Jim's Jottings

The mind wanders . . .

Some foods taste much better after being warmed up the second day. Three that come first to mind are scalloped potatoes, chili, and turkey. Which ones are on your list?

—o—

Men in politics frequently become attached to a phrase. George Romney likes to use "basic," like, "Certain basic policies have to be changed." County Supervisor Fred Houghten says, "If we are to have 'continued good growth.'" And, of course, President Nixon is chided for, but still uses, "Let me make one thing perfectly clear."

Trouble is "basics" have long since been forgotten in politics, certainly some areas would question if all of Oakland has had "good growth," and nothing is "perfectly clear."

—o—

Every married man who has survived through middle age should have a king size bed. Especially is this true should he on occasion stay out late with the boys. Tired of my feet hanging off the end of the bed and my shoulders being uncovered, we bought such a bed.

—o—

The other night I came up loser again (two families are planning an extended Florida vacation) and arrived home a little late and odorous. The big mattress didn't tilt, causing Hazel to roll to my side, thus awakening her. The distance between us was great enough that she didn't awake and reach for the room deodorizer. And, if she had asked in the morning, I felt I could easily get away with subtracting an hour or 2 from my arrival time.

—o—

The thought occurs to me that when teachers formed a union and started negotiating contracts they became the enemy of the Board of Education. Probably the reverse is true, and probably it is true of all separations of workers and management through unionizing.

—o—

The male mind rationalizes: If I could survive having $500 stolen last year, plus the cost of the golfing trip to Florida, I should be able to afford to join a private club this year . . . if I don't go south this year.

***

Ruth Basinger, 8 E. Washington, has never held office. She has lived in Clarkston for 5 years. The mother of 3 grown sons, she is a graduate of Wayne State University and is a free-lance interior decorator.

"It is my hope," said Mrs. Basinger,

"(a) to serve the community so as to create whole community interest in Clarkston; (b) to create a residential interest in the council; (c) to create, on local government levels, a community architectural program; (d) to urge zoning which will further establish the residential character of the community; (e) to enforce uniformly and reasonably the laws we have on the books; and (f) to initiate a non-partisan form of government for Clarkston."

***

Leonard F. Davidson, 47, lives at 7 Robertson Court. A 10-year resident of the area, he moved here from Davisburg. He and his wife, Yvonne, have a 7-year-old son, Michael. Mr. Davidson has never held public office. A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, he owns and operates his wholesale green plant business, Quality Gardens, in Milford. ***

Jack Hagen, 40, lives at 42 N. Holcomb with his wife and 4 children. He has lived in Clarkston for 34 years. A graduate of Clarkston High School, he is a vice president of Infra-Corp of Waterford and a member of Calvary Lutheran Church.

Mr. Hagen has served as a trustee for 2 terms and is an incumbent candidate.

"I would like to serve the residents of this village and try to preserve this small village in which I grew up," said Hagen when asked why he was seeking office.

Gerald Hennig, 27, lives at 30 S. Holcomb with his wife and 2 children. Never having held public office before, he has lived in Clarkston for 20 years.

A 1960 graduate of Clarkston High School, Hennig will complete his carpenter apprenticeship this spring and is employed by a company specializing in commercial construction. He is on the Board of Directors of the Clarkston Jaycees and member of St. Daniel's Parish.

"As a resident of Holcomb Street for the past 5 years, I have seen many changes and heard many complaints in the Village. I feel that if I am elected I can work for the people of this village in the way they would like their representative to serve them," said Hennig.

***

Robert C. Jones, 31, lives at 79 Robertson Court. He has never held an elective office. A native of Clarkston, he was born on Holcomb Street. His wife, Marietta (nee Neubacher) attended Clarkston High School. They have 2 children, Timothy, 11, and Jennifer, 9. Mr. Jones attended Central Michigan University for 2 years and now is the Standard Oil Agent (fuel oil and supply).

Mr. Jones has been a volunteer fireman since his high school days. He is a member of the Clarkston Rotary and a past president of the Clarkston Jaycees. He is on the council at the Calvary Lutheran Church.

"I am interested in the development of this community. Having been born and raised, and now living in the village, I am familiar with the many issues concerning our village and feel that I can be of service in helping to resolve them."

David K. Westlund, of 115 N. Holcomb is 35 years old. He has lived in Clarkston for 5 years and has never held public office. He and his wife, Zita, have 4 children, Peggy, 10, Dale, 9, Nancy, 7 and Mark, 3. A graduate of Northern Michigan University where he earned his B.S. degree, he holds a M.S. in education from the University of Michigan. He is the principal of the Pine Knob Elementary School here in Clarkston. Mr. Westlund belongs to the Michigan Department of Elementary School Principals, the Clarkston Eagles and St. Daniel's Catholic Church.

"My interest in holding office stems from the enjoyment I have felt in living here. I have no axes to grind, but feel that it is my responsibility to assist in any way in keeping Clarkston a wonderful place to live," was Westlund's answer to the question of why he was running for office.

Early June target date for cafe opening

Nine months after it was originally scheduled to open, Lloyd G. Kirby, a part owner of Clarkston Cafe, Inc. announced that reconstruction work has been resumed and that if plans proceed as anticipated, the restaurant on Main Street will be ready for an early June opening.

The restaurant, according to Kirby, has been leased. The name of the lessee is not available at the present time because of other employment.

The decor of the building, which was reduced to the two side walls, will follow the rustic motif with hand hewn timbers, pine furnishings and old barn wood paneling as originally planned.

The open barbecue pit has been eliminated because it required more space than seemed practical.

With a seating capacity of 80 to 84, the completely new kitchen will cater to a steak, chop and sandwich menu. The building has been air-conditioned.

The office space on the second floor has been completed and is presently occupied.

"The lessee came to us through excellent recommendations," said Kirby. "We are sure that he can and will serve the needs of the community."

Other owners of Clarkston Cafe, Inc. are John C. Helveston and Charles Pierce.

Second operation over Barbie still smiles

Last Thursday Barbara Kevern, 6, underwent major surgery for the second time in 7 days. Today, if things are on schedule, she will again be taken to the operating room in Boston's Children's Hospital for more surgery.

The third operation was not anticipated, but the fear of over-correction led the doctors to the decision to handle the situation in smaller steps.

Barbara, who has cerebral palsy, is now in a full body cast that extends from her armpits to her toes. Her feet are extended to accommodate a 36 inch bar between them. She is in traction.

Last week her father, Donald Kevern and sister, Susie, flew to Boston for a surprise visit with Barbara and her mother, who is with her.

"Barbie is taking things in stride with a smile. We couldn't be more proud of her. She is quite a girl," said Mr. Kevern. "While we were there, the girls practically wore out several sets of paper dolls. My next trip to Boston will depend on developments, but will probably be sometime during the next week. Barbie does enjoy her mail. We are grateful to the many people who have sent cards and messages."

The address: Barbara Kevern, Children's Hospital, 300 Longwood, Boston, Massachusetts 02115.

Unfavorite son of a gun

Jim Colt never was what you call real popular in the village. Then, after he gets appointed to the village council (never could of been elected) his popularity quick fell from very little to maybe sub-zero.

Fact that he elected himself to Village President on that fluke deal didn't help, but mostly it was his changed attitude.

Always did act like he thought he was a real hotshot. Used to be sort of a common joke to speak of Jim Colt as "the slowest gun in the village." Guess it was supposed to mean that he wasn't too bright, but anyway folks kinda picked up the phrase so general that if a fellow just said "S. G." it was good for a laugh.

Took to riding around in the village police car at night. Got a permit to carry a gun and seemed to get his kicks from playing policeman.

Started sticking his nose into all kinds of village doings, too. Went with the building inspector and popped off real foolish about stuff he didn't understand. Ordered Alex Vick, the building inspector, to refuse permits to this one and that on real silly grounds. Did the same with Percy Malcott on electrical inspections. Turned folks down right and left during the day and played policeman at night.

At first there were a few that tried, kind of weak like, to defend his shenanigan tricks. Some said for a while that he was just maybe taking his job as Village President too serious. Wasn't long before he run out of guys that would even try to excuse him on the grounds of he was at least trying. Got folks up in arms real good.

Crazy galoot run the council meetings the same way. They always had been pretty loose organized, those meetings, but old Jim set himself out to change all that. One of the members speaks up on something, same's he always had, and old "Slowest Gun" would immediate bang his gavel like to split the table. "Order!" he'd yell, "You guys got to address the chair and be reknized or you shut up."

Boys that had been on the council for 5, 10 and couple of 'em for 15 years didn't exactly warm up to a newcomer trying to shove 'em around.

McNutt gets to saying "Mr. Presidente, Sir," every time he wants to get Colt's attention. Old Jim doesn't even get the insult and usual thing says something like, "This here chair reck-nizes Mr. McNutt."

At public hearings, this clown is even worse. He really believes he's maybe a dictator or something. Picks and chooses the people he wants to let talk, and if they say something he doesn't like, he interrupts them with, "We've heard all we want out of you. Shut up and sit down."

Even with some who just stand up so he'll give 'em a turn to protest something, he'll maybe say, "We heard you pop off at the last of these here public meetings and we don't care for no more of your lip."

Upshot of it was that bit by bit everybody really got a belly full of this here Jim Colt and a petition to get him removed from office was circulated in the village.

Not everybody signed, but it was more than half the total count of all them old enough to vote.

Petition was presented to the council at a regular meeting, and much as it had been talked up, it come as a total surprise to Colt.

After the clerk read it and gave a count of signers, old Jim just looked stunned. It's all silent for two, three long minutes, then Jim stands up white-faced and says, "It appears to me that there's them you can't do enough for, so it's a very sad day for this village because I resign." After the crowd started to clap, he walked out — for good.

A Shorthorn confession

By Jim Fitzgerald

I might as well confess, before the Feds hit me with a subpoena. I am a frequent customer at the Shorthorn Steak House in Flint.

I have made bets there. And I've listened to Denny McLain play the organ there. I didn't like him as well as the regular piano player who also sings — with one of the greatest whiskey voices this side of the Bowery.

Sports Illustrated magazine described the Shorthorn as plush. It isn't. The dining room does have a carpet but the bar, where the action is, is more rural than urban; more ranchy than raunchy.

It was apparently his employment at the Shorthorn in 1967 that made McLain's feet clay and stompable. You may have read or heard something about this recently. If you haven't, you have a big boulder in front of your cave. Isn't it magnificent how we humans sweat and swear about the truly important things in life — such as whether a grown man will be allowed to earn $90,000 this year for playing a little boys' game? (I wonder how things are coming in Vietnam?).

I've been a Shorthorn customer all these years simply because the food is good and the waitresses are friendly and efficient. That takes care of lunch and dinner.

As for late-evening boozing, the thing I like about the Shorthorn is the piano bar. Some people like to shoot deer or ride snowmobiles or visit museums. I like to sit on a swivel stool, hunched over a piano bar, with both feet on a brass rail.

It is nicest if Erroll Garner is playing the piano. But I'll settle for most anyone, even a baseball player with a sledgehammer touch. The important thing is that the friendliest people in the world sit around piano bars. They like to sing and drum fingers and tap toes and buy drinks. There's usually at least 1 fine tenor who, after midnight and a few good belts, will happily sing "Danny Boy." A marvelous, mournful sound.

Lately there have been tales that business has turned sour at the Shorthorn. The doors were almost padlocked by a tax lien last week. It would be ironic justice if all this lousy publicity sets the cash registers to jingling again. The world is full of people who follow firetrucks and speed to the scene of accidents. They might well visit the Shorthorn to search the floor for traces of McLain's blood.

Sport Illustrated said a bookie made his headquarters in the Shorthorn. It sounded as if he had an office and a secretary in the place. This is ridiculous. Actually, a bookie can do business wherever he sits, in a bar or in a church. All he needs is someone sitting beside him, or just a telephone booth.

Denny McLain apparently tried to make an easy buck and fell on his face. Now he's paying the price and he gets no sympathy from me. But the Shorthorn is getting a bum rap. It would make equal sense to sting the restaurant for the gambling I do there — sometimes I play the numbers game with a bunch of bandits to determine who'll pay the tab.

Once I lost $25 and I told the waitress I wouldn't pay. But she changed my mind. She jumped on my big toe. That's class.

Play it again, Sam.

After a short honeymoon, the young couple will make their home in Clarkston.

Around the Town

Jog out of the doldrums

By Barb Humphreys

Around this time of year I get a case of the doldrums. Winter has been around far too long and the touches of warm weather here and there only seem to bring mud. It's too late to do the fall cleaning and too early to clean for spring. Just when you think you must be getting old, you hear of a group that makes you want to get out and do everything.

I'm referring to the Springfield Township "Senior Citizens Joggers," who will hold their next meeting on Saturday, March 7 at noon. Mr. William L. Criger of Bigelow Rd., Davisburg, reports the group will gather at the Davisburg Town Hall for a combination meeting and cooperative dinner.

All of the second graders at Andersonville School are looking forward to Wednesday. Mrs. Landon will be among those accompanying them to Upland Hills Farms for a visit with the animals.

Mrs. Edith Berryman is recovering from a back injury and each day is able to get around with more ease. She is now at the Oakhill Rest Home in Ortonville, but makes her home with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Byers of Middle Lake Rd.

"To have a friend, be one," is the old saying. Mrs. Marilyn Lawrence of Wealthy was just that to her long time teacher friend, Mrs. Barbara Glover. When Mrs. Glover was home sick with the mumps, Mrs. Lawrence got groceries for her, sat and visited to help pass the time and saw that she had what she needed. Now she would like to "thank" Mrs. Glover publicly for the gift of appreciation that she received in return. When Mrs. Glover was through with the mumps, she gave them to her good friend.

A "Big Gospel Sing" will be held at the New Hope Bible Church on the corner of Pine Knob Rd. and Sunnyside Dr. at seven-thirty in the evening on March 7. The "Lighthouse Quartet" of Clarkston will be featured with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cummings and daughter, Kathy; also David and Shelah Porritt and Bob Murphy. The "Silvertones" from Pontiac with Barbara and Kermit Patton, Nancy and Jim Hutchison and Harold Batten will also be featured, along with the Cook Trio from Brantford, Ontario.

Everyone is invited to come and enjoy a night of good gospel singing.

Word was received this week of the death of two former Clarkston residents. Mrs. Daisy Landi died on February 10 in Merrill, Michigan after a three-week illness. A former employee of the Consumers Power Company, she was 82 years old.

Further sad news informed us of the death of Mrs. Ralph Marshall, 51, who died in Delaware, Ohio. Mrs. Marshall helped form and was the first president of the Clarkston Rotary Ann Club.

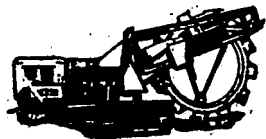

Survivors are her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Marsha Elliott of Petoskey and Suzanne, who lives at home. Mrs. Marshall was buried on March 3.

The PTA at the Bailey Lake School will be serving pancakes and sausages between 5:30 and 8 p.m. on Friday, March 6. The supper will be held at the Sashabaw Junior High School and proceeds from the affair will be used to purchase a popcorn popper for the school. Adult tickets are $1.25 and $.75 for children. It will be a good night to treat the whole family.

The OES will serve spaghetti on March 6 at their noon luncheon. The public is invited to attend between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. The donation is $1.25.

Honor 13 area Eagle Scouts

Eighty-nine Eagle Scouts were honored Tuesday, March 3 by the Clinton Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, for outstanding achievement in attaining Scouting's highest rank during 1969.

Each of the Eagle Scouts had indicated the career field in which he was interested and sponsors in that area were chosen to spend some time with them and orientate them to the actual activities of the chosen career.

Of the 89 boys honored, 13 were from the Clarkston area.

Tim Adams was sponsored by Don Beem of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority; Greg Becker, by Dr. James V. Hruska, DVM; Richard Butler, by Larry Stack of Johnson and Anderson Engineering; Mike Humphries and Mark Willis, by Richard Carpenter of Detroit Piper Sales and Service; Dan Kaddatz, by Sgt. Ray Hoopengartner of the Michigan State Police; Allen Klein, by D. E. Goss of GMTC; Pat Humphries, by F. W. Brede, Jr. of GMTC; Joe Lessard, by Dr. Charles Bowers, M.D.; Craig Moore, by Dr. Charles W. Akers of Oakland University; Matt Moore, by Lt. John C. Hunt, Selfridge Air Force Base; Kurt Salzano, by Al Repp of Pontiac Graphics; and Mike Seffens by William Rathburg of the Bald Mountain Recreation Area.

Mr. Lee Bonner, a teacher, and Richard Campbell, an attorney, both of Clarkston, were selected to sponsor Brian Korth of Utica and William Armstrong of Auburn Heights, respectively.

After spending the day together the sponsors accompanied the Scouts to a dinner in their honor at the Elks Club in Rochester. The speaker was Lawrence M. Carino, vice president and general manager of WJBK-TV.

The young men were lauded for their perseverance in reaching Eagle rank — achieved by only two percent of all Boy Scouts.

Chairman of the day's activities was Dr. Forrest D. Hunt, a Clarkston dentist.

Tax relief for Senior citizens

N. C. Van Natta, Supervisor of Springfield Township, announced that the Department of Administration in Lansing advised him that two major amendments to the Senior Citizen's Homestead Tax Exemption Act have been passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor. These amendments have been made retroactive to December 31st, 1969.

The first amendment increases the income limitation of Senior Citizens from a $5,000 maximum to $6,000 per year under the same definition for income as was previously noted.

The second amendment has eliminated the state equalized value of $10,000 completely. A senior citizen may now own any amount of property and still be eligible for the $2,500 tax exemption offered under the Act.

All senior citizens of Springfield Township are urged to contact the Township Hall and file the proper forms prior to the adjournment of the Board of Review on March 11th. Further information can be had by calling Springfield Township Hall.

Bell trying new approach

Michigan Bell Telephone Company has announced the creation of a new service to aid customers in solving problems not adequately handled by present customer service.

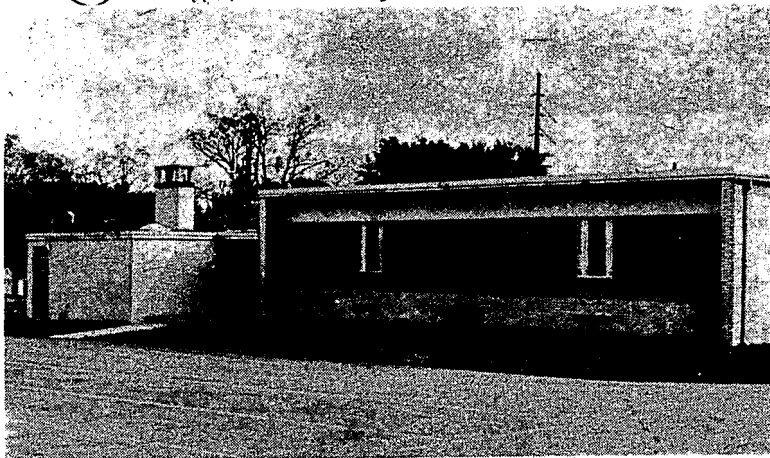

The special action force will act as ombudsmen — representing the customer and his interests.

The new force will concentrate on such problems as delays in installation of service, missed appointments, recurring out-of-service conditions and similar cases.

The service representative will remain in first line position to deal with dissatisfied customers with the special force in a backup position.

In the event that a service representative cannot help, the problem will be turned over to the special action force.

A SPIRITUAL Message

ST. DANIEL'S CHURCH

Father Francis A. Weingartz

Then the mother of Zebedee's sons came up to Jesus and said to him, "Promise that these two sons of mine will sit, one at your right, the other at your left, in your kingdom."

Matthew 20: 20-22

James and John in this gospel were ambitious and they were rebuked by our Lord for this. They put their mother up to asking Christ for the places of honor in His kingdom. Their thoughts were of a material kingdom.

They had fond dreams of the power they could exercise from the first places next to the throne. They were ambitious. They had an unruly craving for honors and dignities. Ambition invades every walk of life.

We find it in politics. Men want to rule others. They will step on anyone to achieve their goal. We can also find ambition in the intellectual life where men will try to impose their ideas on others even in regard to questions that are open to discussion.

These are evident examples of ambition. But ambition is far more widespread than one might be led to think. How many lesser ambitions are found in everyday life, your everyday life? People will say, "I was never so insulted in all my life," when they mean, "I was not treated as I think I ought to be treated."

Do you want to be the center of attraction at a gathering? Do you favor those who flatter you? Do you sulk when someone else is more interesting than you? If you do, you are ambitious. And ambition is based on pride, the first of the capital sins.

During this season of Lent, try to get rid of any unruly craving for honors. Strive to uproot any pride which you may find in your life and make a real effort to practice the important virtue of humility.

Take to heart the words of Our Blessed Lord as recorded in St. Luke's Gospel: "When you are invited, do not recline in the first place, but go and recline in the last place. For everyone who exalts himself shall be humbled, and he who humbles himself shall be exalted."

Interest lags in closing hunting

The number of people interested in closing more areas of Independence Township to hunting are apparently not too great. The turnout last Wednesday night at the public hearing was reported relatively small.

The township board had indicated they would like to see all the area south of I-75 closed to use of firearms; however, they have only one of the 4 voices on the committee.

Others are from the state police, sheriff's office and conservation department.

They will make their recommendations to the township after reviewing comments from the public hearing.

Many people still believe that if you block the visible rays of the sun while watching an eclipse, there is no danger. They don't realize there is still danger from the invisible infra-red rays, which can burn the eye's retina in about the same way a magnifying glass will focus the sun on paper and burn a hole.

Filters, smoked or stained glasses or old negatives may even make the damage worse, by prolonging the time of exposure. They certainly offer no protection.

A total eclipse of the sun is due in the eastern U.S. on March 7. The path will sweep up from the Gulf of Mexico to Cape Cod, lasting from three to seven minutes. Except for Alaskans, all Americans will be able to see at least a partial eclipse, with the degree depending on their distance from the "total" path.

The only recommended way to view an eclipse is indirectly. Take two pieces of white cardboard, and make a pinhole in one. With the sun at your back, focus the eclipse image through the pinhole board on to the second cardboard.

The retina (the layer of cells at the rear of the eye) is not sensitive to pain, so it can be burned without it being felt. However, such burns are incurable, and produce a blank spot in the victim's field of vision that can interfere with reading and all "fine" seeing.

Late complications of solar damage may include a blocking of the eye's blood vessels, internal bleeding, retinal detachment and other serious damage, which may not show up for years.

Not only should you take sensible precautions in viewing this rare event, but insist on your family following the same advice. During the last solar eclipse in the U.S., in 1963, hundreds of people suffered vision damage - avoid their mistake.

Last chance to sign for Medicare

"The benefits of Medicare are available to people over 65, but only if they sign up for them," Eino J. Heino, District Manager of the Pontiac Social Security office warned today. "And there are some people who are facing a final deadline on Medicare."

Because the law provides only four chances to sign up for full Medicare protection, anyone in Oakland County who will be age 68 before September of this year has only this last chance to sign up and that enrollment period ends

March 31.

Social Security offices throughout the country are making every effort to contact people over 65 about signing up for the program. "These efforts have gone on each year since Medicare started so that everybody will be able to exercise their right to say either "yes" or "no" to the coverage," Heino declared.

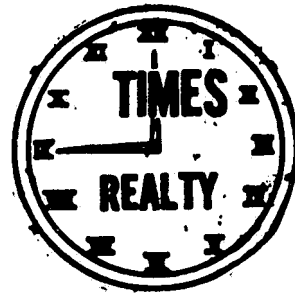

"We have found in the past that many people who did not sign up for Medicare when they were 65, changed their minds and signed up during the next enrollment period."

Letters have been sent out to over 300 people in Oakland County who are still eligible to enroll in the program. They are being asked to contact the office at 21 S. Glenwood, Pontiac to discuss Medicare with the trained staff members and to make a decision before the March 31st deadline.

-TO ALL SENIOR CITIZENS -

The Legislature has enacted and made retroactive to December 31, 1969 two major amendments to Act 6 of the Public Acts of 1966, known as the Senior Citizens Homestead Tax Exemption Act. The new law, Public Act No. 4 of 1970, is effective with the governor's signature of February 19, 1970.

The amendments broaden eligibility in two ways:

1. The first of the amendments increases the income limitation from $5,000.00 to $6,000.00. Therefore, an applicant filing for 1970 exemption could receive income up to $6,000.00 and remain eligible for tax exemption.

2. The second amendment to the law has eliminated the $10,000.00 state equalized value and the $20,000.00 cash value limitation completely. An applicant filing in 1970 may own any amount of property and be eligible for tax exemption.

These amendments are effective for the current filing period and affidavit must be filed with township supervisor by March 16, 1970.

End season on low note

By Dan Hallman

Clarkston fought gamely, but it just wasn't enough as the Wolves dropped a 73-71 verdict to the Brighton Bulldogs.

Brighton jumped off to an early lead behind the hot hand of Bob Musch. Clarkston stayed within reach of the Bulldogs, thanks to the efforts of Larry Walker and Don Brown.

The second quarter was fought evenly as both teams hit for 17 points. Brighton went into the locker room holding a slim lead, 40-35.

In the third quarter it was again the rebounding and shooting of Brown, and Bruce Hardy's free throws which narrowed the gap to three points.

The Wolves took a one point lead with four minutes remaining, but they couldn't hold it. Three more points for Musch and a bucket for Dave Harmon iced the game for the Bulldogs.

Game honors went to Clarkston's Don Brown who checked in with 32. Hardy added 15 and Walker 10 for the losers. Brighton's high scorers were Bob Musch with 29 and Bruce Ritter with 19.

Ski team end season with victories

By Denise Meyers

The end of the racing season brought numerous victories to Clarkston's boys' ski team. In a quadrangular meet with Rochester, Ferndale and Lakeview, Clarkston's number one boy Jim Kluesner took second place, Gary Harvey third, and Bill Conrad fourth. In the same meet, the girls' team took fourth, fifth and sixth places. The positions were taken by Denise Meyers, Sue Schmude, and Lisa Braun, respectively.

The southeastern Michigan Regional meet was held at Mt. Brighton this year with over twenty-five teams competing against each other. The boys' team took tenth place in the meet overall, with Clarkston's Gary Harvey taking sixth place and a medal in the boys' Giant Slalom. The girls' team took fifteenth place overall in this meet.

In a divisional play-off, the boys' team had a complete victory over Pontiac Northern and Ferndale. Bill Conrad took first place, Gary Harvey second, Jim Kluesner third and Jeff Olilla fourth.

Only two boys from Clarkston qualified to compete in the Southeastern Michigan League meets. Gary Harvey, who is a sophomore at C.H.S. this year, took the first place gold medal in the boys' Giant Slalom. Jim Kluesner, a senior, took a sixth place medal in both Slalom and Giant Slalom.

Once Over Lightly

By Jim Sherman

Layoffs are IN with the auto producers, but the interest in buying is still there. The cars that were brought out recently, Camaro Firebird, Gremlin to name a few, had viewers in showrooms.

It was good to see some auto salesmen with smiles on their faces again.

The only county with more snowmobiles registered than Oakland is Genesee. We have 4767 and the Flint area has 5965.

If we could just get a count on the unregistered ones Oakland might lead. There are 92,000 registered in the state and the Sec'y of State has said 50 percent more aren't signed up.

Did you break out in a cold sweat when you spotted the first police car March 1, or did you realize the deadline for getting 1970 license plates was moved to March 31?

Have any of you written to your legislators to thank them for allowing the weather to get warmer before you have to skin your knuckles changing plates? Certainly we should hear as many "thanks" as we did complaints.

"Wolverines" win 3rd place

The Wolverines from Clarkston Junior High came out of the Brighton Invitational Tournament with third place of the eight teams participating and picked up two wins and one loss.

WEST BLOOMFIELD GAME

In their first game of the tournament the CJHS 9th graders defeated West Bloomfield, 62-58. The game, despite the score, was not a serious challenge for the Clarkston team and allowed Coach McDonald to use all of his players. Leading scorers were Bill Hamilton, 23 points; Dave Partlo, 20 points; and Bruce Souby, 12 points.

CHELSEA GAME

The Wolverines were soundly defeated by the score of 63-42 by the eventual tournament champions - Chelsea. The closely called game saw Clarkston pick up 41 team fouls against the quicker Chelsea team. Chelsea's zone defense greatly bothered the cold shooting Wolverines, forcing bad shots and causing all the players to score far below their averages. The only player to score in double figures was Bruce Souby with 11 points.

BRIGHTON GAME

In this consolation game for third place in the tournament, the Wolverines handily defeated the host team 58-39. Every player on the team participated getting playing time in at least three of the four quarters. Leading the scorers was Bruce Souby with 19 points and Dave Partlo with 11 points.

The Wolverines face the Cougars from Sashabaw in their season's finale at the high school gym at 8:00 p.m. on March 6.

Wolves bow out of tournament

Waterford-Kettering downed Clarkston 72 to 59 in the first round of the regional finals of the Michigan High School Basketball Tournament.

Kettering got off to a fast start when they scored 24 points in the first quarter.

From then on, Clarkston, who had totaled 11 points, had to play catch-up ball.

Outscoring Kettering in the 2nd quarter still left the Wolves trailing by 10 at half time.

In the 3rd, they added 3 more points to the lead and the teams tied with 15 points each in the final section of the game.

Brown led the Clarkston scoring with 20 points. Waterford-Kettering had 4 players in double figures. They were led by Dell, with 24.

This loss eliminated Clarkston from the tournament.

Kutting Korners

By Jean Sura

Here is an interesting casserole to try while chicken is so reasonably low priced.

- Indian-Style Casserole
 2 cut-up chickens (broilers or fryers)
 2 cups water
 1 tablespoon minced onion
 2 teaspoons salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen whole-kernel corn
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen baby lima beans
 1/4 cup butter
 1/3 cup flour
 1 cup light cream
 1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
 1 can (3-4oz.) sliced mushrooms
 1 cup crushed corn chips

Simmer the chicken in water, onion, salt and pepper for about 40 minutes or until tender. Remove from the pan and cool slightly. Skin the chicken and cut into bite-sized pieces. Cook the corn and lima beans in chicken broth for ten minutes, then take out the vegetables and reserve the liquid. Melt butter, then blend in flour, stirring until smooth. Add reserved liquid, cream and poultry seasoning. Cook, stirring constantly, until the mixture has bubbled for about a minute. Add chicken, cooked vegetables and mushrooms. Spoon into a shallow 8-cup baking dish and top with crushed corn chips. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 30 minutes or until bubbly. Garnish with pimiento and parsley just before serving. (Makes 8-10 servings).

***

Or how about this one? It is so simple that it is called Niagara Falls Casserole (beloved by brides, silly).

- Niagara Falls Casserole
 1 package mixed frozen vegetables
 1 can cream of mushroom soup
 1/2 cup milk
 2 cups cut up cooked chicken or 1 7 oz. can of tuna
 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
 4 ounces wide egg noodles, cooked and drained

- 2 cups bread, cracker crumbs or grape-nut flakes or crushed potato chips
 2 tablespoons butter, melted

Place frozen vegetables in saucepan with soup and milk. Bring to a boil over low heat, separating vegetables with a fork to hasten thawing. Remove from heat. Add chicken or tuna, cheese, onion and mustard. Mix lightly. Place half of noodles in 1 quart casserole. Top with half of tuna or chicken-vegetable mixture. Repeat layers. Bake at 400 degrees for about 15 minutes or until mixture begins to bubble. Combine crumbs and butter. Sprinkle over top of casserole. Continue baking about 10 minutes longer, or until crumbs are brown. Makes about enough for 4 servings.

***

Here is something VERY special. It is from the Vermont Village Cook Book, but my friend, Betz Scholz, assures me that it's the same SHOOFLY PIE her grandmother made, a Pennsylvania Dutch thing.

- Pastry for 9 inch pie shell
 Crumb mixture

- 1/4 cup flour
 1/2 cup brown sugar
 1/2 teaspoon each salt, cinnamon
 1/8 teaspoon ginger, nutmeg and ground cloves

- 2 tablespoons shortening
 Filling mixture

- 1/2 cup table molasses
 1 egg well beaten
 1/2 teaspoon soda
 3/4 cup hot water

Line a 9-inch pie pan with the pastry. Combine the ingredients for crumb mixture, using hands to blend. Combine ingredients for filling and pour into pastry shell. Top with crumb mixture.

Bake in 400 degree oven for 10 minutes, then reduce heat to 325 degrees for an additional 30 minutes.

"As I remember," she said, "we used to spoon some of our coffee onto the cut pieces."

That ought to shake you out of the winter doldrums!

George E. Walker, Jr. was named a winner of an Evans Scholarship. The Evans program is an award program for conscientious caddies and is administered by the Western Golf Association.

Named for Caddy Scholarship

George E. Walker, Jr. was notified that he has been awarded an Evan Scholarship. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Walker, Sr. of Pine Knob Road and is a senior at Clarkston High School.

The Evans Scholarship is a program developed by the Western Golf Association, and is available to outstanding caddies, who work on their courses. It is renewable for 4 years.

The award covers tuition and provides housing, in most instances, for the boys to live on campus.

The program was instigated by Chick Evans, an amateur golfer, who started funding the program with prize money that he did not care to accept. It has mushroomed over the years. Today there are approximately 800 students attending college on the program and thousands who have completed their education with this assistance.

Resident houses are located at universities throughout the United States.

George has elected to attend Michigan State University. The program was initiated on that campus in the late fifties. Within the last 5 years a building, adjoining the original, has been purchased and connected to the first. It accommodates approximately 80 students.

George was a captain caddy at Orchard Lake Golf and Country Club for the past 3 summers. He got started caddying when a friend took him to the course with him. Last summer he made about 150 "loops."

"My biggest thrill was caddying for Pete Green, who is one of the best golfers in the entire state," said George.

George is a B average student who has attended the Clarkston schools all his life. He has 2 sisters, Belinda, 13 and Carolyn, 11.

As a fringe benefit, he has learned to play and enjoy golf and shoots a very respectable score.

George will major in journalism in school.

Last swim session has several openings

The 3rd session of the program to "waterproof Clarkston" will get under way on March 14th and openings are still available.

Sponsored by the Clarkston Community Schools and the Clarkston Jaycees, this swimming program uses the facilities at Oakland University and children are transported by bus from the elementary school closest to their home.

The program is intended to provide swimming instructions and recreation for any Clarkston school student who is 4 foot 6 inches tall (or more). This restriction is made to insure that the youngster will be able to stand up in the water, which is 48 inches deep.

Instruction will be offered at all levels: beginner, intermediate, advanced and life saving.

The last of 3 sessions will be held from March 14 through May 2 (no class on March 21). Adults will supervise both the bus ride and at the pool.

The cost of the program is $4 for the entire session which includes 45 minutes of instruction and 15 minutes of recreational swimming each week.

Those interested in attending are asked to report for the bus with the money for the registration fee on March 14.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Mr. Larry Thompson at 625-1929.

Women unite in prayer

World Day of Prayer will be celebrated when Church Women United join millions of people on March 6, in a bond of prayer spanning 6 continents. Prayers will be offered in 75 languages and 1,000 dialects. It will be celebrated in 25,000 communities.

Here in Clarkston, Church Women United invite all to join this worldwide fellowship at 1 p.m. at the Calvary Lutheran Church. The main speaker will be Miss Mary Militello, former Roman Catholic missionary to Paraguay. Miss Militello is presently teaching school in St. Clair Shores.

Local churches that are participating in the celebration are: Sashabaw Presbyterian, St. Daniel's Catholic, Church of the Resurrection, United Methodist and Calvary Lutheran.

The theme this year is "Take Courage." The chain of prayers will begin in the tropical Tongas, just west of the International Date Line and continue throughout the day as it crosses oceans and continents to completely span the world.

Nursery service will be provided during the service and refreshments will be served immediately after.

Pass the gravy

by Jean Sura

It has been exactly sixty days since I stopped smoking. That is exactly 1440 hours or 86,400 minutes of temptation that I have put behind me. I can hear my lungs repairing themselves.

I admit it really wasn't too hard. I chewed up dozens of pencils but when you stop to think that I have already saved about $27 it seems like that wasn't too great a sacrifice.

As surely as night follows day, you must know what my problem is now.

Everybody who said, "Oh, rackafrazz, she is going to moan about putting on weight and then we will have to hear all about her diet," may move to the front of the class.

I am dieting. I'm dieting for a cause, not for an egocentric whim. We are leaving on a ski vacation in just two weeks and at this writing I can't get into my stretch pants.

"Well," said my husband, "you can always ski in your Mother Hubbard. You'd really cut a swath. They say that the slopes at Snow Mass are like boulevards, a couple of miles wide, so I guess there would be room for you."

That did it. If I had the will power to quit smoking, it would be a breeze to lay-off the groceries for a while. I would show the world that today's women are filled with fortitude and bravado, a match for our pioneer ancestors.

Yesterday I started to diet. I hopped out of bed and weighed myself so I could chart my progress.

Breakfast wasn't too bad. I had half a grapefruit, a poached egg on dry toast and black coffee.

After the first few bites of the dry toast I smashed the egg and then poured the hot salt water over the whole mess. It didn't make it taste any better, but at least it helped me to swallow.

Considering that I never eat breakfast I was off to a great start.

I left the breakfast table with a feeling of accomplishment and pride. I could feel the pounds dropping by the wayside. There was absolutely nothing to it.

Lunch wasn't so good. I didn't have anything on the list that appealed to me. Maybe I could just skip it. I was proud of that decision.

A little later, reminding myself that I hadn't had any lunch, I had a nice, fat slice of liverwurst. Then I had a shoestring of licorice (I never did really think of licorice as candy). Then I had another slice of liverwurst. I had two more cups of coffee and three cups of tea. I ate a whole green pepper. I had another slice of liverwurst.

Joins CAP

Roger Maggerman has joined the staff of the Clarkston Composite Squadron of the CAP, just 2 weeks after his discharge from the USMC where he was a drill instructor.

A veteran of almost 4 years, 14 months in Vietnam, Mr. Maggerman will be assigned as the Military Education and Drill Instructor for the Clarkston Squadron which is commanded by 1/Lt. James Peters.

Letters

2/26/70

Dear Friends,

Your very thoughtful article on my little girl has indeed brought to her young life many moments of happiness.

Many cards and letters have been sent to Barbie and each one brings a large smile to a very brave little girl.

Barbie had her second operation this morning and at this moment is in the recovery room. We had hoped that this would be the final operation, but the doctor has informed us that a third operation must be performed in the next ten days. As a result, Barbie's return to Clarkston may still be weeks away.

The first operation proved quite successful and Mom and Dad look with great praise at a little foot that is straight for the first time.

My eight-year-old, Susan, was allowed to spend several hours with Barbara yesterday and many paper dolls were well worn before day's end. The reunion for the two girls, no matter how short, was well worth the added expense for the trip.

Susan and I will return to Clarkston this weekend with many prayers answered and many thanks given to the doctors, nurses and the good people of Clarkston for their thoughtfulness and concern over a wonderful and brave six-year-old girl.

My personal thanks
and fondest regards,
Donald H. Kevern

Dead reckoning . . .

Dear folks

By Don Lytle

"Dear Mother and Dad:

Since I left for college I have been remiss in writing and I am sorry for my thoughtlessness in not having written before. I will bring you up to date now, but before you read on, please sit down. You are not to read any further unless you are sitting down. Okay?

Well, then, I am getting along pretty well now. The skull fracture and the concussion I got when I jumped out of the window of my dormitory when it caught fire shortly after my arrival here is pretty well healed. I only spent two weeks in the hospital and now I can see almost normally and only get those sick headaches once a day.

Fortunately, the fire in the dormitory, and my jump, was witnessed by an attendant at the gas station near the dorm, and he was the one who called the Fire Department and the ambulance.

He also visited me in the hospital and since I had nowhere to live because of the burnt-out dormitory, he was kind enough to invite me to share his apartment with him. It's really a basement room, but it's kind of cute.

He is a very fine boy and we have fallen deeply in love and are planning to get married. We haven't set the exact date yet, but it will be before my pregnancy begins to show.

Yes, Mother and Dad, I am pregnant. I know how much you are looking forward to being grandparents and I know you will welcome the baby and give it the same love and devotion and tender care you gave me when I was a child.

I know that you will welcome my boy friend into our family with open arms. He is kind, and although not well educated, he is ambitious. Although he is of a different race and religion than ours, I know your often-expressed tolerance will not permit you to be bothered by that.

Now that I have brought you up to date, I want to tell you that there was no dormitory fire, I did not have a concussion or skull fracture, I was not in the hospital, I am not pregnant, I am not engaged, and there is no boy friend in my life. However, I am getting a D in History and F in Science and I want you to see those marks in their proper perspective.

Your loving daughter,
Susie."

Since this is the season of the report card, I thought this letter from an anonymous writer might be appropriate required reading for a parent who is tempted to destroy his offspring.

Completes teaching assignment

Western Michigan University students who plan to become classroom teachers are fulfilling their directed teaching assignments in schools throughout Michigan this semester.

Cathy Richardson, whose home is in Clarkston, has been working at the Norrix School in Kalamazoo, toward a degree in secondary education.

She will be among a total of 1,844 WMU education majors who will complete their practical experience in classrooms with the close of winter semester in April. They have been teaching since January under skilled supervisors in the various schools.

No safe way to look at March 9 eclipse

There is no safe way to look directly at an eclipse of the sun. That's the warning from Dr. Gerald Rice, Michigan public health director. "Even though there isn't any glare, there are still dangerous infra-red rays which can permanently burn your eyesight in a split second, without any feeling of pain at all."

A similar eclipse on July 20, 1963 is reported to have permanently damaged at least 20 persons viewing it in an improper manner.

Smoked glass, exposed film, special filters, sunglasses and welding goggles are extremely dangerous devices for viewing the eclipse, Dr. Rice pointed out.

One safe, indirect method devised by the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness is called a Sunscope. The device is made from a cardboard carton with a pinhole in one end to act as a lens and a piece of white paper pasted inside on the other end to act as an image screen. By placing the carton over your head and viewing the sun's image on the screen, the eclipse can be viewed indirectly safely.

A sharper image can be produced by cutting a larger hole in the box and taping a piece of aluminum foil over the hole and making a pinhole in the foil.

Dr. Rice warned not to look directly at the sun through the pinhole. "You stand with your back to the sun," he said.

The eclipse will begin about noon, Saturday, March 7 and reach its mid-point around 1:30 p.m.

Another less effective, but also, safe, indirect method uses 2 pieces of white cardboard. A pinhole in the top cardboard serves as the lens to project the image of the eclipse onto the second cardboard.

Dr. Rice suggests, "If the eclipse is being televised in your area, your best view will be the one on your television set."

The CHS band will be traveling to Pontiac Northern High School on March 7, for the annual High School Band Festival. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Schadel, the band will be rated on a scale of five points (a one being the highest that can be achieved.) In three past trips to the Festival, our band has not received higher than a four. This year hopes are held high for an improved rating.
