When Jeff Keyser had a little neck trouble in a recent game, team physician Dr. Rockwood Bullard was on hand to check it. It was only a muscle spasm.

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

There are times when I'd like to stick my head in the sand, or close my mind to things about me. Illusions are shattered, troubles pile up, there's not enough time, and nerves get short.

The last three I can stand, but shattered illusions hurt differently. The most recent was the threatened nurses' strike in Detroit. I just can't picture the angels of mercy walking a picket line.

Striking teachers is another incident that was hard to adjust to. The understanding trainers of your children carrying signs instead of books.

I suppose we have to get used to those things. That's the kind of world we're living in.

---0---

If the equivalent of the modern-day draft board had been screening men for military talent, some of the world's most famous figures would have been turned down.

U.S. Grant was an alcoholic.

Bismark was overweight. The Duke of Wellington was underweight.

Nelson had only one eye. Kaiser Wilhelm had a withered arm.

Napoleon had ulcers of the stomach. Julius Caesar was an epileptic.

Which proves there must be merit in the old saying, "You can't judge a book by its cover."

---0---

By the time you read this, I'll have returned from Bear Town, U.S.A. and, hopefully, a Milwaukee "Gemutlichkeit." I'm told that's a stag party, and Hazel ought to love it. My pretense for going is to look at machinery, but I've always wanted to see what kind of a party the beer companies would throw for newspaper people.

Schools recess while teachers convene

School will be out for area youngsters on Thursday and Friday of this week, but for more than 24,000 teachers, they will be leaving their classrooms for something a bit different.

Sixteen instructional centers in a four county area will be hosting two-day conferences sponsored by the Michigan Education Association in an attempt to emphasize the improvement of instruction.

Small campuses have been organized to provide in-depth sessions to meet every imaginable interest from art through special education. For example, the Livonia schools are hosting the art workshops, while educators interested in business and cooperative education will find their programs in Detroit, Oak Park, or Ferndale.

Or, teachers will journey to meetings scheduled for Wayne and Ferndale if they are interested in family living or home economics. Those wishing to update their knowledge of audio-visual education will find their interests met in Livonia, as will teachers of foreign languages.

Meetings in language arts are slated for high schools in Warren, Royal Oak, Farmington, and Birmingham. Mathematics teachers will spend their time at specially-prepared meetings in Warren and music educators will go to Oak Park and Mount Clemens.

Instructors in physical education will journey to Port Huron for their two-day sessions, as will teachers of driver education. Utica will host sessions in pre-school and early elementary education. The science programs are centered at Romulus High School, social studies at Troy High School, and special education at Lincoln Park. A center for professional activities will be located in Garden City.

ATTENTION--JAYCEES

Jaycee members are urged to make plans for their Annual Ladies Night. This year it will be held on Friday, November 10. Those same members are also urged to meet at the Township Hall parking lot at 6 P.M. An outstanding evening has been planned. There will be music by the group known as "The Starlighters."

Members are urged to contact Art Ripley at 625-2215 for reservations.

Maczko hearing scheduled

A decision will be made soon as to whether there is enough evidence to bind the case of Paul M. Maczko over to Circuit Court for trial. The next preliminary court hearing will be on November 15. Justice of the Peace, Kenneth Hempstead of Waterford township is conducting the hearing. The last hearing was adjourned on Friday.

The accused are Maczko 57, and his housekeeper, Mrs. Florence Lewis, 29, both of 9052 Ortonville Road, Clarkston. The cruelty charges stem from investigation by Action Line of the Detroit Free Press and subsequent investigation by law officers. Cruelty charges to four of Mrs. Lewis five children are involved. At Friday's hearing Detective Max Little of the State Police, who heads the case testified that Mrs. Lewis had knowledge of the chaining of two of the children together.

Campaign near half-way mark

The Monday luncheon of the Pontiac Area United Fund showed that 46.8% of this year's campaign goal of $1,130,000 had been reached. A total of $520,567.28 had been turned in. Frederick J. Poole, general campaign chairman announced the results of the 5 major campaign divisions.

The residential division, headed by Mrs. Robert C. Irwin reported $5,780.88 or 14.9% of their $38,541.71 goal. This residential report includes the following areas: Waterford, under the leadership of Mrs. Cecil Stricklin; Lake Angelus, Pontiac, Lake Orion, Oxford, and Independence under the leadership of Mrs. Carl Birkelo. The Clarkston residential goal is $6,300.

The Pontiac Area United Fund drive runs until November 10th.

Bonds to be sold and bids taken

Tentative plans by the Clarkston Board of Education call for taking bids on November 28 for the 2 1/2 million dollar bond issue. Also tentative, but planned is the taking of bids for the Junior High building on December 11.

Approval for the sale of these bonds was given just 2 weeks ago following a 9 month delay by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission. Voters in June, 1966 approved the proposed plans.

This new Junior High School will be constructed at the North Sashabaw Elementary school site located at Sashabaw and Maybee Roads.

It is estimated that the delay in approving the sale of these bonds has already cost the district approximately $300,000 in construction costs.

If the bids are taken for the building on December 11, construction would be started next spring--nearly a year later than planned. The architectural firm which designed the building is Richard Prince Associates of Kalamazoo.

When completed, there will be no more 9th grade students housed in the Senior High School. The new building will accommodate 1000 students and will have 117,820 feet of floor space.

Local group hopes to bring cheer to convalescent patients

An enthusiastic group of local women are banding together to form an organization which can work with the convalescent people at the Pine Knob Nursing Home. Seeing the need there for volunteers to come in and aid these people with crafts and to just help them while away the lonesome hours is what started the movement.

The lady behind this project is Mrs. James Seifert who visits patients in the home often. She is having a meeting at her home at 7954 Perry Lake Road this Thursday night at 7:30. She hopes that interested people will come and listen to the plans that the group already has. So far there are 10 volunteers. They have been given assistance in their planning by ladies of the auxiliary of Pontiac General Hospital. Some of the members of the Clarkston Jaycettes have volunteered their services.

"These people at the home are so forgotten when it comes to pleasures," Mrs. Seifert says. "Our group wants to go once a week to read to them or to work on crafts and handiwork with these people. Mainly, we would like people who feel they could donate 2 hours every week or every other week or even once a month. This really isn't too much time to know that you are doing good," she went on to say.

"We could use old magazines, books, scraps of material, yarn, old nylons, ribbon, felt, cotton, old beads and stones and anything useable for crafts."

If you have any of these materials or time please call Mrs. Seifert at 625-4574 or plan to attend the organizational meeting Thursday evening.

It is hoped that arrangements can also be worked out for Church groups or Scout groups to visit the home especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas time.

According to Mrs. Winfield who manages the home, there are approximately 20 patients who could actively participate in a crafts program.

School crossing conditions being studied by local group

A committee has been formed and is actively working to correct traffic conditions at the school crossing on Waldon Road. This is a direct result of the accident in which Marilyn Biondi was injured on Monday, October 16. Marilyn received a broken leg when she walked into a car being driven by Lillian Mager of 9590 Woodside, Clarkston.

Marilyn, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Biondi of 6156 Cramlane Drive returned from Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital over a week ago. With the aid of crutches and a wheelchair, she is working with a home bound teacher in an effort to keep up with her school work. She expects to use the crutches and the chair for at least 3 months.

A meeting was held on October 24 with the following persons in attendance: Duane Hurs-fall, Floyd Vincent, George Barrie, Milford Mason, Mel Vaara, Mrs. Leslie Purslow, Mrs. Robert Tilley, Homer Biondi, and Richard Chartier.

The meeting had been called by Mr. Barrie at the request of Dr. Greene. Discussed were ways and means that could be used to improve the crossing conditions on Waldon Road for Junior and Senior High Students.

Prior to any plans, approval must be granted from the Oakland County Road Commission, before lights, crossing guards, or variations in the speed limits may be instituted.

Richard Chartier of the Michigan State Police, Pontiac Post has put in a request to his department to have a traffic survey taken there. This survey will be made available to the Road Commission.

In other action at the meeting plans were discussed to set up an educational program for the students regarding safety as pertaining to traffic conditions.

Floyd Vincent was to study a plan whereby the letting out of students would be done on a more staggered schedule thus eliminating the 6 minute schedule now being used which obviously is not sufficient.

There was also discussion relative to contacting a Crossing Guards Association in Detroit. Such a program has been in existence there for 20 years, but there are many complications relative to such a program. Qualified personnel must be available and these same people must be deputized etc.

Another meeting is scheduled for the near future at which time, reports will be made on the progress of the various investigations into the crossing problem.

Making the most of the season's first snowfall last Friday were the six O'Rourke children. The children, who live on SnowApple matched their partners on Saturday shortly before they went the way of all snowpeople. Pictured are Patty, Linda, Nancy, Kathy, Jeanne and Crissie.

Co-op students employed at the Federal Department store in Drayton Plains are Stu Moore, Vicki Dafoe and Marilyn Simunic.

Tuesday, October 24, the high school Audio Visual club went to see a silent movie at the Redford Theater in Detroit. The movie was a Flicker Fingers production entitled "The Mark of Zorro" accompanied by Gaylord Carter on the Grande Barton Organ. Mr. Carter originally used to play the organ introduction to the "Amos and Andy" show in the 1930's. Since then he has gone all over the country to perform at theaters and vaudeville shows. The organ was fantastically huge with three keyboards and ten sets of pipes with about seventy-three pipes per set. There were five sets of pipes on either side of the theater with sounds ranging from regular organ music to cavalry horns to bird calls. The program started out with an explanation of the organ by Mr. Carter, then several "bouncing ball" cartoons were shown in which old 1920 popular songs were projected on the movie screen with a ball bouncing across the words. These two were silent with only the organ to supply the music. After that "The Mark of Zorro" was shown, starring Douglas Fairbanks as Zorro. The movie was supposed to be quite serious but in this day and age, it was so out of place with time that it turned out hilarious. The plot was centered around a Mexican tyrant ruler and a heroic Casanova around 1820, and it went something like this: Whenever a pretty girl, priest or Mexican native was being molested, this weak, sissyfied boy would suddenly turn into Zorro, and he would overthrow the villain and rescue the oppressed. That's just what he did; Zorro stomped on the evil Mexican government and delivered the poor, sick natives, (and priests and pretty girls) and married the loveliest seniorita in Mexico. Everybody lived happily ever after, including the AV club who enjoyed the movie immensely.

The Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church youth group had a Halloween party last Saturday, October 28. The group met at Mr. John Borsh's house at 6:30 P.M. where they got on a hay wagon and rode through town and several fields on a hay ride. After the hay ride everybody, wearing costumes went to the Presbyterian Church to play games, go on a scavenger hunt, and blindly feel their way through a maze while all the lights were out and spooky noises were being supplied by a tape recorder.

The Job's Daughters had a Mystery Trip last Saturday, Oct. 28. The members met at the Bethel at 7:00 where they were picked up by an Atlas moving van and taken to someplace and went on a hayride to someplace and finally ended up at Kay Mohler's house where they had a party in the loft of their barn. Unfortunately, the girls did not know where the 'someplaces' were as they were in the moving van half the time and on a dark hayride the other half.

The Wolves and Lakers Tie

Ties usually do not settle anything, in Duffy Daugherty's classic statement, "It's like kissing your sister." However, this tie certainly puts West Bloomfield in the drivers seat for the league title. If the Keego Harbor crew can defeat Bl. Hills this Friday, they can have it all to themselves. But, if Clarkston can defeat Milford, West Bloomfield gets beat. The Wolves will tie for the title. Milford though, can have the title to themselves at both Clarkston and West Bloomfield lose. So this Friday will either be Black Friday or Good Friday, depending on your choice for the title.

One would expect a scoreless game to be a rather lackluster contest, this was the exception to the rule. There were many fine offensive plays and the defense play by both ball clubs was superb. The Lakers were supposed to have a porous defense, but playing for the league title they went all out for Art Paddy and choked off one rally after another in the 4th quarter.

Keego's defense was so strong in the 1st half, the Wolves never got beyond their own 29 yard line. West Bloomfield was pounding on the Wolves door all during the 1st half, but when they got inside the 20, the Wolves defense lived up to their press clippings and stymied Art Paddy's high scoring machine. In seven games the opposition has scored only 28 pts. an average of only 4 pts. a game when you hold a team scoreless that is averaging 28 pts. a game your defense is in for many a loud Plaudit.

Keego opened up the game fast and in two plays they were on the nine, but a fumble ruined the drive. West Bloomfield kept up the pressure all half but failed to penetrate the last white stripe.

West B'field kept up their relentless pressure in the 3rd period and the Wolves offense started to perk up too. Coach Kenyon switched his offense plan in using exclusively only three plays. Power sweeps, off tackle slants and inside trap plays. These three basic plays almost netted the Wolves the winning touchdown. In the fourth quarter they were inside the 10 twice, but each time the drive was thwarted by the inspired Keego eleven.

The Wolves gained 184 yards on the ground, with 909 coming in the 2nd half. One can see the Wolves had the offense, but couldn't pull off the big play.

Steve Parker gained 111 yards, and he showed some great break away running on the slippery turf. Parker averaged better than 11 yards per carry. Jeff Keyser picked up 66 yards and his full off tackle in the 4th quarter almost went all the way. Only one white shirt stood between him and pay dirt, but that white shirt tossed Keyser out of bounds on the 41.

West Bloomfield had one yard less on the ground than Clarkston, but out passed the Wolves 128 to 63. The brother combination, Brennan to Brennan, gained 110 yards.

West Bloomfield had three fumbles, and they also had 70 yards in penalties. They had 1st down on Clarkston's 8 in the 4th quarter and after some penalties they had a 4th down on the 49.

Yes, too bad the Wolves couldn't have scored in this well-played hard fought battle, because even though the game ended in a tie, the Lakers took a 1/2 step towards the title in the Wayne-Oakland County league.

This Friday the defense will get another stern test when they take on another high scoring machine - Milford. This could be, for all the marbles, so Wolves go get-em!

Brighton scored two more times to take a commanding 18-7 lead. The Junior Wolves scored with only 4 seconds left on a pass from Worman to Terry Lane.

The team will close out their successful season with a game at Milford.

What got into the Detroit Lions, is that the same team that we saw play last Sunday? How about that Sweetan Fella? While the high school teams have been busy defeating everyone, the junior high has quietly been running a program of their own.

The last 4 years the boys have played touch football, but this year the teams are playing flag football. There are 110 boys divided into 8 teams. Mr. Cooper and Mr. O'Brien are the 7th grade coaches.

The boys play their games on Monday and Tuesday. The season started Sept. 18th and will conclude November 8th.

The Saints are leading the league with a record of 5-0. Bruce Souby, John Walts and Bill Hamilton have been the big guns. Souby has scored 25 pts. and Hamilton has scored 44 pts.

This is the 3rd year that the 8th graders have been playing tackle football. 105 boys showed up for the 1st practice on Sept. 12th. The boys are divided into 4 teams. The coaches are Cliff Irwin, Bill Potvin, Jim Koslosky and Toby Carter.

Mr. Irwins team leads the league with a record of 4-0. Dan Taylor, Al Watson, Mark Warren and Lee Kid have been the scoring leaders for Irwins team. Watson has scored 10 TD's, Taylor seven TD's, Warren 2 and Kidd 1 TD.

The season closes this week and next Wednesday Nov. 8th, the 9th and 8th graders will square off in a battle on the high school field.

Sight-inrifles on O.C.S.C. range

In the interest of improved public and community relations the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club has for years opened its small-bore rifle range to the public so that non-members may have a safe, supervised opportunity to sight in their hunting rifles or have them sighted in by experts.

This program has the approval of the Michigan Rifle and Pistol Association and the National Rifle Association. The Michigan Department of Conservation is very glad to know that deer hunters have a chance to practice on paper targets instead of practicing on game in the fields and forests.

At 10:00 A.M. Saturday and Sunday, November 4 and 5, the D.R. Wilson Rifle and Pistol Club of O.C.S.C. will welcome, to the small-bore rifle range only, deer hunters who wish to use the facilities. These facilities consist of sixteen bench rest firing points and target frames at both 50 yards and 100 yards. All firing is to be done at the bench rests.

The guest fee is $1.00 per hour per gun for the use of one bench and one target frame at 100 yards and one target frame at 50 yards. Two total targets will be included.

The guest fee is $3.00 per rifle if the non-member's gun is to be sighted in by an O.C.S.C. rifle expert.

Special life-size deer targets will be available for sale at the range.

Those who think their gun is perfectly sighted in may get a chance to blow up one of Fred Mayer's dynamite bombs.

The range will close at 5:00 P.M.

J.V. loses No. 1

No sooner were we talking about an undefeated season and Bang the unpredictable happens. Brighton 18, Clarkston 14! Yes, that's right Brighton knocked the sails out of an undefeated season.

Coach Hanson claims, "this is the best coached team he has ever seen at Brighton." This includes all sports. He goes on to say they hustled all over the place, well organized, well coached.

They gained most of the yardage on the ground, as the Brighton line outcharged the Clarkston crew all evening.

Brighton scored first and Clarkston went ahead on a 8-yard run by Steve Worman. Orison Bullard ran the extra-point to give the J.V. team a 7-6 lead.

Notes on the Orchard

By Constance Lektzian
625-2378

There was an early start on Halloween parties this weekend. One of them was a scavenger hunt - and a group of costumed young people stopped at our house Saturday night. They garnered a boiled egg at our doorstep and what do you know - I forgot to ask where? who? when? Would have liked to have written up their party for this column but it was too late after they left. Anyway, I'm sure they had fun.

Twenty-four Girl Scouts from Troop 453 went to the home of Mrs. Ronald Goebel on 6055 Cramlane last Tuesday afternoon from 4:00 to 5:30. It was their annual Halloween party and a very successful affair it was, too. The girls had all spent days planning and making their costumes. Cathleen Con-nely won the prize for the most original outfit and Jennifer Packer carried off the prize for the best costume. They bobbed for apples and then each patrol had charge of a game. Refreshments were served in a Halloween theme. The leader of the troop is Mrs. Roy Lewis of 6291 Church Street. She was assisted by Mrs. Harry Yoh of 7 Buffalo Street and Mrs. Alfred Hamilton of 6134 Overlook Road. This group has had many successful outings, due in a great part to the efforts of their leader and the mothers who have put much time and thought into the working with the troop.

Mrs. R.C. Little and daughter Donnette came up from Cleveland, Ohio this weekend to visit her parents, the Harvey Pines of 5350 Clarkston-Orion Road. The Pines, of course, were especially delighted to see their little grand-daughter.

The Auxiliary of the Campbell-Richmond American Legion Post had their meeting last Monday night at their hall on M-15. Mrs. Franklin Corby of Felix Drive, president of the group presided at the 8:00 meeting. Last spring the Auxiliary had sent three girls from Clarkston High School to Girls State in Ann Arbor. Two of the girls, Miss Debbie Head and Miss Joan Willis gave talks at the Monday meeting describing their experiences and all they had learned during their stay at Michigan State University. They had both found Girl's State deeply interesting and found out much about state government and court procedures. Debbie is the daughter of Ernest Head's of 7759 Maceday Lake Road and Dr. and Mrs. Maurice E. Willis of 5051 Whipple Lake Road are the parents of Joan. The third girl, Sue Bennett, will speak at a later meeting.

Plans were made at this meeting for a November gathering of members of the Auxiliary to make the red flannel Christmas stockings that go along with the Legion Post's gifts to needy families. This is really a labor of love as the members never know if they will find themselves making and filling 25 of these stockings or 125. This Post, which is quite active in the neighborhood, held a steak dinner at the Legion Hall last Saturday night, October 28, followed by dancing later in the evening for members and their guests.

Parallel lines always converge at the same point on the horizon. If we stand in the center of a highway, and look straight ahead, we discover that the lanes seem to disappear at one central point. The artist must deal with this curious fact when he paints a canvas. We call it perspective. It is the way our eyes see the picture. If we stand at a different position, the scene changes, and the vanishing point is moved to a new place on the horizon. By changing our position we change our perspective.

This is true of life. How we look at our afflictions and our troubles is very largely determined by our inner attitude. In a very real way our ideas about God will determine our perspective.

The Church can help you to place all areas of life in balance. Many people today are confused and disturbed because they see things in the wrong perspective. Visit your church this Sunday and see if the world doesn't look better next week!

A fish story

Fishing stories have seemed to catch my eye lately. Here's one about a couple of unnamed Mason codgers who were fishing from a boat. The one sitting in front took his false teeth out and placed them on the seat beside him. His companion sitting in the seat behind him thought he would play a practical joke so he took out his own false teeth and put them on the seat of his friend, at the same time pocketing his friend's teeth.

Sometime later the fisherman in the front seat picked up the choppers beside him and slipped them in his mouth, then jerked them out.

"These dad-blamed things never did fit," he exploded, and he threw them over the side of the boat.

The fisherman in the back of the boat watched his own teeth sink slowly to the bottom of the lake. Then he did the only thing possible. He took his friend's teeth out of his pocket and dropped them into the water.

"Mine never did either," he said.

State Representative Loren Anderson writes this office that the deadline for high school graduates who wish summer employment with the State Conservation Department have only until Nov. 6 to apply. Summer job opportunities will be in the Park Ranger classification for work in State Parks throughout Michigan. The Conservation Department also employs male and female lifeguards in the state parks during the summer. Written tests for applicants will be held on Dec. 9. Anderson says, "The department tells me, that many young people have been turned down in recent years because they did not apply in time. Most prospective summer employees will wait until just before the vacation period before asking about jobs, and at that time it is almost impossible to obtain positions.

Dumb cat wouldn't stay lost

I received a long letter from The American Feline Society, Inc. which boasts "23 years of selfless, unpaid, dedicated service to the cat."

I almost threw up.

The letter arrived on Friday the 13th, the same day I discovered that black cats are not as unlucky as yellow cats.

BUT LET'S BEGIN this sad story at the beginning which is: I hate cats. They are dumb and good for nothing. When I was a mean little kid, I dropped cats out of windows and into creeks. As an adult, I ignore cats unless they rub me the wrong way (they are always rubbing and there is no right way) and then I kick them.

It has been several years since I wrote about cats. The last time, a group of elderly women organized a protest march and burned 6 sacks of cat hairs on my front lawn. I realize that many people love cats, which is their business. I respect every man's right to pet the pet of his choice. Just as long as he doesn't give its kittens to my kids. That boils my cool.

Which brings us to the yellow cat. A classmate gave it to 9-year-old Eddie. He was allowed to keep it because his mother and sisters love cats. Dad is just a dummy who must do as he's told or Mother won't let him be boss anymore.

This cat was named Priscilla (until the 15th time it jumped in my face when I was sleeping. As I threw it across the bedroom, I noticed something the cat-lovers had somehow missed. The name was changed to Percy. To love a cat, you do not have to be too bright.

Anyway, the situation soon improved. Percy disappeared for 2 weeks. Mother was sure a car had flattened him. Our oldest daughter, away at college, wrote she was sure I'd drowned him. The 2 little kids were certain Percy would return. I was rooting for Mother.

Mother put a nauseating Lost Ad in America's Largest Rural Weekly. "Do please phone little Chrissie or little Eddie-if you find their pretty yellow cat." It was obvious the little brats were being fed intravenously and couldn't last much longer without their beloved pet.

You'd be surprised how many people have nothing better to do than read classified ads and mind other people's business. We got 10 phone calls and that stupid cat was tracked down in no time. It was Friday the 13th when Mother finally rescued Percy from atop a garbage can, not 5 minutes from home.

"I am through believing those newspaper stories about cats that are dumped in Colorado and find their way back home to Vermont in 3 days," I said. "This clownish cat couldn't come 4 blocks in 2 weeks."

The kids were overjoyed. They quickly got into a tremendous fight over which one would phone big sister and tell her the marvelous news. After this was settled, they had another fight over whose turn it was to feed the cat. Neither one wanted to do it. In the meantime, Percy kept rubbing the wrong way against my ankles. Things were back to normal. I cried a little.

Noticing my anguish, my wife again berated me for being a cruel father who would deny his family the joys of owning a cat. She made it clear that there must be something wrong with anyone who doesn't like cats.

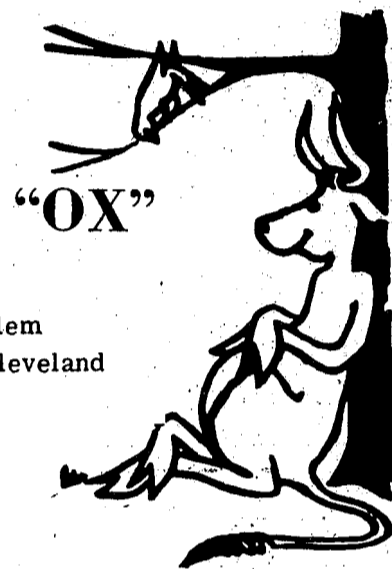

"You say it is unreasonable for me to be angered when I trip over a dumb cat and break my knee," I told her, "but you think it's perfectly reasonable to shriek your wig off when a picture of a snake appears on TV. Explain that to me, please."

"Dinner will be ready in 15 minutes," she explained.

And then The American Feline Society, Inc. writes to tell me that Nov. 5-11 is International Cat Week and for $250 I can have a lifetime membership in their society.

My wife will probably buy 9 memberships, one for each life. And for Cat Week, she will serve me my morning milk in a saucer.

Onward and upward.

Clem Cleveland

thought that I would take a walk through the fields that surround our house.

No sooner had I got home, when I heard the sound of gun fire coming from the fields behind the house. I looked out in the field and saw four young men. One was picking up a hen pheasant that he had shot.

Again my blood started boiling. I hollered at the boys. They looked up and started running. I pursued.

After about a mile chase, I caught them at their house. In words that they could easily understand, I told them just what I thought about their sportsmanship. One of the boys' mother was in ear shot. She came out and listened as I concluded my oration.

When she learned that her son was the one that had killed the hen, she took her son's gun and wrapped it around a nearby tree. The son said he was sorry for hunting on the land. "I didn't know that land was posted," he said.

As far as I was concerned, whether or not he knew the land had "NO HUNTING OR TRESPASSING" signs all around it didn't matter. He had missed the whole point. It is against the law to kill hens. He had willingly done so.

The following few days, Saturday and Sunday, the woods and fields around our house looked like Cox's army was on the march. I suppose that every animal that had made this small section of Michigan its home is now dead.

Enough said about Michigan Sportsmen. Next week, I'll get back to my favorite topic, Carhooon, or something.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

On Thursday morning Oct. 26th a middle-aged car, blue with white top, turned off Dixie Hwy. and proceeded down a private road at the north end of Deer Lake. The driver stopped, opened his door and put out a month old kitten, turned around and drove off, leaving the little animal to face the rigors of the elements and to die of starvation.

I would ask that this letter be published, or a separate article, advising people with unwanted animals to contact the Pontiac Humane Society or the Oakland County Animal Welfare Agency listed in the phone book. "Be Kind to Animals Week" should be every week of the year.

Another Day

By Constance Lektzian

When John Irish came to America from Cheddar Somersetshire, England, he brought with him a quality important for success in the New World—a useful trade, that of stone mason and plasterer. He had worked at this trade since a young boy and it may well have been his confidence in his ability to find work that encouraged him to leave England for the States. In 1848, he and his wife, a young girl with the attractive name of Flower, sailed to New York with their three children, a daughter Fannie, and two sons William and Forest.

The first home of the Irish family in York state was in Onondaga county, a spot that seems to have furnished Independence Township with a good many pioneers. It was undoubtedly here that John heard of the big grants of forest land that was waiting for settlers to clear into farms. He and Flower packed up their family, which now included another son, Thomas and in 1849, just one year after setting foot in the new country, they started the trek to Michigan.

For over fifty years John Irish was one of Clarkston's successful farmers and stock raisers. He still found time to follow his original trade and many of the older homes had walls plastered by him. Two more sons were born after John and Flower arrived in Michigan—John and Washington.

The oldest son William took over the family farm when he grew up and made a success of stock raising. A quiet, unassuming person, he never married, and devoted his time to making a comfortable home for his parents. He became noted for his beautiful flower gardens, a hobby that seemed a family trait. All of the sons born to Flower and John became successful farmers and John, Jr. became one of the leading stockmen in Michigan. He also became president of the Metamora State Savings Bank.

W. E. IRISH

Washington, the youngest son, is probably the most well-remembered in Independence Township. He at first went into farming with his older brother John and later the two owned a butcher shop in Clarkston. He returned to farming later when the store was sold and his industry and thrift made his farm very successful.

Active and well-known in the community, Wash as he was nicknamed, was elected as village assessor for two years when quite a young man. An energetic Democrat, he then served as supervisor for seven years. After an interim of 16 years, he was again elected as supervisor and served for 19 years. In fact he did not drop his active participation in community affairs until 1929 when he was 73 years old.

During his first term as supervisor the main stone bridges in the township were built. In 1911, one year after he started his second tenure in office, a new town hall was erected, a field stone building. This is now the present post office.

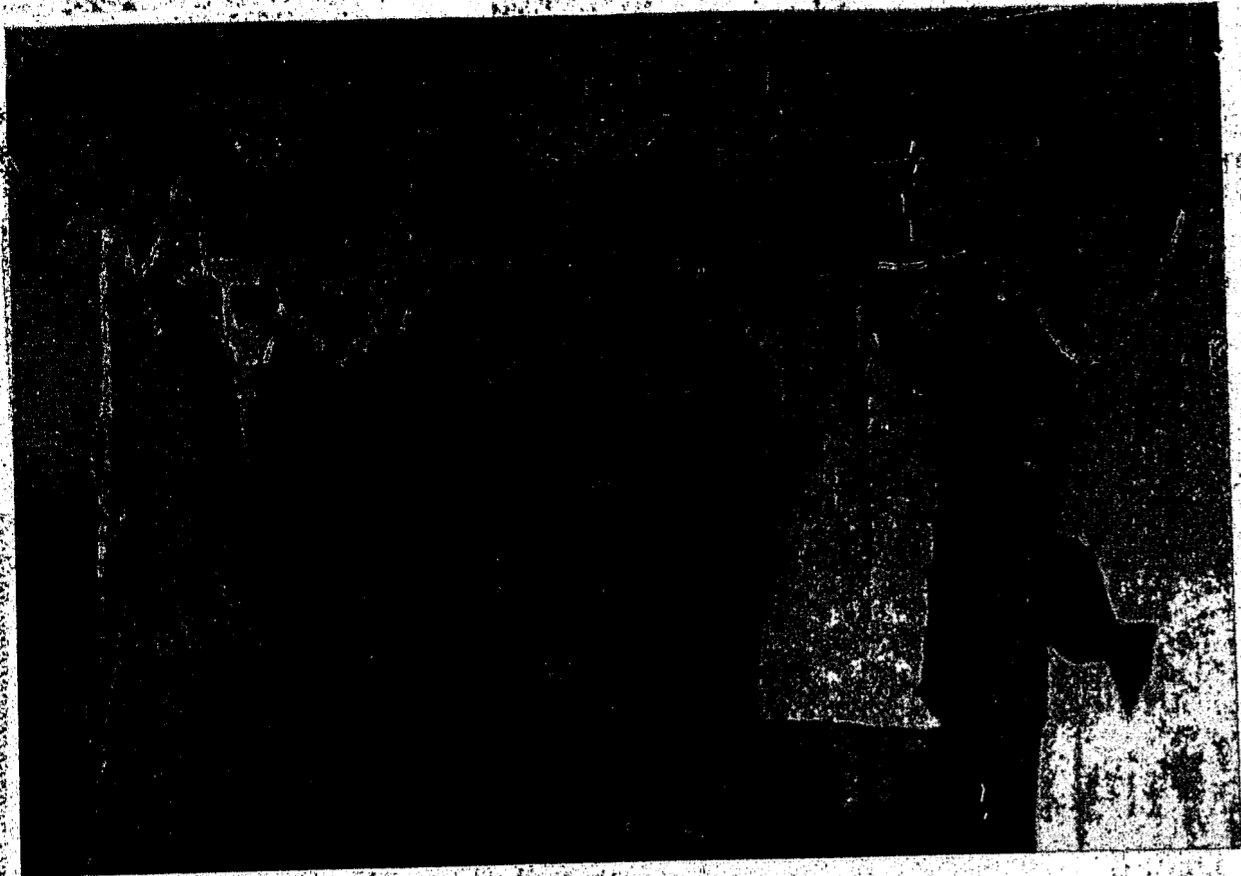

At the age of 28, Washington Irish married Charlotte Urch, who was herself from one of the older families in Clarkston. They became the parents of one son, Alphonso and four daughters, Elizabeth, Fanny, Ruby and Thelma.

At a time when most of the children were grown, Wash Irish bought the home on Main Street known as the Clark house, considered as one of the landmarks of Clarkston from the time it was first built. Carrying on the tradition of stone masonry from his father, he built up the porch across the front of the house, which still stands today.

Later, following the time of his wife's death and when most of his children were launched on careers of their own, Washington Irish sold the Clark house and bought the old Union school property across the street. He and his daughter Fanny lived in the small white house that is now the library. At the time of his death, in 1939, Wash had plans to make the old high school into apartments. The land and buildings were later sold to Henry Ford and eventually were purchased by the township for use as township offices. Washington Irish, eighty-three years old at the time of his death, personified the hardy pioneer spirit of his forebearers, taking an active interest in his community's affairs even into his last days.

Known for years as the Clark house, it was later owned by Washington Irish during some of the years he was Township Supervisor.

The well known Hawaiian song, the Hukilau, was reenacted last week at the Andersonville school by students in Miss Lindaman's class. The program was a windup to the social studies unit on Hawaii. Casting their fishing nets were (from right) Dawn Lowes, Alden Palmer, Debra Camper, Kirk Stuart, Kim Langdon, Janice Greenacre, Teresa Stewart and Matt Milobar.

Their way of saying "thanks"

Girls of the Home Economics classes in the Junior High School have wanted to say "thank you" to members of the Board of Education for providing them with new equipment in their department. To do this, they have chosen to entertain the board members and some of the administrative personnel at a dinner on November 13. This is the night of the regular school board meeting. The dinner will precede the meeting. Elaborate plans have been made and invitations sent. The girls have formed a committee under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Montney, Home Economics instructor there for the past 13 years. The menu which has already been worked out will be highlighted with foods which the girls have prepared in their food preservation classes. Invited to attend with members of the Board of Education are Dr. Greene, Floyd Vincent, George Barrie, Mel Vaara, and Kelly Burnette. In use will be the new tables and chairs in the dining areas which the girls are so appreciative of. The girls and Mrs. Montney are providing the food, with the menu being topped off with baked chicken.

Serving on the committee are 2 girls from each of Mrs. Montney's classes. They are: Vicki Manigold, Nancy Allen, Micki Ostrowski, Marsha Lewis, Vicki Lee, Rosemary Paul, Kim Mayo, Vicki Rowland, Sue Surre, Connie Gallegly, Jean Dome, and Joy Zerbe.

Players holding guest night

The Clarkston Village Players will be holding a Guest-Membership Night on Saturday, November 4 at the Depot on White Lake Road.

An outstanding evening has been planned to acquaint guests with the activities of the players. The get-together which is scheduled to begin at 8 P.M. will present a group from the drama department of Oakland Community College. They will be putting on a one act play entitled "The Sandbox" by Edward Albee.

Following this presentation the players themselves will delight the audience with a presentation from Broadway musicals. From ten to twelve of the player members will be participating in this. It will be under the direction of Barbara Steele.

From 9 until 1, there will be an after-glow with dancing to a four piece band.

Anyone interested in activities of the Players should contact one of the members. Due to space limitations, the invitations are limited.

Women's Club hears Edgar Guest III

The Clarkston Community Women's Club held its regular meeting last Thursday Oct. 26, at the Community Center. Reports were made on several project successes: the Treasure Hunt of several weeks ago, and the Children's Story Hour held on the 2nd and 4th Thursdays of each month. The speaker for the evening program was Mr. Edgar Guest, representing the Meadowbrook Theatre at Oakland University. He gave a very interesting resume of this season's plays at the theatre. The Women's Club had purchased two tickets for "The Importance of Being Ernest," and at the conclusion of the program, a lucky name was selected to receive the two free tickets to the Meadowbrook Theatre presentation.

Maranatha

The Maranatha Baptist Church recently held their first annual meeting. This church has its parsonage on Flemmings Lake Road and is led by Pastor Phillip Sommers. The membership is presently seeking property on which to build a church in Clarkston. Services are now being held in the Owen School in Pontiac.

At this meeting held Wednesday the first business of the evening was the all important matter of voting on the Constitution. A business report was given and an election of officers held.

Among the officers elected were the following Clarkston residents: on the Board of Trustees - Ted Womack of 6614 Shelley Drive; on the Usher Board - Marilyn Shook of 5092 Heath, Ted Womack, 6614 Shelley Drive and Larry Thompson, 6645 Almond Lane.
