Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Oh, my! This morning J. P. McCarthy asked a 19-year-old lad in his WJR studio if he knew who Joe DiMaggio was... and the young man didn't.

This is not going to be a column on Bob Talbert's record. "Where Have All the Heroes Gone"... but surely every American, young or old, knows who the greatest centerfielder of all time is?

I related this to Elmer Ball, Oxford High teacher-coach, and he came back with, "That's nothing. I ask my students who General MacArthur was and they don't know that either. It's not in their time."

I'm getting older.

I watched a movie on environmental quality (ecology) the other night. It is only one of many all of us have been exposed to, but while watching it the thought struck, "man has never done anything for the good of his country and fellow man." At least the films and lecturers would have us think so.

For men only. When was the last time you bought a belt? The kind you wear. I can't recall ever buying one. They come as gifts.

When was the last time you noticed a belt? Or, for that matter, shoes on men. I used to be very meticulous about keeping my shoes shined. Show me a guy who shines his shoes and I'll show you a neat dresser. I used to say.

I've discovered I don't look at anyone's shoes any more. I suppose it's like my not looking at anyone's beard any more. I look more at eyes. I find most of them bloodshot, or at least not really clear. More dazed than pollution, too.

Craig Marsh has the midnight to morning shift as dispatcher for the Oxford Police Dept. He has one of the clearest voices I've ever heard.

Goodfellow paper sale this week

Historians are ready to sell their annual Goodfellow Edition. From the left they are, Keith Hallman, W. Tudor ApMadoc, Mack Oakley and Charlie Robinson.

His enunciation is distinct and there is no change in his telephone voice, whether he's reporting an emergency or the weather.

When there is the type of trouble in town that concerns me, it usually happens on Craig's time. Twice lately he's got me in relatively early hours. Monday was the latest.

"We are investigating a report of smoke, apparently coming from the basement of Jim's Restaurant. I don't know how serious it is. Calmly, coolly, Craig handled it. Jim's is 2 doors north of us in Oxford.

Nothing to get excited about, you say? Twice the Oxford Fire Dept. has investigated for smoke in downtown Oxford and one took a 3-story building and the other leveled 3 stores.

The other recent call was that a bomb had exploded next door to our Oxford printing plant. Craig was just as cool on this call.

When emergencies arise, I can't think of anyone I'd rather have call me than Craig. The only improvement would be if the troubles could happen earlier or later and Craig be moved to the appropriate shift.

During the Christmas season each year the Clarkston Rotary sponsors their annual Goodfellow Newspaper Sale.

A special issue has been sent to the printers and will be available in the Clarkston area on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 4 and 5.

On these dates, Clarkston Rotarians will be on the streets selling papers.

The funds are used each year to purchase shoes for children who are not as fortunate as most of us. Other monies are donated to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

The chairman for this year's Goodfellow Paper Sale is Dr. Earle Davis.

"Bomb scare" routs Jr. Miss audience

A "bomb scare" evacuated the Little Theater at the Clarkston High School on Saturday, November 28 in the middle of the talent presentation of Bonnie Cleffman at the Junior Miss Pageant.

Captain Harry Maur of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department reported that a call was received at the county switchboard at 8:30 p.m. The call warned that a bomb had been placed in the high school building.

Sheriff's deputies ordered the premises vacated and then with the assistance of the Clarkston Police Department made a search of the building.

After approximately a 20-minute search, it was determined there was no bomb and the call apparently a hoax. The spectators returned to their seats and the pageant was resumed.

Presiding Jaycees complimented the audience and contestants on the orderly evacuation.

Matches cause $4,500 damage

Fire caused $4,500 damage to the home of Edwin Maloney at 6596 Maple at 7:57 a.m. on November 29.

Two 6-year-old children apparently were responsible for the conflagration which started in a second story bathroom. The flames burned through the wall and ceiling of the kitchen and dining room.

Three other children of the family were sleeping in a bedroom of the house.

The 2 children admitted, according to firemen, that they had been playing with matches.

The building was insured.

Wrestlers bow in opener

Clarkston wrestlers ran headlong into tough competition at Garden City West High School in the season opener on Saturday, Nov. 28. Banging heads with Grand Blanc, Romulus, and the host team, the matmen were faced with fighting for third place with Garden City and finished fourth on a close final score.

There were some bright spots, however, at both ends of the scale. Co-captain Mike Packer was champion at 98 pounds, and Mark Hoxie, champion at heavyweight. Neither man was scored on by opponents. Mark won with two falls and Mike scored a fall and a shutout decision.

Second places were chalked up by co-captain Al Knake at 167 pounds and Bill Williams at 132 pounds. Both will have a good shot at a gold medal on Dec. 5 at Grand Blanc. Williams will probably face the same man.

Third places went to Rick Detkowski, 112 pounds; Mark Willis, 185 pounds; and Kirk Dougherty, 126 pounds. Rick lost a close first match to the champion, but will have another chance against him next week. Mark lost the initial bout to highly touted Marve Williams (Olympic team member Rudy William's nephew), and then scored a pin to place.

"The balance of the team learned a lot from their first time out. The potential is there, it must be seized individually," said the coach.

Some loyal fans followed the events of the day along with 3 cheerleaders.

The first dual meet will be held at Walled Lake West on Thursday, Dec. 3. On Saturday, Dec. 5, there is an 8 school tournament at Grand Blanc High School.

Final standings were: Grand Blanc, 100; Romulus, 89; Garden City West, 68; and Clarkston, 64.

Coach Richard Moscovic said, "I hope the boys have learned a lot and I look forward to a great deal of improvement." December 3 the team travels to Walled Lake Western and moves on to the Grand Blanc Invitational on Saturday, December 6.

Common Cold

When asked about treating a cold, your doctor may tell you: "It's too bad you don't have pneumonia—we can take care of that better than a cold." Joke or not, there's quite a bit of truth in that. There is no specific treatment that is effective against any of the scores of viruses that cause a cold. All we can do is relieve the symptoms.

The "common cold" costs the U.S. $5 billion a year in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses. On any winter day, more than 20 million people suffer from a cold.

Scientifically, it's an infection by one or more viruses, resulting in an acute inflammation of the upper respiratory tract. But most of us use the word to cover everything from a minor snuffle or nasal obstruction, to a disabling illness that is just as bad as influenza.

The cold is harder to catch than many people think. New research indicates that people must come in close contact for several hours before cross-infection begins. And some colds are not catching at all; nobody knows how they begin. The most infectious is the "new cold," and those in children—but some people who appear healthy may be spreading viruses around.

Most of the medicines recommended for a cold make you feel better, reducing the fever or eliminating the runny nose. "Stay at home, stay in bed, and get plenty of liquids," is still sound advice.

Mrs. Clayton Lee Liscom

Ruby red velvet used for wedding

Ruby red velvet gowned bridesmaids attended Patricia Denise Mulcrone on November 28 as she became the bride of Clayton Lee Liscom. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Mulcrone. She was given in marriage by her father.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul W. Liscom of Holly.

The marriage ceremony was performed in candlelight by Dr. David E. Molyneau at the First Presbyterian Church in Flint.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white satin with appliques of lace, seed pearls and organza inserts. Her chapel train was of lace and her full length illusion veil was fastened to a Camelot cap. She carried a cascade of white roses, carnations and English ivy.

Nancy McCauley of East Lansing was the maid of honor and Becki Kuivanen, Pelkie; Joan Maleck, Cass City; and Kathleen Roberts, Roscommon, were the maids.

The bridal attendants all carried matching red velvet muffs with white carnations. Streamers fell from hairbows of red velvet.

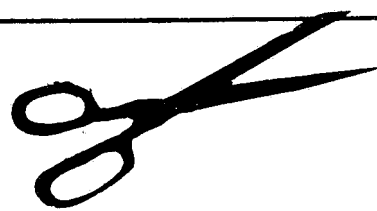

Keith Marthen, the groom's cousin, was best man. Brother, Paul Liscom of Taylor; Alan Highfield, Grand Blanc and Neil Craig of Flint seated the guests.

The groom's nephew, Kirk Olson of Florida, carried the rings.

The bridal couple greeted their guests at a reception at the Atlas Valley Country Club in Grand Blanc, after which they left for a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains.

The groom is a graduate of General Motors Institute and the bride attended Michigan State University after graduation from Clarkston High School.

They will make their home in Grand Blanc.

Kutting Korners

We might as well face it. Thanksgiving is past and Christmas will be swooping down on us before we are ready. Now is the time to do the baking that needs ripening.

Do you have a traditional dessert at your home? Why not start a custom this year? A favorite of Henry VIII and many other English citizens is plum pudding.

It can be flamed, which I think adds a touch of excitement and festivity.

OLD FASHIONED PLUM PUDDING

½ cup fine dry crumbs
1 cup hot milk
4 eggs
¾ cup brown sugar
1 cup brandy
½ lb. minced beef suet
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon nutmeg
½ teaspoon ground cloves
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon mace
1 cup seedless raisins
1 cup chopped candied cherries
1 cups diced glazed fruit
½ cup walnuts

Combine crumbs and milk, let stand. Beat eggs with sugar and half the brandy; stir mixtures together and add suet.

Combine flour, salt and spices in a sifter; sift over fruit and nuts mixed in a large bowl. Mix thoroughly, then blend in crumb-suet mixture and remaining brandy.

Turn the mixture into a greased 2-quart round-bottomed bowl and cover tightly with a doubled piece of heavy foil if you don't have a regular, tight cover.

Place mold on a rack in a deep kettle and add hot water to about half the depth of the mold. Cover kettle and steam for about 4 hours, adding more hot water as it boils away.

Take mold from water and remove foil; bake in a slow oven (325 degrees) about 45 minutes, or until top is dried and firm. If pudding is to be stored to ripen before using, leave in mold, wrap and place in a cool dark place for a month or more.

If pudding is to be served at once, turn out of bowl and spoon heated brandy over top. Serve aflame. Serves 8 to 10.

Here is a great open-faced sandwich. You may find it very convenient for last minute entertaining around holiday time. Perhaps you would like to try it before then.

Around the town

Gobble-Gobble

by Donna Fahrner

The Charles Baileys of Sashabaw Road with son, Charles, 16, and daughter, Cynthia, 12, traveled over the expressway and down the road to Grandmother's house for Thanksgiving. Grandmother is Mrs. Bailey's mother and she lives in Pierson (near Grand Rapids).

Mark Mathews, 3, spent Thanksgiving at Grandmother and Grandfather's house just down the way on Bridge Lake Road. Of course, he went with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Mathews. Mr. and Mrs. James Sisk, good friends from Waterford Township, were also included in the holiday dinner plans of the Ward Carpenters.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mosher of Main Street returned from their summer home in Stonington. As I recall that is on Little Bay de Noque just across from Escanaba. That's where I first had the pleasure of meeting the Moshers years ago. The problem coming south is that they are both suffering from the "Southern Michigan Syndrome," a cold. Their sinuses have probably been frozen up north all summer.

Son, Gordon, got up there for deer hunting but didn't get his buck. He reports that only one of the four men in their camp was successful this year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Criger of Bigelow Road in Davisburg had a quiet Thanksgiving. They were both grateful just to be home from the hospital.

I suggest that the next time they are going to have surgery at the same time they inquire about double accommodations in the hospital. Maybe they could get special two for one rates.

Anyway, we are glad to report that they are both recovering nicely from their recent operations.

They'll probably be back with the Senior Citizen Joggers any day now.

The William Dankerts had an early Thanksgiving and are looking forward to a belated Christmas celebration. Their son, Jim, 17, left last week for the Marine Corps training center at San Diego, California and won't be home for 9 weeks. Last Sunday the family celebrated Thanksgiving Day with mixed emotions.

Mrs. Dankert's sisters and their husbands, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Caswell of Garden City and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Armstrong from Chicago joined them for the occasion.

Of course, Jim's brother, Dan, was on hand too. Hurry back, Jim.

Mrs. Gloria Harrod of Kingfisher packed her tribe, Robyn, 12; Kelli, 10 and Scott, 4 and headed for "that cabin in the north country" for the holidays. The cabin at Beaverton belongs to her parents.

Parents, the Harold L. Browns of Pontiac, were there ahead of time and things got a little tight but festive when 2 brothers and their families from Pontiac helped fill the teepee. There were 14 for dinner.

Fortunately for them, there was a little snow, just enough to make a few snowmobile tracks and build a good appetite.

I think that this is as good a place as any to apologize to Kurt Carlsen. For some reason or other his name never comes out correctly in the paper. Kurt was a co-captain of the cross country team this year and the last time his picture appeared, he was identified as Kurt Richardson. Tsk, Tsk! Sometime no speakum English!

We're sorry. Really, we don't try to make mistakes like that even though it may seem that way.

The Carlsens had a quiet family Thanksgiving. With children 12, 14, 17 and 18 to dig into the turkey, who needs company?

Players present triple comedy

"You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running."

The captivating title is the name of the next presentation of the Clarkston Village Players.

The production is actually 3 one-act comedies by Robert Anderson, and is under the direction of Pat Breidenbaugh, Janet Rose and Marlene Sewick.

Handling the production are Pat Beach and Barbara Tyrrell.

The amusing trilogy will be presented at 8:30 p.m. on December 5 and 6 at the Depot Theater on White Lake Road. It will be repeated the following weekend, December 12 and 13.

The Players report that the opening night performance will be followed by an afterglow.

Tickets are $1.75 and can be obtained at the office of Dr. Ernest Denne or at the door. More information is available by calling 625-3686.

We oppose pay hike

Once again, the Michigan Legislature has a chance to show the people of our great state just how much they care about tax increases and inflation.

It will be interesting to see how dedicated they really are.

With the recent GM strike causing a financial crisis in Michigan, the State Officers Compensation Commission recently granted our public servants a substantial pay increase.

These pay increases will cost Michigan taxpayers over $500,000.

Do you remember certain politicians that promised when they were running for election that they were against inflation and higher taxes? Where are they now?

Not one of them opposed the pay increases. In fact, several members of the Legislature thought they should get even more than the commission OK'd.

The big salary increases will take effect Jan. 1, unless two-thirds of the members of both the House and Senate reject the increase. Lansing-based correspondents say there is "fat chance" that the same group getting the raise is going to deny it to themselves. We agree.

Pity the "poor" legislator. He works six months per year (and then not all the time). He's paid $17,000, allowed $2,750 for expenses and is paid a traveling allowance, which will give some members an extra $5,000 plus each year.

You can do a lot of traveling in Michigan in one year on $5,000.

Before the pay increase was announced, Michigan legislators were among the top ten paid state officials in the United States. Still they want more. Is that public service and being responsible?

It seems funny that items such as salary and expense increases are

"If It Fitz . . ."

The dummy's a champ

A bunch of the girls were whining it up at the beauty salon, competing for the honor of being married to the most helpless man.

"I won again," my wife reported later. "I'm so ashamed."

She's really proud. After all, there's some distinction in being married to the champion dummy, rather than to just a mediocre dummy. It's something like bragging about your operation. The nearer to death you come, the louder you can brag.

When there is something in the house that needs fixing, I am nearer to death than any other husband in the world.

Let me tell you about my latest triumph, the one that won the beauty salon contest and sent the losers home grumbling about the unfairness of being married to an ordinary jerk but having your hair done at the same time as the wife of Superjerk.

There was a leak in the humidifier, or the dehumidifier, I'm never sure which is which. I could hear it dripping when the basement door was open. My wife asked me to do something about it.

I shut the basement door. "How do you know you can't fix it if you won't even go down and look at it," my wife asked. "I can tell by the sound," I explained. "That's not really a drip; it's a plop. Those are the worst kind. Remember when I tried to fix a plop in the shower and a plop of water got up my nose and I sneezed and hit my head on the shower door and cracked it? I'm not going near that plop in the basement."

Her next move, as usual, was to ask if I would call the repairman. I begged off, as usual, telling her my work schedule was so tight I couldn't make a not voted on until after the election. We feel the people of Oxford and the rest of Michigan would like to know how their legislators vote on such items before they vote for them.

Now the State Legislature has to decide whether to make the taxpayers pay more or whether to be the public servants they say they are. We urge our local representatives in the Legislature to vote against the proposed pay increase and to urge their fellow members to do the same.

Letters to the Editor

Publisher misses point, again

Dear Publisher,

It seems to me that whenever there is a point to be missed, you'll miss it.

Take for example, Merle Bennett's magnanimous resignation from office in deference to the assumed wishes of the people - the people who would have turned him out had he been running this year.

I don't think this act is especially praiseworthy. We insist that blacks, students and others must change the systems from within. Who in Independence Township had a better opportunity to represent the other 40% of the population than did Bennett? Now where's Stonerock's opposition?

In your 11-26-70 editorial you seemed to infer that our new supervisor is out to STOP growth. "If It Fitz," you couldn't have missed the whole point further! Stonerock has said several times that growth cannot be stopped. Therefore it must be controlled to safeguard the interests of the majority of the people, and of the earth itself.

I have tightened my belt in order to live in Independence Township. I like having my interests safeguarded.

Roger, over and out

Dear Editor:

I'm a serviceman and presently stationed in Idaho. Since last Christmas I've been receiving The Clarkston News by mail.

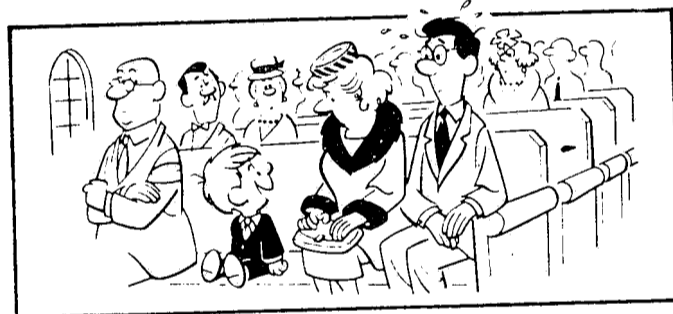

In the November 19 edition there is questionnaire concerning what the reader likes about your paper. It seems to me that you left one response out. I believe that you should have put "Always Read" first, then the other three responses.

I personally think that your paper is perfect just the way that it is. It keeps me up on all the "news back home."

I'm 2,000 miles away, but when I come home and find a paper in the mail box I feel like I'm back on Main St. or at the high school that I love.

So in my opinion, you should leave The Clarkston News the way it is.

Thank you,

"HE'S TALKING ABOUT DADDY."

By Jim Fitzgerald

non-business phone call for at least 18 months.

I was lying, of course. I never call repairmen because I always end up talking to their wives, or their secretaries. And it is embarrassing to have women ask me so many questions I can't answer. For instance, I always say humidifier instead of dehumidifier and the woman asks how come I'm running a humidifier at the wrong time of year? And I always hang up and go snarl at my wife.

Anyway, my wife called the repairman and now we near the most exciting part of this award-winning story. The repairman knocked on the back door Saturday morning. I was the only one home. But I was busy resting so I didn't let him in.

Honest. I thought it was probably one of my kids' friends, or a neighbor wanting to borrow something I wouldn't be able to find. I knew it was nobody I wanted to see so I let him knock until he got tired and left.

When my wife got home, and heard it was still plopping in the basement, she opened an investigation. She got me to admit about the unanswered door. She phoned everyone in the neighborhood and got them to admit they hadn't come knocking, knocking on my door, nevermore.

"It had to be the repairman," she said. "You not only won't fix anything, you not only won't phone a repairman, but you won't even let the repairman inside the house after I phone him."

"What did you say?" I asked. "I can't hear you with all that plop plopping going on."

Anyway, she could hardly wait to get to the beauty parlor and show off.

Stonerock's night

Supports taxpayer association to assist township development

By Jim Sherman

Gary Stonerock wants a "citizen participation" township government.

The new Independence Supervisor has so indicated on a couple of occasions, and really made it evident at his "night" at the Clarkston High School Theatre Tuesday.

He hired the hall and arranged the program that was 2-part . . . ecology and taxpayer association participation.

The guest speaker, Bruce Todd was first on the program that was advertised in handbills distributed in various parts of the township. Todd represented the Oakland Township Taxpayers Association. He was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for State Representative of the 63rd District in the August Primary.

In introducing Todd, Stonerock told the audience of about 110 that Independence was in a "unique situation." He said the 80 percent undeveloped land left much room for planning growth the way the majority of people wanted.

"We need developers for people not developers for profit," Stonerock said. Then added, "I am interested in preserving nature . . . what God gave us."

One of Todd's early remarks was to point out where Oakland Township is. "When gas stations and signs disappear you're in Oakland Township," he said.

He strongly encouraged formation of a taxpayers' association in Independence. In fact, he encouraged the starting of similar groups in 18 or 20 county areas so "they will have a stronger voice in political circles" when it's necessary.

He gave a 4-point outline of how to start:

1. Look at and know the functions and limitations of Township government.

Bruce Todd

Know what it can do. And, look at how officers are selected. . . in some cases Todd pointed out, "selection is when a man raises his hand that he is willing to serve."

2. Organize on a Township-wide basis, then break into smaller committees to study particular areas. "Shoot with a rifle instead of a shotgun."

3. Print and distribute your own newspaper. "Established newspapers cannot give the space to verbatim reporting, they may not be able to attend all meetings, they are limited by libel laws, and they have other limitations."

4. Work hand in glove with the township board and township planning commission. "Bring people and programs to the township board so they can learn from studies you have made. And, harness the women to help. They have great talent and time."

When Todd finished, Stonerock complimented him for saying exactly what he, Stonerock, had in mind for Independence Township. He asked people to call his residence and leave their names if they were interested in forming a Township Taxpayers' Association.

Stonerock reported Friday that some had called.

The second part of Stonerock's night was a film, "Multiply and Subdue the Earth." The subject was what the name implies, the moving and changing of the earth to make room for people and their needs, auto, home, business.

There was another speaker scheduled and a second half to the film; however, the speaker, Royce Downey, and host agreed 2 more hours of sitting was a little too much. A night will be set early this month for these features.

Downey is head of "Development Consultants, Inc." and will explain his development concept. Briefly, his plan, say for Independence, would be to have one area of high density population and two satellites with lesser density. He says this would preserve open areas.

It would involve setting goals for growth at a set figure, then planning for that limit.

Stonerock closed his meeting by saying he would like to see some zoning come to a "screeching halt." "Let's look it over, then plan and implement it," he said.

Winter sports start at Junior High Schools

Ninth grade basketball began on Tuesday, December 1 when Sashabaw Junior High met with Clawson. The results of the game will be announced next week.

Both Sashabaw and Clarkston Junior High are getting geared for the first clash of the two schools at the Senior High School gym on December 5 at 7 p.m.

Coaching the Sashabaw Cougars this year is James Koslosky, and Dave McDonald will serve as mentor of the Clarkston Jr. High five.

This year a new sport has been added at both junior high schools. Ninth graders will now be able to participate in a program of inter-school wrestling.

Bernard Bidinger will coach the Cougars and Toby Carter the Wolverines.

The 2 schools will meet for their first clash on December 9 at the Clarkston Senior High gym. The first matches will get under way at 7 o'clock.

Ira W. Russell

Receives medal

Specialist 4 Ira W. Russell, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira W. Russell, 7024 Tappon Drive, recently received the Army commendation medal while serving with the Americal Division in Vietnam.

Spec. 4 Russell earned the award for meritorious service as a squad leader with Company D, 4th Battalion, 3rd Infantry of the Division's 11th Infantry Brigade near Duc Pho.

The private entered the army in July, 1969, completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. and was stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif., before arriving overseas. He also holds the combat infantryman badge.

He attended Clarkston High School.

His wife, Judy, lives at 9765 Dixie Highway, Clarkston.

Junior Miss Debbie to reign in 1970-71

Deborah Hoopengartner, Clarkston Junior Miss.

Deborah Hoopengartner is the 1970-71 Clarkston Junior Miss.

Debbie, 17, is the daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Ray Hoopengartner of Clarkston Road. She has a sister, Darla, 15 and a brother, Barth, 13. Her dad is the commander of the Pontiac Post of the Michigan State Police.

The annual Jaycee Junior Miss pageant was held at the Clarkston High School Little Theatre on November 28.

A bomb scare caused the Oakland County Sheriff's office to vacate the building in the middle of the talent portion of the program. Bonnie Cleffman calmly stopped her ballet performance and all the contestants, along with the entire audience, left the building for approximately 20 minutes.

At the end of that time and a visual search, the sheriff's deputies and officers of the Clarkston Police Department declared the building safe and all returned to the auditorium.

Denie Weeks was named Miss Congeniality, an honor conferred by the contestants themselves.

Runnerup to Debbie was Cindy Porritt.

Tribute to the girls was paid in the following letter that was brought to the Clarkston News by the contest judges:

"The Clarkston Junior Miss Pageant was undoubtedly an exciting and rewarding experience for the thirteen Senior Girls who participated. Even more rewarding, however, was the insight, we, the judges gained into the character and values the girls have set for themselves.

"Their opinions and convictions concerning many current problems were honest and sincere. Each one is truly a credit to the community and an outstanding individual in her own right.

"We commend the thirteen participants for their standards of excellence in a time when principle is so often challenged. All of them deserve the recognition of a proud and pleased community."

Mrs. Thomas Rose
Mrs. Robert Newman
Mr. Earl Kreps

Judges, 1971 Junior Miss Pageant

Along with the honor, Debbie will receive a $700 college scholarship made possible by contributions of local businessmen. The contest is sponsored annually by the Clarkston Area Jaycees.

Chairman this year was James Chamberlain, assisted by Jaycette co-chairmen, Mrs. Michael Gorrie and Mrs. David Nadolsky. Jerry Galligan was in charge of publicity.

This year's local theme was "Do Something for America."

Joggers meet

Saturday, December 5 is the date set for the regular meeting of the Springfield Township Senior Citizen Joggers.

The meeting will be preceded by a cooperative dinner. The noon gathering will be held at the Township Hall in Davisburg.

More information can be obtained by calling Mrs. Lois Beard at 625-5295.

Jaycees collect Toys for tots

The Clarkston Jaycees' annual Toys for Tots drive is getting under way.

Drop boxes will be distributed throughout the business community of the Clarkston area.

Any gift, large or small, will be appreciated, according to members of the organization.

"If the gift is wrapped we request that the donor designate the sex and age group for which the gift will be appropriate," counseled members of the committee.

Any resident who knows of a family in need is urged to contact a local member of the Jaycees or call the following members: Bill Halsey, 625-4057; Ray Welch, 625-5235; Jerry Powell, 625-2329; or Don Colton, 625-1743.

Toy pick-up can also be arranged by calling any of the above numbers.

COMMUNITY NATIONAL BANK
master charge.
THE INTERBANK CARD

THE THOUGHTFUL GIFT FOR THE WOMAN WHO HAS TO GET EVERYTHING

Is your wife the woman who has to get everything this Christmas? Gifts, extra tree lights, wrapping paper, ribbon, toys, a wreath, Christmas goodies, cards . . . and more? Surprise her with the thoughtful pre-Christmas gift . . . her own Master Charge card from Community National Bank.

A few considerate minutes of your time at any of our convenient offices will make Christmas much merrier for your spouse.

With her new Master Charge card, she can enjoy cash-free shopping and dining at all these local shoppes, boutiques, department stores, cafes and restaurants. She'll also appreciate the automatic line of credit which allows her to obtain instant cash when she needs it . . . from any of 5,120 member banks. And, one Master Charge monthly statement is easier to scan than wadded-up receipts from all over town. Makes payments convenient too. Master Charge is accepted at 882,000 stores, restaurants and agencies across the United States to facilitate every business, shopping and travel expense imaginable. It's a thoughtful gift for the man who has to get everything too.

Baby it's cold out

by Jean Sura

Clock radios are wonderful. This morning I woke up to the strains of "Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly."

"Well, La la la la la, la la la la," I answered, "I haven't even finished putting my dishes away after Thanksgiving."

It didn't help my mood when some idiot announcer intoned, "You have just umpety-ump days left to do your Christmas shopping."

One year my husband went to San Francisco to a convention early in December. While he was gone, I decided to kick the Christmas shopping doldrums by getting to the stores when they opened and staying until I had every single item on my list.

I dressed for action: flat heeled shoes for running, long slacks for comfort and a light jacket that would cram into a shopping bag if the stores were too warm. I topped this couturier ensemble with a woolen ski cap.

I prayed hard that I wouldn't meet anybody I knew.

Along about noon the packages had reached the high water mark of my little foreign economy car. By nine o'clock it was bulging at the seams.

All day long I had dutifully locked the doors and taken the keys so I wouldn't tempt some poor thief to go wrong!

It was a pain in the neck.

I picked up the last item just as the store started to close. Humming a jolly chorus of "Jingle Bells," I headed for home.

I could hear the rumbling of my empty stomach over the noise of the leaky muffler. I realized I hadn't eaten since morning.

The magical golden arch of a hamburger haven appeared on the horizon. That little old car danced down the highway like Judy Garland on the yellow brick road to Oz.

I zoomed into the parking lot, carefully locking the doors on my Christmas treasures, and hurried up to the window.

"Two hamburgers and a chocolate shake, please."

I was in luck. The boy filled my order and I gave him the right change. I ran back to the car with the saliva filling my mouth.

Juggling the lunch I felt in my pocket for the keys. They weren't there. Setting the lunch on the roof, I hauled through my purse. They weren't there. I glanced in the car window. They were in the ignition.

"HMMMMM," I thought. "I could call Gene in San Francisco."

"Hello, Gene? — I locked the keys in the car! Can you come and get me?"

Then I heard his reply. "You did WHAT? Can I do WHAT?"

I decided that wouldn't work.

I could call the kids.

No, on third thought, I decided to try to get help from a stranger.

I can't say enough for the nice guard. He almost picked the car up and turned it over trying to help me. No use.

I can't say enough for the nice city police who came and tried to force the little window that was closed with the double super-duper safety lock. No use.

I can't say enough for the nice man that the police called for me. This fellow just snaked a funny wire through a tiny opening.

"Open sesame." Presto, the door was open.

Overcome with relief, I asked, "How much do I owe you, sir?"

"Well, lady, you've had a rough day. Let's just say Merry Christmas and let it go at that."

With profuse thanks I wedged myself in among the packages and headed for home.

I don't mean to seem ungrateful but I got to thinking. "With a talent like that — I suppose the guy can afford to be generous."

Briefly told

The parents of the kids from 6 to 18 years of age who belong to the Michigan Midget Racing Association are giving a benefit Millionaire's Party on December 5.

The party will be held at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club on Waterford Road just off Dixie Highway.

The $5 per couple ticket can be purchased at the door and will entitle you to $1,000,000 in bogus money.

Dinner will be served at 7 and the games will start at 8.

Proceeds will be used to improve the children's track.

St. Daniel's Missions and Services, in conjunction with the Women's Guild, will hold a Yuletide Bake and Gift Sale at the Township Hall from 10 to 3 on Saturday, December 5.

The PCAC Artists' Market is featuring special gift items from now through December 19. They say that the ceramics, paintings and crafts will tempt the most discriminating Christmas shopper.

The market is open from 1 to 4 Monday through Saturday and from 2 'til 5 on Sunday, December 6. It will be closed on Fridays.

The market is located in the Pontiac Creative Arts Center at 47 Willow Street in Pontiac.

The old home of Governor Moses Wisner, Pine Grove, at 405 Oakland in Pontiac is being shined and decorated for the annual Victorian Christmas Open House. The Open House is sponsored by members of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society.

Refreshments and music will be provided from 1 to 6 p.m. on December 6.

Costumed guides will be available to show visitors through the home. Old fashioned Christmas decorations have been obtained and the Wisner family silver polished for the occasion.

"The public is invited to join us and visit the Wisner Home when it is at its prettiest," said members of the committee, headed by Mrs. Charles Hudson and Mrs. Richard Wright.

"Amahl and the Night Visitors," the Christmas favorite by Gian-Carlo Menotti, will be presented by the Overture to Opera Company in this area on December 23 at the Meadow Brook Theater on the campus of Oakland University. Curtain time will be at 8 p.m.

The Oakland County Bar Association Auxiliary will entertain their husbands at their eleventh annual Men's Night. This year the lawyers' wives have planned a Square Dance — Supper to be held at the Botsford Inn in the Coach House at 8:00 p.m. on Friday evening, December 4, 1970.

The caller will be Jim Schultheis. Chairman for Men's Night is Mrs. S. Jerome Bronson.

CHURCH OF THE RESURRECTION, EPISCOPAL

THE SAVIOR COMES

You shall know Him when He comes
Not by any din of drums
Nor by vantage of His airs
Nor His crown
Nor by His gown
Nor by anything He wears.
He shall only well known be
By the Holy harmony
That His coming makes in thee.

- Anon.

We are fast approaching another Christmas, the purpose of which, if you have forgotten, is to celebrate the coming of Jesus, the Christ, into our world. Certainly the world has never been the same since He came into it. In spite of all of its problems and troubles and fears, the coming of Christ has made it a better place. If you think not, imagine what it might be like without His influence. The fact that people have not embraced Him and His teachings more than they have is, certainly, no fault of His - nor even of His Church, although it is often made the scapegoat for people's rejection of Christ. But, if it had not been faithful in proclaiming His Gospel, how would you or anyone living today have known of Him?

Knowing of Him and knowing Him are, of course, two different things. The Church or anyone else only can tell you of Him. To know Him depends upon you. Our anonymous poet talks about "the holy harmony" that Christ brings into our lives. In a time when dissonance and cacophony prevail the need for such harmony is great! But harmony requires a blending, an adaption of notes or parts to each other; in this case, a blending of our lives with Christ's. God made His contribution to the necessary adaptation by not overawing us with Christ's majesty but by presenting Him in the form of a humble being who could be known and loved. To make the harmony complete, we must be willing to make the necessary adaptations or changes in our lives. When we honestly "face the music" there are very few of us who cannot discern our own disharmony with Christ. How does your life sound?

Have you ever noticed how our ideas of what is "good" or bad is determined by little things we remember?

I made a trip recently to Cincinnati, which reminded me that it had never rated very high in my estimation.

Several years ago (longer than even I like to remember or admit), when I was in a mid-elementary grade in school, I was faced with an important and difficult spelling test.

This particular test covered the correct spelling of cities throughout the United States. Minneapolis and Indianapolis were on the list because both of these names ended with "apolis" I only had to remember that part once plus the Minne and Indian.

Little Rock was a snap. Columbus posed no problem. Washington could easily be broken down into smaller words: Wash, ing and ton.

But Cincinnati presented a mental road block. Was it Cin-cin-nati, or was it Cin-cin-atti. Don't ask me why I couldn't remember the correct spelling. All I know is that me and that southern Ohio city came to grips, with the city doing most of the winning.

On the eve of the test, a demon of temptation struck me.

I was doing my homework, probably reviewing my spelling. On a misguided impulse I asked my Dad if I could use one of his pencils. He always had two or three in his vest pockets and had no reason to refuse.

He handed me a new one freshly sharpened. No doubt some salesman had given it to him that very day. Guess what?? Just as my demon had hinted, that salesman represented a company with home offices in (you guessed it) Cincinnati, Ohio.

Nobody should have to face temptation like that. I won't even pretend that I wasted any time struggling against the forces of evil. I succumbed.

Being a soft-hearted Dad, he agreed to let me take the "new" pencil to school. After all, maybe it would help improve

Co-op forms advisory body

The Cooperative Education Program at the Clarkston High School has recently received the approval of the Michigan State Department of Vocational Education. The approval means that some funds will be made available in the future for expanding the facility.

An advisory council of local residents who will donate their time and efforts to assist and broaden the program has been named.

Phyllis Mansfield, a secretary at the Sashabaw Junior High School, has been named as consultant in Office Education. Keith Hallman will represent the Distributive (retail) Education Division. Trade and Industry will be covered by Tom Rademacher and Judge Gerald McNally will serve as a member-at-large.

According to Pat Schebor, high school coordinator, the first organizational meeting will be held at the high school on December 14. The home economics department will serve luncheon to the members of the committee and administrative advisors.

After the meeting, the committee will be escorted on a tour of the vocational departments of the building.

my grades.

The next morning was a total waste. Spelling was the first thing after lunch.

I probably looked guilty and I remember distinctly how my palms perspired. Finally lunch was over and it was spelling time.

I passed. Cincinnati I got right. Minneapolis I got wrong. I forgot the second n in "Minne."

That's my first recollection about Cincinnati. Or is it Cincinatti? Let's see. Cin-cin-nati . . . uh, Cin-cin-atti.

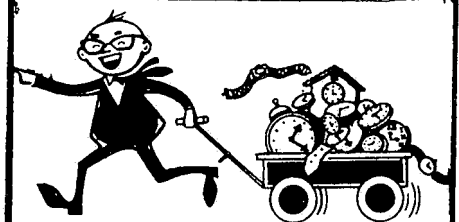

I had trouble with math, too. But I never found a pencil with all of the multiplication tables printed on it.

Wins Junior Miss

crown on dare

By Jean Sura

"Why aren't you entering the Junior Miss contest?" asked James Chamberlain after class one day. "You have all the qualifications." Mr. Chamberlain was not only a teacher, but the chairman of the annual Jaycee Junior Miss pageant.

"Oh, no. I wouldn't even think of it," answered Debbie Hoopengartner, senior student.

"I think that you are afraid," was his reply.

"After that, I just had to take him up on it and show him that I wasn't," said Debbie after the pageant was all over and she had been crowned the 1970-71 Clarkston Junior Miss. "I never dreamed that I would win."

Debbie, or Deborah, is 17 and the daughter of Sergeant and Mrs. Ray Hoopengartner, who live on Clarkston Road.

She is an honor student at Clarkston High School. On the day and evening of November 28, her honest, sincere approach to the judges put her in a position to sing her way into the hearts of the audience.

The Hoopengartner family has lived in Clarkston for about 5 years. Sgt. Hoopengartner is the commander of the Pontiac Post of the Michigan State Police. Debbie has a brother, Barth, 13 and a sister, Darla, 15.

"Darla had the privilege of being tapped this fall for the Sophomore maid of honor at homecoming time," said Debbie. "Now she knows how I felt then - and now. Barth was mighty excited, too."

Mrs. Hoopengartner confided that the whole family was on "Cloud 9." "Of course, we were prejudiced and hoped she would win, but I didn't want to build her hopes for a big disappointment if it didn't work out that way."

Debbie has sophisticated tastes in music and the arts. She has studied piano for 12 years. "But I don't sound that good," she was quick to interject.

She more recently has taken voice lessons and this talent added together with her honest candor and sincerity, won her the honor of representing her community for the next year and competing further in the Junior Miss contests.

"We hope that we have given our children a good set of standards and values," said Mrs. Hoopengartner.

"If you haven't done it by now, it's too late," laughed Debbie.

"What was the most outstanding thrill of being in the contest?" Debbie was asked.

The intimate excitement of preparing for the pageant brought all of the contestants close together, according to Debbie. It was the thing that she will long remember. That, and the moment when she was named Clarkston Junior Miss.
