CLARKSTON, MICHIGAN 48016

THURSDAY, MAY 15, 1969 3 SECTIONS NUMBER 37

What would you do if you were driving down Snowapple Drive and came upon this little girl who was completely enthralled with her dandelions? Taking her picture seemed like a simple solution. The surprise ending came when it was discovered that she is Missy Winship, whose father is a professional photographer. Her mother gave permission to print the picture saying, "Her dad has been promising for months to take her picture but just never gets to it."

Junior high principals appointed

Mel Vaara, 6556 Northview Drive, was named principal of the Sashabaw Junior High School. Mr. Vaara has been the assistant principal and athletic director of the Clarkston Junior High School.

Gus Birtsas, 43 Robertson, was named assistant principal of the new Junior High, which is scheduled to open in September.

William Potvin will assume the position vacated by Mr. Vaara, that of assistant principal at the Clarkston Junior High.

All three appointments were made by the Clarkston Board of Education at their meeting on May 12.

At the same meeting, the Board approved a tentative budget for the '69-'70 school year as presented by Dr.

Lester Greene, Superintendent of Schools.

The Board, in further action, granted the request of Independence Township for the use of school facilities for the summer recreation program.

Four candidates have returned petitions with the required number of signatures to the office of the Board of Education. The validity of the signatures is now being checked.

The 4 citizens who have presented the petitions to the board are:

Richard Funk, of 6184 Cramlane; Walter Cattin, of 8150 Holcomb; John Nicholson, 6796 Almond Lane; Mrs. William (Ingrid) Smith, 6360 Eastlawn.

"I'm real pleased that we can offer people the opportunity to pay off lateral sewer costs in cash to avoid interest payments and that a variety of ways can be offered for residents to pay for sewers."

This was the statement of Rich Johnston, Clarkston village councilman, who, with Willis Kushman, makes up the sewer committee of the village. Johnston and Kushman have been working with the village's financial consultant, Billie Farnum, attorney Jack Banycky and engineer Howard Kieft.

Farnum, Banycky and the 2 councilmen told the rest of the council Monday night what progress they have made toward sewers since the public information meeting April 21.

Farnum said, "It is best to reduce the sewer debt as much as possible prior to bond sale to lower interest costs." Interest payments over the 30-year life of the bonds would double costs to the village.

Banycky said, "If advance money could be available it would be a great advantage and this course should be pursued."

Farnum had been before the Michigan Finance Commission earlier in the day and reported they have no policy against a capital or debt service charge against property not developed.

"The village council can levy 5 mills to retire the debt for capacity costs," Farnum said, "which would bring about $17,000 a year. This millage is a tax deductible item to residents."

The suggestion was made that when costs are known, residents be given a deadline on which they could make the cash payments.

The 5 mills cannot be levied, Banycky added, until the village is legally obligated to a payment. He said this would come as the contract between the village and county is signed.

What is the next step? The sewer committee and consultants will meet with the township and county to draw an agreement on capacity, method of payment and obligations other than maintenance and operation.

Sewer hook up schedule, as brought out at the public meeting, is expected to be about January, 1971.

Clarkston boy bitten

By Jean Sura

Clarkston News Associate Editor. Last week, on May 5, just before 5 p.m., Michael Herron, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Herron of 6350 Maybee Rd. was out catching frogs in the pond behind his home.

Seeing an old rubber boot in the pond, he decided to retrieve it and return it to its owner. What Michael did not see, was a rattlesnake that was stretched out at the edge of the pond.

As he edged closer to get the boot he stepped on the snake. The snake struck, burying its fangs in the calf of Michael's leg.

Mike let out a cry that brought his brother, Donnie, 9, on the run. Keeping a cool head, Donnie grabbed a large stick and killed the snake.

Michael ran home in pain.

"I called the police and an ambulance at the same time," said Mrs. Herron.

So, with the snake, rendered harmless and in a plastic bag, Michael was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

After a painful 5 days in the hospital (37 different injections) he has returned to his home. His leg is still very sore and it is difficult for him to walk.

The 2-foot-long snake has been properly identified as a Massasauga Rattler, the only poisonous snake that is native to Michigan.

Inquiries have brought information that indicate that when the I-75 Expressway was built through this area the snakes' homes were destroyed and the snakes were practically "walking through the streets of Clarkston."

Many parents have expressed concern regarding a recurrence of Michael's experience. With this in mind, we have tried to gather pertinent information that may help to prevent further incidents.

The Massasauga snake is poisonous but NOT DEADLY. The bite is painful and serious, but deaths are rare and then indications have pointed to other factors that have had bearing on them.

In a 10-year period, Michigan records show that there were no deaths from snake bite. This evidence was documented in a paper written by Henry M. Parrish, M.D., Dr. P.H.

Generally, the Massasauga lives in swampy land. He may be found in old, deserted buildings or heavy brush. He likes to sun himself on warm sand.

"The little snakes are just as dangerous as the big ones," said Dr. Rockwood Bullard, Clarkston physician who had considerable experience with snake bites when the expressway was built through the area.

Snakes will rarely attack unless startled or disturbed.

As a result of the findings it would seem practical to educate yourselves and your children so that the danger would be kept to a minimum.

First of all, be able to recognize the snake by its markings.

In the event of snake bite, don't panic. Kill the snake if possible. If not, get a good description of its size and markings. Ask the victim or those present if they heard a rattle. Keep the victim quiet. Get him to medical help as quickly as possible.

Snake bite kits are available and may be helpful, but there are many methods of treatment and too frequently, in the hands of the inexperienced, these treatments can cause additional complications.

It is recommended that tetanus shots be kept current.

In the event that you are traveling into territory where medical aid is unavailable, get further information before you leave home.

The Poison Control Center at St. Joseph's Hospital, the Drayton Plains Nature Center and Dr. Rockwood Bullard were extremely helpful in assembling this information.

Jim's Jottings

Well, I had a visit with the people who run Children's Village on Telegraph this week. Probate Judges Donald Adams and Norman Barnard invited me down for lunch with them and Jim VanLuven, director of the Village and Jim Hunt who handles the administration of juvenile programs in Oakland.

It was a nice, friendly affair, naturally. There's enough fighting in the world without my fighting with Judges.

Judge Adams, who is senior judge of the probate court and thus really THE man in charge of the Children's Village, told us to ask any questions we wished. So...

Are some buildings closed from time to time as I mentioned in an article April 10? Yes, but rarely longer than 4 days and this is only for maintenance.

Are the youngsters "cured" weekends. No, but those who they feel can go home, to a relative or someone's home, are permitted to do so.

Is there a shortage of people on the staff. No, they have a complete staff until someone is unable to come to work. There is no replacement readily available.

Are some of the mature bad kids sometimes housed with younger ones whom they might influence wrongly. Yes, but rarely, and they wouldn't be at all if there were facilities to separate children by age, illness, degree of delinquency, or other categories that brought them before the court.

Is there any plan to establish a Juvenile Court Judge or will the 3 probate Judges continue to serve in Juvenile Court. Judge Adams said much of the Juvenile Court work goes to Judges Barnard and Eugene Arthur Moore, though he sometimes sits in.

He has asked the county board of supervisors for 2 more Judgeships and should they be established he might consider new makeup of the Juvenile court bench.

Might it be cheaper to send youngsters to other institutions? In some cases, but for the most part they are just as crowded as we are.

Were personnel interrogated at the time I wrote the first article to see who informed me? VanLuven said, "No. I knew who it was as soon as the article appeared. She has since been moved to another part of the program."

Personnel in this Village area are now union members and they can't be fired without just cause. Judge Adams approves and disapproves, hires and fires personnel when the reasons are established for each.

Can I visit with social workers and employees? Sure, anytime. Drop by and we'll be glad to show people around during our tours or you can talk to people here on your own.

All four of our hosts emphasized the crowdedness of institutions in Oakland and elsewhere; their desire to keep children in their proper home, or to get them trained or rehabilitated to where they can be returned home.

They said the job of rehabilitating youngsters won't do the entire job. Work has to be done with parents of most of the young people, too.

Hagen Veep

Jack Hagen of Holcomb street, has been named vice president of Infra Corporation, a former Clarkston based firm, now located on Dixie Highway, Waterford.

Hagen, a 24-year employee of the company, is in charge of all production at Infra Corp. This company does electrical and sheet metal specialty work, primarily in the automobile field.

Drug seminar report

Recently a series of 3 lectures on the problem of drug abuse was presented by the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee, in conjunction with the Clarkston Area Jaycees, Jaycettes, Women's Club and Clarkston and Bailey Lake PTA's. The sessions were held on April 15, 27 and 29 at the Clarkston Senior High School. About 150 people attended each session.

The Clarkston News, as a community service, is presenting the highlights of the remarks made by the speakers.

Because of the length of the report it will be presented in 4 installments. Rev. Arlon Stubbe, chairman of the Youth Assistance Committee reports:

PART I
Dr. Richard Traitel, Physiological Clinic, Oakland County Juvenile Court, "The Problem: Causes, Trends and Local Evidence."

The problem of drug abuse is an acute one in society today because of at least three factors. First, there are many more young people today (an 85% increase in ages 15-18 during the past ten years); second, a growing tendency on the part of youth to act out their feelings; and third, the easy availability of drugs and comparatively easy usage of same.

The reasons why a person would use drugs excessively are many: (1) teenagers will not verbalize their emotions; (2) adult alarm over drug use encourages additional teen rebellion; (3) youth today are skeptical of society's values; (4) a driving sense of curiosity; (5) the presence of boredom; (6) a desire to escape threatening experiences; (7) an immature expression of anger; (8) a desire to open channels of communication with parents; (9) a testing of the limits of parental power; (10) an intense fear of peer rejection; (11) serious emotional difficulties.

It is hard to tell why some young persons turn to drug use, and some do not. Generally, it has something to do with the person's past ability to deal with his problems, a lack of mutual trust with parents, and a lack of parental understanding.

The indirect effects of excessive drug-use are as follows: (1) an increase of fatigue and lethargy; (2) a gnawing fear of abnormal human responses; (3) a cycle of mistrust and rebellion set in motion between youth and adults; (4) more keen awareness of pressures; (5) scholastic drop in achievement; and (6) separation of the drug user from more adjusted individuals.

What can parents tell their youngsters? First, be informed. Don't attempt to scare or intimidate your child, especially without having all the facts. Second, stress the potential harm and the illegality of drug abuse; don't exaggerate or make threats. Third, attempt to maintain contact with your child; don't assume a relationship exists; work to develop one.

Next week:
Dr. Henry Wormser, Assistant Head, College of Pharmacy, Wayne State University, "Drugs: Their Identification and Effects."

Scout News

Area Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts had a panel discussion about "Teenagers, why they are the way they are - The generation gap and Parent problems."

Participating in the discussion were: Lynn Tower, Cheryl Shrapnell, Geri Graham, Shelley Gray, Diane Foot, Nancy Duricko, and visitor, Kathy Ronk of Troop 13 along with Mike Redwood, Brad Funk, Carl Smith, Mel Johnson, Randy Miller and Gary Frost of Troop 19.

Adults participating were Mr. Robert Carr, attorney for Oakland County, Rev. Renie, Mrs. Marilyn Hanson, girls' counselor at CHS and Mrs. Jean Mayer, field director for the Campfire Girls.

The adults spoke on different views of the teens of today. Past and present experiences were brought forth.

The 2 troops found it a rewarding experience. Refreshments were served and the Troops discussed future plans.

A canoe trip is being planned in June, as a result and it was decided to have a "car wash" to defray the expenses.

The Senior Girl Scout Troop 13 is looking for used electric shavers and extra cords to present to men living in convalescent homes for Father's Day.

Call 625-3444, 625-2934, 625-2046 or 625-3060 for further information. Ask for Chris, Nancy, Shelley or Jan.

The troop is making enthusiastic plans for a camping trip to Paradise Beach on the weekend of May 23.

I'll get to the funeral if it kills me

by Marguerite Slater

To this day, if I'm half-roasted in 98 degree weather, I can always console myself with, "But it's nothing like that day of Mildred's mother's funeral."

That really cools me down. There I sat in the funeral chapel, mopping my face and neck, waiting for the services to begin—scanning every arrival for Helen, who of all our friends should be there.

But let me steam back to what was happening to Helen. I'm beginning to perspire just thinking about her.

This was a boiling hot, late August and Helen had returned that morning from a summer in Europe. Her apartment was hot—it was 95 outside—and she was exhausted from the heat and fatigue from her trip.

I had rung her phone several times that morning before she arrived from the airport. Upon reaching her, I told her quickly of our old friend's death and that the services were that same day at one o'clock.

"I'll see you there," she shrieked into the phone and slammed down the receiver.

She called her florist, telling them she'd pick up a floral arrangement, personally, no later than 12 noon.

Her car was in storage for the summer so she called a taxi.

To make a long, hot story short, she arrived at the chapel, finally, dripping wet and utterly miserable—lugging the large floral piece. She gave it to an usher and walked down the aisle with him to take one last fond look at her old friend.

But there, instead of her friend was a lovely looking old man about 90. He was a total stranger. She later admitted her only thought was "How calm and cool he seems."

She walked back up the aisle and took a seat. She had decided, while looking at him, that she'd just stay and cool off while he enjoyed her flowers.

Over the years we have come practically to blows over the mix up. I say she heard what she expected to hear and paid no attention to my information. I soothe her injured feelings by reminding her that while she was enjoying someone's funeral in an air conditioned chapel, I was roasting to death in mine, 10 miles away. In all fairness to my chapel, I should tell you that a mouse had died and spoiled in a ventilator and they were forced to turn off the air conditioner.

So we just sat and dripped and smelled the pretty flowers. Mildred's mother looked calm and lovely as usual. She always was the cool one in a crisis!

Tennis squad rolls on, baseball team wins

By Kirk Phillips

BASEBALL
Things finally went right for the Clarkston Wolves as coach Paul Tungate directed his Wolves to victory last week. Clarkston defeated coach Bob Mason's West Bloomfield Lakers, 7-3, and shut out the Bulldogs from old Brighton town, 7-0, on the 3 hit pitching of Gene Sealy.

Junior Tom Grace picked up his second league win of the year as he defeated West Bloomfield. Teammates Green, Craven, MacMillan, Porritt and Prasil carried the Wolves to victory with their key hitting.

Gene Sealy blanked Brighton on 3 hits as teammate Steve Warman chased home 2 runs with a single. John Craven continued with his big bat, knocking home 2 more runs with a 2-bagger. Tom Lane also picked up a couple of runs on a pair of safeties.

This week coach Tungate will take his boys on the road for games with Waterford Township and Bloomfield Hills.

BASEBALL STANDINGS

- Milford, 7-0
- Kettering, 5-1
- Clarkston, 5-3
- Andover, 4-3
- Northville, 3-3
- West Bloomfield, 1-6
- Brighton, 1-6
- Clarenceville, 1-5

TENNIS

Coach Thibault's netters are still flying high with a record of 13-0. Last week the netmen beat Northville 6-0 and Milford 5-1.

Picking up wins in Northville's singles matches were: Dave Kelly, Mark Griffiths, Kirk Beattie and Dick Ruelle. The doubles teams of O. J. Bullard and Mark Waterbury picked up key victories and Mark Walters and Scott Robbins helped the cause with wins. The doubles team of Scott Robbins and Mark Walters are undefeated.

In the Milford match Mark Griffiths and Kirk Beattie picked up victories for coach Thibault. Again, the doubles teams of Robbins and Walters had clutch victories and Bullard and Waterbury, the junior-senior combination, came through again.

The big match is coming up and Kirk Beattie will face Bob Dusseau from Bloomfield Hills — this should be an excellent match, for two of Oakland County's best netters will tangle.

GOLF

The Wolves had all their matches cancelled due to poor weather. This year's matches are being held at the Davisburg Golf Course, for any interested fans.

TRACK

Coach Horrigan's only single meet from last week was disastrous. The Wolves dropped a 90 to 28 decision to the hands of the Milford Redskins.

Clarkston had three firsts as sophomore Fred Saylor won the mile and Dan Dankert had a winning time of 2:07.5 in the 880.

The Wolves tied with the Redskins in the 440. Kurt Carlsen tied Jim Tabor of Milford; their time was :54.8. Other point getters for Clarkston were Dan Dankert, who placed 3rd in the high jump; Jim Ventimiglia was 3rd in the low hurdles. He also won the long jump with a jump of 17-4.

Gerald Baker and Mike Wilcox placed 2nd and 3rd in the two mile run. Those were the lone points for the Wolves.

TIGERS

Opportunity keeps knocking at the door for the world champs to tie league leading Baltimore, but I think they will have to make their own breaks if they are to be a contender.

Pesticides saturating our culture

by Don Lytle
of Hummingbird Lane

When a wild creature, be it robin or mallard, is stricken with DDT poisoning, the deteriorating process is slow—twisting and savage. In the last few moments, the victim struggles to breathe, to remain alert as the large fist squeezes his vitals into spastic inefficiency. Body processes slow to a grinding swollen halt; pain is everywhere. Life retreats amid hisses, shades of gray and dryness. And death advances in science.

Admitted, death is inevitable for all creatures, but the premature death of a wild one as a direct result of insensitive man must be called sinful. If by the same insensitivity man poisons his own species, then that sin must also be obscene and unpardonable.

The recent F.D.A. confiscation of 20,000 pounds of Lake Michigan coho en route to our stomachs is timely evidence of the power of pesticides, DDT now being the popular culprit. These coho possessed 13.67 to 19.78 parts per million (ppm) of DDT. The

Firemen quiet

The Independence Township Fire Department responded to 6 calls in the past week.

A minor house fire on Snowapple Drive and the demolition of an unoccupied house on Dixie Highway accounted for 2 of the calls.

A grass fire, 1 fire at the dump and 2 resuscitator calls all proved to be of slight consequence.

FDA declared this too high a concentration for safe human consumption.

We had been warned. Rachel Carson's "Silent Spring" cried out against the saturation of pesticides in our culture. Ecologists for years had explained to the point of stuttering about the deadliness of DDT, but only recently under the threat of loss of Michigan fishing has man moved.

Repeated sprays of DDT, chlordane, benzene, hexachloride, aldrin and other pesticides can so saturate soil and water that years are required to eliminate their potential to kill and deform.

Add to this the fact that these pesticides accumulate in staggering amounts as we climb the ecological ladder where man is at the top. Man seems to be very susceptible to sensitive shifts in his environment; indeed, the abnormal accumulations of DDT in his fruit, vegetables, beef, pork and now fish is hardly a sensitive shift: it has the seismographic signs of an ecological earthquake.

If the possibility exists (and it does) that man may already possess sufficient ppm's of DDT to make him unfit for HUMAN CONSUMPTION, how susceptible will he be in the near future to the ravages of genetic deformity and diseases such as cancer?

Michigan has outlawed DDT, but other more lethal pesticides remain in commerce, while the toxicity of DDT applied before the new law is quietly at work.

Man needs to realize he is dependent on his environment of water, land and air just as a robin or mallard or tomato plant is. Man's environment will poison him only in the same degree as man poisons his environment, for nature's tolerance is low and she must retaliate to seek her equilibrium.

Death does complete a plan.

However, when a man feels his death is being hastened because of his own ignorance, greed or lack of concern, he must be uncomfortable, perhaps, above all, he will begin to fear the gray shadow being cast over the land of his sons and daughters yet to be, and innocent.

Rezoning, grave markers, lighting township topics

Three parcels of land in Independence were rezoned to single-family residential by the township board Tuesday night.

A 5-acre piece on Clintonville road, north of I-75, and 20 acres on Sashabaw south of Clarkston-Orion road were previously suburban farms classification.

The 76 acres on Indianwood road, east of Eston, owned by Ferdinand Klais and Leonard Bullard, was changed from Agriculture to residential after considerable discussion between the board and neighbors.

Neighbors didn't object to the rezoning, only construction that had been started. Bullard and Klais are developing the land.

All parcels had previously been approved by both the township planning commission and Oakland County Coordinating committee.

June 3, on the regular meeting night of the township board, there will be a public hearing on more street lighting for Woodhull Lake subdivision. If approved, all the subdivision will be lighted. Two other sections of the area are presently lighted.

On a request from Campbell-Richmond American Legion Post the board approved the spending of up to $75 for veterans' grave markers. These are to be placed by Memorial Day.

Keep It Beautiful

If America hired people for the job, it would take the largest sort of army to keep our country free of litter. But there's no need to hire anyone. It's a job we can do for ourselves. All of us. Every family that spreads a picnic lunch. Every boatman who cruises the lakes and waterways. Every motorist who uses our roads and highways.

It is the pleasure of the U. S. Brewers Association each year to give its fullest support to the Keep America Beautiful Campaign. Remember: Every Litter Bit Hurts. This is our land. Let's treat it right.

The Clarkston News

SECTION TWO THE CLARKSTON (Mich.) NEWS Thurs., May 15, 1969 5

Oh's and ah's should be heard from the Community Center on Friday, May 23rd, as models (like Barb Jacobson) from the Penthouse Fashions, parade the latest in spring wear. The fashion modeling will be part of the card party sponsored by St. Daniel's Mission. Chairman of the smorgasbord-dessert party is Mrs. Arnold Schulte, right, with Mrs. Frank Blumenau, co-chairman. Tickets may be purchased at the door or from church members.

Garden Club plans Chinese coins Village clean-up

Spring was in bloom everywhere around the charming home of Mrs. Arnold Barrett, when the Clarkston Farm and Garden Club met recently for their May meeting.

Assisting Mrs. Barrett as co-hostesses were Mrs. Marcus Freud and Mrs. John Marra, who served dessert and coffee to members and guests.

Mrs. Barrett spoke informally about conducting a flower show and the responsibilities involved for the membership.

Plans for a clean-up campaign in the village were discussed, and May 25 was chosen for the preliminary "scrub-down."

Secretaries meet

The Oakland County Legal Secretaries Association will meet at 7:00 p.m. on May 19.

Bridgette Rosolowski, P.L.S., President of the Detroit Legal Secretaries Assn. and Director-elect of the National Legal Secretaries Association will be the guest speaker.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the business supervisors in the Oakland County Court House.

Chinese coins

Eusebio Dimaya will talk about modern and ancient Chinese coins at a Monday, May 19, meeting of the Clarkston Coin Club.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 7:00 p.m. at the Clarkston Junior High School.

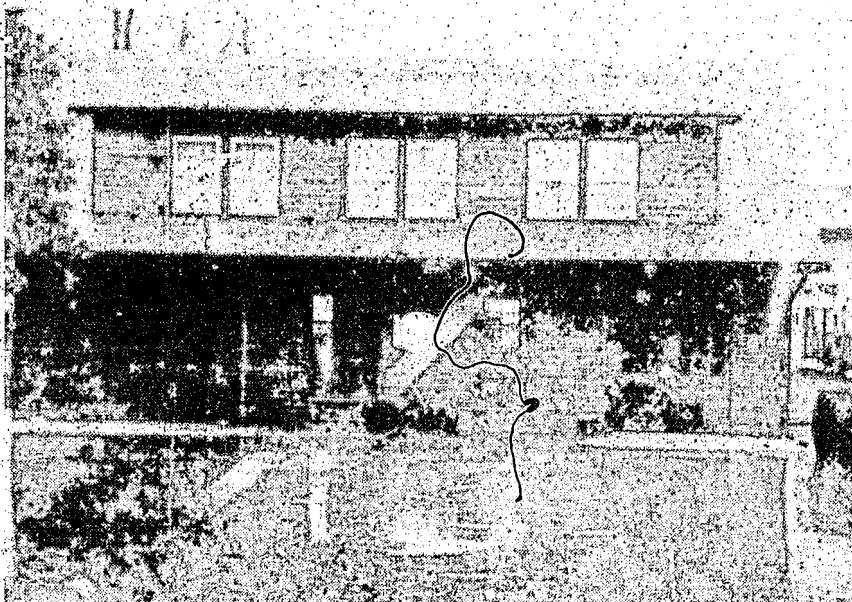

Chinese tea and fortune cookies will be served.

Parks ready

All parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority are ready for the Memorial Day Holiday week-end.

These parks are Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica, Marshbank Metropolitan Park southwest of Pontiac, Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks near Ann Arbor, and Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville.

To discover what facilities are offered at the 10,325 acres of HCMA recreational land, persons may write for a Metropark Guide. This colorful map shows all highways in the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne and lists facilities of all HCMA parks. Write to the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226, or phone 961-5865 (DETROIT).

A dismal, rainy day is a good time to visit (NOT to photograph) Clarkston women, Edith Porter and Bernice Carr, who are the proprietors of the new Portecarr Gallery at Antique Village.

Area women open Gallery

Two of Clarkston's well known artists, Edith Porter of Lakeview and Bernice Carr of Glenburnie have accepted an invitation to open a gallery at Antique Village.

The Portecarr Gallery, as it has been named, is being established to encourage creative people to come to Antique Village.

Artists are invited to come to Portecarr Gallery to paint or browse. An assortment of paintings will be offered for sale, and all visitors are also welcome.

The gallery will be open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day but Monday.

"In the 7 years that I have lived in Clarkston I have made many friends. Many of them were art students that I was privileged to teach, both here and at the YWCA in Pontiac. I am looking forward to seeing them at our new gallery," said Mrs. Porter.

Elected president

Patti Mulcrone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mulcrone of Snowapple Drive, who attends Michigan State University, has been elected president of Wonders Hall, the dormitory where she lives.

She will preside over the residence hall for the next school year.

Miss Mulcrone was a 1968 graduate of Clarkston High School.

Birthday Tea for Mrs. Thompson

Mrs. Carol Thompson, former Clarkston resident, was the center of attention on May 14 at a birthday tea given by her daughter, Mrs. William Martin.

Surprise guests at Mrs. Thompson's 80th birthday celebration were her granddaughter, Mrs. Jay Miller and great-grandchildren, Laura, 6, and Adam, 4. The Millers flew from Portland, Oregon for the occasion.

Approximately 65 guests attended the party at the Martin home on North Main to greet Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson is presently living in Detroit. Acting as co-hostesses with Mrs. Martin were Mrs. Carl Zuber, Mrs. F. W. Henkel and Mrs. Alice Lyon.

MICHIGAN WEEK MAY 17-24

Saturday, May 17
This is the day when all of Michigan gives expression to the deep pride of its citizens in their state... the day for letting everybody express this same pride in their community.

Sunday, May 18
Plan your observance of Spiritual Foundations Day... a time to review the proud heritage of religion in Michigan and to recognize its part in Michigan life now and in the future.

Monday, May 19
Today's focus is on government and its work at all levels. Help Michigan citizens to know their government, the many services it performs, the public facilities available to all.

Tuesday, May 20
This is the day to recognize the contributions so many have made to Michigan's progress... the explorers, fur traders, miners, lumbermen... and the inventive genius of the men and women who made possible its continued growth.

Wednesday, May 21
Today we direct attention to the industry, business and agriculture which provide a livelihood for Michigan people. Each citizen should pause a moment to think of how he earns his living, each community should take stock of how it provides a livelihood for its people.

Thursday, May 22
The entire community pays tribute to the schools—pupils, teachers and other personnel comprising them—on this day. Take pride in your educational system, take pride in Michigan.

Friday, May 23
Today symbolizes the theme of Michigan Week, that Michigan is a Land of Hospitality all year-around, that Michigan's 8½ million citizens are friendly to neighbor and visitor alike.

Saturday, May 24
Youth Day points with pride to the youth of the community who not only will be tomorrow's leaders, but are, more and more, today's leaders.

Instant hair is my answer

By Jean Sura

A friend of mine (World War II vintage), got thinking one morning about the luxury of his old Navy brush-cut.

"Hmmm," he mused, "That's for me."

So, on impulse, he dropped his comb and brush and hid himself to the closest tonsorial parlor.

It would have been fine but he had a hard time finding a barber who was old enough to know what he was talking about, to say nothing of the bravado, it required to see all that beautiful hair falling to the floor.

When the operation was completed, my friend rushed home and tossed out all of his gooney kid stuff, along with 4 combs and 2 brushes.

The next morning he reveled in the luxury of taking a "1 step" shower and shampoo. The nuisance of the past 25 years was washed away as he "toweled his head" for work.

Once making a discovery, few people can stand not passing the knowledge on to the world. My friend was no exception.

Fortunately — or unfortunately, depending upon whose view you are taking, my friend's eyes fell on his 14-year-old son, Cliff.

Now Cliff plays the guitar and though his hair isn't long, he enjoys a stylish bang.

Old Dad took one look at Cliff's hair. Cliff took one look at Old Dad's head. Cliff headed

"If It Fitz . . ."

Bigots aren't lazy

By Jim Fitzgerald

One thing I'll admit about my bigoted readers, they aren't lazy. They always have the energy and dedication to write long letters explaining that Martin Luther King was a Communist.

As a guy who still owes Aunt Clara a thank-you note for Christmas 1956, I have an instinctive admiration for all letter-writers. The man who really cares wouldn't send canned greeting cards to Mr Hallmark himself. The classy thing is to send a personal letter, hand-written or poorly typed to prove it wasn't really your secretary's idea.

This kind of class I ain't got. I haven't written my mother in 18 years. Instead, I sneak personal messages into this column and sell her a subscription (happy Mother's Day, Gertrude). Come to think, the only letter I can remember writing was to General Hershey, the one with almonds who runs the draft. I told him I was simply returning his greetings, but I spelled every word with a lisp and a limp, hoping he'd re-evaluate the seriousness of the national emergency. It didn't work, and I never again called a general darling.

Anyway, A jerk who won't write to his mother certainly hasn't got the ambition to write letters to the editor. But I stoop in awe of people who do, which is what I started to say in the first place. And I am positively enthralled with people who not only send me messages, but do it in a unique manner. Once I got a month-old cupcake with "This is chocolate, just your style" pricked out in the frosting.

And there was that Goldwater fan who threatened to throttle my wife. His letter was fashioned from bits of headlines clipped from newspapers and pasted on a brown paper bag, just like in a kidnapping movie. This really made me feel like a bigshot. I relayed this letter to Efram Zimbalist Jr who drives Fords for the FBI. So far no arrests have been made. I think J. Edgar Hoover watches Ed Sullivan.

The messiest letter came in response to my column on draft-card burning. A reader burned my words and mailed me the ashes. Nobody likes a smart ash on his trousers.

Just now I received an envelope bulging with newspaper clippings. Some energetic soul collected dozens of crime articles. And he circled the words "Negro" and "black" each time they were used. I got his message: If we'd murder all the Negroes, there wouldn't be any more crime. And the Mafia could handle the killing at a cheaper rate per person than slaughter costs us in Vietnam. Beautiful.

You ordinary newspaper readers are in tough luck. You don't get to read these incredible letters because they are never signed and no editor publishes a letter if he doesn't know who wrote it. Which is the one thing that puzzles me most about the haters:

If they have sense enough to be ashamed, how come they don't have sense enough to think the cricks out of their twisted minds?

PEEKIN' into the PAST

10 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS
MAY 14, 1959

Mrs. Frank Smith of East Church street has returned from a two-months' vacation in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bickford.

A pajama party was given on Saturday evening by Jeanette Whitlock at her home on Waldon road. Her guests included Bobo Christides, Bonnie Buella, Gay Huffman, Karen Smith, Kay Kath, Adele Lynady, Rosalie Lippert, Doris Schiele, Lynn Walton, Naomi Armstrong and Sharon Dawley.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Rossano of North Main street entertained on Saturday evening at a small bridge party. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gettel, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Wilford.

A combined birthday party was given to four-year-old Sandra Frondi of Ortonville and her uncle, Mr. Dayton Hutchins of Roselawn, Clarkston, Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Becker of Ewart.

25 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS
MAY 12, 1944

Those seniors on the honor roll at Clarkston High School this marking period are Wilbur Adams, Jack Baughman, Bill Clement, Nadyne Correll, Jean Girst, Bettie Kennedy, Hazel Klump, Charlotte Maybee, Arlene Meyers, Bill Radoye, Eldon Rouse, Marjorie Smith, Corinne Stites, Alice Wethington and Anne Zander. Friday evening at 6:30 a Mother and Daughter banquet will be served at the Clarkston Methodist Church. A good program is being planned.

Everyone is invited to attend the benefit dance being held in the Clarkston School gymnasium tomorrow night, May 13th. The affair is being sponsored by the employees of the local Ford plant. Music will be provided by Bill Radoye and his orchestra.

The Clarkston High School baseball team and their coach, Ralph Thayer, attended the game at Birggs Stadium in Detroit last Saturday afternoon.

for the door. Fortunately — or unfortunately, depending upon whose view you are taking, he didn't make it.

To Old Dad's credit, there was some negotiation and a compromise, of sorts.

However, as Cliff left the house for Combo practice with his new hair style, he was heard to mutter, "I'm doing MY thing, but it was all MY DAD'S idea!"

Which brings me to the point of the story.

I can't figure why anybody would really enjoy the care and mess of long hair. So I am joining the protesters. I'm going to do MY thing. I'm kicking the beauty parlor habit. I'm through sleeping on brush rollers. I'm through with smelly hair spray. I'm getting a lady brush cut.

I'm going to swim without a cap. I'm going to ride in convertibles with the top down. I'm going to play golf without a hairnet or hat.

"But," says my Big Daddy, "what are you going to do if you want to look your best?"

Well, I'll be doing my thing but it will be Big Daddy's idea. I'm getting a wig.

Then when I have to get dressed up like a "big lady," I'll just crank it off the bed post and tie it on. Presto, a lady.

Furthermore, I think I'll loan the wig to Cliff, if he gets any red hot engagements to play his guitar.

I'll bet it will look great on both of us. Nobody will mistake me for a boy.

Fortunately or unfortunately — depending on whose view you are taking.

The face that's launched a thousand trips.

Sure threw me

By Haslett Hemmor

Nearly everyone is an expert on how the other guy should be raising his boys. "Give 'em their heads," we tell each other, "and some young bucks are just plain headed for prison."

Kind of like leaning over the neighbor's fence and watching him break a young colt. They don't want to cooperate. Could kick your head off if you restrain them too much. Letting them have their own way is just as bad, maybe worse.

Some colts and some kids seem to be born with a built-in vicious hate for all mankind. Veterinarians know how to gentle the mean colts, permanently. The medical profession hasn't quite caught up to the vets on this procedure.

It's not that I really hate any of them. Must be tough to be old enough to be bullet bait in Vietnam but too young to vote or sign a legal contract for a $200 car.

At the same time, I'm not dumb enough to buy the "there are no bad boys" slogan.

Of course there are bad boys and bad colts and bad lots of other things. Some just need training, before it's too late. Some need some rough handling to prove that kicking and biting doesn't pay. A few need — but vets are limited to large and small animals of the non-human varieties.

Take Fred Jones' boy, George. Kid never did too well in school. Finally got his high school diploma a year and a half late.

George was always in some kind of trouble. Usually not too terrible bad but now and again he got in pretty deep.

Big kid, George, mighty big and real ready to prove how tough he was. Judge Bickerfield put him on probation for a year when Big George put Bob Plutts in the hospital with a broken jaw and 3 caved-in ribs. No cause for that. No cause at all.

Sure, young Plutts ribbed George about being turned down by the draft board. Kiddled him about how he must have worn high heels and hit the examining 'doc with his purse. Bob Plutts was maybe Big George's best friend, if he had ANY friends. Bob knew, and he knew that everybody in town knew, that George's trick knee was the reason for the turn-down.

It didn't matter to George. He plowed into poor Bob like a crazed bull. Near killed him. Young Bob should have pressed charges, but he didn't. Maybe Bob's kid sister, Jean, persuaded Bob to lay off; maybe she didn't. If she did, nobody gave her credit. Jean was what the young lads called a "good party girl."

Still, it surprised everyone when George and Jean got married. The J. P. and the immediate families made up a total of 11 attending the sudden ceremony. Folks agreed right off that it couldn't last long with George's temper and Jean's reputation.

That was 5 years ago. There are two little Joneses now. Nicest tykes you ever saw. Cute and smart and about the best behaved kids around. Grampa Jones is the proudest guy in the county.

Big George? Works every day, keeps his nose clean and even has a Boy Scout troop.

Like the man says, with some young studs you need a club and a whip. Others work better for a gentle voice and sugar cubes. They're almost as cantankerous as people.

400 students in annual concert

The 14th annual All School Band Concert will be held at 7:30 p.m. on May 21, in the gymnasium of the Senior High School.

This concert involves 403 students, and most of the bands in the Clarkston schools. Those participating will be the 5th grade Beginners, the 6th grade Intermediate, the Junior High Honors Band and the Senior High Varsity Band.

Due to time and numbers of students involved, it will be impossible to present 3 of the school bands this year. They are the 1st and 2nd level Jr. High Bands and the Senior High Cadet Band. There are about 125 students in these bands.

This series of concerts was started by Mr. Bart Connors in his second year of teaching in Clarkston. At that time there were 105 students participating. The program has progressed rapidly and now requires the time of 4 teachers. They are: Mr. Connors, Jr. High and Clarkston Elementary; Mrs. Konklin, Andersonville, Pine Knob and Sashabaw Elementary; Mr. Doty, Bailey Lake; and Mr. Washburn, Senior High School.

The concert will open with the fifth grade band and progress through the grades, so the audience can see and hear the progress that has been made by the students, through the years.

There will be a small admission charge, 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children over 6. The money will be used for summer band camp scholarships.

Last year this scholarship program enabled 8 students to attend a camp at Northern Michigan University.

Kutting Korner

by Jean Sura

Every week there comes to my desk, new items that are now on the market.

Last week was no exception. Along came the news that pre-creamed instant coffee is now available. Dry celery that can be used by refreshing in cold water, Popchips, which is real popcorn, ground, mixed with other ingredients and formed into chips, all are now ready to tempt you or make light work of cooking.

One thing bothers me. Every once in a while I find a really great product on the market but then it disappears.

Years ago, I found some long, narrow, white strips of paper that looked like crepe paper. All you had to do was hold them under the faucet, shake off the excess water and then wrap it around the edges of fruit pies. It was remarkable. Not one drop could escape to burn to a crisp on the bottom of the oven.

Unfortunately, when my supply ran out, I couldn't find them again.

Last week, I dredged back into my memory and came up with a solution. I took a piece of old sheet (clean, naturally). I tore it into long strips, about 2 inches by 24 inches. Then I simply wet them, squeezed them out and used them in the same manner.

Presto, no mess. The problem is, how many worn out sheets do I have?

Tips of the week: If you don't want white vegetables like onions or cauliflower to discolor when you are cooking them, just add a little lemon juice or vinegar to the cooking water.

Onions will behave in the parlor, with company, if you cook them, uncovered, in a large amount of boiling salted water.

I would like to start compiling a Kutting Korner recipe book for next Christmas. Please send your favorite recipe to me at the Clarkston News. Be sure and sign it.

Clarkston Jaycees outstanding

"Speak-Up" Award goes to Mr. Garth Gordon who placed second in the state of Michigan competition.

At the State Jaycee Convention, held in Lansing on May 9 and 10, the Clarkston Area Jaycees received a prized "Geissenbier Award" as the most outstanding chapter in their population division for the entire state of Michigan.

They took the lion's share of other awards presented at the convention, when they won 5 first place, 2 second place and 1 third place awards in the 12 various project award areas.

Individual honors were claimed by Garth Gordon and Mrs. Pat Ripley.

Gordon won second place in the "Speak-up" contest and is an alternate to represent Michigan at the National Jaycee Convention in Louisville, Kentucky, in June. Mrs. Ripley, the newly elected president of the Clarkston Area Jaycettes was chosen one of the 5 outstanding "Spokette" winners in the state. This award is for outstanding service by a first year Jaycette.

Attending the convention were: President and Mrs. Don Hamaker, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Powell, Mr. and Mrs. Art Ripley, Mr. and Mrs. Don Colton, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lilley, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Wilton, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Newlin, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Garth Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe and Mr. and Mrs. Lew Wint.

Mrs. Arthur Ripley holds her "Spokette" award which she received for outstanding service of a 1st year member.

Show-O-Ree May 17th

The Manito District of the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America will hold their 11th annual Show-O-Ree on May 17th from 1 to 5 p.m.

Show-O-Ree is a 3-day encampment for Boy Scouts of this area and a 1-day camp-out for local Cub Scouts.

The event will take place at Groveland Oaks, one of Oakland County's new parks. It was formerly known as Paradise Beach and is located on Grange Hall road just off Dixie Highway.

Each unit of scouts will have an area assigned to them in which they can display and demonstrate their year's projects. All Clarkston area Scouts and Cubs are intending to participate.

The Troop or Pack and the type of their display is:

Sea Explorer Ship 194, boats, sailing demonstrations; Troop 105, firebuilding and lashing; Troop 126, Indian lore and pie baking demonstration; Troop 134, fire building demonstration; Troop 191, bridge building (monkey bridge); Troop 249, camping demonstration; Pack 49, simple machines and handicraft; Pack 126, clay modeling; Pack 133, Indian lore; Pack 134, games of skill demonstration; Pack 181, games and crafts.

Record road funds allotted area towns

Record first quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections are being distributed to Michigan's counties, cities and villages, according to a State Highway Commission report.

Net receipts from gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees during January, February and March totaled $131.46 million compared to $110.76 million in the same period of 1968.

Of the $26.29 million of this total that is allotted to the cities and villages, Oxford will receive $12,053 compared to $10,230 in 1968 and $8,759 in 1967.

Clarkston will get $3,737 compared to $3,190 in 1968 and $2,795 in 1967.

Ortonville will receive $3,685 compared to $3,159 in 1968 and $2,794 in 1967.

Lake Orion will receive $11,464 compared to $9,737 in 1968 and $8,428 in 1967.

Leonard will get $3,084 compared to $2,676 in 1968 and $2,429 in 1967.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON
Minutes of Regular and Public Meeting
April 21, 1969

Meeting called to order by President Russell at 7:00 p.m.
Roll: Cooper, present; Johnston, present; Kushman, present; Hagen, present; Fahner, present; Mahar, absent.

Also present were:
Billie S. Farnum, Village Financial Consultant
R. J. Alexander and Donald Ringler, Oakland County DPW
Howard Kieft and Del Lohff, Village Engineers

Mr. Farnum outlined his financial information on costs for the Village sanitary sewers and a general discussion was held regarding the agenda for the public meeting to be held at the Clarkston Senior High School at 8:00 p.m.

The meeting was adjourned to the High School for the public meeting. The Public Meeting was opened at 8:00 p.m. by Council President Frank Russell.

A summary of the sanitary sewer project was presented by Trustee Johnston and introductions of Council members and speakers (see above) were made.

Mr. R. J. Alexander of the Oakland County DPW presented the description of the Clinton-Oakland Sanitary Sewer System and discussed the history of this project.

Mr. Howard Kieft, Village Engineering, discussed the local planning and engineering for the proposed system.

Mr. Billie S. Farnum reviewed several means of financing the Clarkston Sanitary Sewer System and he presented three sets of projected figures for the individual property owner. (These presentations are in the Village files.)

Trustee Kushman presided over the question and answer period in which members of the audience were free to question any of the speakers present.

After the question and answer period (summary on file) President Russell closed the meeting.

DAVID ST. CLAIR

Receives Ph. D

David (Doc) St. Clair, son of Walter St. Clair, 9730 Dartmouth, will be awarded the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at the University of California in Berkeley on June 14.

After graduating from Clarkston High School with the class of 1962, St. Clair entered Oakland University in Rochester, where, in 1965, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in chemistry.

He served as a teaching assistant for 1 year and then obtained a research fellowship from the Nuclear Chemistry Division of the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, Berkeley.

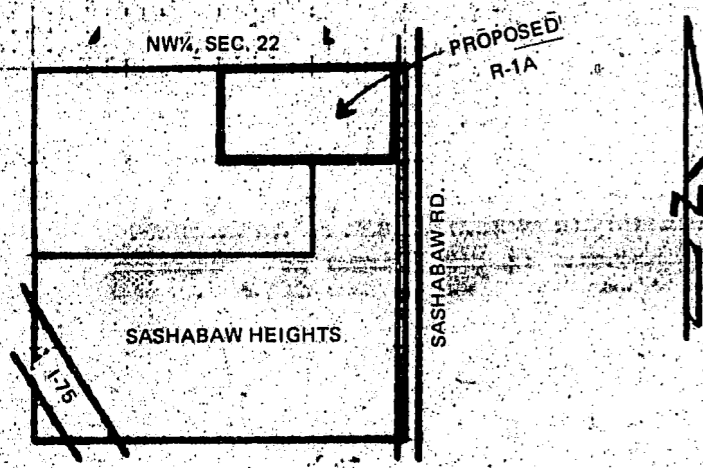

Mr. St. Clair's Ph.D. degree will be granted for his original contributions in the field of X-ray analysis of solid state molecular structure.

Letters to the Editor

Benefits area

Dear Editor:
The Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee would like to express appreciation to Post No. 63 of the American Legion.

Every year this group of hard-working, conscientious citizens sends 2 underprivileged children to summer camp for 2 weeks.

Many people would be surprised to learn of the many good works Post 63 has done for the town of Clarkston, yet receives very little thanks, or recognition.

We're proud of you, Post 63.
Clarkston Area Youth Assistance

Mrs. Arlon Stubbe, and Mr. Alfred Carter for help with mailings; Mr. Ken Winship, for photographs; Mr. Chuck Richards, for the printing of brochures; and the managers of Federal's and the A & P in Drayton Plains for their enthusiastic help in distributing materials.

We also have the highest regard for the publicity given us by the Clarkston

News and Lakeland Tribune, and the many other businesses that helped in this regard. Of special importance was Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk and her staff at the post office, who saw to it that the mailings went out in record time.

Of course we owe a great deal of gratitude to our moderators for the three evenings, Mr. Milford Mason, Mr. Keith Hallman, and Mr. Robert Brumback. And thanks to our speakers as well: Dr. Richard Traitel, Dr. Henry Wormser, Judge Eugene Moore, and Mr. Gary Hawkins.

While discussion alone cannot solve problems, we hope that the information offered through our drug abuse seminar has contributed in some significant way to the health and well-being of our community.

Sincerely,
(Rev.) Arlon K. Stubbe,
Chairman, Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee

Good editorial

My dear Mr. Sherman:
We were indeed in accord with your editorial in the last issue of the "Clarkston News" and appreciated the information included on the amount of recreational lands in Oakland County.

Also, we appreciated your publishing "Genesis, Last Chapter" in the April 24th issue, even though the thoughts were the grim truth.

Very truly yours,
Rose C. Baird

Dear Editor:
So often public opinion and citizen involvement come about only after a crisis has arisen. With that in mind, it is a pleasure for me to thank publically the many persons who worked so hard to make the recent series of lectures on drug abuse at the Senior High School in Clarkston so effective... before real problems come home to roost here.

Besides the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee, who initiated the program, the lectures also had strong support from the Clarkston Area Jaycees and Jayettes, the Women's Club, the Clarkston and Bailey Lake PTA's, and the Clarkston Police, and schools.

Special appreciation should go to the following persons: Mrs. James Freitag, general chairman for the seminar; Mr. Alfred Carter, publicity; Mrs. Herb Harthun, Mrs. Ron Draper, Mrs. James Freitag, Mrs. Jerry Tucker,

A SPIRITUAL Message

WHAT'S HAPPENING TO THE FAMILY?

The family of today is very different than the family of the past. For example, the 18th Century American family was closely knit for reasons of simple survival. But in the 19th Century, family closeness stemmed less from survival than from needs of social acceptance. In the 20th Century with two World Wars and rapid social change, our resulting sense of insecurity has driven us to seek security in the understanding and acceptance possible in a closely knit family.

The family today is stronger in many ways than it has been in a long time. Hopeful patterns in family life are emerging. Increasingly, in a world where events rush past us at a greater and greater speed, we turn to the home for comfort, affection and reassurance.

The family meets the desire for close companionship; it is the primary builder of character and personality; it is the environment in which we are enabled to meet the crises of life - birth, death, and marriage; it fulfills the sexual needs of the individual in the healthiest and most logical way; and it is the place where a person can be himself and perhaps this is one of the most important functions it serves.

The accelerated education of children and their acceptance of responsibility at an earlier age means that our teenagers are more responsible, more independent in their thinking, more mature, and less susceptible to propaganda than any generation of teenagers we have known.

The increase in family income has made the family more stable. Shorter work weeks and longer paid vacations have given families more opportunities for recreation as a family unit.

To sum it all up, in spite of the rise in the divorce rate, the family, especially the Christian family, is not in widespread decay because the basic need to belong to an intimate group has been intensified in today's world. The Church helps to strengthen the intimate relationships of the family.

Curtain goes up on "Oklahoma"

CHS news from Connie Rush

Paint — practice — near pandemonium, all are apparent backstage at Clarkston High School, as the crews and cast work toward the deadline of the opening performance of the musical, "Oklahoma."

A furor of activities surrounds the opening performance of "Oklahoma" which will be presented on May 16 and 17 and on May 23 and 24, in the Clarkston High School Little Theater.

The play is under the direction of Mrs. Robert Gibson and Miss Beth Tobin, assisted by student director Polly Hanson. Mr. Jim Johnson and his classes are building the sets and Miss Linda Munro is in charge of publicity.

The Clarkston High School cast of the ever-popular musical are: Laurie, Linda Sanshie and understudy Carmen Blackerby; Curly, Mike McAlpine and understudy Greg Suver; Ali Hakim, Ray Kidd and understudy Tom Wilford; Will Parker, Todd Vanaman and understudy Dave McSkulin; Ado Annie Carnes, Colleen Quinlan and understudy Karen Nicholson; Aunt Eller, Debbie Hoopengartner and understudy Lezlie Crum; Gertie, Lynn Race and understudy Tammy Mahar; Andrew Carnes, Jim Decker and understudy Dean Peoppe; Jud, Mark Taylor and understudy Dan Race.

Performances will start at 8 p.m. and the play will run about 3 hours in length.

Tickets purchased in advance at the school are $1 for students and $1.25 for adults. Box office prices are $1.25 and $1.50.

CHS boys take State honors

10 boys from Clarkston High School claimed awards at the state M.I.E.S. (Michigan Industrial Education Society) craftsman's fair, held in Muskegon, Michigan.

The competition is sponsored each year by the Michigan Industrial Education Society and the Detroit News.

In order to be eligible to compete in the state finals, the student must have won either a first or a second place award in the regional contest which was held at Central Michigan University.

A set of walnut salad bowls brought junior, Greg Pierce, the only first place award of the Clarkston entries.

John Hux and Mike Violette placed second in the state. John earned his award for a cedar chest and Mike won the second prize for his work in Mechanical Drawing I.

Third place awards were presented to Mark Christie, Jack Cuthbertson, Greg Faust, Dick Newlin and Mike Wice.

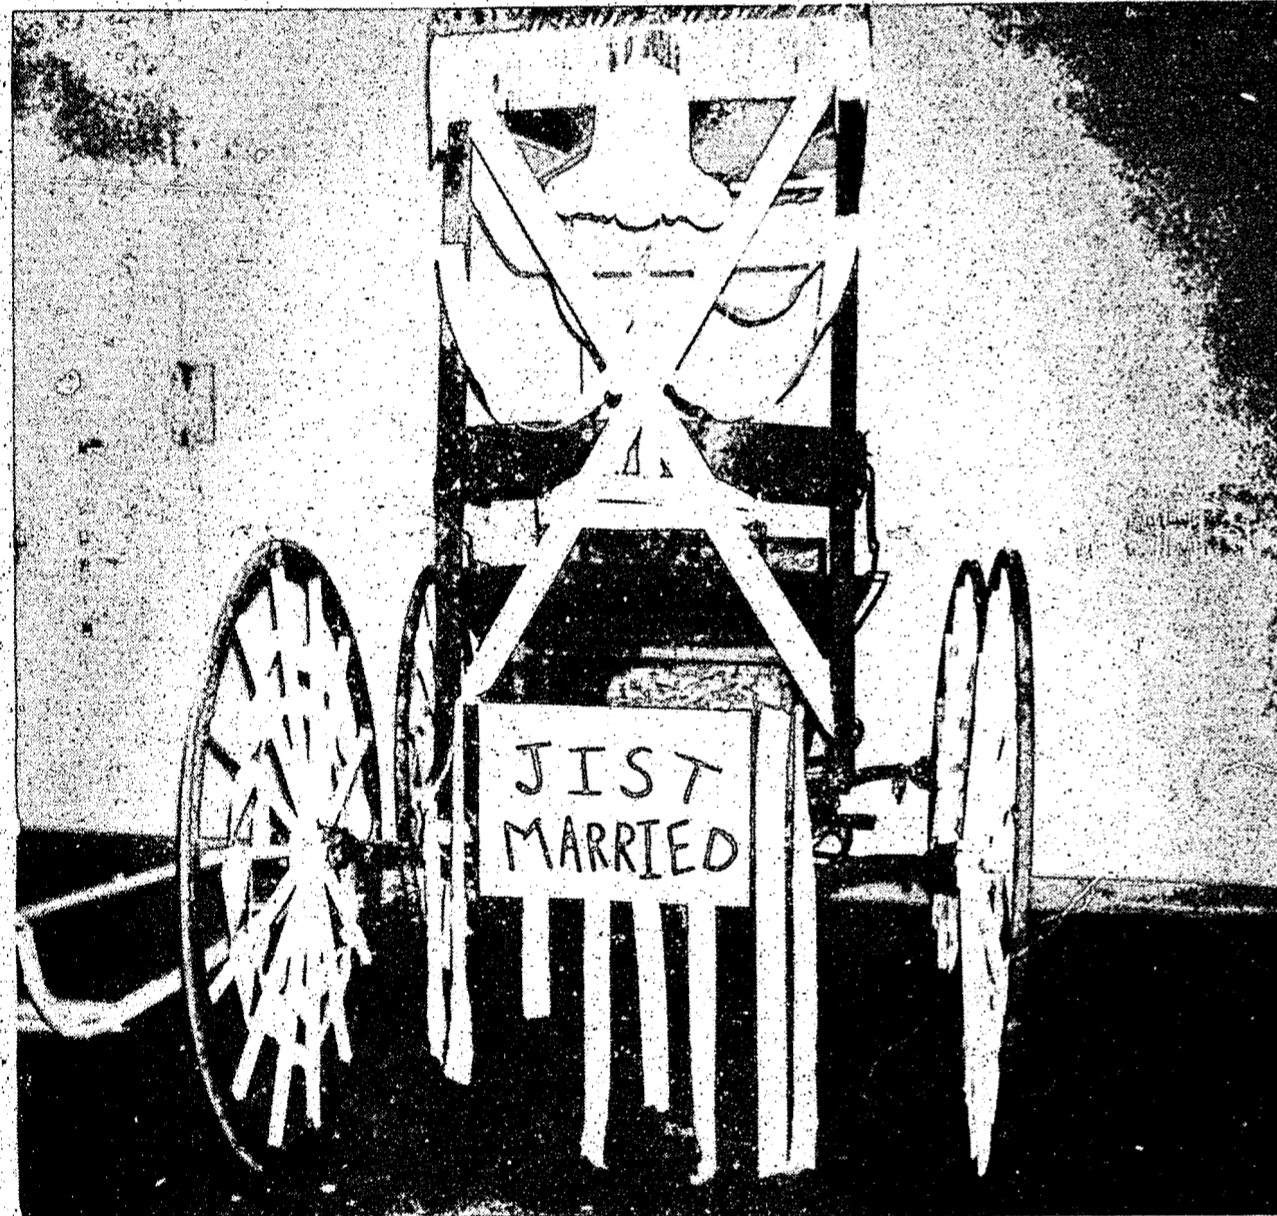

Special honor awards went to Tom Hall and Richard Ogg.

Approximately 300 other schools were entered in the competition.

Winners of the student council elections are: Lou Lessard, president; Karen MacDougall, vice president; Linda Champeau, secretary and Marcia Fahrner, treasurer.

Jill Sansom, Clarkston High School senior, and nine other students from area high schools were featured in the song "National Emblem" which they played in concert with the Navy band at Pontiac Northern High School.

Joseph Washburn, high school band director, was asked to send one of his better flute or clarinet players to the concert, so Jill, who plays the flute, was chosen.

The famed "Surrey with the Fringe on Top" is painted and poised, waiting for its grand entrance in Clarkston High School's presentation of "Oklahoma."

MEN IN SERVICE

Richard R. Nicoson

Army Private Richard R. Nicoson has been assigned to Company E, 18th Battalion, 5th Brigade, in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA) at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

He will spend the next two months learning the fundamental skills of the soldier in today's modern, action Army—firing live ammunition under simulated combat situations, learning protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks, as well as being schooled in the use of modern arms.

Following the completion of basic training, PVT Nicoson, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Richard Nicoson of Terre Haute, Indiana, formerly of Clarkston, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Guy R. Riddle

Radioman Third Class Guy R. Riddle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Riddle of Tappan Drive, arrived home on April 19th for a 30-day leave. He served for 13 months aboard the USS Annapolis in the Pacific. Before coming home, RM3 Riddle was transferred to the USS Arlington to which he will return for further duty in the Pacific.

Note: We are sorry that this story was printed incorrectly in last week's issue. Ed.

The musical talents of Mark Taylor, left, and Mike MacAlpine are well blended in their roles as Jud and Curly in the Clarkston High School's weekend production of "Oklahoma."

Holly Greens "pro" back

Pete Martin, manager of Springfield Township's Holly Greens Golf Course, announced that Lance Van Natta will again serve the Club in the capacity of golf professional. Lance is scheduled to arrive here about June 2nd, from the University of New Mexico where he is now a senior in recreation.

Holly Greens will have an assistant pro this year. Miss Becky Mayhew, 21 years old and a junior at Central Michigan, has been selected for that job. Miss Mayhew has had seven years of golf experience. She is currently champion of her home course at Mt. Pleasant.

Wint attends meeting

Lewis E. Wint, Clarkston, a member of the Board of Directors of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce attended the 4 day, 57th Annual Meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D.C.

While there, members heard among others, William C. Sullivan, Assistant Director of the F.B.I., Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, President of San Francisco State College and forums chaired by high cabinet officials on topics such as: "Crime—What Can Business Do?"; "Modernizing Governments?"; "How Should We Elect the President?"; and

"Modernizing Education—What Can Business Do?"

The group had the opportunity to meet with Michigan's high government officials.

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce has invited businesses of the area to join with them to work toward the joint goals effecting the Pontiac metropolitan area.

Mr. Wint has been named to represent the Clarkston Independence Area.

Interested business men are encouraged to join in this united effort.

A check for $1,000 completed the pledge made by the Clarkston Rotary Club, toward the building of the new Independence Township Library. As Mrs. Ken Whitenton, the new Women's Club president, accepts the oversized check from the Rotary Club's treasurer, Jess Berg, Mrs. Kenneth Valentine (second from the right), chairman of the Library Advisory Board, congratulates the president of the Rotary Club, Lou Lessard, for their successful support.
