Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

I find myself pausing more at Christmas time than any other holiday period to reflect. I give thanks more now than at Thanksgiving. I think of the dead more at this time than during Memorial Day.

I salute our land more now than during the Fourth of July break. Thoughts and plans for the future come more easily and more frequently now than over the New Years week.

It's THE pause time of the year. THE time to think of family, friends... where we fit into the scheme of things and where we can fit better... how we can light our candle.

Some columnists, some preachers, some well-meaning people have had me convinced in the past that Christ has been taken out of Christmas. That everyone is mercenary, only after the buck.

... That kids don't know what we're celebrating, only that it's gift and gimme time.

I no longer believe this. I think practically all kids and parents, through their upbringing or schools, are knowledgeable of who the Babe in the manger is... that it's His birthday we're celebrating.

I don't think merchants make Christmas come any earlier now than it did 25 years ago. Our newspapers are thicker this time of year and we are so exposed to this holiday, so we should get tired of the season before anyone.

But that's not the way it is. We delight at the season. We enjoy the shopping, the crowds, the parties, the "Merry Christmassing," and more than anything we enjoy the pause this holiday affords us to think and reflect.

I thank God for making it possible.

Merry Christmas, everybody.

'New Town' concept explained

The "New Town" concept was presented during the Independence Township Board meeting Tuesday night by Royce Downey of Development Consultants, Inc.

Downey, former manager of Walled Lake, was invited to the meeting by supervisor Gary Stonerock.

The principal of the new town concept, Downey said, is to set a definite figure of growth for a given area, like Independence Township, then plan and design new towns and satellites for it.

In the slide presentation Downey showed new towns in the US, Europe and Asia, giving closeups of shopping and residential areas in single and multiple housing.

In speaking of the Independence area, or those similar, Downey said the first step was to point out "what we have."

The second was to recognize "we have the opportunity to do something (plan) about it."

He listed the third step as a question "will we have the courage to do it?"

Another suggestion Downey made was to have an architectural review of the Independence community.

Quick notes from the twp. Board

Tuesday, December 15, 1970

Supervisor Gary Stonerock said he had written Paul Mandel asking for his resignation as township attorney. He read a letter from the firm of Campbell, Lee, Kurzman and Leitman of Pontiac and Birmingham stating the background of each lawyer. This is the firm Stonerock would like to represent the township.

The Clarkston Fraternal Order of Eagles 3373 was approved for a club liquor license.

A resolution was passed in support of the "Bottles for Building" campaign. This is a drive headed by Mrs. Donald Place, 5615 Chickadee, for bottles that will be bought by Owens-Illinois, with proceeds going toward a recreation center.

Approval was given for the supervisor to hire Ray Sancrant on a part-time basis as building inspector and to assist in assessing. He is presently working half days as building inspector for Springfield township. His pay will be $4.40 an hour.

Stonerock can also hire a chief assessor in the $12,000 to $14,500 wage range, with the stipulation they must become certified by December 31, 1971.

Hubbard Hills Estate No. 3 was approved. This is a 6-lot area on Allen road, a continuation of Hubbard Hills Estates 1 and 2.

The decision to put a street light at the corner of Sally and Delmas was tabled. Residents in that area had asked for the light.

Collect gifts for Indians

Over 100 Clarkston area WaKiYa Campfire Girls and Bluebirds went Christmas caroling in the village on December 18.

Immediately after the caroling they went to Camp Gulick for hot chocolate and cookies.

Santa Claus greeted them and gave each girl a candy cane.

The girls chose to give up their usual gift exchange. Instead they brought gifts of food, clothing or toys to be distributed to the Ottawa Indians in the Traverse Bay area.

The gifts are in memory of Mrs. Pigeon, an Indian princess, who taught them Indian dances, music and lore at the camp.

Mrs. William Kunse, publicity chairman of the "Bottles for Building" committee approves as David Strom, left, and Nancy Mulherin of Clarkston High School's Ecology Club check the glass donations for color and make sure that there is no metal attached. Collection dates have been set for January 15-18. Residents are urged to save all their holiday bottles and glass containers for the collection.

Mandel resignation clears way to hire twp. attorney

Independence Township can hire another attorney to represent them. Paul M. Mandel, who has held this position for over 10 years, has sent his resignation to the Board. It's effective January 5, 1971.

Mandel had been asked to resign by Supervisor Gary Stonerock shortly after he took office Nov. 20. Twice before the first meeting of the new board, Dec. 1, Stonerock had asked for the attorney's resignation by telephone. Dec. 9 he put it in writing.

Discussion of Mandel's position took place at both the Dec. 1 and Dec. 15 meetings. Clerk Howard Altman felt that the entire board should have a voice in selection or discontinuance of the attorney. Stonerock argued that he felt no malice toward Mandel, but that Mandel had served long enough and he, Stonerock, would like to have someone he felt comfortable with.

Mandel's letter of resignation read, in part, "In view of the fact that one of the prime officials that I would have to work with as township attorney would be the supervisor, and further in view of the fact that it is apparent that the supervisor has indicated he does not desire to work with the undersigned, it would seem that very little good could be accomplished by my continued representation of your township."

The letter continued, "I have been representing the township for in excess of 10 years and I feel that I have a moral responsibility to make the transition from one township attorney to another as smooth as possible so as not to place any unnecessary hardship upon any property owner, citizen or the township itself, and in order to accomplish this I feel that a sufficient interim period should be provided to all parties concerned. I therefore, hereby tender my resignation as township attorney effective Jan. 5, 1971."

Committee incorporates drive date nears

The "Bottles for Building" committee of Independence Township hopes all residents are saving household glass, according to Joette Kunse, publicity chairman.

Collection dates are January 15-18, at which time the glass will be sent for recycling.

Simple directions for saving are: rinse all material from container, remove all metal (labels may remain), sort by color, clear white, blue-green and brown-amber.

At the committee meeting held December 14, plans for collection were discussed. Don Colton, collection chairman and the committee reported they are anxious to find area residents who have available space in garages or out buildings for storage of glass from their immediate neighborhood. Call Don Colton, 625-1743, or Jerry Powell, 625-2329.

Residents working on the drive will canvass the area January 16 for the glass.

Representatives of the Clarkston High School Ecology Club attended the meeting and offered their services in the township wide collection. They have prepared a pass out for interested high school students.

The committee was informed by the Financial Chairman, L. Mack Oakley, that they have become a non-profit organization and are now incorporated.

Proceeds from the drive will be put in trust for the Township Activities Building.

Committee chairman, Mrs. Don Place, states, "Save all your holiday bottles and glass containers for the January 15-18 'Bottles for Building' drive."

Closing dump Saturday

Saturday is the last day you can dump rubbish at the landfill on M-15 North of Oakhill road.

The dump operator, the Oakland County Road Commission, has cancelled its agreement to provide men and equipment to operate the area that served Independence, Groveland and Brandon.

The contract between these 3 and the county expired Sept. 20. At that time Brandon and Groveland discontinued the use of the landfill. However, Independence agreed to guarantee a weekly fee to keep the site open for its residents. The cost was $500 a Saturday to Nov. 20 and $600 other Saturdays to now.

The Road Commission letter to Independence terminating the contract said the cost to operate the dump was too high, there was a lack of cover material, and the space was used up.

Christmas

by Shel George

This time of year ranks high on my "favorite time" list. I enjoy the decorations and feel "let down" for a day or so when everything is taken down and we're back to the drab winter.

I also enjoy the gaiety and apparent good-will of the season. I question some of the sincerity, but that's my problem. In Manhattan, for instance, the smell of roasted chestnuts is very much part of the Christmas season. I don't believe anybody could stand the smell at any other time of the year.

Our custom of gift giving may not always be motivated by love. This by no means nullifies the fact that we commemorate a Divine love that gave.

For several years, my employer has mailed Christmas cards with poems by Helen Stiner Rice. The poem in this year's card is entitled "The Priceless Gift." I believe it says what I want to say.

Now Christmas is a season for joy and merrymaking.
A time for gifts and presents, for giving and for taking . . .
A festive, friendly happy time when everyone is gay,
But have we ever really felt the Greatness of the Day?

For through the centuries the world has wandered far away
From the beauty and the meaning of the Holy Christmas Day.
For Christmas is a heavenly gift that only God can give,
It's ours just for the asking, for as long as we shall live.

It can't be bought or bartered, it can't be won or sold,
It doesn't cost a penny and it's worth far more than gold.
It isn't bright and gleaming for eager eyes to see,
It can't be wrapped in tinsel or placed beneath a tree.

It isn't soft and shimmering for reaching hands to touch,
Or some expensive luxury you've wanted very much.
For the Priceless Gift of Christmas is meant just for the heart,
And we receive it only when we become a part, . . .

Of the kingdom and the glory which is ours to freely take,
For God sent the Holy Christ Child at Christmas for our sake,
So man might come to know Him and feel His presence near
And see the many miracles performed while He was here.

And this Priceless Gift of Christmas is within the reach of all,
The rich, the poor, the young and old, the greatest and the small . . .
So take His Priceless Gift of Love, reach out and you receive,
And the only payment that God asks is just that you believe.

By George, I think she said it well. Merry Christmas everybody.

Christmas 1970

The essence of the Christmas spirit is in the words: Peace on Earth, Goodwill Towards Men. Around this simple premise, Christian and non-Christian may join and make this season one of united purpose. Peace and Goodwill summarize our hopes and aspirations for all of the world.

Hopefully, the recent beginnings toward peace in our troubled world will be recorded in history as actions which led to an end of the shooting and the beginning of accord.

As for Goodwill, the divisiveness of the election campaign and the civil disorders of the past months have not brought us together. All rational men must seek workable alternatives which preserve the dignity of man and recognize that the public sense of right and wrong cannot be ignored.

Mutual tolerance and understanding can be Mankind's greatest Christmas gift to itself.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Humbug under lights

My Bah, Humbug image has been severely damaged this year by a hippie-haired 14-year-old girl who thinks Christmas is something held every year for the benefit of Detroit Edison stockholders.

The outside of our house is lit up like Double Gold Stamp Night in Bethlehem. This girl Chrissie who somehow is my daughter has hung bulbs all over the house and on every bush and tree. The mailman paused to ponder on our porch and she clipped a star to his nose.

"To Each His Own." That's what I always say. Olivia DeHaviland starred in the movie and the Ink Spots had the hit record. If you are old enough to remember that, you may remember when it was sufficient onto Christmas to nail a wreath on your door and paste Santa in your window.

Those were the Good Old Days when one bulb out meant all bulbs out. No sane man would string lights all over the outside of his home because he didn't want to spend the holiday season freezing his hands, screwing and unscrewing bulbs, trying to find the bad one. But then some clown invented individual lights. And suddenly, every Christmas, neighbors began wishing each other Peace on Earth by waging a war of wattage.

There are flapping Santas strapped to TV aerials and plaster shepherds staked to the ground. There are millions of bare little Jesuses, shivering Wise Men and grimacing angels to remind us how much more comfortable they'd all be if there were room for them in the Holiday Inn. Electricity must be held answerable for this general assault on the eyeballs. Those frozen holy pictures wouldn't be out there if it weren't for extension cords and double sockets. There's not much sense in displaying your Christmas spirit if you can't plug it in for the neighbors to see. Thanks a lot, Spencer Tracy.

But, like I always say, To Each His Own. If the rest of the world wants its front yard to look like the grand opening of St Joseph's Mobil Station, it's no tinsel off my tree. God bless them one and all, Tiny Tim and Miss Vicky. As for me, I always got a perverse pleasure out of owning the one home that really stood out at Christmas time. It stood out like a missing front tooth in the mouth of Mary Tyler Moore. In my neighborhood, everyone knew where Scrooge lived.

The trouble started when daughter Chrissie took me seriously on that To Each His Own philosophy. For her own, she decided she wanted lights on her house and landscaping. Her mother agreed and her brother said OK as long as she forgot the idea of wedging an angel in his basketball hoop. The majority prevailed, all hail democracy and let's deck them there halls. So now, before going to bed every night, I must run out into the cold and pull the master plug. I must also flip several switches. Otherwise, darkness will never fall on our block and the tomcats will have no secrets.

"Doesn't it look wonderful?" Chrissie asked the first evening I shouldered my way through the festooning and squeezed through the door without breaking a light.

I had to admit it didn't look bad. But I think I was more influenced by the lights in her eyes than by the lights in the bushes.

Whatever turns you on, Honey. Which sure pulls the plug on this old Scrooge.

Merry Bah and Happy Humbug.

A day that endures

Researchers have come up with some interesting background on Christmas customs that add depth and meaning to the most momentous of all holidays.

Many historians believe that Christmas may have had its origins in ancient Greek and Roman festivities to observe the midwinter change of seasons. The use of greenery at Christmas also grew out of ancient Greek and Roman customs.

The celebration of Christ began in the third century but was not officially sanctioned until a century later when Pope Julius I authorized an investigation to determine Christ's probable birth date, which led to the selection of December 25. On that date, in 353 A.D., the Feast of the Nativity was first observed in Rome.

Other Christmas customs originated in many lands over the centuries. The traditional mistletoe branch began with the ancient Druids, who believed the plant had the power to cure disease and counteract poisons.

The decorating of Christmas trees began in the eighth century when St. Boniface persuaded the pagans to adorn fir trees in their homes in tribute to the Christ Child.

A fourth-century bishop of Turkey, Saint Nicholas, was the real-life predecessor of Santa Claus.

And so the stories go. As the great day of rejoicing and renewal—December 25—approaches, millions will prepare to greet Christmas with a bone-deep feeling of gratitude and thankfulness.

It is one occasion, one tradition, and one observance that has withstood the test of time.

Misunderstanding

By Jim Sherman

Both supervisor Gary Stonerock and trustee Keith Humbert said at Tuesday's Board meeting that they did not mean to exclude the Clarkston News for township advertising.

The subject was brought up when clerk Howard Altman read the minutes of the Dec. 1 meeting. At that time Humbert moved, and Stonerock seconded the motion to name the Pontiac Press as the medium to carry legal notices of Independence.

It was our understanding at the time, and apparently that of Altman, since he put it into the minutes, that other media were to be excluded.

This was apparently wrong, as the two new board members insisted last week to have the minutes changed. They said they did not mean to give the impression that the Clarkston News would not be used.

Since the motion failed to pass Dec. 1, this paper, apparently, will continue to receive the legal advertisements for the township.

Naming Santa

Santa Claus is a tradition — a pleasant one, indeed. And, traditionally, he owes his name to a gift-giver of the past.

St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop who became the patron saint of children, was noted for his generosity.

His Dutch name was "Sinter Niklass," which gradually changed to Santa Claus.

Even today, Santa is also known as "St. Nick."

Letters to the Editor

Stop applause, get to work

Dear Editor:

I've had the occasion to attend the various township meetings in the past and the meeting of December 15 in particular, at which Gary Stonerock has spoken about the new town concept.

I listened with interest to Royce Downey's presentation of the new town concept at the last township meeting. I wonder if our township's population, and especially the two gentlemen who insisted on carrying on a conversation during Mr. Downey's important message, are aware of how very fortunate they are to have the time to make the choice of how they will live in the future.

As a newer resident of Michigan and Independence Township, I can make an observation of my wife's and my impressions on moving here from Columbus, Ohio.

We were both impressed and pleased with what Independence Township had to offer that was absent in Columbus: clean water, clean air, trees, open lands, some semblance of good housing (even low cost housing is spaced well enough so the occupants have some privacy) and the absence of civil strife.

It comes to mind that the problem in Independence Township is complacency brought about by people having it too good. It would behoove the people of Independence Township to put aside their differences, roll up their sleeves and follow the advice as presented by Mr. Stonerock's conferees, Mr. Todd and Mr. Downey, while there is still some of the other most precious commodity left — time.

Sincerely,
James J. Lowe

'Tis the season to stop bickering

Dec. 21, 1970

Dear Editor:

Last Nov. the people of Independence Township elected four members to the Township Board, each member supposedly having a voice on how the township should be run.

At the last meeting, our present township supervisor constantly used the singular word "I" in all his presentations. I do believe he should consult with the other members of the board and express their views as well, thus using the word "We," working as a group and not as a one man show.

Each Board member should have a voice in who is appointed or fired.

Since there should be no conflict of interest in the persons on our board, why is the board considering filling the post of our recently fired board lawyer with men whose names are connected with the shopping center conflict?

Now that this is the Christmas season and we will be starting a new year, let us from now on treat each other, whether board members or township residents, as non-partisan voices and not have this constant bickering of one party against the other.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our cherished son and brother, Jeffery Salenski, who was taken from us Dec. 24, 1969 for reasons we cannot understand. We share endless heartbreak once again:
And yet, in days to come
When we, too, shall reach the unseen land
Where bitter partings are no more
Perhaps then we'll understand.
Sadly missed by Daddy, Mom and sister.

Bull!

Guess there aren't too many of us that even remember Bull Patman's real name is Harry. Got some kind of athletic scholarship to play football for State, old Bull did. Sure couldn't of passed no college courses without plenty of help, but he played four years of football.

Good enough to be co-captain of the frosh team and was maybe one of the best varsity tackles State ever had. Fact is, after twenty years out of school, old Bull still is playing those games over and over again. Real sad.

Shame the way other guys at the county garage put Bull on. Good thing he don't wise up to 'em or he'd maybe bust open a few heads real good. Not that Bull's got a mean streak or nothing, but when Rails Mahoney starts putting old Bull on about was it the Army game that got played in a driving blizzard, you just kind of hope that Bull don't sudden see the light and pitch Rails half way across the parking lot.

Sure is a funny sight to see Rails tagging around after Bull and needling him on so's he can get a big laugh off the other guys.

Bull and Rails is maybe equal tall - six foot 2 or so - but old Bull is a good three times as wide as Rails. Not fat, mind you, not a bit fat, but that monicker Bull come from honest cause.

Still does his morning push-ups and weight lifting, Bull does. Maybe he secret thinks the Chicago Bears might give him a call one day, even if he is past 45. Never knew Bull to take a drink, and he just shakes his big old shaggy head when he sees one of the other fellows puffing away at what he always calls "coffin nails."

Oh, Bull's dumb enough. You got to admit he don't take no smart pills for his steady diet. Still it near makes you gag to see guys like weasel-faced Rails put the big-hearted oaf on and give you the sly wink to show you how cute they can be.

"Hey, Bull," they'll yell at him, "Lift up this here truck so I can put a jack under her." "Give us a hand here, Bull," they'll plead with him, "The super-torsion don't seem to mesh proper with the synchro-flexerdynamics."

Big deal. Old Bull tells 'em, patient-like, that there honest ain't any way one guy alone could lift up a loaded sand truck, and he'd sure like to help with the synchro whatsit but, gosh, he'd just goof up if he turned mechanic.

"What's this I hear about you being so poor coordinated that you can't walk and whistle at the same time without falling down?" Rails asks him like he just now got the terrible shocking truth off somebody.

Other day old Rails' kid Charlie comes down to the garage. Natural, Rails has to put on a special show for his skinny 14-year-old. Asks Bull if it is true that he can really sing near as good and twice as high as Tiny Tim.

"That's the real difference between us," explains Rails to his boy. "This here heap of guy can sing better'n your old man. Sing us a ditty, Bull."

"Don't really think that's the big difference, Dad," says the kid. "Like our gym teacher says, Mr. Bull Patman is a big man and a good man, but mostly he's ALL man. Sure hope your gags don't backfire, Dad. Good thing he thinks you're his friend."

Santa attends Christmas concert

Santa Claus visited Clarkston High School a few days early on December 22. He came early so he could attend the Vocal Department Christmas concert.

The program began at 8 p.m. and featured the Varsity Choir, the Madrigal Choir, Girls' Glee Club and Beginners' Chorus.

A wind ensemble played the chorus of "Hallelujah!" from the Messiah. The work was performed by the Varsity Choir.

There was an afterglow of cookies and punch for everyone. Santa Claus stayed too, and gave all the children a chance to get in their last minute Christmas wishes

Packer wins county title

Going into the tough 32 school Christmas tournament at Oakland University on Dec. 18 and 19 with 2 wrestlers seeded, coach Dick Moscovic emerged late Saturday night tired but happy.

After two long days of competition, for the first time in this tourney, Clarkston High School had an individual champion. Co-captain Mike Packer captured the County title at 98 pounds.

Mike scored 5 decisions in 2 days, boosting his record to 16 straight wins.

Packer was not at his best on Friday, but won on instinct and determination. On Saturday he snapped back to his old form and won the semi-finals sharply, then defeated a good Hazel Park wrestler in the finals on Saturday evening.

This tournament is recognized as being one of the nation's finest in prep wrestling, and is second only to the state meet in prestige.

DUAL MEETS

After suffering a third dual meet defeat, losing a close one to Flint Ainsworth, coach Moscovic's matmen secured their first dual meet win over league member Clarenceville on Dec. 17. It was the first home meet of the season.

Clinching the score with a 5 point pin in the final match put the team 1-3 for the year.

Racking up 5 falls, the ball started rolling for Clarkston when Mike Packer at 105 lbs. pinned his man in :21 (seconds). Pins by Joe Lessard at 119, Brian Gerber at 132, Brian Knake at 138, and heavyweight Mark Hoxie aided the cause. Rick Detkowski and Al Knake decisioned for another 6 points, making the final score Clarkston 31, Clarenceville 22.

Dual meet competition resumes after a holiday break with West Bloomfield, there, on Jan. 7, 1971.

Wolverines win third

By Lynn Surre

The Clarkston Junior High School Wolverines sneaked past Milford Muir in their 3rd win of 3 starts this season.

The Wolverines trailed by 14 points in the 4th quarter. With just 3 minutes left they came back with a strong offensive attack led by Steve Mauti.

Mauti tossed in a basket with just 1 second left in the game to win the game and also top the scoring with 27 points.

The final score was 59-57. Gary Mason was the second high scorer with 13 points and Tom Anderson controlled the boards with 20 rebounds.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

The Clarkston (Mich.) News

Thurs., Dec. 24, 1970 13

Briefly told

Angie Kraud, a 9th grade student at Clarkston Junior High School, portrayed the Juggler in the December 13 performance of “Le Petit Jongleur de Notre Dame.”

The narrative of the old French legend was presented by the Rhythmic Worship Choir of the Pontiac Central Methodist Church under the direction of Johna Harrington.

Station WPON broadcast the story of the itinerant juggler who wanders into the Notre Dame Cathedral and gives the Madonna the only gift he has, his performance.

As he dies before her feet, the Madonna comes to life and blesses the Juggler for the only “perfect gift” she had received.

Lewis E. Wint, owner of Wint Funeral Home, was elected second vice president of the North Oakland Chamber of Commerce.

James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan of Pontiac, was returned to the presidency for the second year.

Also reelected for another term were secretary William Whitfield, an attorney, and treasurer, Harold B. Euler, estate and management business owner.

Ben R. Hawkins of Hawkins Equipment Company was elected first vice president.

The engagement of Marlene Dlouhy to Alston W. Penfold, Jr. was announced recently. She is the daughter of Mrs. Malinda Dlouhy of Independence, Iowa and the late Mr. Dlouhy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alston Penfold of Jessup, Iowa and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Beardslee of Clarkston.

Wolves rap Cosmos, bow to Clarenceville

By Craig Moore

Don Brown, Gary White and Rick Prasil all scored in double figures as the Clarkston Wolves came up with their highest scoring quarter of the season in their 91-78 win over the Hamtramck Cosmos.

Brown and White keyed the 29 point second quarter outburst to break the 21-21 first quarter tie. Hamtramck could net only 12 points and fell behind 50-33 at the half.

The Cosmos' 22 point third quarter rally was to no avail as the Wolves led 74-55 at its end.

Coach Hanson used his reserves in the final quarter and Hamtramck outscored them by 5 points but by then the game was too far out of reach and the Wolves whacked the cold-shooting Cosmos 91-78 for their second straight victory.

Brown canned 15 buckets and 6 of 9 free throws to lead scoring with 36 points. White netted 21 and Prasil tossed in 16 points.

White and Brown collectively grabbed 23 rebounds.

Things were turned around in Clarenceville's Friday tilt and the Wolves fell 70-49.

Clarkston held a slim 14-13 margin at the end of the opening quarter.

The Trojans pulled ahead 26-18, to stay, in the second quarter by holding the Wolves to only 4 points.

Clarenceville put the game away with a 21 point third quarter and closed the game 70-49.

Brown netted only 7 points. Ted Karbownik led scoring with 13 points while Gary White totaled 11.

"We just couldn't hit the basekt," was Coach Hanson's comment on the Friday game. "If you divide the Hamtramck game statistics by 2, you would just about have the Clarenceville game statistics."

The Junior Varsity Wolves, in a close battle, were edged by the Hamtramck Cosmos JV 65-63.

The Wolves ended the first quarter with a 16-14 advantage but lost the bulge as Hamtramck pushed on to 32-31 by the half.

A 47-47 tie ended the action-packed third quarter. As in the second quarter, the Cosmos forged ahead just enough to take the game.

Dave Partlo, 17 points and Larry Miracle, 13, led the JV Wolves' scoring attack on the Trojans of Clarenceville on Friday.

Their scoring momentum wasn't gained until after the half, which ended 26-19 for Clarenceville.

Clarkston spurred ahead with a 24 point third quarter to lead 43-39 at its end. They increased their lead to 57-51 for the victory.

Larry Miracle also pulled in 20 rebounds.

Coach Pierson commented, "I wasn't particularly satisfied with the Clarenceville game, but we won and that is what counts." He continued, "Because the squad wasn't used to the Trojans' zone defense, we scored little until the second half."

Both the Varsity and JV have 2-2 season records.

The Clarkston Wolves will host the Northville Mustangs on Friday, January 8. The JV game, which starts at 6:30, is immediately followed by the Varsity game.

It's tradition

The tree may be aluminum instead of spruce or fir. Santa may arrive by helicopter instead of reindeer-drawn sleigh.

And the children's gifts will probably reflect the space age and the wonders of electronics.

No matter. However modern the celebration of Christmas may seem to be, its spirit is still old-fashioned, and though customs may appear in contemporary guise, they are still the cherished traditions from the past.

That these may be yours is our warm wish.

Kutting Korners

Sometimes a special dressing or stuffing can make your holiday dinner something special. Try these for New Year's if it is too late for Christmas.

FRUITED, LONG GRAIN AND WILD RICE DRESSING

5 cups water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 packages (6 oz. each) long grain & wild rice
2 medium apples chopped (2½ cups)
2 cups golden raisins
1 cup diced celery
1 cup chopped walnuts (optional)

Measure water and butter into saucepan. Stir in contents of rice and seasoning packets. Bring to a boil. Cover tightly and cook over low heat 22 minutes. Stir in apples, raisins, celery and walnuts. Stuff bird with hot stuffing, allowing ½ cup per pound, or bake stuffing separately in a greased, covered casserole. (This way it can be used as a side-dish).

Makes enough for two 4-pound roasting chickens or one 8 to 10-pound turkey.

CHESTNUT STUFFING

4 pounds (2 quarts) chestnuts
4 teaspoons oil
3 cups water (coffee can be used)
3 cups beef broth
1 chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
½ pound sausage meat

1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon chopped chives
½ teaspoon powdered marjoram (optional)
salt and pepper to taste
¾ cup soft bread crumbs milk
½ cup cognac

Cut gashes in the flat side of each chestnut. Heat the oil, add the chestnuts and cook over brisk heat 3 minutes, stirring or shaking the pan constantly. Drain and let cool. Remove the shells and inner skins.

Combine the water and beef broth. Cook the chestnuts in the liquid about 20 minutes or until tender. Drain. Chop half the nuts coarsely and mash the rest. Set aside.

Cook the onion in the butter until golden brown. Add the sausage and seasonings and cook, stirring constantly for 5 minutes. Add to the chestnuts.

Soften the bread crumbs in milk. Press out the excess liquid and add to the chestnuts. Add the cognac and mix well.

This stuffing is particularly good in Cornish game hens which are relatives of the partridge, so very timely. The above amount will fill six 1¼-pound hens or one 12-pound turkey.

Baptists greet New Year

The First Baptist Church of Clarkston will hold a night of sacred music on December 27 at 7 p.m. The Blue Water Trio from Port Huron, 3 young men and their accompanist, will be the featured singers.

The church will celebrate New Year's Eve with services from 9 'til 12 midnight. The First Baptist choirs and quartets will perform for the 1st hour under the direction of Norman Davis.

Refreshments will be served at 10 p.m. providing an opportunity for an exchange of greetings.

At 11 p.m. the services will resume and a large chalk drawing entitled, "His eye is on the Sparrow" will be shown.

Pastor Clarence Bell will do the art work using the "black lighting" to bring out special effects.

Infant Falls

A Chicago pediatrician has found that babies fall far more often than has been supposed, and that parents often underestimate the danger of skull damage.

Falls are particularly serious when the baby is less than a year old, said Dr. Harvey Kravitz, of Northwestern University School of Medicine. He studied 536 babies who fell out of cribs, adult beds and chairs.

"The brain is growing rapidly at this age," he pointed out. "The skull has a thinner wall than at any other time of life, and damage to the nervous system and circulation at this stage may interfere with all later learning."

The danger peak is reached at 7.5 months, when babies begin to roll from stomach to back, to pull themselves to a standing position, and to climb. "Many parents aren't prepared for these new activities," Dr. Kravitz said.

Almost all falls resulted in head injuries; there were no leg or arm fractures. This may be due to the "top heavy" weight distribution of the young, or because a baby climbing over the side of a crib would normally fall head first.

The greatest number of falls were from adult beds or couches, but there were many from cribs, infant dressing tables, high chairs and strollers. Dr. Kravitz believes the danger could be reduced by redesigning such furniture. "There is a dangerous tendency to make furniture for babies as though they were little adults," he pointed out.

Letters from Marguerite by Marguerite Slater

Dear Jeannie,

Do you think your recent letter to Santa asking for that crazy isometric body suit helped your cause? You can't threaten to start smoking again if he doesn't bring it. He's no pushover (believe me), and recalling some mistakes I've made with him in the past, he'll probably bring you a box of cigars.

Speaking of that old codger, I was reminiscing today about a lovely, tall screen - one of these silk, folding kind (and wondering as we all do years later, whatever became of such and such) that was put up in front of the fireplace on Christmas Eve before the old fellow arrived because, "Santa doesn't want you to see him brushing the soot off his whiskers and his nice red suit."

Somehow we were never there when he arrived, but were frittering away valuable time in the kitchen getting cookies or something.

Suddenly there'd be loud sleigh bells. We'd go tearing in and there he was, jangling that long black leather strap of bells which really belonged on our Topsy

Pioneers hold holiday party

Forty-seven members of the Clarkston Pioneers sat down to festively decorated tables for their Christmas dinner party on Dec. 13.

The luncheon-potluck was held at the Independence Township Hall under the direction of Mrs. Russell Maybee and a committee of three.

President, Mrs. Wesley Walter, conducted a short business meeting immediately following and then the group joined in singing Christmas carols. Mrs. Henry Melberg accompanied them on the piano.

Mrs. Thelma Millward led the singing and gave a Christmas reading.

Herman Jaenichen presented a Memorial Plaque for the unveiling. Mrs. Hubbard cut the ribbon. The plaque will be hung permanently in the Township Hall.

The next meeting will be held on January 28.

"We welcome visitors and new members," said a spokesman for the group. "It isn't necessary to be a pioneer of Clarkston to join. Just call us if you are interested in companionship and fun."

The number to call is 625-4868.

and Molly or at least on the cutter.

I guess I always knew it was Mr. Goodband who worked for my father, but if my folks thought he was Santa Claus, it was OK with me.

After our presents were Ho-Hoed out to us, my father tacked a stocking for everyone on the mantle, as Santa always came back again while we were asleep.

Millions of mothers, I'm sure, do as mine did and set out a glass of milk and a big piece of pie for that weary, hungry, wonderful guy. How I loved that empty glass and plate the next morning.

One night I was awake in the early night and crept downstairs and saw my folks sitting at the dining table and papa was eating Santa's lunch! I just crawled quietly back to bed. Never spoil a good thing by being a smart aleck.

There must be a term that explains the tie-in on smells and odors to the memory of events or things.

I love going to lumber yards as I'm always hoping for that fresh pine lumber smell I encountered first in a Christmas doll's dresser.

For weeks I'd lay my face against the inside of the drawers and sniff the pine lumber.

When I was a young teenager, some manufacturer made a perfume called "New Mown Hay." Whatever results they intended must have failed because I doused myself with the stuff because it smelled like pine lumber.

I hope you and yours have a happy holiday time, but you'd better mend your brassy attitude toward Santa Claus. I do hope you get that muscle builder and a box of Dutch Masters.

Your old friend, Marguerite

Merry Christmas.

Goodnight !

by Jean Sura

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house
Not a critter was stirring
But myself and my spouse.

Dad assembled the toys
with infinite care.
There were no parts left over;
'Twas exceedingly rare.

Our exchequer was depleted.
We were back in the red.
When it came to finances,
not much was said.

Poppy in his 'jammies
and me in my gown
Had hopped into bed
and just settled down.

A thought in my head
the silences shattered.
As I lay there, I knew
there was something the matter.

Away to the frige
I flew like a flash.
The rock solid turkey
fell out with a crash.

Would it melt in time for dinner?
Indeed, I don't know.
So while pondering, I splinted
my poor broken toe.

A turkeyless dinner
before my eyes did appear.
Thoughts of 24 guests
didn't add to my cheer.

My work was cut out.
Better do it quick.
To be ready this Christmas was indeed a good trick.

For ready or not,
the family all came,
Bubbling over with excitement,
each year the same.

Now, Shelly! Now, Matt!
Now Jee Jee! Now Kristin!
Sit down and stop crying,
Your dinner we're fixin'.

Don't knock the tree over.
Stay out of the hall.
Please watch the baby.
He's going to fall.

I've never been ready,
you sure can rely.
The panic within me
brings tears to the eye.

With an old frozen turkey
just what could I do?
This set of circumstances was indeed something new.

I spoke not a word
But went straight to my work.
Drew a scalding hot bath
for my frigid friend "Turk."

'Fore long I swear
my fear really arose.
No way at all
would that turkey get unfroze.

For hotdogs on hand
I flew like a missile.
And the problem blew away
like the down of a thistle.

Plain hotdogs for dinner
could not put a blight
On the happiness and fun
Of our Christmas night.

Merry Christmas to you too.
