Jim's Jottings

Did I tell you about buying a $500 hot dog warmer? I didn't really buy it for that, it just turned out that that is what it does best. Actually, it's an Amana Radarange.

I bought it from Solley's while we were making do in the converted foaling barn. We were without range, cooking on a hot plate—that's one round, electric burner that did nothing for us, but sure made Edison happy.

We couldn't run the Radarange on the same line as the hot plate. It would blow fuses. Hazel blew 16 in one 4-day span. About the time we moved I checked with Edison and learned we had to have less than 2 100-watt bulbs on the same line as the range.

Besides not having anything to cook on or with, I was prompted to buy the Radarange because I wasn't paying rent. I thought I could afford it. Trouble is Hazel thought the same thing and spent the would-have-gone-for-rent money, too. Fact is I spent it a couple more times myself.

But this range, it's actually an oven, does some great things in a hurry. 4 strips of bacon in 4 minutes. Of course, if the bacon is fat and thin it's 2 and a half minutes, and if it is ranch sliced your time may double. I haven't got the time figured out yet, but it sure smells good, fast.

One potato, I don't know what size, cooks in 4 minutes. Eight potatoes never did get done, and they were in over 30 minutes. We asked an Edison expert to compare the cost of cooking with a Radarange to a conventional oven. She said, "I know what you mean, but I don't have the figures," avoiding the question.

Our own guess is that it takes more electricity to cook everything in the new range than on a regular range.

There is no browning power to this unit. If you put in a pie the crust will come out looking just like it went in, wet dough. We never put a steak in it. We figured it would come out blood red.

I'll tell you what this range is good for. Left-overs and hot dogs. Just leave the gravy, sliced meat, chicken pieces, baked potatoes, or vegetables in any dish, including most plastics, throw a napkin over

The pediatricians of North Oakland County are sponsoring an "End Rubella Sunday" on February 8. Thirteen sites throughout the northern part of the county will be staffed with doctors and nurses who will donate their time to provide free immunizations to any child aged from 1 through 12, whose parents desire that he receive this protection.

The rubella vaccine is new and has only recently been made available to Public Health Departments by the Michigan State Department of Public Health. Legislators have provided the funds for the vaccine.

Rubella or German measles (three day) is thought to be spread mainly by children in the 1 to 12 age group. The disease is usually a mild one in children, but doctors have been led to believe by statistics and research that it may maim or cause the death of an unborn child if it strikes an expectant mother.

According to health authorities, it is one of the contributors to multiple handicaps in surviving children, including: blindness, deafness, heart defects, mental retardation, brain diseases, bone diseases and liver defects.

Children must be accompanied by an adult and must have a registration form that is signed by a parent or legal guardian.

Area clinics will be located:

Clarkston, Clarkston Elementary School, 6595 Waldron Rd., 11:00 a.m.—3:00 p.m.

Holly, Patterson Elementary School,

3231 Grange Hall Rd., 11:00 a.m.—3:00 p.m.

Lake Orion/Oxford, St. Joseph's Elementary School, 703 N. Lapeer Rd., Lake Orion, 11:00 a.m.—3:00 p.m.

Children who have received smallpox vaccinations, measles vaccine or gamma globulin after January 11 should not receive the vaccine. Other reasons for not being injected are: allergies to eggs or feathers, being sick and running a temperature in the preceding week, being subject to seizures or convulsions, taking cortisone medications, receiving irradiation treatments or having leukemia or cancer.

The clinics will be open from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Ex-governor to attend

Bud Guest at Ronk night

The Rotary Club plans for "Elizabeth Ronk Recognition Nite" are progressing. A banquet is scheduled at 7 p.m. on February 9 in the high school cafeteria.

Mrs. Ronk recently announced her plans to retire on February 6. She is being honored for her dedication and service to the community over the past 34 years, during which time she has served as postmaster.

Edgar A. (Bud) Guest, Jr., well known radio personality, will be the featured speaker of the evening. He is currently heard over WJR radio on 3 programs: Sunny Break, Sunny Side Club and Time Traveler.

Former Governor and Mrs. Murray VanWagoner have also accepted the committee's invitation to attend.

Tickets for the Recognition Nite banquet may be purchased from Dr. Ernest Denne, Wint Funeral Home, Hallman's Apothecary or the Pontiac State Bank.

Those wishing to make a contribution for the community gift should send it to Mr. Charles Robinson at the Pontiac State Bank.

it to keep it from splattering, and set your timer. Quickly you will have warmed up, even hot left-overs. And, most of the original taste is retained.

However, the ultimate is hot dogs. 1 minute. Put the weiner in the bun, turn the dial to 60 seconds, and decorate to your taste. I do believe that Radarange puts extra flavor into franks. They're a little expensive, but they are good. It's one of the few things we do first class.

To share interceptor capacity

Independence Township officials have signed a resolution agreeing to share capacity in the Clinton Oakland Interceptor, Paint Creek branch, with Oxford and Lake Orion villages and townships of Oxford, Orion, Oakland and Avon.

This leaves only one township, Pontiac, not signed of the six governmental units who first agreed to pay for building the line.

Once Pontiac Township does pass the resolution the new communities will become participants in the cost of the sewer interceptor. It will mean a rebate to Independence Township of $90,000 on their 10 percent share of the capacity.

Others who have signed with Independence are Waterford, Orion, Bloomfield, and Avon.

Ask engineer to review, suggest drainage plan for Deerfield sub.

M. A. Benson, owner of the Deerfield Farms subdivision on the northwest corner of Clarkston, has agreed to pay another engineer to review the plans for a drainage system . . . a drain that is being objected to by Mill Pond residents.

Originally, Kieft Engineering, Inc., serving both as engineers for the village and for Benson, told the council of plans to run storm water from a portion of the sub to a catch basin near the Catholic church, and from the basin to the Pond.

Citizen protest rose, and the council asked for another engineer to review the drain plan. McGinnis Engineering was agreed upon.

Monday night the Council said they would write a letter to Benson asking that they review the initial plan, and make suggestions for alternate drain methods, all being subject to approval from the Dept. of Natural Resources.

Village president Frank Russell and councilmen Don Cooper and Jack Hagen indicated Monday night that they did not favor the present plan to run storm water into the Mill Pond.

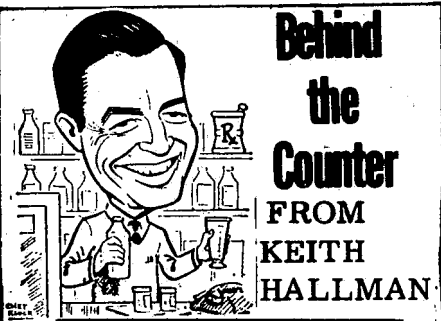

A letter from Jerome S. Wilford, 91 N. Main, objecting to the drain, was on the council table. Wilford mentioned possible pollutants and asked that the engineering firm be made aware of them.

We hope you are never too old!

Self-Treatment

There's a medical maxim that runs: "The doctor who treats himself has a fool for a patient." The non-physician who treats himself is often in even more serious trouble.

I'm not talking about ordinary first-aid, or self-medication for a cold. After all, there are some things you don't need to bother a doctor about.

But there are many medical problems that grow worse when neglected, or not properly treated. Prolonged pain, for example, may be a warning symptom; a lingering rash or occasional bleeding may show that something else is seriously wrong. Several weeks of self-treatment in such circumstances is just plain foolish.

For example, a Denver man was in such pain that he chewed, daily, 10 tablets of a gum containing aspirin. He numbed the pain—and developed mouth ulcers as a result.

Or take do-it-yourself ear piercing. There are small devices with sharp points, now on sale, which are supposed to pierce the ears within a few days as they are worn. According to the American Medical Association, these can increase the chance of infection and the development of scar tissue.

You may not realize all the possible hazards, but a doctor won't pierce ears if there is any type of rash or infection, or if small cysts are present in the ear lobe.

Clarkston has changed in 60 years

Donald Miller

Interesting people

The face of Clarkston was very different 50 years ago.

Don Miller, who has spent the greatest part of the 20th century in this community got nostalgic one day. Here are some of the things that he remembers.

"My father's barn was built in 1910. It was located where St. Daniel's Parish is situated today. We were proud of that barn because it was the largest in the county.

"About this time of the year the Walters family used to cut and store enough ice from the mill pond to supply the whole town for the following summer. This was fun to watch because they used a team of horses and a wagon to drag it off to be stored."

Horses played an important part in the life of the town. The hearse was drawn by a pair of black horses. Tie posts were installed along Main and Washington Streets to accommodate shoppers and business people. A person could bed his horse for the night for the fee of $1 at the horse barn that was located at the edge of the mill pond.

A team of horses and a wagon were paid $7 a day to work on the road and regular harness horses were used to race on the ice at Parke Lake. Bets were frequently settled after the race at the saloon on the main corner.

To accommodate the horses the village housed 3 blacksmith shops and 1 harness shop (where a new hand-made double harness cost $80.00).

Two medical men took care of the human population and one veterinarian was required to take care of the animals. Rumor has it that their services were generously divided and the vet set the bone in the leg of one town lady, when the M.D.'s were too busy.

Rumor also has it that the census figures were bolstered a little by counting several dogs, to bring the total figure up to 400.

Mr. Miller recalls shipments of sheep arriving by carload from midwestern ranches and being driven from the depot to various farms to be fattened-up and shipped on to the east. Potatoes were hauled to the railroad station for shipment and sale in Detroit.

One lady school teacher and 1 professor handled the school children and Mr. Miller had 3 classmates when he graduated in 1922.

The dance hall that was located over the present drugstore was the scene of gala evenings.

"The square dance, waltz, two-step and fox trot were very popular," recalls Miller. "The Charleston took the place by storm. We had great times back then.

"Things have changed quite a lot in my time. Clarkston is and was a great place to live."

Miss Marian Emery of 5540 Dixie Hwy., flew home from Denver, Colo., on Monday. She and her brother, Jack, drove to Denver about two and a half weeks ago. They enjoyed skiing and meeting other enthusiasts who helped make their trips to the ski slopes a real delight. Jack will remain in Denver for an indefinite time.

Frances Hancock made a flying trip to Clarkston last Friday night. She gave her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Parker of N. Main St., a pleasant surprise. She flew back to her home in Louisville, Kentucky, on Monday evening.

Mrs. Richard M. Nixon will be the honor guest at a reception sponsored by the Royal Oak Republican Women's Clubs, at Kimball High School, Royal Oak. Hundreds of Oakland County Republican women are working diligently on committees for the event. Our own Mrs. Floyd Andrews and Mrs. Thomas Doremus are among the workers.

On Friday night, Feb. 9th, the Seniors of Clarkston High School will sponsor "The Sweetheart Bowl" from 9:30 until 12:30. The music will be by Walt LaPlante and his orchestra.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Nothing to complain about

By Jim Fitzgerald

Do grown men cry? Well . . . I didn't even know Cynthia. But that didn't matter. I know Chrissie; she's my girl. My long-legged, hippie-haired, clothes-horse daughter. She's 13 and Cynthia was 13.

So this latest case of red eyes came easily.

I've confessed to red eyes before, but not often, and always reluctantly, like a little boy admitting he's afraid of the dark.

I usually wear my Humphry Bogart attitude. I kick cats and the Debbie Reynolds show is not allowed on my TV set. I like Frank Sinatra and booze and well-built broads. Let it all hang out, swinger.

But I don't fool my kids much. They watch too close. For instance, on the Mike Douglas show recently, there was this white man explaining why he adopted a black baby boy. And then the boy, now grown to about 5 years, came on camera and hugged his adopted dad. The love reached out of the TV and squeezed your heart.

"Hey, lookit Dad, he's got the red eyes," shouted my son. And my wife and Chrissie looked closely and agreed, yes indeed, I was trying to hide a rather severe case behind my newspaper.

That's how it goes with us pseudo-Bogarts.

THE FIRST TIME I saw Cynthia, she almost fell opening the school door. Chrissie told me what the trouble was. Cynthia had cancer. She'd had a leg amputated and was now learning to walk on an artificial limb.

I saw Cynthia several times after that, and she seemed to be getting along better. And every time I saw her, I was with my own healthy daughter. And I felt what any father would feel — that double-pronged kick in my gut: Sorrow for that little girl and her family, but also a guilty relief that it was someone else's little girl, not mine. Thank you God, not mine.

After the holidays I didn't see Cynthia anymore. The hometown newspaper soon told me why: For Christmas, Cynthia died.

Wow. Things like that remind me I don't know the real meaning of trouble and sorrow. I complain when the steak is tough, or taxes are high, or the roads are slippery.

I never really had anything to complain about in my life.

Thousands of youngsters are dying everyday, all over the world. They are killed by hunger and wars and neglect and cruelty. But I don't see them, so I don't get red eyes for them. It takes a Cynthia, right up close, the same age as Chrissie, to melt this wise-cracker.

Oh yes, grown men do cry. The trouble is, they don't cry enough.

Clarkston low on state fund list

Unless some persuasion is successful, Clarkston can forget state aid for building a sanitary sewer system.

A letter from the Dept. of Natural Resources, read to the council Monday night, said the village was 52nd on the list of 61 projects.

These projects are in line for some of the funds voted for fighting pollution at the Nov. election, 1968.

Earlier, communities in the state applied for a portion of these funds and last month they were told how they were rated. Clarkston, along with Independence Twp., Oxford Village and Township, got 2 points.

Clarkston's financial consultant, Billie S. Farnum, said initially he was hoping for 15 points. He is continuing his fight to get higher priority on the state level.

Closing twp. areas to hunting up again, below I 75 suggested

The committee involved in considering closing lands of Independence township to hunting had been re-organized. They will have a public hearing at the high school February 18.

The committee, set by statute to have the township supervisor, county sheriff, and representatives of the Department of Natural Resources and state police, has talked of closing all of the township south of I-75.

Requests have come from around Gulick Lake and other areas asking for closing. Some residents have indicated a desire to ask the closing of hunting around Cranberry Lake area, which is north of I-75.

The public hearing is for residents to express their wishes on closing or not closing defined areas.

Following this meeting the committee will draw up their recommendations for Township Board action. Whatever the recommendations the Board can either pass or reject it. They cannot change it.

Served 6 years

Gerald Anderson, a member of the Independence Planning Commission for 6 years, has resigned. In his letter to the township board, Anderson, a land appraiser, said the nature of his business might cause some people to feel he had a conflict of business with the township on future dealings.

The board accepted the resignation, and thanked him for his work, but didn't name a successor.

Huttenlocher re-elected

Howard W. Huttenlocher of Middle Lake road has been re-elected to the board of directors of Community National Bank. He has been serving on this bank's board since 1951.

With Mr. Huttenlocher on the board are: David Eames, Warren Eierman, Robert Eldred, Robert Fisher, Alfred Girard, Alfred Glancy, Jr., Alfred Glancy, III, Harold S. Goldberg, Frederick Poole and James Church.

During 1969 assets of the bank went to $238,240,124.00 from $234,268,272.00 in 1968.

Community National Bank

Community National has been Oakland County's leading bank since 1933. All that time we've given every customer friendly, individualized service. And consistently offered the newest and best in banking services. Consider a few recent examples:

CommuniBank 500—our four-in-one time deposit savings plan that combines maximum interest, no-minimum balance free checking, automatic loan privileges, and a check guarantee card that has your color photo on it.

Master Charge—the international all purpose charge card that's good more than half-a-million places. Community was the first bank in Southeastern Michigan to offer it.

Tel Air Drive-in Banking—a new remote drive-in banking system that is now operational at two CNB branches. It enables us to offer faster, more convenient service, and more hours of banking per week. Try it at our new Pontiac Mall drive-in facility!

These are only a few of our services, of course. We invite you to visit any of our 21 full-service offices and see all the things that make us . . .

Chitty chitty bang

By Jean Sura

Life was beautiful until six months ago. I was a happy "bug" fancier and I had a wonderful little '64 "bug" to add joy to my days.

"I'm going to get a new car," said my husband. "Why don't you take my car? It is more substantial, newer and would probably be more comfortable for you."

"That big monster? Not on your life," I answered. "I wouldn't know how to park it and it takes up too much road. I'd be a nervous wreck. Thank you, no. I'm completely happy with my bug."

"Hey, Mom, that's a great idea," my son chimed in "We'll buy your bug. It's in great shape and it would be cheap transportation for my wife."

"Good idea," said his Dad. "It will be a great second car for you. As soon as my car is delivered it's all yours. We'll agree on a price then."

Maybe I'm not too swift. Somehow, I don't remember agreeing to any part of the deal. Suddenly, my bug and I were on borrowed time.

The next day, on the way to the office, I heard a funny rumbling sound coming from way down underneath. A quick trip to the bug doctor and the problem was diagnosed. It seems that the front end was on the verge of falling out, emergency measures were in order. Pronto!

After three days in surgery I picked the old girl up and took her for a spin. Beautiful, the steering wheel didn't shimmy at all. Unfortunately, I had to unloose my money belt and bail her out because Blue Cross refused to consider her as part of the family, even though she is completely dependent on me.

Two days later, another funny little noise popped up. "It probably isn't serious. It isn't very loud," I told the bug doctor. One weekend, a wheel bearing, and another trip into the retirement program later, and we were whizzing along the highway like two happy kids. One thing marred the beauty of our reunion. The muffler fell off and the next day I had a little trouble starting her up.

A week later, after a long, hard day in the mine, (you guessed it) the poor thing just refused to start. Two wrecker calls, a new set of plugs, "and a new muffler while you are at it," fixed that. I am sorry to relate that then a respiratory disease struck and the coughing and choking that went on was a dreadful thing to hear. While babying her along in her delicate condition, I cruised up to a stop sign. Only when I hit the brake pedal, nothing happened. A quick maneuver around the corner and down a side street saved us from terrible embarrassment.

You can't sell a car without brakes to anybody, least of all your own flesh and blood. Sooo—

The bug doctor has just replaced the brakes along with the pistons. He has ground the valves. He has put in more new spark plugs. We are slated for a post operative check-up in three weeks.

We also have a new mortgage on the house. But, believe me, I have the very newest, most efficient 1964 "bug" in captivity.

"Hey, Mom," said son, last night, "Dad says that his car is being delivered next week. Now we figured that your car is over five years old and must have about 100,000 miles on it, so the very bottom of the blue book figures would be all you could possibly expect to get for it.

"Do you want me to write a check, or do you prefer cash?"

The old blue goose

Part No. 1

Last night my old bus quit a half mile from the house. Sure, I work in a garage—but I'm a parts man and not a mechanic. Fact is, I can't even keep my mower running and never claimed to be even a back-yard mechanic.

Anyway, the Old Blue Goose plumb quit and I decided it was close enough to home so I could hoof it instead of calling the wrecker from one of the neighbors' houses. Fact is, any of my near neighbors would rib me pretty good about not being able to get her running again. I've gone through explaining that "parts man" routine with the lot of them, and they just smart off about how they sure know where NOT to take their cars for service. Real clowns, my neighbors are.

Didn't seem too cold walking that half-mile, but my toes did tell me that it wasn't the 4th of July. Kept thinking to myself that a few minutes of zero weather shouldn't kill a guy that walked two miles, all kinds of weather, to school as a kid.

Come to think of it, maybe it was really only one mile to the old Thorndike schoolhouse. Maybe I've been giving that two mile guff to my kids for so long that I don't remember so good anymore, myself.

Took my shoes off soon as I got inside and then called the shop for a wrecker. Old Welcome Ziggler takes the calls after five if he's in the garage. Otherwise, if he's out on a call, the phone automatic gets switched to his house and his wife, Winnie, gets the calls while he's out with the wrecker.

Welcome gives me the hee-haw and says why don't I stick the spark plug wire back on instead of bothering people. Tell him never mind, just pick up my heap, but he won't climb down off'n my back.

"Maybe she's out of gas," he cackles. "You know the best of those old clunkers can't run on air."

"Forget it, you old goat," I snap at him, "Just drive that broken down wrecker out and pick up my heap. It does has a gas gauge. Just do your job like it was anyone else and lay off the wise stuff. Pick it up," I tell him real firm-like, "and leave it inside so Fred can look it over first thing tomorrow. She's parked just about half a mile North of my house right there on Goodwin Road."

"Course, it could be the distributor cap that sprung up on one side," Welcome suggests, "'spose you did have the good sense to check that, though. Don't really figure you for a total dummy, Haz, no matter what folks say."

That set him cackling again like he invented that old wisecrack that's been worn out by the feeble-minded for the last 100 years or maybe more.

"How about a flat?" this here joker asks me, "Did she really stop complete or just start going thump, thump, thump?"

"Don't know what your folks expected when they named you 'Welcome,'" I come back at him. "If you were welcome they must 'a been figuring on maybe a baboon."

Just as I finish saying this I look out the window and see my boy Jack driving the old blue goose up our drive.

"Look," I say to Welcome, "just forget your cruddy wrecker and I'll take care of it myself. It's ten miles out here and you'd maybe get lost two, three times."

"I'm on my way, old Buddy," says Welcome. "Can't you take a joke?"

He hangs up and even though I call him right back, it's Mrs. Ziggler that answers. Winnie says that if Welcome didn't answer by four rings, he must of left with the wrecker right away.

Meanwhile Jack is standing by, and I ask him how he got the Blue Goose started. "Saw it there 'side the road," Jack tells me, "So I figure maybe she clunked out on you. Tried the starter and she kicked over pretty good, so I figure it's maybe gas trouble." (continued next week)

General area of 255 acre Springfield-Oaks and site of Oakland County Youth Center.

4-H units in Master plan of Springfield Oaks

The combined planning knowledge of an architectural firm and the county recreation people is going into the development of an Oakland County Youth Center in Springfield Oaks Park.

This park, of 255 acres, is one of 4 owned by Oakland County, purchased with funds voted by the people 3 years ago. A quarter mill was passed for development of county park and recreation areas. The other 3 are Addison Oaks, Waterford Oaks, and Groveland Oaks.

Primary purpose of the Youth Center is for 4-H activities, however, other recreational and educational programs will be staged there under the direction of the county P and R department.

The master building plan is being developed by O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc., Birmingham architects and engineers. County P and R representatives are assisting in location of facilities and traffic layouts.

Costing ¼ million dollars, the site was selected because it is centrally located to the greatest concentration of 4-H members and clubs. The 4-H facilities in Pontiac are being discontinued.

County P and R spokesmen say Springfield Oaks Park is accessible via I-75 and the future M-275.

The master plan being prepared by O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach will guide development of the Youth Center in two construction phases.

The first phase will provide for a general exhibit space; a multi-purpose building, which will be used as a Youth Center; and livestock exhibit buildings for the annual 4-H Fair and other livestock shows.

An open air amphitheater will be part of the initial building phase. Parking areas, access roads, utilities and landscaping will be based upon the immediate and long range needs of the Youth Center.

Additional livestock exhibit buildings, an indoor arena, and an auditorium-gymnasium addition to the multi-purpose building, and additional general exhibit buildings will be considered for the future.

Oakland's present 4-H Fairgrounds is a 17-acre parcel of land owned by the County since 1940 and located just west of the City of Pontiac.

Space limitations of the present site make it unsuitable for expanded 4-H programs or for the growing need by the County for a Youth Activities Center.

The Cooperative Extension Agency and the County Facilities Engineering Division recommended, in the building program, that the existing site be sold for private development and that the money be used to partially defray the cost of building the new center in Springfield Township.

Preliminary site plans and schematic building designs are expected from the architect in early 1970. Work on the project is tentatively scheduled to begin next spring with completion some time in late 1970.

The Clarkston (Mich.) News

Thurs., Jan. 29, 1970 13

The parents of Denise Annette Black, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Black of Glenburnie Drive, announce her engagement to Clayton Don Wilson. Mr. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilson of Pear Street. No date has been set for the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Michael Hendrix

Couple wed by groom's uncle

Wearing a gold necklace in the form of a bell with a diamond pendulum, a gift from the groom, and carrying a mother-of-pearl covered Bible which the groom's mother had brought from the Holy Land, Brenda Jo Fritch became the bride of H. Michael Hendrix on January 9. The 6 p.m., double ring ceremony was performed by the groom's uncle, the Reverend William Spence at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Fritch of 5015 Greenview.

The new Mrs. Hendrix chose a street length gown of form-fitting satin under lace panels. A satin bow secured her shoulder length veil. She carried white carnations and sweetheart roses.

David L. Hendrix was his brother's best man.

After a reception in Lake Orion, the couple left on a wedding trip to Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer H. Hendrix of Lake Orion are the groom's parents.

Around the Town

Expected home for birthday

By Barb Humphreys

The little red berries are all gone from our Mountain Ash. Now this means one of two things: the birds are going to be scrounging elsewhere for food, or if you are superstitious, "the evil spirits have all been driven away." Ah, can spring be far behind?

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Barcome of Drayton Road are looking forward to spring, June to be exact. Their son, David, is stationed at Offutt Air Force Base in Nebraska and will be home at that time to celebrate his 21st birthday. He graduated from Clarkston High in '67, enlisted in the Air Force in July of '68, and was recently made a sergeant.

Mrs. Elmer Boadway of Deer Lake Road has been watching her grandson, Jeff Mosher, four years old, on TV each day. He has been appearing on "Romper Room," channel 6, at 9:00 and will be on until Friday. Jeff's parents are Barbara and Erve Mosher of Okemos.

Mrs. Ernest Zubalik of Marconi Street has been in St. Joseph Hospital for surgery. She hopes by this time to be home and on the road to recovery.

Jerry Keener was home last weekend visiting his parents, the Noel Keeners of Davisburg Road. He attends Ferris State, where he is in his third year of study to be a pharmacist. His parents are quite proud of the fact he is interning now, and while in Clarkston works at Wonder Drugs.

Receiving congratulations are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Jewell of Reese road on the arrival of their adopted daughter, Linda Sue, born December 7, 1969. A family shower was held recently, and of course many friends and neighbors have been "dropping in with their good wishes."

Four young ladies, Cindy Lawrence, Ann Bickerstaff, Joan Bigger and Denise Domroese, enjoyed roller skating last Friday evening. They returned to the Lawrence home on Lakeview for a pajama party.

Two buses transported 80 members of the Clarkston Junior High School chorus to Pontiac to see the musical, "Funny Girl," on January 24. They were accompanied by their director, Miss Grayce Warren.

Mrs. Lee Miskie and daughter, Melody, from New York, N. Y., have been spending a most enjoyable visit with her aunt, Mrs. Guy Littleton of Ortonville Road. She is the former Marilyn Henry of Holly. A surprise birthday party is being planned for her for Thursday evening, at which time she'll be able to visit with many of her relatives in this area.

There seems to be a "lull" in the social life of many of our neighbors. Between the cold weather and the flu bug, a lot of people are just staying home. Please don't forget to call me when you do have news items, 625-3555.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Taylor of Big Lake Road announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Linda Sue, to Patrick James Cameron. Mr. Cameron is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Cameron of Pontiac. The wedding date is set for August 22.

Racing attracts area skiers

By Denise Meyers

To a young racer, skiing means one or more of three events. Downhill racing, slalom and the giant slalom. These events possess more of a challenge for them than the weekend, recreational skiing to which they are accustomed. Although team members who attend racing camps are trained for all three events, competition between schools in Michigan is usually restricted to slalom.

The slalom is a test of controlled skiing against the clock through approximately 30 to 40 gates. A gate consists of two poles standing 6 to 7 feet above the snow with about 10 feet between them. In an open gate the poles are set across the slope, at right angles to the fall line. A closed gate is set parallel to the fall line. A flush is three or more closed gates set in a straight line. They are placed in various combinations so that a racer is always turning, as he goes through one gate and on to the next. The slalom course demands quick reflexes, and brings out all the turning and edging ability of a skier.

There is no penalty for knocking a pole down, provided the skier's two feet cross the line between the two poles of every gate. Members from both teams that do not compete in a particular race act as gatekeepers, and watch to see if each competitor goes through the gates properly. Those who miss a gate, by mistake or in a fall, must climb back up and go through properly or they are disqualified. If a racer's binding releases in a fall, he may still finish the race as long as he has one ski on when he crosses the finish line. Slalom races are conducted on a two-run basis, with the combined time for both runs determining the winner.

The first slalom competitions were held in Norway in 1870. The gates were merely trees and rocks. Since then, racing has spread to countries all over the world. In the United States alone, there are close to 10,000 ski competitors.

Sashabaw loses close game to Brighton

By John Abbott

Sashabaw's fourth basketball loss came Tuesday as Brighton defeated the Cougars 64 to 58.

Steve Ogans, game captain for Sashabaw, led the Cougars in total points with 17, while Hugo Jones was top point man for Brighton with 33.

STEP UP — Dave Kelly starts his trip toward the basket in an effort to get points for the Wolves.

The Cougars led 18 to 15 at the end of the first period. Fortunes worsened and Brighton pulled ahead 33 to 28 at the half. Sashabaw failed to score any points until the middle of the third period. Brighton tallied thirteen points during the same time and led at the end of the 3rd quarter, 51 to 36.

In the last quarter, the Cougars fought fiercely as they scored 22 points to Brighton's 13, but it wasn't enough.

Coach James Koslosky attributed the loss to the 30 turnovers that the Cougars committed.

Next game is on Monday, Jan. 26 at Linden, the time is 7:00 p.m. Linden returns to Sashabaw on Monday, Feb. 2, at 7:00 p.m.

PACK 49

Pack 49 met on Wednesday, January 21, at the Junior High School. The flag ceremony was led by Den 2.

They then presented a skit under the direction of Den Mother, Mrs. Jean Fletcher and Ass't. Den Mother, Mrs. Rita Burdick.

Genius kits, made up of blocks of wood, buttons, straws, clothes hangers, etc., were given to each of the Cub Scouts. They will display their creations made from these kits at the Blue & Gold Banquet in February.

New Cub Scouts are: Paul Boberg, Paul Chad, Michael Dell, Daniel Freitag, Keith Hull, Mark Koskela, Gary LaMode, Curtis Liles, Gregory Mechigian, Steve Neff, Dave Ritchie, Mark Siecinski and Chris Schrubba.

Bart and Dennis Boberg transferred from Pack 37, Lake Orion.

Pat Schrubba is the new den mother for Den. 3. She will be assisted by Dorothy Neff.

The following Webelos received the artist's award: Jim Allard, Jeff Blackett, Bob Bradley, Greg Geigler, Leif Gruenberg, Tom Lowe, John Rose, Keith Staley, Bill McMasters and Greg Whitenton. Leif Gruenberg also received the athletic and craftsman awards.

There will be a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. Jean Fletcher, 6498 Phelan Dr. on Tuesday, February 3, at 7:30 p.m. All parents are invited to attend.

Clarkston matmen host tourney

by Lou Lessard

One of the toughest aspects of being a wrestler is wrestling in tournaments. A wrestler is sometimes asked to wrestle three or four matches in one day. These tournaments are a test of both individual endurance and team effort.

The first tournament for the Wolves this year was held at Grand Blanc. Clarkston placed second behind the host team.

Individual champions for Clarkston were Bill Williams and Jeff Quigley with Tom Jones, Al Hamilton and Al Knake taking seconds.

At the Howell tournament the Clarkston matmen took another second place, again behind Grand Blanc. The only Clarkston wrestler taking a first was Virgil Martin. Bill Williams, Jeff Quigley, Al Knake and Tom Jones all pulled seconds for the Wolves.

Clarkston placed third in the Fenton tournament, trailing first place Fenton by five points and second place Haslett by only one point. Mike Packer and Virgil Martin took first places. Clarkston had four seconds, Bill Williams, Tom Jones, Al Knake and Mark Hoxsie.

Without question, the toughest tournament around is the Oakland County Christmas Tournament. This is a two-day affair with thirty-two schools competing. The Wolves started strong by winning all but two of their matches in the first round. Eight of these were on pins.

Clarkston finished by taking two thirds and over all by taking ninth place in the tournament. "This was good, considering the size and strength of the tournament," said Coach Moscovic.

Clarkston, for the first time, is hosting its own tournament February 7. It should be a strong tournament and prove interesting.

The Wolves boosted their dual meet record to 8-1 Thursday by defeating Brighton 39-13. Clarkston lost only two matches.

Wolves bow to Brighton

By Dan Hallman

The Brighton Bulldogs came to Clarkston last Friday and showed the Wolves why they are presently holding second place in the Wayne-Oakland League. The Brighton squad breezed by Clarkston by a score of 74-64.

The fast-breaking Bulldogs were simply too much for the Wolves as the visitors held a 26 point lead at one time. Clarkston finally hit over 20 field goals but, obviously, that wasn't enough.

The Bulldog attack was led by speedsters Ed Gardner, Dave Harmon, and Bob Musch. Musch led all scorers with 23 points.

The reserves from both teams battled it out in the fourth quarter with the Clarkston reserves coming out on top. The Clarkston Reserves, led by Dave Thomas and Dave Kelley, made the score respectable as the Wolves outscored the Bulldogs 26-14 in the final stanza. Thomas and Kelley each had 6 in that final outburst. Don Brown led the losers' attack with 16, while Steve Warman added 14.

The Junior Varsity Basketball team beat Brighton 64-48. The Wolves were led by Bill (Bird) Craig and Bill Bildstein with 25 and 14 points, respectively. The other point getters were Dave Cinader with 8, Dan Bullard, 7; Mark Warren, 4; Chuck Chamarro, Don Powell and Rod Latimer, with 2. Clarkston got 33 rebounds to Brighton's 24.

Next Friday the Wolves travel to West Bloomfield for a rematch. The earlier game found Clarkston on the short end of the score in a tough game. The Wolves' next home game will follow on February 7 when first place Andover will come to town.

Ski teams win on icy course

By Denise Meyers

The Clarkston ski team skied to 1 victory and 1 defeat last week at Alpine Valley. The first meet held on Tuesday was with Bloomfield Hills, Lahser. The meet ended after numerous reruns for both teams, with Clarkston's boys losing by 9.8 seconds, and the girls losing by 33.1 seconds.

The reruns were caused by broken radio communications between the beginning and end of the racing course, which resulted in some of the racers' times not being taken on their first run.

Although the team lost the meet, Bill Conrad took a second place, and Chuck Wheeler placed third. On the girls' team Denise Meyers placed third and Kathy Mayer took fifth.

The Thursday meet with Utica was a reverse story. Racing on an icy course, the boys' team outskied Utica's boys by 26.5 seconds. Clarkston's Bill Conrad, Gary Harvey and Jeff Olilla brought in second, third and fourth places respectively.

The girls in their first victory of the season, won by 33.6 seconds. Number one place was taken by Denise Meyers, second by Kris Johnson, and third, Nita Wheeler.

"Father, may they be one in us, as you are in me and I am in you, so that the world may believe it was you who sent me."

John 17:21.

This week is the WEEK OF PRAYER FOR CHRISTIAN UNITY. With Christ we "look up to heaven" and say: "Father, keep us true to your name, that we may be one as you and your Son are one." Jesus wanted His disciples and all who believe in Him to achieve the unity of the Godhead. This was His big desire. This was His earnest prayer. He wanted all who followed Him to be one—to be together.

As you look around this world of 1970 what kind of Christian unity and dis-unity do you find? In some ways things are not too bad. There have been some giant steps taken toward Christian Unity in the past few years. The Christian churches are beginning to work together.

Really things are looking up in the way of unity. And for this we thank the good Lord. But we Christians are still divided. We still have a long way to go before we achieve the unity which Jesus wanted among His followers.

During this Week of Prayer we must pray most earnestly for Christian Unity. Really, all true unity starts with prayer, continues with prayer, and ends with prayer. That's the way Christ worked for unity. He prayed to the Father.

We must do the same. And so during the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity raise your eyes to heaven and pray: "Holy Father, keep us true to your name, that we may be one as you and your Son are one."

Once Over Lightly

By Jim Sherman

Early in January, or late December, both President Nixon and Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird were being quoted as saying the proposed defense spending request was "proportionately lower" than any time in recent history.

Words like that from politicians bother me. Sometimes I write them down to check out later what they meant, like this time.

I called Congressman Jack McDonald to get the actual figures. In 1969 $69.6 billion was approved for defense spending. $74 billion was asked for.

In 1970 Mr. Nixon is asking for $75,278,200,000.

Definition of "Proportionately lower": Your wife isn't pregnant... it's your girl friend.

I wrote something about people booby trapping snowmobile drivers with sticks in the ice and ropes across vacant lots a couple weeks ago, and Tull Lasswell called to say by "omission" I condoned such action.

Tull, a former Clarkston resident who resides in Lake Orion, with a business in Oxford, read something between the lines, which is one place I seldom write. I figure you got to make it plain.

I wouldn't condone booby traps. Someone might get killed and the person doing the act might be held liable. Besides, they tried tricks to stop the auto at the turn of the century and it just aggravated manufacturers so much they build more.

If they hadn't been aggravated the auto would have gone away. And, if we don't aggravate the snowmobile people maybe they will go away.

Eastman Kodak says their survey shows the "average" publisher has 3 newspapers.

One more confirmation that I'm not even average.

Triakadekaphobia is a fear of number 13. I have chionophobia—fear of snow.

Remember you read it here—The average hog farmer enrolled in MSU's TelFarm record keeping system worked 318 8-hour days last year and raised 752 hogs.

And, plans have been developed for a new animal waste research laboratory along with a new swine growing research facility at MSU.

Aren't you delighted with this new knowledge?

Cub Scout News

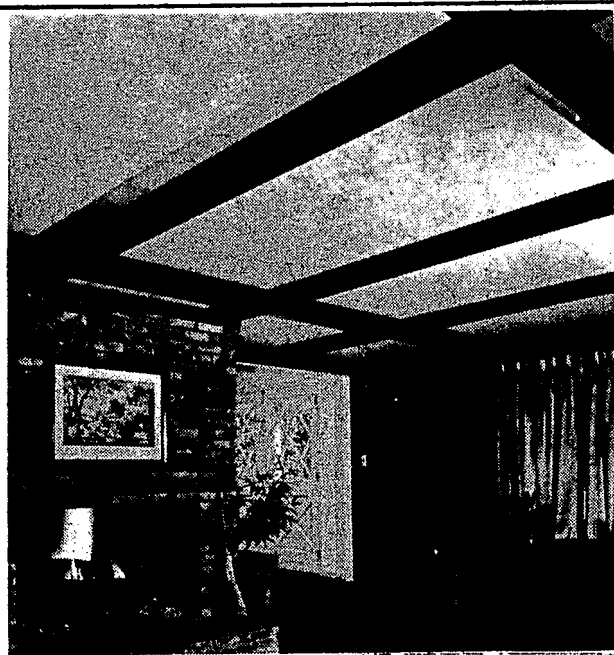

At the January meeting of Pack 126 skits depicting various aspects of "Knights of Yore" were presented by the boys.

The awards for this month were presented to: Charles Beyers, Bobcat; John Racicot, Richard Taylor, Kevin Hamaker and Greg Robertson, Wolf and 1 Gold Arrow; Mike Glowzenski, Bear; Richard Taylor and Greg Robertson, 1 Silver Arrow; Kevin Hamaker, 2 Silver Arrows; John MacKay, 1 year pin; Mike Lee, Webelos Tab, 2 year pin and 2 year perfect attendance; Mike Gardiner, Denner; Matthew Tilley and Rick Breault, Ass't. Denner; Webelo Ken Ballard received his Geologist pin.

Outgoing den mother, Mrs. Lorrie Lee, was presented with a gift in appreciation of her service to the pack.

During Boy Scout week, Feb. 7 through 13, Pack 126 will have a display in the window of the Clarkston News office on Main street. On Scout Sunday, Feb. 8, the boys will attend church services together.

Kutting Korner

By Jean Sura

I was pleased with the response to my request for the recipe for either tomato soup or carrot cake. Soup cake recipes came from Mrs. Henry Mosher, Mrs. H. Dernberger, Mrs. F. Priddy, Mrs. T. Hunter and Mrs. Wilbur Hoard. Carrot cake recipes were sent or called in by Mrs. F. Baldwin, Mrs. Jesse Weber, Mrs. H. Dernberger, Mrs. W. Hoard and Mrs. Mary Hunter, who found it in the cook book published by the University of Michigan Alumni Association.

Several others, like Mrs. Preston Yost, Mrs. Elmer Boadway and a few who didn't leave their names, inquired about the success of my request. They were sure they could find the recipes if I needed them.

Thanks, to all of you.

There was very little difference in the recipes, so here they are:

Tomato Soup Cake
(Nutritious Cake)

Cream together:

- ½ cup shortening (oleo)
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 can tomato soup (with 1 teaspoon of baking soda mixed in)
- 2 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon cloves
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1 cup nuts
- 1 cup raisins

Bake in a 9x9x2 greased pan at 350 degrees for 35 or 40 minutes.

Mrs. Dernberger was the only one who included an egg in her recipe. I'm sure it wouldn't change it very much. But at the price of eggs right now, I guess I'd try it without one.

Carrot Cake

Mix:

- 2 cups sugar
 - 1½ cups salad oil
 - 3 cups grated carrots (1 pound)
 - 4 eggs (add and mix)
 - 2 teaspoons baking soda
 - 2 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 2 teaspoons baking powder (Mrs. Baldwin was the only one who used baking powder, but I have had her cake and it is excellent so I can recommend it.)
 - 2 cups unsifted flour
 - pinch of salt
 - 1 cup chopped pecans
- Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes in a greased 10x13 pan or 3 layer pans.

Recipes for frosting both cakes were basically the same.

Cream Cheese Icing

- 1 3-ounce package cream cheese
- 1 stick (¼ pound) oleo
- 1 pound confectioners' sugar
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Add a little milk if necessary to blend or grated orange rind with a little juice may be substituted.

Next week I'll give you some of the bonuses that came along with the cake recipes.

Name Michigan's Junior Miss

Chosen last week at the 1970 Michigan's Junior Miss Pageant in Pontiac was Miss Carleen Mlynarek of Warren, a senior at Regina High School. Miss Mlynarek of Warren was selected Michigan's Junior Miss for 1970 from a field of 24 finalists in the annual pageant presented by the Pontiac Jaycees. Carleen has an all A average and for her talent presentation, she presented a baton twirling act.

Along with the crown and title, she won over $1,700.00 in college scholarships and savings bonds and a trip to Mobile, Alabama, for the America's Junior Miss Pageant in May. Runners-up in the pageant were: Nancy Nugent, Midland's Junior Miss, first runner up; Constance Crawford, Waterford's Junior Miss, second runner up. The Clarkston

Jaycees were proud to be represented in the contest by Miss Sue Griffiths, Clarkston's Junior Miss.

Symphony concert

On Sunday afternoon, February 1, 1970 at 3:00 p.m. the Waterford-Kettering High School Symphony Band and the Waterford Township District Orchestra will be featured in a winter concert in the Waterford-Kettering High School gymnasium.

The Waterford Township District Orchestra consists of outstanding string and wind performers from the three high schools in the Waterford Township School District.
