Jim's Jottings

When I took command of the Oxford Leader May 15, 1955 I knew very little about any of the equipment. The one press I was familiar with was a hand-fed platen. I'd run one in Gladwin 4 years previously... very slowly, boss Paul Moon told me.

The two other machines I remember were a sheet fed newspaper press that went 1,000 impressions per hour if the operator could flip the 32x44 sheets of newsprint that fast. He couldn't average it because the stock had to be carried up from the basement 400 sheets at a time.

And, there was The Linotype. I'd taken a course in linotype operation in college, but that had been 9 years previous. That Linotype was a great attraction. The previous owners had it setting in the front window. Either he was proud of it and wanted to show it off or he liked the expressions on people's faces as they stood outside to figure out how it ran.

All display type in the paper and job printing was hand set from the California job case. I had also learned that in college, thank goodness.

I didn't have time to run the job press and it was a long time before I got the courage to try feeding the big press and setting a few lines on the Linotype.

In short, I didn't know how to run much more than a typewriter at that time.

Now, nearly 14 years later, I'm right back in the same boat. The hand fed press is still there and seldom used and the same for the Linotype. The only reason the job press is still in the shop is because wife Hazel wants to keep it so we can run Bud Hickmott's bills for antique auctions and she can get first look at what is offered.

The new fangled equipment, some is not so new either, is like confusion to me. I don't even know where the "on-off" button is on some of it.

The machine that sets this stuff is an IBM selectric composer-magnetic tape unit. I just plain don't understand it. A gal sits at one machine that looks nearly like a typewriter and sets lines about 10 inches long and at the same time cuts a magnetic tape.

This tape is put in another machine that is controlled by a dashboard of buttons. The buttons light up as a way of asking questions of the operator like: how long do you want this stuff set, do you want it indented, leaded, hyphenated and more. Incidentally, have you noticed the last several weeks that there are no hyphenated words at the end of any lines in this paper?

With questions answered, the machine starts and out comes justified copy at the rate of 200 inches an hour. A good linotype operator would get 40 inches an hour.

Then there are the offset presses. 3 of them. The newspaper comes off in sections, folded, at 12,000 an hour. The job presses don't go quite that fast.

But, I can't run any of these machines. I've lost my independence. I can't run the equipment in my own shop. It's a little frightening. It was probably frightening 14 years ago, but I didn't think of it then. Maybe I shouldn't now.

Now that I've told you what a great machine the IBM Selectric Composer is... it's busted. Thus, there are three type faces in the copy in this issue.

Study shows dump site, burner in Independence

Independence Township figures strongly in refuse disposal plans for Oakland County in the recently completed study. The township is designated as a site for an incinerator and may have a dump site located on its eastern boundary.

This study was undertaken by the Oakland County Drain Commission and 19 months ago they gave Jones and Henry Engineers, Ltd. of Toledo the contract to study refuse disposal problems in Oakland County and make recommendations.

Copies of the study were distributed to county supervisors last week. The engineers came up with 2 plans. Plan A includes the Southeast Oakland County Incinerator Authority in Madison Heights. Plan B is recommended if this Authority chooses not to join with Oakland County in this refuse disposal plan.

In either plan Independence figures to have an incinerator, if the county adopts the study and implements it. This incinerator would be located in the southwest corner of the township. The selected site is isolated from present subdivisions by approximately a mile on the north and east. Land to the south and west is virtually vacant.

The capacity which should be installed in the incinerator is 1500 tons per day and will be installed in 1970. The study says the site has easy access to highway transportation and Grand Trunk railroad has a single track adjacent to the proposed site.

Independence as a dump site is included only in plan B. Jones and Henry's map locates the dump site south of Indianwood road on Baldwin. It shows a 3/4 mile circle with the center being just east of the Orion-Independence Township line. The center of the circle would be about two and three-fourths mile south of Indianwood road.

The dump site is supposed to take residue generated by incinerator plants. The report says portions of this landfill site are being used for agricultural purposes and part of the land is presently marsh land.

It is recommended a parcel of 380 acres be purchased. It must have capacity available for approximately 4300 square feet of residue over the 20-year life of the project. Site capacity is based on an assumed 50 percent compaction of the residue arriving at the landfill.

The study cost $125,000 and was funded in part by an $83,000 grant from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The engineering report notes that federal funds might be available up to two-thirds of a research project cost involving the commercial use of steam available from incinerators. Such a study is proposed in conjunction with Oakland University and the Avon incinerator.

Should the Board of Supervisors choose to proceed with either of the plans advanced, there is no certainty at this time that the Drain Commission would control development. It could possibly come under the Department of Public Works.

Both Plan A, which shows the dump site to be in Addison and Oxford Townships, and B call for trucking garbage. It also calls for 2 other incinerators, one in Farmington Township and Avon Township. There would be transfer stations around the county from which refuse would be taken to the incinerators.

The transfer station for this area would be southeast of Oxford village. Convenience centers would be located within townships for just that convenience of haulers and residents. Refuse would go from these centers to the transfer stations.

Three convenience centers are proposed for Independence. The cost to Independence Township property owners for these centers is 17 cents per $1,000 valuation over 15 years.

The immediate cost of putting the county refuse disposal plan into action is around $39 million. This is about 1.13 percent of the county's equalized valuation. An additional expenditure of $17.9 million is seen in 1980.

The cost to taxpayers in 1970, should the plan be initiated, is estimated at $2.23 per $1,000 of equalized valuation.

Tourney at Northern

Drawings for the district basketball tournaments were made Tuesday and Clarkston drew Pontiac Northern in the opening game Monday night.

This year the district Clarkston plays in will play at the Pontiac Northern gym. The last 2 years Clarkston was host.

The game Monday night is at 7:30.

Tuesday night at 7:30 Pontiac Central will meet Waterford Kettering. Wednesday night the winner of the Clarkston vs. Northern game will meet Waterford Township. The district championship game will be Friday night at 7:30. The winner of the Tuesday and Wednesday contests will meet.

Trade cars

In dependence Township has ordered 2 Plymouths. Hahn Chrysler-Plymouth on Dixie Highway was the low bidder. The township will be trading in a 1966 Tempest and 1966 Chevy II and paying $1409 each for the 1969s.

The township has 3 cars for use in the building and electrical departments.

Scrawled signatures

Ghosts are dancing

By Jean Sura Sadness and nostalgia frequently accompany progress. The fine, tasteful renovation of the stores on Clarkston's Main Street will certainly add to the appearance and convenience of the Village but something will be lost forever.

A trip to the second story of the building under repair made this evident.

Two large, black hinged, wooden doors led the way to the scenes of the past.

The entry leads up a wide steep staircase. At the top are several doors.

The door at the right leads to the area that housed the telephone exchange. This was not too spectacular unless you had a flight of fancy, and, disregarding its actual function, transposed it into a large casino type, gaming room. The room on the left was the one of greatest interest.

Opening the slightly sagging door one entered a very large, high ceilinged room.

This was it. The ghosts of old Maccabees were dancing. Thespians were emoting. The smell of grease paint filled the air. For a romantic, it was a smorgasbord of fancy.

One end of the room was dominated by a stage. The curtain or drop, was covered with a painted scene.

Picking one's way through the old show cases and crates brought you to the door at the right of the stage.

Ascending the short stair found you backstage. Old props were scattered about amid the attic-like conglomeration of storage.

Dominating the scene were the walls. Every inch bore testimony of the many players who had performed in years gone by.

Scrawled on the walls were signatures of every type and variety. Some had dates and names of performances. Others were accompanied by messages, written for posterity.

Returning to the auditorium it was easy to visualize a dance in progress. A dance with formally gowned ladies and celluloid collared gentlemen swirling to the rhythms of the current waltzes.

The large coal burning stove made one think that by comparison to today's physical comforts there had been some drawbacks to living at a time when the world traveled at a slower pace.

The trip back down the steps and out into the sunshine was taken with regret, but was rewarded with bright sunshine, fresh brickwork and new, attractive windows.

The big wooden doors swung shut. The key turned on the past.

Time marches on. Apartments are planned for this area.

The old stage in the Maccabees Temple is a reminder of the past.

Signatures of performers line the walls backstage in the Maccabees Temple.

Village Election March 10

The annual spring general election for the Village of Clarkston will be held on March 10.

To be elected to a 1-year term of office are Village President, Village Clerk, Village Treasurer and Village Assessor. Three trustees will be elected for a 2-year term.

Running for office are: President, Frank Russell; Clerk, Artemus Pappas; Treasurer, Mary Ann Pappas; Assessor, Ralph Thayer; Trustee, Willis Kushman, Richard Johnston and James Mahar.

Little excitement has been generated over the election since all candidates are unopposed and all candidates are incumbents.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at the Village Hall.

Appointees

On the recommendation of the Independence Township Recreation Board, the township board appointed Bill Rutherford and Lewis Jewell to the recreation board.

Justin Maculis

Justin A. Maculis, 9286 M-15, Clarkston died February 25. He was 81.

A resident of Clarkston for over 20 years, Mr. Maculis was retired from the Wilson Foundry, Pontiac.

He is survived by his wife, Cassie.

Services will be held on February 27, at 11 a.m., from the Louis Wint Funeral Home. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Mrs. Gail Winship gives Kim and Kevin a ride. Boots trots along. All were out enjoying the Jaycee winter picnic.

Jaycee Lew Wint chauffeurs the snow mobile belonging to Larry Thompson.

Boosters give Scoreboard

Plans, both present and future were discussed at the Clarkston Athletic Boosters meeting on February 10.

It was reported that approximately 110 5th and 6th grade boys and girls are participating in the Saturday athletic program at the high school.

In the program, the boys are taught basketball handling and special games are arranged for the girls.

The club approved the expenditure of $150 to buy trophies for the intra-mural program that is run at the junior high school.

The highlight of the meeting was the presentation of a check for $350 to the Clarkston Schools to cover the cost of a portable, electric baseball scoreboard.

Activities of the future that are now in various stages of completion are the April 5 drawing for a set of golf clubs, which are on display at Ronk's Barber Shop, and an attempt to schedule the Detroit Pistons for an exhibition game again this year.

The primary concern of the membership is to find the means of serving all the Clarkston Schools. They hope to interest parents and friends from all areas and levels and to make them understand that the club's aims are not confined to the high school.

but to all Clarkston area children.

They encourage the participation of anyone who would enjoy the fellowship and team spirit that can be accomplished by working together toward mutual goals. Those present enjoyed movies of the 1968 World Series baseball game.

The club meets regularly on the second Monday of every month. The location of the future meetings will be announced in the Clarkston News at a later date.

Demolay Installs

Clarkston sinks Kettering, Granger hits 37 in losing effort

By Kirk Phillips
It isn't every season the Wolves' mentor, Bud McGrath, beats Joe Dudy's squad twice in one year, but the Kettering hex is over for another year.

The last time a hex was over Kettering was when Dom Mauti was cage coach. He beat them by 20 in '63 thus ending their 18 game winning streak and downed Kettering, 54 to 52, for the district championship, at Grand Blanc that season.

Yes, Kettering has fallen twice to Clarkston, 70 to 54, and 55 to 52. Maybe Clarkston can knock off the Captains in district play and even the series at 5-5.

The 1st quarter saw the Wolves taking a 16 to 9 lead when coach McGrath threw up a Johnny Wooden press that killed the Captains on the floor play of Hardy and Keyser. John Craven triggered the assault with 7 big points.

Kettering's young junior, Rick Collona, brought the Captains from the deficit by hitting 13 points in the 1st half and didn't pick up one personal foul.

The 3rd quarter Kettering came out and cut the deficit to two. Johnny Craven picked up a basket and Collona fouled Brown who made 2 charity tosses. This shot the margin up to 4 and that was it until the last quarter. Collona picked up his fourth personal and coach put in Mark Goodman. He responded by getting 7 points in the last stanza, keeping Kettering in the game. Ross Evans, the redhead, who picked up 19 the first meeting, was held to 3 points.

Evans fouled out and this hampered Kettering's floor play. Collona and an old friend of ours, Dave Powell, picked up four fouls each. Collona picked up his fifth foul leaving the rebounding duties to Gratz and Powell, but the combination of Eric Hood and Chuck Granger were too much!

Chuck Granger got hot in the fourth and responded with 8 big points, and ended the game with 13. Craven had 3 pressure free throws in the fourth.

Clarkston's overall play was too much, Sorry Joe!

John Craven picked up 19 for the winners and Chuck Granger dumped in 14. Collona was high for the Captains with 15 and Goodman and Powell had ten each.

There was plenty of excitement when Clarkston Junior Varsity dumped the Captains in double overtime by a score of 63 to 61. Ted Karbonick had the hot hand along with Richardson and Prasil. Ted hit the big basket putting the Wolves in the lead.

I was impressed by the floor play of Curry and Hux, also, with Larry Walker's 13 rebounds and six points. Rick Prasil was high with 23. Ted Karbonick 15 and Kurt Richardson 11.

Milford defeated Clarkston by a score of 58 to 42. Rick Prasil was high with 12 points.

Congratulations are in order for Fred Seyler who took a first at Ann Arbor's federation track meet. His time was 4:44.5 for the one mile.

MILFORD GAME
Doug Powers, Bob Clinard, Dave Baker, and Tom Knowles had the hot hands for Milford as the Redskins downed Clarkston, 71 to 67.

Clarkston had just about everything going for them in the first few minutes as Milford's star, Powers, had picked up his 3rd personal with only 5:27 gone in the first quarter. Clarkston had a quick 5 to 2 lead. Then Milford settled down to take a 15 to 8 first stanza lead on the shooting of Powers

How new coach sees football's place in school

In his letter of application for the head football coaching position at Clarkston High School, Paul E. Rakow expressed his thoughts on football in its relationship to a high school educational program.

This newspaper is reprinting it to give a better insight on the new coach:

"As for my philosophy of the sport, I feel that football can be a very important part of the overall educational program of the school.

"The game can carry with it a tremendous amount of spirit, togetherness, and pride in the school itself. The football program can help the students be stimulated in their educational adventures; but it should not dominate nor dictate the students' program.

"The football program is an important phase of the school, but the school cannot revolve around the football program."

and Baker.
As the second quarter started it looked like Milford was going to blow Clarkston right out of the gym! It was Clinard's turn to get into the act as he had four straight free throws from the stripe. Again turnovers hit and the Redskins went into the dressing room with a lead of 35 to 23.

In the 3rd quarter Clarkston narrowed the gap to five on the shooting of Brown and Hardy. Chuck Granger blistered the nets at a torrid pace. Several defensive mistakes helped the Redskins get the lead back to nine, when Clinard and Knowles had quick buckets.

Again it was cat and mouse the rest of the way as the 3rd quarter came to an end. Milford led, 52 to 47. When the 4th quarter started, Clarkston was playing foxy basketball. Clarkston had a big break when Dave Baker fouled out with 4:37 remaining.

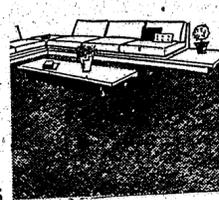

Old lady luck wasn't on Clarkston's side. The closest Clarkston could get was 4, and they dropped a 71 to 67 decision into the hands of Dave Torrance's Milford Redskins.

Chuck Granger played the best game of his varsity career by hitting 37 points. He had 11 field goals and he was great from the charity stripe by hitting 15 out of 16 shots! Teammates Brown and Hood had 10 each. Bob Clinard had 24 for Milford followed by Doug Powers' 23 and Dave Baker's 18.

This week Clarkston closes league play at the field house with Brighton. In next week's column, tourney predictions and all league selections.

Dress code presented

Clarkston and Pontiac Central High Schools held an exchange day Wednesday. Sponsored by Student Council, the exchange day brought forth many reactions ranging from disappointment to delight, by the participants.

Any student who wished to go on the exchange day filled out an application telling why they wished to do so. Thirty students were chosen for the program; 15 acted as hosts while the other 15 traveled to Pontiac Central.

Liberalization of Clarkston High School's dress code is a project recently undertaken by Student Council. The dress code committee proposes that students be allowed to wear: pant suits, bermudas in the summer, wool slacks and bellbottoms. Cut-offs and jeans would be prohibited.

The following reasons were given for allowing students to wear slacks: warmth for students who walk to school in the winter; coolness in the summer; decency within the school; and a greater enjoyment of school.

The committee hopes that the administration will permit a trial run of the program to see if it works. If school work or behavior declined in any way, the program would be discontinued.

Out of 70 students taking the Michigan Mathematics Prize Competition test, Don Mayo was the only one who qualified to take part II of the test. To be eligible for part II a student must rank in the top 4%.

Don ranked well above this with a score of 20, putting him in the 99th percentile. Don took part II of the test on January 8, but the results are not yet known. The scores from both parts of the test will be combined and the highest scorers will receive scholarships of approximately $5,000.

Spartan's Store in Pontiac is the destination of retail and sales students on March 3. First and second hour retailing classes will help Spartan employees take inventory of stock. Dennis Horriagan, retailing teacher, believes this will give his classes good, practical experience in the field of retailing.

SECTION TWO THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., Feb. 27, 1969 5

For the last four years, Mr. and Mrs. James Desmond have converted the lot next to their Warbler street home into a gathering spot for ice skating enthusiasts. With the help of neighbors, the ice pond is usually ready for the winter holiday vacations. The low lying extra lot is well lit, with a warming bonfire often adding to the comfort. Shown in this late season scene last Friday night were: (Seated, left to right), Tom Jones, Chris Desmond, Karen Neff, Cindy Steele, Steve and Jerry Curry. Standing are Susan Desmond, left, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Desmond.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Moore of Eastlawn avenue, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Lynn, to Corporal Ronald D. Burrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Burrill of Plum drive, Clarkston. Corporal Burrill is now on a tour of duty in Vietnam.

Save a life with coupons

Send your coupons to save a life. That's what Clarkston Jaycees Auxiliary is asking local homemakers to do. Every Betty Crocker coupon mailed to the Jaycees will help to amass the necessary 600,000 total to buy a lifesaving machine for some Michigan victim of kidney disease, said local chairman, Mrs. Richard Johnston, of 6260 Middle Lake Rd. She is appealing to coupon-conscious shoppers to mail to her their Betty Crocker coupons from General Mills products like flour, cereal, mixes, snacks, instant potatoes—items on most grocery lists. If the gigantic total is collected within 18 months, General Mills has agreed to reimburse Michigan Jaycees approximately $3,000 to pay the cost of an artificial kidney, under a special merchandise plan. Purchase of a kidney machine was made a state-wide Jaycee project this year, with Jaycees assisting. The 170 auxiliaries across the state started the coupon drive in December. According to the Michigan Kidney Foundation, 60 Michigan residents were receiving lifesaving treatment on kidney machines as of September 1968—11 of them on their own machines at home. Coupons also can be sent to Kidney Foundation Headquarters, 3378 Washtenaw Ave., Ann Arbor, 48104.

granddaughter on January 26th. The first child for the Bush couple was named Patty, and weighed 6 lbs. and one-half ounce at birth.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parker were overwhelmed with kindness and consideration shown them, by friends and neighbors, at the close of their last day as owners of the Clarkston Cafe. Both expressed their thanks and appreciation for the flowers and gifts they received at the surprise dinner in their honor.

Arriving at Pontiac General Hospital on February 13th, was Andrea Renee Stellmach. Weighing 7 lbs., 12 oz., Andrea is the first daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stellmach, who live on Waldon road, and the first sister to sixteen-month-old Shane. Clarkston grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stellmach, with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kelley, great-grandparents. Out of town grandparents from Garden, Michigan are Mrs. Harley LaButte and William Ward, Sr.

Age was no barrier in the fun shared recently by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haeusler, of Hillside Drive, and two of their young neighbors. The guests of the Haeuslers were Ann Bickerstaff and Kathy Skaggs, with the occasion the sharing of a visit to the Flower Show in Detroit. Following the Flower Show, the young ladies were treated by the Haeuslers to lunch, before beginning a drive through the tunnel to Canada, where the foursome enjoyed viewing the Detroit skyline.

Out of town visitors at the James Chipman home on South Main recently was the Chipmans' son, Jim, and his family. The junior Chipman family, which includes his wife, Julie, and their four sons, Jeff, John, James and Joe, had driven to Clarkston from Mansfield, Ohio for the weekend.

St. Daniel's Altar Society will host an Open House reception this Sunday, March 2, from 1-4 p.m. The reception will be held in honor of the church's new pastor, Father Ecklin. It will also give the parishioners an opportunity to renew friendships lost through the winter months. Children are welcome to attend the reception, which will be held at Saint Daniel's Mission on North Holcomb.

On February 27th, Rick Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carter, of Church street, will celebrate his fourth birthday. However, twelve children have received their invitations for the 26th. The reason for the party set up is because Thursday, the 27th, is Rick's night to swim, or be part of a group that is learning at the Y. Hope both party and swim are a splashing success.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Bush, formerly of Clarkston, now living in Belding, presented Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hall of 6049 Sunnydale, with a new Newcomers to the Clarkston area, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Rivard and their four young children. New home preparations on Winell street have just about been completed, with bag and baggage due in this week. While Mrs. Rivard tackles the unpacking jobs, her daughters, Mary Ann, 14; Debbie, 13; and Diane, 8 will set out to meet their new teachers and classmates. This will leave sixteen-month-old Michael at home to help. The title of Mr. will automatically be turned in each day as Mr. Rivard reports for work at the Pontiac State Police post.

Kutting Korners

For so many of us that are on diets, here is a treat we can eat with a clear conscience. Low-Calorie Pear Coffeecake (other fruit can be used) 1 pound can low-calorie pears 1 egg 1 package (13 3/4 oz) hot roll mix Grated peel of 1 lemon 1/4 cup low-calorie raspberry jam

Drain pears. Reserve 3/4 cup of syrup. Beat egg; remove 1 tablespoon for glazing top of cake. Heat pear syrup to lukewarm. Add yeast from package of mix. Stir until dissolved. Stir in lemon peel and remaining beaten egg. Beat in flour from package of mix. Turn out dough on lightly floured cutting board; knead until smooth and elastic. Place dough in greased bowl; cover; let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down dough; knead again; cut into 16 pieces. Flatten each piece of dough into a 3-inch round. Spread rounds thinly with some jam. Top with piece of pear. Wrap dough around pear enclosing it completely; pinch edges together. Place seam side down in lightly greased 9-inch square pan. Place balls of dough close together in pan. Let rise until double in bulk. Gently brush top with reserved egg which has been mixed with 1 tablespoon of water. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 to 45 minutes or until richly browned on top. Cool in pan 5 minutes; unmold. Turn right side up; serve warm. Makes 16 servings.

How about a list of things one can do with little magnets:

Stick a couple on the bottom of your vacuum cleaner. They will catch pins and tacks so they don't go into the bag. Glue one to the underside of a kitchen shelf; then stick a thumbtack into the eraser of a pencil. Place the tack on the magnet and it will hold the pencil in a handy, out of the way place.

Glue one to the end of a long stick. Use it to pick up pins and needles when you sew.

Use one to hold recipe cards on a metal surface, close, but out of spatter range.

Make a bulletin board out of your refrigerator door.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Skarritt, Jr., of 43 E. Washington, Clarkston, announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice Karen, to Michael Vaughn Groat, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde R. Groat, 3740 Clintonville Rd., Waterford Township. The wedding date has been set for June 21.

Lenten program at Calvary

This year Calvary Lutheran Church will schedule four special Lenten programs, rather than have successive weekly services. On Ash Wednesday Holy Communion Service was held.

On March 16, the film "Martin Luther" will be shown, and Fr. Lawrence Kaiser of Our Lady of the Lakes Church will be present to help lead discussion on reform and penitence in the church today.

On April 3, "Holy Thursday," a communion service patterned after the Jewish Seder Feast will be used, explaining the connection between the Passover Meal and the Last Supper.

Sunday evening the second in the series of programs will be presented. The evening will start with a color motion picture on the theme of Lent, at 7:00 p.m. Following that will be a period for discussion, and Bible study.

Lent is usually a time of prayer and fasting, a season of preparation for the joyous celebration of Easter. But, it can also be a time for learning, a time for renewed interest in the faith, and a time for personal growth and development.

This year Calvary Church encourages all its members to grow in their faith by communing, by studying and praying about the Passion of Jesus Christ, and by participating in acts designed to reveal anew the inner meaning of Lent and Easter.

First Aid Classes Scheduled

Two different American Red Cross first aid courses are scheduled to begin the first week of March at the organization's Chapter House, 153 E. Elizabeth, Detroit.

Standard First Aid, a course open to young people 14 years and over, will begin Wednesday, March 5, and will continue for the next four consecutive Wednesdays, through April 2. Instructor will be Anna Szyndak.

Advanced First Aid, for persons 15 years and over holding currently active Standard First Aid cards, begins Monday, March 3 and continues for the next seven consecutive Mondays, through April 21. Instructors are Joseph and Rose Habersack.

Class time for both courses is 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Additional information may be obtained by calling 961-3900, extension 255.

Real Comfort

GAS HEAT

COZY is the word for our house since the boss installed gas heat. It's so reliable — always there when you need it. And for a speedy warm-up, there's nothing like gas heat. It circulates heat so fast, the whole house is warm in minutes. It's fresh air heat too. A gas heating system actually cleans the air as it heats. Economical? Of course — that's what gas is famous for. Remember, COZY is the word. Why don't you get the latest word on gas heat and be COZY too?

"If It Fitz . . ."

There's something about a girl

By Jim Fitzgerald

You'll be reading them later, but I'm typing these words on Valentine's Day. Which should be excuse enough for explaining why I open the car door for my wife.

The modern woman wants equal rights. Someone left the kitchen door open and Mabel ran out and got elected Mayor. She's wearing trousers and smoking cigars and posing for booze ads. She still won't do any heavy lifting, but otherwise Mabel insists she can do George's job and she expects George's salary.

More power to Mabel. I can think of no good reason why she should be discriminated against because of her sex. If she can haul the freight, get out of her way and pay her the going rate when she delivers. If George doesn't like it, maybe he'd like to go home and try needlepoint.

"So OK," says George, "but if that's the way she wants it, she can race me for the last seat on the bus and I hope she trips. She can take her hat off in the elevator and she can light her own cigaret. And if she gives me a hard time about it, I may punch her in the nose."

That's what George says. Not me. Maybe it's because I didn't marry a Mabel, but I don't think so. No matter how many corporations Mabel might control, no matter how masculine her achievements, she will always get my respect for simply being female.

Mabel can do something George can't. She can have a baby. Sure, she needs some help from George to get started, but then she takes over exclusively for 9 long months. George was in on the deal for the fun and games. Mabel gets the pain and the discomfort and the trips to the doctor.

This has been very much on my mind the past few weeks. The population experts say no couple should bring more than 2 children into this crowded world. Certainly, parents over 40 have no business producing their 4th child. But there we were, my Pat and I, surprised but excited — and increasingly hopeful as she entered her 4th month. It didn't work out.

A miscarriage is no great deal and I am not writing this in search of sympathy. Every time I visited Pat in the hospital I saw dozens of people whose luck is immeasurably worse than ours. I thank God for my good fortune.

And I also thank Him for my wife. She was in the hospital 6 times in 3 weeks. I lost count of the visits to the doctor — gosh, I even lost count of the doctors. She had bad pain and constant worry. She lived on the edge of a cliff. And all I did was stand around and hope she didn't fall off.

When it was finally all over, and Pat returned home from her last stay in the hospital, her 2 youngest children were in school. But they had left their greetings behind. Eddie had hung a big "Welcome Home Mom" sign. Chrissie had baked a 2 layer cake with an appropriate message lettered on the top. Love notes were tucked wherever Mom might find them.

And, I discovered later, an unopened package of maternity clothes had been thoughtfully hidden in the back of a distant closet.

I have always claimed that our children love their mother best because she plays Monopoly and Crazy 8's with them. (I would rather hang by my eyelashes). But the real reason may well be that they appreciate what mothers do for their kids. Twice in 3 years they have watched her suffer through unsuccessful pregnancies and come back home smiling.

In 18 years of column writing I have almost made a profession of razzing my wife. At the same time, I stuck needles in all females. And I will probably be back at it next week. No matter how many kids Mabel might have, she can still be a goofy broad. However, this is my week for being sweet.

So George hadn't better tell me I shouldn't open doors for my wife. I don't do it because she can't open them herself. I do it because she is something special.

She is a girl.

Too late with too little

by Jean Sura

Timing is important! I'm a loser! My timing is off. My metabolism is snarled.

At the grocery store there is nobody in line when I arrive. By the time I pick up a loaf of bread they are lined up in as formidable an array as the Berlin Wall.

At the gas station the one car ahead of me needs not only a complete motor overhaul but air in all 5 tires.

At the library, the book I've waited months to read is always lost just as it gets to be my turn.

At the drawing for a "ski week in Europe", I hold the ticket that they draw out just before the "big winner".

The clerk that I have waited for, is either called to the phone or announces that it is her lunch time.

The day after I order a new chair they advertise a year-end clearance, on all merchandise.

All this I can tolerate. It's part of the game. But these other things make me resentful.

When I was a kid, little girls all wore great, long, "sausage-like" curls. My hair was as straight as string. I wore a buster-brown job.

Little girls were supposed to be sweet, soft and pretty. I was a tom-boy.

I took up smoking. They discovered that it caused cancer.

I stopped smoking. I got fat.

When I was skinny, food held no appeal.

When I was fat it was another color of horse.

When I was over 40 I got a yellow convertible. It was 20 years late.

If I hit the green on a par three golf hole, my drive usually stops on the little round circle where the pin used to be.

Again, on the golf course, I can follow some "neo Palmer" men around for 17 holes. Despite the hold-up I can be playing under my handicap. When they finally wave me through, I blow it. The ball goes about three yards.

When skiing, you can bet that any long breakdown of the chair-lift will happen when I'm swinging half-way up, and the wind is doing about 90 per, down my neck.

But the most cruel blow of all is the fact that years ago, women were stylish and desirable if they were flat chested and short. Today, of course, the reverse is true.

Wouldn't you know it? I'm short too.

Honors list at C.M.U.

A total of 1,343 students, 3 from Clarkston, have been named to the scholastic honors list for the 1969 fall semester at Central Michigan University. To be eligible for the scholastic honors list, a student must have a cumulative average of "B" or better for his entire college career.

Included on the fall semester honors list are students from 79 Michigan counties, nine states other than Michigan and two foreign countries.

The 3 students from Clarkston are: Kathleen S. Dearmond, 5380 Sushabaw St., a senior; Linda Kay Heath, 6654 Pear St., a sophomore; and Nancy J. Weiss, 42 N. Main St., a freshman.

The 1,343 students named to the scholastic honors list were among 11,500 enrolled at the University for the fall semester which ended Jan. 24, 1969.

Sea Scouts launch sale

The Sea Scouts from Ship 194 are launching a candy sale on March 1.

The proceeds will be used to outfit the Ship's boat. They will buy cleats, halyards, sheet lines and other fittings. They will offer a variety of candy for sale.

The boys have been contacting "old sailors" and asking them to donate old navy uniforms.

Anyone having equipment he would like to contribute can call Mr. Redwood at 625-1561.

Monday night, March 6, the Clarkston Rotary Club will be host to the farmers in this community. Government certificates will be awarded all farmers who have produced Food for Freedom.

Last Friday afternoon the Porritt Dairy at Randall Beach on Orion Road was destroyed by fire which is said to have started from the heating plant. The fire departments from Independence Township, the Scripps Farm, and Lake Orion hurried to the scene but their efforts to save the dairy were in vain.

At the Citizens' Caucus held at the Council rooms on Monday night the following officers were nominated: President, H.W. Huttenlocher; Village Clerk, David Stewart; Village Treasurer, Mary Baldwin; Trustees for 2 years, Roy Gundry, R.C. Ainsley and William Dunston; and Assessor, F.E. Davies.

Garnet Poulton returned to his home in Clarkston on Wednesday after a short visit with Pvt. Jack Hodges who is studying at the University in Stillwater, Oklahoma.

Per diem basis

Village hires consultant

Billie S. Farnum Associates has been hired by Clarkston as financial consultant on the village's sewer project.

The Council made the decision Monday night after considerable discussion. On a motion by Councilman Willis Kushman and the support of Jim Mahar, the Council unanimously agreed to support Farnum.

He will be hired on an hourly basis as opposed to a contract for the entire program. His first job will be to look over the proposed contract with the county.

This contract binds the village to allow the county Department of Public Works to sell bonds to pay for sewer construction. Construction of the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor has been started in some 5 points along the route from Independence to Rochester.

The village goal is to have local construction ready when the Interceptor and township lines are finished in the summer of 1970.

Farnum will also look over the contract between Kieft Engineering and the village. Howard Kieft has already been given verbal approval by the council to proceed with sewer engineering. About half of this work has been done.

Farnum and Associates will also check into whatever state and federal funds might be available to the village for sewers.

Billie Farnum Associates, municipal consultants, have offices at 7135 Hatchery Road, Pontiac.

In other business Monday night the Council asked village attorney Jack Banycky to look over the various sewer contracts.

World Day of Prayer

Five area churches will hold a joint World Day of Prayer. Services will be held at the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church on Maybee Road, on March 7 at 1:00 p.m.

Nursery facilities will be available and refreshments will be served.

The theme this year will be "Growing together in Christ". The speaker will be Mrs. Samuel Jones.

Mrs. Jones is a social worker associated with the Dort-Oak Park Community House and is a counselor at the Emmanuel Junior High School in Flint.

The soloist will be Connie Grubaugh.

The five churches participating are; Calvary Lutheran; Clarkston United Methodist; St. Daniel's Catholic Mission; Church of the Resurrection; and the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church.

Digital plotter

It's drawing survey lines

By Jim Sherman

Most things are beyond my comprehension. Included in these are computers, pole vaulting over 17 feet, alternators, and even magnets. Then last week I was exposed to a digital plotter.

This is a thing that draws plot plans. Consulting Engineers Johnson and Anderson of Waterford have such a machine. When the Independence Township Board was invited to J&A's Dixie Highway office to asked to come along.

Among numerous other units of government, Independence and Oxford have this firm do engineering for them.

J&A's digital plotter does the work of about 2½ draftsmen, and if it gets the right information, and it almost always does, it is neat, sharp and lasting. Now this machine is too slow and they have ordered a new plotter that is 5 times faster.

This Calcomp 563 digital plotter is operated through an IBM machine that I couldn't begin to describe. Punched cards are put in the IBM, it asks questions, gives instructions to the operator in writing, and sorts the cards.

With questions answered the digital plotter begins. Paper in the machine is on rolls with springs like a window shade. It rolls back and forth through IBM instruction.

You may have to look at an accompanying picture to get the idea, but the plotter draws with an ink-filled needle. The needle jumps up and down in milli-seconds on electrical impulses and makes a solid line.

The day we were there, Cherrylawn, a street in the subdivision east of Clarkston, was on the machine. This digital plotter first drew the curb lines. Then the lot lines, surveyor lines, house and building locations, marked off the surveyor lines at 100 ft. intervals and showed manhole locations for the sewer program.

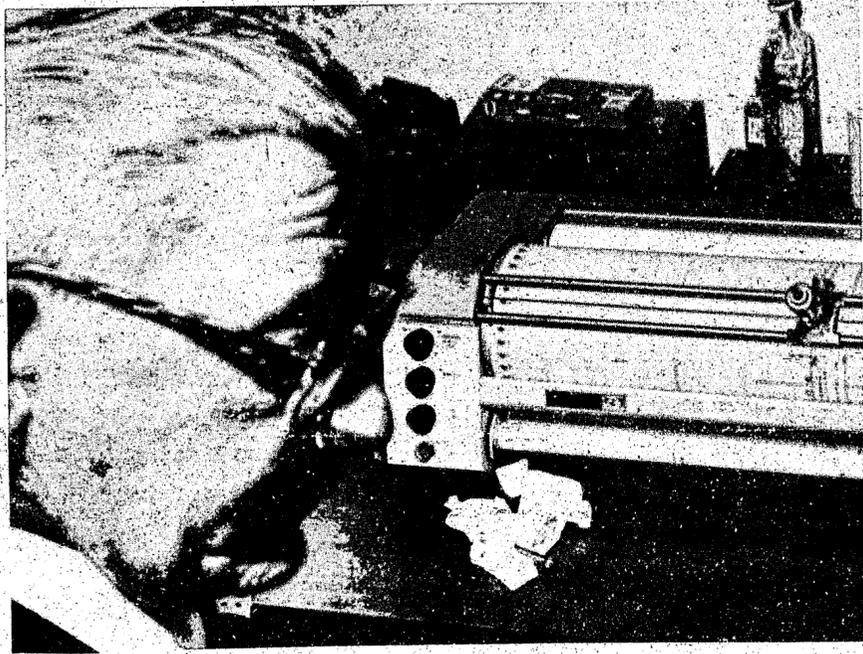

Then it started drawing trees. Two kinds: Coniferous and deciduous.

Then this digital plotter gets into my trade. It prints words. Whatever words are in the IBM cards that are to go with a plot plan are printed on the drawing.

I also learned that many surveyors today use tape recorders for descriptions instead of writing them down. Tape recorders are also beyond my comprehension.

Drawing and printing with a digital plotter.

Ken Johnson, Independence Township treasurer, observes the Calcomp 563 digital plotter at Johnson and Anderson's office.

Just about everything but the name and shape of the state has been changed on the 1969 edition of the Official Michigan Highway Map, the State Highway Commission said today.

The new map, now available for distribution, has been entirely redrawn, making it neater and easier to read. Red grid lines keyed to the borders have been added, making it easier to find cities listed in the index.

Bordering states and Canada appear in one color, calling more attention to Michigan, and county roads appear in gray instead of black, calling more attention to the state highways.

The reverse side also has a new look with the most helpful change being the addition of color to the city insert maps. This makes them more meaningful, especially for motorists who want to know where the cities leave off and the suburbs begin.

The Commission is printing 1.3 million copies of the map, an increase of 300,000. The additional maps will be distributed to potential Michigan vacationers through facilities of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Most of the remaining maps will be distributed in response to mail and

A total of 28 students received diplomas as graduates of the Oakland Community College Practical Nurse Center, Feb. 2 in the Oakland County Supervisors Auditorium.

Rosemary Camarda, 7860 Perry Lake Rd. and Bonnie Karrick, 5481 Columbia, Clarkston, were among the graduates.

This is the third class to be graduated since OCC assumed responsibility for the program in September, 1967.

The graduates of the one-year, state-approved training program obtained their clinical experience at Pontiac General, Crittenton (Rochester) and St. Joseph's Mercy Hospitals, Lourdes Nursing Home, and the Oakland County Sanatorium.

Walter J. Fightmaster, OCC Executive Director of Community Services, presided at the graduation.

In 1966, Mr. Lionel Lloyd and two of his 6th grade students started a coin club. Today, the club numbers over 30.

Club activities consist of weekly meetings, guest speakers, trips to coin shows and "swap days."

Swap day, last Thursday, was a relaxed, but dignified checking of coin values in catalogs and consequent trading or bartering among the members.

Coins are kept in regular folders, shoe boxes, pill bottles or pockets.

The club provides experiences in many school related fields, particularly in mathematics and history.

Most of the members are looking forward to attending the Annual Exhibition of the Pontiac Coin Club which will be held at the Metropolitan Club, at 37 West Yale St., Pontiac on Sunday, March 2, from 10 to 6 p.m.

The exhibition is open to the public.

Crash fatal on I-75

Bernard P. Halm, 22, of Kirtland, Ohio was killed on February 22, at 2:15 a.m. on I-75 near Clarkston. Witnesses told deputies the car the victim was driving northbound had passed them at a high rate of speed.

Helm's car went off the road. The man was pronounced dead at the scene, deputies said.

Two other cars crashed at the scene of the first accident. Apparent cause of the second crash was confusion caused by the ambulance arriving on the scene from the southbound direction, deputies reported.

Drivers involved in the second crash were Willard G. Burdick Jr., 20, of Fenton and Harold E. Burger of Highland Park. Burger was treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released. Burdick was unhurt.

Deputies said the driver of the ambulance, Cliff Titus, 23, of Mount Morris, had crossed the median from the southbound lane and was approaching the original accident at the time of the second crash.

Another accident occurred at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday the 22, at Dixie Highway and Foster.

Viola Pohl, 7099 Felix, Clarkston had slowed down, with blinkers going, to make a turn onto Foster.

Mason Chase, 27, of Detroit, approaching from over a hill, was unable to stop. Deputies said there was indication of his traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

Chase and his passenger, Mary Tilman, 44, were taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

An open house reception will officially welcome the new pastor of St. Daniel's Mission, this Sunday from 1-4. Father Echlin, left, will be at the Mission, as an assistant to Father Delaney. Extending a private welcome last Sunday were the Tom Rademacher family. To Father Echlin's left is Mrs. and Mr. Tom Rademacher, their neighbor, Mary Townsend. Front row includes Cathrene, Ann Dorise, Patricia, Teresa and Carolyn Rademacher.

Opera plans disclosed

"Overture to Opera, sponsored in area communities by the North Oakland and Pontiac Opera Committees, will be followed this year by a champagne 'Afterglow,'" said Mrs. Frank Lambert, Clarkston area Committee member.

Now in its eighth season, Overture to Opera is presenting "Der Jasager" (The Yes-Sayer) by Kurt Weill (two scenes) and the one-act comic opera "Il Campanello" (The Night Bell) March 10 and 11 at Pontiac Northern High School.

The evening performance, open to the public, slated for Monday, March 10, at 8 p.m., will be followed by the party to be held in the Pontiac Creative Arts Center, Williams street at West Lawrence.

Some 3,000 students from the outlying areas and Pontiac will be attending the daytime performances set for 10 a.m. Monday and Tuesday and 1 p.m. Tuesday, through the courtesy of Pontiac Schools Music department, headed by George Putnam.

Handling ticket sales and arrangements for the various events are Mrs. Ralph Curtis, Oxford, general chairman of the North Oakland Opera Committee; Mrs. Raymond Baber, Jr., Lake Orion; Mrs. Eugene Albright, Rochester; Mrs. Vern Severson, Rochester, general ticket chairman; Mrs. Jane Coleman, Lapeer; Mrs. Frank Lambert, Clarkston; Mrs.

Kenneth W. Cunningham, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. E. L. Windeler, Sr., Waterford Township; Mrs. J. L. Walters, Troy; and Mrs. Stephen DuBrul, Lake Orion.

Overture to Opera has grown from an educational preview of the Metropolitan Opera's season in Detroit to the mounting of complete operatic productions. General director Dr. David DiChiera describes Overture to Opera's purposes as threefold: to acquaint metropolitan area residents of all ages with opera; to give regional professional talent an opportunity to perform in professional company; and to introduce works that would not otherwise be heard in the area.

Overture to Opera is presented under the auspices of the Detroit Grand Opera Association together with Oakland University and the University Center for Adult Education.

Keep busy

The Independence Township Fire Department were called to extinguish 5 grass fires February 21 and 22.

Most of the fires were started by small brush fires that got out of hand. 40 acres of land at 9085 Reese Road were burned over and required a return call.

Clarkston home burglarized

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Roteman, 6617 Shelley, Clarkston, was burglarized on February 19. "About $1,000 worth of household items were stolen," reported Mrs. Roteman to sheriff's deputies.

The son of the Rotemans discovered, on his return from school, that the door between the house and garage was open. He immediately phoned to his mother who reported it to the sheriff's office.

Entry had been made by cutting a hole in a window in the garage with a glass cutter. After unsuccessfully trying to remove the door leading into the house, the door had been kicked open. A window had also been removed from the basement.

Youth injured

Patrick Tilley, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Tilley of Transparent drive, was struck by a car on February 18. He was walking home from school on Waldon road. He was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital where his injuries were diagnosed as a broken hip and a slight concussion. He will remain in the hospital from 4 to 6 weeks.

When the Independence Township board leased the annex building to the District Court several groups had to find new quarters to meet. The township offered rooms in the hall, but these were not adequate for all.

One of the deposed groups that needs more room is the Civil Air Patrol. Before they had room to store equipment, instruct and drill. Now they don't. Last week they asked the board to allow them to use the unused space at the fire hall at Sashabaw and Orion roads. The firemen and board said no because of the expensive equipment in the building.

There are 36 cadets in the Clarkston squadron and 6 senior members. The type of training involved takes space. They have tried the Legion, Eagles and others, but can't find suitable facilities. Clifford Moore and other CAP members keep on looking.

Supervisor Duane Hursfall said the township "hopes to have a new hall early this spring and in time we'll be changing the building at Sashabaw and Orion roads. We'll keep working with you (CAP) and you can use this building most of the time."

The CAP meets 50 times a year.

"Measle" film

The Clarkston Rotary will have as its program on March 3, a film, "End Measles Sunday", which is from the recent program in the Detroit area.

The film will be narrated by Ernest Smits, a local Clarkstonite, who helped develop the program.

He represents the Pitman-Moore Division of the Dow Chemical Company.

Clarkston Rotary meets every Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Howe's Lanes.

Outside it could be cold on the shady side of the house, colder on the windy side, warmest on the sunny side. But inside—with modern electric heat—you can be cozy and comfortable, all through the house. That's how it is with electric heat. Electric heat is the cleanest, quietest, most comfortable heat you can get.

And that's not all. The operating cost is guaranteed. For full details, just call Edison or an Edison-Approved Electric Heat Contractor.

So get electric heat. It's ever-ready, always comfortable. It's the even-tempered heat. EDISON

Electric heat... the even-tempered heat.

"Be Imitators of God as very dear children..." Eph. 5:1
"I tell you, whoever does not accept the kingdom of God like a child will never enter it." Mk 10:15

God says: I like youngsters. I want people to be like them. I don't like old people unless they are still children. I want only children in My Kingdom; this has been decreed from the beginning of time. Youngsters — twisted; humped; wrinkled white-bearded — all kinds of youngsters, but youngsters. There is no changing it; it has been decided. There is room for no one else.

I like little children because my image has not yet been dulled in them. They have not blotched my likeness. So, when I gently lean over them, I recognize myself in them. I like them because they are still growing, they are still improving. They are on the road, they are on their way. But with grown-ups there is nothing to expect anymore. They will no longer grow, no longer improve. They have come to a full stop. It is disastrous—grown-ups thinking they have arrived.

I like youngsters because they are still struggling, because they are still sinning. Not because they sin, you understand, but because they know that they sin, and they say so, and they try not to sin anymore. But I don't like grown-ups. They never harm anyone; they have nothing to reproach themselves for. I can't forgive them; I have nothing to forgive. It is a pity, it is indeed a pity, because it is not true.

—from "Prayers," by Michel Quoist, pp. 3-4
