VOLUME 38 10 CENTS

CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN 48016

THURSDAY, MAY 16, 1968 3 SECTIONS NUMBER 38

It's tulip time for the teachers and Kevin Dennis is about to be first to present some to his teacher, Mrs. Heath. With Kevin at the door to the Clarkston Elementary School is Gordon Tilley.

Jim's Jottings

Last week I eliminated all the mentioned candidates for the Republican presidential nomination and this week I'll work on the Democrats.

I'll begin on the opposite end. I think Hubert Horatio Humphrey will be the next president of the United States of America. Again, it's a process of elimination, which is a horrible way to pick a president.

But, can you really picture Robert Kennedy as president? Even his late brother, John F., had the good sense to have his barber restyle his hair before the campaign. No, I'm not judging a man by his haircut.

But, Bobby has offered nothing as Senator from New York. He isn't even from New York, but through establishing a residence there for the required time he was able to seek and win office. Since that time he's been able to get headlines, I think, primarily through the reputation of his late brother.

He's toured the poverty areas of Appalachia, but brought about no improvements. He's jumped on the peace-wagon started rolling by Senator Eugene McCarthy. He's promoted himself as the one to lead the younger generation, but has shown no great leadership in the Senate, his party, or his state, whichever one he's from.

As for Senator McCarthy, there is a great gap of leadership, of positive action, and substantial support of any project in his time in Washington. He's been there something like 20 years, yet no one ever heard of him until he came out against President Johnson's policy in Vietnam.

Even that may have been accidental, but planned or not, he found himself in the headlines as a peace candidate. There's nothing wrong with that, but you'll remember at first he was reluctant to say much more than he was for peace.

Then he found the college students following him, urging him on and the press wanting to know just what he meant when he wanted peace. It took him considerable time to develop an answer and even now he admits he doesn't mean peace at any price as he seemed to have meant in the beginning.

He started out on his tippy toes and still hasn't gotten down to a flat footed, fact slammed stand. He admitted not too long ago that people felt he wasn't a serious candidate, and he hasn't convinced me yet that he is.

That brings me back to Hubert Horatio. President Johnson will be swinging his weight his way. Bobby Kennedy made a joke recently about how friendly he and Mr. Johnson were... "and then we stepped off the inauguration platform."

Johnson can hardly be expected to support a man he has reportedly disliked since before he took office as president.

And, McCarthy disagrees with Johnson's way of handling the war. If you tell a Texan he's wrong do you expect him to reward you? You can tell me I'm wrong and I might thank you, but not if you do it repeatedly all over town.

See what I mean by picking a president by elimination? It's easy. Further, if you want to practice the same or rebutt, drop me a line and we'll give you the space.

Fire completely destroys near completed home

An inspection took place by a representative of the State Fire Marshall's office on Tuesday in this area. A house under construction on Waterford Hill burned to the ground at 4 A.M. on Monday. The house which was three-quarters built was owned by Gerald Frericks of 773 W. Huron Street, Pontiac. It was located on Wellesley Terrace.

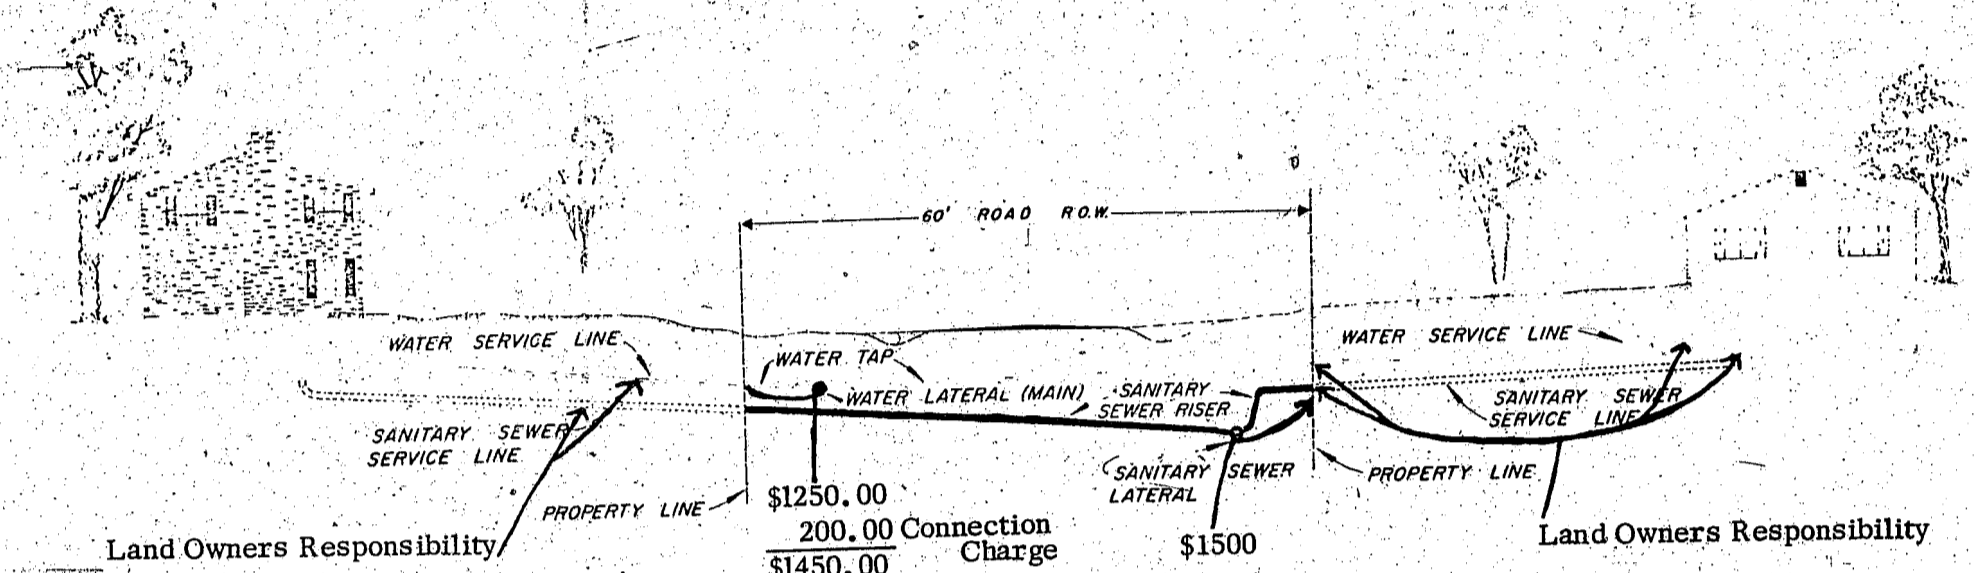

Four trucks from the Independence Township Fire Department assisted by one truck from the Waterford department fought the blaze until 8 A.M.

It is assumed that the fire started in a room at the rear of the garage. The house was plastered and men had been working on the finish work. No chimney had been erected, and although electrical work had been done, it was not connected.

The loss has been placed at $20,000 by the firemen.

Sewer and water charge and cost estimates, time table given township

By Jim Sherman

The first thing everyone wants to know about the proposed sewer and water systems for Independence Township is: "How much is it going to cost me?"

In the above map we've tried to show you. Here we'll try to explain it.

For over a year the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson has been working with township officials on a local system that would tie into the Clinton-Oakland Sanitary Sewer system proposed by the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Township activity dates back before December, 1965 when the first public information meeting was held. Since that time there have been 3 other public information meetings conducted by the township and several presentations to local clubs.

The information meetings of Tuesday and Wednesday meetings are a continuation of these presentations.

Paralleling the engineering work has been the financial study by Bill Hettiger, president of Stratton Associates of Detroit, a financial planning organization for governmental units.

It must be pointed out and remembered that all costs, connections, and usage are ESTIMATED, all charges, ordinances, and areas to be included are PROPOSED, and only an AVERAGE home is considered in the figures.

Also all the estimated costs and charges are based on residential home rates. Non residential home rates are to be figured on a unit basis yet to be established, but in a way comparable to a unit system established by the county DPW for other areas.

An average cost for sewers and water to an existing home in Independence, based on population, is $2,950.00. This is broken down as follows: Water; Capital charge, $350; Lateral benefit charge, $900; connection to the property line, $200. This makes the total estimated cost for the average residential home $1450 for water.

Sewer: Capital charge $350; Lateral benefit charge, $1150. Total, $1500.

Note these figures do not include costs from the property line to the building. This area is the land owner's responsibility and the engineers and financial consultants wouldn't make any kind of estimate.

Township officials have said a method will be established allowing for installment payments by owners of existing homes.

A different figure is used for developers or builders of new homes. Theirs will be a flat capital charge of $350. It shall be paid in full at the time of receiving a connections permit. No lateral benefit charge will be made where the developer or builder installs the lateral system. Where new homes are constructed along laterals installed by the township a lateral benefit charge will be collected in full at the time of receiving a connection permit.

Average single family residence annual costs for water and sewer are $50 each.

This was arrived at, in the case of water, on a cubic ft. and gallon basis. It is estimated 105,000 gallons will be used at a charge of $26.00 for minimum usage and $24.00 for estimated usage above the minimum of 1500 cu. ft. Quarterly the cost for water will be $12.50. These averages are based on 3.5 persons per family.

The base charge for sewers on a quarterly basis is $3.75. Added to this will be $8.75 per quarter on a cubic feet charge basis.

The sewer charges cover both the work contracted by the township and the major interceptor installed by the county.

Hettiger and Keylon emphasized that the township has adopted nothing in the way of financing, constructions, directions or bids. These steps will come following the information meetings.

Hettiger said it will be in his recommendations on the sewer ordinance that hook up be required within 12 months after the lines become available. He gave "public health" as the main reason for his recommendation.

The financial consultant also said that the township could not require hook up to the water system. Presently, however, subdivisions are required through a township resolution to provide a water system. The water source for the proposed system is township wells.

There are now 3 wells in Independence serving 4 subdivisions and 5 more are proposed. Two storage tanks, one of 750,000 gals., elevated, and another of 3 million gallons, ground storage, are also proposed. It is estimated that 27 miles of new water mains will be needed to serve an estimated 21,164 people. These water lines will run from 6 inch to 16 inch. 621 customers are served now by existing wells.

The total estimated cost for step 1 of the sanitary sewers is $3.3 million. Estimated connections are 30-86, or an equivalent population of 10,801. It will serve most of the area southwest of the village of Clarkston, or about 50 percent of the township population.

The village is not included in the report, however, Keylon said capacity has been purchased by the township that could be used by the village. This is providing the village takes up the capacity prior to township growth using it.

The sewer lines of direct benefit to Independence are about 24.2 miles long. Lines not of direct benefit, those going cross country, are 3.5 miles long. Mostly 8 inch lines will be used, however some will be up to 36 inches in diameter.

Sewer charges will be based both on water meter readings where there are same and on unit costs where there are not.

Hettiger said a vote of the people is not needed for financing the sewer and water projects because of the public health involved. He also stated that they were not planning to recommend a vote for an ad valorem tax. The system of charges should take care of financial responsibilities as they arise.

The construction time table indicates construction should be done in about 18 months. The county is expected to start digging in August and it will take about a year to get the line to Independence, just in back of the Old Mill. Another branch will go through part of the township, up Clintonville road, then east to Keatington.

It is hoped internal lines in Independence are ready to go when the county is ready. This township will be starting its system after the county, however.

Incidentally, the engineers tell me water lines are usually laid along the north and east sides of roads and sewers along the south and west sides. Location of gas lines do affect this, however.

The costs estimated by the engineers and financial consultant came as a pleasant surprise to township officials. Considering costs that have been rumored and even publicly announced for other areas in the state, the cost to Independence residents is said to be low.

Reappraising twp.

A reappraisal of all the residences in Independence is coming this summer.

Tuesday night the Board agreed to hire two men, at $2.50 per hour, to cover the township, making drawings of all improvements, not on record, over the past 10 years.

The motion came following the recommendation of Supervisor Duane Hursfall. He said the last full appraisal of the township was made 10 years ago, shortly after he took office.

"Since that time," Hursfall said, "I estimate that between 400 and 500 improvements have been made to property in the township that we have no record of." He said many of these failed to take out a building permit.

The men checking the township will have cards with information on each parcel. They will compare each to the present appearance and make changes where changes appear.

There was some question as to how these men would make identification to the property owner. Hursfall said where the men aren't received an estimate will be made from the road. Where assessment figures are changed residents would be notified so they could appear before the Board of Review next spring.

Failed to see other auto

Two cars collided in a rear-end crash on I-75 at 3:40 A.M. Saturday. The accident happened just south of the truck scales weighing post according to a report from the sheriff's office.

Arthur J. Sand Jr., 25, of 2271 Somerset in Troy was cited for improper over-taking when he struck the car of Virginia Mays, 43, of 11750 Dyar in Hamtramck. Although neither driver was injured the left rear of her car was damaged as was the front bumper on the Sand vehicle.

Administrative changes announced at High School

William Dennis

Ralph Kenyon

Dom Mauti

Three administrative changes in the High School were approved when the Clarkston Board of Education met at their monthly meeting Monday night.

William Dennis will become Assistant Principal to Millford Mason on July 1st. For the past year Dennis has been in charge of the Adult Education department and Industrial Arts department. He has been in the Clarkston school system for 12 years and holds degrees from Western Michigan University and Michigan State University.

Dom Mauti, head of the Athletic department and a veteran of 15 years in the school system will be relinquishing his position as Assistant Principal. He will be receiving a new assignment in the athletic department, a field in which he has expressed a desire to become more active. He is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and holds his Masters from M.S.U.

Ralph Kenyon, who has served as Football coach will be assuming the Adult Education post to be vacated by Dennis. Kenyon, however will be coaching the team during the fall season—holding both assignments until the football season is over. He holds degrees from Albion College and Eastern Michigan University.

The board accepted the petitions for the upcoming election to the Board of Education. Monday afternoon was the deadline for filing these petitions. The three incumbents have filed for positions. They are Arthur Rose and Thomas Dorémus who have filed for the 4 year position and Fernando Sanchez is filing for the 3 year vacancy. Mrs. Ingrid Smith who has run for a seat on the board in two previous elections also filed for the 3 year vacancy. Rose and Dorémus have both been on the board since 1960. Sanchez is filling the vacancy which resulted from the resignation of Melvin Pohlkotte—he is therefore running for the balance of that term. The annual election will be held on Monday, June 10.

In other action the board approved the installation of a security system in one of the school buildings on a trial basis. There will be a direct telephone hook-up between the school and the sheriff's office. Also approved were plantings to be placed in the upper court of the new High School as part of a biology program. These plantings will be used for study and identification.

School administrative officials told the News on Tuesday morning that of this date the building trades strike had not affected construction on the new Junior High School. Masons and carpenters were still doing work there this week under special arrangements with the union.

Also approved was the installation of a folding partition in the Home Economics room of the Senior High School. This was made to comply with a request of the staff. When the building was constructed it was deemed advisable to have a large open space, but this has not proved satisfactory, so the home ec projects will now be separated by means of this partition.

Carpeting will be installed in the Junior High Library at the request of the board. To lower maintenance costs, the carpeting experiment will be tried. It has been noted that these costs versus the upkeep of tile will be cheaper.

Junior parents college night

The guidance department of Clarkston High School is having a meeting for members of the Junior class and their parents on Tuesday May 21 at 7:30 in the Little Theatre. This is a college information night.

The counsellors will discuss scholarships, financial statements, and will show a sample application and how to fill out an application. Students will be given a booklet of information that will be very helpful to them during the senior year. Questions will be answered during the question and answer period at the end of the program. If there are questions about the program parents may call the high school guidance office, 625-5841.

match in a Clarkston Varsity uniform 7-5 and 6-3!

Track

Even though the track team lost two dual meets to Brighton 69-45 and C'ville 73-45, the team spirit was quite high with the closeness of both meets. The track team has fallen on hard times this year with a dual record of 0-9 and when a team gets close to a victory it builds up a lot of enthusiasm.

Many boys scored in both meets and with the team loaded with Freshmen and Sophomores there is a lot of promise for the future.

A few boys participated in the Oxford Relays with Jim Dankert the only Clarkston entry to place. Jim had a 3rd place in the two mile.

J.V. Baseball

The J.V. baseball team lost two games over the past week, losing to Brighton 12-2 and Milford 3-0.

Tom Grace was the losing pitcher in the Brighton game and Mark Swanson lost the Milford contest.

Swanson lost a toughie to Milford as all of Milford runs were unearned. Clarkston had a golden opportunity in the 5th inning. Two men were on base and no one out. But Lady Luck was not on the blue and gold side, Mike Turk lined out to the pitcher and he threw to the 3rd baseman to double off Don Brown and the only threat in the game went down the drain.

Golf

The golf team had a rough week losing 2 of three matches.

The team lost to Bloomfield Hills and Lake Orion. They defeated West Bloomfield by some 5 strokes.

According to Coach Kenyon.

the squad played inconsistent golf all week. The dual record is now (8-4).

Tracy Tuson had the best score of the week shooting a 37 against Bloomfield Hills.

Clinics for soap box derby contestants

A series of Soap Box Derby Clinics run by experts and designed to assist Oakland County boys in building their Soap Box Derby racers was announced today by Oakland County Parks and Recreation Commission.

Gerry Lacey, director of the coasting program here, said the first clinic, at Oakland County's Supervisor's Auditorium will be held Saturday, May 25 at 10:00 a.m. It will include an interpretation of the latest official rules and basic procedures for building a car.

"The clinics will be conducted by former Derby contestants, members of the inspection team and other technical people", Lacey said.

"Future sessions will feature step-by-step building of a car. Entrants will have a chance to cover specific problems they are having in their car building effort."

Boys entered in the 1968 Oakland County race are urged to participate in the clinics. Contestants' parents and friends are welcome.

Notes on twp. May 7 meet

Quickly noted items of the May 7 Independence Township board meeting.

The board voted to reconsider issuing a permit to Mrs. Sylvia Thompson to operate a pool hall at 7071 Dixie Highway. At the last meeting, with only 3 members present, the board approved the permit.

Supervisor Hursfall, who made the motion, said his 3 experiences in the past and a recent "shocking" report from a policeman, prompted him to ask the reconsideration. It was ordered that Mrs. Thompson be notified of the action and no decision made by the board until she was notified.

Oakland County Health Department has approved the permit for Pine Knob North subdivision. The subdivision is on Orion road at Pine Knob road. Township attorney, Paul Man-del, wrote the board that they "may" fill a vacancy in the township constable ranks. Four were elected, however, one failed to take the oath of office. The letter was filed.

A transfer of stock at Spring Lake Golf Club, Inc. prompted a letter from the Liquor Control Commission asking if the township had any objection to transferring the license in the new name. At the same time the commission asked that the golf club's new name be recognized. It was formerly Pine Knob Country Club. No objection was made.

This same club was also given permission to put a "Johnny-on-the-spot" portable chemical toilet near the spectator area for May 25-26. The club says vandals completely wrecked the permanent toilets presently being built.

Varsity baseball

The Varsity baseball team, caught fire this past week and won 4 ball games. This gives them a record of 5 & 5 in league play, 6 & 9 record for the year.

CLARKSTON - 8 PONTIAC C.C. - 7

Gary Ostrum was the winning pitcher, allowing only 5 hits but Clarkston had 4 errors for some of the 7 runs unearned. Clarkston had 13 hits Tom Grace and Bob Palladino were the other Clarkston pitchers. Rich Johnson and Steve Warman had three hits each.

CLARKSTON - 5 BRIGHTON - 2

Rich Johnson was the winning pitcher, allowing 7 hits. Tom Lane and Bob Palladino were the big sticks getting 2 hits each.

CLARKSTON - 6 MILFORD - 2

Gary Ostrum was the winning pitcher allowing 7 hits. Tom Lane struck the big blow with a home run and a double accounting for 3 R.B.I. Gary Ostrum connected for a triple with the bases full in the 6th inning to put the game on ice for Clarkston. Rich Johnson had two hits to increase his batting average.

Tennis

The tennis team keeps rolling along with three more victories over Milford, Kettering and Holly. The record now for this year is 12-1. For two years it is something like 27-1.

Clarkston cleaned up on Milford and Holly with identical scores, 5-0. Mark Erickson and Kirk Beattie won in straight sets 6-0 and 6-0. Dave Kelly won 6-3 and 6-0.

Tom Bullard and Kim Beattie, Mark Waterbury and Mark Griffiths, Scott Robbins and Mark Walter won with ease with neither team losing more than 2 sets.

Waterford Kettering was another easy victory for the netters as they won 6 matches. Mark Griffiths and Mark Waterbury lost in doubles play but the remainder of the team won.

Kim Beattie didn't play because of a back injury so Tom Bullard took his place in singles and won 6-1 and 6-3.

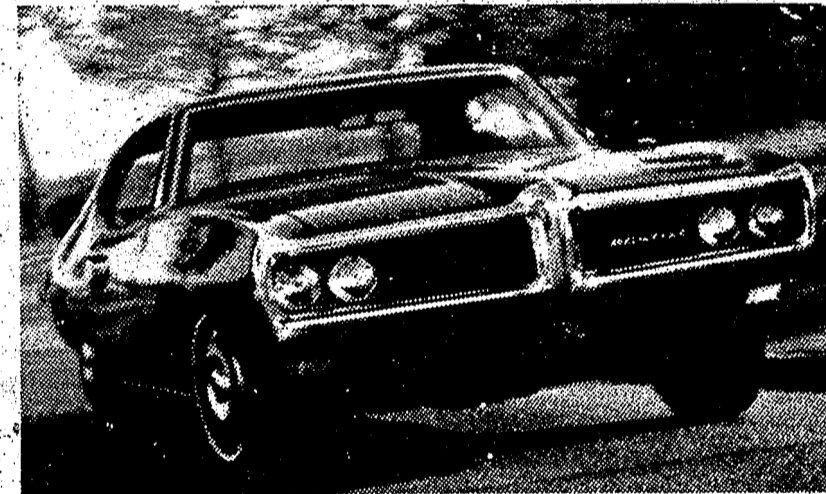

The same boys won in the rest of the matches but Coach Thibault had a new doubles team in Rick Ruelle and Louis Lessard and they won their 1st

What makes a Pontiac a Pontiac?

(And what makes ordinary cars ordinary?)

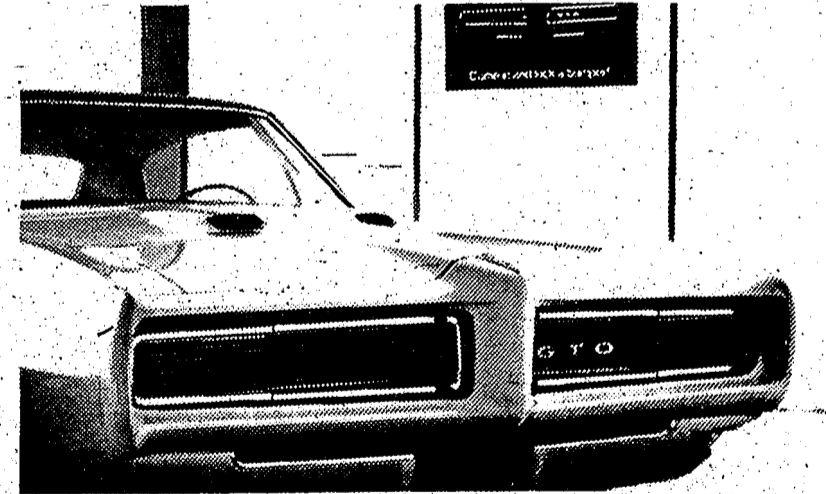

Only Pontiacs have Wide-Track. Drive a Pontiac and you'll wonder who took all the bumps and curves out of the road.

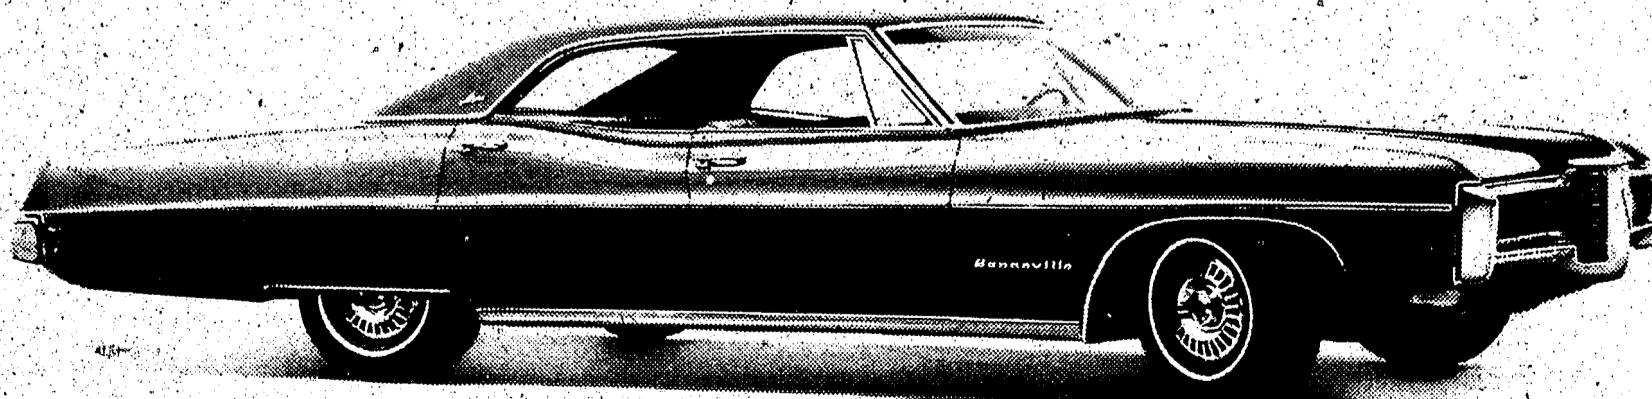

Even our lowest priced Pontiac has a unique 175-hp Overhead Cam Six. Unless you count cylinders, you'll swear it's a V-8.

Pontiac interiors make you glad you left home - soft Morrokide and simulated wood trim so real only a termite can tell it isn't.

Innovations like GTO's Bumper-of-the-Year make Pontiacs look expensive. But record sales prove we know how to price them, too.

Joette Schultz weds Ronald Brock Saturday

MRS. RONALD BROCK

Miss Joette Kathleen Schultz became the bride of Ronald Gene Brock on Saturday, May 11. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. Geoffrey Day at the Evangle Temple.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anita Schultz of 114 Wompole, Clarkston and Joseph Schultz of Pontiac. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brock of Goyette Street in Clarkston.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in front of an altar decorated in white, orange, and yellow blooms. Her gown of white organza had a chantilly lace bodice. Scalloped lace formed v shapes on the skirt. The train fashioned of scalloped chantilly lace fell from the shoulders and her finger tip veil of bridal illusion which she had designed and made herself was held in place by an organza bow. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and ivy.

Maid of Honor was Linda Heath while the bride's sister, Jolene Schultz and Claudia Gordon were the bridesmaids. Their gowns had empire waists, a-line and floor length. The Maid of Honor was in orange while the two maids were in yellow. They carried carnations to match their gowns interspersed with stephanotis and ivy.

George Crossley served his friend as the best man and ushers were Jim Jensenius, and the groom's three brothers, Dennis, Kenneth and Robert Brock. A wedding reception following held at the First Federal Building in Lake Orion carried out the same orange, yellow and white theme. White wedding bells were used on the cake table.

Following a northern New York honeymoon the couple will be at home in Union Lake. For travelling, the bride wore a gold sheath with matching jacket and white accessories. Both are Clarkston High graduates

Readers will doubtless remember my plea of a few weeks ago for information about Leora Sage Davis who lived in Clarkston at the turn of the century. The paper was not much more than in the mail when a lady called me to say that the daughter of this lady visited her in Clarkston last summer. She now lives in Boise, Idaho as did her mother. The insurance company seeking this information ought to be happy about this.

Word reaches us that this year the Athletic Boosters club are presenting three local scholarships for high school seniors. A full account and pictures of the recipients will appear next week.

Dug-outs being built on the ballfield are a project of the High School shop boys as is the new partition in the shop at the High School. It is in this project that the boys are having their experience in masonry work.

Ron Walter reports that on a recent trip to Sumpter, South Carolina to visit their daughter and husband that he had some interesting talks with court officials and visited court in that southern city.

Rustie had taken several shots of the re-modeling in the beauty shop only to have everything removed from her car. So now, the gals have to pose again in their pretty surroundings and with their new equipment.

Attend services in the church of your choice

By Frank A. Cozadd
First Methodist Church

Norman Cousins concludes his book "In Place of Folly" by listing what he considers to be some of the enemies of mankind that we do not usually think about.

The enemy is the man whose only concern about the world is that it stay in one piece during his own lifetime. Nothing to him is less important than the shape of things to come or the needs of the next generation.

The enemy is the man who has a total willingness to delegate his worries about the world to officialdom. He assumes that only the people in authority are in a position to know and act.

The enemy is any man in government, high or low, who keeps waiting for a public mandate before he can develop big ideas of his own, but who does little or nothing to bring about such a mandate. He is an enemy because he sees no connection between his own authority and the need to act in behalf of the human community.

The enemy is any man in the pulpit who by his words and acts encourages his congregation to believe that the main purpose of the Church is to provide social respectability for its members. He feels no urge to speak out against a situation in which the nature of man is likely to be altered and cheapened. He is a dispenser of balm rather than an awakener of conscience. He is preoccupied with the need to provide personal peace of mind rather than to create a blazing sense of restlessness to set things right.

After reading about these enemies, I was left with an uneasy feeling—especially that last one. There is enough of every one of these enemies in all of us at times to cause us to examine our words and actions in order that we do not become the enemy of mankind.

Jobs for kids?

Last week the mail brought us a handsome multi-colored brochure from the President's Council on Youth Opportunity, entitled "Summer Jobs for Youth . . . Help Them. Help Them selves."

This year more than 13.5 million youngsters, 16 to 21 years old, will be looking for summer work. Two million won't find jobs available.

That's part of the reason for the handsome brochure and the request for publicity. They want to put these kids to work, and are conducting a "Youth Opportunity Campaign."

Wonderful. We couldn't agree more. Except we won't hire anyone extra, and neither will a lot of other businesses. Strict state regulations on exactly what kind of work youngsters can do make it impossible.

Business is regulated in the hiring of youngsters by the number of hours they can work and the type of work they can do. They shouldn't climb stepladders and they can't operate power machinery or lift heavy loads. The state will license them to drive a ton of deadly machinery—the auto—and forbid them to work in the same room with a power saw.

The amazing thing is that so many of them do find some kind of a job.

We have no quarrel with the state's attempt to provide reasonable health protection for youngsters at work, but the sweatshop days that prompted child labor laws are gone.

These youngsters should learn the value of work. They should be given the opportunity to earn money for college or clothes or whatever. They should have a chance for vocational training, to find their niche, to discover what people mean when they talk about responsibility and productivity and ingenuity. They discover this sort of thing at work, not idle.

But until some of the unreasonable limitations on child labor are modified to fit the times, many youngsters will simply be left out. And while one government agency attempts to stimulate youth employment, a state agency discourages it.

We agree youngsters should be protected. They shouldn't be coddled and shielded to the point where they can't find even a modest summer job.

No more money for roads

It looks like the day has finally come when the voice of the individual no longer can be heard. Lest the government forget, it was established to serve the interests of the individual and not vice-versa.

Collective action by group pressure doesn't seem to be meeting with open arms from the Oakland County Road Commission. In answer to public demands for road maintenance, mainly from a group that calls itself WHAR, Why Have A Wful Roads?, the Road Commission said that it doesn't have any money.

When the County is surreptitious about its tentative 1969 budget and won't show it to another pressure group, The Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, we ask, where is our money going? What is it being used for?

The County Road Commission sees the solution to their not having any money for local road maintenance. They want a 1 mill tax added to the property tax levy. On a county wide basis, how much money would this 1 mill raise? We don't know. How much money does the road commission need to give the kind of service that people are asking for? We don't know that either because they have never told us.

Are there any surpluses in other accounts that could be transferred from the county general fund into the coffers of the road commission? We don't know because the pressure group, Homeowners and Taxpayers, hasn't been able to find out.

Hikes in school taxes, State income taxes, gasoline and weight taxes, sales taxes, Federal taxes and general property taxes start the average man's mind to boggle.

Before we start to digest a red herring, we say, let the County Road Commission fly a kite for its one mill increase for road maintenance. We might better vote a one mill increase on the local level and go back into road maintenance ourselves. The money would probably go farther and at least, the individual would be able to find someone responsible for maintaining the road that goes past his house.

As things are now, if past performance is any indication, voting a one mill increase for the Oakland County Road Commission is going to amount to a lot of wasted money.

The eyes of Texas are shut

By Jim Fitzgerald

(This is the last of the reruns. Jim Fitzgerald is due back from Lum this week. This column first appeared Jan. 24, 1963.)

Two recent news items started me thinking about the days when I was doing my best to help Germany and Japan win World War II. The calendar says this was almost 20 years ago but the calendar is obviously wrong. I can't be that old.

The first item told about the new governor of Texas being inaugurated at the BIGGEST PARTY EVER in Austin, the state capital. I remember Texas (ugh) and, most of all, I remember Austin (double ugh).

For 2 of the longest months of my life I was stationed at Camp Swift, just a short bumpy, dusty bus ride from Austin. I went to town often and usually did something exciting, such as watch haircuts or get my shoes shined.

As I recall it, Austin had 2 things: the University of Texas and lights. The male students at the university were all generals in the ROTC and I kept saluting them by mistake. The coeds wouldn't give the fuzz off a peach to a lowly private, even if I did wear the good conduct medal and a battleweary expression.

Which left me with the lights. Austin is the best lit town in the world. There are huge lights atop gigantic poles all over the place and you'd never know it was night unless you went into a poolroom and I couldn't find one.

Right now I am thinking about the bright night I stood in line waiting to board a bus back to camp. As usual in the Army, it was a long line. The decrepit Army buses were driven by Austin civilians. One would limp in every 15 minutes, load up and rattle away.

I waited through 3 buses and 45 minutes. It was hot and I was tired. The only thing that kept me from resuming my hunt for the poolroom was the conversation with the soldier ahead of me in line. He was from Detroit, just 60 miles from my home, so we had a fine time trying to figure out what was wrong with the Tigers and what was right with Michigan weather as opposed to other, more miserable states. He was assigned to another outfit, on the other side of camp, and we'd never met before.

As the 4th bus began to take on passengers, the 2 of us reached the bus door only to hear the driver say, "Only I seat left." Some general had recently decided that crowded buses were un military, so there was no standing allowed. I was second in line so I was going to have to wait for another bus.

But the driver motioned me to go ahead of the boy from Detroit. "Get aboard, Mac," he said, "this guy can wait."

The other soldier shrugged his shoulders and stepped aside. Too puzzled to think clearly, I got on the bus and away we went. But I had to ask the driver how come he'd brushed back the first soldier.

"Because the empty seat wasn't in the back of the bus," he answered. "Hell, let the nigger walk."

Great. At the beginning, I mentioned 2 news items. The second told about the clever slogan coined by University of Mississippi students who object to a man named James Meredith. It's "Ignore the Nigger with Vigor."

Great. I have never been able to forget that Detroit soldier with his black skin shining under the proud lights of Austin. I have never gotten over being sorry that I didn't refuse to take his seat. I have often thought of the deadly things I should have told that bus driver—but I didn't. I just shut up and sat down.

That's probably what's wrong with this crazy world. Too many of us shut up and sit down when we should get up on our hind legs and holler.

That's probably why, 20 years later, we have college students who "Ignore the nigger with vigor."

Great.

Another Day By Constance Lektzian

In the early days of teaching

The young school teacher opened the windows and let the fall breeze swirl through the dust that had lain idle since the door had been locked behind the last pupil in June. She washed the blackboards and the top of her desk, and nervously sat down to await the arrival of her first students: Only 18 years old, Mable Green had just completed her term at Clarkston High the spring before.

Fortunately, for her and many other young girls, the village high school had a progressive principal, Clarence Vliet. Since coming to Clarkston, he had been keenly aware of the fact that a large number of the graduating pupils went right into teaching jobs. With this in mind, he had stepped up the number and depth of the subjects taught the older students.

Miss Green, therefore, had the added advantage of more training. The directors at Bigelow School had also hired her for her genial disposition and ability to get along with people. Being a village girl, she also was able to avoid the problem of 'boarding around' that plagued teachers of that day. Many of the families that were willing to give room and board to a teacher, were possessed of such large numbers of children that a room of her own or even a minimum of privacy, were commodities not given the young school ma'am's.

Under Peter Green's watchful eye, his daughter had left her father's livery stable in the early fall morning. Beside her on the seat of the small light carriage sat the necessary wicker basket of lunch which if it sat in the sun long enough, was the forerunner of today's hot lunch program. Topsy, the pretty gray mare driven by Mable, enjoyed the privilege of never being rented out as were the other horses owned by the Green's.

The route to Bigelow school led down Main street, northward out of the village. Past Bishop's Hill, a narrow lane plunged into the woods and meandered through open farmland to the little white one-room school. In that year, 1902, just past the turn of the century, Independence township was dotted with these buildings. Consolidation lay years in the future and some of these schools served only four or five different farm families. In a society that was still largely horse-drawn and in an economy that was mainly agricultural, schools needed to be close at hand.

Whether Mable Green realized it or not, the twenty five dollars she drew in monthly wages wasn't much more than teachers were paid fifty or seventy-five years before her time. Nor were teaching conditions much better. True, there weren't puncheon floors as there had been in pioneer days and there was now real glass in the windows instead of oiled paper. Desks were no longer simple slab affairs fastened around on the walls and set up on wooden pin legs—there was a desk for every pupil or at least every two pupils. But centered in the back of the room was a pot bellied round oak stove that needed constant feeding during the cold winter days, and the drinking fountain was a tin pail in which floated a community dipper used by pupils and teacher alike. Plumbing consisted of two simple wooden structures and playground equipment was nil.

The end of harvest time saw an increase in attendance which usually dropped off again when the weather became severe. Then Topsy was hitched to a cutter that carried her mistress over the hidden roads and buried fields. The Irish farm lay along the young teacher's route and she picked up two of the daughter's, Thelma and Ruby. Frequently, the cutter, snagging on some snow covered obstruction, overturned and into a snow bank went lunches, books and girls. No hardship this—the girls righted the cutter and went on their way.

Besides the usual arithmetic, grammar, and reading, there was great emphasis placed on penmanship and hours a week were spent practicing the beautiful Spencerian handwriting of that day. While occasionally a member of the school board might drop in to see how the young teacher was getting along, it was very rare that a parent put in an appearance.

In those times as today, there was an awareness of the problems of the retarded child but there was not, at least on a common level, special training to cope with the situation. Eighteen year old Mable Green could only watch apprehensively as one such a child ran freely through the classroom, untroubled but also unlearning. Everything she taught him one day was forgotten by the next morning and she could only start the entire routine over again.

At the end of the term, Mable received what to her was a fantastic offer. The northern community of Sutton's Bay wanted her as a teacher—for $65 a month! Of course, such a large sum could not be considered lightly and in the end, she accepted. She was not fated to remain there long. Peter Green, a widower for four years, at last found the running of his own livery stable too arduous and took a job in Fenton. Not wanting his only child so far away, he asked her to come back home. It was shortly after this that Mable and Glenn Ellis renewed their school day friendship and were married. Mable became the mistress of the beautiful Ingomar Farm, a place that has been her home to this day.

Our thanks to both Mrs. Glenn Ellis and Miss Thelma Irish for information contained in this article.

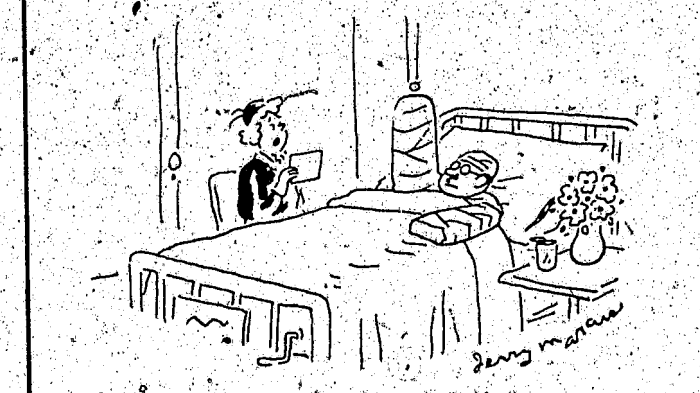

During the week of May 20th, which has been declared Michigan Week, the Oakland County Historical Society will take part in the program presented at the Pontiac Mall. In connection with this, Mrs. Ellis and Mrs. Jesse Griffin will be interviewed on WPON relating some of the tales and experiences of an earlier time.

Adopt pension program for township employes

A pension program for the 22 employes currently on the Independence Township payroll has been adopted by the board. It took effect May 1.

The plan requires contributions from both the township and employe. Each are to put 5 percent of their income into the pension fund. However, the employe may put up to 10 percent of their salary.

The employe has to contribute to the fund at least 20 months before they can leave and withdraw the full amount contributed by each. Prior to that they can only take out what they have put in. At least 10 years have to be served before being eligible for the retirement benefits.

To pay the employe for past service the township will pick up 10 years of the older employes time. The specific number of years this will take is yet to be negotiated by the board.

The program is being set up by Burnham and Flower of Kalamazoo who write for Manufacturers Life Insurance Company. Michigan Township Association has endorsed Burnham and Flower and it is through this endorsement Independence Township becomes eligible for this particular program.

Seventy four townships are now actively participating in the retirement program with 150 others in pending negotiations, states the MTA officials.

The plan also calls for all employes being acceptable, elected or regular employes. Supervisor Duane Hursfall said "It appears we will have 100 percent participation." It is a voluntary program.

service, why not the entire community? I'm sure there are many families that are not aware of the situation as it exists and given the opportunity would like to be able to participate in the Metro-Calling service, especially those of us who have families in the Detroit area.

In my investigations to the phone company I haven't been able to get a legitimate answer to my questions. Therefore, this letter is in request of your assistance to "spotlight" the issue. I thought perhaps an editorial in your paper might stir enough interest and response from the community so the Michigan Bell Telephone Company will give this situation some proper action.

I would like to thank you for letting me bend your ear, and I'm sure if there is anything you can do it will be in the best interest of our community. Sincerely, Mrs. L.D. Baran

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mrs. Poole,

Regarding our phone conversation of this date concerning the eligibility of Clarkston Village and/or Independence Township and the Michigan Bell Telephone Company Metro-Calling Service.

In order to take advantage of this service, resident families in this area have to pay the standard monthly charge of approximately $10, but what I object to is the additional fee, above and beyond the base monthly charge, of approximately $25 a month for the privilege of having a Drayton Plains Exchange number to facilitate the Metro-Calling Service. (Clarkston being 394 or 625 and Drayton Plains OR 3, OR 4, 673 or 674). This involves having the phone company coming to your residence and changing an existing line to accommodate this service. As you can see a phone bill might be a minimum of $35 a month. There are a few families who, out of sheer necessity, are paying the above mentioned monthly charge. This does solve their problem temporarily since the long distance rate to the Detroit and suburban areas is approximately $.30 for the first three minutes and $.05 a minute thereafter. At this rate any number of calls could be very costly on this basis.

My argument is that there are some resident families in Independence Township who possess a Drayton Plains Exchange and do not have to pay the additional monthly charge of approximately $25 a month whether they use the Metro-Calling Service or not. On the other hand, families who, out of necessity, would like the privilege of this service have to pay an exorbitant amount of money every month. I would like to explain that I would be willing to pay an "initial" fee for this service, but I'm sure a $25 monthly charge would crimp any family's budget.

It seems that, as harsh as it may sound, if a few families can have the advantage of this

Name committee to study no hunting

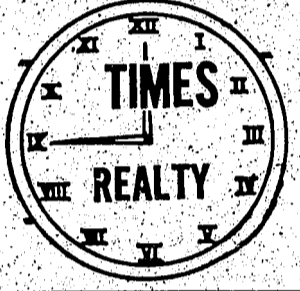

A tentative date of May 28 has been set for public hearing on establishing a no hunting area or areas in Independence. The township board passed a resolution, based on Act 159, 1967 of the state of Michigan, which allows a township to set up a committee to consider closing a portion of a township to hunting. Act 159 also states who sits on the committee. It is a member of the State Police, county sheriff, supervisor and representative of the Department of Conservation. The township has several letters on file from residents in south Independence township, mostly on the lakes, asking that action be forthcoming to close these areas to hunting. If the committee establishes such an area no fire arms or bows and arrows may be discharged for any purpose.

The policy of the club is to pay one third of any members trip so the club has a goal of $300.00 to help Lenn.

The many rural groups have also contributed in the county as well as local organizations and individuals. St. Anne's Church has offered their beautiful new hall for the dinner. cations of scholarship and need. It has become a considerable force for good in the lives of increasing numbers of deserving young people.

A student may receive funds to attend any advanced training institution beyond high school. This would include for example: business school, trade school, beauty school, barber college or a four year college degree program.

Any senior or alumnus seeking assistance from the Student Aid Fund follows a simple procedure. First, he completes an application blank stating his grade average, financial situation and future plans, and submits it to the Guidance Department of Clarkston High School.

The committee reviews the applications submitted and determines the distribution of loans. The students receiving loans, and their parents or guardians, sign a contract in which a comfortable financial agreement is defined and legally secured. Under the terms of the contract, the monies borrowed are repaid with no interest.

In the past, the biggest source of income for the Student Government. This year, the Talent Show has been cancelled because of lack of interest. Therefore, the 1968 Fund will be somewhat curtailed.

There have been other contributive sources to the Student Aid Fund. Certain individuals have used the fund as a means of Memorial for some loved one. This sort of perpetual memorial makes it possible for deserving young people who might otherwise be unable to afford it, to acquire advanced training or higher education.

Civic-minded groups in the community, like the Women's Club, find this an overt means of expressing their faith in the deserving youth of the school district.

The future success of the fund, depends on the continued interest of all people in the community.

In the past year over $600 has been loaned and nearly $500 has been repaid by students who borrowed money in past years. School officials are very grateful to the Women's Club and to other community groups who have given in the past.

Striving to compete in Flint auto contest

Two teams of students, enrolled in auto-mechanics classes at Clarkston High School are striving to compete in the 20th Annual Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest. This year's regional event will be held Saturday, May 18 at Flint Community College.

On one team is Bill Anderson and Ed Ashbaugh. The other two are Louis Champeau and Robert Dougherty. Prior to the Flint event one team will be chosen for participation in the contest.

When the judges say "Go," each team will be given a car to put in running condition. These are new cars, supplied by area Plymouth dealers. But each car will have been deliberately tampered with. Somewhere under the hood will be several good reasons why the car won't run properly.

Winners will be the first team to track down each problem, correct it, and present the judges with a smooth-driving auto. They will be competing for school honors and college scholarships in this 20th annual contest.

The contest has a twin purpose, said Glenn White, general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Division. "First, we want to encourage these youngsters to continue their education. We do this by providing an activity in which they can earn recognition for their skills. Second, we are trying to alleviate this country's shortage of well-trained mechanics. If the current trend continues, we'll enter 1975 with only 750,000 trained service technicians in America—instead of the 1,250,000 we'll need."

The winning team and their teacher will represent the Flint area at the National Trouble Shooting Finals in Indianapolis in late June.

Will entertain Swiss visitors

The Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club, in cooperation with The Experiment in International Living, Putney, Vermont, is sponsoring the arrival in Waterford Township on May 20 of a group of seven businessmen ages 25 to 33, from Switzerland.

This is a project in international understanding through family living. Each "Experimenter" will live for two and one-half weeks, as a member of a Waterford Township family. Through family and group activities the Swiss will learn about American life and also share their own way of life with their American hosts and friends.

Following their departure from the Pontiac area June 7 the group will attend a six-week academic program on American business methods at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

The homestay families involved are: the Ashton W. Emerys, the Don Tatros, the James B. Boaz, the Frank Williamsons, the Eldean Chews, the Russell R. Grinnells, and the Carlos Richardsons, all of Waterford Township.

Some of the points of interest which are being scheduled for the group's visit are: an auto plant production line and offices; a dairy farm and local processing plant; the business offices of the Waterford Township School District; the Michigan State Legislature in Lansing; the regional offices of a large retail food chain; business offices of a large department store; Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village; and Cranbrook.

The Rotary Committee for this local international exchange project includes: A.W. Emery, James C. Covert, Eldean Chew and Robert J. Beattie of Clarkston.

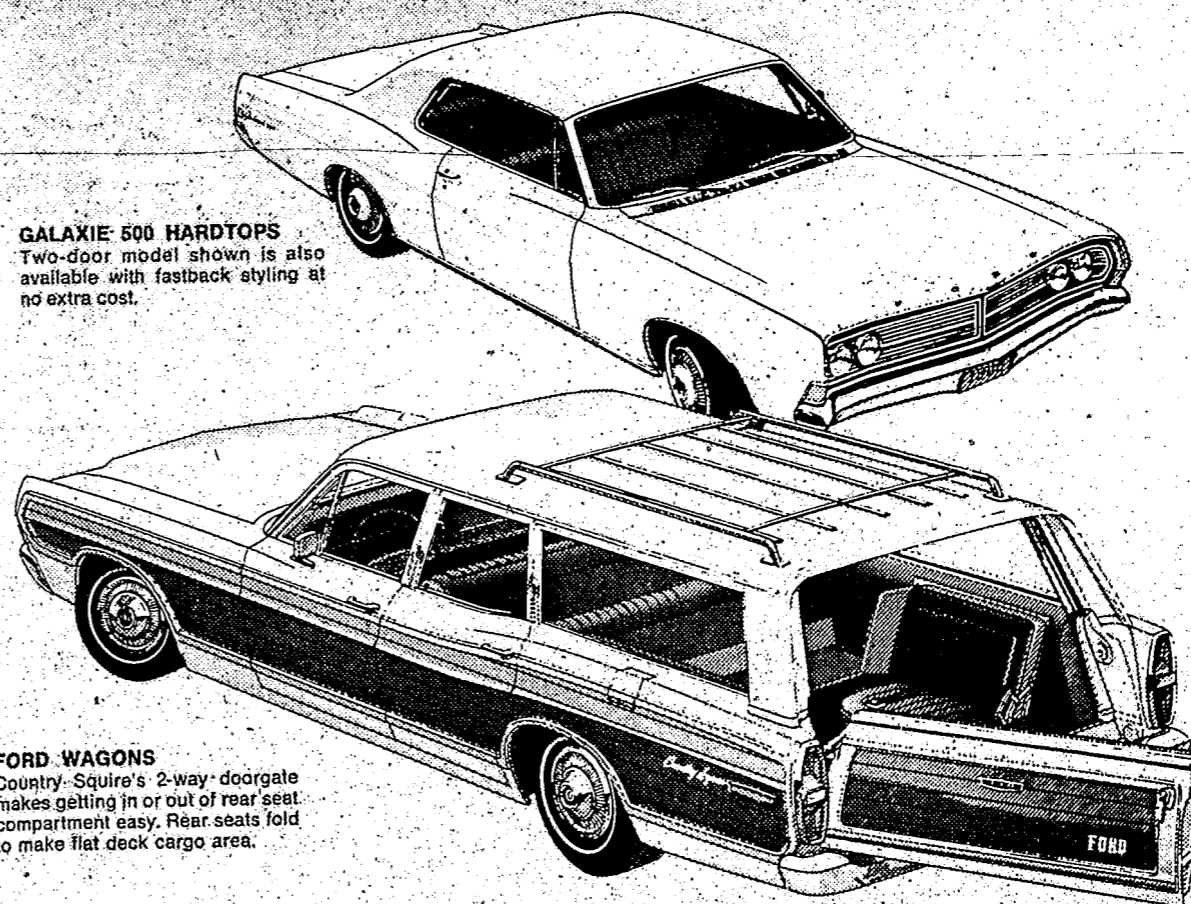

The group's arrival on May 20 coincides with the Michigan Week Dinner sponsored locally by the Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club. The community will have an opportunity to meet the young Swiss at that time.

The Experiment, a nonprofit organization with affiliates in some 60 countries, has been conducting this type of educational exchange since its founding in 1932. This year alone nearly 5,000 Experimenters will

Jaycees and Jaycettes take honors at State convention

Sixteen couples from the Clarkston Area Jaycees attended the gala Jaycee convention in Grand Rapids over the weekend and walked away with honors galore.

Awards were presented to the outstanding chapters and individuals who make the organization one of the most important community improvement groups in the state.

Perhaps the most coveted award was the Project of the Year Award. Clarkston won this in Division 11. The citation reads, "Warmth, friendliness and eagerness were demonstrated by the Clarkston Jaycees with their project of Pontiac State Hospital Recreation Therapy for children. Through hay rides, picnics, snowmobile excursions and swimming parties, confidence and trust in others was instilled in the children reached."

Other division winners were Fremont, Ypsilanti, Kalamazoo according to population categories.

Clarkston was also the runner up in the Outstanding Chapter award and they also won the "Blue Chip Award" for membership increase. Nine out of ten clubs in the district received this award. Clarkston received 6 awards in project areas.

A local member, Lewis E. Wint was presented with a coveted Jaycee senatorship, which is a life-time membership in Jaycees International. He is currently serving on the National Board and has held local and state offices. He was also named the outstanding State Officer on the Executive Board.

Not to be outdone was his wife, Diane. She was named one of the five outstanding Jaycette Presidents in the State. Several honors have come to Diane, culminated by this one, since she became the Charter President of the local Jaycettes two years ago.

Installation ceremonies were also conducted in which Dick Wilton was installed as a State Vice President for District 18, comprising all of Oakland County. On the distaff side, Mrs. Robert Tilley was installed as the State Vice-President for the Jaycettes in this district.

With close to 4,000 Jaycees in attendance, the Convention, with its "Friendly Friday" night party was one of the most exciting ever presented. The elections themselves, were held in the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium and had all the flavor of a Republican or Democratic National nominating convention. From marching bands to flowing campaign banners the Jaycees went all out in their quest for a new president. Bob Padgett of Westland defeated Tom Jacobs of Merrill in an extremely competitive but friendly race.
