here Labor Day

The Clarkston Area Jaycees inform us work is moving along smoothly for the Labor Day Weekend family entertainment. As is becoming traditional, Harold Weston stated a contract has been signed with "Deluxe Rides and Shows" for children (of all ages) to be set up in the village parking lot. Co-Chairman Art Niebarger has made arrangements for numerous booths including the "Dunking Machine" that amuses many as local business men and dignitaries take a cool swim. The usual large crowd is expected as the day starts with the Rotary sponsored parade at 10:00 A.M.

Campbell-Richmond Post of the American Legion has arranged to have the Legion's 8 & 40 here for the parade. They have also announced that there will be a huge corn and hot dog roast at their grounds which will begin after the parade. It will be held on the Legion grounds on M-15 north of the expressway. Serving will start after the parade is over and go on until everyone goes home.

To be sold at ridiculously low prices will be hot dogs, corn and other refreshments. This will all be open to the public.

Also to be held on Labor Day is "Mac's Regatta" which will be sail boat racing on Deer Lake. Trophies will be awarded at this event which is to start also at the conclusion of the parade on Monday.

Health department forces closing of township dump

What do you do with trash and garbage when there is no place to dump it? Independence township residents as well as those from Groveland and Brandon are all faced with the same situation. It was closed voluntarily by township officials last Friday morning when they were faced with stern measures from the State Health department. The State cited unsanitary conditions at the dump as being in violation of State law. Residents near the dump had complained recently because of excessive smoke from burning, of bad odors and the presence of rodents.

The dump which is located on a 10 acre site is in Brandon township and is owned by that township. However Groveland and Independence township residents share in its use with Independence paying half of the cost because of the larger population. Groveland and Brandon each pay 1/4 of the cost. Part of the problem seems to occur because it was being used to such a great extent by people from outside communities. Cars and trucks were coming there to dump from as far away as Lapeer, Flint, Grand Blanc and Pontiac.

According to Independence township officials on Tuesday morning, "The dump will remain closed until we have a solution to the problem". They also hastened to add that a solution to the problem does not seem imminent. The area itself is low and the water table is high—there is always the possibility of water pollution. And it is this water and pollution that the State Health department is trying to eradicate. Because of the low lying area, it is thought if the situation could be controlled now it might reoccur within a year.

A combined meeting of the 3 participating township officials was held on Monday with exploratory talks on an interim measure. It is hoped that arrangements could be made with private operators to obtain a private contract whereby residents could dump their rubbish (not garbage) on certain days of the week for a minimum fee.

When it was determined just how many were actually using the dumping facilities, a fee system might be arranged which the township would help to underwrite. It is hoped that this could be done on a one year trial basis. It would doubtless be operated with a windshield sticker authorization for township residents only.

Health officials state they will not permit reopening of that dump until an engineering description of the entire layout, an operational procedure plan and cleaning of the present dump are completed. This is to comply with Act 87 recently passed by the State legislature. The county had been persistently warning the townships that they were in violation.

In the meantime persons who are leaving their trash and garbage outside the locked gate and are caught will face immediate prosecution. Adjoining property owners face the same situation if trash and paper blows on their property. They could be ordered to have it removed and face the same fate.

Board studies recommendations of Stratton firm

An Outline of Procedures has been given to the Township Board by the Financial consulting firm of Stratton Associates. This outline prepared by the company directs the township on how best to approach the sewerage and water problems of the area. The firm was hired by the township board to study the situation and make recommendations, primarily on whether it was financially feasible for the township to participate in the Clinton-Oakland Sanitary Sewer System.

It is expected that participation in this area sewerage system would cost about 2.8 million. About 10 percent of the cost would be assessed to Independence township according to estimates. The project would be financed over a 30 year period. Those communities who have signed contracts are: Waterford, West Bloomfield and Orion. Pontiac turned down a bid to participate and still unsigned are the city of Orchard Lake, and the townships of Ayon and Independence.

According to the Stratton firm four major steps must be taken first before determining if participation is desirable. They are: Determination of actual need; an approximate date at which time the facilities would be needed and the extent of the demand; The cost of participation for the township; and lastly the Details of Financing.

Township officers have estimated that the cost for the first year of the project would amount to about $65,000. It would escalate each year until the year 2007 when it would reach $99,000 and then it would start to decrease again. This does not include the cost of setting up an internal system once the township has purchased capacity in the interceptor.

Further recommendations made by the Stratton firm are that township officials contact area developers to learn of their immediate and long range development plans. They also urge the acquiring of services of Engineering Planning specialists and recommend that preliminary plans be drawn up. If they prove to be a reasonable program various financial plans must be explored.

It is in that field that the township's role in the Genesee Valley Utilities Authority may be of special benefit. It could be used as a financing vehicle through which federal funds could be available. If that were possible, working through the Authority would make the project more self-controlled as to financing, timing, etc., opposed to county financing.

The Stratton firm has also offered to make themselves available as part of a public education program toward the program. However, this would evolve after a great deal of preliminary planning was completed.

Ten boats ready for "Mac's Regatta"

Something new for area residents has been added to the Labor Day celebration in the Village. A sail boat race will be staged at Deer Lake immediately following the parade on Monday.

Everett MacDougall has been working on plans for the race. He announced this week that trophies will be given. Entry fee will be $1.00 for each boat. He told the News on Monday that there are approximately 10 boats lined up already.

To be named "Mac's Regatta", the course will take the boaters down the lake to "Whisker's Islands" and back.

Interested sailors are urged to call Mr. MacDougall at MA 5-1040 for more information regarding the race.

Will require further study

The Appeal Board of Independence township tabled a request for construction of a trailer park within the township when they met on Friday evening, August 12.

Stanley Eaton and James D. Humphrey hope to construct this park on Clintonville road.

The basis for the tabling motion was for further study on roads within the project. According to the "presentation" shown by the developers plans were underway for building of 60 foot roads. This is in violation of township and county restrictions regarding width. The county calls for roadways of 120 feet.

The park as planned would be 880' by 1500' encompassing approximately 20 acres. Present plans call for 115 units to be constructed.

It would be located in Section 35 on the east side of the township.

RUDY'S

9 SOUTH MAIN 625-2629

Local girl scouts at Camp Sherwood

Twenty Girl Scouts (two primitive camp-out from patrols) from the Clarkston area are participating this week in the Cadette Roundup sponsored by Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council at Camp Sherwood. Over 140 Girl Scouts of junior high school age from throughout the council are attending the Fife accompanied the girls.

Fashioned after the national Senior Roundup, the Cadette Roundup is being held this year for the first time by the council as an opportunity for advancing Girl Scouts to practice and perfect their camping skills, resourcefulness and personal adaptability.

The girls will live in tents during the four days, cooking their meals on charcoal fires. Food is provided and sample menus have been suggested. Girls are responsible for all housekeeping tasks.

The key to a successful Roundup is the patrol, each consisting of five to 10 girls. Patrols met regularly during the summer in preparation for Roundup. They practiced charcoal cooking and tent-pitching, planned demonstrations or skits, and made "potlatch" items for exchange that represent their home towns. Clarkston girls are using the theme of summer and winter skiing.

The girls have been encouraged to do their own planning with a minimum of aid from adults. Once on the site at Camp Sherwood, the girls are on their own. Adults will be available but only as consultants.

Forums are planned to provide for exchange of ideas among the girls. Free time will be provided for swimming, hiking and enjoying the out-of-doors. Each patrol will come prepared to do a skit, dance or demonstration representing some particular interest of the patrol.

The potlatch exchange items have an interesting background. "Potlatch" is an Indian word that refers to a ceremony of exchanging gifts. Patrols will bring their small, meaningful, handmade gifts to exchange with other girls at campfires, meals or special meetings—enacting an old Indian ceremony and making new friends at the same time.

A capping ceremony for girls entering tenth grade is planned. At this time they will officially become Senior Girl Scouts, wearing their Senior hats for the first time.

Girls in the patrol from Troop 547 are Becky Byers, Rosalind Byers, Nancy Cole, Beth Ann Eisenlohr, Denise Jadwin, Tammy Mahar, Jill Norberg, Lynn Norberg, and Sue Tower.

The other patrol includes Barbara Boyd, Linda Bradley, Janet Cobb, Bonnie Crosby, Debbie Fife, Delynn Hagga-done, Eva Karbownik, Michele Plouff and Valerie Warren. Jill Steinhoff was unable to attend because of illness.

The Clarkston girls will be camping with Cadette Girl Scouts from Pontiac, Waterford, Ortonville, Holly, Lake Orion, Oxford and Rochester.

Eight scouts slated to attend jamboree

The Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, will be allowed to send eight Boy Scouts or Explorers to the 12th World Boy Scout Jamboree, it was announced this week by Norton Reid Graham of Troy, Chairman of the local Scout council's World Jamboree committee.

The United States will play host to the international Scouting event at Farragut State Park, Idaho, August first through August ninth, 1967. 12,000 Scouts and Scout leaders, including 10,000 Scouts from outside the United States representing some 90 countries will take part in the Jamboree.

The eight boys from the Clinton Valley Council will be part of a 495 member contingent from Scouting's Region Seven to the World Jamboree. Region Seven includes Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin. The delegation will travel by train with Chicago as the point of departure and return.

Tentative plans for side tours for the Region Seven group include trips to Glacier National Park, Seattle, Bremerton and Puget Sound Naval Yard, and Victoria, British Columbia.

To qualify for attendance at the World Jamboree, Scouts or Explorers must be 14 years or older by January 1, 1967, and hold the Life Scout rank by April 1, 1967. The deadline for submitting applications for the Jamboree is the Clinton Valley Council is September 1, 1966.

Clarkston golfers place

1-2-3 in Hale tournament

The three qualifiers from Clarkston swept the first three places in this tough tournament. Jerry Anderson was first with a score of 84 over the rough well trapped course at West Branch. Jerry has now won this tournament twice. One more victory will give him permanent possession of the trophy. Dr. Harold Ford from Clarkston was second with a score of 94 and Jake Leonard, local tournament official, was third with a score of 104.

The gallery and tournament officials were disappointed when Dr. Al Hamilton and Terry Thomas, the two sentimental favorites, were unable to compete in this year's tournament. It was like the Master's Tournament without Arnie and Jack.

Jerry Anderson's five iron shots and his great putting, which is usually poor, placed him an early lead which he never relinquished.

It was a great day for Clarkston as they are becoming well-known as tough tournament competitors in the North Country.

This was Jerry's first big tournament in his come-back on the golfing trail. Jerry stated that he was happy to win for all his devoted fans in the Clarkston area who had stood by him over the past years when he was unable to make the winner's circle.

Jerry contributes his fine come-back to golfing greatness through daily physical activity and a well regulated diet. Mrs. Anderson who has stood by Jerry in his days of gloom said, "I knew Jerry could win the big one".

Color machine installed

Mrs. Vassie Wilmot of 6138 Flemings Lake Road is pictured under the new Color machine recently installed at Leeta's Beauty Salon. It enables operators to do coloring in just one tenth of the usual time.

"Something new for the ladies" was introduced on Main street last week. Leeta Oman, proprietor of Leeta's Beauty Salon at 14 S. Main street installed a Martin Color Machine in her shop a few days ago. Her beauty salon will be one of the first in the area to have this up to date equipment.

The machine is so designed that hair coloring can be done in just one tenth of the time that it usually takes to do hair coloring.

Mrs. Oman has operated her shop on Main street for 9 years. Currently there are 3 operators in the shop including Mrs. Oman herself. The others are Abbie Raney and Esther Cohr.

Leeta hopes that anyone interested will stop in the shop to see how the color machine operates.

Saturday bride feted at showers

Miss Martha Terry was honored at several pre-nuptial parties before her marriage on Saturday to John Paul Jones.

First of the bridal affairs was a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Robert Jones on Wealthy street. It was held on August 5th and relatives of the bridegroom showered the bride-to-be with appropriate gifts.

On Sunday, the 7th a "His and Her Picnic Shower" was given by Mrs. Richard Bullen and Mrs. Charles Robinson. Friends gathered for the affair were served box lunches in the spirit of the occasion.

Mrs. William Terry Jr. sister-in-law of the bride assisted by Mrs. Glen Terry and Miss Mary Jenkinson hosted another party on August 10. A bouquet of pink and white mums graced the bride's table and a highlight was the cake topped with the traditional bride.

Miniature brides used as favors was a feature of the table decorations at a luncheon which Mrs. Ronald Weber and Mrs. Dave Stewart gave for Martha on August 12th. It was held at Mrs. Stewart's Clarkston road home. Miscellaneous gifts were presented to the bride at that party.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones were hosts at the rehearsal dinner held at the Old Mill Tavern on Friday evening.

Cooperative education program to be expanded this year

The Business Education Department of Clarkston High School plans to continue last year's pilot program of Cooperative Education. Students participating in this program attend classes for a half day and work at a useful occupation for a half day. These occupations are to be in the office and distributive (retailing) areas.

"Co-op" programs have been in existence for many years in high schools throughout the country. It is felt that the school can better prepare students for good citizenship and occupational competence with the use of the community's facilities.

The school will become a partner in education with businessmen participating in this program. Students will have their programs arranged as to relate school work with actual on-the-job training. The school coordinator checks the progress of the students both in school and on the job.

There are many advantages in such a program. Students receive specific occupational training while attending high school by being engaged in an organized plan of training under actual business conditions. There is a correlation of work and school activities and an opportunity to develop good work habits.

Employers take an active part in the school program and are provided with better trained and more intelligent employees. The employer also gains a better acquaintance with prospective employees of the community.

The school is a cooperative education program broadens the curriculum and allows training in occupations at low cost and keeps the school abreast of business trends in the community.

Further information about this program may be obtained by contacting Roger Thompson, Coordinator, Clarkston Senior High, Maple 5-5841.

Cokes, hamburgers, spacious living intrigue Dutch visitor

The "wide open spaces" of Michigan are a source of constant amazement to Peter Muller who is visiting here for a month. Peter, who is 17 is visiting the LeRoy Davis family of 5326 Williamson in Clarkston. His home is the 2nd and 3rd floors of an apartment building in Rotterdam, Holland.

"Everything is so big" states Peter as he describes his travels in the United States. His visit to this country came about in a most interesting way.

Mrs. Preasu, a teacher at the Bailey Lake school was touring Europe last summer and met Peter and his family. Shortly after her return to Clarkston she gave Peter's name to Susan Davis who will be a Junior in Clarkston High this fall. An interesting weekly correspondence developed which culminated in an invitation extended by Susan's family to visit them here. Peter, already had in mind a trip to the States and specifically Michigan. He had planned to come with an Uncle and anticipated a visit in Grand Rapids with an aunt whom he had never met. But fate interfered and the Uncle was stricken with a heart attack. However, with the aid of the Uncle and his own family Peter went ahead with his plans and arrived here on August 5. Last week he spent a few days in Grand Rapids with the Aunt.

Peter's father is a bookkeeper in their native Holland. He also has a younger brother who is 11. Extensive English training prepared him well for his trip here. He had studied the language for 5 years, 3 years in the school, which he attended and 2 1/2 years under a private tutor. In addition to his native Dutch, he also speaks German and French fluently.

And what does he find unusual in America? The expansive lawns and space around homes are envied by Peter. One of the jobs he has enjoyed doing most here is mowing a lawn—a job to be just endured by most American boys.

"The food is tremendous" he states. Orange juice which we take for granted is a real treat for Peter. At home oranges cost about 40¢ each, so he does not have the opportunity to enjoy them as we do. It would retail there for about $1.00 per can. Hamburgers are favorite food of his and he thinks that "cokes" are great!

A great lad for hobbies, his favorites seem to be photography, swimming, and ice skating. He also has a love for things of an electronic nature—tape recorders and stereophonic music.

He is amazed at the seeming wealth or display of material things—two cars to a family are unbelievable to this boy and the numerous appliances and labor saving devices which most American families take for granted are almost incomprehensible to him. In his city of Rotterdam, bicycles far outnumber automobiles.

Confusing to him though is our method of collecting sales tax. He feels that it should be included in the purchase price as it is in his own country. However, shopping and travelling he enjoys tremendously. The Davis family arranged a trip through several southern states with stops at Mammoth Cave, Kentucky and Lookout Mountain as seen from the vantage points of Tennessee and Georgia. This week they are spending a day or two at Niagara Falls and also scheduled are a trip to Greenfield Village and possibly to northern Michigan.

Because he leaves for home on September 4, he will not get a chance to see the local school system in operation. However he expects a tour of the school facilities when he goes with the Davis youngsters to the School Book stores preparatory to school's opening. Helping to entertain him also are the 2 younger Davis children, David 12 and Michael 11.

He made the trip by plane from Rotterdam to New York and then by bus to Detroit. Return trip will be made in the same way. Upon his arrival back in Rotterdam, he will be making plans to leave for school himself. He will be a first year student at a college at the Hague. He hopes while there to study Radio and TV.

In Rotterdam he has a paper route, money from which helped him with his expenses for this trip. And so, first through the magic of correspondence and finally by an actual trip he has learned first hand about the United States, a country he had always wanted to see and visit.

Low-Cost, High-Flavor Rice Dish

It is quite possible to serve an attractive and delicious brunch, lunch or supper main dish that also is low in cost without being obvious about it. Such a dish is Rice O'Brien with Bacon. With one pound of bacon and 6 cups of cooked rice as the main ingredients, it makes 10 luscious servings with expensive taste.

Rice O'Brien is gaily colored with pimiento and green pepper in quantity to supply a heap of flavor as well. The bacon is pan-fried crisp at the very start, and some of the drippings are then used to sauté the raw vegetables and the rice until the vegetables are tender and all the good flavor is blended in. The rice is then served topped with the crisp brown rashers; the result is so tempting to the eye and so good no one except the cook will realize how many pennies have been saved.

The family's favorite rice may be used in this recipe when cooking directions on the package are followed to the letter. Those directions assure the best flavor, tenderness, fluffiness and nutrition without one smidgen of unnecessary effort.

Rice O'Brien With Bacon
1 pound bacon, sliced
1 1/2 cups chopped onions
1 cup chopped green pepper
6 cups cooked rice
1/2 cup diced pimiento
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Keep warm. Pour off all but three tablespoons of bacon drippings. Cook onions and green peppers until tender, but not brown. Add rice, pimiento and seasonings. Continue cooking until golden brown. Serve with the hot bacon.
Makes 10 servings.

DIVERS DO DOUBLE DUTY

It was the first time, according to Lt. Donald Kratt, director of water safety for the Oakland County Sheriff's department, that his skin divers had to be pulled from the water suffering from exhaustion.

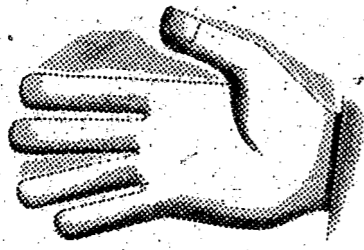

Two weeks ago, Oxford Township saw the combined efforts of men who willingly volunteer for hazardous duty from Oakland, Lapeer, Genesee, Livingston, Shiawassee, Washtenaw and Jackson counties, go to Stony Lake and recover the bodies of those who had drowned.

Who are these skin divers? They are the same men whom we all rely on to protect our property, cruise our highways and be available in times of emergency. These men, in addition to their regular deputy duties, have volunteered for this underwater assignment.

They undergo six weeks of intensive training every Spring. They work their regular shifts. When a drowning is reported, they are among the first on the scene. After the recovery of the victim is made, they return to their patrol cars.

For these men there isn't any applause, just appreciation. We shouldn't take them for granted. It's men like these of the Oakland County Sheriff's department, who perform above and beyond what's expected, who have made this department outstanding.

Reaching out . . .

-THE HAND OF GOD-
(Read Genesis 37 to 47, inc.)

One of the best loved of the old Gospel songs begins with the words...He Leadeth Me, It is God's Hand that Leadeth Me...and the singing of it always tends to render us increasingly alive to God's presence and more conscious of His unfailing guidance. Here we share in an everyday experience of Jesus, whose consciousness of God was exceeding high, the very highest among all God's children.

Now there is enshrined in Genesis the story of the Coat of Many Colors, one of the most nearly perfect short narratives in all literature. The hero Joseph, because he sought and faithfully followed God's guidance in all things is often said to be very close to Jesus in both character and spirit.

The highly gifted Joseph, youngest son of one of the twelve sons of the patriarch Jacob and his father's favorite was in token of that love dressed in fine and costly raiment. Because of this and of his continuing display of native wisdom his shepherd brothers were consumed of jealousy and in revenge sold the young boy to traders headed down to Egypt, while to their father they feigned his death as from a strange violence.

Captive slave in a foreign land, Joseph served his Egyptian taskmasters with skill for many years until in a time of threatened famine the reigning Pharaoh, in recognition of his wisdom and foresight, named Joseph his prime minister and food administrator, saying, 'I am Pharaoh, but without thee shall no man lift up his hand in this land of Egypt.' Joseph was at this time about thirty years of age.

The great famine spread north into Canaan, yet there was grain in the storehouses of Egypt and father Jacob, desperate to save his family, sent the shepherd brothers down to the land of the Pharaohs to buy food. There in the great Palace the reunion of the sons of Jacob takes place as Joseph, in a great act of faith, mercy and forgiveness, makes clear to the brothers who had meant to wrong him sorely, God's plan for the rescue of His people Israel.

'Behold, my brothers, your eyes do see that it is I, Joseph, who speaketh unto thee and that it is God's gracious Hand that forever leadeth me and keepeth thee!'

Your Dental Health

All of us have two sets of teeth. Too many of us will have three.

One of the factors causing us to lose our teeth prematurely is the food we eat.

Primitive man, who ate coarse, fibrous foods and very few sweets, was seldom troubled by tooth decay. He often wore his teeth flat from the amount of chewing his diet required, but decay was not one of his problems.

We moderns with our easy-to-eat foods and our taste for sugar-rich pastries and cakes, have laid ourselves open to a toothless future.

Studies show that there is a direct relationship between diet and tooth decay. There is also some relationship between diet and periodontal diseases. The periodontal tissues are the gums and other supporting tissues around the teeth.

A diet heavy in sugar and starches is a direct invitation to tooth decay since bacteria in the mouth quickly turn them into decay-producing acid.

Further, a well-balanced diet is essential to dental health since inadequate nutrition may decrease a person's resistance to periodontal disease.

The texture of foods is also important. Soft foods tend to impact between the teeth and around the gums—a choice spot for bacteria to work.

Persons with periodontal disease often curtail their diet by eliminating the coarse but nutritious foods they need; with tender or swollen gums these foods have become painful to chew.

A diet good for dental health must, first of all, be good for your general health.

It should contain adequate amounts of milk, meat, poultry and fish, and plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables. Breads and cereals are also part of a good diet.

The fewer times you eat sweets, the better off you are. A piece of candy is 75 or 80 per cent sugar, and a candy bar may contain as much as 20 teaspoonful. If you do eat an occasional confection, brush your teeth right afterwards or rinse your mouth with water.

Some foods are called "detergent" foods, and these are especially helpful to dental health. These are the foods like raw carrots and celery sticks, raw vegetables and fruits that require thorough chewing.

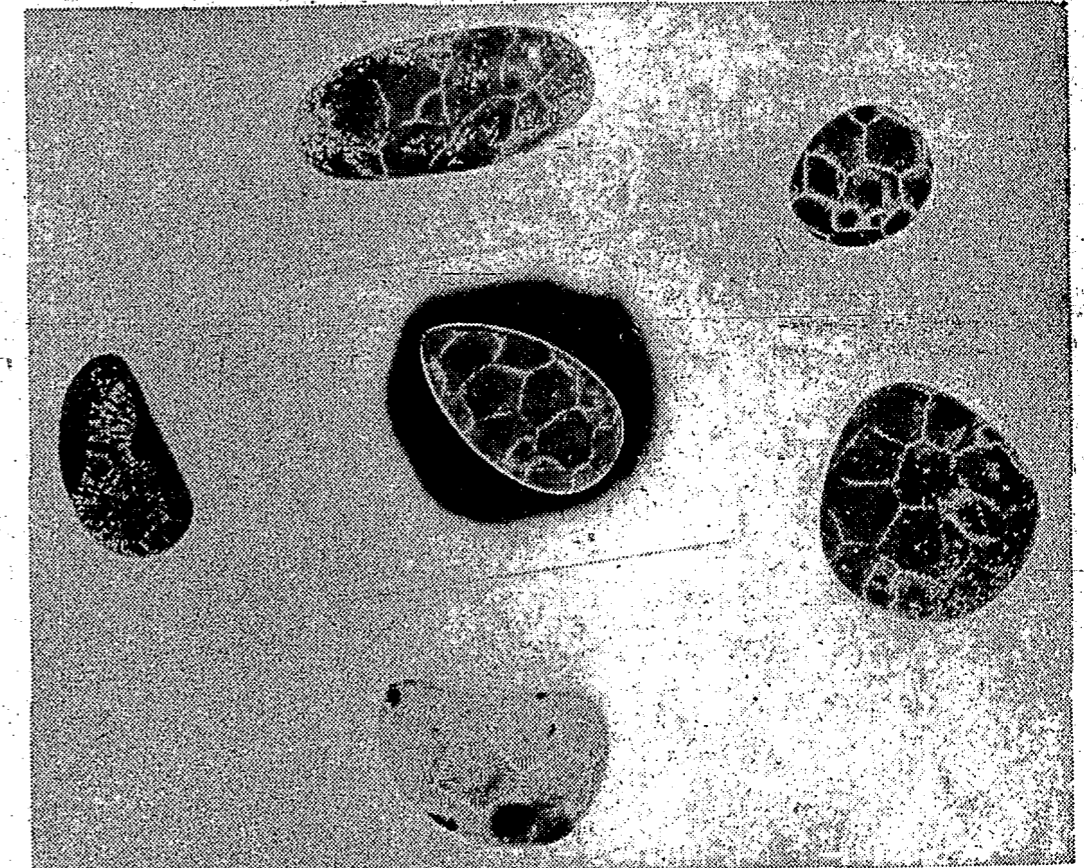

As you chew, you force such foods over your teeth and soft tissues in a cleansing action. Your daily diet should contain ample amounts of detergent foods.

Avoid impacting foods that require little chewing and tend to pack into tooth fissures and grooves. Cookies, crackers and candies, for instance. These are your teeth's worst enemies.

Good nutrition is especially important in early childhood when the teeth are still forming. Wise parents avoid serving sweet foods to children, substituting milk and unsweetened fruit juices and raw fruits for snacks.

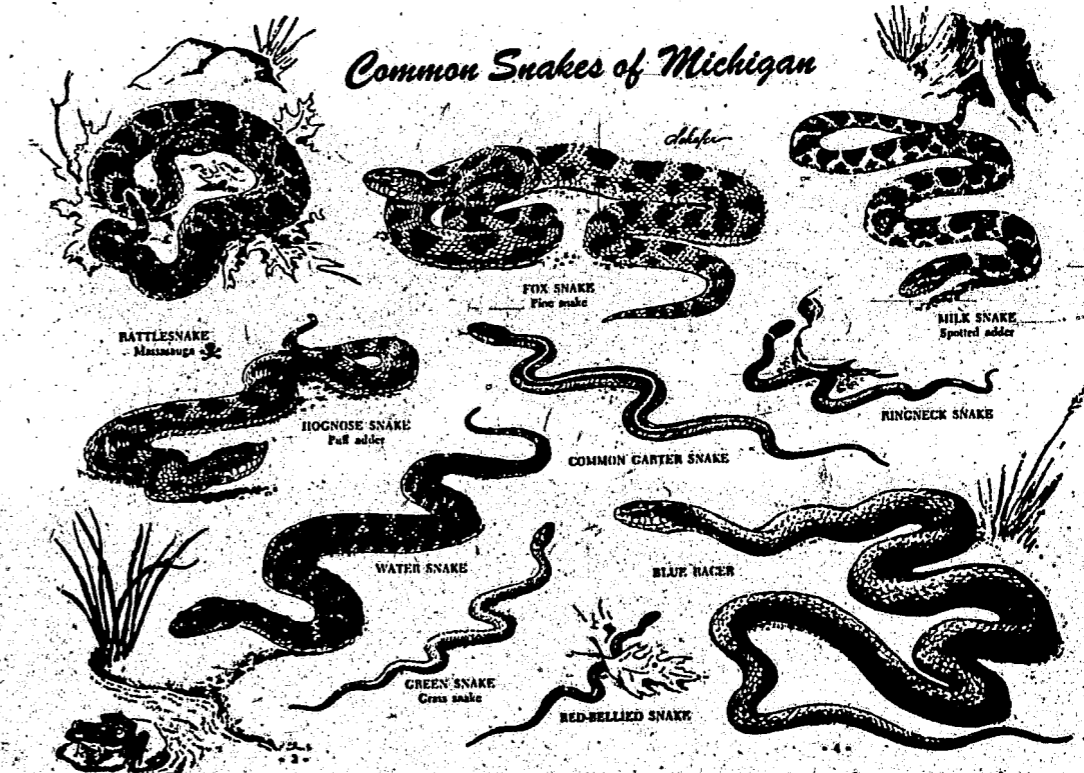

A good diet can be interesting and tasty. We can eat well and still eat right. And we'll keep our teeth if we do.

State Stone of Michigan

Rock hounds know each of these handsome little nuggets collectively as the "Petoskey stone," the popular name coined because this fossilized specimen is commonly found in the Petoskey area. Picked last year as Michigan's official state stone, its claim to fame is in its distinct appearance, the way it may be carved with simple tools into attractive jewelry, and the fact that it is commonly found in this state. Origin of this prized stone is traced back to Devonian seas that covered Michigan's Lower Peninsula about 350 million years ago. Petoskey stones found here today consist of massive, close-packed colonies of corals which were formed in varying sizes during the Devonian geologic age. Thanks to glaciers which later scraped bedrock surfaces across the Great Lakes area, Petoskey stones are found in many places—on beaches and in road cuts, ditches, gravel pits, gullies and sand blows all over the state, particularly in the northern Lower Peninsula. —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Common Snakes of Michigan

Summer is the active season for snakes in Michigan and here are the ones you're most apt to see. If you shudder at the thought of meeting up with snakes, it may ease your mind to know that Michigan has only one poisonous species—the Massasauga or swamp rattlesnake. And even this rattler, confined to the Lower Peninsula and Bois Blanc Island, is not nearly as deadly as many people think. Its poison could be fatal to a small child, but there is no authentic record of a person dying in Michigan from the bite of a native rattler. Superstitions and myths have generated many false fears about snakes and clouded the generally beneficial role these reptiles play in the "balance of nature." —Mich. Dept. of Conservation

Rice and Vegetables Make Hearty Soup

Start with some flavorful soup stock — chicken or beef — and add an assortment of prepared vegetables. Cook the medley over moderate heat just long enough to tender the vegetables and blend the flavors. Then serve the soup piping hot in soup bowls to a hungry family and watch their faces light up with pleasure.

Rice Chicken Soup is attractively thick and hearty enough to be served as the main course of luncheon or supper. Uncooked rice is one of the main ingredients of the recipe; the rice helps thicken the broth and absorbs the earthy flavors of the half dozen vegetables in the soup. Use regular milled white rice the kind that can go directly from the package into the soup pot without any washing for this recipe. Or use parboiled or brown rice and cook until the rice as well as vegetables are tender.

Serving tip: accompany soup with extra hot cooked rice for most soup lovers like an extra spoonful or two of the nutritious tender cooked grain in their soup.

Happy Ending... Sour Cream Raisin Cookie Pie

Desserts set the stage for leisurely talk and relaxation, the happy ending to a meal. Desserts may be simple, of fruit and cheese, to climax an elaborate feast; or may be a wonderfully fancy feature with a flair to cap a light meal or afternoon tea. You'll need a repertoire that includes both to fill out your holiday plans. One favorite quite simple to make, yet rich and satisfying to the palate, is this Sour Cream Raisin Cookie Pie. The crust you'll find in your grocer's dairy case in the form of a roll of refrigerated butterscotch nut cookies. Sliced, arranged in a pie plate and baked, they make a crisp, sweet base for the sour cream and raisin filling. The wonder-working raisin we've used here, comes from a can of raisin pie filling — easy to spoon out into so many holiday desserts! This pie, however, is one you'll serve often. It's certain to win a place in everyone's affections, no matter how many times it appears.

Sour Cream Raisin Cookie Pie

| 1 roll refrigerated butterscotch nut cookies | ½ cup dairy sour cream |
| 1 can (2½ cups) raisin pie filling           | 1 egg, slightly beaten |

Lightly grease and sugar the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie pan. Cut cookie dough into slices ¼-inch thick. Line bottom and sides of a pan with cookie slices, overlapping slightly to form a scalloped edge (use about ½ roll). Bake at 375° for 8 to 10 minutes, until light golden brown. Cool.

Combine pie filling, sour cream, egg and cinnamon in saucepan. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Cool; spoon into cookie crust. Chill until firm, about 2 hours. Makes 9-inch pie.
