Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

1971?

Time for my fearless forecast of boom and doom.

President Nixon will say, "let me make this perfectly clear" during every speech and interview this year. He will then proceed to make a conflicting statement, filled with loopholes.

Governor Milliken will repeat several times, "I feel very strong about this" ... in the same monotone he says everything else.

All the politicians elected in November who promised to keep an eye on the budget will let it go higher and higher.

The year should be strong, economically. I expect we will all be earning more than ever before. I suspect, however, we will also be spending more than ever before, thereby going further in debt.

If you didn't get tired of hearing Ari and Jackie in 1970, you will in 1971. Liz will give Richard back her diamonds, he will have them broken into chips, sell them for souvenirs and make billions.

Newspaper writers will continue to give politicians at all levels of government something to complain about ... but always getting the last word.

The Japanese will be discovered as having made all their transistor radios of radio active material and on December 7 all owners will jump into the Pacific Ocean causing a tidal wave that will sink Japan.

The Germans will recall all Volkswagens. They will discover the cars were designed for putting the engines in the front. At the same time Ford and GM will recall their Vegas and Pintos. They will discover the cars were designed for putting the engines in the rear.

In 1971 I vow to not argue with any golfing opponent over strokes. I will give them the number they desire ... provided they do the same for me and I am the last to speak.

I promise my wife that I will not even consider a trip south with the boys to play golf. I also promise her the moon, the stars, etc.

The Detroit Tigers will not win

Frosted edges of the evergreens on Sashabaw road made a pretty scene Friday afternoon.

Tower, Irwin new names for council

Two new names will be on the Spring ballot for Clarkston. They are Thomas Raymond Irwin of Holcomb street and Floyd James Tower of North Main. Irwin submitted his petition for trustee as a Republican and Tower will seek a like office as a Democrat.

Three vacancies are to be filled in the election and Richard Johnson, incumbent Republican has filed for the other post. He was appointed in 1968.

Not seeking re-election are David Westlund who was appointed trustee this year to replace James Mahar, and Willis Kushman who has served as trustee for 5 years.

Incumbents are running for all the other offices. Donald Cooper, Rep., is seeking his second term as president, Artemus Pappas, Rep., will be going for his 11th term as clerk, Mary Ann Pappas, has filed for treasurer for the 8th time and Ralph Thayer is seeking re-election as the pennant in 1971. Denny McLain will win over 20 games, all against Detroit. Norm Cash will alternate at first base with Al Kaline, who will alternate with Bill Freehan who will alternate with the gal that yells "two beers" in the concession stand.

Crime in the streets will go up in 1971. There will be more campus unrest, civil strife will increase and a railroad strike will cripple the country. All of which means it will be a year like all years and you will be there.

And, in 1971 sewers will come into this area. When we get the first bill we'll think of going down them.

assessor. Mrs. Pappas and Thayer are also listed as Republicans. He was appointed in 1964. Cooper was a trustee from 1964 to 1970.

Deadline for filing petitions for this election was Dec. 28.

No parking ordinance to be enforced, Village

The "no parking" ordinance for Clarkston village streets will be enforced now according to word from the Council.

The ban is from 2 a.m. to 6 a.m. Village police have been instructed to give a warning ticket the first time.

Reason for enforcing the law is a complaint by merchants that snow can't be removed from the streets to allow parking.

At Tuesday's Council meeting swimming in the Village Mill Pond was discussed. People running across private property, using foul language and littering the area prompted the discussion.

The burning ban ordinance has been set for public review for the January 5 meeting.

Complaints were heard about speeding on Main street. It was pointed out that the police are not on the streets during the daytime.

PFC Cobb tapes events in Vietnam

PFC Jerry Cobb has been assigned duty as Mail Clerk for the First Cavalry Division at Bien Hoa in South Vietnam.

These are excerpts of a tape received by the parents of PFC Jerry Cobb, who was awaiting orders at Lang Bien in Vietnam.

"It is now the 20th of October and they tell me I have 5 days in even though I have been here only a day and a half. I spent approximately 36 hours in Oakland (Calif.). They processed us through right away, but of course we were confined to our barracks since we were shipping out. We had game rooms, pool tables and everything was all contained in one building there.

"While there, I called you twice, and was able to call John Wilberg, but was not able to see him as I was in the confined area. I called Aunt Julia in Garden Grove. She was happy to hear from me, but unhappy that she couldn't come up to see me before I leave. I'll have to see her when I come back.

"We got on the plane at Travis Air Force Base which is about 40 miles inland from Oakland and there we got on what was called an Air Lift DC8 made to hold about 250 people. All on board were GIs. From there we flew to Anchorage, Alaska, which took about 5 hours.

There was a full moon and the mountains were just beautiful. We went right up the Alcan Highway almost all the way. We could see cars going along, some pulling house trailers and things - there's lots of wilderness up there.

When we landed in Anchorage it was 29 degrees and we were out there having a good time skating, sliding and slipping around in our jungle boots, and throwing snow balls at each other. It's really beautiful - one place I'd like to see again.

After an hour and a half we boarded our plane again and flew some 8 hours to an Air Force Base about 30 miles south of Tokyo. We stayed there about 6 hours, although we were scheduled for just a 45 minute stop. We had some mechanical failure - a leak in the hydraulic system. We didn't care - we were in no hurry.

Got a hair cut, shave and massage for 50c there inside the terminal. Really nice - I enjoyed it.

"After the 6 hour stop there we boarded up and flew right down across the Pacific - over Okinawa and supposedly, I waved at Don Hartley going by, but we were seven miles up, so doubt if he saw me. That was some 5-hour flight. Real deep blue Pacific water - really nice - little islands all the way.

Then we got to Vietnam. We went right across the country - very quiet, nothing going on. We flew into the airport which is 6 1/2 miles from Lang Bien where I am now. Sat around the airport waiting for transportation and finally got on air-conditioned buses to the base. After we got to Lang Bien, it took about an hour to process in. That's where I've been ever since.

"Ran across a stroke of luck here. I am on the guard detail - 6 hours on and 18 hours off. I have the shift from noon until 6 and we do what we please with the 18 hours off.

"The base is just like a base on stateside. If we were in the states, I would love it, but not when I'm about 12,000 miles from home.

"Fifty of the group who came in here with me got guard duty, the rest went into the First Division about 20 miles from here, so will probably see them again soon.

"What makes me happy is seeing 4 or 5 times as many guys leaving as coming in. Nixon is really withdrawing from where I'm sitting and the guys are really happy about it. The deaths from accidents and brawls outnumber those from active duty. Just nothing going on.

"The time is rather strange here. I still have my watch set at Detroit time and it should be approximately 8:40 at night a day ahead of me. It's 9:40 in the morning over here. It was rather strange going over the International Date Line. We left there on the 15th and completely missed the 16th, so I have five days in - 1/63rd of the way through my tour.

"I haven't run across any of my friends except those I came over with. I expected to run into some fellows from Clarkston or some I have gone to college with at Ferris. I have been trying to get Mike Emmendorfer on the radio, as he is only some 30 miles away on the Bay. I will keep trying, as I would like to talk to him if I can't see him.

"Right now, I am sitting on the perimeter outside the barracks. They're just like stateside. No protection, really - it's not necessary. Two stories high, everything wooden.

"I haven't pulled a detail since I left Ft. Polk. Guys from the village do all the K.P. and we don't even have to clean the barracks. No inspections. Lots easier life than I had at Polk.

"I haven't mentioned the temperature - only about 80 degrees now, which is a lot better than I expected. Everything has been better than I expected. I'm not even sweating in these jungle fatigues, they are so lightweight.

"It rains every day for about half an hour. I don't mind, because you can tell about when it is going to rain. As soon as a cloud front comes in it rains. The countryside is really different from what I expected. I expected to be sneaking around all the time, but we come and go anytime, day or night. No one carries weapons inside the perimeter. It's safer here than in Detroit after dark.

"I am sitting out here on the perimeter now. There are big yards full of trucks, storage houses, radio towers, little chapels all around. It's just like a city. I am taking pictures. Won't have them developed here though. I want them to turn out good and I don't know anything about the developers here.

"Took pictures of the waitresses in the club and the band, also of some of the guys that I knew going through basic and AIT going out in the field. Sorry to see them go. I will miss them but I would rather be here. We have a sauna bath here, swimming pool, theater, EM Club, PX, theater, anything you could want right here on the base. They say they are trying to make our stay here enjoyable, and I believe it. Just like Stateside, except for all the planes going overhead and the water trucks are always going by. We have plenty of water for showers and all the water you want to drink. It really isn't so bad - you can get ice anytime you want it. ---

"That was one of the mamma sans yelling. Someone must have walked on her flower bed or something.

"Today I am going to try to go down to Headquarters to see if I can get on as a clerk, truck driver or anything. I sure don't want to end up in the bush doing practically nothing. The guys I have seen coming in off the field have from 6 to 8 months in. They are not staying here a year anymore. Have another 8 to 10 days here at Lang Bien, so will try to get around to see where people are.

"It is now the morning of the 24th over here and I am still on guard detail - 6 hours a day. A lot of guys I have known shipped out. They say that is really tough up there. I think those guys will make it. A couple of others went First Cavalry.

"Got paid yesterday. They got us on air-conditioned buses and took us to the main part of Lang Bien, about three miles away. Got $25, which came in handy.

"Didn't tell you what kind of camera I got - it's a Kodak X25 and takes 126 film. I never have been too hep on taking pictures. Right now I'm on exposure 13 or 14 so will snap a few more and send the film home before I leave here.

"Woke up this morning and found I had some sort of foot infection, so will have to have that taken care of. It's something like athlete's foot. I'll have it looked into and squared away before it gets worse.

"It's a cool 80 degrees here today. Don't suppose it will get much hotter, even if there is an overcast now. So far the weather has agreed with me. Rained again last night - a few things got wet but it wasn't bad. A lot of guys got soaked, but so far I haven't gotten caught. I will probably get my share in the next year.

"A lot of my friends have been worried about where we will be shipped. But I dunno - just hope - by some chance they will have enough infantry and will stick me somewhere around here. Wishful thinking - will probably be stuck out in the boonies.

"Was talking to a Lifer - Career Man, rather, that's what they call them here. He says it is a lot better out in the boonies, but I think he is just gung-ho. I would rather be here having my shower every night.

"If I remember correctly, I told you to mail my duffle bag. You won't have to. At the supply depot they gave me two of them and two waterproof bags, so I'm all set on just about everything I need. What I don't have, I can get here.

"I am running out of words. Will send you just what I have here and hope you enjoy some of it, anyway."

"If It Fitz . . ."

A mashed myth?

By Jim Fitzgerald

It would be interesting to invite Len Barnes and Dr David Klein to the same New Year's Eve party, potluck. Klein could bring booze and Barnes could bring mashed potatoes.

Barnes is that Michigan Auto Club executive who spends 20 hours per day on the radio cautioning you to drive safely to where the snow is good for skiing. Which is similar to warning you to rinse out your mouth with Listerine before drinking poison.

Klein is an MSU professor of social sciences who says it doesn't do any good to tell people to drive safely. You might better arrange to have an ambulance and Dr Marcus Welby at every busy intersection, he says.

The Auto Club is author of such awe-inspiring slogans as: "Eat 'em Mashed and You Won't Get Smashed" and "First a Friend, Then a Host."

The club concedes that total abstinence behind the wheel is The Impossible Dream. 8 out of every 10 motorists will drive after drinking, no matter how clever the slogans. So holiday hosts are reminded of their "moral responsibility to be sure their guests are able to drive safely."

Serve 'em mashed potatoes and then ladle the booze on like gravy. This keeps the alcohol out of the blood. It will also tend to thin out the crowd around your bar.

When a guest has obviously had enough, slip an Auto Club sleeve over the bottle. The sleeves are free at club offices and liquor stores. Printed on them is a chart that tells how much you can drink safely according to your weight. Sorry, you must weigh yourself before eating the mashed potatoes.

Last year I said the sleeve was unfair to less potted guests. I suggested the Auto Club make a bigger sleeve which could be slipped over the drunk's head, thus leaving the bottle free for more deserving guests. Barnes and the other Auto Club brass ignored me completely. They will probably ignore Prof Klein, too.

Klein claims it is a "myth" that safe driving campaigns will reduce accidents. He says so in a book called "Causation, Culpability and Deterrence in Highway Crashes." He wrote the book along with another professor whose half of the job was writing that title.

Klein says no effort aimed at the driver will work. "Human behavior is extremely hard to change and it is much easier to change such things as the design of the automobile or the design of the highway. There's no evidence that you can change a bad driver into a good driver," Prof Klein says. And he adds that alcoholics drive no matter how badly they're punished short of imprisonment.

Klein says the way to save lives is to forget the safety campaigns and spend the money on better ambulance service, better medical facilities and better roads. Straight highways and roadside medics will save more lives than mashed potatoes.

It's a good debate and I'd love to hear Barnes and Klein go at it. I certainly don't pretend to know who's right. And until the real truth is known, and the appropriate remedies are administered, I shall continue to regard New Year's Eve as Amateur Night. You professional drinkers are well advised to stay home, out of harm's way.

You won't have to worry about spinning your wheels in a pile of mashed potatoes. †

What they're saying about Dan Fife

The Michigan Basketball team of 1970-71 was introduced recently to the press, radio and TV, in a magazine. The following is an excerpt concerning No. 24, Captain, Dan Fife.

The captain of the 1970-71 Wolverines, Dan Fife, has established himself as one of the most intense ballplayers in the country. Fife is the greatest hustler in the whole Big Ten and provides the kind of driving floor leadership that keeps the speedy Wolverines on the run.

A senior from Clarkston, Mich., Fife began to establish his reputation in high school when he made both All-State and All-American while scoring over 30 points per game. His scoring average has decreased in the college ranks, but not because he lost his shooting eye.

Fife has given Michigan strong outside shooting for two seasons while compiling a career average of 12.8. His percentage for that time is a fine 45.7. He also is a deadly foul shooter, hitting at a 74.9 rate.

But Fife's biggest asset is his ability to lead the team. He handles the key middle position on the fast break and has helped Michigan to many easy points. He also has the responsibility of bringing the ball up court and controlling the offense.

It is that kind of leadership, along with his great personal drive, that makes Dan Fife the ideal captain for Michigan's sophomore-studded basketball team.

Midget football organized here

Parents of 9 to 12 year old boys who are interested in playing midget league football will meet on January 6 in the Clarkston High School cafeteria.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting is sponsored by the Independence Township Athletic Association.

The football program and fund-raising projects to defray the expense will be discussed.

More information can be obtained by calling Dick Heath at 673-1950 or Fred Dyke at 674-3375 according to Ken Wolven, publicity chairman.

Briefly told

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club held a Christmas workshop at the home of Mrs. Frank Russell on Dec. 18.

Sixty small flower pots were filled with greens and decorated with festive bows. The ornaments were taken to the Oakland County Hospital to be placed on the patient's trays.

The front window of the Salvation Army Church on Buffalo Street was lighted during the holidays through the generosity of an anonymous donor.

The Clarkston Pioneers also contributed money for that purpose.

Service disrupted

Electrical service to portions of Independence, Springfield, Brandon and Groveland Townships was disrupted on December 29.

A transmission line on M-15, south of Wolf Road, fell to the ground and caused the interruption at 4:21 a.m.

Service was restored by 6:05 a.m. according to Harlan Retze of the Detroit Edison Company.

The cause of the break was not known.

"Toys for tots" successful

The "Toys for Tots" project of the Clarkston Area Jaycees was successfully completed on December 23.

"The success of the program is due to the complete cooperation from members of the Clarkston Community," said Chairman Dick Halsey.

One hundred five children received toys for Christmas as a result of the program.

Cub Scout Pack No. 49 donated a decorated Christmas tree and Troop No. 210 of the Girl Scouts assisted in the cleaning and repairing of the toys.

"We are grateful for all the assistance we received that made this project a success," said Halsey.

Around the town

Babies beat New Year

by Donna Fahrner

In addition to the traditional celebration, Christmas had a double meaning for Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Boggs (Jolene Schults) of Pontiac. Shauna Lynn arrived weighing 7 lbs. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Verlin Boggs of West Virginia, Mrs. Anita Schults of Clarkston, and Mr. Joseph Schults of Springfield. Great Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Moses of Oxford.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Haner of Snow Apple welcomed their first baby on December 27. Bret Charles weighed 8 lbs 3½ ozs. Gary and Sue are both teachers at Pine Knob Elementary. Bret's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Alton Haner of Ludington, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall Sr. of Waterford. Great-grandparents are Mrs. Glen Haner of Ludington and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crawford of Ludington.

Mrs. Florence Schingeck of Keego Harbor was the guest of honor at a surprise birthday party given by Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Pfahlert of Eves Rd. It was Mrs. Schingeck's 71st birthday. Guests were from Waterford, Sylvan Lake and Clarkston. Donna Pfahlert was home from school in Wisconsin to join the celebration.

Jill Pursley called to tell me that she took advantage of the snow and ice on December 26 and celebrated her 12th birthday with a snowmobile and skating party on Gulick Lake. Jodie Allen, Kim Pursley, Bonnie Keyser, Judy Jervis and Sue Latter helped make it a happy birthday.

The weather man failed to be informed of the Roberston Ct. Candle Walk on Wednesday night. He arrived with rain and wind. Congratulations to the folks who braved it and to the fathers and sons who spend the evening keeping the candles lit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gregory Ronk (Pam Hunt) of Clarkston welcomed their first baby on December 27th. Kerry Lee weighed 7 lbs. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hunt, Mrs. Arlene Ronk and Mr. John Ronk all of Clarkston. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hunt, Mrs. Agnes Richardson and Mrs. Elizabeth Ronk.

Fifteen couples were the guests at the annual holiday party of Mr. and Mrs. Terry Thomas of Pear Street on Saturday, December 26. Good friends, conversation and food were on the evening's agenda.

Dom and Louise Mauti of Wompole Drive helped start the Christmas season on December 24th with a wine tasting party. Fifty people took time out from their wrapping, decorating and last minute rushing to sample the many varieties of wine made by Dom and his mother, Mrs. Pauline Mauti of Rogers City.

Fred Steiner of Harrison, formerly of Clarkston is a patient at Clare Osteopathic Hospital. I know he would enjoy cards from his many Clarkston friends. He is in room 203.

I would like to thank all those who brought candles in to help decorate our window. They may be picked up any time at the office.

Christmas poinsettias bank altar for rites

Mrs. Stephen W. Williams

Charlene Rae Broadway was united in matrimony to Stephen Wesley Williams on December 19 at the United Methodist Church of Clarkston. The Rev. Frank Cozadd performed the ceremony before an altar banked with Christmas poinsettias.

The bride chose a floor length gown of chiffon and taffeta with satin accents. Her veil was finger tip length and she carried white roses and turquoise tipped carnations.

Frances Broadway was her sister's maid-of-honor and the groom's sister, Patricia Williams of Auburn Heights was the bridesmaid.

The attendants were identically gowned in turquoise chiffon and carried bouquets of white carnations.

Herbert Morris stood as best man and David Whitmore ushered.

Guests were received in the church parlor following the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Broadway of Northview Drive, Mrs. Arnold Sweet, Pontiac and Robert W. Williams of Drayton Plains.

The newlyweds will make their home in Auburn Heights.

Double wedding performed at Clarkston Methodist

Charles F. Herman gave his step-daughter and his future niece in marriage.

The Rev. Frank A. Cozadd performed the double wedding ceremony at the United Methodist Church of Clarkston on December 19.

Kathleen Ruth MacGregor of Clarkston and Terry Michael Mersino of Waterford exchanged rings in the afternoon rites.

Elayne Holland and Mark Edward DePlanche, both of Pontiac, were also wed in the double ring ceremony.

Miss MacGregor chose an A-line gown of silk organza with lace and seed pearl trim. She carried a cascade of white roses and carnations.

Mrs. David Myers of Ortonville was her attendant in pink dotted swiss, carrying a bouquet of matching carnations.

Best man was David Myers and a brother and brother-in-law of the bride, John MacGregor and William Anderson seated the guests.

Miss Holland wore a gown fashioned of white silk brocade. The gown featured a sweetheart neckline. She carried a bouquet of orange chrysanthemums.

The groom's sister, Mrs. Larry VanAaken of Flint was the bridal attendant. She wore pale green dotted swiss and carried a matching bouquet of carnations.

Larry Van Aaken served as best man. After the services a reception was held at the Herman home on Almond Lane.

Kutting Korners

Need a cheese ball for company? Try this and some of these other goodies.

FESTIVE CHEESE BALL

2 pkg. (8 oz. each) cream cheese, softened
1 pkg. (10 oz.) sharp cheddar cheese, shredded

2 tablespoons chopped green onion
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 can (8½ oz.) crushed pineapple, drained
2/3 cup pecans or walnuts

Thoroughly blend cream cheese and cheddar cheese with onion and Worcestershire sauce. Fold in pineapple. Chill several hours. Shape into ball; roll in nuts. Chill. Serve with crackers. Trim the serving plate with holly.

Have you ever thought to use a head of lettuce as a topiary tree for nibblers? Just fill it with tidbits. If diets are fashionable in your crowd, fill it with things like cherry tomatoes, bite-sized pieces of celery and cauliflower.

Place it on a footed serving dish for company elegance. I cut the bottom across so that it would sit flat.

CLAM ROUNDS

1 7-oz. can minced clams
6 oz. cream cheese
dash salt
dash pepper
1 tablespoon chives
1 beaten egg white

Mix first 5 ingredients well and fold into the egg white, beaten until stiff but not dry. Spread on Melba toast rounds, sprinkle with paprika and heat under broiler until lightly browned.

CRABMEAT SNACKS

4 English muffins (split in half)
Mix:
1 small can crab meat
1 stick butter
1 3-oz. jar old English cheese
Spread muffin halves with crab mixture. Heat under broiler until bubbly. Cut into 4 pie-shaped pieces and serve hot. Makes 32 servings.

FLAKY HOT CHEESE ROUNDS

8 oz. shredded sharp cheddar cheese
1¼ sticks margarine
1 cup flour
1½ cups cornflakes
Mix dough and shape in very small balls. Place on greased cookie sheet. Mash with fork. Bake 350 degrees for 15 minutes. Dough is very dry. Will keep forever in refrigerator or freezer.

Minimize grease splatters when you use your fondue pot with hot oil. The trick is to add a teaspoon of salt to the oil before you begin to heat it.

See you next year.

Resolutions

by Shel George

I don't know about you, but I've never had enough resolve to keep New Years resolutions. Right off the bat I'm faced with a multitude of decisions. There are so many I should make that I don't know which one to start with. The only resolution I can remember keeping was that I "will never make another resolution."

I met a young man recently who must have made some resolutions and had the determination to carry them out. It happened in New York City, and here's why I came to this conclusion about him.

If New York City is known for anything, it has to be its people. Stories abound about them. One story I frequently hear is, "they say people in New York City are unfriendly." I've never figured out who "they" are. Anyway "unfriendly" wouldn't fit this young man.

It's not unusual to find crowds gathered on the streets. Often the attraction is a demonstration or a fight with a policeman. I noticed a sizable group standing on a corner near a Broadway theater.

The object of their attention was a young man, probably in his early twenties, playing a violin. He wore Levi's and a black sweatshirt. His violin case was opened and sitting next to him on the sidewalk. His name was printed on a piece of cardboard propped against the open lid. There was some money in the case too.

His eyes were closed and he swayed back and forth as he played a difficult, classical selection.

When he finished, the crowd applauded. He smiled and spoke.

"You no doubt are all wondering what I am doing here on the street playing my violin. That's what everyone asks."

As a matter of fact, that's just what I was wondering.

He proceeded to explain. "I could rent a hall and put up a sign saying, Tom Smith is giving a concert. But nobody knows Tom Smith and consequently nobody would show up. I'm a student here in a music school. This is how I make extra money. If you enjoy my playing, please feel free to contribute to the cause."

His smile indicated he knew he had a good thing going for him. He did.

After he finished his speech, he played another number. It had a lilting gypsy beat.

When he finished, the size of the crowd was approximately 150. The size of his "take" was approximately $50, one of mine and about 49 from the other onlookers.

I call that determination in keeping resolutions.

On the last day of the year, unless we're already dead in spirit, we look forward to something new in the new year. That's our creative longing.

Dorothy L. Sayers, a British writer of mysteries, has also made some discoveries in theology. She, as a writer, is always trying to make a new thing. In doing so she sees a pattern in her work which theologians say God uses. In "The Mind of the Maker" she starts with an Eternal Idea. Jeremiah's potter has a picture in his mind of a beautiful vase or pitcher. Then is applied an Unresting Energy. The potter's hands are never still as they shape the clay. Finally, a Volume of Power inspires, judges, communicates the work all at once.

In our country's history when the Declaration of Independence was signed and delivered, it seemed the country might still disintegrate in ten years from the sheer destructiveness of its problems. The Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union couldn't hold it together. Even the Constitutional Convention could not do business for eleven days for lack of a quorum. The small states were afraid of the large; the one-crop states feared national power to tax; slave-trading states did not want to give up prosperous business.

It took the Connecticut Plan of a two-chamber Congress to solve creatively the problem of small versus large states' interests. This two-chamber Congress is not perfect as any congressman could testify. But the same congressman might defend Gladstone's praise of the Constitution as being "the most wonderful work ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man." It was a creative miracle dealing with unpromising raw materials!

This last day of 1970 we have raw materials too. Some are great: technological advance undreamed of. Some are greatly feared: pollution, overpopulation, war, racism. The question is: Can God's children in '71 create something new out of this mess, or at least follow cooperatively in God's footsteps as He works His awesome new creations?

Board agrees on not talking to the press

Individual members of the Independence Township Board will, apparently, not be making statements to the press for a few months.

In a gentleman's agreement among members, it has been decided news or opinions will come from public meetings only. The 5-man board suggested and approved this at Tuesday's special meeting.

A 2 or 3 month moratorium was suggested by trustee Thomas Bullen, 5935 Kingfisher.

The board has been split since the Nov. 3 election on various issues, but primarily over appointments suggested by supervisor Gary Stonerock. Trustee Keith Humbert has been voting with Stonerock and clerk Howard Altman and treasurer Ken Johnson have had opposite views on occasion.

In other action, the resignation of Paul M. Mandel as Township attorney was officially accepted, and with regrets. He submitted his resignation last week to take effect Jan. 5.

The replacement, suggested by Stonerock, of the firm of Campbell, Lee, Kurzman and Leitman was questioned by Bullen. A member of the audience suggested possible conflict of interest since Campbell, a resident of Waterford Hill, took part in the petition drive opposing rezoning Waterford Hill Golf Course to a shopping center.

Bullen was to talk with Campbell Wednesday morning and possibly other attorneys.

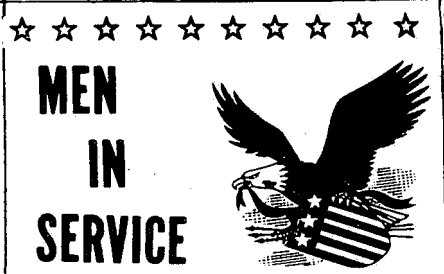

There was discussion on a Code of Ethics suggested by Stonerock. It governs conduct, morals, and actions while under the township's employ.

Applications for lot splits will now have to be accompanied by letters explaining road status... whether private or public, condition, etc.

Stonerock was given board approval to hire a new secretary. The present supervisor secretary, Mrs. Irene McPherson, will be leaving township employ. Her husband, and electronics technician with Bendix Corp., has been transferred to Dayton, Ohio.

Mrs. McPherson, who has worked for 3 supervisors in her nearly 16 years with the township, expects to continue here for about 3 more months.

TROOP 49

Troop 49 was the host for the monthly Round Table of the Manito District on Thursday, December 10.

The theme for the Round Table was "signaling," with Bob Brill as the guest speaker. Mr. Brill demonstrated the wigwagging and semaphore methods with flags and demonstrated the use of the telegraphers' key.

Senior Patrol Leader Chris Cowden did a very capable job of running the meeting with Bill McMasters, Keith Staley, Doug Roosa, Dale Verhey, John Petterson and Dennis Boberg presenting the flag. Craig Newlin and Brian Collins played taps on the horn and drum.

Scouts preparing the room for the meeting were Steve Darling, Keith Bradley and Dan Biron with Bob Bradley and Jim Allard serving coffee, punch and donuts.

Chris Cowden and Keith Bradley received awards for attending the Green Bar Training Session at Camp Agawam.

Adult leaders attending from Troop 49 were Paul Verhey, Stan Roosa, Ron Collins, Jerry Staley and Jim Allard.

Three new scouts, Ric Huttenlocher, Mike Routh and Greg Giegler were added to Troop 49 membership.

HEPATITIS

Hepatitis seems to follow a seven-year cycle, and it appears America may soon be in for a new "peak" of the disease. Even in the average year, there are 43,000 reported cases of viral hepatitis. Nobody knows the true number - it's been said only one in 30 is reported, because attacks may be so mild they go unrecognized.

Sometimes the disease results from drug reactions or poor diet, such as that noted in alcoholics. More often, it is caused by a virus that attacks the liver. The most common of the viral hepatitis cases are "infectious;" they result from the swallowing of a virus or viruses.

The second kind is serum hepatitis, in which the virus travels through the blood stream. This is the disease often observed in drug addicts who use contaminated needles, or may result from blood transfusions. There is no routine test to detect hepatitis viruses in the blood, at present.

In either case, the disease has three stages. First, there is fatigue, a loss of appetite, darkening urine, and a general feeling of being unwell. This may be followed by a sharp pain on the right side, itchy skin, and a faster pulse.

Finally, the bile from the liver backs up into the blood stream, and the patient develops chills, fever and a yellowish or jaundiced appearance.

Recently gamma globulin has been taken from the blood of those who have just recovered from viral hepatitis, and this is being used as a preventive measure in "high risk" groups who may be most apt to develop the disease.

Time for aliens to register

Thomas M. Pederson, District Director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service announced that aliens in the United States will be required to report their addresses to the Attorney General within the near future.

All aliens, with few exceptions, who are in the United States on January 1 each year must report their addresses by the end of that month. Only the following classes of aliens are excused from this requirement: (1) Accredited Diplomats, and (2) Persons accredited to certain international organizations.

Forms with which to make the report can be obtained from any Post Office or Immigration and Naturalization Service Office during the month of January.

Mr. Pederson said that the law provides severe penalties for failure to comply with the reporting requirement.

Letters from Marguerite

by Marguerite Slater

Dear Jeanie—

Aren't coincidences something! I ran a sheet of paper in my machine a few weeks ago and wrote, "Well, Jeanie, this is Thursday," intending to ramble on about Thursday being my favorite day of the week and why.

The radio was on and a voice said, "Do Thursdays mean anything special to you old timers? Well, I've got good news for you: Starting in April, on Thursdays you can read the good old Saturday Evening Post as it is starting up again."

Don't tell me I have ESP with a magazine! I have it with a couple of friends and that's scary enough.

During those wonderful, best years of the Post, Thursday was one night I never made a date with ANY male or female — I just read the Post. Sometimes two good serials were running at the same time, along with great short stories. Many famous names first appeared in it and its final decline in excellence was sad to Post lovers.

Gee whiz, how old am I? I've lived through the demise of that crazy Liberty Magazine, The Literary Digest, Collier's, Youth's Companion, Saturday Evening Post and several other flashes on the literary horizon, not to forget Captain Billie's Whizbang. I AM 120.

Speaking of good reading, wasn't that a great article in the Detroit Free Press recently on our own "Fitz" Fitzgerald? Larry Adcock wrote so appreciatively of Mr. Fitzgerald's great and rare wit. I made a little booklet of Adcock's article and put it in my book shelves.

When I started my letter to you about

Thursdays, I was full of a memory of an early New Year's melodrama, so I'll finish that tale because New Year's Eve, this year, falls on Thursday.

My agony, back then, was so great that I can still remember the anxiety of waiting. A couple of days before New Years, when I was about 6, I told my mother I invited Miss Nelson, my teacher, for New Year's dinner.

Kids could always stay for meals on my invitation so you can imagine my horror when my mother grabbed me and shook me and screamed, "Oh, NO — You DIDN'T."

She already had a million relatives coming for dinner.

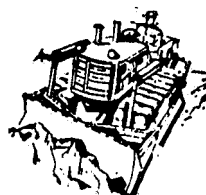

After hours of bawling on my part, we settled down to anxious waiting and rounds of "No, I didn't dream I asked her," and "Yes, I'm sure I asked her." It was constant tears and mama mad as hell at me.

You can bet by this time I sure hated old Nelson. Well, she didn't show of course.

But do you know I'm still sort of mad at mama's hypocrisy because she smiled at me while we were eating and said, "Isn't it too bad Miss Nelson couldn't come?" Perhaps my silence was my first lesson in diplomacy but I know it was also my first encounter with hypocrisy.

Maybe you read about it in the Detroit papers. I served ham for dinner on Christmas Eve.

The way my family tells it I brought it out on a platter surrounded with thousands of twinkling lights. A hush fell over the audience. From out of nowhere, a groan arose.

In the background, guitars played a twangy version of "Old McDonald Had a Farm."

Somebody started to croon "To Market, to Market, to buy a fat pig."

"How about that?" said old Dad. "What imagination and effort, a ham for dinner!"

"Well, I invited several 'hams' for dinner," I countered blithely.

"Granny," said one of the Wonderechildren: "We had ham yesterday and we had it at Aunt Joans the day before that."

A chorus of twenty voices added, "So did we, Amen, Amen."

"This is ridiculous," I said. "You can't tell me you all had ham yesterday. Why I thought we'd finish it off tomorrow."

"Not only that," chimed in one friend, "I'm serving ham for New Years Eve."

"Yikes," shrilled another, "that's what I had on my menu for my luncheon on Wednesday."

"Did you know that ham is a cut of pork and pork is the fattiest of meats that can be bought," said one of my young geniuses.

"Well, anyway, I'm relieved," said another. "They say that the danger of contracting trichinosis from improper cooking has just about been ruled out permanently."

"I saw a piece of ham under a microscope one time," said somebody. "You really should see it. It's just about solid with fat."

"I think you're all exaggerating," I said.

"No matter how you slice it, that's all there is and if you don't want to look like a refugee from Biafra I suggest that you dig in."

"I haven't been feeling up to par," said one, leaving the table. "We did have ham sandwiches for lunch today."

"Please pass the celery. I'm on a strict diet," said another.

"Isn't this marvy," said a female voice as we passed the platter. "Do you mind if I eat the twinkling lights?"

"My mother always served goose for Christmas," said my old lovable husband. "I sure do like a good succulent goose stuffed with oysters. But of course Mother was a fine cook. I liked the prime rib your mother made too. That was back in the good old days."

"Boy, just mentioning all that good stuff makes my mouth water," said my son. "Would you excuse me please. I think I'm coming down with the ham. I mean the flu."

"So what am I, a mind reader?" I shouted. "I'm supposed to know that everybody in the county has served ham. Anyway be grateful that you have a good, substantial meal. Count your blessings."

"Okay," they chorused. "Blessing one, ham for breakfast. Blessing two, ham for lunch. Blessing three, ham for dinner. Blessing four, ham salad sandwiches. Blessing five, creamed ham. Blessing six, bean soup for the New Year. Is that enough?"

"That's enough," I screamed.

"Anyway, Hammy New Year. No, Happy Ham Year. Oh, you know what I mean."
