VOLUME 38 10 CENTS CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN 48016 THURSDAY, MARCH 23, 1967 3 SECTIONS NUMBER 30

Good Friday services at Calvary Lutheran Church

This area's annual Good Friday services will be conducted at Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass. This year's service will take the form of six twenty-five minute periods of meditation and prayer, each separated by the singing of a hymn. The meditations, to be given by the clergy of the participating churches, will have the theme: "Our Lord's Words from the Cross."

The joint service will be conducted from noon until 3:00 P. M. The following churches will be participating: The Church of the Resurrection (Episcopal), Drayton Heights Free Methodist Church, First Baptist Church of Clarkston, First Methodist Church of Clarkston, and Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church. There will be a nursery available during the service.

RIGHT DOWN THE MIDDLE

An accident occurred last Thursday night on Whipple Lake Road east of Pine Knob Road at 10:40.

Bozene Karbownik, 18 of 9530 Columbia in Clarkston was driving up a hill when another car came over the hill driving in the middle of the road. She swerved to avoid hitting him and hit a tree instead.

According to sheriff officers who investigated, she received type C injuries, but was not hospitalized.

This three tier cake graced a special gift laden table at the recent Mother-Daughter Banquet. Following the dinner and program, the names of lucky gift winners were drawn.

Jaycees to have Prayer Breakfast

The first line of the Jaycee Creed reads, "We Believe, That Faith In God Gives Meaning and Purpose to Human Life". During this Holy Season the Clarkston Area Jaycees have decided to hold a Prayer Breakfast on Good Friday morning to express this belief according to Richard Wilton, Vice President. Breakfast will be served at Harvey's Colonial House at 8 a. m. and all of the area Pastors have been invited as guests of the local Jaycees. Wilton stated that Lew Wint was general chairman and that Jerry Powell and Bob Skerratt were committee members. Speaker for the Prayer Breakfast will be Peter O'Rourke, State Chaplain of the Michigan Jaycees. Mr. O'Rourke is a member of the Detroit Jaycees and is an attorney in Detroit. He is also a member of the United Foundation Speakers' Bureau and serves on committees for Poverty and Mental Health in Wayne County. Mr. O'Rourke is a member of the Star of the Sea Roman Catholic Church and the Coast Guard Reserve.

School board discusses repair of Jr. High and athletic fields

The Board of Education in its Monday night meeting dealt with problems concerning repair and maintenance in the Clarkston Junior High building.

The board approved the installation of new burners in the building. Equipped with fire-eye controls, these will up-grade the boilers there which are now 10 years old.

They also investigated the re-modeling of the Junior High building by replacing doors and windows which are 36 years old. The board gave their approval and aluminum or molded metal windows and doors will be installed.

The floor in the gymnasium can no longer be sanded—in some places it is beginning to buckle, so plans were completed whereby the floor would be rebuilt completely. This project will be undertaken during the summer months.

The Board instructed Mel Vaara to lay out a proposed play area at the Junior High. Because the participation in athletics in that school is so great, it is hoped that work can be done to up-grade the football field there.

represented the Industrial Arts department also presented a plan to the board for further study. This involved the planning, construction and building of a complete house by students in that curriculum. Involved would be considerable work and planning. This item was tabled for further study.

Dom Mauti discussed with the board a plan to revamp the baseball field. The infield will be scraped and prepared for play this spring after which more extensive work will be done on it. Prior to this the board feels that the infield should be drained, so plans were made to trench out and place tile throughout the field.

To complete their plans the infield will be worked to contain a 50-50 combination of sand and clay. Plans were also made to place sod on the outfield and for a 4 foot cyclone fence to surround the field.

Currently, leveling operations are taking place to replace areas despoiled during construction at the High School. As soon as feasible these areas will be seeded.

Faces examination in car theft

Stated to appear before Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp this Thursday is James Bond of 10260 Allen, Clarkston. The 17-year-old stood mute at his arraignment last week before Justice Stamp. He is charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile. His preliminary examination will take place at 1:30 p. m.

Bond and two companions, both minors are accused of stealing two automobiles owned by township residents last Wednesday night. They were captured by Michigan State Police troopers Ronald A. Shulters and David C. Suminski of the Pontiac post at the Payless Service Station at 6594 Dixie Highway at about 12:30 A. M.

Bond and one of the juveniles are accused of breaking into the Richardson Dairy Store in Clarkston two weeks ago.

Protective service to meet Monday

Clarkston Youth Protective Service will hold their meeting Monday, March 27th, at 8:00 P. M. at the Township Hall. Anyone sincerely interested in the youth of Clarkston are welcome to join the committee which is composed of the following sub-committees: Membership, Fact Finding, Parent Education, Youth Code, Religious Assistance, Education and Public Relation, Finance, Case Study, Employment. For more information contact, Mrs. Ron Balousek. The program for April is, "Parent Education Seminar".

The group wish to thank the Clarkston Women's Club, American Legion Post 63, Clarkston Area J. C.'s, Clarkston Area Jaycettes and Study Club for their donations and Terry Thomas. These proceeds will be used toward the April program. Ralph Strahm, the caseworker, will soon occupy his office in the township annex.

Taking registrations for the Blood Bank are (L. to R.) Mrs. Alan Van Loon, Mrs. Roger Thompson and Mrs. Richard Nicoson. Sponsored by the Clarkston Women's Club it will be held next Tuesday in the downstairs section of the Community Center. Hours are from 3-9 P. M. People desiring an appointment should contact Mrs. Van Loon at 625-2658 or Mrs. Nicoson at 625-2075. An appointment however, is not necessary. They'll take your blood anyway!

THAT'S RIGHT. LET'S GET THIS BLOOMING SHOW ON THE ROAD.

Jim's Jottings

Among the many things I've been wrong about all my life is weather conditions that cause least damage to roads in springtime.

I've always figured if temperatures would rise to near 40 in the daytime and drop to freezing at night roads would be less likely to heave because the thawing would be gradual.

Frank Beach, Oakland County engineer in the road or planning department, straightened me out. About the only way most roads will have little break-up in the spring is by there being little or no moisture in the roadbeds to begin with.

Now there are various exceptions to all rules, but roads break-up worse when the roadbeds are saturated with water. That's the way they are in north Oakland. When the big freeze came the last of January, the ice expanded the sub-surface material.

In clay and silt soil, when temperature rises the clay and silt fluff or float. When this happens, bang goes your tires, oil pan, bumpers and sometimes, I think the whole car . . . in to chuck holes.

Another near ideal condition is to have a gravel base road. And the further down the gravel, the better the drainage and the less upheaval.

The secret word in this is drainage. That's one of the reasons the county and state have increased their restrictions on roadbuildings it pertains to ditching, grading and draining. Get that water out of the roadbeds.

So, it doesn't make too much difference about weather conditions when it comes to keeping roads passable come spring break-up time. Now, bring on the warm breezes and let's get into spring and golf.

Some of our crew has gone to tea drinking instead of coffee. Their choice of tea is Salada. On the back of the tags on their teabags are bits of philosophy. Like the one the pressman now has attached to his press . . . "Don't complain if the boss criticises. Be glad he thinks you worth correcting."

If I thought he really believed it I'd tell him more of the things that come to mind that are yet unspoken.

I write these things on Wednesdays. Once the paper is put to bed (just thought I'd throw in that newspaper expression) I set down and write the following week's column.

For that reason, I hope, I haven't heard any comments about last week's coverage of Dan Fife and team; mates. So, I'll make one myself. I think it was the best looking paper we've put out since coming here. Lots of pictures, good print, full of news, features and columns. I just hope you readers are as pleased as the publisher.

One of those days when your phone means so much

You're weathered in with a houseful of kids. So you call for the weather report and learn it's a stay-at-home day. But . . . you had places to go to and things to do. So you cancel your appointment at the hairdresser's. Call the drugstore and order more of the baby's special formula . . . just in case. And then you call your friend to tell her the shopping trip is off. What else in your home does so much for you, and costs so little?

last Sunday at Lake Orion High School, site of a three-day seminar of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The local congregation is now arranging for their annual celebration of the death of Jesus Christ, called the "Lord's supper" or the "Lord's evening meal".

The only date that Jehovah's Witnesses commemorate this year falls on March 25 after sundown. This corresponds to Nisan 14 of the Jewish calendar.

The special service will begin at 7:00 P.M. at local Kingdom Hall, 4400 W. Walton Blvd., Drayton Plains.

SPORTS

For the 12th straight year I have enjoyed the state basketball tournaments at East Lansing. This is definitely Michigan's finest amateur show, and as Joe Falls puts it--You may sit in the narrow press box at Indianapolis, or sit at the ring side in the Astrodome--or writing the story about the 1st Super bowl game. But no assignment in all the year is as exciting as East Lansing on the 3rd weekend in March.

Where else would you see team lose 10 ball games in the regular season become the Class B Champs? Menominee did it! Menominee closed the season with a record of 6-10, went on to win 7 straight ball games. They are the only team in the history of tournaments to fly the players to East Lansing. On Friday 6 bus loads of students drove down for the semi's and after Menominee won on Friday another 5 buses left Menominee at midnight for the 450 mile trip. This cinderella team loaded with juniors gave the 12,000 many exciting moments.

Where else would you see a team 550 miles from East Lansing make a valiant bid for the Class D title? Even gave it all, but they were physically tired from the 4 overtimes of the Friday nights encounter. Also, it took them 10 hours to make the trip to East Lansing from Charlevoix in a snowstorm. The team travelled in two cars and by the time Saturday rolled around they were a tired bunch of boys.

Where else would you see a powerhouse team like Pershing? They could give some college teams fits. Everything said about them was true--they were great. They average over 20 turnovers a game, but their scoring power is so high, they just simply overwhelm you. In the last quarter against Flint Central they simply tore up Central in little pieces!

Yes, Charles E. Forsythe does an outstanding job as State Director of Athletics. He has had the task for 35 years. Over 12,000 boys take part in the tournament. 755 high schools vie for the 4 class crowns. There are 122 district centers and 26 Regional centers. All of this takes a concerted effort on Mr. Forsythe and his staff.

For once Joe Falls is right in stating--"There isn't another sports event that has the stature of State Basketball Tournaments."

Hal Schram "the swami with the salmi", was patting himself on the back after picking 13 out of 16 correct in the quarterfinals. Why Bill Potvin a CJHS Faculty member had 15 of 16 correct! Our hats off to you Bill. Maybe you should be writing your own column.

I predicted 13 out of 16 in the quarterfinals, but as usual fell flat on my face in picking only one winner in the finals.

Well basketball season is over and now the spring sports will be covering the sports pages. Clarkston will be well represented in sports offering track, baseball, tennis and golf.

Coach Bill Hanson and his army tied for 1st place in league play. Northville and Clarkston had identical marks of 11-3.

Travel series to present "Montana Adventure"

The Oxford Rotary Club will present Don Cooper's "Montana Adventure" on Thursday evening, March 30th, in the Oxford High School Auditorium at 8:00 P. M.

Don Cooper is a lumber jack who has spent many years in the forests and lumbercamps of Montana and Alaska. He was literally born and raised in the logging camps of western Montana, the son of the late George B. Cooper, former State Senator of Montana. Being a natural humorist of the "Will Rogers type", Don has become known from coast-to-coast for his delightfully humorous and uninhibited narration.

Though many of Montana's better known attractions are visited, most of the trip will be by canoe through the vast and beautiful areas still traversed only by rivers.

The proceeds from this program will go to Oxford area charities. Tickets are available at the door.

SERVING AT LITTLE CREEK

Fireman Charles M. Wallace, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Wallace of 2920 Lola Court, Drayton Plains, is helping the U. S. Atlantic Fleet Amphibious Force (PHIBLANT) celebrate its 25th anniversary this month, while serving aboard the Amphibious

Star Rank, an honor which is listed as the third from the highest award in scouting, was scheduled for presentation to five young Clarkston boys, members of Troop 105. Earning the right to claim this outstanding achievement award are: (back row) Alfred Watson and Aaron Klein, (front row) Howard Bliss, Chuck Baker, and Roger DeRosia.

Base, Little Creek, Va.

Established in February of 1942, the force is now 20,000 men strong, and operates 60 ships of different types.

Units of PHIBLANT successfully spearheaded every major allied amphibious invasion in North Africa and Europe during World War II.

The Force's 25 years in existence reflect a history of military preparedness and humanitarian relief in many lands bordering on the Atlantic Ocean and the Caribbean and Mediterranean Seas. It has won praise time and again for contributions to peace and its important part in proving that the Amphibious Force is indeed a "Vanguard in Peace and a Spearhead in War."

Get this big, powerful luxury car free.

Pontiac has a way of pulling off miraculous automotive stunts. Like packing an incredible amount of luxurious equipment into a sleek road machine. And then pricing it so low it nearly scares the competition out of existence.

The Pontiac we're talking about is called Catalina. It's big. It has a long 121" smooth-riding wheelbase. Its standard engine is a 400 cu. in. V-8. And of course Catalina has everything that makes all Pontiacs such outstanding cars--Wide-Track ride, advanced styling, high resale value, even disappearing windshield wipers. And the GM safety package.

Now the only question is, how can Pontiac make such a luxurious car so low-priced? Don't ask. See your Pontiac dealer.

Mr. & Mrs. Eugene J. Friday of Eston Road, Clarkston are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Jean to Wayne E. Miller. He is the son of the Edward H. Miller's of Lake Orion. They are both graduates of Lake Orion High School. He is employed by National Cash Register and she by Hawk Tool in Clarkston.

Round the Town

By Mrs. Shirley Lynch
Maple 5-1065

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Anderson and family spent the weekend with their houseguest, Mrs. Lois Brown visiting friends in Northern Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Saul had as their weekend guest Mr. Saul's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Saul of Imlay City.

Two birthdays in one family but on different days March 15th and 16th brought relatives of Tom and Karen Kcirob to the Antoni home on Pine Knob Road Sunday for a birthday dinner. Karen was presented with a doll cake in pink with ten candles glowing while Tom blew out eleven candles on his cake which was shaped like a ten gallon hat.

Several friends from Detroit surprised Mr. and Mrs. Garry Smith Saturday with a drop in party with each guest bringing part of the menu and dance records. It was in celebration of the completion on the remodeling of their home.

Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ranimes Jr., is spending the week with his grandmother, Mrs. Floyd Ranimes Jr. in Pontiac, while his parents are vacationing in Florida. Paul thinks that he is very lucky that he didn't have to go to Florida too because Grandmother believes in ice cream for breakfast.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Weeks have returned to their home after a weekend in Glidden, Wisconsin where they attended the funeral of a very dear friend.

The Willis Brants reported that due to this sudden winter after the eagerly awaited warm spell they still haven't got their cabin ready for summer so are planning a do it your self party. The only difference will be instead of yourselves it will be your neighbors. Mr. and Mrs. George Harddy and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathers are the good neighbors.

Pinochle Club was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Elsholz on Eastlawn. St. Patrick's Day theme greeted the guests with an Irish luncheon served after the play. Mrs. Harry Squires was high scorer with the low prize going to Mrs. Clifford Bradley.

Mr. and Mrs. Keven Brown and family have moved into their new home in Flint over the weekend. A going away party was held with many of their friends and neighbors gathering for last good byes.

Debbie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Squires is confined to her home due to bronchitis. During this kind of weather staying in isn't so hard to do.

Mr. Tim Lowerly received a camera for his 12th birthday March 14; and has already gone through four rolls. His thoughts are now turning to developing if he can convince his mother there is room.

A baby shower in honor of Mrs. Ernest Meeker of Almond Lane was held Monday evening, March 6 at the home of Mrs. Harold Brittan on Northview Drive. The 24 guests from Dixie Baptist Church had a great time, especially with the games Mrs. Clayton Davis of Almond Lane directed. There was much action as Mrs. Davis frowns on ordinary pencil and paper games. Several cakes and jellos were provided by Mrs. Max McClusky of Pontiac while the special shower cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. James Eston on Northview Drive. There were a pair of pink or blue booties made from icing on each serving piece. Mrs. Meeker was very excited with all the adorable baby gifts and is anxiously waiting the chance to use them.

Guests for the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Eugene Meade on Almond Lane last week were her parents from Pontiac Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis, a sister-in-law Mrs. Tom Lewis and a sister Mrs. Dorothy Eaglen also from Pontiac.

Home from their recent and very wonderful ten-day vacation at Las Vegas are Doctor and Mrs. Robert Buehrig of Reese Road. Evidently, they believed the silver dollar town was a perfect place to observe their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. They thoroughly enjoyed seeing Robert Goulet, Phillis Diller, and Fats Domino, and there were no complaints with their accommodations at the Sahara Hotel on the fabulous "Strip" or with the seventy five degree weather.

Mr. Derrel Batchelder of Waldon Road who was going to let his 30th birthday quietly slip by March 11, was completely surprised at the party his wife secretly planned with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Seffens of Waldon Road and several friends and relatives. A Saint Patrick's Day theme was carried out by the huge green and a thirty-inch square birthday card designed and made by Mr. Robert Clark of Walden Road. The birthday cake was decorated with shamrocks and orange roses. The guests had a truly great time playing games, dancing, and eating the buffet lunch including sloppy joes which a sister Mrs. Ronald Broome of Walled Lake made using nine pounds of hamburger. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. T.J. O'Rourke of Snow Apple Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Logan and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Richard of Cramlane Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pasternak of Warbler Drive. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Batchelder and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Queens of Madison Heights, Mr. Derrel Batchelder of Livonia with his fiancée Carol of Hazel Park, Mr. and Mrs. Gugal of Warren, and Mr. and Mrs. I. Nicoloy of Waterford.

Recently home from their month's vacation in California are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brodkorb of Pear. They began the trip by visiting their son and family Mr. and Mrs.

Edwin M. Brodkorb with children Debbie and David. Relatives they visited in California were a sister Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Morse at Long Beach and a brother Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Brodkorb of Southgate. Highlights of the trip were visits to Knott's Berry Farm and the famous movieland wax museum at Buena Park, a weekend in Las Vegas and a tour of the Mormon Tabernacle grounds at Mesa, Arizona. Surely this was a wonderful way to celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary March 7.

Attending the Ice Capades in Detroit last Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson with children, Wendy, Ronnie, and Todd.

Congratulations are in order for Mrs. Harold Hawkins of Snow Apple Drive, who bowled her first sanctioned two hundred game. In the Pontiac Women's City Tournaments at the 300 Bowl March 12 she attained a 202 score.

Mary and her little lamb have nothing over Danny Saunders and his rabbit. Danny calls his pet just plain "Bunny" and was nice enough to bring it to school one day last week to share with Mr. Powers, his teacher, and his fellow Sashabaw fourth graders. Frightened at first by the transfer from his box, Bunny did a beautiful job of settling down in Danny's arms.

Who needs roads that are only "adequate"?

We're right in the tax time of the year what with Board of Review just over and income tax deadline nearing, but we're going to talk tax increase anyway.

We are just as conscious of the amount of taxes we pay as anyone. We say frequently they're too high! There must be a limit! Etc!

However, there are going to be higher taxes and in some cases we should be looking forward to paying them. The two that come to mind this week are for schools and roads.

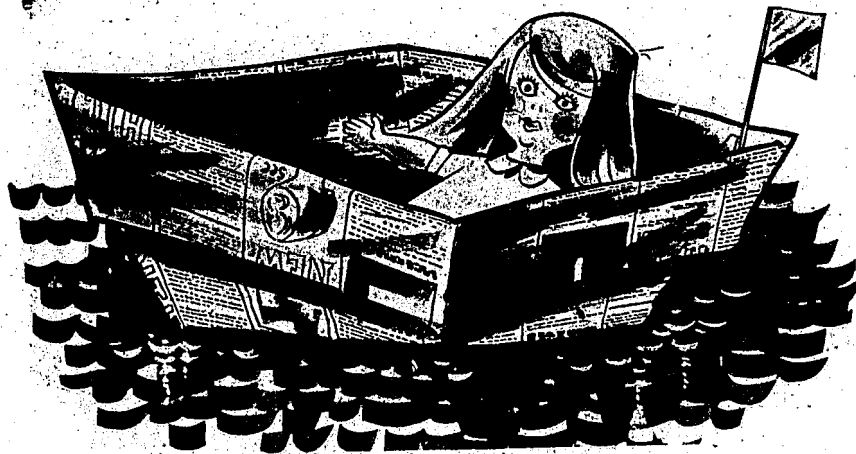

It's roads we're pushing this week. The Michigan Good Roads Federation with whole hearted support of the Oakland County Road Commission has made their pitch in Lansing for increased road support. Briefly, the package would make the following minimum revisions:

1. Add one cent to the present six cent state gasoline, diesel and liquefied petroleum taxes.
2. Add an approximate ten percent increase to commercial vehicle weight taxes.
3. Restore the passenger car weight tax to the level it was in 1933 when it was reduced from 55 cents per hundred pounds to 35 cents per hundred pounds.
4. Change the distribution formula for highway funds so that cities and villages will get an additional two percent.

We don't exactly know why the Michigan Good Roads Federation is going for the minimal increases. Oakland County engineers say two-thirds of the county roads are now inadequate including all gravel roads. Further, Oakland's roads are worse than the state average because of the volume of traffic they carry.

If the legislature voted the revisions asked there would still not be enough money to do the job of road building and improving in Oakland county that need be done. In fact, it will bring about one-third the amount needed to provide roads above the ignoble status of "adequate."

Adequate is like being average. Who wants it? We suggest the legislature go further than the minimum requested by the Michigan Good Roads Federation and add sufficient taxes to get the job done right, and now.

A sure sign of middle age approaching—one afternoon as I picked up the newspaper which gave the account of Nelson Eddy's death, I bemoaned the fact to Rustie. And what did I hear from the 17 year old student who sets type for us--Who is Nelson Eddy? Well, I'll tell you! Nelson Eddy and Jeannette McDonald were of the days when a youngster could go to the show for a dime. There was 2 hours of their love-making and singing that could bring tears to a young girl as well as the middle aged ladies who cherished their singing—then there was another show besides, probably one of the comedy teams, Laurel & Hardy, The Marx Brothers, or maybe even a Will Rogers show plus the news reels and lots of cartoons besides. Pop corn was about a nickel and the combination made a delightful way to spend a Saturday afternoon.

I truly had the fear that it might be November again as I headed north last Tuesday evening. Within 200 feet of the entrance to Wheelock Hospital in Goodrich, seven deer leaped across the highway in front of me. To the dubious ones--Yes, I counted them carefully as they went single-file across the highway! It was just dusk and they were evidently moving from the swampy area near the Goodrich High athletic field up into the fields across the highway. Not even in the north country have I seen so

The Beautiful World of Sports

by Jim Fitzgerald

It was K. C. Jones Day and, as a national TV audience watched, his teammates gave him a chauffeur's cap.

Beautiful.

K. C. Jones is retiring as a splendid guard for the Boston Celtics; the professional basketball team. As is the custom, in these cases, Boston fans chipped in and bought him a trainload of presents he could have bought himself because he's made plenty of money dribbling around in short pants for 9 years.

This is similar to the Democrats buying LBJ another TV station when he retires. It will never happen because everyone knows Johnson has so much money he could buy Texas back from Lady Bird. But sports fans are peculiar nuts. They know their heroes are loaded, but they'll still dip into their beer money to buy a cruiser for Mickey Mantle, who could buy a steamship line. When a utility infielder retires—a guy who made $7,000 his best year—he gets a pat in the seat and a one-way bus ticket back home. But that's sports, the joy of which is that it isn't supposed to make sense.

So there was K. C. Jones, between halves of a Sunday TV game, collecting assorted plaques, corny congratulations, a color TV set, and the keys to a Cadillac.

And then there was Boston coach Bill Russell giving Jones a gift from the team. Russell reached into a brown paper bag and pulled out the chauffeur's cap.

"They gave you a Cadillac 3 blocks long," Russell explained. "To drive it, you are going to need this cap."

For you non-fans, here is why the gift is beautiful: Jones is a Negro. So is Russell.

FOR MORE OF THE same, let's drop down to high school basketball.

On the Carrollton (Mich.) team are 2 boys nicknamed Midnight and Seven-thirty. Midnight is a very dark Negro. Seven-thirty is a lighter Negro.

Beautiful? I think so.

Midnight and Seven-thirty are called that by their white teammates. The white teammates of K. C. Jones laughed hardest when he put on the chauffeur's cap and did a little dance. The integrated sports world is way ahead of the rest of us. These guys work together, eat together and shower together. The white man sees that the Negro needs no more Dial soap than he does. He sees that the black man doesn't live on watermelon. Egad, some of these Negroes haven't even got rhythm.

Proximity destroys prejudice and breeds friendship. When you get to know a man, you don't need his skin to tell you if he's a jerk or a gentleman. You begin to realize the foolishness of judging a man by his complexion or by the shape of his nose.

I have Polish friends I call Dumb Polacks and Italian friends I call Wops. My best buddy in the army was an Indian I called Wahoo. But I know no Negro I can call Nigger. I wish I did.

While K. C. Jones was taking those bows on TV, his 2-year-old daughter climbed into his arms and wrapped her tiny hand around his nose. Then she pulled his ears and nibbled at his mouth. He nuzzled her in the neck. The same delicious spot the white father nuzzles.

Negroes love, just like us white folks. And they ache.

In his sensational murder trial, Dr Sam Sheppard said a white intruder must have killed his wife because the Sheppard dog didn't bark. The dog was trained to bark at Negroes.

I laughed when Jones put on that chauffeur's cap. But it was a guilty laugh. Δ

-SO GREAT FAITH-

As Jesus went out from Jericho with His disciples, behold, Bartimaeus, a blind man, sat by the wayside begging. When he knew that it was Jesus passing, he cried out . . . Jesus, thou son of David, have mercy on me. Jesus stood still in the roadway, and said . . . Bring the man here to me, and they led him to Jesus. Then Jesus said to Bartimaeus . . . My brother, what wouldst thou have me do for thee? . . . O Lord, that I may have my sight. Thou canst give me my sight. And Jesus said unto him . . . Bartimaeus, thy great faith hath this day made thee whole. Thou hast now thy sight. Mark 10:46-52.

Biographers of Jesus have said with conviction that He is the most compassionate figure in human history and many declare that of all His great qualities, men to this day most admire His concern for His brother's welfare, for the welfare of the friendless, the ill and infirm and for the moral and social outcast, and all agree that in His ability to conquer sickness and suffering by the power of calmness and love He was the personification of that great mercy which is of the essence of the nature of God the Father.

Events were in the making, of which Jesus had a sure premonition, that would very soon come to terrible fulfillment on Calvary Hill, yet He found within Himself that day at Jericho the strength and the composure needed to extend a helping, healing hand to the blind beggar Bartimaeus, by Temple standards an inferior person, stricken of God and afflicted, having no hope, either on earth or in heaven.

Very surely we witness here the miraculous, the miracle of faith and the miracle of the transcendent personality of Jesus. The power of faith is available to each and every one of us, we know, and we know also that the living spirit of Jesus, in power unto redemption, salvation, health and peace, is abroad in our land today and tomorrow and tomorrow.

Said Jesus . . . Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world.

Eternal God, our Father: Thy wisdom, understanding, mercy and compassion, did all come to sharp focus in the life and character of Jesus, and we would with faith follow in His steps. AMEN.

Fireman Leroy Franklin, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Franklin of 6480 Pine Knob Road, Clarkston, and Data Systems Technician Second Class David R. Allen, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie R. Allen of 6380 Elmwood Drive, Drayton Plains, contributed to their ship, the attack aircraft carrier Ranger, being chosen "Ship of the Year" by the editors of "Our Navy" magazine.

The Ranger was selected for the award from 12 vessels honored as "Ship of the Month" throughout the year. The award was started in 1961, and is based on the crew's efficiency and overall performance of duties, as seen by the magazine's editorial staff.

The Ranger, undergoing an extensive overhaul at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard in Bremerton, Wash., won the award for her performance while deployed with the U.S. Seventh Fleet off the coast of Vietnam.

Club hears of early history in area

Stanley White, guest speaker recently at the Clarkston Women's Club presented interesting facts about the early development of Clarkston beginning prior to the time when Indians roamed the area and concluding with facts and locations where the early families of Clarkston settled.

Mr. White also brought interesting papers and maps or atlases showing the formation of the township and town as it developed.

There were many chuckles shared by the group as Mr. White told humorous tales related to the travel and life of the town's forefathers.

Gunsmith trade still practiced locally

Constance Lektzian
At one time the 'smithy' trades lured many young men to their ranks. Now the art of the blacksmith, the tinsmith and the gunsmith is slowly dying. Out at 6455 Dixie Highway is the shop of one of the few remaining gunsmiths in this area.

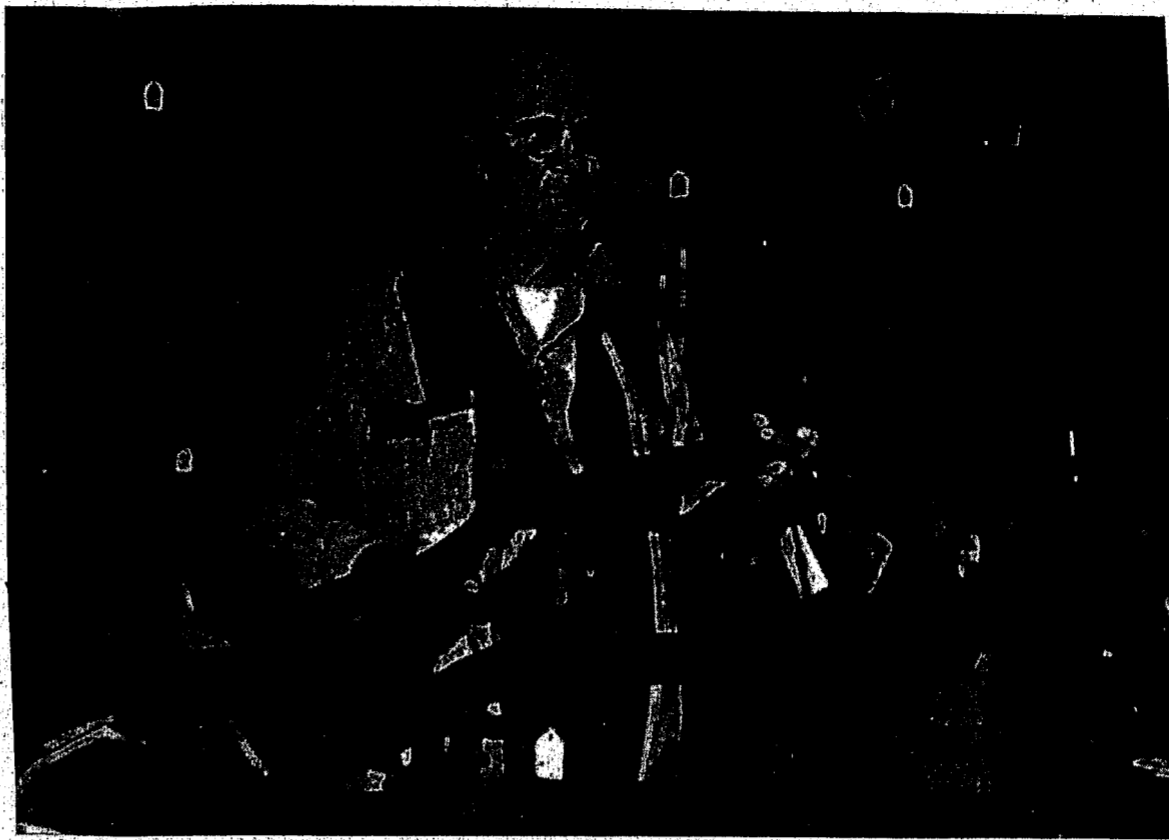

Art Lawson didn't intend to take up gunsmithing as anything but a hobby. Scrubbing out the old coal bin in his basement he put in a workshop where he did repairs on his own gun collection. Soon friends and acquaintances began dropping in with rifles and shotguns that needed repairs.

When the hobby outgrew the coal bin, the next move was to Gingellville where the Lawsons operated a grocery store with a gun shop in another part of the building. Before long, the gunsmith business was so demanding they had little time to sell groceries. It was at this time they moved to their present location.

This shop is a fascinating place to visit. One wall is covered with a collection of Winchesters, Colts and Marlins—guns dating back to the late 1800's. These were the type used by the pioneers and early settlers in this as well as other areas for hunting and protection; a slice of history in gunstock and barrel.

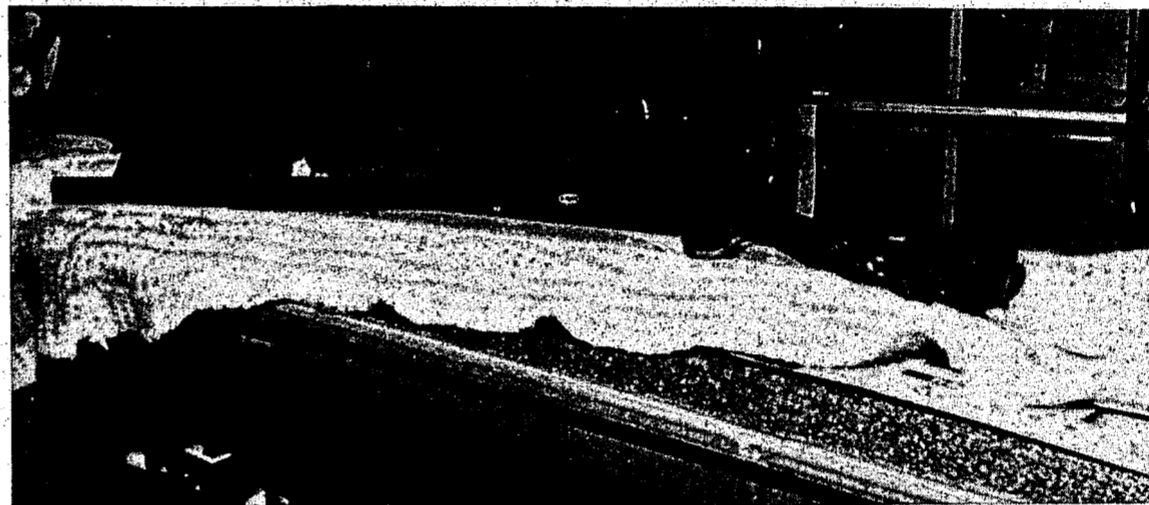

Art Lawson has one of the most complete gun shops in this area. The front of the building is the sales and display room, and in the back are the machines and parts necessary for the actual work. This room is as neat and clean as any housewife's kitchen. Anything that needs to be done in the way of replacing parts or repairing a gun can be done here. In the gunsmith business for about 23 years, Mr. Lawson keeps up with all the latest methods and gun styles by attending schools conducted yearly by Winchester, Savage and other gun companies.

In addition to selling and repairing guns, Mr. Lawson does the original job of a gunsmith. He makes the actual gun—not from scratch but from action, the business section of the gun. He first rebarrels, then alters the action to fit whatever cartridge is being used. Next he must blue and polish the parts of the action. Then from walnut, maple or whatever preference or wood the customer may have, the stock is formed. This is the most difficult, exacting step.

This 36 caliber gun on the top carries the name of its maker, P. Lawer, a gunsmith in Philadelphia in the early 1800's. The trigger plate and butt plate are hand-beaten brass. Because of the fantastic price for handwork today, it would be almost impossible to reproduce this gun. That's Art Lawson holding the gun.

This 1620 Jaeger on the bottom originally was used for hunting and protection on the Eastern seaboard.

This rifle on the top carries the colorful name of Blackjack Ketcham, a trademark of a gunsmith of the middle 1700's.

On the bottom is a gun that stood duty as a rifle or a shotgun. Called a boar's head because of the carving on the stock, it was popular in the late 1700's.

As he said, it takes blood, sweat, tears and a few salty words. He owns one gun that took all of his spare time for four years to make. Of course, all guns he makes or repairs are completely tested before leaving the shop.

Mrs. Lawson a vivacious lively person, manages the store and does the selling and bookkeeping. She is looking forward to the day when she has time to write a book about their life in the gunsmith business. She has some hilarious tales to repeat that hunters brought back. She can tell some frightening experiences too, such as the time two men tried to rob the store and she chased them away with state business with clients as far away as Portland, Oregon, Florida and Ohio. They sell all types of reloading equipment, gun cases and accessories.

In this shop, with its complete line of equipment to make and repair any type of gun, one thing is lacking—an apprentice. Several young men have approached the Lawson's with the thought of coming to work for them but when they found out that it is exacting work, there is much to be learned and the hours are sometimes long, they backed away. As one boy said, "It's easier staying home watching TV and collecting my allowance from my father". So the day may very well come when the art of the gunsmith is irrevocably lost.

Thanks to the unique book Margaret Innis is looking through, many mothers will be able to go back years from now and relive those wonderful school years of their children. The attractive book, titled School Record Book is being sold this year by the Pine Knob PTA. Persons interested in purchasing this book may call the school for additional information or contact Mrs. Donna Ross.

School Records on sale by PTA

The Pine Knob School PTA announces the sale of School Records, a unique book for keeping children's school photographs, report cards, and other treasured keepsakes of the school year.

This handy book completely eliminates the mess and clutter of clippings and photographs scattered throughout numerous desk drawers. All information can be neatly filed in the envelopes for each year. School Records contains 13 pages with envelopes to hold every school record from kindergarten through the 12th grade. Space is provided for teacher's name, awards received and medical records.

Every parent will want a copy for each child in school or for children who have already finished school. School Records provides a permanent record-keeping system.

Members of the PTA may sell these School Reords and the children may purchase them at the school library during the week of March 20th during the morning recess. Further information—call Mrs. Kenneth Ross, 673-8449.

Jaycee's Bosses Night

Boss of the Year for the Jaycees was John Dankovich, special equipment engineer at General Motors Truck and Coach. He was chosen on the basis of a recommendation by Dick Wilton, who works for Dankovich. The Bosses appreciation certificate was presented by Clarkston Area Jaycee president, Bob Jones. Above are Wilton, left, Dankovich, center and Jones.

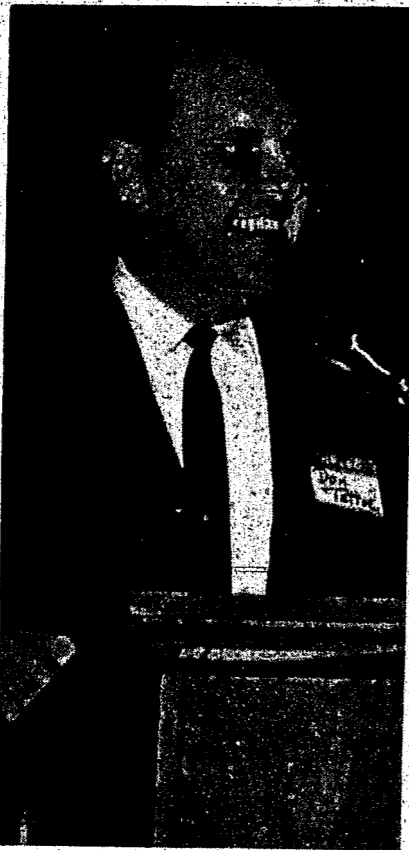

Getting his jibes in at one of the speakers is Pete Elliman, Clarkston Jaycee who served as Bosses Night toastmaster.

Reporting on what is ahead on the Jaycee calendar for the rest of the fiscal year was internal vice president, Don Hamaker.

Among the awards handed out Wednesday was the Jaycee of the Month award. It went to Barrie Fell, and was given by last month Jaycee, Bill Giltow.

Don Tatroe, superintendent of schools in Waterford, was the guest speaker at the Clarkston Area Jaycee's annual Bosses Night Wednesday.

Dick Wilton, external vice president of the local club, gave a review of the year's activity of the Clarkston Area Jaycees.

Lew Wint, state officer in the Jaycees from Clarkston, explained the Jaycee purpose to bosses Wednesday night at CAI building. He said, "Leadership training and community development are the basis for our being. All emphasis is on these two areas and I want to express the appreciation of our club for the support of the businesses in the community and individuals who have helped us."

It Is Not A Pretty PICTURE

The crosses in the shadows were real. Three hung there and died in agony... two for their own wrongdoing... one for yours.

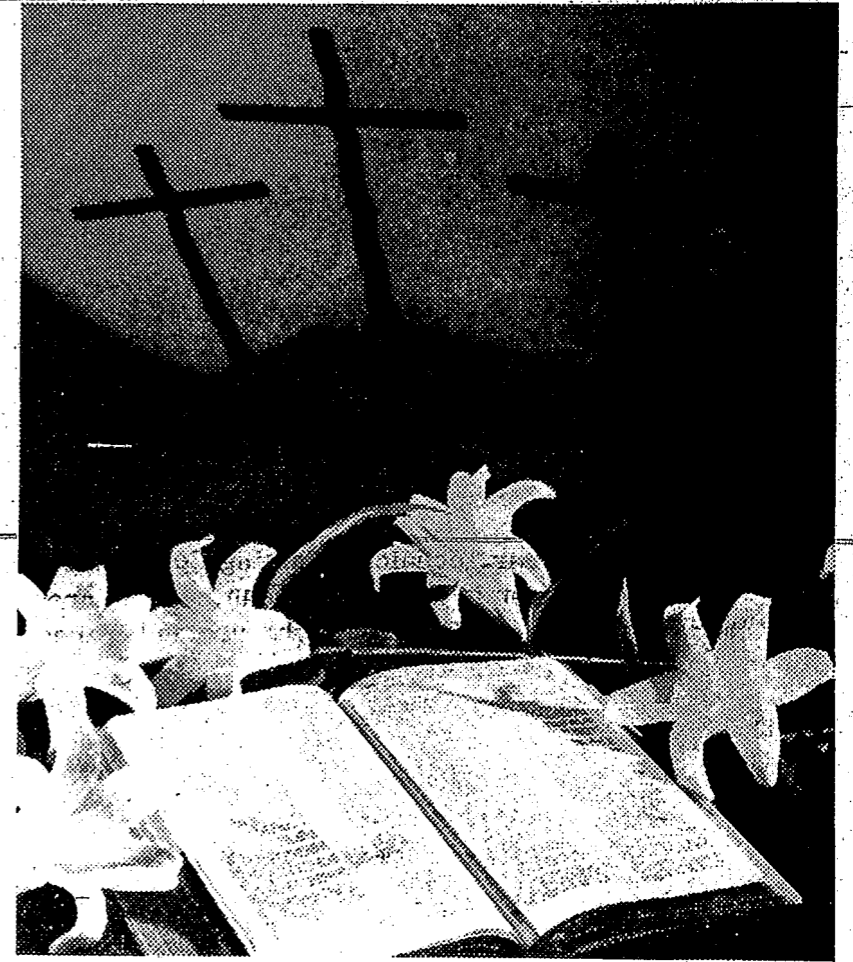

That chapter to which the Book lies open — it tells of the scandal... the indignity... the injustice—and the pain. The lilies? ... symbols of what men call Easter Day! When the women found the tomb empty... and were afraid to believe He was risen...

IT is not a pretty picture. IT is the stark reminder of man's distrust of God... and God's love of man.

And you'll let nothing keep you from worshipping your Lord when you stop thinking of IT as a pretty picture. IT happened.

For you — IT happened.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Mission Fair slated for April

"God's People in Mission" is the theme chosen for the month-long mission fair to be held at St. Stephen Lutheran Church, Drayton Plains in April. Each week, members and friends will have the opportunity to meet pastors, teachers and workers, some missionaries or former missionaries who will be special guests at services, Sunday School and Bible classes as well as at organizational events. There will be displays, maps, recordings, and films on various mission areas. The Sunday School will have special films and speakers during the entire month.

This mission education program will enable all to learn what Christians are doing in the general areas of Africa, the rim of East Asia, Middle and South America and Special Ministries.

Sunday, April 2, Pastor Edward A. Westcott, Jr. from Redford Lutheran Church will talk on his missionary service in Nigeria.

Monday, April 3, Rev. Joel Nickel, Assistant pastor of Riverside Lutheran Church, an inner-city congregation on the lower east side of Detroit, will be guest of the Sunday School teachers and the Board of Stewardship.

Emphasis on Special Ministries will be the theme on Sunday, April 9, when Rev. Roger Ruff of Wayne State University will speak on Campus Ministry at the 8:00 A.M. and 10:30 A.M. services.

The Voters Council will study material concerning migrant ministry of Spanish migrants submitted by Thomas Krenshaw of Brighton, on Monday evening, April 10. Sunday, April 16, teacher-missionary David Schaus will speak on New Guinea. He is presently teaching at St. Trinity Lutheran School in Pontiac.

Distemper— A Kitten Killer

Was your family blessed with a new arrival recently? Possibly a black, furry, friendly little kitten? If so, you will want to make sure that your pet receives the best in necessary health protection, the Oakland County Veterinary Medical Association suggests.

According to an Association spokesman, your kitten is susceptible to a number of diseases, many of which can be fatal. Cats may have internal parasites, skin disorders, fleas, and ear infections. They appear to be much more susceptible to anemia than any other domestic animal.

One of the most serious diseases which threatens your kitten is cat distemper, also known as cat plague and infectious enteritis. Distemper mostly attacks kittens; and as a result, it is recommended that kittens should be vaccinated against the disease as soon after weaning as possible.

What Is Cat Distemper?

Cat distemper is a very contagious virus disease which may bring death to as many as 90 percent of the cats it infects. The disease occurs at various times of the year in epizootic force, usually in areas where there is a large kitten population.

What Are The Symptoms?

Cats that contact distemper lose pep, cease to play, and refuse to eat or drink. It is not unusual for a cat to appear completely recovered from the disease after one or two days. Usually, however, the symptoms return within 24 to 48 hours and the cat becomes seriously sick.

During this stage of the illness, a cat acts dazed and becomes untidy. It may lie on its stomach with its head on its front paws, or hover over a saucer of milk although it is unable to drink. Unless treatment is begun immediately, a cat with distemper usually dies within a week after becoming sick.

Fortunately because of veterinary medical advances, kittens may be protected against distemper. Today there are antiserums which provide immediate temporary immunity against the disease, and vaccines for long-lasting protection. Your local veterinarian can advise you which type of protection is best suited to your pet.

The sky was the limit as land and sea found themselves formed in with just about anything that would stick together. From this massive collection of original thinking came one of the most unusual selections of 3-D maps. Six of the Bailey Lake students who participated in the school project are Mary Jo Cobb and Debra Gibbs, (displaying their maps) while two outstanding report givers Georgina Mayer and Joan Jones stand to the girl's right. Right in front is Bill Knox, who made the striking map that is laying on the table.

THEY CAME, THEY SAW, THEY WERE CONQUERED. BY PINOCCHIO.

By Constance Lektzian

From this tree grows a worm, that grows and grows. Taking off to the left of the tree and Nancy Kennedy and Kevin Phelps the adept Book Worm has traveled completely across the walls and windows to the door. To the 2nd grade students at Andersonville School, and their teacher, Miss Tuomela this growth represents the serious business of approximately 350 read books. Congratulations to this studious class, and don't forget "You can always hit the ceiling".

Most of the immigrants who left the Old World for the New had a confident feeling that they were embarking on a better life. They looked forward to becoming land-owners, to building homes and seeing their children well educated. There were some, sadly enough, who never lived long enough to see any part of their dream realized.

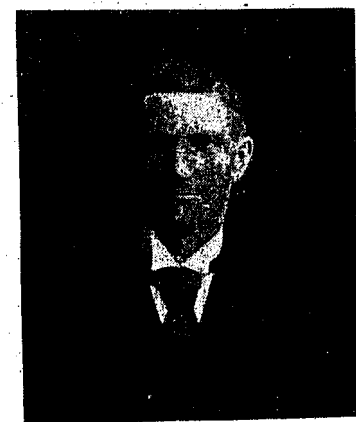

In 1835, John Scrace set out from Tunbridge Wells, England with his wife and three children. Life on board ship in those days was anything but luxurious. There were some shipping companies who insisted that passengers bring along their own food supplies, providing them with extremely limited cooking facilities. The so-called ship's doctor was rarely a trained physician and in fact, often one of the ship's officers stood in this capacity. All these factors coupled with the sleeping quarters that were cold and drafty made an immigrants sea voyage miserably long and uncomfortable. Whatever the reasons, when John Scrace arrived in New York harbor only he and his oldest son Samuel went ashore. The rest of the family had been buried at sea.

Finding work in the quarries and lime kilns of Erie County New York, John Scrace took a second wife Mary Stephens, another native of England. They had five more sons but when the youngest, Frank, was a year old, John died. Only 40 years old, he didn't have the constitution or strength to withstand the hard work and exposure of the quarries.

The widow had the bewildering inheritance of making a home for six sons. There were fifteen struggling years during which Samuel and William, one of her own sons, fought for two years in the Civil War. It was after this, in 1863, that the family decided there were greater opportunities in the West for them. Maybe the widowed Mary, remembering the sad ending of her husband's high hopes, had some trepidation about the move but she packed up and went along. One son had passed away and another remained behind in New York with his own family but there were five who made the trip to Michigan.

Frank, the youngest in the family, was sixteen when the move was made. In his pocket was $15, the results of odd jobs he had found in New York. For six years he worked near the farm of his step-brother in Genesee County before coming to Clarkston. Here he put in another three years of work before he was able to purchase land of his own.

Frank's formal schooling was not as great as his mother would have liked but he learned well from the farmers who hired him for a few dollars a month and found this knowledge paid off when he had his own farm on Pine Knob Road and in time he became well-known for his peach orchards. Two brothers, William and Oliver lived with him and helped manage the farm. They all shared in the prosperity and good life that their father had come from England in search of and which had eluded him. The three boys also shared one bitterness—they reached their prosperity too late to help their mother. Mary had watched her three sons struggle for a foothold in this new still undeveloped state, while she lived in sufferance in a little log house tucked in one corner of her step-son's farm. She would have been proud of her youngest son, who, highly regarded for his honesty and intelligence, served as highway commissioner and for six years was school director.

Deprived of a father of his own, Frank gave his six children all the love and attention that had been lacking in his own youth. In a day when many fathers weren't too concerned with their daughters gaining an education, he saw to it that his daughters as well as his sons attended high school. He and his brothers fulfilled the dream of their father for the better life for which John Scrace had crossed the ocean to find.

Our thanks to Ada Scrace youngest surviving member of Frank Scrace's six children, for information in this article and for the picture.
