2 SECTIONS NUMBER 33

Flowers of every color turned the dining room of the CAI building into a springtime garden as it waited the arrival of mothers and daughters coming to share their annual banquet. A little on the damp side, the weather failed to dampen the spirits of the North Sashabaw Girl Scout group as they met in the foyer of the building.

Plans complete for anniversary convention

The CAI Building in Waterford will be the scene of the golden anniversary convention of 638 District of Rotary International. Registration will begin at 10 A.M. on Friday, April 14. Hosting the affair will be the Waterford-Drayton Club assisted by Clarkston Rotary.

"One Hundred Years of Progress" will be the topic used by The Honourable W. Darcy McKeough of the Ontario Provincial Government when he addresses the Friday night dinner group in the main auditorium.

Friday afternoon business will be conducted by the members with an election of Governor nominee for 1968-69. During that time the Rotary Anns will tour the Cranbrook Theatre.

Tristano Bolelli, Director of Rotary International, Pisa, Italy will be the Saturday luncheon speaker. The afternoon session includes sessions in the Fellowship room, while the Rotary-Anns attend a matinee at Meadowbrook Theatre.

Both groups will re-assemble at 5 p.m. for a champagne cocktail hour followed by the Governor's Banquet. Featured speaker will be Dr. Edgar Harden, president of Northern Michigan University. There will be entertainment by "The Four Fits" members of S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A.

Club president Harold Richardson will welcome the guests on Friday and District Governor Proctor Dick will give the opening remarks.

Fluoride clinic scheduled

The Clarkston Elementary P. T. A. will conduct a Dental Fluoride Program again this year for the Kindergarten, 2nd, 5th and 8th grades at the Clarkston Elementary School, beginning May 1. It is urged that all children in these age brackets receive this fluoride treatment, and notices will be sent home with the children shortly with appointment cards. These cards are to be returned to the school. The charge will be $3.00 per child to cover costs, and there will be four treatments which includes cleaning, and four applications of the sodium fluoride solution.

It is highly recommended that children of the ages in the grades listed above be treated, as these are the times most new teeth have erupted, and the topical application of fluoride reduces tooth decay by about 40%. This fluoride application is sanctioned by the National P. T. A. Council and the Health Department.

"Helping Hands" project launched

This week a letter will be sent home with all Clarkston Elementary School students informing their parents of the project "Helping Hands" which is being co-sponsored by the Clarkston Elementary P. T. A. and the Clarkston Area Jaycees. As part of a nation wide project, hands will be appearing in windows of homes within the Clarkston Elementary School area as a wordless sign for children in trouble as a place of help and a haven.

If children have an injury, are bullied by other children, become lost, or more terrifying are threatened by a child molester, the youngster may know they can run to a home displaying a hand to receive aid.

The drive has been launched in this area in time to have two homes in every block posted with the "Helping Hand" sign as our spring season approaches. This will be a continuing program being carried on in many states throughout the country.

The support of area churches, Board of Education, Township and Village Officials, Jaycees, Protective Youth Association, Child Study Club, Police, and The Clarkston News has been obtained as the sponsoring groups.

The signs will be posted two to a block. Homes with the sign will all have been investigated relative to the character of the home and the importance of having someone home before and after school. Persons displaying the "Helping Hand" symbol are instructed to assist the child by summoning the parents and the proper emergency agency. They are advised against any application of medication. The symbol of help is an 8 x 9 placard on which a dark blue hand has been placed. On the back of the card are listed the local emergency telephone numbers and instructions to the volunteers.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Larry Yantiss and Mrs. Charles Robertson have asked that parents read over the letter being brought home by their children carefully. If anyone has any questions please feel free to call either 625-1787 or 625-2317. It is hoped that those people who are interested in participating in this project will show their desire by filling out the lower portion of the letter being brought home and have their children return it to the school. With cooperation it is hoped that the signs will be placed in the homes within the month.

School board approves preliminary budget of $3 million

The regular meeting of the Clarkston Board of Education was held Monday evening.

The preliminary budget which amounts to $3,169,884 was approved by the Board. By necessity, it was based on estimates as there were no fixed figures to rely on and the state aid formula is not yet known. This is the budget that will be presented to the allocation board.

A report was made by Dr. Greene on the Bond application which is still before the Michigan Finance Commission. It is doubtful any action will be taken before the Michigan legislature acts.

The Board voted unanimously to support the Helping Hand project as explained by Mrs. Yantiss of Clarkston Elementary P. T. A. School officials plan to be present at this week's session of the P. T. A. when representatives of AAA are at the meeting to discuss the traffic situation at the Clarkston Elementary school.

In other action, the board heard a report regarding the gym floor in the Junior High School. It was first thought that the entire floor would have to be replaced, but upon examination it was found that only one section will have to be replaced—the balance will be sanded and refinished. This project will be completed during the summer months.

Board members were informed that a proposal will be placed on the ballot at the regular school election in June which would require one half mill to support the county program of Vocational Education.

A motion was also made and supported to purchase water for the new Junior High school building from the township. The township had made a proposal to the Board by letter in January. Therefore when construction is started on the building, it will be tied in with the community water system.

Spring concert slated for Thursday evening

"With a Voice of Singing" is the title of the Spring Concert at Clarkston High School featuring the Girls' Glee Club and the 16 voice Honors' Choir. The performance will take place on Thursday, April 13 at 8:00 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

The Girls' Glee Club, with approximately 80 voices will be doing a variety of songs ranging from the well-known arrangement of the 23rd Psalm, "Brother James"

Air to a popular song such as "More" from Mondo Cane.

One of the sections will be an informal park scene with individuals and small groups singing their selections as they stroll through the park.

The newly-formed Honors' Choir will be singing some 16th Century madrigals, such as "The Little White Hen" as well as some 20th Century music, such as "Spring is Here" and "The Shadow of Your Smile".

Time to petition for school board seats

Petitions for candidates for two 4 year terms as Trustee on the Board of Education of the Clarkston School District are available at the Board of Education office.

The terms of Ronald Weber, President of the Board and Melvin Pohlkotte, Treasurer are expiring.

To be eligible for office, a candidate must be a citizen of the United States, above 21 years of age, have lived in Michigan for at least 6 months and a resident of the school district at least 30 days. He must own property which is assessed for taxes in his own right in the school district. If husband and wife own property jointly and are otherwise qualified, each is eligible.

The petition must have signatures of at least 25 qualified and registered voters and must be returned to the Secretary of the Board of Education, 30 days prior to the election.

Financial contributions were given to the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee from 5 area organizations last week. Responding to a personal appeal from Terry Thomas, the offerings of the group were presented to Mrs. Henry Brendle, the Committee Chairman last week at a meeting held in the Community Center. Pictured from left to right in the back row are: John Lynch, representing American Legion Post #63, Harvey Schroeder, Jaycees; Terry Thomas. Front row: Mrs. Richard Wilton, Clarkston Jaycees, Mrs. Brendle and Mrs. Arthur Rose, representative of the Women's Club.

Do these gals know how to build a library? They sure do. Just watch the dust fly when Marge Batchelder comes down off her ladder and undertakes her job of advertising and Marilyn Moore throws away the band-aids and returns to her responsibilities as Chairman of the Birthday Calendar Sales, while Pat Ripley goes right on swinging . . . into the duties of Club Listings. If anything builds the new library it will be the kind of determination the Clarkston Women's Club is blessed with.

Jim's Jottings

What a delightful 6 or 8 months I have ahead. Let's see, I think I'll slip up north for a couple weekends of fishing, then go to Canada for a week of fishing, get ready for duck hunting, then take another week for deer hunting.

I've really built up more points than that with Hazel, but maybe I can take care of that with some spur-of-the-moment vacations.

How did I get the points? By acting enthusiastic about her taking 5 days off. She and a couple friends went to Pennsylvania last week to do some looking for antiques. Antiques... that's the stuff grandmother had around the house cause grandfather didn't have the money to replace it.

Hazel's antique hunting trips are something like my hunting trips. I asked her before she left what she was going to be looking for. When she couldn't come up with anything definite I remarked, "Don't forget your gun." That's usually her comment as she watches me pack for deer hunting.

Anyway she returned with unlimited treasures. Like what she found for me. A bronze statue of Ophelia. She's been mumbling the name of Greek marsh serpent goddess at me for years, though I'm not sure Hazel knew there really was a goddess of that name or even how to spell it.

Entered as second class matter, September 4, 1931, at the Post Office at Clarkston, Michigan, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

The Saturday and Sunday Hazel was gone were quite different for me. I usually see my 3 kids only long enough at dinner time to give them heck for whatever they might have done during the day, and what I forget then I cover in the morning before I leave for work.

Last weekend, however, I stayed away from the office entirely... well, I did go in for an hour and a half Saturday. Even then the kids were with me. And, to my amazement, we got along pretty good.

Two of them can fry eggs and hamburgers so I got by four meals just fine. They didn't wander off into the unknown, they can dress themselves without my help, they don't have to be reminded to go potty, and they mind better than I figured they would. In my growling at them at mealtimes I'd forgotten they're 4, 9 and 12.

Most fun of the 2 days was combing the youngest's hair. She'll be five in August and her head has never been touched by scissors. "She's my baby!" mother cries. "If you cut her hair she won't be a baby any longer." I'm not sure what Hazel thinks Susan will be, but I'm not home enough to argue with her.

When I got through combing these long blond tresses they were short, bobbed strands. Snarl after knot fell before the mighty comb... fell right into the waste basket. She doesn't look like she'll need a haircut for another 5 years. That means her mother will have her baby that much longer and won't bother me about a replacement.

Actually, the time passed rapidly. I enjoyed the kids thoroughly. I had a great time. Hazel, plan another 5 days next spring.

Now then, maybe I can find a few days next winter to go south for golf and scrounge a day here and there this summer with the sticks and then there's antelope hunting and...

Rubbish pickin in the park is about to be halted for hobo Mona Caverly, as the strong arm of the law is lifted, getting a little help from Steve Crabtree. Ruth McDermott plays the little old lady, while Jackie Acker is the little old man in another under the lamplight scene. The four High School students are part of the cast scheduled to present "With a Voice of Singing" this Thursday at the Little Theater.

"Get that permit, before starting a fire"

Residents of Independence township should be aware of the Township Burning Ordinance #44. Adopted last year, this ordinance makes it unlawful for anyone to start an open fire without first obtaining a permit from the Fire Chief of the township. This does not apply to persons using an approved trash burner for domestic purposes.

In an effort to halt the spread of grass fires which usually occur at this time of year, the township is warning that they will enforce the ordinance.

The Fire chief will issue a permit if he is satisfied that the starting of the fire will not endanger lives and the property of others and that the owner of the premises where the fire will be started has consented thereto. A permit will be issued for a certain date, but could be cancelled if the Department of Conservation or the Township Fire Department issues "no open fire warnings".

Under section 8 of the ordinance, it states that "outdoor waste burners shall not be located within 15 feet of any building or structure and generally should be so positioned that there is no direct exposure to buildings, wood fences or piled combustible material. These trash burners should not be located so as to create a nuisance by reason of their smoke."

Three sections in the ordinance cover the provisions for penalties.

"Any person, firm or corporation, who willfully, negligently, or carelessly sets a fire which injures or endangers the property of another, may, upon conviction be assessed a fine of not more than $100 and costs of prosecution or imprisonment for 90 days or both such fine and imprisonment."

SUNDAY SERVICE

"Ye shall know that I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you."

These words of Jesus as given in the gospel of St. John, will open the responsive reading in The Bible Lesson on "DOCTRINE OF ATONEMENT," to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Child Study Club hears childrens workers

The Clarkston Child Study Club held their April meeting in the home of Mrs. Charles Curry on Warbler Drive. Cohostess was Mrs. Robert Jones.

During their business session, the members voted to sponsor the "Helping Hands" project in the community.

The program was presented by Mrs. Leon Skelly, a nursery school teacher and Mrs. Conrad Speck, a physical therapist. Both women are employed at the Oakland County Crippled Children's home.

Mrs. Speck told about the children that they work with and the type of therapy they use. Mrs. Skelly told about how they try to form good mental attitudes in the children with whom they work. She also stressed the importance of correct social habits.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Sam Lanpher, Mrs. Donald Kevern, Mrs. Rip Crandall and Mrs. Robert Bentley.

Installation of officers for the club will be held on May 4th.

Coaches of Spring Sports

By Mel Vaara

Clarkston High School will offer a variety of sports during the spring season. Some 170 boys will be competing for the Varsity letters. This is our 1st article on spring sports and we are introducing the coaches at CHS.

LARRY THIBAULT
Varsity Tennis Coach

This is Larry's 4th year as Varsity Tennis Coach. He and Mr. Thompson have been in the same situation several 2nd place finishes. Still this is a remarkable feat, as this is a young sport at that High School and Mr. Thibault has done an outstanding job in making the Wolves a title threat year after year.

Mr. Thibault will not commit himself, but I feel he has an outstanding chance to bring home the League trophy. He lost only one letterman from last years squad and has 7 good returning lettermen for this years big push, plus 25 other boys eager to make the squad.

Last year the team won

15 matches and lost only 5 and again placed 2nd in the league. This years squad will be in 20 matches, plus the State sponsored matches.

Mr. Thibault went to High School at Garden where he lettered in all sports. Earned his B. A. Degree at Northern Michigan and is working on his M. A. Degree at M. S. U.

Larry, his wife Lois and his two children live in Ortonville.

MAX INMAN
Varsity Track Coach

This is Max Inman's 1st year as Varsity Track Coach. At CHS Max is also Varsity Cross Country and Wrestling Coach.

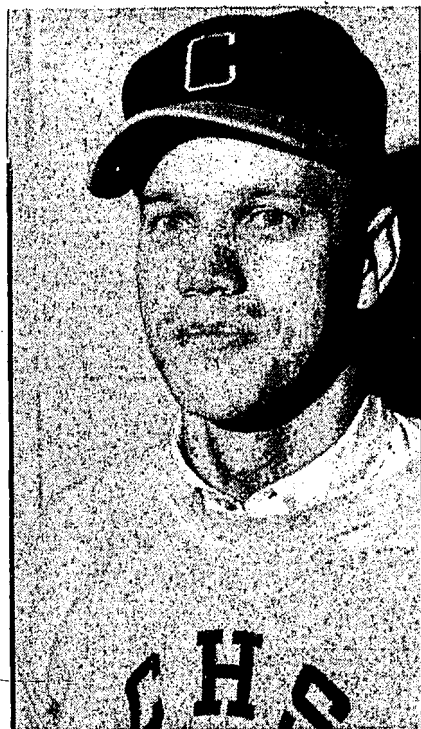

Coach Inman has 50 boys out for track, with the nucleus being Freshmen. Only 3 lettermen reported for spring practice.

The track squad will participate in 18 dual meets and engage in the Spartan, Albion, Waterford, and Oxford Relays.

Last years squad with Max Inman as an assistant track coach placed 5th in the League Meet.

Max Inman went to High School in Ionia where he lettered in football, track, and gymnastics. Mr. Inman earned his B. A. Degree at Central where he lettered in gymnastics.

Max Inman and his wife, Cathy and his one child live on Princess Lane in Clarkston.

ROGER "PETE" THOMPSON
Varsity Baseball Coach

This is Thompson's 5th year as Varsity Baseball Coach and as Pete mentioned—"Always a bridesmaid never a bride." Thompson's nine has been in 2nd place three times, still a truly remarkable record. Clarkston's baseball team is loaded with Seniors and if the boys do not get "Senioritis"—they could take the top spot.

Last year's club had a record of 13-5 and qualified for the Pontiac Press Tournament.

Thompson is a Clarkston High School graduate, where he starred in all sports. He earned his B. A. Degree at Central and lettered in baseball and track. Pete is working on his Masters Degree at M. S. U.

Pete Thompson and his wife, Shirley and three children live in Ortonville.

RALPH KENYON
Varsity Golf Coach

This is Kenyon's 5th year as Varsity Golf Coach. Coach Kenyon has 22 boys out for golf with 4 of them being lettermen. Ralph hasn't had the success in golf as he has had in football, but with a few more birdies and pars he hopes to be with the leaders.

Ralph has coached at Clarkston for 8 years with all 8 in Varsity football, and 6 years in 9th grade basketball.

The golf team will participate in 13 golf matches, also will play in the Pontiac Press Tournament, League and Regional matches.

Kenyon went to High School at Allegan, graduated from Albion College. At both schools he starred in football. He earned his M. A. Degree from Eastern Michigan University.

PAUL TUNGATE
J.V. Baseball Coach

Paul is a newcomer to the coaching ranks at Clarkston. Tungate coached two years at Greenville.

Some 40 boys have tried out for the squad, and Tungate will have a tough task in narrowing the team down to nine boys for the 14 game schedule.

Paul went to Middleville High, where his coach was Bill Hanson. An oddity in Paul coaching J. V. Baseball, he is replacing his ole coach—Hanson. Bill coached J. V. Baseball for the past three years. When Tungate was at High School his principal was Milford Mason.

Paul graduated from Michigan State, where he played Varsity Baseball for the Spartans. Tungate was the starting catcher his senior year.

Paul Tungate is the only single member of the coaching core—but he plans to eliminate the situation in August.

Staying with their sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler of Almond Lane until they find an apartment are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Banks. Formerly employed in Midland, Mr. Banks is now working at a local saw-mill.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Pohlkotte II and children Patrice, Alicia and Mark of Shelley Drive recently returned from a very busy and exciting week's trip to Little Rock, Arkansas. The occasion that drew them to Little Rock was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of an aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Otis West. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thayer, Mrs. Pohlkotte's sister, on Crab Apple also attended the celebration, and the daughters' parents Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Vaughan from Union Lake flew down to also attend. Mrs. Pohlkotte enjoyed visiting another sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Ed Luckas in Lexington, Kentucky and the family also stayed in Memphis, Tennessee, a day. Combining business with pleasure Mr. Pohlkotte had to spend a day each at Evansville, Indianapolis, and South Bend, Indiana and St. Louis, Missouri. A sight-seeing tour of Notre Dame University with the log chapel in Indiana and a visit to the old state capitol of Missouri, which is similar to the capitol in Washington D. C., proved very interesting to the family. Patrice, who is presently studying geography in school was very impressed with the six state rivers she saw.

Dr. Lehman Strauss was a guest speaker at the First Baptist Church of Clarkston, each night this past week and spoke on Bible Prophecy, which was very interesting. Reverend David Dee of Paramus invited the Maranatha Baptist Church to provide the music each evening.

The Saturday before Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stark and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stark of Wolverine Lake treated their folks Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stark of Pontiac to dinner at the Roostertail in Detroit in honor of their folks thirtieth wedding anniversary. They were very impressed with Brenda Lee, who was appearing there that evening.

Due to the recent death of Mrs. Buehrig's father Mr. Roy C. Carter of Pontiac, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Buehrig of Reese Road had out-of-town guests for the weekend. Besides daughters Heidi and a friend John Brawmi from Northern Michigan University and Bobette from Western University, Mrs. Buehrig's sister Mrs. Edward Trebilcock from West Lake, Ohio, and a niece and husband Mr. and Mrs. Dan Nay from Loraine, Ohio, visited.

Two members of the 45 voice Wheaton Academy Choir from Illinois, Renske Greve and Marlene Schwalm spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thompson on Almond Lane. The choir under the direction of Mr. Thomas Fulghum performed at the Maranatha Baptist Church Sunday morning, much to the enjoyment of all who heard them.

A very lovely wedding shower in honor of Karen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carr of Plum Drive was hosted by the bridesmaids at the Platter Box last Sunday. Karen's fiance Jim Shannon, who is stationed with the Air Force at Biloxi, Mississippi, is yet maneuvering for a leave to get married. Mr. Carr provided corsages at the shower for Karen, the mothers including Mrs. James Shannon of Drayton Plains and the bridesmaids, Karen's sisters, Lynda Kogelman of Drayton Plains, Debbie, and Pat; Jim's sister Pat Shannon; and Judy Pike and Char Egres of Drayton Plains. Also receiving corsages were the flower girls, Belinda Popp of Drayton Plains and Tina Whaley of Plum Drive, while ringbearer Mark Whaley wore a boutonniere. Karen received many beautiful gifts, and a delicious buffet lunch was provided for the fifty or more guests. Relatives attending were Mrs. Carr's mother, Mrs. Raymond Brown of Detroit, two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Robert Brown of Birmingham and Mrs. Kenneth Brown of Warren, and Mr. Carr's sister Mrs. Harry Dovelian of Commerce. Aunts there were Mrs. Clair Brown and Judy of Centerline, Mrs. Frank Braun of Warren, Mrs. Ruth Braun of Birmingham, and Mrs. Edna Shemet of Detroit. Cousins included were Mrs. Robert Rolf and Mrs. Bruce Walker of Detroit, Mrs. James Kuhn of Warren and Mrs. David Braun of Centerline. Also attending were Mrs. Harold Lippert of Drayton Road, Mrs. Wayne DeBeauclair of Drayton Plains and a long-time friend of Mrs. Carr's Mrs. Arthur Moran of Orchard Lake.

Another Day

The sudden coming of Michigan's spring was welcomed by the early settlers of Independence. Farmers got down to the business of clearing and planting for the only permissible work in the severe winters was tree cutting. Now the oxen and horses, turned out of their makeshift shelter, were put to the job of pulling the stumps. There wasn't always time to take on the time consuming work of burning these, so the earliest settlers tipped the stumps along the boundaries of their land claims, where decades later they still flung gnarled roots skyward in a shaggy fence.

The pioneer wife gave a sigh of relief as the stock was turned away from the house to spend the nights tethered in the fields. Only rarely did a farmer have the time or money to build both a cabin for his family and a barn for his livestock, so more often than not the cattle spent the winter in a lean-to built to the back of the cabin, the next thing to sharing the family quarters. And these cabins were small. The first cabin large enough to entitle it to be called a house was built by Thomas Beardslee on Sashabaw Plains—eighteen feet square.

Someone must have gotten around during the winter months for spring always brought a burst of weddings. Circuit riders put in more frequent appearances, too, for even the heavy spring mud on the old Territorial Road was preferable to the biting winds and ice and snow of Michigan's winter. There was a fresh rush of eastern people looking for land to settle on and the people who had already spent a year or so in the wilderness that was Independence welcomed new neighbors.

Spring brought the medicine sellers to Independence, some with their wares in a pack on their back, the more affluent in their own brightly painted wagons. The children, a little more free-wheeling than their hard-working parents, were usually the first to spot the medicine sellers coming down the trail. They were welcome visitors for most of them had traveled far before they got to this area, generally from the direction of Detroit or up from Toledo or Monroe. The news hungry settlers invited them for dinner or kept them overnight while they gleaned word of the outside world. Sometimes these men carried letters picked up along the way and sometimes, since the senders didn't always know the exact location of the hoped for recipients, the search went on for months before the person whose name appeared on the envelope could be found.

Meals and amenities dispensed with, these mobile merchants would take out their wares. There were bottles of brightly colored evil tasting liquid, packages of powders, boxes of pills, all promising to cure any and every ill. More than one mother dosed her family for winter doldrums with an Elixer Tonic about 40% alcohol that was guaranteed to give zest to drooping spirits. Or if it wasn't needed internally, it cured rheumatism if rubbed on aching joints. In these swampy regions there was always a buyer for such remedies as Piso's Consumptive Cure or Allen's Lung Balm. The medicine seller carried a supply of herbs and drugs for the housewife who scorned the use of these modern bottled concoctions and preferred to mix her own.

Spring brought other visitors to the land—the gypsies. Their coming was greeted by the children with a mixture of delight and awe for there were whispered tales of gypsies spitting away youngsters who became members of their band. Some young farm boys, circumscribed within the clearing of their father's farm and craving adventure, hung around the gypsy camp hoping for a kidnapping or at least an invitation, which never came, to join the wanderers.

If the children were delighted by the appearance of these strange dark people, their parents were apprehensive. They had heard stories too, about cattle and horses that disappeared. Clothing seemed to have a special appeal to these tattered people and housewives kept a hawk-eye on their linens and clothing that was spread on the grass, bleaching out the dullness of winter. The gypsies with their gaudy painted wagons and bright ragged apparel, footloose and free, stared back at these hard working settlers with their never-ending chores of clearing and planting, cooking and preserving, and the two groups pitied each other.

Where they came from was as much a mystery as where they went for suddenly, one spring morning the tribe would be gone. Parents were relieved, children disappointed at the loss of brightness in their neighborhood, and many young girls got together and whispered to each other what the gypsy fortuneteller had revealed to them.

Our thanks to Mrs. Addie Allen of Oxford who shared her memories as well as the tales passed down to her from her mother and grandmother, Mrs. Orsamus Beardslee.

Volunteers will be honored

The Oakland County Children's Village will honor its many volunteers on Monday, April 17th. James VanLeuven, Director of the Children's Village, has mailed over one hundred and fifty invitations to these volunteers inviting them to attend a luncheon which will be held in the main dining room of the Reception Center.

These people who give so generously of their time and talents each month to work with the children or offer a particular service to assist the staff, are a very important part of the Children's Village program. James W. Hunt, Director of Juvenile Services for the Oakland County Probate Court, will be the main speaker at the luncheon. Some of the children who reside at the Village will present a program for the guests.

Clarkston, Holly students will watch that machine

Clarkston High's Student Government is sponsoring the annual "Computer Dance" on April 15th. Dancing will be from 8:30 until 11:30. To develop better inter-school relationships, chairman Caroline Giles has invited Holly High School students to attend the dance also.

It will be held as a sock-hop in the gym. Only students who have previously bought their computer questionnaires will be admitted to the dance.

Included in the questionnaires are 50 questions about the applicant and his likes and dislikes. Each participant will be matched with at least two other people.

A band will be provided for entertainment.

World Literacy worker at Sashabaw Church

Dr. Frank C. Laubach, developer of a literacy program for tribes which had no written language, and expeditor of learning to read and write by the slogan "Each One Teach One", will be the speaker at Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church 5331 Maybee Road, on Friday evening, April 21, at 7:30.

The occasion is a regular congregational family night potluck dinner beginning at 6:30 in the church dining room. However, interested friends in the community and in neighboring churches are cordially invited to hear Dr. Laubach explain his literacy program. There is no admission charge but an offering will be received for this work.

Dr. Laubach, a graduate of Princeton University and with doctorate from Columbia, was a missionary to the Philippines a number of years ago when the severe problem arose of trying to present religious teaching to people whose dialects had never been reduced to writing. He developed a method of simple symbols for sounds in the dialect and taught villagers to read and write, then began putting translations of the Bible into this new form for the dialect of each tribe with which he worked. His literacy program has helped other missionaries from Egypt to the Maylay States to South Attending will be Judge and Mrs. Donald E. Adams, Judge and Mrs. Norman R. Barnard, and Judge and Mrs. Eugene A. Moore.

The high spot of our family album! We've only seen Meg hold this solemn expression once before, when she was a freckled angel in the Sunday School pageant . . . and then she wasn't quite so cross-eyed!

Meg's our darling adopted daughter, and usually she's a little livewire . . . full of surprises. It was Meg's enthusiasm for Church School that led us to improve our own record of church attendance. It was Meg's searching question, "Why don't we ever thank God for dinner like the Andersons?" that revived the custom of mealtime grace in our home. And it was Meg's worry about "the poor hungry children" that eventually drew us into our work for the Mission Fund.

Frankly, we used to be "fringe Christians," giving God very little of our time or thoughts. Meg was God's instrument in showing us that our church really needs us . . . and that it is a blessed thing to be needed.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Fido Better Stay Home

Do dogs get spring fever or are the recent reports of so many dogs running in packs the result of a population explosion in the dog world? Whatever the reason, the County is going to get tough with people who allow their dogs to roam. The Village of Clarkston has no ordinance regarding dogs running loose, but Act 339 of the Public Acts of 1919 known as the "Michigan Dog Law" is going to be enforced in the County.

Under this law it states that "Dogs should be confined to their own premises or they should be under reasonable control of a responsible person when off the premises." And with our conversations with a representative of the County Dog Warden's office, that doesn't mean that when a 3 or 4 year old child is out with a large dog, that that dog is under control.

So, if you value, Fido, Rover, or Shep or whatever the family dog is named, you'd better keep him home! Dogs seem to have a primitive instinct to run in packs, wolf-like. Untold damage is done when they do--sheep, chickens, and deer are often killed. When this happens, you're responsible. And in this area, it need not be pointed out that children have been seriously injured by packs of dogs.

So, better keep that dog tied up or fenced in!

"If It Fizz . . ." Whose Eyes Are Red?"

by Jim Fitzgerald

The seagull is a foul bird, and I have no great love for even nice birds, but there was this seagull stuck to a beer can and I might have got a quick case of red eyes.

Notice that I say "might." I am not yet prepared to admit that tough, cynical fathers sometimes shed tears. Such an admission would tarnish my he-man image which has been patiently created by years of kicking cats, growling at sentimental birthday cards, and sneering at Doris Day. I must guard this image carefully because I have an 8-year-old son who is ever-alert for signs that Old Dad is really a softie.

It all started a couple of years ago when a car smacked Blackie dead. Blackie was the family mongrel, extremely popular with everyone except Old Dad who petted him only when nobody was looking. There was great and terrible wailing when Blackie was found plastered to the pavement. It was the day before Christmas and, in the spirit of Scrooge Reformed, I hurried out and got a new puppy. I wanted no weeping in my wassal.

My return home with Blackie's replacement under my arm, did indeed occasion one of those mushy moments made famous on old Saturday Evening Post covers. I had hoped to stop the stupid crying. Instead, everyone bawled a little harder. This time, my wife assured me, they were tears of joy. Which are just as noisy as the other kind.

"Hey, lookit," said Eddie with great wonder, "Daddy is crying too."

This was a ridiculous charge and I quickly denied it as I left the room.

Eddie was not convinced. He remembers the alleged tears from his father long after forgetting Blackie. He still delights in telling visitors how Old Dad crumpled for a dead mutt. And I still deny the canard, to which he always retorts:

"Yeah, but you had red eyes. I saw 'em."

And Eddie is constantly on the lookout for more red eyes. Like a few Sundays ago. . .

Our family went over the freeway to Grandmother Fitz's home. While the women and kids gabbed, I made my usual retreat to my father's den to read the local paper. My father has been dead 2 years, but this is still his room. My mother will probably shoot me for saying it, but I'll swear it still smells like him. The countless pictures of his 16 grandchildren, of whom he was so proud, still hang in no pattern on the wall where he nailed them. There are the 5 high school graduation pictures of his children, all in one huge frame almost as long as the couch from where he watched TV with his eyes closed.

And there is the big old desk, the kind they don't make anymore, where he sat and paid the monthly bills for almost 40 years. I remember a day, long ago, when a spinster was visiting our home. She looked at my father at his desk, writing checks and making jokes, and she said softly to my mother: "I wonder if you know how lucky you are."

I was thinking thoughts like these, sitting in the den not really reading the paper, when I was suddenly aware Eddie was watching me.

"I'll bet you were remembering Grandpa," he said, " 'cause your eyes are red."

What a goofy kid. If he hadn't crowded into the chair with me, and if he didn't look so darn much like my father, and have the same name, I probably would have belted him.

IT WAS A FEW days later when I saw the newspaper picture of that seagull in Rhode Island. He stuck his foot into a beer can and can't shake loose. Efforts to catch him have failed. That poor bird staggers through the air with can firmly attached.

What could better typify the rape of nature? Some ignorant clown guzzled a beer, threw the empty can over his shoulder, and went merrily on his way. And in the clown's wake there is an innocent bird, one of God's freest spirits, cruelly shackled for life.

No real man would get red eyes over the plight of a stupid seagull.

But I'm glad Eddie wasn't around to see how tough I was. △

Dear Editor:

Just a word of thanks to each and everyone who made possible the "Open House" at the high school. The new addition is very nice and we are thankful for the many advantages made possible for our students.

This is the first year we have had a student in the high school so we are not familiar with what they have done in the past. However, in 1964 the Junior High held an open house at the beginning of the year. This gave us an opportunity to meet all the teachers, find out what each expects from students, the way they mark and their ideas on discipline. The past 2 school years I've called and inquired (at least 3 times) about a similar program with no results.

We would suggest at this time that plans be made and dates set aside for an Open House in September at both the Junior and Senior High, preferably different evenings.

If other parents are interested please write to this paper or call the school.

We would also like to know the reason our graduating class no longer has Baccalaureate service.

We also wish to congratulate you for a job well done, yet still being improved. The Clarkston News now is the best it's been since we started receiving it several years ago. At one time the news carried school news regarding the honor roll. Our children are both on the honor roll but I hadn't given it much thought until last marking period. A neighbor boy having finally made the honor roll for the first time, and knowing we received the Clarkston News called to ask us to save the article for him. Would it be possible to have articles on this in the future? Having ones name in the paper means a great deal especially to those who have to really work for their marks.

-GOD'S WILL AND PURPOSE-

He hath shown thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God. Micah 6:8.

Righteousness doth surely exalt a nation. Proverbs 14:34.

Rejoice O daughter of Zion for behold, thy King cometh unto thee. He is just and having salvation and He shall speak peace unto the nations. His dominion shall be from sea to sea, and from the great River to the ends of the earth. Zechariah 9:9-10.

Prophesy, in the realm of the spirit, implies the perception, the understanding, and the speaking forth of God's purpose for His world, of His Will for man and of the obligation which man must observe toward God and toward his brother if he is to bring his life to fulfillment.

The ancient Hebrew Prophets, Micah, Zechariah and all those whose words appear in our Old Testament were gifted men of the spirit; they were interpreters of God's Will and when they spoke, the people, even Kings and Priests, gave ear, as to men having great authority. The Prophets knew the Hand of God to be the primary refining and redeeming influence in the life of men and of nations. Superior to and outside the established religious pattern, they brought to life a force wholly apart from the formalities of temple sacrifice and as free men, lacking all sanction except that of the inner light, they offered new and vital religious leadership.

Beginning with these ancient Sages there runs through human thought, as it is expressed in Hebrew Scripture, the idea of the indispensibility before God of individual and of group morality, the idea of one rule in all the world and the promise of an active and splendid peace and happiness in human affairs under the leadership of One, even Jesus in whom the whole wisdom and mercy of God would come to sharp focus, One whose life and character would serve as a framework for man's brightest hopes and best aspirations.

Behold, spake the Prophet Zechariah . . . Thy King cometh unto thee, He is just and having salvation!

Eternal God, our Father: Give us, we beseech Thee, ears to hear that which Thy great Prophets have said concerning Jesus. In His name we pray . . . AMEN.

"Our Musical Heritage" to be April 19 & 20

For the first time the Junior High Vocal Music Department will present a variety show entitled "Our Musical Heritage" on April 19 and 20 in the Junior High Gymnasium.

Under the direction of Miss Grayce Warren, the program will portray, through music, the gift that has become part of the history of the United States. From the time of the pilgrims, the songs of the western frontier, the Southern songs, the music of the Gay Nineties and the Roaring Twenties, along with the songs of the college students and the music of today, the students will present a delightful program of gaiety and fond memories.

In busy preparation for the undertaking, the students are now working on posters, set designs, costumes, music and dance routines for the show. Tickets will soon be available from any Music Department student. The public is cordially invited to attend.
