Pancake supper

On November 6, Boy Scout Troop #105 will sponsor a Pancake and Sausage supper. Serving will be from 5 until 8 p.m.

The supper will be held at the American Legion Hall at the end of Mary Sue Street, off of Maybee Road in Clarkston.

Scout Master for the troop is Victor Van Henteryck and the group's sponsor is Chief Pontiac Post #377 of the American Legion. Howard Bliss serves as the Institutional Representative.

Jim's

Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Okay, now - when was the last time any of you wives out there fixed your husband fried mush for breakfast? If memory serves me correctly, and I'd certainly remember such an event, Hazel has only fixed it for me once, and that was in the first few years of our marriage.

---0---

I suppose the way to reach the most people with an advertisement is to put it in the Sunday comic section. But somehow I just can't trust an insurance company that uses this method to reach the public.

It's been about a month, but I find myself thinking about the Girl Scout headquarters at Tel-Huron Shopping Center. I was invited to speak to leaders on the best way to get their news stories in weekly papers.

While there I was given the grand tour and their facilities impressed me. They seem to have everything they need... space, equipment, and management. "Everything" of course, isn't meant to include money, only the personnel and physical plant.

Had occasion to be on the University of Michigan Campus 2 week-ends in a row. The first was October 6 and a press club meeting on "Takes a look ahead to 1987." It appears we're headed toward larger type faces, short and snappy sentences, condensation of news and features and have no worry about electronic media putting us out of business.

The reasoning of the latter is that electronic media is too expensive to produce on a local or regional level all the material, each weekly and daily print. And, we had some other observations about those who grace the sidewalks, concrete enclosures, and grassy areas. The attention compellers were quite in evidence with their beards, guitars and overalls... it's my conclusion the girls spend fully one half their waking hours pushing their too-long hair back from their eyes... and it should have been no problem for parents to outfit their sons and daughters for advanced education this year.

Smorgasbord would best describe both the individual student and the collective mass.

Green hose for girls, hunting boots for boys, sheepskins, real tight levis, ill-fitting sweaters and jackets... everything in contrast to the sharply dressed, rigid, clean men from Navy who blistered U of M that weekend.

I know, you think we only saw that 5 percent of campus funsters from who all reputations flew. Maybe. Our time was short and our range limited to the Union and that part of town closest to it. But that's the way we saw it.

Bill and Annamarie Offer told me not to order spare ribs when we went to Mario's to eat a while back. Forewarned or not, I gently asked the waiter if there was an Italian dish with spare ribs. I should still be hospitalized from the look I got.

We country boys should stay out of the cities.

I need search no longer in the city for my spare ribs, thanks to Mac Johns. He told me Waterford Hills Country Club has barbecued ribs every Monday. And, are they good.

Monday accidents injure three

Two automobile accidents occurred in the Clarkston area on Monday as reported by the Oakland County Sheriff Department.

The first one happened at 11:30 A.M. on Ortonville Road, just south of Rattalee Lake Road. Mrs. Leona Marks, 57, of 9355 Dixie Highway in Clarkston was travelling north. A truck in front of her was waiting to turn. As she applied her brakes, they pulled to the left causing her to go over the center line. She struck an oncoming car driven by James Robinson, 40, of 1944 Viola, in Ortonville. Neither driver was injured.

The second accident was at the corner of Waldon Road and Almond Lane at 3 P.M. Three persons were injured, report the officers. A car driven by Jerry Eichbrecht, 19, of 4081 Athens in Drayton Plains had stopped for a car in front of him who was making a left turn.

In a car following him was Mrs. Marie Brendle, 55, of 8809 Lakeview, Clarkston. She told officers that when the car in front of her stopped suddenly, she took her foot off from the gas, applied the brake and slid into him.

Mrs. Brendle received type A injuries and was taken to Pontiac General Hospital. Eichbrecht and his passenger, Linda Schmidt, 16, of 6816 Almond Lane received type C injuries.

Both cars were towed away by Roy Brothers Service. The front of the Brendle auto was damaged as was the rear of the Eichbrecht vehicle.

Hearing on child cruelty will continue

Friday, October 27 the preliminary court examination for Paul M. Maczko, 57 and Mrs. Florence Lewis, 29 both of 9052 Ortonville Road will be heard again.

The pair are charged with cruelty to children. Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead of Waterford Township is conducting the hearing.

The case was brought to light when a neighbor issued a complaint to the Action Line department of the Detroit Free Press. Investigation followed by the State Police.

The hearing commenced on October 10, but was adjourned after one of Mrs. Lewis' five children testified that he and one of his brothers had once been chained together by Maczko.

Project completed

Announcement has been made by the Michigan State Highway Commission that 2.5 miles of paving on Seymour Lake Road from M-15 east near Clarkston has been completed. This is one of 10 construction projects totaling $700,000.

Contractor on the $51,683 project was the Ann Arbor Construction Company of Ann Arbor. Bids were taken in February and the cost was financed equally with federal and county funds. Technical assistance was furnished by the State Highway Commission.

Fire ruins kitchen, causes smoke damage

A fire in a kitchen at 4912 Sundale in the Pelton Heights area Monday morning destroyed the kitchen and did extensive smoke damage to the rest of the house. The blaze, which was fought by the Independence Township Fire Department was in a home owned by Mrs. Betty Stoll.

Damage to the home was estimated at $3500 and to the furnishings to the extent of $1500. There was insurance coverage.

According to a report from the firemen the blaze started in a waste container under the kitchen sink. Smoke engulfed the rest of the house before the blaze was extinguished.

Four trucks and 16 men from the department answered the call which was sounded at 10:29 A.M.

Bond sale approval ends 9 month construction delay

Approval was given by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission last week for the sale of $2.5 million in bonds. Thus ends a delay of 9 months in the planning for a second Junior High School in the Clarkston Community Schools system.

Voters in June 1966 approved the proposed plans. The project has been held up for these many months by the failure of the commission to approve the sale of the bonds.

The school which will be constructed at the North Sashabaw Elementary School site is located at Sashabaw and Maybee Roads. When completed it will be possible to house all 9th graders in the Junior High Schools. Ninth graders now attend classes at the Senior High School.

It is estimated that the delay in approving the sale of the bonds has cost the district approximately $300,000 in construction costs. Procedures now will be set in motion to advertise and sell the bonds.

Original plans for construction of the building designed by the architectural firm of Richard Prince Associates was for last February. Now construction is planned for next spring.

The building which will accommodate 1,000 students will have 117,820 feet of floor space.

Fire damages utility room

A fire broke out in a house at 6981 Tappan Drive Tuesday morning at 11 A.M. The house was owned by Victor VanHenteryck. A 6-year old boy was believed to have been playing with matches state firemen.

Burned were items in the utility room and loss was estimated at $100. Twelve men from the department answered the call sending three trucks.

In other fire runs made during October, the department answered 2 inhalator calls and 3 smoke investigations.

There's a new note coming from the Depot Theatre on White Lake Road and it sounds good. For the past month members of the Clarkston Village Players have been rehearsing for a short musical to be presented at a membership drive program on November 4th. Two of the show tune chorus members are Pat Breidenbaugh and Jim Tyrell.

Ready or not, that seasons here again, with Halloween just around the corner. Blending themselves into the theme displayed in the foyer of the Sashabaw school are Hillis Banks and Pam Armstead. The children are students of Mrs. Joles, the creator of the large poster.

Well that did it, that just did it. Did I complain last winter when I plopped one easy bake oven on the locked trunk of one peacock blue car ... spend minutes trying to open said trunk before looking around said box, into the gleaming face of one unknown woman. No. I may have blushed but I didn't cry and only that smidgin of understanding on her face gave me the courage to pick up that box and move down four cars. Ordinarily I'm not easily bugged but this little incident arrived on the tails of a countless number of wrong handle touchings and direct on headings. It got so bad I wrote myself five commandments #1. Don't ever head for what you think is your car. Weave and saunter a bit toward the general direction. #2. Do a lot of looking out of the sides of both eyes as you weave. #3. Explain the situation to the police department, ahead of time, just in case. #4. Keep something different on the top of the dashboard, like a piece of toast. #5. Find a rabbit with a pink foot, hang it from the aerial and buy the next car to match. That's about it, except for what did it. You see it was like this. I had parked the car next to the curb, rushed into the store and out again with confidence, when three STRANGE children tried to CLIMB in MY car. That did it, that just did it.

Calendar sale to start Nov. 1

Now is the time for a Girl Scout date-- a whole year of them. Clarkston area Girl Scouts and their leaders will be selling Girl Scout calendars during the month of November. The calendar chairman for Clarkston is Mrs. Homer Richmond and from the Sashabaw area, the chairman is Mrs. Jean Van Dyke. Key people in the calendar sale attended a calendar sale kick-off brunch on October 10 at Girl Scout Headquarters in Pontiac. Profit from the sale is divided between each troop selling them and the council. Always colorful, the calendar gives pictorial coverage of typical Girl Scout activities. Useable for wall or desk, the Girl Scout calendar provides ample space for writing memos, daily reminders and appointments.

Women to hear program on personal safety

Two Clarkston women will be acting as hostesses for the Pontiac Area United Fund Women's Division program planned for Thursday, November 2. They are Mrs. Vincent Bronsing of 8648 Thendara Blvd., and Mrs. James Cowen of 6170 Overlook. They are members of the Board of the P.A.U.F. Women's Division.

The program which will be held at the Oakland County Building Auditorium at 1200 N. Telegraph Road promises to be one of the most fascinating and educational programs ever offered to the people of Oakland County.

Entitled "How to Protect Yourself", a panel of experts will introduce, discuss and "act out" ways women can protect themselves against all types of criminal aggression; ranging from the con-artist to actual physical attack.

The program will be moderated by Police Chief William Hanger and will run 2 hours in length. Due to the interest and phone calls already being received, two sessions have been scheduled. One will be at 1:15 P.M. and another in the evening at 7:15.

As moderator, Chief Hanger will introduce each session, and also give a 15 minute talk on obscene and crank phone calls, the Helping Hand program and a report on the citizen's "Checkmate" system.

Earl Kreps, Manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will head up the portion of the program called "How to recognize con-artists and bunco racketeers."

Mr. S. Jerome Bronson, Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney, will present "The citizen's role in the war against crime and the legal rights people can use to protect themselves."

Policewoman Mrs. Mary Patricia Caronis will present a session on "protection against assault" and show a film called "Attack!"

The final aspect of the program will be presented by Victor Kalish, a veteran and specialist in the art of self defense, and will present a team of women from the Pontiac Y.W.C.A. who have been trained in self defense. Actual methods of self defense will be demonstrated on stage by the trained team.

Both sessions are free to the public.

Republicans will meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Independence Township Republican Club will be held in the Township Hall on Monday evening October 30. The get together is scheduled to commence at 8:00 P.M.

Where "continuing progress" is more than just a slogan

Quarterback, Rich Johnson, gets advice during time out from Coach Kenyon. Johnson had another great night, passing to two TD's to Gary Ostrum for 83 yards and Mark Erickson for 33. He has thrown 8 touchdown passes this year and has scored 5 touchdowns.

Clarkston stomps Brighton

By Mel Vaara

Clarkston had everything going for them as they romped all over Brighton 33-7. This is the most points that Coach Kenyon's boys have mustered. The defensive team still kept their record intact by not allowing anyone to score more than seven points per game. The Wolves defeated Oxford 19-0, Bl. Hills 13-7, C'ville 21-7, Holly 13-7, Brighton 33-0, and lost to Northville 7-0.

Clarkston has outscored the opposition 106 to 28. The Wolves have averaged 18 points per game, the opponents 5 per game. One can see the defense has had a lot to do with the 5-1 record of the Wolves.

This was Homecoming week and the stands were loaded with fans. The spectators were treated with a fine pre-game show by the Band and a half-time presentation of the homecoming ceremony.

Clarkston scored first on a 57 yard drive. Mark Erickson had runs of 22 and 5. Jeff Keyser picked up 14 yards on two carries. A 5 yard penalty and two end runs lost 5 yards, on 4th down Johnson called for an inside reverse and Steve Parker ran the ball to the three. Mark Erickson took it the rest of the way. Extra-point attempt went wide.

The Wolves scored their touchdown on a beautiful 83 yard pass play from Johnson to Gary Ostrum. Johnson hit Ostrum perfectly and Gary did the rest of the work. Rich was certainly on target, as he was hitting his receiver regularly.

Bruce Hardy set up Clarkston's third touchdown with an interception. He ran the ball 20 yards to Brighton's 30 yard line. Jeff Keyser ate up 20 yards on a run up the middle. Rich Johnson eventually scored from the one. He also kicked the extra-point.

The Wolves scored on another 53 yard drive. A pass interference call against Brighton picked up an automatic 15 yards. This was directed to Tom Bullard. The last 33 yards were covered on pass play from Johnson to Erickson. I believe this is Johnson's 8th TD pass. He also has scored 5 touchdowns.

The last score was earned by Steve Parker. This was Parker's 1st score of the year. He has been a demon on defense and he always seems to get the call on offense on a 3rd or 4th down situation. His inside reverse has led to some big touchdown drives.

This week Clarkston will travel to West Bloomfield - the Keego Harbor crew is undefeated in league play. Enough said on the importance of the game.

We all know what Keego can do with the ball on offense - the defense will certainly earn their keep if they can hold them to only 2 touchdowns.

J.V. Wins #5

The Junior Wolves continued down the winning path with a 21-0 victory over Northville. Two more victories over Brighton and Milford will give the J.V. squad their 2nd undefeated season in three years. Last year they lost the opening game to Oxford and won all the rest. The year before they were 7-0. So if the team continues on the same course, Coaches Thompson and Hansons teams will have lost only one game in three years. This is an enviable record.

This was Dad's night for the boys and the turnout was very large. It sure makes the boys feel great to have such a fine following.

Jeff Ingersoll started things off in the right mood by blocking a Northville punt. The Wolves had the ball on the seven. On the 1st play from scrimmage Steve Warman threw a touchdown pass to Steve Kratt. Orison Bullard ran the extra-point.

The second and third quarters were played mostly by the defensive teams. But at the outset of the 4th quarter, Warman threw his second touchdown pass of the game by completing a 28 yard pitch to Tom Grace.

Bullard again ran for the extra-point.

Dennis Storrs completed the scoring by running off tackle for 29 yards. It was a beautiful twisting run. Storrs was hit two or three times, but failed to go down. Tom Gates ran for the 21st point.

Did someone give the Spartans the "Kiss of Death?" It certainly looks now that the Rose Bowl trip will have to be made at a later year, say about 1969.

Clarkston's cross-country team finished 5th in the Wayne Oakland league meet. Bl. Hills finished 1st with 41 points, West Bloomfield a close 2nd with 43 points. Milford, Northville, Clarkston, Holly, Brighton and C'ville followed in that order.

Buddy Mumbower took 14th, Mike Erkfriz 25th, Bob Hoy 27th, Steve Nicolson 30th, Fred Segler 34th, Larry Nicol 43rd, and Mark Cowan 51st.

Clarkston will close out their home schedule with a meet against Rochester.

SECTION TWO THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., October 26, 1967 5

Notes on the Orchard

By Constance Lektzian
625-2378

A very beautiful Homecoming weekend - we won - there were a whole pride of college students, Clarkston graduates who came home for the events - all in all a very successful weekend.

The Elwood Seaman's of 6577 Snowapple Drive recently received a most welcome phone call - quite late at night due to the time difference, but welcome. Their twenty year old son, John, serving in the U.S. Army in Vietnam, called from Hawaii where he was sent for a furlough. In addition to assuring them he was well and safe, he gave them the news that he had been promoted to Spec. 4 in the 128th Assault Helicopter Company. Congratulations!

Last Wednesday night about thirty homemakers were invited to Sandy Lawrence's (Mrs. A.C. Lawrence) of 6210 Waldon Road. They trooped in to a very enjoyable evening of demonstrations on floral arrangements and holiday decorations, all done with artificial flowers and figurines. Refreshments were served later in the evening.

Such beautiful weather just couldn't be wasted so Dick and Norma Barry of 6543 Plum Drive headed north with the George Gentges of Pontiac last Thursday night and spent a long weekend in Frankfort, Michigan. Not only was the scenery at its best but the highlight of the trip were visits to the fish hatchery near Honor, where they saw the fantastically huge Coho salmon which have done so much to rebuild the fishing trade in that section of the country. People have been fishing for them in every type of boat, some of which aren't too seaworthy for the rough waters of that area, such as canoes or small rowboats. This recklessness has led to some talk that a law may be passed that no vessel under 18 feet will be allowed to go out for the Coho.

Speaking of fish - the John Spearight's of 6583 Plum Drive went to Grand Blanc last Friday with young sons Scott and Kevin. They attended the fish dinner put on under the auspices of Grand Blanc's Masonic Temple. The serving was done by the DeMolay and Job's Daughters and was very delicious.

Last weekend the Clarence Vidlund's and family of 6400 Eastlawn attended a family dinner at his sister and brother-in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Englund of Drayton Plains, it was in honor of the senior Vidlunds, the parents of Mr. Vidlund and Mrs. Englund, who were enroute to Florida to spend the winter. Approximately forty friends and relatives attended.

Saturday night Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hiske came down from Grosse Ile to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Larry and Joyce Thompson of 6645 Almond Lane. The two couples attended the singing concert held in Flint's IMA Auditorium Saturday night. Sunday was Mrs. Hiske's birthday and she was honored with a family dinner. Daughter, Carol Hiske, home from college for the weekend attended as did her sister and brother Betty and Dick Hiske. Another friend, Carole McLean was also present as were the three Thompson children, Wendy, Ronnie and Todd.

Howard and Irene Weaver of 6282 Church Street had as weekend guests Larry and Dorene Redman with young sons, Brian and Brent, of Hope, Michigan. One of the highlights of the weekend was a trek to Detroit where the two couples attended

Sashabaw Neighborhood Girl Scouts invest new leaders

At the monthly Neighborhood meeting on October 17 Sashabaw Neighborhood invested thirteen new women and rededicated past members in their Girl Scout program. The Girl Scout promise was repeated by all as they stood in a double horseshoe facing a large blank poster flanked by Trefoil and World Association Symbols. After receiving her pin and being welcomed into the Neighborhood by Mrs. O.B. Warren, Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. Fred Kluesner and Mrs. George Crossman, each new member placed a phrase on the poster until the last to be invested completed the Preamble to the Constitution and Bylaws of the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

The Preamble was read aloud and the ceremony closed with the quotation: "God hath no end of materials for prophets - priests and kings but what He

Home from Western trip

Mrs. Norman Davison and her friend Mrs. Glen Munger of Pontiac have recently returned from a 3 week western trip. They spent some time with friends in Colorado Springs, Colorado where they could gaze at Pike's Peak from a picture window. On their return they travelled to Kenosha, Wisconsin to visit Kenneth Davison, a brother-in-law who is seriously ill in a hospital there. The ladies left on their trip on October 1st.

needs is volunteers to do the little things."

New members welcomed to the area Girl Scouts are Mrs. J.J. Lowe, Mrs. S.G. Henning, Mrs. A.E. Mann, Mrs. J.B. Burrow, Mrs. S.L. Sargent, Mrs. R.J. Bogner, Mrs. R.R. Carter, Mrs. R.S. McIntire, Mrs. W. L. Guibord, Mrs. Robert Allen, Mrs. Richard Lorenz, Mrs. Y.W. Limbaugh and Mrs. B.S. Scribner.

Who will have the prettiest?

Feeling artistic? Feeling in the Christmas mood? Want to earn a prize? Mrs. Richard Bullen at King's Insurance has the answer.

"November 4 will be the deadline for entries," she states. And the entries are lovely handmade Christmas ornaments. Simply pick up a styro-foam ball from Isabel, decorate to your hearts content and return to her office for display.

When the ornaments are judged, there will be five cash prizes of $5 each. Sound easy? Well, it is. And just watch for the beautiful display that will be in King's window from now until Thanksgiving time when her annual doll exhibition will be there.

"Flea Market" profits slated for Yuletide gifts

A gigantic "Flea Market" sponsored by Auburn Builders will be held this weekend with all proceeds going to charitable organizations to be used to benefit the needy at Christmas time.

This is the first such market conducted by the Builders and service clubs from five townships have been picked to receive the proceeds for their Christmas benefit programs. Selected from Independence Township, is the Clarkston Area Jaycee organization.

In Avon Township it will be the Kiwanis Club, in Waterford the Goodfellows, in Pontiac Township the Lions Club and in the City of Pontiac, it will be the Salvation Army who will benefit.

Hours for the sale on October 26, 27, and 28 are from 1-5 P.M. each day. All the merchandise to be sold have been rolling in. There will be collectors items, antiques and junkie, lots of good new and used clothing, furniture, all types of washers and dryers and used furniture. There will also be all types of building material and by Monday, 17 automobiles had been brought in for the sale.

Assisting with the sale will be the wives of employees of Auburn Builders. They will be assisted by senior students from Waterford and Holly.

At 5 P.M. on Saturday, supervisors from the five townships, the Mayor of the City of Pontiac, the Brigadier General of the Salvation Army and other officials will be present with the representatives of the various clubs. All proceeds will go to charity state those in charge.

Bride-to-be honored

Miss Nancy Friday who will become the bride of Wayne Miller on November 25 was honored at a bridal shower held at her home on Tuesday evening, October 17. Twenty two guests came to their home on Eston Road for the festivities.

Hostesses were Charlene Hardy and Elaine Banks. Green and gold decorations were used throughout and the same theme with a heart motif were used on the refreshment table. Her heart shaped cake which was baked by Mrs. Theobald was decorated in the same green and gold.

The bride to be was showered with many lovely gifts for her new home.

Bride Honored

Greeting 18 guests at a miscellaneous shower recently given in her honor was Yvonne Beauregard, bride-elect of Jack Sampson. Co-hostesses for the event were Marie Maier and Florence Eykes. The decorations for the shower were done in colors of silver, pink and white. Yvonne wore a pink rose corsage. The guests enjoyed playing bingo and watching Yvonne open many lovely gifts. Later in the afternoon a spaghetti dinner was served. Miss Beauregard will marry Mr. Sampson on November 25.

Congratulations are in order for Karen MacDougal who celebrated her 14th birthday on October 24th.

The Sisters of Norway are busy planning their annual dinner. It will be held on November 28 at the township hall. Proceeds from the meatball dinner go towards buying Christmas presents for 100 retarded children at the Lapeer Training School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh MacKay of Hillside Drive enjoyed dinner at the 4 Seasons restaurant in Detroit last week. After dinner they attended the Fisher theatre to see "Cactus Flower." Mr. MacKay enjoyed fishing at Har-sens Island this week.

The Kessler/Hahn Golf Banquet was held on October 18 at Spring Lake Country Club. First place trophies were won by Walter Norberg and Floyd Sommers. Second place trophies were taken home by Jim Hart and "Ma c" MacDougal.

Five couples enjoyed dinner and dancing at Spring Lake Country Club last week. They were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hinkley, Mr. and Mrs. David Bickerstaff, Mr. and Mrs. James Giegler, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brancheau and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haessler.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Colton and Mr. and Mrs. Grey Robertson spent last weekend at Canada Creek near Atlanta.

Belated congratulations to Shirley and Howard Altman on their 17th wedding anniversary.

A christening was held on October 15 at Christ Lutheran Church in Middleton, Connecticut for Dawn Elizabeth Stubbe, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arlon K. Stubbe of W. Church Street. Sponsors for Dawn were Warren and Phyllis Bengtson.

Attending the christening were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gisselbrecht and Dawn's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Trager. A dinner was held later in the day at the Bengtson home.

John Merkel is home on leave from the U.S. Navy. His leave started on October 19 and he is spending time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merkel at 26 Buffalo Street. When he reports back on October 28 he will go to Ft. Mead, Maryland.

Private enterprise annually contributes several million dollars to the 4-H program for educational trips, training aids, awards and recognition.

It's full steam ahead for this P. T. A. membership drive at the Pine Knob school. The students are out to win with a treat in store for the class making it across the graph first. Completing the picture are two students from Mrs. Richley's class; Cindy Goins and David Tappen.

Looking over the new Girl Scout calendars are Mrs. Brooke VanDyke, Sashabaw Neighborhood Chairman for the calendar sales and Mrs. Homer Richmond, Chairman for the Clarkston area. Between the two chairmen are a couple of admirers, Frank Jones and Guy Murphy. The boys just happened to be dropping off some scout news of their own and were nice enough to stay.

FORGOTTEN SOMETHING

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Have you been forgetting something lately? Have you been forgetting yourself?

Let's be completely selfish, for the moment, about this matter of going to Church. Let's look at it solely from your own point of view.

Will the Church offer you an escape from reality? Will it lead you into some kind of a rosy dream world? Will it be your own, personal panacea—a kind of spiritual crutch?

Emphatically no! What the Church will do is give you Faith. It will help you find the courage and strength to meet life's tests. It will bring you complete realization of one all-important fact: with God's love, it is never too late to begin again.

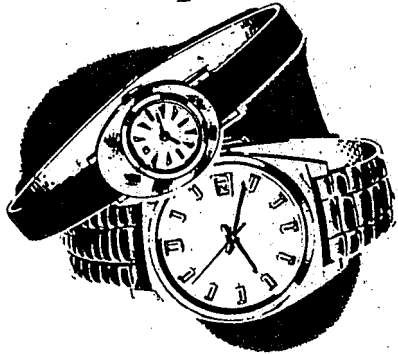

If you haven't been going to church you have undoubtedly forgotten yourself. Start going now!

Why give your car away?

You might just as well give your car away as to be guilty of leaving it unattended with the doors unlocked and the keys in the ignition—literally inviting thieves to take it.

Of the 500,000 cars stolen in 1966, more than 200,000 had been parked with the keys in the ignition, and 80 percent of them had been left with the doors not locked.

According to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, auto thefts increased 12 percent in 1966 over 1965.

One of the leading car manufacturers has installed a buzzer on 1968 models which is set off if the key is in the ignition when the driver's door is opened—as an aid to the absentminded driver.

But for the millions of earlier model cars, drivers should be alert and take care to leave the car securely locked whenever it is not occupied, so as to:

First, cut down on juvenile delinquency, for police records show that more than half the stolen cars are taken by persons under 18 years of age and nearly 90 percent by those under 25. Almost one out of four stolen vehicles is involved in accidents. The penitentiaries are filled with convicts whose first crime was auto theft.

Second, reduce the staggering over-all financial loss from car theft which costs more than $250 million a year (including items and accessories stolen from vehicles). If you want to hold onto your car—lock it.

If you want something done wrong, do it yourself. In the past we have hired all sorts of carpenters to make remodeling changes on our house. Each time, we have been unimpressed when the job was finished.

Maybe, we were born under the wrong star, but Calhoun and I have no luck with carpenters, plasterers or fence erectors. It is always a battle to get them to do the job and finally to have it done the way we want it.

The tradesmen all tell us that we are going about, whatever it is that we're going about, in the wrong way.

Like the last carpenter we hired to put the finishing touches on a porch addition, Calhoun had collected weathered oak barn boards. It took her about two years to get enough for a wainscot around the room.

She instructed the carpenter to take a wire brush and just clean the boards, cut them to size and nail them to the wall. He tried to tell her that she was going about this business of making a wainscot in the wrong way. She said, "That may be the case, but this is the way I want it done."

We didn't hear from that carpenter for several weeks. Finally, we called him. He said that he would be out the next day. Many days later he turned up.

His face was beaming. He looked like Santa and was waiting to be praised for a job well done. With pride he took Cal's barn boards from his truck. They were cut to size, tongue and grooved, and planed until their faces shown like Cal's dining room table.

What could he say? He explained that he thought he was doing us a favor. "Besides," he said, "You really wouldn't

"If It Fitz . . ."

Bird hunters should never miss

By Jim Fitzgerald

They laughed when I stepped up to the skeet range. They were still laughing when I quit shooting.

The next day the laughers got a look at my black-and-blue mark and they laughed even louder. It was nearer to my elbow than my shoulder.

But that's ok. The meek shall inherit the earth and, when it comes to grappling with the earth's creatures, no one is meekeer than I.

IT ALL BEGAN like this: A bunch of the boys were lapping it up at Preston Mann's hunting preserve in Metamora where the rich Detroit people kill for fun. A hunting preserve is operated on the same principle as a butcher shop, except with fresh air. Fish and birds are stocked so you can order what you want. All you have to do is shoot it, or hook it—and pay for it. If you go home empty-handed, you shouldn't feel any less dumb than the husband who lost the grocery list.

Anyway, considering the surroundings, it is not unusual that the conversation should turn to shooting. There was considerable surprise registered when I revealed I had never shot a shotgun, not even once. In fact, the only time I'd triggered any sort of a firearm was during World War II, 25 years ago, when even little old ladies were prepared to fight.

The joker behind a neighboring bottle decided it would be fun to have me shoot some trap. He was even willing to wager that I might hit a target once or twice, by accident, and he had no trouble finding someone to bet I wouldn't hit anything. I agreed to the experiment, mostly because they were buying the drinks. Besides, I was not required to risk any money myself. I was strictly a paid warrior, a novice doing battle for the edification of veterans who had been there and back, I felt like a Pfc pitching pennies against the Pentagon.

I don't know how trapshooting got its name and I'm not going to look in a dictionary to find out because my arm is so sore to be lifting the dictionary. The thing is, you stand in a spot and point your gun in the air and holler "pull" at the attendant who is still laughing because he had to load your gun for you and tell you how to take the safety off.

Immediately, a hunk of clay jumps out of a little house and blurs across the horizon, swish.

"You should have shot that," someone said.

"I didn't even see it," I explained.

But I got better and, after awhile, even nicked some of the clay which is called a pigeon, the same thing you might call a guy who'd bet on my shooting. Anyway, at the first sign of my success, they changed the rules. They started lofting 2 pigeons at once, each from a different direction, and said I was supposed to shoot them both, which is ridiculous.

The biggest laugh of the day came when I shot late at a pigeon after it had disappeared behind one of those stupid little houses where the pigeons live. Fortunately, I shot my curve and the clay flew, bam!

"How could you have hit that pigeon?" someone asked. "You must have shot right through the house."

"I didn't even see it," I explained.

But I ended up hitting 10 out of 25 pigeons, more than enough to win my promoter's bet. It was an education: I learned that shotgun shells burst into a wide, wide pattern—and it's no wonder there are no pheasants left. It's like hitting the side of a barn with a handful of pebbles.

Given any amount of practice, a bird hunter should never miss. If I had that much margin for error on the golf course, I'd be Arnold Palmer. And, as my bruise proved the next day, I wasn't even holding the stupid gun correctly.

Now that I've made all you hunters happy, would anyone be interested to learn that I have never, not even once, tried to catch a fish?

Glub, blub.

Another Day

By Constance Lektzian

have liked the looks of those dirty old boards the way they were." So now, the walls of our porch look like those found in anyone else's house. Cal solved the problem by having me tack cedar shingles on the roof ceiling. The room is different, you just have to look up to find out how different it is.

When it came to remodeling the kitchen, Cal and I agreed that we were not going to hire anyone to do it for us. We wanted it done our way—wrong.

First we tore the wall down. Next the cabinets were ripped out and windows torn off the side of the house. That was a good start.

Then, we put new windows in the house, hung new cabinets to the walls. That was when the problems started. Calhoun had her groceries stashed in little bags and boxes all over the house. Dishes and china were somewhere, wherever the groceries were.

The lower cabinets, the ones where the sink fits and a top goes over them; those little beauties are giving us all sorts of problems. Sunday, I slid them in place, just where Calhoun wanted them.

She asked, "How do you nail them in place?"

"Darned if I know," I answered. "Why don't you just put your stuff in the cupboards and forget about how they're nailed?"

"What kind of a counter top are you going to have?" I asked.

She told me that she had gone through all the plastic type surfaces and there wasn't anything she liked. A friend suggested that she consider using real wood. I said, "You must be kidding. That would be like putting planks from a bowling alley down and using them for a counter top."

Cal brightened and said, "Exactly, that's it. We'll get someone in and have him put a bowling alley counter top down for us."

She had a guy over last night.

He told her that she wouldn't like the bowling alley top for her cabinets. She would be happy selecting from the ready-made plastic surfaces. "Here," he said, flashing a selection of trade name samples. "I think you'll find some here you'll like," he said.

I spoke up, "Mrs. Cleveland wants to have a bowling alley for a counter top. Can you make one for her?"

He said that he could. Now, I wonder if we'll end up with an imitation plastic surface that looks like a bowling alley, or something.

There are some who are such a vital force in their community and who have so much deep affection for their fellowmen, that long after they have passed away they still live on in peoples hearts and memories. Such a person was Doctor Clark Sutherland, for 49 years one of Clarkston's leading physicians.

Born in Oxford in 1867 to Andrew and Abby Sutherland, he decided early in his life to be a doctor, and later he entered the University of Michigan Medical School. A veritable giant of a man, he towered four inches over the six foot mark and for two seasons, 1889 and 1890, played on the football team at the University.

After his graduation in June of 1891, Clark Sutherland practiced in Oxford until the following January when he moved to Clarkston where he remained for almost half a century. In September of that year he married Maude Rose. The home that they occupied for most of their lives is a large white house, now a 3-unit apartment at 51 South Main Street. They became a couple deeply loved and respected by their community.

Doctor Sutherland came to Clarkston to become the partner of Doctor Charles Robertson. Doctor Robertson had served with merit during the Civil War as a physician in the Union Army and later, in 1880, had started his practice in Clarkston. Their offices, for a time, were on the second story of a building on the site of the Clarkston Shoe Store. This section of buildings, all of wood construction, were leveled by fire at one time and Doctor Sutherland lost all that he had in the way of medical equipment and office furnishings. From that time on, he set up his offices in his home.

Those were horse and buggy days, a time when doctors went to the patients, through the snow and mud and over bumpy dirt roads. There were many roads that not only were not paved, they were not even graveled. A completely dedicated person, Clark Sutherland rarely let anything stand in his way when he knew a patient needed his attention. There was the time when he started out in the dead of winter to visit a pneumonia patient, a little girl. He managed to get his horse and buggy through some of the snowdrifts on Pine Knob Road when he saw it would be impossible to drive any farther. He stopped

The Sutherland's, who never had children of their own, loved young people and found time to help them or to take part in any church or civic project for them. Doctor Sutherland was a very fine singer and his wife an accomplished pianist.

In back of their very spacious home, the doctor had had a retaining wall built to enlarge the yard where he had a very beautiful garden. It was said their hobbies were young people, music and flowers.

Life wasn't all emergencies and epidemics and Doctor Sutherland found time for his other interests. He was an admirer of Abraham Lincoln and in his extensive library he had many books about "The Great Emancipator." He was involved in most of the worthwhile activities in his community and served for 14 years as Worshipful Master of Cedar Lodge in the village. He not only was on the school board for several years but was a director of the E. Jossman State Bank and the Clarkston State Bank. Modern and up to date, he was the first in Clarkston to own an automobile, a convenience he appreciated more for his patients than himself.

A tale is told that Clark Sutherland came home from making the rounds of his patients one day, tired and hungry, and found his wife in tears.

Someone had just come to her with a story of a family in dire need. The father had no work and it had been three days since he had been able to provide a good meal for his six children. The family lived on the other side of the Dixie Highway, some distance from the village but without waiting for supper, the doctor started out. Stopping in the village long enough to buy several days' supply of groceries, he delivered them to the family. It was much later in the evening that he himself had the opportunity to eat.

When his wife Maude passed away, Dr. Sutherland hired Mrs. Frank S crace as his housekeeper. Her daughter Ada, who had worked at Goodrich Hospital for many years, came to work for him as his office nurse and secretary. In a time when no one called for a doctor until they were too sick to be moved, Doctor Sutherland frequently had to take his nurse along with him to assist in caring for the patients.

In failing health for about four years before his death in 1941, Doctor Sutherland had to spend weeks at a time in bed. It was then he realized somewhat the large circle of friends he had. People came from miles around to visit him and his guest log in his last year recorded 1,633 callers. He is still remembered today for his warm personality and devotion to his calling of physician.

A thank you to Mr. Ed Sugar of Waterford for the picture used for this article and to Miss Ada Scrace for her clippings and information.

Cubscout pack #126

The October meeting was opened with the flag ceremony by Den 6, accompanied on the drums and bugle by Pat and Mike Humphrey.

Rev. Cozadd was introduced and he encouraged all parents present to participate in a T.V. evaluation program being carried on throughout the country. The Bake Sale chairman, Mrs. Cole, thanked all mothers for their contributions and announced a profit of $55.

Mr. Goerge Gray explained the new Webelos program. All boys at 10 years advance into the Webelos regardless of rank. These scouts will have the privilege of going on two weekend camping trips a year. Fifteen boys were presented with their Badge ribbons and books. All Webelos meet at Mr. Gray's home on Middle Lake Road.

October's Pack outing will be a Treasure Hunt on Sunday, October 29th. Meet at the church parking lot at 1:30.

Western skits were presented by each den. These depicted the Gold Rush days, Peace Pipe ceremony, Indian dance, and a pretend scene, 'If all the West had consisted of Cub Scouts.'

The following boys were presented with their Bobcat pins and inducted into the Pack. We extend a welcome to these boys and their parents: Steve Luking, Alan Butters, Keith Haddill, James Fellows.

Monthly awards were then presented.

Officials of the Hillview Memorial Garden gathered at the Andersonville Road site last Thursday for ground breaking ceremonies performed by Mr. Peter Buterakos, Chairman of the Board.

Ground breaking ceremonies at Hillview Memorial Gardens

Richard Pierson, President and owner of Hillview Memorial Gardens in Springfield Township, announced the official ground breaking ceremonies were held Thursday, October 19.

Mr. Pierson said this will be one of the finest cemeteries in the United States upon completion. The area will cover approximately 80 acres of rolling, partially wooded land.

Development has begun on the first garden, which is the Four Apostles. According to Pierson, there will be four marble statues of the Apostles which are now being carved in Italy. At the entrance to Hillview Memorial Gardens will be large marble pillars and a fountain. The new gardens will be sodded, have paved drives and be softly lighted at night for 24-hour visitation. Mr. Pierson said he hopes to take away the morbid feeling many people have about cemeteries. In the near future a chapel will be erected on the site and will be the only memorial garden chapel in the area. Pierson has been associated

Pioneer Bazaar scheduled

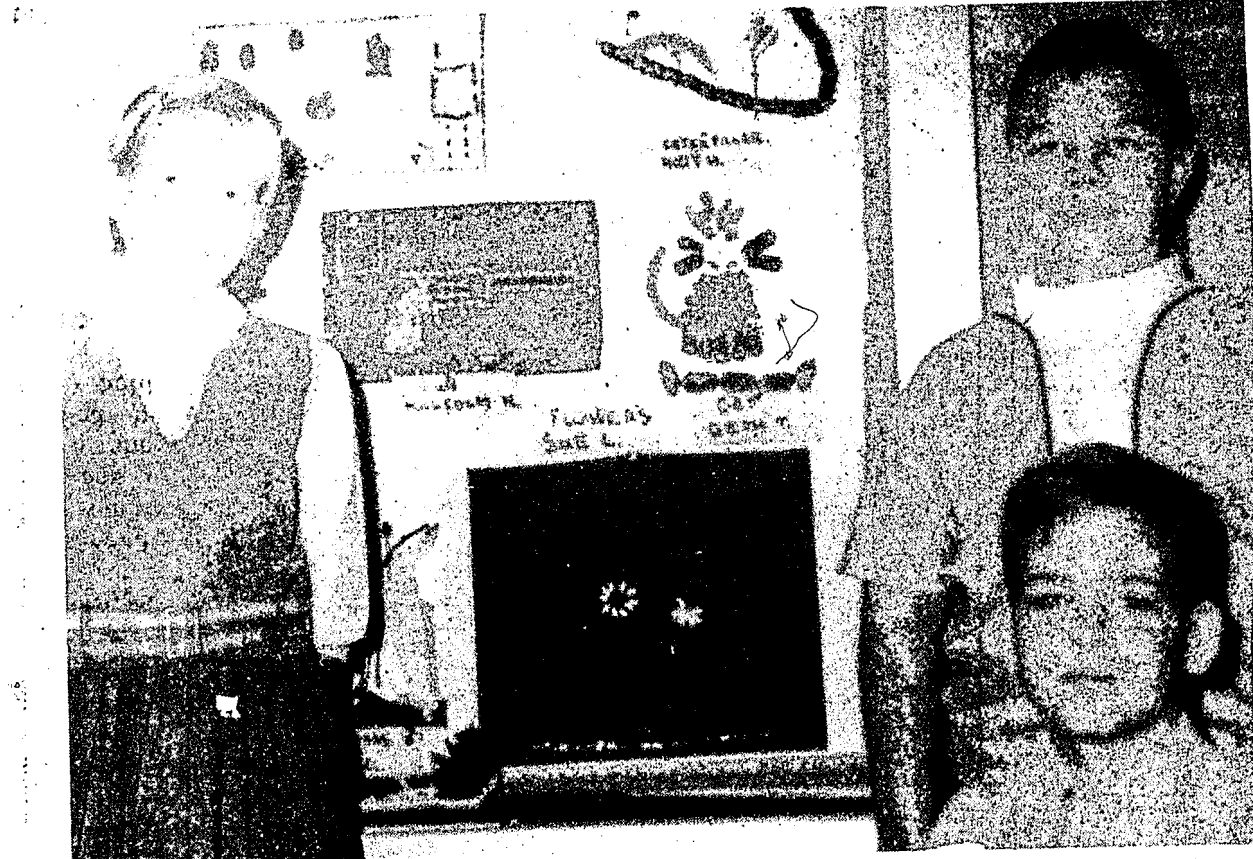

Items made by the Clarkston Ward will be featured at the 6th Annual Mormon Pioneer Bazaar which will be held at the church in Bloomfield Hills on Friday November 10 and Saturday, November 11. The church is located at 425 N. Woodward Ave. Hours will be from 10 A.M. until 8 P.M. on Friday and from 10 A.M. until 5 P.M. on Saturday.

The clerks will be dressed in old-fashioned Pioneer clothes and the old time Bazaar spirit of days gone by will prevail. All items featured are quality handmade items and priced just a little more than the cost of the materials involved. Gifts of every description will be presented. There will also be bakery goods and homemade bread (hot from the ovens) available all day--both days. New features this year are homemade ice cream and scones.

Special events are planned for the children, including grab bags, movies, their own shopping area, a make-up booth, fishing pond and silhouettes. There also will be Whipped Cream squirting. The snack bar will be open for light refreshments and late shoppers will be able to obtain supper.

Nature played a big part in this attractive school display at the Clarkston Elementary. Surrounding this showcase displaying nature's finest finery are Debbie Land, Don Taylor and Malcolm MacDougall. Students of Mrs. Butters, the sixth graders had helped make these posters.

Working at the Kresges store with the Co-op student program is Kathy Siecinski, with Louise Birchett at Michigan Bell, Andrea Eisenhardt and Shirley Garrett at the Thrifty Drugs in Drayton Plains.

Mike Humphrey was presented with an appreciation plaque for all his help as a Den Chief.

Several adults received 1 and 2 year service pins. Mr. Vosie, as Cubmaster, was proud to present a 4 year pin to Mr. George Gray, and a 5 year pin to Mr. Norman Miller for their steady interest and participation in the Cubbing program.

Den 6 closed the meeting with the retiring of the flags.

Graduates as Warrant Officer

Graduating this week from Warrant Officers School is James D. Carter, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Carter of 6220 Snow Apple Drive, Clarkston. He has been attending the Rotary Wing Aviators School at Fort Rucker, Alabama since June. Prior to that he was stationed in Texas. He entered the service in August 1966. He was a Clarkston

High School graduate with the class of 1965. Following the graduation ceremonies on October 24, he will have a two week leave to come home following which he expects to be sent to Vietnam.

SECTION THREE THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., October 26, 1967 9

To celebrate 450th anniversary

Revolutions are commonplace these days. So much so that we tend to think we have a monopoly on them. And yet today's world owes much to the revolts of the past: witness the dates 1860, 1812, and 1776.

This Sunday, October 29, Calvary Lutheran Church of Clarkston takes part in a "revolt" of its own, as members and friends join Lutheran bodies all over the world in celebrating the 450th Anniversary of the Protestant Reformation.

On October 31, 1517, Dr. Martin Luther nailed 95 scholarly theses on the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany. Meant for debate by theologians, these soon found their way into the hands of the common people.

The result was a human revolution that threatened peace and civil order, but changed the Church for the better for centuries to come. For it brought into proper perspective the institutional church, by making central once again the Scriptures and their message of God's grace and forgiveness in Jesus Christ.

This Sunday, at both the 8:30 and 11:00 A.M. services, Calvary Lutheran will pay tribute to Martin Luther and his concern for reform by celebrating the Sacrament of Holy Communion, using Luther's own German Mass and Order for Service. This service is an English translation of Luther's German text, first used on October 29, 1525, and is the result of an earlier service of Luther's, his Formula For The Mass, done in Latin in 1523.

All friends of Calvary are invited to attend one of these very special services this Sunday, and rejoice with her members over the continual reform taking place in Christ's Church. Sunday School classes will also deal with the Reformation, beginning at 9:45 A.M. for first through ninth graders.

Revolutions are important, and worth celebrating, for they keep us from losing perspective.

Deer, a casualty!

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rowe and their son Ricky of King Road spent the past weekend with the Earl Sugdens at Manistique. While driving into town later in the evening on highway M-94, two deer suddenly darted in front of the car. Unable to stop the car, one of the deer was killed. State police reported to the family that this was the 14th deer killed on that particular stretch of road this season.

The Rowe car received about $300 worth of damage from the impact.

OBVIOUSLY, A TOUCHDOWN--off their feet as they jump for joy are these four Clarkston cheerleaders. The fans behind them raised to their feet to cheer their Wolves success, too.

By Lucinda Ellert

Another year, another homecoming, with floats, the powder puff game, the homecoming game, parties, the queen, attendants, maids, the bonfire and snake dance, and the big dance, which every solid high-school girl had been talking about for almost six weeks before the dance. You know - the type of things that excited girls talk about, like the dress, the boy, the shoes, hairstyle, and most of all if they're going to get asked at all. The boys were pretty wrought up too, especially the football players, simply because the homecoming game is the biggest game of the season. Every night after school the floats were worked on, everyone in the school helping in some way. The teachers had the most trouble though, just trying to keep their students quiet. They too were looking forward to the game and dance, because they knew that on Monday, after all the activities they would be able to conduct a decently calm class. Everybody was happy when homecoming week was over, however, because towards Friday the excitement was getting so intense that it was good to feel relaxed again and only have to worry about exams and school work.

There was a great variety of floats this year. The first place winner was the freshman float which was modeled after the old woman in the shoe. It was in the form of a huge, brown shoe with smoke coming out of the chimney and flowers 'growing' all about. Sharon Crosby, the freshman maid sat happily on the float. The sophomore float was 'Laurie in Wonderland', with a big purple mushroom in the middle of the float with a huge yellow caterpillar sitting on it. Laurie MacGregor, the sophomore maid sat on it and beamed radiantly out at the watchers during half-time at the game. Vikki Hall, the junior maid, sat on a float entitled 'Junior Sweetheart.' The float was a gingerbread house with an ice-cream cone for a chimney, lollipops for flowers in the window boxes and icing for the walls and roof. The senior float was a pink castle-with a drawbridge which opened and closed revealing the numbers '68. Pat Mulcrone is the senior maid. The queen's float was an arch with the queen, Cheryl Mansfield sitting in the center and the attendants on both sides, Jan Peters and Cindy Young. Finally, there was a band float which was Captain Hook's ship with multi-colored masts on a blue 'sea' made out of paper napkins painted blue.

To finish up the week there was a dance entitled 'Never Never Land' with murals of the Peter Pan characters, Captain Hook's ship and Tinker Bell. The decoration committee was Roselind Byers, Brian DiPietro, and Miss Prevette's Studio Art Class.

It was long thought that if a cat turned her tail to the fire a hard frost was due. And that when a cat washed over her left eye, a stranger was about to visit the house.

School night recruits close to 2,000 boys

Preliminary reports show that 1,980 boys signed up October 17 as Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers during highly-successful School Night for Scouting programs sponsored by the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The programs were held at 132 schools in Oakland and Macomb counties to recruit new members. It marked the first time such programs had been tried in the Council. The boys will be taken into existing units or new ones to be organized in the coming weeks.

Homecoming was great

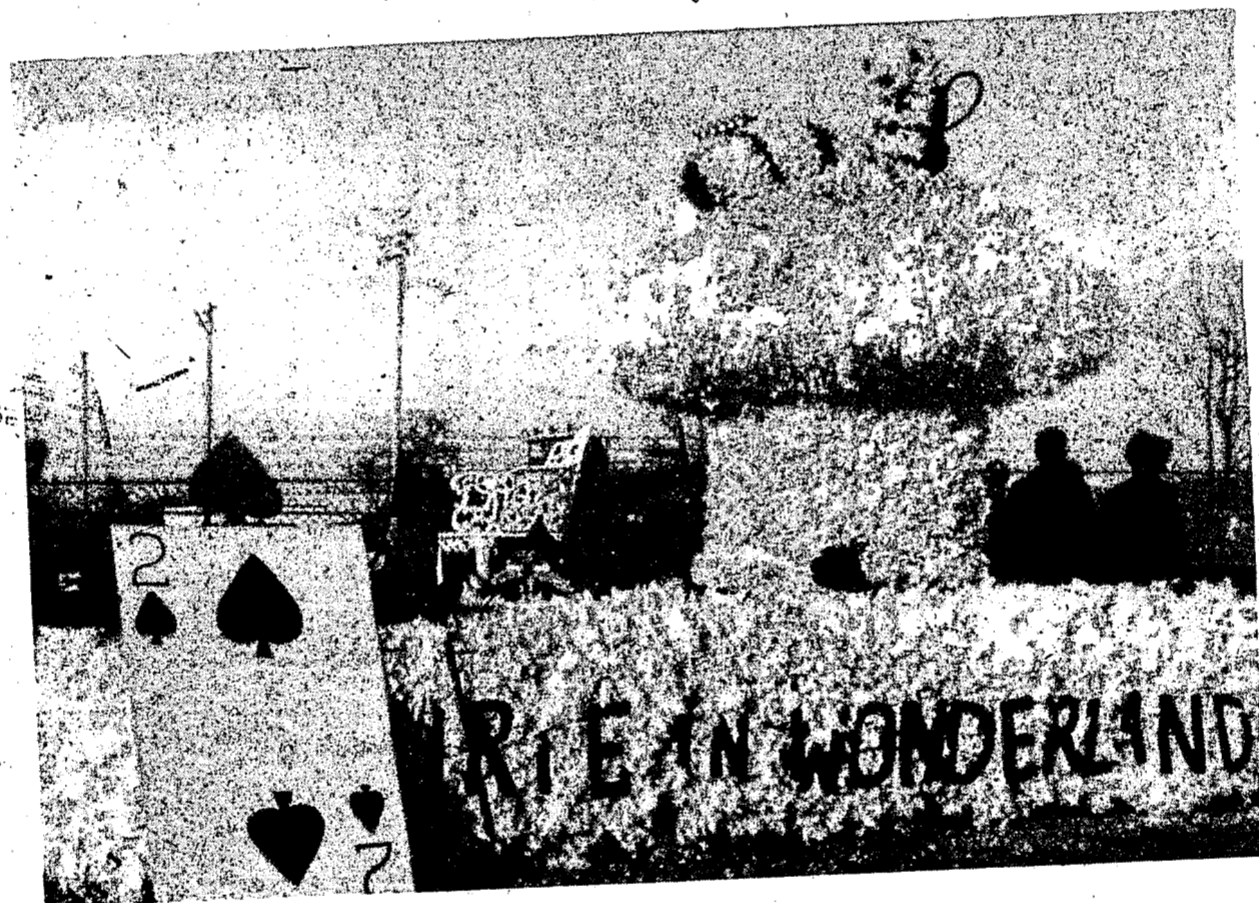

Chosen by the judges for the first place award was this float. The boot shaped float carried a "Stomp 'Em" theme and was made by students in the Freshman class.

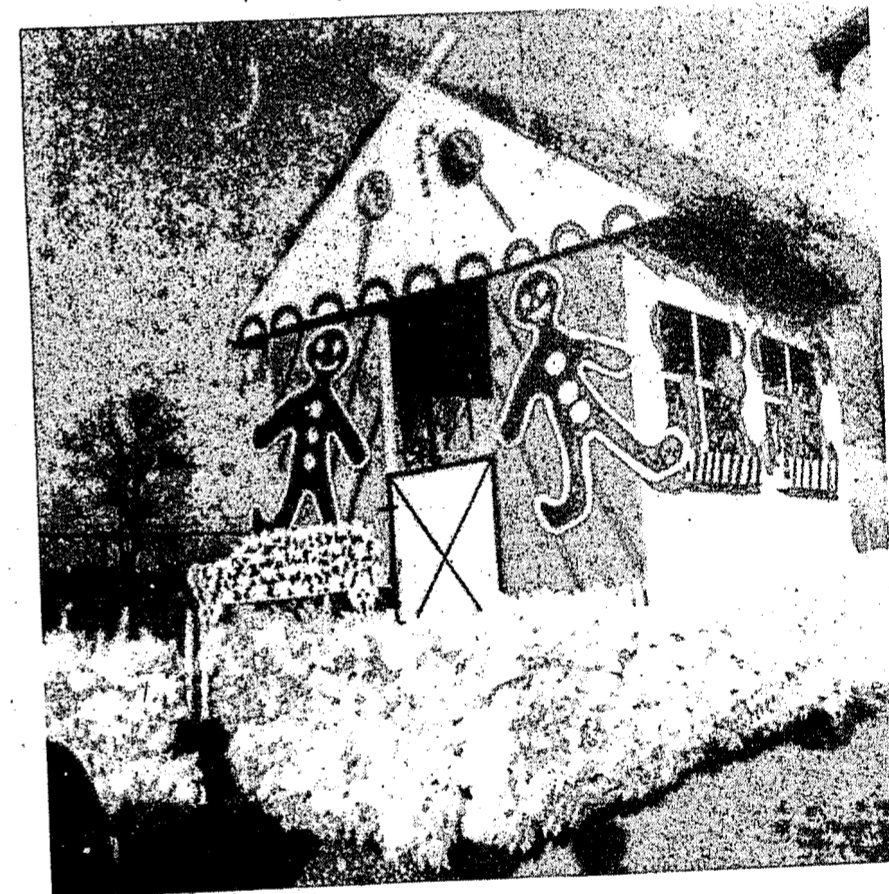

Strong winds whipped over the area on float judging day and left some pretty sad workers in its wake. The Hook sailed against the winds and arrived with shredded sails. Considered a top contender the float was the entry for the school band.

Homecoming Queen Cheryl Mansfield is crowned by last year's Queen Shayla Smith.

Perched on a large mushroom was this friendly little worm belonging to the Sophomore class. They used a befitting Laurie in Wonderland theme.

The Junior Class float was a Gingerbread House.

Seniors chose a pink and white castle for their Maid's throne.

ROUND THE TOWN

Participate in fraternity installation

Four Clarkston men took part in the formal installation of Gamma Rho chapter of Sigma Pi fraternity on the Western Michigan University campus on Saturday. More than 40 men were installed by national officers of Sigma Pi during the program. Paul A. Hinkley of Clarkston is the local president.

The ceremonies were held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Kalamazoo. A banquet at the Holiday Inn in Battle Creek for members, their guests and friends completed the days activities.

The colony, which was organized at WMU on Oct. 31, 1966 becomes the first in the university's history to become affiliated with a national fraternity in such a short period of time. The national group claims the distinction of being the oldest fraternity west of the Ohio River.

Other members from Clarkston besides Hinkley are David C. Coulter. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David N. Coulter of 6207 Delhi; Richard Palladino, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Palladino of 5026 Frankwill; and Robert A. Gray the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Gray of 7859 Dubuque Street.

Wanona Hillman

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell of Columbus Ohio, are the proud parents of a baby boy. The baby weighed 8 lb. 3 oz. The Campbell's named their little boy Scott Gordon. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of W. Ellis Road, Davisburg.

Mrs. John Stiller and Mrs. John Campbell hosted a belated baby shower for Mrs. Jay Campbell on October 1st. There was one very special guest, the baby, Gordon Mathew.

Michael Wood of Clarkston, joined his mother, Mrs. Ann Nicholson at the Pontiac Osteopathic hospital. Mr. Wood underwent back surgery. He is reported to be doing very well.

Shellie and Penney Hillman attended a hayride with their Sunday school class. After a long hayride they returned to the home of their teacher Mrs. Marilyn Carter. There they enjoyed a spaghetti dinner and hot chocolate.

Karen Rikerd of Davisburg is hobbling around these days on crutches. Miss Rikerd pulled a ligament in her foot.

Bob Turner is home spending a few days with his wife and family on Eastlawn in Clarkston.
