Jim's Jottings

Ah! the trials and tribulations of a newspaper publisher.

Two weeks ago I got a letter marked "very personal" accusing us of falsifying an obituary (which we didn't), and calling us yellow journalists. Of course, the letter wasn't signed.

The same week we were called and encouraged not to blow up, or even run, the story of an attempted rape of a black girl by 3 whites.

Derned if you do, and derned if you don't.

---o---

At a public hearing on zoning the other night a man prefaced his remarks against the zoning by saying he was an auto designer. The thought crossed my mind that there should be public hearings on auto designs, too.

The new Leader editor, Bob Gregg, got a job at the Escanaba paper just over a year ago. The first day they asked him to write an outdoor column and wondered if he had a column title in mind.

He quickly answered "U.P. outdoors." It was minutes before he realized why his bosses were rolling on the floor.

---o---

In Green, New York there is a law that says you cannot eat peanuts and walk backwards on the sidewalks while a concert is on. I'm not coordinated enough to do that anyway. It also sounds like the coverage on some of my insurance policies.

---o---

It's been a few years since we got up in arms about the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission's report recommending all of southeast Michigan's garbage be dumped in Oxford's gravel pits.

DMARPC has gone and SEMCOG has replaced it. They haven't forgotten the report. A cousin, Mrs. Ed Sasinowski of Lexington, is spending her middle years on MSU's campus getting a degree, and it's from her we hear of garbage again.

She says a Mr. Farley from SEMCOG addressed her political science class and told them Oxford didn't want the region's garbage. I wish she'd told me what else he had to say about it. It bothers me to hear they are still talking about it.

Johannes Spreen for sheriff of Oakland County? That's what I've heard.

Board given medallion

The Independence Township Board received a Jaycee medallion on "Service to Humanity" Monday night.

Clarkston Area Jaycee president Jerry Bradley made the presentation. He said it was the 50th anniversary of the Jaycees and the medallion was issued to coincide with Michigan Week.

Bradley said, "We try to focus something on the community in Michigan Week each year. Since you (the board) have helped us so much through the years, we present you with this medallion."

Monday night the board gave the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club permission to display fireworks the Fourth of July.

***

Two employees were approved for the township library for the summer. The librarian said summer months are busiest at the library.

***

Stan Eaton, owner of property on Oak Hill Road, asked to withdraw his request to rezone a portion of his land from agriculture to heavy manufacturing. It had been denied by the township planners.

Summer workers available soon

Jobs for teens will again get top priority on the Clarkston Jayettes' summer program.

The successful placement, last year, of many girls between the ages of 12 and 16 has led to the re-establishment of the list of girls that are available and willing to do baby sitting, ironing, yard work, window washing, car washing, painting or other general work around the homes of Clarkston area residents.

Applications have been sent to both junior high schools for girls to pick up and fill out.

The list will be ready in the near future.

"Line up those jobs that have needed doing and give us a call," say the Clarkston Jayettes. "The effort of one phone call will help you and it will help us to help the girls."

DeMolay collect for Muscular Dystrophy

Cedar Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will be soliciting the financial assistance of area residents in behalf of the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The drive will begin on May 26 and continue until the whole area has been canvassed.

The young men of the DeMolay hope that Clarkstonites will have a generous and ready hand to speed the Association on to its goal and the DeMolay on its collection time.

"Quit pushing, you big redhead. This is my dish."
"Just checking to see if the temperature is right for you, my darling," says Lady Dublin of Redwood Castle, mother of six.

"Sit there and cry if you will. I'm getting out of here if I have to walk on your backs to do it. Nobody is putting the son of Kai's Rolling Red of Englewood in a basket like a stupid egg."
"Cut it out. You've got your foot in my eye."

"Excuse me. Burp. I don't feel too well. It must be something I ate."

Citizen Hunt welcome

April 21st was Franko-American Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hunt on Bluegrass.

That was the day that 6-year-old Francis (Frank) became an American and it was the cause of a great celebration.

The Hunts lived in Heilbronn, Germany for 4 years while Mr. Hunt was employed as a field engineer for the Chrysler Corporation from 1960 to 1964.

While in Germany, they adopted Frank. They returned to this country in 1964 so it was necessary for Frank to apply for his citizenship.

In April, the necessary time had elapsed and Frank stood, along with 35 adults and received proof of his citizenship.

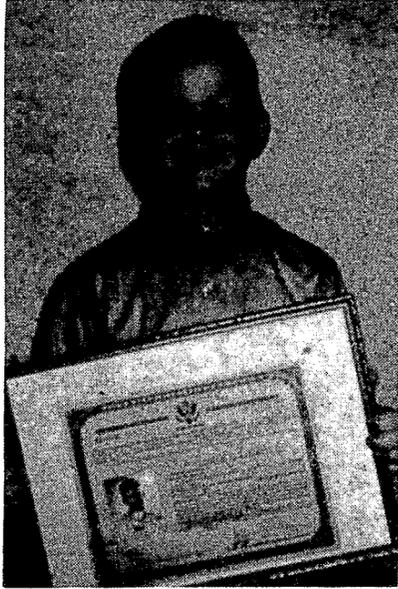

The adult group was asked to read an oath of allegiance to the United States. This requirement was waived for Frank because of his age.

"I didn't get to say the Pledge of Allegiance," whispered Frank.

So, graciously, the Judge asked him to rise and say the Pledge by himself.

"He did it without a single miss," said his proud Mom. "I was afraid that he might get the ending mixed up with that of the Lord's Prayer. But he pulled it off just like a veteran. We were mighty proud of him."

The Franko-American Day was carried out to the limit by serving canned Franco-American spaghetti with meat balls for dinner on Frank's 7th birthday last week.

New citizen, Francis Victor Hunt

Big brother, Norman, helped celebrate as did 14-month-old Denise Marie, who was adopted into the family since their return.

The Hunts are planning on adding 1 more member to their family. The papers are being arranged and if things go according to schedule, Frank will have another brother or sister to whom he can teach the Pledge in the near future.

Welcome, Citizen Frank, and many happy returns of Franko-American Day.

Meadow Brook Festival

For the first time in its six-year history, the Meadow Brook Music Festival will offer a special group rate for all of this summer's performances.

Groups of twenty or more persons may make definite reservations now and receive a 20% discount on the price of tickets. Another innovation added this summer for groups as well as individuals will be overnight accommodations and breakfast on the Oakland University campus at a modest charge. The Festival grounds are less than a mile from the main campus.

Festival performances are scheduled at 8:30 p.m., Thursday through Saturday evenings and at 6:30 p.m. on Sundays. Individual ticket prices range from $5.00 to $2.50 and are available at Grinnell's, Hudson's and at the Festival Box Office on campus.

Complete information about group rates, overnight accommodations on campus and suggested bus schedules may be obtained by writing Mrs. W. E. Mosher, Meadow Brook Music Festival, Oakland University, Rochester, Mich. 48063 or by calling 377-2000, ext. 3095.

Referendum off for August, maybe Nov.

Any hope petitioners had for a referendum on zoning for an August vote has been dashed by township clerk Howard Altman. He also said, "It may even be too late for the November vote."

Some 1600 residents, mostly in the Clarkston Gardens area, had signed 126 pages of petitions asking for a vote on zoning of 17 acres in their area from residential to multiple.

Altman was in the process of verifying the signatures when the court issued an order restraining him from continuing. The next show cause hearing is May 27, he said. Owners of the property, Real Estate Appraisal Brokerage firm of Anderson, Frome and Lipshour, have claimed forgery on signatures and improper petition procedures.

Altman said he was about three-quarters of the way through the signatures and had verified 719. Until restrained, he was checking spouses' signatures with local records to see if their names appeared on deeds. He said he might have to go to county records to do further checking and indicated the time needed would make the Nov. vote questionable.

Also questionable is the amount of time the court will hold up the suit.

The clerk said the owners could proceed with development plans while the court action continues unless an injunction is ordered.

Should the owners wish to proceed, they need approval of their site plan by the planning commission before getting a building permit.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

Clarkston High School's current spring musical "South Pacific" production was superbly presented. The leading players performed with an unsurpassed finesse; and the supporting cast was just great.

The director and all others behind the scenes associated with the play should also be commended, not to forget the music accompaniment, especially the fine job the pianists contributed on the dual pianos.

All this topped off with a standing ovation made a wonderful evening to remember.

Dear Editor,

I noticed in the 5-14 edition that the Clarkston principal, William Dennis, is still giving in to the students at Clarkston.

First it was the private smoking room, now he is not even trying to do anything about the underground paper.

I become more and more amazed at the total submission of our educators to these students.

When and where will they make their stand? When they are completely subdued?

Good luck to education, civil law, respectability, love of mother, of country, the American flag.

If I sound bitter, it is because I am.

The Nation's Beauty Shop

There it stands, the Nation's Beauty Shop. Millions of others like it are saying to us. "Give us your trash... let us help you beautify our country!" And all we have to do is to use this free beauty service — take a step or two extra to keep trash from becoming litter.

Each of us can do our part in giving our country a "facial" by patronizing these little "shops" set up for our convenience. Every litter bit hurts. So let's keep our face clean Michigan!

BUDDY POPPY DAY

Red poppies will be blooming up and down Main Street in Clarkston this week.

"The poppy is a tribute to those who died defending the way of life in which all true Americans believe," said local Veterans

Veterans of World War I were the first veterans to be so honored. Today the program has broadened to include soldiers of both World Wars, the Korean and the Vietnam conflicts.

Funds that are received from the voluntary contributions are used to assist the living victims of these wars. They help to rehabilitate veterans and are used in child welfare programs.

The poppies are made by disabled veterans working in V.A. hospitals and workshops. This work provides these veterans with both money earned and occupational therapy.

All the money collected in this community is used right here to assist local veterans and their families who are in need.

The sale will be held on May 21, 22 and 23.

Both the American Legion and their auxiliary, Campbell-Richmond Post 63 will be on hand to help you make the poppies bloom.

"If It Fitz . . ."

I'd rather stay home

Miss America visited my hometown and I declined an invitation to meet her.

"There's something wrong with you, Dad," my son said. He said it when he learned I'd ignored an invitation to meet the Detroit Tigers at a luncheon.

One thing for sure, I am not my father's son. My late father was a near-professional when it came to after-dinner speaking. He was funny and warm and articulate — and much in demand. He always said "I don't know what I'll say" but he accepted every invitation and said plenty.

People are always asking me to make a speech. This is not because they think I can talk. It's because they have read this column which now appears in about 40 newspapers. (Just 1,046 behind Ann Landers.) And they figure anyone who can write so much nonsense should be able to talk enough to keep people awake for 20 minutes if they didn't eat too much Swiss steak. And besides, they'd like to get within throwing distance of me.

Egad, some program chairmen, in fits of desperation, have even offered to pay me a fee, plus travel expenses, if only I'll come talk about something — anything. This is conclusive proof that there are more dinners than after-dinner speakers. Which is similar to having more dentists than toothaches.

I reject all these speaking engagements, usually telling some lame lie about being busy that night. The only time I'm trapped is by teachers who ask me to speak to their classes anytime between today and the end of the world.

Somehow it seems unmanly to simply say "No, I'm a lousy speaker so I don't make speeches." This is true but it's not a good excuse. The world is full of lousy speakers and they are forever making speeches. Why should I be an exception?

And it seems ungracious to refuse by baldly stating "I hate after-dinner speakers so I refuse to be one." This is also true but the guy inviting me may have spoken at Rotary the day before. My writing offends enough people. Why make more enemies with my mouth, even while explaining why I keep it closed?

Besides, the total truth about my refusals is something else again. Obviously, I could have met Miss America or the Detroit Tigers without making a speech. In fact, there was a total lack of demand for my voice on those occasions. But still I stayed home.

To each his own. Many people are adept at the chit-chat which abounds at social gatherings of more than 20 people, many of them strangers to each other. They enjoy it. Not me. I keep looking for the bar. Some place where a guy can squirrel in with a friend and converse without the hostess interrupting to see if you're having a good time, or the toastmaster clinking his glass so you'll shut up and listen to the introduction of some clown who needs no introduction.

Maybe, like my son says, there's something wrong with me.

But any man who cringes at the sound of "It is a pleasure and a privilege to introduce . . ." can't be all bad, can he? †

The live motto

Shel George

I'll take a subtle hint any day to an out and out statement about one of my character weaknesses. The above caption came from a recent episode in the life of Pogo and his south Georgia swamp friends.

This delightful opossum is a comic strip creation of Walt Kelly. The humor centers primarily on a take-off of current events. In a most recent episode, two of Pogo's friends were being interviewed for a top secret spy job. It was in fact so secret that the applicants were told the less they knew about what they were going to do, the better it would be. This qualification prompted an immediate response from one interviewee that "being weak at knowing what we're doing is one of our strengths." I have dried my eyes from laughter on several occasions at the pungent humor of this remark.

Someone once said that it would be a convenient arrangement if we were so constituted that we could not talk better than we live. Unbeknowns to me, however, there seems to be no necessary connection between our speaking and our doing. Today this is labeled under many names, but of course is recognized best by the word hypocrisy.

I would rather view it as "being weak at knowing what I'm doing is one of my strengths." This allows a smile and perhaps can better be shared with everyone else in the world. After all, hypocrisy knows no age limit, and one need not feel that he is the Lone Ranger where it is concerned.

My daughter brought this vividly to my attention during a recent family situation. Mother was in the hospital, taking advantage of the "days off" from housework by having our third child. Between Grandmas (God bless 'em), and baby-sitters, we managed fairly well to retain some semblance of order. With the rare exception of a missed bath (to the delight of the kids), we survived.

It was decided one day that since mothers are on the second floor of the hospital and in most cases occupy rooms with windows facing the street, maybe we could drive down on a lunch hour. If Mother could be called to the window, we could at least holler at her and the kids would get a glance even if at a distance.

I had tried carefully to explain that children were not allowed on the same floor as the mothers and babies because of germs, hospital regulations, etc., etc. The explanation seemed to suffice, because no questions were asked.

On the way down, however, the thought crossed my mind that maybe I could take them to the stair landing on the second floor, and Mother could walk down to the door leading to the stairs. Technically this would not violate the visiting rule of no kids on the floor, but would permit a "highlight" for the kids under Daddy's week at home.

The sheer genius of this prompted me to say to my daughter, "Honey, even though I'm not supposed to, I may take you and your brother up to see Mother anyway." Of course, I did not explain my "adult" thought and reasoning in detail, but assumed she would be all for it. Her prompt reply was, "Daddy, if you're not supposed to, how come you're gonna?"

It's not the motto you hang on the wall, it's the motto you live that counts.

Fake Food Folklore

Have you always known that milk should not be taken at the same time as sour fruits? That you feed a cold and starve a fever? That whisky with aspirin is a good remedy for a cold? That premature baldness is caused by wearing a hat? That if an expectant mother holds her weight down, the size of the baby will be reduced? That red meat and alcohol are bad for persons with high blood pressure?

Sorry, but every one of those "beliefs" is incorrect. They are part of the medical folklore that has been disproved as we learn more about the human body and the illnesses that plague it. However, they have been repeated so many times, they are often accepted without question.

According to "Today's Health Guide," published by the American Medical Association, fish doesn't increase your brain power; beets don't "build blood" and parsnips don't "cleanse the kidneys." Sour foods can't cure diabetes, eating warm bread doesn't lead to a stroke, and ice water doesn't cause heart trouble. Despite what you may have been told, arthritis isn't helped by grape juice, honey, dried poke berries, carrot juice or tomatoes.

But there is one piece of advice that still makes sense: treat your body with respect and intelligence. See your doctor regularly and follow his advice. Don't ignore the symptoms of pain or bleeding (the body's way of warning you that something's wrong) in the hope that they'll go away. Good health is still a matter of good common sense.

Girl Scout Troop 24 represents the International phase of Girl Scouting as they present their marionettes in a program at the Sashabaw Neighborhood's family banquet. Top row, from left to right are: Kim Crossman, Terri Fortin, Karen Crossman, Cindy Rullue and Janice White. Diane Reynolds and Karen Hutchinson are in the front.

Sashabaw Neighborhood Girl Scouts' family banquet was held on Saturday evening, May 9, at Sashabaw Jr. High School. About 400 people attended the potluck supper and enjoyed the program put on by the Girl Scout troops.

The theme for the evening was "A Week in Girl Scouting" and tables were set with centerpieces appropriate to the day of the week which each troop represented.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Nicholas Roszczewski, North District chairman, and her family.

The banquet opened with the flag ceremony presented by Junior Troop 802 and Cadette Troop 733.

After dinner each troop presented short skits and songs taking their families back to Girl Scout week in March for a week in Scouting, with each day representing a different area of the Girl Scout program.

Girl Scout Sunday was presented by Brownie Troop 288, Homemaking by Brownie Troop 153, Citizenship by Cadette Troop 733, Health and Safety by Junior Troop 154, International Friendship by Junior Troop 24, The Arts by Junior Troop 802, The Out-of-Doors by Junior Troop 57.

Brownie Troop 985 closed the program with each girl dressed as a candle and spelling out the words "Happy Birthday to us" in tribute to their 58th year of Scouting.

The families joined in singing "Girl Scouts Together" and the evening ended with taps and the closing flag ceremony.

Scouts take part in Expo '70

More than 5,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers and their adult leaders will take part in the Clinton Valley Council's 5 big Expo '70 Scout shows Saturday and Sunday, May 23-24.

Manito District will hold their Expo '70 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. May 23 at Oakland County Community College, Highland campus.

The show will feature activities and exhibits showing Scouting in action. Planned are stunts, skill demonstrations, Scout Skill-o-ramas and activity areas.

Scout units are selling tickets for $1 each admitting the whole family. Tickets also may be purchased at the show gates.

Many of the units taking part in the shows also will camp out for the weekend at the show locations.

A meeting was held at the home of John Mayo, 6872 Bluegrass Dr., Tuesday evening, May 12 for the purpose of rechartering Boy Scout Troop 189. Representing Clinton Valley Council, Manito District was neighborhood commissioner Richard Svetkoff.

The following men are the new Troop Officers for 1970-1971:

Committee Chairman, John Mayo; Committee Secretary-Treasurer, Richard Hammerstein; Scoutmaster, Dr. Forrest D. Hunt; Ass't. Scoutmasters, Herschel R. Fry, Ray Loba and Richard Hammerstein; Advancement Chairman, Norman Hunt; Institutional Representative, Thomas Moore; Transportation Chairman, Dick Smith; Special Events Chairman, Chuck Johnson.

There are forty-four registered Boy Scouts in Troop 189. Calvary Lutheran Church of Clarkston sponsors the troop.

Attends fire school

Jack G. Beach of Beach Fire Equipment, recently attended a five-day session of the Fire School at The Ansul Company, Marinette, Wisconsin.

He was one of a group of about 20 men who came to the school from all over the United States. Fire School trainees are taught the latest in advanced fire fighting techniques.

2 run homer tops C'ville

Clarkston's varsity baseball team played .500 ball again last week. On Monday, Bloomfield Hills Andover downed the Wolves 3-1 as Clarkston couldn't launch its hitting attack.

Clarkston picked up its only run in the 7th as Mike Mosher singled in Bob Klann from second.

On Friday, Clarkston went 9 innings before downing Clarenceville by the score of 3-1. Clarkston scored a run in the first on a single by Mike Turk and Clarenceville scored a run in the 4th.

The score remained 1-1 until the last of the ninth when Don Brown singled, George Bennett ran for Brown, and Mark Swanson hit a home run over the right field fence to give the Wolves the victory.

Bob Hoy pitched a fine game as he walked only 1 and struck out 8.

Clarkston will play five games this week. On Monday the team traveled to Northville, on Thursday they play Waterford Kettering here, and then the team travels to the west side of Michigan to play Greenville on Friday, stay overnight, and then play a double-header Saturday with Grand Rapids Forest Hills. Box score:

Andover	3	9	3
Clarkston	1	2	1
Clarenceville	1	5	1
Clarkston	3	6	4

Mark Swanson was declared the "player of the week" of the Clarkston Varsity baseball team for his homerun in the game against Clarenceville.

Kettering Track team defeats Wolves

A strong Waterford Kettering performance resulted in a 78-40 loss for the Clarkston track team. Kettering posted 12 first place finishes to Clarkston's 3.

Winning efforts for Clarkston were: Tom Mauti in the pole vault 11'6", Fred Seyler in the 880 run, time 2:02, and Dan Dankert in the 2-mile run, time 10:05:7.

In regional competition Saturday, the Wolves qualified two men for the state meet Saturday, May 23.

Fred Seyler and Dan Dankert earned the right to compete in the state finals as a result of second place finishes, respectively, in the mile and two mile run.

Three other Clarkston men won places in the regional meet. Rick Svetkoff placed 7th in the mile, Gerald Baker placed 6th in the two mile, and Kurt Carlsen broke the school record while finishing 7th in the 880 run. Kurt's time was 2:00.2.

Hole-in-1 scored by local woman

Mrs. James (Billie) Glennie of Cranberry, astounded her fellow golfers in the Tee Totalers League, on May 12, when she holed out her tee shot on the 5th hole at the Waterford Hill Par-3 golf course.

Mrs. Glennie is a member of the Tuesday night league and used a 9 iron to score the hole-in-one on the 85-yard hole.

Mary Ann Radoye, Rosemary Hamilton and Inez Lameraux were witnesses to the shot that gave Mrs. Glennie a blistering "40" for the nine holes.

Cougars split

The Sashabaw Cougars had a split record last week, losing to Rochester 9th grade on May 11, 14-7, and defeating Linden J.V., 14-4 on May 14.

The pitching faltered in Monday's loss, as coach Tom Ford tried three pitchers, Larry Miracle, Tim Recknagle and Ed Medlyn. All were hit hard by the Rochester batters.

In the 5th inning Sashabaw rallied and scored five runs to make the score 9 to 7, Rochester's favor, but the visitors scored six more in the last two to put the game out of reach.

In Thursday's game the Cougars bombed Linden J.V. 14-4, with Larry Miracle getting the win and also contributing a single, double and triple, to help his own cause.

Kirk Comstock, pitching for the first time since an early season injury, came in during the fifth inning and pitched strong, scoreless ball for three innings. His return should be a big boost for the Cougars in both hitting and pitching.

On May 21, the Cougars will travel to Bloomfield Hills West Junior High, and return for a home game the following Thursday, May 28 with Lake Orion 9th grade. The game will be played on the Clarkston Senior High School field.

"Listen to these words, men of Israel! Jesus of Nazareth was a man whose divine mission was clearly shown to you by the miracles, wonders, and signs which God did through him; you, yourselves know this, for it took place here among you."
(Acts 2:22)

This column is written by Christian clergymen, and is directed to Christian laymen—for the most part. That seems a bit unfair, to tell the truth. Actually, it's a wonder no one has demanded equal time for the atheists among us. (Perhaps we've scared them off; or, more likely, they don't bother to read this.) With that in mind, let me devote this space today to the other side.

"How do we know," disbelievers say, "that Jesus was really a Son of God? How do we know that the Christian religion is the real thing? How can we accept your preaching, in the face of what goes on in the lives of so-called 'Christians' we know? Convince us that there's something to this 'church' business, besides a lot of pious talk," they demand.

To quote a spokesman for this group, Bertrand Russell says: "I do not pretend to be able to prove that there is no God... The Christian God may exist; so may the Gods of Olympus, or of ancient Egypt, or of Babylon. But no one of these... is more probable than any other: they lie outside the region of even probable knowledge, and therefore there is no reason to consider any of them."*

Sura vs Sura

by Jean Sura

I've cried a basket of paper hankies into soggy balls.

"Jean," said Gene out of the blue, one day last week, "I have fallen in love. Don't blame yourself. It was a case of love at first sight. There is nothing you can do but try to understand."

"Where have I failed? What is she like?" I cried.

"Well, she is younger than you. She is very beautiful. She is slim and trim and built for speed. Call me a cad, or what you will, but I must have her."

"Who is this paramour? Let me meet her and throw myself at her mercy."

"Her name is Blackjack," he said. "When you meet her you will understand my plight. But it won't do any good. The lawyers are waiting."

So I was introduced to the world of jurisprudence. We discussed claims and counterclaims, bills and crossbills. I heard about statutes, decrees, codification, equity, alimony, corespondent, community property, compromise and reconciliation.

"But Judge," I said, "I thought that I had done my part over the years. Each morning I have made him a little bowl of hot porridge and there has been a little hot gruel waiting for him each night."

"I really am sorry," said Don Juan. "You can take everything I own, the house, the children, my Eagle Scout medal and my Mickey Mouse watch, but I must have my Blackjack."

That was when I got mad.

"Where is this homewrecker? Let me meet her face to face. Let me see this wench that has destroyed my life."

And so, we met.

She is beautiful. She is young. She is slim and trim, and built for speed. I fell in love with her myself.

"Can't we compromise and adopt her?" I suggested.

The judge thought that made good sense. The lawyer approved of the decision. Gene agreed reluctantly.

So, the beauty is ours.

The way that Gene caresses her has made me leery. So just to be safe, I have taken to wearing a new perfume.

It's called "New Car Smell."

Attend national Boy Scout meeting

Dr. Forrest D. Hunt

Dr. Forrest Hunt will be among 7 men from this area who will attend the annual meeting of the Boy Scouts of America, May 20-22 in Denver, Colorado.

Council president, George R. DeCourcy said the group will take part in an exchange of ideas and methods that will assist in furthering the BOYPOWER '76. This is a program which seeks to enroll at least one of every three boys in Scouting nationally by 1976.

Other highlights will include presentation of Young American Awards, Honor Medal Awards and Silver Buffalo Awards for distinguished service to boyhood on a national level.

Art Council holds Michigan Week sale

A variety show in the performing arts, along with an art exhibition will be presented by the Pontiac Area Community Arts Council as a Michigan Week cultural event. The entire program will be held Friday, May 22 at Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium and lobby. Doors will open at 7 p.m. for the exhibit and curtain time is at 8:00.

Called the Spring Festival of Arts, the combined program marks the first such undertaking by the Arts Council and will include spirituals, choral literature, African dancing and folk music, symphonic woodwinds, banjo strumming, and a barber shop chorus on the stage.

The art exhibition will include water color and oil paintings by area artists, a photographic display, ceramics, sculpture, creative stitchery and weaving, as well as techniques of bronze casting and sculpture. Also to be included are historical and sesquicentennial displays.

Tickets for this benefit are $3.00.

Pontiac Area Community Arts Council President, Gene P. Stanley, has set Tuesday, May 26 as the date for the next general meeting of the Council. To start at 8 p.m., it will be held at the Pontiac Creative Arts Center.

Misery loves nobody

by Haslett Hemmor

Marv Degele's boy, Hawley, left last week for Vietnam. Natural thing, Marv is real sore about the President moving troops into Cambodia. Figures the local board really hung one on his boy, Hawley.

Got to give old Marv one thing. He's right about the kid getting kinda special treatment. Didn't take but a few weeks after the boy was booted out of college before they put the finger on him. Kid's a mite surly to tell it for a fact. That's maybe part of why he got his walking papers at school, and he maybe didn't do himself no good when they put him through his G.I. examination. Happened too fast for accidental.

Worry about Marv, sure do. He's never been a hothead before, so it's like he was off his rocker, complete. Changed overnight from the original Mr. Milktoast to a pushy, yelling guy that just won't let up none - none at all. Worry about it mostly because you just know that the supermarket chain won't put up with no raving maniac too long - even if Marv Degeles has been local manager for ten years and even if he has built grocery sales pretty good for the local outlet.

Scares you now, the way old Marv gets into loud arguments with customers.

"Shot the wrong man when they shot Bobby Kennedy," he'll yell at anybody who'll listen. "Invading Cambodia so we can burn up innocent villagers is insane," he near screams at customers who don't even know why he's so stirred up.

Yesterday, Effie was in the store to do our weekly shopping for grub. "Mrs. Hemmor," he howls, halfway across the store, "now how do you feel about a President that says let's end these illegal riots on campuses and turns around and breaks the constitution by personal sending our boys as cannon fodder for an international illegal invasion? How's that kind of illegal act grab you, Mrs. Hemmor?"

Now old Eff actual agrees with everything Marv is saying, but with this guy so hot under the collar, she just pushes her cart around the corner where he can't see her. Embarrassed, she was, that this nice fellow who always before would near cry if you complained about head lettuce being too wet, is now whooping it up like a wild-eyed soap-box orator.

Way she tells it, people are saying it's a real fast switch for a guy that a month ago had a sticker on his bumper that read "America - love it or leave it."

Natural, the bumper sticker is off and the fact that Marv is so exercised now is obvious on account of his boy Hawley was called up.

Another thing, just a few months ago Marv went back on both his boys, Hawley and Harold. Told them plain out in front of people in the store that he didn't cater to long-haired hippies, no matter what their name was. That happened on a Saturday, when they was just in the store to buy cigarettes and coke. Weren't even there to see their Pa. Lots of people figured that was a real mean thing for Marv to do - in front of people and all.

Can't help but think that maybe all this yelling and shouting now kind of goes back partly to Marv blasting those two boys of his, and he's maybe scared now that if Hawley gets hurt or killed, folks will remember-how he outright ridiculed those boys in public.

You got to feel for Marv's misery, but like Reverend Black said last Sunday, when we protest too loud too late, it's more often than not a cover-up for a shame held secret.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Swick of Maybee road announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Cynthia, to Jeffrey Ingersoll, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ingersoll of Snow Apple Drive. The couple will be married on May 30 at the Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church.

W.S.C.S. resume Antique Show

The presentation of its fourth annual Antique Show and Sale will be resumed by the Women's Society of the United Methodist Church on June 4th and 5th.

The show, which was cancelled for the past 2 years because of the construction on the Fellowship Hall, will be larger than ever.

More than 20 dealers from Michigan and Ohio will present authentic antiques and collector's items.

The hours of the showing will be from 11 a.m. 'til 9 p.m. on both days.

Home-prepared snacks and a buffet will be provided throughout the show.

Clarkston residents have loaned antiques from their private collections to decorate the store windows in the business section of the village and geraniums will be used to add to the color and sparkle of the event.

Tickets at $1 each are available. The price of admission at the door will be $1.25. Proceeds will be shared by the WSCS with the Church School, the MYF and the Methodist Men's Club.

The general chairman is Mrs. Floyd Gordon. Her publicity committee is Mrs. Ronald Walter, Mrs. Frank Russell and Mrs. Charles Beach.

The committee says, "Come and enjoy the show. You'll be glad you did."

They hope you will all be in a generous mood when they ring your doorbell on or after May 26.

Thank you to Mrs. Delores Smart and Mrs. Harvey DeMond for taking the time to call us with information about obtaining fiber rush for chair seats.

Mrs. DeMond suggests that you write to the H. H. Perkins Co. at 228 Shelton, New Haven, Connecticut. Her catalog is reasonably old, however, so she suggests that you write for prices.

Lisa Marie celebrated her 1st birthday on May 16 by having a family gathering with friends and relatives. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagerman of Summer Hill Drive. Mrs. Hagerman is the former Carolyn Ingersoll. Grandparents are the Clarence Ingersolls of Snow Apple Drive and the Clarence Hagermans of South Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jones (Jennifer Pike of Clarkston), living in Waynesboro, Georgia, have added a daughter, Tami Gayle, to their family. She weighed 6 lbs., 5 oz. Birthdays will not be hard to keep track of because Tami was born on brother Brett's 2nd birthday, April 8.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Everett Pike of Clarkston.

Kutting Korners

By Jean Sura

Over the past weeks I have received some recipes that I have kept on file. I'm doing a little spring cleaning so here they are:

Creamy Sure fudge recipe comes from Ruth Beels.

CREAMY SURE FUDGE

2/3 c. (1 small can) evaporated milk
16 marshmallows, or a 5 to 10 oz. jar marshmallow cream
1 1/3 c. granulated sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 c. butter
1 1/2 c. semi-sweet chocolate morsels
1 tsp. vanilla
1 c. coarsely chopped nuts

Mix first five ingredients in saucepan. Heat to boiling and boil five minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. — add chocolate and stir until melted. Stir in vanilla and nuts; spread in buttered 8" pan. Cool until firm.

The recipe for Stay-in-bed Stew brought this response from Annie Martin.

FIVE HOUR STEW

250 degrees
2 lbs. stewing beef
4 carrots
4 celery stalks
4 potatoes
4 onions
Rutabaga
1 can cream mushroom soup
1 can consommé
1 can stewed tomatoes
3 T. tapioca

Throw together and bake in heavy-covered pan or Dutch oven at 250 degrees.

An anonymous donor suggests this eye-opener for a rainy, gloomy morning.

BRIGHT-AND-EARLY FRUIT CUP

2 tablespoons orange-flavored instant breakfast drink
1 cup water
4 cups diced fresh fruits (apples, pears, oranges, grapefruit and bananas)

Dissolve instant breakfast drink in water. Pour over fruits, mixing lightly. Chill. (Instant breakfast drink retards discoloring of fruits.) Makes 4 cups or 8 servings.

This glamorized rice pudding is a little something added.

RIZ A L'IMPERATRICE

1 pint milk
3 tbsps. white rice
3 tbsps. candied fruit soaked in 6 tbsps. Kirsch for 3 hours
1 tbsp. gelatine powder
3 tbsps. granulated sugar
2 whole eggs + 2 yolks
2 cups whipped cream
1 pinch salt
Vanilla flavor

Over moderate fire cook rice in boiling milk with sugar, salt and vanilla for 25 minutes. Add gelatin diluted with a little cold milk. Mix well. Draw pan from fire. In a bowl beat whole eggs and yolks. Pour slowly milk and rice over. Bring back to fire, stirring gently and constantly with a wooden spoon until it starts to simmer. Put mixture into a large bowl and let cool. When it starts to set, mix in candied fruit, whipped cream and Kirsch. Mix well with wooden spoon. Fill a mould of your choice with mixture and store in refrigerator for 4 hours.

We are not too fond of candied fruit, so I substituted some well drained, fresh fruit.

SAUCE AU KIRSCH

1 cup milk
1 liquid oz. Kirsch
2 egg yolks
2 tbsps. granulated sugar
A small pinch of salt
Vanilla flavor.

Mix thoroughly in a cool bowl — yolks, sugar and salt for 3 minutes, stirring constantly with a soft whip. Pour slowly boiling milk flavored with vanilla over; put sauce back into pan. Over moderate fire, stirring continuously with wooden spoon, let cook until it starts to simmer. Remove rapidly from fire, pour into a cold bowl, add Kirsch. Let cool off completely. Unmold rice mixture on a cold dish. Pour Sauce au Kirsch around it. Decorate top with candied or fresh fruit. Serve very cold but NOT FROZEN. Serves 8.

Mrs. Arlene Moore, Clarkston District Camp Fire Candy Sale Chairman, presents a specially decorated cake to John L. Heath of the Heath Candy Company. The occasion was the successful completion of their 5th annual candy sale. The proceeds of the sale are used for maintenance and operation of Camp Oweki which is located near Clarkston. The camp is owned by the Camp Fire Council and the facilities are opened to other groups for weekend retreats and camp-outs.

Cub Scout News

The circus came to Sashabaw Junior High School during the April meeting of Cub Scout Pack 341. With each den responsible for a portion of the circus entertainment, there was hula dancing, clowns, a fat lady, bareback riders, Indian dancing, a fat man, a strong man, a magician, a bearded lady and a fortune teller. The Webelos presented a skit, peep show and comedy dialogue.

Cubmaster Seth Cummings presented the Bobcat pin to Billy Alexander. Institutional representative, Ray Hughes, awarded silver wolf badge arrows to Bobby Cooper, David Willits, Jim Wood and Phillip Standing, and gold arrows to Bob Bray, Tim Roberts and Scott Turnbull.

Webelos leader, Burt Willits, gave Bear badges to Fred Petiprin, Norman Hunt, Joe Brown and Don Hawkins, who also received a gold and silver arrow.

The Webelos colors were presented by Roger Eriksson to Jeff Farough, Don Ferguson and Fred Petiprin. Joe Brown and Stephen Bencoter were given their Webelos colors by assistant cubmaster, Don Hagadone, who also awarded Webelos honors to Randy Cummings (artist, citizen, craftsman, scientist, engineer, traveler), Mike Nagel and Richard Smith (traveler), Tony Becker (geologist), and Richard Hagadone (artist, traveler, engineer). Assistant cubmaster, Roger Eriksson, presented the Arrow of Light to Jeff Leach and Mark Wood.

Plans were discussed for the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council Expo '70 to take place at Oakland Community College on May 23 and 24.

Highway increase for '70 slight

Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the first quarter of 1970 are being distributed to Michigan counties. Oakland County received $3,182,955. In 1969 they received $3,120,259.

The small increase, according to State Highway Director Henrik E. Stafseth, is due for the most part to the later date this year for obtaining motor vehicle license plates.

Because of this, it is expected that up to $5 million in additional license plate fees will be reported in the 2nd quarter.

The village of Clarkston will receive $3,754 as its share, compared to $3,737 last year.

Jaycees win state honors

Fourteen Clarkston Jaycees and their wives attended the State meeting in Detroit on May 15 and 16 and were proud to return home with a record number of awards.

Jerry Bradley, president, was named one of the 5 "Outstanding local presidents in the State of Michigan."

The Jaycees received 3 first place R and R (records and recognition) awards in addition.

One first place was awarded in "Community Relations" and the projects submitted in this area were as follows: Flower baskets, July 4th float, July 4th fireworks, Labor Day float, Christmas Decoration contest, donations to the Township Library, Jaycee Week, Junior Miss Pageant, Christmas Kids Show, Bosses' Night and the Community Sign Board.

Another first place was received for the "Project of the Year" award, which was won by their continuing program of work at the Pontiac State Hospital.

The 3rd first place was won for the work done with the Mental Retardation Program at Fairlong Center. This award won the Sam Rosenberg award and included a plaque as did the other awards, but it also included a check for $100.

The Jaycees were proud to receive a 2nd place award for their local newsletter.

A third place award was received for "Individual and Spiritual Development." In this book were these projects: Petitions for Prayer in public schools, Good Friday Prayer breakfast and Speak Up Jaycee program.

Jaycees attending the meeting were: Jerry and Carol Bradley, Art and Pat

New PTA officers at the Clarkston Elementary School are introduced to the parents and teachers at the May PTA meeting at the school. Past president, Robert Kraud, left, handled the installation ceremony for: Ken Barks, father vice president; Rich Johnston, president; Kay Robertson, mother vice president; Judy Ushman, historian-parliamentarian; Nancy Tilley, secretary; Joy McKibben, treasurer and Gladys Alexander, teacher vice president.

Ripley, Terry and Sue Kelley, Jerry and Adel Powell, Don and Barb Hamaker, John and Barb Powe, Don and Gigi Colton, Harold and Carolyn Morgan, Bob and Marilyn Smith, Bob and Nancy Tilley, Bob and Marietta Jones, Mike and Barb Thayer, Dick and Gwen Wilton, and Jerry Hennig.

The only thing that kept Mrs. Hennig from participating in the festivities was a broken leg.

Creative Arts Fair Briefly told here May 22-23

The second annual Creative and Industrial Arts Fair will be held in the high school cafeteria on May 22 and 23.

The hours of the showing will be from 8 to 11 p.m. on Friday and from 1 to 11 p.m. on Saturday.

Entries in the show have been made in the field of art, English and industrial arts.

The displays will be judged on Friday night.

Chairman is Karen MacDougall. Zack Bell has been in charge of publicity. The art entries have been handled by Casey Smith, David LePere is in charge of the English entries and Kirt Stalker heads the industrial arts department.

The public is invited to inspect the entries. There will be no charge.

Bids on the new Independence Township Fire Hall were opened last week. There was a wide spread in the estimated cost of construction.

A decision will be reached and the contracts awarded in the near future.

On your mark get set-go

With less than a week to go, students are busy obtaining sponsors for Saturday's "Walk for Mankind." While students are busy, so are the Jaycees making final arrangements for the twelve-mile journey. The project revolves around the idea of students taking part in a movement for the benefit of mankind.

The project is simple. Students obtain sponsors who volunteer to pay them for every mile they walk. Students try to obtain as many sponsors as possible. (One girl at the high school presently has 24 sponsors who totally will be paying her over $5.00 for every mile she walks. If she finishes the 12 miles, her contribution will be over $60.00).

The money that is collected goes to two worthwhile causes. One is Project Concern, the other is Jayshop.

Project Concern is a medical relief organization with hospitals and clinics in Hong Kong, South Vietnam, Appalachia and Mexico.

Jayshop is a project started this past year by the Jaycees in North Oakland County. It is a part of Pontiac State Hospital where inmates get job experience in an attempt to develop skills so they can become an integral part of society when they are released.

The Walk will follow a course through Independence Township. Students will begin at the high school and proceed down Waldon Road to Walters Road. When they reach Flemings Lake Road, they move toward Orion Road. From Orion road, they head toward Sashabaw road and to Hoyt Road. Hoyt Road will take them to Perry Lake Road, then to Cranberry Lake Road.

After crossing M-15, students will take Allen Road to Holcomb Road and finally arrive at the village parking lot where the total mileage will be tabulated.

Check-points will be set about every mile of the course.

The student cards will be reviewed and an official stamp of Project Concern — "Walk for Mankind" will show the total mileage the student has walked.

Sponsors should not make a payment unless the student can show the stamped card. Receipts are available upon request for tax purposes. Contributions to charity can be deducted.

Clarkston's "Walk for Mankind" is a pilot program for the entire State of Michigan. If our attempt is successful, the rest of the state will try it next year. The Clarkston Jaycees hope that the Clarkston area residents will give support to the project.

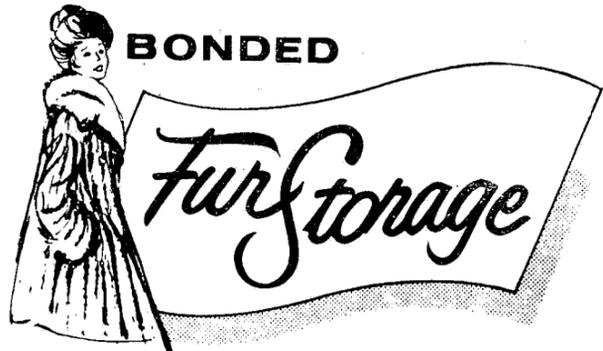

Final tryouts brought these girls to the front of the cheerleading section for the '70-'71 season. Shown in a relaxed pose, before their strenuous training begins, are varsity cheerleaders, from left to right, back row: Pam Toutant, Debbie Wycoff, Cindy Porritt, Gail Ragatz and Sue Surre. Front row: Jan Easton, Kim Blasey and Bev Arrowsmith.
