Jim's Jottings

Personally, I'm not anxious for 1969 to end. It's not that 1969 or all the 60's have been super-outstanding as much as it is that the first year of the 1970's doesn't stack up to one of fun, games and profit. In case you've forgotten, profit is that portion of pay anyone has after expenses.

Last year sounds like one long vacation when I reread my columns. Golfing in Florida, fishing in the Upper, a long week-end at Boyne Highlands, pheasant hunting, vacation in the Bahamas, and deer hunting. Funny, nothing there for July and August.

Then there was house planning and building....at times exasperating, at times exciting....but, in 1970 payments will have to start.

There is a line in one of Tennessee Ernie Ford's songs that says "another day older and deeper in debt." Well, 1969 was like that to me. It's unbelievable that anyone would keep loaning me money, but they have and 1970 will be "deeper".

You finding it the same way? We're practicing what the Federal government has taught us about spending, and we didn't even want to.

The trend is changing, but businessmen generally talk good times even while approaching the bankruptcy court. Since newspapering is a business, I should fit in the business category. But, regardless of what is expected, I think 1970 will be a year to tighten up. Watch spending and accounts receivable. For the consumer I'd suggest he cut up his credit cards or train his mind to keep track that spending doesn't exceed income too greatly.

We're headed into a decade that will end with more luxuries, more leisure time, more money, more everything, but 1970 won't start out that way. Unemployment is up, building is down, interest rates are high, money is still tight, profits are off.

Merchants I've talked to say the gross is up, but profits aren't. Gross may very well be up, prices are higher... customer count might be up, but individual sales down.

Just to show you how I follow my own advice, I've already told Greeting the New Year will no doubt be of importance to Steve Harken... many years from now, but shortly before the new year's official arrival, the two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harken of Snowapple Drive, found it only cool on his tummy.

New traffic light at Maybee and Sashabaw in January

The first news of local interest out of the county road commission for this decade should delight the residents of the Maybee-Sashabaw area. New traffic signal lights will be installed, probably in January.

Bob Osgood, road commission engineer, said this week that 2 signal heads will be installed.

He gave much of the credit for the lights to Duane Hursfall, supervisor of Independence. Hursfall has been persistent in his efforts to get the lights and called a public meeting last June to bring the road commission and people together.

Osgood said signal light installations are based on traffic count, and they have been counting traffic at this intersection since 1965 at regular intervals. He said they do this at intersections throughout the county when a noted increase in traffic takes place.

The 2 signals, while not precisely mandatory now, are expected to be. The uniform traffic manual for the state and federal roads is being rewritten and will my Florida golfing companions of last spring that my son and I wouldn't be taking such a trip this year. Even if I didn't get robbed as I did in 1969, it's an extravagance I'll forego.

Before I get carried away on cancelling my much needed respites from this daily and nightly toil let me suggest you live each day like it was your last and you'll have the happy new year I wish for you.

require dual signals.

Osgood says the 2 lights are a safety feature. When both are working there is a better chance they will be seen and if one should go out, the other is still operational.

The county road engineer also remarked about the speed traffic counters observed. One car was clocked at 82 mph going through the Maybee road-Sashabaw intersection. Many others were far above the speed limit. Osgood said, "Should drivers continue exceeding the limit in this area, the traffic light may cause an increase in accident rates. People get dependent on stop lights to stop people."

Teachers ratify '69-'70 contract

The Clarkston Education Association ratified the teaching contract for the 1969-70 school year at a meeting on December 23.

Within the next week, it is probable, according to Mr. George Barrie, that the necessary signatures will be affixed, completing the negotiations between the teachers and the school board for the present year.

These negotiations climaxed work that began last March. In 3 months, work will again begin to establish a basis for next year's contract.

"The difficulty of these negotiations certainly emphasizes the need for fiscal reform in schol finance," said Mr. Barrie. "Much that will be decided is dependent on the outcome of the legislature's actions in Lansing."

Sharpen your blades

It appears at this writing that there will be public skating on the Mill Pond soon, if not by the time this paper comes out.

Bill Rutherford and Lewis Jewell, members of the township citizen recreation board, have met with township and village officials and been given the go-ahead.

Insurance has been obtained covering the township against liability, and the township is making a pump, hose and snow clearing unit available for the men from the recreation board.

Also to be contacted about the rink is Hawk Tool and Engineering Company, which owns the water rights to the Pond. Bud Hawke told the News Monday morning he would find no objection to putting an ice rink on the Mill Pond if the township goes along with it. "I might even join them," he said, adding, "though I'm a poor skater."

Auto-bike accident proves fatal to Jeffery Salenski

Jeffery Salenski, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Salenski of 5303 Winell street, Clarkston, died Christmas Eve in Pontiac General Hospital. He died from injuries after being struck by a car Tuesday while riding his bike on Maybee road, near Frankwill.

The hospital reported that Jeffery suffered a fractured skull in the 4:10 p.m. accident.

A citation was issued to the driver of the car, Helen R. Harrington, 47, of Flint, according to the Sheriff's Dept. report. She told the deputies she was unable to stop when the youngster crossed in front of her. The citation was for failure to have vehicle under control. She has 10 days to appear.

The report states that Jeffery was hurled 12 to 15 feet through the air on impact. The record indicates both the car and bike were headed east on Maybee.

Jeffery was born July 24, 1960 in Cheboygan. He was in the fourth grade at Sashabaw Elementary school and was a member of Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church. He was also a Cub Scout in den 2 of Pack 134.

Surviving besides his parents are a sister, Kathy, at home, the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve

Petitions slow coming to village

With the deadline for filing for Clarkston village office coming up at 4 p.m. Monday, one council post has yet to be petitioned.

Incumbent Councilman Jack Hagen, who first decided not to seek re-election changed his mind and has petitioned to be elected for another term. Another post is being sought by E. Nelson Kimball, 72 N. Main. His petition has been turned in to clerk Artemus Pappas.

There are 3 council vacancies to be filled. With Councilman Don Cooper filing for the office of president, Hagen and Kimball running, there is still one opening. However, 3 petitions have been taken from the clerk's office.

Other village officers are seeking re-election. Pappas for clerk, Mrs. Pappas for treasurer and Ralph Thayer for assessor.

Councilmen not up for re-election are Willis Kushman, Jim Mahar and Rich Johnston.

Nurses meet

Lt. David Putnam of the Waterford Police Department will address the Nursing Alumni of Oakland Community College at their meeting on January 7. The meeting, scheduled at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the Nursing Laboratory, Highland Campus.

Members and nursing students of the college are invited to attend.

Lt. Putnam will discuss marijuana.

Council will wait and see

The Village Council had a question put to them Monday night that will give them something to ponder. Bill Rausch of Waldon road asked, "Is the Village willing to fight Boron Oil Co.?"

Rausch's question Councilman Rich Johnston said, "We would support our ordinance," and added that it would depend on the opinion of their attorney should the matter end up in court.

The question comes from that company's appearance before the Council and asking for a hearing before the Board of Appeals to allow them to establish a station at the corner of Waldon and M-15.

The village ordinance requires the company to obtain certain percentages of neighbors' signatures for the hearing.

They're all home for the holidays

by Jean Sura

The Johnson family on Clarkston Road are all home for Christmas.

Michael, 22, arrived home from Vietnam last April. Ronald, 20, just made it in time last week when he was flown home after completing his tour of duty in the same country. Dennis, 18, was granted a leave for the holiday from an infantry camp where he is awaiting his orders for overseas duty. Waiting at home for the festivities to begin was 13 year old, Roger.

All four boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Johnson.

Last June, with 1 son just returned home, 1 son serving on Hamburger Hill in Vietnam, and 1 son waiting for orders which would send him to the combat area, Mrs. Johnson exercised her prerogative as a citizen and wrote to her congressman.

Congressman Jack McDonald got permission from Mrs. Johnson to send her letter to the Clarkston News. It read:

Mr. McDonald,

I am writing you concerning my sons and my sanity. I have four sons, three of which have enlisted in the Army. Their father and uncles served in World War II, grandfather in World War I and uncle in Korea.

Our oldest son Michael, 22, returned last April after spending eighteen months in Vietnam with the 1st Infantry, where he was radio man on a spotter plane. He received the Air Medal for over 25 missions. Our second son, Ronald, age 20, is with the 101st Airborne Division in Vietnam and will be until December. He has been on Hamburger Hill. Our last letter dated June 6 said not to worry, that he would not be able to write for a while again. I have just heard the news that they have gone back on Hamburger Hill.

Our third son, Dennis, enlisted the last of March. He turned 18 on March 20. He has completed basic training, was supposed to have gone to mechanic school. Through a mixup in his orders, he was sent directly to Fort Polk, Louisiana, without leave, to an infantry school. At the present time he is waiting for his new orders. I have been told he will not be sent to Vietnam until his brother returns in December.

Please do not misunderstand. I am so proud and thank God every day that I have clean, short-haired men who believe in God and who love their Country and respect our flag. But with so many trying to destroy the very things our sons are going through hell to protect, using our schools to hide in and our bible to hide behind and still demanding more privileges than any true American, I can't believe my third son should have to go through the same hell that our older two have for people who are no good for themselves or any one else and certainly not our Country. There must be some place other than a hostile country where he could be used. It seems that 2½ years is long enough for one family to go through this torment and I believe it's pressing my luck too far to send three sons over there and expect them all to return. My sons tell me that by them going now maybe their 13-year-old brother will not have a war to face when he reaches 18. I have been told that I am foolish to write this letter, that it will never be read. At this point, I am desperate enough to try anything. I am not even sure that there is anything you could do, but I do want to thank you for reading my letter. Thank you.

A Worried Mother,
Mrs. William R. Johnson
Clarkston, Michigan 48016

"In this particular case," said McDonald, "I could only pass on information to Mrs. Johnson."

"The attitude of your sons," he told the Johnsons, "with regard to their duty

Pfc. Dennis C. Johnson, left, who is stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri, enjoys the holiday reunion with his brothers, Ronnie and Mike. Michael Johnson, center, completed his enlistment and Vietnam duty in May. He received the Air Medal with 2 clusters and the Army Accommodation Medal while in service. Sp/5 Ronald Johnson, who just returned from Vietnam, has received the Bronze Star, Army Accommodation Medal, Air Medal, and the Combat Infantry Men's Badge.

to their Country is certainly commendable and clearly reflects the efforts of their parents to lead them in the ways of good citizenship. You have every right to be very proud of them and it is my sincere wish that you may all be together again before too long."

For the first time in 4 years the Johnson boys are all home—at least for Christmas.

"It is like old times," said Mrs. Johnson. "It takes a lot of cooking and dishwashing to feed them. They are embarrassed because I have all their medals and honors strung out on display. I think that they should be seen. Mr. Johnson and I are very happy and very proud."

Children shop with Hi-Y

The Hi-Y at Clarkston High School carried out their annual Christmas project on December 18 by taking 35 area children Christmas shopping. Twenty-one of the boys accompanied the children on the expedition.

Money for the project was raised at the basketball game played between the Junior High School and Senior High School faculties.

Announce plans for Bosses Night

John C. Shiff, Chairman of Bosses' Night for the Clarkston Jaycees announced that plans are progressing for the annual event.

Larry Carino, vice president and general manager of WJBK TV will be this year's guest speaker.

The $5 tickets are available for the banquet which will be held at 7:30 p.m. on January 14 at the Old Mill Tavern.

"All Jaycees should submit their nomination forms for the BOSS OF THE YEAR award and the DISTINGUISHED SERVICE award," said Mr. Shiff.

"The service award will go to some outstanding young man from the area who is between the ages of 21 and 35 years old. He does not have to be a Jaycee. The men will be judged on service to his community, public life or any exemplary service he may have performed.

Snowmobiles to race here

Establishing the tradition of an annual amateur snowmobile race is the aim of the Clarkston area Jaycees when they hold their first meet on January 11.

Club members have laid out a course at the Waterford Hill Country Club where the races will be held.

The contests will be divided into classes, both of entrants and machines. Among the contestant classifications will be a Powder Puff and Juvenile group. The machines will be divided into about 12 classes (depending on the size of the field).

Area snowmobile owners are invited to compete. Registrations will be accepted on the day of the race.

Have a mashed potato

By Jim Fitzgerald

It was after I delivered the barstools to the junior high school that I began to fret about New Year's Eve.

"I hope those stools will be returned in time," I told my wife. "I hate to keep my friends standing. It is too far for them to fall."

"None of your friends are falling around here this year," she answered. "I got you a sleeve from the Automobile Club and I'm stocking up on mashed potatoes."

You probably read about AAA's campaign to make everyone "First a friend . . . then a host." This is the positive approach. No longer do you warn your guests that liquor and gasoline might mix into a bloody cocktail. This is no way to keep friends in a nation where the only people who don't drink are the only people who don't drive to go next door.

Instead, you meet Joe Boozer at the front door and hand him a bowl of mashed potatoes. He must eat them before he wades into the punch bowl because potatoes sponge up the liquor and keep it out of the bloodstream, or something. "Eat 'em mashed and you won't get smashed," AAA says you should tell Joe.

AAA doesn't say what you should do if Joe smashes the mashed potatoes into your hair. Be grateful they weren't boiled, I guess.

My wife showed me the AAA sleeve. It's a plastic cover, shaped like a Christmas tree. Printed on it is a "blood-alcohol level chart" which shows how much liquor you should consume per hour per pounds you weigh. It also shows how you'll score on a breathalyzer test. When the host thinks it is time for Joe to stop boozing, AAA says, he should slip the sleeve over the bottle.

Actually, this doesn't seem fair to the other guests who haven't had as much to drink as Joe, or who are fatter. Next year, AAA should distribute a bigger sleeve; one that will fit over Joe's head.

Before I conclude by drawing a moral from all this AAA temporizing, you are probably dying to know how come I took my barstools to school . . .

Well, my 13-year-old Chrissie and her friend Cathy are still entertaining with guitar-vocal duets. They'll perform for anyone who'll listen and, if they get between you and the exit, you're going to be late for your next meal.

This day they really had a captive audience - the 8th grade. I didn't mind delivering them and their strings and their maxi-skirts. But it was a little much when Chrissie said they had to bring their own stools. Anyone who has seen TV knows that guitar players must sit on stools, not chairs, forgoshakes, Dad. And the school stools swivel, which would never do. It HAD to be my barstools or the entire show would be a terrible flop and it would be all my fault.

Later, Chrissie reported that the stools got a standing ovation.

And they were returned in time for New Year's Eve, which brings us back to drinking the mashed potato way. The moral is that it isn't worth it.

New Year's Eve is amateur night anyway. Professional boozers are well-advised to stay home for a change and count their blessings. Which would certainly include little girls on barstools that don't swivel.

Or, if you are so inclined, you don't have to eat any mashed potatoes to get into church. Pray one for me. †

Go western with Deviled beef short ribs

Now that the holidays are behind us, how about getting back to some less glamorous fare. Believe it or not, this is a recipe that came to me as the result of a chain-letter, one of those things of which I don't usually approve, but it turned out to be really special.

CALIFORNIA CASSEROLE

Coat 2 pounds of veal round or fresh ham steak with 1/3 cup flour and 1 teaspoon paprika. Pound mixture into meat; cut into 2 inch cubes. Brown meat well in 1/4 cup salad oil. Transfer to 14x10x2 inch pan. Add 1 1/4 cups drained small cooked onions.

Combine 1 can cream of chicken soup and 1 can of water in skillet used for browning meat. Bring to a boil, and pour over meat. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 45 minutes or until tender. Top with 14 to 16 dumplings. Bake, uncovered at 425 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes, or deep golden brown.

BUTTER CRUMB DUMPLINGS

Sift together, into mixing bowl:
2 cups flour
4 teaspoons double action baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon poultry seasoning
Add: 1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon dry onion flakes
1 teaspoon poppy seed
Add: 1/4 cup salad oil and
1 cup milk

Stir until moistened. Drop rounded teaspoons of dough into mixture of 1/4 cup melted butter and 1 cup bread crumbs. Roll to coat with crumbs.

SAUCE

Heat 1 can cream of chicken soup and 1 cup sour cream just to boil. Pour over meat and dumplings to serve.
This serves 8 people.

Or why not go west with these Deviled Beef Short Ribs?

DEVILED BEEF SHORT RIBS

2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
2 dashes Tabasco sauce
3 pounds beef short ribs
1 envelope seasoned coating mix for chicken, original or mild flavor

Blend sugar, mustard, water, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, and Tabasco sauce together; use to moisten ribs. Then shake ribs in bag with seasoned coating mix, one at a time, as directed on package. Place in a shallow baking pan. Bake at 450 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes or until ribs are well browned on the outside and meat is rare or medium rare in center. Do not overcook or meat will be tough. Makes 6 servings.

Around the Town

Holidays sparkle

By Barb Humphreys

During the Christmas season is the perfect time to renew old friendships and get together with our families whether we see them frequently or just now and then.

Mr. and Mrs. Gil McCallum and Cindy, Gil, Scotty, Guy and Adam were glad to have Mrs. McCallum's parents, the Chester A. Lehman of Pontiac, enjoying the holiday with them.

The Richard Funk family of Cramlane were pleased to have as guests Mrs. Funk's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Adams of Berkley.

Cathy and Judy Lessard are home on Havelock from Michigan State and are very busy seeing old friends and catching up on the news. Lou and Marion and the boys, Louie and Joe, are glad to have the whole family together again. Cathy works full time in the Republican House Press Section in Lansing and had to be back at work early Monday, but even short vacations are fun for this busy family.

The Joseph Fredericks of Reese road had a fairly quiet Christmas. Their daughter, Susan, was married to Pvt. Grant Kenyon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kenyon of Transparent, the week before. After a northern honeymoon and visit with their families, the young couple will travel to Ft. Story, Virginia, where Grant is stationed.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weichel on Amy drive was the scene of a large family gathering. Everyone exchanged gifts and enjoyed getting together for the holidays.

This beautiful snow we've had lately makes all the skiers very happy, particularly our high school ski team. The group recently traveled to Caberfae where they attended a ski school clinic and training session. Their next meet will be Jan. 6th with West Bloomfield.

Mrs. Anita Schultz of Wampole drive thinks she has about the most thoughtful daughter in the world. Jan wrote to CKLW's "Christmas Wish" program and wished that her sister, Joette, could join her husband, Pfc. Ron Brock, in Wurzburg, Germany for Christmas. Jan won her wish and now Joette will be able to go over there and stay, perhaps 'til Ron is due to be shipped home. This is the real spirit of Christmas, thinking of others.

Some other visitors to our town were Mr. and Mrs. John Woods and daughters, Kim and Missy of St. Joseph. They were here visiting her sister's family, the Charles Webers of Lakeview.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gillis and small son, Christian, have returned to South Carolina after spending a few days visiting with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Walter and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gillis.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Humbert attended the graduation exercises at Western Michigan University to see their son, Dale, receive his Bachelor of Science Degree on December 20.

Dale, who is doing graduate work toward a Ph.D. in chemistry is a 1965 graduate of Clarkston High School.

He lives with his wife and daughter in Kalamazoo.

Admitted to Michigan Bar

It was a proud privilege for local attorney, Ronald A. Walter, last week to make the motion for the admission of his son, Ronald Louis Walter, to the State Bar of Michigan, before the Honorable Clark J. Adams of the Oakland County Circuit Court. The younger Walter graduated cum laude from the University of Michigan Law School last May and was elected to membership in the legal honorary, the Order of the Coif. During his senior year he had served as associate editor of the "Michigan Law Review." Presently on leave of absence from the Milwaukee law firm where he is employed, Ron will spend about six months in Europe doing research and editing a book on international law for the dean of a West German law school.

Met schedule announced

The Metropolitan Opera Company of New York will make its twelfth annual visit to the Masonic Temple Auditorium in Detroit, and offer six evening performances from May 25 to May 30 and a Saturday matinee on the latter date, according to Wilber H. Mack, president of the Detroit Grand Opera Association, sponsors of the opera season.

Mrs. Ernest A. Jones, of Bloomfield Hills, is general chairman of the 1970 opera season.

As in past seasons, the opening night will be a benefit performance, the beneficiaries being the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Inc., and the Founders Society of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

On Monday evening the performance will be new productions of a popular double bill: Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci." Tuesday will bring Verdi's "La Traviata."

Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor" will be presented on Wednesday.

The Detroit premiere of Bellini's "Norma," another new production, is the Thursday performance.

Richard Tucker will sing the title role in Giordano's "Andrea Chenier" Friday evening.

The Saturday matinee will be a performance of Puccini's "Tosca."

The other Detroit premiere will be Mozart's "Die Zauberflöte" ("The Magic Flute"), on Saturday evening.

Preparing food baskets for distribution to the needy are members of the Clarkston Order of the Eastern Star. In addition to the baskets, Mrs. Homer Biondi, left, and Mrs. Ken Thomas assisted other club members in collecting toys which were donated for Jaycee Christmas day giving.

Drinking drivers dreaded

"Toasting the holiday season is considered an integral part of many Christmas and New Years parties. But when the various toastmasters leave the party and get behind the wheels of their cars, the joy and conviviality of the holiday season can turn to stark tragedy in a matter of seconds," said Howard Pyle, President of the National Safety Council.

Half of all traffic fatalities involve misuse of alcohol, and it is logical to assume that this percentage increases during the holiday season.

"Holiday drivers have to cope with such special hazards as poor weather conditions, unusually heavy traffic, and early darkness. The driver who adds alcohol to this list is playing Russian roulette with his own life and the lives of everyone on the road with him," said Pyle.

Drivers should allow at least one hour per average drink to regain the muscular coordination, visual acuity, and good judgment necessary to cope with holiday driving.

Alcohol is medically classified as a drug — a depressant which acts as an anesthetic on the central nervous system. It is absorbed directly by the stomach and intestines and carried through the blood to all parts of the body. Concentration of alcohol in the bloodstream is determined by:

- The amount of alcohol consumed
- The length of time since the drinking began
- The length of time since the last drink
- Body weight
- The quantity and kind of food in the stomach at the time of drinking.

The body disposes of alcohol through elimination and oxidation. Black coffee, cold showers and physical exercise may make the drinker more alert, but they do nothing to rid his system of alcohol.

Alcohol first attacks the cerebrum, the center of the brain that controls judgment. Reflexes are slowed, coordination is impaired, visual acuity is reduced, normal inhibitions are dulled, hearing is adversely affected, and concentration becomes difficult.

Under normal circumstances, the driver's brain constantly receives information which helps him keep his vehicle moving safely through traffic.

Intoxication hinders this process in many ways. Because the driver's senses are dulled, his brain does not receive the normal amount of information. The information he does receive may well be distorted. His judgement is impaired and his normal inhibitions are dulled. He cannot think as clearly, quickly, or rationally as he normally does.

In addition, alcohol dulls the driver's realization of the degree to which he is impaired. The drunken driver develops a false sense of confidence, endangering himself and everyone on the road with him.

Deaths and injuries on our nation's highways can be reduced if individual drivers observe the following suggestions for holiday driving:

Allow at least one hour per drink before attempting to drive. Better yet, do not drive after drinking at all.

Allow plenty of time to make long trips.

Pay special attention to traffic laws and signs.

Adjust speed to weather conditions.

Be alert for the mistakes of other drivers.

Always fasten safety belts.

If we can reduce highway deaths and injuries involving alcohol, we can enjoy our safest, happiest holiday season.

Merry Christmas and hello to our new friends.

Interest hiked

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy today announced an increase in the interest rate on United States Savings Bonds from 4.25 percent to 5 percent.

The new 5 percent rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H Bonds sold on or after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity. The higher rate also applies to older bonds. Beginning with the first semi-annual interest period starting on or after June 1, 1969, rates on outstanding E and H bonds will be increased to yield 5 percent, when held to maturity or extended maturity. The original maturity of the Series E bond has been shortened from 7 years to 5 years, 10 months; H bonds will continue to mature in 10 years.

"Freedom Shares" (U.S. Savings Notes) — sold in combination with E bonds, since May 1, 1967 — will be removed from sale effective June 30, 1970.

NEW YEAR

By Rev. H. C. Cranston

The old year is swiftly passing and the new year is upon us. Like Janus, the Roman god, perhaps we should look in both directions, backward to learn by our mistakes of the past year, and forward with hopes that the new year will find us arising to new heights of development and accomplishment.

Many have been secretly saying for years that next year will be different. They wish to break loose from many binding habits and improve their ways in the new year. But, all too often resolutions are soon broken and forgotten, and the change is not realized. Many times this is because we have not recognized our need of strength beyond ourselves, and that strength is from God. To arise the victor over problems that are caused by our sinful natures, we must acknowledge our own helplessness, and seek deliverance from God through Christ.

The psalmist recognized his need of outside help when he cried out, "Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin." And again, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right (constant) spirit within me." (Psalm 51:2 and 10). God stands ready to lift us if we will turn to Him.

Let this be the new year in which things will be different for you. Since the way to God is through Christ, read St. John 1:12 and 3:16 and receive Christ as your personal Savior. Then read Psalm 51 and make it your prayer for the new year.

Begin the decade of the 70's with a new "you" because you have received God's help through receiving Christ.

On my honor

By Jean Sura

New Year's is the customary time for resolutions. Never let it be said that I wasn't a creature of habits. So here goes.

I RESOLVE: To start my Christmas shopping for 1970 next week so I won't get in the same mess I did in '69.

I RESOLVE: To make a salad to go with the TV dinners I have been starving my husband on all year.

I RESOLVE: To eat only the salad and get skinny.

I RESOLVE: To burn the pretty ribbons from this year's Christmas packages instead of saving them.

I RESOLVE: To quit smoking again (unless I can comfortably get out of the silly bet into which I got conned).

I RESOLVE: To decide what length a woman my age should wear her skirts.

I RESOLVE: To lengthen my dresses.

I RESOLVE: To shorten my dresses.

I RESOLVE: To agree with my husband that I look dumpy in a full length mink coat.

I RESOLVE: To get this column written when it is supposed to be, on Wednesday. Or Thursday --- or Friday?

I RESOLVE: To stop bragging about my grandchildren. (I'll bet that will never stick.)

I RESOLVE: To talk less. (Ho, Ho, Ho, that's another beauty).

I RESOLVE: To beat those girls that always beat me at golf.

I RESOLVE: To stop making bets. (Unless I know that I can win).

I RESOLVE: To hold my annual party celebrating National Frog Week.

I RESOLVE: To be a lady at all times. (Who? Me?)

I RESOLVE: To read some good books. With today's choice I guess it will have to be "Little Women."

I RESOLVE: To throw away all my kids' kindergarten finger paintings: (But, maybe they would be nice in frames.)

I RESOLVE: To throw away all my kids' boy scout badges.

I RESOLVE: To throw away all my girl scout badges.

I RESOLVE: To list all the ingredients and directions in the recipes I put in Kutting Korners

I RESOLVE: To learn to appreciate the new music. With fellows like Filbert Pumperdink singing them they sound pretty good.

I RESOLVE: To write and mail

my Christmas letter (despite Ann Landers' advice) before the 4th of July.

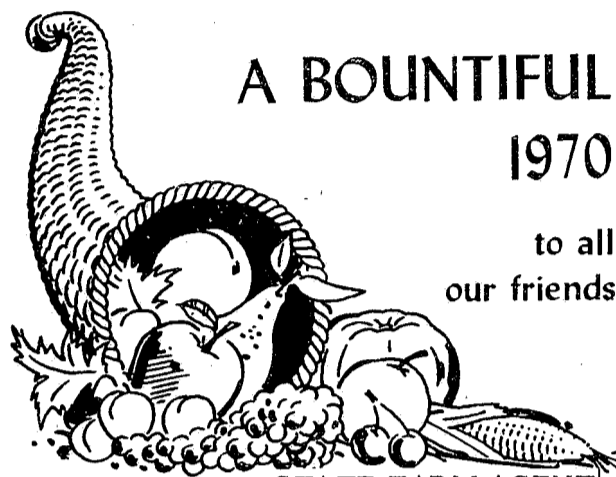

I RESOLVE: To appreciate my family, friends and fellow workers.

I RESOLVE: To appreciate good health.

I RESOLVE: To thank you readers for spending the time reading this far.

I RESOLVE: To wish you all, sincerely, A Happy New Year.

Volunteers

Most hospitals, large and small, rely heavily on the work that is done by their volunteer staffs—women from the community who help out once or twice a month, relieving the medical and nursing staffs of many chores.

One major source of these recruits is among the "retired" mothers, who have raised their own families and whose children have left to set up their own homes. These women are particularly valued in the pediatric wards, where they can provide the "tender loving care" a youngster needs in a sometimes-scary hospital.

While volunteers can give no medical care (other than some first-aid, or perhaps taking temperatures), they take on many other jobs. Some help children keep up with their school work; circulate books and magazines through the wards; act as receptionists and record-keepers; or just sit and talk with lonely patients who see few visitors.

At a time when hospital costs are skyrocketing, volunteer services take on an added value. These women usually pay for their own uniforms, buy their own lunches, and provide their own transportation to and from the hospital. There is no "pay"—except for that sense of personal satisfaction that comes from helping others.

Testing audio video tape equipment loaned to them by the Oakland Schools Intermediate District are 3rd grade students of Mrs. Hojnacki at the Andersonville School. Operating the camera is Marrice Short and Jeff Williams is adjusting the controls for the instant replay of the arithmetic lesson being taught to Steve Bates and Linda Coventry. The equipment will be in use in Mr. Reabe's room at the Bailey Lake School from January 12 to 22nd. The Intermediate School District loans equipment to schools in the county so they are able to evaluate their worth as teaching aids.

Taxpayers get new forms

Each of the 18 million taxpayers in the United States who filed the now discontinued card 1040A form last year, has received a postcard explaining the change to the new consolidated 1040 form, the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

This year all taxpayers will receive a larger, complete tax package that includes the one-page basic 1040 and additional pages or schedules, which may or may not be used according to the taxpayer's needs.

Past 1040A-users will find that except for a few lines, the new 1040 asks for the same information as the old card form and that they probably will not need to fill out more than one sheet of paper to make out their returns, the card says.

In the past, taxpayers who used the 1040A could not take advantage of certain tax credits or exclusions and could not itemize their deductions. A principle reason for making the change to the new form is to enable taxpayers to take full advantage of the tax benefits the law provides, the postcard says.

Most taxpayers should receive their individual tax forms and instructions by mail the first week of January.

Hedda Gabler next

The Meadow Brook Theatre's fourth production of the season, Hedda Gabler, is now in rehearsal for a January 15th opening at Oakland University.

Henrik Ibsen's dramatic masterpiece about a woman whose inner thoughts and desires struggle against her existence is a staggering portrait by the "father of modern drama."

John Fernald will direct the Meadow Brook production of Hedda Gabler which is set to play seven performances at the Detroit Institute of Arts beginning Wednesday, February 4.

Tickets for Hedda Gabler and the current comedy, "Pygmalion," may be purchased at Hudson's, and the Meadow Brook Theatre Box Office. For information please call 962-0353 or 832-2730.

Youth arrested in break-in Oakland County Deputies Carl Anderson and John Lamberton fired six shots at two youths at the scene of a break-in at the Spring Lake Country Club on Maybee road last week. One was arrested, the other escaped.

Arrested was Dennis H. Graves, 17, of Pontiac. The other suspect escaped across Spring Lake. The deputies gave chase but were hampered by cracking ice.

Graves had a 22 caliber starter pistol, a screwdriver and a metal punch when he was searched, according to the deputies.

The building had been entered but nothing seemed to be missing.

A warrant charging Graves with breaking and entering was sought from the prosecutor's office.

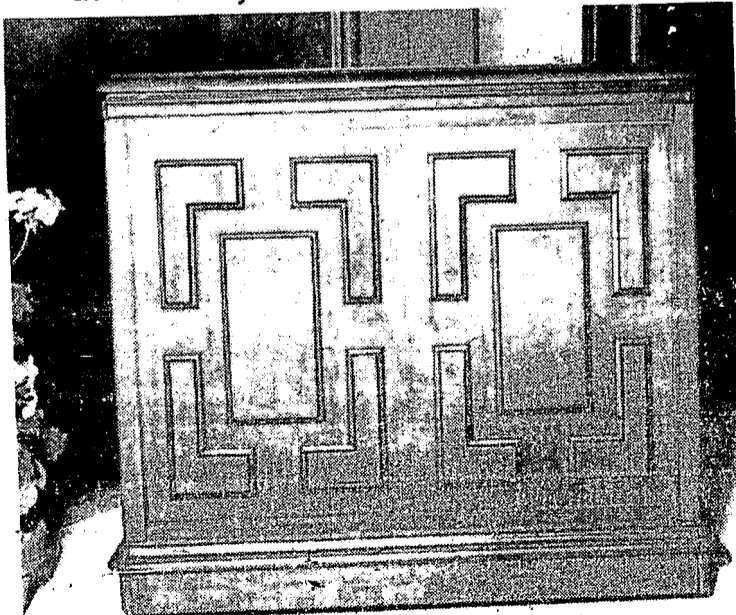

He was held in Oakland County Jail.

He's a great little home-maker. And college education. And sea cruise.
