Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

During an interview on WWJ-TV election night, Senator Phil Hart said: "Just about the time a generation comes along that can't remember that when you elect a Republican to the White House you get hard times, a Republican is elected to the White House and we get hard times."

Stu Langley wonders why we all can't vote absent voters ballots. And, I don't know why we can't either. I feel this question or proposal has come up before and I wish someone would explain the pitfalls to me.

Under my government a candidate, once defeated, would not be allowed to run for another public office. Once around is all the public should be allowed to tolerate.

My sister seems to never get old. Fact is, she's getting younger. I am now her older brother, which must amaze our father, who has me timed with a Michigan vs. Ohio State game in 1925. Sister Barb was up and walking at the time, but her memory is convenient enough to fit her birth date needs.

She and her type worry constantly about early pregnancies to their daughters, yet talk of their own early marriages. Take Barb, (Please ... as Henny Youngman says) her Becky is now 21 or thereabouts, but Becky's mother says she was married at 13. In three more years she'll be telling anyone who will listen that she was married at the age of eight.

Why are chains between the car and trailer crossed?

Bud Guest says he had no trouble quitting smoking this last time. The WJR Sunny Side of the Streeter told his radio audience his doctor gave him the choices if he continued puffing coffin nails, so he quit.

Bennett resigns

Election causes more changes

The Independence Township Board will "sweep with a new broom" when they take office.

Three resignations this week added to death, political defeat and expiring terms, swelled the number of appointments that must be made by the newly elected officials.

Merle Bennett, trustee for the past 10 years, submitted his resignation which is to be effective on November 30. Bennett stated his reason for resigning was that he felt that if he had stood for re-election, he would have been defeated along with Harold Bauer and Duane Hursfall.

All 3 had voted in favor of controversial rezoning proposals that would have brought mobile homes, multiple-family dwellings and a shopping center to the Township.

"I feel that I would be facing an impossible situation," said Bennett. "The economy has priced property and single-family residences out of reach of young families and retired couples."

He said he could not deny these people the right to turn to mobile homes or multiple dwellings as a solution.

Bennett was also a member of the Board of Appeals.

Planning Commission chairman, William O. Parker, submitted his resignation to the supervisor-elect, Gary Stonerock. He requested that it take effect on November 20.

Parker, who had served on the commission for the past 6 years, said that he felt that the Township urgently and hour he quit. So, while it's easy to cease deep drags some thought remains.

My quitting cigarette smoking has one parallel to Bud's. I quit when the doctor's orders finally soaked in. I was one of the many in our sanitarium ward who didn't really have TB. It was just a spot on the lung and as soon as the Navy papers caught up with me I'd be discharged.

Then that little guinea pig that had been injected with my sputum developed TB and I got the doctor's message. Smoked part of one cigarette since and that was 20 years ago.

I remember starting smoking more than quitting. I was on a ship headed from Norfolk, Va. to Hawaii. Out in the Atlantic, general quarters sounded after warning came of a Nazi submarine in the area.

A few months later I was up to two or more packs a day.

After 23 years I don't miss cigarettes, but I still yearn for a cigar after 10 months of strain.

Merle Bennett

resigned. Virginia O'Neill, a clerk in the Supervisor's office, also tendered her resignation.

Duane Hursfall presided at his last official Board meeting on November 17.

Howard Altman, who was recently re-elected to the office of Township Clerk and Kenneth Johnson, re-elected Treasurer, both paid tribute to Hursfall and Bauer.

Among their last official acts, the existing Board approved the expenditure of approximately $3,000 as requested by Fire Chief Don Beach. The money is to be used for a bay station, monitors, boots, hats and coats for newly appointed firemen.

Beach added his praise of the outgoing officials and the present Board for their support of the Fire Department during the years they have served the Township.

When asked if he had made any decisions about filling the vacancies that had occurred, Stonerock said, "I haven't made any decisions but think that it is a time to stop and see where we are, decide which direction we want to go and then devise the program that will take us there."

"I would like to decentralize the Township government and have it more representative of all areas."

The supervisor-elect expressed his desire to attract industry to the west of the Village with good zoning ordinances to improve the community's tax base.

"I feel that we are on the threshold of tremendous growth and hope we can direct it intelligently."

Stonerock hopes to form a Township Taxpayer's Association to promote cooperation and understanding.

needed a better tax base.

"I feel," said Parker, "that our planning commission has lost its meaning in Independence Township. I feel that the people must put their trust in chosen officials. My beliefs are different from those of the elected Board. I don't care to fight any longer."

The death of Floyd Vincent created the first vacancy on the planning commission several weeks ago. In addition, 3 planning commission terms will expire on December 31. They are those of Del Lohff, Don Cooper and Frank Reynolds, the latter an interim appointee who has been filling out the unexpired term of former Planning Commissioner Gerald Anderson who

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney W. Galbraith

Double ring rite unites Galbraiths

Rev. William Palmer performed the double ring ceremony that united Judith M. Dixon and Rodney W. Galbraith in holy matrimony on November 14, at the Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church.

The bride chose a floor length gown with an attached chapel length train. She carried a cascade of white miniature carnations centered with a natural orchid.

Mrs. Lawrence Cohoon of Pontiac was the matron of honor and wore a purple velvet gown. She carried a nosegay of white and purple carnations.

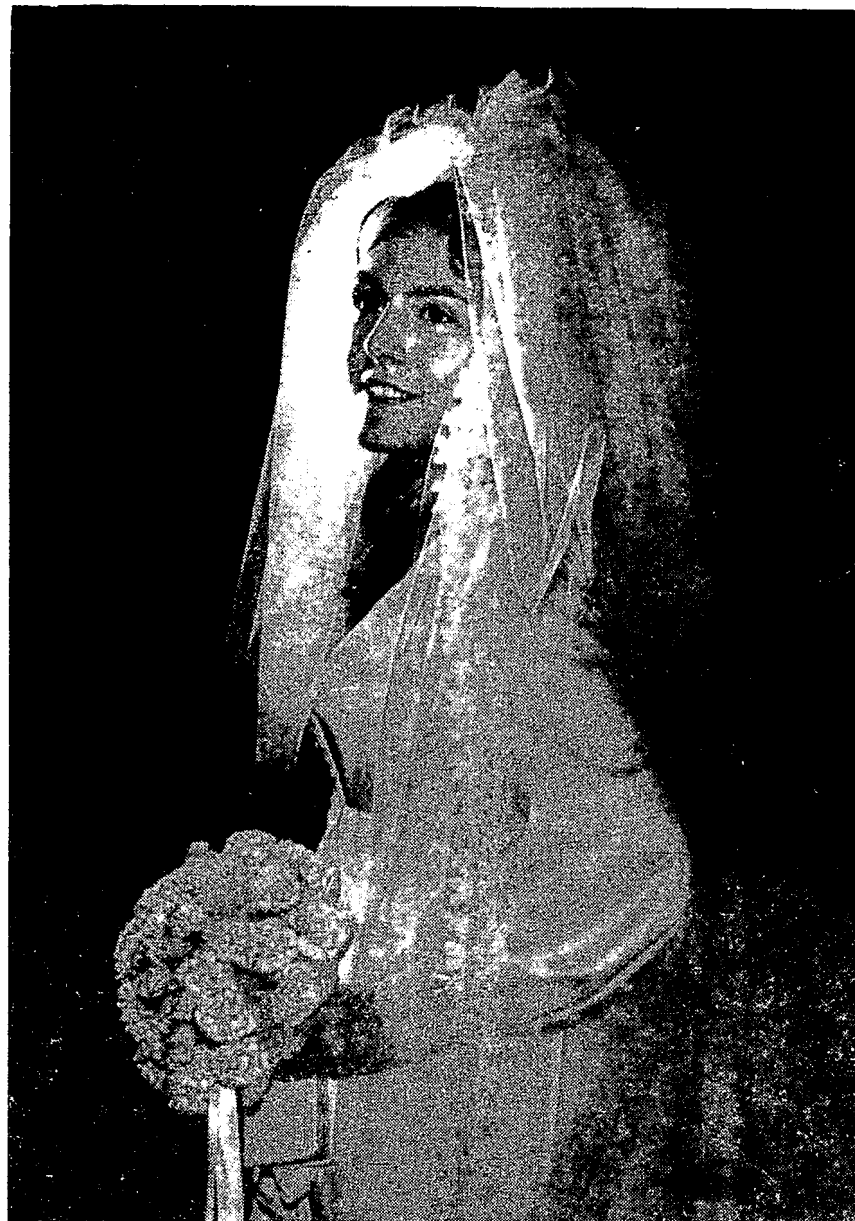

Peggy Dixon, the bride's sister; Sherian Rutherford, Pontiac and Mrs. Daniel Rollison, also of Pontiac were the bridesmaids. They were also gowned in purple velvet, but carried nosegays of white and lavender carnations.

The flower girl, Theresa Griffin of Lapeer, wore lavender velvet.

Dennis Galbraith stood as best man and David Galbraith, Jerry King and Bill Phelps seated the guests.

The bridal couple, who are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard R. Dixon of Thendara and Mr. and Mrs. W. Keith Galbraith of Pontiac, greeted their guests at a reception at the American Legion Hall in Auburn Heights immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Robert L. Branson

Exchange vows at Methodist Church

Nanette L. Kayga was given in marriage to Robert L. Branson by her father on November 14 at the United Methodist Church of Clarkston. Rev. Cozadd heard the couple speak their vows.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kayga of Pinedale was gowned in white satin. It was complimented by a bouffant chapel length veil. Her flowers were white carnations and roses.

Janet Barton was the maid of honor. Her gown was fashioned of turquoise chiffon over taffeta.

Mrs. William Brown, the groom's sister, and Mrs. Robert Denyes were identically gowned in gold chiffon.

Lynette Kayga, the sister of the bride, carried white mum petals in her flower girl's basket.

The best man was Frederick Rutterbush of Pontiac. The bride's brother, Phil Kayga and Drayton William Brown acted as ushers.

After a church reception the couple left for a wedding trip through the Smoky Mountains. They will make their home in Pontiac when they return.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Branson of Pontiac are the parents of the groom.

Let's talk turkey!

How large a bird do you need for your dinner? When buying whole ready-to-cook turkeys under 12 pounds, allow $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 pound per serving. For larger birds allow $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ pound. With uncooked boneless turkey roasts allow $\frac{1}{3}$ pound per serving.

In most cases, large turkeys are more economical and excellent for use in future meals.

What is the best way to care for and store turkey?

Thawing time for frozen turkey varies widely, depending chiefly on the size of bird, or pieces, and the method used.

Thawing at room temperature, unwrapped, is not recommended because of the possibility of contamination.

Recommended procedure is thawing in the refrigerator, in the original wrap, on a tray. This requires 1 to 3 days. The procedure may be modified by removing the wrap, in which case 18 hours to 2 days are required.

Care of the cooked turkey is important too. As soon as possible after serving, remove every bit of stuffing from the wishbone and body cavities. Remove meat from the bones. Cool stuffing, meat and any gravy promptly.

Do not wrap tightly until cooled. Refrigerate, each wrapped separately and tightly, at 36 to 38 degrees F. Use gravy and stuffing within 3 to 4 days.

Heat stuffing thoroughly and bring gravy to boiling point before serving. Serve cooked turkey meat within 2 to 3 days after roasting.

Small meal-size units, properly wrapped, may be frozen and held up to one month.

Never freeze an uncooked stuffed turkey or a roasted stuffed turkey. Cooked poultry slices or pieces covered with broth or gravy may be held frozen up to 6 months. When frozen, not covered with liquid, use within 30 days.

How do you know when your turkey is done? A meat thermometer is the only sure way. Be sure that when you insert it that you don't have the tip resting on a bone.

What about giblets? For heaven's sake,

Couple make home in Japan

At a candlelight service on November 7 at Trinity United Methodist Church in Waterford, Deborah Lynn Peterson and Capt. William H. Pillow, Jr. spoke their wedding vows.

The bride wore a floor length gown of peau de soie, with a tulle bodice and appliques of Venice lace. Her shoulder clean them, cook them, grind them up and add them, along with the broth in which they were cooked, to your gravy. You can add a little onion, celery and carrot when they are being cooked if you wish.

Be sure to cook them ahead of time if you plan to use them this way.

A new trend to simplify the serving of a holiday dinner is to cook the stuffing separately in a greased loaf pan or casserole. During the last hour of the turkey roasting time will do the trick. Uncover it and baste it with turkey drippings during the last 15 minutes to give it that special flavor.

Remember, if you are stuffing the turkey, stuff it loosely and if you are cooking it without stuffing the roasting time will be about $\frac{3}{4}$ of an hour less for a 14-pound bird and proportionately for other sizes.

Happy eating.

length veil was held by a lace bow, from which lace streamers fell to the shoulder.

Her attendants were Angela Stroh of Indianapolis, Indiana; Patricia Gamble, sister of the groom from Los Angeles, California; and Cynthia Graves of Waterford. They all wore identical floor-length gowns of burnt orange velvet skirts topped by apricot colored bodices. They carried lighted hurricane lamps with floral arrangements at the base as their flowers.

Serving as best man was Frank Chamblin of Livonia. Brothers of the bride, Lt. J.G. John T. Peterson, of Meridian, Mississippi and Stephen T. Peterson of Ann Arbor, seated the guests.

Mrs. Betty Skarritt of Clarkston played the wedding recital and was also organist during the dinner at Addison-Oaks. Mrs. Floyd Hicks of Drayton Plains was the soloist at the wedding.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomas Peterson of Andersonville road and Mr. and Mrs. William H. Pillow, Sr. of Greenwood, Mississippi.

Following a dinner reception at Addison-Oaks, the couple left on a honeymoon to British Columbia, after which they will go to Tokyo, Japan, to make their home until Capt. Pillow has completed his military service with the United States Army.

The death of the U.S. dollar

Half of all Americans were born before late 1942. Since then, the value of the dollar has shrunk 58 cents.

This has taken only 28 years. And if this rate continues, the 1942 dollar will be worth only 18c in another 28 years. The main reason for the decline in the dollar's value since 1942 has been federal spending — and particularly deficit spending.

If this inflation continues and the dollar shrinks at the same rate for the next 28 years, what is in store for the average worker?

What will he have to earn—or pay—in 18c dollars just to equal the same amount in terms of today's 42c dollars?

$7,200 in wages would have to be $16,800.

$3,000 cars would cost $7,000.

$25,000 homes—$58,000.

$4,000 college tuition—$9,400.

$275 television sets—almost $640.

$125 suits of clothes—$290.

$25 pairs of shoes—$58.

At this same rate of inflation a family's weekly budget would have to rise as follows:

Food—from $38 to $89.

Housing—from $43 to $100.

Clothing and laundry—from $25 to $58

Transportation—from $17 to $40.

If inflation continued at the same rate, and the Federal Government spent the money necessary to provide no more services than it provides today, in the next 28 years:

Spending would rise from $195 billion to $455 billion.

Debt would rise from $386 billion to $900 billion.

However, both spending and the deficit have been increasing far more rapidly than the rate the dollar has been declining. If spending and debt increase the next 28 years at the same rate they have since 1942:

Federal spending will jump to $907 billion.

The debt will go up to almost $1.7 trillion.

Candidates for political office ask for your support.

When they do, ask them if they plan to keep the government's spending within its income. Or do they plan to continue deficit spending and hasten the day when our dollar could be worth only 18c.

Cathedral candelabra, an altar banked with palms and pink roses and mums in the altar vases, completed the setting for the double-ring, candlelight ceremony in the First Methodist Church Clarkston, last Friday, at six o'clock in the evening, when Georgia King Robinson and Graham Richard Woolston spoke their nuptial vows to the Reverend William J. Richards.

Barbara and Les Howe are very happy indeed, in regards to the Grand Opening of their Bowling Lanes. An estimated attendance of 600 people kept everyone busy and filled even the nursery to a gratifying capacity.

"If It Fitz . . ."

A different drummer

By Jim Fitzgerald

When Joe died suddenly, after living only 43 years, my big sister revealed her old fashioned upbringing. "He just never found a good woman," she explained.

Her meaning was plain: If Joe had married well, or even just so-so, he'd still be alive today. If he'd married a real catch, he'd still be alive 40 years from now, sleeping each night with a great grandmother.

The evidence against bachelor Joe, when whispered in sight of his casket, sounded bad. He left his hometown 10 years ago, moving to wicked New York City, and never returned, not even for Christmas. He lived in the same hotel room for 6 years and it must be assumed that all his worldly possessions were in there with him. No refrigerator that spits ice cubes. No 2-car garage. No power lawn mower. No lawn. And, even if he'd had a lawn, he had no one to tell him to mow it.

When Joe's body was sent home in a box, his family was fearful of looking at him. The heart attack that killed him came while he sat in a bar. Had his face been ravaged by 10 years of dissipation? He'd been one of the most handsome guys in town. But now . . .

He looked fine. Not a bit different than when he was 33. Joe looked better than some of us contemporaries who stood nearby, mourning him. And remember, he was dead.

His family felt a lot better when they saw how good Joe looked. They figured those 10 years maybe hadn't been so bad after all.

I'll bet they weren't. Not for Joe. I remember Joe well. He was something, I'll tell you. He was one of a large group of World War 2 veterans who used to meet regularly in the Alibi Bar, or Harrington's Taproom, or the Legion euchre room. Those were fun days when we worked as little as possible, or went to college and studied as little as possible. And always, we had as much fun as possible. No one enjoyed himself more than Joe. And no one was more enjoyable. It was always a better party if Joe showed up.

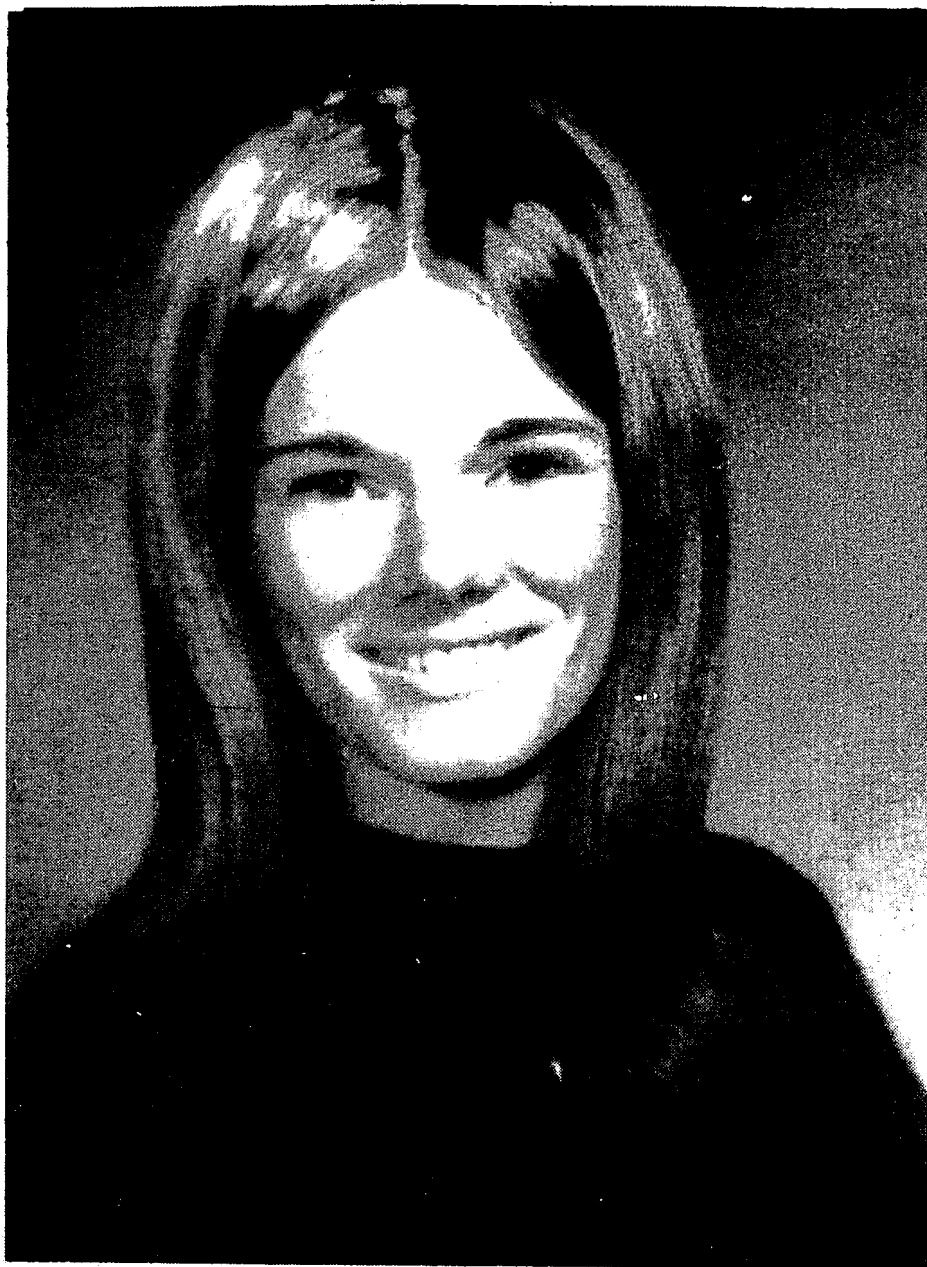

For the rest of us, the party ended sooner. We all found good women. I even own a lawn mower now, and I swore I never would. I don't know what Joe did those last 10 years, but I'd be awfully disappointed to hear he ever put up a storm window.

Joe marched to a different drummer. Certainly he was out of step with a lot of the world. Certainly he could have been more considerate of his relatives back home. But pardon me if I can't tch tch. I mourn Joe's death because he was one of the most delightful guys I knew. But I can't mourn his life.

There are many kinds of happiness. And there are many achievements greater than living long enough to sleep with a great grandmother.

There is not a good woman behind every good man. Behind some good men there are lawns unmowed and Christmas dinners uneaten. And also a lot of people who are glad to have known them.

That's worth some gold stars, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood J. Cohoon of 8665 Waumegah announce the engagement of their daughter, Debra Gay, to Willard L. Vallance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Vallance of Waterford Township. The prospective bride is a 1970 graduate of Clarkston High School. The wedding date is set for July 3.

No ban on burning yet

Village residents apparently would like to see a ban on burning in Clarkston, provided it doesn't include leaves and brush.

The Council had asked for resident reaction and several spoke out at Tuesday's meeting.

No decision was made on an ordinance covering burning at the time.

Mill Pond area residents are talking of a lawsuit over property damage they blame on developers of Deerfield Farms Subdivision. At Tuesday's meeting some neighbors claimed owner M. A. Benson is evading the issue of run off (erosion) from the disturbed hills west of the village.

They said they are ready to move on a lawsuit.

The Billion Dollar Beer Mug

The Billion Dollar Beer Mug plays an important role in helping keep the American economy on the move, strong and dynamic! Before beer reaches the consuming public it employs 60,000 workers in the brewing industry alone and 1 million in collateral and support businesses and industries, paying $1.5 billion in state and federal excise taxes, over $2.7 billion in wages to employees, and distributors, and $1 billion for agricultural products and packaging. In Michigan and throughout the nation beer is good business.

Clarkston girls reign

by Donna Fahrner

Macrina Nicholas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Nicholas of Northview Drive, competed in the Oxford Jr. Miss Contest on Saturday, November 14 at the Oxford Area Junior High School. Macrina, a senior at Dominican Academy, was awarded the Miss Congeniality award. Miss Congeniality is chosen by the girls and received a bracelet with a charm, "Miss Congeniality 1971" and a $25.00 gift certificate.

Donna Pfahlert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Pfahlert of Eevee Road, was recently elected homecoming queen at Peshtigo High School in Peshtigo, Wisconsin where she is a senior. Donna is a former Clarkston High School student.

Mrs. Barry Briedenbaugh's 4th grade class at Clarkston Elementary welcomed her back with open arms after her brief stay in the hospital.

Elsa and Rudy Schwarz have returned home after an enjoyable trip to Texas, where they visited son, Fred. Fred is stationed with the Air Force at Lackland

Macrina Nicholas

Air Force Base. A happy birthday to Fred, who celebrated on November 15.

Ron Schebor and Ray O'Neil are spending the week in Chicago at the National Real Estate Convention.

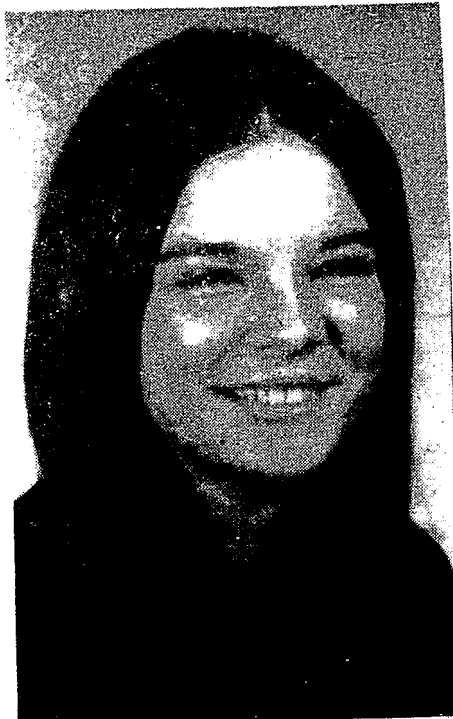

A shower was held on Sunday, November 8, for Judy Wilson who will become the bride of Lee Eagleson of Flint on December 19. Lunch and games were enjoyed by 15 guests. Mrs. Carl Stanley of Sashabaw Road and daughters, Sara, Barbara, Pattie and Mrs. David Hansen were the hostesses.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Nelsey of Davisburg, will gather at the Davisburg Methodist Church on November 22 to offer their congratulations to the couple, who are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

Married in Caro on November 24, 1920 the couple has lived in Davisburg since 1927.

May we add our best wishes to the occasion?

There is a lot of activity and excitement around the home of the William O. Parkers on Eastlawn. Son Larry came home from Vietnam on

Donna Pfahlert

November 1 and as if that wasn't enough, the Parkers' daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Blanchard of Mason, presented them with their first grandchild.

The baby boy weighed 6 pounds, 13 ounces.

Mrs. Rosalie Snyder is the paternal grandmother and great-grandmother is Mrs. Alvin A. Beardslee.

The new father is an administrative assistant to Attorney General Frank Kelley in Lansing. The baby's mother, Paula, will be remembered by her classmates and friends in CHS class of 1962.

Friday, November 20, will find the women of Clarkston rushing to the Methodist Church for the annual holiday bazaar. Things will get under way at 9 a.m. and run until 6 p.m.

Now that the winter winds are starting to blow, the popular rummage, garage and flea market sales will be coming to an end. If you have never been to one, or held one you don't know what fun you are missing. You not only get rid of a lot of things you really don't need and never use, but make some extra cash to spend at someone else's sale. You meet some nice people, too. There seems to be a buyer for everything. You just have to find them.

When the season starts next spring, round up your family early some Saturday morning, grab the Clarkston News and make the rounds.

The treasures you find will amaze you. My last big purchase was a washboard which was to be made into a bulletin board. It was a great idea and if I am lucky, I will get it finished before it becomes the first item to go in the spring.

Oh well, "one man's trash is another man's treasure."

Now that many of the men in town have gone deer hunting and the wives are left at home, I would like to hear what you do when the men are away. Maybe it would be worth changing my husband from a weekend bow and arrow hunter to a week-long gun hunter.

Gout

Gout used to be the subject of comic-strip humor, but doctors and their patients are now taking it seriously. For example, it now appears that some form and degree of blood vessel disease can be found in most gout patients. And an acute attack of gout may be the first symptom of leukemia, endocrine diseases, and various metabolic disorders.

The body normally produces uric acid from high-protein foods, and excretes it through the urine and sweat. In some persons, there is an over-production or under-excretion (or both) of uric acid. Urate crystals form in one or more joints, causing a swelling and severe pain: gout.

For some reason, 10% of those with high uric acid levels don't develop gout. But the disease isn't found without concentrations of uric acid.

At present, there is no known cure, but gout can be controlled with diet and drugs that reduce uric acid levels. This requires self-discipline on the part of the patient, and a long-term interest on the part of the doctor.

Despite the recent attention paid to gout, it was noted at a famous Midwestern clinic that only 12% of gout patients were correctly diagnosed before admittance. This suggests that gout is still rarely recognized, except in its acute stage.

Also, recent reports support the theory that heavy drinking may be related to the disease. It's been found that alcohol can produce compounds in the kidney which interfere with uric acid excretion, raising levels to the critical point.

State Highway Dept. distributes funds

Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the third quarter of 1970 — up 6.8 percent from the same period a year ago — are being distributed to Michigan counties, cities and villages, the State Highway Commission said today.

State Highway Director, Henrik E. Stafseth, said net receipts in July, August and September totaled $77,766,148, an increase of $5,271,480 from the third quarter of 1969. Normal growth in motor vehicle registrations and fuel consumption accounted for the increase, he said.

Oakland County will receive $1,871,447 as its share, Clarkston's share will amount to $2,192, an increase of $134.

The highway fund is made up of the seven-cent-a-gallon state tax on gasoline and diesel fuel and motor vehicle license plate fees paid by motorists.

After deduction of Department of State collection costs, 1.5 percent of the gasoline tax for the State Waterways Commission and $3.5 million annually for the Mackinac Bridge Authority to retire bridge bonds, 46 percent goes to the Department of State Highways, 34 percent to the 83 counties and 20 percent to the state's 529 incorporated cities and villages.

Local realtor moderates panel

Thomas Bateman, C.R.B., of Bateman Realty Company in Pontiac, moderated a panel discussion entitled "Business Basics" in Residential Brokerage" on Monday, November 16. The presentation is sponsored by the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers during the National Convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, which convened in Chicago this week.

Besides heading his own firm, Bateman is actively involved in the real estate profession on the local, state and national levels. He is serving as a member of the Residential Division Governing Council, as well as being on the Board of Governors of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers.

Elected

Shirrel C. Richey was elected President of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council November 4, at its annual Council meeting held at Waterford Oaks Activities Center, 2800 Watkins Lake Rd.

Mr. Richey is Executive Engineer — Administrative with GMC Truck and Coach Division, General Motors. He is currently serving on the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council Board of Directors as Finance Chairman. He has also served as Sustaining Membership Enrollment Chairman in 1969 and 1970.

Mrs. William Vastine of Laurelton, Clarkston, was made a member-at-large.

Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council was first chartered in November 1921. Present membership is approximately 11,500 girls and adults. The community supports Girl Scouting through individual donations, the sale of Girl Scout Cookies and calendars, and allocations from the United Funds of Pontiac, West Bloomfield, Oakland and Detroit.

Abigail Nielsen is maybe Effie's very best friend. Not that I take any particular notice of my ever-loving's good or not so good friends but Eff is always telling me how great it was of Abbie to do this or that and, no matter how much old Abbie likes to talk, she IS a good-hearted woman.

Fact is, I never heard tell of anybody being called "good-hearted" except as sort of an apology. You know, there's those that folks speak of as being bright and some get referred to as being hard workers or good lookers but when a body gets tagged with that "good-hearted" description—it's like they got nothing else going for them.

Plain fact is that even them that try hardest to speak well of Abbie have to admit that she's sure quite a talker. Better not cross her, either, because she does talk to a whole heap of people.

Even Eff, quick claps her hand over the mouthpiece and groans as she announces, "It's Abbie," when she gets her near nightly phone call. When she tells me that it's old Abbie calling, it's sort of understood between us that I'm to turn off the burners under whatever is cooking or keep track of when the dryer shuts off or feel free to switch from the TV soap opera Eff's been watching and get maybe a football game.

To cut short one of Abbie's phone calls to as little as a half hour you better tell her as soon as you say hello that you were just going out the door to rush to hospital emergency because you accidental cut your throat from ear to ear. Then you better remind her every two minutes that you're getting weak from loss of blood and she'd like as not say, "I know you have to fly but did you hear that old Josh Houseman shaves twice a day for an actual fact?"

Point is she almost never has anything important to say but she makes it sound like your life hung in the balance if she didn't tell you this particular bit of nothing right away quick. Still, like old Eff says, she's good-hearted. Sure enough would do for you if she could and if you've got some community project like making identification badges for the Brownie girls or collecting money to buy High School band uniforms and ask help from old Abbie, she'll work her fool head off to put the project across.

No question about it, though, all 250 pounds of that quivering pink-faced white-haired Abigail Nielsen is the original non-stop talking machine of the century.

Abbie lives near across the road from Mable

Streiter so Abbie feels it her solemn personal duty to keep Mabel fully informed regular on everything from sewing circle gossip to how the nest of robbers is doing in spite of Conlon's mean cat.

Mabel's got a long extension cord in her kitchen and she's got a way of hunching up one shoulder to hold up the phone with no hands. Actual thing, Mabel's polite as can be when Abbie calls but that don't stop her from just sort of grunting every so often and meanwhile keeping on with peeling potatoes or checking the roast or whatever. Extension cord is long enough for her to get around anyplace in the kitchen. If Mabel has to go to another part of the house, she just sets the phone down real easy on a towel and tries to get back every five minutes or so to grunt or remark, "You don't say," and then take off again.

That's what she did right after she said hello yesterday and learned it was old Abbie calling. Set it down and went back to dusting in the living room.

Too bad, too, because old Abbie was calling to tell her that Mabel's roof was on fire. Could most likely have saved the house if the fire department had been called a quarter of an hour earlier.

Armchair travels

from Kim Beattie

November 6, 1970

Dear Folks,

Just got your letter today along with the postcard that Dad sent from Georgia on Oct. 8. It must have gone by ship for some reason.

Kay, that sounds really great that you're going to the Spanish Riviera for your senior trip. You must tell me when and for how long and exactly where, because I'm going to be down in that territory about that time I think. If so, I could schedule my trip so that maybe we could meet over here. Now that's what I would call AMAZING!!

Today is my German father's birthday and I already wished him a "Herzlichen Gluckwunsch zum Geburtstag." My German is coming along a lot better now but still not fantastic. Yesterday, my father talked to me for an hour and a half about the war, etc. I couldn't believe he did it because he knew I couldn't understand about half of it, but it was really interesting what I got of it. I tried to explain to him about America in Vietnam, but when I could barely do it in English, it gets a little tougher "auf Deutsch."

Last night our whole group went to the opera here in Hannover. I really enjoyed it. I don't think I could hack it for a regular diet, but it was better than I thought it would ever be. One thing that helps, though, was that it was a sort of comedy. If you think opera is hard to understand, wait 'til you try to understand that "auf Deutsch."

Most of the kids have started making plans for their Christmas vacation. About 13 of us are going to go to Moscow! We get out of school 2 days early and fly from Hannover to West Berlin. Then take a bus or something over to East Berlin, where we catch the plane to Moscow. It is all a planned trip coordinated by this travel bureau here in Hannover. We stay there for 5 days with all meals included in this real nice hotel in the city. During the day we have conducted tours, etc., and most all of the nights are free. Then we return the same way we came. It's just a little more expensive than it was last year, almost exactly $100! I don't see how I can pass it up. It's going to cost me more than 1/2 that much just for my plane ticket to and from New York.

We will be back in Hannover to spend Christmas with our families and then Mike and I and 4 other guys are going to head on up into Scandinavia. First up through Denmark and a stop in Copenhagen, then across to Sweden. (Stockholm and other cities) and keep heading north as far as we can go with our Eurailpasses, which is a town in Norway called Narvik. It is on a big inlet above the Arctic circle, and this is where we plan to spend New Year's Eve. (Amazing, wouldn't you say?)

Then, we'll head back down through Norway (Oslo) and back into Denmark and Deutschland. Then our group will split up, because Mike and I want to go over to London. Then I think that after that we'll head for Austria and Switzerland if we have time. We're all going to try and meet in Munich for the last weekend before school and then head back on into Hannover from there. Well, I'm tired out just writing about it, so I guess that's all for now.

Oh! Tell me your plans for Christmas so that I can decide when to call. It doesn't cost much at all from this direction. Bruce Barton knows all about it because his parents have called their daughter in California three times since

Letters to the Editor

Owe thanks

November 13, 1970

Dear Editor:

My wife and I are fairly new in the area so we had to rely on published sources in the last township election.

Images that kept coming through from these sources were that of a man who has served this township for the past thirteen years as Supervisor being put on a political chopping block by his opponents and the axe didn't stop swinging until the job was finished. I guess this is called politics and political candidates have to learn to live with it.

Whether or not the end justified the we've been here. I think he said it costs 18 Deutsch marks for the first three minutes, which is only like $5.04, which isn't bad. Well, I think dinner is ready, so I've gotta go. We're having apple pie today for my father's birthday. Oh, boy!

Love, Kim

P.S. The meal was really fantastic. We had pork cutlets, which is comparable to the best steak you could buy in Amerika or more so. We all had a real good wine except Lisa and we drank a couple of toasts and it was really neat. Guess they go in big for birthdays over here.

means in this particular case remains to be seen.

Good luck to the newly elected officials and I would like to quote Mr. Stonerock from the Pontiac Press on November 4 saying "it is an ungrateful job." This statement was verified by the last edition of the Clarkston News because there were no Thank Yous for Mr. Hursfall and Mr. Bauer for their thirteen years of service to Independence Township.

Well, thank you, Mr. Hursfall and Mr. Bauer, for serving us for the few years my wife and I have been residents of this township.

John P. Stapleton

MEN IN SERVICE

Larry Parker, Hospital Corpsman 2nd class, arrived home on November 1 after spending 11 months in Vietnam.

The 1967 graduate of Clarkston High School has been reassigned to a Naval Weapons Station at Concord, California where he will report on November 27 to complete his enlistment.

Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William O. Parker of 6683 Eastlawn.

Notice of Restrictions in the Sale of Natural Gas by Consumers Power Company

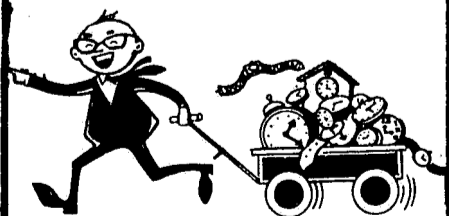

The Michigan Public Service Commission, because of a shortage in natural gas supply and to protect service to existing customers, has authorized Consumers Power Company to impose certain restrictions on the sale of natural gas to existing and prospective customers, and has directed the Company to publish the essential portions of the Commission's order. These are:

1. All commitments and applications for future residential service, including apartments and mobile homes, existing on the date of the Commission's order (November 9, 1970) are voided.
2. No new commercial or industrial customers shall be added to the Consumers Power Company system. However, commitments already made to existing commercial and industrial customers will continue to be honored. The base period to measure commercial and industrial loads shall be the 12 months ended June 30, 1970 or the amount of the commitment if a new customer.
3. No new residential customers or additional residential space heating loads, including apartments and mobile homes, shall be added to the Company's system, except as follows:
 - A. Persons who had installed gas space heating equipment, or were in the process of installing gas space heating equipment on October 1, 1970, shall be given first priority on remaining gas supplies, provided that such persons otherwise qualify for gas service in accordance with the Company's standard rules and regulations. The right to obtain gas service in accordance with this provision shall lapse unless Consumers Power Company is notified in writing of a desire for gas service prior to December 15, 1970.
 - B. All other persons desiring residential gas service, including service to existing residential units, and new construction, must make application in writing to the Company for such service.

- C. Applications for existing residential units may be made at any time. Applications for new residential construction shall be made after the footings and foundation walls are completed at the location desiring gas service or, in the case of mobile homes, after the concrete slab is poured.
- D. Consumers Power Company, as soon as practicable, will verify by field inspection that the residential units are in existence or that the required construction is completed, and upon such verification will issue a dated commitment. Thereafter, the Company is directed to make a second field inspection in not less than 80 nor more than 100 days. If construction has not proceeded to completion of the framing and roofing of the structure the Company will advise the applicant that he has 30 days in which to carry construction to that stage of completion, or the permit will be irrevocably canceled. In any case, gas service must commence within 12 months of the original date of issuance, or the commitment will be voided. Dated commitments are applicable only to the locations specified, and may not be transferred to any other site.
- E. Owners of buildings now receiving gas service in a building which is torn down because of public improvements, may transfer such gas service for the same uses to another location owned by such person, provided the transfer is completed within 12 months after discontinuance of service at the original location.
4. The procedures set forth in paragraph 3 hereof shall be followed by the Company until such time as its total confirmed estimated connected annual requirements are approximately 370 billion cubic feet.

Grandma flies for 97th birthday

By Jean Sura

Mrs. Lillian McAboy celebrated on Monday. The celebration was 3 days after her November 14th, 97th birthday. For a present, she was taken for a ride in a helicopter.

"If you could do anything you liked for your birthday, what would you do?" her grandchildren had asked.

"Well," said Mrs. McAboy, "I guess that I would like to ride in a helicopter."

Granddaughter Mrs. Frank Kerr reasoned that if that was what she wanted, that was what she should have.

A call to the Pontiac Airport connected her with David VanderVeen, Director of Aviation for Oakland County. He agreed that Grandma should have a ride.

VanderVeen got in touch with Joseph Dovey, president of Kapeg Helicopters Corporation, a company that makes helicopters their business.

"It would be our pleasure," said Davey. Mrs. McAboy met her pilot for the ride, Patrick E. Cannon. Pat, who lives in Southfield, completed his tour of duty as a helicopter pilot in Vietnam recently. He is now flying for Kapeg.

"Where would you like to go?" Cannon asked.

"Oh, I don't know," answered the spry lady with a chuckle. "How about New York."

As grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren watched, Mrs. McAboy, looking like a pixie in her fur hat, boarded the helicopter. She was accompanied on the ride by Mrs. Kerr, who had never flown in any kind of aircraft.

Getting back down to earth, Mrs. McAboy said, "It was just beautiful. It was my first ride, but it surely won't be my last. My family sure spoils me rotten."

F. Hal McDavid, vice president of Kapeg, wished her many happy returns and presented her with a pin, a replica of the Bell model 47G5 helicopter, as a remembrance of the trip.

See pictures next week in the Clarkston News.

Mary Elizabeth, the daughter of Mrs. William McKee of Church Street and the late Mr. McKee, is engaged to marry Eldon Eugene Adams, according to an announcement made recently by her mother. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Adams of Highland. The wedding is being planned for early May.

"Bottles for Building" interests Jaycettes

The Clarkston Jaycettes held their monthly meeting on November 11 with 2 Jaycee wives as visitors.

The guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Carolyn Place, who is spearheading a project to collect and dispose of used bottles. The project would benefit the community and is called "Bottles for Building."

The membership found her project of great interest and volunteered to study it carefully.

The Junior Miss Pageant which is showing great promise is going into the final weeks of preparation.

Workers on the October pie sale reported that it had been a profitable event. All proceeds were donated to the Student Aid Fund.

A dinner meeting for the Jaycees is scheduled for this week.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

End season 5-4

Yellow Jackets sting Wolves

By Craig Moore

The Friday the 13th season football finale didn't favor the Clarkston eleven, but rather the Avondale Yellow Jackets, as they blanked the Wolves 16 to 0.

There was no action to speak of in the first half. Here a flag... there a flag... everywhere a red hanky. The officials dropped the hanky 13 times in the first 24 minutes of play assessing 120 yards in penalties.

One offensive effort was successful in the second quarter. Avondale's Dan Avery hit tailback Rick Davis with a 19 yard scoring pass. The conversion run failed.

The Yellow Jackets took over in the second half of the game.

The Avondale defense intercepted 3 Wolf passes and picked up 3 fumbles while stopping the Wolves' ground attack.

Clarkston completed only 3 passes for 51 yards.

The Wolves continued to make the mistakes that cost them more points and a chance for the game.

A high snap from the center in the third quarter went over the Wolf punter's head and on into the end zone. In an attempt to run it out, he fell for a safety.

The Wolves did manage to intercept 3 passes and grab 1 fumble.

Clarkston really got moving once, but was held back by a holding penalty. This proved to be their last chance.

In the fourth quarter, Clarkston fumbled an Avondale punt, only to have Yellow Jacket, Bill Bye, grab it on the Clarkston 5 yard line.

Jeff Spencer scored from one yard out. Dan Avery completed a pass to Al De Clerk for the 2 point conversion.

Thus ended the season with the Wolves showing a marked improvement over last year. The 4 win-5 loss season instilled a fresh shot of school spirit into the whole student body.

"The team was disappointed at the way the season ended," reported coach Paul Rakow. "I think the boys showed great improvement this year and am sorry, too, that they couldn't finish with a win.

"Four of this season's starters will be among the 10 lettermen returning next year. Mark Warren shows the qualifications to take over the quarterback slot capably and we have some fine talent coming up from the undefeated J.V. squad.

"All together, it should put us in shape for an exciting season next year."

Boris and Emily need home

By Cheryl Shrapnell

November 20, 1970 marks the date for the second annual Carnival Dance, sponsored by the class of '72. The carnival and dance will begin at 7 p.m. and last until midnight. There will be several skill games, and prizes to win. Music will be provided for the dance by the Lime Fire Band.

You students will have a chance to win one of the two giant stuffed animals. Tickets for the raffle of Boris the Bull and Emily the Elephant will be sold at the dance. The drawing will take place that evening, and the two winners will be announced immediately.

Future Teachers Club is getting into full swing now, with the election of its officers for the 1970-71 year. They are:

Kim Mayo, president; Garnet Palace, vice president; Vicki Johnson, secretary-treasurer and Greg Salk, chairman of activities.

The members have started to plan activities for the coming months. In December, plans are being made to have a Christmas party for some children in the community. Student teaching will begin in January.

At this time, members of the club go to other schools in our district to assist teachers and in this way have the opportunity to work with children and to observe classes.

February will find the FTA traveling to the Lapeer State Home to give a Valentine Party for the children there.

They also hope that they will have an exchange day with another school some time this year.

PAPER TABLECLOTH available at the Clarkston News Office. Just $4.04 per 300 ft. roll. Ideal for parties, receptions and club dinners.

Churches unite to give thanks

Five churches in the Clarkston area will combine their memberships and talents to hold a Community Thanksgiving Worship Service on November 25, the eve of the holiday.

The 7:30 p.m. service will be held at St. Daniel's Catholic Church.

Rev. Mark Caldwell, pastor of the Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church, will be the speaker. A free-will offering will be sent to the Church World Service, an interdenominational agency.

Churches participating are: Calvary Lutheran Church, Church of the Resurrection, Clarkston United Methodist Church, Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church and St. Daniel Catholic Church.

The public is invited to attend regardless of their church affiliation.

Tape holiday messages for servicemen

Families of servicemen and women stationed overseas may send tape-recorded holiday messages this Christmas through the American Red Cross "Voices From Home" program.

There is no charge for the 15-minute recording which will be mailed at Red Cross expense to servicemen. Foreign exchange students and families of Peace Corps members may make recordings and mail them at their own expense.

Recordings may be made from Nov. 23 through Dec. 12 at any Red Cross office Monday through Friday from 8:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. Appointments must be scheduled in advance. If necessary, Saturday appointments may be arranged.

Local Red Cross office location is at Oakland Regional Office, 118 Franklin Boulevard, Pontiac, Michigan; Tel. 334-3575.

The Girl Scouts of Sashabaw Neighborhood gathered at the Sportsman's Club on Friday the 13th for a "Sock Hop." The girls reported a great evening. They had games and a candy scramble.

Spiritual Message

Mark H. Caldwell,
SASHABAW UNITED PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

THANK GOD AND TAKE COURAGE
Acts 28:15

"On seeing them Paul thanked God and took courage"

Next week we will all formally take note of a day set apart for giving thanks. Every year on this occasion someone says going out of church, "Why do we only do this once a year?"

Eddie Rickenbacker, after 21 days of drifting in the Pacific on a raft said, "The biggest lesson I learned from that experience was that if you have all the fresh water to drink you want and all the food you want to eat, you ought never to complain about anything!"

The trouble is when we are not in a desperate emergency like Rickenbacker on the Pacific we tend to want everything wrapped up perfectly before we even think about giving thanks. All or nothing, that's our unconscious condition for gratitude.

But there is much to be said for pausing in the middle to give thanks before you know how well the project might turn out.

St. Paul on his fateful trip to Rome seemed to have nothing but trouble blocking his way at every turn. First he had to settle for going as a political prisoner rather than as a free man. Then the voyage was marked by delays, by shipwreck, by snakebite, by mutiny. And when he got as far as Puteoli he still had a ways to go. But on seeing friends interested enough to come 43 miles from Rome to meet him, he dropped everything long enough to offer thanks.

The pilgrims whom we copy next week did something like this. They didn't wait until all disease was wiped out and storehouses were filled for a year in advance. They stopped in the midst of a modest harvest and held a day of thanksgiving because they had food for that day in abundance!

Ancient mapmakers who worked in a world still not completely charted and still mysterious and fearsome used to write on their maps in the areas of unknown lands, "Here be Dragons, Here be Burning Fiery Sands." But a man today who knows his world and its maker could write in every corner of it, "Here is God!"

During the regular school day, Clarkston Senior High School's halls and classrooms are filled with the sounds and activities of teenage students. In the evening, the building again resounds, this time with adult activities.

Clarkston's adult education program includes non-credit and college credit courses.

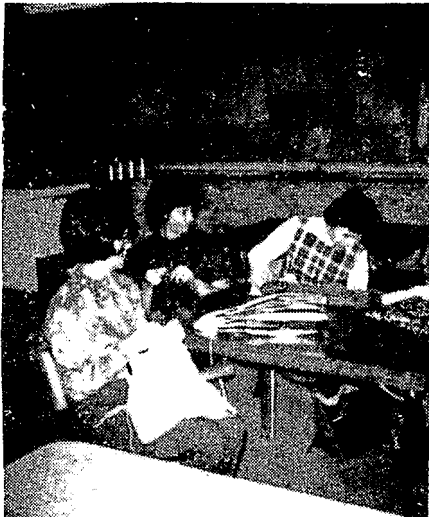

The non-credit courses consist of hobby and recreational classes, such as woodworking and finishing, physical education, knitting, Bishop sewing, etc.

According to Jan Gabier, adult education coordinator, "One of the many purposes of the community college extension program is to give area residents who might not otherwise have the opportunity, a chance to have a college career. The facilities are near 'home' and the hours are conducive to adult participation."

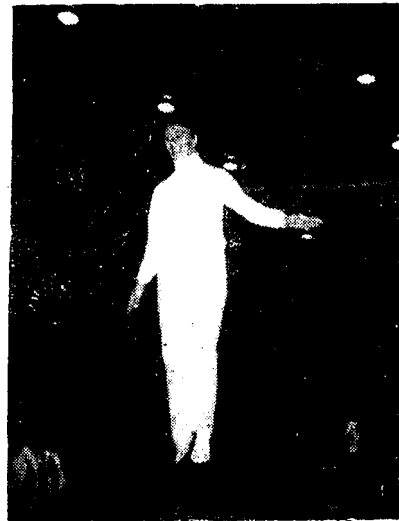

Adult education provides an opportunity for participants to develop new skills, to socialize, in short to become involved.

Presents plan for glass collection

Mrs. Donald Place has been presenting a glass collection program to civic groups and organizations throughout the Township. The program would benefit citizens in this area and proceeds would hopefully be used to build a Civic Center.

As Mrs. Place outlines the program glass would be collected and transported to the Owens-Illinois Glass Company in Charlotte, Michigan for recycling in the production of more glass containers at a gross profit of $20 per ton.

"The program would not only benefit the community in a financial way, but would eliminate a large amount of waste materials," said Mrs. Place.

She pointed out that a family of 4 people disposes of over 10 pounds of trash glass each week. This glass will still remain in its present form over 100 years from now and add to the ecology problems of the world.

A steering committee is being formed, consisting of representatives of all the interested service groups, churches and clubs throughout the Township.

The meeting will be held on November 30. The meeting place will be announced at a later date.

Change name

"Times change, and with it the functions and designation of many civic organizations and agencies," said Jack Bucholz of the North Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

"Responsive to the trend, the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will hereafter be known as the North Oakland Chamber of Commerce."

The organization, born in 1905, has a current membership of 310, and has set a 1970 goal of 400 new members. Even with the increased membership, the Chamber would fall short of those representing comparable communities.

The Chamber is continuously active in the areas of better government on all levels, community betterment, solicitation control and, through its Business Ethics Board, responsible business practices.

Y-Indian Guides to form tribe

Several fathers in the Clarkston area have expressed an interest in organizing a Y-Indian Guide Tribe, according to John Bisha.

The Y-Indian Guides is a program sponsored by the YMCA in which fathers and sons between the ages of 6 and 8 years participate together as tribe members.

YMCA spokesmen believe that the program provides an opportunity for fathers and sons to do a wide variety of things together at the time when the boys' physical and social development most need the masculine influence of the father.

More information about the program can be obtained by calling Bisha at 625-3314.

Think now about Christmas

Think Christmas - NOW. That's the plea from the post office. They offer a schedule of deadlines for parcels and greeting cards.

If you plan to send a package or card to G.I. Joe overseas, get it to the post office by these dates:

Surface Mail - Nov. 6 for parcels, Nov. 12 for cards.

SAM (Space available mail) - Nov. 20 for parcels.

PAL (Parcel airlift) - Nov. 27 for parcels.

Airmail - Dec. 11 for either packages or cards.

If you're sending to friends in other countries, the post office suggests the following deadlines:

Far East - Send now unless you plan to use air mail, in which case Dec. 10 is deadline.

Africa or near East - Nov. 2 to Nov. 6, unless by air, then it's Dec. 10.

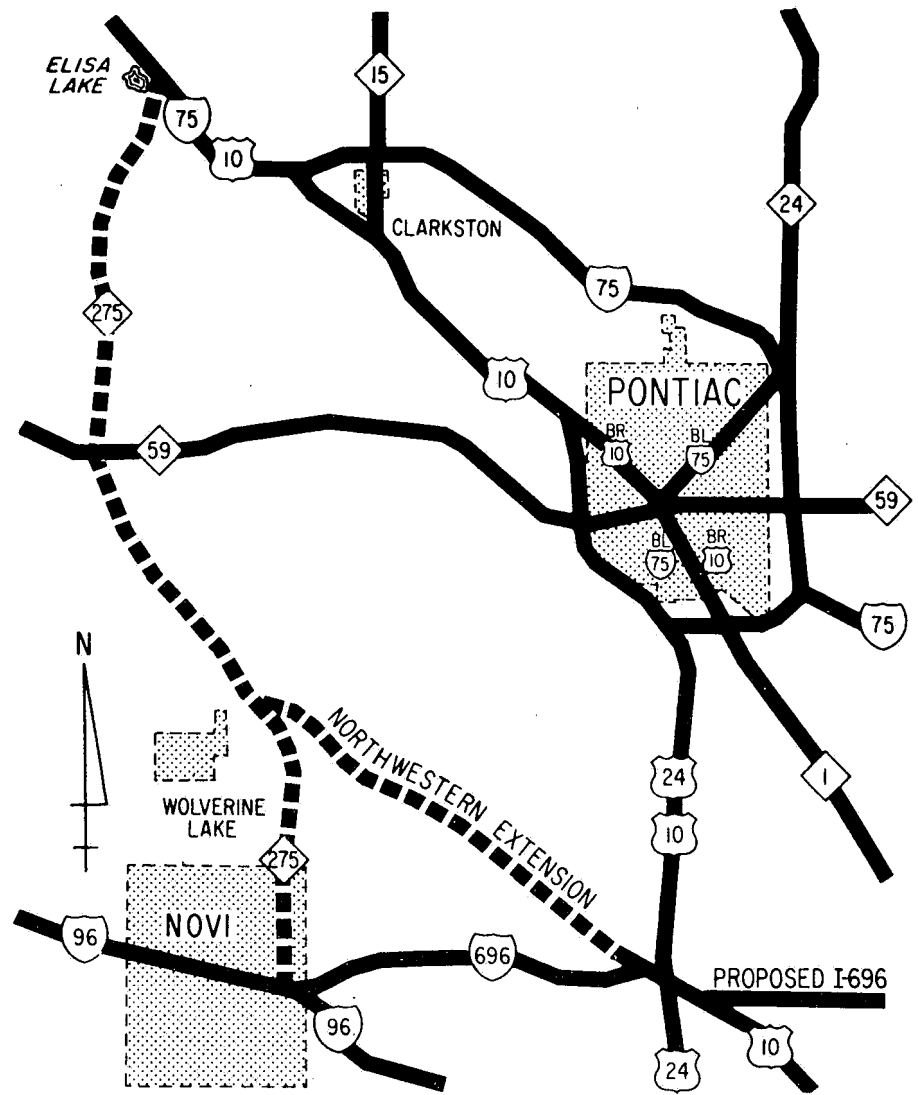

Europe, South America, Central

America - Nov. 13 to Nov. 18, air mail Dec. 14.

Christmas mail to Alaska and Hawaii should be airmailed by Dec. 14. If you're sending packages the slow route, get them off by Nov. 30. Postcards the slow route, by Dec. 4.

And for those at home, the post office asks that packages and cards to distant states be mailed by Dec. 1 to Dec. 10. Local mail can go from Dec. 11 to Dec. 15.

Grateful postmen will appreciate your efforts in getting mailing chores done early.

Construction of a 9.6 mile extension of Northwestern Freeway in Oakland County will begin in 1974, the State Highway Commission announced today. The project will extend the freeway from its terminus at US-24 (Telegraph Road) northwesterly to the planned M-275 Freeway, which will run north and south through Oakland County. It will connect with M-275, the planned link between I-96 and I-75.

No whipped cream?

by Jean Sura

Is there such a thing as a sane way to fix Thanksgiving dinner without killing yourself with work and making it a gastronomic nightmare? And then in twenty-five minutes reduce it to garbage and misery?

"Okay," I said one year. "We're going to have a simple dinner for Thanksgiving, not all that fussing and preparing and cleaning up."

"You mean that we're not going to have turkey and all the trimmings?" the family chorused.

You would have thought that I had swiped all their lucky rabbits' feet.

"Okay," I relented. "We'll have turkey, but that's it. No trimmings!"

"How come you're not making the stuffing?"

"I said that this was going to be simple. Nobody needs all that food."

"You must be kidding. Who ever heard of roasting a turkey without making dressing to go with it? Come on, be a sport."

"Well, all right, I'll make stuffing, but don't get any more fancy ideas."

"Okay, okay, but boy, old Uncle Ted is really going to be disappointed if you don't make his favorite kind of sweet potatoes with the marshmallows on top. But I really don't blame you for not doing all that work even if Aunt Midge always does."

"I suppose that I could throw a little casserole in the oven. It isn't that much work," I wavered.

"Golly, can't you just see cousin Teddy's face when you don't have that good salad with all the fruit in it. That will be a riot."

"You think that will be funny? What do you think that Scotty's going to say when there aren't any of his favorite potatoes?" somebody else chimed in.

"I'll tell you something crazier. How about little Mark when he finds out there is no pumpkin pie. He really is a nice little kid. He sure does like his pumpkin pie, though."

"Now, don't worry, Mom. They'll all get over it. We won't have to run around the house between the main course and dessert this year either. We probably wouldn't be strong enough anyway."

"Haw, haw, I'm dying to see the look on Grandpa's face when there is no spinach. That will be a sight."

"Yeah, how about Grandma when there is no date-nut pudding?"

"Okay, I give up. Now will you pack of hyenas get out of my kitchen. I've got work to do. I wonder if there is some concoction I could make up from broken heads."

"I had better get as much attention when it is time to wash the dishes."

I cry a lot at Thanksgiving time.
