Jim's Jottings

It follows. As the number of snowmobiles increases, the incidents of property damage and violations go up, reaction sets in, and either injury or fines or both increase.

It's the reaction I have heard most of recently. Not of the police variety, though that is being stirred. It's the people variety. Some ice fishermen, who have marked their holes with sticks for safety before, are using bigger sticks.

Unseen by the snowmobile driver, these sticks have been known to tear up tracks and bust bodies of the machines.

I've also heard of ropes being strung just high enough to catch a driver at the neck if he rides on one knee.

Of course, some of the cause for this people reaction has come through the office. Snowmobiles breaking down seedlings, breaking underground sprinkling systems, trespassing, running on streets, and more.

Here's your chance to get into politics at a rather high level. Run for Secretary of State. James M. Hare is retiring. His assistant, Bill Hettiger, says he won't seek the job, I've decided not to go after it, and no one has indicated he would go after the 3rd highest office in the state.

Speaking of politics... why is it news when someone decides not to run for an office? That word is expected soon from George Romney about a Senate post. Was it a newsman or another politician who suggested he might in the first place? His decision will limit the field to about 2 million.

I guess I'll never understand just how much money a billion dollars is. In government spending "billion" is used so frequently it fails to impress me with its magnitude.

But this description helped. If a man had gone into business in the year 1 A.D. with a billion dollars in the bank, and lost $1,000 every day of the year, it would not be all gone yet. In fact, it would take 800 more years of losing $1,000 a day to expend the billion.

The greatest thing so far about our new house (we moved in Christmas Day) is the garage. I don't have to scrape windshields any more.

Heater ignites scaffolding

Fire broke out at the building site of the Vocational High School on Dixie Highway at 9:30 on January 12.

A salamander stove used to dry the mortar in brick work ignited planks in the scaffolding.

Damage was estimated at $25 by the Independence Township Fire Department who extinguished the blaze.

Village sign up date Jan. 16

Non-registered voters in Clarkston have until January 16 to sign up for the primary election of February 16.

At this election 3 Republicans will be chosen from the 5 running, to have their names on the ballot. All other persons who have petitioned for office in the village will have their names on both the primary and general election ballots.

Registrations will be at the village clerk's home, 55 W. Washington.

Will-check engineering

The engineering firm of McGinnis Engineering Co. of Pontiac, has agreed to review and report on the plan for a drain from Deerfield Farms subdivision to the Mill Pond.

The developer's engineer, which also is the village engineer, Kieft Engineering, Inc. had proposed the original drain to cross Miller road. McGinnis' fee is $475. Their letter was forwarded to the developer, M. A. Benson of Pontiac.

Rejected

Independence township's board went along with the planning commission and county coordinating committee in rejecting a request for multiple dwellings in Cranberry Acres on M-15 north of Clarkston. They were to be on lots 11 and 12.

Abandoned, condemned buildings may come down

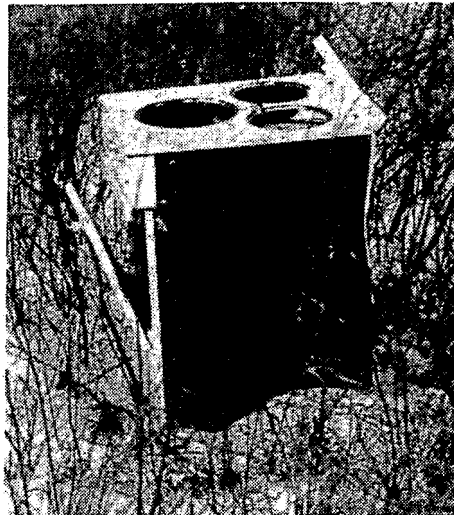

There is one particular house in Independence township that has been abandoned for years and it is condemned. It lies as a potential danger for youngsters exploring inside and housing of undesirables.

The house, up to now, couldn't be removed or burned. There was no way to contact the owners. They had long since moved to Europe or Asia. The township couldn't risk destroying the house as there might be an insurance policy and the township would be liable.

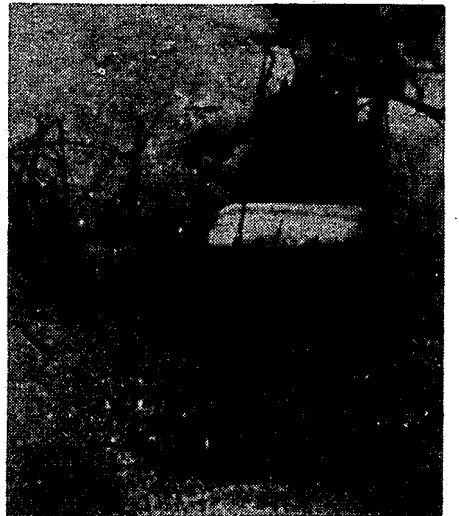

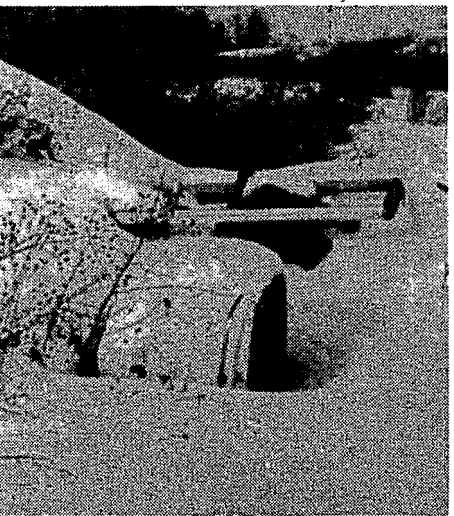

Now there is a state law which allows local units of government to remove such buildings, provided definite steps are followed. Independence took their first step this week.

This was the appointment of a hearing officer and an enforcing agent. The appointments are left to the supervisor, in the case of townships, and Duane

A dirty shame

Though the majority of these pictures were taken on Stickney road, the scene is duplicated on many, unfortunately. A family could almost get enough appliances to start housekeeping. There's a washing machine, water heater, refrigerator, range and a box to put rubbish in... which someone did.

Hursfall named Tom Hunter, an attorney in Pontiac who lives in Clarkston, as hearing officer. Hursfall said Hunter is very familiar with the new law.

Bill Cobb, Independence building inspector, is the enforcing agent.

Hursfall said at the last township board meeting that there are several houses in the township that should be removed for the health and welfare of the residents. He indicated considerable time was needed to complete the steps necessary to allow removal of a building, and that the township would do nothing in haste in these matters.

The authority for the township action was given by the state legislature in Act 61 of 1969.

It was only up 6 days

Seen any short person or persons carrying a sign that says "Clarkston Village Hall and Police Dept., 25 S. Main"?

Jean Bray painted the sign for the village and it was put up on the front of the village hall. It was there just 6 days. Friday night it was removed.

The reason police are looking for a short person is that 2 milk cases were used as a ladder to get to the 2'x3' sign.

Twp. reaching toward decisions

by Jim Sherman

Time is running short for Independence township to complete the work necessary before the actual digging of ground for laying sewer lines, according to township clerk Howard Altman.

He mentioned this at the township meeting last week. Formal completion date of the Clinton Oakland interceptor, which would carry the sewage from this township along with Waterford, Orion, Pontiac, Avon and Rochester across Oakland county, is July, 1970.

This line is to connect to one coming from Detroit. Completion date of this line is October, 1970. There may be some delay. Contracts are still being let to cross Sterling township. This line is part of the Detroit Metropolitan Water Service.

But when it is completed payments start. This is the time Independence should start dumping into the system.

Altman said there is some question if the county DPW and Detroit have actually signed an agreement allowing county use of the Detroit line, but if not it will undoubtedly be signed.

Altman said, "We have not officially decided on contracting for the lateral in Independence with the county or going with the Authority formed between Independence and Pontiac townships.

"I propose we start serious meetings with engineers, financial consultants and attorney to update our thinking," Altman told the township board and audience.

Supervisor Duane Hursfall said he agreed and asked Altman to set up the meetings right away. Since the initial financial report 2 years ago interest rates have changed and decisions made on sewer matters in the county that haven't been discussed in joint meetings.

Meetings were started last week. The Clinton Oakland interceptor project engineer told the News Friday it would be best if all 6 units involved in the sewer line let contracts by spring. He expected the Independence laterals to take about 9 months to lay.

Village sewer plans in final form

The final engineering plans for sanitary sewers in Clarkston were presented to the Council Monday night. Village engineer Howard Kieft of Kieft Engineering, Inc. explained the drawings.

There are 30 pages of details which include all houses, lots, trees, gas lines and other details pertinent to laying lines in the village.

Kieft said there were a few problem areas. If one home is to have a sewer line from their basement they will have to have a pump. Holcomb street has a gas line running down the middle. There are other individual problems, but not many.

Consideration is being given to running sewage through village lines, which would have to be enlarged, to serve township residents. Kieft will get with the township engineers to discuss it.

Using Holcomb street for township purposes is one area that might save the township money. Without this cooperation of governmental units the township would have to run their lateral around Parke Lake to get to Deerfield Farms.

The Council agreed to have Kieft negotiate with township engineers.

Approved

Is there an ice rink on the Mill Pond yet for community use on weekends? If there isn't one should be there soon.

The Independence township board has given the recreation dept. approval to install the rink. Liability insurance will protect the township. Hawk Tool has given their blessing, the village agrees to the plan and the township is providing the cleaning power, pump, and money for supervision.

C.H.S. team wins "High School Bowl"

Clarkston High School's team in the "High School Bowl," a program that was televised over WWJ-TV4 last Saturday, came from behind at half-time to beat Centerline High School by a score of 240 to 190.

Benefiting from a losing practice round, the team, Debbie Davis, Jody Hawke, Dave Lehman and Dick Ruelle with Sue Griffiths standing by as an alternate, overcame nervous apprehension to win laurels and prizes for their alma mater. Fielding "toss up" questions gleaned from copies of 4 last week's issues of the Detroit News, the team who answered the questions first and correctly, was given an opportunity to answer bonus questions that were in the field of general knowledge.

Miss Mary Margaret Dean, a substitute teacher at the high school, coached the team for the preceding week by going over the papers carefully and discussing items in the area of national, international, sports and general information news.

The team then indulged in a game of Trivia to get them thinking quickly, a sort of mental gymnastics.

For their winning endeavors each member of the team received a World Book Almanac and a World Book Year Book. In addition, the school will receive a World Book Atlas and Dictionary.

Clarkston speaks out

CHS News By Polly Hanson

With the new year comes a new Forensics team at Clarkston High School. Being coached by Mr. Allen Bartlett, the team will soon begin practice. The Clarkston team will be competing in the areas of: Serious Interpretative Reading, Humorous Interpretative Reading, Declamation, Oratory, Multiple Reading, Men's Extemporaneous Speaking, Women's Extemporaneous Speaking, and Radio News Broadcasting. Any interested students should contact Mr. Bartlett as soon as possible.

Club is sponsored by Mr. Howard Webster.

Scheduling for classes for the new semester begins this week. Students should try to see the counselors as soon as possible to set up their new schedule. The Seniors should see Mrs. Hanson, the Juniors, Mr. McGrath, and the Sophomores should see Mrs. Lay. It is important that the scheduling be completed early, so don't wait until the last minute to complete yours.

Clarkston's Junior Miss, Susan Griffiths, will be competing in Pontiac in the State Junior Miss Pageant. The three-day competition will be held on January 22, 23 and 24.

On the weekend of January 9, 10 and 11, the CHS Ski Club took a trip to the Wolverine Sports Camp and Boyne Highlands Ski Area. The skiers enjoyed two days of skiing at Boyne Highlands, plus the added enjoyment of snowmobiling and sleigh rides. The Ski

A Missions dinner will be held at the Clarkston United Methodist Church on January 18 at 6:30 p.m.

The movie, "China Contrast and continuity" will be shown to the adults. Children will be entertained with a showing of "Once Upon a Horse."

A special nursery will be provided for the small children.

Co-op mothers told

"Love and let go"

Mrs. Helena H. Guernsey, Rochester, was the guest speaker last week at the Clarkston Co-op Nursery's parent education meeting. Her topic for the evening was "Loving and Letting Go," and a period of many questions and answers followed.

Mrs. Guernsey received her M.A. degree in parent education from Wayne State University and her B.A. degree in physical education. She has had 14 years' experience in parent and child education and has been very active in cooperative nurseries throughout Michigan.

A teacher at the Oakland University parent education classes, Mrs. Guernsey is on the board at Oakland for the day care center. She is presently advisor to disadvantaged parents and children in Mt. Clemens, past president of Parent Co-operative Pre-school International and on the editorial board of Offspring Magazine. With all of these activities, Mrs. Guernsey still has time to spend with her three sons and four grandchildren.

During the month of December at the nursery, the boys and girls made preparations for Christmas by designing their own decorations for the classroom tree, and gifts for Mom and Dad. Mothers were delighted with their children's hand prints molded in plaster of paris, and fathers equally pleased with pencil holders decorated with various sizes of painted macaroni.

The children are looking forward to a little warmer weather when they can be outside to sleigh ride on the nursery's recently purchased sleds.

The Oak Hill Farmer's Club will meet with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beckman on Thursday night, Jan. 25th. There will be a potluck dinner at seven o'clock.

Last Sunday afternoon about 75 townsfolk gathered at the Clarkston Rotary rooms to honor Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Winn who will leave soon to make their home in Midland. Mr. Winn is enjoying his work as a chemist at the Dow Chemical Co.

Saturday morning Frank Ronk was taken to the hospital where it was discovered he was on the border line of having pneumonia. He returned home Sunday night, and plans to be back at school Wednesday. We are all glad it was nothing serious.

Letters to the Editor

Lodge reminds sr. citizens, vets

Dear Editor,

Your newspaper has always devoted itself to the public interest and informing people of their rights and privileges.

Every year many senior citizens and veterans are deprived of their right to their tax exemptions by failure to file before the deadline. I wish that you would in some way give notice to the senior citizens as well as veterans or their widows, that they must file by March 9 (which is the earliest date the Board of Review could adjourn). They should be filing now and through the month of February at the tax assessor's office. (In township areas, the Township Supervisor's office.) This must be filed each year.

Persons 65 by December 31, 1969, or older whose total income does not exceed $5,000, including social security, and whose property has a cash value under $20,000, are exempted from paying taxes on $2,500 state equalized value of their property.

Disabled veterans or their widows are eligible for a similar exemption.

I will greatly appreciate your bringing this to the attention of your readers.

Sincerely,

L. Harvey Lodge
State Senator 17th District

Snacks are not all bad

If yours is an average family, your children are probably saying "What can I have to eat?" five minutes after the family has finished eating.

Mrs. Kathleen Bufton, extension home economist for Wayne and Oakland counties, says that since snacking seems to be a way of life for most Americans, children naturally adopt this habit.

"Quite literally," she adds, "children's stomachs may not have sufficient capacity to hold one-third of their daily food needs when consumed at one meal.

"Consider snacks as part of the total daily food intake," Mrs. Bufton says. "If your preschooler eats many snacks a day, expect that the amount he eats at mealtime will be less."

It's up to you, however, to see that his snacks are as balanced nutritionally as his meals. A child who snacks all day on one item such as crackers, is less likely to be well-nourished than a child whose daily food intake includes all the basic foods.

Kathleen Bufton suggests keeping handy fresh fruit sections such as apple wedges or orange segments, milk, carrot sticks, peanut butter, cheese and ready-to-eat cereal with or without milk.

If you'd rather that your children didn't snack so often, try to make meals interesting, the specialist suggests. Pleasant meals are more conducive to eating, and the child is apt to eat enough to last for three or four hours.

Discourage snacking within an hour of meal time. When working with a pre-school child, diversion is the key. Get him busy with something he enjoys about an hour before meals, or persuade father to amuse him for a while.

Mrs. Bufton also suggests providing the child with a suitable example. If others in the family are not frequent snackers, the preschool child will be less likely to want food between meals. As he grows older, this will become habit to him.

Condominiums?

Dear Editor,

Condominiums or no?

A zoning board meeting is to be held Thursday, January 15, at the Township Hall at 7:30 p.m. to decide if land-locked condominiums are to be built on Waldon Road at Almond Lane in Clarkston.

The contention of the neighbors is that the three Clarkston schools do not need more traffic by them. Over-crowding results from packing 185 families on 17 acres as compared to 36 families as adjacent areas now hold.

How far out do you have to go to be suburban?

Please attend the zoning meeting to assure we stay suburban. Take a lesson from Waterford Township.

Keith A. Humbert, President,
Clarkston Gardens Improvement Assn.

"If It Fitz . . ."

This news wasn't printed

By Jim Fitzgerald

'Tis the season for a columnist to look backward and review for his panting readers the most important things he wrote about during the past year.

('Tis also the season for columnists to start off columns with 'Tis. Actually, 'tis a shame I can't think of anything better. But you should know how cheap I work).

Anyway, here's something different. Picking through my pile of clippings and soggy cocktail napkins, I found a huge store of column ideas which never reached print. So here are the top 7 things I DIDN'T write about. These were chosen because they were on top of the pile:

1. A woman wrote Ann Landers saying it was silly for females to worry about having beards. All you need is a sense of humor, she said. She and her husband go to barbershops and get shaved together, and they laugh and laugh when the barber drops his scissors in shock. I was going to write something about the perils of being a barber, or a husband for that matter. But instead I snuck home in the middle of the day to see if my razor was wet.

2. My youngest sister, a budding old maid at 27, announced her engagement. I was going to write something smart about that. But then I remembered 5 years ago, when she announced her engagement to another guy. I wrote something smart about that. And nobody has seen him since. Big brothers can be a bigger pain than little brothers.

3. A judge in Port Huron, my old hometown, ruled that a white couple could not have custody of a boy they loved, and who loved them, because the boy was a Negro. "He looks black to me clear from here," said Judge Halford Streeter from his bench when he saw the 5-month-old baby in his courtroom. "Who will he date when he's 15?" I was going to write that Judge Streeter looks bigoted to me clear from here. But every time I get angry at rednecked public officials, I can't write for the vomit in my throat and the tears in my eyes.

4. The Catholic Church ruled it was ok to go to Sunday Mass on Saturday afternoon. I was going to write a bitterly nostalgic, born-too-soon column about my younger years and the many times I took a sick head and shattered nerves to Sunday Mass out of pure fear - fear of mortal sin and fear of starvation through meals withheld by my mother. But then I remembered that the only Saturday I left the poolroom before closing was the Saturday it burned down. For some of us, there is little hope no matter how sweet the medicine.

5. The Marathon Oil Co keeps mailing brochures, trying to sell me Lady Pepperell blankets. Standard Oil fills my mailbox with pleas to buy pots and pans. And so on. I was going to write that I accepted gasoline credit cards on the understanding that I'll use them to service my car, not furnish my house. But I was afraid my name might be turned in to the neighborhood gas station and someday I would use their restroom and disappear forever into an oil depletion loophole.

6. Many Agnew boosters rapped newspapers for reporting only bad news, and ignoring the good. I was going to write a column saying that 3 million American boys were NOT killed in Vietnam yesterday; and 4,000 TWA planes did NOT crash; and 6,547 hydrants did NOT wet dogs. But I decided the best news would be to write nothing at all. Instead, I reprinted the entire script of a Doris Day TV show.

7. A reader wrote that I should quit writing this boring nonsense and devote the space to crossword puzzles. I was going to write 300 4-letter words meaning meathead. I was going to type 150 of them while horizontal, and 150 while vertical. But, while horizontal, I fell asleep.

Onward and Upward. †

Sign contract

Bd. of Ed. and CEA reach agreement

The Clarkston Board of Education and the representatives of the Clarkston Education Association put the final signatures on their contract for the 1969-70 school year at the regular monthly board meeting on January 12.

The signing brought 10 months of negotiations to a close.

Signing for the CEA were: President, Tom Brown, and negotiators, Ken Wolven, Sally Lindeman, Carolyn Edelman, Jerry Granlund and Bart Connors.

Board signatures by R. A. Weber, president and Walter Wilberg, secretary.

Dr. Leslie Greene, Superintendent, presented current figures on projected student enrollment in the Clarkston schools.

According to the figures, the system would reach full capacity by 1970. Greene pointed out that at the present Andersonville, Bailey Lake and Clarkston Elementary have already reached this point.

Figures indicate that the birth rate has shown a decline and if no building of substance or excessive migration should occur, the situation may level off. In this case the present buildings would adequately serve the community need.

"It is important," said Greene, "that we use our buildings up to their full capacity. Our system cannot afford to have buildings with idle space."

The study will be continued.

A letter from William Dennis, high school assistant principal, informed the board that this year's senior trip has been cancelled by action of the class. The change was necessitated by the lack of participants.

New law requires gun safety class

Michigan Sportsmen have been asked to donate time to assist in teaching Michigan youngsters safe gun handling, to enable them to be eligible to be licensed for hunting when they are of age.

Charles Herman, 6969 Almond Lane, has responded to the request and has now been certified and registered with the Conservation Department to conduct classes in the handling and use of fire arms.

Section 20 A was added in 1969 to Act 43, Chapter 4 by the State Legislature. The new law requires that all applicants under 17 years of age who apply for a small game hunting license must complete a course in gun handling for which they will receive a Certificate of Achievement and be registered with the Natural Resources Department of the State of Michigan.

This addition was passed in 1969 and becomes effective on March 20, 1970; however, the new law will not be officially enforced until September 1, 1971. This time allowance is being made to enable youngsters to be certified.

Mr. Herman has been granted permission to hold classes at the Independence Township Hall on Saturday mornings.

The course will be conducted from 11 a.m. to 12 noon for 4 consecutive Saturdays and after the completion of the course the students will be taken to the rifle range at Pontiac Lake for practical experience.

Classes will be limited to 10 to 15 youths. Participants must be 12 years or older.

Mr. Herman can be contacted by writing him at his home at 6969 Almond Lane.

Charles Herman of Almond Lane demonstrates a principal of safe gun handling, checking to make sure the gun is not loaded. Mr. Herman will conduct classes for area youngsters on Saturday mornings from 11 to 12 o'clock.

Allow mining for restoration

The way was cleared Tuesday night for the restoration of the mining operation at Stickney and Sashabaw roads. It is to be accomplished through another mining operation.

The mining company headed by Mike Telischak will be allowed to mine between April 1 and July 1, 1970 with unlimited machinery with the goal of rejuvenating the land.

Arrangement for renewing mining has been worked out through agreements between the owner and Telischak, the circuit court and Independence township. The property has been in conflict some time. There was a consent judgment handed down by the court in January, 1966.

The new operation will have 4 other guidelines besides the two mentioned: $1500 cash bond to guarantee restoration of the land, allow township inspection at any reasonable time, keep dust down on streets with chloride and to pay the Independence attorney fees of $200.

SDM change

Approval of a change in the SDM license at Pierre's Orchard, Sashabaw at Clarkston road, was given by the Independence board last week. SDM is a beer and wine take out license.

The license is being transferred to the name of William Linovitz from JeanPierre Gourund.

Quick notes from the twp. Board

Joe Rhodes has been appointed to succeed himself for 3 years on the planning commission.

An amendment to the zoning code text involving the section on RMT districts, mobile home parks, has been passed by the township. Included are requirements on utilities, parking, roads and others.

Consideration is being given to passing additions to the reciprocal electrical code. This should be done at the January 19 meeting.

Brandon Township has purchased the fire department's 1942 tanker truck for $500. It currently is being housed at Brandon's new station at Seymour Lake and Sashabaw roads.

WATERFORD, MICHIGAN

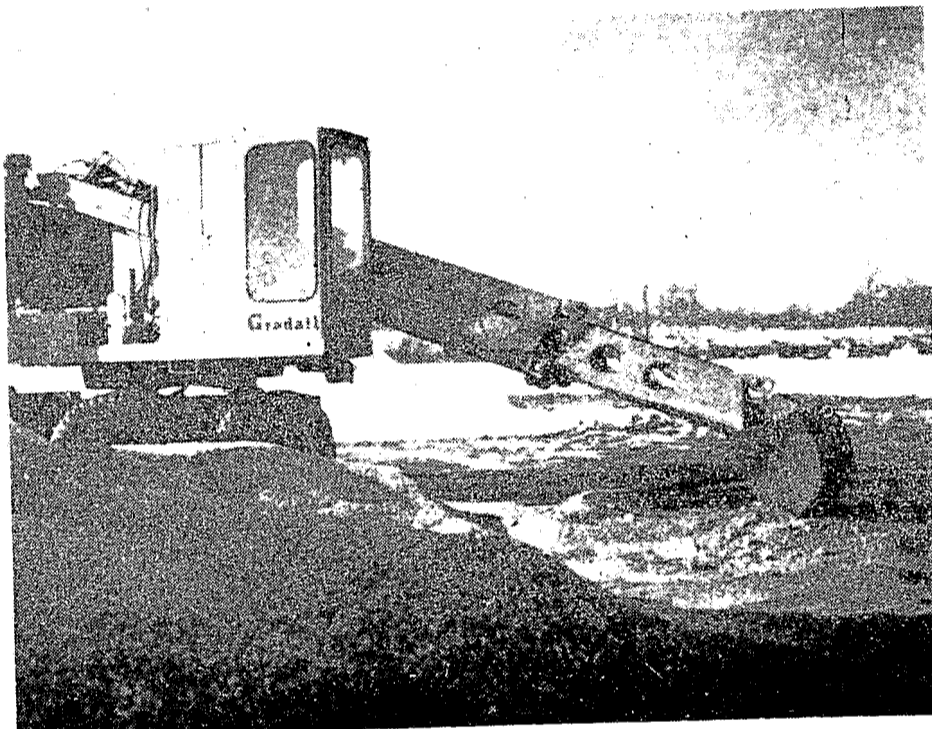

Dispatcher Elmer Hess keeps his hand on the pulse of Oakland County road crew activities with the assistance of telephone, radio and a control panel that enables him to locate each truck at any time of the day or night. When weather bulletins indicate that storms are imminent, watchers, in trucks loaded with salt patrol the county, ready to remedy the problem at hand and relay the emergency information on to headquarters.

Oakland County Road Commission uses approximately 3500 tons of sand for road maintenance on state and county roads during a normal winter. The sand is used primarily to cover and protect salt stock piles and to mix with the salt when excessively low temperatures render the salt ineffective as experienced during the past week.

Heavy equipment is used to fill the 121 plows and spreaders that are available at all times. Charlie Welch and Albert Cox are part of the staff of 275 people that are required to handle the equipment. Fifty thousand tons of salt are normally required to meet the county's needs during a normal winter. Twenty-two thousand tons have been used already during this winter season. The blue color of the salt is a result of the addition of chemicals that prevent the salt from losing its granular consistency and sticking together.

The maintenance garage at the county complex on Pontiac Lake Road near Telegraph Road handles major repairs on county vehicles. It is equipped with machinery and personnel to expedite the prompt and efficient handling of these repairs.

Seek entries for art show

The 8th Annual Pontiac Mall Art Show will be held Feb. 2nd - Feb. 14th, under the chairmanship of Kate MacLean.

Only residents of Oakland County are eligible to enter their work.

This year the show will be divided into two groups, juried and non-juried, with the entrant deciding which to join.

Cash prizes are being offered in both groups.

All work must be created without the aid of an instructor and any copy work will be removed from the show. Categories are oil, drawing, graphics, pastel, water colors, mixed media and sculpture.

All paintings and drawings must be properly framed and wired for hanging with identification labels placed on the front of non-juried work and the back of juried work. Exhibitor's fee is $2.00 which entitles the exhibitor to enter the limit of four pieces of work.

A 20% commission will be charged for all work sold. The money is used to help finance future art shows.

Art work will be accepted and placed on Sunday, Feb. 1st from 12 to 3 p.m. at the main entrance in the front of the Mall. Identification labels will be available at this time.

Dismantling of the exhibit will be done Sunday, Feb. 15th from 10 a.m. to noon. All work must be picked up at this time.

Services of anyone wishing to contribute his efforts to help make this show a success will be most welcome.

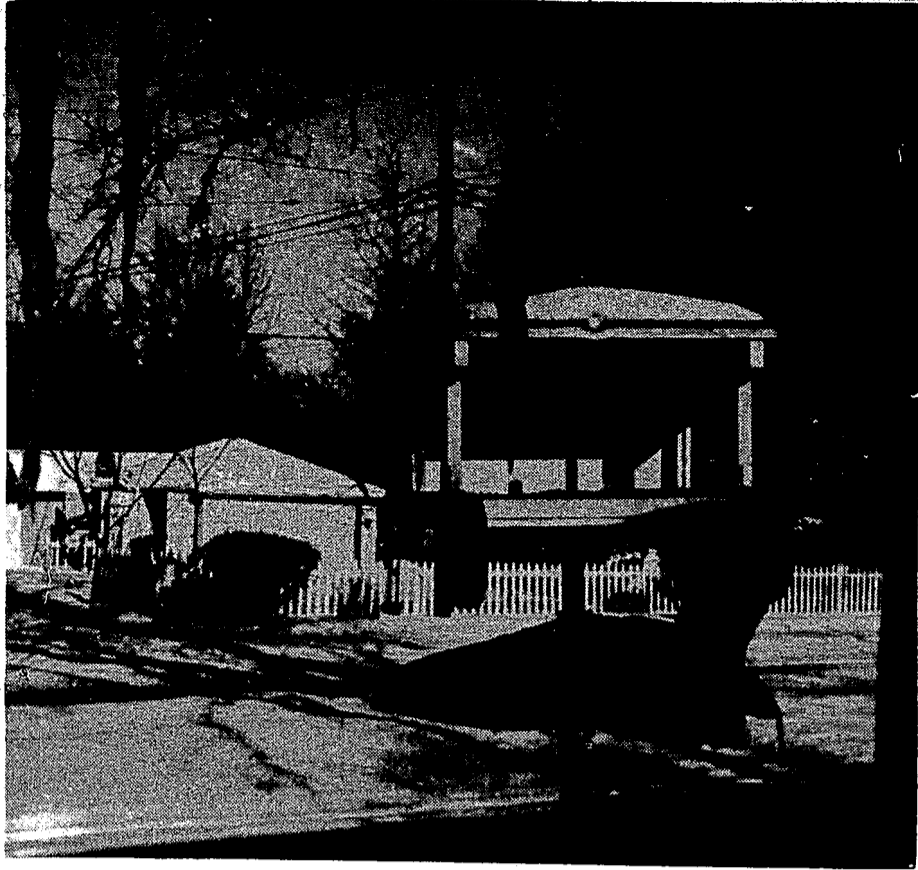

Further information may be obtained by phoning 673-1126 or OR 3-1775.

Wigs demonstrated for sorority

Alpha Gamma Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet on Tuesday, January 20, at 4:30 p.m. at Greenfield's in Birmingham.

Members from Clarkston, Lake Orion, Oxford and Rochester are planning to attend.

Chairman for this meeting is Marian Marting, who announces that the program will be a wig demonstration, presented by Bernard Hair Stylists and Wig Salon.

A SPIRITUAL Message

CALVARY LUTHERAN CHURCH

Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe

"John was the one that the prophet Isaiah was talking about when he said, 'Someone is shouting in the desert: Get the Lord's road ready for him. Make a straight path for him to travel!'" (St. Matthew 3:3)

"Do the things that will show that you have changed your ways." (St. Matthew 3:8)

We live in a practical age. When a problem arises, we ask, "What can be done?" The ill person seeking a doctor's advice asks this question. The school principal faced with too many students asks it. The worker feeling pressure on the job asks it. Even the Christian - and his secular counterpart, the morally astute citizen - asks it.

What can be done to smooth out the rough places in life? How can we overcome the many problems that modern living forces us to face: pollution, overpopulation, racial unrest, social ferment, war and peace, and the rest?

The Christian believes what Isaiah said, that God is in the process of establishing His kingdom on earth. He is busily preparing this world for His powerful return. He has promised to make the rough places plain and the crooked paths straight.

All that is left is our response: What do we do to help? What can be done by us to insure that kind of world, that kind of kingdom? The answer is the same for Christian and non-Christian alike: "Do the things that will show that you have changed your ways!"

REGISTRATION NOTICE

FOR

VILLAGE PRIMARY ELECTION

FEBRUARY 16, 1970

To the Qualified Electors of the Village of Clarkston,
County of Oakland, State of Michigan

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the "Michigan Election Law," I, the undersigned Clerk, will, upon any day, except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of any regular or special election or primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said Township, City or Village not already registered who may APPLY TO ME PERSONALLY for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no names for registration during the time intervening between the fifth Friday before any regular, special or official primary election and the day of such election.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT I WILL BE AT THE FOLLOWING PLACES ON

JANUARY 2 THRU 16, 1970, AT 55 W. WASHINGTON

and on

JANUARY 16, 1970 - LAST DAY

THE FIFTH FRIDAY PRECEDING SAID ELECTION

As provided by Act No. 188, Public Acts of 1967.

AT 55 W. WASHINGTON

From 8 o'clock a.m. until 8 o'clock p.m. on said day, and from 8 o'clock a.m. until 5 o'clock p.m. on the Saturday prior to the last day of registration for the purpose of REVIEWING the REGISTRATION and REGISTERING such of the qualified electors in said TOWNSHIP, CITY or VILLAGE as SHALL PROPERLY apply therefor.

The name of no person but an ACTUAL RESIDENT of the precinct at the time of registration, and entitled under the Constitution, if remaining such resident, to vote at the next election, shall be entered in the registration book.

ELECTOR UNABLE TO MAKE PERSONAL APPLICATION, PROCEDURE

SEC. 504. Any elector who is unable to make personal application for registration because of physical disability or absence from the Township, City or Village in which his legal residence is located may be registered prior to the close of registration before any election or primary election by securing from the Clerk of the Township, City or Village in which is located his legal residence duplicate registration cards, and executing in duplicate the registration affidavit before a notary public or other officer legally authorized to administer oaths, and returning such registration cards to the Clerk of the Township, City or Village before the close of office hours on the last day of registration prior to any election or primary election. The notary public or other officer administering the oath shall sign his name on the line for the signature of the registration officer and designate his title.

UNREGISTERED PERSONS NOT ENTITLED TO VOTE

SEC. 491. The inspectors of election at any election or primary election in this State, or in any District, County, Township, City or Village thereof, shall not receive the vote of any person whose name is not registered in the registration book of the Township, Ward or Precinct in which he offers to vote.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION, APPLICATION, TIME

SEC. 506. Any registered elector may, upon change of residence within the Township, City or Village, cause his registration to be transferred to his new address by sending to the Clerk a signed request stating his present address, the date he moved thereto and the address from which he was last registered, or by applying person for a transfer. The Clerk shall strike through the last address, ward or precinct number and record the new address, ward and precinct number on the original and duplicate registration cards, and shall place the original registration card in the proper precinct file. Such transfers shall not be made after the fifth Friday next preceding any regular or special election or primary election, unless such fifth Friday shall fall on a legal holiday, in which event registration transfer shall be accepted during the following day.

TRANSFER OF REGISTRATION ON ELECTION DAY

SEC. 507. Any registered elector who has removed from one election precinct a Township, City or Village to another election precinct of the same Township, City or Village and has not recorded such removal with the local clerk shall execute a transfer of registration request, listing the new residence address thereon over his signature, with the election board in the precinct in which he is registered at the next ensuing primary or election. The inspector of election in charge of the registration records shall compare the signature thereon with the signature upon the applicant's registration record and, if the signatures correspond, then the inspector shall certify such fact by affixing his initials upon said request. The applicant, after having signed an application to vote as provided in section 523 of the act, shall then be permitted to vote in such precinct at that primary or election only. The application for transfer shall be filed with the Township, City or Village Clerk who shall transfer such elector's registration in accordance with the application. When the name of any street or residence house number in a Township, City or Village has been changed, it shall be the duty of the Township, City or Village Clerk to make the change to show the proper name of the street or residence house number in the registration records, and it shall not be necessary for the elector to change his registration with respect thereto in order to be eligible to vote.

Artemus M. Pappas, Village Clerk

Dead reckoning . . .

The young care more

By Don Lytle

Support is building among the student populations against the senseless destruction of America the Beautiful.

New ecology-oriented campus organizations are popping up in increasing numbers and "teach-ins" on environmental quality (or the lack of it) are now in the planning stages for universities like MSU and the U of M as well as nearby high schools like Bloomfield Hills Andover and Douglas MacArthur High School in Saginaw Township. A national moratorium is planned in the spring for Washington, D.C.

Recently, to illustrate America's ecological crisis, University of Minnesota students conducted a symbolic funeral for the internal combustion ("infernal" combustion is better) engine. While at Michigan State a group of like-minded students decorated a campus Christmas tree with garbage just this past holiday. It's not that the peace movement is zilch; "Give Peace a Chance" and "Ban the Bomb" are still with us. Rather, the peace movement now has a bedfellow who sleeps just as lightly and talks in his sleep saying such things as "Ban DDT" or "What Have You Done for Your Environment Lately?"

"Pounce on Polluters" is the motto of a newly formed organization at the University of Maryland called the North American Habitat Preservation Society (NAHPS). Thousands of these mottoes have been appearing as bumper stickers in metropolitan Washington D.C. lately.

Already the NAHPS has a record of active involvement. It has conducted studies to monitor and analyze increasing numbers of infertile osprey eggs (affects of DDT) on the western shore of Chesapeake Bay with money funded by the Chesapeake Research fund and the Maryland National Resource Institute. In addition, a "trash bash" was organized in the Spring of '69 which turned out 1,000 students who cleaned the Maryland campus as well as an 8-mile surrounding area.

Since the NAHPS is a non-profit, tax-exempt organization with no paid employees, the organization depends heavily on public cooperation and donations for its pursuit of environment improvement and purchase of second-hand printing equipment or whatever. Commenting on the future of the NAHPS, a spokesman recently made reference to the age-old American problem: the public isn't ready to put its money where it says its interests are. But he is optimistic, nevertheless.

Such active, sincere organizations should not be allowed to die, but should be supported and allowed to propagate their message over the entire earth. If these young people have anything to say about it, there will be progress in spite of the general public apathy.

The young just care, that's all; after all, they have the most to lose.

It's about time we care, adults. Do your thing, schools.

CORRECTION

The News erred last week in the 3-car accident story on the front page when it said, "... Miss Ball attempted to pass." She was driving in the opposite direction of the other 2 cars involved.

The accident occurred at 7:50 a.m. January 5 at Waldon and Wealthy. Janice Sue Ball, 17, of 9376 Sashabaw, was injured. A driver of one of the other 2 cars turned into Miss Ball, forcing her car against the 3rd vehicle, according to the county sheriff's report.

Bags, bottles, bones

By Jean Sura

I save things. I take a lot of abuse. Sometimes it pays.

I don't save newspapers and string like a recluse, just sentimental trivia — like teething rings and old baby shoes.

I really do take a beating. But every once in a while I get my kicks, like when my husband asked me where his old "fat" ties were.

"Why, my dear," I said, "you have been nagging me to toss them out for years. I finally did. Didn't you read in the paper that our rubbish man was nominated as the best dressed man of 1970? He's been wearing your ties to work for the last 6 weeks."

Psychologists have tried to understand what makes a saver "tick." If they had been around last week I could have saved them some brain storming.

We never had found the little old angel that sits on top of our Christmas tree, so I was stubbornly "ticking" through the attic. In my rummaging I came across all kinds of goodies, but the real prize was a box.

It was an old, heart-shaped candy box, my first Valentine from my husband, though not my husband at the time. It was filled with my sentimental trivia. What a discovery. What a beautiful supply of material for blackmail.

I carefully hauled it down into the light. The day's work was finished as far as I was concerned.

Unlike Pandora's box, only good things came out of this one.

First, a birth announcement — fittingly, it was mine. There is nothing like starting right at the beginning.

Next was my Sunday School perfect attendance pin. Ten years of hopping out of bed on Sunday morning and memorizing thousands of Bible verses had been rewarded with a gold pin with nine bars attached, each proclaiming the number of the year.

The remarkable thing about the pin was that on a tall girl those bars extended from shoulder to navel. No wonder my dad had to keep threatening me. "Stand up straight and get your shoulders back or I'll have to get you a back brace."

a good memory.

Three college dance programs (with pencils) had me humming "Sunrise Serenade," accompanied by Glenn Miller and his band. Do you suppose there was ever a college that didn't have a "Snow Ball?"

The ticket stubs were fun, too, as were the letters from high school friends. A high school graduation program, listing over 600 graduates, took up plenty of time.

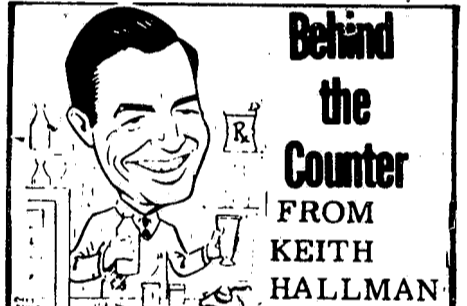

It took up so much time that my reverie was interrupted.

"Hi, dear," said you know who, coming home from a day at work. "Have a good day? What happened to the house?"

"Well," I answered, "I'm a saver, you know! Dinner's not ready, the house is a mess, but let me show you these telegrams you sent me just before we got engaged. You won't believe how kind and thoughtful you were. Here is one that says that you never want me to do any work, just be near you."

"Honey, where are you going? Out for dinner? Sure, I can be ready in a minute."

I'm still a saver. It pays.

Burn Injury

A recent study indicated that the cost of treating an extensively burned patient can run as high as $20,000—enough to destroy the life savings of most families. In addition to the long period of hospitalization, there is the terrible pain, deformities and scarring.

In 1965, 612,000 children suffered burns which needed medical care, or which caused at least one full day of restricted activity. More than 2,000 children die from fires and explosions in this country each year.

Children are fascinated by matches and open fires; they like to pull on protruding handles or dangling cords. Another group highly susceptible to burn injury is the aged, many of whom are helpless in case of fire.

One way to reduce fire injury is through the application of durable flame-retarding finishes to cotton and synthetic fabrics used for sheets, blankets, draperies and clothing. Also, there are some synthetic fibers which are, in themselves, flame-resistant. It has been estimated that burn injury caused by exposure to open flame would be reduced by 50 percent if these fabrics were generally adopted.

Another way of reducing burn injury in children is through education. In Arkansas, a single year of the school's fire-prevention program cut in half the number of injuries from fires and explosions reported to hospitals and clinics in that area.

Co-operate with community agencies that seek to prevent fires. And be sure that everybody in your home is alert to what should be done in case of a fire or other such emergency.

This summer 2.5 miles of Seymour Lake road, between Sashabaw and Baldwin will be prepared for surfacing the following year.

Estimated to cost about $400,000, the primary road will be paid for by the federal government splitting the cost with the county.

Oakland County Road Commission is expected to begin work on drainage, grading and gravel surfacing in June. Blacktopping will come in 1971.

Brandon supervisor, Norman J. Kapson, said he was pleased to learn of the decision to do the work this year. There is no township cost sharing.

PACK 341

A Christmas program presented by Dens 1, 2 and 5 highlighted the December 18 pack meeting, as well as the surprise arrival of Santa Claus.

Cubmaster, Seth Cummings, and secretary, Peter Ohrnberger, presented Bobcat pins to Mark Wilmott, Jeff Morales and David Cross. Both a gold and a silver arrow for the Bear Badge were presented to David Cooper. Receiving one-year pins were Mike Norris, Don Hawkins, Richard Hagadone, Jim Miller and Jeff Dawley with pack committee chairman, Bob Turnbull, bestowing the honors. Bob Edwards received his three-year pin.

Assistant Cubmaster, Roger Eriksson awarded Webelos badges to Rick Jones, Jeff Leach and Mike Nagel in Forester; Ralph Eriksson, Sportsman; and Mark Wood, Athlete and Sportsman. Tony Becker received the Webelos colors. Earning recruiter badges were Mark Wood, Jeff Earough and Jim Miller.

Bailey Lake Elementary School Cub Scout Pack 341 held their first Winter Ice Carnival for fathers and sons last Sunday afternoon at Townsend Lake near the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. Some 25 boys and 22 fathers attended the afternoon of activities which included the successful recorded catch of over 300 fish.

Randy Cummings was three-time ice-fishing champion with the largest single catch of 32 fish, the largest perch and largest sunfish for the afternoon. Rick Smith landed the largest bluegill with second place recognition to Robert Bray for bringing in 25 fish.

In ice skating competition, Randy Cummings took first place in the pack with David Welljits, second, and Jim Wood, third. Den winners were (first place) Bobby Cooper, den 2; Jim Wood, den 5; David Welljits, den 6; Donald Lape, den 7; and Randy Cummings, Webelos. Second place went to Steven Bencoter, den 5; Donald Hawkins, den 6; and Mark Wood, Webelos. David Hughes and Rick Jones took third places in den 5 and Webelos, respectively.

Sled racing events awarded Mark Wood with the pack's first place, Ralph Eriksson, second, and Jim Wood, third. In Den 1, first place went to Robert Bray with Mark Roberts coming in second; Den 2, Robert Cooper, first; Den 5, Jim Wood, first; Scott Eriksson, second; and Steven Bencoter, third; Den 6, David Welljits, first; Eric Ohrnberger, second; and Joe Brown, third. Donald Lape took first in Den 7 with Webelos, Mark Wood, first; Ralph Eriksson, second; and Rick Jones, third.

Special appreciation for the afternoon of fun goes to Leland Wood and sons, Mark and Jim; Ray Hughes and sons, David and Dennis; Seth Cummings and son, Randy; and Peter Ohrnberger and sons, Eric and Claus, for clearing the ice for the events.

Q How does this downhole safety valve work?

A If a drop in pressure occurs, the downhole safety valve works, within seconds, to seal in the gas in the underground storage fields.

Q What could cause a drop in pressure in the gas storage fields?

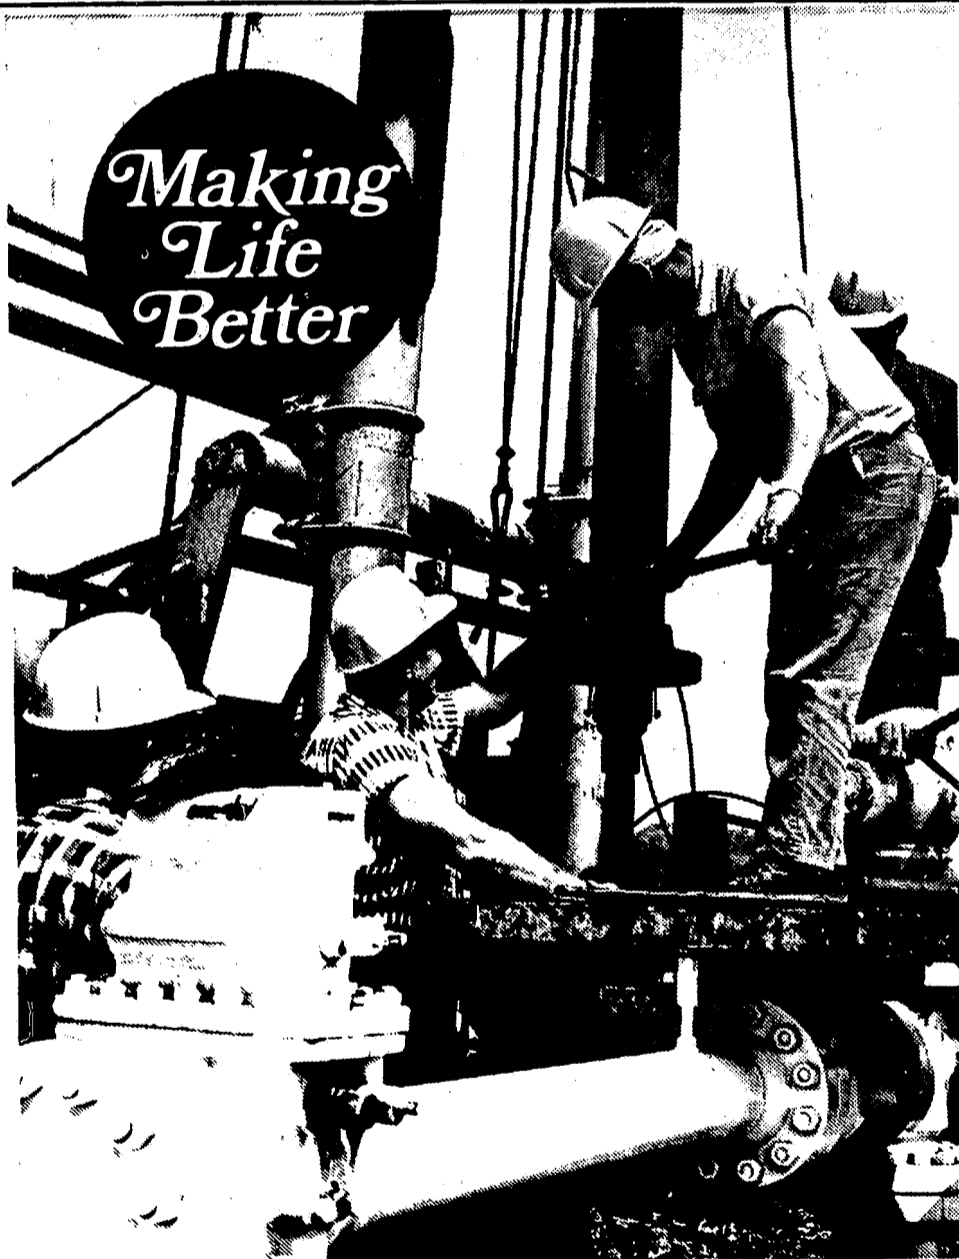

A Wellheads stand above the ground, so they are exposed to the elements and to the possibility of accidental damage by aircraft or surface vehicles. If a wellhead should be damaged or ripped away, a drop in pressure would occur. The downhole safety valve would react automatically.

Q What about gas pipelines? How does Consumers Power guard against pipeline leaks?

A The company uses mobile leak detection units to survey 15,000 miles of natural gas transmission and distribution mains each year. These units sniff out a leak or break in the system and mark it for repair. Each year the company also digs up, cleans, inspects and re-tests many, many miles of older gas pipelines.

Q Are these safety precautions adequate to prevent any interruptions in gas service?

A These are just a few of the company's safety measures. Most importantly, the gas control center in Jackson oversees the company's entire gas distribution system. Within this center, a complex data acquisition and control unit scans 600 checkpoints in the gas system throughout the 12,512-square mile gas service area. Every two minutes, this electronic watchdog checks gas pressure, flow, density, temperature and specific gravity at each checkpoint. It alerts technicians before a serious problem has a chance to develop.

Don, John, Gary and Roger are gas company men, but they provided you with insurance.

When our Consumers Power crew installed this odd-looking valve, they insured 64-billion cubic feet of natural gas reserves. The device is a "downhole" safety valve. Forty of them have been installed in our three underground storage fields to protect them from accidental damage by aircraft or surface vehicles. It's another way of insuring a safe, dependable supply of gas whenever you need it. ■ Consumers Power Company is planning, building — and innovating — today, for Michigan's tomorrow. Because we care about making life better for all of us.

Swim for New Year's

By Barb Humphreys

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Drake of Snowapple and sons, Tom and Jeff, have returned from a vacation in Palm Beach, Florida. One of the highlights of their trip, according to Mrs. Drake was, "a midnight swim on New Year's Eve. Even though the pool was heated, it still was rather a different way to bring in the New Year."

A surprise was in store for Val LePere when she returned some trays to the Methodist Church for her mother recently. Her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ron LePere of Waldon, had invited many of her friends there to help celebrate her 17th birthday. The party was a great success, as Val didn't suspect a thing until everyone shouted "surprise."

Congratulations to our high school students, Debbie Davis, Jody Hawke, Dave Lehman, Dick Ruelle and Sue Griffiths, alternate, on winning the "High School Bowl" recently. They looked so poised and confident, but as Jody stated, "you wouldn't believe what went on before we finally got on the air." One of the girls fell and cut her leg while getting in the car, a contact lens was lost and then found, the inevitable runs in the nylons, a broken zipper on a skirt, a slow poke sucker pulled a filling from a tooth which made talking a little awkward, and no one was even absolutely sure how to get there. "If it hadn't been for us spotting the Centerline bus, we'd probably have missed the whole show."

After a disappointing practice round where Clarkston lost 130 to 30, our kids showed their true talents and won, 240 to 190.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walker of Gulick are the proud parents of David Shaver, the second baby born in the New Year in this area. Even though he didn't arrive in time to receive the gifts offered by the Pontiac Press and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, his family is "just glad he's here." The other little Walkers are Chris, Jim, Jana, and Julie. Mr. and Mrs. John Shaver of Royal Oak and Mr. and Mrs. George Schlicker of Birmingham are the grandparents.

An eye-witness at Saturday night's performance of "Charlie's Aunt" at the Clarkston High School Little Theatre reported that the time-tested comedy had lost none of its humor.

Mark Taylor, in the role of Charlie's Aunt, was hilarious and he was well supported by other members of the cast.

Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Weber of Lakeview, have said goodbye to the last of their holiday guests. Pvt. John Treeloss of Romeo, a former neighbor, has returned to Fort Polk, La., where he is stationed. Another guest, Miss Sue Driver of Little Rock, Ark., has returned to her studies at Conway College, Ark.

Call your news items to Mrs. Humphreys at 625-3555.

Eastern Star holds rummage sale

The Joseph C. Bird Chapter 294, Order of the Eastern Star, will sponsor a rummage sale on Wednesday, January 21. The hours of the sale have been set from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The sale will be held in the Clarkston Masonic Temple on Main Street.

Mrs. Homer Bjondi, Worthy Matron, suggests that any one who has rummage may take it to the Temple any morning between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m.

It was also announced that the initiation, originally scheduled for January 19, will not be held.

Job's Daughters install

Sewell Riggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Riggs of 3904 Percy King, Waterford, was installed as honored queen at the public installation of officers of Clarkston Bethel No. 25 International Order of Job's Daughters, on January 10. Miss Riggs is a senior at Waterford-Kettering High School.

Other officers installed were Kaye Mohler, daughter of Mrs. Norma Mohler of 6111 Cramlane, Clarkston, senior princess; Paula Welch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall E. Welch of Pontiac, junior princess; Linda Skarritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hawley Skarritt of 27 Miller Rd., Clarkston, guide; and Susan Yarbrough of 5220 Maybee Rd. Clarkston, marshal.

The ceremony was held at 8 p.m. at the Clarkston Junior High School.

Exchange wedding vows

Vows were exchanged Saturday evening, December 27 by Evelyn DeVar, of Scottsdale, Arizona and Gene Evans, San Antonio, Texas.

The ceremony took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foster of Hadley Rd., with a reception following. Mrs. Foster is the bride's niece.

The bride, who is the mother of Gary DeVar, Waterford; Michael, Clarkston; and Harry, Nashville, Tenn., lived in the Clarkston area for a number of years before moving to Arizona in 1957.

Attending the couple were the bride's son and daughter-in-law, Gary and Rose DeVar. The Rev. David E. Dec from The First Baptist Church performed the ceremony.

The newlyweds plan to make their home in Alaska and Arizona.

Three-year-old John Hughson has a few choice remarks to make at the donation of "his" good clothes to the Women's Club rummage sale. John's donation will join others for this Saturday's sale in the basement of the Township Hall, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. With John, from left to right, are Club members Mrs. John Geukes, Mrs. Robert Ward and Mrs. Don Hughson.

Child study group discuss dress code

Although it was a cold, blustery night, ten members of the Clarkston Child Study Group participated in a group discussion.

Topics were dress code, permissive parents, changing concepts of raising children, etc.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ripley Crandell of Snow Apple. Mrs. William Bell served as co-hostess.

Mrs. Crandell served punch before the discussion. Later, dessert was served from a table with a large snowman surrounded with various sized candles.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Glenn Brancheau. Each member is urged to be present and to bring a guest. Mrs. Paul Hanson will hold a panel discussion with six students from the high school.

obituaries

Helen Smith

Helen V. Smith, 5580 Waldon Road, died after a long illness on January 5. She was 73.

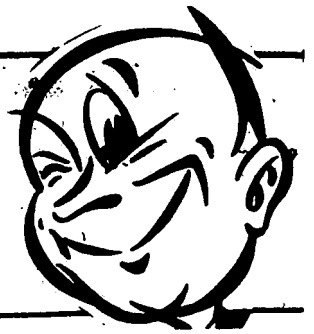

Mrs. Smith had retired, after 17 years of service, from the Oakland County Public Health Department. She was a member of First Church of Christ Scientist in Pontiac.

Surviving are her children, Mrs. Donald (Harriet) Cameron of Los Altos, California, a former Clarkston resident, and Richard B. Smith of Brunswick, Maine.

Also surviving are 6 grandchildren. Funeral services were held at the Lewis E. Wint Funeral Home on January 8. Burial was in the Ottawa Park Cemetery.

Middle ground

Doesn't seem like it, but maybe Ogg and Pearl Totter are 10, 11 years younger than me. Been married about ten year, they have, but don't recall they were exactly babes in arms when they got the old knot tied.

Could be that Eff and I think of them as our own age because they been coming over every week or two for years to play hearts. Couple times we went over there, but Pearl Totter isn't too much for housekeeping and she's maybe embarrassed 'bout inviting us over.

Actual fact, we'd rather they did come to our place because their two kids stay home with Pearl's sister, and at our house they aren't climbing all over you while you're trying to concentrate on cards. Some folks don't really play good hearts and they think it's maybe a kid's game. Do it right and it's real scientific. So's dominoes, though 9 out of 10 think that's a kid game, too.

Switch around partners and keep a running individual score, like first Eff and me and then I'm partners with Ogg and the third week, Pearl and I team up. We're all about even, though Ogg does lead the individual scores a little, and old Eff yacks so much she keeps losing track of who played what. Good, though, when she really hangs in there and closes her trap for a spell.

Sure, like every other married couple, the Totters occasionally go for each other's throats. Conversation-like, that is. Can't really conjure up no vision of old Ogg slugging her or just as unlikely it would be that Pearl would get mad enough to bite or scratch him. Still, if you didn't know 'em, you'd sometimes say they argued pretty strong. Loud, too - I'll sure enough admit they whoop and holler pretty good time and again.

Never did mind too much because near always they quick made up, and it pleasures me to see folks long-kiss and pat each other real affectionate like. Old Eff says I'm a dirty old man to just sit there and watch 'em, but they really don't do nothing more drastic than kind of running their hands over each other's backs and stay glued together on those good long kisses. Married, aren't they? Got the right to kiss, even in semi-private, haven't they? So what's wrong with me enjoying the show, long's they don't care and they're not doing anything you couldn't do in a snowsuit plus maybe overcoat and mittens.

Fact, I always kind of envied the way old Pearl made no bones about the fact that Ogg was her man, and she was darned glad of it - ten years married or not.

Sure was a bolt out of the wild blue when Ogg comes over alone one night and says they're going to get a divorce. Agreed, he says, all worked out on her getting the house and him keeping the car and even come to terms, says he, on weekly upkeep for the kids. No need for expensive lawyers, Ogg tells me, all settled like mature folks full growed should do, in a calm and collected fashion.

Seems Ogg's big complaint is that Pearl keeps prodding him to get a better job and more money and stop oggling every swivel-hipped waitress they see when they're out. Ogg laughs about that, but it's a funny laugh like his heart's not in it.

"I am," he tells us right out, "a male of the species and don't see no harm in taking a good gander at the merchandise as long as I don't touch the goods. Price for just looking is right, too," he says.

Effie's got no comment on this, but the guy's so obvious upset that I tell him I do the same kind of giving the girls the old once-over lightly stare, only maybe I'm a little more cautious about it when Eff is there to catch me. Tell Ogg, too, that it's none of my business but if he's willing to make an upkeep settlement that satisfies Pearl, then obviously he's doing all right for them now, so why's she bellyaching?

Next day Pearl comes over to tell her side of it to Eff, and says she's had it up to here with the guy having temper tantrums about what he calls her filthy housekeeping. She tells Eff, too, that every stick of furniture they have was second-hand when they set up housekeeping, including the worn-out rugs, and that no amount of vacuuming or dusting or daubing cover-up on the scratches the kids make is going to turn the junk into bright, clean new stuff.

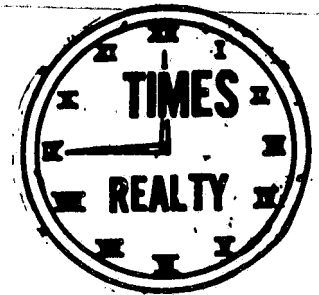

Eff tells her, of course, that men just don't understand that there's a limit to housekeeping miracles, but that maybe taking old Ogg around to each piece of furniture and asking how this and that should be fixed up will bring home the truth to him. Eff also says that I'm a girl-watcher, too, and she knows just how it must anger up Pearl.

Don't know how it come about, but the Totters made it all up. Only thing is they don't come over any more for hearts. When Effie phones 'em an invite, Pearl's real snippy and says, "We plan to avoid you two troublemakers."

Kutting Korners

By Jean Sura

I haven't heard any ideas any of you may have to help get wax (candle) off a wooden table surface. Surely somebody has the solution. Please call 625-3370.

Today is the day for some new ways to serve ground beef.

Hamburger Hash

- ½ cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons cooking oil
- 1 pound ground beef, lean
- 1 medium can stewed tomatoes
- 1 medium can cream style corn

Brown onion in oil, then add the ground beef and lightly brown. Add tomatoes and let simmer about 30 minutes. Add corn and heat through completely. Salt and pepper to taste. Serves 4 to 6.

Hamburger Casserole

- 2 pounds ground beef
- 2 packages frozen peas, thawed
- 2 cups finely sliced raw celery
- 1 can mushroom soup
- 3 tablespoons cream
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 cup crushed potato chips

Cook beef until brown and crumbly. Pour into a 1½ quart casserole. Add the thawed peas and celery, in layers. Mix all the other ingredients and pour over the top. Sprinkle the chips on top. Bake 30 minutes at 375 degrees or until hot and bubbly. Serves 6 to 8. As a special treat add mushrooms.

If you think that you have a problem feeding your family, think of the plight of Mrs. Francis Somers. She cooks lunch, like the Woman in the Shoe, for about 700 kids every day. Of course, she is the cook at the school. Here is her recipe for meat loaf.

Recipe for Meat Loaf 700 servings

- Bread slices, 7 lbs.
- Milk, 10½ qts.
- Onions, chopped, 5½ lbs.
- Celery, chopped, 5½ lbs.
- Hamburger, 120 lbs.
- Salt, 1 lb.
- Worcestershire sauce, 1¼ cups
- Parsley, chopped, 3½ cups
- Eggs, slightly beaten, 14½ dozen

Directions:

1. Beat bread and milk in mixer 2 minutes on low speed, or soak bread in the milk.

2. Combine bread mixture with the rest of the ingredients. Mix well (in mixer 3 minutes on low speed.)

3. Pack in greased loaf pans (about 4x10x4 inches), 1 quart ¼ cup, or 2 pounds 8 ounces per pan.

4. Bake at 375 degrees F, 1 hour and 10 minutes.

Portion: 1 slice ¾ inch thick (about 2½ ounces) provides the equivalent of 2 ounces protein-rich food.

I am hungry for either a carrot or tomato soup cake. Somehow I have lost the recipes. Can you help me?

S.S. benefits to increase

The 80,000 people in Oakland County receiving Social Security Benefits will have the 15% increase added to their check due on April 3, 1970. Eino J. Heino, Pontiac District Manager announced. A special check covering the increase for January and February will come out later in April.

No one has to apply for the benefit increase, Heino said, the job will be done automatically. Work has already started on re-figuring the benefits of over 25 million Social Security Beneficiaries in the United States, and it must be done without delaying regular monthly checks. The average benefit for a retired worker in Oakland County is $120.00 with the increase, and, for a husband and wife as much as $180.00.

This increase in Social Security payments will be financed out of present revenue, and will not require additional taxes, Heino said.

Slippery road causes crash

A 2-car collision on Waldon Road near the Sashabaw intersection at 6:45 a.m. on January 12, caused injuries to Marlene Flanagan, 38, and Helen F. Strall, 38, who both live on Sashabaw Road.

Mrs. Flanagan stated, according to Oakland County Sheriff's records, that the rear of her car had fish-tailed because of slippery road conditions and that she was unable to avoid crossing the center line and hitting the other car.

Wolverines win two

BRIGHTON GAME:

On January 7, Clarkston Junior High's 9th grade basketball team traveled to Brighton where they brought their record to 3 wins and 2 losses with a 55 to 41 victory. This win put the Wolverines back on the victory trail after losing their previous 2 ball games.

The Wolverines, who had to out-muscle the Brighton team, were led by their co-captains Bill Hamilton and Bruce Soulbly. Hamilton, who has been averaging 17 rebounds a game, picked off 21 and added 18 points. Soulbly was second in scoring with 12 points and picked off 9 rebounds. Thor Olafsson, who has come on extremely strong in the past month, scored 11 points and added 13 rebounds to the cause.

PIERCE GAME:

On Thursday, January 8, at a 3:45 home game with Pierce Junior High from Waterford, the Wolverines picked up their 4th win.

In their toughest and finest game this season, the Wolverines dumped Pierce from the ranks of the undefeated with a 68-67 victory. The first half was a see-saw battle until Pierce built a 10 point lead just before halftime. The second half saw Clarkston quickly catch up, build a lead, and then hold off Pierce's valiant comeback try in the final seconds.

The Wolverines were led by their two "big" men, Dave Partlo and Bill Hamilton. Partlo led both teams with 26 points and 17 rebounds. Hamilton hit for 22 points and picked off 19 rebounds.

The Wolverines' next two games are at home with Detroit Country Day at 4:00 p.m. on January 15 and Rochester Adams at 7:00 p.m. on January 27.

The Pierce game marked the halfway mark in the Wolverines season. The scoring thus far is as follows:

Dave Partlo, 84; Rick Hunt, 66; Bill Hamilton, 65; Bruce Soulbly, 53; Thor Olafsson, 42, and Mark Hallman, 14.

Open park for snowmobiles

Addison-Oaks, the newest acquisition of the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Department is now open for snowmobiling.

County residents will be charged $2.50 per machine per day and non-residents will be charged $3.50 per day per machine, according to the Oakland County Parks and Recreation Department.

The park consists of 700 acres, and is located about seven (7) miles north of Rochester, at 1480 West Romeo Road in Addison Township. A warming house and refreshment stand will be open.

Call Kenneth Van Natta, Gerard Lacey, or Thomas Jackson at 338-6196 for more details.

Laundry

A new laundry is going in on the Dixie near Howe's Bowling alleys. News of the service came to the Independence board from the county health dept. The county gave notice to the township that the laundry would be transporting waste to Pontiac, where it would be dumped into their sewer system.

Allen V. Peters was listed as president. The building to be used is a former service station at 6725 Dixie Highway.

Public Notice

TOWNSHIP OF INDEPENDENCE
COUNTY OF OAKLAND, STATE OF MICHIGAN

ADOPTED: January 6, 1970

EFFECTIVE: February 13, 1970

TITLE: A TEXT CHANGE TO AMEND THE INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP ZONING ORDINANCE NO. 51 RELATING TO THE ADDITION REGULATIONS OF SECTION 5 - SCHEDULE OF DISTRICT REGULATIONS UNDER RMT-MOBILE HOME PARK.

TO WIT:

The Planning Commission of the Township of Independence, County of Oakland, State of Michigan will hold a public hearing at Township Hall, 90 North Main Street, Clarkston, Michigan at 7:30 p.m., November 20, 1969 to consider an amendment to the Independence Township Zoning Ordinance No. 51.

Section 5 - Schedule of District Regulations under RMT District, Item 1. Additional Regulations shall be changed to read:

1. Recognition of Existing Facilities. The street system shall be designed (a) to recognize existing easements, utility lines, etc., which are to be preserved, and (b) to permit connection to existing facilities where necessary for the proper functioning of the drainage and utility systems, and (c) all trailer coach parks shall be furnished with water and sewer systems designed and installed to meet the same specifications required in single family subdivisions within the Township.

2. Block-size and-shape, add: block-length shall not exceed 1,200 feet in length.

3. Circulation, add: no cul-de-sac shall exceed 500 feet in length nor serve more than twenty-five mobile home sites.

4. Pavement width. Pavement width shall be of adequate width to accommodate the contemplated parking and traffic load.

(a) All streets shall have curb and gutter.

(b) All streets shall be paved, either asphalt or concrete and specifications shall be subject to approval of the Township Engineer.

(c) All entrances and collector streets shall be at least 27 feet in width measured from back of curb to back of curb.

(d) All other streets shall be at least 23 feet wide measured back of curb to back of curb, except one way streets may be allowed if at least 13 feet wide measured in the same manner.

5. Sidewalks. Sidewalks are required in all developments. However, the Planning Commission during site plan review may modify this requirement.

6. Alignment and Gradient. Streets shall be adopted to the topography and shall have suitable alignment and gradient for safety of traffic, satisfactory surface and ground water drainage, and proper functioning of sanitary and storm sewer systems.

7. Intersections. Street intersections shall generally be at right angles. Off-sets at intersections and intersections of more than two streets at one point shall be avoided.

8. Extent of Improvements. The street improvements shall extend continuously from the existing improved street system to provide suitable access to the mobile home stands, said roadways shall afford ready means of entrance and exit to a county primary road or state highway, said county or state roads must have a minimum of two paved traffic lanes and a right-of-way width designated as 120 feet or greater on the Oakland County Road Commission Proposed Rights-of-Way Map.

9. Lot Area. Lot area per mobile home shall be a minimum of 50 feet wide by 105 feet in depth. The space between mobile homes may be used for the parking of motor vehicles, provided that no parking space on a lot shall be closer than 15 feet to adjacent mobile homes.

10. Parking Spaces.

(a) Number. There shall be provided for each mobile home a minimum of two parking spaces located on the individual lot or in conveniently located off-street parking bays. In addition, there shall be one off-street space provided for each five mobile homes located in parking bays. Parking spaces to be located behind the front setback line.

(b) Size. Each parking space must be at least 9 feet by 20 feet.

(c) Off-street parking bays.

Parking Angle	Curb Length Per Car	Minimum Bay Depth*	Minimum Backing Depth*
90 deg.	9'	18'	26'
60 deg.	12.5'	17'	20'
45 deg.	12.7'	16'	19'

*Perpendicular to curb line.

11. Water and Sewer. All mobile home parks shall have water and sanitary sewer systems designed and installed to meet the same specifications as required in new single family subdivisions within the Township.

12. Recreation and open space. In every mobile home park there shall be provided a minimum of 300 square feet per mobile home site for recreation space in an area convenient to the residents to allow for play areas. This space requirement is in addition to the minimum lot size requirement and shall be maintained with adequate turf and suitable play equipment for children of the park residents.

13. Greenbelt. There shall be provided a minimum greenbelt of 15 feet around the entire mobile home park regardless of adjacent zoning in addition to the required setbacks, said greenbelt shall be planted in accordance with Section 6, paragraph 8 of this Ordinance.

Section 5, Schedule of District Regulations, Change under RMT, Minimum Lot size, area in square feet, from 4000 (2) to 5250 (2).

Passed this 6th day of January, 1970 A.D. by the Independence Township Board.

Some may thank the methods used

By Jim Sherman

"The end justifies the means," is the philosophy of some.

It may be the philosophy of R. J. Alexander, director of Oakland County Dept. of Public Works, his assistants and fellow workers.

When the people of Oxford, Orion and Oakland townships have sewer service by their door they may want to thank the DPW and Alexander for having this utility at a lower cost than what might have been.

If thanks are in order, Oxford, Orion and Oakland people will also have to include Pontiac, Avon, Independence, Waterford, part of Orion and Rochester. It is these people who have agreed to pay to have a portion of an interceptor built to carry effluent from the north . . . though unbeknownst to them it may be.

What happened that might make us want to spread our "Thanks" is probably morally wrong, at the least sneaky, but probably not illegal.

When the Clinton-Oakland interceptor was conceived, engineered and bids let it was with the agreement that the six units of government to be served would buy 100 percent of the capacity in the line.

Independence Township's share was 10 percent. You remember the bids being let on this big interceptor. I think the bids came back about $16 million higher than estimated by the county engineers or DPW or both.

Sounds simple up to now. Six units will own 100 percent of the interceptor from Clarkston to and beyond Rochester. There is also a branch of the Clinton Oakland interceptor running north of Rochester and dead-ending. Being part of the Clinton Oakland line it too is paid for by the initial 6, though it serves them not at all.

Now comes the Paint Creek Interceptor arm of the giant metropolitan areasewagedisposal plan. This line is to serve Oxford village and township, Orion village and township and Oakland township.

Where does this line run? From Oxford to that branch of the Clinton Oakland north of Rochester. The branch that was paid for by the other 6 units of government, but doesn't serve them.

How, someone asked, can sewage from 5 other areas be put into a sewer line which has already been sold to 100 percent of its capacity? Did someone sell 120 percent of capacity?

The answer is yes and no. Independence Township clerk Howard Altman said, Alexander admitted a larger line was put in the ground in the Rochester area than was originally agreed to by the first 6.

120 percent of capacity wasn't sold. The line was made bigger to take care of the 5 units that the DPW knew would be joining the sewer system in the near future. And the 6 units were to pay for it.

Well, not exactly. Since the 6 will own the line, their signatures are needed to release that portion of the capacity needed in the line near Rochester, and west, by the other 5. These 5 will then assume financial responsibility for their portion.

In the meantime, the county has put the money from sale of the sewer bonds to work and Independence's share of the interest made their first payment.

A means to an end? Good or bad? Lake Orion has been ordered by the court to get sewers now. Oxford village has been cited for pollution. Both will benefit by the decision to enlarge the lines. Prices were cheaper then than now.

The people of Independence can't get too upset because it hasn't cost them anything. At least yet. There is still capacity for them in the line as contracted, maybe not in percentage, but in cubic feet.

But the manner of achieving the goal by the DPW doesn't appear to be wholly honest. In telling about it Altman became quite adamant He said, at last week's twp. board meeting, "If this is an example of the way the county does business, and they are trying to get county home rule on the ballot, I will personally take time off from my job to campaign against it."

This sewer line enlarging, without consent of the owners is one of the things that has happened to cause Independence and Pontiac townships to establish the North Oakland Utility Authority. They don't want the county having jurisdiction on maintenance. They don't think it would give their citizens the best possible service.

It appears the distrust of voters to big governments also exists between small governmental units and larger ones . . . especially when the larger ones are run by appointees rather than voted officials.

However, emotions are mixed over this maneuver by the county DPW . . . whether to kiss 'em or kick 'em.

Navy officer decorated

A Naval Officer from Waterford has been decorated for meritorious achievement in aerial combat while serving with the Navy's only helicopter squadron in Vietnam's Mekong Delta.

Lt. Clyde R. Kizer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Kizer of Main Street, received the Air Medal as a pilot with Helicopter Attack (Light) Squadron Three, of HA(L)-3.

In a special Naval ceremony, Captain Reynolds Beckwith, Commanding Officer of HA(L)-3, presented the medal to Kizer.

A 1960 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Kizer is married to the former Hazel Lee Miller of Waterford.

He was credited with a substantial contribution to United State's efforts in Southeast Asia while flying combat aerial support missions against the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong. The citation adds that "his courage and devotion to duty in the face of hazardous flying conditions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

Helicopter Attack Squadron Three, or HA(L)-3, is the Navy's only armed helicopter squadron. Its primary mission is to provide aerial fire support for the Navy's River Patrol Force, which seeks to interdict Communist infiltration into the Delta. Nicknamed the Seawolves, the squadron's pilots fly UH-1B helicopters armed with machine guns and rockets.

In addition to providing support for friendly ground or waterborne units, the Seawolves are also called upon to place rocket and machine gun strikes on enemy targets, rescue downed pilots or others in distress and provide fire cover for medical evacuations.

As the River Patrol Force moves closer and closer to complete control of the Delta's waterways, the Seawolves of HA(L)-3 claim much of the credit for success. The River Patrol Boats (PBR's) possess outstanding speed and fire power, but lack of size and armor renders them vulnerable to ambush as they patrol the treacherously narrow canals in search of the enemy.

Upon attack, the PBR's summon the Seawolves, who maintain a five-minute reaction capability from various land-based and waterborne establishments, throughout the Delta.

The basic crew of each gunship consists of the pilot, co-pilot and two door gunners. On combat missions the Hueys fly in pairs to cover each other and insure that one will always be in position to engage the enemy. The two Hueys flying together are referred to as a fire team.

The minimal personnel requirement for each detachment is sixteen enough for two fire-team crews. The two crews alternate 24-hour duty assignments so that one is ready to scramble at all times. Each detachment maintains at least two helos in operational readiness at all times.

Lt. Clyde R. Kizer, U.S.N.

Navy UH-1B "Huey" belonging to Helicopter Attack (Light) Squadron 3 makes a precision approach to the deck of a tank landing ship (LST) in the Mekong Delta. Charged with providing globe aerial support for the Navy's River Patrol Force, HA(L)-3 is the only attack helicopter squadron in the Navy. Many of the Squadron's aircraft deploy from small landing platforms aboard LST's and repair barges (YRPM's) which cruise the rivers of Vietnam.

Diabetic classes scheduled in Feb.

A series of five classes on diabetes will be held Wednesday afternoon from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Oakland County Department of Health, 1200 North Telegraph Rd., Pontiac, Michigan. They are scheduled to begin on February 4 and continue through March 4, 1970.

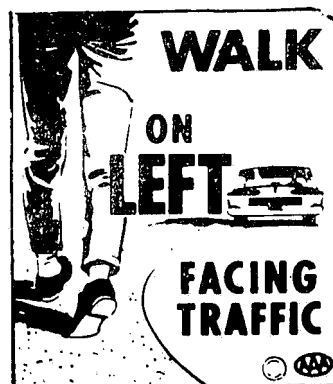

The classes are sponsored by the Oakland County Health Department and will be taught by Mrs. Kay Claus, Nutritionist and Miss Marcia Cameron, Public Health Nurse.

The topics that will be discussed include the nature of the disease, dietary management, medications and suggestions for coping with everyday problems.

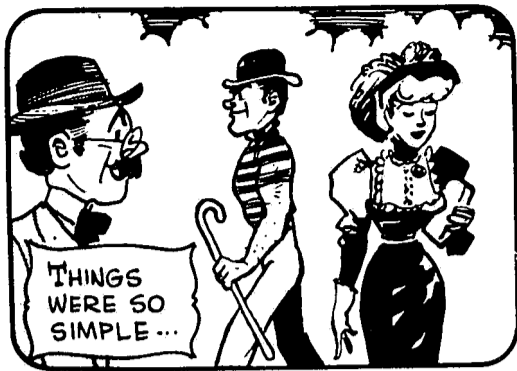

The classes are free. Pre-registration can be done by calling the Health Department at 332-9255.

A written statement from the doctor is all that is required for attending these classes and can be presented at the first class meeting.

The Independence Township Fire Department was called to assist the Brandon Department on January 8 at a fire that practically leveled the Commercial and Industrial Tire Company on M-15. Damages have been estimated at $60,000 by Brandon Fire Chief William Buckingham, $42,000 to contents and $18,000 to the concrete, block and steel structure. The firm produces mechanical handling devices for General Motors Corp., and the fire was reported to have started when sparks from a cutting torch ignited a dipping tank.

Final adjustments and settings are made to get maximum efficiency in performance in Sunday's snowmobile race sponsored by the Clarkston Jaycees.

Waterford drivers sweep top field

The first annual Snowmobile Race sponsored by the Clarkston Jaycees was judged a huge success when 96 machines registered on Sunday, January 11 at the Waterford Hill Golf Course. The machines were divided into 13 classes.

The team fielded by M. G. Collision collected 14 of the 34 trophies and took top honors when their driver, Howard Lovett of Waterford, won both the top stock and modified eliminations.

Lindray Dowlan, of Waterford, drove her own machine to victory in the Women's Division and 14-year-old Mike McClellan, also of Waterford, claimed the Juvenile crown.

An estimated crowd of 1,500 spectators lined the course in the 25-degree weather.

Gary Rollison was assisted by Terri Kelley in promoting and organizing the event for the Jaycees. Other members served as starters, timers, turn marshals and registration officials.

"We are delighted with the response to the race," said Kelley. "The outcome certainly rewarded our efforts."

Name architect for Ortonville schools

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach Inc., Birmingham architects and engineers, has been named to design a new senior high school for the Brandon School District in Ortonville.

The architectural firm will also design an addition to the Belle Ann Elementary School in Ortonville, according to action taken in December by the school district.

Both school projects will be financed by a $3 million bond issue approved by voters in a special election last Dec. 10.

The new high school will be constructed on a site on M-15 in Ortonville.

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach is one of Michigan's most active architects for educational and institutional buildings. The firm has designed schools and related facilities for more than 33 school districts, several state universities and medical institutions.

Make record 2-4

Clarkston bows to Northville

Clarkston lost its third league basketball game last Friday night when they played against the Northville Mustangs at Northville. The score was 72-48, one of the worst so far this year. Coach Hanson commented, "We made too many mistakes and had too many turnovers." Clarkston now stands 1-3 in the league and 2-4 for the year.

Dave Kelly led the scoring for the Wolves with 12 points and Steve Kratt came next with 10. Don Brown, who has averaged between 14 and 24 points a game, had only 8 points. Ron Hubbard was high scorer for the Mustangs with 18.

In the first half, Northville pulled ahead of Clarkston and stayed there for the duration of the game. The Wolves had good defensive moves and ended up with the least amount of fouls called against them but they were, however, ineffective on offense. Only 24% of their field goal attempts were successful. At the half the score was 39-20 in Northville's favor.

The Wolves improved during the second half, offensively, making a total of 28 points. But Northville still led with 33 points. In defense, Clarkston kept the Mustangs on their toes with alert steals and sharp rebounding.

Bruce Hardy, a guard, was chosen as the best defensive player of the night.

The Wolves go to Milford on January 16.

Clarkston's Junior Varsity lost their game by a slim score of 58-57. Dave Cinader led the scoring with 31 big points.

County receives highway money

Michigan counties and the Department of State Highways will receive nearly $10.7 million in Federal Aid Secondary (FAS) highway money in the 1970-71 fiscal year, the Department said today.

This is about $70,000 less than was received this fiscal year, because the increase in Michigan's county road mileage was not as great as the increase in the national average.

Under a formula established by the State Highway Commission, the counties will receive 66 percent of the FAS money and the Highway Department will receive 34 percent.

FAS money is earmarked by law for use on state secondary (farm to market) and county secondary (major county) highways. The money is administered by the Highway Department.

Oakland County's apportionment, based on land area, population and county road mileage is $311,093.
