Kindergarten registration

Friday

The Clarkston Community Schools will register kindergarten children for the 1967-68 school term Friday, May 26, 1967. Registration will be conducted in each elementary building between the hours of 9:00 a.m.-12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m.-4:00 p.m.

State law requires that children be five years of age on or before December 1, 1967 to be eligible for enrollment for the school term of 1967-68.

A birth certificate or other proof of age will be required before a child can be enrolled in school. If you do not have a birth certificate for your child, please call your building principal for advice.

State law also requires kindergarten children to have protective shots and a doctor's statement attesting to the physical condition of the child. However, should this requirement conflict with religious beliefs or other objections, the parent or guardian may be released from these requirements by filing a statement of objections with the building principal at the time of registration.

Physical examination forms will be available at all elementary buildings at the time of registration.

A kindergarten material fee of $2.00 can be paid at the time of registration.

Early deadline next week

The Clarkston News office will be closed on Tuesday, May 30. Due to the closing, the deadlines for news and advertising copy must be moved ahead. Deadline for all news and ads with the exception of classified ads will be Friday at 5 P.M. Those ads will be accepted until 12 Noon on Monday.

The office will be open as usual on Saturday morning. Your cooperation is solicited.

Annual Memorial Day Services to begin at 10 A.M.

"Let no ravages of time testify to coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided Republic". This order issued in 1868 now extends to the memory of the dead of all our wars. The custom has grown and become a part of the way of life and now includes decorating the graves of families and friends.

With these thoughts in mind, Campbell-Richmond Post #63 invite all area residents to join in the sacred duty of honoring those veterans who gave their lives and those who gave service to their country.

The annual Memorial Day parade will begin at the old Methodist Church at 10 A.M. and will terminate at the Veterans Plot at Lakeview Cemetery. Participating groups will be the American Legion, Campbell-Richmond Post #63, leading with the colors and rifle squad, W W I veterans riding in cars, The Civil Air Patrol, Clarkston High School Band, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Brownies and Pioneer Girls. These groups should be ready to form the line at 9:30. It is hoped that all veterans in the community will participate.

Members of the Post remind that no horses, no antique or decorated cars, no bikes and no pets or floats should enter the parade because of the purpose of the sacred day. Children on bikes going to the cemetery are asked to remain behind the marching units.

At the services at the Cemetery, the Rev. Father Delaney of Our Lady of the Lakes Church will give the Memorial address. Everett Butters will give the Gettysburg Address, which he has done for this special occasion for over 25 years.

A vocal group comprised of Dan Addis, Bob Jones, Spence Butters, Charles Robinson, Bill Mansfield and Jackson Byers will give two selections. The Clarkston High School Band will also play.

The Invocation and Benediction will be given by Homer Richmond, Chaplain of the Post.

Refreshments will be provided for the children by Campbell-Richmond Post at the corner of Washington and Main Streets following the parade.

OFFICERS ELECTED

Officers were elected at the regular meeting of the Clarkston Youth Assistance Group held on Monday evening.

Mrs. Henry Brendle was re-elected to serve as Chairman of the group. Frank Tant will serve as Vice-Chairman while Mrs. Ronald Balousek will assume the duties of secretary. John Lynch will serve the group as Treasurer.

Edgar Flood, director of services on the county level discussed the program at a recent conference he had attended in Colorado. His comprehensive report was on "glue sniffing".

The officers will be installed when the annual meeting is held on Monday evening, June 26.

Poor deer

A small deer was hit by a truck on the Dixie Highway about 11 A.M. last Friday morning. Evidently lost and frightened it attempted to run across the highway. A man driving a pickup truck tried to brake, but the deer smashed his windshield.

The animal was able to resume his travels and bounded off south of the highway to the surprise of spectators.

Clarkston man recipient of Silver Beaver award

The Silver Beaver award, the highest honor a Boy Scout council can give for service to boys was awarded to a Clarkston man last Thursday night at Oakland University. Richard A. Snover of 6221 Orion Road, Clarkston was one of the 4 recipients of the award.

The four were chosen by a committee selected from council persons who have previously received the award. The names of those honored were not revealed until the awards announcement was made before about 250 persons attending Clinton Valley Council's annual meeting and ladies night dinner.

Each was given a Silver Beaver figure on a blue and white ribbon and a certificate. Honored also at the meeting were den mothers, cubmasters, den mothers, cubmasters, scoutmasters, explorer advisors and their assistants from Clinton Valley Council.

Mr. Snover is an assistant district commissioner in the Manito district of the council. The other 3 who were similarly honored were Alexander Black of Mt. Clemens, Arthur Brooks of Birmingham and Kenneth Goff of Bloomfield Hills.

George De Courcy of Farmington a council vice president was elected president of the council during the meeting.

Showing their mutual admiration for the Michigan Week efforts of their fellow fourth graders from the Andersonville school are Lee Ann Young, Lisa Gooch, Linda Potter and Julie Purves. The four students of Miss Lindeman had made the background display for the school while the projects in front of them had been completed by four of Miss Chambers students.

Jim's Jottings

If you will just bear with me through a few background details I think I can tell you how the final battle of World War II, Okinawa, was won by one lone signalman's quick decision.

This sailor, we'll call him Paul Gunnerfeldt, cause that's his name, of Lake Orion, and I were in boot camp together. We were together 14 weeks and that was the last I saw of him until about 10 years ago.

But in 1944 he went to signalman's school from boot. He was then assigned to a merchant ship. It had about 4 Navy men including the captain, a commander. Out in the Pacific, in 1945, the ship was steaming for Okinawa loaded with beer and some ammunition.

They were traveling a zig-zag course protecting the beer in convoy. This way you zig at, say 30 degrees for 7 minutes, then zag at 330 degrees for 12 minutes, etc.

As our hero neared the war zone General Quarters sounded. Someone spotted the enemy or else a guy tripped over the alarm wire. Paul was torn between two duties. He was either supposed to get on the phones or get to the signal deck. So, he stopped near the head of a ladder (steps) and put on his helmet and life jacket.

Just then the captain started up the steps. Spotting the signalman, the captain said, "Flags, what do you think we should do?"

Our seasoned 19-year-old veteran looked out, saw some of the ships starting to zig and observed, "I don't know about you captain, but I think I'd turn right."

The Captain, not being an Annapolis man, may have never turned if it wasn't for our hero. The ship might never have delivered the beer. It could have crashed into the coast and started an international incident.

This experience has stuck with Paul through the years and influenced his recent purchase of a cruiser, the Baldersdash, on Lake Huron. And he's still carrying beer for the troops and making those big decisions, like "I believe you should turn right."

Local fires

A fire at the W.E. Whitmer home at 112 Wompole Drive one night last week could have had dire results. The family awakened to the smell of smoke but were able to get out of the smoke filled house after alerting the Independence Township Fire Department. It occurred at about 1 A.M.

A smoldering fire in a chair destroyed it and burned down into the floor. A nearby wall and draperies also suffered damage. Firemen estimate that with the cost of re-decorating, damage could be in the neighborhood of $3,000.

Last Friday morning, local firemen answered a call about 11 A.M. at 9981 M-15 when a straw pile caught on fire.

TENNIS

"Hats off to the Tennis Team!" Coach Larry Thibault and the team won the 1st Wayne-Oakland League title in the history of the school. The team garnered 15 points, followed closely by Northville with 12 1/2 points. The Clarkston victory was almost assured, because the Wolves were undefeated in league play. The league play, plus the all-league match, are combined together for the title.

So far this has been a successful year for the Athletic Department. Coach Kenyon's football team tied for 2nd place, Coach McGrath's basketball team went undefeated for 1st place, Coach Inman's Cross Country team won 5th and now the Tennis Team took another 1st place.

This tennis title gives the Wolves the lead in the all-important race for the Wayne-Oakland All Sports Trophy--after completion of the above four sports the points are divided as follows: Clarkston, 41; Bloomfield Hills, 39; Northville, 31; Clarenceville, 30; Holly 23; West Bloomfield, 20 1/2; Milford, 20; and Brighton, 11 1/2.

In the League Tennis match, Kim Beattie and Tom Bullard won three matches before losing in the finals. Mark Griffith and Bill Bullard won one match and lost one in doubles play. Jack Sansom and Brian Gallipo won two matches and lost one.

In singles play, Mike Dougherty won three matches before losing in the finals to Northville. Kirk Beattie won two matches and was in the same trouble as Dougherty, so Coach Thibault forfeited Beattie's chance to give Dougherty a rest. Mark Erickson won one match but lost to Holly in the next encounter. Great job, Coach Thibault and Tennis Team.

The tennis team increased their dual record to 12-0 by defeating Fenton 5-0. This week the team has matches against Waterford Kettering, Pontiac Central and the Regionals at Flint Central.

GOLF

The golf team participated in a Regional meet in Midland, Michigan. This is a meet sponsored by the Michigan H.S. Athletic Association. There were 21 teams entered and Clarkston was 17th. The Clarenceville win was another big one for Pete Thompson and his 8th rated team in the county. Last Monday Clarkston hammered Clarenceville 7-0 and Northville bombed Bloomfield Hills 10-1. This Thursday game will decide the Wayne-Oakland League title. The contest will be played at Clarkston. Game time, 4:00.

Cary Uban continued his hot hitting as he had one triple and 2 doubles. Uban had a triple and double in the Holly game, and a home run and double in the Bloomfield game. Our hats off to you Cary for your outstanding work with the bat.

Boy Scout Troop #105

On the first week end in May 23 Boy Scouts and 5 Scouters of Troop 105 attended a 2 day camp at Bloomer No. 3 Park Unit which is a part of the Ortonville Recreation Area. Everyone enjoyed staying in the outdoor center which lodges up to 32 and is well equipped and available for overnight camping by groups such as ours. The boys took advantage of the many opportunities for passing scout requirements and acquiring scout skills in hiking, trailing and stalking, cooking, physical fitness, and nature study.

Many of the scouts enjoyed games of softball or baseball during the weekend stay. Early Saturday evening everyone gathered for an exciting game of Capture-the-Flag. Afterwards, we spent the rest of a wonderful day around a big fire in the fireplace eating popcorn and enjoying many delightful skits.

Sunday morning after breakfast and church services were over, the boys were out exploring again, everything from the hills and dales to the pine woods and lakes. For most of us these pleasurable hours passed all too quickly and it seemed that we had hardly arrived before it was time to leave. After finishing lunch and doing the necessary chores around the lodge in preparation for leaving, we packed all of our duffel away into the waiting cars, boarded them ourselves, and reluctantly drove away. We will look forward to coming again and meanwhile will enjoy many happy memories of our days of camping with fellow scouts at Ortonville Recreation Area.

Troop 105 also participated in the Manito District Show-O-Ree held last week-end at McFeely's Resort making an excellent showing all-around. Each troop was to have dealt with "Signaling, Its Types and Uses". A 15' foot signaling tower was lashed together for semaphore and a telegraph line was lashed out for the transmission of Morse code. This demonstration brought Troop 105 the top unit honors for camp project. In addition, the troop also received the honor of first place for its camp set-up.

Altogether there were five patrols represented from 105. Each was scored on its performance by our own scout leader and presented with a 1st, 2nd, or 3rd place award. The Cougars received a blue ribbon for first place patrol, and the Wolves, Flaming Arrows, Eagles, and Wolverines all received second place, red ribbons.

There's a great lesson in blowing bubbles. We're so sure we can blow the biggest bubble ever blown. And, for a second, we're sure we have.

Then the bubble is gone . . . with it our unreasoning self-confidence. So we content ourselves with blowing smaller bubbles — the biggest smaller bubbles we can . . . the kind of bubbles that last awhile!

The best time for your child to begin religious training is before he becomes conscious of his limitations. When he starts gradually to recognize the boundaries of his ability, he'll need real guidance and encouragement in devoting himself to goals which last awhile.

The rich, full, happy, useful life is not wasted on shallow dreams that are but for the moment. It is dedicated to doing one's best.

And, for centuries, it has been our Faith, taught and nurtured in our churches, which has inspired in men their best.

Are they in the wrong group?

A paper out west has pointed out "An insidious effect of the hardcore anti-Viet Nam campaign is its enthrallment of thousands of young idealists who either disregard or are ignorant of the horrors of 20th century totalitarianism." The paper suggests that these young people should ask themselves if they go along with those who burn the American flag, and what it stands for, if they want a Viet Cong victory in Viet Nam and if they wish the United States and other countries involved to stand aside as totalitarian aggression sweeps over the small nations of the world? "If they don't, as certainly the great majority don't, they have taken up with the wrong crowd."

From Col. Frederick E. Davids of the State Police come some pointed comments which seem allied to this: "One of the most significant factors in the complacent attitude toward youth problems today is the false teaching which tends to blame society for all of the frustrations and woes visited on young people," Col. Davids said.

"Teenagers and their parents have been subjected to a foolhardy theory which endorses rebellious conduct against authority, law and order, or any regulatory measures which restrict their whims, wishes and desires."

"This astonishing belief has spread into the school room, living room, the court room, and now into the streets of our nation in the form of riots."

"No doubt society has failed our youth but not in the way many seem to think," Col. Davids noted. "Rather, the dereliction has been the failure to teach them the meaning of discipline, self respect, restraint and respect for law and order and the rights of others, consequently the lesson is now both painful and costly."

"The vast majority of today's youth are deeply concerned about moral values. Those involved in criminal acts represent a decided minority, but we can't afford to turn our heads and hope it will go away. It will not. It is imperative that all of us pitch in with a firm resolve to do all within our power to help today's youth become the world's great leaders of tomorrow."

PEEKIN' into the PAST

10 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS

Clarkston Mayor, Edward Thomson and his wife Barbara with a group of St. Ignace civic officials toured the Mackinac Bridge now under construction. This was done following a luncheon commemorating "Mayor's Day."

George Elliot of Holcomb street tried to pull a dandelion from his lawn. By the time he had the whole plant out, he found the dandelion had a root just 37 inches long.

Mrs. Mary Baldwin was presented with a wrist watch at the Mayor's Day luncheon in recognition of her service to the village. She has served as Treasurer for the past 30 years.

25 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS

Last week Inez Miller and her dance pupils appeared in a June Festival in the Clarkston school auditorium. About 400 guests enjoyed the very fine program.

Price's Tea Room in Pontiac was the scene of the final meeting of the year of the Junior Literary Club. The retiring president, Mrs. Harlan Oakes and the Club sponsor, Miss Ada Scrace were presented with gifts. The group then attended the theater where they saw Mauréen O'Hara and John Payne in "To the Shores of Tripoli."

The regular summer ferry service went into effect at the Straits of Mackinac last week with hourly service between the two peninsulas.

Mrs. Alice Wellington Wallace and William M. Boothby of Clarkston received Master of Arts degrees at the 98th annual commencement of the University of Michigan.

We hear of "space age" this and "space age" that, but from the Co-op extension service comes news of what the "space age" super market will be. And it is to be here in just 8 years --1975 say these experts!

I think that they are going to take away a lot of our essential things in life when we get to this ultimate in "space age grocery buying". These specialists say that the shopper will automatically select "menus of the day". I would really louse that up when I decided that what was left of Sunday's roast would taste good in a stew on Tuesday night. And what of my good gardening neighbors who drop in with sacks of freshly picked vegetables? The housewife would select

Getting to the Soul of Things

by Jim Fitzgerald

When something startled my late grandmother she used to say: "Well bless my soul."

If I could prove that Grandma really had something to bless, I might be $200,000 richer.

To get the dough, my proof of the human soul would have to be more convincing than that submitted by a Los Angeles minister and 38 other guys.

It's like this; SEVENTEEN YEARS ago a bachelor named James Kidd disappeared while on a prospecting trip in Arizona. He has never been found but he left behind a will that's gained world-wide publicity. His $200,000 estate is to go to anyone who can give "some scientific proof" of a soul of the human body which leaves at death.

Next month an Arizona judge will determine the winning claimant, if any. Judge Robert Myers, of Phoenix, said it would not be necessary to convince him there is an eternal soul. "My task is to administer the estate for Mr. Kidd. He is the one who must be convinced, hence the evidence must satisfy not me, but be presumed to satisfy Mr. Kidd."

I mentioned that at least 39 people plan to put the arm of Judge Myers for all that lovely money. Some are just greedy, some are kooky, and some have the noblest of motives. If I win, the rate, I will have the most noble motive of all. I would use the prize money to finance a search for Kidd. I would like to ask him how come he's such a trouble-maker.

If you don't believe there is an eternal soul, how would I convince you otherwise? Think about it. For $200,000, or merely to make points in heaven, how would you prove there is a soul?

The Rev. Samuel Marcus of Los Angeles is the minister chasing the $200,000. He didn't tell newsmen how he would argue his case. Inadvertently, however, he did give a clue. Before he became a minister 3 years ago, Rev. Marcus was a therapist in a mental hospital. Why did he switch to the cloth?

"My soul called me to the ministry," he said.

So that is one thing a soul does and I am glad to have the explanation. I have always wondered what some ministers meant when they said they were "called" to another parish. I suspected that maybe the pay was higher at the new church. Now I know differently -- at least in the case of Rev. Marcus. However, I don't think he is a typical preacher. Newspapers described him as a "wedding chapel minister" who presides at one of a chain of Los Angeles marriage outlets. He was asked how many weddings he has performed since getting the call from his soul. He wouldn't tell.

It's the competition; we don't want them to know, but I can tell you it's in the thousands," he explained.

I don't think I want Rev. Marcus to get that $200,000.

But I can't stop him. I know there is a soul. After all, brevity is the soul of wit. A lovely person is the soul of kindness. When I'm in a dark room, I can't see a soul.

There is a soul, but I can't prove it to save my you-know-what.

I am afraid Judge Myers has an impossible task. The only way to prove there is a soul is to separate it from the body and put it on a table where you can see it live independently; touch it and smell it. Nobody can do that, not even for $200,000.

Nobody, that is, except God who is all soul and all souls. And He doesn't need $200,000.

Sorry, Mr Kidd baby, you'll just have to keep the faith. Bless your soul. Δ

-GETTYSBURG 1863-

On the occasion of the dedication of the National Cemetery at Gettysburg in Pennsylvania on November 9, 1863, President Abraham Lincoln, his mind burdened by a share of the responsibility for the harvest of nearly fifty thousand casualties resulting from the terrible three day Gettysburg battle of early July, faced a great gathering of his people, and after a hesitant start, but in a firm, free manner, the great President spoke these few words of tribute and dedication.

Four score and seven years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as the final resting place of those who here gave their lives that that nation might live.

It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this; But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far beyond our poor power to add or to detract.

The world will very little note nor long remember what we say here; it can never forget what they did here.

It is for us, the living, rather, to be dedicated, here, to the unfinished work they have thus far so nobly carried on. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us; that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion; that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain; that the nation shall, under God, have a new birth of freedom, and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

from a rotating "drum display" the "special of the day". The grocery store would be in a spiral-shaped building to virtually eliminate walking inside the store. Who walks to the grocery store now anyway? Under this new system she would drive her helicar onto the parking ramp where an automatic parking elevator will issue a coded card. The card will specify the stall for her car which will be automatically stored in a multiple-deck stall.

Other attraction would include hostesses--I'll bet a lot more husbands in 1975 will be volunteering to do the family shopping.

There will be an automatic check-out, boxing and sealing. We don't need any more of that sealing--it takes nearly every tool in the house now to open some of these latest developments in packaging.

But worst of all, there would be no chance to chat with the butcher, no chance to pinch the bread to see if it was fresh and no chance to read the backs of packages. And this will really be too much for me--there will be 12,000 food products, 50 per cent more than there are today. I could never make up my mind. Engineers say that 88 per cent of the automotive processes necessary to make this system possible are now being completed. So watch out everyone, it's coming.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor: The following information from "Conservation News" published by National Wildlife Federation, Wash., D.C., 20036, might be valuable to your readers.

"Robins and other songbirds can become unintended victims of crabgrass control programs, according to the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. A die-off of songbirds in the Minneapolis area last year has been traced to the application by homeowners of pre-emergent chemicals used to control the persistent enemy of lawns. The chemicals contained chlordane and arsenic, both long-lived and highly-toxic substances that readily concentrate in the bodies of earthworms. Although the birds feeding on the contaminated earthworms may receive fatal doses of the two chemicals, cause of death is often unsuspected because several weeks may elapse between the time of applying the chemicals to the lawns and the appearance of the stricken birds. Wildlife biologists point out that other crabgrass controls are available that do not involve the use of chemical compounds containing chlordane and arsenic."

Very truly yours,
"A Conservationist"

Dear Editor:

I am writing to inquire about the whereabouts of the Class C Liquor License that was suspended from "Manizella's Lounge." Is it still being held in escrow, if so is it available? If it has been released are the name or names of present licensee available to the public?

Another Day By Constance Lektzian

Young army widow carried flowers to graves

Small as the village of Clarkston was in the 1860's, there was a goodly share of men who left home to fight the War Between the States. William Vliet saw four of his sons go into service and only two of them return. It was Elizabeth Ann the widow of one of these young men, who first started the practice of decorating the graves of the war dead.

Nelson Vliet lies buried in the National Cemetery at Andersonville, Georgia, near the site of one of the most dreaded prison camps in the South. Since most of the fighting was done in the south, the biggest share of national cemeteries were in that region. The South, with an appalling shortage of the living, were slow in compiling lists of even their own dead, and sometimes it was weeks after a battle before the names of the dead and wounded came Northward from the southern hospitals and prison camps. The committees of southern women who organized to decorate the graves might have felt some early resentment of honoring the dead of their recent enemy, but as time went on and bitterness died, none of the graves were neglected.

Perhaps it was the stories of what these southern women were doing that motivated Elizabeth Ann. One warm spring day, shortly after the end of the Civil War, she trudged to the Union Cemetery, loaded down with flowers from her yard and carrying a fistful of small flags. Besides the stone erected in memory of her own husband, she sought out the final resting places of others who had been returned to their home town for burial. She also found two soldiers of the Revolutionary War, Jeremiah Clark and Caleb Murrill. Jeremiah had come to Clarkston in the early 1830's and was one of the men the village was named for. Since the last battles of the Rebellion were fought in 1781, Jeremiah must have been just a youngster at that time, and no youngster at all by the time he got around to organizing our village. There are two veterans of the War of 1812 buried in Clarkston--a David Allen and Elizabeth's own father-in-law, William Vliet. Mr. Vliet was just past his sixteenth birthday when a neighbor of his was called to service. The neighbor had a family to support and crops to get in and just plainly didn't have time to fight in anybody's army. So he paid William to go in his place--a perfectly legitimate and common practice of those times. A little hard on the poor people who couldn't raise money to pay for a substitute but still legitimate.

Until her death, Elizabeth Vliet continued her practice of decorating all the graves of the men who had fought in any of the country's wars, and from then her daughters carried on the work until about 1931. There is one veteran there from the Mexican War, John Houghtelin and William Jones served in the Spanish American War. His widow is still living and has always joined the Memorial Day services. But until the two World Wars, the largest number of soldiers resting in Clarkston's Lakeview Cemetery were from the Civil War.

It was John Alexander Logan, a Union general, who inaugurated Memorial Day in 1868. In our part of the country it's celebrated on May 30. The South, however, has three different days, April 26, May 10 and June 3, to choose from for a day of reverence. Maybe they felt a little sideways over the fact it was an officer from the Union side that got things started in Washington, especially a general that joined Sherman's march through the Carolinas. It was started primarily to do honor to the men of the Civil War, which slighted men of previous battles so it eventually became a day to show respect to all war dead.

The GAR, also founded by General Logan, organized the parades and services of earlier celebrations and this was later taken over by the American Legion.

Starting in the early morning hours here in Clarkston long before the parade or any of the other more festive activities, Floyd Tower of Campbell-Richardson Post #83 and his committee put out 241 grave flags at both Ottawa and Lakeview Cemetery, to continue an act of respect first begun in our village by Elizabeth Vliet.

Our thanks to Mr. Floyd Tower and Mr. Jack Parker.

U-M Graduates

Four Clarkston students at the University of Michigan were awarded their degrees at the University's 125th commencement ceremony on Saturday, April 29.

John Howard Kieft of 7260 Sagamore received his Master of Arts degree, Frederick G. Lissner of 7800 Dixie Highway received a Bachelor of Science degree and James Morton of 6460 Snowapple received his Doctor of Laws degree.

Also from Clarkston was Richard Sheldon of 6700 Princess Lane receiving his Bachelor of Science degree in chemical engineering.

Zakir Husain, the newly elected President of India was the main speaker when more than 4,700 degrees were awarded from U-M's 17 schools and colleges.

Awards aplenty for Jaycees

The State Jaycee convention was held last weekend in Traverse City. A large delegation from the local group attended and they came home with an armful of awards.

And for the Jaycettes, the honor of having their president, Mrs. Lew Wint picked as one of the top 10 presidents in the state. This honor came to them in their first year of club activity.

The Jaycees won 3 first place awards, 2 second place, and 3 third place awards. They were judged in the 2nd division—a breakdown according to the club size.

Cub Scout Pack #126

There were many smiles as the lions, their tamer, the ballet dancer and other circus members of Den 2 opened the Pack meeting with the flag ceremony. The circus had truly come to town with all Cubscouts and their Den Mothers in costumes. This theme was hilariously presented by skits from each den.

The last outing--a hayride at the Duncan Farm was highly successful according to all the boys and fathers which participated. Mr. George Gray gave everyone a thrill, especially the boys, when he tried to climb a steep hill and found the tractor did not have 'quite' enough power. Later the boys had the rare opportunity of seeing a blacksmith shoe the horses. To climax the day, while jumping in the hay, several fell through a hole, much to the amazement of the sheep below. Hot dogs and pop were consumed before returning home.

The summer schedule was announced. The Pack meeting will remain on the same day, the 3rd Wednesday of each month, but will begin at 6:30. June's meeting will be outside the Methodist Church and will pertain to feats of skill. (Tug of War, races, etc.) Refreshments will be served. A Bike Derby will be held in July at the High School parking lot. Fast races, slow races, obstacle course, etc. This always proves to be a favorite. To climax the summer a picnic and planning session will be held. Final arrangements are being made.

All boys are urged to march in the Memorial Day parade. Meet at the Old Methodist Church, 9:30, in complete uniform. All parents were urged to assist in the summer program by relieving the regular Den Mothers of their full responsibilities. Do not hesitate to volunteer. The summer den meetings are loads of fun!

After a very enjoyable evening, our circus friends of Den 2 retired the colors.

The following awards were presented: We welcome into our pack one new Bobcat, Mike Jewell. Wolf: John Morrow, Neal Hoxie, Grady Parker, Ricky Prano. Bear: Ricky Miller, Brad Katula. Lion: Brad Swanson, Webelos: Brad Swanson. Congratulations to our Cubscout of the Month, Tim Jones.
