2 SECTIONS NUMBER 28

Looking to Dan Fife for a pass under the basket after coming down with a rebound is Gary Ostrum. He's being guarded by Pontiac Central's Dan Daniels. The Chiefs dominated the rebounding, but late in the game the Wolves made a gallant bid for a win. They fell 3 points short. More pictures on page 4.

He will present the first part of a two part presentation entitled "The Community And You".

Part I will cover township government and how it relates to the individual. Also to open the program the sixth grade will present a Cantata "Ballads for Americans".

The program will commence at 7:30 p. m.

Four year old loses life in tragic house fire

The second tragic house fire in two weeks claimed the life of a 4 year old boy in Clarkston last Friday afternoon. Adam Stiles, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stiles of 6155 Cramlane was the victim.

The fire occurred at the home of the Eugene Copeman's on Cramlane Drive when three little boys were playing in the basement. The other boys were Paul Biondi, 4 son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Biondi also of Cramlane and Steve 3, the Copeman's son. The youngsters evidently played with a flame obtained from a gas water heater. The flash fire occurred when Christmas decorations and other flammable materials under the stairway ignited.

Mrs. Copeman was able to get the 2 little boys up the stairs, but the Stiles boy panicked and entered another room where he sought refuge behind a washing machine. He appeared to have died from asphyxiation.

A television repairman, Clarence Latch was working in the living room at the time and placed the call to the firemen on his C.B. radio in his truck.

Firemen worked nearly an hour before they could get the blaze under control. Damage estimates are $15,000 to the $20,000 home. Furniture valued at $3,500 was also destroyed.

Another fatal fire accident occurred on February 19 when Mrs. Imogene Alexander, 58 of 6527 Orion Road died in a blaze that struck her home. Independence firemen state that prior to these two fatal fire accidents, there had been none since the 1940's.

Funeral services for Adam were conducted Monday morning at 11:00 from the Church of the Resurrection in Clarkston. Rev. Alexander T. Stewart officiated and burial was in Lakeview cemetery. The Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home was in charge of the arrangements.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Stiles; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. George Tucker of Keego Harbor and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Davis of Holly.

Monday night blaze; another near tragedy

The second major house fire in four days occurred in Clarkston Monday evening. Firemen state that it could have been as tragic as the Copeman house fire on Friday when the Stiles boy lost his life.

The John Mayo home at 6872 Bluegrass was damaged to the extent of $15,000 by a fire that also started in the basement and under the stairway. Their son, John 11, discovered the fire while in the basement looking for books. He tried in vain to put the blaze out with a garden hose. Flames enveloped the stairway and he was forced to crawl out through a basement window. A neighbor placed the call to the fire chief.

The fire department answered the call at 5:51 p. m. The flames quickly spread through the house.

In addition to the extensive damage to the structure, it is estimated that there was a $5,000 loss to the contents. Cause of the fire had not been determined by Tuesday noon.

Last Friday morning the department made a fire run to the home of Opal

Gardiner at 5270 Drayton Road when a clothes dryer caught on fire. A rug had been drying the appliance when it was discovered. The firemen also answered two calls for use of the resuscitator within the past few days.

Choir available for public performances

A new musical group has been formed at Clarkston High School. The Honors Choir, directed by Mrs. Charlene Rice, is made up of sixteen students selected from the High School's Advanced Choir. These students are upper-classmen who have shown ability and promise in singing.

One of the purposes of the group is to go into the Community and sing for any organizations who wish to have them perform.

The choir sings a wide variety of music—from 16th Century madrigals, such as "Now is the Month of Maying" up to the present day popular songs as "The Shadow of Your Smile."

If there are any organizations in the area of Clarkston who wish to have the Honor's Choir perform for them, please contact the high school.

No opposition in Village Election

Voters in the Clarkston Village Election next Monday will face a simple ballot.

There is no opposition for any office. To be elected are a President, Clerk, Treasurer, Assessor and 3 Trustees.

All those running have filed under the Republican party. Listed on the ballot are: President, Robert D. Wertman; Trustees, Keith W. Hallman, Willis E. Kushman and E. James Mahar; Clerk, Artemus M. Pappas; Treasurer, Mary Ann Pappas; and Assessor, Ralph Thayer.

The election will take place in the Village Hall at 25 S. Main, next to the Barber Shop on March 13. The polls will be open at 7 a. m. and will remain open until 8 p. m. according to Artemus M. Pappas, Village Clerk.

CAR HITS GUARD RAIL

Sunday morning at 4 A. M. a driver lost control of his car on I-75 and hit a guard rail. He was Edward Miller, 21 of 2638 Frankson, Rochester.

It happened just south of M-15 as he was passing a car. There was extensive damage to his auto state sheriff officers who investigated.

Tickets may be purchased from all Clarkston Elementary Schools a week before the play. Children of pre-school age will have to be accompanied by an adult.

Museum grants concert permission

The first modern performance anywhere of the trio for three grand pianos by Samuel Wesley will take place in Clarkston on Sunday, April 23rd. A concert of music for three pianos will be presented by the Clarkston Conservatory at 3:30 P. M. in the Little Theater on that day.

Performing will be Norman Gifford, Sally Dow and Ivan Rouse. Wesley was the foremost English organist as well as a composer of high merits, employing three rather different styles in composition, viz., popular, classic-romantic, and archaic. The Trio represents the last. Wesley so venerated and thoroughly understood Bach's music (he evidently was among the very first to be familiar with it), that he has projected into the Trio a good deal of the ethereal qualities found in Bach. Samuel Wesley was a nephew of John Wesley, founder of Methodism.

BENEFIT SLATED

The Roaring 20's C. B. Club will be holding a Benefit Coffee Break for the Eugene Copeman family on Saturday, March 11.

To be held in the Clarkston Senior High School, it will last from 7 P. M. until 12. There will be prizes of all kinds.

The Copeman's lost their possessions and home in the major house fire which claimed the life of Adam Stiles last Friday afternoon.

Work, work, work . . . pipe cleaners to be strung, pictures to be drawn and the playhouse to be cleaned with only an afternoon to do it in. Maybe there'll be time tomorrow for these kindergarten students at the Sashabaw School.

I've never been known to encourage dances at the junior high school level. That's the diplomatic way of saying "I'm agin 'em (period)."

Because of this I really enjoyed a story told me this week by Mrs. D.J. Loewith about her eighth grade daughter, Susan. She attended 1 dance as a seventh grader and 2 in the eighth. Two weeks ago Sam was given permission to attend a dance at someone's home.

Now, Sam is used to going to sleep about 9:30. The dance was to be from 8 to 11. At 11:00 the Loewiths picked up their daughter. The first thing they asked was "Did you enjoy the dance?"

"Oh, Mother! It was so much fun. I danced every dance... until I fell asleep."

If I continue to write this column long enough, and you read it each week, you'll eventually get my opinion about everything. Want to hear what I think of facial tissue? No! Then stop here.

Few things turn my stomach like a wadded up, used tissue lying around the house or drawn from my ladies' tiny pocket. They're a distasteful, disease ridden, small mass of glamorously packaged toilet tissue.

We have at least three packages around our house. Now these things come in various sizes. The same people must have sold the tissue making people on this who designed the compact car. Manufacturers of cars have, after much study and considerable LSD, have come to the conclusion people come in different sizes and they should have cars to fit.

That's why guys 6 ft. tall buy Firebirds, Mustangs, Camaros, and etc. And, people 5 ft. tall buy Cadillacs, Imperials and Lincolns.

Not so obvious as height are the various sizes of people's noses; except to tissue makers... and Hazel, But, Hazel not only thinks the five noses in our family come in three sizes, she thinks they grow smaller when we go up stairs.

Downstairs the community property box of tissue is the regular (too, small, but just as indecent size) and upstairs, on her side of the bed, is that itty, bitty, tear-drop size box of offensive waste.

Oh, what a man has to put up with in his fight for survival... and marital bliss, which I just shot in the head.

Need more Girl Scout cookies?

Girl Scout cookies are here! If anyone wants to reorder when the girls make the deliveries, they may do so. The goal this year of 200,000 boxes has been topped.

"Sell Five or More at Every Door" was the slogan for the sale. Taking re-orders are all the girls, their parents and adults in the Council. Some troops have "cookie cupboards" in stores. Parents will be arranging cookie mobiles in areas where there are no Girl Scout troops.

Five kinds are available this year: Peanut Butter Patties, Sherbet cremes, Mints, Chocolate and vanilla sandwich cremes and Sugar shortbread.

Profits from the cookie sale help to provide a program for all Girl Scouts in the Council. The money helps to maintain and develop Camp Sherwood—the Council's resident camp near Lapeer; provides camp scholarships, send scouts to National and International events, buys equipment for day camp; finances leader training; provides books

Late in the game against Pontiac Central the Wolves did a good job pressing the Chiefs and came on to close the gap to 70-67. Here Dan Fife and Gary Ostrum close in on Jewell Stephen. Number 53 is Alton Wilson.

Clarkston Succumbs to Pontiac Central

By Mel Vaara

What more can anyone say about the disheartening loss that Clarkston suffered at the hands of Pontiac Central. It is almost like the saying "History repeats itself." Some four years ago when the Wolves were league champs and their eyes were on a Regional crown and a possible State Finalist they lost by 3 points. Last Thursday with the same ambitions in mind they again lost by 3 points, 70-67.

After the loss there wasn't one apathetic fan in attendance. There were some 2200 people jammed in the Wolves Den—3/4 of them were Clarkston rooters. All of them opened their hearts to Coach McGrath and his boys. Many, many of them felt they had the tools to defeat Central, but the Wolves played below par ball and it was just magic that the Wolves picked this game to make so many mistakes.

Coach Ned Zittle of Pontiac made the comment—"I am very sorry, boys", he was speaking to some Clarkston players at the time—"but my boys played one of their finest games of the year." Wouldn't you know it—they played their finest and Clarkston has played many finer games in their 17-2 season record.

There wasn't a place where a Clarkston fan could hide on black Friday and just collect his thoughts because the topic of the day was the Pontiac-Clarkston game; Everyone replayed the game over and over, and each time they came up with the same score 70-67.

One could go on and on about the game, talk about Central's rebounders, their good shooters, their fine speed and their fine coaching staff—and we could cover each quarter, each minute, or each mistake, or each shot missed—etc. but the Pontiac Press covered the game very well and to be truthful, readers are not knocking down the news-stands to read about a losing cause.

It would be very remiss of me if I failed to talk about the extraordinary comeback of Coach McGrath's boys. His team was down by 16 points going into the last quarter. Some felt the score would mount higher and higher. In fact with 6 minutes left Central had increased the lead to 17 points. All of a sudden things began to happen. Central attempted to stall, but the stall back fired and Clarkston had their 1st momentum in the game. Dan Fife (his injured back was causing him many problems) found the mark and hit on three consecutive shots. Now with 1:57 left Clarkston was behind 68-57. With some good breaks (good teams cause their own breaks) Clarkston scored 8 straight points. Fife hit on two more from the field, Ostrum scored two lay-ups on feeds from Fife.

With less than a minute, in fact 35 seconds left Dan Fife fouled out. This was the last game that Clarkston will be able to see this All-State Player in action. Once again the fans gave him an emotionally charged standing ovation!

There were a couple of situations that went unnoticed. After Dan picked up his 5th foul, a Pontiac Central player clapped gleefully in Dan's face. Coach Zittle of Pontiac called his player to the bench and he personally gave this boy a dressing down for his inexcusable behavior. Coach Zittle also tried to get the officials attention, he didn't want his boy to take the free throw until the ovation was over. However, the official did not notice Zittle's gestures.

This great 4th quarter comeback, even though it was unsuccessful was indicative of the remarkable team at Clarkston. This 17-2 record is the finest record in the history of the school. We all know the boys had their hearts set on a trip to the Regionals and maybe East Lansing and it is unfortunate the wishes could not come true—life is made up of many ups and downs—so boys hold your head up high and remember—winners never quit and quitters never win!

Mrs. Robert Tilley of Transparent celebrated her February birthday by going to the Metropole in Windsor with the Jaycees on Ladies' night. Seems there was a bit of a problem returning to Clarkston, as one of the two buses transporting the group developed trouble, and everyone had to crowd into one.

The Sarah Unit of the Calvary Lutheran Church met for Bible study at the home of the Reverend Mr. Arlon K. Stubbe on Bluegrass last Wednesday. Topic for the discussion was "Symbolization".

Travelling to Harrison to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Tyler of Ascension with daughter Gail. Mrs. Tyler had to be home before Wednesday to bake cherry and lemon cream pies for son Mike's eighteenth birthday.

Special guest at the meeting Monday of the Clarkston Village Players was Mr. Robert Seeman of Ann Arbor. Since he is a member of the Ypsilanti Greek Theater, he spoke about the subject of Greek Theater.

Attending a concert at the Masonic temple in Detroit February eighteenth were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson of Almond Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hise of Grosse Ile. Panic nearly arose during the program when three thousand of the people left their seats to go outside because of a fire odor. The source, an electrical box that was burning, was soon under control, and everyone happily returned to their seats.

Enjoying dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stark of Pontiac were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stark and children Jeffrey and Amy of Almond Lane.

Tommy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meeker of Almond Lane certainly enjoyed his recent stay from Thursday until Saturday in Flint with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lousks. He returned home with Mr. and Mrs. George Elford and children Jerry and Nancy, who stayed for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mice of Waterford with daughters Sheri and Kim were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith of Plum Drive.

Wendy Smith spent the weekend with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Smith of Waterford. So sisters Kelly and Leslie spent this past weekend in Lewis-ton with their maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lewis of Pontiac.

Mr. Smith who has been taking her four daughters roller skating regularly is very proud of Heidi who is doing extremely well for her age of three.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. Douglas Smith who won the Good House-keeping award for his department in February at Pontiac Motor's Plant Eight.

Invited for Sunday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Simonson of Amy Drive this past week were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whaley of Plum Drive with children Mark, Tina and Barbara.

A Sunday afternoon piano recital was held on February 26 by pupils of Mrs. Robert Steele on Kingfisher Lane. Those performing were Michael Redwood, Barbara Knotts, Mary Jean and John Anderson, Martin Thomas, Susan Desmond and Cynthia Steele. Selections ranged from beginner pieces to Bach. The parents and students enjoyed coffee, cookies and donuts afterwards. And Mrs. Steele proudly stated that everyone performed beautifully.

Spending three days recently in St. Joseph Hospital for minor surgery on both hands was Mrs. Larry Thompson. She especially appreciated the thoughtfulness of Mrs. Fred Stark who kept Todd, Mrs. Robert Whaley who kept Wendy, Mrs. Basil Thompson who kept Ronnie, and Mrs. Robert Parker, Linda Parker and Karen Carr who have helped her at home. Husband Larry has also done his share of the housework.

The new Maranatha Baptist Church were happy for the use of the basement of the First Baptist Church of Clarkston for a family pot-luck dinner Friday evening. Films shown by Mr. Kenneth Gorbitt of Drayton Plains of one of his moose hunting expeditions into Canada were of special interest to the group.

An Aunt, Mrs. Agnes Bischoff from Detroit has been staying with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Parker of Almond Lane.

Boy Scout News

Regardless of the weather, Pack 126 has been an active and going group. A father and son sleigh party was well attended in February, and all enjoyed the 'well-cooked' hotdogs and hot chocolate. The elements were braved again on March 26 for a fishing and skating party.

The event of the year—the annual Blue and Gold Banquet—was enjoyed by the entire family. These boys were especially proud to be presented with the following awards:

Lion: Tim Westover
Cub-of-the-month: Tim Westover (Jan.); Rodney Cole (Feb.).

FOOL'S GOLD

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

What will the assay prove? Will the nuggets that spill so enticingly from the old leather bag spell the end of a search, the culmination of life-long hopes for sudden wealth and fortune? Or will they be iron pyrite, the fooler of men—disappointer of dreams? Only chemical analysis of the metal will determine its ingredients.

Sometimes our lives are like that. We fill them to the brim with the things we think mean happiness. And then along comes a blow—perhaps it is a failure of our own, or the betrayal of our trust by a loved one, or an overwhelming grief. Suddenly a life full of glittering trappings seems empty and meaningless. We realize that material possessions are comfortless and cold, without substance.

Spiritual analysis of life points always to God. His Church is the open door to the real treasure of life—the realization of God as the source of all affluence.

Your only chance to find out

Boards of Review in Northwest Oakland as well as across the state are busy places as they start meeting this week. And well they should be. People should take an interest in what their property is assessed.

The state legislature says all property should be assessed at 50 percent of cash value. This cash value has been determined by your Township Supervisor. Independence township has been consistently low in land assessments, so they have been doing a land study to bring the roll up to date.

The first day of the Board of Review was not for citizen hearings. That day was spent by the 3 member board reviewing the assessment roll presented by the Supervisor. After that, every property owner whose assessment has been changed up or down, by the Board of Review has to be notified.

The citizen hearings are to start on March 7. Sessions on March 13 will be from 3-9 P. M. On March 14, the hours will be 9-12 and 1-4.

The Independence supervisor's goal was reaching a fair assessment.

Many people have shown an interest in their assessments and have found how much they have been changed. And, some of them disagree with the assessor on the cash value estimated.

The Board of Review is there to tell you the value of your property—and why.

POWER OF THE SPIRIT

Jesus said, It is the spirit that quickeneth; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life. John 6:63.

Once again the guest of the venerable Preacher in his study, the serious young man soon ventured to voice his admiration for the great Albert Schweitzer, to tell of his deep interest in Schweitzer's lifelong quest of Jesus and to say in conclusion that his own faith had come to be centered in a belief in the power of the spirit of Jesus to move men to great deeds for the Cause of Christ, the Cause of Man in God's world.

'My dear young friend' spoke the Preacher in reply, 'your convictions concerning Jesus are identical with my own and my respect and admiration for Doctor Schweitzer are both very high. Schweitzer diligently sought Jesus throughout his early manhood and was finally constrained by his living spirit to forego the luxury of success in the field of education that he might prepare himself for the work of a medical missionary in central Africa, for whose native people he subsequently labored right to the end of his days.'

'Many centuries prior to Schweitzer's day that angry dissenter Saul of Tarsus, his mind burdened by the memory of his active participation in the stoning to death of the young Christian deacon Stephen was, on the Damascus Road, transformed by the spirit of Jesus, brought to himself as by a miracle, to later become the great Apostle Paul, Christendom's ablest preacher and her first missionary to the pagan world.'

'The followers of Jesus are a great company which numbers many just like us two who sit here today, many who cannot point to great achievements, yet who are moved, every one, by the spirit, the personality of Jesus, to give Him their very best, that His Cause may ultimately triumph and that the Kingdom of God may one day come to be an ever present reality, wherein there will be peace for all men, from the great River to the ends of the Earth.'

Here ended the little discourse, and the Preacher prayed: 'Eternal God, our Father, endow us, we beseech Thee, as Thou didst endow Jesus, with a consciousness of Thyself and a desire to be led of Thy spirit. AMEN'

If It Fitz

Let's Draft Hershey to Civilian Life

by Jim Fitzgerald

Finally, I guess I can forget 36 922 469. For 24 years, I have been ready to become a prisoner of war. When the enemy hung me by my thumbs and demanded that I reveal the location of the American ammunition dump, I was prepared to tell the dirty rats only my name, rank and serial number.

But I am not prepared to tell them my social security number.

The defense department last week announced it was eliminating serial numbers for servicemen. Social security numbers will be used instead, beginning next July.

If I have got to be captured, I hope it is before July. I wouldn't feel manly telling the Viet Cong my social security number. Can you imagine Errol Flynn giving his social security number to the dirty Japs? Egad, if we heroes must die for liberty, leave us do it with some dignity.

"What is that number you keep saying when I ask you how many men are in a platoon?" snarls the Communist swine who speaks perfect English because he used to teach it at UCLA.

"That is my social security number," I answer. "It means that I can retire when I am 65 and the Government will pay me back the money it has been taking from me and my boss for 50 years. If I live to be 267 years old, I will get all my money back."

"What have we got to fight about?" asks the Communist.

MY ARMY SERIAL number naturally reminds me of the guy who made sure I got it—Gen Lewis Hershey, the longtime Selective Service director. I think he has been on the job too long—didn't he induct Black Jack Pershing?

The draft is unfair. Period. There can be no sensible argument favoring it. If you are rich enough, and smart enough to go to college, you can escape the army. If you have the right kind of a job, you can stay home. It is no coincidence that, in Vietnam, Negroes are dying way out of proportion to their percentage of the U.S. population. They are predominant among the poor slob who can't afford to beat the draft.

You probably think the sole function of the draft is to fill uniforms and fox-holes. You are wrong. Another purpose of the draft is to steer people into government-approved occupations. Listen to what Hershey told the House Armed Services Committee:

"I am convinced that this nation has paced the world's technological advance of recent years in large part because scores of thousands of people have become scientists, engineers, teachers and acquired and applied technical skills because they were deferred to do so."

Translated, Hershey is saying that a lot of potential poets, for instance, might have switched to chemistry to stay out of the army. They may even have gone on to invent lovely bombs and who, for gracious sakes, will ever miss the poems they might have written?

The general said more: "There isn't anything that can't be solved by having an individual pursue the things you want him to pursue and then use him. . . there is no question that all sorts of specialists are going to be deferred, first of all to make them specialists. . .

I think you should keep a string on them so if you want to use them you can and you can compel them to stay where you want them because you have a string on them and if they do not stay where they should, then you put them where you can be sure that you use them. . . I think a fellow should be compelled to become better and not let him use his discretion whether he wants to get smarter, more healthy, or more honest."

Hershey uses a lot more words than necessary to say that he thinks the Government should control your son from the time he is 17 until he is no longer useful to this Land of the Free.

Phooey. The only decent reason for man to fight a stupid war is to protect his right to become whatever type of veteran he chooses—including a lazy, word-writing bum who never contributes one iota to Happiness in the Pentagon. I want my son to use his discretion.

Believe me, this is a Hershey with almonds. The sooner he puts his gun in the rack for good, the safer it is going to be for all us pigeons. Δ

Have approximately 52 minutes left to scramble. At that time Carolyn will swish in the door, point her finger and hiss "Out woman!" I will then be forced to turn this word gobbling machine over to the serious business of getting the type set for next week's paper.

Punishment is upon me. For two weeks I have tried to float lightly into the subject of dieting. It was to be called "Operation Zigfrü", with the motto "Two pounds in the hand are worth four in the mouth." I hereby report "THERE IS NOTHING FUN-NY ABOUT THE SUBJECT OF DIETS." Everything from the rousing round of kicks (which convinced me I had the potential of being the fastest counter in Clarkston) to 'starving (proving I make a rotten martyr) came up smelling like cabbage. Hoping to help my mental regression I even turned over the steak (the big juicy looking one used in a subscription ad some time ago) that crazy thing looked even better upside down. With a little imagination I was sitting on the ceiling with the best of them.

When Carolyn (who's engaged and I suspect uses Ponds like mad) and Mrs. Poole (who casts a pretty mean shadow) took time each day to eat OUR candy bar. . . just too much. All in all it didn't pan out. The sum total of my success is that I still weigh the same, only later in the day. How big can a deal get.

Realizing the hopelessness of being hopeless, I decided to pick a private topic picker. That Jezebel picked "Tonight's game" . . . by now you all know the heart-break of that "tonight . . . Amen.

So here I am again floundering with the fish. . . HELP!

Adele Thomas, organist in the Methodist Church will present an organ recital "Organ Vespers" on April 7. A tea in her honor will follow the recital.

25 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS

Partly because of the blizzard that swept across the county on Monday and partly because there was no opposition to the voting in the village election was light. There were 22 votes cast. The following were elected: President, Howard Huttenlocher; clerk, Percy Craven; treasurer, Mary Baldwin; trustees, Roy Gundry, William Dunston, Ray C. Ainsley; assessor, Lloyd Sibley.

The Red Cross workers will work one half day a week at the township hall. There is enough material to keep the group busy for the half day session.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Schurz received word from their son, Ensign Daniel Schurz, that he has been made a communication officer on the Flagship of the Cruiser division of the Atlantic fleet. This ship carries the Admiral.

OUR READERS WRITE

Dear Editor:
On Thursday of last week, I had the pleasure of accompanying Mrs. Paul Hanson, and her Future Teacher's Club of Clarkston High School, on a visit to Pontiac State Hospital.

The girls in the club had raised money to buy Bingo prizes to take to the Hospital. Each girl furnished cookies or cupcakes for a "Tea Party" at the conclusion of the evening.

It was a rewarding experience for me, to see these High School girls, laughing and playing games with Older Ladies, who were less fortunate than they. The pleasure experienced by all was very obvious.

I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate and thank Mrs. Hanson for the fine example and leadership she has given our girls, and the many girls she has previously worked with in the Clarkston area.

Dear Editor:
This is to inform you that on January 9, 1967, the Village Council restricted parking in the village parking lot on Main Street and Washington to a two-hour limit.

In addition, various parking areas within the business district will be restricted to limited parking times.

This will take effect as of February 1, or as soon as signs to this effect can be posted. Your cooperation in this matter will be appreciated.

Sincerely yours,
Artemus M. Pappas
Village Clerk

For 136 years the Phillips family and their descendants have lived in this area—some of them still on Pine Knob Road where Bildad Phillips first settled in 1831.

When he and his wife Jane Ann built their first cabin there, it was known as Sheshaba Plains. Bildad not only farmed but he went into the carpenter trade and taught school as well to help support their ten children.

The sixth child in the family, Theodore, was born in 1836. Despite all the deprivations and hardships of pioneer life, Theodore and his brothers and sisters had a better than average childhood. Their parents did everything possible to give them a good education and a secure home.

Theod, as he was nicknamed, was only nineteen when his father passed away and for five years after that he ran the family farm for his mother. It was the custom in those times for sons to work for their parents until they reached their majority—there was a strong feeling that children owed those years to the family that often had to make many sacrifices in order to raise their sons and daughters. When he married at the age of 24, he still stayed on the family farm for three more years. Eventually he bought out the other heirs and owned the Phillips homestead plus a great deal more acreage.

William King, father-in-law of Theod, was a farmer by occupation but as a young boy he had been apprenticed to a cooper. When he came to Independence in 1884, he set up a cooper shop near his house, where he made barrels and other items of his trade. When his daughter Mary and Theod were married he gave them a wedding gift that Mary cherished all her life—a washtub. It was so skillfully and carefully made that when the Phillips celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, it was still in use.

Mary's mother, Eliza King, had started keeping a diary shortly after she and her husband came to Michigan. In it she recorded all the daily happenings in the neighborhood—the births, deaths and marriages. She kept track of the high school graduates, the weather, crop failures, social gatherings—everything in fact that made up the life of these early settlers. When she died in 1892, Mary Phillips took over the task until her death in 1923, she never missed a day writing down the events of Clarkston.

In 1898, Mary and Theod moved into the village, leaving the farm to the management of their son Clarence and his wife Virginia. And it is at this point that these diaries give us a clear glimpse of Clarkston at the turn of the century. Not that Mary had ever cut herself off from the social life in the village. There were times when she was quite sickly, when the unending work depleted her strength. She recorded one day of being so ill with a cold that she spent the entire time in bed yet the next evening she and her husband joined a party of four sleigh-loads of people who went bucketing over the snowy March roads to a social held some miles out of the village. Maybe that is one of the secrets of their longevity—when these pioneers wanted to do something or had to do something—they kept going in spite of illness or elements.

The Spanish-American War, which began and ended in 1898, called some of Clarkston's young men into service. The village watched the progress of the war with keen interest and celebrated every victory. Somewhere in the village was a cannon that was shot off noisily with dozens of firecrackers and rockets. Mary complained that after the victory at Santiago, it was almost midnight before things quieted down so people could sleep.

Early 1899 had weather similar to what we have now—Mary wrote that the snow was so high that the men were only able to clear space for one sleigh to go down the road at a time. Bad weather wasn't enough to stop social customs however. Almost every afternoon she put on her bonnet and went calling. After making about four or five stops, she got home in time to set the supper table for the half dozen or so people that called on her. It wasn't always for idle chatter—they helped each other quilt or make clothes, can or preserve and they seemed to sew a never ending stream of carpet strips. These were gregarious people—the lodge meetings, Ladies Aid, church suppers, socials, were all hugely attended. We can only surmise that they must have risen earlier than we do today to have gotten everything done.

These diaries written in the last years of the nineteenth century show that in our village, for all the hardships, there was a pleasant, slow-paced friendly life.

ANDERSONVILLE PTA

The Andersonville Elementary School will hold their P. T. A. meeting on Thursday, March 16 at 7:30 P. M.

Mrs. Ruth S. Kennedy, a member of the staff of the Family Service of Oakland County, will be the guest speaker.

Farm Bureau leaders to go to Washington

Mrs. M. Holzer of Clarkston will be one of nearly 100 county Farm Bureau leaders who will be spending 3 days in the nation's capital. They will carry farm issues directly to their Congressmen when they fly by jet to Washington on March 13.

A breakfast session with the Republican delegation from Michigan, a noon luncheon with the Democrats, and a special meeting with members of the press at the National Press Club, is planned for the farm leaders in Washington.

One issue sure to be discussed is the rising level of dairy imports into the United States. Many farmers have expressed hope that the Administration will use its present powers to stop the dumping of foreign milk products on the American market at a time when more domestic production is being requested.

Another issue which will probably be discussed with the Congressmen is Bill 109—the unfair practices bill aimed at protecting the right of farm producers to join marketing and bargaining cooperatives without fear of reprisal from processors or other buyers.

Also attending from Oakland county are Mrs. Wm. Scramlin of Holly, Mrs. H. Hunt of Lake Orion, Mrs. J. Champion of Wixom and E. Erwin of Novi.
