Bob Talbert, inside - the - back - page - of - the - front - section - of - the - Detroit Free Press columnist, said, after seeing Lauren Bacall in "Applause" at the Fisher Theatre, she had smiling faces on her knees.

I saw Lauren Bacall in "Applause" at the Fisher and I say the faces on her knees are those of cherubs.

Regardless, "Applause" is the best show of this season at the Fisher. As short as my memory is I'd say right now it's the best of the last 3 seasons.

It moves. It's bright, loud at times, and draws the audience into the scenes. A woman behind me alternately mumbled, "Good for you," and "Oh, no!" depending on the actors' reactions on stage. Usually the Fisher crowd sits quietly, clapping only when appropriate and never mumbling.

I didn't think Lauren Bacall was the whole show. The story's about a middle aged actress being forced aside by crafty, beguiling young thing, so a middle aged actress is necessary like Miss Bacall. She's good, but I had the feeling someone else could be just as good.

It's the supporting cast, especially in the singing and dancing scenes in the actors' bar near the theatre.

Scenes change quickly and often. It's almost worth the admission price just to watch the scenery moved about.

If you're a World War 2'er you'll melt during Miss Bacall's singing of songs of this era. At the same time you'll get hit solidly with the generation gap. Gad! We are getting Dan Fife got together with men who coached him in Clarkston High School Sunday long enough to get this picture. It was the first the men had seen Dan to congratulate him on being named captain of the University of Michigan basketball team for next season. Left of Dan is Mel Vaara, who had Dan the first 5 games of his freshman season. After that he was pulled up to the varsity where Dom Mauti, far right, was coach. After that season Mauti left coaching for an administrative post and Bud McGrath became Dan's coach. "It wasn't a case of me having Dan," McGrath said. "He had me," and proud they all are for Dan's achievements. For a picture story of Dan Fife's basketball career, turn to pages inside.

Hold boy, 16, in brutal killing of township man

An Independence Township youth is being held for observation at St. Clair Hospital in connection with the murder of Paul J. Lammons, also of Independence.

The Oakland County Medical Examiner said Lammons, 50, of 7581 Clintonville, died of injuries resulting from repeated kicking.

He was pronounced dead at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 4:15 a.m. Sunday, 2 hours after deputies found his body in the living room of his home.

old and seeing things differently.

I told someone the other day that newspaper people had some advantage of being able to justify entertainment and travel expense because they are usually with subscribers and/or advertisers.

It dawned on me at the time that there is a profession that is better able to write-off dinners and what-have-you than I. That would be preachers. They can hardly go anywhere but what they can find someone they think needs their guidance.

An old Navy buddy from Wisconsin stopped in recently. Over there when someone goes all out they use the expression "Wall to wall." Too, everyone is a "Packer backer," and the juvenile officer in his home town is nick-named "Diaper Dick."

After seeing my son head off for school in the morning I came to the conclusion that his mode of dress was convenient. Should he have a job after school in the coal mines he wouldn't have to change clothes before going to work. Is the same true of your high school boy?

According to Undersheriff Leo Hazen, Eric Standring, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Standring of 7684 Clintonville, accompanied Lammons when Lammons was asked to get his guitar from his home to entertain at a party hosted by the Standrings. Mr. and Mrs. Lammons were attending the party.

Deputies said the youth, a sophomore at Clarkston High School, and Lammons left the Standring home at midnight. The Standrings made several telephone calls to the Lammons home when the 2 failed to return.

The deputies said the youth came home at 2 a.m. covered with blood and was incoherent. They found Lammons lying face down in a pool of blood in the living room of the house.

Hazen said his department may seek a waiver from Juvenile Court to try the youth as an adult.

Mr. Lammons was employed as a tool grinder at National Twist Drill in Avon Township. He is a member of St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church and Cedar Lodge 60, F&AM.

Surviving besides his wife, Alice, is a daughter, Mrs. Bruce Brown of Rochester, N. Y., 4 grandchildren, 2 brothers and 3 sisters, all of Florida.

Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home conducted services Wednesday and burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Mancelona, Mich. There were Masonic services Tuesday evening.

Mauti thankful

The bomb was late

For a little while last Friday afternoon Dom Mauti held a bomb in his hands. He didn't know it.

It exploded about 20 minutes later, 30 minutes after it was set for.

At the start of this school year, Mauti went to Rochester as assistant principal of Rochester Adams High School. He had been in the Clarkston school system several years and still lives here at 6164 Lakeview.

A phone call came to the school at 3:20 Friday warning of a bomb threat. The caller said the bomb was set for 4:00. Mauti called the authorities, the school was vacated and searched. Nothing was found.

At about 4:10 Mauti was in a boys' lavatory and noticed a soap dispenser in the wash bowl. He picked it up and put it back in the wall rack.

That dispenser was the bomb.

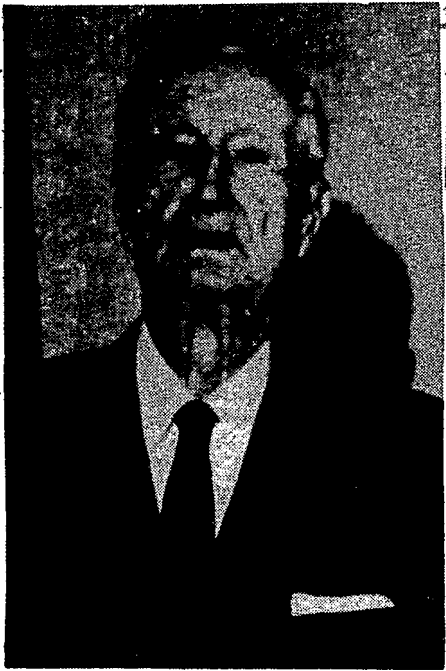

It exploded at 4:30. The soap dispenser was shattered, but little other damage was reported.

Deputies said the bomb was constructed with brass pipe filled with some sort of explosive.

Guy Walter dead at 95

Guy A. Walter, who lived all his 95 years in Clarkston, died Sunday morning. He lived at 81 N. Main in a home built by his father 84 years ago.

Mr. Walter was born Dec. 9, 1874 on a farm 2½ miles east of Clarkston and was graduated from Clarkston High School in 1892. The next year he got a job in Detroit as a drug clerk. Later he returned to Clarkston and opened a grocery and drug store in the building now occupied by Clarkston Sporting Goods.

With 2 partners, Mr. Walter helped organize the wholesale business, Whitfield, Walter and Dawson Wholesale Grocers. This business grew to a gross of $7½ million a year. It was located in Pontiac.

About 1913, after the failure of the E. Jossmon State Bank, Mr. Walter helped organize the Clarkston State Bank and he served as president for 2 years. He again served as president from 1948 to 1965 at which time it was merged with the Pontiac State Bank. He was on the Board of Directors the entire period.

He was a member of the United Methodist Church, Clarkston Rotary Club and Cedar Lodge 60 F&AM.

Surviving are his wife, the former Viola Algar; a son, Harland of Birmingham; 8 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

Memorial services were Tuesday from Sharpe-Goyette Funeral Home and burial was in Lakeview Cemetery.

Board denys gas station

The decision of the village Board of Appeals to deny a Boron station at the corner of Waldon and Main has not yet brought court action.

It is still being considered. Attorney David C. Hertler said Tuesday he was meeting with his client, James Leon, later this week to discuss the matter. There "may be" court action, he said.

Last Tuesday night the Board gave unanimous approval to a resolution denying Leon and Boron Oil the permit to build a station on the lot.

The denial was based on increased traffic hazard, possibility of polluting the stream on the back of the property, lack of curb cuts on Waldon and possible violation of the Michigan Plat Act.

There was also some question as to whether necessary consent of surrounding property owners was obtained in accordance with the village ordinance.

Members of the Appeals Board are: Howard Huttenlocher, chairman; Mrs. Dean Smith, Harry Yoh, R. E. Spohn and Thomas Boyns. Boyns missed this meeting.

Busy season here for conservatory

The current season at the Clarkston Conservatory of Music is one filled with lectures, teaching, tours, concerts and recitals; teachers and students alike.

Taras Hubicki, violin instructor, has just left with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra on its annual Midwestern tour. Mr. Hubicki has been a violinist with the Symphony since 1942.

Ivan Rouse, director of the conservatory, addressed the Saginaw Piano Forum recently on the subject, Contemporary Piano Literature for High School Students. The lecture was well attended by teachers in Saginaw and professors from Delta College.

Connie Grubaugh, voice instructor, presented a program for the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale in late fall. She was assisted at the piano by Adele Thomas, accompanist at Oakland University and champion of good music in Clarkston.

Ballet students, under the guidance of Mary Frizzell, are enjoying the added space that the Knights of Columbus Hall provides for instruction.

John Williams, pianist and teacher, continues his work here and as accompanist at Wayne State University. Mr. Williams is vocal coach for the current production at the Bonstelle Playhouse of Donizetti's opera, "Don Pasquale." In this production also is Kenneth Young, who appears as Don Pasquale. Mr. Young is from the Clarkston area and is the grandson of the late Emma Young.

3rd operation successful, coming home

Barbie Kevern underwent her third operation Thursday, and is still expected home by Easter.

In fact, she may have a few days to spare. A neighbor of the Keverns, Mrs. Doris Beattie, told the News Monday that Barbie "hopes to be home the 26th."

She also reported the 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kevern, 5976 Hummingbird, is "coming along fine."

Barbie is in Children's Hospital in Boston undergoing surgery to correct abnormalities caused by cerebral palsy. She is in a body cast that extends from her armpits to her toes.

The cast won't make traveling easy, but American Airlines is going to make Barbie as comfortable as possible. They have agreed to make space available.

The Girls are 60

This week marks the 60th birthday of the Camp Fire Girls. It has been celebrated here with activities all week, including the Ma-Ca-Ki-Ya group having an international tea. Mrs. Houshang Wekili and her children from Iran were guests.

The Bright Blue Birds of Sashabaw Elementary School performed the flag ceremony for the March PTA meeting and the Friendly Doves combined a cookie-bake-in with a slumber party at Mrs. Robert Whaley's home.

The 2 junior high groups worked together for their service project — wrapping and mailing the cookies to men in Vietnam.

A mother-daughter banquet Thursday evening at Sashabaw Junior High will feature a puppet show.

Several new groups are forming in this area, and young women 18 and up are volunteering their services as leaders of small groups of 6-11 year old Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds.

Leadership is needed for groups in the Sashabaw, Andersonville and Clarkston Elementary School areas. Information is available at the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls, 132 Franklin Blvd., Pontiac; telephone Mrs. Robert Johnson, Field Director, 332-3827 or 332-1721. Just to get a patch

Girl Scouts of Troop 206 slept overnight in below 30 degree temperatures recently to get to wear a patch noting the accomplishment.

The girls were participating in the annual Senior Girl Scout Freeze-in at Camp Oweki, the Camp Fire Girls camping facility on Gulick Lake.

Thirty Girl Scouts from the Northern Oakland Council were involved. Troop 206 were hosts.

The freeze-in is to test the winter camping ability of the girls. They must live out of doors for at least 18 hours in temperatures 30 degrees or below, with only their sleeping bags and a half bale of hay.

Miss Janette Gudgel, staff, Mrs. Dorothy Graham, senior advisor to the senior planning board and Miss Esther Schultz, advisor troop 491 were consultants.

Scout awards to Debbie & Ranette

Girl Scout Troop 210 is planning a camping trip to Paradise Beach on May 15. The girls will be joined by other Scouts from Troop 453.

February 11, at the Court of Awards meeting, fifty-six merit badges were awarded to members of Troop 210. Receiving the coveted Sign of the Star and Sign of the Arrow awards were Debbie Freitag and Ranette Byers. This

If we only knew where she stands

Lenore Romney has become the consensus candidate of the Republican party for the office of Senator from Michigan. She'll be opposed in the August primary by Robert Huber and maybe others. The GOP's ultimate goal is to defeat Phil Hart in November.

John Knight, head of the Knight newspapers which includes the Free Press, said Sunday that Michigan papers were not being kind to Mrs. Romney and indicated that she was probably as qualified to serve as Rep. Martha Griffiths and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith.

Mr. Knight is much more often right than we, but one has to wonder at supporting Mrs. Romney after her statements to a New York Times reporter.

On the nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell to the Supreme Court, Mrs. R. questioned whether he met her standards of excellence and she voiced doubt about his racial views, but she implied she would support him.

She favored a missile defense system, but "certainly wouldn't want to spend an awful lot on it."

On the Vietnam war, she said: "I think the war should have ended the day before yesterday." Then she indicates strong support of the President's Vietnamization program and his troop withdrawal schedule . . . both of which are hardly aimed at "ending the war the day before yesterday."

Before the second party meeting to vote her a consensus

"If It Fitz . . ."

Let's hear it in church

By Jim Fitzgerald

It has always bothered me that applause is forbidden in church sanctuaries.

I hear some fine speeches and great singing in church. And I've often been embarrassed by the dead silence which follows these splendid performances. If it were a Rotary meeting, or even a fellowship meeting in another part of the church building, there would be great clapping of hands.

But the performance is given in somehow "sacred territory" and the performers receive only hurried assurance from the pastor that "we all enjoyed that."

Admittedly, part of my problem is I don't attend church regularly. I depend on touts to let me know when something special, something down my alley, is planned. It doesn't matter what church, synagogue or Gospel tent. If the program appeals to me, I'm liable to slip in late and grab a seat in the back.

As a result, I generally hear the "specials" more apt to satisfy. Regular churchgoers might well say that on most Sundays there is a lot not to clap about.

It was several years ago that I created a mild ruckus by writing why I don't go to church every Sunday. My complaint is that too many churches for too many years have encouraged or at least ignored white racism rather than fight it as Jesus Christ would have. This is no attempt to revive that argument. I mention it only to explain what I was doing in church last Wednesday. I was touted on to a good one.

The speaker was Fr Fred Williams, the black pastor of an Episcopal Church in the Detroit area. He was introduced by my favorite Chinese minister. And the audience, filling the sanctuary of Lapeer's Episcopal church, was made up equally of Protestants and Roman Catholics, including nuns and priests. As a man whispered in my ear that night, "This is a natural for a nut like you."

Fr Williams expressed surprise — and delight — that a town of 6,000 lily-white persons could produce such a crowd to hear a Negro sound off. And then he candidate Mrs. Romney said she was a reluctant candidate, willing to run only to hold the party together. Then she left the state and didn't appear all week to work at "holding the party together."

In her first news conference in support of her candidacy Mrs. Romney came out against programs of almost any kind. "We have enough programs of ill-conceived projects that have done little or nothing to stem rising crime, delinquency, drug addiction, pollution and the cost of living; nothing to strengthen the moral fiber and undergirding of our very nation."

At the same time she seemed generally to support the policies of President Nixon.

Mrs. Romney might make it to the Senate. She has that political ability to be able to talk out of both sides of her mouth at once.

Clean it out

While Mom is busy in the kitchen, a 2-year-old boy wanders into the bathroom. He reaches for a bottle of shiny red pills. They look like candy to him. Just as he is about to pop a few into his mouth, Mom comes rushing in, alarmed by his sudden silence. A tragedy prevented. But it could have happened.

Each year more than one million cases of poisoning are reported in the United States. Severe adverse drug reactions rank seventh in causes for admission to many hospitals.

March 15 to 21 is National Poison Prevention Week. Why not pitch in and do your share to make the week worth while.

Why not make a special effort this week to look through your house — closets, medicine cabinets and drawers — for old medicines and toxic substances which should be locked up or thrown away.

Examine the "harmless seeming" items like perfume, nail polish, hair rinse, bubble bath, as well as aspirin, cough medicine, sleeping pills, tranquilizers and even vitamins. The really dangerous poisons are the substances we tend to take for granted.

Do a spring clean-up. Don't poison your child!

More and more people in Independence Township are reading the News for news of this area. Just $4.00 a year in Michigan. Call 625-3370.

To sum it up succinctly, Fr Williams said too many Christians really aren't. Too many hide from the problems of racism and other evils. Whose fault is it? He quoted Pogo of the comics: "We have met the enemy and he is us."

Father Williams criticized Nixon's appointment of Judge Carswell to the Supreme Court. He noted that Spiro Agnew "is the biggest kook on the front page." And he rapped a "Victorian clergy guilty of village thinking."

It was the kind of stuff many people think should not be said in church. I think church is where it SHOULD be said, first, last and always.

After the speech, there were questions. Someone asked "what can we small-town people do?" Another man stood up and said some nice things about me, God bless him. We've never met and he didn't know I was in the back pew. "What this town needs is more Jim Fitzgeralds," he said as I discovered I can still blush.

The least I could do, upon request from the altar, was take a small bow. And, omigosh, a smattering of applause was heard throughout the sanctuary!

(To keep my humble image, I hasten to admit I was dealing with a stacked deck. Many of those people were automatically on my side or they would not have been there listening to a Negro preacher. If that unknown man had so praised me most anywhere else, he'd have been hooted down and possibly slugged. When I write a column like this, the mail reaction is usually 4 to 1 in favor of deporting me to the nearest ghetto).

Anyway, my point today is the applause. Maybe a precedent was set. I got only a few claps. But when Fr Williams said good night, the clapping was practically thunderous. In the sanctuary!

It was splendid. I recommend it to all parsons. And anytime the guest speaker is Fred Williams, I'll be glad to come lead the clapping.

I'll even throw in some whistles and cheers. "C'mon, let's hear it out there, brethren."

Let kids smoke, teachers teach

March 13, 1970

Dear Editor,

The new policy in the high school of allowing the students to supervise and maintain their own bathroom facilities is a realistic and intelligent improvement.

Students are showing initiative in offering to supervise their own facilities. They are doing the job with an efficiency that makes faculty efforts to control vandalism look pretty weak. For the first time these kids are taking pride in a part of the school as theirs. Their pride is worth something, isn't it?

Every institution except the school has given up on enforcing the state law against minors smoking. What could be more destructive to the educational process than requiring teachers and administrators to be constantly preoccupied with the issue of smoking? Is it educational to be suspended from school for smoking? If anything is learned, it is that adults are hypocritical and that they deserve the alienation of youth.

In the high school we've been fighting a battle that was lost years ago.

Withdrawal from the battle may cause us to lose face; continuing the battle is costly, useless and stupid. As long as adults smoke, kids will smoke.

I interpret Mr. Dennis' move as the act of a brave man. He saw a fault in the system creating an unnecessary problem, and he acted to improve the situation in the most practical way. He was willing to do the unpopular thing, because it was right.

I regret that some people have interpreted this change as a weakening of authority.

I wish those people could see what I have.

Respect among students for Mr. Dennis and the administration has been high since he dared to be sensible.

The people of the community would enjoy the comfort of thinking that the school is doing the job of fighting smoking. It has never fought smoking effectively and fighting smoking isn't the school's job.

Please, let us educate.

Margaret Best

Any improvement is to the benefit of the student

March 16, 1970

Dear Editor,

As a student at Clarkston High School, I wish to comment on the letters that the News has received pertaining to the "smoking room" that has supposedly been started in the school.

Unless the concerned parents have actually been in the school (during a normal school day) and seen the conditions of the lavs, they should not make judgment of the situation. In spite of the school's efforts, the lavs have remained messy, unsanitary, smoke-filled disaster areas, thanks to certain students. Since the new arrangement, there has been a definite improvement in the overall condition. ANY improvement is to the benefit of the student.

It is a mistake to call this a smoking room. It is no such thing. It is simply a lavatory where a student/administration agreement has been put into effect. Teachers will not police that lav as long as it remains in satisfactory condition.

It is ironic when one realizes that it's probably the sons and daughters of the concerned parents who were the original causes of the need for monitors.

They are probably the ones who found it necessary to have a quick smoke between classes or sit on the lav floor and eat their lunch.

And now their parents are wailing that it will corrupt their children if a non-monitored lav is allowed to exist.

Personally, I question the upbringing of any student who sits on the bathroom floor to eat his lunch. If it is true that children reflect their home life, there must be some pretty horrible bathrooms in some Clarkston area homes.

Sincerely,
A Student

Let's vote abortion laws, not let politicians decide

6360 Eastlawn
Clarkston, Mich.

Dear Editor,

The public hearings on abortion are now over. Our area news media have taken a "me-too" stand in support of abortion.

The right to life is guaranteed to us by the constitution. No court or legislator can change this. Let a referendum vote this November decide how the Michigan public values our most treasured right.

There is too much vote trading in politics to trust a right to life to political maneuvering.

Only a few days ago one of our area senators traded his previously anti-abortion vote for the vote in favor of the 4c cigarette tax.

Imagine a swap of the right to existence for four cents on a package of cigarettes!

Daylight savings time was put before the voter, yet would we leave the most important issue up to the whims of a few neurotic, negative prophets of doom, who try desperately to influence our legislators?

First Marine at Arsenal

Dear Editor,

Sgt. John Cowan, Sr. is attending the automotive training school at the Warren Tank Arsenal in Warren. After graduation March 13, Sgt. Cowan will return to Camp LeJeune, North Carolina, where he is an automotive instructor.

He is a career man in the U.S. Marine Corps and lives in North Carolina with his wife and 4-year-old son, John Jr. His wife, Laureen, is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jaenichen, 8877

Dixie Hwy. in Springfield Twp. Sgt. Cowan is staying with his wife's grandparents until graduation.

He has spent two years in Vietnam with the 2nd Marine Division 126 Marines in Khe Sanh, where he was wounded three times. He received the Purple Heart, and is authorized to wear the Combat V Medal ETC.

He is the first Marine ever to be sent to the automotive training school at the U.S. Tank Arsenal in Warren.

Letters to the Editor

Lavatories cleaner since smoking has been allowed

Dear Editor,

In last week's paper I read a letter about smoking in the high school lavatories. The person writing the article was terribly incorrect about the whole situation.

While there are lavatories for smoking, not all of them may be used as smoking rooms, and students that are smoking in these are justly punished.

As for the teachers making some sort of noise before they enter, this is another incorrect statement. The teachers walk in and out as they please and give no warnings.

The ash trays were put there as a joke by the students, and not by the school.

Since smoking is allowed in some lavatories, they are 100 percent cleaner and the vandalism has stopped completely.

As for the suggestion of having private citizens patrol the halls and lavatories, this is a totally asinine idea. The money spent for their pay could be put to a much better use, such as buying new mechanical drawing tables that are so desperately needed.

I also feel that if the students want to smoke they will find a way to do so no matter what anybody does or says. I think that Mr. Dennis is doing a fine job in trying to find a solution to this problem.

Bill Latoza

Applauds principals action

To the editor,

As a student of Clarkston High School, I feel compelled to answer a recent letter regarding smoking at the high school.

School officials DO NOT condone the smoking, nor do they like it. Instead, they are taking a sensible, realistic and practical view of the problem. By doing this, they have arrived at a sensible, realistic and practical solution, not appeasement, but a sane approach to the smoking problem.

In answer to the question, who is running the school, let me tell you one thing, it is definitely not the students (much to my dismay).

Instead of griping about this new change in policy, both students and parents should unite behind Mr. Dennis and the constructive effort he has made to alleviate the smoking problem.

Robert J. Garner

PEEKIN' into the PAST

10 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS

March 24, 1960

Mrs. H. E. Richmond has been appointed North District Chairman by the Oakland Girl Scout Council at Pontiac. Mrs. Richmond is completing her 15th year in scouting.

There is to be a fluoride application clinic held in the Clarkston area schools. The topical application of sodium fluoride reduces tooth decay by about 40 per cent! Remember, teeth are the only part of the body which cannot heal or repair themselves.

Gar Wilson hosted a surprise going-away party for Bill White, Saturday evening at his home on Waldon Road. The guest list included: Naomi Armstrong, Bobo Christides, Harold Weston, Sandy Asher, Bob Walker, Larry Blackett, Gay Ann Hoffman, Kathy Taylor, Ron Walter, Jack McCall, Cheryl Ellibee, Nancy Elembaum, Richard Caverly, Shirley Bauer, Skip Bonner and Sharon Dawley.

25 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS

March 23, 1945

Last Sunday, following a family dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Leak honoring her brother, Lt. B. C. Rasmunson and his bride, open house was held at the home of Lt. Rasmunson's mother, Mrs. George Perry on the Dixie Hwy.

Mrs. Russell Coltson is teaching a home nursing course for senior and junior girls at Clarkston High School. This is a one hour class three times a week.

Miss Charlotte Ann Maybee, Miss Corrine Stites and Miss Jean Girst arrived home from Michigan State College on Wednesday of last week to enjoy their Easter vacation.

Help raise state

Cedar Chapter, Order of DeMolay, has been rated first in their district and 5th in Michigan in Efficiency. The announcement came at the spring workshop March 14 at Bay City. There are 90 chapters in the state.

HONOREE — Roy Gundry, 21 Miller Rd., past master of Cedar Lodge 60, F&AM, Clarkston, was honored Wednesday night by having a class named in his honor by the Cedar Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

Attending the workshop from here were Tim Easton, Rich Love, Mike Thomas, Jeff Smith, Fred Merz, Bill Jackson, Mike Pettit, Tudor ApMadoc, Jay Hotchkiss, Gerald Kenyon and Greg Kenyon with advisors Lloyd Easton and Joe Saul.

The Cedar Chapter was also given credit for helping Michigan finish first in the International Sweepstake of Representative DeMolay awards. This was the first time Michigan has ever received this honor.

Eighth Clarkston Chapter members received their Representative DeMolay awards in February, Gerald Kenyon, Tudor ApMadoc, Randy Porter, Nathan Hill, Tom Kranich, Jack Sansom, Doug Kath, and Clifford Gardner.

Army tea Wed.

A film on Salvation Army hospital work in India will highlight the Army's annual tea here Wednesday, March 25. Title of the film is "Miracle Hill."

The Clarkston Salvation Army unit is at 29 Buffalo.

A door prize will be given at the tea and everyone will receive a token to take home. It's a public showing.

Child poisoning

There's a stage all children go through, when they begin exploring the world about them. Everything has to be climbed up on or lifted or opened, or smelled or touched or tasted. This is how children learn that stoves burn and that chairs are heavy, and it's natural for them to encounter an occasional mishap.

But it also results in a half-million American children being poisoned each year. Once a youngster gets into the medicine cabinet and starts sampling the little bottles of "candy," there's trouble. Those adult sleeping pills, laxatives and pain killers can be dangerous — especially when the child can't tell you how many he has taken of which pill.

Also, there is that supply of common household products which are poisonous, even though they're not labeled as such: bleaches, lighter fluid, furniture polish and cleaning compounds. The child's undeveloped taste buds may not keep him from swallowing things that would taste awful to an older child.

Almost every pharmacist can tell you about the calls he has received from distraught mothers who want to know what to do in such an emergency. He can probably give you the advice you need and can rush over any necessary supplies. However, some complicated poisonings demand hospital attention, and you should have that telephone number handy.

We'll also be glad to give you suggestions on how to prevent poisonings, and how to minimize the danger from such an accident.

Repeat the question

Next June our boy Jack graduates from High School. Least Eff and I sure hope he does. Marks are just fair.

Couple colleges been talking with him about basketball scholarships, but he just don't know. Like he says, he hasn't decided if college is his bag. Silly way to say it, but guess that's the way the young ones figure they got to talk. All this business the kids blabber about on bags and the establishment and all just kind of confuses old Eff and me.

Schools weren't too much interested in Jack last year. High scorer on the basketball team, he was, but seems that at 5'11" he was some kind of shrimp. Then last spring and summer he shoots up near four inches more. Forgot he was supposed to stop growing.

Fellow from Southern State Teachers talked to me last week and said that happens once in a while. Jack won't turn 18 until July, so guess it isn't too awful unusual. Fellow says he still isn't really tall enough for college ball, but they're willing to gamble he'll sprout maybe couple inches more.

Now when I played High School basketball, I was 5'8" and jumped center. Guess maybe in our little boon-docks school there was maybe two guys as tall as 6 feet and both of 'em had like six thumbs. Fact is, they both played basketball so we could fill out a team plus three subs, but I could out-jump either one, easy.

Awkward, they were, and folks said they were both so slow and lazy on account they grewed too fast. Today even 6'3" is maybe some kind of midget, no matter if you handle a ball like the Harlem Globetrotters.

Both these here schools promise our Jack everything but a key to the college president's office. Way they tell it, he can have special tutors to get him over any humps and a good paying job besides that won't take him too much time. Guy at Southern says all he'll have to do is feed the white rats in the lab once an evening when he's in town and when he isn't, don't worry.

Don't really seem right making it so easy for Jack, but we couldn't send him to no school at all at the prices they get today. Even old Eff, straight-laced as she is about give-away stuff, says that the scholarships are going to someone—so why not Jack.

Natural thing, we're thinking too about the draft and how even if he can stick college out for only two, three years the crumby war will maybe be over.

That's another thing about this crazy kid. He says college sure isn't his bag and the whole deal is rotten if he gets out of the draft by being 6'3" or 6'4" instead of 5'10".

Kid gets me, kind of, on the way he says 5'10" like it was maybe what you'd expect of some pigmy tribe way up the Amazon. Guess he forgets his old dad is 5'8" or maybe less now, after I've been doing a little shrinking. No matter that the sneer in the way he said it wasn't actual meant for me. It was more like he was just poking fun at that being any way to get in college.

Thing is, he don't want no special draft favours, but he says the whole thing's wrong anyhow and he's not going to fight the dirty war so the establishment can keep making money on guns and planes and the waste of human life. Guesses he'll take off for Canada.

Sure is a mixed up kid. Don't want no special treatment unless it's special treatment he works out for himself, so he can spit in the face of the folks that make the rules.

Too bad this chance couldn't of come to our next boy, Mike. He's a sophomore this year and a real good student. Mike will maybe get a scholarship for his good marks, though. Still, he's starting to talk about how rotten the older generation is, too. Shakes me up pretty bad when little Mike asks me if I really think the world will be any better off because I've lived here. What kind of question is that for a dumb kid to be asking his old man.

Even our girl, Willie—that's for Wilhemina—is starting to talk like everybody over 30 must of crawled out from under a rock. Respectful, she is, but she sure gets steamed up when she gets talking about things she doesn't understand.

If the truth must come out, these blooming kids have always had it too good. They think maybe the most important things aren't just to make a living and keep your nose clean. Could be, too, like old Eff says, they ask too many questions about stuff that we've never thought we had time to worry over. Only consolation is that before long, they'll have their own kids to put them on the old hot griddle.

Plans include Chuck Granger

Slender Chuck Granger of Clarkston is one of the big reasons why coach Lynn Reed of Oakland-Highland Lakes figures there are better things ahead in basketball for the squad in the Michigan Community Junior College Athletic Association.

The 6-4 Granger, a 1969 graduate of Clarkston High School, averaged 12.3 points a game this past season while the Highlanders were compiling an 11-14 record. Granger's average was good enough for the No. 2 spot on the team, and he'll be on hand next fall as will the team's top point producer, Don Rachael.

With the 6-4 Granger and 6-8 Rachael — who averaged 23 points a game — on hand, a productive season could be at hand.

The display window of a jewelry shop exhibited a group of unusually beautiful gold crosses, some inlaid with diamonds, some with other precious jewels. The price was neatly displayed beside each cross. Underneath the whole group was a modest sign reading, "On Easy Terms."

Here is what many of us have done with the cross on which our Master gave His life. We have gilded its bloodstained beams to make a charm for a necklace. We accept the cross on easy terms.

The One who hung upon the cross, however, never appealed to men to follow Him because easy terms could be arranged, or because if the price was inconvenient, ways could be worked out to accommodate them. Rather, He tried to discourage His listeners from forsaking their usual way of life in order to follow Him unless they were prepared to make tremendous personal sacrifices. "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself and take up his cross daily and follow me." (Luke 9:23)

It has been said that there are four types of Christians: the tired Christian, always complaining about how much he has to do; the retired Christian who says, "I have done my share, I have earned a rest, let someone else do it;" the tiresome Christian who lacks sparkle and enthusiasm about his task; and the tireless Christian who considers it a privilege to wear himself out in the cause of laboring for Christ.

If we are going to be followers of Christ, are we going to take the cross on easy terms... or are we going to pay the price in discipline and self-denial?

March 31 L-Day deadline nears

"L Day" is drawing ever closer about one-third of Michigan's vehicle owners ... the procrastinators who have not purchased 1970 license plate for their cars and motorcycles.

Secretary of State James M. H. predicted the usual last-minute rush branch offices throughout the state even though by law the deadline was extended this year from the last day in February March 31.

"I would suggest that persons who have not bought their '70 plates get them before mid-March," said Hare. At the end of February, sales were running more than a half-million behind last year.

Commercial and trailer owners deadline was February 28.

The following items are necessary when purchasing 1970 plates:

... Proof of liability insurance.
... Prepared license plate application mailed some time ago to most vehicle owners or a filled-out application available at any branch office.

... And enough money to cover the license plate fee at 55c for each 10 pounds of weight of the vehicle plus additional dollar for insured vehicles. ... persons who own uninsured vehicles will have to pay the $35.

Uninsureds are reminded that the IS NOT STATE INSURANCE. If a vehicle continues to be uninsured.

He formerly attended Kalamazoo College. A June 20 wedding is planned.

Kutting Korner

By Jean Sura

For years we have been serving ham for Easter dinner. That is fine. Here are 4 ham glazes in case you are going to serve it again this year.

1. 1 cup brown sugar, 1 tablespoon dry mustard, ½ cup pickle juice or spiced fruit juice.
2. 1 cup brown sugar and ¾ cup crushed pineapple.
3. 1 cup cranberry or currant jelly.
4. 2 cups gingerale.

Chop up hard cooked eggs and put in a medium cream sauce. Add cubed ham. Serve in patty shells. If it is just for the family, spoon it over toast.

A good way to use up all those Easter eggs is to serve them as Deviled Eggs. Here are a few variations.

DEVILED EGGS

- 6 hard-cooked eggs, halved lengthwise
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup mayonnaise

Save egg whites. Mash yolks and mix with rest of ingredients. For variations you can add one of the following:
1 can flaked tuna
½ cup sour (commercial) cream in place of mayonnaise
¼ pound (about 8 slices) crisp fried and crumbled bacon

- 1 (2¼ oz. can) deviled ham
 - 2/3 cup sharp shredded cheese (with this use a little more mayonnaise)
 - 1 (8 oz.) can salmon with juice, (skin and bones removed)
- Pile into egg white halves. Garnish with parsley and sprinkle with paprika.

Here is a delicious Easter dessert, timely because of the religious connection that Easter and eggs are a symbol of new life.

ANGEL PIE

- 4 egg whites, beat until frothy
 - ¼ teaspoon cream of tartar and continue beating until stiff enough to hold a point
 - 1 cup granulated sugar. Add slowly and beat slowly until sugar is dissolved
- Spread in a 9 inch pie pan like a pie crust.
Bake for 20 minutes at 275 degrees and 40 minutes at 300.

Filling

Beat 4 egg yolks, add ½ cup sugar gradually. Add 3 tablespoons of lemon juice and 2 teaspoons grated rind. Cook in double boiler until thickened. Remove from heat and cool. When crust is cool whip 1 cup heavy cream and spread one half over the crust. Add cooled custard (little bits at a time) and top with the rest of the whipped cream. Sprinkle top with coconut if desired. Chill in refrigerator. Happy Easter.

Women's Club hold Calendar sale

Clarkston Women's Club's annual community calendar sale will begin tomorrow, March 20.

This year's co-chairmen, Mrs. Stanley Darling and Mrs. Arlon Perry, announced that the selling packets are ready for distribution to the Women's Club members by the area captains.

These calendars will be sold from house-to-house during the next few weeks. They can be purchased from any member of the Women's Club, or by calling one of the co-chairmen.

Birthdays and anniversaries of local residents are printed on the calendar for a small fee. These dates will be taken when the calendars are sold.

Mrs. William Vastine is in charge of securing the advertisements from the local merchants, which will appear on the calendars.

Mrs. Charles Warman and Mrs. John Harken are co-chairmen in charge of securing the dates for the local club meetings, community events, school activities, sports events and village meetings that will appear on the calendar. The calendars are printed and distributed during the summer and start with September, 1970.

A picture of the new Clarkston library, to which the money is usually donated, will appear on the front of the calendar. This beautiful new library will be dedicated next month, but there is much money to be paid on it yet.

The Women's Club appreciates the cooperation and support the community has given in the past and hopes "we can depend on them to give us their continued support in this, our major fund raising project," said Mrs. Kenneth Whitenton, club president.

Dr. and Mrs. Jack C. Elliott of East Lansing announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Jo, to James B. Rausch, son of Mrs. Bernard Rausch of 6875 Cranberry Lake Rd., and the late Mr. Rausch. Miss Elliott earned her BA degree in English from Michigan State University and Mr. Rausch has a BS in zoology and is currently enrolled as a student of veterinary medicine. They plan to be married July 10.

Palm Sunday 10th birthday

Sunday the Church of the Resurrection (Episcopal) celebrates its 10th anniversary. The celebration comes on Palm Sunday this year, and it was Palm Sunday 10 years ago when the first communion was given.

The Rev. Alex Stewart said the first service was at the home of the Jack Haults on Main street where the Cliff Gardners now live. Bishop Crowley came to give the first Holy Communion.

For the next 5 years, room was rented in Clarkston Elementary School for church services. Then the congregation moved to their new church on Clarkston road.

Mr. Stewart said there are now 100 families in the congregation. He has been minister of the church since 6 months after its organization.

There was to have been a guest speaker for Sunday's celebration, but the speaker is ill and the Rev. Stewart will be in the pulpit. The occasion will be marked, however, by a birthday brunch served after the 10 a.m. service by the youth group.

Spring arrives tomorrow

Two important astronomical events — the vernal equinox and Easter — remain in March, reminds University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh.

The spring season will officially begin at 7:57 p.m. on March 20, nine days before Easter, says Prof. Losh.

Spring begins when the sun enters the vernal equinox, "the point where the sun's path cuts the equator on its way north in its apparent yearly journey," Prof. Losh explains. At that time the sun will shine vertically over the earth's equator, and both hemispheres will share the sunshine about equally that day.

It is not strictly true, however, that the day and night are equal in length on the day of vernal equinox, "due to atmospheric refraction which lifts the sun into view before and after it actually reaches the horizon," Prof. Losh says. "The equal day and night will really come about three days before the equinox."

The moon plays a part in the fixing of the date of Easter, Prof. Losh points out. This year's Easter falls on March 29 because the full moon comes on the 22nd.

The reason is that "the church fathers, gathered in the Council of Nicaea in A.D. 325, decreed that Easter was to be kept on the first Sunday following the 14th day of the moon (almost full moon) that comes on or after the vernal equinox," Prof. Losh explains.

As a result, Easter can occur on any one of 35 days, from March 22 to April 25. In 1943 it came on the latest possible date, April 25, but this will not occur again until 2038. The last time Easter was celebrated on March 22 was in 1818, and the next time will be in 2285.

By Polly Hanson

The Future Teachers of America (FTA) of Clarkston High School are making final plans for their "Swing Into Spring" dance. The dance will be on Friday, March 20, from 8 p.m. until 11 p.m. The FTA is not only hoping to see many high school students there, they would also like to invite all CHS alumni to attend. Further information can be obtained by contacting the FTA officers Margaret Raymer, president; Jane Morse, vice president; Barbara Boyd, secretary-treasurer; Penny Bigger, historian; and Mrs. Shrapnell, sponsor.

Some new faces have been appearing in the halls of CHS. New students? No, they're not, even though they may look like students. They're our new intern teachers and student teachers. In the English department are Ernest Butki, Miss Kathy Liggett and Bernard Travnikar. In the social studies department are Miss Sharon Goodenaw, Mark Kotler and Walter Osmund. The two intern teachers from Central Michigan University are Miss Chris Chrisman in the biology department and Bob Dariat in the industrial arts department.

The student teachers from Oakland University will be in the school for one nine-week period only, while the intern teachers will be here for the remainder of the year.

The architect's drawing of the new Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church shows the education unit on the left. This unit will be built first and will provide a multi-purpose fellowship hall, kitchen office and 4 permanent classrooms with nursery facilities included.

Begin fund drive for new church

Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church, 5331 Maybee Rd., is this week raising funds to build a new church building. The congregation, which was organized in 1840 as First Presbyterian Church of Independence, erected its present white frame house of worship in 1856. This building has been marked as a Michigan Historical Site.

The first step will be to build the education unit, providing for a multi-purpose fellowship hall designed also for classroom spaces, kitchen, office and 4 permanent type classrooms, including nursery facilities. Worship will continue to be held in the present building which is across Maybee Road from the new site.

A kickoff dinner and mass meeting for the fund raising campaign is being held on Wednesday evening at Sashabaw Junior High cafeteria. Sunday afternoon, March 22, will be the time for the home visitation by campaigners requesting pledges to finance the new building.

General chairman for the congregation's Campaign Fund Committee is Herschel R. Fry, Jr., 7129

Glenburnie. Preparation chairman is Robert Cameron, 7910 Dubuque. Promotion chairman is Loren Rumsey, 5248 Sashabaw.

Personnel chairman is Ronald Barry, 3227 Baldwin Rd. Finance chairman is Bernard Speace, 4680 Oak Vista. Arrangements chairman is Oliver Hubbard, 6581 Wealthy.

Planning Committee chairman is Charles Wheeler, 5609 Hummingbird.

These committees will be assisted by a total of 50 workers. In addition, 30 campaigners have been recruited for the Sunday canvass and 12 hostesses are preparing for the kickoff dinner and campaigner's luncheon.

Architects Merritt, Cole and McCallum of Farmington have developed the plans for the new church.

"Sashabaw Church, which dates back to pioneer times, now looks forward to new facilities and a new opportunity to grow and serve its community in the open area of the township," said Pastor Caldwell.

Children talk in Palm Sunday service

This weekend the Christian churches celebrate Palm Sunday, the symbol of victory and joy. At Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass, March 22 will be special in several ways.

Not only will palm crosses be given out as worshippers leave (a triumphant tradition for years), but a special children's sermon will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe.

Called "Join the Parade," this special talk will take place with all the young people ages 3 through 9 sitting in the chancel area as a group. They will participate in the talk, and help dramatize the importance of Christ's coming to Jerusalem to die and rise again.

Parents are being asked to see to it that their children are brought to church at 11:00 a.m. Sunday.

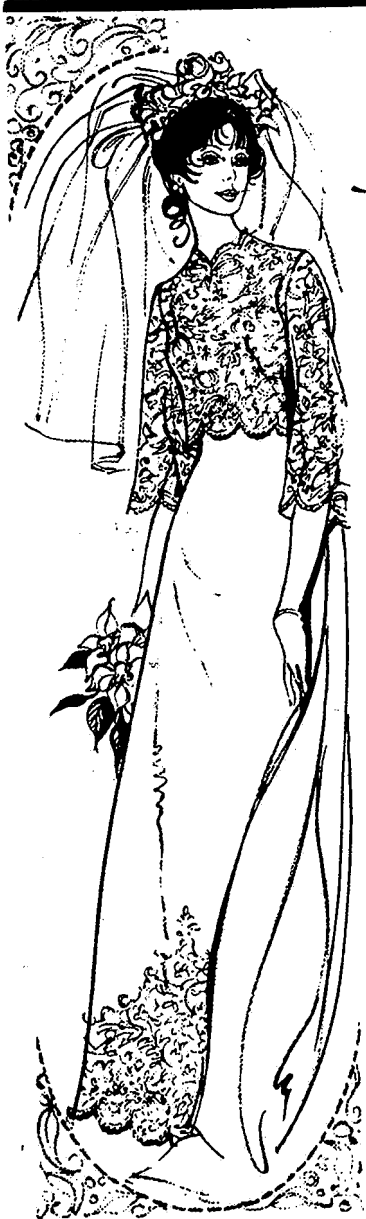

GIRL SCOUT

News

The Sashabaw Neighborhood Girl Scouts gave the Easter Bunny a helping hand this year. To make Easter a little happier for the boys and girls at the Lapeer State Home, the Girl Scouts made 92 baskets. They donated the money to purchase candy to fill them with goodies. The baskets were delivered to Mrs. Rosemary Coulter, Sashabaw Neighborhood Chairman on Mary Sue. Troops participating were:

Cadette Troop 733, Mrs. Gill, leader; Junior Troop 802, Mrs. Lowe, leader; Junior Troop 24, Mrs. Crossman, leader; Junior Troop 57, Mrs. Rose, leader; Junior troop 154, Mrs. LaMontague, leader; Brownie Troop 985, Mrs. Armstead, leader; Brownie Troop, 288, Mrs. Wallace, leader; and Brownie Troop 153, Mrs. Percival, leader.

The baskets will be picked up by Frank Amadure, who approached the Neighborhood with the project.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. McFarland of Independence Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Jeanne Marie, to James W. Penrod. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Penrod of Flint. The bride, a 1965 graduate of Clarkston High School, is a teacher at Clarkston Junior High School. A June wedding is being planned.

Mrs. Vecsei new Nursery president

The Clarkston Cooperative Nursery recently held election of officers for the 1970-71 term. Mrs. Ruth Vecsei, former vice president and membership chairman, is the new president; Mrs. Carole Rausch, vice president; Mrs. Diane McGuane, secretary; Mrs. Heather Matora, treasurer; and Mrs. Barbara Carley, council delegate. These officers succeed Mrs. Judy Gorrie, Mrs. Ann Dean, Mrs. Louise Cohen and Mrs. Kaye Rittinger, respectively.

Members of the pre-school are meeting this evening at the home of Mrs. Heather Matora for an informal round-table discussion on "Sex and the Single Child" led by Mrs. Carole Rausch. This is an initiative program for cooperative nurseries in this area and participation is voluntary. Mrs. Ann Dean was hostess at the first gathering in January when the topic of "Creativity" was introduced by Mrs. Louise Cohen.

Activities for the three and four-year-old children this past month involved an excursion to the local fire house. This was another of their field trips designed to help the boys and girls understand various occupations in the "grown-up" world. On another occasion, Mrs. James Freitag, Transparent, guided the pre-schoolers through her elaborate aquarium.

New members welcomed into the school recently are Mark Ushman, Shannon Moore, Gator Cowie, Deanna Siegert and Michele Barks.

Around the Town

Spring thaws social freeze

The state of Florida has been entertaining some of our area residents the past week or so. Mrs. James Cowen, Beth and Eric of Middle Lake road, have returned from a visit with the children's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Krim of Drayton Plains, who make their winter home down there. The weather was good for swimming and such, but Eric particularly enjoyed his first jet flight.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Jones of Robertson Court spent a very pleasant two weeks in Singer Island, Florida, accompanied by their grandchildren, Tim and Jennifer. The children's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Jones, were able to join the family the second week. The one cloudy day was spent in "Lion Safari Country," where the lions come right up to the car, and the sign "Trespassers will be eaten" had better be heeded.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Blasey of Holcomb road entertained the J.V. basketball team and the J.V. cheerleaders at their home last Sunday evening. The young people participated in a "Sport Hunt" part of the time, and "competitive spirit" was the order of the evening. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Doug Pierson, the boys' coach, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim MacArthur, the cheerleaders' coach.

TO LIVE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Green of Church street announce the marriage of their son, David, to Helen Stroll of Sashabaw road. The ceremony was performed at the Good Samaritan Church, with members of the family in attendance, and guests were received at her sister's home on Lake Oakland. The newlyweds will be making their home on Sashabaw.

Mrs. William L. Martin of N. Main is now out of U. of M. Hospital, home and "feeling fine." Her mother, Mrs. Walter Thompson, is there taking very good care of her daughter, so it won't be long before she'll be up and around just like new.

Last weekend John and Marty Jones of M-15 took their neighbors, Dick and Sue Kelley, to Kalamazoo for a visit with friends.

Also on the traveling list are Don and Sharon Cooper, Bob and Judy Brumback and Gus and Carolyn Birtsas, who enjoyed dining recently at "The Stables" in Flint.

The Dennis Martins held their annual St. Patrick's party last Saturday evening. Those "wearin' the green" were fellow employees and neighbors of the Martins. These gatherings have been going on for many years and the highlight of the evening was a choice film strip of some of the previous parties.

There is a group of gentlemen golf enthusiasts in our area who take a trip to Florida each year about this time to kind of get ahead of the season. This year they decided instead to go to the Bahamas. It rained off and on three days out of the seven, but even that didn't stop our "iron" men from enjoying their trip.

The opening of Mother Twaddle's kitchen door last Wednesday night turned back the pages of time to the "good old days?", for members of the Wednesday Night Dance Club who attended the March meeting. The "Tightening of the Belt" theme managed to expand a few with the choice selection of stews, surrounded by the appropriate side dishes. Centering the main serving table was an attractive arrangement of fresh vegetables, tastefully arranged by the artistic chairman, Mrs. Jerome Wilford.

Mrs. Maynard Kizer has returned to her North Main home after confinement at the Pontiac Osteopathic hospital, where she had been taken following a heart attack. Weakened, but feeling much better, Mrs. Kizer ended her two week hospital stay on Friday, the 13th.

The former Barbara Rioux of Davisburg Road, a 1948 graduate of Clarkston High School, and her husband, Jules Novak, are the proud parents of twin sons, Jon Edward and Jay Eric, born February 10 at Naples Community Hospital, Naples, Florida.

Mrs. Novak teaches sixth grade at Bonita Springs, Florida, while her husband is a technician specialist at Outboard Marine Test Station, Naples. The couple lives in Estero, Florida, and spends summers at Manitowish Waters, Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rioux of Davisburg, Michigan arrived in Estero, Florida the first of February to help care for the twins.

Jobs Daughters

have busy month

The Clarkston Bethel No. 25 International Order of Job's Daughters, were busy during the month of February. Besides the two regular meetings each month, they enjoyed some fun activities.

On Feb. 6, the Job's, DeMolay, friends and parents left the Masonic Temple at 6:00 to see the Shrine Circus.

Transportation was provided by the parents and council members.

On Feb. 18, some girls from Bethel went to Ortonville to put on two comedy skits for the Masons and Stars. These skits had been used for their own Masons and Stars night.

On February 19, the group went to Lake Orion to put on the ceremony of initiation.

Job's Daughters are always working. "Some of it may be hard work and some may be play, but no matter what it is, it is a good organization for girls," said Linda Skarritt, scribe.

Discuss trips

The Northwest Parks and Recreation Directors' Association held its first travel Jubilee for Senior Citizens, at the C.A.I. Building in Waterford.

The 42 people discussed trips around the world with travelers Betty Moore and Claude Bigot giving first hand experiences.

The group then saw a 30-minute film on the Hawaiian Islands.

A group of Senior Movers is planning a 16 day trip to the Hawaiian Islands from October 24 to November 8. Anyone over the age of 50 who would like to travel still has a chance to sign up.

"For more information, contact me at 674-0376," said Ralph Richard, Recreation Director.

Clarkston Junior High teams post 5-0 basketball records

Clarkston Junior High's intramural basketball program came to a successful end last week with exciting double elimination tournaments for both seventh and eighth grades.

There were six teams in each grade and to establish league champs, each team played each other once.

At the close of the regular season, each coach drew for positions in the double elimination tournament. Boys on championship teams will receive trophies at the spring sports banquet.

7TH GRADE

Mr. Bonnell's team won the league championship with a perfect 5-0 record. The members of his team are: Bill Callen, Mike Dell, Barth Hoopengartner, Mike Hooper, Terry Johnson, Mike McClean, Steve Palace, George Porritt, Mike Smart and Dan Watson.

In the double elimination tournament, Mr. Bihl's team came on strong to defeat Mr. Bonnell's team and take the tournament championship. Members of Mr. Bihl's team are: Stan Baron, Mark Bennett, Harold Bilbey, Kevin Hawkins, Randy Limbaugh, Bob Mason, Kevin McCann, Randy Miller, Mike Sawyer, Jeff Shell and Phil Strehle.

8TH GRADE

In the eighth grade it was Mr. Bihl's team all the way as they won the league championship with a 5-0 record and then went on to win the tournament championship by defeating Mr. Bronson's team after losing to them in an earlier game.

Freshman dump faculty

Clarkston Junior High's 9th grade Wolverine team defeated the faculty team in a special assembly game March 10 by the score of 57 to 56.

The "fabulous faculty" went down in bitter defeat, despite a comeback drive after being behind the whole game.

They missed their chance for victory when they "blew" 4 shots in the final 30 seconds. Faculty team members were Dave Bihl, 16 pts.; Bill Potvin, 12 pts.; Dennis Bronson, 10 pts.; Kelly Burnett, 8 pts.; Dave McDonald, 5 pts.; Don Cooper, 2 pts.; Larry Lazenby, 2 pts. and Roy Warner.

The highly partisan crowd backed their Wolverine team all the way and they were rewarded with a fine exciting game.

Leading the Wolverines were Dave Partlo with 13 pts. and Bill Hamilton, 12 pts. All 15 players saw extensive action with 12 of them reaching the scoring column.

Credits go to the Wolverines and their managers-turned-coaches, Joe O'Brien and Don Foote. This game between the 9th grade team and faculty will be an annual event in the future.

Varsity girls defeat F-A-M

Youth and enthusiasm proved victorious over age and experience as the Clarkston girls' varsity basketball team defeated the Faculty-Alumni-Mothers team last Friday by the score of 26 to 18.

Scoring for the winning girls went as follows: Beth Cowen (8 pts.), Debbie Molter (6 pts.), Jane Richard (5 pts.), Jody Hawke (3 pts.), Nancy Caldwell (2 pts.), and Debbie Peters (2 pts.).

Co-captains Sue Griffiths and Jane Richard did a fine job as they assumed the coaching duties for the game. Heading the cheerleading squad for the girls' team was sophomore Gary White.

Four players figured in the scoring for the F-A-M team: Cheryl Slade (8 pts.), Kathy DeArmond (5 pts.), Kathy Matlock (3 pts.), and Susan Davis (2 pts.).

Coach George White had his job cut out for him as he tried to find the right combination of players to match against the overpowering girls' team.

Officials for the game were Bob Brumback and Neil Sage. These are, indeed, strong-willed men, as they were able to withstand the pressures of obviously tempting bribes posed by the players and the cheerleaders for the F-A-M team.

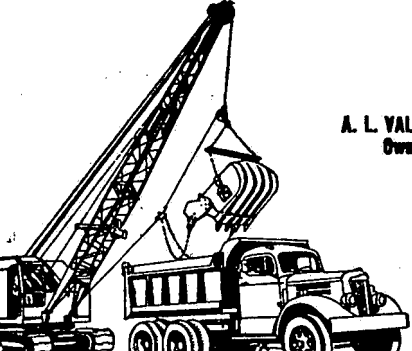

Leading the cheering section for the losing team were cheerleaders, Miss Sue Case, Mr. and Mrs. Jim MacArthur, Mr. Al Bartlett, and Mr. Dick Surre.

Some comments that need passing on: Mrs. Phyllis Mansfield, "Girl Friday" of the Sashabaw Junior High School office has been working in school offices for at least 10 years and in her opinion she has never seen a school function with the smooth cooperation that exists at Sashabaw, between the student body, the teachers and the administration. "Enthusiasm and vitality seem to know no limit. Everyone pitches in," she says.

I've said it before and I'll say it again, it certainly is refreshing to talk to Dan Fife. Modest, enthusiastic, interesting, intelligent, unassuming Dan, captain of the 1970-71 Wolverines at Ann Arbor.

He's on his way Thursday for Arizona and spring training with the "M" baseball team. Asked if it would put him behind in his studies, Dan said how far behind he got during basketball season. He wouldn't mention that he qualified for the All Big-Ten academic team because of his point average until questioned.

Regardless of what town's basketball team wins the class crowns in Michigan March 21 in Lansing, the Detroit papers will call the majority "Detroit Area" teams.

Should all of them be north of M-46 they will have "Detroit" hung on them in some way, like "Suburban Detroit."

The Free Press has been doing this for years and there is no reason they will change now.

It was Business Week magazine, I believe, that quoted a major tobacco company official as saying (roughly) that they are increasing the nicotine content in cigarettes so people will be so hooked they can't quit. This is in anticipation of the phasing out of advertising on the telly, etc.

We non-smokers in Michigan may hope it works.

Dale Fitch

Michael Owen

Dale Fitch of Hummingbird Lane and Michael Owens of Lingor were among the 1,387 graduates when Michigan State University awarded degrees at its winter term commencement exercises Sunday (March 15) in the MSU Auditorium.

The total includes 906 bachelors', 355 masters', 117 doctorates' and 9 educational specialists' candidates.

Dr. William D. McElroy, director of the National Science Foundation, spoke at the ceremony. Dr. McElroy, a distinguished biochemist, received an honorary doctor of science degree.

Seconded by Mahar. Roll: Fahrner, yea; Cooper, yea; Hagen, yea; Johnston, yea; Mahar, yea. Yeas 5, Nays 0. Motion carried.

The billing from Farnum and Associates was tabled until the next regular meeting.

The Sewer Committee reported that the Michigan Legislature has approved the list for grants as submitted by the Water Resources Commission. The request by the Village of Clarkston was for approximately $190,000; however, it is unknown at this time the exact amount that will be approved for assistance in the Village of Clarkston Sewer project. It is hoped that the council will be presented with the proposal for payments schedules, etc., at the April meeting.

The matter of the Deerfield Hills Subdivision storm drain was discussed and Trustee Hagen and Howard Kieft reported on their meeting with the Water Resources Commission on this matter. President Russell was asked to call Mr. Grainger at the Water Resources Commission in Lansing regarding the time required for upkeep of the settling basin by the developer. The Village Engineer reported that a legal presentation would be drawn up for submission to the Council at the second regular meeting in March.

The Clerk was instructed to request information on obtaining services for a 2,500 word feature about Clarkston for the Sesquicentennial publications.

Moved by Johnston that the Election Board report be accepted as follows: President, Donald E. Cooper; Clerk, Artemus M. Pappas; Treasurer, Mary Ann Pappas; Trustees: Jack Hagen, Ruth Basinger, Robert C. Jones; Assessor, Ralph Thayer. Seconded by Mahar. Motion carried.

Moved by Hagen that the meeting be adjourned. Seconded by Fahrner. Motion carried.

The principal is the principle

by Jean Sura

I wish somebody would build a memorial for all the kids who don't win the spelling bees. Not the dumb kids who don't even know how to spell their own names, but the kids who really are good and study hard but still lose.

When I was a kid I was a pretty good speller and every year about this time I would study like crazy. It never did me one bit of good.

There was a girl in our class who always won. Her name was Bernice. I'll never forget her. She was a lousy kick-ball player. We always put her in right field cause nobody ever kicked the ball out there. I guess nobody was left-footed.

When we played volley ball we just let her stand around and nobody yelled at her very much unless she got in the way.

But Old Bernice sure could spell — on paper or out loud. She could spit out correct spelling like a computer. She wore glasses and had enough metal in the braces of her teeth to start a canning factory. I figured maybe that helped.

"Hey, Mom, can I have glasses and braces?"

I said one day. I had just put an "e" in the word truly, on the first round of the 5th grade spelling bee.

"Why glasses and braces?" said Mom.

"Well, old Bernice wears 'em and she sure can spell."

When you get right down to it, spelling is really crazy. How can you expect a kid to remember all those words? When you teach them to read, you say, "Sound it out." When they are spelling they can sure get in a mess if they do.

How about all those words that sound alike, but are spelled in different ways or the ones that are spelled just the same but are pronounced differently? You know, homonyms, bow, like you put in your hair and bow, like gentlemen do, or dear and deer. How can a kid figure that out?

Or they try to make you remember what the word looks like. If you do that you're bound to spell girl "gril" and was always comes out "saw."

I really don't know if our kids were good spellers or not. They got pretty good grades in spelling but they never won any prizes. Of course one of them was left handed and wrote with his arm wound around like a pretzel. You never could make out what he had written because the ink got all smeared. The other one spelled phonetically until he was in the eleventh grade and some tyrant got hold of him and made him conform to a conventional pattern.

They were normal though.

When their dad got his first job as a principal, they planned a surprise for him. They put signs up all over the house, Principle's bed, Principle's chair, Principle's plate, Principle's car, Principle's chest, Principle's sox, Principle's piece of pie, Principle's shoes, even Principle's toothbrush, Principle's toothpaste, Principle's son's room, etc., etc. The house looked like it was hit by a snow storm. The principle of the idea was great.

No wonder they give dictionaries to the spelling bee winners. They are the only ones who can spell the word so they can look up the meaning or check the spelling anyway.

Gary Frost and Mike Redwood demonstrate the see-through theory of the flying objects which had floated over the Clarkston area last week, causing concern for some and a humorous dilemma for others.

Wind canceled this evening attempt by Gary Frost to convert a candle and plastic bag into an airborne "saucer."

(identified flying objects)

The story of the IFO

By Jean Sura

Unidentified flying objects (UFO) were reported in the Clarkston area on Tuesday, March 10.

Observers described them as round, bright yellow in color and appearing to have a canopy or parachute-like top.

The Michigan State Police received at least 10 calls from the Clarkston area reporting the objects. According to the police, the weather bureau contended that the phenomenon was a display of Northern lights or Aurora Borealis.

By Wednesday morning the topic of most conversations centered around the comparisons.

"Hi, Gary, where have you been?" said a Clarkston mother to her high school aged son on Wednesday night.

"Hi, Mom. Oh, Mike and I were out flying balloons, but it got too windy so I came home," he replied as he took the steps, two at a time.

Minutes went by and suddenly the mother sat up very straight.

"Gary," she called, "what kind of balloons were you flying at night?"

"Just those things with the candles. Why?"

"Gary, come down here."

Who says that kids today aren't getting a wonderful education?

The kids of Clarkston have proven the theory that heat rises.

The experiment requires a large, cleaners' plastic bag, 4 straws and 8 birthday cake candles.

Seal the top of the plastic bag to make it air tight. Insert one straw into another, then connect 2 more in the same fashion. Form a large cross with the straws and tape them in that position. Now tape the 8 candles on the straws, then tape the whole thing in the opening at the bottom of the bag.

Light the candles, holding the bag up straight. When the heat fills the bag, release. It will ascend in the night. It will appear round, bright yellow in color and will appear to have a canopy or parachute-like top.

Light about 4 of them at the same time and they make a beautiful, mysterious sight floating over the town.

The experiment surely proves that heat does rise.

Shame on you, Weather Bureau. Next thing you will tell us is that it will be warm or cold tomorrow or that there is no Easter Bunny.

TOTAL LOSS — Last week Monday, just as the children were getting ready for school, fire broke out on the roof of this home at the corner of Clarkston and Baldwin roads. A family of 10 was left homeless. Some of the furniture was saved, but all the clothing was lost. Firemen from Orion are putting the last water on the ashes. Independence firemen assisted.

Unsuspecting spots of thin ice on the area lakes and ponds call for the caution of parents and children alike. Heed this warning.
