Killed in Vietnam

Pfc. David F. Head was laid to rest Tuesday at Lakeview Cemetery... a casualty of the war in Vietnam.

Pfc. Head served in the army as a medic. He was killed just 37 days after arriving in Vietnam. He would have been 21 years old next November 18.

A graduate of Clarkston High School, class of 1966, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Head, 5050 Edgar Rd., Clarkston. Pfc. Head attended Pontiac Northern High School prior to 1965 when his family moved here.

He received his basic training at Ft. Knox and medical training at Ft. Sam Houston. He arrived in Vietnam December 16, 1968 in Co. A 1/35 infantry and was stationed near Ankhe, South Vietnam. Circumstances of Pfc. Head's death are not known at this time, however, he was reported missing on January 22, 1969 and his death was confirmed February 9, 1969.

Surviving besides his parents are two sisters, Mrs. Linda Dean of Pontiac and Tamara Head, at home; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Williams, Auburn Heights and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Head, Springfield, Tenn., and his great-grandmother, Mrs. Pearl Smith, Sullivan, Indiana.

The military funeral arrangements were made by Coats Funeral Home and memorial services were at Andersonville Community Church.

projects and surveys is implement.

He says, "They can come up with the dandiest study, the most penetrating survey you could ever hope to see, but somewhere, usually in the last paragraph, is the comment that 'implementing this play will take a great deal of ingenuity,' or words to that effect.

"What they mean is it's a great idea, if somebody can make it work. What they mean by implement is to put the ideas into action and what they don't say is that it's easier said than done."

If we took all the money wasted on studies that are never implemented and poured it into ghetto areas, the 12th precinct in Detroit would look like Grosse Pointe and Harlem would compare to Beverly Hills.

With my turn coming to get a program for Oxford Rotary I decided to force myself on them and tell 'em of this new-fangled typesetting equipment I got. It's wild. Magnetic tape, push button, dashboard assembly and the craziest font of type, or craziest form for a font of type you ever saw. Looks like a golf ball.

Anyway, in thinking what I might say I got to looking around the plant and realized there was only one press left I can run... an old hand-fed platen.

I don't even want to go near the magnetic tape-selectric composer system. The newspaper press is like so many rollers held together by a pretty frame and a couple of the job presses came from Germany and look like Greek.

I am back with both titles of editor and publisher of the Oxford Leader again. Clem is

Paul E. Rakow

Hire football coach

The Clarkston Wolves have a new head football coach. He is Paul E. Rakow.

A 3-member panel of high school administrators selected Rakow from numerous applicants. He was notified of their decision Wednesday, and accepted.

Rakow played tackle for Western Michigan University 3 years and has had an enviable coaching record since graduation in 1965. In his 2 years at Class C Bloomingdale, 1966-67, his team went undefeated the first year and lost only the 2 non-conference games the second year. He was named Area Coach of the Year by the Kalamazoo Gazette for his team's efforts in 1966 in the Al-Van League.

Prior to going to Class C Bloomingdale, and immediately after graduation from WMU, Rakow was head coach at Breckenridge. That first year his team had a 3-5-1 record.

From Bloomingdale, Rakow went to Benton Harbor High School as an assistant varsity coach. He said, "The reason for my coming to Benton Harbor was that I found that most people of the Class A head football positions were going to people who had some Class A experience."

He was right in the case of Clarkston, a Class A school.

Dr. Les Greene, superintendent of Clarkston school district, said several months ago they hoped to find a coach with Class A experience, who had become known for his ability, and who they were confident would be an outstanding football coach for Clarkston.

The 3 administrators voted by secret ballot, and Rakow was chosen. He succeeds Ralph Kenyon, who took on high school administrative duties following the last football season.

Rakow was born in Ionia and was graduated from Detroit Lutheran West in 1961. He entered Western Michigan that fall and worked his way into the starting lineup as a sophomore as a tackle. He played both offensively and defensively his junior and senior years and earned honors in the Mid-American league selections.

His senior year he was further honored as he was chosen as one of the 3 captains on the Bronco team. Rakow said, "I was also contacted by several professional teams my senior year. My decision at that time was to get started on my career of coaching."

Besides playing football at Western, Rakow also put the shot and threw the discus for 3 years on the track squad. In the spring of 1965 Rakow earned his bachelor of science degree in physical education with a minor in sociology. This spring he will have earned his Master's degree in physical education, also at WMU. This year he was also chosen to serve on the Rules Committee for the Michigan High School Athletic Association.

Mrs. Rakow, they were married in 1965, is a 1965 graduate of WMU, also, and has a teaching certificate. She expects to teach in Clarkston, probably in high school.

Plans accepted

Final drawings for the new Administration Building to be located on Clarkston-Orion road were presented to Clarkston Community School Board at their meeting on Feb. 10, by Architect Richard Prince of Kalamazoo. They were accepted.

Bids for construction will be taken in the high school library March 20 at 8 p.m.

The new school, at the corner of Maybee and Pine Knob roads, was officially named the Sashabaw Junior High School.

Recreation Center

razed by fire

The Independence Township Fire Department answered a call on February 14, at 11:12 a.m. When they reached the scene at Hillcrest and Center the old Recreation Hall at that location was well on its way to destruction.

The fire was extinguished with the help of the Waterford and Gingelville Fire Departments.

Independence was called again on February 17 to put out a grass fire at 6025 Clarkston-Orion Rd.

NEW WOLF MENTOR

3 accidents mar weekend

An accident occurred on Independence Township at 10:15 p.m. February 15. Donald Green, 21, of 2647 Mann Rd. stated that a car ahead of him signaled to go left but turned right instead.

In attempting to pass he was forced to put on his brakes suddenly. He slid in the gravel and hit a post.

Passengers, Sandy Yingling, 22, of 54 Sunnyside, Clarkston, and Lane Wilson, 21, of 2751 Mann Rd., were treated for injuries at Pontiac General Hospital.

On February 16 at 4:15 p.m.,

Norma Jean Ainsley, 33, of 2219 Hartford, Pontiac was driving on Sashabaw road, south of Waldon. She reported that Timothy Lovejoy, 6, of 6015 Waldon, Clarkston, rode his bicycle out from between parked cars. She was unable to avoid hitting him.

He was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Kirk Richardson, 16, 5720 White Lake Rd., Clarkston, told police that his brakes failed when he attempted to turn into the family driveway.

His brother, Craig, who was a passenger in the car was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

Jim's Jottings

Manistique Community Schools is asking people in an informal survey who they think make the decisions in Manistique. Specifically, they ask people to list Schoolcraft County's 10 most influential people.

I wonder who the people think the powers are here who make the action? If some unit of government hereabout wanted to know we'd run the survey.

Senator L. Harvey Lodge said, on the floor of the Senate yet, that the 20th of January, the inaugural day of the president, should not be a day for the privileged, but should be a joyous holiday for all the people of the nation.

I wasn't in this district when L. Harvey first ran for public office, but in the years I have heard from him I can't remember hearing his position on inauguration day before. Could it be that he was never in public office when a fellow Republican was sworn into the highest office in the land?

Dave Rood, co-editor of the Manistique Pioneer-Tribune, says one of the favorite words of those professionals who deal with studies and plans and

ALBERT DOMROESE

Clarkston Scouts get Eagle award

Albert Domroese, 13, and Michael Humphreys, 14, were presented the coveted Eagle Scout Award at a dinner on February 11 at the junior high school.

The awards were presented by Mr. Cal Meyers from District Headquarters and Mr. Albert Domroese, Scoutmaster.

Both boys are also members of the Order of the Arrow, a scouting leadership honorary society. They earned the Eagle Awards by completing requirements for 21 merit badges. A merit badge is presented for superior accomplishment in a specialized activity such as canoeing, reading, etc.

Albert is a student at Clarkston Junior High School. Michael is a freshman at Clarkston High School, where he is active in the freshman basketball team and varsity band.

Albert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Domroese, 6938 Snow Apple, and Michael is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Humphreys Jr., 6695 Laurelton. They are members of Boy Scout Troop 126, sponsored by the Clarkston Methodist Church.

seeking higher and more satisfying goals. Bear with me while I see how thin 220 pounds can be spread.

Firemen from the Independence Township Fire Department prevent the fire from spreading but are unable to save the old Recreation Building at Woodhull Lake.

obituaries

Raymond Aldrich

Raymond E. Aldrich, 4830 Harding, a resident of Independence Township for over 38 years, died on February 14 after a short illness. He was 73.

Mr. Aldrich was retired. He had been the District Manager for the John Hancock Life Insurance Company. He was a 32nd Degree Mason and Shriner. He is survived by one son, Charles E. of Waterford, five grandsons and two great-grandchildren.

Also surviving are two sisters. Dr. Paul S. Vanaman conducted services from the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home on February 15. Cremation was at White Chapel.

Bishop Emrich in Clarkston

The Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan and daily columnist for The Detroit News, will be at The Church of the Resurrection, 6490 Clarkston Rd., on Sunday, February 23, 1969 at 4:00 p.m. to confirm and receive this year's class of candidates from that church into communicant status in the Episcopal Church. He will also deliver the sermon.

Those to be confirmed or received are Gerald Adams, Brian Carlsen, Terrence Coulter, Michael and Patricia Crowley, Marvin Curtis, Carol Dervage, Sharon Beach, Christopher Kuehler, Charles Olson, David Partlo, Patrick Tilley and John and Nancy Tisch.

A reception for Bishop Emrich and the class will follow the service. Anyone interested in hearing Bishop Emrich is cordially invited to attend.

Neatly lined up on the blackboard of Mrs. Landon's first grade classroom at the Andersonville school, were a number of appropriately decorated white bags, all bearing the hearts and flowers theme of Valentines' Day. Leading the parade to the board were (from left to right), Candy Crisman, Michael Dell, Jill Blackett and Duane Miller.

Jaycee families winter picnic

Ice skating and snow-mobiling were the events of the day last Sunday at the Clarkston Jaycees family winter picnic at Little Walters Lake.

About 40 gathered around the big bonfire to enjoy the events of the day. Hot chocolate, coffee and doughnuts were served.

Each child received a gift.

Butters in training

Spenceley Butters is on a 3-week training program in Columbus, Ohio. As a representative for Nationwide Insurance companies, he, and 28 others, qualified for the session.

Butters lives at 6470 Waldon Rd., is a member of Clarkston Rotary and Clarkston United Methodist Church.

"Wranglers" rustle Spaghetti Dinner

The Clarkston Wranglers 4-H Club is serving a Spaghetti Dinner on February 21 from 5:00 to 9 p.m.

The proceeds will be used to buy new blankets and equipment.

The dinner will be held at the Clarkston Community Center.

Adults can eat all they want for $1.50 and kids under 12 can fill up for 75c.

'Love' is theme of contest

Children between the ages of 5 and 12 years old are eligible for a Children's Art Competition which is being held at the downtown J. L. Hudson Co. It is sponsored by the Central Business District Association.

The theme for the contest is "Love," whether it be love of Country, Community, Family, Friends, Nature or Pets. Entries will be accepted through May 31.

Not to exceed 18"x24", the work should be mounted on heavy cardboard. It may be done in water colors, crayons, paint, oils or pencil drawings.

All contributions must be delivered to the Hudson's Children's Department in downtown Detroit and must have the child's name, age, address, telephone number and school and teacher's name labeled on the back of the entry.

First prize in the competition is a $500 U.S. Savings Bond. A $100 U.S. Savings bond is second prize and a $50 U.S. Savings Bond is third prize.

Wolves in fifth after loss to Northville

Clarkston lost to Northville for the second time this year by a score of 66 to 55. The Wolves trailed all the way.

After a 16 to 12 first quarter lead it was all Northville. Ron Hubbard proved he has star potential. He will give opposing players and coaches a lot of headaches the next two years.

Stan Nirider, a boy you haven't heard a lot about, destroyed Clarkston with his driving layups and outside shooting. John Craven was the only real threat for the Wolves who were cold as an iceberg.

After the half Clarkston cut the gap to two but fell back before a full court press.

Clarkston could not make one right move the rest of the night. I was surprised when coach McGrath put in his reserves Dan Hallman, Dave Kelly, Scott Robbins and Gary McMillan. They did a fine job under the circumstances. Dan Hallman got his first two markers from the charity line. Chuck Granger came into the game in the second stanza and kept Clarkston in the contest with 10 points. He finished with 11.

The reserves outscored Northville's reserves by 6, but it wasn't enough to overcome the big 17-point lead held by their first string.

Clarkston beat the Mustangs at the charity stripe, but lost field goal wise, as the winners had a 31 to 18 advantage.

Ron Hubbard was high for Northville with 22 and teammate Stan Nirider tossed in 20 for his best game of the varsity season. John Craven was high for Clarkston with 14 points.

Coach Hanson's boys dropped their second decision to Omar Harrison's Colts after holding an 11-point lead. Kurt Richardson was in foul trouble and that enabled Northville's J.V.s to keep their winning streak at 13. The final was Northville 57-Clarkston 52. Bernie Bach had 26 for the winners and Rick Prasil was high with 12 points for Clarkston.

Honor Society inducts 14

Fifteen new members, having a 3.0 or better grade point average were inducted into the National Honor Society in a ceremony held in the Clarkston High School gymnasium during an assembly.

Character, leadership, scholarship and service are the desired qualities of students inducted into the society. Members are chosen by grade point average and then teachers are asked to give their opinion of each of the inductees on a special questionnaire passed out about a week before the induction.

New inductees are: Ruth Addis, Kathy Auten, Gail Cowling, Maud Elliott, Diana Pox, Ron Gallegly, Pam Gerber, Leora Jacobs, Gary Klann, Jean Lussier, Jan Norberg, Rich Porritt, Jill Sansom and Donna Thompson.

Last year, as juniors, Kirk Beattie, Mark Cowen, Kathryn Grogan, Don Mayo, Lynn Race, and Mike Yarborough were selected to the society for their high scholastic achievement. To be inducted into the National Honor Society as a junior, one must have at least a 3.5 grade average.

The Creative and Industrial Art Show winners were chosen last Sunday, February 16. Winners in the three major divisions were: Gail Cowling, English; Rosiland Byers, Art; Jim Blemm, Industrial Arts.

There were also awards given to several individual entries under each of the three major categories.

In the English division, Karin MacDougall took first place in poetry, while Ray Gechk placed first in the short story class.

Rosiland Byers dominated the Art division as she received awards for ink drawing, pencil drawing, polymer, and textile design, and she tied with Lynn Race for the photography award.

Around the Town

No news is bad news

By Rusty Leaf

Many thanks to the kind person who brought us these news items last week. Although they were too late for that issue, they are fine in this one.

The daughter of Mrs. Wesley Walter received a two-week visit from her mother, recently, at her Fort Lauderdale, Florida home. Mrs. Walter's Clarkston address is on Holcomb street.

We're happy to report that Glen Jones, formerly of Clarkston, has returned home from the hospital in West Branch, after a week-long stay.

One reason the two news items were so suitable this week is because it was just about all I could turn up. Wow! What a week. Frankly, I blame the fact that I decided to become efficient in my new assignment as the Around the Town reporter. That decision called for organizing my method of calling by setting up a card filing system.

With a high stack of C's, I began my calls last Wednesday. After pleasant conversations with Mrs. Cameron, Chad, Chapman, Clara, Cleveland, Cohen, Cole, Collick... and getting nothing, I felt it time to switch back to an old list. Unless I'm in error, there weren't even answers at the Kelt or Kennedy home, so I returned to Connors, Cowdin and Cowen. By now I was jumping out of order with high hopes that a little personal friendship might be more fruitful.

It was about here that the notation came through that Charlie Beyers was due for a birthday. Surely this was going to turn the trick, so I stuck with the C's. Three C's and four H's later I knew I was licked. One more call was all I had time for. So I called Mrs. Charles Broadway, who lives on Northview.

Mrs. Broadway admitted that she, too, had spent a quiet week, but rightfully felt we might be interested in a former Clarkston couple. So with pleasure I can announce that Mr. and Mrs. Don Aulbert are the proud parents of a second daughter. Born on February 1st, Krista Denise weighed 5 lbs., 9 oz. at birth. Mr. Aulbert, formerly a teacher in the high school, is now living with his family in Portland, Michigan.

Please keep me in mind if you have any items of interest. As you can tell, when I set out to call Around the Town...

Mrs. Elsie Phillips, 6314 Snowapple, Clarkston, has graduated from the Famous Photographers School of Westport, Conn. Mrs. Phillips completed the three-year course in the creative art of photography offered by this home study school.

Olen Betzer, a barber in Ronk's Barber Shop the past 13 years, remains in Pontiac General Hospital. He is reported doing fine with no permanent damage from the coronary that hit him February 6. He is expected to convalesce in the hospital 2 more weeks before returning to his Grange Hall road home in Holly.

MRS. FRED GRITZINGER

Couple exchange vows

Our Lady of the Lakes was the setting Saturday, February 15, for the vows that united Cecelia Carrol Prevo and Fred Lavern Gritzinger.

Attired in a floor length empire gown of satin and lace, the bride carried a bouquet of winter white roses. Her veil was elbow length.

The bride's sister, Helen Richmond, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of pink chiffon.

Dressed in rainbow colored gowns, were Cathy Moore and Sue Bradley, the bridesmaids. Valerie Prevo, was a junior bridesmaid. They all carried small, rainbow-hued bouquets.

Frank Richmond was the best man and Wayne Kurr, Fred Bradley and Warren Gritzinger Jr. were groom's attendants. Tom Miller and Bob Bradley served as ushers.

Pam Richmond was the flower girl. Troy Gritzinger was the ring bearer.

The parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Enos Prevo of Clarkston. Mrs. Laura Gritzinger and the late Mr. Fred Gritzinger of Clarkston are the parents of the bridegroom.

The newlyweds went to Niagara Falls on their honeymoon.

Kutting Korners

Somebody was kind enough to call and suggest a solution for keeping ice cream fresh tasting, though in the freezer for a reasonably long time.

The suggestion was to take the ice cream out of the waxed cardboard carton and put it in a plastic container.

I had difficulty finding one that fit a whole half-gallon, so solved that by cutting the half-gallon of cream in half. It slipped in easily after that.

Lent starts this week. It always makes me think of hot cross buns. Here is an easy, quick and good solution.

QUICK HOT-CROSS BUNS

- 4 cups biscuit mix
  - 1/2 cup golden raisins
  - 1/2 cup sliced, candied citron
  - 2 teaspoons cinnamon
  - 2 teaspoons instant coffee powder
  - 1/3 cup sugar
  - 1 cup milk (approx.)
  - 1 egg yolk
  - 1 tablespoon water
- Combine first 6 ingredients; mix well. Add enough milk to make a soft dough; mixing with a fork. Knead on lightly floured board for several minutes, until dough is elastic. Form into 16 balls, place close together in baking pan. Combine egg yolk and water; beat slightly with fork; brush over top of buns. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 to 18 minutes. Serve hot, or if desired, cool and decorate with crosses of confectioners' sugar icing. Makes 16 buns.

While they are baking put on a big pot of good coffee. It can't be beaten, particularly if you serve the buns with butter and marmalade.

How many other uses can you find for plastic containers? I used one from bleach for hair rollers. Just cut off the top. Then if you really want to be fancy—staple material around the open end. About six inches will do. Put a draw-string in top if you wish.

Makes a cute lunch pail too. Just be sure to wash the old jug out thoroughly before using.

MRS. JOHN G. STYES

Newlyweds to live near Georgia base

Miss Karen Denise Banks became the bride of Mr. John G. Styes in a candlelight ceremony on February 1. The Rev. Frank C. Mills officiated as the couple exchanged rings at the First Baptist Church in Lake Orion.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of white satin and peau d'ange lace which was fashioned in an empire 'A' line. It was trimmed with lace appliques and had a detachable wateau train. Her hair was styled in a crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade of miniature white carnations.

Attending the bride as maid of honor, was her niece, Vicki Rowland. Her bridesmaids were Mrs. James Zwack and Mrs. James Rowland, her sisters.

The attendants were identically dressed in long 'A' line gowns of blue velvet. They carried bouquets of pink and white carnation miniatures.

Twins, Michelle and Michael Carter, performed the duties of flower girl and ring bearer. They are niece and nephew of the bride.

Jerry Banks, the bride's brother, was the best man. Another brother, David, shared the ushering responsibilities with George Henson of Clarkston.

The couple received friends and guests at a reception in the church parlors.

After a trip in the south, they will make their home at Marietta, Georgia near the base where the bridegroom is stationed.

The parents of the couple are Mrs. Jean Banks of Whipple Lake Road, Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. John Styes of Wilmington, North Carolina.

The bride is a graduate of Lake Orion High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Brandon High, Ortonville.

Clarkston Rotary thanked

It has been a year since the Davisburg Rotary Club received its charter from Rotary International. To form a Rotary Club there has to be a sponsoring club, and for Davisburg, Clarkston Rotary was the agent.

A year ago Clarkston put on a banquet at the Pontiac Elks Club. Bud Guest was there to speak. There was fun and laughter... and Rotary business. The Davisburg Rotary received its charter and officers and members were introduced. Since that time, according to Davisburg Rotary President, Charles Going, "Things have been going just great. Attendance is fine and our first project is complete. That was remodeling the basement of the township hall for a meeting room for Rotary and other community groups."

$2,000 and the Rotarians did the work. "We have members with fine skills who told us without skills what to do and we have the plumpest remodeling job you ever saw," Going said.

Wednesday night Davisburg called a meeting to thank the Clarkston Rotarians for sponsoring their club. With 25 of his fellow club members looking on, Paul DeLongchamp accepted a plaque of thanks. DeLongchamp was president of the Clarkston Club when Davisburg was chartered.

The award, made by Going, was in recognition of DeLongchamp's efforts and that of members of the Clarkston Club in sponsoring Davisburg. All active members of the Davisburg Club signed the plaque.

THANK YOU PLAQUE—Wednesday night when the Davisburg Rotary Club thanked the Clarkston Club for sponsoring them a year ago, these Rotarians took part in the presentation: left to right, Charles Going, president Davisburg Rotary Club, Eric Bentlage, past district governor, Paul DeLongchamp, past president of Clarkston Rotary, and Forbes Haskell, present district governor of Rotary.

Tickets which were sold by members of the Order of the Eagles were tossed about before being drawn here by Irv LaDuc. The club used this method as part of their new fund raising efforts to remodel their new headquarters on Dixie Highway. The winning ticket brought its owner a new color TV set.

Laws sought for parks, throw away bottles, signs

Legislation to control activities at roadside parks and rest areas and to outlaw throw-away beer bottles will get a push from the State Highway Commission next year, according to a Commission report.

Both measures are included in the Commission's 1969 legislative program.

Other bills having Commission backing would modernize standards for railroad signs and signals, and give the Department of State Highways more control over disposal of snow and ice on highway rights of way.

Increasingly heavy use of the 57 rest areas and 100 roadside parks along Michigan's 9,207 miles of state highways point to the need for a regulatory law, the Commission said.

The proposed legislation, intended primarily to avoid congestion, would prohibit camping in parks and rest areas as well as organized group meetings and picnics. Loitering, soliciting and vending also would be banned and advertising would be restricted.

The rising cost of picking up litter strewn along the highways led to the proposal to prohibit throw-away beer bottles in Michigan.

The Highway Department's roadside clean-up bill, now about $700,000 a year, is swelled by the cost of removing between half a million and one million bottles tossed along state highways. County and municipal clean-up crews pick up many more bottles in their road jurisdictions. The proposed legislation would require a five-cent deposit on all containers of malt beverage.

The railroad bill would require crossbuck warning signs at all railroad crossings, including those in cities and villages, and require warning devices at spur track crossings not owned by railroad companies.

Another amendment would eliminate the maximum distance of 350 feet for placing advance warning signs, allowing more effective placement in areas where vehicles approach tracks at high rates of speed. A third change would make signs more effective by permitting use of reflectorized backgrounds rather than reflectorized letters.

By including snow and ice in the statutory definition of litter, the Highway Department would be able to discourage private businesses from pushing ice and snow into roadways.

Another Commission-backed bill would require installation of two signal faces at each intersection—state, court and local —where a traffic light is installed. This would establish uniform traffic signs at intersections as well as improve traffic safety.

A further amendment to the Motor Vehicle Code would clarify the state's rights in establishing clear-vision areas at highway intersections.

Cold drugs can cause adverse driving effects

"Tis the season to be sneezin' but beware of those cold drugs if you are planning to drive, advises the Institute for Safer Living. It is not necessary to take morphine or cocaine to be thoroughly doped at the wheel.

Some of the drugs in the narcotic, antihistamine, tranquilizer and barbiturate classification, have properties to help fight colds and other illnesses, but they also produce side effects ranging from dizziness to interference with concentration, lack of judgment, impaired vision, and release of inhibitions against reckless driving.

The Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company reports that in addition to cold medicines, many people also take pills to counteract the systems of fatigue. These amphetamines or "pep pills" increase alertness and efficiency temporarily, but when their effects wear off, headache, irritability, inability to concentrate, hallucinations, or even greater fatigue may result, creating a first-class highway menace.

The end result can be seen in the increasing number of reports of drivers under the influence of these drugs, passing out at the wheel or driving into stationary objects while in a trance-like state.

What happens to $100 million P & R Fund

When the voters of Michigan approved the $100 million Parks and Recreation Bond Issue last November, there was every reason to believe that this money would be equitably distributed throughout the state.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) helped spearhead the bond campaign on the theory that 70 percent of the funds would be allocated for statewide parks, operated under the direction of the DNR, with the balance of 30 percent going for developments in local communities.

Oakland and other Parks and Recreation commissions were in favor of splitting the appropriation to a more reasonable basis of 60 percent for local developments and 40 percent to the DNR. However, others believe that a 50-50 percent would be most equitable.

Significantly, those counties with the most park potentials to offer metropolitan park users voted the greatest margins in favor of the bond issue. Among these were, Washtenaw 67-33; Ingham 66-38; Midland 60-40; Oakland 58-42; Muskegon 58-42; Kent 57-43; with Macomb, Saginaw and Kalamazoo registering a 56-44 percent favorable vote.

By way of contrast, Detroit failed to give support to the Recreation Bond Issue where it failed by a 14,000 vote margin.

In spite of this, Detroit groups now propose that $80 million of parks funds be allocated for its inner-city, with only $20 million going to the balance of Michigan. Detroit pressure is now being applied in Lansing as the battle lines are being drawn.

In a meeting on January 8, the newly organized Michigan Recreation and Park Association (MRPA) adopted a resolution favoring a 60 percent division of bond money to local units of government, with the balance of 40 percent going to the state DNR.

A similar resolution was adopted by the Michigan Congress of County Parks officials at a meeting held on January 17. At that time the latter group voted to affiliate with MRPA.

Further support for the 60-40 split came from the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), a coordinating agency comprised of public officials representing six counties of southeast Michigan.

It is anticipated that Governor Milliken will make a recommendation to the state legislature sometime in the near future. His Recreation Advisory Committee has recommended that the Parks and recreation bond money be divided equally, $50 million to state parks by way of DNR and the balance of $50 million going to local area parks and recreational facilities.

It is interesting to contemplate public reaction, if the bulk of a $100 million Parks and Recreation bond issue approved by them in statewide referendum, were to be side-tracked in favor of Detroit demands.

BY CLEM CLEVELAND

to the amount spent on a short fishing jaunt. Each year, I have to return to buy more gobs of flies. My luck usually runs to losing the darn things in trees, shrubs and getting them snagged in sunken logs. With two children, equally interested in getting into their Dad's fly tackle, I figured that it is going to really get expensive for me . . . just for a little fishing. I could buy fish from Fulton's Market cheaper.

So, after reading Bob's thoughts on tying flies, I went to the Paul Young's shop on 8 Mile Road, north side, just east of Telegraph. Now's a good time to buy from them. They are moving out . . . big sale on everything and are planning to open a new shop in Traverse City.

Unlike most sporting goods stores, these people are experts in helping you get what you need. First off, a good fly tying vise is essential, but not expensive. I asked for an assortment of materials and that's just what I got. All told, I haven't spent any more for all the junk needed to tie flies than I would have spent for the finished products this year. I also bought a few bonus items . . . books on how to do it.

The first few flies that I made were duds. Now, just name it, show me a picture of what you want, or, as my kids say, "Let's invent some of our own."

They've watched me wind the thread around the hook, fasten a bit of this-n-that and plunk a good fuzzy brown fly into my tackle box. They asked if they could make some of their own. I helped them make a couple and now they are on their own filling up their tackle boxes.

The other day while at Paul

I am lately swamped by mail advising me to move 60 miles south to Detroit where I can take my lumps with the rest of the mugging victims.

Or stay where I am and shut my big mouth.

I write that no man should be pre-judged for any reason — his complexion, his relatives or the way he walks. And I get letters telling me I would wail a different tune if I lived in a big city where there is a nigger with a razor in every doorway.

Some of the letter-writers preface their venom with the usual sickening platitudes: "Some of my best friends . . ." But the haters always end up writing about "they." "They" are lazy. "They" throw garbage in their backyards. "They" want to kill all white men and rape all white women. "They" snatched my aunt's purse 6 times.

And with that simple word "they," the letter-writers reveal their ignorance. The haters stick the caution sign on every black child in Detroit because Rap Brown clenched his fist in Boston.

It would make equal sense if I quit eating spaghetti because of the Mafia.

Another thing many of the haters tell me is to read the News and I'll know how dangerous it is to live in Detroit. They are referring to the "Crime in the Streets" column which each day lists the hold-ups and muggings and rapes. The News always identifies the criminals as Negro or white. This is a mistake and I hope the News editor will some day wake up and cut it out.

Naturally, most of the muggers are Negroes. There are 600,000 Negroes living in the inner city and, for whatever good or bad reasons, some of them are vicious crooks. But what color are the victims of these street crimes? The News skirts this. Thus the reader gets a false picture of a black horde of bums warring on the good white folks. The truth is that many Negroes are also victims of street crimes. "They" are scared too, man.

If the News is going to report complexions, it should report them all. Otherwise, the newspaper is needlessly fanning dangerous fires ("Look Martha, another dirty nigger hit an old man.") — and giving ammunition to the type of racists who write me stupid letters. The truth is, the only decent reasons for a newspaper to publish a criminal's color are if the crime is racial (that's news) or if the information will aid in the capture of a fugitive or in the protection of the public (that's good citizenship). None of these circumstances apply to most of the street crimes reported by the News.

Ok. Now that I've eliminated the News as a possible place of employment, let's get back to my lily white mail . . .

The haters accuse me of condoning street crime, or of doubting it really exists. Nuts. The thugs disgust me, too. And they frighten me. If some black bums come after me, I'm not going to pull out some clipped columns and ask them to read how liberal I am. I am going to run as fast as George Wallace would.

No, I know the problem is there. And I can understand why people (and newspapers) are more upset by two-bit muggings than they are by more sophisticated crimes which take many more dollars from their pockets. Nothing hits closer to home than a club on the head.

But the first step toward stopping Crime in the Streets is to realize that every black face in the street does not belong to a mugger.

White people should think hard about this: Do unto others as you would have them do unto you — if your skin were black.

Onward and Upward.

Somebody's been sleeping in my bed

by Jean Sura

Once upon a time there were three bears. There was a very big, 3-year-old bear. There was a 9-month-old, middle-sized bear. And there was a teeny, tiny, little 6-week-old cousin bear. They all went to stay at Grandma's for the weekend.

The Mamma and Daddy Bear of the biggest bear and the middle-sized bear had to go away on business. The Mamma and Daddy Bear of the teeny, tiny bear decided to come and help "bear sit."

Now Grandma Bear, in the last three years has become a "retread, Bear Sitter." She has amassed a collection of Baby Bear accoutrements. She has an "Early Attic, baby bed out of which some little bear has kicked several slats. She has a Salvation Army Providential high chair. She has a treasure chest of spoons and old jewelry. She has one plastic dish and two small spoons. She has an antique cradle.

Now Grandma and Grandpa Bear have three bedrooms in their house. No. 1 bedroom, has twin beds. No. 2 bedroom has the crib and one single bed. No. 3 bedroom has twin beds and the cradle.

When it was bedtime, Grandma Bear put the big 3-year-old bear in bed in bedroom No. 3. She put the middle-sized, 9-month-old bear in the crib in bedroom No. 2.

Then the plans got switched. The teeny, tiny baby bear's Mamma and Daddy decided to stay over night. So the biggest little bear got moved in her sleep to the single bed in bedroom No. 2. Mamma and Daddy Bear bedded down in beds A and B in bedroom No. 3 and put the teeny, tiny bear in the cradle, which he didn't like at all.

Young's, a return trip, Laurie spotted a fuzzy deer hair popper fly. She said, "Daddy, would you buy that fly for me?"

I said, "Nope! We'll go home and make one."

Back at the house, I showed her how to make one. She was delighted with the results saying, "Gee Dad, this is better than buying everything you see. This is really fun. Can I make one?"

She took command of the vise and twirled out her own deer hair popper. Like Kevin, she is excited about the things that she has made. I think that fishing this year is going to be much more fun than any other year. This time, we'll be catching fish on bait that we all have had a hand in making, or something.

Then Grandma and Grandpa Bear went into their own beds in bedroom No. 1.

And, then all fell fast asleep, except for the teeny, tiny little baby bear who decided to tell the world all about the injustices of life, like, being stuck in a cradle that is over one hundred years old and doesn't even have a decent mattress.

Well, pretty soon, the middle-sized bear decided to get in the act and set up a lament cause she was falling through the hole where some other bear had kicked out the slats. Then the great, big, bear joined the chorus because she didn't know where she was—cause it was too dark and she wasn't in the bed in which she had gone to sleep.

So, the Mamma Bear took the teeny, tiny bear in bed with her in Bed A in bedroom No. 3. Grandma Bear took the middle-sized bear in bed with her in Bed A in bedroom No. 1. Grandpa Bear took the great, big bear in Bed B in bedroom No. 1.

When things got quieted down, Mamma Bear put the teeny, tiny bear in the crib in bedroom No. 2. Grandpa put the great, big bear in Bed A in bedroom No. 2. Grandma put the middle-sized bear in the cradle in bedroom No. 3, and they all went fast asleep.

The next morning, when the bears all woke up, Grandma Bear made some porridge. While she was stirring it she said, "Somebody has been sleeping in my bed."

Grandpa Bear said, "Somebody has been sleeping in my bed."

Mamma Bear said, "Somebody has been sleeping in my bed too."

And the great, big three-year-old bear said, "You bet your sweet Bippy."

And they all lived happily ever after.

This is a true story.

At the assembly held in the school last Friday it was announced that Wilbur Adams was named Valedictorian and Anne Zander, named Salutatorian of the 1944 graduating class.

The Legion Auxiliary met at the home of the president, Mrs. R.C. Ainsley on Tuesday night. After the regular business meeting a short program was enjoyed. The next meeting, March 21, will be held in the Rotary Rooms.

Sharlene Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller, celebrated her third birthday last Saturday at a St. Valentine's Party at her home. There were thirteen little guests and they had a grand time.

Donald Steiner, SI/c, is spending a few days at his home here. Don is feeling fine and says he enjoys his work.

Letters to the Editor

Mr. James Sherman, Editor
Clarkston News
Clarkston, Michigan
Dear Mr. Sherman:

Below is a letter which we would like to see printed in your paper. Thank you.

To the People of Independence Township:

The Michigan Jaycees have a State project called, "OPERATION PURCHASE", which is the purchasing of Kidney Machines. These machines, used once a week, cleanse the blood and preserve life. Kidney Disease strikes young and old and is no respecter of class or race. One machine can serve up to 6 patients.

A kidney machine can be obtained from General Mills for 600,000 Betty Crocker Coupons which appear on General Mills Products.

The Clarkston Area Jayceettes are now collecting these coupons as our way of helping in "OPERATION PURCHASE". We are appealing to the people in Independence Township to save these coupons for us so that we may send them to the Michigan Jaycees. Canisters for you to deposit these coupons will be placed in local businesses. We hope you feel as we do that this is a very worthwhile project to which you will want to contribute.

Sincerely,
The Clarkston Area Jayceettes
Mrs. Richard Johnston
Mrs. Arthur Ripley
Co-Chairmen, OPERATION PURCHASE

Dear Mr. Sherman:

My husband and I, Bud and Chris Hathaway, were in Clarkston today and are delighted to see the face lifting and restoration of Main Street which we started with our building 6 and 8 North Main, now occupied by Clarkston Auto Parts.

The next face lifting and restoration after us was by the insurance company, and now—the bakery, Algiers, and O'Dell's Drug Store. It's terrific!

My brother who owned North Main (the house below the sidewalk), The Garner House, tried to start this seven years ago but was opposed by the villagers—but we went ahead and completely renovated an eyesore, to be a safe and sound building, even though one business person said, "What are you trying to do, make a silk purse out of a sow's ear?"

We made it! I'm sure the rest of the business proprietors can, too!
Progressively yours,
Chris and Bud Hathaway

Scoop selects best writers

The Sashabaw Scoop is a newspaper with a circulation of 400. It appears about once a month. Its writers are students from the North Sashabaw Elementary School. It costs 3c.

Last month the Scoop decided to hold a literary competition. All students in the school were eligible. They could enter poems or stories.

Under the direction of 4th grade teacher, Mr. Swartout, and other faculty members, 8 winners were selected.

The winners were: Chris Wheeler, second grade; Gale Graham, Linda Robenault, third grade; Deanna Robenault, Kathie Lockard, fourth grade; Kim Lockard, Jerry Ford and Cindy Fernandez, sixth grade.

Each of the winners will receive a book.

Here are excerpts from the prize winning poems:

"Raindrops," by Linda Robenault, grade 3;

Little raindrops patter down
Upon the window-pane,
They seem to say
Now, how are you?
You see we're here again.

"Snow," by Gale Graham, grade 5;
Cold white snow,

Watch it blow,
All through the night,
All through the day
I wish that snow would go away.

"Snow," by Deanna Robenault, grade 4

Snow is white,
And snow is bright,
And sometimes it's very deep.
For you see the snow will grow,
While you're fast asleep.

"Deer," by Kim Lockard, 6th grade;

White spots hide
the herd, Fleeing when danger concerns.
Free natured
the deer.

Fire caused by smoking

The controversy concerning the use of tobacco continues to rage. Does it or does it not shorten life by causing or accelerating cancer, heart trouble, emphysema. Commercial interests vs. medical researchers go at it "hot and heavy." Filters are developed and ballyhooed, along with claims for lowered tars and nicotine, ad infinitum.

Although the controversy regarding the health hazards may never be resolved, there is one area where there can be no disagreement, reports Gerald E. Montgomery, Executive Director of the Greater Detroit Safety Council. This is in the loss of life and property caused each year through fires started by careless smokers. Four or five thousand lives (many of them small children) and more than a half billion dollars in property loss is the price we pay each year for our smoking.

Smokers may or may not care about their health or they may disagree with research findings. They have the right to do so. But, why do they assume the right to deprive others of their property and possibly their lives? Could you, as a smoker, be adding to this completely unnecessary loss? Most fires are preventable—fires caused by careless smoking are always preventable. Rules for safe smoking would include:

Proper receptacles for ashes, butts and matches. And always used!

All butts and matches completely out before tossed in with other refuse.

No smoking when drowsy and especially sitting in overstuffed chairs or in bed.

No smoking around flammable liquids, gasoline, paints, solvents, etc.

Special care on windy days or in the woods.

No cigarettes tossed from your car ever.

All smoking materials always completely out when discarded.

All matches and lighters kept out of the reach of small children.

School adopts policy for suspension and expulsion of pupils

Editor's note: The Clarkston Board of Education passed, at their last meeting, another section of their school policy manual. This section, IV, deals with "Suspension and Expulsion of Pupils." We are printing it for parent interest.

SUSPENSION AND EXPULSION OF PUPILS

Public schools operate under that philosophy that every pupil has a right to complete his education provided that:

He has the ability to succeed;
He puts forth reasonable effort to succeed;
He conducts himself in a manner which is a credit to himself, his family, his school and his community.

The school is a miniature community. The rules and regulations that are established are for the protection of the rights of all members of the school community. Violations of school rules and regulations that are harmful to the rights and privileges of others cannot be tolerated.

The Board of Education, therefore, has defined but not limited itself to the following areas whereby pupils may be denied that privilege of attending school when it is deemed by the school to be in the best interest of the district:

1. Smoking—The act of violating the smoking restriction policies.
2. Obscenity—The act of using obscene language in verbal or written form, in pictures or caricatures in or on any school property.

3. Theft—The act of dishonestly acquiring the property of another or others.

4. Forgery—The act of fraudulently using in writing the name of another person, or falsifying times, dates, grades, addresses, or other data on school forms.

5. Fighting—The act of quarreling involving bodily contact in or on school property, or going to or from school, including any activity under school sponsorship (i. e., dance, athletic event, etc.).

6. Truancy—The act of unauthorized absence from school for any period of time. Chronic tardiness can be considered truancy.

7. Insubordination—The act of persistent disobedience in complying with a reasonable request from a staff member.

8. Gross Misbehavior—The act of deliberate or willful conduct detrimental to normal functions of the program or activity under school sponsorship, to staff members, or to other pupils.

9. Vandalism—The act of willful or ignorant destruction of personal or real property.

10. Indecency—The act of offending against commonly recognized standards of propriety or good taste, including the use of vulgar language.

11. Bodily Conditions—The condition under which any pupil is suspected of having a communicable disease, or who has persistent and neglected personal hygiene habits.

12. Explosive Material, and/or Weapons—The act of possessing, using or threatening to use any material, weapon or instrument capable of inflicting personal or property damage.

13. Extortion—Intimidation of others for either direct or indirect personal gain.

14. Alcoholic Beverages, Narcotics, etc.—Possession, transfer, consumption or conduct evidencing consumption of alcoholic beverages or other substances which produce abnormal behavior.

15. Arson—The willful and malicious burning of, or attempt to burn any material, structure, or property associated with or owned by the School District.

16. Gambling—Playing a game for money or other stakes, to bet on an outcome uncertain or otherwise.

SECTION THREE THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., Feb. 20, 1969

"If everyone lit just one little candle..." an expression easy to visualize, can be just as true for the plea now being made by Jaycettes, for coupons from any General Mills product. In time these small coupons can grow and become the means of obtaining a life saving kidney machine. Calling on the women of the community for their cooperation are Mrs. Richard Johnston and Mrs. Arthur Ripley (chairmen, shown in front), with the strong support of other Jaycettes, such as Mrs. Carl Gusie, Mrs. Donald Hamaker, Mrs. Terry Kelly and Mrs. Jerry Powell (shown from left to right).

Army Specialist 5 John D. Burnell (right), 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Burnell, 5470 Waldon Rd., Clarkston, receives the Bronze Star Medal during ceremonies January 9 here. Spec. Burnell received the award for heroism in action against enemy forces in Vietnam. The specialist, a member of the 523rd Transportation Company, entered the Army in July 1966 and was stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo., before arriving overseas in February, 1968. His wife, Catherine, lives at 8478 W. Ellis Rd., Davisburg. Spec. Burnell is a 1966 graduate of Clarkston High School.

February 22 significant to Girl Scouting, too

February 22 is the birthday of Lord Baden-Powell and Lady Baden-Powell. It is observed by all Girl Scouts and Guides around the world. It is a day for celebrating, for the thinking of each other and for circling the globe with a chain of warm, friendly thoughts.

Pennies are sent to the World Bureau in London, England to promote Guiding and Scouting around the world. This money is given by each troop in our Council to help other girls in other lands.

Added interest in this year's program will be 41 uniforms of member nations in Girl Scouting which have been made in our neighborhood. Mrs. George Mann is directing a song to be sung in German. Clarkston's Philippine exchange students, Rosie Remedios and Cindy Corpus, are directing a song in their native language.

Senior Girl Scouts, Debbie Kelly and Margot Beauchamp will share their experiences from the Edith Macy Training Center. The program at the Junior High Gym at 7:30 on Thursday, February 20 is open to the public.

What ..... Do You Know?

by MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor.
The New Book of Knowledge

Can Penguins Fly?

While Penguins cannot fly in the air, they do, however, "fly" in the water, at speeds up to 30 miles an hour. While swimming, they can dive with a thrust of their flippers, and travel 30 feet underwater before surfacing. Penguins differ from most other birds in that their feathers cover the body completely and are so small they look like scales. Densely packed together, the feathers shed water and help keep the birds warm. Penguins spend most of their lives in the water.

Why do you blow out the candles on your birthday cake?

When you blow out the candles on your birthday cake, you are following a very old custom. People used to believe that by blowing out birthday candles they were blowing away all the bad luck of past years. That is why there is a candle for every year.

Need more than pies to lessen blackbird damages

A sky darkened by thousands of hungry blackbirds brings despair to the hearts of Michigan corn growers. In 1968 the destructive birds caused damage to Michigan cornfields estimated at more than half a million dollars.

Particularly hard hit each year are fields in Monroe county, where hordes of blackbirds roosting in the marshes along the edge of Lake Erie fly inland to feed. But the threat is spreading, as the birds are now beginning to nest in hayfields all across the state.

To assist farmers with such bird control problems, the Michigan Department of Agriculture helps finance the work of a federal biologist from the U. S. Department of Interior's Division of Wildlife Services.

William Shake, federal biologist assigned to Michigan, says the huge flocks of blackbirds defy destruction, and threaten food supplies of Michigan residents.

Assessment of blackbird damage is an annual project of the Division of Wildlife Services, along with weighing the relative success of various control measures. All kinds of control devices are tried with varying effectiveness, including shellerackers, recorded distress calls, and vehicle-mounted exploders. Experimentally treated cracked corn has been broadcast in some areas where blackbirds were observed feeding.

Biologists have ever attempted to develop public interest in the pests as game birds. Few hunters find the sport interesting, and the nursery rhyme recipe for "four and twenty blackbirds baked in a pie," fails to appeal to modern housewives. Actually, blackbirds are clean, corn-fed and good eating, Shake said, but it takes quite a few to make a meal.

College a breeze for Mother

She is a wife. She is a mother. She is a grandmother. She is a homemaker. She is a bowler. She is an English Laboratory worker. She is an all-A college student.

She is Mary (Mrs. Everett) Fife of Waldon road, Clarkston.

Mrs. Fife is expecting to graduate from Oakland Community College in June. In the last quarter she received all-A's, while carrying a full schedule of classes.

While maintaining this high academic standing she has managed her home and family. She has worked a minimum of seven hours a week at the English laboratory at the college.

"I got started going to school just to prove to myself that I could do it," said Mrs. Fife, "but now I'm so excited about the opportunity to work with retarded or handicapped children that it has made the time and effort more than worth while."

Mrs. Fife's greatest difficulty was caused by her long absence from school and the pressure of competing on tests. It is obvious that she has overcome this difficulty.

"The whole family has pitched in and made it possible," said Mrs. Fife.

Mrs. Fife, left, and daughter Debbie "hit the books".

The whole family consists of: Mr. Everett Fife, who has gotten in the swing and has just completed a locksmith course (he, too, received all As); son, David, 17, a senior at Clarkston High School; and Debbie, 15, a sophomore at Clarkston High. There are two more Fife children who are living in Germany. Son, Everett, 18, is in the service and daughter, Margaret, 25, who is living with her husband and new daughter at a military installation.

The Fifes are enthusiastic bowlers. Mrs. Fife plans to continue her studies at Eastern Michigan University.

Mrs. Bosse's morning Kindergarten class at the North Sashabaw Elementary School experienced the thrill of their first school Valentine party.

Progressive dinner planned by Clarkston Child Study Club

Through slides shown by Mrs. J. H. Mueller, the Clarkston Child Study Club became more acquainted with the Drayton Plains Nature Center at their February meeting.

Mrs. Charles Curry and Mrs. Donald Cooper were co-hostesses of the meeting that took place at the Curry home on Warbler.

Following the slide presentation by Mrs. Mueller, the club discussed the Several boys from Boy Scout Troop 126 were introduced as prospective future den chiefs.

"progressive dinner" they will have March 15.

Members will be taking their appetizer course at the James Ladd home on Kingfisher, the salad and main course at the Donald Hamaker home, also on Kingfisher, then go to Big Lake road and the home of the Ted O'Rourke for dessert.

There were 16 Child Study members present at this past meeting and 2 other guests, Mrs. Shirley Wilson and Mrs. Gloria Maddox.

CLARKSTON UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

By Frank A. Cozadd

Message

What is the meaning of Lent? It is the name given to the period of preparation for the Christian festival of Easter. It is a period for increased religious reflection and contemplation. It is a time of sacrifice and self-denial. It is observed in many churches by moderate abstinence in the use of food, limited social activities and by mid-week services.

Lent is the period of 40 days (not counting Sundays) before Easter. Sundays are not counted because every Sunday is a "little Easter." The period of 40 days has been likened to a number of "forties" in the Bible: Moses' fast on Mt. Sinai; the 40 years of Israel's wandering in the wilderness; the 40 days of grace given to Nineveh in the story of Jonah; the 40 days of Jesus' fasting at the beginning of His public ministry; and the tradition of Jesus' forty hours in the tomb.

We can make this Lenten season a very meaningful time by concentrating our thoughts and attention on the things of the Spirit, by spending more time in our places of worship; and by giving more time to prayer and meditation during the coming weeks.
