

United Fund Drive starts in Township

The flaming torch, the United Fund symbol of hope for hundreds of area families will light the way for volunteers in Independence Township seeking local contributions for 54 community services to Township residents through the Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign.

The torch, lighted Monday evening in Pontiac, signifies the beginning of the Drive and will burn brightly until the $1,042,000 goal is reached.

Beginning this week, over 200 volunteer workers in Independence will officially begin calling on residents and businesses seeking to raise some $6,000 of this amount.

Mrs. Robert C. Jones, 6683 Wealthy is chairman of the Independence Township United Fund Drive.

Independence workers attended a kickoff-training meeting Monday noon at the Old Mill Tavern sponsored by King's Insurance Agency, Haupt Pontiac and Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home prior to the solicitation efforts.

Commenting on the Drive, Mrs. Jones stated: "The importance of the campaign to Independence Township residents cannot be overemphasized. The Independence Citizens Recreation Committee last year received $1,100.

Our Recreation program is one of the 54 agency services available to Independence residents. Last year, 465 youth were enrolled in programs sponsored by the Committee."

"Additionally," she added, "the programs of the Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Family Service, Child Guidance, Catholic Social Service, Salvation Army, Visiting Nurse, Michigan Cancer, Michigan Children's Aid, Big Brothers and St. Joseph Hospital Clinic gave service to another 889 persons from our township. Numerous people were also benefited by other agencies such as Michigan Heart Association, Michigan Diabetes Association and the Arthritis Foundation for example.

I sincerely hope all residents of the township will consider it a privilege to give to so many worthwhile services during the drive," Mrs. Jones concluded.

Township building permits issued

Building permits with a total valuation of $318,304 were issued in Independence township during the month of September. There were a total of 42 permits granted.

Fifteen new homes will be built at a combined valuation of $271,400. Also granted were permits for the construction of 15 garages at $25,550.

$16,490 will be expended for alterations and additions. Miscellaneous construction accounts for $4,864 of the total amount.

Use Zip-A-List for unknown zips

The week of October 10th has been officially proclaimed ZIP Code Week in the State of Michigan by Governor George P. Romney. In the Proclamation issued in Lansing, Michigan, the Governor called attention to the fact that "Population growth and economic expansion have triggered a mail explosion which increased our national volume at the phenomenal rate of almost four billion pieces this year".

The Governor called upon "all citizens to join in observance of this week by learning and using their ZIP Codes, in both mailing and return addresses of all letters and packages."

To assist postal patrons in securing ZIP Codes for most often used addresses, letter carriers will be delivering the new ZIP-A-LIST Cards beginning October 10th, so that these may be filled out, returned to the post office, ZIP-Coded and returned to the postal patron.

News bought by Oxford publisher

Ownership of the Clarkston News was transferred this week to James A. Sherman. He purchased the weekly newspaper from Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stamp of Clarkston.

Sherman has been publishing the newspaper since June 9 for Mr. and Mrs. Stamp, but only recently became the owner. The Stamps had started The Clarkston News 38 years ago. They published it continuously until four and a half years ago when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson became the owners. The Stamps assumed ownership again last June.

Sherman, 40, has been editor-publisher of the weekly newspaper in Oxford, The Oxford Leader, since May 15, 1955. He also produces The Ad-Vertiser, a free circulated advertising paper in Oxford.

Prior to going to Oxford he was in the advertising department of the Clinton County Republican News, a weekly newspaper in St. Johns serving Clinton County, Michigan. Sherman spent 4 years in St. Johns and prior to that worked six months on the Gladwin County (Mich.) Record.

He was born in Owosso and attended country schools until entering high school... Owosso, Morrice and being graduated from Vernon in 1943. He went to Western Michigan College one year prior to entering the Navy in 1944. After 2-years of service he returned to WMC and took a printing course for 2 terms.

In 1949 he was married, and he and his wife, Hazel, have 3 children, Jim-Jim, 12, daughters, Luan, 9, and Susan, 4. Prior to going to Gladwin to work Sherman took a year of journalism at Michigan State College.

In Oxford the new Clarkston publisher has served as president of the Oxford Rotary Club, president of the Oxford Chamber of Commerce, and as a member of the Oxford Planning Commission. He belongs to the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Veterans Association, and F & AM Lodge 279.

He will have a personal column each week in the Clarkston News. The name of it is "Jim's Jottings".

Simulating a scene of clinical realism are Mrs. Charles Robertson, 5898 Hummingbird and Mrs. Gus Birtsas, 43 Robertson Court. Both Mrs. Robertson, who is one of this year's United Fund workers and Mrs. Birtsas, a nurse in Dr. Kurt Baier's office hope to relate to the public the importance of United Fund's charitable role of helping to supply blood to the American Red Cross.

Homecoming festivities underway

The 1966 Homecoming, "Autumn Leaves", is now officially underway. Wednesday night the Junior girls played the Senior girls in a rough game of powderpuff football.

Tonight (Thursday) the public is invited to watch the boys practice for the big game Friday night. After

OEO will use township hall

At the last meeting of the Independence Township board, they gave approval that space in the township hall be allotted to The Oakland County Commission of Economic Opportunity. This will be one of the 25 sub-centers throughout the country. The first one was opened in Highland this week.

It will be operated on a part-time basis and will serve low-income residents in the area. Low income residents would be screened in these sub-centers but would receive services from the North Oakland Opportunity Center located at 7 W. Lawrence in Pontiac. There, the center offers individual and family counseling, referral for medical and dental care and job placement service.

the practice the cheerleaders are leading a snake dance through town and having a bonfire on the schoolyard.

Friday at 4:00 the floats will be shown to the public for the first time. The band and the floats will parade down Church Street to the Community Center and return the same way. These floats will be judged by prominent Clarkston citizens. The best float will receive a prize.

At 8:00 Friday night Clarkston will play Northville on the home field.

The half-time ceremony at the game will include the band and the 1966 Homecoming court. This year's court includes: Carrie Garlack, Freshman maid; Sherry Kosiba, Sophomore maid; Jan Peters, Junior maid; and Karen Caldwell, senior maid. The 1966 Homecoming queen is Shayla Smith. The past Homecoming queens including last year's queen, Cindy Mosier and exchange student, Carita Lassfolk will also take part in these festivities.

The closing of the Homecoming festivities will take place on Saturday night with the annual Homecoming dance. The dance will be held in the high school cafeteria at 8:00. All alumni are cordially invited to attend the dance.

Phone Cutover will be Sunday

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. announced today that the cutover date for the new Clarkston Central office has been set for 12:01 a.m. on Sunday, October 16.

E. E. Russell, district manager for Michigan Bell, said the new telephone directories for Clarkston, Lake Orion and Oxford will be delivered prior to the cutover.

All Clarkston telephone users and customers who call Clarkston are requested to use the new directories coincident with the customer cutover, as 1,300 Clarkston telephone numbers will change at that time.

Customers are reminded that after the cutover on October 16 dialing "1" on message unit calls will be discontinued. These include calls to Commerce, Drayton Plains, Lake Orion, Oxford and Pontiac. It will still be necessary to dial "1" for long distance.

Clerk notes changes in absent voters' law

Independence township clerk Howard Altman was this week calling attention to several changes in the Absentee Voter law. Many of these new regulations were passed during the 1965-66 legislative sessions.

The deadline for applying for an absentee ballot is 2 P. M. on the Saturday preceding the election day of November 8. However, under the new law there may be exceptions to this. This category which was just passed this year deals with persons who either from oversight or personal problems have not met the deadline for application. These persons who meet one of the five statutory requirements may now apply by presenting themselves in person in the clerk's office up to 2 P. M. on the day preceding the election.

Under category 3 there is a provision for a new type of absentee voter to be known as the emergency absentee voter. The intent of this section was to cover a hole in the law for those electors who were injured or became sick or because of death in the family found it impossible to vote under the old law. Applications of the emergency type can be made up to 4 P. M. on election day.

Absentee ballots may be delivered by one of 3 ways: in person, by deputy or by mail.

In any event ballots must be returned so that they are in the clerk's hands in time for him to deliver them to the proper precinct before 8 P. M. on election day.

Altman urged all persons in the township who expect to be away on Election day to apply now for absentee ballots. Any questions pertaining to their eligibility to vote should be directed to him at the township hall.

All the comforts of home were extended with the latest Clarkston Area Jaycee service. Merle Bennett supplied the efficiency of his house trailer while Howard Altman proficiently handled registration of voters. The portable public service covered four days and approximately three hundred interested citizens. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woodruff, recent newcomers to Clarkston now residing at 5901 Dixie, used the convenience of the Clarkston Post Office location to make further inquiries. Obliging the young couple is Howard Altman, while Harvey Schroeder (left), this years chairman and Dick Wilton watch the smoothness of the procedure.

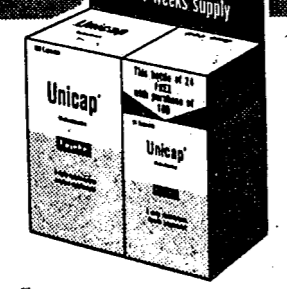

Receives Cross of Gallantry

Marine Lance Corporal Ned E. Seath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Seath of Cramlane Drive, Clarkston, was awarded the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with Palm for combat action while a member of the Third Battalion, Fourth Marine Regiment, Third Marine Division on Operation Hastings. Operations Hastings was a multi-battalion operation which took place within two miles of the Demilitarized Zone against the North Vietnamese 324th Division. His unit accounted for more than 300 of the nearly 900 enemy killed during the 18-day operation. His battalion's primary mission is to meet and capture or destroy the enemy by weapons fire, maneuver, or shock action.

Do electric dryers really cost less to buy?
Do you really get no-charge service?

Do kids like ice cream?

The answer, of course, is a rousing YES! Model for model, electric dryers cost up to $20 less than gas dryers. And every electric dryer is backed by Edison's No-Charge repair service. No charge for any electrical parts. No charge for labor. Edison is the only utility company in this area that offers no-charge repair service.

Can you get this kind of worry-free assurance with a gas dryer? Sure—with a manufacturer's repair service policy. But it will cost you up to $120 over the first five years of operation alone!

One thing more. Edison's No-Charge repair service applies even if you don't buy your dryer from Edison—so long as the dryer is electric and you get your electricity from Edison. And if you buy now from a participating dealer, the low price you pay includes the cost of wiring, if any's needed. So when you add it up, an electric dryer can save you up to $140 in just a few years. That can keep the kids in ice cream a good long time. EDISON

SPORTS

In describing last Friday's loss of Clarkston to Holly by the score of 12-6, one could sum it up in 3 words—admiration—defense—injuries.

ADMIRATION

We have to admire head coach Ralph Kenyon in keeping injured Dan Fife on the bench. He knew he hampered his chances of winning by not playing Fife, but he was concerned with the future of the boy. Coach Kenyon knows and everyone else does too, that Dan Fife has a great career in athletics and he didn't want to take the big chance of playing him.

DEFENSE

Both teams possessed strong defenses. They had to because they gave each other plenty of opportunities to score. Clarkston recovered three fumbles and intercepted one pass in the 1st half, but could only capitalize once. In the 2nd half Holly was all around the goal line, but for the most part Clarkston held them at bay.

INJURY

The injuries to Fife, Tom Allen and Mark Richard, certainly hampered Clarkston's chances. Dan Fife is the league's best quarterback and Tom Allen and Mark Richard are the Wolves starting ends. When 3 out of 11 starters are missing, it could be disastrous.

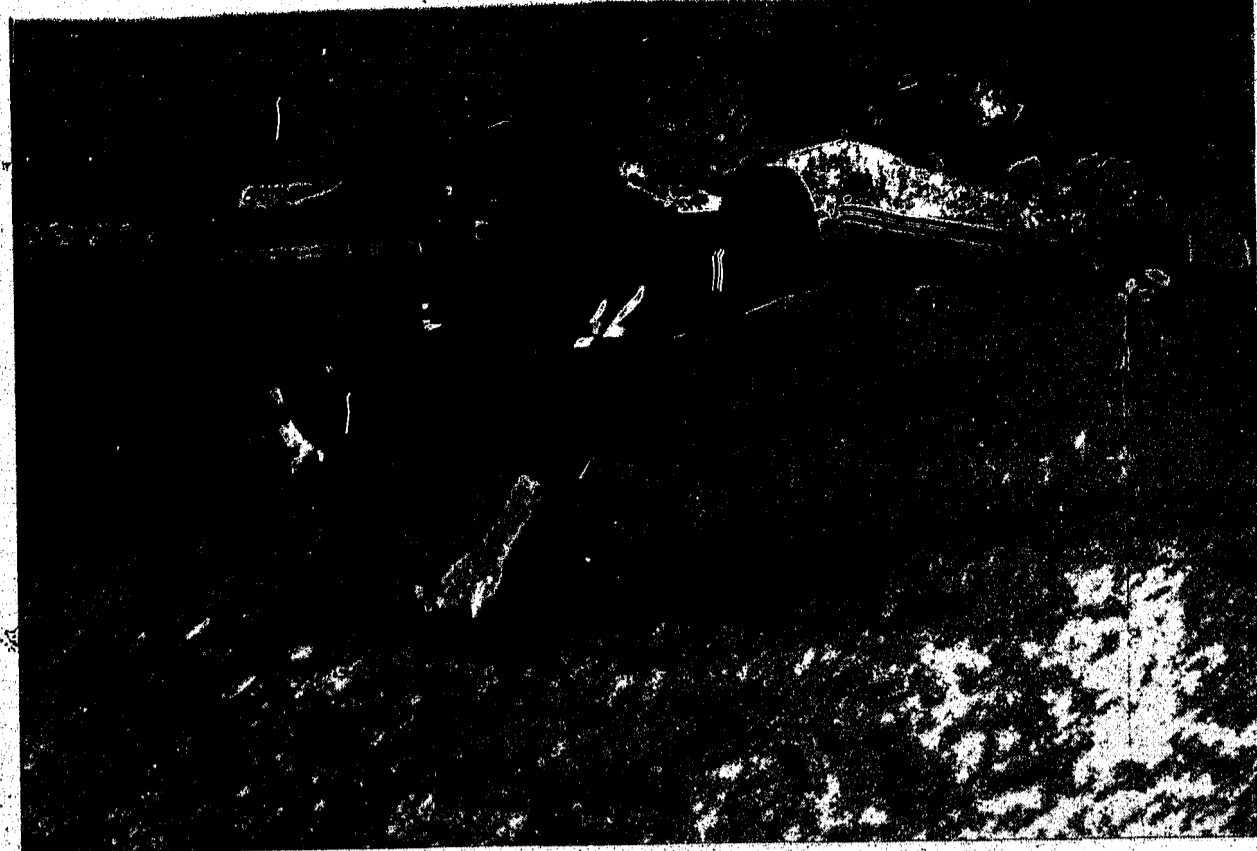

Clarkston received the kick-off and Steve Parker ran it back 48 yards, but it was wasted as the Wolves were forced to punt. Tom Woodard then recovered a fumble on Holly's 34. Here is the way Clarkston scored their only touchdown. Mark Erickson ran for 7 yards, Cecil Caverly for 4 more. Caverly again for runs of 6 and 2 yards. Erickson on runs of 4 and 5 yards. Caverly for 5 more and Rich Johnson the quarterback replacement for Dan Fife scored from the one, the extra-point attempt was wide.

In the 3rd quarter action began to pick up after a drab 2nd quarter. Clarkston held Holly on the 1 foot line. A beautiful defensive job by the Clarkston 11.

Holly finally scored in the 4th quarter after they recovered a fumble on the 20. It took them only 4 plays to cover the 20 yards.

Then with 13 seconds to go, 4th down and the ball on Clarkston's 22 yard line, Holly called for time to set up their final play.

The quarterback for Holly, Tom Kunding, threw a pass down the middle and for a moment it appeared a Clarkston player intercepted the pass. However, the Holly end took the ball away from the Clarkston player and Holly had 6 big points for their 1st win of

The two starting ends for the Clarkston Wolves, Tom Allen (above) and Mark Richards (below) hampered Clarkston's chances of gaining a victory last Friday night. With the loss of these two and quarterback Dan Fife who was injured last week, 3 of the 11 starters missed the game. Holly won 12-6.

Maud Elliot and Kathy Caldwell, sophomores preparing a banner "Who's afraid of the big bad Wolves? Holly". Unfortunately their efforts, while adding spirit produced no touchdowns. Holly won 12-6.

This week Clarkston will play Northville. This will be Clarkston's Homecoming game.

The J.V. team coached by Mr. Hanson and Mr. Thompson defeated Milford J.V. 20-2. The J.V. team looked very impressive in gaining their 2nd win of the season. Both quarterbacks Bob Palladino and Steve Warman looked good in directing the team. The defensive line from end to end was very tough, as they held Milford to very little yardage on the ground. The running of Jeff Keyser and Dawson Bell augmented the passing attack. Eric Hood also looked good as he caught 8 passes.

Saw the Pontiac Arrows play last Saturday night and we certainly saw an outstanding ball game. Was rather amazed as to how well both teams played. Both the Dayton Colts and the Pontiac team possessed good quarterbacks. Tom Meyers the former All-American from Northwestern thrilled the large crowd with his passing and general leadership. Meyers passed for three touchdowns, the last coming with 1:50 showing on the clock to give Pontiac a 26-20 victory.

The Dayton team scored 3 touchdowns in the 1st quarter.

ter and the defense led by Jim Edgerly (a Detroit Lion cast-off) and Steve Szabo (a teacher at Pontiac Central) held off Dayton for the remainder of the game.

There were a couple of other outstanding offensive players on the Pontiac team, Jim Johnson a flanker back from Tecumseh, Michigan and Tony Odneal an end from the state of Mississippi.

If one could find fault with the game it was the physical exhaustion of the players. Many have to go both ways and were rather tired during the 4th quarter. But can we imagine how tough it must be getting up at 6 o'clock and going to work after playing a rough ball game—you surely have to love the game to play it on those conditions.

I have come across an interesting true item by way of Lockport, Ill. It's about a young couple who were watching a baseball game at Kansas City, Mo. between the Baltimore Orioles and

Kansas City A's.

This young couple were staunch Baltimore fans and were cheering like crazy for their favorite team. They were sitting amongst Kansas City fans and the more they cheered for their team the more glaring stares and comments they would get from the Kansas City fans.

Well, about the 8th inning with Baltimore holding a big lead they decided to leave the ball park. As they started to get up from their seats, a fellow in front of them motioned that he would like to talk to them. With some reservations they talked to the well dressed individual. He asked them, "Why are you leaving so early?" They replied, "Oh the Oriole's have it all wrapped up so we want to beat the traffic." Then he commented further by saying—"I certainly have enjoyed your enthusiasm for my team and I would like to give you two tickets to the world series. This well dressed man was the owner of the Baltimore Oriole's, and when the owner found out the young man had just returned from Viet Nam—he gave the couple the red carpet treatment—free tickets to all world series games—airplane travel to and from—a rent-a-car—hotel reservations and spending money.

Isn't this an amazing story? So fans keep on cheering for your favorite team, so I still have to keep pulling for the maize and blue from Ann Arbor.

Speaking of the Wolverines, they took it on the chin from State, therefore State deserves the #1 ranking, but they have to play Purdue on October 22, and Bob Griese of Purdue is a much better quarterback than Vidmer of Michigan. Vidmer did complete 18 passes! So watch out Spartans.

No predictions this week, too many phone calls! One State fan commented, "Anyone who predicts a Michigan victory should be choked with an old Michigan sweater," and another asked me if my 5 year old daughter picked the predictions for me!

Liberian Missionary at Calvary Lutheran

On Sunday evening, October 16, Calvary Lutheran Church of Clarkston will host the Rev. Richard Ehrhart, Lutheran Church in America missionary to Liberia, Africa.

Called by the former United Lutheran Church, Pastor Ehrhart was commissioned for service as a missionary by his father, the Rev. Dr. Kenneth S. Ehrhart, on December 13, 1953. He and Mrs. Ehrhart arrived in Liberia on January 1, 1954, and began a study of the Kpelle tribal language.

For the remainder of this first term, and ever since, Pastor Ehrhart has been stationed in Salaya, where he serves as an evangelist in outlying villages, and as Dean of Men and instructor in religion courses at the Lutheran Training Institute, a Lutheran High School, the academic standards of which are constantly being raised. In 1963 it ranked second among all Liberian High Schools, topped only by a Monrovia institution which draws its students from the homes of the country's most highly educated families.

Born in Pennsylvania, Pastor Ehrhart received his A. B. degree in 1946 from Gettysburg College and his B. D. in 1948 from Gettysburg Seminary. During his first furlough he spent a year of study at the Lutheran School of Theology at Chicago, Maywood Campus, Maywood Ill. When called by the Board of Foreign Missions, ULCA, Pastor Ehrhart had been serving as Pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Lutherville, Maryland.

Mrs. Miriam Ehrhart has both her father and a brother in the ministry. She is a graduate of Gettysburg College. During their second furlough, the Ehrharts adopted twin girls, Kimberly Ann and Karen Lee.

At present, Pastor Ehrhart and his family are on furlough, after completing their third term of service in Liberia.

A special meeting has been arranged for Sunday, the 16th, to be held at Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass Drive, Clarkston. Beginning at 8 P. M., this meeting is open to all persons in the area, regardless of Church affiliation. As the Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe, Pastor of Calvary Church, has put it: "The world's needs are the world's concerns. The Gospel of Jesus Christ is a Word that heals, that builds up, that instructs, that fills full. Pastor Ehrhart and his family have demonstrated by their twelve years of devoted service that that Word is for all men, since Love is for all men. We, at Calvary would like to share with the community at large what one segment of Christ's Church is doing in one specific place."

New Arrivals

A baby boy, Scott James was born on September 30th to Mr. and Mrs. James Harrod of 5686 Kingfisher, Clarkston. The new baby has two sisters, Robyn and Kelli. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ned M. Harrod and Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Brown, all of Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert

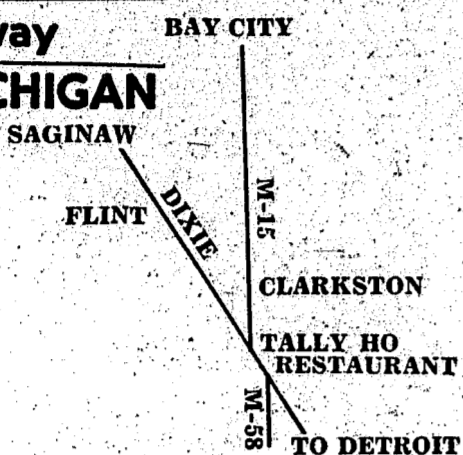

D. Carter of 6015 Maybee Road, Clarkston are announcing the arrival of their first child born on September 30. She is Robyn Michelle and her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell R. Wilson of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Carter of Drayton Plains.

The Clarkston News

Something about us . . .

Generally, when a newspaper changes hands the new publisher will come out with a big statement of policy, tell grandiose plans, and otherwise look for pats on the back before they start. We could do this because we do have policies, plans and want pats on the back.

However, we have been producing The News for 3 months, and there have been a great many changes that have gone unexplained, and readers now have a general idea of the editor and publisher's thinking.

Therefore, we'll use this space to tell you what physical changes have taken place, and tell you who's doing it.

Firstly, The News is now printed by offset as opposed to letterpress used by previous owners. Offset is printing through photography. Letterpress is printing from lead or metal. The Pontiac Press is printed letterpress... though much of the make up is done similar to offset. The reason for this is the versatility of make up for offset and the production capabilities and investment already made in their presses.

In offset we work with pieces of paper moved around with tweezers, and in the other method pieces of metal are used and they don't bend or change easily.

Offset also allows a finer screening (more dots) in pictures, thus making them sharper. Too, type, such as what you're reading, is set on a typewriter costing $660 as opposed to a Linotype machine costing upwards of $25,000. This alone is one big reason over 115 publishers in Michigan now print by offset. Just 5 years ago the number was less than 20.

The presses, like the one we use, a Goss Community, are still a rather big expense, but by the same token they can do much more. Ours cost $24,500 and produces four of these pages at 12,000 an hour. The letterpress it replaced only cost $400 used, but ran 1200 an hour.

Thus, the printing method is the big, first seen change regular readers of The News saw June 9. If they looked for it there were other changes. We'll quickly run through some: Down style heads as opposed to capitol letters on each word, seven columns on a page instead of eight (but wider columns), an editorial page, more pages, more personal columns, and new standing heads for various articles.

The News is put together basically by four people. That sentence should be taken lightly since it is you who give us the material to make the newspaper. Area residents make the news and someone out there has to tell us what it is and when it happens. We four just put it together.

Since a newspaper is just that "news" paper the editor is first to be mentioned. She, in this case Faith Poole, edits the news... puts one word after another to produce copy to fill the space allotted her... about 40 percent.

The other 60 percent is, or should be, filled with advertising. This, too, is news. It is the news of what a business has to offer in the way of product or service. This is the essential ingredient. Without advertising revenue editors and printers can't be... well you know.

Advertising to date has been in the hands of three people... one at a time. From June to September Faith's daughter, Alyce, got us off to a good start with her weekly merchant contacts. When she left to go back to studying journalism at Northwood Institute, Mrs. Dorothy O'Connor came in and further improved our percent figure.

Now a new face will be making the rounds of advertisers. New to us, but not to Clarkston, Rustie Leaf worked for the Wilsons when they had The News. Though advertising wasn't her duty then, she is, I'm sure, capable of giving advertisers the attention they need. Rustie will also wear a camera, help in the make up department and lend a hand with the typewriter. This versatility is another necessary ingredient in weekly journalism.

Working with the salesman and editor has been the publisher, Jim Sherman. He will continue assisting in all phases of this business.

Then there is the typesetter. Such a remarkable girl we have in this job! She's Carolyn Trent. She came to us through the cooperative training program at the high school and we're indebted to Mr. Thompson for assigning her to us. We observe Michigan employment laws to the full extent. This means this 17-year-old girl has limited hours of employment. Yet she is able to set all this copy within the allotted hours. She's a concentratin', willin', friendly, typin' gal who has solved one of the big worries of producing The News.

That's the physical and personal make up of your paper. We like to have our readers know us, just as we like to know our readers, so from time to time we'll tell you more of our operation and plans.

Jim's Jottings

While working in the office of the Gladwin County Record some 15 years ago I heard the editor Paul Moon chuckle as he read a check he'd received in the mail. On it, in the place where it said "For" the subscriber had written, "For week old news."

That's what the "news" is on the front page that tells of our buying The Clarkston News. Bill, or as his wife, Ann, calls him, Howard, and I actually signed the papers last week. But, because of a previous obligation (that's my way of saying I went fishing) I found there was no time to get my picture taken, background story, editorial, and this column written for the first week's paper in October, 1966.

Many have thought I purchased The News last June 9 when we came out with that issue produced through a different printing process than all predecessors of The News. Actually, at that time we had agreed to produce the paper for Bill and Ann until the paper was sold. We did this to continue the continuity of the paper to hold the second class postal permit for any buyer... and it turned out to be me.

I'd like to tell you why it "turned out to be me." If you read the story of my life on the front page you can see I'm not a big city boy. I'm not even a big country boy. Hazel and I bought the Oxford Leader at age 28, but I was much younger than that. By luck, Oxford turned out to be a most friendly community to us.

We loved it from the start and have never changed. Now, 12 years later, we like to think we can get a feeling for a town through something besides luck. After having been in Clarkston at least 3 days a week since June I have found Clarkston to be made up of kind, friendly people. Those we have come in contact with, and they have been quite a few, have been most generous in their comments toward our product and encouraged us to make our association permanent.

The other night my brother, Don, asked me why I bought the Clarkston paper. He thinks there has to be goals, or just plain money behind such moves. Until then I hadn't really given much thought to reasons. I don't really have as a goal owning a chain of newspapers, I didn't plan further than getting an editor, and I am not moved by money.

It boils down to the point that I knew a gal, Mrs. Howard (Faith) Poole, who might be willing to be editor of The Clarkston News and, from what I knew of the town, it seemed like it would be a good place in which to own a newspaper.

Boiled down further, newspapering is probably my reason for buying The Clarkston News. For first and last I love newspaper work. That should not be construed to mean I'm good at it. Sure, the Oxford paper has won some State Newspaper awards, but I will never be in the categories of the Millers of the Royal Oak Tribune, Myers of the Lapeer County Press, Averills of the

By Constance Lektzian

This was one of the easiest and quickest cabins for the early pioneers to construct. The roof was sod held up by cross-poles and heaped with more dirt for extra protection. Dark and often smokey, it provided temporary shelter until there was time to build a more substantial home. (Courtesy of the Michigan Historical Commission).

Imagine starting out on a journey of hundreds of miles with seven children! And when that trip had to be made by canal barge, side-wheeler steamship and ox-cart, it sounds even less inviting. But when Martha Vliet left New Jersey in 1833 with her husband, William, she didn't allow herself the luxury of looking back on the comparative ease of that eastern community. In fact, she didn't give a thought to what could be done to amuse the children on that long trip. There was work for all but the smallest to do and they had better do it!

The family arrived in Detroit in April and started down the Saginaw Trail toward Clarkston where a year earlier William had purchased land. The Trail at that time had been cut through the woods a hundred feet wide as far as Flint and over the many swamps and sink-holes the road had been corduroyed. A bumpy ride in an ox-cart—but since the wagon was heaped high with their farm equipment and household goods, not many of them had a chance to ride.

It was late in the day on the sixth of April when they arrived at the site of their future home, a short distance from the Trail. As William unspanned the oxen, he reminded his wife that it had been a long time since they had last eaten. Martha shook her head and told him, "We are nearly out of food. I saw a lake in the valley as we drove up the hill. Go and catch some fish to help out with supper". Her husband, as tired as he was hungry, grumbled that he could hardly be expected to catch fish when he didn't have a line, hook or bait. Martha handed him her clothesline and told him to get a hook from the steelyard. And for bait she snipped a strip of red flannel from her petticoat.

When William reached the lake, so small that he referred to it later as a pot hole lake, he found that it was still ice bound except for a strip along the shore where the black bottom had reflected the sun's rays and melted the ice. Here he saw that the pike were swarming to spawn. He cautiously ventured out on a tree trunk that had fallen in the water. His first attempt met with success and he slowly brought to dry land a huge fish weighing more than 20 pounds. Hurrying back to his family, he held up the fish for his wife's approval and told her, "We won't starve in Michigan!"

The Saginaw Trail that passed near the Vliet's cabin was the path followed by the Indians-Chippewas and Ojibways—as they went from their northern wigwams to Detroit each year to collect their Treaty money. It was unfortunate that they invariably spent this for the white man's firewater and were usually in an ugly mood when they journeyed home. Often Martha was startled by the appearance of one of these savages at the door of the Vliet cabin, demanding "Napanee and cushagun!" (bread and tea) Tea was almost always purchased in Detroit at that time and bread making was a long arduous job so these items were luxuries for the settlers, and Martha was reluctant to part with them. Yet she didn't want to deliberately appear to antagonize them. She finally evolved a scheme to get rid of these unwanted visitors. She kept a kettle of water boiling on the fireplace with a dipper handy by and on hearing the request repeated, she turned her back on the doorway, filled the dipper with boiling water and threw it over her shoulder. Muttering "Heap bad squaw" the scalded brave would leave!

Clarence Vliet, grandson of these two settlers, remembered and recorded some of the tales passed down by his family. And how we wish more had done this!

The Lord said unto Cain, where is Abel thy brother? And Cain answered, I know not. Am I my brother's keeper? Genesis 4:9.

World brotherhood is not an impractical dream; it is an urgent need, an inescapable necessity, and what is more, it is the desire of God for us; it is His Will for His children. It is the Higher Law which cannot be broken with impunity. In great sorrow and contrition we have learned that this is eminently true.

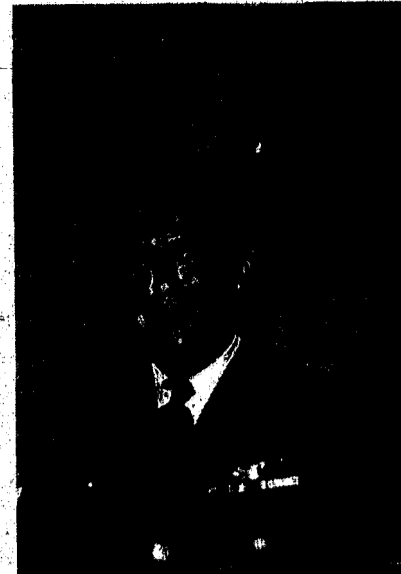

Nothing in either the record of history or the conclusions of science warrants a belief in racial superiority or justifies the contempt of one man for another, and a pure racial stock is a fantastic myth. Human life is the commingling of many streams and all ethnic groups find their origins in the benign purposes of God, our creator and our Father.

We must face up to these obvious truths, laying aside all personal bias to follow the dictates of conscience and reason, otherwise our divisions can and may well be our undoing.

Hatred is a withering blight, but good will is eternally beneficent. National health, spiritual and material, both demand tolerance in thought, patience in conduct and broad understanding. These virtues spring from human hearts fixed on God, Who says to man... You are forever your brother's keeper.

Eternal God, our Father: Move us to know, we beseech Thee, that to be at peace with Thyself we must first be at peace, in thought, word and deed, with all men, Thy children. AMEN.

Air Force Reservist Instructs CAP Cadets

The cadets of Clarkston Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol are currently learning about "Navigation and the Weather" from Major Edward J. Mason, USAFR, of 2676 Holland, Lake Orion, Michigan.

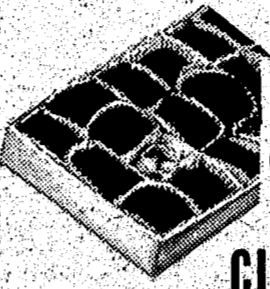

A member of the 9613th Air Force Reserve Squadron of Pontiac, Michigan, Major Mason is qualified as an instructor. During World War II he was a member of the Training Command at Hondo, Texas and flew a "flying classroom" for student navigators learning celestial navigation, radio navigation, dead reckoning and pilotage.

Major Mason is just one of the Air Force Reservists throughout the nation who are performing in a non-pay, point-gaining capacity as instructors and advisors to Civil Air Patrol units. Other reservists contribute to CAP by participating in Aerospace Education Workshops and Summer Encampments. Reserve aircrews, flying C-119 and C-123 aircraft, provide airlift to cadet and senior members of CAP attending encampments and special activities.

IN COLLEGE CHOIR

Mary Hinkley of Clarkston, Michigan a student at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, has been selected by audition to sing in the university's A Capella Choir for this school year.

The 54-voice choir, one of the outstanding ones in the WMU music department will appear in concert before civic and professional groups, high schools, churches and in a special performance with the Kalamazoo Symphony Orchestra this winter. The A Capella Choir is directed by Thomas C. Hardie, associate professor of music.

The choir will open the current season with a public concert at 8:15 p. m. on December 1 in Kanley Chapel on WMU campus.

Homecoming fever and the excitement only it can generate was present for this picture. Records on a phonograph provided the go-go music that only the fingers had the time to dance to as they stuffed white tissue or colored crepe paper squares into the old faithful chicken wire. Like magic the paper and wire become a float carrying wonderful memories of the week ahead. Traditionally the Spencely Butters barn on Waldon Road housed the Senior throne. Pictured taking a paper break are: John MacGregor, Joette Schultz, Margie Bullard, Ron Brock, Karen Navarre and Brenda Woodworth.

9 CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS

Chicken at it's bar-b-que best drew Clarkston families from near and far to its pit sight at the Clarkston Junior High school last Sunday. Few could resist the aroma that just happened to drift over the area. Following their noses they found a busy group of Jaycees and Jaycettes cooking and serving up a real Sunday treat. Chicken every Sunday? If it can be that easy to have, you bet. Drawn to the counter inside the school were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brendle and son.

Independence Republicans to participate in rally

Governor George Romney will lead the entire Republican slate to a giant political rally at Southfield High School, 10 mile and Lahser Roads on Monday evening, October 17.

The Independence township Republican club will be taking part in the rally. Those desiring to take part in the Caravan should be at the A & P parking lot near First Federal Savings at 6:30 p. m. It is hoped that many will decorate their cars for the parade to Southfield. The local Republican club welcomes everyone to join this caravan to the meeting.

The rally will be climaxed by appearances, in the auditorium, of the Governor, Senator Robert Griffin and Lt. Governor William Milliken.

reception rooms will give each citizen the opportunity to meet the candidates for whom he will have an opportunity to vote. This is the only time the entire slate of Republicans will appear together in this campaign.

Other candidates who will be there are: Jack McDonald, L. Harvey Lodge and Loren Anderson, also Circuit Judge candidates, Beasley, Roberts and Templin and Probate Judge candidate, Eugene Moore.

Important News!

For Clarkston telephone users:

Starting Sunday, October 16th at 12:01 a.m., a new one and a half million dollar telephone system will be cut into service in Clarkston. This new system will help make possible TOUCH-TONE(R) service, the remarkable new service that lets you rapidly tap-out numbers instead of dialing.

TOUCH-TONE(R) service will be available to all Clarkston customers immediately following the cutover.

Along with the new system will be a change of dial tone. You can hear the new, softer sound right now by dialing 625-2679.

Nearly 1,300 of Clarkston's 3,000 customers will have number changes and all Clarkston customers will receive all numeral phone numbers beginning with the prefix "625." Also there will be new numbers for Information and Repair service. These will be:

Information 411

Repair Service 611

After the cutover on October 16th, dialing "1" on message unit calls will be discontinued. These include calls to Commerce, Drayton Plains, Lake Orion, Oxford and Pontiac.

You will soon receive the new telephone directory which will include:

- Customer number changes
- New service codes
- Message unit information and other useful data

This change is a part of Michigan Bell's general improvement program and provides for growth and better telephone service in the area.

HOME FROM NASSAU

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stamp returned Saturday night from a vacation in Nassau. Despite a flurry with hurricane "Inez" which resulted in much flooding throughout the islands, the Stamp's report a most enjoyable time. They flew from Detroit to Miami, thence to Freeport in the Grand Bahamas and on to Nassau. "The weather was delightfully warm and the white sand beaches and luxurious pools something to see," they state.

Clarkston O.E.S. 65 years old

By Constance Lektzian

The Centennial Celebration of the Michigan Order of the Eastern Star will be held at the Civic Auditorium in Grand Rapids from October 11th to the 13th. This is one of the oldest Grand Jurisdictions in the nation. And October also marks the 65th birthday of the O. E. S. in our community. It was on October 31, 1901 that the Joseph

C. Bird Chapter was granted their charter, having been organized the preceding April. A charter is granted only upon approval of the Grand Chapter.

At that time the Masonic Order in Clarkston was already 47 years old. But a great many things held the women back from organizing the Eastern Star. Transportation was difficult—it was unthinkable for a woman to drive very far at night on lonely country roads in a horse and buggy. Money was a scarce commodity and the bare fact that pioneer women never got done with their work was a deterrent to any outside activities.

But at the turn of the century, the living in these parts became a little less arduous and as one of the earlier Eastern Star records put it "women's thoughts were at last able to turn to finer things." Money still remained a problem and there were frequently times when the treasurer had only pennies to count. In fact, on occasion a more affluent member had to donate the money for the per capita tax. Some of the Chapter's oldest records tell of times when the members, not having a fund for a coffee hour, halted the drill work and had pot luck snacks of homemade candy, cookies and popcorn balls.

The first Worthy Matron to preside at the opening of the Chapter which included 31 members was Mary V. Brown. Joseph C. Bird, for whom the Chapter is named, was the second Worthy Patron.

The O. E. S. has many beautiful ceremonies, including the public installation of Officers, but the heart of the organization is not its drill work or social meetings but its philanthropic work.

The Clarkston O. E. S. along with the other Chapters in Michigan, helps support the Children's Villa in Adrian. This is a place for children of Masonic families, who for some reason or other, need a home. Mrs. Alice Vollink, this year's Worthy Grand Matron, took as her personal project the task of obtaining a bus for the Villa. All Eastern Star members helped her reach her goal—they collected books and books-of-trading stamps, enough to get a full size bus.

There is also a Masonic Home at Alma, Michigan for older members of the various orders, where some 231 women take advantage of the services of a beauty shop maintained by members of the Eastern Star. Each chapter throughout Michigan 'adopts' one of the residents of the Home and remembers them on their birthdays and holidays with gifts and cards. This past year the state-wide sisterhood has given financial aid to cancer patients, assisted 25 needy sisters, given 35 scholarships to first and second year college students and provided 47 scholarships for theological students. As one woman so aptly put it, "We do a lot with our pennies."

Locally, the Eastern Star's biggest fund raising project is the annual bazaar and Harvest Dinner for which the sewing group, known as the So What's, spend the entire year making aprons and other gift items. These events, open to the public, are held in November. This year's incoming matron and patron, respectively, are Mrs. Marjorie Bolton and Mr. Grant Gilbert, both of Drayton Plains. The oldest living Past Matron is Mrs. Blanche Addis Walter, who by the way, graduated from Clarkston High in the class of 1898.

Public Installation of the new officers for the local chapter will be Saturday evening, October 15.

Eastern Stars to hold Annual Installation

The annual open installation of officers of Joseph C. Bird Chapter #294, Order of the Eastern Star, will be held on Saturday evening October 15, 1966 at 8 P. M. in the Clarkston Junior High School, Waldon Road.

Incoming Worthy Matron is Marjorie Bolton, 4610 Midland, Drayton Plains, Michigan. The incoming Worthy Patron is Grant Gilbert, 2405 Pauline, Drayton Plains, Michigan.

Other newly elected officers are, Associate Matron, Betty Landis; Associate Patron, Percy Lowrey; Conductress, Margaret Bryant; Associate Conductress, Devota Stitt; Secretary, Carol Bennett; and Treasurer, Wilma Dobler.

Appointive officers are Chaplain, Bernice Griffith;

Marshall, Velma Gilbert; Organist, Geneva Haan; Adah Violet Biondi; Ruth, Patricia Gibbons; Esther, June Kath; Martha, Madge Thomas; Electa, Catherine Arnold; Warder, Jean McKee; Sentinel, Thomas Ibbeson.

Auxiliary officers are Conductress of the Bible Degree, Velma Gilbert; Adah, Gladys Welch; Ruth, Lois Stiles; Esther, Mildred Bowden; Electa, Margaret Saul; American Flag Bearer, Russ Arnold; Christian Flag Bearer, Florence Pappas; and Eastern Star Flag Bearer, George Stitt.

The Worthy Matron will be escorted to the East by her sister Mrs. A. P. (Irene) Seggie, from Toronto, Ontario Canada. The Worthy Patron will be escorted to the East by his wife, Velma.

Accidents cause minor damage

An accident occurred at 9:20 A. M. on Saturday at the corner of Ortonville and Clarkston roads. Patricia Elieff, 41 of 1550 Crest Lake Road, Pontiac was struck by a car driven by Mary Bowman, 63 of 6175 Connecticut, Royal Oak. Mrs. Bowman claimed that dust flying from a truck in front of her obscured her vision and she did not see the Elieff car, consequently she pulled out in front of her and the two cars collided.

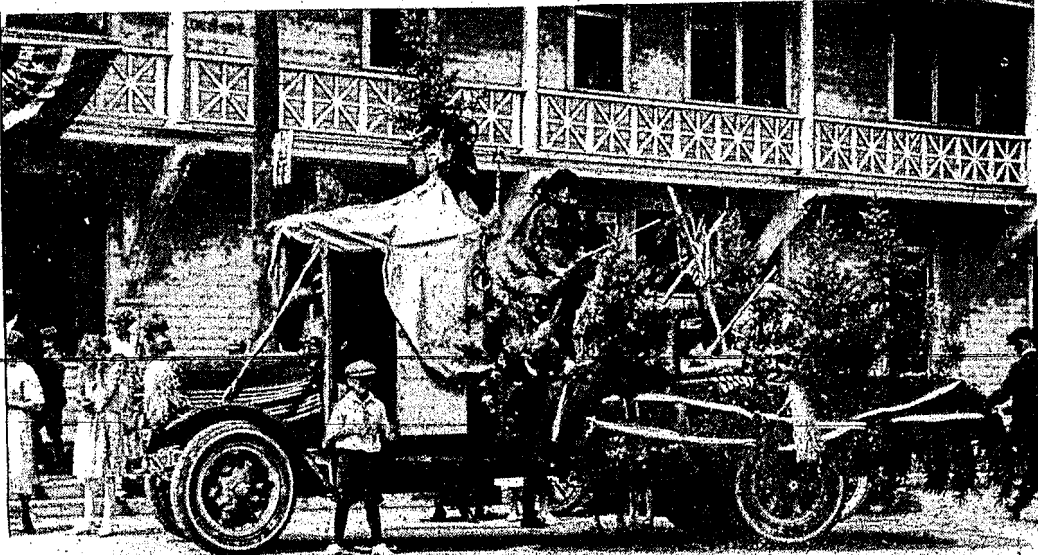

Sheriff officers also investigated the collision of 2 cars on Dixie Highway, south of M-15 Friday night at 11:45. Kenneth White 18, of 5583 Main street, Dryden had stopped for a car in front of him making a left turn when he was struck in the rear by Marshall Gratz 18, of 7200 Clement, Waterford. There were no injuries.

In a third accident which occurred at 1:10 p.m. on Sunday, a car driven by Earline McCoon, 40 of 1595 Parkway, Caro was struck by one driven by Donald McCoon, 48 of the same address. The first driver had stopped at the light at M-15 and Washington street and was cleaning the windshield when struck from behind by the other driver. Both cars were damaged slightly.

When the mortgage on the Masonic Temple was burned, all of Clarkston turned out to celebrate at a carnival given by the Masons and O. E. S. (Courtesy King Insurance Agency)

Clarkston Missioner participates in Latin-American meet

Maryknoll Father Donald L. Hessler of Clarkston, active in Christian Family Movement (CFM) work in South America, was one of several American Missioners taking part in the fourth Latin American Convention of the organization in Caracas, Venezuela.

Father Hessler is an assistant national chaplain of the CFM in Mexico. CFM is an organization of married couples who seek to bring Christian ideals into their communities.

A total of 2000 delegates from Venezuela, Mexico, Panama, Bolivia and Guatemala attended the six day meeting. One of the largest delegations was from Mexico where more than 20,000 couples participate in the CFM.

Father Hessler, 44, has a sister, Mrs. Ted Hennig of 8180 Allen Road, Clarkston. Two other sisters are: Sister Marie Arthur, IHM, currently stationed at St. Mary's Convent, Monroe, Michigan, and Mrs. Charles Fairbanks of Gloucester, Massachusetts.

Father Hessler attended St. Thomas grade school in Ann Arbor and the Lake Orion public school before beginning studies for the priesthood at Sacred Heart Seminary in Detroit. He transferred to Maryknoll in 1934 and was ordained in 1939.

He is currently stationed in Mexico City and engaged primarily in CFM work.

OUTDOOR TIPS

from the Ancient Age Sportsman's Idea Exchange

QUIET SAFETY CHAIN
Stop the safety chain on your trailer from rattling by slipping a section of garden hose over it.

PLASTIC REPAIRS
This tip works best on plastic decoys, but keep it in mind for other applications. To plug a plastic decoy holed by stray shot, insert a piece of nylon string into the hole. Melt string into the decoy by holding a match against it. When nylon cools, nylon plug will be tough and tight.

SLICKER ZIPPER
Here's a good idea. Tie a small dippy sinker on the zipper of your warmest winter jacket and you won't have to take off heavy gloves or mittens to close 'em up.

CLEANER RAINCOAT
Don't forget. The plastic bags in which clothes now come back from the cleaners make an acceptable raincoat in a pinch. They take up little space. Tuck several in the pockets of favorite coats.

Area youngsters injured in accidents

A boy on a bicycle was injured when struck by a car Thursday afternoon on Waldon Road. The accident occurred at 4:36 p.m. and about 500 feet west of Sashabaw road.

The bicyclist, James Michael Timmons 12, of 6688 Snow Apple was taken to the Clarkston Medical Clinic for treatment of his injuries.

The driver was Stuart Munsee, 44 of 6325 Waldon Road. He told sheriff officers that the boy was swerving the bicycle on the road, so he blew his horn and the boy swerved in front of the driver.

The youngster stated that he did not see the car approaching.

A similar accident occurred last Monday on Sashabaw road north of Oak Vista. An 8 year old boy, William Spencer of 4560 Oak Vista, Drayton Plains suffered type A injuries and was taken to Pontiac General Hospital. He was struck by a car driven by Rosalind Petty, 17 of 5312 Mikewood, Pontiac.

The driver stated that the boy ran across the road, the driver swerved to miss him, but he was struck by the left front fender of her car. The boy said that he did not see the vehicle.

An accident occurred at the entrance to Ottawa Park cemetery on Dixie Highway at 12:10 p.m. on Thursday. Donald Kobrak, 20 of 60 Waldon Road, Clarkston and his passenger, Gail Moshier 18, of 5094 Drayton, also of Clarkston, received injuries as did the two in the other car. They were James Devine 26, of 61 Buffalo street, Clarkston and Barbara Devine, 22 of the same address.

Kobrak told investigating officers that he pulled onto the shoulder and turned on the hill. Devine said he was travelling south when the other car turned in front of him.

Water safety instructors needed

There is a great need in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties for Red Cross Water Safety and First Aid instructors to meet the needs of the coming year.

In order to be a water safety instructor, one must be 18 years of age, minimum, and hold a current Senior Life Saving Certificate received within the training period.

The only specific prerequisites for First Aid instructor certification, except the willingness to teach 18 years of age. No previous training is necessary. Class time involves 30 hours. This training, too, is given at no cost.

If you are interested in becoming either a Water Safety or First Aid Instructor Red Cross volunteer, call Red Cross, FE 4-3575 or any of its branch offices.

Information regarding class dates will be given then.
