Jim's Jottings

After taking son, Jim, to Florida to play golf earlier this year, I felt I owed my 12-year-old daughter, Luan, something. A promise of Cedar Point failed to materialize, so I decided she might like to take a couple friends to see the Michigan State-Washington game last week.

She did, and Terri Peterson and Ann Jacobi joined us. The latter two's fathers are U of M men, thus the girls had to overcome objections to get permission. Some green and white pennants came back from the game with the girls, just to add fuel to the fathers' burning emotions.

The girls seemed to thoroughly enjoy the game, the band day and the crowd. We had one setback. I planned on buying them hot dogs at the park for lunch, but the concessions were closed because of a just-settled strike.

Otherwise things were fine. Lovely weather, a stop at a Big Boy after the game and the radio tuned to their liking... loud and to CK. I heard Scuba dubba, dubba and Bum diddy, dum bum so much all the songs sounded alike. But it was their day and I let them have it until the 6 p.m. news.

I've heard that daughters enjoy doing things with their fathers, that they remember these occasions long into life. Well, fathers enjoy doing things with their daughters, too.

But, their way of thanking you is upsetting. Luan insisted on kissing me a few times and gave a few extra hugs and sort of hung to my arm much more than usual. This is one father who doesn't go for that kind of gushiness. My son just gave a "Thanks, dad" for his trip, and that was fine.

This girl-type thanking has got to go. I'm going to have to come up with another place to take her and her friends soon to see if she's gotten over that kissing and hugging her father as a way of saying thanks.

I think it was last year that car manufacturers started making the front-side windows of cars one piece. My 1967 has a vent window that's much more practical than the new models.

I wondered about this change to my brother-in-law Ray Peck, who works for Chevrolet in Flint. He said the change was made because it

No sessions scheduled for students, board, teachers

By Jean Sura

Negotiations, which began on March 31 between the Clarkston Education Association (CEA) and the Board of Education have failed to reach a settlement and members of the CEA voted on September 26 at a general session, 169-12, to "withhold their services on Monday, September 29."

Prior to this development, the CEA had received the report of the fact-finder, David Heilbrun, of the State Labor Mediation Board. They presented the report to their membership at a meeting on September 19 at which time they voted to accept the recommendations of the report by a margin of 101 to 65.

On September 24 the Board of Education negotiators presented the report to their body. The Board informed the CEA that they had agreed to accept the recommendations on all but 3 of the issues, according to Floyd Vincent, Assistant Superintendent and a board negotiator. The 3 areas of disagreement were: Longevity pay, personal leave days, and salaries. They made a counter proposal on the salary scale.

In rejecting the recommendations, the Board of Education, in a paid ad, stated that if they met the recommendations as stated, they would be forced to increase their expenditures to $300,000 over their yearly income. This, they contend would require an increase of nearly 25 percent in school operation tax or from 5 to 6 mills. They pointed out that it is their responsibility to the community to maintain a balanced budget.

Tom Brown, President of the CEA, explained in a prepared statement that while the fact-finder's recommendations on these 3 remaining issues do not fully meet the teacher's requests, members of the CEA have agreed to accept the recommended solutions offered by the fact-finder. A CEA spokesman further pointed out that the fact-finder, a State employee, would not make recommendations that would amount to deficit spending, which is illegal in Michigan.

Brown and members of the CEA accepted the offer of a group of some 300 parents to explain their position on Sunday, September 28, at a meeting held in the high school gym.

Members of the Board of Education refused the opportunity, according to Mrs. James Reed, one of the organizers of the meeting, on the grounds that there was no benefit from the Board attending was cheaper for GM to make a one piece window.

I told him I thought manufacturers built cars for customer convenience, that they took surveys, and taped conversations at auto shows to get driver opinion. He said I was nuts.

He's probably right about that, but do you suppose he's right that the reason the windows were made one piece was to produce a car cheaper? Without that vent, how do you clear the windshield of steam. My manual says to crack that vent before starting the heater. Heat will circulate better. I may never trade cars again.

the meeting because their statement would be printed in the Pontiac Press on the following day. It was suggested that the parents contact the Board after that time.

R. A. Weber, President of the Board of Education, explained the position of the Board further the following day.

"In as much as the Board had made an economic offer to the CEA, we felt that attendance at any public meeting might have an adverse effect on the process of collective bargaining.

"While the Board had been informed that the CEA had rejected the offer and voted to withhold services, the Board did not know why the offer was rejected and therefore felt that it would be premature to discuss the matter in public."

As a result of the Board's not appearing at the meeting, petitions, requesting a meeting, were circulated by the parents. They were presented to Mr. Weber at his home. A meeting was then scheduled for 7:30 on Tuesday night.

It seems to the writer that the definition of the term "deficit-spending" is the crux of much of the difference of opinion between the two groups.

The CEA contends that it occurs when all moneys coming in and on hand are expended. The Board of Education holds that spending more money than is coming in during a year constitutes deficit spending.

Stagnation of negotiations seems to be caused, according to a spokesman for the CEA, by a question in the minds of the CEA membership on who is to take the initiative to resume negotiations at the table. The reason for this indecisiveness is the fact that the teachers have agreed not to accept any modification of the fact-finder's report.

When the Board of Education rejected the fact-finder's report they countered with a modification.

The Board feels that they made the last proposal.

At any rate, at this point, the teachers apparently feel that they have already made many concessions and have agreed to hold to the fact-finder's recommendations on these last 3 issues.

The School Board, too, feels that they have made meaningful contributions in many areas and seem inclined to hold to their counter proposals. They contend that the salary schedule offered compares favorably with the surrounding communities of Lake Orion, Oxford, Brandon, Milford, Waterford, Rochester and Holly.

In the meantime, no meeting of the 2 factions has been scheduled at this writing.

The teachers are spending their days attending work sessions at the F.O.E. Hall on Dixie Highway.

The CEA has a financial expert going over the figures that the Board has published.

The football team continues to practice, not knowing what will happen to their schedule if the situation persists.

And, in the meantime, Clarkston children are not in school.

Fact finder's resume on 3 unresolved issues

Because we didn't have room for the complete resume of the fact-finder's report, we are printing his recommendations on the three areas that are still being considered.

IV Personal Business

In the course of a school year I can readily imagine a rare instance in which a teacher would desire to miss work for purely personal reasons. In general, I believe that personal business privilege is sound and that restrictions and approvals concerning its use are unduly stringent, if not degrading. Thus I am satisfied with the theory of the Association's proposal. From the standpoint of my experience, however, the "Legal and Moral Obligation" provision is one that carries the seeds of discord. It contains the undesirable feature of requiring approval for what the teacher senses to be a true obligation. A dispute could readily arise over whether an obligation is either "moral" or "legal" and the matter may not be grieved. With this provision shaping up I cannot endorse the full scope of the Association's proposal. On this issue I recommend that the Association's proposal under IX 1. be granted to the extent of one (1) day of personal business each year; OR in the alternative, two (2) days if Article IX H. is withdrawn.

PROFESSIONAL COMPENSATION

As to severance pay, his proposal was not supported by any persuasive justification and I am in no position to endorse it. On these preliminary issues of Professional Compensation, I recommend that the Association's proposal be adopted as to "daily rate" calculation but that severance pay not be granted.

On the basis of all available facts I propose the following salary schedule highlights. The percentage increase over 1968-69 base salary figures is shown in parentheses. The unrounded salary amounts to which the parties are accustomed, and the 1/2 year variations, make it inappropriate to set forth an entire schedule. I do not adopt the Association's proposal for 2 new salary tracks because of inadequate justification. Since there are only two holders of Ed.S. degrees in the district, I leave establishment of that salary track to the parties with the recommendation that it be about a 9% increase. Longevity pay is customary and desirable and I recommend it at a 3% increment for each 5 years beyond the top step. Based on what was last known of settlements, this schedule would tend to continue the relative county-wide salary standing of Clarkston teachers. The recommended schedule is:

BA min.	$ 7,375 (8.6%)
BA max.	$11,625 (9.6%)
MA min.	$ 8,075 (8.8%)
MA max.	$12,625 (8.6%)

The Board of Education approved the section of this item regarding raises for coaching and extra-curricular activities.

In some ways, electric heat is better than warm summer sunshine. For one thing, it's even the year around. And it stays that way during weather changes. Also, with electric heat, drafts and cold floors become a thing of the past.

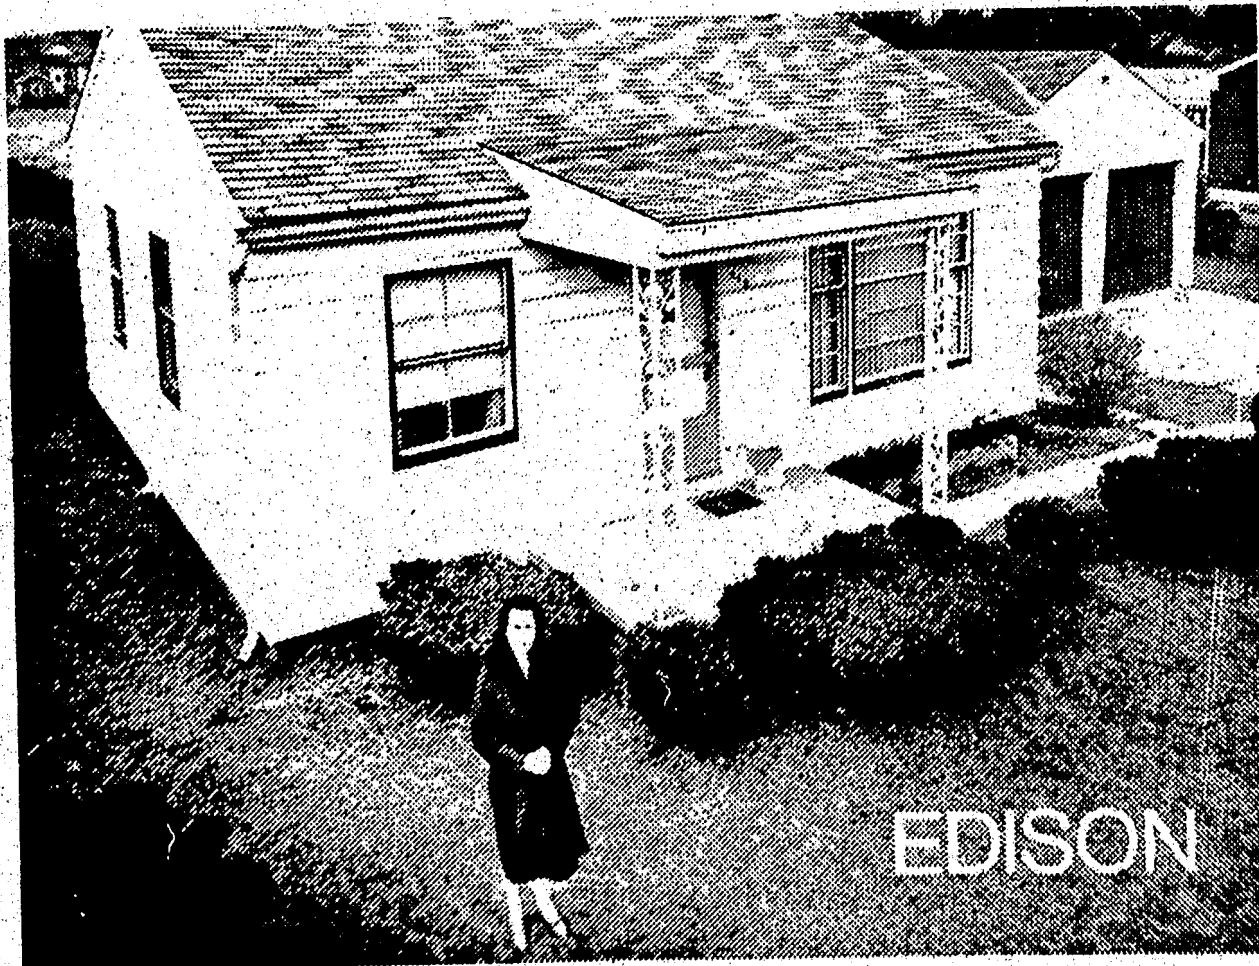

With flameless electric heat, you'll never wake up in the morning feeling dried out.

You even get an operating cost guarantee. In writing.

If you'd like a free estimate of installation and operating cost, we'll arrange for an Edison Approved Electric Heat Contractor to call on you. Naturally, there's no obligation.

Convert to electric heat. Winter will never be the same.

Put that in your pipe

By Jean Sura

Isn't it a pain to listen to the people who have given up smoking moan about their problems? I gave up on the filthy weeds way back last April. Did anybody hear me complain or cry? No sirree; It just takes strong character. Those cancer ads just made me mad. They don't scare me! I made up my own mind.

I thought some of patenting my method and selling it to the poor weaklings who need help, but instead I decided that I would give it away to benefit all mankind.

Here is my method.

First of all, I brain-washed myself. I spent hours sniffing at dirty ash trays. Metal ones really were a help in making me sick. Next, I figured out, on paper, just exactly how much money I was puffing up in smoke. It amounted to almost enough for a dream vacation.

I checked the nicotine stains on my teeth and fingers. Certainly, they were unsightly and unladylike. I even analyzed the taste. Here I found a difference in smokers. There are the ones who really like the taste and those who really don't. I decided that I was one of those that don't.

Like a Rhodes Scholar, I delved into the reasons that a person, who didn't like the taste or the smell of cigarettes, would smoke. About that time I came upon a valuable treatise. It was a paper backed book that guaranteed to cure one of smoking or your money would be refunded. I came upon it at a rummage sale and it only cost 5 cents so it hardly proved a financial gain but, intrigued with the economy of the offer, I read it anyway.

The theory put forth in this little gem was that a person smoked for one of three reasons. 1. They were bored. 2. They were upset. 3. They were feeling sorry for themselves.

Do you know that I found that answer to be just right. I was now ready to quit! The book also advocated that you take some weak-willed friend with you by betting him that he couldn't quit. I even found the perfect skill for that. I picked a cigar smoker, hoping to do my bit to help clear up the pollution problem. We set the date.

Before the morning coffee break on that first day, I discovered that if I just chewed on a straw or something it eased the craving. It also gave me something to do with my hands. The drawback was that it was rather embarrassing to have a huge pile of straws heaped up around my coffee cup. I found toothpicks unsightly.

I considered an unfilled and unlighted pipe. I scratched that - too conspicuous! And then I hit on using a pen or pencil. People have been nibbling on the tip of those things for a thousand years.

It was beautiful. It worked.

Just that simple. I was cured. Of course I have gained a little weight, but I can cure that with a crash diet next week. My betting friend was a weakling. Lasted a week and screamed and carried on all the time.

"I don't smoke enough to harm anything," he kept protesting. Well, he is a little plump anyway, so maybe it is just as well.

Yessir, I really am cured. It just is all in the way you approach the problem. Certainly all my analyzing paid off. I tackled the problem intelligently.

I am a free as a bird. I'm proud to say I'm no longer a slave to a filthy habit. It leaves my mind free to think of other things. Already I am thinking about Christmas. I know what I am going to put on the top of my list. I need pens and pencils. I just don't know what happens to them. I've been buying them by the gross, but they just don't last.

I guess they don't make things like they used to!

What is deficit financing? major question in dispute

By Jim Sherman

Monday evening Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of Clarkston schools, spoke before the Clarkston Rotary Club. Rotary president Lewis Wint asked Dr. Greene to speak to the club about the present school situation. In making his remarks, Wint said he had spoken with Clarkston Education Association members and asked their representative to address the club next Monday, should the strike continue.

Dr. Greene began his off-the-cuff talk by saying he would talk of the "conditions as we see them today." He first referred to the Public Act that gave municipal employees the right to negotiate and contract.

He said, "This right implies that it is the right of parties to disagree." Then when one party says "this is what I want," the other party says "this is what we can do."

"A Board of Education," Dr. Greene went on, "must sooner or later arrive at a point where they will have to say 'we can go no farther.'" He later mentioned it was a misdemeanor for the administration or school board to deficit finance, punishable by fine and/or imprisonment or both.

Too, he mentioned the limitations of finances through taxation and state aid. He said it was too late to go to the people for money for this year, and there was no assurance it would be voted. "The board has no control over income," he said.

The superintendent said, "These are trying times in many fields. Everyone is challenging everything. The ROTC, Vietnam, campus bookstore, ADC and others. With this, things are going to filter down to the public education."

Dr. Greene recalled that the board and CEA had been negotiating a new contract since last March. He pointed out that for several weeks little had been accomplished by either side of the table. "By July we agreed to call a mediator. He was unable to accomplish anything."

"A fact finder was called early in September. 'Fact finder' is a misnomer," Dr. Greene explained. "He is a representative of the State Labor Mediation Board. His job is to sift for facts."

"In our opinion, the fact finder didn't stick to the facts of the case. We were told the faculty met and did approve the fact finder's report in total." The Board did not agree in total, but objected to two points.

Dr. Greene told the Rotarians he questioned if any man could study, in 4 or 5 hours, what had been discussed since March and make a recommendation from it based on everything that had transpired.

The superintendent said he wasn't finding fault with the person, but only that neither he (Doctor Greene) nor anyone could accomplish what this man had been appointed to do in so short a time.

Two major points of disagreement were mentioned by Dr. Greene. 1. Salary. 2. Personal days (2 at the discretion

"A Board of Education must sooner or later arrive at a point where they will have to say 'we can go no farther,' " . . . Dr. Greene of the teacher). Dr. Greene listed seven reasons for absence already agreed to by the board.

(Elsewhere in this issue is an advertisement from both the Board of Education and Clarkston Education Association stating their positions.)

The point of salaries and that any increase would cause a deficit in the budget was made by Dr. Greene. This one word "deficit" is a major hangup.

To Dr. Greene and the Board, a deficit occurs when you over-spend your income.

To the fact finder, there is no deficit as long as there is any black figure at the end of the school year, according to Dr. Greene.

Using the superintendent's figures, at the end of June, 1969 the schools had $283,708 in the bank. After fact finding the money offered by the board for the school year, above income, was $214,000. To the Board this is a minus figure.

Dr. Greene's figures showed the labor mediation board salary recommendations to leave $7,000 of the beginning $283,708 in the bank in June, 1970. He said the $7,000 would have to run things to September. Dr. Greene projected this to June, 1971 with the built in automatic raises and found the district would be $363,000 in the red if there were no changes in present contracts. This latter figure includes using up the present cash on hand and spending an additional $80,708.

Dr. Greene mentioned a couple times Monday night that he was "not talking my people down. They are fine people. They have felt the pressures of the economy," he went on, and to them their requests are reasonable.

HOW ABOUT FOOTBALL?

During a short question and answer period, the question came up about football. Word had come to me that the coaches would continue practice. Dr. Greene said he hoped the community would "keep its cool." He mentioned the state question of eligibility. Each week an athlete has to have his scholastic eligibility approved. He has to be passing 3 subjects.

The board has asked the state athletic association for a ruling. Dr. Greene said the teachers' group would also have to give approval. "If these two issues can be resolved, yes, there will be football," he said.

Would the students have to attend 180 days of school? "I can't say. We know this. We have to have 180 days of school to get the total state aid offered. We get 1/90th aid cut for each day less than 180. If we miss 90 days it would mean a loss of $2 million and we might as well stay closed for the year because we could never overcome the deficit."

David Davis, a 10th grader at the Clarkston High School gloats over the check for $15 that he won in the contest on the Football Page of last week's Clarkston News. The check was contributed by the merchants that sponsor the page. David is going to "sock" the money in his bank and use it for Christmas.

YWCA teaches sports fitness

The YMCA of Greater Pontiac announces a new program concept for youth physical fitness. The Youth Sports Fitness School will be a 10-week program for boys and girls in grades 1-6.

According to Neil Jochen, YMCA Physical Director, youngsters need to learn new skills and build endurance to become more physically fit. Statistics have proven that the more physically fit the child is, the better able to study, rest, concentrate, and learn than is the youngster with no physical activity.

The Fitness School will be held Saturday mornings beginning October 4. Individuals enrolling in the first ten week session will receive a certificate stating that they are charter members of the school.

Fee for the program is $10 for non-YMCA members, and $5 for current members.

For more information, call Neil Jochen or John McClure, Youth Director at the YMCA, 335-6116.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Getting fired takes class

When Henry Ford fired his top foreman, Semon Knudsen, he kicked off an incredible amount of newspaper and TV publicity. All of which gave us hired hands and our wives plenty to worry about.

The society writers and photographers even went to the Knudsen home to find out how Mrs Knudsen was taking the dumping of her husband.

"If you get fired," my wife told me, "I won't have a thing to wear for the interviews. The drapes need cleaning, too."

One reporter asked Knudsen if he still owned Ford cars. "Yes," he answered, "we have 2 Cougars, an LTD station wagon, a regular Ford and a couple of Mark IIIs, I think."

But he wasn't sure. That's embarrassing.

"The next time you're in the garage, make a list of our cars," I told my wife.

"We don't have a garage," she said. "And we're using our carport for a porch."

"It might be better if I rent the township hall for the press conference where I explain that I don't know why I was fired," I said.

VERILY, THE Knudsen affair has made it obvious that a man must be prepared in case of sudden canning. It's not something you can do easily, such as getting a job. It takes planning to be fired properly.

For instance, I need a nickname. Knudsen was working on a 5-year contract worth about $3 million plus stock options. But the reporters took the snobby gleam off all that dough by calling him "Bunkie." Golly, that's right down to earth. Fact is, the only other Bunkie I know is an airedale.

Ford will pay Knudsen $700,000 for doing nothing the next 3½ years and shucks, the general public would probably have a tough time feeling sorry for him if he weren't Just Plain Bunkie.

Another thing a fired guy needs is "a man." Bunkie admitted he'd had many job offers since Ford got a better idea. He was leaving on a vacation trip himself but Knudsen said he "had a man investigating the offers." That's the same sort of class I showed in 1946 when I paid a friend to stand in line to get my unemployment check.

Most important, a working slob should practice smiling under adverse conditions, perhaps while someone is pounding his foot with a sledge hammer. All the reporters agreed that Bunkie showed his teeth and made little jokes but "fooled nobody." The keen-eyed writers described him as "staggered" and "near shock." The Detroit News even accused Knudsen of shrinking and "his suit was too large for him."

Where does a man go to get sanforized?

It is a screwy world where the firing of a multi-millionaire can keep news and society reporters typing and gushing for days. When Joe Schmoe gets fired, and his kids get hungry, the only way he can get in the newspaper is to get shot while robbing a grocery store.

And that's no bunkie. †

Supt. attendance might break board teacher impasse

Negotiating contracts for school and municipal employes is different from other labor-management bargaining. Schools and municipalities cannot raise taxes or state aid by a vote of the board. They operate on limited public approved funds.

School and municipal employes, on the other hand, cannot be criticized wholesale for seeking more money. They feel economic pressures and want to make a more adequate income or get with the affluent society to a greater degree.

From what we at the News can gather from the two sides, Clarkston Schools have come to an impasse. Neither says when the next meeting will be. They apparently have none scheduled as of Monday night.

The teachers have signed the fact finder recommendations which call for two things the Board is unwilling to agree to . . . higher salaries and 2 extra days off.

All labor disputes are settled sooner or later and this one should be settled sooner. Clarkston schools should be being used for their purpose, educating youngsters.

If the Board is at the end of their rope, it would seem to us the teachers should reconsider some of their stands. We think public opinion (taxpayer opinion) is on the side of the Board. Taxpayers have had it up to their necks and they are going to get hit even harder by December 10 when the equalization factors are added to the numerous increases in valuations.

However, the bargainers need a reason to get back together. One that we might suggest is for Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of schools, to enter the negotiations. We think there is some resentment by the teachers in that Dr. Greene does not sit at the bargaining table when negotiations get to their present state.

Dr. Greene is a strong man in this community, carrying the highest respect locally and in education in the state. His attendance at the table now might be the one factor that could break the impasse immediately.

Michigan Wing rates high

One of Civil Air Patrol's primary missions is to engage in search and rescue missions authorized by the U.S. Air Force. In 1968 CAP flew more than 70 percent of all such missions in the United States. At this time last year CAP had been credited with saving six lives while during the first six months of 1969 this number has soared to 21.

Nearly 300 Civil Air Patrol cadet and senior members from Michigan units took part in the 1969 annual Search & Rescue evaluation Test held September 20-21. "Boss Base" for the SAR Test was Tri-City Airport near Freeland. Satellite bases were set up and given appropriate Michigan names.

Civil Air Patrol members who reported to "Boss Base" from the Clarkston area included Michigan Wing Commander Colonel Charles Klann of 6682 Pear St., Michigan Wing Administrative Officer Capt. Kathleen Hawkins of 6457 Snowapple Dr., and Oakland County Group Commander Major Clifford Moore of 6650 Amy Drive, who was in charge of flight line operations at Tri-City Airport.

Senior members of Clarkston Composite Squadron who assisted the senior mission staff were Squadron Commander 1/Lt. James Peters who served as Debriefing Officer and Capt. Marilyn Moore who was in charge of assigning duties to the 74 cadets who reported to the Tri-City Airport.

Cadets from Clarkston Squadron who served as assistants to senior personnel included Cadets Bill Batten, David Campbell, Kevin Campbell, James Chad, Tom Cornell, Mark Peters, John Reichert, Rick Reynolds, Mike Saile, Greg Weber, David Wright, David Topolinski and Charles Van Fleteren. For their assistance the cadets received orientation flights in the aircraft used on the mission.

At the mission critique Michigan Wing members learned that they had scored 98 out of a possible 100 points on the effectiveness of their operation.

Major Cliff Moore, CAP, left, was in charge of the CAP flight line for the 1969 Michigan Wing SAR Effectiveness Test, and Major Frank E. Reynolds, USMCR, of Waterford, is currently teaching a class to CAP cadets at the Squadron.

C/MSgt. James Chad, CAP, left, and C/A1C David Wright, serve as members of the Safety Team for starting aircraft. All CAP aircraft are required to have someone standing by to pull the chocks and have a fire extinguisher while starting aircraft on the flight line.

A SPIRITUAL Message

"A MATURE FAITH"

A mature faith takes courage and discipline. It is having beliefs, not because we have been told what to think, what to do, and what to believe, but because within us we sense a growing conviction that a thing is true.

In order to mature in our faith, we must not be worried by doubts and afraid to cast-off beliefs which are outgrown. The first test of a grown-up faith is whether it is our own.

Then too, a grown-up faith is characterized by discipline from within rather than from without. This is living according to the laws of right not because of any notion that God will punish us if we do not, but because the meaning of our life, our happiness and fulfillment, depend upon so doing.

We also need to be courageous. As we mature, we learn to live in creative tension between the old and the new, the past and the future. It is realizing that we are going to change, welcoming the change, and seeking those experiences that stimulate change and growth in us. No one is a finished product.

And finally, a mature faith produces. We are rightly suspicious of a faith which causes people to "dry up" in their creative work and their relations with others. A mature faith increases one's ability to work well and make friends and enjoy other people. It brings an evermore worthwhile life for ourselves and empowers us to help others live more abundantly.

Just a suggestion

by Haslett Hemmor

It's maybe just putting it too strong to say Durwood Austin couldn't get a job if he wasn't the boss' brother.

Times what they are, old Durwood might get something, alright. For a fact, though, he sure wouldn't land a job as important as office manager of a big auto dealership.

Handling Chevies, Olds and Buicks like we do, it makes up for being a small town dealer.

There I go again, talking about OUR dealership and how big WE are in spite of OUR dealership being in a small town.

Guess we all feel that way, though. Most of us have been with Milt Austin for a good spell. Personally, I've been the parts manager for fourteen years. Guess I called it MY dealership after a few weeks. Milt gets that kind of loyalty in spite of being a pretty rough bozo and never very mealy-mouthed about telling us off real good if we goof up or goof off.

You don't mind getting chewed out by Milt. He's the boss and tough but fair — usual thing. Bawls you out and it's over just that fast.

Milt means it — don't ever doubt it — but you got it coming, and soon's he spits 'er out, like as not he'll shake your hand or whack you on the back and just wind up with something pleasant, like "We better all get crackin' or G.M.'ll take away one of our car lines like they're always threatening to do."

That's the way Milt is, gruff but real good folks — same time. That's not exactly the way I'd describe his brother, Durwood, howsoever.

Old Durwood never did marry. Don't hold that against him at all, but if you never saw him before, you would watch him charge around for a half hour and you'd somehow probably say, "Bet that guy isn't married."

Milt's the boss, but old brother Durwood is the bossy one. Always seems to think that if you take time for a good deep draw on a cigarette, it's maybe because you don't have enough work to do. So Durwood will dream up a half dozen no-count chores just to be sure you're earning your keep.

Great little old straightener-upper, Durwood is. If I leave a half-dozen important slips on my desk while I go out to talk to the service manager, I may come back to find them all gone. Maybe stapled together real neat and put in my bottom drawer. Lucky if you can figure out in an hour what it was you were going to do in the next five minutes.

Mostly, though, old Durwood is a charger. He charges out of his office and races here and there in the shop to maybe prove what lazy, slow-moving slob the rest of us are. Anybody else, you'd tell off right quick, but old Durwood is the boss' brother. Why make Milt feel bad?

The payoff on Dur's great wheel-spinning operation came when he put up the suggestion box with the card "WAYS TO IMPROVE OUR EFFICIENCY. (WIN A BONUS)"

Padlocked, it was, and to be opened only by Milt at our Monday morning 7:30 meetings.

Next Monday Milt opens her up and pulls out maybe ten slips. Read the first five, none signed:

"Put rubber soles on Durwood."

"Keep Dur out of the shop."

"Everybody with a desk gets to keep his own papers like he wants them."

"Send Durwood E. Austin on vacation 'til we catch up."

"Let's have just one boss."

Milt gets sort of red and says the meeting's over. Guess he had a long talk with old Durwood.

Best idea Dur ever had. Sure improved efficiency. Sure did.

PTA starts year

Open House will be held at the Pine Knob Elementary School's first PTA meeting on Monday, October 6, from 7 to 7:45 p.m. Parents are invited to meet with teachers and visit their children's classrooms.

The theme for the '69-'70 year will be "The New Generation."

Mr. F. Gerald St. Souver, of the Oakland County Prosecuting Attorney's Office will speak at 7:45. His topic will be narcotics with special emphasis on the "shoulds" and "should nots" for both parents and teachers.

A membership drive is underway. The class having the largest percentage of parents join the organization will be treated to a trip, by bus, to the Paint Creek Cider Mill at Goodison on Friday, October 17. Dues are 75 cents per year.

Refreshments will be served and a free baby-sitting service will be provided to enable all interested parents to attend.

Work program successful

The Clarkston Jayettes report that their endeavor this summer to provide employment and exercise for young girls was successful.

"Over 30 girls benefited from the employment service and an equal number of employers were accommodated," reported a spokesman.

Twenty-eight girls participated in the softball program. These games were climaxed by a game and picnic between the girls and the Jayettes.

The group plans to continue the employment service throughout the year. Babysitters or weekend workers are available by calling Mrs. Donald Hamaker at 625-4041.

The lists of available girls will be kept up to date and if sufficient interest is shown the program will be continued and expanded next year.

"We heartily thank the community for their support," the spokesman concluded.

Statement of Clarkston Board of Education

The Clarkston Board of Education regrets the decision of the Clarkston Education Association of Teachers to withhold their services effective Monday, September 29.

Negotiations between the representatives of the Board of Education and the Clarkston Education Association began early in March, 1969. Since an agreement could not be reached, a State Mediator was jointly requested on July 1, 1969. Certain issues remained unresolved, and it became necessary for the Clarkston Board of Education and the Clarkston Education Association to jointly petition the State Mediation Board for fact finding. The resulting fact finder's report was received by the Board of Education on Wednesday, September 24. Of the salary schedule and seven issues that were unresolved, the Board of Education could not accept the fact finder's recommendation in the following areas:

1. Salary Schedule

The Board of Education initially offered a salary schedule approximately one hundred thousand dollars over its income, which was rejected. Following the meeting with the Labor Mediation Board representative, the Board, in an all out effort to keep children in school, increased the offer to two hundred thousand dollars over its income, which was subsequently rejected by the Clarkston Education Association.

The Board of Education is legally accountable for maintaining a balanced budget and must take the position that it is responsible to the members of the community as well as its employees.

The Board of Education does not accept the recommendation of the Labor Mediation Board representative that the Board of Education increase its expenditures to three hundred thousand dollars over its income when such action on the part of the Board would require a school operation tax increase of nearly 25%.

2. Demand for two (2) personal days per teacher to be used at the discretion of the teacher.

The current offer by the Board of Education includes time off without loss of pay for the following reasons:

- Personal illness
- Death in the family or of a friend
- Visits to other schools
- Jury duty
- Court appearances
- Legal and moral obligations
- Hospital visitation

In view of the decision of the Clarkston Education Association of Teachers to withhold their services, Clarkston Community Schools will be closed until further notice.

Sue Griffith calls for a victory with her arms forming the "V", but her team, the Clarkston Wolves, fell a few points short at Brighton.

Improved Wolves face Trojans

The Clarkston Wolves will face Clarenceville's Trojans with new hope Friday night.

Last week the Wolves lost again, but with more honor than in the first two games of the season. The score: Wolves, 6; Brighton Bulldogs, 14, at Brighton.

Clarkston fans went wild in the second quarter when Doug Beadle, No. 32, crashed through to the end zone for his team's only touchdown. The team had been held scoreless the preceding week by Bloomfield's Andover Barons.

In the first quarter of the game, Clarkston took the ball but was forced back to its 5-yard line and had to punt. Brighton then made a combination pass-run touchdown and scored six points. The kick for the extra point fell short.

Brighton kicked off and Beadle took the ball and made it out to the Bulldog's 45-yard line. At the fourth down Clarkston had one inch to go to make a first down. The Wolves made it, giving Kurt Richardson, No. 42, and John Hux, No. 15, another chance for a series of plays which eventually got the ball to the Bulldogs' 21-yard line, before the quarter changed.

Richardson and Hux again got the ball moving, bringing it up to the 3-yard line. It was then that Beadle, made his touchdown.

Richardson tried the run for the extra point but was tackled short of his goal.

Clarkston kicked off and Brighton ran the ball out to their 45-yard line. Brighton tried a few pass plays, losing considerable yardage and was forced to punt.

Clarkston wasn't able to do too much with the ball, either. The Wolves made it out to the 35 and were forced to punt with just 42 action packed seconds left in the half.

Brighton used the time to make a first down and call time-out. With 30 seconds left the Bulldogs accepted a 5-yard penalty for illegal procedure and attempted a long end zone pass that was incomplete.

At the end of the half the score was 6-6.

In the third quarter neither Clarkston nor Brighton gained much headway, and the quarter ended with the ball 15 yards away from a Brighton touchdown.

Starting the fourth quarter Brighton got in a lucky pass. The ball was thrown into the arms of a surprised end who ran for a touchdown.

For the extra point Brighton pulled a legal trick. The team was all set up in kick formation, but when the ball was hiked the player who was supposed to hold the ball got up and passed it to a waiting end, scoring two extra points.

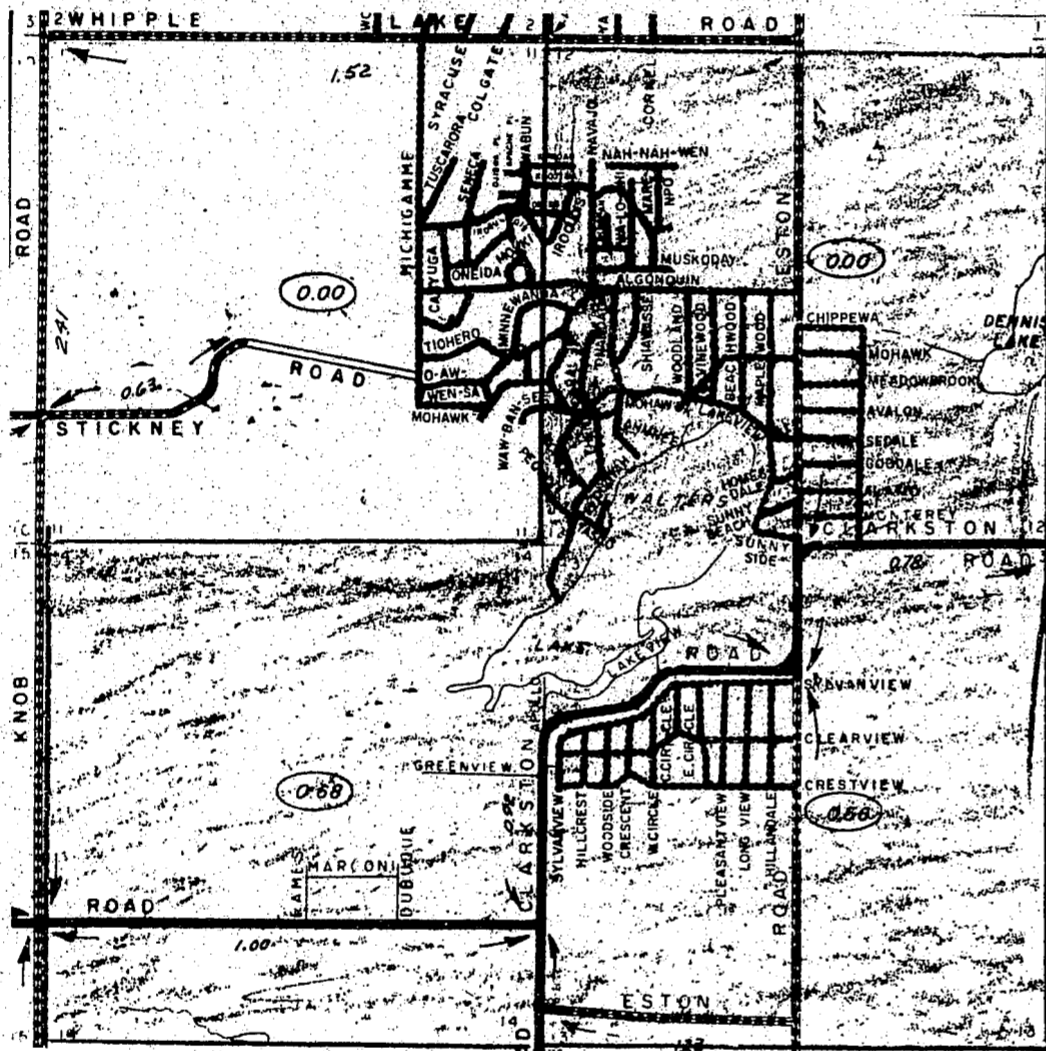

The rest of the quarter was spent in making errors for both teams. Coach Paul Rakow, however, seemed a lot more pleased with his Clarkston team than he has in the first two games of the season.

Wed in evening

Mrs. Norman M. Jokinen

In an evening ceremony at the Calvary Lutheran Church, Kathy A. Golembeske, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Golembeske, exchanged vows with Norman M. Jokinen, the son of Mrs. Thor Olafsson and the late Matti Jokinen, on September 27.

The bride chose a street length gown of peau de soie, which was trimmed with embroidered daisies. She wore a matching pill box which fastened her shoulder-length veil and she carried a dozen long-stemmed white roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Judith

Spies and the bridesmaid, Mrs. James A. Peloquin, wore identical street length gowns of yellow cotton that featured bell sleeves and were trimmed with daisies.

Carl Heitmeyer was best man and James Scott and James Ferguson seated the guests.

After a reception at the Bloomfield Center, the couple traveled to Northern Michigan.

Both graduates of Clarkston High School, the newlyweds will make their home in Drayton Plains.

Fresh fish

Around the Town

by W.O.S.

Joe and Ruth Alumbaugh, former Clarkston residents, traveled to a private island in Lake Nipigon for a 2-week vacation in August. Friends accompanying them on their trip were two other couples and their families. While there, they found a fisherman's paradise when they caught over 250 walleyes in less than 24 hours. It might be a good idea to invite them for a fish dinner. They should have a few to spare.

On the sick list this week are Mrs. Edith Berryman, who is at the Woodside Medical, Glen Howland in Providence, Southfield; Marie Brinkman, Henry Ford Hospital; and Henri Damians, Pontiac General. How about dropping them a card?

Traveling to Hawaii for a reunion with her husband, Mr. Clyde Kizer, who is stationed in Vietnam, was Mrs. Kizer. They were to meet on September 22 and spend 10 days together. Hope they had a great time.

A baby shower for Mrs. Danny Moore of 6766 Almond Lane was given at the home of Mrs. Robert Chastain of Allen road on Sept. 19. The shower cake was made to look like building blocks with pink and blue booties around the side. 23 guests were present, one from London, England. Cohostesses were Mrs. Ted Moore and Miss Linda Chastain.

Miss Irene VanBaele, the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Moggan, spent three weeks visiting the area. Miss VanBaele had flown to the states from London, England. While here, the Moggans made several special tours of the Michigan area.

Seymour Lake W.S.C.S. will sponsor a toy demonstration in the church parlor on Friday, October 3, at 1 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Laturneau of 3696 Shoals, Drayton, announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Louise, to Pfc. Michael N. Jensenius. Michael is the son of Mr. Robert Jensenius of 5670 Dvorak and the late Mrs. Jensenius. No date has been set for the wedding.

Kutting Korners

by Jean Sura

This column is for the kids. Packing lunches can be a terrible chore. The only thing worse is having to eat a soggy, dismal lunch out of a bag. Here are some suggestions to perk up the whole operation.

Designate a special lunch packing center in your kitchen. Select a section of counter near the refrigerator or freezer. Be sure a cutting board and drawer are handy, too. Fill the drawer with lunch box necessities like napkins, plastic utensils, paper bags, plastic beverage or soup containers, a jar of "milk money" change, plastic sandwich bags, plastic wrap and foil.

Assign a shelf in your refrigerator for lunch food supplies like butter, spreads, cold cuts, cheeses and fruits.

Each child can prepare and refrigerate his lunch the evening before each school day or make an entire week's supply of lunches on the weekend and freeze the sandwiches. Wrapped frozen sandwiches can be taken from the freezer each morning and placed in the lunch bag to thaw by noon. Pre-frozen foods will be fresher and tastier.

Don't store sandwiches more than two weeks in your home freezer or more than one week in the freezer section of your refrigerator. Thaw them at room temperature while still in their wrap.

All kinds of breads freeze well but fillings do not. Mayonnaise and salad dressings tend to separate when frozen and are not recommended. Instead, freeze the sandwich and then spread the dressing on when you remove the sandwich from the freezer.

Garnishes and foods that cannot be frozen, like tomato slices, lettuce or juicy

Reports have reached us that Herb Baynes, Carl Bates and Howard Allard have all come home from the hospital. We are glad to hear that good news and hope by now that they are completely well.

Mrs. Merle DeNise of 5380 Eastview brought us a surprise when she appeared at the News office with a branch of blooming apple blossoms. The blooms, which usually occur in April or May, had suddenly appeared on a tree in the DeNise orchard. If we see a robin tomorrow, we'll know how Rip Van Winkle felt. With the blossoms on the desk it seems like a good, short winter.

pickles, can be wrapped and refrigerated separately and slipped into the lunch bag that morning.

Start a once a week assembly line for packing lunches. The kids will enjoy their lunches more and will eat heartier fare.

Church holds sale

this weekend

The Church of the Resurrection in Clarkston is holding a rummage sale on Friday and Saturday, October 3 and 4. This sale will run from 9 a.m. until noon on both days.

Among the merchandise offered for sale will be a group of new dresses that have been donated by a store in Clarkston. All items will be marked at bargain prices.

Anyone wishing to donate articles should bring them to the church on Thursday evening, when Mrs. Clark Easley, chairman; Mrs. Chris Easley, co-chairman, and the women of the ECW will be setting up the displays.

In August the church had a sale of famous-make men's fall sportswear. Because of its success, another sale of this type is being planned in February or March. This sale will feature men's summer sportswear, shirts and may possibly include women's summer sportswear.

Former Clarkston residents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Lambert of Central Lake, announce the engagement of their daughter, Paula, to Melvin D. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. Green, 61 E. Church St. No wedding date has been set.

Register for swim class

Registration for the program to "waterproof Clarkston" will be held on October 6, 7 and 8 at the Junior High School on Waldon road. The time is from 7 to 9 p.m.

Sponsored by the Clarkston Community Schools and the Clarkston Jaycees, this swimming program will use the facilities at Oakland University. The University will also provide the instructors.

The program is intended to provide swimming instruction and recreation for any Clarkston school student who is 4 feet, 6 inches (54 inches) or more tall. This restriction is to insure that the youngster will be able to stand up in the water, which is 48 inches deep.

Instruction will be offered at all levels: beginner, intermediate, advanced and life saving.

The three 8-week sessions will be held from October 18 through December 6, January 10 through March 7 (no class on February 14) and March 14 through May 2 (no class on March 21).

All sessions will be on Saturday mornings. The first group will leave Clarkston at 9 a.m. and return at 11. The second group will leave at 10 a.m. and return at noon.

All youngsters will be transported by bus from the elementary school closest to their homes. Adults will supervise both the bus ride and at the pool.

The program will cost each student $4 for each session. They will receive 45 minutes of instruction and 15 minutes of recreational swimming each week.

Students may enroll in as many sessions as they wish on a first come basis. Parents will be invited to attend the final class of each session to see their children demonstrate their accomplishments.

Children will be expected to provide their own swim suits and towels.

Registration may be made by mail by sending name, address, name of school, grade, birth date and phone number and indicating which session is preferred to Larry J. Thompson, Clarkston area Jaycees, 6645 Almond Lane, Clarkston 48016.

Letters to the Editor

Dissatisfied

Sept. 26, 1969

Dear Editor:

I've heard some talk around about how some people thought it sure was good of the Clarkston School teachers to report for work even though they didn't have a contract.

I wonder how people would think if they knew that I, as a Clarkston School employee, had just finished two weeks of work, and, come payday and the time I was told I could draw my wages, a bank teller says she's sorry, but my wages had not been deposited for me.

In order to continue as a Clarkston School employee, I was forced to sign a card opening a personal checking account in my name at the Clarkston State Bank. My wages were then going to be deposited in that account, and then I would be forced to write a personal check to withdraw them.

With this new system came the guarantee of a time and date my wages would be available to me. Well, apparently, that guarantee wasn't worth a darn. Maybe if I make two or three special trips to the bank, I might be able to get paid for my work, but I sure wouldn't want the Superintendent of Clarkston Schools or the Vice President of the Clarkston bank to make that guarantee because just maybe they couldn't back up that promise, either.

I want to continue as an employee of the Clarkston School system, so against my will, I took their word for what a modern and convenient system of bookkeeping this new method produced, it was even going to guarantee us no payless paydays. Well, I call today a payless payday, but then maybe I'm not important; after all, I'm—

Clarification

September 26, 1969

Dear Editor:

An error or misunderstanding seems to have been made, regarding the actual area around Walters Lake, which is to be closed to hunting.

The impression seems to be that all of Sections 12, 13 and 14 are closed to hunting while the order and ordinance calls for TO WIT:

A. Hunting for wild migratory water fowl is prohibited on Walters Lake in Sections 12, 13 and 14 of Independence Township.

The clarification should be made in the Clarkston-News as a NOTICE.

Thank you very much.

Respectfully Yours,
Howard Altman, Clerk

Dead Reckoning . . .

Unsolicited advice to Coho fishermen

by Don Lytle

The coho season is upon us but so is the DDT season. DDT levels in coho will be at their highest at this time of year. Consequently, the coho fisherman must ponder the dilemma in which he finds himself - whether to eat or not to eat his catch.

As coho swim from Lake Michigan up the rivers and streams to spawn, they eat little. As a result, according to Dr. Norman Leeling of the department of entomology at Michigan State University, instead of metabolizing the fat which contains the high DDT residues (15-90 parts per million), the coho absorbs the residues directly into its flesh. Fifteen parts per million (ppm) of the pesticide in each coho is the expected level again this year. This is 10 ppm's over the maximum recommended by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

Many officials in the Department of Natural Resources are quietly suggesting that the fisherman not eat his catch. However, the passion for coho in the collect bloods of thousands of fishermen disallows this consideration. Understandably, they must fish for this game fish and toast their efforts with the salmon steak. To that fisherman who eats his catch, this author offers these recommendations.

Consider the fishing spot. Dr. Robert Reinert of the U.S. Bureau of Commercial Fisheries in Ann Arbor suggests that DDT concentrations in the southern portions of the Lake will be higher than the northern portions, but that all areas are unacceptable.

Clean the coho in this precise fashion: "To remove the fat which contains the highest concentrations of DDT, coho fishermen must cut off the belly fat well above where the dull, yellowish fat begins to merge with the pinkish flesh. Then similar fatty areas that run along the sides of the fish and across the back must also be trimmed away. Authorities quickly add that there are lines of fat in coho which cannot be removed."

Fry the fish. Broiling or baking does not remove sizeable amounts of the residues still in the fish. Changing the grease after frying each fish insures 40-50 percent of the remaining residues being removed.

The whole laborious procedure seems to be inconsistent somehow with the nostalgic picture of men eating their catch on a quiet beach after a successful day, the sun slowly slipping down into the lake. But then again times have changed. With DDT being the most probable cause of mortality among young salmon and with mounting evidence suggesting the lethal effects on wildlife and now man, coho fishermen might want to use this simple but effective solution to the whole mess.

Catch your fish if you must; then put it back and break open a can of salmon from Alaska and enjoy the treat, unafraid.

The Good Shepherd Assembly of God will present a program of heart-felt singing when they sponsor an evening of singing by the Lighthouse Quartet. The Quartet is a dedicated group of singers who will perform at 7 p.m. on October 5 at the church at 6051 Sashabaw Road. The public is welcome.

Clarkston TEACHERS Had To Do It!

Someone had to stop the deteriorating conditions of Clarkston Schools

With a teacher loss rate of nearly TWICE THE NATIONAL AVERAGE, teachers were forced by the school board to take this action

Teachers tried everything possible to avert this interruption in the educational program of Clarkston students

Negotiated since Spring to resolve contract issues

Requested the State to assign a mediator to the dispute

Asked the State to schedule a Fact Finding Hearing to review issues and recommend a settlement

At the recommendation of the Fact Finder, dropped or conceded most of the pressing concerns of teachers

These Are The Issues:

- PERSONAL BUSINESS DAYS
- LONGEVITY PAY
- SALARY SCHEDULE

These are the Fact Finders Recommendations

"I can imagine a rare instance in which a teacher would desire to miss work for purely personal reasons. In general I believe that personal business privilege is sound and that restrictions and approvals concerning its use are unduly stringent, if not degrading. Thus, I am satisfied with the theory of the Association's proposal . . . On this issue I recommend that the Association's proposal be granted to the extent of one (1) day of personal business each year . . ."

"Longevity pay is customary and desirable and I recommend it at a 3% increment for each 5 years beyond the top step. Based on what was last known of settlements, this schedule would tend to continue the relative county-wide salary standing of Clarkston teachers."

"The recommended schedule is:

BA min	$ 7,375
BA max	$11,625
MA min	$ 8,075
MA max	$12,625

Letters of commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1969 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMSQT) have been awarded to three students at Clarkston Senior High School, Principal Milford Mason has announced.

Those named Commended students are Deborah Davis, Jody Hawke and Richard Ruelle.

They are among 39,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1970. The Commended students rank just below the 15,000 Semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC).

Edward C. Smith, president of NMSC, said: "Although Commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college.

"The Commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The Commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices when they took the NMSQT in February, 1969. The reports include home addresses, test scores and anticipated college majors and their career intentions. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

Recently, the Madrigal Singers for 1969-70 were chosen by Miss Adrienne Budenseik, high school chorus teacher. They are: Carmen Blackerby, Ann Chad, Jim Decker, Karen Dee, Joanne

Important Announcement

PONTIAC AND CLARKSTON, MEET ORTONVILLE

Long distance won't come between you after October 2.

That's right. At 12:01 a.m., Thursday, Long Distance charges will be eliminated on Ortonville calls from Pontiac and Clarkston. You won't even have to dial "1" when making such calls.

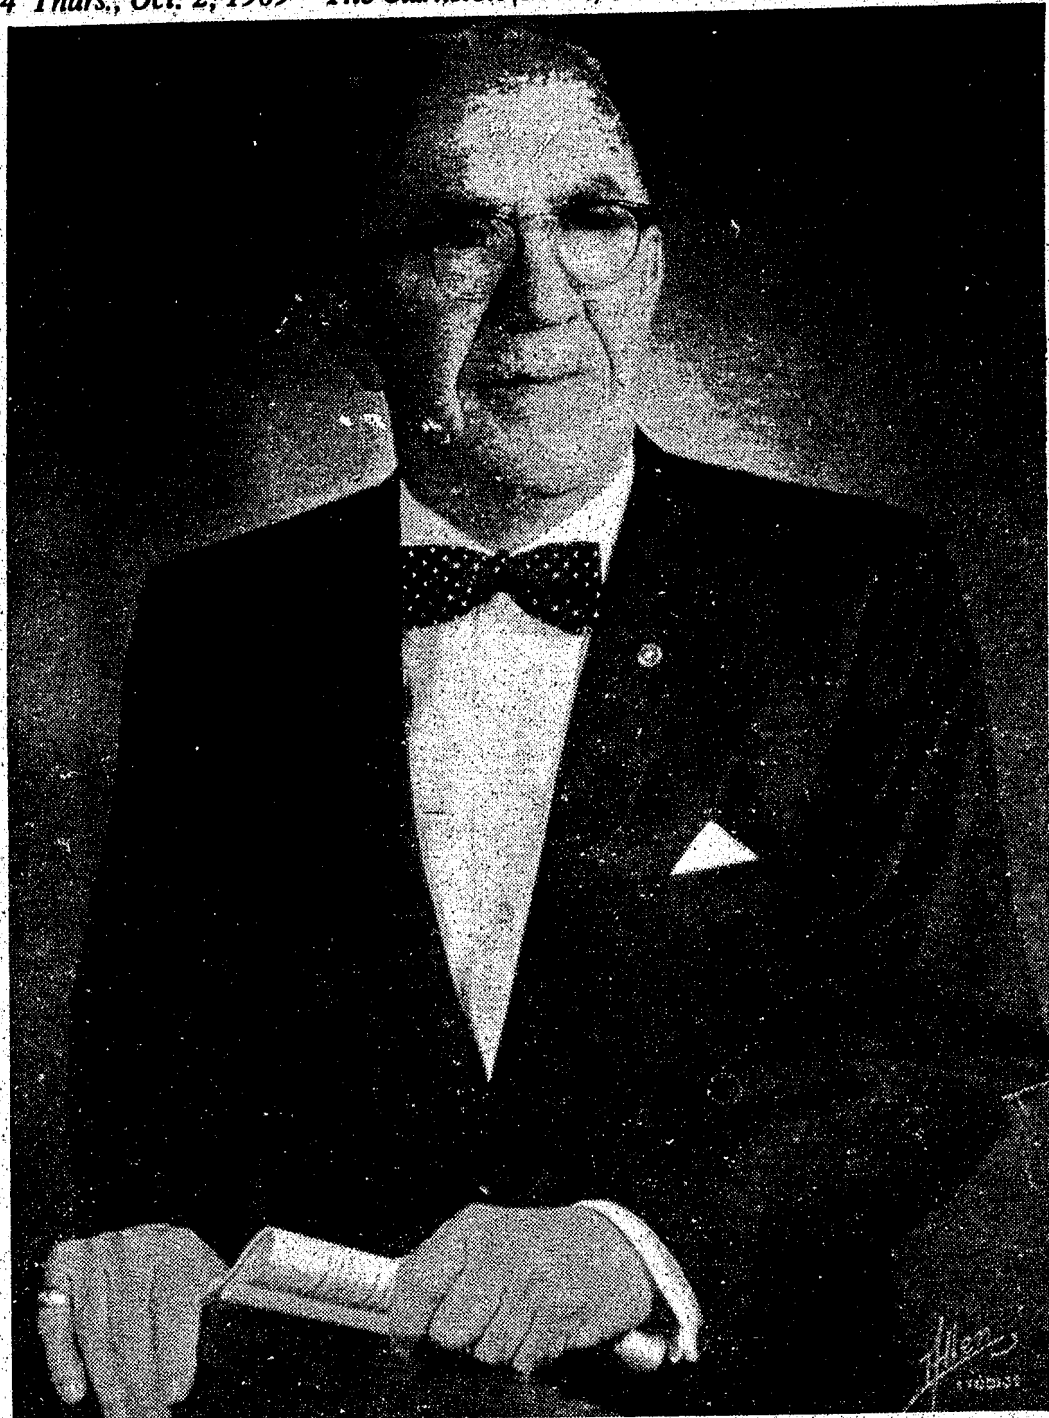

Listings for Ortonville customers will be included as a separate section in the April 1970, issue of the Pontiac area directory. Before then, you may obtain a special directory supplement containing Ortonville numbers by calling your telephone business office, 332-9911.

This expanded service is part of our continuing effort to make telephone service a greater value. We hope you will be pleased with the extra convenience and savings.
