

Play Key-No in Clarkston July 11

Key-No, a new numbers game that offers over 230 prizes over a 10-week period, begins next week in The Clarkston News.

Twenty one merchants in this area have joined in this big contest and will be giving away a prize worth between $3.00 and $5.00 each week. Then at the end of the contest each merchant will give a grand prize valued at between $30 and $50 to one of those who qualified for a weekly prize.

Besides that someone is going to win the top prize of the whole shebang, a $500. U.S. Savings Bond.

It all starts July 11. In that issue of this paper 20 numbers will be printed in a full page advertisement. From these numbers the merchant will know what numbers to put up in his store. They will not be the same that appear in the paper.

Now, before a person can play the game, he must fill out a playing form. There's one in this issue in an ad, or he can pick up a playing form from the participating merchant.

A player picks 10 numbers between 1 and 80. These are his numbers for the entire contest. He can pick only one set of 10 numbers. The playing form provides a duplicate form which is to be mailed to this newspaper. The duplicate must be in the newspaper office the Monday prior to the week a person wishes to start playing.

Someone will win every prize offered during the contest. You can play every game or as many as you like. It's free, it's fun. Make your own luck by picking your own numbers at the start.

Here are the rules to this exciting new numbers game:

1. The Clarkston News will publish each week, 20 different numbers from the total of 80 numbers on the playing form. If a number is published that you have marked on your form, that number constitutes 1 Key-No. Each additional number so published and marked on your playing form is an additional Key-No. The total number of Key No's you have in any game determines your lucky chance to win.

2. Every participating firm will post a completely separate set of Key numbers each week. No 2 firms will have the same set of numbers. Each is a separate game and constitutes a new and additional lucky chance to win. Visit as many firms as you wish. Check your numbers with theirs. The more participating firms you visit the more lucky chances you have.

The rules are that simple. Just check your numbers against those in any or all participating merchants. Each store has potential winner's slips to fill out.

The instructions printed in the page advertisement in this issue and each issue throughout the contest will further explain how you can participate. The main point in the instructions is that you pick 10 numbers on a "playing form" and send a duplicate to The Clarkston News prior to playing Key-No.

Remember the contest starts

July 11. Play Key-No at any of the following merchants here: Clarkston Equipment Company, The Clarkston News, Clarkston Cafe, Auten Furniture, O'Dell Drug, Haupt Pontiac, Ritters Farm Market, Clarkston Standard, Berg Cleaners, Kessler-Hahn Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., Robert C. Jones, Standard Oil Agent, Savoie's Gulf-Terry's Market, Deer Lake Lumber and Supply, Evans Equipment, Bob's Hardware, Clarkston Appliance and Furniture, Pine Knob Pharmacy, Al's Waterford Hardware, Town Shop, and Tom Rademacher Chevy-Olds.

A bright touch added to the Deer Lake Beach Area are these "Pop Art" trash cans.

Jim's Jottings

And, a family that plays together leaves dad too tired to read, go out, or argue. I get little time to read during a normal week and I've been saving a couple books Jim Fitzgerald loaned me. Jim is the now-working editor of the Lapeer County Press. At least I think his 10 weeks of vacation are used up.

Anyhow, it was only through not sticking with the family one day that I got one of the books read.

Last week I promised, or threatened, more on my Smokey Mountain vacation. Here are some of the notes I jotted down enroute and while staying at Fontana Village, North Carolina.

There should be no drainage problem in Kentucky and Tennessee. I never saw a back-yard. Houses and buildings just hung out.

I heard on the radio that the poor people's mule train was in Georgia and decided we'd be in a position to join it, financially, with just a couple more days of motel accommodations.

In one of the nation-wide outfits the placemat read "Free tv, free pool, free advance registrations, free air conditioning, free etc." This free unit cost just $8 more per night than one that offered the same things except no pool.

I would have never found this out if a convention in some town hadn't forced us to stay at a real fine, non-nationwide, local motel. It was too cold to swim, too.

After leaving Ohio, the next place we saw Kentucky Fried Chicken advertised was in Tennessee.

Mirrors in motels are never set up for tall men who shave. There's one little old bulb above the middle of the glass, thus putting a shadow under the chin. When you raise the head to get light, you're above the mirror. I must make quite a picture scootched down, head tilted back and to the side, getting curvature of the spine trying to remove whiskers on my neck. All because the cheap skates wouldn't put a bulb on each side of the mirror.

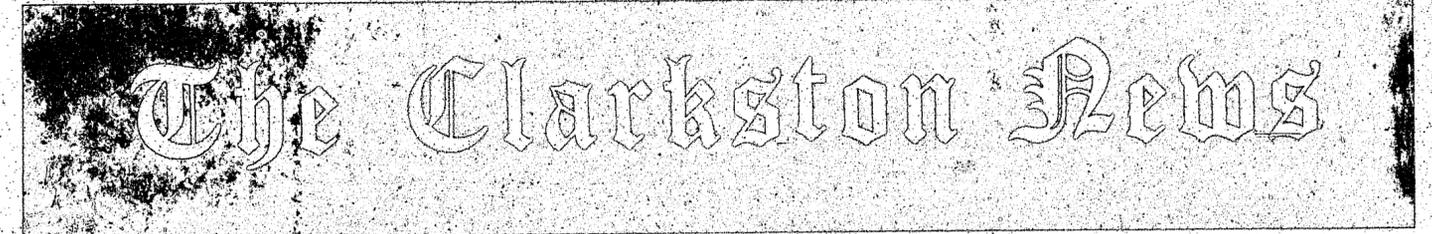

There are no mosquitos, they advertise, "within 200 miles of Fontana." They may be right. But if this kind of advertising is good, Michigan should be shouting "There are no Smokey Mountain gnats within 300 miles."

You can't see 'em. When you feel a bite, swat. And some of them have delayed action poison. There's some that start itching at 3 A.M., some affect you 2, 3 and 4 days after leaving the area, and all need urgent scratching only when both hands are completely occupied.

I haven't traveled much in general tourist areas, but of the tourist traps the Natural Bridge in Virginia rates my award as being a first class trap.

Here nature apparently took the dirt out from under some stone and left an arch. Michigan has such an arch on Mackinaw Island I think. They man built a huge brick building, complete with those big white pillars out front, 10 minutes walk from the bridge, filled it with curios and junk, and put a price of $1.80 per head to walk to the arch.

$7.20 to look at something nature did for nothing. And, it's done, on such a grand scale the people must feel it's first class to be there so they dole out their bucks. P.T. Barnum must have had an influence in it.

Plan for 4th

There will be a fun-filled day on the 4th for Clarkston village residents and visitors. To kick-off the days events is the annual parade. It will begin at 10 A.M. with all units participating asked to be at Miller Road and M-15 by 9:30.

The parade route will be down M-15 to Church Street and east to the old Methodist Church. Along the line of march the firemen will be distributing treats for the kids.

The new Miss Oakland County is expected to be in the parade as will Clarkston's own Junior Miss, Nancy Weiss.

Prizes will be offered as in past years. There will be no specific categories—cash prizes of $15, $10, and $5 will be given to the three best parade entries. Judging the event will be Lou Lessard, William Mansfield and Dr. Ernest Denne.

The firemen will be conducting the day long activities here. Jack Hess is Parade Chairman assisted by Dale Bailey.

Immediately following the parade, the Jaycettes will be conducting an old fashioned ice cream social on the vacant lot north of the Clarkston News office.

At noon, there will be a double header baseball game played on the High School diamond. The American Legion sponsored team will meet Southfield who are now the League leaders.

Lightning cracks the sky during one of the frequent rains last week.

Rotarians install officers

New officers replaced the old at the annual installation Monday night and with it Lou Lessard became the 28th president in the history of the Club.

Completing his year as president was Paul DeLongchamp. Other Clarkston Rotary officers for 1968-69 are: Lew Wint, vice president, Charles Robinson, secretary, and Jess Berg, treasurer. Last year Roy Haskins was vice president and the same persons served as secretary and treasurer. Assistant treasurer this year is Harold Goyette.

Serving on the board of directors this year are: Ernie Denne, Earle Davis, Bob Skerratt and Paul DeLongchamp. The other office filled Monday was that of Sergeant at arms. Howard Keift served last year and Duane West and Harold Goyette will share the job this year.

Lessard has been a member of Clarkston Rotary for 7 years with a perfect attendance record, and has lived in this community 15 years. He is employed as Collection Manager for Michigan Bell Telephone and lives with his wife, Marian, at 6431 Havelock. They have 4 children, Cathy, Judy, Louis Jr. and Joe.

Paul DeLongchamp passed the gavel to Lou Lessard at a recent meeting of the Clarkston Rotary Club. He will serve as President during the '68-'69 year.

Local Eagle Scout off to
New Jersey

Howard G. Bliss, Jr. of 4590 Cecelia Ann in Clarkston has been chosen to attend the National Junior Leader Instructor Training Camp in Mendham, New Jersey.

Howard, who has recently attained Eagle Scout status will be participating in the 12 day, adventure-filled program starting on July 14.

The primary purpose of the national junior leader training camps is to prepare council-selected senior patrol leaders and assistant senior patrol leaders to assist in training junior leaders when they return home. An exciting series of experiences leading to increased skill in Scoutcraft and leadership is the framework upon which the program is built. Patrol operation is taught by living the patrol method.

Outdoor skills are learned by doing. Fire making, ax handling, survival lore, patrol and troop organization, camping, program planning—these can be shared with other young men back home. Campers sleep on cots in wall tents and do their own cooking on a patrol basis.

The staff is composed of a team of Scouting experts under the personal supervision of members of the national staff. At the completion of the full 12 day course a certificate is awarded each junior leader. In addition these young men who have demonstrated outstanding leadership and ability will receive the Schiff Junior Leader Instructor Training Camp patch. The standards for receiving this insignia are very high.

The Schiff Reservation comprises approximately 500 acres of beautiful rolling, thickly wooded hills near Mendham, New Jersey. The reservation is located less than 50 miles from the largest city in America, yet abounds with wild animal and plant life. The beautiful Schiff lake is ideal for swimming and boating.

Gail Cogdill surrounded by caddies autographs a tablecloth which was later auctioned off during the days festivities.

Beattie Motors sells to Flannery Motors

In just a week Beattie Motor Sales, Inc. would have celebrated their 38th anniversary as a Ford dealer in this area. But 37 years, 51 weeks will have to do as the Beatties signed the papers Monday afternoon making Flannery Motors, Inc. the new owners.

July 7, 1930 Robert C. Beattie opened his dealership in Clarkston. It occupied the corner now serving as Haupt Pontiac Collision Shop. In 1944 the Ford agency burned out and when they opened again it was at their new location "at the stoplight" in Waterford.

Flannery Motors, Inc. is based in Lincoln Park where they have been a Ford dealer since 1964. Prior to that the owner, Richard Flannery, and his brother owned a dealership in Toledo. The brothers are no longer together.

A new sales manager, Tom Fowler, has been named to replace Maynard King, however, no other changes were known at press time. King has plans, but wasn't ready to announce them.

Robert Beattie, who started buying the agency from his father in 1958, told the News his plans are indefinite.

Construction to begin soon on Methodist building

At a recent quarterly conference meeting of First Methodist Church it was voted to build an additional Church unit. Construction is to begin in the near future.

Total cost of the venture is to be $329,007.00. Some omissions were made, but the new facilities will contain kitchen, classrooms and needed facilities to make the Church a complete unit. Thus the old Methodist Church will be sold and all activities located in one place.

Howard Huttenlocher is in charge of the Building Committee. He states that the general construction work will cost $221,424.00; mechanical work $54,784.00; and electrical work, $25,557.00. $27,242.00 is reserved for the architect's fee and for contingencies.

Tries to pass

A driver was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control in an accident which occurred at 6:30 A.M. Tuesday. Albert Schenkel, 53 of 3043 Seabolt of Drayton Plains was also slightly injured in the accident.

The other driver, sheriff officers report had the directional signal operating and was preparing to make a left turn when the Schenkel auto attempted to pass him. The car which was struck was driven by Terry Richard Hunt, 21, of 73 East Strathmore in Pontiac.

Injury accident

Slippery roads caused two accidents in the Clarkston area last week note sheriff reports.

On Tuesday at 9:10 P.M. a Flint driver, Leo Church, 41 of 133 Green Street, lost control of his car at Dixie Highway and I-75. He slid into a ditch and nearby field. Escaping injury himself, he did very little damage to his car.

A second accident on Wednesday at 4:50 p.m. on Clarkston Road west of Baldwin sent two people to hospitals. They were Gail Vladu, 20 of 8650 Eston Road, Clarkston. Sturgis was slightly injured and Mrs. Vladu's injuries were classified as type A.

Road contracts

A contract has been let to the Ajax Asphalt Paving, Inc. in Madison Heights for bituminous surfacing on a section of Rattalee Lake Road. To be completed at the same time will be the same type of surfacing on the Road Commission Yard at the new Road Commission garage located at the corner of Dixie Highway and Rattalee Lake Road.

Cost of the contract is $35,383.25 for the two projects. It is scheduled for completion by August 1st. Barring unforeseen weather delays, the work should start this week.

Announces candidacy

Round the Town

Oxford Township supervisor, Lee Valentine, has announced his candidacy for Oakland County Supervisor, District 23. As part of the reorganization of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, reducing the number of members from 87 to 27, all members will have to run for election to this board. Their names will appear on the August 6 Primary ballot.

District 23 includes Independence, Oxford, Brandon, Holly, Groveland and Springfield Townships and villages therein.

In announcing his candidacy, Valentine said, "I feel that my three years experience on the County Board of Supervisors should be utilized in representation at the County Level."

"I am in my fourth year as a member of the Drain Committee, which is now charged with aiding the Drain Commissioner in establishing a county-wide Solid Waste Disposal Program."

"As chairman of the County Road and Bridges Committee, we are now engaged in a 10 year program of County road improvement, which we sorely need. I have also served one year on the Auditor-General Local Taxes Committee."

"As a lifetime resident of Oakland County and Oxford Township and having been in some way connected with local government for several years, I believe no one will question my interest in any rural township problem.

"Certainly as many as possible of our Rural Township Supervisors should be elected to the reorganized County Board of Supervisors to continue to fight for justice for all on such issues as assessment equalization, tax allocation, road and drainage problems, sanitary sewers, and other Public Works problems."

"I hope our electors will see fit to give me the opportunity to continue to give undivided interest and concern in helping to solve the problems of our Rural Townships and Villages," said Valentine.

Now that the monsoon season seems to be over, hopefully we can settle down for a little picnic weather. At least for this coming week-end.

The Nick Lekas family of 6655 Plum Drive had as week-end guests the Bill Vandoris's of Akron, Ohio along with their four children. With such promising weather, the two families took off to Mackinac Island for a week's vacation. Sounds like fun!

Ray Elmy of Paramus Drive is recuperating in St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac following surgery this past Monday. Best of luck.

The Jack Dougherty's of 6562 Pear Street had as dinner guests last Friday the Ed Brodkorb's also of Pear Street. The two couples later attended the Little Theatre at the Depot to see "The Late Christopher Bean".

Larry and Joyce Thompson of 6645 Almond Lane returned Sunday from a week and a half camping trip in Caseville. The four Thompson children, Wendy, Ronnie, Todd and Scott were along for the swimming and fishing. They reported that the weather couldn't have been better with only one day of rain.

The John Searight's of 6583 Plum Drive returned this past week-end from a week's vacation at Harrisville. They and their four boys are canoe enthusiasts and they had a bit more rain than they could appreciate. Randy, Scott and Kevin returned home with their parents but Greg stayed for a longer visit with his grandparents, the Temple Dorr's of Harrisville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Meeker of 6556 Almond Lane along with Jane, Tommy and Amanda spent the week-end camping at Vassar at Anderson Park. Then Jane went to Flint to vacation with friends where she celebrated her ninth birthday on Monday and was joined for the festivities by her parents and brother and sister.

Dick and Nora Barry of 6543 Plum Drive had a long three day week-end in Hillsdale where they were the guests of the Jack Phillips.

The Pete Lektzian's of 6563 Plum Drive along with Mr. and Mrs. Melkon Lektzian and family of Ross Drive were dinner guests of the George Lektzian's of LaSeine Drive, Southfield last Sunday. The visit included a tour of the newly finished St. John's Armenian Church, a beautiful building whose architecture is a composite of a number of churches in old Armenia.

Mrs. Orrie Adams of 6539 Maybee Road is returning home today (Wednesday) following an 8 day stay at St. Joseph Hospital where she was a surgical patient.

THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., July 4, 1968 7

Vote no August 6

Maybe we're jumping the gun in recommending a NO vote to the Oakland County Road Commission's request for 1 mill, August 6. But, we feel that the road commission has been jumping the gun with our money.

For example, the road commission's June 4, 1968 offer to Pontiac Township, in exchange for a permit to turn their Bald Mountain and Dutton roads gravel pit into a landfill garbage dump, the county offers to blacktop over a mile-and-a-half of Bald Mountain Road at no cost to Pontiac Township.

In their June 4 letter, the road commission estimated that it would cost about $100,000 to equip the land-fill.

In addition, the road commission promised Pontiac township to construct a road east of M-24 to the dump site. This road would be paved within 2 years after the dump had opened. The road commission doesn't even own the land that this new road would cross.

There isn't any sense spending time talking about the expense of building roads, blacktopping existing roads and paving new ones, we all know they are expensive. Yet, the road commission, sparing no expense, wants to turn its own gravel pit into a dump. We ask, for what reason?

When the road commission complains that it doesn't have any money to maintain our roads, cut down dead elm trees and answers citizen requests with, "You give us the money and we'll do the job," we wonder as to what job they are talking about? If their plan for the one mill is to use our money to construct a dump in Pontiac Township, we say vote NO, on the August 6 primary.

Furthermore, we ask by what right does the Oakland County Road Commission presume to make such promises to Pontiac Township when it says it doesn't have any money to maintain our roads?

CLEM CLEVELAND

Gun legislation? Michigan has had it for years. I've got a permit to use a hand gun for target and hunting ... got the revolver too. All my guns, shot-guns, rifles and what have you are all perfectly legal and registered. But, it isn't because of the efforts of the National Rifle Association or the other extreme that asks that all guns be registered that I find disagreement.

Basically, a simple fact. All the legislation and registration in the world isn't going to eliminate homicides. As far as I'm concerned, murder is something that is set apart and not to be confused with guns. I grant this much. Today, guns are enjoying a greater popularity among the lawless element. But, those people who set themselves outside the law are not going to be the ones to rush down to get permits and register their weapons.

First, lets take murder, homicide. Since Cain and Able, man has been dispatching his brother. Whether the weapon for murder was a stone, mace, arrow, poison or fist, murder, lies in the mind of the one who commits the act. It is for sure that through carelessness and accident, guns have fired their deadly pellets into the bodies of their handlers and those standing near. Again, it wasn't the gun's fault. Again, such misfiring was in the mind of the handler; or shall I say the handler's mind wasn't on his re-

Give something for nothing

By Jim Fitzgerald

It is fashionable to say the trouble with this world is that too many people want something for nothing.

So paint me unfashionable. I think a bigger trouble is the many people too selfish to give something for nothing.

I mean the "solid citizens" who worked hard to get where they are, by damn, and it boils their blood to see some loafer getting fat on welfare.

A Baptist minister no doubt made thousands cheer when he wrote the following to my hometown newspaper:

"I have yet to see a man who wanted to work without a job very long. These folks (Poor People Marchers) don't want to work, they want to be fed and nursed along by the government."

How about that for a Christian attitude?

I would like that minister to preach his sermon to the Appalachian coal miners whose jobs were wiped out by an automated, oil-fed economy.

That minister should call on some ex-cotton pickers in Alabama. People used to pick over 80% of the cotton in Alabama. Now they pick about 10%. They have been replaced by machines.

Or maybe the minister would like to visit some of the Indians who have been stuck away in reservations by our great country. He could buy some beads from these forgotten people who have no other way to make a nickle.

A recent CBS TV show said there are 10 million Americans who don't know where their next meal is coming from. No one argues with that figure. Does that minister expect me to believe that all these families are hungry because their breadwinner doesn't really want a job? He has got to be kidding.

The fat cats like to think all jobless people are shiftless so to hell with the bums. This is the easy way. The solid citizens like to point to a wealthy Negro who worked his way out of the ghetto and say: "Look there. He made it. Why can't the rest of them?" This makes as much sense as criticizing all rich men because they aren't governors like Nelson Rockefeller. It is ridiculous to measure a man's worth by what his exceptionally smart brother does.

The plain fact is that most unemployed men DO want jobs. They are limited by their education, ability and location. Just as they are curbed by a prejudiced society which thinks all Negroes should be porters and all Indians should sell blankets. But they DO want jobs, they simply can't find them.

Sure, there are some bums attached to something like the Poor Peoples March. Why not? It is a lot easier to explain these misfits than it is to explain the rich leeches who suck the blood of this nation. I can understand a teenage Puerto Rican, stuck in a rat infested tenement, who rebels and strikes out against the system which is putting him down. I cannot understand the landlord who is getting rich off that tenement.

The U.S. Supreme Court recently ruled that welfare aid cannot be withheld from a child because his mother's boyfriend stays all night. Bernard Houston, director of the Michigan Dept of Social Services, doesn't like the ruling. His is another great Christian attitude.

The actions of the mother, Houston explained, mean she is not "providing a home with moral precepts important to the raising of children." So no help for those hungry kids.

Good lord. How important is food to the raising of children?

Perhaps our welfare system has become too impersonal, too bureaucratic. If Houston chanced upon a hungry child on the street, would he quickly get the kid something to eat? Or would he first ask the child if his mother were sleeping with her boyfriend? And if Mother were guilty, would he tell the kid to get lost?

The TV program mentioned earlier showed hungry children. Skinny, bloated, vacant-eyed youngsters with flies crawling on them. It showed the graves of the Indian kids who starved to death. It told how malnutrition caused permanent brain damage. It showed ignorant parents, able to love their children but unable to feed them. It showed the pitifully inadequate help they get from their government. Some states refuse to supply Federal food stamps. In other cases, the hungry families can't afford the stamps.

I ask that minister — are these the people who would have jobs if they really tried to find them?

This nation is shooting millions of dollars into space and into an unjust war. Forget it. These dollars, and more, should be used to feed these hungry kids and train their fathers and get them jobs. Now. Cut the lousy red tape.

We should quit worrying about giving something for nothing. We should give whatever it takes to remove a terrible cancer from the richest nation in history.

Give with love to those who have nothing. You won't really get nothing back. You'll get everything.

Picnic luncheon

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club met on Monday at the home of Mrs. Frank Lambert for a picnic luncheon. After the business meeting, members made miniature flower arrangements to be used on the trays of patients at The County Convalescent Home in Pontiac. An informal plant and flower exchange was also a part of the afternoon program.

to accept his brother as a brother will be the only way to solve the problem of what to do with the gun, or something.
