

Wins holiday weekend

Winner of the first weekend vacation at an Albert Pick Motel was Florence Kelly of 5050 White Lake Road, Clarkston. She entered her name at King Insurance and her name was drawn Tuesday afternoon to become the first recipient.

The contest which will run for 10 weeks is being sponsored jointly by the Clarkston News and participating business firms in Clarkston in cooperation with the Coast to Coast Albert Pick Motel and Hotel chain.

The Weekend Vacation includes luxury accommodations Friday and Saturday nights, also complete meals for the entire family starting with breakfast on Saturday through Sunday dinner. Allowances for meals for each member of the winning family include $1.50 for breakfast, $2.50 for lunch, and $4.00 dinners. Winning families are to include both parents and up to three unmarried children. Transportation is not furnished.

You may win an "Albert Pick Weekend Vacation" by simply registering at any of the many participating business firms. A New vacation will be given each week for nine more weeks. You may register as often as you please at any of the firms you happen to visit—with one registration per visit. There are no purchases required to register.

Once each week each participating firm will hold a drawing—the winner of which will be their entry into the main drawing. These preliminary winners will be announced each week on a special page with each firm listing their entry in their ad space. One of these entries will be the eventual winner for that week.

Area businesses report break in's

An office building in Clarkston was broken into sometime the night of August 29. A rear door window was broken to allow them to gain entrance into Keift Engineering Company and Clarkston Real Estate.

Oakland County Sheriff Officers state that they took nearly $3000 in office machines from both places—typewriters and adding machines.

Detectives Raymond Bells and Gerald Gaedt are working on the investigation.

Awarded Scholarship

Richard L. Funk, Clarkston, has been named recipient of the 1966-67 Glen Morey Scholarship to attend Northern Michigan University.

Funk, who will be a sophomore at NMU this fall, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Funk, 6184 Cramlane Drive, Clarkston.

Selection of Funk, a chemistry major, as the third recipient of the Morey Scholarship was made in recognition of his "distinct promise of noteworthy achievement in the field of science."

Dr. Morey, a research chemist, is the president and founder of the Glas-Col Apparatus Company of Terre Haute, Ind., and London, England.

GOP hopefuls here Saturday

The Republicans will be out campaigning in earnest on Saturday. An Oakland county "blitz" is slated for that day with Clarkston being one of the 15 stops.

Governor George Romney, Lieutenant Governor William Milliken and Senator Robert Griffin are all scheduled to arrive at the Village Parking lot at 8:55 A.M. on Saturday. They will make a 15-20 minute stop here before proceeding on to Ortonville, Davison and Flint. Prior to their arrival here, they will have been at the Oakland Market.

It will be a "hand-shaking tour" and coffee and doughnuts will be served by the Pontiac Women's Federation of the Republican Party. Mrs. Dorothy White will be in charge of this local stop.

The place is the parking lot at the corner of Main and Washington and the time is 8:55 A.M. this Saturday.

business on behalf of the 54 agencies serving the township, including the Independence Township Citizen's Recreation Committee, Mrs. Jones stated.

Mrs. James H. Cowen of 6170 Overlook, heads the overall Pontiac Area United Fund effort in Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, Orion and Lake Angelus areas—involving a total of 1,300 volunteer women.

Mac's Regatta was held on Deer Lake on Labor Day. It was the first year for this sail boat race arranged by Everett MacDougall. It was won by Andy and John Rossano of 107 N. Main in Clarkston. It was strictly a friendly race for amateurs. The sailors followed a marked out course which took them through the channel which is about 20 feet wide between "Whisker's Islands". Area sailing enthusiasts are hoping for another race next season.

An excellent choice of models has been made for the Knit Fashion Show to be held at Devon Gables next Tuesday. Mrs. James Frady (left) and Mrs. Robert Brumbach are all set to model during the entertainment phase of the United Fund Orientation luncheon. Women attending will receive instruction and information relative to the United Fund campaign scheduled for October 13-21.

UF Orientation luncheon will feature local models

Some 40 U. F. Women's Drive chairmen from Independence Township will join neighboring Pontiac Area United Fund Women's chairmen at a district orientation luncheon Tuesday, September 13, at Devon Gables.

The women will receive instruction and information pertinent to the United Fund campaign scheduled for October 13-21.

A knit fashion show by the Village Yarn Shop of Rochester will provide the featured entertainment. The show, commented by Mrs. Marion L. Johnson, owner, will feature a trunk showing of latest knit fashions by Bernat Yarns.

Mrs. Brumbach of 6542 Church Street, district 24 chairman and Mrs. James Frady, district 23 B chairman of 8118 Center Circle, Clarkston, have been selected to serve as models.

During the course of the drive, Independence women will seek to raise a total of $6,135 of the overall $36,000 residential quota, according to Mrs. Robert C. Jones, residential chairman for Independence Township.

In all, some 200 women volunteers will be needed to call upon residents and retail

"Housewives of Clarkston Jaycees"

The Waterford Jaycee Auxiliary extension committee hosted a meeting recently including wives of the Clarkston Jaycee members. Extension is the process of guiding a group of Jaycee wives in a neighboring community successfully towards organizing a state affiliated auxiliary. Purpose of the auxiliaries is to assist the local Jaycees; therefore helping the community as well.

The first meeting was held at the Clarkston home of Mrs. Lewis E. Wint. Some 25 Clarkston Jaycee wives attended to hear the Waterford extension committee explain the functions of an auxiliary and then voted to form an auxiliary of the Clarkston Jaycees. Mrs. Michael Patterson, Waterford committee chairman, then turned the meeting over to Mrs. Wint, who was elected temporary chairman with Mrs. Jerry Powell assisting her as acting secretary.

Constitution and telephone committees were appointed, also the newly formed club has worked on the past Labor Day Weekend with their husbands on the rides downtown and their "Little Coke" wagon; with Mrs. Don Hamaker, Mrs. Harold Weston and Mrs. Art Niebarger as their chairmen. Mrs. Robert Tilley surprised the girls by entering a float in the parade. The next meeting for the auxiliary will be at the home of Mrs. Harvey Schroeder on Orion Road, Clarkston, on September 13 at 8 P. M.

High School schedules alternate day sessions

Goodwill Coming

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Clarkston is scheduled for Monday, September 12. Goodwill trucks collect household discards of clothing, shoes, hats, toys, most types of furniture and other household discards.

To arrange for a Goodwill Industries truck pickup, call the local Goodwill representative Mrs. Alfred Lee telephone number Ma 5-3381.

High school students are going to be forced to go alternate days when full day classes commence Friday. This has been necessitated because of building materials that have not been made available to the contractor. "The first full day session for High School students was to have been on Friday, September 9. On that day however, only grades 9 and 10 will attend. The following Monday, September 12, the 11th and 12th graders will attend classes and they will go alternate days until such time as the building is completed enough to accommodate the complete High School," states Milford Mason, High School Principal.

School officials state that this is only a very temporary measure. The necessary building materials should arrive and relieve the situation in a few days.

Also complicating the opening of school is the lack of three teachers in the Senior High. There are still 2 openings for Shop teachers and one Home Economics teacher is still needed. Unless these vacancies can be filled shortly, it will become necessary to do some re-scheduling of classes—a situation which the school personnel hope to avoid.

Mrs. Fred Steiner, of Clarkston, looks over some of the paintings in the Art Show. Some of her own pictures can be seen (the 3 on the bottom, right, beginning with the lighthouses). Mr. Steiner also offered some paintings in the Show.

Townships hire engineer in effort to open dump

The three townships of Independence, Brandon and Groveland are endeavoring to open the Dump which was closed three weeks ago. In a joint meeting with the Engineering firm of Howard Keift held last week the boards voted to hire him to draw up an engineering plan for the 10 acre dump. This was done in an effort to comply with County and State health department regulations.

It is estimated that the report will cost between $800 and $1200. However, Mr. Keift stated that he will do the work on an hourly basis so the total charge would be somewhat less. Cost of this study will be pro-rated between the 3 units as the cost of operating it had been done previously. Independence pays half the cost because of the larger population, while Brandon and Groveland each pay one fourth.

The dump is located in Brandon township. The closing was forced because many nearby residents had complained of excessive smoke, odors and rodents coming from the dump. This was in violation of Act 87 recently passed by the state legislature in an attempt to control air and water pollution.

"However the three townships still have the obligation to clean up the existing problem. This could be equal to or more than the engineer's estimate" stated Howard Altman, Independence township clerk. "If it is feasible to re-open it and it is leased to someone, then that person would have to assume the responsibility of cleaning up the existing situation" he went on to say. "This would save the 3 townships the expense that they now face."

Russ Farner is currently in negotiations with the townships regarding a lease to operate it. Under this same Act #87, he would have to acquire a permit to operate the dump and be subject to all provisions of the law. The townships would still be left to control the terms of the lease.

Chairmen named for teenager's 4th march

The fourth annual teenagers' "March with Danny" for '66 will be held on September 18. It is an annual two hour march by teenagers for the support of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee.

Lynn McKee has been named Teen Chairman with Sue Yoh and Gerry Skarritt as co-chairmen. Mrs. Connie Raft is the executive chairman of this area. Other teens who are working on the drive in Clarkston are: Terry McDougall, Diane Berry, Nancy La Fae, Paula Lambert and Elizabeth Russell.

Founded by Danny Thomas, St. Jude's is working in childhood diseases, including Cancer, Leukemia, Muscle disorders and Nutritional disorders.

The goal set for Clark-ton is $570. Expenses have consistently been held under 10% of all funds raised, with more than ninety cents of every dollar going directly to the Research Hospital. The theme of the drive is, "Remember Give Green".

Cited for failure to yield

One accident occurred in Clarkston last weekend. That one was on Friday, September 2 on M-15 just north of U.S. 10. John Delind, Jr. 70 of 77 E. Washington street, Clarkston pulled out in front of a car driven by Maude Riley, 58, of 7005 Rattalee Lake Road, Clarkston. Mr. Delind was cited by Oakland County Sheriff's officers for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Will address conservatives

Willis E. Stone, chairman of the National Committee for Economic Freedom and author of the Liberty Amendment will be the guest speaker at the Oakland County Conservative Club on Thursday, September 15. His Liberty Amendment has been adopted in over half a dozen states at this time, and is pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 23. Mr. Stone's newspaper column "American Way" is a regular feature in more than 3,000 newspapers across the country. He is active in American Legion affairs and is a past Deputy District Governor of Lions Clubs.

Mr. Stone will give a comprehensive analysis of our politico-economic turmoil of interest to all citizens. The meeting will be open to the public in the Knights of Columbus Hall, Southfield Road south of 13-Mile Road at 8:00 p. m.

Hit 'em low, low, low! shouts Coach Kenyon during practice sessions of the Clarkston Wolves. The first game will be against Oxford on September 16 on the home field.

How about that Phil Regan the displaced pitcher from Detroit. He sure looked good on TV the other day. Pee Wee Reese calls him the best Herky Jerky Pitcher in the Majors. Regan in pitching for the L. A. Dodgers had 12 wins, 1 loss and 14 saves for a record of 26 and 1. He couldn't win for Detroit, but he is experiencing phenomenal success in California. If the Dodgers win the National League race all the players should give a little of their share to Phil Regan. I think it was Mr. Fitzgerald from the Pontiac Press who said, "Watch Phil Regan win 15 games" and how right he was!

It looks like a log—and it is a log. Just part of the props used by Coach Kenyon to get the football boys in shape!

SPORTS

Approximately one week against Oxford. from today the Clarkston Wolves will open the season with his staff, has been working 43 boys in two sessions a day. When school started they reverted to one practice session a day.

Coach Kenyon will have the #1 quarterback in the league in Dan Fife and he will have a rather experienced backfield in Mark Erickson, Steve Crabtree, Mike Schweitzer and Cecil Carverly. Kenyon has switched halfback Tom Allen to an end position to take advantage of his fine pair of hands.

Coach Kenyon feels he has an experienced team but he is concerned with the interior line, meaning from tackle to tackle. In this area there is a definite lack of lettermen.

How about a pat on the back for coaches Jack Hess, Jane Butters and Bill Burton. They guided Clarkston's Little League team to 4th place in the Imlay City Invitational. There were 12 teams entered in the tournament and each one of the boys (15 of them) received an attractive trophy. All three put in a lot of work and time in providing a winning combination.

I saw one of the games in Imlay City and the team looked very good in their new uniforms. As usual, wherever a Clarkston team plays there is always a good number of followers from our fair city.

I feel Little League play is fine but we must keep some of the irate parents off the coaches back and leave them alone to their important task. All coaches want all the boys to play. However, if a boy doesn't participate I am sure the coaches have their reasons. Amen!

Artemus M. Pappus, Clerk

In watching the Dallas Cowboys of the N.F.L. I noticed one very unusual circumstance, it involves a player by the name of Pete Gent. Gent is the former All-State Basketball player. He was drafted by the St. Louis Hawks but instead Pete decided to try his hand as a flanker-back for the Cowboys. He has worked his way into the starting line-up and when they played Minnesota he caught 6 passes. This has to be an amazing achievement for a boy who has spent most of his life putting a ball through a hoop and now has a chance to make it big as a football player.

Clerk sends thanks to cemetery sup't.

Mr. Kenneth Anthony, Superintendent Pontiac City Cemeteries Pontiac, Michigan

Dear Mr. Anthony: May I take this means and opportunity to express my very sincere appreciation to you for your interest and personal appearance before our Board at a public meeting when the Board Members were faced with the very serious question of permitting a private cemetery to locate within Independence Township.

It is both comforting and reassuring to know that there are public servants such as yourself who unselfishly give their time and experience to aid others and at the same time exemplify such a high degree of integrity and dedication.

Such dedication to your profession and individual principle led you to leave your "rest" while on sick leave from a recent illness and drive some 200 miles in respect to my request for your assistance.

Mr. Anthony, I and many others of Independence Township wish publicly to thank you and shall pray for your improved health. The City of Pontiac and the Cemetery Association should be indeed proud of your contributions.

Respectfully, Howard Altman, Clerk Independence Township

P.S. Average-size families with electric water heaters pay as little as $3.88 a month—a standard rate—for hot water. How much are you paying?

MRS. LEE ALAN KELLOGG

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kellogg will live in Pontiac

Saturday evening August 27 at 7:30 in the First Methodist Church of Clarkston. Hazel Lee Solley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Solley of Clarkston was united in marriage to Lee Allan Kellogg. Rev. Lewis Sutton officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kellogg of Pontiac.

The bride chose for her wedding a floor length gown of silk organza over taffeta with appliques of French lace and tiny seed pearls, with an empire waist, scoop neckline and a detachable wattleau train. She carried a bouquet of carnations and ivy centered with an orchid corsage.

Her Maid of Honor was Connie Frick of Ortonville, she wore a pale blue dress of brocade taffeta with an empire waistline. Bridesmaids were sisters Mrs. Allyn Thurley and Mrs. Judith Heichel dressed in pink brocade taffeta. They carried bouquets of carnations and mums.

Assisting the groom as best man was his brother Tony Kellogg. Ushers were Errol Solley brother of the bride, Ortonville, Tom Yarch, Pontiac and Bob White of Kalamazoo.

The Wedding Prayer and Wedding Benediction were sung by Gary Feenstra cousin of the bride from Hudsonville, Michigan.

A reception followed in the church parlors. The bride chose for going away a navy blue suit with white accessories. After a honeymoon in the upper peninsula they will reside in Pontiac.

Beauty for the asking

By Eva Wethington, Beauty Consultant

There's nothing lovelier than a pretty teenager with a fresh, glowing "schoolgirl" complexion.

Only, as all too often happens, the teen-age complexion becomes a problem instead of a pleasure.

Physiological changes in young bodies, plus such diet "staples" as ice-cream sodas, candy bars and hot dogs, eaten, or overeating, at odd hours can be such complexion destroyers.

Contrary to what most of us are brought up to believe, soap and water scrubbing is not the basis of good skin care, not just what the skin ordered for cleansing.

Soap, even carefully rinsed off, can be very drying, and soap not completely rinsed away can be disastrous to your complexion.

Yet a truly clean skin is the foundation upon which rests all your attempts to clear up pimples, whiteheads, and other problems likely to plague you as a teenager.

Instead of soap and water, try a rich, deep-cleansing, all-purpose cold cream on face and neck. Give it about 15 minutes to soak in well, then remove it gently, with tissues. It not only does a much better cleansing job, it is so much kinder to your skin.

Then there's a miracle liquid that you should use two or three times a week which has a positively wonderful, stimulating action on the skin.

Now comes your make-up. First, you'll want a light, porous powder base which really protects your skin, yet lets it breathe naturally. Don't be afraid to resort to a creamy retouch stick to cover up any unsightly blemishes.

Today's natural, soft, glowingly feminine look is so easy to accomplish really. Exciting new eye make-up shades, bright new lipsticks and nail polishes to harmonize with them are big fashion news for teenagers. A word of warning here. Teenagers should apply eye make-up with the kind of skill that gives added depth and interest to eyes, without sacrificing naturalness — and the young look.

Why not let me show you the professional way to apply make-up, how to bring out your fresh good looks to their fullest? Just give me a ring or drop me a line, care of this newspaper. Then let's get together for a rewarding hour of beauty — free. (If you're no longer a teenager, this offer still holds.) Please do let me treat you to a more beautiful you — and a complimentary make-up.

New Years should be Sept. 1

Isn't September 1 more like the beginning of a new year than January 1? When that cold day arrives it's just like the cold day before it. No new world offering great expectations has been opened in the dead of winter.

But September 1... Ah! That's a beginning. School, football, hunting, time to get to work... it's great. Fall, glorious Fall, that's when the new year should begin.

Leaves changing colors, the nip in the air that makes people nicer to be near, brings out sweaters and jackets covering t-shirts and less... goodbye golf, hello field, dog and gun.

Kids back to school, busier than ever... new teachers and methods, new friends and activities, vibrant, active school days... excitement for the young people beginning a new year, September 1.

Football's in the air... the start of a new season of sports on the local level that brings dads, moms, and fans close to the field of action and builds excitement as high in the stands as on the gridiron.

But, perhaps, more widespread September 1 than any other beginnings is the feeling, almost the urgency of wanting to dive into your work. Whether it be the job that makes you your living or the jobs you have put off all summer... getting the yard in shape for next spring, painting trim, cleaning the garage... just being active in the fall when things are changing and your body feels good again.

September 1, that should be New Years Day.

Reaching out

-DIVINE REQUIREMENTS-

He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God? Micah 6:8

Very early in life man by instinct comes upon the truth that he is responsible to his Maker for the ordering of his days, that there are inescapable requirements which he must meet if he is to be at peace with God and fulfill his life in the little span of years allotted him. Yet too often the complexities and irrelevancies of denomination and creed render him confused and he is constrained to cry out... I am in very truth a child of God. What does He actually ask of me?

The great Hebrew Prophet Micah spelled out the answer centuries ago and it still stands, inescapable and like a high rock in a weary land. God requires justice; we must do that which is eminently right and fair by one another. God requires the kindness that goes beyond justice. God requires faith in Himself as Creator and Father, as the source of all wisdom and understanding, a faith that goes far beyond all creeds and finds expression only in Christlike living.

These are the fundamentals of religion. Here is the basis for a world faith; very easy to understand, yet how hard to put into practice!

Eternal God, our Father: Help us to be just in all our dealings with our fellow men, to be kind in our judgments and to walk in reverent awareness of Thy living Presence. This we ask in Jesus' Name. AMEN.

September—and from all over Independence Township some 5500 children are getting prepared for another school year. And before any of them set foot inside the school door, a complex system of book rentals, hot lunches, transportation and study schedules has already been worked out. In 1834, when the first school was built in this area, things were not that complicated.

In the spring of that year, the settlers built a small board shanty from trees they felled and planed themselves. This was in section 26, on land that lays between Waldon and Maybee roads, and was roughly in the area of the present Dvorak and Console streets. These people were for the most part easterners, who had received a fairly good education and wanted the same for their children. That summer they hired Miss Eliza Holden as their first teacher. The term of school didn't depend so much on the time of year as it did upon the availability of a teacher, the money with which to pay her and the amount of time the pupils' parents could spare them from the farm.

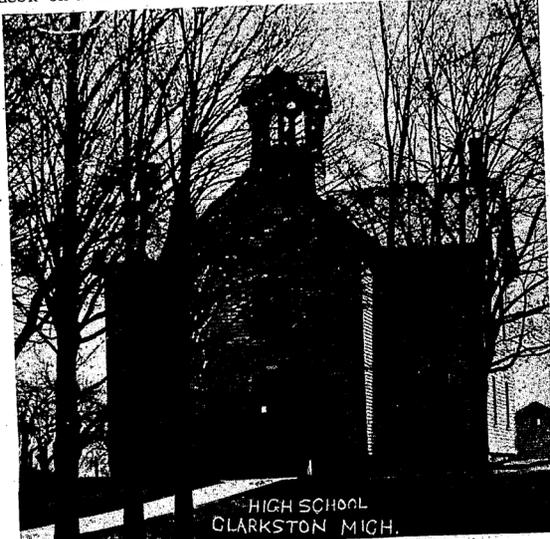

And it was often simpler to send a small child to school in the summer than to find a way to get them there during a severe winter. Later on this same spot, a log schoolhouse was built. These early log schools had a floor plan that couldn't be beat for economic simplicity - one door and one or two windows; the teacher's desk on a dais in the center of the room and for desks, a slab of wood that projected out 2 or 3 feet from the wall and ran all around three sides of the room. In front of this slab desk were long benches and when the pupils were studying, they sat with their backs to the teacher. When they recited, they swung around and faced the center of the room. If glass was too expensive, the windows were covered with oiled paper which was removed in summer to let in more light - and more flies.

By 1837, a second school known as the Pinery school was built on section 29, the area near M-15 and Dixie; and a year later a school was put up near the center of section 20, the village of Clarkston. The children from the Holcomb, Vliet and Wheeler families made up most of the pupils taught there by Miss Clara Anderson.

As yet, no records have turned up that give any hint to the salaries of these young women, but a male teacher in 1846 could earn as much as $13 per month. And this was paid with much grumbling from the other men in the community about the high wages expected by an educator.

Nelson Clark, one of the family that our village was named after, built the Union school on the west shore of Parke Lake. With two stories and a bell tower, this building was an innovation for its day, and later it was used as an academy under the direction of Professor Isaac C. Cochran. In 1862, near the start of the Civil War, it was

The school built by Nelson Clarke on the shore of Parke Lake, became Clarkston's first High School about 1862.

This was Clarkston's second high school built when the original frame building was torn down. It is now our township building.

sold for use as a district school and became the first High School.

When Michigan was part of the Northwest Territory, the federal government had an ordinance that read: "School's and the means of education shall forever be encouraged." According to early laws, section 16 of each township was to be set aside for the site of a schoolhouse. Quite often, in Michigan, when the early settlers trudged out to section 16, they found a swamp or lake covering most of it. So the rule was changed to read "Section 16 - if the land was usable." Most of the burden of establishing schools rested on the people with little or no government aid. If a township contained 50 householders, they were obliged to provide themselves with a schoolmaster of good morals who was capable of teaching reading and writing. And when that number reached 200 householders, continued this law of 1827, a master who could teach Latin, French and English had to be hired. Neglect of these laws made the people liable to a fine of from $50 to $150.

Children of the first settlers made their way to school through woods where the trees had been blazed to make their path. As the settlements grew and prospered, better roads were put down and the schools consolidated to a certain extent until the biggest and best were near the village and many came the long miles from their farms by wagon and horseback, not to learn just the three R's, which is a misconception of pioneer education, but to learn algebra, foreign languages and the finer points of elocution and grammar. For many pioneers saw to it that their children were prepared for a life beyond the limits of farm and village if that should be what their children wanted. And thus did our early settlers lay the foundation for our present day system of education.

Ripples from the Pool

By Faith Poole

Summer has had its fling—or so it seems when Labor Day has passed 'Twas great while it lasted, even though it was a hot one! But we can't live in retrospect—now it's on with fall, schools, clubs, and football.

Speaking of football we're glad to have Mel Vaara's column back in the paper. This popular column this week is accompanied by football pictures depicting the Wolves starting practice sessions. And why not purchase a Season ticket from one of the members of the Clarkston Athletic Boosters Club? The club is just nicely getting started, with their first real project being the sale of these tickets. They can be purchased from any club member, the High School office or Ronk's Barber shop.

It seems we erred in the identification of one of our old-time pictures last week. Several people pointed it out to us—one of these being Rudy Schwarze. We certainly can't dispute this gentleman as one of the mistaken buildings was where he lived when he first came to Clarkston.

Another successful Village Days is over. It was the first for us and an enjoyable affair to say the least. We were overjoyed by the response to our subscription offer—it was pleasant meeting those who came to the office in person to subscribe. Just goes without saying that "it pays to advertise".

It took us here at the News office almost a day to recover from the trials and tribulations of getting out a 16 page paper. Part of the ease with which it was mailed should be attributed to Postmistress, Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk. She and her staff of postal employees were most helpful as we tried to see that everyone in the Clarkston postal area received a copy.

We have lots of parade pictures, but space limitations make it necessary for us to hold some. Watch for more in later editions.

Membership Coffee

The Clarkston Community Women's Club extends a cordial invitation to any interested women in the community to attend our Annual Membership Coffee. It will be held at the residence of Mrs. Melvin Pohlkotte, 6609 Shelley Drive, Clarkston on Wednesday September 14, 1966 at 8:30 P.M. If you wish to attend please call Mrs. Barton Connors, 625-4667.

PLANNING A WEDDING, RECEPTION OR ANNIVERSARY PARTY? We invite you to inspect our full line of invitations, napkins, coasters, social stationery and all items to make your affair a perfect one. Come to the Clarkston News office or call 625-1114 for information. 42-tj

Labor Day Parade

It was a wonderful day for a Parade! It was a fitting culmination to Village Days and the end of Summer Vacations. The Rotary Club of Clarkston traditionally stage a Parade on Labor Day and this year saw a bigger one than usual.

Dr. Ernest Denne, Robert Wertman, and Bill Kelley worked on it. There were many lovely floats, horse units and youngsters. Judges studied them all carefully, and finally came up with the decision that the Jaycee float stressing World-Wide Peace was the best. There was no prize money, just the supreme satisfaction in knowing that their message was well received.

Parade participants went on to other activities—those sponsored by the Jaycees, the Legion and the races at Deer Lake. All in all it was a good day!

O'Shaughnessy and I

by Dee O'Connor

'Tis scant comfort we find this week, for we've lost our wee Alyce and it is like an Irish Wake here at the News. If you've never attended the likes then you are unaware of our mixed emotions. We give thanks for having known and worked with her, and wish her a royal send off. Happy in knowing she is indeed journeying toward bigger and better things. "Our gal" with her ready smile and friendly ways will be sorely missed by the people of the Village and all of us here at the paper. O'Shaughnessy and I will surely have to set a lively pace if we are to follow her footsteps. The grieving wee fellow is unable to cook up any new mischief since knowing she was leaving. May her lot in life always be a merry one.

and gold fish. Surely it must be a tip of the Green Land beyond the Sea. After visiting a while he gallantly offered us a beautiful yellow rosebud. What a charmer he was. When a loneliness sets upon us we have found the spot to be.

Did you ever see such a celebration as the town had last week-end? The local art display was to be marveled at. The family and I drove over on Labor Day and took a ride through the country side. They loved the area every bit as much as I. Such lovely lakes and tree arched country roads. We are anticipating the drive when the fairies display their artistic talents.

We stopped off at Ghost Town at Mt. Holly on the return home. There is a children's paradise indeed! Holdups, hangings, animals and the likes of which you've never seen.

We must be off and running as there is much work ahead. Be seeing you next week and "May you live every day of your life".

Miss Kathy Lessard, the "Junior Miss" from Clarkston added an elegant touch to Monday's Labor Day Parade.

Ronk's Barber Shop took to the street for Monday's parade. Riding with "Tink" on the float are: Jennifer Cushman, Steve Ronk, Mark Hallman, Kim Hamilton. Little Linda Hamilton is hidden behind Kim.

"Look Ma, no tires!" But it provided lots of transportation in Monday's Parade. Bob Wertman, Dr. Ernest Denne and Bill Kelly were the Rotarians who headed up the Parade.

Straight from an "Arabian-Costume" class is this pretty "Shickess" (isn't that the plural of Shuck?) She got many admiring glances from her partner as well as from those who lined the parade route.

What's a parade or a carnival without clowns? This genial fellow obligingly demonstrated his "balloon blowing" ability for the "News" photographer.
