Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Sap is running from the maples, and it brings back days of my youth. I hope it does yours. Carefree, happy days of mischief and experimenting. I don't recall my dad tapping the maples, but I do remember a neighbor having a sugar bush.

Sometime Dad must have drained the sap because he had the taps. For you city people, the taps were put into freshly bored holes, from which the sap drained profusely, at least at times.

A brace and bit were used to bore the holes, and I remember our brace had a chunk of 2x4 as a replacement for a broken handle. Affluence was not a common word in those days.

Anyway, you'd pound a nail in the tree above the tap and hang a galvanized pail on it, usually a 10 quart. Now I understand they collect the juice in plastic bags. How clean and how unkind to kids.

Sometimes we kids would remove the pail and open our mouths under the spigot.

Sometimes we'd go out on a cold morning and eat the ice that had formed on the collected sap.

How far removed those days are. Compare it to the scene I'll now describe. Granted the kids are a little older than I when I stole sap.

Friday night I was at Spring Lake Country Club for dinner. There was a wedding reception in the dining-dancing area. I would call it a mod-wedding reception.

It was in no way offensive. It wasn't too loud. It in no way bothered me. I'm used to long hair and extra growths of hair and am generally able to look through it to the flesh or "inner man."

But, one such described person sat very near the salad bar. (Yes, I go to that kind, too.) Waiting in line I noticed this guy had a purse, woman's envelope type with a shoulder strap, over his shoulder.

On the table was a piece of chicken. The wedding guest put the chicken in a cloth napkin, folded it carefully and put it in his purse.

Now, I'm not saying there is anything wrong with that. I'm just passing this idea along for my fellow man... so when styles demand that we carry purses we will see there is a practical use.

Somehow I think I'd rather steal sap.

The Donald Kevern family of Hummingbird Lane are all smiles at their reunion. Barbie, 6, returned last week from Boston Children's Hospital, where she had undergone 3 operations. Barbie has cerebral palsy. Susie, 8, has volunteered as entertainment chairman during the 8-week recovery period.

Mark Willis

Achieves Eagle

Mark Willis, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Willis, 9524 Dolores, Clarkston, received the coveted Eagle Scout award on March 23, at Calvary Lutheran Church. Mark is the 4th boy to attain the rank of Eagle in Troop 189. Calvary Lutheran Church sponsors the troop.

Mark's experiences in Boy Scouts began as a Cub Scout in Cub Pack 1091 and Boy Scout Troop 1098, both in Clawson, and then transferred to Troop 189 in Clarkston.

He has held the office of Ass't. Patrol Leader and Patrol Leader for nearly 3 years. He is presently Jr. Ass't. Scoutmaster and an Order of the Arrow Ordeal member. He has four 1 Mile Swim Emblems and has earned 21 merit badges plus the Wilderness Trail Medal.

Mark is a sophomore at Clarkston High School and a member of the wrestling team. He and his family attend the First Baptist Church of Davisburg. His ambition is to be a pilot when he has completed his schooling.

Show new mall site

MALL COMPLEX PLAN - Wednesday night a site plan of a proposed shopping mall on what is now Waterford Hill Golf Course was explained to the Independence Township Planning Commission. Jim Scharl, above, of Kieft Engineering, Inc., points to one detail. His finger is at the north end of the shopping area. The darker lines at the top are the proposed townhouse development. The lower plan is a blow-up of the multiple dwelling area. A&W Gershenson, owners of the Pontiac Mall, among others, is the proposed developer. Details of the meeting are elsewhere in this issue.

Pioneer shopping mall builder asks zoning for golf course

By Jim Sherman

A shopping mall larger than Tel-12 has been proposed for Clarkston.

It would occupy a portion of the site of Waterford Hill Golf Course. Another section of the property would have town houses.

These plans were made public Wednesday night at a meeting of the Independence Planning Commission. To bring the construction about, zoning changes have been petitioned.

The petitioner is William Gershenson, who with his brother Aaron, pioneered the closed shopping mall concept. Included among these are the Pontiac Mall and Tel-12 (Telegraph at 12 Mile). Construction has also begun on the Avon Mall south of Rochester.

Gershenson told the planners Wednesday night they also have shopping centers in Ohio and Florida. They also own the Ponchartrain Hotel and David Whitney Building in Detroit.

He said, "One thing that might interest you. We don't develop anything we don't keep ourselves." He was relating to experiences some communities have had with developers who build, sell out and forget the place.

Jim Scharl, with Kieft Engineering, Inc., who prepared the site plan for the complex, unveiled the drawings, and began the explanation.

The Mall will front on Dixie Highway and occupy about half of the golf course acreage. Auten's Furniture store is also among properties under option to Gershenson.

Scharl said the two property descriptions involved are 39.81 and 26.35 acres. The shopping mall would have about 300,000 square feet. The only store mentioned as having promised for the center is K-Mart, for which Gershenson said they had designed a new front.

The center would be 650 feet back from the highway and provide 2300 parking spaces. Sidewalks would be laid from the townhouse clusters west and south of the mall to the shopping center.

The major access route would be off Dixie and there would also be entrances off Parview and Lingor.

Of further store commitments Gershenson said, "We haven't fully developed our plans and at this point we don't go after commitments."

There are expected to be 283 units in the townhouse clusters.

Gershenson said the mall would likely be built in units, with the major department store first. He said he couldn't tell at this time, but the entire project might be started at nearly the same time.

It was their idea, he said, to have the building start out of the ground in the spring of 1971 and have the stores open in time for the Christmas trade next year.

Wednesday's meeting was to review the site plan of the development. This was done. Then the planners set a public hearing date. These steps are necessary in considering all zoning changes.

This petition asks for rezoning from C3 (Highway business) and C5 (Recreation) to C2 (General business) and RM (Multiple dwellings).

***

The public hearing will be April 28 at 7:30 at the township hall, 90 N. Main. Prior to that time the site plan will be reviewed by Bob Dieball, former professional planner for the township who has agreed to do special assignments.

***

Gershenson has optioned the property through Bob White Real Estate from golf course owners, Glen & Rogers, Gordon Booker and Jim Stevens and Don Auten owner of Auten Furniture.

White had the listing of the golf course land and contacted A & W Gershenson, who indicated early interest.

Batter up for 1970

The Clarkston High School 1970 baseball season will get under way on April 7 when the team faces Waterford Township at 3:30 on Waterford's diamond.

Coach Paul Tungate summarizes the season's outlook as follows:

"We have four pitchers with good potential. Mark Swanson and Mike Turk have good speed and good curve balls, while Bob Hoy and Tom Gates have excellent control.

"Bob Klann is a steady performer behind the bat defensively and can be counted on to do a good job. George Bennett and Rick Prasil will be backing Bob up defensively.

"In infield we have Don Brown, Tom Gates, Mike Thomas and Mike Turk likely to be the starting infield for the first game. If Tom or Mike pitches, then Tom Hall and Stan Fahr will be probable substitutes.

"Strong arms is the word on the outfielders this year. Rick Prasil, Mike Mosher, Bob Hoy and Mark Swanson all have the arms to cut down base runners.

"Due to the new pitching machine and indoor batting cage, this is an area in which we plan to see much improvement. Last year, as a team, our hitting was poor. However, this year, Tom Gates, Bob Hoy, Bob Klann, Rick Prasil and Mark Swanson are showing much improvement inside.

"The over-all outlook for this year's team consists of boys with excellent attitude and desire. If this continues throughout the year, this team could achieve much success both in the league and over-all."

Letters to the Editor

Disagree with permissive attitude in "our" schools

Dear Editor,

Contrary to any other information, I did not go to the high school as a member or a potential member of a committee to discuss the "right or wrong" of "our" school providing a "smoking room" for students, though I was invited.

I went because I have children attending school and I disagree with a permissive attitude which not only allows an illegal act in a public institution, but encourages disrespect and disobedience of a state law, a school regulation, but in many cases rules that are established in the home.

Admitted — there are many practices more harmful than smoking. But — it's unlawful, and they are our children, entrusted to adult care.

It has generally been held that the home and family life provide the moral training and responsibility and the school assists by providing the technical skills so that together the "young adult" is somewhat prepared to enter society. Is it part of our teaching now to confuse our youngsters with maybe three (3) sets of rules — the state — the school and the home.

It is a shock when I, with full authority and the welfare of my child in mind, forbid him or her to smoke and he or she tells me that the school and its administrators I help support, not only allow smoking but single out a room where the law may be broken.

Maybe I wasn't at the school for just today — maybe I went thinking of tomorrow, when my son will be in high school and I'm already concerned with how permissiveness, indifference or disrespect for law and authority will affect his future. I'll continue to do my best at home but I expect a public institution to enforce the state laws if not its own.

Say nothing — don't get involved — shrug it off as non-serious would be the easy way. By capitulating a little principle here and a little authority there is exactly why many of us live in fear today.

Thank God for all the good kids in our schools whom we hope will rise in defense when a "passive resistance" invites what we hear in the Clarkston high school today (Savage pig — student underground newspaper):

"Fear me (society) for I am planning your obituary."

"Complete anarchy is what is needed — burn, society, burn."

These are some of the reasons I went to the school.

I am concerned — are there others???

Howard Altman

I couldn't tattle on Dick

When I was a little boy, one of the worst things a kid could be was a tattletale.

If my Dad threatened to burn my entire collection of comic books, I still wouldn't tell him who helped me swipe them from the drugstore. Nobody wanted to be a squealer, a stool pigeon, a fink.

Of course, no publisher ever offered me $50,000 to write a book about how Dick Johnson, the minister's son, was the lookout while I stuffed Superman comics under my baggiest sweater.

I wonder if I would have sold out? Perhaps the price of my young integrity was 10 cents for a Saturday afternoon movie. Lord knows, a baby-faced shoplifter doesn't need help carrying his scruples. But still, I like to think I would have remained silent no matter how grand a bribe was offered.

Dick Johnson was my best buddy. We told each other things we'd never tell anyone else. Until I confessed to my wife 20 years later, Dick was the only soul on earth who knew I was once in love with Betty Grable and had seen 1 of her movies 17 times. ("Down Argentina Way" costarring Alice Faye, who was a little too fat, and Don Ameche).

I couldn't possibly tattle on Dick. No more than Tonto could knife the Lone Ranger. Gosh, we had a hidden cave in a riverbank where we spent long hours hiding from the world. The cave was a tight fit and I had to exhale when he inhaled. How could I rat on anyone that close to me?

That's the code I grew up with. A gentleman simply doesn't fink on his friends. But the code sure feels uncomfortable and old-fashioned today.

Today, Detroit Tiger Bill

Good deed

To the Editor:

Because there is so much violence in the world and acts of hatred flood the newspapers nowadays — we thought you should know about an act of real kindness and brotherly love which was performed for our church last week.

Most people know that the Jaycees are a group of hard-working, unselfish men who are dedicated to making their community a better place in which to live. It would take a lot of space to list the many and various tasks they have undertaken (and completed) to help others.

Last week another big job was undertaken and very beautifully done, when they finished redecorating the sanctuary and vestibule in the Salvation Army Outpost at 29 Buffalo.

As most people know, this is a very old church and much in need of repairs.

The Jaycees put in over 130 hours — applied 35 lbs. of plaster — and many gallons of paint — and did it all with enthusiasm.

We think they deserve some praise, not only for this last hard venture, but, also, for all their past good efforts in our community.

We know that we are a very grateful people.

Yours sincerely,

Freehan writes a book full of lockerroom secrets about his Detroit teammates. Sam Johnson writes a book revealing private moments in the life of his brother, Lyndon. A member of the Chicago 7 jury writes newspaper articles telling everything that went on in the once-sacred jury room.

And everyone who was ever close to John and Jackie Kennedy writes a book giving such historically important information as how much she spent on shoes and how angry he got about it.

The world is full of tattletales, all doing their thing for a buck. Maybe it's ok. Certainly, this finking is what a lot of people want. Publishers wouldn't print "sensational, behind-the-scene" nonsense if there weren't a panting public eager to buy every word.

The tattlers always say they did it because "it's history" and "the public has a right to know" and all that crud. I wish just one squealer would honestly admit he sold out for money, the heck with loyalty. I can understand greed and it doesn't make me throw up as quickly as phoniness.

As a professional writer, maybe I should be expected to violate confidences — particularly when a stab-in-the-back might improve readership and put more bread in my box. But it was several years ago that I did considerable soul-searching and bookkeeping and discovered this marvelous fact: I can already afford more hangovers than I want to live through.

And a drink — or anything else — is 200% better shared with a friend who trusts you.

Heck, Dick Johnson wasn't even his real name. †

Library dedication set for April 12

In conjunction with National Library Week, the new Independence Township Library will formally dedicate their new building at 6495 Clarkston Rd. on Sunday, April 12, at 2 o'clock.

The culmination of much diligent community effort, the building is now servicing the literary needs of the community.

Ground was broken for the building in November, 1968 and it went into operation in December of '69.

The building accommodates 4,000 square feet and has a capacity of 25,000 volumes.

The Library Advisory Board, who played an important role in efforts to make the dream a reality, are: Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, chairman; Merle Bennett, Mrs. Gordon Bray, Mrs. Fred Davidson, Mrs. Evan Leonard and the Rev. Alexander Stewart.

The library is ably staffed by Mrs. Philip Smith, librarian; Mrs. Bruce Embrey, assistant librarian and Miss Jo Anne Gordon, page.

Miss Elizabeth Lindsey, State Library Building Consultant, played an important role as did Nordstrom-Samson Associates, Architects and General Contractor Schwanz Construction Co.

Construction costs totaled $116,506 with a federal grant of $32,816, local contributions of $60,000 and a Kresge Foundation gift of $10,000 meeting the need.

Among the local donations, the Clarkston Women's Club has contributed over $5,000; the Jaycees, over $2,250; the Rotary Club, $1,500, and 8 individuals and companies have given $1,000 to $1,500 each. Many citizens contributed and an alphabetical list of donors who have donated $100 or more will be on file permanently in the library.

The public, friends of the library, are invited to attend the dedication services.

Wilton attends directors meeting

Richard G. Wilton arrived in Tulsa, Oklahoma to participate in the 50th anniversary year United States Jaycees Board of Directors' Meeting. As a National Director, Wilton will take part in the adoption of policy and programming guide lines for the 1970-71 Jaycee year.

More than 450 Jaycee directors and special guests attended the organization's board meeting which convened March 19-21. It is held annually in the Tulsa Civic Assembly Center.

The three-day session began Thursday morning, March 20, with an address to the directors by U.S. Jaycees President Andre LeTendre.

The convention then broke into planning groups for the purpose of analyzing proposed as well as existing Jaycee areas of programming.

Foot Care

It's a shame to see people confined to their homes by sore and swollen feet. Not only is there great discomfort, but many persons are embarrassed by their appearance and the hobbling gait. There are a few things you can do to keep your feet in good condition:

- 1) Be careful in the fitting of shoes and stockings. Avoid the steady wearing of extremely high heels, running shoes or slippers.
- 2) Keep toenails clipped, and remove the cuticle and dead skin from around their edges.
- 3) Use an antiseptic, absorbant foot powder to reduce infection, particularly that which develops between the toes. This powder will also act as a deodorant, keeping the skin dry and comfortable.
- 4) Never sit on your feet. When possible, put your feet up on a chair or high footrest, to improve circulation. In older people, this will help keep swelling to a minimum.
- 5) Wash your feet often, taking time to soak them in warm and soapy water that will help the muscles relax.
- 6) Then massage each foot in turn. Make a fist of one hand, and rub the knuckles over the ball and arch of the foot to further ease muscle tension. Then slowly rotate each toe, one after another.
- 7) If a callus should form, soak a cotton square in lotion and tape it over the area. Leave it on overnight. During the day, an adhesive callus pad should be worn till the problem disappears.

Kutting Korners

By Jean Sura

While in Colorado I hit upon a recipe and an idea that would be a surprise for any Michigan family in early spring. When it all boiled down (the recipe that is) it really is not much different from my own recipe for Chili. Out there, however, they call it Slum Gullion and make it over an open fire. It surely sounds more romantic.

SLUM GULLION (as told to me)

Get the campfire going and while the flames are settling down, you pull over the cooking panner (that is a bag to carry the ingredients to the campsite), haul out the dutch oven, a long handled spoon, the can opener, bacon fat and begin. Start to simmer a big fat onion or two lean ones, cut up with one or two bell peppers (red ones in season have the keenest flavor). Add 1½ to 2 pounds of hamburger or ground round. Stir. Then reach into the panner again and get one can tomatoes and 2 cans of any kind of beans - butter beans, lima beans, kidney beans. Add them to pot with seasonings like salt and pepper, bit of sugar, garlic powder and maybe half teaspoon of chili powder.

By this time the fire is low enough to put on the grate or ashes that foil covered loaf of French bread you fixed last night—sliced with butter and grated cheese or garlic salt.

The suggested beverage to wash this all down is to put a third of a cup of powdered milk in each cup with a teaspoon of cocoa and a teaspoon of sanko—add boiling water heated on the campfire.

Coffee drinkers like more coffee flavor than cocoa and children like more cocoa with just a touch of the coffee.

Skiers don't like to spend too much time in the kitchen, but who does, so, here is a Quick Veal Parmesan that takes just 20 minutes to prepare and yet tastes like you have been slaving over a hot stove all day.

SKIER'S QUICK VEAL PARMESAN

4 to 6 veal cutlets (the patty type)
Flour
Tomato sauce, small can
Salt and pepper to taste
Leaf oregano
Parmesan cheese, grated
Mozzarella or Provolone cheese

Flour, then brown veal cutlets in a little oil, drain oil off. Salt and pepper and sprinkle oregano and Parmesan cheese on top.

Pour tomato sauce over and simmer about 10 to 15 minutes. Before serving place a slice of Mozzarella or Provolone cheese on top of each cutlet. Cover and heat until cheese melts. This is excellent when served with French or Sour Dough bread, a salad and Italian green beans. Serves 4 to 6.

GUGELHUPF (A German coffee cake)

½ cup sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
2 well beaten eggs

Add together.

Then add:

½ cup warm milk
½ cup warm water
1 cake yeast dissolved in the warm water with ½ teaspoon sugar
Grated rind of one lemon
4 cups of flour

Knead well, let rise until double. Form dough - use well greased Gugelhupf form if you have one - or regular bread pan. Bake at 345 degrees about half hour. When cool, sprinkle with powdered sugar.

Den 3 presented a skit titled "Back to Nature."

It was announced that the Webelos home-made sled had been voted the "best" in the Klondike Derby.

The following boys received wolf patches: Bill Grobel, John Fletcher, Mike Kennedy and Kurt Gruenburg.

Barry Davis received the bear patch and was also advanced to Webelos.

Jeff Blackett earned the Traveler and the Geologist Award, Dennis Boberg and Doug Roosa received the Scholarship award.

Sunday, March 22, Cub Scouts and their dads enjoyed an afternoon in the gym at the high school.

April 1 is Census day

April 1 is Census Day for the United States of America. From Aroostook County, Maine, to Niihau, the westernmost island of Hawaii; from Point Barrow, Alaska, on the Arctic Ocean to Key West, Florida, it is the day for all Americans to be counted.

April 1, 1970, is the day every household should fill out their census form, and in this area they should mail it back in the brown, post-paid envelope provided.

Everybody must be counted. You are your own census taker. Fill out your census form, mail it, and count yourself into America's grand population total.

All census information is confidential. Every census employee is sworn to silence.

Clerk suggests 6 month moratorium on township zoning

By Jim Sherman

The matter of zoning, or the fast changes thereof, has prompted comment from Howard Altman. The Independence Township Clerk says, "The present pace to rezone is so rapid that some very legitimate fear of our township's growth pattern is very much in evidence."

He says he further fears that the Planning Commission may be being reduced to a zoning board as it was at one time. The Master Plan intent is not being reflected in much of the re-zoning, he said.

Multiple and mobile home park requests of late have stirred the clerk. Altman said, "Of 24 rezoning changes within the past 12 months, few if any, have been for single family use, most have been for multiple dwelling and present applications for rezoning and verbal feelers are proposing to build more than 2,000 mobile home sites."

Then he asks, "That's now, what about tomorrow, what about next year? In virtually each application today it is an outside developer or speculator who is ready, contingent of course, on land being rezoned. At our present pace to accommodate these people, we haven't even slowed to a trot."

Altman said, "The Master Plan has been bombarded to intent, interpretation, variance, review and up-dating. Because of the trend or pressure of at least 2 types of land use, it may well be that our Master Plan, in less than 5 years, is due for a general overhaul."

"Other factors have prompted me to call time," the Independence Clerk said. "For very important is the loss of our planning consultant, a skilled professional, who has been an influence and guided our planning program from the beginning, some 5 or 6 years ago.

"This loss of professional service added to the promotion of new techniques, new design and construction, new approaches to planning, and the role of the court as a super zoning board has caused no small amount of apprehension among the residents as well as some of the officials who represent them. Tax base, utilities, services, impact of density, traffic and school financing are other serious items that need renewed attention."

Altman went on, "Predicating my personal proposal by admitting the need for certain types and amount of development, I would like to list some significant deficiencies that I believe need immediate attention and warrant a slow down:

1. Inconsistent rezoning in relation to the present Master Plan.
2. The lack of professional planning advice that is familiar with our past and present "thinking."
3. The lack of adequate staff to process the requirements of zoning and planning procedures.
4. The need to re-examine and up-date our Master Plan.
5. The need to up-date our Zoning Map to correspond with the Zoning Text.
6. The need to reassemble and reissue the Zoning Code."

"For these reasons I propose a temporary period of suspension to land use changes. I recommend a 6 month moratorium on the rezoning of land use in Independence Township."

He would have it become effective April 7, 1970. He said this would allow the Planning Commission and other township officials time to reassess and re-evaluate the entire planning program of the township.

Altman continued, "I will assume that my proposal will not be acceptable to everyone and will be most unpopular with the developers and speculators. I do believe, however, that there is a 'silent majority' who will agree that a 'cooling off' period is not entirely out of order; that John Doe, resident of Independence Township, would like to know - WHERE WE ARE - WHERE ARE WE HEADED - and perhaps more important - IN WHAT CONDITION WILL WE ARRIVE!!

"For these or other reasons, I believe a substantial number of the public will support my recommendation for a temporary halt to re-zoning."

Good Friday breakfast

About fifty members of the Clarkston Jaycees and their honored guests, the pastors of the Clarkston area, joined together for a fellowship breakfast Good Friday at Spring Lake Country Club. According to Chairman, David Nadolsky, this was the fourth such annual event.

Following the breakfast, Brigadier Clarence Critzer, Pastor of the Clarkston Salvation Army Citadel spoke to the group regarding the relationship between service to humanity and the religious significance of Good Friday.

Going, but not to be forgotten, by their teammates on the '69-'70 wrestling team, are Tom Jones and Jeff Quigley (left). Both are seniors and have been captains this season. Tom received the Most Valuable Wrestler Award at the Winter Sports Banquet. Coach Dick Moscovic is flanked by Al Knake, right, and Mike Packer, who will become the team's new captains. Mike received this year's Most Improved Wrestler Award.

Track men start new season

Returning lettermen Fred Saylor and Harold Ballough have been nominated co-captains of this year's track team at Clarkston High School. Last year Clarkston finished in a tie with Waterford Kettering for fifth place in W.O.C.L. track championship. With almost all of last year's lettermen back this year, the coaches are looking forward to a good season.

Other returning lettermen are Bob MacNeil, Gerald Baker, Kurt Carlsen, Dan Dankert, Doug Kath, Tom Mauti, Gary Seaman, Rick Svetkoff and Mark Witherup.

J.V. lettermen returning from last year are as follows: Richard Dancey, Mike Humphreys, Gordon Mason, Dan Rush, Bill Svetkoff and Blair Warren.

New members on the team are Brian Bissell, Reed Body, Greg Curry, Joe Crosby, Brad Funk, Ricardo FurFaro, Dan Gaves, Frank Hoskins, Steve Leaver, Rick Plummer, George Puddington, Tom Quisenberry, Dan Thomas, Paul Thomas, Tim Wilcox, Jeff Wycoff and Gary White.

We are once again in the week that follows the anniversary of the Lord's Resurrection and it is appropriate that we not dismiss it easily but because of its tremendous meaning and implication for all mankind continue to consider it.

To the men and women who saw the Risen Christ, He appeared as a fulfillment. He fulfilled the hopes of Israel, He fulfilled the promises which God had given to men. And He also fulfilled the hopes which they felt in their hearts.

The impact of our Lord's presence redeemed them from a half-life of fear, sin and uncertainty. He called Mary Magdalene by name, and her life was never the same again. Simon Peter looked upon Him and knew what manner of man Simon Peter was. Paul heard His voice in the desert and became more than he could ever have made of himself.

The Resurrection is the heart and the dominating fact of the Christian Faith. The language of the Faith and of the Church's liturgy is determined by the Resurrection of Christ. We are "baptized into His death" so that "we may pass to our joyful resurrection." By Christ's "glorious resurrection (we are) delivered from the power of our enemy." We pray that as Christ's disciples knew Him in the breaking of bread so our eyes of faith may be opened that we may behold Him "in all thy works."

The Resurrection is not an isolated event which offers us a vague hope. The Resurrection came from the heart of God, was manifested among men and its power can still raise us from the death of sin.

To those who have celebrated Christ's Resurrection the fact of fulfillment comes anew. We are not only to look back in history; we are to praise God for the new life which now is given us in Christ.

The Risen Christ is still present. Listen, for He calls us by name. Look, and we will know what manner of person we are meant to be.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

TROOP 189

A very impressive Court of Honor of Boy Scout Troop 189, was held in Calvary Lutheran Church on Monday evening, March 23. Awards recognition, and good fellowship was the agenda for the troop, sponsored by the Calvary Lutheran Church.

The ceremony began with all present participating in the Pledge of Allegiance, led by senior patrol leader, Jim Loba. Norman Hunt, advancement chairman, gave the welcoming address and introduced the following committeemen: committee chairman, John Mayo; committeemen Dick Smith, Dick Robenault, Roy McIntire and Chuck Johnson. He also introduced Scoutmaster Herschel Fry and Assistant Scoutmasters Dr. F. Dale Hunt and Ray Loba.

The principal speaker of the evening was Dick Wiltin, presently director of the U.S. Jaycees. He achieved Eagle Rank as a boy in Troop 13 of Pontiac, and has 32 merit badges. He is Assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 244 in Pontiac.

Scoutmaster Herschel Fry conducted the candle-lighting ceremony and was assisted by scouts of the troop.

He then presented tenderfoot awards to: Rusty Jewell, Dan Millward, Wayne Thompson, Richard Kaiser, Randy Hamilton, Jim Queen, Brian and Dave Minton, Mike Jewell, Dave Johnson and Karl Tresenreiter.

Second class awards went to Tom Waterbury and Franz Tresenreiter.

John McIntire received the star award.

In addition, the life award was presented to Mark Zelenak.

Eleven Boy Scouts received the following merit badges: Craig Moore, journalism; Matthew Moore, metalwork; John McIntire, reading, swimming and lifesaving; John Mayo, reading and cooking; Dwight Sexton, wood carving; Jim Loba, personal fitness, citizenship in the home, reading, safety and lifesaving; Dennis Loba, safety and lifesaving; Eric Gruenberg, citizenship in the home; John Fry, lifesaving; Kirk Robenault, lifesaving; and Mark Zelenak, lifesaving.

Ass't. Scoutmaster Ray Loba was the surprised recipient of a beautiful plaque

Logic prevails

by Haslett Hemmor

"Never thought I'd see the time when our postmen would mutiny against the government," Effie tells me last week.

"Strike's maybe over," I reply, "Anyway, they weren't sailors or soldiers, so you can't rightly call it mutiny. They was just bringing to the attention of our old sleepy congress that they can't live on 'maybes' or promises or 'when we get to it.'"

"Maybe you call it a strike," old Eff barks at me, "but when you strike against your own government and violate your pledge or vow or whatever and act like revolutionists, it's to me a plain old mutiny."

"Yeah," I sarcastic agree, "the bums should be lined up for the firing squad. That's maybe the way they'd deal with this here little old problem in Moscow. Matter of fact, firing squad's probable too good for 'em. Should be a mass public hanging."

"Funny man. Just terrible funny," Eff says. "There should be a hanging of heads in shame and sure enough a firing, but one by one, for plain out violating the laws of the land that's been so good to 'em. Admit that you was the first to yell when our teachers pulled off their illegal strike."

"That was different," I point out to her, "that was taking the law into their own hands and making the kids pay for it. That was demanding the impossible. They struck for money the school district didn't have and couldn't borrow or raise by taxes unless the people agreed to more millage. That was taking their spite out on the kids to feather their own nests. If you had the brains you was born with," I yell at her, "you'd know black from white — maybe."

"Don't take your dirty spite out on me, you old goat," Effie shrieks, getting white-like. "You bend the truth to suit your fancy and that makes ME the idiot. You never was too smart. Usual thing, though, you got enough horse sense not to exhibit your ignorance in public but —"

"In public?" I ask her, "here in the private of our own little kitchen it's public? Now you really proved what a goofy ding-dong you are. In PUBLIC, you say? About as public as your spirit. The old cow with her very, very limited supply of the old milk of human kindness finally dried up, entire."

"Got to make it personal, don't you?" old Eff sneers, "Can't keep it on a cool logical basis of exchanging ideas. Mouth takes over when the old brain quits working. Just let me ask you, if you think maybe you'll stop trying to win the argument by yelling loudest, just let me plain out ask you how it was that the kids paid for the teacher strike but you can't see for your big turnip nose who paid for the postal strike?"

"Can't sort out your questions from your stupid arguments from the insults," I reply, real cool and composed, "but I do know the kids DIDN'T pay for the postal mutiny — postal strike."

"Nope," Eff says, like she just drilled out a big fat home run. "It wasn't the kids. That's for sure. It was, howsomever, the old folks waiting for their social security to buy groceries and the welfare mothers with eleven crying kids and — oh, there's really no use trying to drive even simple facts into your thick skull. They mutinied. That's all, and the people living from hand-to-mouth suffered. But you just aren't big enough to understand anything unless it hurts you, personal."

For a couple minutes neither one of us said anything. Just sat there a-glaring at each other. Then old Eff got up and walked over to the sink. She's about as wide as she is tall, you know. Fact is, she's got to be wider backside than she is from the front.

She turns on the faucet full force and it splashes out of a cup and some water spills out onto the floor. She wipes that up with a paper towel and maybe dries it three times before she quits. Poor old gal has to bend her knees and kind of squat to do it. Time and again before, I've seen her just drop a hunk of paper towel on the floor and kind of swish it around with her foot.

"Well," she remarks finally, "We got that problem all worked out. Feel up to dealing with the question of should priests marry?"

A dessert smorgasbord is being planned by the Clarkston Jaycettes for their spring card party.

Door and table prizes are being lined up for the April 14th affair.

The party will be held at 8 p.m. at the Church of the Resurrection Episcopal Church in Clarkston.

Mrs. Richard Johnston is handling the tickets. She can be reached at 625-2589. Tickets may also be obtained from Jaycette members or at the door.

Joggers meet

The Springfield Township Senior Citizens Joggers will meet on April 4. The cooperative dinner and meeting will be held at the Township Hall in Davisburg and will start at noon.

Initiated

Alpha Lambda Delta, an honorary society for freshman girls held their initiation on March 31.

Gail Cowling was among residents who were honored at the Stockwell Hall dinner.

Miss Cowling was awarded two yellow roses for service as representative and secretary of the house council and a red rose for her grade point average.

She was also invited to attend the honors convocation at Michigan State University, where she achieved a 3.75 point average.

Pigpen for president

by Jean Sura

Wonder Child III has fallen from glory. Well, he really hasn't fallen — just slipped a little. He has a new name. We call him "Little Pigpen."

"Little Pigpen" is a victim of the remodeling of that old house that I told you about some time ago. He lives there, in the midst of all the wallpaper, paste, nails, ceiling tiles, molding, sawdust and insulation.

While progress has been being made on the old house, that little kid has been growing up. Naturally, his interests have developed in these surroundings so he has an affinity for the tools of the trade of renovating — dirt and grime. He is a big help, needless to say.

It was convenient last weekend for the ladies of the family to go out to do a little shopping. We had it all arranged nicely. There was just a one-hour overlap between the end of Mr. Wonder's naptime and the time we expected to be back home. Granddad was terribly available and terribly vulnerable.

"Will he be able to change diapers?" questioned Mr. Wonder's Mom.

The gauntlet was down.

"Are you kidding? Of course, I can change diapers for the little nipper. I have made plenty of changes in my time." He took the bait.

"It's just like fixing a car. The trick is to watch what you are doing when you take it apart and then put the parts back in the same place."

With this kind of confidence we didn't hesitate. We took off like a pair of startled deer.

The trouble was that when all the banging and pounding started, little what's his face woke up from his nap and decided to get into the act and help the menfolk.

His first feat was to climb up on the cartons of ceiling tile that had been arranged as a barricade to keep him in his own domain.

"He got on top of the crate and teetered and swayed like a skid-row derelict who had just guzzled a bottle of rubbing alcohol," reported Granddad.

After that obstacle had been eliminated to spare his life and limb, he proceeded to distribute a bag of nails. His heart was broken when the old meanies took them away and his tears mingled with his snack as he consoled himself by eating a little of the old insulation.

His eyes were streaming and his nostrils matched. This was no problem. He just wiped it away with the back of his hand. The rest ran down onto his shirt.

By this time, he was a little damp at both ends. The sawdust pile that he found next really captured his fancy.

About this time, Dad and Old Pop had decided to take a break from their arduous chores that had been complicated by their added responsibility. They sat down to survey their accomplishments.

The late afternoon sun streamed through the windows. It was beautiful — until Mr. Wonderful toddled across the room into the sunlight.

As he moved, he emitted a cloud of sawdust, insulation, plaster and dirt.

"Good grief, Dad," said his father, "there's 'Little Pigpen.'"

That's how it came about.

We hurried and gave him a bath. You can't be too careful. After all, a nickname like that could stick and who would vote a guy named "Pigpen Sura" into the presidency?

Mrs. Robert Douglas Joy

Teachers exchange vows

Mary Etta Fender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ermal Fender of Allen Road, became the bride of Robert Douglas Joy on March 28. Mr. Joy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Randolph of Farmington.

The candlelight wedding ceremony was performed by the Reverend Frank Cozadd at the Clarkston United Methodist Church.

The bride chose a floor length satin gown with a tiered lace inset that continued to the end of the long train. Her headpiece was a crown of scalloped beads and lace. She carried white carnations.

Miss Jan Servoss, in floor length royal blue velvet, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Linda Sanshie of Davisburg, Jean Randolph and Jackie Randolph of Farmington. Jean Smart of Clarkston was the flowergirl, in a white chiffon satin replica of the bride's gown.

Jerry St. Souver was the best man and Robert Fender, Greg Gibben, Jim Watkins, Adrian Dutcher and Bud Berg were the ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlor.

After a honeymoon in the east the couple will return to their teaching positions at the West Bloomfield Hills High School.

They will make their home in Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Portwood of Drayton Plains announce the engagement of their daughter, Demaris Kay, to Douglas A. Milkey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Milkey, Sr., of Andersonville Road. The bride-to-be is a senior at Eastern Michigan University and the prospective groom, a '64 graduate of Clarkston High School, attended Michigan State University. The wedding is being planned for June 6th.

Around the Town

Signs of spring

By Barb Humphreys

Deborah Irene, first child of Mr. and Mrs. James Nolan of Clarkston, was born on March 23rd. The baby weighed 7 lbs., 15 oz. and is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Denne of Clarkston and Mrs. James P. Nolan of Ireland.

***

Arthur Liimatta is recuperating at home after surgery at Pontiac General. This was his final surgery following a snowmobile accident on Christmas Eve.

***

Sp./4 Freddie W. Liimatta of Waterford Hill has been home on leave and is now in New Mexico visiting friends. He is scheduled to leave for Vietnam on April 8. Also here for a visit was his sister, Adele Morgan, from Portland, Oregon. They are the son and daughter of Mrs. Fred Liimatta.

***

Joe's Sunny Sunoco Ladies Monday night golf league will hold their spring meeting at Waterford Hill Golf Course on Monday night, April 6.

The meeting will start at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Arnold and children, Tami and Vicki of Laurelton, decided to "get away for the weekend" and traveled north to Lewiston for an impromptu family gathering. They were met there by Mrs. Arnold's parents, the Vic Landons of Lake Orion, and sisters and families from Waterford and Grand Rapids. All of the children enjoyed an egg hunt in the surrounding woods.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Snover of Orion road and their son, Steve, spent the day rather quietly, but entertained another son, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Snover and children, Keri and Kelli of Pontiac.

***

Wedding invitations and accessories, quickly, precisely printed at the Clarkston News, 5 S. Main, Clarkston.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Tudor ApMadoc of Cranberry Lake Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Gwynne Gray to Gary Lee Hubbard, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Hubbard of Lansing. Miss ApMadoc and Mr. Hubbard are students at Ferris State College. The wedding is scheduled for May 23rd.

Honors list

A record 1,720 students have been named to the scholastic honors list for the 1970 fall semester at Central Michigan University. Included on the list are James R. Anthony of Buffalo and Claudia Jean Gordon of Wampole. Both are freshmen.

To be eligible for the scholastic honors list, a student must have a cumulative average of "B" or better for his entire college career.

This Easter bunny arrived with the wet snow on March 26. Devan Hartman, Frank Hoskins, Jennifer Johnson, Diane Pethers and Duane Hall, left to right, spent 5½ hours shaping him up to greet the neighbors on East Washington Street.

"We don't like to waste time"

By Jim Sherman

Answering questions before the Independence Planning Commission Wednesday night William Gershenson, prominent closed mall developer, made his points very clear.

In smooth tones and with no animosity he said, "We think we have the finest developments in the country. We have the reputation for this. We pioneered the closed mall shopping centers.

"We think we have something good to offer this community, and we think you have something to offer us. We think this is a coming area and a leasing area."

The 'we' Mr. Gershenson referred to is the entire organization of A (Aaron, his brother) & W Gershenson, whose address is the David Whitney Building in Detroit, a building they own.

William Gershenson went on, "We have to sense cooperation in the community. We don't like to waste time. Other areas are looking for us because they know we have the reputation of good developers and businessmen. We are only under option here.

"If you don't accept us, we'll just walk away. It's as simple as that."

Mr. Gershenson did not say all this in one long breath. He said it through the hour-long meeting and to me afterwards.

The words probably come on strong in reading it, because I put it all together.

But they were simple statements of fact. They were strong, but not irritating, nor do I feel they were meant to irritate.

Observing him, I would say one of the above sentences fits him well... "We don't like to waste time." He wasn't being pushy, but he didn't want any "dilly dallying"... he used that phrase once.

PTA elects officers

Clarkston Elementary PTA will hold its regular meeting Thursday, April 9 at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting will be for election of officers. There will also be a Kindergarten Khorus.

The speaker will be William Ballard from "Lifeline." His topic will be drug abuse in Oakland County and how it affects grade school level students.

Interesting people

Anne Thatcher who has just moved her antique business into her newly renovated house on Mann Road, is busy making arrangements for the St. Andrews Episcopal Church Antique Show in Livonia. Mrs. Thatcher is in charge of the show, which will run from May 12 to 14.

With a smile that will brighten a cloudy day, a throaty laugh that bubbles from her toes to her pretty face and is guaranteed to tickle your funny bone, Anne Thatcher is a new, interesting person in the Clarkston area.

A resident and business woman of Oxford for almost 20 years, Anne came to Clarkston by accident. Her hair stylist of many years, Jackie Wethington, casually mentioned one day that the Mann family were selling out the possessions of the old family home on Mann Road. She thought that Anne might pick up a few old trinkets for her shop.

"Did you find anything exciting?" she asked the next time she saw her.

"Did I find something exciting? Well, I guess so. We bought the house," Anne laughed. "I don't know whether to thank you or shoot you."

And so with typical Thatcher fervor the old house's skeleton was laid bare and the restoration began. With Anne's talent and her husband's craftsmanship reflecting the love and skill of its new owners, the house soon emerged as a quaint attractive and comfortable shop as well as providing ample living space for the Thatcher family.

Anne's interest in antiques doesn't go back as far as some of the items she stocks in her shop, but her interest dates back about 20 years when she was a Powers model and working in New York City.

Anne, a native of Grosse Pointe, cut her modeling teeth on soup ads as a child and after completing high school went to New York.

Her 3-year career in modeling ended when she met her roommate's brother,

Howard, fell in love, got married and started another career as wife and eventually a mother.

In the typical style of young people, Anne and Howard picked up a few pieces of used furniture. The first antique to enter the picture was a little chair that they found in New Jersey. It cost $1.50. Years later, they sold the chair for $25 and today it would be valued in the neighborhood of $75 to $80.

The Thatchers came to Oxford to live, as Anne's parents had moved there. Howard started a metal business. Holly, who is 20, arrived close to Christmas as her name indicates and Patty showed up about 4 years later.

Anne wedged in some courses at the Pontiac Business Institute and worked as a school secretary for 11 years.

Somewhere along in those years her interest, love and knowledge of antiques grew to maturity. Some old glass and friends' requests for her to pick this or that up for them soon launched the business.

Anne specialized in country primitives until a year ago, when she went on a buying trip to England and shipped home some 18th and 19th century pieces. Now one room in her shop reflects this new interest. Pretty soon the hobby took over all her working time.

***

So Anne Thatcher is now a Clarkstonite and the old Mann house has added sparkle to its lovely lines. It has also taken on a coat of green paint that says, "Hey, look me over."

Well, if you want to look Anne over you had better look fast. She doesn't waste time.

County approves documentary film

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors agreed to pay Mahar Productions of Clarkston $15,000 to produce a 13 minute documentary film dealing with the past of Oakland County. The objective of the film would be to inform the general public, students and businessmen about their county government, its past and present, as it relates to them.

The film will be used for the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration.

It will include a series of photographs and drawings from the past of the County. Landmarks, dates, people, places, events, using authentic information from historical societies, newspaper archives, private individuals, etc. It will cover the operation of county facilities as we know them today. It will be accompanied by appropriate narration.

In addition, there will be color footage and still photography of the different activities of the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration.

Funds to defray the expense will be paid from the 1970 Contingent Fund.

No action was taken on the recommended last phase of the film which would be a continuation of the first, with the Sesqui-Centennial footage added and would project its probing into the future.

The old Mann residence stands tall and proud in its new coat of paint and freshly finished interior.

Wed by candlelight

The candlelight service on March 6 at the Central Christian Church in Pontiac, was the setting for the ceremony that united Linda Suzanne Davis and Terry L. Childers in matrimony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin V. Davis of Almond Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Childers of Orion Road are the parents of the groom.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor length gown of white satin and an elbow length nylon veil. She carried white carnations.

Miss Pamela Davis was maid of honor for her sister and wore a gown of blue satin brocade and carried blue carnations. Another sister, Patricia, and Barbara Cook of Pontiac were bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to that of the honor maid.

Michael Church was the best man. James Decker and George Procnier were ushers.

The newlyweds greeted their guests at a reception at the K of C Hall on Maybee Road.

After a short trip to northern Michigan, the couple settled in their home in Holly.

Wedding plans disclosed

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Walker, of 7939 Reese Rd., announce the forthcoming marriage of their son, Paul D. Walker, to Sirkka (Chris) Supennen, of Helsinki, Finland. A June wedding is planned at the home of her parents in Helsinki. The couple will honeymoon in the vacation cottage of the bride's parents in the forest outside Helsinki.

Paul is a 1965 graduate of Clarkston High School, and a 1969 graduate of Northern Michigan University.

Now residing temporarily in England, the couple plans to return to New York City in late July where the bride will continue her work as a fashion model, and Paul expects to continue his graduate work.

All Saints' hold Antique show

On April 14, 15 and 16, the women of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Pontiac, will hold their 18th annual antique show and sale in Stevens Hall, 171 W. Pike St., from 11:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. daily. Admission will be $1.00 and a door prize will be given each day.

Luncheon will be served in the auditorium from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. A tea room on the balcony overlooking the show will also be open continuously from 11:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m.

Nineteen dealers from Michigan and Ohio will offer authentic antiques, no reproductions, for sale.

PACK 341

A former Indian scout living in the Clarkston area, Victor Venhentenrych, whose tribal name is "Ah Ta Wa Mi," was the guest speaker on the topic of "Wilderness Survival" at the March 19 Cub Scout Pack 341 meeting held at Sashabaw Junior High School.

Cubmaster Seth Cummings and Assistant Cubmaster Roger Eriksson presented Bobcat pins to Scott Benscoter, David Brown, Dennis Hughes, Joel Rayman, Rick Warthen, Michael Zografos, Scott Bray, Joel Humphrey, Bradley McGuire and K. C. Johnson.

Committee chairman, Bob Turnbull, awarded the Wolf Badge to Shawn Shilling. Earning arrows for the Wolf badges were Jeff Dawley, receiving two silver arrows; Philip Standing, a gold arrow; Eric Ohrnberger, a silver arrow; David Cross, a silver arrow; and Joe Brown, a gold arrow.

Assistant Cubmaster Don Hagadone presented David Hughes with his Bear Badge. Assistant Cubmaster Roger Eriksson and Don Hagadone awarded Webelos Awards to Rick Jones, craftsman and sportsman; Jeff Leach, craftsman and sportsman; Mark Wood, craftsman; Ralph Eriksson, craftsman; Bret Hammett, athlete, sportsman and craftsman; Rick Hagadone, geologist and scholar; Richard Smith, engineer and outdoorsman; Randy Cummings, forester, scholar, geologist and outdoorsman.

The boys of Den 6 presented a skit, "The Push Button Radio," and all the boys of the pack displayed items of craftsmanship. The Cubby Award was presented to Den 3 by Peter Ohrnberger.

Jaycee first nighters used eleven gallons of paint, giving the Clarkston Salvation Army Citadel a spring lift. Working on the "inside job" and applying the paint, which was donated by John Garlac, are five second nighters. Left to right are Jaycee volunteer workers, Mike Madison, Jerry Bradley, Art Ripley, Harold Morgan and Larry Thompson.

Youth Rally at Columbiere

"There's a New World Coming" at Columbiere College on April 5th. All young people from the 7th through 12th grades are invited to attend and be a part of "what's happening."

Sponsored by St. Daniel's Parish of Clarkston, and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, the rally will begin at 2 p.m.

Discussion will center around the roles of youth in the new world. Fr. Weingartz, Rev. Stubbe, Rabbi Conrad and Mr. and Mrs. William Peters are some of those who will take part in the discussion and answer questions.

Pizza will be served at 6:00. Later on in the evening "The Evil Weed" will provide music for dancing or listening. Most of the activities will take place outdoors, if the weather permits, and casual dress is recommended.

The entrance fee is one dollar, which will cover the cost of food and entertainment.

The goal of this rally is to bring together young people of different social and religious backgrounds to share ideas and become more aware of their responsibilities as the youth of today and the adults of tomorrow.

For directions or further information, call Mrs. Feliksa, 674-2009.

Once Over Lightly

By Jim Sherman

For proof that kids know more today than you did at their age, go to a high school science fair. I took in Oxford's and found I didn't even recognize the words being used in the projects.

A sorority in Waterford is sponsoring a benefit dance Saturday night. Proceeds will go to help 3-year-old Tad Ragatz who is recovering from nephritis, a disease of the kidneys.

This is a fine gesture and one we hope is successful.

It's the sorority I'd like to comment on; Tad's mother is a member of this Zeta Zeta Omega Sorority. All the members are female graduates of or wives of male graduates of the 1951 class of Waterford High School.

I talked to another member, Mrs. Robert Turnbull of Clarkston about it. She said there was nothing unusual about it except that the sorority has stayed together. She said others have tried since, but none has been successful.

I think that it's a great idea, and I'm pleased they do constructive, helpful things like helping a 3-year-old.

It may already be too late to warn some people of the "miracle plants" promoted this time of year by con men. They come out in the spring much earlier than buds.

Beware of the glowing word descriptions and faked photographs of climbing vine peaches, giant climbing strawberries, 1,000 giant red roses on a single bush
