Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Back in 1962 there was a party in Oxford for Tunstead Hardware. It was one of only two hardwares in Michigan that had been in the same family and at the same location for over 100 years.

Their 3 S. Washington address is the only 3 story building left on main street besides the abandoned hotel. The name "W. J. Tunstead" still is visible high on the side of the building.

It was started by Billie Tunstead, handed down to son George, and then to George's step-son Ralph VanWagoner. Ralph has owned the store since 1946 and has been wanting to get out for a year or so. He found no buyers. It would appear from the number of close-out sales listed by a company that specializes in close-out sales that hardwares far outnumber any other type of business.

Still it would be a shame to see a business close that has been in one location so long and meant so much to the history of our town. At one time Tunstead's was the main supplier of tools to farmers in the Oxford area.

On the way to Bald Mountain May 27 to give our weekly golf lesson to some unworthy opponent, my partner, Pansy Baldwin, and I remarked to each other about the shame of seeing Tunstead's close. Ralph had just signed a "Close-out" sale agreement.

We wondered aloud what we might do. The end result was that we agreed the next day to buy it.

We're only involved in the merchandise, not the real estate. Hopefully, we won't have to get very involved at all. We both have enough to worry about with our own businesses.

There is little chance of our being able to do any more than make payments. From an investment standpoint our money would probably gain more if put back in our own businesses.

But, there is something more to it with us. Pansy and I honestly want to see that business stay open. Sure others have closed and we've done nothing. And we have not been, nor are we now, out looking to buy anything else.

Our feelings for the community, the preservation of downtown Oxford and continuing a century-old business - all had something to do with our decision.

Last minute adjustments on mortar boards are made as the Class of 1970 prepared to join the processional that led to the Honors Assembly at Clarkston High School.

Outstanding seniors receive awards

Outstanding seniors from the class of 1970 were named for special awards at the Honors Assembly held at the Clarkston High School on June 12.

Each year the Administrative Council (all heads of departments) and the class sponsors select the boy and girl student who have shown outstanding qualities in leadership, scholarship, and service and these students are named the Senior Student Citizens.

This year the honors were bestowed on Claudia Sawyer and Lou Lessard.

The Danforth Foundation Award is based on all of the above and to them adds the quality of participation in community activities. The same body makes the selection.

The Danforth Award went to Jane Richard and George Bennett.

Department awards were made to the following students: Science, Dave Lehman; Mathematics, Steve Kratt; Speech, Kathy Hoff; Dramatics, Mark Taylor; English, Jody Hawk; German, Debbie Davis; Latin, Jody Hawk; French, Nancy Caldwell; Business Education, Vickie Franklin; Social Studies, David Lehman; Art, Janet Vollbach and Mike Ledbetter; Vocal Music, James Decker; Band, Beth Karpovck; Home Economics, Sue McAnally.

The Industrial Arts awards were made in the following categories: Auto Technology, Donald Trarop; Electricity Technology, Gilbert Wright; Drawing, Terry Bunton; Metals, Scott Adcock; Woods, Lewis Fancher. The Grand Industrial Arts Award went to Greg Pierce.

The cheerleading award was won by Claudia Sawyer and the award for Scholastic-Athletic by Richard Ruelle.

The athletic awards went to Jane Richard and Scott Robbins.

Margaret Raymer received the CEA's $200 scholarship which is given to a student who is going into the field of education.

Twp. candidates meet deadline

In the last hours before filing deadline for Independence Township offices, 5 petitions were turned in to give opposition to the incumbents.

None of the petitions have been certified by the clerk at this time; however, all are expected to be.

Opposing incumbent supervisor Duane Hursfall, Republican, will be Gary Stonerock of 4780 Mohawk and Bob Hurst of 5102 Pine Knob Road, both Democrats.

Incumbent Howard Altman, Republican, filed early for re-election and Louis Gavar, 5159 Parview, Democrat, filed Tuesday.

Ken Johnson, the only Democrat officer in the township, will be opposed in the election by Shirley McDonnell, Republican.

Another primary race is coming for the trustee post. Incumbent Harold Bauer is being opposed by Robert Kraud on the Republican ticket. The Democratic candidate is Keith Humbert.

The primary election is August 4 and deadline for registering is 8 p.m. July 3 at the clerk's office.

PEEKIN' into the PAST

10 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS
June 23, 1960

Mrs. Charles Robinson and daughter Georgia are attending summer school at Central Michigan University, together.

Willard H. Wells of Clarkston received the highest award in the Order of the Arrow last week-end during the annual spring conclave of Chippewa Lodge No. 29. Mr. Wells was given the Vigil Honor, a national award of this national society of honor campers and leaders of the Boy Scouts.

One of the most modern and complete prescription pharmacies in Michigan has been opened by Rowena O'Dell and Keith Hallman in the new Clarkston Professional Center Building. Open House will be June 24, and 25. Refreshments will be served. There will be Door Prizes and Gifts for all. All are invited.

25 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS
June 22, 1945

The annual Tag Day for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital will be held Saturday, June 30th. Mrs. Milen Vliet and Misses Mae and Nell Barry will have charge in this Township.

This happens to be tonsillectomy week in Clarkston, at least it seems so. Among those who have undergone this operation are Suellen O'Dell, Janet Sue Willoughby, Bobby Jones, Shirley Terry, and Ruth Davies. The last we heard they were all doing well.

Now that schools are out, many 14-18 year old youths have applied for work on farms. Some farmers have already found their "hired man" by getting one of these Victory Farm Volunteer helpers.

3 parties qualify for primary

There will be no new entries or any surprises as voters will be able to choose between three parties in Michigan's primary election August 4, and five parties in the November general election, Secretary of State James M. Hare has disclosed.

The five party choices in November are two less than in 1968 when an all-time high of seven parties were on the ballot. Besides the two traditional major parties, Republican and Democrat, the other parties qualifying for a spot in November were the American Independent party, the Socialist Workers, and Socialist Labor. Two parties which qualified in 1968 . . . New Politics and Prohibition . . . did not qualify this year.

Minority parties must gain at least one percent of the votes cast for the successful secretary of state to automatically qualify for a spot on the general election without collecting new qualifying petitions.

The American Independent Party, by virtue of its strong showing in the last general election, qualified for both the primary and general elections and did not have to file qualifying petitions.

The largest number of minor parties to ever qualify in a Michigan election was in 1938 when the Socialist, Socialist Labor, American, Commonwealth, Protestants United and Square Deal parties were on the ballot.

Six minority parties were on the 1936 ballot, the last time the Farmer-Labor Party appeared, and in 1932, when the Communist Party was on the Michigan ballot.

The Communist Party racked up its biggest vote in 1932 . . . 7,906. It was listed for the last time in 1940 when it polled only 2,387 votes.

Hare said by far the biggest vote recorded by a so-called minor party in Michigan history was the 331,968 compiled by the American Independent Party in 1968.

Previous high was by the National Progressive Party in 1912.

Visiting the ill has been a part of our tradition for so long, many of us don't realize that it can create problems in the hospital, nursing home or even the private home of the sick person.

Among these problems: the psychological shock to the patient caused by those visitors who recall how badly so-and-so did under similar circumstances; who inquire if the doctor has ordered such-and-such a test (implying that he's a quack if he hasn't); who "sympathize" with the terrible way the hospital is run; who imply that the illness is not all that serious; or who inquire into the most intimate details of the sickness.

Then there are the visitors who stay too long; those who visit when they have a cold, or have spent three hours in a tavern; those who sneak in outside of the regular visitors' hours (thus disrupting meals, bathing or sleep); whose boisterous behavior disturbs other patients in the room—or even on the same floor; and those who spend most of their time socializing with other visitors to the sickroom.

Here are a few suggestions passed on to us by hospital personnel: Check first with the family, to see if the patient is able to receive visitors, and when would be a convenient time to visit. If you want to take along a little gift, again the family can be helpful in making suggestions; remember the patient may be on a diet, or prohibited from smoking, or may be upset by flowers. Be brief, be cheerful, be considerate. If you don't know the details of the illness, don't ask. Don't get involved in arguments, or bring bad news that will upset the patient. Unless the patient is smoking, or offers you a cigarette, don't smoke.

Jr High presents "Fun and Fashion"

SRO at Jr. Hi variety show

The vocal music department of the Clarkston Junior High School presented a variety show entitled "Fun and Fashion" to a standing-room-only crowd on June 10.

Clifford Harris and Joe O'Brien were Masters of Ceremony to 45 acts. Fashioned after vaudeville, the 200 students of Grayce Warren offered piano solos, folk music, dance routines, chorus lines, slap-stick comedy and pantomime routines to records.

At the close of the program an award representing the most outstanding music student of the ninth grade was awarded to Darla Hoopengartner for her achievements during her three years in chorus.

Miss Warren, music teacher at Clarkston Junior High, said, "In this day of doubt and concern for the youth of today, the show revealed the true and enlightening joy of young adults. As a teacher, it is my hope that through such programs can we not only try and educate the child in the normal routine of the classroom, but also through the realm of enjoyment, entertainment and communication between parents, students and the school.

"In this joint effort, it is hoped that the students will gain insight into cooperation, respect for others, communication with their peers, confidence in themselves, creativity and most important, the element of constructive and productive knowledge in the culture of music."

"If It Fitz . . ."

The general chokes

By Jim Fitzgerald

A kid from Illinois, while doing his duty in Vietnam, got a bullet in his heart. Somehow, he didn't die, thus getting his name on a lot of front pages.

The Associated Press reported: "Army surgeons have removed a Viet Cong bullet from the heart of a 20-year-old American soldier in what they call an operation unprecedented in the Vietnam war.

"We've never had a case like this before," said Dr. Elias Hanna, cardiac surgeon at the army hospital in Saigon. "There have been cases in which the heart was punctured by fragments, but this is the first time a whole bullet has been removed from the heart."

All of which turns me on — and off.

I'm naturally tickled the young man will live. But Holy Cow, Mabel . . .

What a lousy world it is when we must celebrate the removal of a bullet from a heart. It would be the same thing if the Detroit Tigers burned all their bats and tried to hit the ball with toothpicks. And then had a joyous festival because they only lost the game 20 to 1 instead of 20 to 0.

What's to celebrate? Why did the big boobs burn their bats in the first place?

Why did humanity put that bullet in the boy's heart in the first place?

Batting at baseballs with toothpicks is no way to win games. Any player with such a silly idea would be straightened out quickly by his manager.

Fighting wars is no way for a 20-year-old youth to live to vote. Most bullets in the heart, and elsewhere, are extremely hazardous to the health. But the boys keep going to war anyway. Blame it on stupid management.

Maybe someday there will be more unusual surgery resulting from war. It could be performed on this stupid management — the big shots in Washington and Moscow and Hanoi and Saigon. The stuffed shirts who talk peace endlessly in Paris while boys bleed endlessly in Vietnam.

The Associated Press might report the operation like this: "Surgeons at Walter Reed Hospital have removed a large mass of liquid from the throat of General Butch McWinwright, the Pentagon veteran who gained fame by using computers to count dead bodies.

"The general was choking on the liquid which was later identified as the blood of a 20-year-old soldier killed the day before in Vietnam.

"General McWinwright is expected to recover completely although it appears his speech will be affected. He used to shriek like a hawk but now he coos like a dove." †

CEA report...

On Wednesday of the past week, the bargaining teams of the CEA and Board of Education met for the seventh time. The CEA presented its proposals in response to the Board's offer of May 26.

They agreed on 2 more proposals during this session. As a result, 6 issues remain unresolved in the non-economic areas of the contract.

Meanwhile, in Lansing, the State Legislature has yet to act upon the annual school-aid bill. This has prevented the negotiating teams from engaging in "specific" economic discussions concerning salaries, extra-curricular compensation, insurance, etc. The Board and CEA representatives have met in preliminary meetings to determine job classifications as a means of costing out the total salary package.

The CEA and the Board will resume negotiations Wednesday, June 17th. It is hoped that the unresolved non-economic issues can be wrapped up during this session.

The CEA extends congratulations to the newly elected member of the Board of Education, Mr. David Leak. We hope Mr. Leak's tenure on the Board will be marked with achievement and satisfaction.

This year's recipient of the CEA scholarship is Margaret Raymer. She has been very active in the Future Teachers Club during her high school years, is a member of the National Honor Society and is looking forward to a career in education.

A general meeting of all CEA membership will be held on Thursday, June 18, at 4:15 p.m. in the high school auditorium. A negotiations report will be the main item on the agenda.

Jr.Hi ends year with dance

A 9th grade dance for the students of both Sashabaw Junior High and Clarkston Junior High was held at the Sashabaw Junior High cafeteria on Saturday, June 13th from 7:30 until 10:30.

Music was supplied by a rock group from the Rochester area known as "The Matrix." Approximately 60 students "rocked" the hours away.

This dance was sponsored by the student governments of both schools under Mr. B. Bidinger and Miss Shirley Keneipp.

Chaperones for the evening were Melvin Vaara, Gus Birtsas, Bill Potvin, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bihl, Mr. and Mrs. Tom O'Brien, Miss Lee, Miss Shirley Keneipp and Kenneth Wolven.

A cake was presented at the conclusion of the evening bearing the inscription, "Congratulations - Class of '70."

Pete Thompson has been promoted to the position of Principal at Westwood Height's Junior High School in Flint. Mr. Thompson was a coach, teacher and coordinator of vocational programs for eight years at Clarkston Sr. High School.

Tapped for honors

Patricia Mulcrone, a sophomore student at Michigan State University, was among 47 coeds who were tapped into Circle Honorary, a national organization which gives recognition to young women exhibiting outstanding leadership while in residence halls.

Circle Honorary taps one percent of the women residing in the MSU dormitories each year.

The letters in the word Circle stand for Citizenship, Initiative, Responsibility, Cooperation, Leadership and Effort.

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Mulcrone of Snow Apple Drive.

1 cup milk
Heat oven to 450 degrees. Measure flour and stir together with sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut in shortening. Stir in milk just until blended. Spread dough in 2 greased layer pans (8 inch). Bake 15 to 20 minutes. Split crosswise while hot. Spread with butter, fill and top with berries.

As you can see, you can take your favorite biscuit recipe and add 2 tablespoons of sugar to it and you have the basis for an excellent shortcake. When I do this, I place a square of butter on top before putting them in the oven.

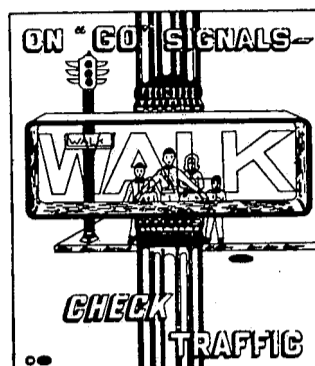

Here is another chicken casserole to try while the price of chicken is low.

QUICKIE CHICKEN CASSEROLE

3 or 4 small chicken breasts, halved
1 package bread stuffing mix
1 can (10 1/4 oz.) chicken gravy
1/4 cup canned tomato sauce
1/2 teaspoon dried parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon each dried rosemary and tarragon
1 teaspoon instant minced onions
Cook chicken breasts in just enough water to cover until tender. Remove from broth and cool slightly. Remove bones and skin, keeping breast meat in one piece. Prepare stuffing mix as directed on package, using some of the broth as liquid. Spread in a shallow baking dish. Arrange chicken breasts on top. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour over all. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Cut in squares to serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: You can thicken the broth and make your own gravy if preferred to canned. We do. With the strawberry shortcake waiting for dessert, this casserole will please even for company. A simple salad is all you need to round out your dinner.

Strawberry time is here in Michigan. Old fashioned strawberry shortcake is one of our family favorites. Here are several recipes for you to try.

From Fern Laser:

SHORTCAKE

2 cups sifted flour
5 teaspoons (rounded) baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
5 tablespoons (rounded) shortening
2/3 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar

Bake for 12 minutes at 450 degrees after shaping, into 10 medium sized biscuits.

Here is another:

OLD FASHIONED SHORTCAKE

2 cups biscuit mix
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1 egg, slightly beaten
1/3 cup heavy cream
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Combine biscuit mix and sugar; cut in shortening. Combine egg and cream. Add to mixture. Stir with fork until dough gathers in a soft ball. Roll out about 1/2 inch thick on floured surface. Cut with a 3 inch cutter. Place on greased baking sheet. Dot with butter. Bake at 450 degrees for 12 to 15 minutes. Split and butter while hot. Cover with ripe strawberries, and top with whipped cream or topping.

Note: We prefer our berries crushed (I use a potato masher) and slightly sweetened. In place of the whipped cream we like to pour the cream over the top.

Here is one more. Try them all and pick your favorite.

2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
3 teaspoons baking powder

Parties parties and more parties

By Doje

Birthdays have been the thing at the Auten house on Overlook Drive this last week. Susie celebrated her 17th on June 11th and father Don his 30 plus on June 17th. The Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth was the spot for the senior Autens' celebration.

Brian Fogg, with his arm in a cast to his shoulder, will take treats to his classmates at Clarkston Elementary on Thursday, June 18th to celebrate his 6th birthday. Brian broke his arm last week while playing in his yard.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kartje have purchased the Jack Haupt house on Washington street. The Haupt, who built the house and moved into it in December, 1965, have moved to Oscoda, in the Lakewood Shores Subdivision which is one block from Lake Huron.

The Kartjes expect to move here from Grosse Pointe around the first of July.

A pre-convention party was held on Saturday, June 13th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of Snowapple Drive. Twenty couples, members of the Clarkston Area Jaycees, will leave on Saturday, June 20th by car caravan and travel to St. Louis for the Jaycee National Convention. This is a week long event and we hope you all have a great time.

Weber. We understand he was very surprised on Friday night when he was the guest of honor at a party.

Sunday was a very popular day for graduation open houses. Graduates honored were: Jo Ann Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gordon; Jane Morse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morse; Mollie Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch; Kristine Altman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Altman; Marcia Fahrner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fahrner.

Also honored were: David LePere, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ronald LePere; and Dan Hallman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hallman.

To all the seniors and their parents, "Congratulations."

Kevin Hamaker of Kingfisher Lane was the guest of honor on June 17th, when a family party was held celebrating his 9th birthday. Happy Birthday, Kevin.

The Clarkston Area Girl Scouts held their annual bridging ceremony on Thursday, June 11th in the Jr. High School Gym. Junior Scouts bridged to Cadettes, Brownies to Junior Scouts and many new Brownies were welcomed. The cold punch was greatly appreciated at the close of a very lovely program on a very warm night.

PAPER TABLECLOTH available at Clarkston News office. Just $4.04 per 300 ft. roll. Ideal for parties, receptions and club dinners.

Jobs for Teens under way

Sixty-one girls are ready and willing to go to work in Clarkston area homes.

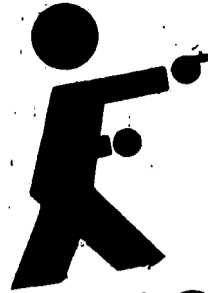

The Jobs for Teens program, sponsored by the Clarkston Area Jayettes, goes into full swing this week.

Mrs. Jerry Hennig, chairman, announced today that her first telephone committee is ready to accept calls. The girls are qualified to do babysitting, cleaning, yard work or other light odd jobs. Mrs. Jerry Hennig, 625-2268; Mrs. Richard Johnston, 625-2589 or Mrs. Mike Haines, 673-9197, will be able to give you names of girls in your area who are interested in the type of work you have to be done.

Elgart-Vaughn star on Clarkston night

Les Elgart and Sarah Vaughn will be the featured attraction at the Meadowbrook Music Festival on Clarkston Night, June 26. The musical season at Meadowbrook will get under way on June 25. The Clarkston Night arrangements are being handled by Mrs. Donald Cooper, who can be reached at 625-2209. Clarkstonites planning to attend are urged to pack a picnic supper and meet in the parking lot on Main and Washington Streets at 6:30 p.m.

Walter Gallegly

Marine-Private First Class Walter V. Gallegly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe V. Gallegly of 5391 Sunnyside Drive, participated in the training exercise "Beagle House" with the Fifth Marine Expeditionary Brigade at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

The exercise was a test of Navy-Marine Corps amphibious and helicopter landing techniques under all weather conditions on various types of terrain.

Ingrid M. Smith posted bond with the Secretary of State in Lansing on June 9 to assure her place on the primary ballot in the August 4 election. Mrs. Smith, a resident of Clarkston, will seek a seat in the State Senate to represent the 17th District which encompasses Independence, Oxford, Orion, Lapeer, Waterford, Addison Townships and the City of Pontiac.

Mrs. Smith would like to see reform in the areas of: Right to life for the unborn, State wide, equal, quality education and property tax relief for school financing, realistic pollution control and adequate mental health programs.

David L. Jacobs, 27, of 5474 Parview Drive, will be honored June 21 for outstanding sales achievements.

The occasion will be the Combined Insurance Company of America's regional convention.

Jacobs, who joined Combined in 1969, was nominated as a top accident and health insurance salesman during a special marketing test week held throughout the international company's U.S. and foreign sales territories.

Dun done

by Haslett Hemmor

Got this nasty note from the Fintress Collection Agency yesterday noon. Said I'd owed a Doctor Boardman $52 for ten months and how as even my own mother hadn't carried me that long.

Their little nag note made a few other snide remarks about how as if I had maybe deliberate run up this tab and could be that if it was my original intent not to pay for the goods or services, I could maybe be prosecuted for larceny by conversion - a felony punishable by fine and/or imprisonment.

Whole letter is in purple type except in black they typed in the amount and Doctor's name and my name and stuff like that there. Trouble is, I never heard of this Doc Boardman, and I don't owe a soul a penny except house and car like everybody else except a few rich buzzards. Letter says don't bother to write and don't bother to phone - just bring in the money or we turn loose our large staff of mean attorneys who will collect this bill plus legal charges, interest, court costs and collection fees to be determined by my cooperation.

Since they already practical got me in jail, I figure I better take the rest of the day off and go protect my good name, such as it is. Heard about folks having trucks marked "DEADBEAT" in front of their houses and all kinds of goofy stories about goon squads and stuff.

Finding the Fintress Collection Agency ain't easy. They're like upstairs over a vacant lot. Only thing on their office door is a number, and I have to go back outside after wandering up and down the hall. Outside, I look again at my letter and it does say "Hopkins Building," which this is and it says "Suite 232F" which I hadn't noticed. Back up I walk and find room 232 with no "F" and inside it's maybe 10x10 and a real rat's nest.

"I'm Mr. Hemmor," I tell the girl sitting at a desk, chewing gum and kind of staring into the corner. She's a long bean pole with purple eye shadow.

"So you ain't Peter, Paul and Mary," says this girl, after she shifts her cud. "Want to see Marty?" she asks me.

"Who's Marty?" I question her.

"If you don't know who's Marty, why you lookin' for him?"

"Don't know that I am looking for him."

"Maybe you're just lost. Been downtown before?"

"I'm looking for the Fintress Collection Agency."

"That's Marty. Ain't here. Also he ain't here if you're looking for the Apex Toy Company or Inner-City Detectives. Marty ain't here."

"I'm Haslett Hemmor."

"So you ain't Peter, Paul and Mary."

"Marty says I owe Dr. Boardman $52."

"Marty's mean. How much do you owe that drunken quack? You dirty old man."

"Don't owe him nothing. Never saw him."

"Just had nothin' to do so the old sot pulled your name out of the phone directory, did he? I'll check your card."

Ten, twelve minutes later she come back. "You was supposed to get the Toy Company mailer," she said. "Somebody goofed."

"Who goofed?" I ask.

"Got to be me," she giggles. "Real nice talkin' to you, though, Mr., Mr. --?"

"I'm Mr. Hemmor," I tell her.

"So you ain't --"

Didn't hear the last of that, the door was closing, but I figure I know what she said.

Diabetes camp needs campers

Michigan's summer camp for young diabetics, Camp Midicha, still has room for more campers this summer, either for one or two ten-day sessions, July 12-22 and July 22 - August 1.

Boys and girls, eight through sixteen years of age, may attend. The fee is $65.00 per session but no one is turned away for financial reasons, according to the camp's sponsor, the Michigan Diabetes Association. Both full and partial camperships are available.

Located thirty miles north of Detroit.

in the beautiful rolling country near Oxford. Camp Midicha provides its campers with daily medical and dietary supervision by a staff of physicians, nurses, and dietitians.

The actual camping program is identical to that of other summer camps with swimming, boating, hiking, horseback riding, archery, and arts and crafts.

Application forms may be obtained from the Michigan Diabetes Association at 6131 West Outer Drive, Detroit 48235.

Dan Fife speaks at Sports banquet

Wednesday, June 10, Sashabaw Junior High held a Dessert Athletic Awards Banquet. The guest speaker was Dan Fife, Clarkston's first basketball player and Captain of the University of Michigan's basketball team for the 1970-71 season. Dan spoke to the approximately 350 students and parents about setting goals and attaining objectives.

Mel Vaara, principal of Sashabaw Junior High, spoke briefly on both Inter-Scholastic and Intra-Mural Athletics in the past year at Sashabaw Junior High.

Faculty members presenting awards were as follows:

Linda Mitchell and Mrs. Tom Ford, for girls' volleyball and girls' basketball; Bill Bonnell, Chris Krueger, Tom O'Brien, Neal Sage, Richard Swartout, Kenneth Wolven for boys' intra-mural basketball; Joyce Lee for 9th grade girls' cheerleading; James Koslosky for 9th grade boys' inter-scholastic basketball; and Tom Ford for 9th grade boys' inter-scholastic baseball.

Winning the "Outstanding" 9th grade basketball award was Terry Green with Steve Ogans winning "most improved" basketball player.

In baseball, Jeff Hall received the "outstanding" player award and Larry Miracle won the "most improved."

Closing remarks were by Gus Birtsas, Assistant Principal and Athletic Director, who listed plans for future sports at Sashabaw Junior High.

Daddy dozed

by Jean Sura

My dad was a practical joker. His problem was that he was also a sound sleeper and half of the time his jokes backfired because before they got off the ground he fell asleep and missed all the fun.

He kept things on a lively plane though and as a result kept his harem in line.

Dad's greatest stunt and largest fiasco was a frustration to him and he was never able to live it down. Years later, when we dragged the story out and teased him about it, however, he couldn't control the grin that tugged at the corners of his mouth.

We three girls were out of high school at the time, at the dating age, when our 'Rube Goldberg Dad' decided to rig up a little entertainment for us and at the same time catch us in the act, just in case we happened to be late coming in from our dates.

Our room was the top story of the house. The stairway leading to the room opened off of the front entry and the living room.

To complete his scheme that night, dad traipsed out to the alley and got an assortment of jars and old bottles which he put in a big old metal dish pan. Then he put the pan of glassware on the hearth of the fireplace. Over it, on the mantle, he arranged some heavy objects. These objects were connected, by an intricate arrangement of string and led to the inside handle of the front door.

It was a fancy arrangement. When we opened the front door the strings pulled the heavy stuff off of the mantle and they fell into the pan of glass, making an unholy noise.

Everything worked to perfection. The loud crash almost caused us to have a heart attack from the shock. Mom came bolting out to see what was happening. We all just stood there stupefied and then we heard it.

Dad's snores blared out in the sudden silence. We all went into convulsions of laughter. The old fox had missed again!

When we got our breath back and quieted down we headed for the stairway and bed.

I opened the door and "an inferno of noise" (you can read that as you wish) broke loose. Indeed, old Dad had been very busy that night. Tin cans, tied to strings came cascading down the steps when the door was opened.

Shaken for the second time, we stood there. Mom came tearing back out. It was like seeing a stupid comedy over for the second time in fifteen minutes.

"Sssssh," said little sister, Nina.

"Hush," said big sister, Anna Marie.

"Quiet," said middle sister, Jean.

And we all stood still, stifling our giggles. Stentorian sounds rolled out from Dad's bedroom. He'd done it again. He'd slept through his sure-fire program II.

"Your dad worked so hard assembling all this junk for his little project that it is no wonder he was all tired out by eleven o'clock," said Mom.

Happy Father's Day and fond memories too!

FATHER'S DAY - JUNE 21

St. Luke 15:20 "And he arose, and came to his father. But when he was a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck and kissed him."

DRAYTON HEIGHTS FREE METHODIST CHURCH

The parable commonly known as the parable of the Prodigal Son is also one which illustrates a good father. Although his son had left home and wasted his money in reckless living the father was eager to receive him back home. The father was scanning the dusty road for signs of his son's return. He then, being filled with tenderness, ran, embraced and kissed him, and called for the festive robe, a ring for his hand, and sandals for his feet. The fatted calf was slain, a feast followed as they rejoiced over the returned son.

Certainly, the Prodigal's father was a good father. Let's list some things that should characterize a good father today:

1. A good father is one who keeps himself physically healthy and socially pure so that his offspring may have a clean birth.

2. A good father cooperates with a good mother to make a home that is wholesome and happy.

3. A good father is one who by continuous labor and consistent devotion provides a suitable house, necessary clothes, and sufficient food.

4. A good father gives his children some of his time for family recreation, fun, and frolic.

5. A good father sets a good example of a well-rounded person who is a worthy model after which his children may pattern their lives.

6. A good father encourages his children intellectually to prepare themselves for the greatest usefulness to God and man.

7. A good father loves his wife and his children more than he loves his work, his pleasure, or his club.

8. A good father controls the activities of the home within the bounds of good taste morally, socially, recreationally, and musically.

9. A good father is one who makes time for and conducts family worship each day.

10. A good father is one who does not send his wife and children to Sunday School and church, but takes them.

11. A good father is one who assumes his God-given duty as head of the home, and exerts his leadership by precept and by personal example.

12. A good father is one who considers it his primary sacred trust, conferred by God, to introduce his children to Jesus, the risen Saviour, and thus prepare them for an unbroken family reunion in God's eternal city after family existence has ceased.

13. A good father is one who is patient as his children make mistakes and cool-headedly helps them through difficult times.

14. Finally, a good father is one who forgives his prodigal son or daughter even before they ask forgiveness or admit their guilt.

Let the fathers who have read this article ask themselves the question, "Am I a good father?"
