VOLUME 39 10 CENTS CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN 48016

THURSDAY, MARCH 20, 1969 3 SECTIONS NUMBER 29

Interesting people
all around

Chizuko Nishimura, Art teacher at Clarkston Junior High School, displays some papier-mache mirrors that were made by her students.

Cizuko Nishimura is a big name for a tiny girl. So it is only natural that she is called "Chinko" by her friends.

Miss Nishimura, as she is known to her art students at Clarkston Junior High School, pronounces her name with a soft, musical quality. She politely and smilingly shrugs at your clumsy attempt to repeat it. It is as though for many years she has listened to people making the attempt, unsuccessfully.

Cizuko Nishimura was born in Fukuoko on the island of Kyushu. Kyushu is the most southern island of Japan. Her father died in the service of his country.

When she was 13, her mother married an American soldier. The family was transferred to an army base in Germany. It was here that Cizuko attended high school at the dependents' school for children of men in the armed forces.

Learning the English language was extremely difficult because her step-father spoke Japanese and so it was easy to retain the habit of conversing in her native tongue.

After graduation from high school, the family settled in Saginaw, Michigan, where they are now living. Delta Junior College was a convenient place to start college. Upon completion of two years "Chinko" transferred to Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo where, after 2 years, she was graduated with a degree in Art Education.

Her first teaching assignment was right here in Clarkston.

"My greatest difficulty," she said, "is the fact that I had worked with students of college level. Junior high students are more interested in two dimensional art than in drawing, design and color, which leads to art skills and art appreciation."

Projects in the room, the orderliness of her classes, the respect and admiration of her students proves that "Chinko" has overcome the handicap of small stature and gentleness of nature.

"Chinko" shares an apartment with three other teachers. She designs and sews many of her clothes, enjoys ice skating and trips to Detroit for shopping and theatres.

The short distance to Saginaw makes it possible to spend many weekends with her mother, dad and two sisters.

This summer Cizuko is planning to start work on her Masters Degree.

"I hope, someday, to go back to Japan and see all the places I remember so well," she adds.

Cizuko Nishimura, a shy, gentle young woman, reminds one of a Japanese work or art. There are wonderful, interesting people all around us.

Girls wear slacks

Trial test eases code

The administration of the Clarkston High School, with the approval of the Board of Education, has announced a two-week trial period during which time the girls will be permitted to wear dress slacks to class.

The trial period, which began March 17, and will end March 28, will be used to measure the advisability of making a change in the present dress code, which prohibits this type of clothing.

The request for the change was brought to the administration by "Probe," a student committee from the Student Council.

The administration appointed a committee of five students and five faculty members to make a further study of the matter.

"In making our committee selections," said Mr. Milford Mason, high school principal, "we attempted to find a well rounded group that would represent the whole school population."

Representing the students were: Trudy Beall, Mark Cowen, Karen

MacDougall, Al Watson and Pam White. The faculty members of the committee were: Carol Arseneau, Barbara Gibson, William Hartwell, Kathy Pierson and Larry Rosso.

After studying the situation the committee recommended to the administration that the girls be given an opportunity to prove that they were mature enough to handle a modified dress code.

The girls will not be permitted to wear levis, stretch slacks, excessively tight slacks or bermudas.

On March 31, the teacher-student committee will meet again to evaluate the success or failure of the test and decide what their recommendations will be.

Grass fires raze fields

35 grass fires gave the Independence Township Fire Department little time to be idle last week. Of the 35 calls, 30 were grass fires.

Almost every grass fire was started by burning trash which got out of control.

The grass and undergrowth is extremely dry and with the last spark can become a conflagration, which the wind whips into an inferno.

"It is the time of year to exercise extreme precautions," said the fire fighters, "to avoid needless loss of property and possessions."

Board opposes Parochial

The Board of Education of Oakland Schools voted unanimous opposition to any legislation that would finance non-public schools from public funds.

Herbert P. Sillman, president of the intermediate district board, stated at the Tuesday board meeting, that public education is presently underfinanced.

"If new sources of revenue are developed," he said, "they are already desperately needed for the public schools."

14 Win

Tops in regional

Clarkston High School Industrial Arts students returned home from the regional Industrial Arts competition with victories in 10 of the 12 areas of competition.

The tests were held at Central Michigan University on March 8.

Taking top honors and first in their field were: Gary Klann, Architectural; Terry Bunton, Pictorial Illustration; Dave Paulson and Gilbert Wright, Advanced Electronics; Gerald Clifton and Wade Cleffman, Power Technology; and Greg Pierce, Soft Materials.

These first place winners will return to Central Michigan on March 29 for the State finals. These competitions will include 1st place winners from regional contests held at Western, Northern, Eastern and Central Michigan Universities.

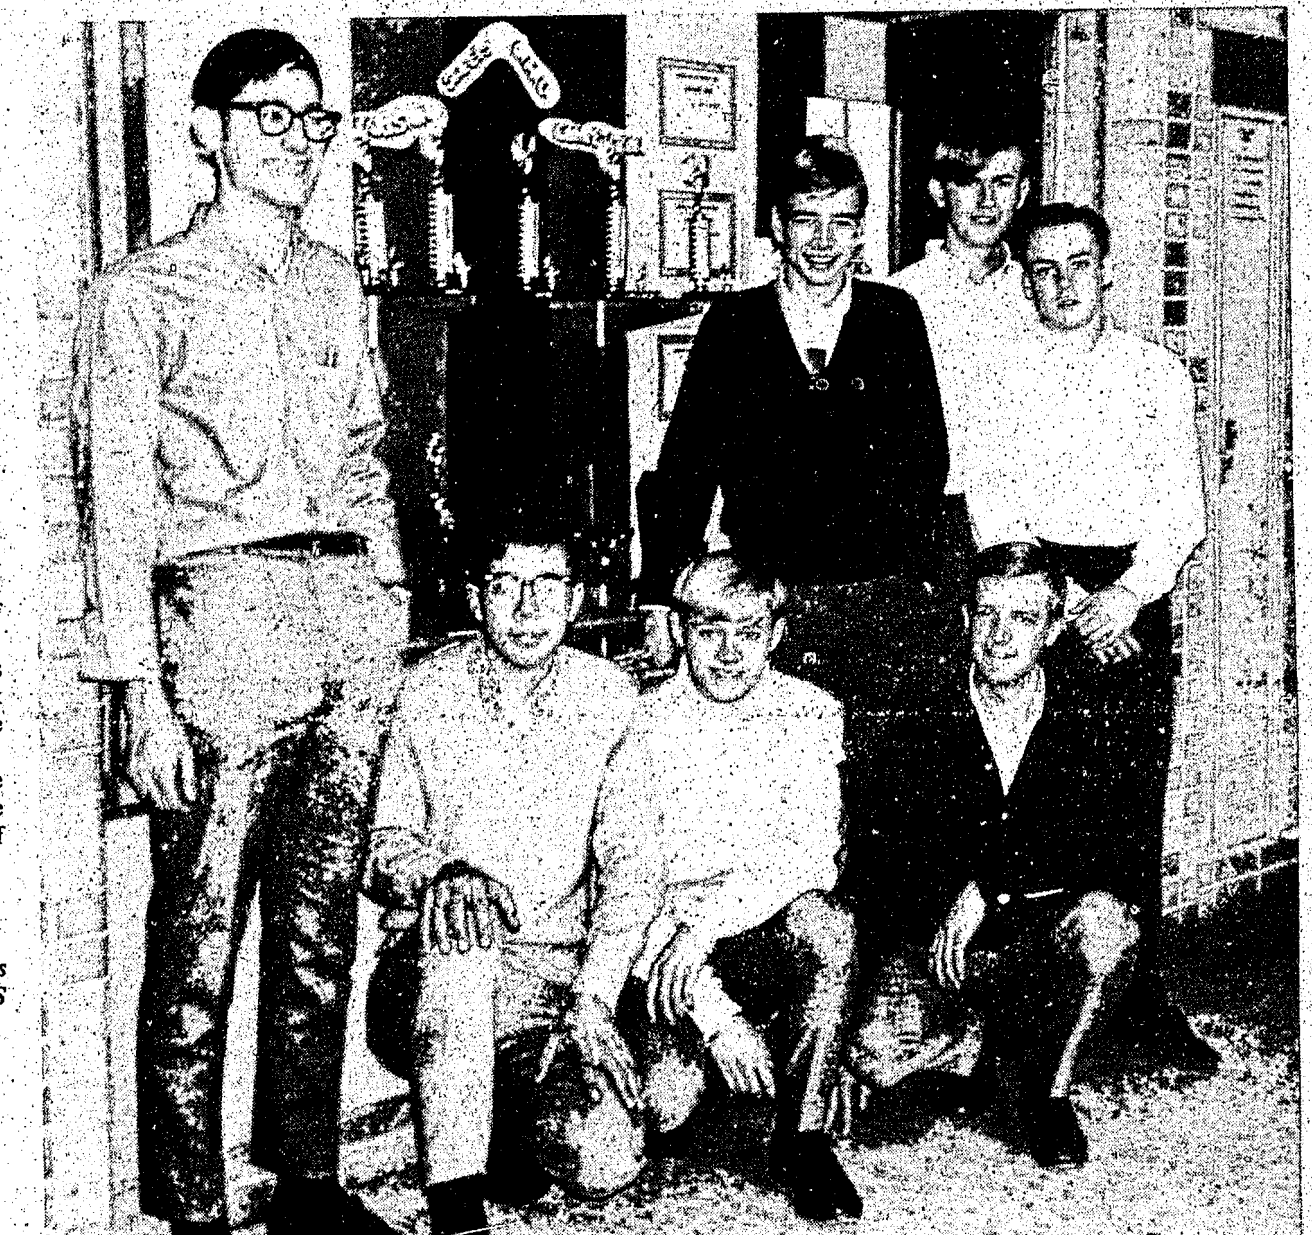

Second place winners were: Mike Packer, Mechanical Drawing I; Kirk Stalker, Mechanisms; Mike Stitt and Ron Gallegly, Product Design; Jim Blehm, Soft Materials II; Dave Thorpe and Dave Kerton, Automotive Service.

There were 18 students and 6 instructors who went to Central.

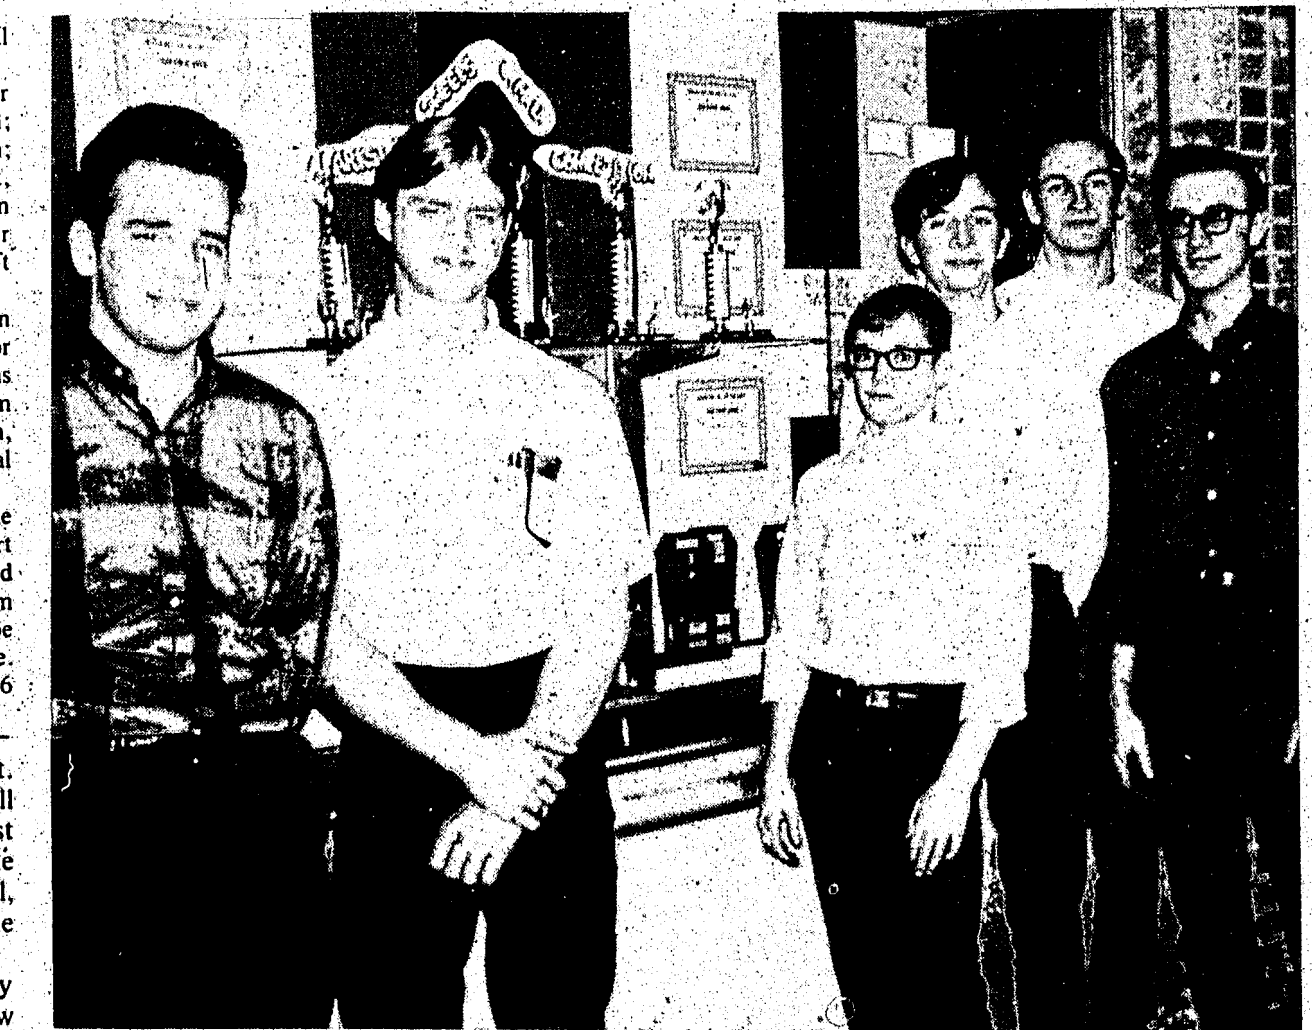

said I had the wrong department. The last suggested I call Huntsville, Alabama. The first thought that hit me was the expense, so I said to the gal, "Never mind. I'll just print the rumors."

Hardly had the words left my mouth and this gal said, "How would it be if I had them call you?" They did, and I'm sorry about that. I'd rather have printed the rumors.

Jim's Jottings

In this day of hippies and yuppies, long hair and beards go together. It helps to identify the he's from the she's. It's a pretty good bet that the kids would somehow know, anyway, but it does help the older folks.

Rebelling from the conventional is a way of life with the beatniks. They don't like society. They don't like to comply. Each reserves the right to be an individualist, untamed and totally free from ANY standards of behavior or dress. That's why they try so hard to look alike and act alike. That's why they subscribe like sheep to the "no hope no soap" doctrine.

But what about the beards sported by a few "individualists" in the toupee and denture set? What are THEY trying to prove or hide?

Perhaps their psychiatrists might correlate certain types of hang-ups with particular types of beards. Would the shy, little Walter Mitty sort be liable to feature a double pointed pirate beard? Would the pink, long-laughed-at fat fellow be inclined to favor a debonair, continental Van Dyke?

Would precisely squared and crisply trimmed facial foliage suggest a lifetime of yearning to be a Banana Republic dictator? Or would it imply a Savior complex with a benign tolerance of earthbound creatures?

Could the head shrinkers find evidence of a repressed urge for piracy in a shaggy crescent of matted, bushy whiskers? Or might the beard affectation be intended as proof of virility and contradiction of mincing gait? Some beards may be intended as visual proof of professional learnedness.

Below the kids' beards, grease-spotted jackets can be expected as standard uniform. Above the gray beards, shining pates are almost as common as the paunches below.

Generally, the elderly bearded ones are fairly harmless unless aroused from their delusions of grandeur. As youngsters, they may have envied the cap and sweater crowd. Maybe, a few years back, they defied their peers by doffing jaunty berets. Now, they are manifesting their individuality again by imitating the kids. Generally these kids, no matter how old, are harmless generally.

Our own hang-up is Tyrolean hats and double breasted sport coats so we can be identified with the "In crowd".

A few weeks ago when I was trying to get the story on the Army engineers testing soil in Addison township I made a long distance call to their headquarters in Detroit.

I was connected with 3 different offices, all of whom

obituaries

Kimberlee Clarkson

Kimberlee Ann Clarkson, of 3668 Lorena Dr., Waterford, died on March 15, after a long illness. She was one year old. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome J. Clarkson.

Surviving, beside her parents, are her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. White and Mr. and Mrs. James Clarkson, both of Waterford Township. Her great-grandparents also survive. They are Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Spuehler of Waterford, Mr. and Mrs. LaVern White of California and Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Clarkson of Ferndale. Services were held from the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home on March 17 with burial in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston. Masonic Services were held on March 16.

Mrs. Tressel

Mrs. Robert D. Tressel, 4277 Meyers, Independence Township, died March 16. She was 44.

Surviving besides her husband are two daughters, Susan K. and Mrs. Frances Irland, both at home; six sons, Robert D. Jr., with the Navy; Gary J. with the Air Force; Richard L. of Pontiac and William C., Mark L. and Michael L., all at home; three brothers and five grandchildren.

Requiem Mass was held at St. Benedict's Catholic Church, Waterford Township on March 18. Burial was in Ottawa Park Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home.

Frank Waid

Frank Waid, 6635 Walters Rd., died March 13 after a long illness. He was 73.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Waid, he married the former Wilda Flaher in 1921 in Randolph, Indiana. A member of the First Methodist Church, he was retired from the Fisher Body Co. He was a member of Cedar Lodge No. 60 F&AM, Clarkston, and World War I Barracks No. 2803, Davisburg.

Surviving besides his wife, are his daughter, Mrs. Roy Galligan, 2 sons, Robert and John, 14 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

He is also survived by 2 sisters and 2 brothers.

Services were held from the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home on March 17 with burial in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston.

Masonic Services were held on March 16.

Girl Scouts need books & marbles

The Clarkston Neighborhood Girl Scout meeting, held in the Community Center March 13, was the scene of much activity. A critique was held on the "Thinking Day" program presented in the Junior High on February 20, honoring the founders of Girl Scouting, Lord Baden Powell and Juliette Gordon Lowe.

Plans for the forthcoming Mother-Daughter Banquet were presented by Mrs. Geukes, the general chairman.

Of special interest to the individual troops was the interesting display in Leeta's window, showing dolls dressed in Brownie and Junior uniforms.

Girl Scout cookies are available, this week only, through girls in your area.

The Senior Girl Scouts sponsored an International Day held at the Pontiac Central Methodist Church. The neighborhood was represented by an open invitation to all Junior and Cadette Scouts. Many Brownies, wearing foreign uniforms, received special recognition. Foreign foods, prepared by the Seniors, were featured at the various booths.

Troop 880 is starting a new service project and needs the help of the community to complete it. The children of Fairlawn Children's Center need hard-covered books. Especially, books for ages 5-14 are needed. The Scouts also need marbles to fill the bags they are making for the boys of scrap upholstery, material that has been donated to the troop. Any contributions will be welcomed by Mrs. Brooke Bennett and Mrs. W. G. Temple, Troop 880's leaders.

Mystery and intrigue will be brought to the stage of the Little Theater on March 28, 29 and 30, in the dramatization of "Mouse Trap," a mystery thriller by Agatha Christie. Shown above are four of the eight Clarkston Village Players who were selected for the cast. Seated is Pat Thomas. Standing are Ron Lunday, Linda Mitchell and Keith Conklin. Other members of the cast are Jim Tyrrell, Pete Rose, Barb Tyrrell and Vince Luzi. Tickets may be obtained at

Seek hunting ban

The Natural Resources Commission Friday will act on a request to tentatively prohibit hunting in parts of Commerce and Independence townships.

The commission will hold its informal session at 1:30 p.m. Thursday and will start acting on agenda items Friday at 9:30 a.m. Both meetings will be in Lansing's Jack Tarr Hotel.

Recommendations to the commission from the state Hunting Area Control Committee request the following closures:

I N D E P E N D E N C E TOWNSHIP—Prohibit hunting ducks and geese on Walters Lake (Sections 12, 13 and 14.)

Halt hunting with firearms in parts of Sections 20, 29 and 30 bounded on the east by Ortonville road (M-15), on the south by Dixie highway, on the west and north by White Lake road.

The same restriction would apply for parts of Sections 29, 31, 32 all of 33 and part of 34, bounded on the east by Sashabaw road, on the south by the township line, on the west and north by Andersonville road from the southwest corner of Section 31 to the intersection with Parkview road; Parkview and Lingor roads to Dixie highway, then to Maybee road and east to Sashabaw.

Shooting ranges will be permitted with township approval.

The Hunting Area Control Committee held public hearings in both townships at the request of the respective township boards.

Committee members also investigated the areas under question.

Should the Natural Resources Commission approve the recommendations, the measures will then be placed before the Commerce and Independence boards for concurrence.

If the township boards agree, then the recommendations go back to the commission for final approval. Should the townships object, it is doubtful if any additional action would be taken this year.

Parts of Orion and Oxford townships were closed under this procedure last year and a move is being made for a control committee hearing in Addison Township around Lakeville Lake.

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—All of Section 7, the SW¼ and W¼ of the SE¼ of Section 6, and that part of Section 8 lying west of the Detroit Edison power line.

Also, parts of Section 9, 10, 15 and 16 bounded on the east by South Commerce road, on the south and west by Oakley Park, Benstein and Blass Lake roads, and on the north by Sleeth and Commerce roads.

State lands in the above areas will remain open for hunting as will any shooting ranges approved by the township board.

Also up for commission approval is a request from the DNR parks division that park permits be required in the Bald Mountain recreation south of Greenshield road.

Winter sports awards given

Clarkston High School held its Winter Banquet on Tuesday, March 18. A potluck dinner was served at 6:30 p.m., after which all athletes and their parents went to rooms that had been assigned to the various sports.

The coaches then presented the athletes with their awards of the year. Some "happenings" of the year were noted: They were:

Varsity Basketball beat Kettering twice; wrestling team broke all individual records; 9th basketball won Brighton Invitational Tournament; most points in one game against J.V. basketball—61; C.H.S. acquired new wrestling mat; Jr. Varsity basketball beat West Bloomfield twice; Jr. Varsity Wrestling record, 8 wins, 2 losses; 9th basketball won 12, lost 3; all wrestlers were underclassmen (back in '69-'70); Varsity basketball held Clarenceville to 35 points; wrestling team best dual record 9 wins, 4 losses. Special basketball awards were made.

Most valuable player: Chuck Granger

Most Improved: Rich Porritt
Team Captain: Jeff Keyser
Dom Mauti award: Rich Porritt

Awards were presented to: Varsity cheerleaders by Coach Sonia Letcher

Cindy Ford, Pam Gerber, Nanette Giles, Jan Norberg, Carla Dutcher, Sue Griffiths, Lynn Norberg, Alternate and Kathy Caldwell, Manager.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders by Coach Dorian Larsen.

Annette Dengate, Val LePere, Laurie MacGregor, Cindy Porritt, Gail Ragatz, Linda Slade, Karen MacDougall, Alternate and Jane Richard, Manager.

Girls Varsity basketball by coach Janet Modesitt.

Ruth Addis, Ann Chad, Janet Cobb, Maud Elliot, Debbie Goyette, Sue Griffiths, Jody Hawke, Carol Humbert, Cathy Kizer, Mollie Lynch, Debbie Peters, Jane Richard, Rania

Trim, Lynn Norberg, Cindy Swick, Manager.

Varsity basketball by coach Bud McGrath.

Varsity skiing awards were presented by coaches Jim Johnston and Howard Webster.

Girls: Debbie Fife, Kris Johnson, Denise Meyers, Sue Schumde, Nita Wheeler. Boys: Bill Conrad, Gary Harvey, Craig Hutchins, Jim Kluesner, Vern Sturdy, Chuck Wheeler.

CLASS A

Detroit Mumford vs. Detroit Southwestern

Mumford has come up with some close victories and with big Marvin Taylor their luck should continue.

Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills vs. Flint Northwestern

Have you read the book "Agony of Defeat?" Well, Northwestern upset powerful Flint Central, so they were spared the "agony of defeat." But, against Grand Rapids, Flint Northwestern will be another chapter in the success story for Ottawa Hills.

Ypsilanti vs. East Lansing

Ypsilanti has been playing on borrowed time—Ypsi has been rated No. 1 all year—it won't even be close. East Lansing will be playing in their back yard come Friday.

Mt. Clemens vs. Northeastern

We have another Detroit city league team in Northeastern—Northeastern is a year away—Mt. Clemens in a surprisingly easy win.

My pick for Class A champ has to be East Lansing. They lost to Ypsi by one point in December, since then they have gone undefeated and should remain the same.

Webster.

Girls: Nadine Blackett, Linda Bradley, Denise Jadwin, Sandy Johnson, Debbie Molter, Casey Smith, Margaret Steele. Boys: Kirt Hart, Frank Hoskins, Jeff Ollila, Bob Radoye, Marc Waterbury.

Wrestling, Varsity, by coaches Max Inman and Richard Moscovic.

Wrestling, Junior Varsity, by coaches Max Inman and Richard Moscovic.

Jim Arrowsmith, Mark Witherup, Keith Dutcher, Brad Funk, Joe Lessard, Mark Stapleton, Mark Willis.

Awards were presented to managers, Tudor ApMadoc, Richard Ogg and Mike Richardson.

CLASS B

Menominee vs. Oscoda
It took Menominee 5 overtime periods to beat Gladstone—Menominee will do it in regulation time over Oscoda.

West Bloomfield vs. Bay City All Saints

Bay City has had an all-stater in Dick Heintskill, but West Bloomfield has five boys that can play defense and defense is the name of the game.

Holland Christian vs. Kalamazoo Hackett

Holland has beaten some giants on their way to quarter final action and with the coach of the year, Art Tuqs on their side, there will be no racket in Hackett.

River Rouge vs. Holt

I understand Holt has a good team, too bad they have to play River Rouge.

West Bloomfield vs. my sentimental pick, but who can deny River Rouge?

Oh, Lofton Greene, where do all those players come from?

CLASS C

Shepard vs. Houghton
Houghton beat a very good St. Ignace team and this U.P. team will show Shepard why.

Grosse Pte. St. Paul vs. Flint St. Michael

St. Paul is steeped in tournament tradition and Flint St. Michael will find out the hard way.

White Pigeon vs. Brooklyn C.C.

Brooklyn was a magic name for the Dodgers, but all the magic in the world won't be enough to stop White Pigeon.

Saginaw St. Stephens vs. Manistee Catholic

Saginaw lost by only two points last year in the state finals—they have the same team back—goodbye, Manistee.

Saginaw St. Stephens has to be everybody's choice—but watch out for Houghton.

CLASS D

Menidon vs. Webberville
Mendon has a pretty sounding name, but you don't win games with nice names. Webberville survived a tough regional against some good names like "Detroit All Saints—WEBBERVILLE—"

Detour vs. Marquette Baraga

There is a jingle that goes like this—"Detour, there's a muddy road ahead, Detour,"—however, Marquette will be doing all the slipping and sliding. Detour by six.

Detroit-St. Martin vs. Saginaw St. Mary

Hal Schram of the Free Press has been raving about St. Martin all year. He also thought Detroit Holy Redeemer in B and Detroit Deparres in C would win. He should be able to pick one of three.

Mt. Pleasant Sacred Heart vs. Frankfort

Mt. Pleasant has won many tournament games in Class C—they made a big mistake by taking on the D squads—Frankfort.

All Detroit is picking and hoping for Detroit St. Martin—all the U.P. people are picking Detour and we have to go with those U.P. good folks.

Faculty play-off grudge match

The faculty of the Clarkston Junior and Senior High Schools will meet for a rematch-basketball game, on Tuesday, March 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the Senior High School gym.

The game is hotly contested. In the original game the Junior High teachers won by the close score of 65 to 62. The Senior High players intend to get revenge.

Admission to the game is 50 cents. All proceeds will be divided between the Senior High Student Government and the Junior High Athletic Department.

This is one guarantee that holds water.

It's the guarantee that goes along with every approved electric water heater. And it says you'll get all the hot water you need of you get back the purchase price plus installation costs. You have a full year to make up your mind about it, too.

And should you need it, Edison gives you No-Charge Repair Service. No charge for electrical operating parts and labor.

Call Edison, your plumber or appliance dealer, and start enjoying constant hot water with a new electric water heater. We're sure you'll never have any cause to use its watertight guarantee.

Unless you use it for a paper cup. EDISON

Around the Town

A little of everything

By Rusty Leaf

Give yourself a dozen roses and keep those news items coming in. It really helps when a little walk or talk turns into a tip or tidbit of news.

***

Heaven only knows what kind of weather will be greeting Mrs. Sharon Bonner and her four-year-old son, Brett, on their return to Clarkston after a two-week visit in St. Petersburg, Florida. Mrs. Bonner and her son made the trip to the sunny south for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dawley.

The occasion of Mrs. R. N. McCord's 75th birthday called for the opening up of the Community Center dining rooms for the flow of well wishers. The party was given for Mrs. McCord by her two daughters, Mrs. Jack Preston and Mrs. Bob Immel of Pontiac. Children and grandchildren shared in the serving of a potluck dinner. The guest of honor, Mrs. McCord, wore the pale blue dress and corsage she had received as a birthday gift from her daughters. Thirty-eight guests, from various parts of Michigan, arrived for the March 2nd celebration.

Tuesday, March 11, found nine members of the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club in the heart of Detroit, at an interesting place called the Interiors-International. Located in the Detroit Trade Center Building, the co-ordinated interior decorating ideas are available only to licensed decorators. The club's acceptance was made possible by the membership of Mrs. Jerome Wilford, who holds this distinction. Over luncheon in the Center, the club members were able to exchange plans before returning home to put their newly-acquired ideas to work.

It was happy sixth birthday for Chris Dawley on March 11, as nine of his little friends were invited to drop in at the Dawleys' home on Dale Court to help him celebrate. Chris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dawley.

Given crayons and poster board, members of the Wednesday Night Dance Club met the challenge of caricature portraiture, with their reward coming in the form of clever interpretations of the pictures by Dr. John Naz. Befitting prizes were awarded to each couple for their artistic endeavors. The evening's entertainment followed the serving of a delicious potluck dinner, for which the club has long been noted. One of the outstanding centerpieces, titled The Fair Maiden's Castle, was constructed by the Naz's nine-year-old daughter, Juliet.

Mrs. Helen Rossano missed being present for the arrival of her first grandchild by only a day. Scheduled to leave her home on North Main on Friday, March 7th, Mrs. Rossano had expected to be in Muskegon in time for the arrival of her daughter Katie's first baby. Instead, she received a long distance call on the 6th announcing the arrival. The trip to Muskegon the following day confirmed the call, and indeed, a 6 lb., 10 oz. baby boy, named Andrew Michael, had been added to the family of Mr. and Mrs. Michael DeVette.

At 2:15 a.m. on March 12th, Georgia Kay Woolston made her 6 lb., 7 oz. worldly debut. Joining her seven-year-old sister, Diana and five-year-old brother, Tommy, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Woolston was born in Toledo, where her parents are now residing. Mrs. Woolston is the former Georgia King Robinson. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Charley Robinson of Clarkston.

Application available

Applications are being accepted for a three-year technician training program sponsored by the Michigan Department of State Highways, it was announced today.

The program open to 100 students, includes on-the-job training and classroom study. Students will work for six months beginning in July on various Highway Department jobs and then attend one of four schools for six months.

They will be paid from $216 to $240 every two weeks while working, but will not receive compensation while attending school. Graduates will receive associate of applied science degrees.

High school graduates, including those of next June, up to and including 40 years of age, are eligible to apply. Acceptance will be based on examinations. Applications can be obtained from county clerks, the Michigan Employment Security Commission, the Michigan Civil Service Commission, all Highway Department offices, or by writing the Department of State Highways, Personnel Division, Post Office Drawer K, Lansing, Michigan.

Class for diabetics

A series of five classes on Diabetes will be held Tuesday afternoon from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Oakland County Department of Health, 1200 North Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, Michigan. They will begin April 1, 1969.

The classes are sponsored by the Oakland County Health Department and will be taught by Mrs. Kay Claus, Nutritionist, and a Public Health Nurse.

The topics that will be discussed include the nature of the disease, dietary management, medications and suggestions for coping with everyday problems.

The classes are free. Pre-registration can be done by calling the Health Department at 332-9255, extension 48.

A written statement from the doctor is all that is required for attending and can be presented at the first meeting.

Fatalities high in Oakland

There were 14 traffic fatalities in Oakland County in February, as compared to eight for the same month last year, the Traffic Improvement Association of Oakland County (TIA) reported.

This brought the cumulative death count for the first two months of 1969 to 33, as compared to 19 for the same period a year ago.

A SPIRITUAL Message

By Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe

"Afterward he sent his son to them, saying, 'They will respect my son.' But when the tenants saw the son, they said to themselves, 'This is the heir, come, let us kill him and have his inheritance.' And they took him and cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him." St. Matthew 21: 37-39

Christ seldom minced words. His parables were about as subtle as a sledge-hammer. In the twenty-first chapter of Matthew, we read what He had to say about the plans of the chief priests where He was concerned.

He told them openly that He knew of their hatred for Him, and their plots to get rid of Him, by murder if necessary. The religious fanatics were described as tenants in a master's vineyard; tenants who wanted the whole operation for themselves. So they schemed among themselves on ways to take the plantation over.

But meanwhile, the owner was doing a little scheming of his own. He tried sending messengers and servants out to the tenants, warning them of their greed and its results.

But they returned beaten, stoned, and abused. So as a final gesture he sent his own son, saying "Surely they will listen to him." But the result was even worse: they killed him. So he replaced all those evil men with new tenants.

Tenants like us. Because we are one generation in a long line of people to whom God has entrusted His Son. It is our turn now to watch over God's interests, and help bring in the fruits of this earthly vineyard.

What sort of tenants are we? Are we the kind that think only of the moment, of personal gain, and material holdings? Or are we the type that accept God's trust in good faith, and try to administer His business as efficiently as we know how?

Closing the generation gap

In the depression years of the early and middle 1930s, a college education was a privilege, often reserved for those with the stamina to work and go to school at the same time. It is exceedingly difficult for people of that generation to view with a great deal of tolerance, the riots and vandalism that are making a shambles of college campuses today—a condition that seems to go along with the assumption that higher education is an inalienable right. How inalienable this right remains may depend on the course of inflation.

The cost of going to school is soaring, and education is among all the other fine social goals threatened by the declining value of the dollar. For example in Oregon, the State Board of Higher Education has revised upward the cost estimates of building projects proposed in 1967. Rising construction costs caused the Board to boost its recommended outlay by hundreds of thousands of dollars in the space of one year, and eventually these additional outlays will be reflected in higher tuition fees and other costs of going to college.

Present day affluence may partially explain the generation gap we hear so much about. But, rising costs of inflation may help close that gap as young people begin to learn that a college education is something to be respected, treasured and earned—not taken for granted.

Landfills can only be a stop gap measure

The big thing missing from the 1964 refuse disposal plan and the current plan for Oakland county, is the lack of planning for future disposal.

Sooner or later there has to be a plan of disposing of refuse beyond burying it. We could say, "What happens when all the holes are filled?" The planners would probably come back with, "We'll build mountains!" This was in the 1964 plan.

Is this the best answer planners can come up with? It would seem that some-way scientists could discover a way of making containers that disintegrate or making use of the refuse or disposing of it in some way other than burning and burying.

Plants have been built to make fertilizer of refuse. Nothing has been brought to our attention lately, but we assume there are still experiments going on along this line. There must be other approaches to the problem that haven't been tried. There must be a better way. There has to be a better way eventually than burning and burying.

Attention should be focused on the disposal problem now by all sources, private, state and federal.

Unless a new and different method of refuse disposal is found north Oakland county is destined to be the recipient of incinerated ash or worse from all of southeastern Michigan.

The 2 study plans have pinpointed Oxford and Addison townships as dumping places for the beginning. Alternate plans include Independence township and gravel areas near South Lyons.

However, without a substitute for the landfill plan, no area in north Oakland is immune from receiving refuse from the cities. One criticism of the current plan is that the engineers allowed for too much compaction and not enough fill. If that is true, the areas selected to receive the ash wouldn't last 20 years as the plan calls for.

The immediate answer to what happens when these holes are full is that we move to the next closest holes. That would seem to draw the dump west from the Addison line along the railroad tracks... into gravel territory.

The Independence site isn't rough land now. In every direction from this site on Baldwin the terrain is the same. Thus expansion of landfill site could go in any direction.

And when these holes are filled (some places there are no holes or hills close by to use for cover) where will the dumpers go? Why not Groveland, Holly, Brandon, Springfield, Rose or any other township where open spaces still exist?

Most people say there has to be some place to dump garbage. We say there has to be a better way of disposing of garbage. Landfills can only be a stop gap measure.

Spring fever

by Jean Sura

My mind is as skittish and erratic as a spring kite. It bucks, soars and nose dives. Makes it pretty difficult to get things done in a businesslike way.

See if you can follow my thoughts. I can't remember a spring when the ground was so dry. The grass is like powder when you touch it. Ask our firemen. They have gotten plenty of exercise in the past few weeks. Have you ever been up close when they get the pressure up in the hoses? It is terrifying. They whip around like giant snakes.

When you have a sore throat, which seems to happen every spring, why is it that the pain is too high for coughing and too low for gargling.

I'm anxious to see the sparkle of water in place of the black, rotten, lake ice. It's as dangerous as it looks.

Our road is better than usual. It's just corrugated. Usually, by this time the spring floods have swooped down and eaten huge chuck holes. Picking your way through wouldn't be so bad if you had any assurance that nobody was coming from the other direction.

The two most interesting parts of the trip was what the natives call, the upper and lower rapids. It always entered your mind it might, some day, be come "portage point."

Had to make a big decision last Saturday. Should we golf or ski? Skiing won and it was great. It was sunny and warm. Riding up in the chairlift was like gliding. A rare treat.

I don't know anything about the love life of opossums or skunks but I'd say it's on the upgrade by the number of little carcasses I see. Their mommies didn't teach them to Stop, Look and Listen.

I feel I've been a failure as a parent. Every time spring cleaning time rolls around, I begin to take a jaundiced eye to all the little tidbits of paraphernalia that our kids neglected (on purpose, I am sure) to claim.

We did a pretty good job of marrying them off but I have failed dismally at getting them to claim their junk.

It's spring cleaning time. I've threatened them again. Take it or else. Everything is going out.

I can just see that want ad. For Sale, Authentic cigar store Indian. Scaled to life size. Needs feathers, braids and paint. Made of papier mache. Reasonable.

"If It Fitz..."

I've got a problem, Ann

By Jim Fitzgerald

Dear Ann Landers:

I certainly never thought I'd ever write to you. Then I got married. Since then, I've wanted to drop you a line at least once a week. But I've been too busy. One of the things I've been busy at is reading your column every day.

"Did you read Ann Landers today?" my wife asks me at breakfast. I always know what this means. It means you have again punctured huge holes in the head of some dumb husband who made a twitchy move toward daylight. And my wife is telling me I will benefit from your wise advice because, by an amazing coincidence, I am the same kind of a dummy. These amazing coincidences occur once every weekday and sometimes twice on Sundays.

If I do not read your column by dinner time, I will be reminded again. Have you ever eaten a layer cake with one of your columns between the layers? It is something to chew on.

Listen, Ann, I don't really mean to be critical. You give a lot of stupid answers but this is not all your fault. You are asked a lot of stupid questions. And besides, these complaining women usually don't give you all the facts to work on. Take that woman who was worried because her husband wore her nightgown to bed. You advised her to bundle Dumbo off to the funny farm. Your advice would have been different had you known that Dumbo's wife has somehow lost 63 pairs of his pajamas in the laundry in just 2 years. In Dumbo's pajama drawer there is nothing except her nightgowns and 26 jars of cold cream. Should he wear cold cream to bed?

However, Ann, please do not be discouraged by the nagging of just one dummy husband who can't stomach newsprint in his cake. Yours is a voice that should not be stilled. The world needs someone who deals publicly and intelligently with the important issues of the day. How else would Myrtle Housewife know it is socially acceptable to be slightly rude to a neighbor divorcee who borrows Myrtle's husband to do some plumbing and plumb forgets to return him? Gracious. Remember that divorcee who didn't even return the cups that Dumbo came in?

I'll admit, Ann, the biggest reason I've wanted to write you in the past was to give you heck for loading my wife's gun. But that's not the reason for this letter. The truth is, I've got a problem...

It's my wife. She is a backseat driver when we are not in a car.

This incredible truth struck me when I took the family to the movie in the big city last Sunday. Before sitting down, it is always my task to storm the popcorn counter for sufficient supplies to feed 4 fat faces for 2 hours. I get in line behind the brass rail which separates the spenders from the lookers. The kids get the seats. My wife waits on the other side of the rail, ready to help me carry off the booty. Only she doesn't wait. She leans over the rail and gives me directions.

"Not too much butter," she says. "Don't forget the napkins. Are you sure jumbo sizes are big enough? Not too much salt. The butter is right in front of you. You pay that girl over there. Don't forget your change."

Some movie day, for sure, she is going to fall over that rail. Which brings me to my problem, Ann:

If she does fall, should I put down the popcorn and pick her up? Or should I step over her and deliver the popcorn to my starving children? Please answer quickly, Ann. This popcorn is getting heavy.

Mock election

During the next two weeks Clarkston High School girls will be wearing slacks to school as a result of the school board's approval of a trial period for slacks.

The suggestion was brought up at a school board meeting on March 10 by Mark Cowen and Al Watson, who represented the students in their request for a trial period.

The behavior of the students will be noted during the trial period. If they can act maturely in this type of attire, the school board will consider a permanent dress code revision which will include slacks.

Out of 12 areas of competition, Clarkston placed in 10 categories at the Student Industrial Competition which was held at Central Michigan University last Saturday, March 8.

Students who placed were: 1st-Gary Klann, architectural; 1st-Terry Bunton, pictorial illustration; 1st-Dave Paulson and Gilbert Wright, advanced electronics; 1st-Gerald Clifton and Wade Cleffman, power technology; 1st-Greg Pierce, soft materials; 2nd-Mike Packer, mechanical drawing; 1st-2nd-Kirt Stalker, mechanisms; 2nd-Mike Stitt and Ron Gallegly, product design; 2nd-Jim Blehm, soft materials; 1st-2nd Dave Tharp and Dave Kerton, automotive service.

The first place winners will return to Central Michigan again on March 29, for the state competition.

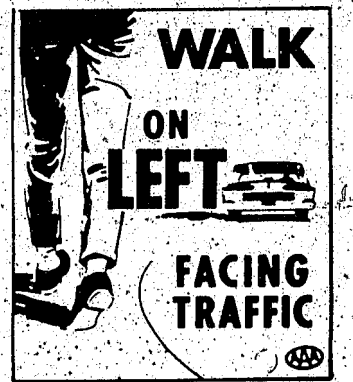

Diane Hoff, a senior at Clarkston, rated an honorable mention in the Scholastic Writing Awards sponsored by the Detroit News. Her entry, "Diane's Entry," "And Then There Was Silence," was originally written for a creative writing class. Under the encouragement of Mrs. Earnest Ellert, her teacher, Diane entered the contest.

Results of the senior class mock elections have been announced. Election winners are as follows:

- Prettiest Hair: Mike Duncan and Pat Stutzman.
- Prettiest Eyes: Bill Anderson and Cindy Brewer.
- Prettiest Smile: Craig Hutchins, Jim Navarre and Cindy Ford.
- Best Personality: Mark Cowen, Craig Hutchins and Vikki Hall.
- Best Dressed: Craig Hutchins and Terri MacDougall.
- Best Dancers: Bill Wertman and Gail Cowling.
- Best Figure: Sharie Kosiba
- Best Build: Craig Hutchins.

- Most Mannerly: Mark Cowen, Vikki Hall and Linda Sanshue.
- Most Athletic: Rich Porritt and Ruth Addis.
- Most Academic: Mark Cowen and Lynn Race.
- Most Likely to Succeed: Mark Cowen and Lynn Race.
- Class Couple: Dan Cizudar and Barb Cozadd.
- Class Flirt: Pat Galligan and Terri MacDougall.
- Class Clown: Tom Burke and Gail Cowling.
- Class Brownie: Mark Cowen and Jill Sansom.

Benjamin Doty

Seaman Apprentice Benjamin L. Doty, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Doty of 5300 Cecelia Ann, Clarkston, is serving aboard the amphibious assault carrier USS Princeton.

Princeton is currently undergoing a seven-week overhaul in the Long Beach Naval Shipyard.

The ship recently completed its seventeenth combat tour with the U.S. Seventh Fleet off the coast of Vietnam.

While deployed, Princeton functions as a complete military base, with facilities for command, communications and resupply. Its own helicopters on board provide the means of executing the concepts of vertical assault in an amphibious operation.

Princeton also keeps the Marines on the beach supplied after the initial attack, and serves as a primary medical evacuation ship for those wounded in action.

SECTION THREE THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., March 20, 1969 9

Champion spellers, Greg Swanson, left, and runner-up Chris Kuechle show their style. Mr. Gus Birtsas, Jr. High teacher, pronounces the words.

Greg Swanson, Champ

Boys outspell girls

When the contestants drew numbers for the order in which they would receive words to spell, Greg Swanson drew number 1 and Chris Kuechle drew number 2. That is just how the match ended.

Greg Swanson, 13, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ever Swanson, 6260 Waldon Rd., Clarkston, was declared the champion speller of the Clarkston Junior High School when he correctly spelled the word "mortgage." The all-school spelling bee was held on March 12.

Greg earned the privilege of representing the Clarkston Schools in the regional spelling-down which will be held in Rochester.

Runner-up was Chris Kuechle, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Kuechle of 6522 Northview Dr. Chris, whose dad is an assistant principal in the Waterford schools, was eliminated when he tripped on the word "macaroni."

Competing in the spelling bee were the 10 top spellers from the 7th and 8th grades. They were: Carolyn Smith, Chris Kuechle, Sheila Cohoon, Angie Kraud, Bob Whitehead, Cathy Smith,

John Shilling, Keith Lucas, Sherry Potter and Sandra Lund, seventh grade; Mary Butters, Jan Lunday, Craig Moore, Scott Leak, Candy Prater, Janet Johnston, Kyle Brooks, Cindy Wagner, Nancy Kraft, Hilary Bell, Carole Strappe and Greg Swanson, eighth grade. The top ten results were: 1. Greg Swanson; 2. Chris

Kuechle; 3. Candy Prater; 4. Carolyn Smith (7th grade champion); 5. Mary Butters (8th grade champion); 6. Jan Lunday; 7. Kathy Smith; 8. Scott Leak; 9. Hilary Bell and 10. Cindy Rayman.

Mr. Gus Birtsas, teacher of English, made the arrangements for the spell-down. He was assisted by Mrs. Edwin Beattie, counselor.

Season closed for Ski Club

The annual Sports Banquet, which was held at the Clarkston Senior High School on March 18th, officially brought to a close all winter sports for the 1968-69 season. Among those closing the doors were members of the school's Ski Club.

Three afternoons a week had seen the skiing students pack into the school buses, after classes, and head for Mt. Holly. With skis, ski boots and poles pushing their way through the door, (packing sounds like an adept adjective.)

Once on the ski slopes, coaches Jim

Johnston and Howard Webster managed to put the skiers through a rugged pace in a three hour practice.

Meets (held between school teams or individuals) were often held, with stiff rules and regulations keeping the skiers in qualifying or disqualified positions.

On February 22nd the team entered the Detroit News meet, at Mt. Holly, with the boys emerging the 9th place winners, and the girls' team taking the 11th place.

Members of the girls' team were: Denise Meyers, Sue Schienude, Kris Johnson, Denise Judwin, Margaret Steele, Nita Wheeler, Debbie Fife, Debbie Malter, Casey Smith, Nadine Blackett, Linda Bradley and Sandy Johnson.

The boys' team included: Jim Kluesner, Gary Harvey, Craig Hutchins, Vern Sturdy, Jeff Ollila, Zac Bell, Bill Conrad, Chuck Wheeler, Kim Haskins and Kirk Hart.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

by, MARTHA GLAUBER SHAPP, Editor The New Book of Knowledge

Make a Terrarium; Bring Spring Inside

Wouldn't you like to capture some of the loveliness of spring and bring it indoors? You can by making a terrarium.

A terrarium is many things. It is a garden under glass. It is a landscape in miniature. It is a place where plants can be grown all year round. It is a collection of plants that belong to the same plant community and need the same conditions and therefore grow well together.

The Container

Before making a terrarium you should choose a container, because your container will determine the number and sizes of the plants you may have. It may be a small jar or a large fish tank. It may have straight or round sides. You may even make a container by taping panes of glass together.

Arrange your plants so that they look like a forest scene in miniature.

Before preparing your container for planting, you must know what type of terrarium you are going to make, because each group of plants has its own requirements. Glass containers have no holes in the bottom, so you must have a drainage layer for excess water. The drainage layer is made of gravel or sand mixed with bits of broken flower-pot. Pieces of charcoal pressed into this layer will help keep the terrarium fresh. On top of the drainage layer there must be a layer of some type of soil.

Before getting the plants, clean the container and prepare it for planting. Make the drainage layer 1 to 2 inches thick. Add a second layer of 1 to 2 inches of slightly moistened earth and humus.

Woodland Terrarium

It is fun to get into the forest to collect the plants yourself.

You must be sure, however, that you have permission to take plants and that you know which plants may be picked. With a sharp trowel dig around the plants carefully, so that you leave some soil around the roots. Wrap each plant in newspaper to protect it and to keep it moist. Slide a sharp knife underneath the moss, and lift it in sheets.

If you cannot do your own collecting, you may be able to buy woodland plants from a scientific supply house or some florist shops. Your local botanical garden or garden club may be able to tell you where to buy them.

Plant your terrarium soon after you get your plants. Arrange the landscape by making slopes, hills and valleys and by putting the rocks in place. Set your plants lightly where you think they should go. When you are pleased with your landscape, make holes for the plants, insert them carefully, and press the soil firmly around them. Cover the bare spots with moss and press it down firmly. Use a bulb spray to wet the garden well, but don't make it soggy.

Cover the terrarium with a piece of glass. When the temperature in the terrarium rises, the water will evaporate and when the temperature goes down, the water will condense on the glass and run down into the soil. If the glass becomes too cloudy, you may remove the cover for a while to let some of the water evaporate into the outside air. If very little or no water collects on the glass and the plants look dry, spray gently. You will probably not need to do this more than once a month because the plants in the terrarium make their own climate and set up an effective water cycle.

Place the terrarium in a cool place with good light, but not in direct sunshine. A well-established terrarium will take care of itself and give you pleasure for a long time.

Olson discusses Vocational Ed.

Dr. Gary Ushman, program chairman for the Clarkston Rotary, announced today that the program subject for the March 25 meeting will be centered on Oakland County Area Vocational Technical Schools. Herb Olson, who will direct the operation of the Clarkston Center, will discuss the area school concept and how it will affect the northwest Oakland County area. The title of his address will be, "Your Child and Vocational Education."

Regardless, today's method of doing one room at a time and not tearing the whole house apart suits me much better.

If you have any paneled walls—try a solution of oil soap and hot water. Just wring out a piece of old towel and wipe them down. It leaves a nice glossy patina.

And for those of you who want to get started on baking for Easter, here is a fine recipe for Polish "Babka."

EASTER BABKA

- 1/2 cup strong coffee
- 1/2 cup evaporated milk
- 1/2 cup soft butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 4 egg yolks
- 1 package active dry yeast
- 1 cup warm water (105-115 degrees)
- Grated peel, 1 lemon
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/4 teaspoon baking soda
- 4 1/2 to 5 cups flour (approx.)
- 1 cup golden raisins

Topping***

Combine coffee and evaporated milk; heat to scalding point; cool to lukewarm (100 degrees). Cream butter and sugar. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; stir into creamed mixture. Soften yeast in warm water; add with lemon peel, salt and cinnamon. Mix well. Add baking soda to lukewarm coffee mixture; add alternately with flour to make a soft dough. Stir in raisins. Knead on lightly floured board or canvas until dough no longer sticks to hands. Place in well-greased bowl. Turn dough to bring greased side on top. Cover; let rise in warm place (85 degrees) until doubled in size (about 2 hours). Punch down. Grease 12-cup bundt pan thoroughly. Place dough in pan, shaping to fit. Cover; let rise until doubled (about 1 1/2 hours). Brush top with egg yolk mixture (see Topping). Scatter almonds over surface. Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 60 minutes or until cake tester comes out clean and top is deep golden brown (cake should sound hollow when tapped).

*TOPPING

- 1 egg yolk
  - 1 tablespoon water
  - 1/2 cup blanched almonds
- Beat egg slightly with water; brush over surface of babka; scatter almonds over surface.

Don't forget to call or write.

Poison prevention week March 16-22

Although National Poison Prevention Week is being observed throughout the country March 16-22, Safety Councils urge that it be a 52-week observance. Most of the more than a half million accidental poisonings of small children each year could be avoided, by a few simple precautions.

1. Lock up poison! There are many products on the market and found in every home that are harmless if used properly, but potentially deadly if ingested. The list is endless, but would include all medicine (especially aspirin) and all types of cleaning materials (detergents, bleaches, furniture polishes, etc.)

2. Keep products in their original packages! Many small children have died because some adult poured kerosene or household bleach or some other substance into a pop bottle or drinking cup or glass.

3. Dispose of all prescription medicines after the illness for which they were prescribed is over. Not only do medicines lose their potency but they can become deadly poison if taken by a small child.

4. Educate your family to call the Poison Center if poisoning occurs. The Center is located in the Children's Hospital of Michigan. They are prepared at any time—day or night—to give you proper information regarding action to be taken.

A friend called to thank me for the short cut on the mock Hollandaise Sauce. She is from the old school and has always made hers from scratch. She did tell me one thing that I'll pass along to you and that is: If your Hollandaise or Stroganoff curdles, just add a few drops of cream and it will blend together again. In the case of the Stroganoff, if you heat the sour cream a little before adding it to the meat it will prevent separation.

Spring cleaning time is here again. Most women have gotten away from the old fashioned "dirt-letting." I learned my lesson when I was very, very young.

We had worked like two dervishes washing walls, blinds, painting, waxing and scrubbing. By April 1, everything was shining and I was enjoying the fun of easy up-keep and the smug knowledge that my house would pass any test.

I got so carried away that one day when I was frying some bacon I heard the kids outside having some slight altercation, well, it was spring, and while I was outside settling the problem I noticed that the daffodils were poking their heads through. Needless to say, I forgot the bacon.

When I went back in the house there was a layer of greasy smoke that extended from my knees right up to the ceiling.

I don't cry easily! It is one of the times in my life when I thought the only thing to do was pack my valuables in a bandanna, tie it on a stick and run away.

Old Treaties Are Basis for Awards To Indians. WSU Prof. Explains

Half of the State was ceded in the treaties on which today's Indians based their claims for additional payment.

DETROIT When the U.S. Government got a super-bargain that was almost a steal, Uncle Sam has conceded.

Today's descendants of the Michigan tribes who signed the treaties will now receive money their ancestors should have received if prices had been set more fairly in the original deals.

Action by the Indian Claims Commission late in 1968, on two separate claims, has set in motion the machinery which will result in payments totaling $11,769,629 to thousands of Indians now residing in both of Michigan's peninsulas. How what proofs of tribal identity will be required are still to be determined.

"The Indians were indeed shortchanged when they lost these former hunting grounds," says Dr. Philip P. Mason, Wayne State University archivist and professor of history. "The treaties are examples of overzealous bargaining."

Dr. Mason has a special research interest in the Michigan Indians and the treaties involved.

"The Indians' contention that they were pressured by the white men into giving up their lands is well founded," he says. "As it was, many of the Indians who inhabited the land sold under the two treaties were herded together and forcibly marched west to Iowa. Some of them escaped the forced march by simply hiding in the woods."

The first of the treaties, called the Treaty of Chicago, was arranged by Governor Lewis Cass in 1821. Under its terms the Indians, mostly Ottawa living along the Grand River, gave up the land shown in dark cross-hatching on the map. The small white triangle west of the St. Joseph River was acquired by later treaties. For the cross-hatched land, totaling 1,140,740 acres, the federal government paid approximately 16 cents an acre.

The Grand River Ottawa Indians, led by Robert Dominic Petoskey attorney and president of the Northern Michigan Ottawa Association, brought suit against the federal government in the late 1940's for insufficient payment for the land. The award by the Claims Commission last November was for $969,629.

The second case involved Indian land acquired by the Treaty of Washington in 1836. This land, more than 12.3 million acres (light cross-hatching), was inhabited mainly by Ottawa and Chippewa tribes. The Indians were paid 16.4 cents an acre for the land in 1836. The Indian Claims Commission in December 1968 awarded them an additional $10,800,000.

"The acquisition of these two vast areas opened the way for rapid white settlement of Michigan," Dr. Mason points out. "During the 1830's thousands of settlers a week poured into the State. The population jumped from 32,000 in 1830 to 212,267 in 1840 and 341,591 in 1850."

"But the enthusiastic white settler and his government forgot for a long time the Indians and the poor bargain they received. The grants help to rectify their forgetfulness."

What would you do?

You are doing the family wash, and you discover that your two-year-old son has swallowed some bleach. What would you do?

If you know the base of the bleach, you will know if you should induce vomiting. This removes as much of the bleach from the stomach as soon as possible. Call poison-control for your neighborhood with the bleach bottle in hand, so you can talk intelligently about the bleach. Rush son to the nearest hospital emergency room. Learn so that you can act in a cool, intelligent manner. Call your local Red Cross office for information about a first-aid class. 334-3575.

Check for bad valve

Automobiles aren't the only things being recalled by manufacturers. Honeywell is trying to locate one type of residential gas valve manufactured during a 2-month period last year and installed in units sold after July 1, 1968.

The company says the valve may fail to operate properly in case the pilot flame is extinguished.

"Although the possibility of a hazardous condition's developing because of valve failure is extremely remote," a company spokesman said, "Honeywell nonetheless believes the potentially defective part in these valves should be replaced, and is notifying customers to that effect."

The company recommended that persons who have a gas-fired heating unit purchased after July 1, 1968, should check to see whether it contains a Honeywell valve and, if so, contact their heating dealer to arrange for an inspection and replacement of the questionable part if needed.

Pancakes

Cub Scout Pack 134, sponsored by the Sashabaw Presbyterian Church, will have a pancake and sausage supper from 4 to 7 p.m. on Saturday, March 29, 1969 at the Independence Township Hall, 90 N. Main St., Clarkston.

Coffee and milk will be included for the price of $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children under 12.

4H News

The last meeting of the Clarkston Wranglers 4-H Club was March 13 at the American Legion Hall. It was announced that our spaghetti dinner held February 21 was fairly successful, but should have been advertised more.

Our leader, Mrs. Trarop, suggested that we buy the material for our saddle blankets and have a seamstress make them.

As another fund raising project, the club will be selling candy. Also suggested was a horse show. This is a possibility for warmer weather.

There was a suggestion that our club could take an overnight trail ride in Highland Recreation area. We will wait until summer to look into this.

Mrs. Trarop announced that the 4-H horse leaders show will be May 18 at the 4-H Fairgrounds. Our club is sponsoring 4-H horsemanship, 15 to 18.

Another leader, Mr. Auisenberry, suggested that we should build a shelter for the horse-shoer at the 4-H Fair. He will check into this.

Before the meeting ended, Mrs. Trarop read the requirements for the horse notebooks for the first year members.

Parking, stopping and standing will be prohibited soon on U.S.-24 (Telegraph road) between 14 Mile road and U.S.-10 (Square Lake road) south of Pontiac in Oakland County, the Department of State Highways said today.

The Department said the four-lane highway carries an average of 35,000 vehicles daily and that a study, in cooperation with the Department of State Police, showed that parked vehicles create a hazard for through traffic.

The parking prohibition is authorized in a traffic control order signed by Henrik E. Stafseth, state highway director, and Col. Fredrick E. Davids, state police director, and will be enforced as soon as signs are posted.
