Students and parents will be able to receive information concerning admission requirements to colleges, vocational schools, apprenticeship programs, etc. Counselors will be available for those parents and students who wish help in arranging college visitation on weekends or during their vacation period. Students and parents will also have the opportunity to discuss such topics as educational progress, vocational planning or personal social development.

Many students receive low grades because of weak study habits. Counselors will be available to help them improve their study habits.

Students planning to enter the work force immediately upon graduating from high school or who plan a branch of the military will find counseling and free material available.

This program is open to past graduates and to students who have dropped from school as well as for those currently enrolled in school.

Kingsbury is Preparing for Country Fair

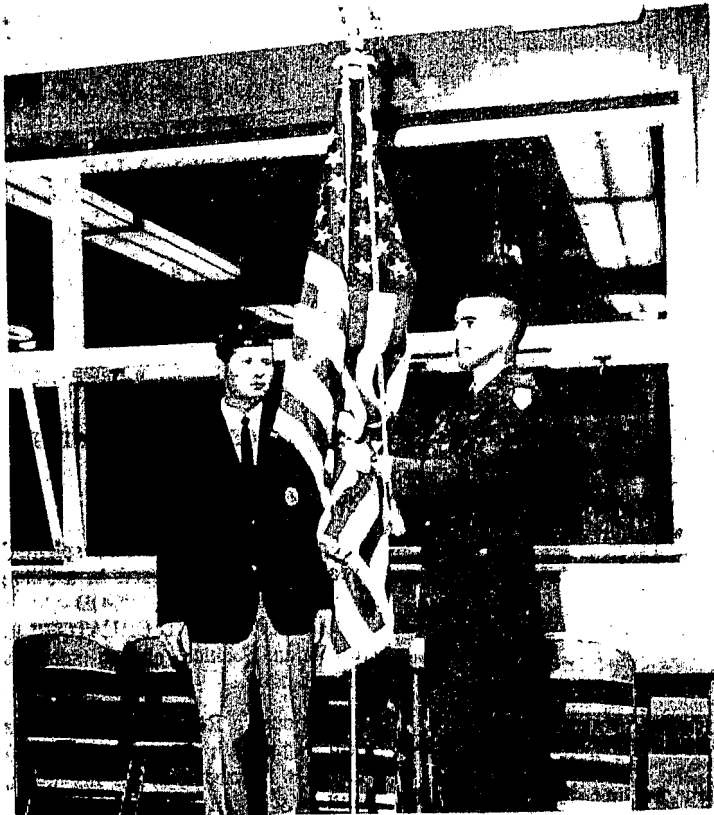

Kingsbury School, located at Hosner and Oakwood Roads, Oxford, will open its doors to Old Time Country Fair lovers, June 5.

Pantry and ice cream parlors will provide picnic foods. Shoppers can visit the Country Store, The Boutique and Bake Shop.

Children will be amply entertained on pony cart, jeep and helicopter rides, plus many more fun booths.

An art exhibit and antique gun collection will be on display. This is only a partial list of entertainment planned from noon to five P.M. on June 5.

The Detroit Zoo, in Royal Oak, Michigan, just north of Detroit, has one of the nation's finest collections of animals, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. The animals are exhibited in their natural habitat in a 120-acre park.

John Lynch, Commander of Campbell Richmond Post No. 63, presents a new American flag to James Hubbell, a Lieutenant in the Clarkston Civil Air Patrol. Held high at the head of the Memorial Day parade, the flag weathered its first official duty.

Minor Injuries Reported in Three Area Accidents

No injuries were reported to State Police in an accident which occurred Sunday, May 22 at the corner of Clarkston-Orion Rd. and M-15.

Adrian Sirdan of Orionville had stopped for the stop sign at M-15 when a car driven by Nancy Fulton of 8141 Allen Rd., Clarkston pulled along the right side of the Sirdan auto and stopped.

As the Sirdan car made a right turn it struck the left front fender of the Fulton car.

On Tuesday, May 24 an accident on Walton Blvd. at Dill Rd. brought minor injuries to Billie Joyce Hyde and her passenger, Cecil Merriss, both of Pontiac.

The Hyde vehicle had stopped to make a left turn when it was struck in the rear by one driven by Eleanor Campbell of 7589 Sasnabaw Road, Clarkston.

Neither Mrs. Campbell nor her passengers, William and Charlotte Campbell were injured.

Friday, May 27 an accident occurred on Snow Apple Drive, Independence Township, when Steve Simonic of 6460 Snow Apple backed out of a driveway into the side of another car. The car, which was parked on the east shoulder of the road, was owned by James Stinson of Pontiac.

Hans, who is trained by command to have two faces, with a set of instincts to go with each, is being trained to tree and attack a trained police decoy. Troopers who train dogs exchange the positions of decoys.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST
Oxford, Michigan

Spiritual causation and spiritual reality will be explored in a Bible Lesson-Sermon on "GOD THE ONLY CAUSE AND CREATOR" at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Responsive Reading from Psalms will begin with these verses: "The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works."
The Lord is high unto all them that call upon him, to all that call upon him in truth."

Related passages to be considered from the Christian Science textbook include these lines: "When mortal man blends his thoughts of existence with the spiritual and works only as God works, he will no longer grope in the dark and cling to earth because he has not tasted heaven. . . The age seems ready to approach this subject, to ponder somewhat the supremacy of Spirit, and at least to touch the hem of Truth's garment." Reaching Out

The Temple Within

Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you?

1 Cor. 3:16.

The pearl of great price, the pearl of eternity, is the temple of God within us, that consecrated place where alone we can worship God in spirit and in truth.

Once we are well grounded in this inward worship we shall have learned to live unto God above time and place. From thence every day will be a Sabbath and wherever we go we shall have an altar ready within us.

When the great God has all that He should have of our hearts, when we are wholly obedient to His spirit, to will only in His Will, to be wise only in His Wisdom, then it is that all our actions shall be as a song of praise, and the common things of life shall conform wholly to His gracious Will.

Eternal God, our Father, refresh our spirits, we beseech Thee, and help us to find the pearl of eternity within us. In Jesus' Name we pray.

AMEN.

Everett Butters.

Pictures of The Week

Exchanging places next fall will be five of these five year olds, and kindergarten teachers Mrs. Arthur Rose (left) and Mrs. Thomas Lamm.
Home retirement on a temporary basis is planned for the two favorite teachers, with the children all set to leave home on a pretty exciting venture.

On their scholastic way are: Lana and Laura, the Lovett twins, Brian Roberts, Annie Johnson and Wendy Logan.
Looking for all the world like she too belongs, is Jan Logan, just 4 1/2.

Church keeping was undertaken recently by second graders of the First Methodist Church School.
Mrs. Robert Cooper, Mrs. C. L. Reichert and Mrs. Earle Hawke direct the busy little hands as they sweep and plant border seeds. The eager dedication was part of that May Sunday School lesson.

Lots of knots were tied and untied this sunny day as day camp counselors practiced tricks of the knotting trade.
The group moved from unit to unit, accomplishing different feats that will be needed in assisting the Girl Scout campers this summer.

Keeping their fingers out of the loops were: Mrs. Warren, who demonstrated, Mary Fife, Donna Paul, Delores Walker, Mrs. Wagner (another leader) Phyllis Karpovck, and Nancy Gee (front and center).

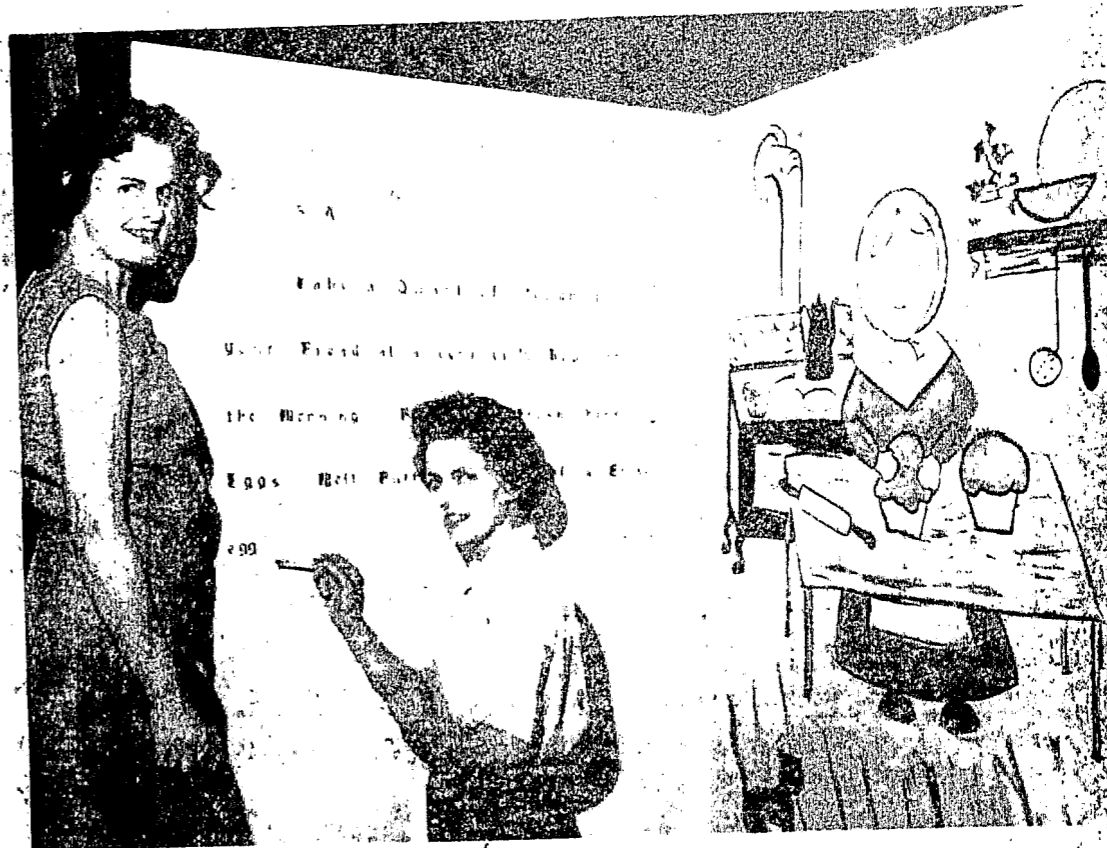

Pot luck picnic, family style.
Joining the girls after they had camped for a day with their leaders, Mrs. Kelly Burnette and Mrs. Younger, the families enjoyed the "works" around the picnic tables.

A "Bridge of lights" is formed by graduating senior scouts for Yvonne Lantear, a cadet girl scout from Ortonville, who is crossing over into senior scouting.
Adult scouting is the next step for senior scouts: Gloria Edwards, Linda Pittman, Linda Gregorson, Jeanne Schafer and Kathy Sue Lambertson.

Centered far back in another ceremony setting is Joette Schultz.

"Cookbook Corners" — a clever background for a bakery booth at the Kingsbury School's Old Time Country Fair.
Unlike most cookbooks, this one will be giving off pleasant kitchen aromas on June 5, as it sells its culinary donations.

Here, Mrs. Gordon Bray adds final printing touches to her charge as Mrs. Janet McCord offers comments of encouragement.

Peggy Schoff is First to Graduate from Clarkston With Art Major

Too numerous for complete displaying, Peggy Schoff was called upon to pick her favorite works of art for this special showing at the Clarkston Senior High School.

Peggy Schoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Schoff of Holcomb Street in Clarkston, was honored on Wednesday with a one-man showing of her work in the common area of Clarkston High School.

Peggy is Clarkston High's first graduating Art Major, having been enrolled in Art I as a freshman and in both Crafts and Painting and Drawing classes in her sophomore junior, and senior years.

Her exhibit consists of paintings, drawings, prints, ceramics, weaving, and metalwork, all done in her high school art classes, and several pieces of glass work done in an evening class associated with the Mott Foundation in Flint.

Peggy has been a conscientious and hard working student and has done particularly fine work with silver. Probably the most outstanding pieces in her show were a three-pearl pendant on a hand made chain of tiny silver links, and a lion's head pin of cloisonne enamel on silver.

Peggy hopes to continue her art education after her graduation.

Understanding Your Health

By Albert E. Heustis, M.D. Director Michigan Department of Public Health

Just the other day I was asked by an acquaintance of mine if I thought Michigan had enough water. The question came up because he had been reading a great deal about serious water shortages that had occurred in other parts of the country, and he was frankly worried about the adequacy of our state's water supply.

Well, my answer to him was that Michigan has an ample supply of water, beyond any doubt. Our Great Lakes constitute a source that is practically inexhaustible, and our inland rivers also provide water that is used by some municipalities. In addition, many states would be envious of the well water potential in many Michigan locations.

Although we are in an enviable position with respect to the availability of water - that's not to say the whole picture is rosy. We do have our problems.

In order to see how we stand in regard to water in Michigan, I think it would be profitable to review our separate water sources. In this way we'll get a clear idea of the total picture.

With respect to ground water - that is, water we get from wells - there are many cases in the state where it served as an adequate supply in the early development of the areas, but is becoming insufficient as the population continues to increase. In these cases, the communities are abandoning their wells, and drawing water from local rivers or the Great Lakes. In other cases the well water capacity is sufficient to enable the city to count on it for years to come.

Surface sources continue to supply the largest volume of water for our municipalities, and most of this comes from the Great Lakes. Cities have proven that they can draw water from the Great Lakes and pipe it miles inland. For instance, Grand Rapids, an inland city, has been using Lake Michigan water for the past 25 years.

You might ask, "With all this water available, how can you say we have any problems?" Well, we do. Financing, or the decision to spend money, is often the main reason that many useful, needed projects are not carried through. Where water must be piped a considerable distance, and treated, a large expense is involved, and one small municipality cannot afford this large outlay of money, although the new water supply is badly needed. In cases of this nature, the usual answer is for one or two of the larger communities to finance the project, and sell the water to the smaller cities.

Once we get over this financial hurdle, our rich water resources, under proper management, will be capable of supporting large increases in population, and a substantial industrial expansion. In most instances it's up to you, the voter, to make the decision to spend the necessary money. I believe healthful water is worth the additional expense - I hope you agree with me.

OU Offers Summer Session

Oakland University, which operates on the year-round, three-semester plan, this year will offer its first summer session, according to Laszlo J. Hetenyi, dean of the School of Education and director of the summer school.

The eight-week program will run from June 20 to August 12, and will offer courses leading to the Master of Arts degree in English and to the Master of Arts in Teaching in English, mathematics; elementary education and reading instruction.

According to Dean Hetenyi, the session was added to the University's calendar to accommodate area teachers and other persons interested in graduate work whose schedules do not permit them to enroll in the spring semester which begins in early May. It is expected that enrollment will also include advanced undergraduates who are interested in the courses offered.

Persons not interested in a degree program may register as guest students for individual courses, permanent certification or credits for transfer to another institution.

The summer session faculty will be made entirely from the University's regular staff.

Council Meeting

The Village Council Meeting, regularly scheduled for the second Monday of the month (June 13) will be set ahead this month to June 6, the first Monday.

Play It Safe

Springtime brings on a restless urge to get out of the house, to run an errand, to share a cup of coffee with a neighbor.

Fine. But don't leave small children alone in the house while you're out!

Hundreds of children die in fires each year because parents left them alone "for just a few minutes." National Fire Protection Association records show.

Sometimes the children start the fires, playing with matches or show.

Sometimes fire simply chooses this moment to strike.

For your children's safety, always take them with you when you leave the house, or put them in charge of a competent older family member or babysitter.

Play it safe, so you'll never be sorry!

Clarkston Girl Vies Fair Queen Title

Sandi McLean

"Queen of the Fair", is the title Sandi McLean hopes will be her's next month as her submitted votes are tallied at the North Oakland County Fair.

Area residents and merchants will be called upon by Sandi, her friends and relatives, to purchase "penny votes".

The final vote count will determine the winner, with the profits earmarked for the C.A.I. building fund program.

A Clarkston junior High School student, Sandi, 14, is an accomplished artist and also a member of the school band, playing the bass clarinet.

Mrs. Shearer, chairman of the Queen contest, also lists another Clarkston girl who will compete for the title. She is fifteen year old Debbie Carr, who lives at 6625 Plum Drive. At this time we could not reach Debbie for further information, but hope to do so.

This year's fair, formerly called the C.A.I. Fair will begin with a ribbon cutting ceremony at 6:00

P.M. on June 17th at the Community Activities Center, on Williams Lake Road, Waterford. It will be on June 19 that the titleholder to Queen will be announced.

Attaining the crown will be only the first official act of attainment for the queen. Following this summer the queen will receive one week with expenses paid, at the Gay El Rancho, in Gaylord. The companion of her choice will be her guest. Girls receiving runner up placings will be given a gift of luggage, camera, watch, jewelry, cosmetics, etc.

"Biggest and best" is the descriptive quote for this year's activities, with Happiland shows, aerial acts and helicopter rides part of the agenda for fun.

A time schedule will be published later for your convenience. On display will be a large army artillery display, plus captured Viet Cong weapons.

Arriving from Fort Bragg, North Carolina, will be an international famous parachute jumping team, with the excitement of free fall jumping on their program.

An army theme will be used for this, the 22nd, annual fair.
