Township oldster casts vote

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

How times have changed dept.

On our first deer hunting trip we (note that "we" cause it was the last time that "we" will mean Hazel and me in a deer camp. It was the first year we were married.) stayed in a tar-papered cabin in McKinley.

I remember only a few things about this hunt. We were with Hazel's family. She came from a long line of deer hunters. McKinley and Mio were their base. The cabin belonged to her brother and he had hooked into an electric line without permission.

The most vivid memory is a remark by my sister-in-law, Minnie Luchenbill. She asked if I'd seen any deer one day. When I replied I hadn't (which got to be a habit through the years) she said, "You can bet they saw you."

I think of that a lot and it bothers me. I don't believe they see me. Especially on sunny days. I sit so still on these days that some go by thinking I'm asleep. Deer see moving objects and I am sometimes immobile for hours.

However, I started to contrast that first year with what has been going on this preparatory season. Last year we went north in a motor home - glasses tinkling with crystalized cubes, 15-2, 15-4, echoing down the hall as the cribbage game continued, and two first-year hunters lounging on bunks in back.

The only hint one might have gotten that we were going deer hunting was that one guy had on a red shirt.

This year the motor home is a necessity, of course. But added to it are motorcycles. Not for me, heaven forbid, for the athletes - my son, Don Davidson's son, Jerry Olrich, Bob Beatty and Pansy Baldwin.

The bikes are apparently a great treat for them as they noisily travel the sandy trails, occasionally dumping themselves in the sand or snow. Then they rise and laugh with glee. It makes "hunting" as

Mrs. Lillian McAboy, 96, casts her vote in the recent election. A conscientious voter, Mrs. McAboy had studied the candidates before she visited the poll. All she needed was a little assistance in finding the right levers. Her granddaughter, Mrs. Frank Kerr, with permission, gave her assistance.

The rain and nasty weather on election day in this area didn't stop spiffy Lillian McAboy of 5461 Colombia from casting much fun before the 15th as after.

Too, the young ones get to hunt the private Hiawatha Sportsmens Club. They are as naive about the prospects of private lands as other deer hunters, thinking that single wire stretched around 36,000 acres has 100,000 deer coralled.

Camping units rim the property and hunters walk just outside that wire. They might as well sit on the four corners of Engadine. There aren't any deer at the Hiawatha Club.

Well, maybe a few. The actual kill last year for opening day was 11 bucks (doe killing isn't allowed) and there were over 350 hunters. The count for the entire season was only 28.

Compare that to 653,850 people getting 106,650 deer in Michigan. Public lands are producing more deer and kill... we just like the spread of 350 over 36,000 acres.

her ballot last week.

Mrs. McAboy is an admitted staunch Republican. To her recollection she has never missed an opportunity to vote.

Terry Thomas honored

Terry Thomas

Her recollections go back quite a long way. She is 96 years old.

Born in Bartromville, Ohio, the 103-pound great-great-grandmother now makes her home with her granddaughter and her family, the Frank Kerrs. She has lived in this area for about 20 years, coming from Jackson where her husband worked as a guard at the State prison.

For a number of years, Mrs. McAboy lived with her son, Robert, who owned and operated the restaurant known as the Old Plantation Inn on the Dixie Highway. She was a resident of the Pine Knob Nursing Home for about 2 years.

Three sons, Delmore, Calvin and Robert and 1 daughter, Margaret, are scattered over the United States. Widowed in 1941, Mrs. McAboy today has 15 grandchildren, 46 great-grandchildren and 4 great-great-grandchildren.

What does a lady of 96 (going on 97 on Friday, November 13) do with her time? Well, she reads enough to keep abreast of the times even though recently she has to use a magnifying glass and it slows her down. She watches television, knits and sews a little.

When the News photographer had some camera difficulty, the sharp-witted lady said, "Sorry, too bad that I broke your camera."

In preparing to vote in last week's election, Mrs. McAboy complained that all that printing on the proposals was a little confusing, so her granddaughter had to help her do her homework before she came to the polls.

"Where is the Romney woman's name?" we heard her ask from behind the curtain.

With a few more supporters like that, Michigan might have had a lady Senator and Senator Hart might be out looking for work.

Have a happy birthday Friday, Mrs. McAboy.

Terry Thomas of 6601 Pear St., Director of Student Services for Oakland Schools, was given the Outstanding Guidance and Counseling Award by the Michigan School Counselor Association.

Thomas received the counselors award of the Michigan Personnel and Guidance Association at a recent convention of both associations in Grand Rapids.

A past president of both groups, Thomas has been editor of the Personnel and Guidance Association Journal and the Pupil Services Newsletter which circulated to persons in child accounting and guidance throughout the state.

Before coming to Oakland schools 5 years ago, Thomas was director of counseling at Clarkston High School. At the intermediate district office, his principal objective has been to get schools to regard non-attendance as a symptom of something wrong in a child's environment rather than merely delinquent behavior.

CHS Thinclads 3rd in State

The Clarkston High School cross country team made school history when they ran to a third place win in the State finals on November 7.

The state meet was held at the Washtenaw Country Club course in Ypsilanti.

Ralph Kenyon, Athletic Director, could find no record of a cross country team from Clarkston that had ever gone to the State finals.

"Bringing home 3rd place is a great honor that has never been accomplished before, to my knowledge," said Kenyon.

Twenty schools from 10 regions participated in the state-wide event. The top 5, the order in which they finished and their scores are: Flint Kearsley, 111; St. Joseph, 113; Clarkston, 136; Farmington, 164 and Ann Arbor Huron, 197.

Fred Seyler and Dan Dankert, Clarkston's number 1 and 2 speedsters, finished 8th and 15th to qualify for the All-State cross country team.

Gerry Baker ran 25th, Rick Svetkoff was 40th and Kurt Carlsen placed 49th. Bob Hoy ran 51st.

The 3rd place finish against strong competition was a strong finish for a successful season. The squad took the Wayne-Oakland title easily for the 3rd consecutive year.

Coach Conrad Bruce commented, "As far as I'm concerned, we've got the best team in the State." He continued, "With all our men in shape, we could beat Flint Kearsley and St. Joseph."

"Gerry Baker did an outstanding job for us by placing 25th. This is by far his best effort of the year. Seyler and Dankert did well, as expected. We've had a very successful season and are looking forward to spring and track season."

Pontiac Northern, who placed second behind Clarkston in the regional contest, placed 7th in the State meet.

Milford edges Wolves in tight contest

By Craig Moore

Mark Swanson and Rick Prasil scored 2 touchdowns each in an all-out offensive battle between the Clarkston Wolves and the Milford Redskins.

As the clock ticked away its first seconds, Milford scored on the first play after receiving the opening kick from Clarkston. Mike Monnier ran 63 yards to score and ran for the two-point conversion.

Clarkston struck back when Mark Swanson took a one-yard dive into the end zone. Rick Prasil ran the conversion.

The Redskins tallied twice in the second quarter on a 13 yard run by Monnier and a 14 yard pass from Monnier to Masini. Monnier completed the two-point conversion run for his touchdown but failed in the next.

Wolf Mark Swanson, running 11 yards, scored for a second time. The run for a two-point conversion failed.

The Clarkston High School Band, directed by Mr. Keith Sipos, presented an excellent halftime show.

In the third quarter both teams scored again. Rick Prasil, scoring on a 3-yard run, combined with Mark Swanson, who ran the conversion to raise the score to 8 points. Redskin Charlie Masini ran 13 yards to score. Monnier then ran the two-point conversion.

The Wolves now trailed by one touchdown, 30-22.

Rick Prasil narrowed the gap when he scored on a 6 yard run but the conversion run failed.

The Wolves in a last attempt called on Rick Prasil to try the left side with a sweep. He was stopped just short of the goal line.

With seconds remaining, Clarkston took to the air. Their hopes for victory were dashed when a pass was intercepted in the end zone by Mike Monnier. The game ended 30-28.

"What can you say when you lose by an extra point?" questioned coach Rakow. "Both teams went into the game with identical records and both teams played like they had identical records!"

One game remains on the Wolves' schedule with the Avondale Yellow Jackets on November 13.

The Wolves, who have a 5-4 record, will close their season at home on November 13 when they meet the Avondale Yellow Jackets.

Game time is 8 o'clock.

P.A.U.F. asks support now

Independence Pontiac Area United Fund (PAUF) volunteers began solicitation of residents and local merchants this week.

Mrs. Frank Glowzinski, 5823 Warbler Dr., vice-chairman in the PAUF Community Division, will head the local drive to raise $3,719.00.

This year's campaign is a crucial one for the Pontiac Area United Fund. Because of a loss of income from last year's pledges, allocations to member agencies have been reduced 35% for the remainder of the year.

To insure that agency services return to the levels maintained previously, the Pontiac Area United Fund must reach its goal of $1,314,000.00 this year. Campaign officials are optimistic the goal will be reached if everyone contributes as generously as he can.

The official kickoff for the entire

Pontiac Area United Fund campaign was a torchlighting ceremony at Pontiac City Hall and at the Pontiac Mall on November 6.

55 agencies providing for the well-being of the community in the areas of health, education, recreation, character development and social work are depending on PAUF to meet its goal this year. The campaign is scheduled to run through December 8.

Kutting Korners

By Jean Sura

Don't cry if your husband went deer hunting. Don't sit home and pray that he won't get his deer either. In fact, just hope that you have the good fortune to have some venison steak so you can try this delicious dish. The recipe was sent to me from Wyoming, from Mrs. Clara Jyleen who has a ranch out there and plenty of experience cooking wild meat. She got the recipe from a friend in California.

VENISON SCALLOPINI

1½ pound piece venison steak
Salt, pepper, flour
1 egg
1/3 cup light cream
1 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 cup grated parmesan cheese (I use ½ cup)
¼ cup minced parsley, fresh (less if dry)
¼ cup butter
1 clove minced garlic
½ cup sherry or marsala wine
½ cup venison broth or water
Cut venison into serving size pieces, about ½ inch thick and pound well. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper then dredge in the flour. Beat egg slightly and stir in cream.
Mix the cracker crumbs, cheese and parsley together. Dip each meat slice into egg and cream mixture and then into cheese crumbs until well coated.
Heat butter and garlic together in heavy frying pan with a cover. Add crumbed meat slices and brown on both sides. Pour in wine and broth, cover and bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees, for from 45 minutes to 1 hour or until tender.

Serves 4 or 5.

Mrs. Jyleen says, "I use less cheese as I like the meat flavor rather than the stronger cheese taste."

Thank you, Mrs. J. I intend to try this if I'm lucky and get a venison steak.

What do you do with venison? Won't you write or call and share your favorite recipe with us? Clarkston News, 625-3370.

Here is a correction. Sister, Nina Martin, who lives in Harper Woods, called to point out a careless mistake in the cheese dip that I printed several weeks ago.

The Ro-tel that I told you about is a commercial product and contains tomatoes and chilies. The proper proportion according to Nina, is 1 can of Ro-tel to a 2 pound brick of cheese. "Then," she says, "shake a little Worcestershire sauce into the melted mixture. You can make it as hot as you like."

Thanks Nina. It is a dip that is particularly popular with our family so I would hate to ruin it.

License plates go on sale Nov. 16

1971 automobile license plates will go on sale in Michigan on Monday, November 16. They will be maroon and white in color (the same color as the 1969 plates), but will have a different numbering and lettering system. They will be reflectorized.

Prepared application forms are being mailed to vehicle owners from the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing. These forms along with the proof of insurance, the cost of the plates and the $1 which each owner must pay into the Uninsured Motorist Fund are all that will be required to obtain a license this year.

Motorists who do not have the Lansing prepared application forms will need to furnish a vehicle certificate of title. Those without insurance must pay an additional $35.

These license plates, according to the Secretary of State's office, must last 3 years. Tabs only will be issued in 1972 and 1973 which will be affixed to the 1971 plates.

Although motorists can display 1970 plates through March 31, last-day lines and inclement weather can be avoided by buying plates now.

The Secretary of State's office will be open from 9 to 5 on weekdays and from 9 to 12 on Saturdays. The office is located on Pontiac Lake Road just ½ block from M-59.

For the convenience of Independence Township residents, arrangements are being completed to sell license plates at the Independence Township Hall some time in March.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis of Dixie Highway, Groveland Township announced the engagement of their daughter, Yvonne Cheryl to Rodney James Kline. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kline of Warbler. The wedding is being planned for March 6.

Elect officers

Wa-ki-ya Camp Fire Girls elected officers for the coming year at their November 4 meeting.

Gene Collins was named chairman, Annette Sommers will act as vice-chairman. Secretary and Treasurer are Barbara Olney and Felicia Bosques, respectively.

On November 7 the girls attended a hayride.

The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. on December 2 in the Township Hall.

Deer hunters take warning

By Bob Gregg

Did you ever think that you could possibly be one of those "screwballs" who every hunting season guns down one of his fellow hunters mistaking him for an animal?

Picture yourself on opening day of deer season. It's early morning, and you're a little tired from the late card game and all the drinking the night before.

You've hunted before, and you've been very successful. You're an expert. You have big racks on the wall at home to prove it.

You take a stand, because you know it's the best way to get a big buck. It's a good spot with lots of tracks. It's cold, but the sign of deer all about you offers a great hope for success.

Staring out towards the woods for a few hours you think you see something move. You know how fast a buck comes and goes so you get ready.

It's getting colder, but you're a tough Michigan hunter so you freeze and wait. You know you're going to get your buck. In fact, you're sure of it.

A branch breaks and the silence of the woods is broken. You move only your eyes. You say to yourself "I'm no sound shooter like those guys from the big city." You stand there, anxious to see that big buck.

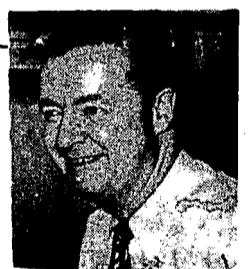

Suddenly you see him. He's bending over sniffing the ground the outline of his branch-like antlers tangled in the background of the trees. The deer you have waited for is standing 100 yards away.

Slowly you raise your carbine and brace it on your shoulder. Bang! Your deer stands no more.

As you approach your kill, horror takes hold of you. It's a man!

"If It Fitz . . ."

Heroes are made

By Jim Fitzgerald

"Why are you taking 2 coats to the football game?" my wife asked as we drove down the highway.

"It's easier than getting a tattoo," I explained.

"What does that mean?" she asked.

"It means I'm too rugged to be suckered by this fancy, frilly, got-to-have-a-gimmick world," I explained.

"Forget it," she said. "I'm sorry I asked."

"But I want you to understand," I said. "It's important to you. Everyone else at the game will notice my extreme virility. As my wife, you should know about it too."

"Are you serious?" she asked. "It's the cigaret commercials on TV," I explained. "It used to be you could recognize the hero by his tattoo, if he rode a horse and branded calves on their butts. Or you could recognize him by his hot eyes if he rode a barstool and picked up broads simply by flashing the brand of his butts . . ."

"You're not serious," she interrupted.

" . . . well, there's no tattoo parlor in our town and those Captain Marvel transfers kept washing off," I continued explaining. "Also, I always hated to turn on my hot eyes in a bar because it melted the ice. So I felt like an impotent sissy. But now the Camel cigaret people have shown me a practical way to prove my manhood."

"Don't take either hand off the steering wheel," she said. "But what does all this have to do with 2 coats?"

"I knew you'd get interested

You've killed a man! It can't be possible, but it is and it's too late to take precautions now.

Think a scene like this can't happen to you? Don't believe it!

I've just finished reading a scientific study which showed that any intelligent human hunter, expert or not, can see a deer where no deer exists. The same study showed that hunters wearing the traditional red clothing are also very susceptible to being shot. These extensive studies were made by the Massachusetts Division of Fish and Game.

Their color testing showed fluorescent orange to be the safest color clothing for hunters to wear. The tests were so convincing that the State of Massachusetts passed a law requiring all hunters to wear at least 200 square inches of fluorescent orange material above their waist while hunting.

The law has been in effect for the past three years now, and since that time Massachusetts has not had a single hunting fatality. Maybe it would be nice if we had the same law in Michigan. Think about it.

Last year, many Michigan men were shot fatally by their fellow hunters. Some of them might still be alive if we had such a law.

when the conversation got sexy," I said. "The point is that Camel doesn't frill up their cigarets with menthol or cork tips or coupons that'll furnish palaces. The TV commercials say their cigaret is straight tobacco, fine tobacco, with no gimmicks. Left unspoken is the obvious threat: if those fancy weakened cigarets can give you cancer, what can you get from Camels? It takes a brave man to find out.

"And then the brave man appears. He lights his Camel, squints his eyes, blows the smoke, SLINGS HIS COAT OVER HIS SHOULDER, and then strides off to watch a prizefight or win World War 3. No matter where he goes, he doesn't wear his coat, he hangs it over his shoulder. That's virile," I said.

"I've seen those commercials," she said. "But the hero carrying the coat is in his shirtsleeves. You are wearing 1 coat and carrying the other one."

"Well, it's cold out," I explained. "They film those commercials under hot lights."

"Ok," she said. "But don't you think you could settle for just 1 coat until we get to the game. I don't think it's safe driving with a coat over your shoulder."

"If it were a tattoo, could I take it off to drive?" I asked out of the corner of my mouth, crinkling my eyes and twitching my cheek.

"You are serious. You think you're Humphrey Bogart," she said.

"Onward and Upward," I said. †

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smalley of Sashabaw Road had a full weekend of celebrations for their 25th wedding anniversary on November 6. Thursday, November 5, their neighbors held a surprise party for 8 couples. On Friday they attended a dinner at the 24 Caret Club in Detroit as guests of daughter, Sandy and her fiance, Mario DiPonio. Old time entertainer, Harry Jackson, dedicated a song to them and they were presented with a cake. Sunday, daughters Sandy, Cindy and Susan held a family party to round out the celebration.

Teri Muscat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Muscat of Robertson Ct. enjoyed a family celebration on November 6. It was her 9th birthday. Things were rather hurried at the Muscat house that day with the birthday and father getting ready to go deer hunting in Canada, early Saturday morning. By the way, I've a great new recipe for venison steak, Frank!

Mrs. Donna Redwood had a busy birthday. On November 6 The Sundog Restaurant in Detroit was her choice for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. John Douvaras joined Donna and Nort in celebrating. On Saturday, Mr. David Redwood and Mrs. Dorothy Martin held a family party in her honor.

Welcome back to Mr. and Mrs. Edward Raby, both are former residents and graduates of Clarkston High School. The Rabys and their sons, Todd and Shaun have been living in Lapeer, but will now make their home in Clarkston on Gulick.

A dinner at Charlie's Crab was the choice of Juanita LePere to celebrate her November 2nd birthday. Dr. and Mrs. Earl Davis helped make the occasion a happy one.

The LePere children took mother to Farrell's for a special birthday treat.

Steven Harken, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harken of Snow Apple was the guest of honor at a family celebration on November 2. Did you blow your one candle out all by yourself, Steven?

Members of the Girls' Athletic Association at Clarkston High School collected a bushel of candy on Halloween night. The candy will be donated to Children's Village.

Taking part in the collection were Mary Ann Northcote, Linda Holcomb, Sharon Brewer, Terry Barnett, Shannon Lynch, Peggy Fox and Janet Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tower of North Main St. enjoyed being "sent out to dinner" by their children. They were sent out to celebrate their 20th anniversary on November 4. The Towers are the parents of Lynn, 16; Beth Ann, 14; Judy, 13; Gail, 11 and Michael, 7.

Sunday afternoon, November 8, 14 members of the Jr. Hi MYF of the Clarkston United Methodist Church enjoyed a roller skating party. They left from the church at 1 p.m. and returned at 5 p.m. with a few bumps and bruises.

Mrs. Lillian McAboy of 5461 Colombia will be celebrating her birthday on Friday the 13th. I don't think that she is superstitious, though, or if she is, it doesn't bother her too much. You see, Mrs. McAboy is celebrating her 97th birthday. She was born in 1873. We hope it's a very happy occasion and add our most sincere good wishes to those of all her relatives and friends. Mrs. McAboy lives with her granddaughter and her family. They are the Frank Kerrs.

Lapidary Club wins awards

Three members of the Family Lapidary Club of Drayton Plains, won Second Award Ribbons at the Greater Detroit Gem & Mineral Show held recently. The mineral displays of Mrs. William Rescoe and Belinda Lee won honors in the Novice class, and Cyril Johnson's won in the Advanced class.

Forty-five families, all club members, were represented in the show. The club members had 58 showcases of minerals, fossils, Indian artifacts and lapidary work on display.

In the 3 days of the show the club had 545 people come into their booths and grind and polish their first cabachon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kasten were chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kingsley, co-chairmen. Patrice Swackhamer was Jr. co-chairman.

Two showcases of cabachons and mineral specimens were a popular display presented by Junior members.

Protest

Dear Editor,
 Because of your position on Proposal C, I wish to cancel my subscription to the Clarkston News.
 Please rebate the unused portion of the yearly $4.00 cost.
 I don't think it was fair to come out with this editorial just before the election. At least the people who didn't agree with you should have had a week or so to have their say.

 Editor's note: I regret that the editorial did not appear in an earlier issue. It would have if I had been able to sift through the material, both pro and con, and conscientiously come to a decision sooner.

Mason, Dennis, Gabier named to posts

The Clarkston Board of Education, at their regular monthly meeting, announced several promotions and changes in their administrative personnel.

Milford Mason, administrative assistant in charge of special services, was named administrative assistant to the superintendent to fill the vacancy created by the death of Floyd Vincent.

William Dennis was named high school principal and Janet Gabier, dean of girls and head of adult education.

Louise Jarvis was promoted to the capacity of assistant business manager, Mildred Rundell, director of data processing and Judith Day, bookkeeper.

The Independence Township Recreation Department presented for study their plans for the 1971-72 year.

They indicated the school properties required to fulfill their needs.

In further action, the School Board gave authorization to the school personnel to participate in an educational program to combat drug abuse.

The program is being distributed throughout Michigan by the Michigan Jaycees. It is staffed by personnel from the National Addiction Rehabilitation Coordinating Organization (NARCO). Richard Wilton, Clarkston Jaycee and state chairman, made the presentation.

The administration will witness the program in action at other schools. The program will probably be presented sometime in February, according to administrative spokesmen.

CITIZENS OF INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP

I wish to express my appreciation for the faith and confidence extended to me in the Nov. 3 election.

THANKS

To all those who came out in the cold and rainy weather to vote for us. We will do our best to serve you and the Township.

To all those who helped in distributing our 6 "fresh approach" papers and allowed us to put signs in their yards.

To all those who helped in the special activities that are necessary to conduct a political campaign. Also to those whose encouragement, by word and deed, was so welcome.

P.S. If we have missed taking down any of our campaign signs, please call 625-3908 and they will be removed.

Some supe

I was superstitious about one thing when I was a kid. I suspected that if I got in trouble in school I was in bigger trouble when my Dad found out about it.

This superstition of mine kept me in line most of the time. One Friday the 13th I did stray, though, and found out that the basis for my belief was well founded.

In those days (as my kids used to say — "in the olden days when you were a girl") we had to walk about a mile to the Marxhausen School.

We not only had to walk to school and back, but at noon we walked home for lunch. It figures that traveling four miles a day with the same kids, we gained a lot of insight into human nature. We learned our first lessons in sociology and psychology.

We learned that there is strength in numbers. We also learned that size didn't matter too much if you used your head and that in our four mile world there were the doers and the tellers.

I hitched my wagon up with two other little girls, Iva and June. We were, physically, some of the smallest girls we were an enchanted through the walk.

I remember one day Friday the 13th. We were on the sidewalk in an erratic play serious game of "If you step on a crack, break your mother's back."

"Hey, Gloria, who told you to play with us?" said June on the sidewalk.

Gloria was a big bossy over all three of us.

"My mother said that I can't do it if I want to," she answered. I stuck my tongue as an added insult.

"Oh, yeah?"

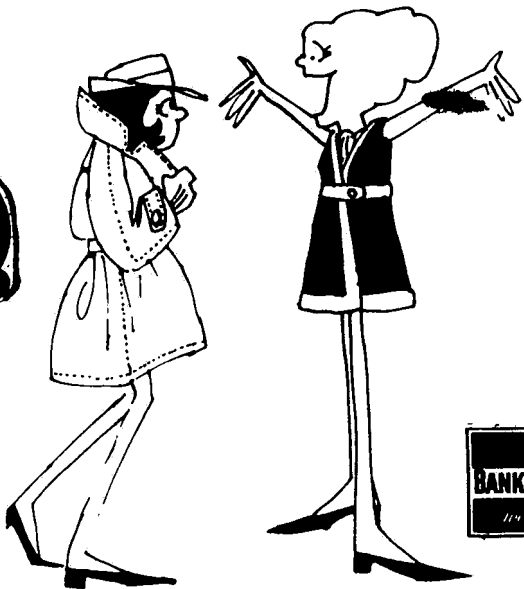

"Yeah."

"Well," chimed in Iva and June, "we say that you can't."

With that the Minute Men circled and made a circle around me.

"Should we throw her out?"

"No, let's wait until a teacher comes along and we'll throw her out."

MY DEAR, IT'S NO SECRET! Everyone in town is talking about their big values. You can't fight their way of doing business. Best selections...lowest prices! Easiest terms too...all!

That did it. Gloria, big baby, went screaming for her mamma.

Our defense rested in the principal's office that afternoon after we pointed out that we hadn't put a finger on Gloria and anyway, she was much bigger than we were.

Gloria's mother spoke French and she kept muttering something that sounded like "femme infants terrible" or something. I suspect that it meant something like "rotten little kids."

Anyway, the judge hearing our case was gray-haired Miss Inez Kepperling, our austere, spinster principal.

Her decision hit me below the belt but proved that my superstition was correct.

"Each one of you will tell your parents what you have done," said Miss Kepperling.

Needless to say, our enchanted threesome became disenchanting.

The sidewalk rule of our small Mafia ended abruptly.

I'll bet that teachers today would say, "Gosh, they don't make parents like they used to!"

Ground was broken on November 5 for the $2.4 million center to serve mentally retarded children and adults in Oakland County. It is part of the 300-acre Oakland County Service Center on Telegraph. The facility is scheduled for completion in the summer of 1972 and will be directed by George Boswell.

Fire causes $20,000 damage

Fire gutted the home of Wallace Wheeler at 4735 Lakeview on November 8.

The Woodhull lakefront home was reported to be on fire by the family at 6:49 p.m. The fire, which firemen believe was started by an overloaded electrical circuit, was detected when the family saw smoke around the radiator as they ate dinner.

Twenty-four men from the Independence Township Fire Department had the blaze under control by 8:18 p.m.

The department estimated the damage to the building at $15,000 and $5,000 damage to its contents.

The building was a 2-family dwelling.

Building report

Building in Independence Township dropped to a low of $154,800 during the month of October, according to a report from the Township Building Department.

The drop followed September building valued at $542,772 and compared unfavorably with building in October, 1969, which was valued at $566,818.

Twenty permits were issued. They were as follows:

4 new houses	$126,000
5 garages	9,050
7 remodeling and add.	14,750
3 barns	4,800
1 demolition	200
20 permits	$154,800

Briefly told

The cookbook, which is a collection of recipes that has been collected and printed by the Drayton Plains Nature Center, is now available. Mrs. Gray Robertson is handling the books in the Clarkston area.

The book is priced at $3.50 and contains 47 recipes from local, state and national men and women for the "Very Important People" section; 59 from foreign countries; some for junior cooks and 14 men contributed their favorites for the "Men Only" section.

The sale of the book will benefit the Nature Center.

A novelty craft class will begin on December 2 and 3 at the CAI Building. The course is part of the Waterford Recreation Department adult education program. Elsie Daud will be the instructor. Call OR 3-9102 for further information.

Bailey Lake School holds mock election

Students of the fourth and fifth grades culminated a unit on elections in the United States by holding a mock election November 2. The results are as follows:

Governor:	Levin 110
Milliken 145
Secretary of State:	Lockwood-84
Austin 157
Attorney General:	Farr, Jr. 87
Kelly 155
U.S. Senate	Romney 124
Hart 131
Township Supervisor	Hursfall 95
Stonerock 145
Township Clerk:	Altman 99
Gavar 139

Questions were supported as follows:
Should the Michigan Constitution be amended to allow 18 year olds to vote?
Yes-218 No-42

Should State money be used to aid parochial and non-public schools?
Yes-111 No-150

Bailey Lake will hold a "Back to School Night" from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. on Thursday, November 12. Teachers will discuss their programs in their rooms from 7:30 'til 8, and then an open house will follow.

November 18 is the deadline for submitting paintings and crafts to the Artists Market jury of the Pontiac Creative Arts Center, 47 Williams Street. Work accepted will be featured in the Holiday Artists' Market opening Nov. 30 and continuing through Dec. 19.

A special event on Sunday, Dec. 6, will be a musical program presenting Phyllis Harris, the Latin Cultural Group and other ethnic dancers.

Interested artists and craftsmen may call the PCAC at 332-1824 for further information.

Nancy Puskas will be the featured soloist with the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra at the Sunday Family Concert on November 15. Two identical concerts will be presented at 3:00 and 4:15 p.m. at Pontiac Northern High School.

Mrs. Puskas is married and has 2 children. In 1969 she was a finalist in the Grinnell Grand Opera competition. She states that the music for the November 15 concert will be light "music that children and husbands will enjoy."

Obesity

A specialist in the treatment of obesity has come up with a novel method of losing weight: eat your breakfast at dinner time, and vice versa. Dr. John M. Baron, vice-president of the American Society of Bariatrics (physicians who treat the overweight) says this would work in 90% of Americans.

He says overweight people must eat at a time when the calories can be utilized by the body. "After a big dinner, the overweight person often curls up in front of his television set until bed time, and never does work off his calories," Dr. Baron said.

However, there is plenty of activity during the day to use up the calories eaten at breakfast and lunch.

"Breakfast is the most important meal of the day," Dr. Baron said. "It must consist of protein, and should account for 40% of the day's calories. Lunch should account for another 40% and should consist of meat and vegetables."

That leaves dinner to take up the remaining 20% of the day's calories, and "this should consist of what the patient usually eats for breakfast," but avoiding milk.

Dr. Baron emphasized that there are many factors other than diet which cause a person to become overweight, and said that all of these must be checked out by a physician. For example, obesity may be related to diabetes or certain drugs, which would be aggravated by sudden changes in diet.

Ask tax dollars for snow mobile trails

Nearly one-half million persons are expected to spend a record-high $133 million on snowmobiling this winter in Michigan.

Safety and shortage of areas where snowmobiles can be used will be major problems despite the enthusiasm about the sport.

Nineteen persons lost their lives in Michigan snowmobile accidents last winter, compared with 13 who died during the 1968-69 winter, the first time official records were kept on snowmobile deaths.

Last winter, 13 persons died in collisions with other vehicles on state roads, five persons drowned when machines broke through the ice, and another death occurred when a snowmobiler hit a wire strung across the gate to a ball field.

Snowmobiles have been a growing source of irritation to many private property owners and sportsmen.

Snowmobiles running recklessly across private property, ruining lawns, trees and disturbing farmlands were a major reason for recent state legislation (effective January, 1969) regulating these machines.

Some sportsmen claim that the snowmobile is used illegally during deer season, and when lakes are frozen these machines are overrunning once remote fishing spots.

David Houts, 14, gets nothing but moral support from his friend. "Come on, Old Buddy, how about learning to use a rake?" David is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Houts of Clarkston Road and is a student at the Sashabaw Junior High School.

Happy reading to our new friends.

Spiritual Message

Father Francis A. Weingartz

Jesus said to them, "Come apart into a desert place and rest a while." Mark 6:31.

"Go therefore, make disciples of all the nations." Mathew 28:19.

Our spiritual life has two parts. One is the life apart, the life of prayer and quiet communion with God. We spend this part of our life with the Lord. At this time we get to know the Lord better and so we grow in love for Him.

The other part of our life is the life impart - imparting to others what we have learned from our close contacts with God. The victories we have won over ourselves through the help of God can now be shared with our neighbor. We can help our fellow man by imparting to him some of the victories and security which we have gained in our life apart with God. Ask God that you may grow strong from your life apart with God. Ask God that you may share some of this strength with others.

Jack Warden, Patrol Director (center), holds the plaque presented to the team by the National Ski Patrol System naming them the "Outstanding Ski Patrol of the Year." Holly's 56 member team competed against more than 800 patrols in the United States, including Alaska and Europe for the honor.

Scout News

A potluck dinner and a Troop 189 Boy Scout Court of Honor were combined for a most enjoyable evening October 26 at Calvary Lutheran Church.

After dinner in the activities room, approximately 130 people moved into the church for the Court of Honor ceremony.

Scoutmaster Dr. Forrest D. Hunt spoke of our growing interest and awareness of ecology and pollution. He then introduced Mrs. Carolyn Place, who informed the group of her proposed project, "Bottles for Building."

The drawing for Troop 189's raffle took place and the winners were: 1st prize, Lyle C. Jewell of Pontiac and 2nd prize, Mrs. William Ballard of Clarkston. The prizes were donated by assistant scoutmaster Ray Loba and Mrs. Loba. Proceeds from this raffle will go into the Troop Equipment Fund.

The candle-lighting ceremony of the Court of Honor was performed by Dr. Hunt; advancement chairman, Norman Hunt and Senior Patrol Leader, Mark Zelenak. The 12 Points of the Scout Law were recited by 12 appointed Scouts and assistant scoutmaster Richard Hammerstein.

Assistant scoutmaster Herschel R. Fry presented Tenderfoot awards to Mike Jewell, Randy Hamilton, Greg Whittendon, Mark Wood, Ralph Eriksson, Tracy Mayo and Tim Purves.

Mr. Fry presented the second class award to Leif Gruenberg, the first class award to Franz Tresenreiter and the star award to John Fry.

Mr. Fry also presented the Bronze Palm to Dennis Loba.

A total of 44 merit badges were presented by Herschel Fry and Norman Hunt to the following scouts: Leif Gruenberg (2), Mark Zelenak (5), Eric Gruenberg (5), Tom Waterbury (3), Craig Moore (3), Kirk Robenault (7), Matthew Moore (2), Dennis Loba (6), John Fry (3), Curt Smith (4), and Franz Tresenreiter (4).

Dr. Hunt presented the Scout Lifeguard Award to Dennis Loba.

Dr. Hunt also gave special recognition to the fine patrol leaders and to the parents for their support in making Troop 189 successful. He closed with a quotation he remembers as a boy, "What a boy is depends on what he does when he has nothing to do."

The scoutmasters' benediction was performed by the whole troop.

Supervision of the potluck dinner was provided by Mrs. Richard Butler and Mrs. Ray Loba.

Troop 189 is sponsored by Calvary Lutheran Church.

Engineers expand present quarters

Johnson & Anderson, Inc., Consulting Engineers of Pontiac, held a ground-breaking ceremony at their Dixie Highway headquarters for a $400,000

16,000 square foot expansion of their offices on Monday, November 2nd.

The company built a 5,000 square foot structure on the present Dixie Highway site in 1960. Expanding their facility to its present 11,000 square feet in 1965, the firm now has a staff of more than 175, including engineers, surveyors, data processing analysts and programmers, and support personnel.

Johnson & Anderson are the engineering firm that is employed by Independence Township.

The new addition should be completed in spring and occupancy is scheduled for June, 1971.

News

When the fog lifted on October 24 citizens saw Camp Fire Girls from Group Kekouya vigorously raking leaves at Lakeview Cemetery.

The group, headed by Donna Redwood, was working toward its Group Torchbearer award.

The girls worked from 9 'til 1 p.m. After a short rest during which time Mrs. Neil Stalker served them cider and doughnuts, the girls worked for 2 more hours.

Girls that were not able to participate on that day were scheduled to rake leaves in front of the Township Hall at a later date.

A progressive dinner started on Saturday afternoon when the girls bicycled to Lori Anderson's house at 2 p.m.

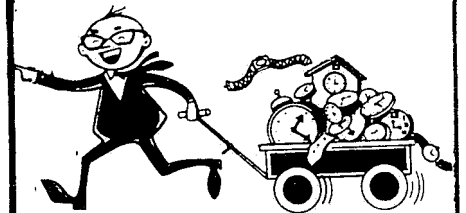

Lori served them canapes and then they peddled to Leslie Moore's for the soup course. From there they biked to Debbie Burnell's for a fruit cup and continued to Gail Richard's for garlic toast.

Linda and Judy Western served them Italian style spaghetti and Julie Redwood provided them with a salad at their respective homes. Barb and Lisa Neff topped that off with home-made ice cream and Shelley Connor provided them with Halloween punch.

Cherry tarts at Pam Stalker's home provided the clincher for the gourmet feast.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

Revolting

By Haslett Hemmor

So the general election is over. Guess it's time for the beaten candidates to lick their wounds and the winners to say something shrewd on how the people have given them a mandate (whatsomever that means) to do what they said they'd do during the campaign double-talk.

Funny thing, when I was a kid and brought up in a strict Republican family, it always seemed to me I could tell any blamed old Democrat on sight. Tell 'em a mile off by their horns.

Guess I figured Democrats must natural be wild-eyed and sort of shifty, to boot. Used to be kind of a regular game my dad played on ma that he'd mumble just before an election about how he was near forced to vote for the democratic candidate for circuit judge or state representative.

Sure enough, every time he'd come out with such an outlandish remark, she'd gasp and say, "Oh! You wouldn't! Please tell me you really wouldn't!"

Maybe there's still them today who wouldn't consider anything but a straight ticket. Could be, but seems like most folks is more interested in does the fellow speak strong against campus violence or make a good case for wiping out crime-on-the-streets. Party just don't mean that much to most and I figure I'm maybe typical. Sometimes even who's running for what don't much count.

Take our Township election last Tuesday. Candidates weren't much considered on a personal basis. Folks lined up with what Bob Twister recommended on one side or back of the candidates being promoted by old Hank Bookman for the other group.

Like Frank Wabash said, he'd sure like to vote for Charlie Edma for supervisor. Real good man and all that, but Charlie had Bookman's support so Frank couldn't very well vote for him. So you got this here ridiculous situation of Township folk not voting Republican or Democrat and not even for the candidates, but actual taking sides in the long brewing Twister-Bookman feud.

Well, anyhow, like you know, Charlie Edma (the Democrat) wins and the Bookman crowd really crows about how they put their man across. Funny thing is that Bookman has always been a strong Republican and Twister, the other power behind the scenes, has up to this local election always been out-and-out Democratic.

By the slim margin of 21 votes, Charlie Edma does get the voter's nod and so last night at our regular Wednesday night church supper, Hutch Brown calls on him for a speech.

Now Charlie never did cotton to making speeches, and it takes a heap of urging by others before he gets up to his feet.

"Guess everybody knows I was elected," Charlie says, sort of looking down at the table and talking real low. "What folks don't seem to realize is" — and now he looks around and speaks out good and loud, "is that I owe no favor to any man, including the guy, Hank Bookman, that maybe helped get me elected. Hank's OK but my personal opinion is that he's no better and no worse than Bob Twister, so I say that next election those two gents ought to either run, themselves, or stop telling others who to vote for.

"Like I say, I don't owe either of them anything and both of them will find out I mean it. Can't say I'm happy I won, but I'll sure guarantee you that neither of them will be glad, either."

If old Charlie had said that before the election, he'd have won by a 10 to 1 margin.

Wrestlers attend technique clinic

Coach Richard Mascovic and his 1970-71 Clarkston Sr. High School wrestling team members will be among 200 participants from across the state attending Ferris State College's first clinic on November 14.

The all-day workshop will feature 4 of the top wrestling coaches in the state and is designed to acquaint promising high school athletes with fundamentals and techniques essential to individual wrestling improvement.

Ferris coach Tom Kerns will be assisted by University of Michigan's Rick Bays, Bill Willson of Pontiac Northern High School and Gary Darling of Shelby High School. The mat coaches will deliver lectures and present live demonstrations aimed at bettering already-acquired skills in addition to emphasizing the sport's basic techniques.

The participants will work out with the coaches for on-the-mat instructional training geared to building a successful wrestling program.

VILLAGE OF CLARKSTON VILLAGE COUNCIL Minutes of Regular Meeting October 27, 1970

Meeting called to order by President Cooper.
Roll: Present — Basinger, Hagen, Jones, Kushman, Westlund. Absent — Johnston.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.
A discussion was held regarding a Burn Ordinance for the Village of Clarkston. A draft of a burn ordinance for the Village was to be requested from the Village Attorney and the State ordinance was to be studied. The matter was tabled until the next regular meeting.

The matter of a welder for the Municipal Services Department was tabled, pending further study.

Mr. Del Lohff from Kieft Engineering, Inc., was present regarding the Deerfield Hills Subdivision drain. The Council expressed its approval of a temporary dike and tie-in to existing storm sewer by means of a stand pipe. No formal action was required. Trustee Jones was requested to contact the Water Resources Commission regarding their report on this project.

Moved by Hagen, "That the RAP program as presented at the last Council meeting, in which methods of assisting persons with drug problems were discussed by this organization's representatives, be supported in full by the Village Council." Seconded by Westlund. Motion carried.

The matter of adjusting Septic fees was tabled, pending the budget for the 1971-72 year.

Meeting called adjourned by President Cooper.

Bandits not bashful

Ex-residents of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Burns, who are now living in Whittier, California recently wrote to the former owner of the Clarkston News, Mr. William Stamp.

They tell that they are getting late-night visitors on their patio. The visitors seldom decide to leave off their merry-making until 4 a.m. or so.

The masked, ring-tailed visitors are raccoons and they usually come calling on the Burns at 2 a.m. They come for a swim in the pool, a wrestling match and something to eat. They find the Burns' cat a great curiosity.

Through the summer, as a result of Mrs. Burns' recent heart attack, the Burns decided to sleep on their patio and get all the fresh air that they could.

The raccoons find this very convenient. "They'll jump right in bed with us," Mrs. Burns said. "They like to play and wrestle."

According to William Burns, there's no sleeping when the ring-tailed bandits show up.

"They'll reach under the blankets and grab your toes if you don't get up," he said. "They leave just before dawn."

The raccoons apparently live in the Puente Hills in back of the Burns' residence where the country is fairly rugged and wild.

The critters seem partial to the more civilized comforts found in the Burns' back yard.

CHS parents go Back to school

November 17th has been selected for the senior high school "Back to School Night." The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a general meeting of staff members, parents and guests. Following this, parents will have an opportunity to visit, informally, with teachers of their choice. There are special plans being made by some departments to display student accomplishments, methods of instruction and specialized equipment.

Report slips will be handed out to parents who attend. Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria.

Throughout the evening, members of the Future Teachers Club will assist parents and answer questions. The counseling staff will also be available to meet with parents.

The faculty and administration hope that this evening will provide parents an opportunity for better understanding of the high school curriculum and open lines of communication between them and the staff.
