NUMBER 21

Snow lovers went to a lot of work to get this snow man in his lofty position. Handiwork was done by residents on Sashabaw Road, south of Clarkston Road.

Lynn Surre found it easier to stay with his transportation last Monday than park it. The family horse pulled the cutter to town, from Perry Lake, let the family shop, and sprightly followed the command of "now home" . . .

Will compete in State Junior Miss contest

Nancy Jo Weiss, Clarkston's Junior Miss will be one of 47 of Michigan's most outstanding high school seniors who will be at Northern High School in Pontiac on January 27 and 28. These girls will be taking part in the Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Pontiac Jaycees.

They will be competing for a $1,000 scholarship from Coca Cola; a $100 scholarship from Community Bank; a $500 savings bond from Chevrolet Division; a $25 savings bond from Pontiac State Bank as well as the honor of being Michigan's Junior Miss and an all expense paid trip to the national finals in March in Mobile, Alabama.

look for a sense of values, mental alertness, clarity of expression, knowledge and personal perception and ability in human relations.

Nancy, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.R. Weiss of 42 N. Main Street was selected from a field of 17 girls to represent Clarkston. As the local winner she won a $300 scholarship in the local contest which she plans to use when she enrolls in college in the fall. She hopes to enter Central Michigan University where she will major in physical education.

A total of $5,300 in scholarships and awards will be presented during the pageant.

In high school Nancy has been a member of the Girls Athletic Association, the Y-Teens and the Pep Club. She is a Varsity cheerleader and a member of the basketball team. She has also played in both the Township and the State Tennis tournaments.

High standards and ideals are keynotes throughout. Judging is based on scholastic achievement (15 percent), poise and appearance (15 percent), youth fitness (15 percent), creative and performing arts (20 percent), and judges' conference (35 percent). In individual interviews with each girl, judges Nancy's talent presentation is a pom pom routine. The Saturday afternoon and Saturday evening preliminary performances will be open to the public. Tickets are available at the door.

Teacher on the move

Many of the teachers at Clarkston Senior High School have to walk a considerable distance as they move from one classroom to another during the day. Some may teach in three or four rooms. But, none have as far to travel to their classroom, or as many classrooms as the coordinator of cooperative education. Mr. Thompson often travels as much as 250 miles a month as he visits the 27 classrooms (training stations) where his 39 students are receiving on the job training. These "classrooms" are scattered throughout the communities of Clarkston, Waterford, Orion, Drayton Plains, and Pontiac.

Freezing temperatures greeted Roger Thompson co-op co-ordinator as he set out from the Senior High School on his weekly rounds.

Posthumous award given to Clarkston couple

The Viet Nam government recently presented their "Armed Forces Honor Medal" to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Elmy of 6133 Paramus Drive. To date there the pledge of allegiance each morning?

I don't really know. But, it's past time I paid some attention to this aspect of raising our three. They must enjoy this thrill.

"America, America, God shed his grace on thee."

What a country this is, America. Despite the cry of becoming a welfare state, there is so much opportunity for success whether measured in money, satisfaction, happiness, or achievement.

Despite the almost endless stream of signs of disrespect to flag and country, the voluntary enlistment lines continue, crowds still throng to Gettysburg, Lincoln's monument, and the statue of Liberty, the pledge of allegiance is still being taught, and learned, and the office of president of the United States is still respected.

Where lack of pride is shown in person and palace, more evidence can be found of those striving for betterness. Though we see signs of apathy through it we can find interest, concern and participation.

Group uprisings gain banner headlines, but the work of veterans clubs and their auxiliaries, church organizations, businessmen's service clubs, charity groups, and others continue to do fine work for their fellow man and country.

Yes, it is time that we renew our pride of country, respect for the flag, and support that which is best for this nation of the people by the people and for the people. For our 50-star flag still waves "over the land of the free and the home of the brave."

have been less than twenty of these medals given out by the Viet Nam government. This was awarded in honor of the services rendered by Pfc Michael Elmy who was killed in a helicopter crash May 9, 1967 over the Da Nang Bay. Capt. John Eccleston of the Army Survival Assistance Office, made the presentation.

Pfc. Elmy, during his stay in Viet Nam, had become deeply concerned with the conditions of the war orphans in his area. At the time of his death, he was helping to transport a group of these orphans from the village of Hue to Da Nang when the helicopter in which they were riding blew up over the Da Nang Bay. Phillipa Schuyler, famed pianist and war correspondent, also lost her life in this incident.

Mike had been a 1966 graduate of Pontiac Central High and had entered service in September of that year. Before going into the Army, he had been employed at General Motors Truck and Coach in Pontiac. In February of 1967 he had gone to Viet Nam. Previous to the presentation of the Armed Forces Honor Medal, Pfc. Elmy had been awarded the Bronze Star.

Clarkston Rotary sponsors new club

In the last year the groundwork was laid for a new Rotary Club to be established in the Davisburg area.

Charles Going, owner of Going Enterprises, on the Dixie Highway, and who was also a former Rotarian of fifteen years in the Akron, Ohio Club, asked the District Governor's office to have a survey made to see if there were enough interested businessmen to form a Rotary Club in the Davisburg area, which includes Rose, Holly, Springfield and Groveland Townships. After the survey was made it was found that there were thirty-five business classifications in the district and enough interest in the project was shown by the businessmen contacted to make the establishment of a Rotary Club a worthwhile venture. The Clarkston Rotary Club was asked and was pleased to accept the sponsorship of the new Club.

With the admission of the Davisburg Club into the world of Rotary there are now forty-eight Clubs in district 638, with a total membership of 2200.

In Rotary International there are now more than 13,000 clubs, in 137 countries with an estimated membership of 622,500.

The Davisburg Club will receive their charter at a dinner to be held at the Elk's Temple in Pontiac, on Wednesday, January 21st. All of the club members and their wives in District 638 have been invited to attend.

Lodge will speak

The Independence Township Republican Club will hold their monthly meeting on Monday evening, January 22 at the Township Hall.

The speaker will be State Senator L. Harvey Lodge. He will discuss his independent Republicanism. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Fire takes life of Orion Twp. man

Funeral services were conducted at 11 a.m. on Wednesday from the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home for Arthur L. Berg of 805 Merritt Street, Orion Township, Mr. Berg, who was the father of Mrs. James Willis of Clarkston was overcome by smoke when fire swept the trailer in which he lived Saturday night. Firemen found his body just six feet from the door as he apparently tried to escape. Fire is believed to have started in a living room couch, but Berg was sleeping in a bedroom at the rear of the trailer. Both Oxford and Orion township firemen fought the blaze when they were called at 10:35 p.m. Damage to the mobile home was estimated at $2,000.

Mr. Berg, who was 46 lived alone and was a self-employed auto mechanic. He was a member of Judge John Foust Post 113 of the American Legion.

Reader Wayne N. Mortimer officiated at his services and burial took place at White Chapel Memorial.

He is survived by four children, Roy J. Berg of Drayton Plains, Mrs. James Willis of Clarkston, Norman L. Berg of Pontiac and Mrs. Ronald Stan-

Come Look at the snow, mommy!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

There she was—blue eyes, rosy cheeks, thirty-five pounds of joy bundled up in a warm, wooly snowsuit. How could I resist her request—even if the ironing weren't done, and there'd be no pie for dinner. I pulled on my parka and went outside to join her.

We walked through the frosty winter world together and I seemed to see it anew through the eyes of a three-year old. Our commonplace street was miraculously frosted and refurbished in silvery whiteness. From every corner beauty sparkled and shone.

And then we came to our church. It looked like a beautiful Christmas card, with the snow glistening blindingly from icy windows. Susie exclaimed, "Oh, Mommy, look—God is shining through!"

"Through the eyes of a little child" . . . this thought rang through my head, and I prayed that God's presence would always shine for her through the windows of God's Church.

Milford dumps Clarkston

By Mel Vaara

Milford won its first game of the year at the expense of the Wolves 69-67. It seems that Clarkston cannot stay away from those seat squirmers as every ball game this school year has been close.

This contest was no exception as the greatest lead by either team was 5 points. The Wolves led by 5 points three times, but couldn't pull away and Milford led by 5 points in the 2nd and 4th quarter.

That 0 & 6 record by Milford is really not a true mark of the Redskins. They certainly are going to win more than the one against Clarkston. The reason is the return of Mark Giegler. The junior forward certainly lived up to his killing as the next super star in the Wayne Oakland league. Milford has been talking about this day for some time and even though his right leg was taped from the ankle to his thigh, he still had enough agility to score 30 points. Giegler hit better than 50% from the floor as he made 13 of 25 attempts.

Mark Erickson continued to score well as his great outside shooting contributed 10 goals. Mark also hit on 5 of 6 free throws for 25 points. Erickson now has 111 points for 7 games, an average of 16 per game.

The 1st quarter ended with Clarkston holding a 15-14 point lead. Eric Hood provided most of the heavy work on the boards and his efforts just missed several tip-ins. He did can 3 shots, but he also picked up 3 fouls.

Charles Granger came off the bench and contributed 5 points in the second quarter as he continued to have success in shooting 20 footers. Geigler provided 8 points to the Milford cause as both teams played almost errorless ball. Very few fouls were called in the 2nd quarter. Hood had the only attempts for Clarkston. Both of them were bonus situations and he couldn't capitalize on them. Geigler had four and made two of them.

The 3rd quarter took off where the 1st half ended. Both teams exchanging baskets. Erickson was the big gun for Clarkston as he ripped the nets four times, his friend from Milford Mr. Giegler also equalled Erickson's feats with four of his own. Clarkston scored 22 points and Milford 19 for a 51-49 lead. An interesting point so far was the inability of Clarkston at the free throw stripe. Granger and Maslowski missed four between them. Ostrum made 4 in a row but those were the only ones made out of 12 attempts. Those 12 attempts were from the middle of the 1st quarter up to the end of 3rd.

The Wolves quickly built up a 5 point lead on the shooting of Erickson. Milford's Powers and Giegler each canned a bucket, but Granger hit on two long ones and the Wolves led by 5 again. Milford quickly took the lead on the shooting of Clinard and Powers. Dave Baker a sub for Milford hit on two easy ones on missed shots and Milford now had their 2nd 5 point lead.

Erickson brought the Wolves back with a bucket and a couple of free throws. With 1:14 left in the contest Milford controlled a jump ball situation and McFarland dribbled the length of the court for an easy lay-up. Milford had a three point lead. The Wolves came storming back, but all of a sudden the basket had a lid on it. Keyser did hit a free throw but in between the Wolves missed 7 attempts. Kim Beattie missed one and Ostrum, Keyser and Erickson missed two shots each.

Bob McFarland was fouled with 9 seconds left he missed the 1st attempt, Erickson rebounded the ball, but before the Wolves could get a shot off the game ended and Milford had their 1st win of the year.

Besides Erickson's 25 points, Jerry Ostrum's steady play provided 15 points, Chuck Granger had 13 and Eric Hood finished with 10, all in the 1st half.

J. V. 's WIN # 3

For the 2nd straight week the Junior Varsity has looked impressive as they dumped Milford 70-57.

Once again Coach Hanson has his boys running down the floor with great speed and taking the good shot as quickly as possible. This offense works well if you have some good scoring guards, and also good ball handlers. Bruce Hardy from the guard position hit from out and when he saw an opening he went for the basket, Bruce ended up with 21 points Steve Warman hit for 11 points, with 5 buckets coming from beyond the sky. Reserve guard Kelly had a good night by contributing 10 points.

Hanson's army put the game out of reach at the outset of the 4th quarter by scoring 10 straight points. Milford didn't score until the 4:23 mark of the last quarter and the reserves poured into the contest.

Steve Kratt, Scott Robbins, Don Brown scored 9, 7, and 6 points in that order.

One can say a thousand words about Green Bay's overpowering victory over Oakland, W. J. R.'s J. P. McCarthy said in one comment "Bart Starr and Vince Lombardi can walk on water too!"

Harry Fahrner to portray "Clown"

The Clarkston Village Players are well into rehearsal for "The Clown Who Ran Away". It will be presented on February 17 and 18 at the Junior High School. Two presentations for each day are planned.

The Circus Clown portrayed by Harry Fahrner got tired of the circus and so he decided to run away. All he really wanted to do was to tell stories. In the circus his job was to make people laugh and that got boring when it was more fun to story-tell.

Serving as director for the production is Donna Redwood. Other members of the cast include Pete and Janet Rose, Jim Tyrell and Bruce Rogers. There will also be several children in the cast—the first play to be presented by the Players in which they could introduce several youngsters into the cast.

Tickets will be available at 35¢ each through the various elementary schools during the week of February 12.

UNIDENTIFIED SHOTS

Some gun safety needs to be taught to those venturing into the Clarkston Knoll subdivision west and north of Green Acres. One house being built there has been damaged by shot and the well driller's truck was hit.

The complaint to the Clarkston News was that either intentionally or unintentionally, 22 shot has carried into the residential area. The residents fear for children playing in the yards.

Engaged

The engagement of Marilyn Simunic to Mr. Kenneth Gerald Keener is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Simunic of 6460 Snowapple, Clarkston. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Keener of 8900 Davisburg Road. Marilyn will be a 1968 graduate of Clarkston High and Kenneth is a freshman at Ferris State College. The couple are planning an August wedding.

Notes on the Orchard

By Constance Lektzian
625-2378

What with snow-ins and flu-ins, there haven't been very many dull moments in the Orchard. Not always pleasant, but not dull. People managed to squeeze in a few parties and festivities, too.

The snow that eventually kept everyone home by Monday was put to good use over the weekend by the ski and toboggan enthusiasts. Carole and Charlie Evans of 6544 Plum Drive packed up Carrie, Cathy and Charles Jeffrey and trooped off to the State parks around Ortonville where they spent a wonderful Saturday tobogganing. They found the hills not only fine for sliding but literally deserted.

Little Julie Wright, daughter of the Floyd Wright's of 6302 Church is home convalescing from a tonsillectomy which she underwent last Thursday. A speedy recovery, Julie!

Tina Vidlund, daughter of the Clarence Vidlund's of 6400 Eastlawn Drive, celebrated her 13th birthday with a family dinner at the home of her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. O.H. Teachworth of Holly. These January 9th festivities included Clarise Brown of Clarkston as well as Tina's parents and sister and brothers David, Paul and Leisa. Mrs. Teachworth included in the menu some of Tina's favorite Dutch dishes.

Saturday January 20th the James Timmons of 6688 Snowapple Drive along with Mike, Dave, Pam and Greg will go to Frankenmuth for one of that town's famous chicken dinners. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Timmons. The occasion is the birthday of Mrs. Earl Timmons, mother of Mr. James Timmons. This is an annual trip, Frankenmuth being one of the families' fa-avorite spots for dining.

Over on 6645 Almond Lane, Ronnie, Wendy and Todd have been convalescing the past week from a long bout with flu and pharyngitis. Children of the Larry Thompsons, they were all ready to return to school Monday - and their mother was ready to send them - and then school was closed due to weather conditions.

Mark Lektzian, son of the Peter Lektzian's of 6563 Plum Drive, had his 6th birthday Monday January 15 with cupcakes made, balloons blown up, all ready to be taken to his kindergarten class. The party was a day late but the aid of things like a freezer (who needs one in this kind of weather?) the ice cream and cakes were still enjoyed by Mrs. Hanson's class.

Approximately 30 friends and relatives were present last Sunday at the home of Mrs. Robert Parker of 6636 Almond Lane. The occasion was a miscellaneous bridal shower for Mrs. Parker's niece, Dorothy Pohl of Union Lake. Co-hostesses for the affair were Mrs. Ruth Anne Hoffman and Miss Carol Sue Pohl, both of Union Lake. The bride-to-be opened her many lovely gifts against a background of pink and white decorations which featured large white wedding bells. A buffet luncheon was served from a table centered with a cake on which was written the names of the bride and groom. From Detroit for the occasion was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Beverly Secosky. Dorothy will become the bride of Thomas Duncely on Saturday February 10.

January 14 was the 8th birthday for Mark Whaley, son of the Robert Whaley's of 6604 Plum Drive. His aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith with young son Scott, came down from Ypsilanti to help him celebrate at a Sunday dinner that also included the Fred Stark's of Almond Lane along with children Jeffrey and Amy. They enjoyed skating and tobogganing at Cranberry Lake at the home of Mark's grandparents, the Russell Simonson's of Amy Drive.

Saturday January 13, the Philip Sommers, Jr. - he is assistant pastor at Maranatha Baptist church - opened their home for an evening's entertainment. A buffet supper was served to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Womack of Shelley Drive; the Murlin Shook's of Heath Drive, Joyce and Larry Thompson of Almond Lane and Mr. and Mrs. Don Shook of Pontiac. The Sommers' are temporarily living in Berkley while their Flemmings Lake Home is being remodeled.

NEW BABY

Former residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Schroeder of Syracuse, New York announced the birth of a daughter, Carolyn Paige on Christmas day. She weighed 7 lb. 13 oz. at birth. Waiting at home to greet their new sister are Theresa 6, and Julie 4.

Fashion show is program for Jayettes

The January 10th meeting of the Jayettes was very memorable indeed! A secretly planned "come as you are" meeting was very successful. All members were picked up one hour early and, needless to say, all were caught unawares.

It was also the night the Jaycee men provided the program. With the capable direction, and witty dialogue of Mrs. Bob Krick, they gave a colorful rendition of a woman's fashion show.

The business of the evening included a report by Mrs. Ron Balousek on the Sparkette award points. Also a summary of the Christmas auction, the proceeds of which were used to take four girls from Camp Oakland Christmas shopping.

A new Jayette Banner was displayed for the first time, purchased just recently from the Rockwood Jayettes.

Announcements included State Winter Board Feb. 2 and 3, and International night to be held in Windsor Saturday, January 20.

Bailey Lake PTA

gets nominating slate

The Bailey Lake PTA held their regular meeting on Thursday, January 11. The proposed slate for 1968-69 was presented by the nominating committee chairman, Mrs. Charles Weichel. The candidates are: President, Mr. Norman Hunt; Father Vice-President, Mr. Seth Cummings; Mother Vice-President, Mrs. Norman Hunt; Secretary, Mrs. Rex Graham and Treasurer, Mrs. Lang.

The PTA Membership Chairman, Mrs. Rhyndress, announced that Mrs. DiPietro's second grade won the Membership Drive. Mrs. DiPietro accepted the ten dollars prize money and stated that she will spend it on books for the children. Mrs. DiPietro's room also won the PTA Attendance Flag. This flag is awarded to the room that is best represented by parents at a PTA Meeting. Mrs. DiPietro's room has had this flag all year.

Mr. Charles Weichel, PTA President, announced the co-chairmen of the PTA Fair to be held on May 4. They are Mrs. Seth Cummings and Mrs. Charles Weichel. Mr. Bill Powell of the

Clarkston Wranglers

The January 13th meeting of the Clarkston Wranglers 4-H Club was attended by 15 members. New members at this meeting were Becky Craig and Debbie Merrill.

The club has decided on a green and white design for matching breast collars and blankets for horses. These will be used in parades where the club appears as a group.

The leader, Mrs. Trarop, is going to find an old folks home that they can do something for during Easter.

Mrs. Trarop also suggested that the club keep a scrapbook of members and club activities. Becky Rankin and Lynn Race volunteered to start working on this.

and explained some of the audio-visual equipment used at Bailey Lake School. He was assisted by Mrs. Hauser, Mrs. DiPietro, Mr. Proctor, Mr. Krueger and Mr. Landon, all on the staff at Bailey Lake.

Following the teachers' presentation, refreshments were served.

Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates will be presented this week

"Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates" is being presented by the Clarkston High School Drama Department at the Clarkston High School Little Theater, January 18, 19 and 20.

Connie Rush plays Gretle while Hans is portrayed by Neal Mansfield.

Clarkston High School is proud that their foreign exchange student from Holland, Jacoba Kuiper, is taking an active part in the play. Jacoba is playing the part of Dame Brinker.

Other members of the cast include Chris Rose, Joyce Roy, Bonnie Crosby, Jill Sansom and Mary Fellows.

The cast continues with Mike Mason, Dave Highlen, Dan Lee, Dean Poepe, Mark Taylor and Kirk Williard.

Something new is happening at Clarkston High School this year. The play is being taken on the road to two outside schools. It will be presented at the Daniel Whitfield School in Pontiac and at the John Monteeth School in Waterford township. This would not have been possible without the help of all the cast members and the student directors, Jeanne Lussier and Mark Taylor. The director is Mrs. Barbara Gibson.

By Lucinda Elliott

This week's honored teenager is Mark Taylor, a sophomore at Clarkston High school. He lives at 6050 South M-15 with his parents Mr. and Mrs. John McNairn, his two older brothers Arnold, 20 and Paul who is 18, and his dog, Ginger. In school Mark is very active, particularly in Dramatics. In the early fall he played Reverend Toop in 'See How They Run' and in the very near future the Dramatics club will be putting on another play which is a takeoff on "Hans Brinker and the Silver Skates". Mark is also in lawyers club, the members of which hash over laws and find out how they work, debaters club and forensics. There are four members in the debate team, two on the affirmative side and two on the negative. The affirmative side brings up a subject, such as the harmful effects of smoking and brings out the facts why one shouldn't smoke. Then the negative factually opposes the statements made by the affirmative. Finally, forensics is a form of public speaking. This club hasn't started yet but it will sometime in March. Outside of School Mark is a DeMolay. When Mark graduates from high school he plans to go to college although he is not sure which one. His career is based around teaching, primarily history on the high school/college level. Mark is thinking of minoring in music as he likes all types of music. Mark has many interests especially fencing, collecting coins, collecting swords, reading, and music — any kind.

The Methodist Youth Fellowship had a toboggan party last Sunday at 2:30 p.m. on government property along White Lake Road. They will also have a skating party at Mr. Paul Tungate's this Sunday at Whipple Lake. Also the MYF is planning a trip sometime in the spring but they are not sure when. The Methodist Church will be having mission dinners at the church every Sunday evening throughout January.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Dear George: Please resign

By Jim Fitzgerald

(What follows is an open letter to George Romney. I'd send him a closed letter, except I know it'd never get beyond his outer office. Chances are great he'll never read this open letter, either, but a lot of other people will. I hate writing into a vacuum.)

Dear Gorgeous George:

A lady wrote and said I shouldn't call you Gorgeous George because it's not respectful. She misunderstands. I am not poking fun or insinuating you should be a wrestler. I use the adjective "gorgeous" in pucker sincerity. As a candidate for public office, you ARE gorgeous.

What I mean, you've got a lot going for you. You're handsome, with greying hair and strong jaw. You talk like you mean business. You have a lovely, articulate wife. You have proved yourself in the business world and you have been governor during prosperous years. You have been a gutsy governor, not afraid to stump for such hot legislation as open housing and tax reform.

But most of all, Governor, you have been telling people they should lead better lives. You have been calling for a return to the old fashioned family life, where kids honored their parents and Dad didn't cheat on his income tax. You preach (and that's the right word) that a better world must begin with individual effort plus goodwill which will spread from block to block to nation to nation. People eat this up. Some of the voters have guilty consciences about their fat wallets and Sunday hangovers. Many more voters are pure themselves but they're certain your brand of government would be good for the bum next door. Either way, your sincerity is acknowledged. You are a refreshing change from the usual political hack who always has an angle, even when he goes to church.

Of course, it's not all gorgeous. You said what you meant about brainwashing in Vietnam, but you didn't mean what you said. You weasled with reporters when you should have dealt straight spades. You sounded phoney when you said you weren't campaigning for president while every clown in the country knew you were. Mistakes such as these have netted you bad publicity in every state. The polls say you can't beat Nixon, Rockefeller or even Reagan, for lord's sakes. Ike doesn't like your chances. Wayne Morse says you're dead, your own Republican legislators stab you in the back, and the beat goes on.

Right now, your presidential chances appear dim indeed. What you need is some good advice and that's why I am writing. You must do something dramatic — but honest — to remind the populace that you are the guy to lead them out of the muck and into Mary Poppins land.

You should resign as governor.

That's it, George. Think about it. You haven't been in Lansing long enough lately to get your hair cut. You are a parttime, phone-call governor, from now until the Republican convention. This is not what the people voted for. You said you wanted to be governor and they gave you the job. Now you have run out on them, looking for a bigger job. How does that stack up with your old fashioned morality? How do you feel when some legislators say the open housing bill would have passed if you had been in town?

There is nothing evil about you yearning for the White House. Michigan should be flattered that you have a chance. But it is out-of-character for George Romney to neglect the office he was elected to. When someone questions you about this, all you can do is fall back upon holy precedence, the lawyers' national anthem. Other men have held one office while running for another. President Johnson did it. So did Mayor Cavanagh and Franklin Roosevelt and dozens more. So why can't you?

You can, George. And you are. But an old fashioned moralist must have heard the trite phrase: "Two wrongs do not make a right." The fact that LBJ double-jobbed the voters doesn't make it right, does it? It just makes it impossible for the Democrats to call your pot black.

A lot of your friends thought you would quit as governor when you became an official candidate for president. A columnist in your hometown newspaper even predicted it, on the front page. He is still scraping the egg off his face.

But it's not too late. Quit now. Admit that running for president is a fulltime job. Admit Michigan deserves a fulltime governor. Such a move would re-establish you across the nation as several cuts above the average politician. It would be good living and, don't knock it, good politics. It could get you nominated.

It would be a gorgeous thing to do.

Onward and Upward,
Jim Fitzgerald Δ

refrigeration. It looked like more than I had made in the first place. So the lesson was learned, and well. Next time I get the Latin urge, I'll find a Mexican hat and place it in the middle of the kitchen floor and cha cha around it whilst I gladly fix that blessed meat, potatoes and vegetables, good old Clarkston style.

they have been cruising in the Caribbean—simply out of this world is the way they describe it.

We have been told not to blame our local postoffices for the recent snafus on stamps precipitated by the postal increase. Postoffices were not allowed to order the new stamps until just a few days before they were to go on sale. Even so the newspapers and media had been telling of the new raise in rates long before it was made certain in official post office channels.

Someone asked me what I did on Monday—well, I played games, television variety that is. Surely didn't realize how much a part of the daily TV fare is composed of such programs, all which I find not too interesting. And why did I keep the set on, I was asked. Mostly because of the noise and confusion. It simulated the sounds of a newspaper office on Mondays.

"OX"

It's about time we got a few things straightened out. Every week, well, just about every week after the paper is out, some nut comes up to me and asks, "Does your wife really have a monkey?" or a Llama? or asks whether something I told actually happened. My answer remains the same, "You bet she does."

I am a journalist first. That means that I have to tell the truth. With all the things that Calhoun does, I don't have time to create fiction.

Like last week, I told on her. She had got this thing I call Old Wierd Harold, a monkey. As a book-maker, I would have given odds, 3-1, that Old Wierd Harold would be set free to fly through the house. To make betting even more sporting, I would have given an extra point that Cal would set him free within two weeks. 5-1 odds that Old Wierd Harold would have a house built. The other day, when I got home Cal was busy building a cage. She's the greatest cage builder I've known.

One time we had a pet crow, Old Black Joe, that was several years ago. Seems that Old Black had been the pet of a cruel owner. He left his home and walked over to our house. His wings were clipped and he couldn't fly.

Cal found Old Black hiding under the snow shovel beside the side door. She brought him up and gave him good things to eat. By late Spring, Old Black had developed quite a vocabulary. He was friendly, kind, loyal and would steal everything that was lying around.

Towards the middle of that year, Cal started to worry. Old Black had regrown his wing feathers and was able to fly around the yard. When we would take walks in the woods he'd follow us flying from tree to tree making lots of noise.

Cal said, "It's going to be too bad when hunting season comes. Joe is trusting and some hunter is going to take a shot at him. If I don't do something, he'll get killed."

Using 8 foot fence posts for corners, some ratty boards for braces and chicken wire for netting, she built Old

Black the most rugged cage I've ever seen. It weighed a ton. Hunting season came and she popped him into it. A few days later, she asked when the season would be over. I told her that it runs for a couple of weeks.

Cal must not have believed me. She let Old Black out of the cage. "I felt sorry for him all couped-up like that," she said. "Besides, I made a vest like a fencer wears. It's white with blue trim and a giant red heart in the middle. The vest should tell everyone that he's a pet."

A couple of days later, Old Black was shot.

Getting back to Old Wierd Cal put the finishing touches on his cage. She made it out of four wire trash burners. It's an engineering feat that defies description. The top of the cage is a circular piece of plywood with a hole cut in the middle.

Covering the hole is a basket, the kind that are used to keep cobras in. Old Wierd climbs through the hole and sleeps in the basket. "He can't get out," Cal boasted. About an hour after he was put in the cage, he managed to push the basket aside and we heard him zapping around in the exposed beams on the porch.

Besides being a terrific cage builder, Cal is very brave. She caught Old Wierd with her bare hands and slung the little fellow back into his wire house. Then she said, "Gee, see how he keeps looking out the window. I think that he would like to get out and fly through the jungles."

"Maybe we should charter a plane and fly to South America and let him loose," I said. "Oh, that would be nice," she said. "When do we leave?" or something.

Vive a lasagne! that spell breaker, that rescuer of appetites, that gooey teacher of lessons. For months I have bragged of my eager eaters that so loved meat (including liver), potatoes (even the peels) and vegetables (so help me, spinach is their favorite). Well the honeymoon ended last Saturday when I realized I just couldn't face one more liver lover. I longed to open my cookbook and fly to Spain, Italy, or China. I wanted to toss quarter inch cubes of garlic in my salads, throw away the tenderizers and marinate in wine, pinch tarragon, smile at a crab, cry with a Bermuda, flambe the heck out of suzette, or even lose my head over a blitz torte. With all this gushing through my mind I settled for lasagne, sure I could convince them it would be just a form of flat footed spaghetti. Cheating was on my mind as I slipped icksnay ingredients in, while giving a quiet lecture on the starving children of Asia... it ended with the bland assurance that by the time the timer went off. One the bland assurance that it probably looked "kinda cool." You wouldn't believe the shades of disinterest shown by the time the timer went off. One went so far as to quietly go off upstairs to share the suffering of the Asian children, and fell asleep, another filled his plate with rolls. For some crazy reason I have always marked what goes in a person as "private"; that's why on Saturday, January 13, I found myself scooping lasagne into a large storage dish for

Public urged to attend Student panel discussion

Karrie Garlak

Terry MacDougall

Jeff Richardson

A panel of ten Senior high students with moderator Robert Brumback will present a program for the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee on Monday evening, January 22 at the Little Theater in Clarkston High School. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m.

This is the second panel discussion program which has been sponsored by the Committee. The first one consisted of panel members from both the Junior and Senior High Schools. Three additional student members will be taking part this time.

Topics under discussion will be parent-student relationships, local police, recreational opportunities, as well as many other items of student, teacher, parent concern. There will be audience participation after the first hour, stated Brumback who is the School Social Worker.

The ten senior high students who will be participating are: Scott Embry, Al Ventimiglia, Martha Woodward, Tom Gates, Karrie Garlak, Lisa Birkelo, Terry MacDougall, Dawn Evely, Jeff Richardson, and John Lynn. Because of the timeliness of the subjects to be discussed, it is hoped that the general public will make an effort to attend. Following the discussion, refreshments will be served.

Bound over to Circuit Court

An arraignment will be held on Wednesday, January 24 before Circuit Court Judge Clark J. Adams for Paul M. Maczko, 57 and Mrs. Florence Lewis, 29, both of 9052 Ortonville Road, Clarkston. Preliminary examinations had been held by Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth Hempstead.

The pair will stand trial on a charge of cruelty to children. They are charged with making four of Mrs. Lewis' five children live in a small building at the rear of the Maczko home. State Police directed an investigation last September. At the time one of the older children, Frederick testified that Maczko had once chained him to a brother in a garage.

HOLLAND VISITED IN ROTARY SERIES

"Spring Captures Holland" is the next program in the Oxford Rotary Club's travel and adventure series. It features Robert Brouwer, who will be on hand to personally narrate his unusual slide presentation.

Monday, January 22 at 8 p.m., at Oxford high school auditorium, Mr. Brouwer will show his slides on three screens using four projectors. People have said its on a par with Cinerama.

Incorporating hi-fidelity stereophonic equipment and music and sound effects recorded on the spot, the impression is one of movement with depth and feeling.

Mr. Brouwer says spring is the ideal time to visit The Netherlands. The beauty is at its heights. He also brings in fairy tale castles, history, water ways, resorts, forests, canals and touches on the American-Dutch friendship.
