Jim's Jottings

Well, we didn't get into our new home by Thanksgiving. We didn't get into it before the first snowfall, either. I had higher hopes on the latter. We got a screened-in porch on this 2-room with attic, converted foaling barn we live in.

When the Brace Beemers lived in it one winter they put plastic over the screen. After I bought it the plastic developed tears and I took it down. We were only there some summer days anyway.

But during the early morning of November 19th it snowed. Before that it rained and the wind blew. The screens on the porch separated the raindrops and the wind made the spray extend beyond the front door.

What I'm getting at, folks, is that when I came down that pull-down, outside stairs that cold spray went up my nightshirt before my feet could hit the wet cement... and it's 2 of those cold wet steps to the front door.

So, Wednesday night, there I was out in the bitter, cold, blowing snow putting up that plastic. Of course, I ran out of plastic. Naturally. But I did have 4 sheets of plywood to put up.

Hazel outsmarted me again: She quit that attic sleeping business. No cold, wet spray for her. I think I'll burn her mattress and make her sleep on the floor.

For a 3-point kick a band should play only half a fight song.

Finally I can use Bancroft in a news story. There's a Bow and Arrow Rabbit Hunt sponsored by the Owosso YMCA at their Camp Shiawasse. To get there you get off M-78 at the Bancroft exit. Oh, yea. The hunt is December 7. 28 years after Pearl Harbor we're back to bows and arrows.

All my life I've been buying something neutral in clothes so they would "go with anything." Looking over my wardrobe I came to the conclusion that clothes that go with everything go with nothing.

I've even gotten away from wearing loud shorts. My work pants will go well with solids or plaids. My socks are all black to go with my shoes which go with my charcoal pants that go with my blended sport coat.

I'm going to change all that some

To Lori Hetherington and Kimberly Menzies it looks like everything's coming up snowy.

Plane crash claims 3 lives

Two area men were killed when the light plane, a Sessna 182, in which they were flying, crashed while attempting to land at the Tri-City Airport on Monday shortly after 6 p.m.

Dead were Merritt Cooley, 58, of 1245 Rattalee Lake Rd., Davisburg; Jack Davis, 33, of 3422 Quick, Holly and Vernon Theyson of Duluth, Minnesota.

The three men were enroute from Sault Ste. Marie to Pontiac when, according to reports, they ran into bad weather and requested landing instructions at the Tri-City Airport which serves the Bay City, Saginaw and Midland area.

Landing across the runway, the plane nosed into the ground.

-Cooley was the owner and operator of Cooley Soft Water in Pontiac. He is survived by his wife and 5 children.

The plane was reported to belong to Theyson and circumstances indicated that he was at the controls at the time of the crash.

day. Right after I change the world.

Hey, Dads! Do you ever ask your kids, "Who is the greatest guy in the world?" I did and 12-year-old Luan answered, "Mom's first husband!" She'll never reach 13.

For years I've fought the urge to walk to the back of a store when I go in the front door. I keep telling myself what I want might be in the front, but I usually end up walking to the back.

Whatever happened to panty raids? Maybe if maxi coats stay with us long enough, boys will forget the present exposures and start wondering again.

Thieves steal church bell

The bell rope dangled uselessly from the bell tower in the little Mt. Bethel United Methodist Church, in Groveland Township. Thieves, apparently using ladders, had stolen the beautiful, large bell that had called the congregation to worship for the past 20 years.

Sometime during the week preceding November 9, the bell had been lowered to the ground and taken away.

The bell was a memorial gift of Lee Wright.

Reverend Don Hall and members of the congregation are anxious to have anyone who might have any information leading to the apprehension of the thieves or recovery of the bell to call 625-3408. The church is located at the corner of Jossman and Bald Eagle Lake Road.

Notes from the Township

The township board covered their varied agenda in rather short order Tuesday night. Taking items in order of their appearance:

A petition for a constable's job from Kenneth E. Wilson was read by clerk Howard Altman. It stated he, Wilson, would like to be considered for constable should a vacancy come about. There are no vacancies now. Each township is allowed 4 and they are elected. The board can make an appointment to fill a vacancy.

A public hearing will come at the second board meeting in December, that's the 16th, on putting in more lights in the township.

Final approval was given Apple Lane Estates on the southwest corner of Oakhill and Hadley roads. There are 9 lots in the sub of 3 acres in size or more. It is zoned Suburban Farms.

The new library will probably be getting a new flag pole from the American Legion Post here and a flag from the Jaycees. John Lynch told the board of the Legion's offer and, after getting board approval, said he would work with the Jaycees on the project.

Clarkston saddened by death of "John"

By Jean Sura
John Burkherb died November 23. He died of a heart attack Sunday at the hospital elevator as he was saying goodbye to "his family" who were visiting him. He had been in the hospital for a week with pneumonia and had been advised by the doctor to stay a few more days.

Few people would know or recognize the name Burkherb, but if you were to say, "the little man with the bit smile — you know — the Lambert's John," most folks would nod and smile.

For, John, as everyone called him, was well known in the Village that he loved.

Though he was not able to communicate with the ease most of us take for granted, he generated loyalty, love, friendliness and a passion for hard work. His early lesson in life, "to work hard meant to eat well," was never forgotten.

Many residents of Main Street knew and respected him for these qualities.

John came to live with the Lambert family in 1915, shortly after he was discovered, standing barefoot in the snow looking through a window, watching a Christmas party. He was about six years old. His stepmother did not protest when John was taken from her.

In those early years, it was surmised that he was a deaf mute, so he was sent to a special school. The school discovered that his hearing was normal, but he did have a speech deficiency.

So John came to live and work with the Lambert family. "John could be very bossy and stubborn at times," smiled Mrs.

John Burkherb

John Burkherb of 43 N. Main St., died after a short illness on November 23. He was approximately 61.

For many years he had been employed by Mrs. Frank Lambert.

Rev. Frank Cozadd conducted funeral services from the Sharpe Goyette Funeral Home on November 25. Burial was in Eastlawn Cemetery.

Merritt Cooley

Merritt Cooley of Rattalee Lake Road, Davisburg, died suddenly as the result of injuries sustained in an airplane crash. He was 58.

Mr. Cooley was a member of the Christian Businessmen's Committee, Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, Water-Conditioning Association, ASTE, Gideons and the Davisburg Baptist Church. He owned and operated Cooley Soft Water in Pontiac.

He is survived by his wife, Stella; 5 children, Richard of Lake Orion; Robert of Pontiac, Mrs. Jerry Voorhies, Grand Blanc; Patricia and Janet, at home; 14 grandchildren and 1 brother, Pilson of Alaska.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Robert Hazen on November 28 at 1 p.m. from the Davisburg Baptist Church. Burial will be in Mt. Morris Cemetery, Mt. Morris.

The family requests that donations be made to the Gideons.

John Burkherb and Mrs. Frank Lambert helped with the village clean-up, sponsored by the Clarkston Garden Club, last spring.

Idell Skarritt

A lifetime resident of Oakland county, most of it in Oxford, Mrs. Idell M. Skarritt of 14 Pleasant street died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Tuesday, Nov. 18. She was 75.

Mrs. Skarritt, nee Idell McMahon, was born in Clarkston and went to school there. In 1912 she was married to the late Judd Skarritt and later became chief switchboard operator at Pontiac State Hospital. She was a lifetime member of the Eastern Stars in Clarkston.

Two children survive, Kenneth of Oxford and Hawley of Clarkston. There are 2 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Friday from Bossardet Funeral Home, Oxford, and burial was in Lakeview Cemetery, Clarkston. The Rev. Arthur Habermehl officiated.

Lambert. He was extremely hard working and loyal. He learned rules and believed they should be strictly observed.

"He learned his table manners at the family table but got to be very critical of others and if guests used the wrong fork or spoon he was quick to let them know they were in error. He had a childlike candor and simplicity.

"He was serving dessert at a luncheon one day and one of the guests was overweight. John took care of the situation in his own way by serving large helpings to all but the heavy guest. "Too fat," he said.

At 14, John was made a ward of the State for his own protection, but continued to live with the Lamberts until last week.

Funeral services were held at the Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home on November 25. He was buried in the Lambert family plot at Eastlawn Cemetery. John was approximately 61.

Surviving are "his family," the Lamberts, neighbors, young and old, and his many friends on Clarkston's Main Street.

Upper Mill Pond silted, too

For the last 2 weeks there has been concern among villagers about drainage into the Mill Pond south of Miller road. Monday night 2 residents on Buttercup called Council's attention to the Mill Pond north of Miller.

Though they are not in the village, the 2 men, Ronald Becker and Jules Ruerat, wondered if the village might have an interest since the 2 ponds are influenced by each other.

They explained that because of silt settling in this pond the depth has shrunk to 3 feet when it used to be 8. Primary cause of the fill was I-75, they said. Because of so much soil disturbance and change in natural drainage the pond filled up. Some also got into lower Mill Pond.

The residents said they had contacted a firm about dredging, but the cost was prohibitive for them, $26,000. This plan was to ask Hawk Tool to lower the water through their dam for a week to allow trucking away the silt. Trucking costs were $17,000.

They said the Department of Natural Resources had been contacted, but because Hawk controls the water rights for 15 miles from the Pond the DNR can't get involved.

The men from Buttercup said they

Blooper Box

This is the week to be thankful and we will be truly grateful if this issue of the News comes off the press with fewer bloopers than last week.

First of all to Polly Hanson and Don Lytle whose pictures were switched, our most sincere apologies. It is fun working with people who laugh so easily at mistakes that others make, particularly when they involve them so personally. You are two of the "good guys."

Mr. Gerald Hennig made a special trip into the office to recheck the copy concerning the Jr. Miss Pageant. Surprisingly, (to us and to Mr. Hennig), 2 sentences were omitted in the printing and altered the meaning of the story.

Correctly, Polly Hanson stated in her High School Happenings column, "The money for the scholarships is donated by local businesses. The trophies for the pageant are being donated by Mr. Don Auten, owner of Auten Furniture."

It wasn't our intention to take credit from the merchants. Nor did we want to hang Mr. Auten with the whole $850 bill.

We'll try to see that it doesn't happen again.

Of all the dogs that have ever owned me, Zero was maybe the most affectionate. Seemed to know we'd found him with his ears froze in a snowbank. Couldn't just say hello with a yip and a wag. Had to lick your hands every time. Almost embarrassing, it was.

When the pup started to sprout up that winter, I thought he got to look more like a Dane and less like an Airdale. Eff said no, that he still looked like a nothing dog and deserved to be called by his name, Zero.

Most mutts like to chew as they start to get their long teeth. Old Zero was like all pups about that, but the thing he most liked to chew on was the wallpaper. Seemed to have some kind of thing about wallpaper. Leave him alone for two hours or more and it was maybe his way of punishing you. Raked off the wallpaper without much scraping the plaster. Just like he hated wallpaper and figured he'd let us know that he was people instead of a dog.

First dozen times or so I lit in him real good with a rolled-up newspaper. Didn't do any good. Wouldn't quit it and it made you feel like a rat 'cause he'd just lick your hand afterward and make you real ashamed of being so mean.

Come spring, Zero's maybe half grown. Size of a small pony, he is, and awkward as a calf on stilts. Long skinny legs and all. Old Eff keeps calling him "ugly." Says his legs are way too long and his head's too small. "Looks like a drunk giraffe with a short neck," she says. "Ugly monster," she calls him but on the sly she's always petting him and telling him he can't help it he's such a freak. Zero just licks her hands and wags all over.

Trouble is the German shepherd down the road and the big cross-bred collie across the street don't seem to know that Zero is just a pup. Run together, those two do, and every time they catch Zero outside they both light into him and near kill old Zero. Three times I have to take him in for stitches.

Doc seems real upset that I don't take care of Zero better, but you just can't stay right with a pooch all the time. Won't do anything on a leash and fact is, he won't take care of his business if he thinks you're watching. Try to tell Doc that, though, and he just looks at you like you plain lost your marbles - or never had any.

Summer's near over by the time Zero stops getting tangled up with his own legs. By late Fall he's starting to fill out pretty good and weighs 117. Looks like a kind of curly-haired Dane to me. Old Eff just keeps snorting, "Ugly, ugly, head's too small to even look like a dog. More like a cross between a goat and donkey."

Now he growls when someone comes to the door. Not a good deep growl, but more like he thinks that's what he's supposed to do. Acts real startled when he goes soprano like a 14-year-old boy. Acts shocked like maybe some other dog did that.

It's a real cold day in January when I'm throwing an old piece of garden hose into the snowbanks

Fathers have duties

There are certain things a father should do for his kids. My wife says so.

It doesn't matter if the kids are brats. It doesn't matter if Old Dad twitches and foams at the mere sound of such revolting slogans as "The family that ticks together, sticks together."

This is a nation where the validity of a family relationship can be measured by how many times Dad takes Junior fishing.

So there I was at a church supper. On Saturday night! As I make this news public, I have the feeling that the south wall of the Alibi Bar just crumbled.

To start with, I ate too much. I always eat too much at these suppers. I take a selfish helping from every bowl passed for fear the bowl will never be back. Suddenly my plate is eye-high with more food than my wife melts in 3 days. And I eat every bite because, after supper, there's liable to be a missionary movie about starving kids in India.

But there was no movie this Saturday. Instead the crowd moved into a room usually used for nursery school. Fathers with cigars grabbed seats next to the sandbox. We were gathered there to see a skit and hear songs and speeches. Just as I was asking myself what in the Good Lord's name I was doing 7 blocks away from my Alka Seltzer, I overheard something startling.

"Hey," I whispered to my wife, "that young man just said this is a Senior Youth Fellowship supper. Our oldest daughter long ago graduated from this group and the other 2 kids are too young for it. So why are we here, anyway?"

Born to Petty Officer 1/c and Mrs. William Parker, a 7 lb., 9 oz. daughter, Paula Lynne, on Monday, Nov. 13, at Pontiac General Hospital. Petty Officer Parker, who is stationed with the Coast Guard in Erie, Pa., was allowed an emergency leave.

and Zero keeps digging it out and racing back with it. He sure enough loves to do anything that he thinks will please you. Shakes that yard-long piece of hose, growling and shaking it and near snapping off his big old tail, he's so happy.

He's coming to me again when that pair of dogs, the shepherd and collie, sail into him from the rear and knock him sideways six-seven feet.

Zero wheels and grabs the shepherd by the scruff of the back and starts pounding him up and down like he was beating a rug. Then he wheels and catches the collie by the throat and spins twice before throwing that one about six feet in the air. They both take off, yelping like they been attacked by a lion.

Week or so later I'm taking a walk down the road with Zero we sudden come onto those two dogs. Like they been trained to do it, they both roll over on their backs with feet straight up.

Zero goes first to the shepherd and stands over him, growling. Collie doesn't move. Feet still straight up. Zero goes over to him and growls about three inches from his throat, but doesn't touch either one. Then he comes back to me, licks my hand and wags his tail as if to say he hates dogs and loves people, but as long as the dogs leave him alone . . . Ever see a dog grin?

Dog House Door

Take a truck inner tube and nail it to the top and bottom of your dog house. Use a larger flat-headed roofing nail to hold well. Stretch rubber taut and nail every two inches along edge. Split the rubber piece with a knife from top to bottom. Now your dog can go in or out through slit yet tight door keeps out wind and weather.

that's why," my wife answered.

This is a sure-pop method for getting wayward fathers to church. Just get his kids on the program, doing anything, it doesn't matter what. If the bum still refuses to attend, his wife is justified in turning his name in to the Readers Digest and having him arrested for unAmericanism. I've eaten 6 a.m. breakfasts in church simply because my daughter was in the kitchen, dripping oatmeal in the scrambled eggs.

Anyway, Chrissie is our hippie-haired 13-year-old who'd rather be called Chris. And sure enough, there she was on stage with her best friend, Kathy, both of them strumming away while everyone sang. It didn't sound like everyone was singing the same song, but that was probably the guitar players' fault. Chrissie missed a lot of lessons.

When the sing-along ended, the toastmaster complimented Chrissie and Kathy who were uniformed in matching maxiskirts. "They made their outfits themselves, just for our program," the man said.

My wife gave a slight sigh. "What's the matter?" I asked. "Nothing," she said, "except I'm tired from sitting at the sewing machine the last 3 days, making those skirts."

Kids are beautiful. And some dads are phonies. I never went to a church or school program without grumbling mightily. But I never left without somehow feeling good about having been there.

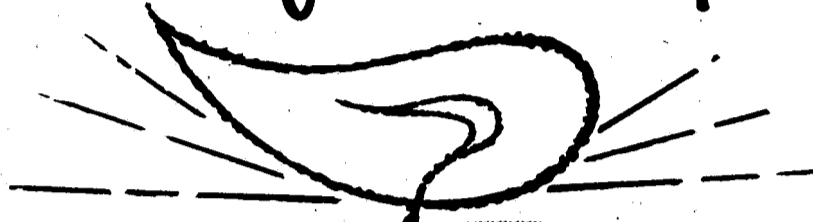

And when that kid finished playing the guitar, I took so many bows I almost fell in the sandbox.

Once Over Lightly

By Jim

Remember the build up President Nixon's speech of Nov. 3 got? This was really supposed to be something. His statement on our present status, or possibly his plan for getting us out of Vietnam.

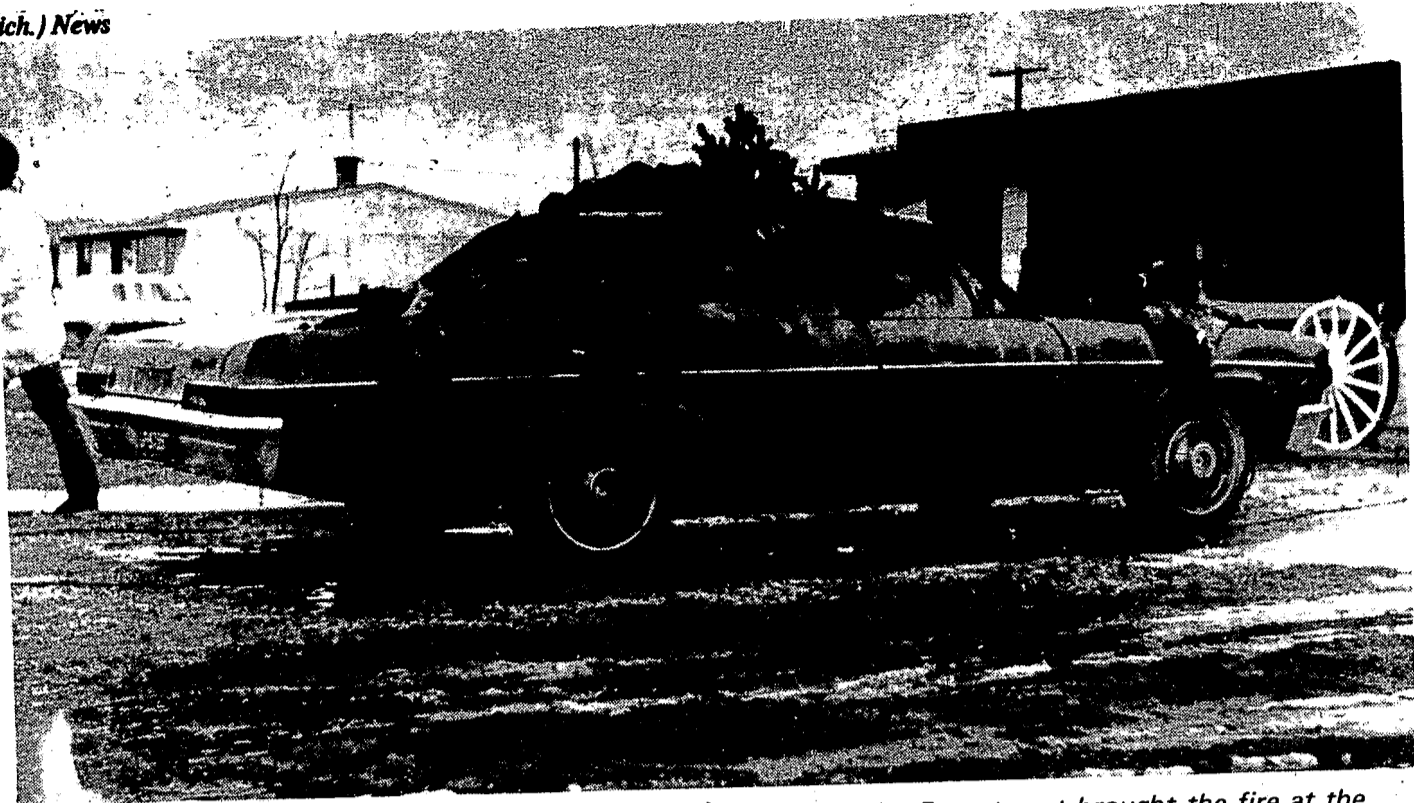

The speech was nothing. He said nothing new. He wasn't encouraging. He didn't announce more troop withdrawal, there were no moves toward peace from secret meetings to tell us about, there was nothing.

And, 2 days later, so help me, a Senator asked the networks for equal time.

I hate Lee Gravlín and guys like him. I was in his garage-workshop a couple weeks ago and he had all his tools on pegboard along the walls. Everything was neat and tidy among his nails, screws, nuts, bolts, do-dads and what-nots. It's positively sickening to see a man so efficient. Probably only takes him a second to find a number 10 nail. That's all it takes me, too, after I get home from the hardware from buying another pound.

We who went to the Rotary meeting at Freeport brought home this story. It was told by their District Governor who comes from Georgia, and he tells it as one old man's four signs of old age: First he forgets names. Then he starts forgetting faces. Next he begins to forget to zip up his pants, and last he forgets to zip 'em down.

Mayor Cavanagh searched for years for the right answers to Detroit's ills. All he had to do was wait for an election to know what to do. I wonder though, where were these civic minded people when he needed them? Like everywhere, the campaigner or man on the corner has all the answers until asked to carry them out when elected or recite them in public.

FOUR TRUCKS and 15 men from the Independence Township Fire Department brought the fire at the home of Leonard Sampson on Sunnyside under control in under 25 minutes. The November 23rd fire caused damages estimated at $10,000 for buildings and $5,000 on contents by Fire Chief Don Beach. It was apparently caused when a motorcycle was placed on its side in the garage. It was guessed that the heat from the exhaust ignited a piece of cardboard which started the blaze. Burned cloth was thrown on the car.

Good water is a family affair

means
good water

Every room in your house . . . every member of your family . . . every day of your life you come in contact with water. The right kind of water, good water, can enrich your life. Cooking with good water means better meals for your family for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Good water means cleaner, brighter washes because soap curd and hard water stains are removed. Bathing becomes more pleasant. Good water looks better and tastes better. And Bruner is good water. Bruner removes harsh minerals . . . rust . . . even chlorine taste and odor. Good water is truly a family affair. Ask your Bruner man. You'll discover you never had it so good.

By now all the fanfare of Thanksgiving dinner should be over and ways to use the leftovers may be the problem staring you in the face.

We love leftovers and I have discovered a few tricks to make them look as good as they taste. This salad, made before the big day and saved, or thrown together after, adds a little color and sparkle.

Cranberry Salad

- 2 pkgs. cherry gelatin
- No. 2 can crushed pineapple
- ¼ cup sugar
- 2 cups hot water
- ½ cup cold water
- 1½ tablespoons lemon juice
- 1½ cups ground cranberries (raw)
- 1 ground, small orange
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ½ cup nutmeats

Dissolve the gelatin or jello and the sugar in the hot water. Add cold water, pineapple, orange, lemon juice, cranberries, celery and nutmeats. Place in a cool place to set. Serve with a garnish of parsley or lettuce.

This is a large salad. I usually cut it in half but it does keep well under refrigeration.

I always make an extra amount of mashed potatoes for Thanksgiving dinner so we can have a favorite of ours, mashed potato patties, on the following day. I just mold them into patties, roll them in flour and fry until a golden brown. Of course, they taste the very best if they are browned in butter, then drenched in turkey gravy.

For the very best cold turkey sandwiches, don't forget to spread them with a layer of cranberry sauce as well as mayonnaise.

I didn't get enough cookie recipes to print a supplement, but each week from now until Christmas, I will give you one of the recipes that were received.

Here is the recipe for a family favorite. It was brought in by Mrs. George Perry. Oatmeal Drop Cookies

- 1 cup melted shortening, (butter or oleo)
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- ¼ cup sour milk (or sour half and half)
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 cups flour (regular; if you use cake flour, use 3 eggs)
- 2 cups quick oatmeal
- 1 cup raisins
- 1 cup nutmeats
- ½ cup dates (optional)

Mix melted shortening (Mrs. Perry says, "I use 1 stick of oleo and 1 stick of butter") and slightly beaten eggs. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add alternately, with sour milk, to the egg, shortening mixture. Now add oatmeal, raisins and nutmeats. Mix, drop by teaspoonsful on greased baking sheet.

Bake in a moderate oven (350) for 8 or 10 minutes.

Question: Help me remove brown stains from coffee pot. Makes coffee bitter tasting.

Answer: Fill pot with cold water, add ½ cup Super Cleaner. Insert basket, stem, let perk 10 min., shut off, let stand 1 hour. Rinse in clear water. Enjoy better coffee.

Question: Help me to remove cranberry sauce from napkins.

Answer: Stretch area over bowl, secure with string, pour boiling water over stain until light. Launder in hot water adding ¼ cup Super Cleaner, ½ cup NON-chlorine perborate bleach, ¼ cup detergent.

Question: Pumpkin pie dropped on my white synthetic blouse.

Answer: Scrape off with dull knife, pretreat with cold water. Pour liquid detergent over area, rub between hands, let stand 20 minutes. Launder in hot water (145 degrees) with ¼ cup Super Cleaner, ¼ cup NON-chlorine bleach.

10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Featured will be country treats and a bake sale. Lunch will be available.

The church is in Groveland Township on the corner of Jossman and Bald Eagle Lake Rds.

Snoring

Snoring is more of a physical problem than a medical one, but a surprising amount of research has gone into the question of how to stop it. And, more recently, on how to cope with the person who snores.

Snoring has been defined as "breathing during sleep with a rough, hoarse noise," but that scarcely describes the wheezing, snorting, rasping and rumbling that can shake a bedroom wall. Sometimes the volume is so great, there's no point in moving to another bedroom—at least, not one in the same house.

The sound is usually caused by a vibration of the soft palate and uvula, that cone-shaped piece of tissue hanging down from the palate between the tonsils at the back of the mouth. Or it can be caused by obstructions or deformities in the nose, mouth or throat; the retention of fluids in the post-nasal area; or a swelling of the throat membrane.

The cures? If a person sleeps with one pillow, try adding a second—or vice versa. Tie a large knot in the snorer's pajama string, so that it's impossible to sleep on the back. Take a sleeping pill, wear ear plugs.

Or, says one expert: "Train the subconscious mind to reject offensive acoustic snoring stimuli, just as it rejects various ambient noises amidst which one sleeps comfortably." He doesn't explain how that is done.

Dead reckoning . . .

A prayer for fathers of sons

by Don Lytle

All fathers everywhere who love their sons may want to contemplate this moving prayer from an anonymous author:

"Build me a son, Lord, who will be strong enough to know when he is weak and brave enough to face himself when he is afraid. One who will be proud and unbending in defeat, but humble and gentle in victory.

"A son whose wishbone will not be where his backbone should be. A son who will know that to know himself is the foundation stone of all knowledge.

"Rear him, I pray, not in the paths of ease and comfort, but under the stress and spur of difficulties and challenges. Here let him learn to stand up in the storm; here let him learn compassion for those who fail.

"Build me a son whose heart will be clean, whose goal will be high; a son who will master himself before he seeks to master others. One who will reach into the future, but never forget the past. And after all these are his, add, I pray, enough of a sense of humor so that he may always be serious but not take himself too seriously, a touch of humility so that he may always remember the simplicity

County schedules dumping hours

Oakland County has another landfill site open six days a week. Operated by the county road commission, the Bald Mountain road at Dutton road dump will be open from 8 to 5, five days and from 8 to 4 Saturdays.

The dump will not open Sundays or legal holidays.

For a fee all county residents can use the site, including commercial operators. Residents of Pontiac Township can dump free Wed. and Sat. only if they have a pass from their township office.

The site attendant will collect as follows: Cars, $1.00. Cars with trailer, $2.00 and pickups, $2.00.

The county dump site 4 miles north of Clarkston on M-15 is open Saturdays only.

of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength.

"Then I, his father, will dare in the recesses of my own heart to whisper, 'I have not lived in vain.'"

Realizing that a son's character is so often a mirror of his own, a father may want to recite the prayer a second time — for himself. Fathers were sons once.

A SPIRITUAL Message

—BIBLICAL LOVE—

Recently an ad appeared in a current magazine showing a couple holding hands (at least their little fingers were joined) and the caption below read "Going Steady." The "o" in "Going" was changed to a heart. On the wrists were His and Hers watches and the message was that the watches were also made for each other.

As my eyes paused for a moment on this attractive advertising, another thought entered my mind, "Giving Steady." When two people unite in marriage, they may not cease "going steady" but they must begin a life of giving of themselves to each other steadily. True marriage is sharing, forgiving, but always giving to one object of that love.

Much of the confusion in the modern marriage is because the Biblical standards have been ignored or abandoned. Immediately after God created the man and woman He gave these instructions: "Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh." (Genesis 2:24). Truth similar to this is repeated by Jesus as recorded in St. Matthew 19:5 and by Paul the Apostle as recorded in Ephesians 5:31.

For the husband, the Apostle Paul wrote "So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his own wife loveth himself." (Ephesians 5:28). For the wife, the Apostle wrote, "Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, as unto the Lord." (Ephesians 5:22.) And I am sure that this submission is to a Christian husband who truly loves his wife.

"Going steady" does lead to "giving steadily," but the only successful experiences — both religiously and psychologically are those experienced within the framework of a marriage founded upon Biblical principles such as are indicated above. The key words are "Let the two be one," husbands love, wives submit. This formula cannot fail when each person is seeking the well-being of the other.

Have him call you from Vietnam

Local residents were advised today by Michigan Bell Telephone Company to plan ahead if they wish to talk during the coming holiday season to relatives or friends stationed in Vietnam.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said Charles B. Woodhead, manager here for the company. "And to avoid disappointments, servicemen are encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays."

More than 42,000 calls were completed between the United States and Vietnam last year. Most of the calls were made from Vietnam, rather than the U.S. because of the difficulty in locating servicemen when calls come in from the States, Woodhead said.

"The heavy concentration of so many troops in a small country at war creates some real communications problems," he added. "Service is still not what we would like it to be but it has been improved substantially in recent years."

Travel restrictions and curfews in Saigon complicate the task of locating servicemen to take telephone calls. For this reason, when a call is made to Saigon it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he can be reached.

There are now 10 circuits available for Vietnam service, and they generally are open 12 to 15 hours a day. The circuits go by ocean cable or satellite to Hong Kong and the rest of the way by high frequency radio. The calling hours are not continuous because radio circuits between Saigon and Hong Kong are subject to interference several hours a day.

The first three minutes of a station-to-station call to Vietnam is $9. A person-to-person call costs $12 for the first three minutes. Additional minute rates for both station and person calls is $3.

Directors approve stock dividend

The Board of Directors of the Pontiac State Bank at their meeting held last evening declared a 25% stock dividend, subject to shareholder approval at the Shareholders' annual meeting on February 16, 1970.

In making this announcement, Milo J. Cross, Chairman, and F. E. Barker, Jr., President, also reported shareholders will be asked to approve record date of February 16, 1970, and payment date of March 31, 1970.

The Bank has paid annual dividends of $1.00 per share since 1957 and maintenance of this cash dividend policy together with the proposed stock dividend will have the effect of a 25% cash dividend increase on present shares. Two similar stock dividends were paid in October, 1966, and October last year. Cross and Barker said that these three stock dividends will have the cumulative effect of increasing cash dividends by 95% on each share held in September, 1966.

Girl Scout News

Troop 501 had a Rededication, Investiture and Court of Awards. It was held at the United Methodist Church on Tuesday, November 18.

Most of the girls earned some badges. Each patrol made some cookies for refreshments. They had punch and cookies, with many parents attending.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Northern Oakland Girl Scouts held their annual business meeting this week. Approximately one-hundred and fifty delegates and guests attended the convention held at the Orchard Ridge Campus of O.C.C.

The primary tasks of the delegates were to elect two officers, seven members-at-large to the Board of Directors, three members-at-large to the nominating committee, and to ratify the 1970 proposed budget.

Clarkston co-ed elected to council

Members of the Central Michigan University student body recently elected representatives to the CMU Student Senate, the all campus student government body.

Kathy Matlock, Clarkston sophomore, physical education major, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otis L. Matlock, 4870 Crestview, was one of those chosen.

Representatives were elected from the 17 dormitories on the CMU campus and from off-campus student housing districts. Each week the 60 student senators meet to discuss matters affecting the student body and the entire university community in general. Senators serve for one year.

The Student Senate is the legislative organization of the student body and is concerned with the academic, social and legal rights of students.

Now open for business is the TMC, Incorporated, wholesale and retail dealers for camper and travel trailer supplies. One of the owners is Mike DeVar, who lives at 6807 Snowapple in Clarkston. Mr. DeVar, right, who is married and has a 15-months-old daughter, has spent nine years in the Clarkston area.

MacGregor in Co-op program

John D. MacGregor of Clarkston is a charter member of a new cooperative education program in the College of Engineering at Michigan Technological University.

The program combines the best of two worlds for students and industry by integrating classroom studies with actual work experience. MacGregor, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering, will spend winter quarter at Ford Motor Company in Dearborn.

"Students in a co-op program gain insight into various aspects of their vocational choices and can more readily decide where their job interests lie," explained Dr. James A. Kent, MTU dean of engineering. "And financially, it provides an earn-as-you-learn opportunity not available in most college programs."

Employers are enthusiastic about co-op arrangements because they are a high value-low cost training program and a source of college graduates with practical experience. "Students also may serve as industry 'ambassadors' to classmates interested in similar companies and opportunities," Dr. Kent pointed out.

The co-op program was initiated this fall in MTU's Department of Mechanical Engineering-Engineering Mechanics, but will be extended to other departments in the College of Engineering. To qualify, a student must have successfully completed three terms of study with a grade point average of at least 2.20 (slightly better than a "C" average).

Nine companies are currently serving as co-op employers - General Motors; Detroit Diesel; Chevrolet, Bay City; Saginaw Steering; Ford Motor Company; American Motors, Barrington, Ill.; IBM, Rochester, Minn., and Essex Junction, Vt.; Dow Chemical, Midland; and Giddings and Lewis, Fond du lac.

MacGregor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Herman, 6969 Almond Lane.

Brothers escort bride to altar

Mrs. Gary Parrott

The Reverend Paul S. Vanaman performed the double ring ceremony on November 1 that united Bonnie L. Hess and Gary H. Parrott in matrimony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gerald Hess and the late Mr. Hess. She was escorted to the altar by her brothers, Darl and Jack Hess.

Mr. Hess is the son of Mrs. Herbert Parrott and the late Mr. Parrott.

A gown of lace organza over satin was chosen by the bride for the evening service at the Dixie Baptist Church. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion was held by a petal crown of pearls and crystal. She carried a cross-shaped arrangement of carnations and cymbidium orchids.

Maid of honor was Karen Laturneau of Drayton Plains who wore a gown of aquamarine crepe and cut velvet. Bridesmaids, Janet Koepke, Waterford, Rena Wice, Cindy Brewer and Nan Kayga, all of Clarkston, were identically gowned in antique gold crepe with bows holding short, matching veils. They all carried colonial bouquets of gold daisies and dried fall flowers.

Bobbie Ho Schaeffer, the flower girl, wore a floor length white lace dress and carried a basket of fall flowers.

Raleigh Parrott, the groom's brother, served as best man, Wayne Haggitt, Al Green, Larry Rolph and Ron Burrill were the groomsmen and Larry Atwell, Jim Woodward and Chuck Reynolds seated the guests.

A reception was held at the American Legion Hall after which the couple left on a Northern Michigan honeymoon.

Upon their return they will make their home in Drayton Plains.

Around the Town

by W.O.S.

Turkey and trimmings brought the family of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bauer of Middle Lake road together on Thanksgiving. Daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gardiner and children, who live on Church street, welcomed the family. The family, of course, included Mrs. Gardiner's parents, and her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gar Wilson and children of Chuckadee.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Adkins and daughters, Cheryl, 10 and Dixie, 13, visited relatives in Gordonsville, Virginia for the holiday.

The Jaycees Ladies night was held on Saturday evening. 21 couples enjoyed dinner and dancing at Wildwood. Corsages were presented to all the ladies. This annual event is a small thank you to the wives for all their loyal support and help during the year.

The Clarkston Rooster crowed in harmony on Friday evening at Charlie Brown's Restaurant. To the surprise of the Robert Newlins, who were celebrating their 18th anniversary, a song and waltz were played in their honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Williams (Kathleen Bird) announce the birth of their first baby, an 8 lb., 14 oz. boy, Patrick Jason. He was born November 17. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Bird of Allen road, Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Williams of Royal Oak. The baby's great-grandmother is Mrs. George Perry of Clarkston. This is her 13th great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holcomb (Carol Devine) of Clintonville, Wisconsin are the proud parents of a new daughter, Michelle Lee, who arrived on November 19, weighing in at 9 lbs., 14 oz. She will be greeted at home by Wendy, 4 and Jim, 3.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Allison Holcomb of Clarkston and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Devine of Pontiac. This is the 6th great-grandchild for Mrs. Maude Oliver of Holly.

Practice sessions for the High School performance of "Charley's Aunt" are going along with only the normal ups and downs.

The hilarious farce that has kept audiences laughing for years will be presented at the Little Theatre on December 11, 12 and 13, at 8 p.m.

The humor of the plot has created an excitement among the cast that promises a rewarding evening for those who attend.

O.E.S Chapter 294 announce plans

Joseph C. Bird Chapter 294 of the OES will meet at 8 p.m., December 1 for their monthly business meeting. Plans for the annual Smorgasbord to be held on Sunday, December 7, will be discussed at that time.

On Monday, December 15 at 8 p.m. there will be a Christmas Initiation. Special plans are now in progress to make this evening one that will long be remembered.

Japanese women topic

Mrs. Glenn Bedell was the speaker at the November meeting of the Clarkston Women's Club held on November 20 at the Community Center.

Mrs. Bedell's topic was Japanese women.

The December meeting will be a Christmas party and ornament exchange at the home of Janet Rose on December 11.

Den 5 led the flag ceremony.

The following boys received Bobcat pins: Billy Grobbel, Kenneth Hagstrom, Timothy Hagstrom, Mike Kennedy, Gayle Mohler, Pat Burdick, Victor Morrow and Bruce Bennett.

The Webelos put on a skit, "Scout Jamboree on the Air." They also presented flag covers, which they had made, to the Pack.

The following Webelos received both the athletic and craftsman awards: James Allard, Jeff Blackett, Robert Bradley, Brian Collins, Jim Falardeau, Terry Goyette, Doug Roosa, John Rose and Keith Staley.

Brian Collins also received the artist award.

Greg Whittenton and Bruce Bennett each received the craftsman award.

The next committee meeting will be on Wednesday, December 3, 7:30 p.m. at the Darrel Blacketts', 6500 Nadette. All parents of cubs are welcome to attend. Parent participation keeps a Pack on the move.

Letters to the Editor

We were enough

November 18, 1969

Dear Editor;

The 1969 Torch Drive is now history, the brightest page in Detroit's 21-year record of leading the world in united fund raising.

And much credit for this recent $30.6 million success must go to this metropolitan community's many fine newspapers such as yours. Without your year-around cooperation and support, such an impressive victory truly would have been impossible.

So count yourself among the thousands of loyal, hard-working volunteers who helped Detroit crack the $30-million mark and continue the nearly 200 vital services benefiting us all.

Because of you and other equally dedicated residents, our city proudly could hoist the "We're all we've got" campaign banner and prove to the world "We were enough."

We at the United Foundation extend our warmest thanks and best wishes for your continued success.

Sincerely yours,
Margaret F. Anzinger

Tiger Stanley welcomed by fathers and sons

A capacity crowd enjoyed the Father and Son Banquet sponsored by the Clarkston Rotary Club at Howes Lanes on November 17. The audience was comprised of not only Rotarians and their sons, but of many fathers and sons of our community, as was the club's desire.

President Lew Wint and chairman Bob Skerratt were very pleased with the support of the community and their response to the splendid job done by the featured speaker, Mickey Stanley, star outfielder of the Detroit Tigers.

Mr. Stanley directed most of his message to the youth in the audience and told many colorful anecdotes of his experiences in the major leagues. Mr. Stanley stressed the importance of young people obtaining as much education as they are able and always doing the best they can in any endeavor.

He remained after the program, graciously signing autographs for many youngsters and answering questions, as he did during his program.

Four lucky boys' names were drawn at the end of the evening and Mr. Stanley presented them with autographed baseballs.

President Lew Wint said, "With such favorable response shown, we would like to consider this project on an annual basis."

BOY SCOUT NEWS

About one hundred people attended the "Court of Honor" of Boy Scout Troop 189 on November 6 in the activities room at Calvary Lutheran Church of Clarkston. Troop 189 is sponsored by Calvary Lutheran Church.

The opening ceremony was performed by Jim Loba, senior patrol leader.

Mr. Herschel Fry, scoutmaster, conducted the candle lighting ceremony.

The 12 Scout Laws were recited by the Junior Scouts. The Senior Scouts presented the 3 parts of the Scout Oath.

Scoutmaster, Mr. Herschel Fry, introduced the following committeemen: Chairman, Mr. John Mayo; Institutional Representative, Mr. Richard Butler; Advancement Chairman, Mr. Norman Hunt and Ass't. Scoutmasters, Mr. Raymond Loba, Dr. Forrest Hunt and Mrs. Richard Hammerstein.

Mr. John Mayo presented Tenderfoot awards to the following Boy Scouts: Neal Farner, David Johnson, William Keller, Brian Minton, Daniel Watson. He presented second class awards to Eric Gruenberg, Mark Hyndman and star award to Mark Zelenak. He gave Life awards to Dennis Loba.

Father Francis Weingartz, Pastor of St. Daniel's Catholic Church, was the guest speaker and talked of the reverence for God in relation to the Boy Scout Oath and Laws.

Mr. Gerald Redouty, scoutmaster of Troop 499, Redford District, presented the Eagle Award to Craig Moore. Mr. Julius Landini, neighborhood chairman of Redford District presented the Eagle Award to Matthew Moore. District Representative Dr. Norman Miller presented a letter of congratulations from Alden Barber, chief scout executive, to the Honored Eagle Scouts.

The closing ceremony was the Scout Vesper Song, led by Craig Moore, assistant senior patrol leader.

Father Weingartz said the benediction. Refreshments, a special cake with eagle decorations, were served by Mrs. Herschel Fry and Mrs. Richard Butler.

Hot dogs for Thanksgiving dinner aren't as bad as you may think! At least that is what I heard on second hand from my friend Joan. On the other hand, they can't be too good because when you mention Thanksgiving dinner to her she faints.

Paul, her husband, belongs to one of those "poker playing, drinking and marching" societies who raffle off a turkey every year at their pre-Thanksgiving conclave.

At 2 a.m. one morning, the great hero came marching into their bedroom, switched on the lights with a flourish, plopped a cage and a sack of dried corn on her bed and said, "There is your Thanksgiving dinner sweetheart. How's that for being the great provider?"

Inside the cage was an enormous, red-eyed, white, live turkey.

"Get that animal off my bed," she screamed. "Get it out of this house."

And that is how all the trouble started.

In the cold light of morning, in the garage, when everybody's feathers were smoothed, Joan had to admit that the bird was a whopper and quite a windfall. In fact, it was so large it was only sensible to invite friends to share the prize.

Joan and the kids fed the turkey until the day before Thanksgiving.

"Okay, Paul," she said, "get the ax or whatever you're going to use and get it over with. I'll take the kids over to Mother's. I'm afraid that they are a little a-t-t-a-c-h-e-d," she spelled. "And, honey, clean up the mess, please!"

There wasn't a sound from behind the sports page.

"Paul, did you hear me?"

"Okay, okay, I'm not deaf."

The house was empty when Joan got home. Paul and the turkey were gone.

Two hours later a car drove into the drive. Paul banged into the kitchen and slammed a frozen turkey on the table, walked to the liquor cabinet without a word, poured about four fingers of whiskey and gulped it down.

"Where's our real turkey?" asked Joan.

"Your real turkey is growing old on the farm of a guy that I met in a bar," said Paul, "and that," he said pointing, "is the last turkey in town."

"But Paul, it only weighs twelve pounds and we're having twenty for dinner."

"Let 'em eat hot dogs."

"Say, Paul," smirked one of his buddies at dinner the next day, "did you feed this turkey shrinking pills?"

"Naw," said another pal, "the old executioner probably hit the poor thing so many times they made mincemeat out of the other half."

Passing the platter to Paul's son, he said, "What'll you have, Bobby, a drumstick?"

"Well, I'd like a drumstick, but Mom says me and Tommy are splitting a wing."

That's when Joan slid under the table and Paul left the table without being excused.

KAISER ALUMINUM

Low Maintenance Exteriors

ROUGH SAWN SIDING

Here is the most attractive all aluminum exterior today... it truly looks like expensive rough sawn select grade painted wood! Kaiser Aluminum Rough Sawn Eight-Inch Siding is used by architects in finest homes. The colors are unique.

SCULPTURED SIDING

This classic design comes to us from architecture that is pure Americana. Kaiser Aluminum Sculptured Siding duplicates hand-crafted siding found in the most beautiful homes throughout America. Each panel presents a smooth planed eight inch face, with round moulding along its bottom edge.

PATTERN 5-16

All new from Kaiser designed to simulate the popular barn wood exteriors, without the maintenance. Available in five prestige colors and guaranteed for twenty years.

RUSTIC SHINGLE

Kaiser Aluminum Rustic Shingles is the most realistic aluminum shingle ever developed... almost undistinguishable from handsplit shake. It is engineered to give your home a neat, finished appearance in every detail. All accessories are precision engineered... to assure proper matching and added protection.

SHUTTERS

Coated with a beautiful satin-finish baked enamel, Hastings Aluminum Shutters are ready to install without further painting. And it takes only minutes to install them using only a screwdriver. Colored mounting screws are furnished with each pair.

SOFFIT AND FASCIA

This is the hardest place on your home to keep painted. Let us cover your soffit and fascia with permanent finished aluminum. Make your home maintenance free.

GUTTERS and DOWNSPOUTS

White aluminum gutters will guarantee you years of maintenance-free service. Made of heavy gauge aluminum with baked on Kal-Shield finish they are not only beautiful but practical.

Jr. High names cheerleaders

For the first time in many years the Clarkston Junior High has chosen cheerleaders. The girls were judged November 19 in the area of poise and appearance, as well as athletic ability. Nine were chosen. They are "Sam" Allen, Stephanie Altman, Kathy Betzing, Cindy Booker, Linda Bullen, Diane Connors, Pat Davis, Darla Hoopengartner and Becky Raymond.

At a meeting Thursday after school, the girls elected Nancy Craft as the manager. Miss Jeanne McFarland is their sponsor. The cheerleaders will make their first appearance December 4 at the game played against Sashabaw Junior High.

INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL:

Mr. William Potvin announced that the Intramural program will be handled by the following six coaches: Mr. Dave Bihl, Mr. Bill Bonnell, Mr. Dennis Bronson, Mr. Ray Cooper, Mr. Gerry Granlund and Mr. Larry Lazenby. Each of the coaches has a 7th and 8th grade team of approximately 12 players each.

The teams will play each of the other five teams once, for the regular season.

Starting on Jan. 26 there will be double elimination tournaments for both 7th and 8th grades.

At the Spring Sports Banquet, trophies will be given to league champs for both 7th and 8th grades.

Open against Pontiac Northern Wolves hopes high

The Clarkston Wolves will don their blue and gold uniforms with hopes that their height will provide them with the capacity for great improvement as the new season gets under way. They are depending on building good depth on the squad, with hard work, according to head coach Bill Hanson.

The team will face Pontiac Northern in a non-league game on their home court on Tuesday, December 2. Then on Friday, December 5, they will start league play against West Bloomfield on the Clarkston floor.

Returning lettermen, Don Brown, Bruce Hardy, Mark Walter and Steve Warman, are expected to spark the team. Others returning from last year's squad are Steve Kratt, Dave Kelly and Dan Hallman. Their experience last year should make good their hopes for starting births in the line-up.

Joining the veterans from last year's JV squad are Craig Kottke (who at 6'8" is the tallest player on the squad), Harry Walker, Greg Curry, Tom Mauti, Rick Prasil, Tom Hall, Kirt Richardson and Dave Thomas.

The 6 lettermen who were lost accounted for 85% of the 1968-69 scoring.

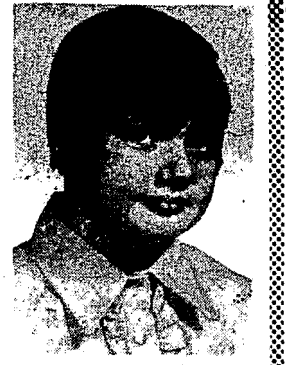

The Wayne-Oakland League is comprised of Clarkston, Northville, Clarenceville, West Bloomfield, Bloomfield Hills Andover, Brighton, Waterford Kettering and Milford.

Athletic director this year is Ralph Kenyon and Doug Pierson will lead the JV squad.

The Varsity schedule can be found on page 17 of this paper. The Junior Varsity squad takes the floor at 6:30.

Senior year expensive

.....by POLLY HANSON

No, faithful readers, I have not grown a beard, nor has Mr. Lytle become my twin. It was only a slight mistake and I'm sure that it has been corrected by this time.

Since Thanksgiving vacation is this week, not much is happening at dear old CHS. There are a few things that should be noted at this time, though.

The Senior class is finding out that being a senior can be very expensive. They are faced with the expenses of senior pictures, graduation announcements, the senior trip, graduation fees, etcetera.

The majority of these expenses can be paid for by the points that the seniors have earned from working on projects that their class has sponsored throughout their four years in high school.

These projects include: Magazine sales, concession stand, dances, bake sales, class floats, play nights, the prom, and others.

A student is given one point for each hour that he works on the activity. When all the points have been tabulated, each point is worth a certain amount of money.

The student is then given money equivalent to the amount of points that he has. Seniors can find out the number of points that they have by contacting Mr. Tungate.

The "Hilltopper," Clarkston Senior High School's yearbook, is on sale for 1970. The Hilltopper staff has been conducting a sales campaign for the past two weeks.

To purchase a yearbook, students must make a downpayment. With their yearbook, students may also order a plastic cover, and Seniors may have their names printed on their copies.

Students who didn't purchase last year's Hilltopper may do so when they order their '70 yearbook.

Even Burns Bones!

Give trash the heave-ho!

A modern gas incinerator may spoil the fun for pets, but for people it's great! Why? Because it quietly consumes all burnable trash and garbage (including bones) indoors — without smoke or odor. Costs just pennies a day to operate. Save yourself all those cold, wet, muddy trips out in the rain and snow to the garbage can and trash burner. Install a gas incinerator in your basement, garage or utility room today!
