9-month-old Michael Mansfield had to do a little looking up at some of the parade. Parade pictures throughout this issue and next.

Jim's Jottings

You didn't really expect me to let the Chicago police vs. newsmen and photographers incident go by without comment, did you?

We have to stand up for our own even when they are related only in the sense that each of us write news. They're the big boys with the by lines, we're the little guys who are the envy of the big boys.

To start with, I'm not with the daily writers 100 percent. I've seen one of them operate. Some display no feeling whatsoever for other human beings, even rejoice at provoking them. We've all seen this on tv interviews and I've seen it where physical and mental suffering is involved.

However, the Chicago police tried busting bodies of reporters and photographers on a wholesale basis. They seemed to become especially outraged when a camera or pen appeared.

This pleased some people. One was a Rep. Bill Brock, R-Tenn. who was quoted by UPI as saying the newsmen "would be a little more honest" about reporting disorders "if many more of them get beaten up."

The article says Brock is a congressional supporter of Richard M. Nixon. Which brings back the statement Nixon made following his defeat by the late President John F. Kennedy. He berated the press for their unfair coverage of his campaign and ended by saying, "Gentlemen, this is my last news conference."

Well, if beating up reporters is supposed to bring a little more honesty in reporting what can we do to bring a little more honesty to our politicians? When it comes to the war in Vietnam I might suggest the congressmen would be a little more honest if many more of them were shot at.

When it comes to helping black people in ghettos I might suggest congressmen live in the ghettos on the same income to see if more honesty and sympathy might be forthcoming from Capitol Hill.

The Chattanooga Republican, who was a floor manager for Nixon at the Republican National Convention, call the hippies and Yuppies in Chicago a "bunch of punks." I might suggest he spend some time with these people, then ask him if wholesale condemnation of the thousands present is 100 percent true. Is he, in fact, being honest.

I assume many of the reporters and photographers were at the scene that Wednesday night trying to get the truth to enable them to do honest reporting.

Do all our congressmen actually go to the scene of violence, suffering, war, poverty, and need before voting foreign aid money in every case, poverty program funds for each request, and money for space programs.

I might suggest Congressman Brock take a trip to the moon prior to sending our astronauts there to see if its something we want to claim.

Guys like Brock who condemn whole groups of people by calling them punks and saying the beatings received by reporters might make newsmen more truthful make me ill.

No, all reporters are not honest. But, beating them up won't change it. And, I wouldn't suggest beating up all Congressmen to make them honest. Maybe a light tap on the head with a railroad tie, but not a full beating.

New writers

Mel Vaara, assistant junior high principal, and writer of sports for the Clarkston News, has a remarkable record for attendance at high school football and basketball games.

He's been in the Clarkston school system 13 years. In that time he has missed just 1 football game, when there was a death in the family, and 5 basketball games. This is his record for both home and away games.

He has also been the voice on the public address for these two sports for 8 or 9 years.

Further he has written sports for the Clarkston News for 5 years. However, he has more and more demands on his time, plus added responsibilities with a new baby at home and a desire to do more officiating of basketball, track, baseball and cross country.

For these reasons his by line will not appear over sports stories in the News this year. Taking over the sports writing duties will be Mike Mason and Kirk Phillips. Both are seniors at Clarkston High. Mike is also a photographer and will be taking game pictures for us from time to time, plus both will be keeping their eyes out for other newsworthy events. Kirk is a member of the Varsity football squad.

Their initial efforts begin this week.

3 youths injured in police chase

Three Utica youths were seriously injured last week while being chased by State Police in Clarkston.

The police report stated that a black convertible was spotted going south on M-15 in the vicinity of the I-75 interchange about 2:30 a.m. September 5. Officers noticed that the occupants of the car looked at them suspiciously and also that the car had a defective exhaust system and tail light.

When police began to pursue the car, it accelerated in an attempt to lose them. The car turned right on West Washington through a red light and sped at a rate in excess of 60 miles per hour down Washington.

The car failed to stop at the stop sign at Holcomb and headed toward the intersection at Madison. Washington dead ends at Madison, but the car didn't. After driving across the lawn at 65 Madison the car came to rest against a tree with its rear end on the treads of a caterpillar tractor.

When police arrived, they found the youths pinned under the dash board and steering wheel. An ambulance and tow truck called and the youths were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver was identified as William P. Downey III, 20, of 40701 Utica Road, Utica. The others were identified as Wesley C. Gold and Robert P. Rumble, both of Utica and 20 years old.

Police found several full and empty cans of beer in the wrecked car.

All three youths were given tickets for being minors in possession of intoxicants. In addition, Downey was cited for driving on a revoked license, reckless driving and filing to stop on command of the law.

He pleaded guilty to these last charges during arraignment. Charges of minor in possession are still pending against all three.

The two passengers stated that they told the driver to stop when the chase began.

ANOTHER GRAND - Thursday the Clarkston Community Womens Club gave another $1,000 to the Independence Township Library Building fund. This brings the total amount donated by this group to around $4,000. Making the presentation is Mrs. Thomas Lamm, right, treasurer of the Womens Club and receiving the check is Mrs. Evan J. Leonard, treasurer of the Building fund for Independence Township Library. Bids received last month for the new library are now being considered by the Building Committee and Library Board. They will make recommendations to the Township Board who will make the final decision on letting bids.

School Board

Ad building, incinerators

Approval of a preliminary drawing of a new administration building for Clarkston school system was given by the Board of Education Monday night.

The approval gives the go ahead to Richard Prince architects to further develop plans for housing offices, business machines, vault, storage, conference rooms, and secretarial pool space. The latter is for all administrators' use as opposed to each having a secretary. The building would have about 8,000 square feet.

If built, it would be on school property on Orion road. A portion along the west side of this land was recently sold for use as the Independence Township Library.

Eventually on this site an elementary school would also be constructed.

In other Board business, Superintendent Les Green was given approval to get bids on incinerators for four schools and let the contracts. These incinerators have to meet present codes on pollution control and will have after burners. They will go to Andersonville elementary, Clarkston elementary, Sashabaw elementary and Clarkston Middle School.

Street vacated

No village citizens appeared at the public hearing on vacating the Buffalo Street right of way lying north of Washington street. And, the council passed a resolution vacating the unused street.

The property is divided in half with property owners on each side getting equal portions.

Two residents appeared after the hearing and were heard by the Council. They asked that the minutes show a definition of the word "vacate."

Vacating property by a government, in this case the village, it refers to streets or ally right of ways. When the Council deems the right of ways unnecessary they vacate them and the land goes back on the tax rolls.

A uniform electrical code was passed by the council. This sets standards for electrical installations that are overseen by the electrical inspector.

The former Ford farm, off Holcomb, is in the state of being developed for residential use and a preliminary plan was presented the council by Howard Kieft, engineer.

Only about a half acre of the 70 acres in the initial development lies within the village limits. However, according to the Michigan Plat Act all governmental bodies must give approval.

Tentative preliminary approval was granted. The property within the village is presently zoned residential and no zoning change is being asked. Called Deerfield Hills, the 70 acres have 120 building sites for single family dwellings.

Though there was no decision, there was discussion by the council on selling or leasing the present village hall. The present library building next to the township hall was mentioned as a possible meeting place.

Rezone for new sub, sewer action coming

Another subdivision, this one for 119 homes, is on its way through the legislative process in Independence Township.

The required rezoning of the 75 acre parcel came at the last Township Board meeting. At that time the preliminary plan was also presented and this goes to the Township Planning Commission, township engineers and professional planners.

The site is at the corner of Perry Lake Road and Cranberry Lake Road. The zoning change was from agriculture to residential 1A.

The owner and developer, John Halveston, said the area will be served by a community water system with the well in a park site on the property. It will be called Deerwood subdivision.

The Township Board also approved a resolution waiving the opening and closing fees in the three township cemeteries for township residents who die in the service of their country.

Soon the township board will take action on establishing sewer and water rates and let contracts for stage 1 of the sewer project.

Water and sewer rates would be part of an operation ordinance that is being prepared by Bill Hettiger of Stratton Associates, a financial consulting firm employed by the township.

It was proposed at public meetings in the past that the township expects to charge a home owner $350 capital sewer fee, $1,150 lateral benefit fee and $15 inspection costs besides the cost of connecting the sewer from the property line to the home.

The contract to be considered is between the township and the engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson. This will be for final planning and construction of stage 1 of the proposed sanitary sewers for Independence township.

Anybody seen the pom-pons?

Eighteen of them are missing.

Though a pom-pon looks like a collection of strips of colored crepe paper knotted together at the end of a stick, they are fairly expensive.

The high school cheerleaders decorated their candied apple booth during the Labor Day celebration with 18 of these shakers. The booth wasn't put inside a building over night. The pom-pons weren't there the next day.

These pom-pons cost $60.00. However, as important as this money is to the cheerleaders, even more important are the shakers. Some were loaned to the girls for decorations. Some have a value beyond monetary as keepsakes and remembrances.

Cindy Ford, who made the booth, says the cheerleaders were selling the apples to raise funds for new uniforms. If they take the earnings from sales to pay for pom-pons it will obviously cut into their fund. And, still the owners will be out.

Cindy would like parents to recall if their children brought home any of the blue and gold pom-pons recently. If they do, and the shakers might belong to the cheerleaders, she would appreciate a call.

They could contact the high school office, 625-5841.

Two Clarkston police officers have received promotions recently. They are Norman Miller (left), 6641 Transparent Drive, and John E. Walts, 6479 Snowapple Drive. Walts was promoted from patrolman to sergeant. He received his basic training through the Clarkston police force. He had two years experience with the Redford police department before coming to Clarkston. The police department has just reorganized into the platoon system, where each of the six regular officers commands a specific number of the 14 auxiliaries, according to Police chief Robert Phillips.

Lance C. Andrews

Lance C. Andrews, 6109 Waterfront Road, Waterford, died Sunday following a short illness. He was 68.

He was a lieutenant for the Goodway Security Force at the Pontiac Storage Facility, and a member of Our Lady of the Lakes Church. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Helen Andrews.

A Rosary was said Tuesday at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home. The Reverend F.J. Delaney conducted the funeral services Wednesday at Our Lady of the Lakes. Burial followed at Grand Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Leland E. Masters

Services were held Tuesday for Leland E. Masters, 6551 Maple Drive, Clarkston, who died Saturday following a short illness. He was 74.

Mr. Masters was a member of the Clarkston First Methodist Church and a retired printer from the Pontiac Press. He was also a World War I veteran and a member of the Campbell-Richmond Post of the American Legion.

He is survived by his wife, Eva; three sons—Lee, of Flint, Lewis of Jackson, and Richard of St. Charles, Ill.; a daughter, Mrs. Richard C. Johnson, of Clarkston; 17 grandchildren; and a brother.

The funeral was conducted by the Rev. Frank A. Cozadd at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home. Burial followed at Lakeview Cemetery.

Burton W. Roessler

Burton W. Roessler, 7054 Hatchery Road, Waterford, died Friday following a short illness. He was 74.

He was a retired foreman at Pontiac Motors and a veteran of World War I. He is survived by one relative, Mrs. Edwin F. Osterberg.

Services were held Monday at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home with the Rev. F.J. Delaney officiating. Interment followed at the Lakeview Cemetery.

Cecelia A. Rogers

Mrs. Cecelia A. Rogers, 6585 Almond Lane, died suddenly at St. Joseph Hospital September 2. She was 64. She was born in Penfield, Pennsylvania to Mr. and Mrs. John Martin. She was a member of St. Michael's Catholic Church, Pontiac.

Mrs. Rogers is survived by a son, Jack Amy, of Pontiac; a daughter, Mrs. Robert Price, of Clarkston; three grandchildren; and three brothers.

A Rosary was said Wednesday evening at Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home and the funeral was held Thursday at St. Michael's Church. Burial followed at the Mt. Hope Cemetery.

PTA meets next week

Thursday evening September 19 at 7:30 marks the start of the PTA meetings at Clarkston Elementary School. Parents may sign their PTA membership cards at this time.

Mr. Richard Anderson, the new president, will have charge of the meeting. First on the agenda will be an introduction of teachers.

The speaker of the evening will be Mr. F.R. Wollaeger who is Program Director of Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic. A psychologist, Mr. Wollaeger has been in child guidance work for 20 years. He attended Dartmouth College as well as Michigan State College where he received his Master's degree. Mr. Wollaeger will speak on the emotional problems of normal children. All parents are urged to attend.

Following the meeting, a coffee hour will be held to give the parents an opportunity to meet the teachers and officers. Alex Valentine, social chairman, will be in charge.

Questions and answers on Youth Assistance Committee

Stories of delinquency, rebellion and drop-outs fill the pages of news media. And yet for the past half dozen years, a group of local citizens has been writing its own silent story on the future of young people in Clarkston.

For those who are interested in the youth of today, and may want to aid them in preparing for tomorrow, a few questions and answers have been provided here on the group that formed back in the early sixties:

1. What is the group called? Its official name is the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee.

2. Who sponsors this organization?

It was called into being at the request of the Village of Clarkston, the Board of Independence Township, the Clarkston School Board, and operates under the guidance of the Oakland County Juvenile Court. It is directly affiliated with the Oakland County Protective Service Association, the first such program of its kind in the country.

3. What are the purposes of the group? The main goal of CAYAC is to create a healthy climate for our young people to mature in, and thus prevent delinquent behavior. But the specific goals are as follows: a) to develop methods of preventing school neglect; b) to serve the youth of our community; c) to assist individual children and families through the services of a professional caseworker; d) to cooperate with all existing community agencies and groups, and to coordinate their efforts;

4. How does the organization finance its efforts? The group is a non-profit organization which depends on voluntary gifts for its support. Other committees have been granted stipends from the Office of Economic Opportunity and the United Fund. It is hoped that the projects planned in the coming years may draw on these kinds of sources for additional income.

5. Is the organization aligned with a particular social bloc of influence? Like the county staff and judiciary, it is non-political and non-partisan in make-up. Its only bias is a moral commitment to the welfare of area youth.

6. How is the group organized? Like most democratic forms of organization, CAYAC has a chairman, a vice-chairman, a secretary and a treasurer. They are, respectively, the Rev. Arlon Stubbe, Mrs. James Freitag, Mrs. William Smith, and Mrs. Elmo Huntwork.

7. Who is eligible to become a member, and what kinds of responsibilities does membership entail? The membership roll is open to all interested persons who reside within the boundaries of the Clarkston School District. There are no dues or expenses. Each member is expected to serve actively on at least one committee, and to attend all monthly meetings, unless excused.

8. When are General Citizen Committee meetings held? The group meets on the fourth Monday of each month, at 7:30 p.m. in the Township Hall. Special meetings or changes in the schedule are announced, and members are notified of each meeting date in advance. Standing committees, of which there are fourteen, meet as needed and report back to the general committee.

9. Does the group meet year around? No. Meetings are held from September through May, and a closing business-fellowship session is scheduled during June.

10. When is the first meeting for this fall set? The CAYAC Citizen's committee will meet first on Monday, September 23, at 7:30 p.m. The group will review past programs and engage in discussion of all pressing areas of need in the community, in order to decide on priorities for the 1968-69 year.

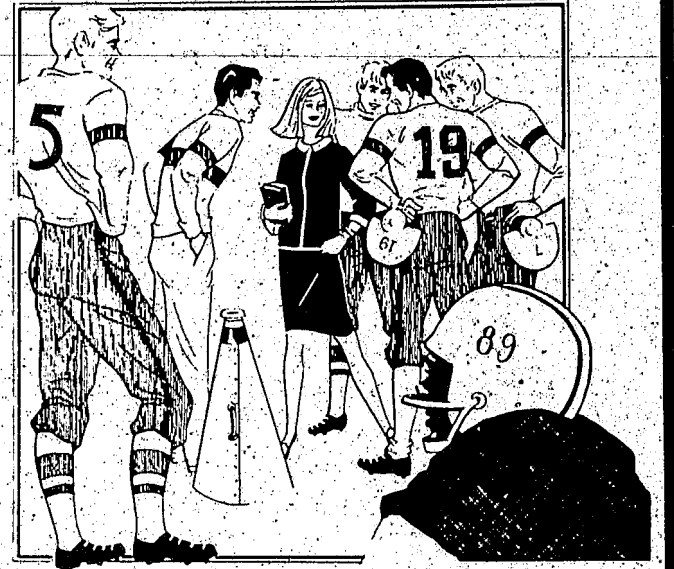

Every person from the area is welcome to attend, both adults and teen-aged youth. More information on this initial meeting will be published the week before the 23rd.

Families in the Clarkston area will be asked about immunizations against smallpox, polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, measles and mumps by Census Bureau interviewers next week, Director Robert A. Yerkey of the Bureau's Regional Office in Detroit announced.

The interviewers will inquire about immunization of adults against smallpox and polio and the immunization of children against all these diseases. This is an annual survey sponsored by the U.S. Public Health Service, he added.

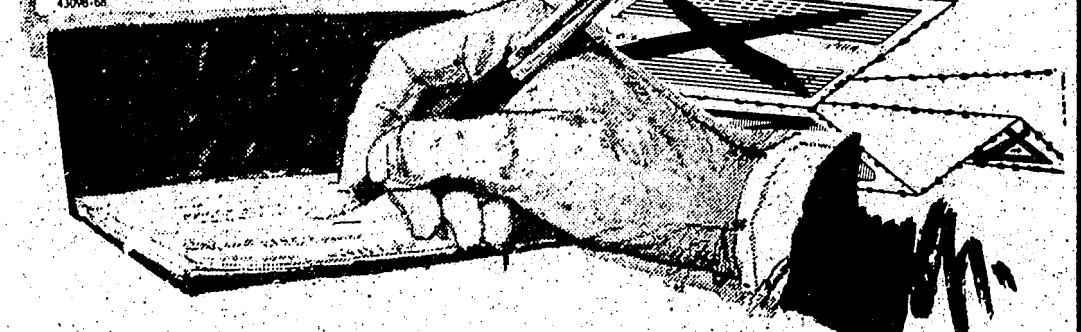

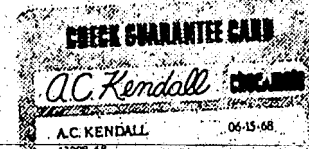

from Keith Hallman

At night, pedestrians and bicyclists should definitely wear white or light-colored clothing which can be seen by an approaching motorist. You can see his headlights, but the driver often cannot see you in time to avoid a collision. Light colored trousers or skirts are especially important for night pedestrians as headlights are aimed rather low.

What to wear on an autumn trip

Herb Beck, veteran travel editor and writer, makes this interesting comment:

"Dress comfortably and travel light, but don't forget that autumn weather can change on short notice. And don't forget to take along an extra pair of well broken-in shoes. Be sure to wear your seat belts at all times in the car.

As for your car, before starting out, see that your tires have plenty of good wear left, and the same goes for your brakes.

Among the most important items of wear are the windshield wipers. No matter whether the wiper mechanism still works like a metronome, if the blades streak you can't trust them. Have them refilled or replaced.

Don't wear signs or doodads or swinging knickknacks in the windows of your car. Keep your visibility as clear as the clear blue sky.

Take along a raincoat or a top coat that you can wear when needed away from home.

CHS kicks off grid season Friday

By Mike Mason

Well, it's been about a month now since the three high school football teams conditioning and pre-season workouts began. With the help of good coaching staffs, top-notch players, and the aid of a whole-hearted turnout of loyal fans, this season is destined for many a victory.

The Wolves Varsity football team will be pitted against Oxford here Friday night. Last year the Wolves met success in playing with Oxford, defeating them, 19-0.

As many of you may recall, last years Wolves defensive lineup managed to hold back yardage gainers with ease, allowing only 21 points to their opposition for their first four games of the '67-'68 season. The end of the '67 football season found Coach Ralph Kenyon with a record of 18-23-1.

Last year's team had many prospects, but the '68 season may bring out many more. After the '67 season CHS lost many fine athletes, but this year brings up new returning lettermen and new, changing abilities.

Filling some of the positions will be Bob Pallidino quarterbacking the team while Steve Warmen will be backing Bob up. Tightening up the line will be Bill Wertman and Bill Anderson, just to name a few returning lettermen.

All in all, the coaching staff, the players, and their followers know and are confident that those mighty, mighty Wolves will do it again.

CROSS COUNTRY GAINS GROUND

Mr. Dennis Horrigan's varsity and junior varsity cross country teams have been warming up their limber legs this past week for their first contest with Lake Orion today.

Cross Country, which is an individual sport, is one of the most grueling sports ever since it has been entered as an extra-curricular activity.

This season tends to run into some cold weather during the latter part of the season, so runners tend to stiffen up. Let's show our cross-countrymen spirit and support by attending as many meets as possible.

DO THE BENGALS OWN THE PENNANT?

Well, twenty games to apparent victory, do you think the Tigers will bring home the American League pennant and possibly the World Series?

There are two sides to this question. As of right now the Bengals are eight games in first. As long as things are happening the way they are now they should be in good shape.

If all runs according to plans Denny McLain should win his thirtieth game by Saturday.

Let's hope the Tigers bring one of those flags home this year.

3 Clarkston girls add to Albion class

Three Clarkston girls are among the more than 600 freshmen expected at Albion College when classes begin September 20.

They are: Nikki Kratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kratt of 6169 Lakeview, Cheryl B. Mansfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Mansfield of 6593 Orion, and Karen S. Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Norman of 6247 Snowapple.

Albion, a private, coeducational, liberal arts school related with the Methodist Church since 1835, says that more than 80 percent of the incoming students are from the top quarter of their high school classes.

Jaycees will go to state tourney

Sound defense and timely hitting were the key factors in the Clarkston area Jaycees winning their first District #18 softball tournament. Chapters from all of Northern Oakland County participated in this tourney.

Clarkston was forced to win 4 games to pick up the championship. Dick "Denny McLain" Sokol was the winning pitcher in all 4 tilts.

In their first game Clarkston defeated Auburn Heights 5-0. A shutout isn't uncommon in fast pitch softball but it is a rare feat in slow pitch.

The next two games were battling average batters for the local Jaycees. They drubbed Holly 26-7 and the following night they beat Waterford 20-6.

In the championship game Clarkston ran into their old Jaycee sports nemesis, Ortonville. Trailing 1-0 going into the bottom of the 7th the local squad rose to the occasion with key hits by Roger Olney, Bob Smith, and Jerry Powell to pull out a tight 2-1 victory.

This weekend the Jaycees travel to Battle Creek to compete in the State Jaycee Softball Tourney. There are approximately 84 teams entered in this two day tournament.

Chartered

Clarkston High School now has a charter in the National Music Honor Society. The announcement came this week from Modern Music Masters, which is the National Music Honor Society.

The local chapter, 1069, is under the sponsorship of Joseph Washburn, instrumental music director at the high school.

This national society provides a means for appropriately recognizing, on a national level, the efforts and achievements of those students who are giving unselfishly of their musical talents for their fellow man.

Margaret Bullard-Richard

Studebaker wed August 30

Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church was the scene of a wedding that united Margaret Bullard and Richard Studebaker August 30.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bullard, 6388 Snowapple Drive and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Studebaker, 3 North Holcomb.

The Rev. Father Kaiser officiated at the 6 p.m. wedding.

For her wedding the new Mrs. Studebaker chose a gown of organza and lace and she carried white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Serving as maid of honor was the bride's sister, Nancy Bullard. Other attendants were Kathy Bushman, of Lake Orion, Betty Eaglen, Clarkston, and Barbara Kowalski, of Detroit. All their gowns were of crepe with brocade top and empire with brocade bodice and empire waist. The four colors were maize, green, pink and aqua.

Serving as best man was Martin Bushman and ushers were Jim Badyna, Jon Studebaker and Bill Bullard. Altar boy duties were performed by Danny Bullard and John Chad.

Following their reception for 250 at the Oakland County Sportsmens Club the couple left for a northern Michigan honeymoon.

Both the bride and groom are 1967 graduates of Clarkston High School. She is employed at Waterland Office Machine as a secretary and he is a millwright at Pontiac Motors.

WSSCS will be held in the church September 18.

Mr. and Mrs. George Granger of Woodlane Drive returned Monday from Houghton, where they attended the graduation of their son, William H. Granger, from Michigan Technological University. William received a B.S. degree in business accounting.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Notch were calling in this vicinity last Friday.

Call chorale auditions

The Jackson Chrale will audition for new singers on Sept. 16 and Sept. 23. Auditions will be held in the vocal music room at Pontiac Northern High School, 1051 Arlene St. beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Beginning its third season under the direction of Gilbert Jackson, of the music faculty at Pontiac Central High School, the chorale is composed of people from all around this area including Pontiac, Rochester, Waterford, Clarkston, and Bloomfield Hills. Also, represented are Detroit and Flint.

In the past the chorale has performed J.S. Bach's "Magnificat" and Gabriel Faure's "Requiem" as well as several shorter works. The purpose of the chorale is not only performance, but to afford the members the study of good vocal music literature.

People who are past high school age may audition on either one of the above dates.

Additional information may be obtained by calling 335-9507 or 651-9297.

Flower show

Entries for the third annual Mall Flower Show, October 14-19, are currently being taken by Mrs. George Tozer and 17 consultants. This six-day spectacular will be held in the Pontiac Mall shopping center, Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake Roads. Women of 19 branches of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association are presenting this show, the Mall is awarding them $1,500 to benefit the Drayton Plains Nature Center.

Two classes will be open to the public this year. One is a Halloween arrangement using fresh, dried and/or treated materials. Any non-member of W.N.F. & G. desiring to enter one or both classes should write for details to Mrs. Joseph Carpenter, 157 Fernbarry Drive, Pontiac.

PHYLLIS—The theme of the Labor Day parade was Television Fanfare and the Clarkston Area Womens Club featured commercials. However, leading their entries was Phyllis Diller on one end of the banner.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

Monday—Hot dog in buttered bun, buttered corn, spiced apple sauce, peanut butter cookie and milk.

Tuesday—Potato salad, cold cuts, tomato wedge, green beans, sweet roll and butter, milk.

Wednesday—Chili & crackers, cabbage salad, French bread & butter, fruit cobbler and milk.

Thursday—Meat loaf & tomato sauce, mashed potatoes, tossed salad, bread & butter, chocolate cake & milk.

Friday—Tuna macaroni salad, peas, homemade rolls & butter, fruit cup, orange juice and milk.

Club rummage sale

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club has scheduled its annual rummage sale for Friday and Saturday, September 20 and 21 at the Community Center, 90 North Main Street.

The proceeds from this project maintain scholarships for local college students. Those now holding the scholarships are Carolyn Master, of Bridge Lake Road, and Karen Johnson, of Flemings Lake Road. They are a senior and junior respectively at Oakland University.

Those wishing to donate rummage should call Mrs. Frank Lambert, 625-3001, or Mrs. Milton Cooney, 625-4681.

Friday's hours will be 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. and those for Saturday will be 9 a.m. to noon.

Annual tea

Clarkston Woman's Club will hold its annual membership tea at 8 p.m. Tuesday, September 17. The tea will be at the home of Mrs. William Debninak, 6601 Amy Drive. Any women in the Clarkston area interested in community service is invited to attend. For further information call Mrs. Clifford Moore, 625-2003.

MAKE YOUR OWN GOOD LUCK WORK FOR YOU

It's easy to win!
PRIZES!

Choose your own set of Key Numbers

It's easy to enter!

RULES FOR PLAYING "KEY-NO"

- The newspaper will publish each week TWENTY DIFFERENT numbers from the total of eighty numbers on the playing form. If a number is published that you have marked on your form that number constitutes ONE Key-No. Each additional number so published and marked on your playing form is an additional Key-No. The total number of Key-Nos. you have in any one game, determines your lucky chance to win.
- EVERY PARTICIPATING FIRM WILL POST A COMPLETELY SEPARATE SET OF KEY NUMBERS EVERY WEEK. NO TWO FIRMS WILL HAVE THE SAME SET OF NUMBERS. EACH IS A SEPARATE GAME AND CONSTITUTES A NEW AND ADDITIONAL LUCKY CHANCE TO WIN. VISIT AS MANY FIRMS AS YOU WISH. CHECK YOUR NUMBERS WITH THEIRS. THE MORE PARTICIPATING FIRMS YOU VISIT THE MORE LUCKY CHANCES YOU HAVE. AWARDS FOR EACH GAME WILL BE PUBLISHED IN THE NEWSPAPER.

INSTRUCTIONS — How To Set Up Your Playing Form

- Choose any ten different numbers on playing form. It makes no difference which ten numbers you choose.
- Plainly mark the ten numbers you have chosen making sure that only those ten numbers are marked, and there can be no question as to adjacent numbers. You may use ink, crayon, or pencil, and either check the number or blot it out as you desire.
- Your playing form is now completely filled in and your numbers are probably entirely different from that of anyone else, however, it makes no difference in your chances of winning as anyone can win.
- FILL IN THE DUPLICATE with exactly the same numbers you have on your playing form. Send duplicate with your name and address to your sponsoring local newspaper. The newspaper must have your duplicate in its files by noon Monday of the week before the series which you plan to play the game is published.
- Keep the same playing form throughout the entire number of weeks that this promotion runs in your community, as sponsored by your participating local newspaper. More than one entry per person will disqualify any potential winner.
- Use the same number arrangement whenever you play Key-No. Do not make out a new form each week. Mount your form on a card if you like, and carry it with you on trips to town.
- Remember... you do not play on a blank form. EVERY form should have ten numbers marked plainly and your duplicate of these numbers on file at the newspaper BEFORE you can win on Key-No.
- Read our instructions carefully. No corrections can be made on your duplicate after it has been sent in.
- Every adult member of the family living within the trading area can fill in a duplicate and send to the newspaper. But be sure to put his or her name on the form you KEEP AT HOME, so that you'll know which card belongs to whom. See your local participating newspaper for more complete details and awards involved in each game. The local newspaper and C. R. Holmberg & Assoc. of Denver, Colorado are the final judges on all matters pertaining to this promotion.

Fate of centennial house unknown

By Joe Backus

A 125-year-old mansion, with an interesting history, on Dixie Highway north of Clarkston was bought recently by Robert J. Rothermel and his wife Wanda.

The estate was owned originally by John McDonald, who obtained the land from the federal government in 1833. Ten years later, the 80 acre parcel of land was sold for $4.16 for the payment of delinquent taxes. The purchaser was David Austin Wright.

Wright then built the house which still stands today. He spared no expense in its construction. The lumber was flawless and came from the adjoining forest. For many years it was the showplace of the community.

The house was built on a hill overlooking what was then the Saginaw Turnpike and had been an Indian trail before that.

Wright became a prominent member of the community and founded a post office in the community, giving it his middle name, Austin.

The community of Austin grew until it became a busy town with several stores and blacksmith shops and many houses. It was also an overnight stop for stage coaches.

Meanwhile, Wright became involved in local, county and state politics. He was postmaster of the Austin post office for 25 years. He also served in both branches of the state legislature, introducing bills which were passed into laws that are still in effect. Wright died in 1877.

Following his death ownership of the house passed through the hands of several families. In 1941 the house was bought by Howard Loomis, who began to restore it to its original state. He bought some of the furniture and other furnishings of the mid-nineteenth century, including an old melodian. He preserved the main part of the house just as it had been when Wright had lived in it.

Earlier this year the estate was purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Rothermel. Rothermel is parts an services manager at Marine and Industrial Products Operation of Chrysler Corporation, and also the owner of Lakeshore Apartments on Dixie Highway.

Rothermel says he would like to develop the land commercially. He would like to have a shopping center built on the land to make shopping easier for the residents in the area. He says that people would come from Clarkston, Holly and Grand Blanc if there were a commercial center in the area.

"It would be a good idea to build a development in the colonial architecture of the period of the house," he said.

Rothermel moved to the Clarkston area eight years ago from Dearborn Heights.

He said he didn't know what he was going to do with the old house. "I would like to find someone who would retain and restore the house and make some use of it," he said. "It would make a real attraction in the area if it were filled with antiques of the period."

"But if no one can be found to do this, it will have to be taken down," he said.

CLEM CLEVELAND

Larry has a big mouth. Now, before you start running around pointing your fingers at all the Larrys you know; this Larry that I'm writing about is a pseudonym for a young man that I met the other day.

This Larry is a jerk. That's what everyone says. He yells something like, "Hey man, get the story the way it is." His long floppy tresses dangle around his shoulders and ringlets of fur cover his face. His eyes were hidden somewhere behind two circles of pitch black glasses.

For Larry, he doesn't mind being hooted at, called names or laying around just looking lazy all the time. For him, he says that he has this "Thing". He doesn't like "to conform, man." He said, "I don't dig you fat cats. You're losing touch."

So, you and I, we turn our backs to Larry. Think what we want about him and none of what we think is good. For us, Larry is a symbol of the most loathsome of all human kind. Take his glasses away, shave his face and trim his hair... he no longer is repulsive.

Try to explain to some young man who just arrived in this country that Larry has a right to a freedom, to speak what he wants, write what he wants and to peacefully demonstrate in any manner he chooses so long as he does so within the limitations of the first amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

The young foreigner told me, "If we tried to do something like that in my country, you'd probably get killed or at least thrown in jail."

I agreed with him. "In this country, too. There are those around who use a gun to silence the speech makers, the writers and demonstrators," I said. It wasn't until I picked up this week's issue of a national magazine that I became aware that Larry's right, his freedom, was in jeopardy. This is

"If It Fitz . . ."

Will there be any more questions?

The last 2 weeks I've made notes on my shirttail of the questions most often asked me. It is now time to change the shirt but first, folks, here's the tale off the tail:

Q - Would you rather write funny columns or serious columns?

A - I'd rather not write any at all. This usually surprises people. They think writing is fun, or compulsive, or ego-fattening, or something. They think I'd do it even if I weren't getting paid, just for the pleasure of seeing my words in print. That's ridiculous. I had 3 other jobs before turning to journalism. I failed on factory assembly lines because I couldn't work as fast as the other fellows. I flopped as a substitute mailman because I couldn't walk as slow as the regulars. I was fired from a brewery for gaining too much weight on the job. That left writing and here I am, writing for bread and no other reason. As for serious or funny columns, I don't write either kind. I just have serious or funny readers. Right now, are you smiling or aren't you? See?

Q - Do you think the Tigers will win the pennant?

A - They'd better. I have been an aching, rooting, bleeding Tiger fan since I can remember. I inherited the disease from my father who was that marvelous voice in the crowd that the robber-umpire always heard. But the important thing is not that the Tigers win the pennant for us old crocks. They'd better do it for the young people.

Fans over 40 can remember, dimly, the glory days of 1934, 1935, 1940 and 1945. For the past 23 years we have been faithful enough, or dumb enough, to keep hoping the tiger might turn vicious again. We've put up with a lot of pussycats and, if Detroit purrs in second this September, we oldsters are stupid enough to come back for more next year. But most of the nation is under 25 years old, and this includes Michigan. These youngsters don't know what a baseball champ is. If the Tigers turn the trick this month, they'll wrap up a huge new crop of fans for the years to come.

But if the Tigers blow it, after having a 9-game lead, oh woe is them. The only crowd in Tiger Stadium next year will be on Senior Citizens Day. And most of them will be booing.

Q - You talk very seriously about the Tigers. Don't you know baseball is just a little boys' game sometimes played by grown men in knickers? There is war and poverty and disease in this world. Don't you feel silly rooting for a baseball team?

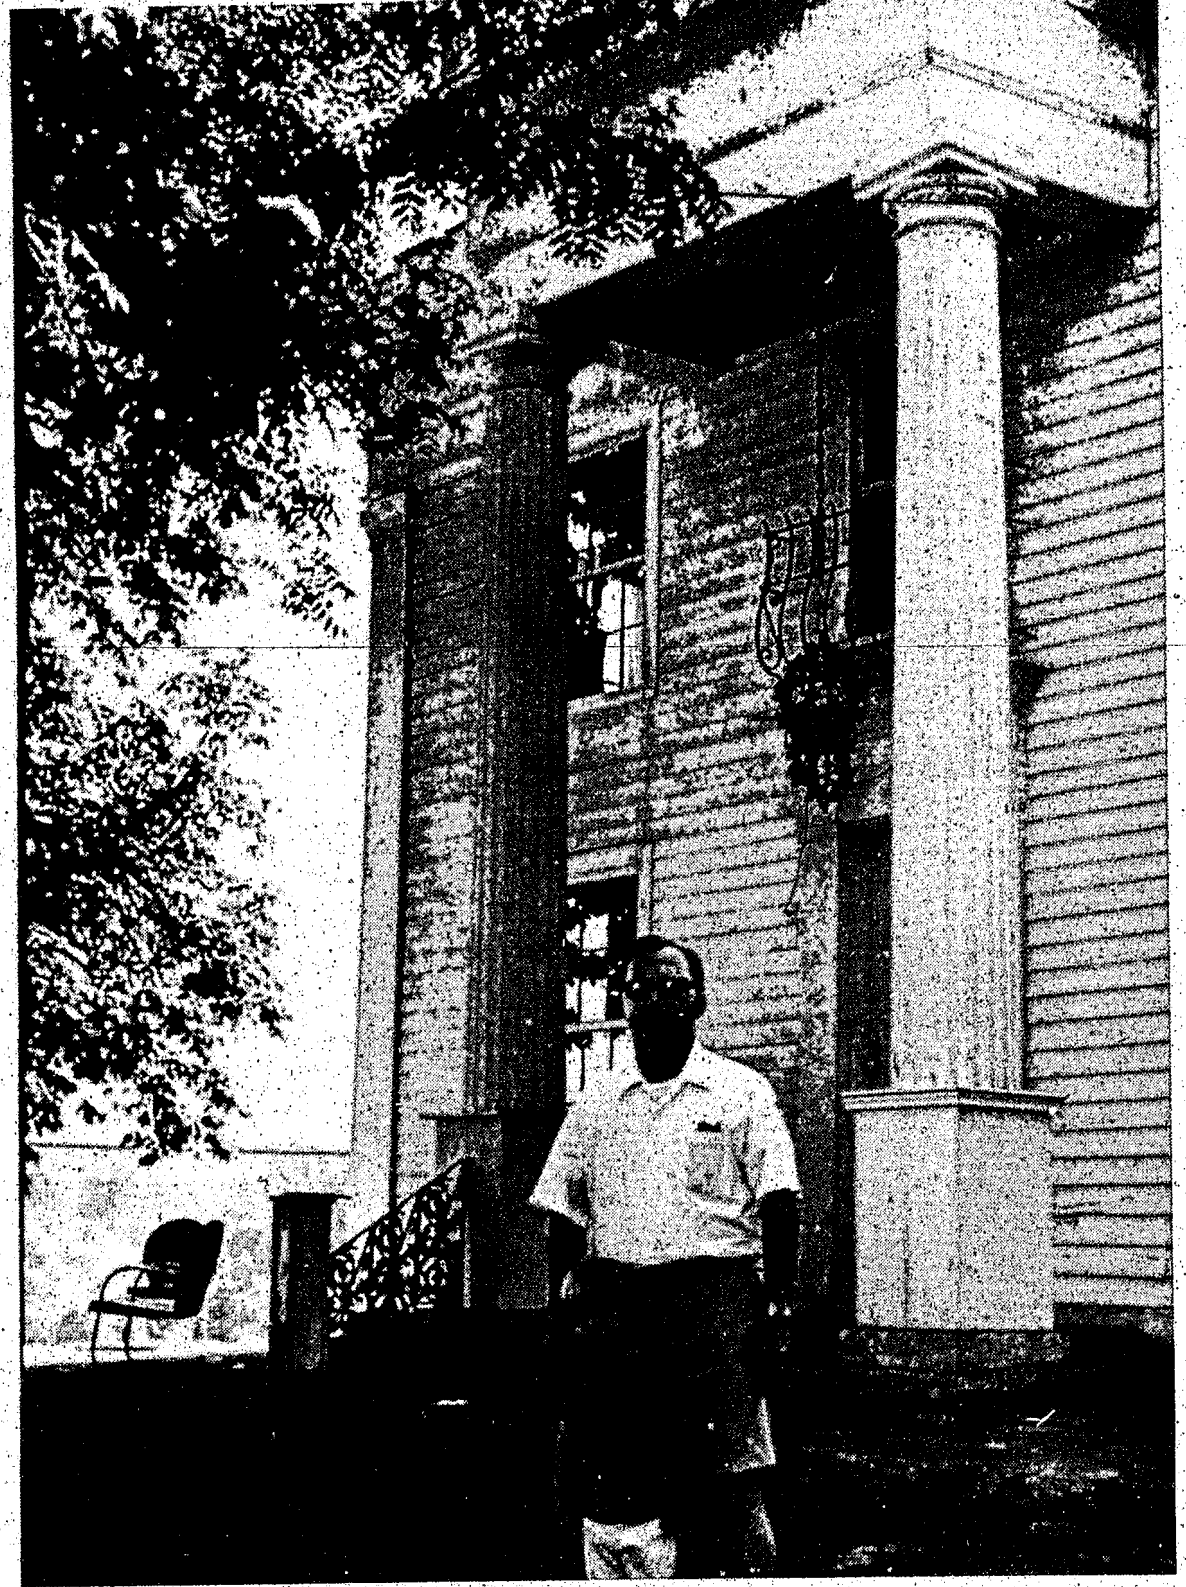

A - Shut up.

Q - Was that your wife I saw you with last night?

A - Yes and no. It was Pat but it was not her wig. She traded wigs for awhile with a kooky friend. The borrowed wig is streaked gray and the bangs were trimmed with a jackknife. Pat thinks it is cute. If this is not sufficient proof she has flipped, now hear this: Again this summer she is growing huge watermelons in a pea-sized garden behind our home. The vines and melons cover the sidewalk and porch. Last week the meter reader got lost in the jungle and I had to send a white hunter in to guide him out. If you think I'm kidding, come take a look. Watch out for Pygmies with blowguns.

Q - Does your wife ever get angry at you for some of the things you write about her?

A - Yes.

Robert Rothermel and his daughter, Janet, stand in front of his newly-acquired mansion. It is one of the few remnants of the 19th century way of life. It still has the old cistern built in its foundation for trapping and storing rain water for future use.

serious. Whether we like it or not, Larry represents an expression of total freedom granted to all of us.

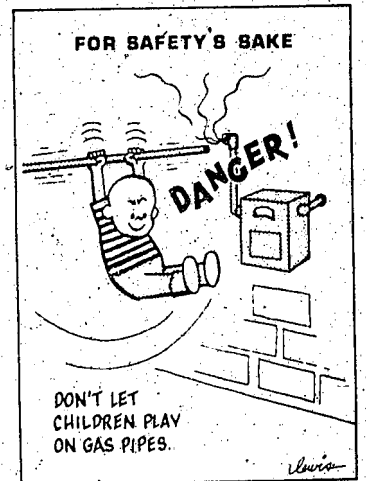

Maybe it has been happening long before Chicago. I just never realized it. Seasoned combat photographers like David Duncan made the scene. Being shot at, beaten and called names isn't anything new to the journalistic profession.

Usually, you have to ask yourself why someone wants to silence the news media. The Chicago cops had a hayday spraying Mace, clubbing and beating up on news photographers. Like the mob of demonstrators, newsmen get their story as they always have, by being on the scene and being with the people. The politicians in Chicago, making the big scene, held a firm hand on any of the Larrys who tried to interfere with the pat hand being dealt in the smoke filled rooms.

It is hard to explain to my young foreign friend just where the line is drawn between full military control and when the politicians are still controlling the military.

When he looked at the Democratic Convention in Chicago, he said, "I remember a time the rulers of my country used the army to keep them in power and silence the people," or something.

Pre-induction physical a degrading experience

by Joe Backus

It was the kind of morning when you hate to get up and would rather stay in bed because you know, even though it is still dark, that it isn't going to be a very pleasant day.

But I had received my orders, and I had to get up any way.

It had been raining most of the night, but the rain had stopped, when nine bleary-eyed youths, all in their early 20's, assembled at Michigan Local Draft Board number 46 for their pre-induction physical examinations at 6:30 that morning.

At first, a few of the young men appeared singly from somewhere in the otherwise deserted town and gathered in front of the draft board. For they had their orders, too. The rest of us mumbled agreement when someone said that it was a hell of a time to get up.

But no one knew what to do next, because the door into the draft board was locked and there was no one to meet us. All we knew was that we were to be taken to Detroit for our physicals.

Then a chartered bus drove around the corner and stopped at the curb next to us. This was followed presently by the executive secretary of the local board.

We followed her into the draft board, where she called off the names of who should have been there. Twelve names were on the list, but one had enlisted in the Navy, one had driven himself to Detroit, and one just didn't show up.

The executive secretary made a few perfunctory pleasantries, but the sound of the bus outside droned on as only busses can. It was as though it was waiting impersonally to take us away, knowing all the time that it was inevitable. A grim, quiet air of apprehension hung over the room.

After waiting for the last member of the group who didn't show up, we all filed out again.

The damp air felt as though it should be cold, but wasn't quite. It wasn't the crisp, cool air of early fall, nor the gently warming air of late summer, but something indefinable between the two. It was after a night of rain, and it seemed as though the rain should begin again.

Once on the bus, we began driving through the gathering gray which hinted that daylight may eventually come. All that was visible was the dark gray of the land forms and the not-quite-so-dark gray of everything else.

An occasional pair of dull yellow headlights would appear in the distance and go past us. Then it would be gray again.

It all seemed the same, but it was changing. The gray kept becoming slowly lighter. Then it began raining again, and we drove on through the rain.

In two hours we arrived at the examination center, a large, red brick institutional building of the depression era. An Army private again called out our names with an auctioneer's voice, and handed out a variety of forms to be filled out.

We were then herded into a room to take a written mental test of 50 minutes duration.

At the end of the test, a young doctor entered the room and impatiently told us how to fill out the medical forms and informed us that there were 13 medical stations which we had to pass through for the physical. He gave the impression that it was a kind of an obstacle course.

We were then instructed to go to station 1, where we stripped down to under shorts and shoes. Then we began the interminable wait in line for the second station, chest X-rays. The long hallway which held the even longer line was filled with the pervasive odor of perspiring bodies — one's own and several hundred others.

After the X-rays we proceeded through stations checking blood pressure, pulse, height, weight and urine. Outside this last station was a sign in large green letters saying, "If you feel faint, please sit down." It seemed somehow significant of something, although I'm not sure what.

This was followed by two eye examining stations, a room where we stripped completely down and went through a series of rather obscene motions, and another room for lung, heart and ear tests. By this time it no longer seemed like an obstacle course, but more like an assembly line where health is doled out in wholesale lots.

Finally we were given a hearing test and told to go get dressed again. I was among the many who were glad to be done with the thoroughly degrading and dehumanizing experience.

But the experience didn't end there. We were then given our first introduction to the notorious Army cooking. With overcooked mashed potatoes and under-cooked chicken, it lived up to its reputation.

One last station to pass through before checking out was under a sign reading "Moral waivers." It struck me as being somewhat ironic. I couldn't help feeling that all pretense of morality had already been waived in that place.

I began wondering if my income taxes were going to support a worthy institution. But as I awaited the bus which would bring me home, I reflected that it was kind of nice of Uncle Sam to take me to lunch.

Jaycees drive for members

The Clarkston area Jaycees are having a "Membership Night", Wednesday, September 18, 8:00 P.M. at the Independence Township Hall on Main Street in Clarkston.

All young men ages 21 to 35 are invited to attend and bring their wives for a short get acquainted evening to explain the Jaycee role in the community.

Over 250 invitations have been sent out in the community. The names were taken from the voter registration rolls in the township.

The Clarkston area Jaycees, which is composed of 67 young men from all walks of life, will be happy to meet with other young men and women their age to discuss community problems.

For further information on this membership night contact either Don Hamaker, 625-4041 or Jerry Powell, 625-2329.

Gardening Tips

September is one of the best months to transplant balled and burlapped evergreen trees and shrubs. Rhododendrons are on this list, as are all needed evergreens such as spruce, juniper, and yews.

Lawn weed and insect control should be taken care of this month by spraying with 2, 4-D (sold under various trade names) for broad leaf weeds as plantain and dandelions. Dicamba will eliminate chickweed and clover. Remember that much care is needed when using weed killers because you can destroy the things that you want to keep.

Now is the time for planting peonies and iris. Also prune hedges for the last time this year—privet, hemlock, yew, or whatever kind you may have. Cosmetic pruning can be done for another few weeks but not serious reshaping. A last shearing now may save surgery next spring.

Clean house gutters now before the autumn leaves come down to make the job more difficult.

Clean up rose bushes now but do not feed any more this fall. Spray or dust for insects.

Fall is a most convenient time to start a compost pile because of the availability of organic materials resulting from garden clean-up. Almost any vegetable matter or plant material, including leaves, garden refuse, old sod, grass and hedge clippings, and kitchen waste are excellent for a compost pile.

You can speed up the action of decomposition by adding a commercial activator, humus, garden soil or manure. Lime is also helpful. It should also be kept moist and should have air holes. It will take from 6 to 12 months for complete deterioration into a rich humus.

Take orientation flights

Ten cadets from Clarkston Composite Squadron Civil Air Patrol took part in orientation flights at Pontiac Airport August 29.

Colonel Charles Klann, 6682 Pear St., Clarkston, Commander of Michigan Wing CAP, held a pre-flight briefing for the cadets and was the pilot of the Beechcraft 200 used for the flights.

The Phase II cadets of the unit are currently studying the CAP text "Airports, Airways and Electronics" and the half-hour orientation flights they received dealt mainly with familiarizing them with the pilot's use of radio navigational aids.

With the aircraft's radio receiving Pontiac Airport's VOR signal the cadets were shown how to find their position on the route of flight.

Cadets in Phase I who are studying "Introduction to Aerospace" were shown how the plane's controls affect flight and were briefed on radio procedures for take-off and landing. Colonel Klann also demonstrated to them the "weightlessness" that is experienced by astronauts.

PROCRASTINATORS' CLUB

Have you heard of the Procrastinators' Club? Its headquarters is in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Its slogan is "Anything worth doing is worth putting off."

Recently members of the Procrastinators' Club conducted a protest march in front of the Independence Hall in Philadelphia. They were protesting the War of 1812 because they had just gotten around to the conclusion that it was unnecessary.

Their president was elected in 1957. The reason why they do not have a new president is that they have not gotten around to having the 1958 election. (as given to reporters).

This is humorous! Yet, thousands who have never heard of the club, unofficially adhere to its creed. They never get around to doing the things they know should be done.

An unknown person wrote this poem:

He was going to be all that
Mortal should be—Tomorrow;
No one would be kinder nor Braver than he—Tomorrow!
A friend who was troubled
And weary he knew,
Who'd be glad of a lift

And who needed it, too.
On him he would call and see
What he could do—Tomorrow!

Each morning he stacked up
The letters he'd write—Tomorrow!
And thought of the folks he'd Fill with delight—Tomorrow!

It was too bad, indeed,
He was busy today,
And hadn't a minute to stop
On the way:
More time he'd have to give Others, he'd say—Tomorrow!

The greatest of workers this Man would have been—Tomorrow!
The world would have known him
Had he ever seen, tomorrow!

But the fact is he died and he Faded from view,
And all that he left here when Living was through
Was a mountain of things he Intended to do—Tomorrow!

Old new look at church

Fall is a return to the old, but it is also a time for new beginnings. At Calvary Lutheran Church this Sunday, the 'old' will take on a new look. September 15 is Rally Day, the special kick-off time for church school classes and Fall programs.

This year's Sunday Church School superintendent, Dale Millward, announces that a full staff of teachers will be ready to greet pupils this weekend. Those adults helping include: Mrs. Charles Leake, Miss Maud Elliott, Mrs. Jack Kratt, Mrs. Fred Luth, Mrs. Edwin Waterbury, Mrs. Richard Butler, Mrs. John Greer, Mrs. Charles Schlutow, Mrs. Leo Erickson, Mrs. Vernon Fulton, Mrs. Waino Lehto, Mr. Roger Olney, Mrs. Richard Blasey, Howard Whaley and Donald Milner.

Substitute teachers include Mrs. Herbert Harthun, Mrs. Bernard Toutant, Mrs. Howard Helm, Mrs. Joseph Miller, Mrs. Dale Millward, Miss Yvonne Millward and Pastor and Mrs. Arlon Stubbe.

Classes for the 3, 4, and 5 year olds will be conducted from 11:00 to 12:00 each Sunday. And classes for Grades 1-9 will be held from 9:30 to 10:30 each week.

The sessions are open to all interested young people from Calvary, and those from un-churched families in the community. Call 625-1769 or 625-3163 for further information.

Building permits

The Independence Township Building Department issued 58 building permits during August for a total value of $746,900.

The permit distribution is as follows: 20 new homes with a value of $408,600; 17 remodeling and additions with a value of $35,650; 5 garages with a value of $7,350; 5 storage areas with a value of $6,050; 4 swimming pools with a value of $17,250; 2 residences moved with a value of $16,000.

Permits were also issued for one gas station, one bus garage, one repair garage, one demolition and one void for a total value of $256,000.

Hearings on bus laws

A special State House of Representatives committee will hold a public hearing on school bus laws at the Oakland County Courthouse in Pontiac later this month, Representative Clifford H. Smart (R.-Walled Lake) said Tuesday.

Smart, a member of the committee and chairman of House Education Committee, said the open hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. September 26.

"Many of our present laws dealing with school busses are outdated," Smart said. Patchwork attempts to modernize them have been made in the past, but have not proven completely effective. We need a total overhaul of the school bus statutes to meet modern education needs."
