Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

I'm not a skier. I don't recall even trying to go down slopes on barrel staves as a kid. Except when watching the experts, skiing doesn't even look like fun. The only attraction it has for me is another excuse to get away from it all, whatever that is.

However, I was among the guests who got to preview scenes from John Jay's ski film that will be shown as a benefit for Camp Oakland at the Fisher Theatre Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m.

From the opening scene on I was impressed. One doesn't have to be a skier to enjoy this film. The beauty, the contrasts (Persia to Calgary), the experts on skis and Ski Bobs, the humor... everything about the film is attracting.

John Jay has been shooting skiing internationally for 30 years. He's so outstanding that a television network in New York is reviewing his films with the thought of making one or more shows of skiing from his viewpoint.

Less than two dozen were at the preview that was held at the Bloomfield Hills home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chambers. He's a vice president of Camp Oakland and is with Ford Motor Company.

There were also representatives of other auto makers, such as Mr. and Mrs. John Z. DeLorean, Chevrolet's leader, and men from ad agencies, like Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dearth with D. P. Brothers. Mr. Dearth is president of Camp Oakland.

The appearance and films of Jay's, we're told, would fill the Fisher Theatre alone, but others will appear with him in a panel discussion preceding the film.

One will be the champion skier, winner of the World Cup, Jean-Claude Killy. Two others are radio and TV personalities, J. P. McCarthy and Bill Flemming.

There will be more for the Camp Oakland night. A ski-fest afterglow "with appropriate refreshments" will follow in the Fisher lobby. Tickets are $3.50 to $15 and there's a $2 fee for the afterglow.

This whole column may sound like a commercial, and probably it is, but you should enjoy the film. Especially you should enjoy the Bugaboos, a mountain range near Calgary. Jay called his skiing there the "most fantastic skiing in my

Meet candidates

The Clarkston Jaycees will have a candidates' night on Wednesday, October 14, 1970. It will be held at the little theater in the high school at 8 p.m. The local candidates for the position of supervisor, clerk, treasurer and trustee will give a brief summary of why you should elect them and then the public will be able to ask questions and then each candidate will give a summary. The Jaycees would like each registered voter to be at this very important meeting. Coffee will be served.

The candidates invited to be in attendance are: Governor Milliken, Sander Levin, Lenore Romney, Phil Hart, Duane Hursfall, Gary Stonerock, Howard Altman, Louis Gavar, Ken Johnson, Shirley McDonald, Harold Bauer, and Keith Humbert.

Fund trains helpers

The Independence Township Section of the 1970 Pontiac Area United Fund Community Division held a training session for volunteers at Howes Lanes on Wednesday, September 30.

Some 30 area volunteers received campaign kits and solicitors' instructions from Independence Vice Chairman, Mrs. Frank Glowzinski, 5823 Warbler Dr., in preparation for the PAUF general campaign which will kick off after the GM-UAW strike is settled.

Serving under Mrs. Glowzinski in this year's campaign are: Business Group Chairman, Mrs. Timothy Farough, 5075 Clarkston Rd. and Home Calls Group Chairman, Mrs. David Coleman, 5811 Chickadee, Clarkston.

Julie Patterson (Mrs. Timothy) of 425 Lakeside, Waterford, is this year's General Chairman for the Community Division.

Monies raised in the annual PAUF campaign help support the Independence Citizens' Recreation Committee and 54 other agencies providing for the health, education, recreation and general well-being of Pontiac area residents.

Building report

Building in Independence Township stayed at about the same level in September as in August, according to the report released by the Building Department.

August building values were tabulated at $535,173; those for September were $542,772.

This more than doubles the amount of building when comparing it with September of 1969 when 31 permits were issued with a total value of $216,760.

September, 1970 permits were issued as follows:

18 new houses	$483,272
1 house moved in	15,000
3 garages	5,350
5 barns and sheds	7,370
12 residences remod. & add.	26,980
1 commercial add.	4,000
1 res. raised	800

41 permits $542,772

entire life."

They went in by helicopter in groups of nine. He went to a different slope each day for a week and skied untouched snow on unexplored mountains.

The Swiss Ski-Bob championships were great, as was Mt. Washington and the Persian trip. Hope I see you there October 11.

Brenda Kline, back row, holds the United Foundation Torch. From left to right are Katrina Lussier, Charles Glowzinski, Tonia Powell and Mark Westlund setting a good example by contributing to the drive that was to get under way last week. The picture was to be used as publicity, but the strike of the United Auto Workers at General Motors caused the collection to be postponed until agreement is reached.

Charles Glowzinski was annoyed at the delay and decided to take the situation into his own hands and demonstrate just how the Auto Workers and General Motors could solve their problems. Brenda Kline and Mark Westlund agree that kids know best.

Mail Call

by Donna Fahrner

Two of the community's finest citizens are keeping each other company at Pontiac General Hospital this week. Floyd Vincent, popular Assistant Superintendent of Clarkston Schools, is in room 444 and just downstairs, in room 322, is "Mr. Library," Township Trustee Merle Bennett.

Family and close friends are taking care of all their immediate needs but I've never known of a person in the hospital who didn't appreciate mail call. So drop them a note or a card. We wish them both a speedy recovery. We miss them on Main street.

The girl that was struck by a car last Friday night on Waldon Road at the school drive was released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. She was reported to have returned to school on Tuesday.

The Donald Beach family, whose home on Reese road was seriously damaged by fire last week, is taking advantage of their new neighbors' kindness and generosity. The Glen Hagyards recently moved across the road from the Beaches on Reese road. Their former home on Wormer Lake had not yet been sold and so they offered it to the Beaches for temporary quarters. In the meantime, architects are trying to determine the practicality of rebuilding the Beach house and the clean-up goes on with the assistance of many friends and neighbors, led by Sandy and "Top" Cornell.

Jody Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen of Buffalo Street, celebrated her 10th birthday on September 28 with a party. Those who helped make her birthday a happy one were Terri Hall, Michele Johnson, Marcia Mason, Jill Pursly, Ann Glover, Susie Bentley, Patrice O'Neil and the surprise guest of the afternoon was Todd Allen, Jody's 2-year-old cousin.

A happy anniversary to Bob and Barb Kirck who celebrated their 20th on September 30. Their plans for a night on the town got snowed under with every day routine. Better luck next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Martin of Snowapple are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, Jeffrey Scott, who was born on September 25. Jeffrey is the first grandchild for the Howard Martins of Port Huron and the 3rd for the LaRue Wesleys of Detroit. ## Sister crochets brides wedding gown

Mrs. Richard Brondyke of Drayton Plains designed and crocheted a bridal gown for her sister, Anne Marie McDuffie, to wear when she became the bride of Richard Andrew Perry.

The September 25 rites were performed at the St. John's Lutheran Church in Rochester.

The bride is the daughter of A. D. McDuffie, who escorted her to the altar, and the late Mrs. McDuffie. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Perry of Iron River.

The hand crocheted floor length gown was fashioned of white lace and was highlighted by bands and a bustle bow of baby blue satin. A matching Juliet cap held her long pearl studded veil. Her colonial bouquet of stephanotis, babies' breath and ivy was surrounded with a cascade of baby blue satin ribbons.

Mrs. Richard Brondyke also served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were: Mrs. Luis Galindo of Bogota, Colombia, South America; Chris Stamp, Pontiac; Mrs. Allan Vallad, Clarkston;

Mrs. Jack Jones, Ortonville and Cheri Lalone, Drayton Plains.

The attendants' floor length skirts were of navy linen and white organza ruffles encircled the necks. Their red satin waistbands were held by bustle bows and they wore early American Betsy Ross dust caps of white organza trimmed with red ribbons. They carried hurricane lamps encircled with red, white and blue carnations.

The flower girls, Kelly and Karin Brondyke, were similarly gowned, but their skirts were of red linen.

David Perry was best man for his brother. Ushers were: Dan Kline, Ryan Provisano, James Peterson, Dwayne Hicks and Clyde Stevens.

After greeting their guests at a reception at Pine Lake Country Club in Orchard Lake the couple left for a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee.

They will make their home in Rochester upon their return.

Coupon collection continues here

The fall district meeting of District 12, Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary, was held on October 6 in Lake Orion.

District 12 is composed of Auburn Heights, Clarkston, Davisburg, Holly, Lake Orion, Ortonville, Pontiac, Rochester and Waterford locals.

Members of the Windsor, Ontario Jaycee Auxiliary were guests at the meeting, along with Michigan State and District officials.

Miss Eleanore Driver, Assistant Director of the Continuum Center of Oakland University was the guest speaker. Workshops were held on Drug Abuse, Mental Health, Ecology and Women's Liberation.

The Clarkston Area Jaycettes are pleased with the response the community has given to their collection of Betty Crocker coupons, according to Mrs. John Heald and Mrs. Terry Lopucki, coupon chairmen.

To date, 71,583 coupons have been collected locally. The school children in the township have brought in 38,530 of this number. With the help of other groups of Jaycettes in the state it has already been possible to purchase 11 kidney machines.

"Because of the success of the project, the collection will go on indefinitely," said the chairmen.

Voting yes may not be easy

If we were to make a prediction on millage votes in the November 4 election anywhere in southeast Michigan, it would be that they would fail.

And, not all of them should fail. The proposition facing Independence voters should pass. This is the one mill being asked to help provide protection within the township.

One mill ($1 per $1,000 assessed valuation) would raise about $48,000 the first year of the 10 years the millage would cover.

This sum may not be enough to set up a fully independent police protection service in the beginning, but through contract with established forces adequate protection could be obtained.

The GM strike will undoubtedly stimulate "no" vote reactions. It will take will power now and confidence in the future to vote otherwise. But, in time you may be happy you pulled the "yes" lever.

Receive degrees

These Clarkston students received degrees recently:

Margaret Jeanette Yarbrough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Yarbrough, 5220 Maybee Rd., M.A. in teaching; Dorothy N. Boardman, 144 N. Holcomb, B.A., English-secondary education; Shirley V. Jones, 5559 Warbler, B.A. with departmental honors in elementary education-history/social studies concentration; Walter G. Osmund, 5627 Hummingbird, B.A., social studies-secondary education; Sue L. Putnam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Putnam, 6211 Cramlane Drive, B. A., elementary education-history/social studies concentration.

They were among the 269 students from Michigan and 295 students receiving degrees at Oakland University's recent August commencement exercises.

The class was the first to receive degrees from an independent Oakland. The University received its independence from Michigan State University on July 1, ending an eleven-year affiliation between the two institutions.

Follow the pigtail

I've said it before and now it's time to say it again: there is no view to which distance lends more enchantment than the view of a high school marching band.

The uniforms are usually 25 years older than the kids in them. And when your pants are dragging, and your hat is wobbling, it is hard to march in step while reading music and blowing a horn. Especially when the kid in front of you trips over the shadow of the goal post.

I first revealed my apathy toward marching bands several years ago, when my oldest daughter became a majorette. A wise columnist never knocks something kids are doing unless his own kid is also doing it. This way, he doesn't catch so much heck from other parents who think marching bands are great and their particular kid is John Philip Sousa. These parents think the columnist is an ignorant jerk, plus a lousy father, but they withhold their criticism because they know the jerk columnist will only say: "I didn't say anything about your kid that I didn't say about my own."

Anyway, the majorette daughter didn't turn out to be such a bad deal. She was out in front of the band and I could see her when she fumbled the baton. I was glad she wasn't one of the 36 clarinet players. I marveled at the parents who ran alongside parades, snapping photographs of horn players. "How can they tell which kid is theirs?" I wondered.

Well, my favorite majorette strutted off into the arc lights long ago, subsequently turning this neighborhood swinger into just another grandfather. But now comes Daughter No. 2. And she is a clarinet player. Oh me.

"I will buy you that $125 horn on just one condition," I told her, "and that is if you make the band, I don't have to go watch you play." She agreed. But her mother didn't. Chrissie

That's my daughter."

"I'd love to meet your wife," he said, moving 2 seats away.

But seriously, folks, I was as proud as any dad there. Chrissie didn't fall down once. And after the game, I sought after that pigtail to tell her she did well and I really love her very much, even if I don't like clarinets.

But there was no pigtail in sight. I circulated through that entire band and not 1 girl had a pigtail. Mystery.

It would make a terrific ending to this nonsense if I could report I'd spent halftime admiring the marching of a Chinese laundry boy.

But the truth will out. When the music ended, Chrissie quickly undid her hair for fear she might be mistaken for a non-hippie. It blew in her face and I couldn't tell her from the other clarinet players with hair in their faces.

Onward and Upward, especially fathers.

("Call me Chris!") made the band. Her first marching performance was just the other night. I said I wasn't going.

"What kind of a father are you?" my wife asked.

"I am the father of 1 horn player, not 50. But from 100 yards away, I won't be able to tell which of them is mine. You can't even tell which ones are daughters," I pleaded.

"Chris is putting her hair in a pigtail. She has the longest hair in school. All you have to do is follow the bouncing pigtail," my wife said.

So, to the surprise of absolutely no one, I went to the game. Let's face it, I knew all along I was going. I just said I wasn't because I love the way my wife looks when she's angry. (They don't make movies like that anymore).

All during halftime I kept my eyes on that pigtail. I even nudged the guy next to me and said, "Hey, see that pigtail?"

By Haslett Hemmor

Part 1

If ever there was a guy with a nickname that fit him perfect, it's got to be "Mild Mannered Marvin." To top that off, his last name is Meek.

Guess old Marvin would be medium tall if he ever stood up straight. Scrawny built, Marv is, and he just plain droops like a wilted flower.

Lets what hair's left grow out long so he can comb her across the top of his head, but if don't fool nobody. Looks more like he's wearing a fishnet cap.

Always got kind of a half-apologetic smile, Marv has, and there's those sort of half-fans of wrinkles around the corners of his pale blue eyes. For a fact, his eyes are so washed-out looking that you got to be fair close to be sure he's not blind.

Couldn't ask for a nicer guy than Marv. Always doing for folks and neither Marv or his wife, Sally, have a mean bone between 'em.

The Meeks never had any young ones of their own. Too bad, because they both love kids and have so much patience with 'em that it puts the rest of us neighbors to shame, especially the Mulfords that live right next door to the Meeks.

Now I can understand how Jack Mulford is always yelling at their boy, and often as not, he gives him a swift kick in the britches. The boy is 13 and sure is a hellion. Rotten sneaky mean, that kid is, and a bully to boot.

Can't rightly blame Mulford for the boy being such a miserable creature, though. Can't blame Jack for a fact, because Irving, the boy, was 11 when he married his ma. Thing is, that young bully boy's dad was Eula Mulford's first husband and old Jack Mulford is her third try at a happy home. Guess old number two was a drunk and a bad tempered bum. Probably helped shape up the kid's already nasty disposition.

Guess Eula Mulford has maybe got the shrillest voice I ever did hear. When she rakes that kid over the coals for stealing something in the house or kicking her, it sounds like she's three feet from your ear. Their house is across the street and down two places, but it sure enough sounds like she was screaming right in your ear even when she's got all the windows and doors closed. Vile tempered woman and the boy's every bit as bad.

Guess the only neighbor's yard where Irving Mulford is allowed any more is the Meek's place. Old Mild Mannered Marvin put up one of those there 20-foot swim tanks that go on top of the ground. Thing's got a walk-around redwood deck and little steps that go up to it. All the kids in the neighborhood flock over there like it was their personal park and the Meeks just love it.

Now one or the other always stays present when the gang is splashing around. Supervise real casual and don't really interfere none. If they both have to go away, Mild Mannered Marvin drains the pool plumb dry and takes away the steps.

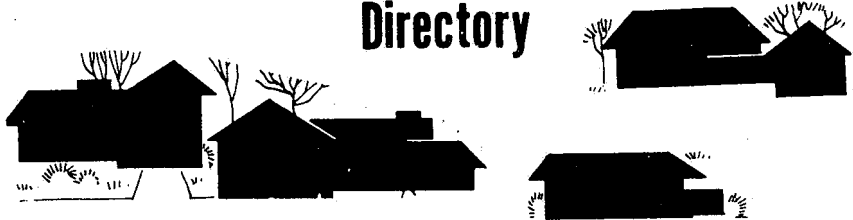

Several times old Marv has had to talk to Irving Mulford about deliberate pushing little kids into the deep water, but even then, he's talked real gentle to this overgrown monster and has said he'd sure appreciate it if Irving would be "a touch more careful with the little folks."

Then comes the neighborhood atomic bomb. Eula Mulford signs a warrant charging that Mild Marvin slugged her and split her lip.

Parachute jumper sets new state record

By Jim Sherman

Even if I really didn't have anything to do, I wouldn't take up parachute jumping.

For a while Sunday morning I was about ready to snap on a parachute and go up in a plane with a jumper to take a picture of his fall, but I even chickened out on that.

I gave myself the excuse of its being too windy for me to hold the camera still in the light plane. But, I particularly didn't like the thought of half the side of the airplane missing.

I might lean out for a picture of a guy taking a free fall and take one myself. On the ground I watched one free fall of 10 to 15 seconds, which I didn't know was coming, and nearly had heart failure.

However, there were few of my makeup around the pea gravel landing pad at the Oxford Sky Divers' Club near Baldwin and Seymour Lake Rds. Sunday morning.

This small crowd that assembled before 6:30 a.m. were jumpers, helpers and family. They were there to help and cheer for a man to set a new state record for parachute jumping in one day.

Ted Pullum made his first jump at "6:33, official daylight time" as he said it. From then to about 10:15, Pullum jumped from an airplane 41 more times. He averaged 1 jump every 5 minutes.

And he set a new state record. The old record was 29 jumps in a day. He didn't come near the world record of 200 jumps in a 21-hour day.

Undoubtedly, Pullum would have made many more jumps (he was talking of 100), but the wind started gusting too strong.

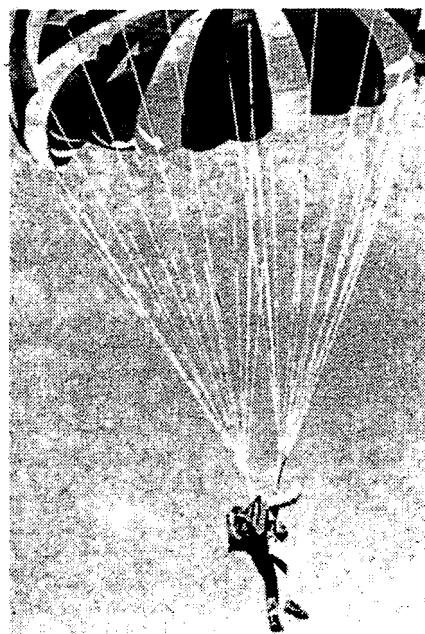

The gusting wind is the nemesis of jumpers. On his 39th landing, Pullum injured his right ankle. Many other divers were limping about, recovering from injured legs or backs . . . all caused when the wind gusted an instant before the jumper's feet hit the ground.

Pullum is 39 years old and lives in Swartz Creek. He is the father of three daughters and his wife was on hand to watch and give moral support. He has been jumping for over seven years. When he finished Sunday, Pullum had a total of 717 lifetime jumps.

His last one was from a mile west of the target at 1700 feet. The wind was carrying him a mile east as he descended.

Two planes were used in this record-setting effort, though each beat Pullum back to the ground after he bailed out. There were 10 parachutes available, each packed by one of the three licensed riggers on hand.

The Oxford Sky Divers' Club jumps every Saturday, Sunday and holiday and welcomes the public to come and watch.

LANDING — On his 39th landing the wind gusted just as Pullum hit the ground, causing him to sprain an ankle. He took 3 more jumps before resting, then took one more.

RIGGERS — Three licensed riggers were on hand to repack the 10 parachutes that were used in this record-setting effort. A sign in the background posted jumps completed.

READY — One helper steps aside as Pullum hurries toward another round trip.

UNHARNESSING — As Pullum hit the ground, some helpers would grab the chute, which was tossed about by high winds, while others unhooked the parachute harness.

HURRYING — A pickup truck was used to speed Pullum's time from drop point to one of two waiting planes.

REST — Ted Pullum took a little rest after 42 jumps, 13 above the state record. The 39-year-old jumper had averaged 1 jump every 5 minutes, starting at 6:33 a.m. at the Oxford Sky Divers' Club at Baldwin and Seymour Lake Rds.

PP&K winners go to regional

The local Punt Pass and Kick contest was held at the JV field at Clarkston High School on Saturday, October 3.

The winners were: John Tisch, 8; Scott Brumback, 9; Rick Fortin, 10; Jeff Breckenridge, 11; Bob Heath, 12; and Mike Fahmer, 13.

There were 137 boys participating in the event.

These local winners will compete in the regional contest at Wisner Stadium on October 10 at 10 a.m.

The local event was surrounded with excitement when the trophies (18) that were to be presented to the boys were stolen from the car of Jaycee president, Jerry Powell, while it was parked at Howe's Lanes.

One box was recovered when it was found lying on White Lake road, near the railroad tracks. The box contained the trophies for the 8, 9 and 10 year olds.

Still missing was the box containing the older boys' trophies. These boys were presented with trophies that were left over from last year's contest.

Area youth plan UNICEF drive

This year the six churches of the Independence Township Pastors' Association plan to continue their joint youth effort on behalf of the UNICEF Project, begun last year.

On Sunday, October 11, the combined youth groups of the churches, both junior and senior high students, will meet at Calvary Lutheran Church, 6805 Bluegrass Drive in Clarkston, at 6:30 p.m. to view a film on the United Nations' Children's fund, and enjoy an evening of fun and fellowship.

They will learn the various uses of money given to UNICEF. They will discuss the details of a collection program to be carried out on Sunday afternoon, October 25.

Besides the Lutheran congregation, other churches sponsoring the combined collection and educational program will be: First United Methodist, Church of the Resurrection-Episcopal, St. Daniel Roman Catholic, Sashabaw United Presbyterian and the Drayton Heights Free Methodist.

Though the program is designed to operate within the limits of the youth groups mentioned, other youth from Clarkston who wish to help in the program this year are invited to attend the meeting this coming Sunday evening at Calvary Lutheran, at 6:30 p.m., to learn more about the program ahead.

Is this what is meant by the "Good old days"? Terry's Market is advertising Sirloin Steak at 35c a pound!

By Jean Sura

Here is a well balanced casserole to whip up after an afternoon of early Christmas shopping or maybe after you have played an extra rubber of bridge or a few last holes of golf and got home late. It was suggested by my friend, Marge Davis.

DINNER CASSEROLE

1 pound ground beef
2 medium onions
1 can cut green beans (use frozen if you prefer)
1 can tomato soup, undiluted
Mashed potatoes, use instant if you wish
Cheese

Brown cut up onions and ground beef. Add green beans and tomato soup. Heat until boiling. Pour into casserole. Add mounds of hot mashed potatoes. Put cheddar cheese on top. Place in oven just long enough to melt cheese.

I love cooks who are inventive. Marge is one of them. Dicksie Treinen, another friend, is one too. It was quite an afternoon listening to the two of them swapping recipes. Anyway, this is what they did with my favorite scalloped potato recipe. I'll repeat the recipe just in case you may have missed it.

SPECIAL SCALLOPED POTATOES

Slice 4 good sized raw potatoes.

Layer into casserole with alternate layers of cheese slices and sliced raw onion. Salt each layer of potatoes. Then pour an undiluted can of cream of mushroom soup on the top. Don't bother to stir. Just place it in the oven at 350 degrees and let it cook for at least an hour and a half. Oh, I forgot, put a cover on the casserole.

This makes a very special dish. Wouldn't you know that my experts told me they had experimented with it a little.

Dicksie added a layer of browned hamburger and made a good dish into a good dinner.

Marge added the browned hamburger layers too, but she varied it a little by pouring beef stock, bouillon or other beef flavored soup in place of the mushroom. They assured me that you can't go wrong either way.

So take your pick. I might throw a vegetable in too, next time to outdo them.

Team effort secret

Thinclads chalk 3 more wins

The Clarkston High School cross country team sped to 3 more team victories during the past week. They won first place in the Oakland University Invitational on September 29 and repeated on October 3 at the Pontiac Northern Invitational.

The Oakland University meet pitted them against 36 class A schools.

Clarkston took 1st place with a team time of 61:30. Finishing behind them in the following order were Farmington, Pontiac Northern, Birmingham Seaholm and Birmingham Brother Rice.

The 5 runners for the Wolves were led by Fred Seyler who placed 5th and Dan Dankert, 11th. Rick Svetkoff, Gerald Baker and Kurt Carlsen rounded out the necessary places to give the team the win.

Twenty-five schools participated in the Pontiac Northern meet, which was run at the Oakland University course.

Clarkston finished 1st with a time of 68:38.6 and were followed by Bay City Central and Grosse Pointe Northern.

Fred Seyler again led the Clarkston scorers with a time of 13:13 and a 6th place. Gerald Baker, Dan Dankert, Kurt Carlsen and Bob Hoy provided the other necessary spots.

Rick Plummer, from the JV squad, earned the 7th man varsity spot with a time of 14:50.

"The team is functioning well according to schedule," said coach Conrad Bruce. "Our events have shown exceptional strength."

"I can't help but feel enthusiastic as we point our conditioning to the League championship on October 23, the Regionals on October 30. If we win 1st or 2nd place in the Regionals, we will get a shot at the State finals.

"There are just 2 teams that we would meet in the state meet that we have not already beaten. They are St. Joseph and Flint-Kearsley. Our boys are seasoned runners. They know what they want and are working hard to reach their goal."

Clarkston met Milford on the Clarkston course on October 6. They won by a score of 16 to 59.

Wolverines make strong start

The Clarkston Junior High Wolverines started their 1970 season with a 28-8 victory over their inter-system rivals. The game with Sashabaw Jr. High Cougars was held before a large enthusiastic crowd on Wednesday, Sept. 23.

Scoring for the Wolverines were Dale Baumgardner and Kent Thorn. Both scored 2 touchdowns, gaining 81 yards in 9 carries.

Tom Anderson scored the remaining touchdown on a 62-yard pass play from Gary Mason. Mason scored the extra point and Pete Betzing scored the other PAT.

Terry Smith chalked up the score for the Cougars with a touchdown and Mike Heenan scored the PAT.

On September 30 the Wolverines of the Clarkston Junior High added another lopsided win to their record when they downed Milford Highland Junior High by a score of 28 to 0.

Kent Thorn was the high scorer when he accounted for 20 points in the game.

The Sashabaw Cougars didn't fare so well against the Waterford Mason Junior High School. Mason sent the Cougars reeling by a score of 50 to 0.

Wolves fire up — beat Brighton

By Craig Moore

"Fire up, Wolves! Fire up, Wolves! Fire up, Wolves!" the crowd cheered and the Clarkston Wolves drove to a 24-6 victory over the Brighton Bulldogs.

It was late in the first quarter when Clarkston first scored. Mark Swanson recovered a Brighton fumble on their 6 and Rick Prasil ran it to the goal line, but was stopped in an attempted extra point run.

Mike Turk plowed through the Bulldog line and blocked a Brighton punt, giving Clarkston possession of the ball on the Brighton 26. Rick Prasil advanced the ball to the Bulldogs' 5. With a first down, quarterback John Hux attempted a pass to Mark Swanson. It was incomplete. Hux then gave the ball to Prasil who moved the ball 5 yards to score. The extra point pass from Hux to Swanson was incomplete.

Mike Crabtree grabbed a Brighton punt and returned it to the Bulldog 24. In 2 plays, Rick Prasil advanced the ball to their 8. Seconds later, he scored. Score at halftime: Clarkston 18, Brighton 0.

The halftime show by the Clarkston Varsity band under the direction of Keith Sipos was excellent. The theme was "The History of Music."

Brighton regained their balance during the halftime activities and managed to put themselves on the scoreboard with just over half the third quarter remaining. Bulldog Tom Kerns picked up a blocked punt and went 30 yards to score. The Wolves stopped the extra point run.

Clarkston scored again in the first minutes of the 4th quarter when Mike Crabtree intercepted a Brighton pass and returned it 23 yards. The extra point run again failed. The score didn't change in the remaining minutes of the game so a 24-6 victory was posted for the Clarkston Wolves.

After the game, Coach Rakow stated, "Defense looked great. The offense had some problems even though we scored a few points." He continued, "The team needed this win after playing a fine game at Andover and still losing on the scoreboard. They went out and earned this victory because they wanted it so much. Further, we hope to be much higher emotionally next week."

The Clarkston offense pushed 223 yards on the ground and gained 53 passing.

The Wolves' defense intercepted 3 passes, recovered 1 fumble and allowed Brighton only 1 first down, 39 yards rushing and 8 passing.

The Wolves' present record is 2-1, making them 1-1 in Wayne-Oakland competition.

They meet Clarenceville on the Clarenceville field Friday, October 9.

Proper diet makes for better health, energy, and good appearance.

Cloudy and sunny

by Shel George

Every so often someone will remark, "It sure wasn't like this in the good old days." That usually means "I can't cope with today's situations." It's a little like saying "law and order." I've never figured out whose law and whose order.

The weather seems to have toned down some from the "good old days" that I remember. "Good old days" to me would be post depression - early World War II.

Back then, if it rained and the bubbles floated on top of the puddles, that meant it would rain the next day, too. We never thought about rain in terms of green things growing. It mostly meant a change in plans as to where we would play.

Summertime rains were the greatest. Warm rain water made for great bare-foot fun and games. You haven't lived until you have floated a "homemade" Delta Queen paddle wheel boat in puddles.

To support my claim that the weather isn't the same today, following is a weather report I once heard and never forgot.

The local announcer had completed the news. "After this word from our sponsor, the weather report will be brought to you by Honest Al's Used Cars."

While the commercial was playing, he must have run to the teletype machine and torn off the tape about the weather. As you know, the wire news services use many abbreviations.

Time did not permit for this announcer to edit the report as it came off the machine. To this day, he no doubt wishes it had.

The report indicated scattered thunder showers over a wide area. It was printed like so: Scattered thunder showers, across Iowa, Ill. (for Illinois) and No. Ind. (for Northern Indiana).

He should have stayed awake in geography class. Here's how he reported it.

Spiritual Message

Mark H. Caldwell,

SASHABAW UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Romans 6:17

"But thanks be to God, that you who were once slaves of sin... have become slaves of righteousness."

CONGRATULATIONS, SLAVES!

Such a greeting might insult us Americans who hold great store by our "freedom." But this St. Paul in the Bible claimed slavery was O.K. if you just found the right master! He said the followers of the new "Way" were just slaves who had exchanged masters. In fact, he made a case for the idea that a choice of masters is the only choice a man really has!

Canon Raven at university conferences with students was amazed to find their definition of freedom as "liberty to do what they liked and to possess what they could pay for."

Eugene O'Neill's play "Days Without End" portrays a man by the name of John Loving who has two natures. These natures are so diverse that the playwright uses two actors to represent this split personality! One John Loving was a hopeful, eager, searcher after truth and love. The other John wore a mask to reproduce the features of John in a sneer of scornful mockery on his lips. The masked John Loving clings to John like a malignant shadow and occasionally it is his profane voice which comes out of the lips.

But the drama comes to a climax, when Elsa, his wife, sick with pneumonia induced by a long walk of exposure in the rain after she learned of her husband's infidelity, lies on her death bed.

John's uncle, Father Baird, a lovable priest, urges his nephew to pray, but John can't pray until he stumbles into church and staggers to the foot of the cross where he had forsaken God in his youth. There he casts himself down and broken-heartedly cries for forgiveness.

The sinister figure follows him and tries to stop him from praying, but there at the cross John wins his battle against his cynical self, as it dies with these words: "Thou hast conquered, Lord! Thou art the end! Forgive the damned soul of John Loving!"

Football coaches and high school band leaders have sometimes been slave drivers at this season of the year. But if you have the right master, you can fulfill yourself as a good player of football or of a band instrument!

Letters to the Editor

Presenting his side

September 25, 1970

Dear (?) Jim,

If you are going to come out four square behind the incumbents in Independence Township, please consider these facts.

First, a "vocal minority" is more than voted in the primary election. There are 2372 names on the trailer court petition, 2012 voted in the primary. Each petition drive gets more support. I sincerely hope there is not a fourth.

Second, the township planners, who are hired by the township, and the Planning Commission both recommended that the zoning be denied. The vote on the rezoning was a narrow three to two for approval.

Third, competence is not at stake. The conflict of interest allegation gets more valid everytime the Board's voting goes against the planners, the Planning Commission, and the people.

Fourth, each election you start out your endorsement by saying you do not generally endorse. Either my memory is too long, or yours is too short.

Fifth, the whole point of the election is this: Will Independence Township remain a quiet oasis in the midst of the hustle and bustle of the rest of Oakland County, or will it turn into just another big city?

Growth will come, it must, but let's direct this growth so that the rural character is maintained. An industrial park is needed. There are square miles of weeds, brush and scrub trees. Use them. The higher the people density, the higher the crime rate, pollution, nervous and physical disorders.

The sprawling subs like the Orchard, Birdland, the Hill, Cranberry Lake, etc., maintained the rural charm of Clarkston. Let's, in all rezoning, try to maintain this openness so that those who do come out here will get some of the same thing we came out for.

One of the vocal majority who is running against the minority opinion board.

Keith A. Humbert

P.S. I feel so strongly on this, Jim. I hope you will present this opposite side in the interest of objectivity.

Jim's note: Past copies of the News show that neither I nor this newspaper has in the past endorsed a candidate for local office since we assumed publication of this paper June 9, 1966. That's township, village and school elections.

Need music program

September 30, 1970

Dear Editor,

I am writing this letter to bring attention to a recent development in the Clarkston School system which should be of concern to parents.

At the beginning of the school year it was announced that the music department in the elementary schools would no longer offer fifth grade band.

Furthermore, it has been decided, by the school board, to discontinue sixth grade band next fall.

The school board's contention is that due to the recent State Supreme Court decision regarding free education for all, it would be the school district's responsibility to provide instruments to band students free of charge. (The schools are presently providing text books, paper, pencils, etc., free of charge.)

It seems to me rather obvious that the long range intention is to discontinue offering any kind of musical instruction involving musical instruments.

To my knowledge, the only other school district interpreting the "free education for all" amendment to the State Constitution, is the Oxford School District.

It is my hope that there is another solution to the problem. I have three children who have benefited a great deal from our school's music program, but more than that I'm certain that our community benefits equally.

If other parents or citizens share my opinion, I urge them to attend the next school board meeting (Oct. 12th), and make their feelings known.

Let's try to save a very worthwhile and a very important part of our children's education.

Very truly yours,
Frob I. Gruenberg

Women's Club hunt treasure

The Clarkston Women's Club is having their 5th annual treasure hunt on Saturday, October 17.

Two or three couples in each car will work as a team, competing for prizes. Each person should be equipped with a flashlight, an Oakland County road map, a North Area phone book, pencils, paper, a Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, World Almanac, and an October 17, 1970 Pontiac Press.

Meeting place and starting point will be the parking lot in downtown Clarkston. The committee suggests that you plan to arrive early enough to register, receive your set of treasure hunt rules and be ready to leave by 8:00 p.m. Official starting time for the hunt will be 8:00 p.m.

A buffet supper will be served at 11:30 p.m. The last clue on the hunt will tell you where it will be served.

The treasure hunt committee has secured a place large enough to accommodate more couples than in previous years, so there will be ample room for all. Have your gas tanks full and dress comfortably.

"We can't guarantee that you'll win, but we're sure that you'll have such a good time you won't mind losing," reported a committee member.

Reservations must be in by Saturday, October 10, 1970. Reservations will be taken by the following members who will also be able to supply any further information you may need: Joy McKibben, 625-2222; Kris Dany, 625-5238; Sally Lamm, 625-5068.

Have you ever known any kids who were celebrating their fifth birthdays that didn't hold up their whole hand, with fingers spread, to proudly show you how old they were?

Well, we've got one of those in our family. "Wonder Grandchild I" has reached the ripe old age of five and is off to school.

The past month has been a busy one. Michele (we call her Shelly) has been getting her life in order so that she could qualify as "being ready to go to school" (real school, not just nursery school).

She had to solve the puzzle of tying shoe laces. She had to sleep with the hall light turned out. And, Heavens to Betsy! If anyone caught her sucking her thumb.

All these things she accomplished in good form. Naturally, because she is "Wonder Grandchild." Other accomplishments were well behind her, because, of course, you must realize that she is a most outstanding little girl.

"What are her other accomplishments?" you ask, you silly person.

Well, she squeals just right when she first sees you. She is nice and soft and cuddles well. She smells good and she giggles beautifully.

She has all the instincts of motherhood. She can pat her dolls on the back in just the right spot. She loves babies, puppies, kitties, and all things that are small. She even feels sorry for the ants because they are so little people may step on them by accident.

Competent as only little girls can be, going to kindergarten was a breeze. In just a week she knew about twenty songs and could sing all sixteen verses of them "on key."

She can print her name even if the letter "e" keeps coming out like a capital and the "y" is bigger than all the rest of the letters.

I guess what I love best about this little blonde kid is that she is a normal, healthy, happy kid.

"Hey, Shelly, why don't I interview you? Then I can write my column about you going to school and having a birthday."

"Really, Granny? (Tee hee) You're being silly!"

"Ah, well, let's see. Do you like school?"

"Oh, yes. Tee hee."

"Does the teacher tell you stories?"

"Oh, yes. Tee hee."

You can see she's a brilliant conversationalist.

"Who are your best friends?"

"Well, Kathy and Billy are the best. Kathy is a walker and Billy is a bus people, but I like both of them."

"What is the thing that you like best about school?"

"Playground."

See, I told you that she was a normal kid.

If I have to be over thirty-nine to have a grandchild like this, I'll admit my age any old day.
