Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

If I had it to do all over again I'd be president of the U.S. Then the taxpayer would pay for any doctor I wanted and I would have the influence of the office to pressure him into telling me I needed warmer climes for golf.

And, of course, you taxpayers would pay for me to enjoy myself more.

As it is, I can go to any doctor I choose, I think, but I have no way of making him tell me to take more vacations. Only one time in the 15 years I've been letting Dr. Rod Jacobi practice on me has he prescribed golf.

That was on a Saturday afternoon and he hadn't reached the sum needed to meet his weekly financial obligations. By the time we finished 18 I needed his services. The good doctor had not only won the "skins" but was ready to collect an office fee for a pain remedy.

I fooled him. I gave the money to the bartender.

There are few things that I don't eat. Rutabagas is one that comes quickly to mind. This dates back to childhood, when mother always put 'em in the stew, cause "Dad likes rutabagas."

In those days, Dad was King of the House. That meant homemade sauerkraut, head cheese, tongue, lots of baked beans and salt pork, turnips and turnip greens always accompanied by home grown and home ground horseradish.

I ate what was put before me 'cause it was put before me. That was reason enough. But the rutabagas and sauerkraut were swallowed without chewing, as I recall. Get rid of the taste as soon as possible, was the only thought.

Wife Hazel would have loved eating my father's favorites. She's tried them on me. Trying to maintain the image of King of the House, I've rejected her offerings feverishly. Occasionally, she tries to knock the King from the throne with some concoction she knows from the start I won't like, but she hasn't exposed me to rutabagas.

My favorite meal is a chuck roast, browned and well done, cooked with potatoes, carrots and gravy. Hazel has even taught our 13-year-old Luan to cook it. I could have it for the main meal every day.

Hazel, on the other hand, likes sauerkraut and fried liver and

School aid cutback will hurt

Ray Welch, left, and Tudor ApMadoc empty bottles into a box to be tossed up to Elton Houston on the box car in the January 16 glass collection which was planned and carried out by the citizens of Independence Township.

Gov. William Milliken, in a formula to prevent a $108 million state budget deficit, recently proposed a $27 million cutback in state aid to schools.

This state aid cutback would cause serious financial difficulties in the Clarkston Community School District, according to Supt. L. F. Greene.

In his school aid reduction proposal, Milliken is asking for a two percent cutback to each district. This amounts to an estimated $15 million.

For the Clarkston Community School District, the governor's decision was the second financial setback handed down from the state capitol in the past few months.

A two percent cutback in proposed state aid would cost the Clarkston District between $30,000 and $57,000, depending how the allocation may be interpreted.

State aid payments are based on official school enrollment. There are 6,695 pupils in Clarkston area schools, a gain of 213 over the 1969 figure.

Another financial setback hit the Clarkston School District last fall when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled that area schools must provide students with textbooks, pencils, paper and other essential items.

That fall Supreme Court ruling cost the Clarkston School District an estimated $50,000.

"Eighty-five percent of our budget for the school year was committed to wages and salaries before either of the decisions were made," Dr. Greene said. "In addition, we must make the cutback from our remaining funds after 50% of the fiscal year has passed."

"If rumored cutbacks in the February state aid payment was to materialize, it could cost the school district even more money," Greene explained.

Greene said he doubted that immediate assistance could come from a change in laws because of the time involved in putting them in motion.

"We recognize," said Dr. Greene, "that the state is in urgent need at this time. The schools must share the effects, but with 95% of our budget locked in and half of the year spent, it looks like an insurmountable job."

First collection successful

The first glass trash collection sponsored by the "Bottles for Building" got under way in Independence Township on January 16 and 17.

"Considering the wide-spread area to be covered and the specific directions that were to be followed, we considered the first collection to be a success," said spokesmen for the committee.

onions. She doesn't think I do and knows the kids won't eat it. So, doing my part for manhood, in recent trips to the restaurants I've ordered sauerkraut, fried liver and onions. Then I boast about it in front of friends.

The results are that I don't think the King of the House's crown is sitting atop my head any longer. Women do have devilish means of torture.

"A fleet of 10 trucks left the Township Hall at 9 a.m. manned by Jaycees, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Helpers were stationed at drop-off centers. They all worked through the day until 5 p.m."

A WXYZ-TV Channel 7 news crew filmed the activities on Saturday, and showed the pictures on both the 6 and 11 p.m. newscasts.

According to committee spokesmen, there was a little confusion about the pick-up.

"Some people expected the Scouts to come and ring their door bells. We are sorry about this. It was our intention that all glass trash be placed at the curb in the collection area," they said.

A few, who misunderstood brought their glass and left it on the doorstep of the Clarkston News. The cartons in the windows are for display only.

The workers spent Sunday policing the area for debris and litter.

The collection will not be weighed until Tuesday when it will be taken to Pontiac and coupled to a train for the trip to Charlotte.

Before the final report is given, the committee is forging ahead with their February collection in mind.

"It is time to start saving glass trash again," said Mrs. Carolyn Placé, Chairman. "We hope to double our participation next month and make improvements where they are called for. We definitely could use more assistance. Volunteers are asked to call me at 625-2390 or 625-3506."

"Remember, the glass must be rinsed of all matter. Metal rings should be removed, including the rings left after some screw-tops are removed. Glass must be sorted by color: clear white, blue and green, brown and amber."

Council unhappy

A rather strong resolution condemning Deerfield Hills Subdivision for not correcting run-off problems has been passed by the Clarkston Council.

Prepared by Councilman Jack Hagen, the resolution points out the threat to pollution of water within the village, drainage problems, and says the Subdivision owners' solutions have been unsatisfactory.

Mention is also made of the Water Resources Commission being unable to advise the village of an answer to problems created by grading of the subdivision land west of the village.

The resolution urges the Water Resources Commission to become involved in helping correct the pollution-drainage situation and that the resolution be sent to all parties involved.

The complete resolution is printed in the Village Council Minutes elsewhere in this issue.

consecutive Saturdays, January 23 and 30.

The races are expected to draw about 200 entries, according to Jaycee spokesmen.

"We had about 98 entries last year and our race wasn't even sanctioned," said Jerry Powell, Clarkston president.

This year the race will be sanctioned by the Snowmobile Racing Association. Time trials will be held at 9 a.m. and the races will begin around noon and probably last until 5 p.m.

Last week it was reported that the races would be held at the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club. Due to some legal entanglements, the course has been reset on Townsend Lake, just behind Harvey's Country Kitchen. Parking is available at the Sportsmen's Club on Waterford Road. Refreshments will be served on the premises.

A change has also been made in the price of admission. The corrected price will be $1 charged for each person.

The Clarkston Jaycees' committee is headed by John Jones and he is assisted by Gerald Hennig and Harold Morgan.

While most drivers are expected to be experienced racers who will represent various manufacturers, registrations are open to the public.

Jaycees honor bosses tonight

WXYZ Radio personality Dick Purtan will address the Clarkston Jaycees at their Bosses' Night banquet on Thursday, Jan. 21.

Purtan's quick wit and sense of humor will be featured in his appearance before the Jaycees.

Two special awards are made on Bosses' Night.

The boss who best supports the aims of his Jaycee employee is recognized.

The second presentation is the Distinguished Service award and is presented to the young man of this area, between the age of 21 and 35, who has contributed the most to his community during the past year.

A few tickets to the all-male banquet are still available to the public at Ronk's or Gordie's Barber Shops.

Wolves dump Kettering fall to Milford

had 16 points and 18 rebounds.

***

In the Milford game, the Wolves JV took an early lead and held it in their 62-56 victory over the Redskins.

Dave Partlo led scoring with 22 points and Larry Miracle added another 15.

Miracle and Partlo combined for 25 rebounds.

JV Wolves have a 6-2 season record.

Coach Pierson, in predicting the outcome of the January 22 game with Brighton, said, "We are looking to win but anticipate trouble on the Brighton court."

JV starts at 6:30 and is followed immediately by the Varsity game.

By Craig Moore
The Clarkston Wolves dumped Waterford Kettering's Captains 79-73 on Tuesday, Jan. 12 in a game filled with fouls and turnovers.

Kettering committed 27 turnovers, hit only 15 of 38 foul shots, fouled out 2 of their big board men and fell as a result.

With 2:50 left in the game, Clarkston was trailing by 2 points. A 5th foul on Kettering's Jeff Hurd sent him to the bench to join big captain Terry Weiss.

After that, several turnovers were all that Clarkston needed to pull the game out of the fire.

Don Brown, who topped Clarkston scoring with 26 points, also pulled 12 from the boards. Gary White added 21 points and another 12 rebounds.

The Waterford victory gave the team a 4-3 season record.

"Our inability to hit the close shot when we needed it and to be consistent at the foul line cost us the Milford game," commented coach Hanson on the January 15, 65-59 upset.

Milford's Redskins led the entire game, but survived a fourth quarter scare when the stubborn Clarkston Wolves narrowed the gap to just 4 points. The biggest lead Milford had during the whole game was 10 points.

Clarkston controlled the boards, but didn't score the points that counted.

Don Brown had 22 points and 16 rebounds and Clarkston's Gary White swept 10 from the boards.

The loss evened the Wolves' season record to 4-4.

Coach Hanson expects a tough game when the team travels to Brighton January 22.

The Clarkston Wolves JV shook Kettering 71-60 and took Milford 62-56.

By the first quarter's end, Clarkston established a 16-8 lead over Kettering. At the half the Wolves increased their advantage to 38-26.

A third quarter mental lapse allowed the Kettering Captains a slim 44-43 edge for the third quarter score.

The Wolves rallied and finished it off 71-60.

Bill Hamilton scored 18 points and grabbed 23 rebounds, while Larry Miracle

Wrestlers roll past undefeated Brighton

DUAL MEET

Clarkston 25 - Brighton 23.

"Beautiful, I knew they could do it," was the comment of happy coach Dick Moscovic. His team had just rolled past undefeated Brighton (7-0) in the final match to win a very important league meet.

The wrestlers started the score rolling with 100 pounder Mike Packer's 16-2 decision. Mike Seaton at 107 outpointed his man 11-4 and Rick Detkowski, 114 pounds, won a close one.

The next match at 121 was dropped, but Kirk Dougherty roared back at 128 to a decision, 11-7. The next four matches were lost - 1 decision, three falls.

Then Al Knake at 169 won a rare 5 pointer when his man was disqualified after accumulating 5 rule infractions.

Mark Willis ripped through an 8-1 decision at 187 pounds and Mark Hoxsie picked up the key pin in the first period at heavyweight.

The matmen are now 2-2 in conference competition with a clean shot at the title if they stay sharp. With 3 league clashes to go, Kettering is next on the list in a home meet on Thursday, Jan. 21.

There is a non-league dual on Tues., Jan. 19 at home, with Rochester Adams.

TOURNAMENT

Clarkston's matmen wrestled in their 6th tournament of the season when they traveled to Fenton for a tough 8 school clash on Sat., Jan. 17. Three of the 8 teams entered are ranked in the state polls - producing stacked brackets - 3 and even 4 good wrestlers in nearly every weight class.

The Clarkston team finished 5th overall with a mere 6 points separating third, fourth and fifth places, and jumped back on the winning wagon with 2 individual champions.

Mike Packer, returning tourney champion at 100 pounds, wrestled in a class with 4 good wrestlers. He pinned his first man easily in the first period, but had to really produce to decision a tough Madison boy in his second match. He captured his 2nd Fenton Invitational championship when he charged through an overtime to decision a Haslett opponent.

Mike is now 23-1 for the season, winning 5 of the 6 tournaments entered, with 1 second place on record.

Allen Knake, wrestling in the 169 pound class, quickly pinned his 1st man, decisioned his 2nd man handily (18-2) and was busy working on a first period fall in the finals when his Fenton opponent became sick. Al walked off the mat champion.

Knake was out of action for 2 weeks with ankle problems, but looked tough in his first post-holiday tournament appearance.

Rick Detkowski at 114 pounds, scored a first round decision, a semi-final fall and entered the finals against a fine Flint wrestler to capture the second place silver with the final match decisioned against him. This was Rick's third tourney championship match. He has won two. His won-lost now stands at 18-4.

Clarkston had team points added when Mark Hoxsie, heavyweight, won sharply in the consolations for the third place bronze medal. Kirk Dougherty, failing to make weight at 121 pounds, jumped to 134 and did a fine job finishing fourth. Brian Knake was fourth at 140 pounds, winning 2 and losing 2 for the day.

Clarkston's next tournament is their own 8 school invitational in the high school gym on Jan. 30. Preliminaries begin at 11 a.m., with action until about 5 p.m. The finals start at 7 p.m. There will be 96 wrestlers with 12 champions to be crowned.

This tournament will provide an opportunity for the community to see the team in action, and they may stop by to watch at their convenience.

Wolverines

still undefeated

By Lynn Surre

The Clarkston Wolverines, still undefeated this season, won 2 games at home last week. They swept past Brighton, 79-66 and Byron, 76-54.

In both games, the Wolverines again showed their ability to fight back. Trailing in both contests, they rallied back to win in the 4th quarter.

Baby Sitting

These days, baby sitting is an important job.

It is often a necessity to young parents who need an occasional night out. And for teenagers, it reflects the extra responsibility and trust that comes with the extra spending money.

However, there are aspects of baby sitting that shouldn't be overlooked, Dr. Willard R. Lenz of the Detroit Health Department recently noted in "Health" magazine.

1.) Ask the child's mother for explicit instructions on any schedule to be followed. Also, before the parents leave, learn your way around the house and where things are. Write down the phone number where the parents can be reached, and have other emergency numbers handy: police, fire, family doctor.

2.) Let your own family know where you are and when to expect you home. Arrange in advance to be escorted home after dark.

3.) Don't entertain friends while baby sitting, without permission. Don't turn on the radio, TV or phonograph full blast - you might not be able to hear the baby if he cries.

4.) Watch little children when they are near windows, stairs, light plugs or cords, stoves or hot radiators.

5.) Be sure a child can't reach matches or poisonous substances of any kind. Keep small and sharp objects out of reach; small children have a tendency to put such objects in their mouths.

6.) Cancel a baby sitting engagement if you are ill, especially if you have a cold or are coming down with one.

Mrs. Janice Kukar, Home Economist from MSU's Extension Service, sent us this thought. It was originally printed in a Tampa, Florida newspaper.

A New Year a new chance

Traditionally, beginnings are hopeful events. Birth is a time of dedication and "another chance" is the time for determination.

In the United States we give the birth of a New Year greater significance than they do in many other countries. In England, for example, people go to the office just as if their lives were not being given new purpose. We don't do it that way. We make merry, and then we get maudlin as the strains of Auld Lang Syne fill us with fierce determination to get thinner, quit smoking, be nicer and generally shape up. It is hogwash much of the time and the determination to be a better person slips away as the hangover moves in. But, sometimes it does work. Sometimes resolutions are kept. I would like to suggest a resolution, since the time is close. Perhaps this one will be one that works.

I, (fill in your own name), acknowledge my responsibility as a member of the human race. I accept the fact that my inherited characteristics are potentially richer than those of any creature we know. I appreciate the fact that the genes of man have, and can again produce genius. My blood is the blood of Beethoven and Goethe.

I, as an individual, am but one of many and have a responsibility to all who share my time and all who will come after us. I am also, as part of a continuing life experience, employed by the past as its custodian. No matter what I do or fail to do in life, I am a fragment of history and must be judged as such.

These things I acknowledge and so I resolve to care; to care about my custodianship and how well I do that job, to care for the dreams of the future that lived in the hearts of those who went before me and created me, to care about the judgment of history when it shall fall upon me and to care deeply for the welfare of my children, and theirs, and theirs and all that shall be generations far beyond the reach of my

"If It Fitz . . ."

Dr Welby isn't real

By Jim Fitzgerald

The doctors in my favorite town have dropped out of the Blue Shield insurance program because, they say, they want to charge their patients more money than Blue Shield will allow.

At first glance, such un sentimental greed would appear shocking enough to knock Dr Marcus Welby's assistant off his motorcycle.

Frankly, I didn't know doctors charged money for their services. I am a fan of Dr Welby on channel 7, The Bold Ones on channel 4, and Medical Center on channel 2.

These doctors work almost exclusively for poor people. Their customers are usually ragged and always black, Mexican or semi-illiterate Appalachian Caucasian. Most often, these unfortunate patients have bad coughs and dizzy spells which are diagnosed between the 1st and 2nd commercials — "We won't know what it is for sure until we've run a few tests." It's a brain tumor. Elaborate surgery is performed successfully and another healthy body is returned to the ghetto.

Not once have I heard one of those fine doctors say, "That'll be $1,102.50, Jose." And whenever Jose mumbles something about being broke, the doctor always says, "Don't worry about it, Jose. Just invite me to your daughter's wedding and give me a glass of homemade wine."

So, when I heard why our doctors had quit Blue Shield, I phoned my friend, Dr Redblanket, who recently retired and moved into a big-city hotel which he owns (the hotel, not the city, I think). "What's this nonsense about doctors charging money to save lives?" I asked him. "Just last night I watched Dr Welby, with needle in hand, chase a man 55 miles up a mountain to give him a shot and prevent a VD epidemic. Welby didn't charge that man 1 cent." "That's only on TV," my heart and they will be as much my creation as my own immediate children. Without me, they could never be, and that carries awesome responsibility.

And so I do resolve to care. I shall care what the world will be like when I am done with it. I shall care what animals survive me as species intact and what real resources there are left for the future to hold in trust. And by caring I shall become immortal for my stamp will be on all time.

Some people care

SOME PEOPLE DO 24
18 January, 1971

Dear Editor:

Recently a family in our Clarkston area was in desperate need of help. As in the past, some organizations and people of our community jumped in and gave a very needed hand. It is good to know that not all of our local organizations in Clarkston are not just social or prestige clubs, but clubs and people that care about other people.

A big THANKS to Campbell Richmond Post 63 of the American Legion, the Clarkston Rotary Anns, Clarkston Area Jaycees, Oakland County Veterans Trust Fund, McGill & Son, Earl M. Davis, and a Clarkston merchant for their prompt (no excuses) reply to a call for help.

It is my hope that the people of this area will support these people and organizations in all they do. THEY CARE ABOUT YOU, LET'S CARE ABOUT THEM!

Thanks again

them with other classes.

There are no up-to-date films at the junior high, but the wrestling team looked great in their new uniforms and warm-ups.

An elementary art department? Never. Cultural trips in our new buses - that would rival the DSR? Never.

The new administration building has heated sidewalks to keep off the snow, but the language department at the junior high consists of one choice - German. A French or Spanish teacher costs money, you know.

Many of our dedicated teachers hold curriculum meetings on their own time to try to upgrade the quality of the educational system, but they know that their recommendations will come in a poor second to the athletic needs. If you're not a coach, forget it. Satisfy the town with bread and circuses.

At this rate, we should graduate many superb athletes from the Clarkston School System.

Interesting.

Dear Editor:

Among my neighbors are many who are very vocal about the lack of recreational facilities in our community.

It was with great shock that I looked up and down my street yesterday and discovered that only one other house than mine had glass waiting to be picked up.

Carolyn Place said to the residents of Independence Twp., "Save your trash glass for the special pick ups and we can get as much as $20,000 a year for recreational purposes."

Mrs. Place has put many, many hours into this project as have many others - why have citizens been too selfish to take part? They will enjoy the end results.

Dear Editor,

Our Clarkston Board of Education seems to be suffering from a "Priority Gap." With four children in the system, I was very interested in the fact that our 5th grade band program was discontinued because of lack of funds. At the same meeting, it was decided to spend $1,500 for an exercise machine for our pampered athletes.

Many of our students are still using "old" math textbooks (some as old as the students), but the wrestling team needed new mats.

Have you checked out your children's textbooks lately? Many cannot bring them home because they have to share

Ask local support of Midget Football

On Wednesday, January 6, a meeting of parents and boys was held at the Clarkston High School cafeteria concerning midget league football. This was the third meeting in connection with the attempt to secure a football franchise in the Suburban Midget Football Conference for boys, aged 9-12, in the Clarkston Community School District.

At this meeting, Richard Heath, President of the Independence Township Athletic Association, explained the football program. There will be 3 teams composed of about 40 boys on each team. Boys are placed on teams in relationship to both age and weight.

The first major project to obtain funds to finance the program will be a raffle of 2 television sets and 3 other prizes.

This drawing will take place on Thursday, Feb. 25, coinciding with a family roller skating party which will be held at the Rolladium Skate Club from 7:30 p.m.

The skating party is open to all families in the Clarkston Community School District.

1 teaspoon instant minced onion
1 16 oz. can sauerkraut, well drained and chopped
1 12 oz. can corned beef
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup all-purpose flour
½ cup evaporated milk
¾ cup fine dry bread crumbs
Salad oil

Combine cream cheese and onion. Add sauerkraut, corned beef and the ¼ cup bread crumbs; mix well. Shape into 1 inch balls. Roll in flour; dip in milk, then in the remaining ¾ cup bread crumbs.

Pour salad oil into fondue cooker to no more than ½ capacity or to depth of 2 inches. Heat over range to 375 degrees. Add 1 teaspoon salt. Transfer cooker to fondue burner. Have appetizers at room temperature in serving bowl. Spear with fondue fork; fry in hot oil for 1 to 2 minutes. Transfer to dinner fork before eating. Makes about 100 appetizers.

CHOCOLATE FONDUE

6 1-oz. squares unsweetened chocolate
1½ cups sugar
1 cup light cream
½ cup butter or margarine
1/8 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons creme de cacao, creme de menthe or orange-flavored liqueur.

In saucepan melt chocolate over low heat. Add sugar, cream, butter and salt. Cook, stirring constantly, about 5 minutes or 'til thickened. Stir in liqueur. Pour into fondue pot; place over fondue burner. Spear dipper with fondue fork; dip in sauce. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Suggested dippers: angel cake, pound cake, apples, maraschino cherries, marshmallows, bananas, pineapple cubes, large nuts, etc.

Be sure all dippers are well drained and at room temperature.

One more variation is to eliminate the liqueur and add just ½ cup of sugar and ½ cup of milk to the melted chocolate, then add ½ cup of chunk style peanut butter. Mix well and put in fondue pot over burner.

Ann's tour Crippled children's home

The Rotary Ann's of Clarkston have shown keen interest in the Oakland County Crippled Children's Home over the past years.

Next week the group plans to visit the home and see the facility that their numerous activities have helped support.

The highlight of their trip through the home will be demonstrations of techniques and various forms of therapy used in the treatment of children.

The program committee extends an invitation to all wives of Rotarians, whether they belong to the Ann's organization or not, to attend the tour.

The village parking lot on Washington and Main will be the meeting place. The time is set for 7:30 p.m. on January 26.

After the completion of the tour, Mrs. Vera Denne and Mrs. Margaret Vollbach, hostesses for the evening, will serve dessert and coffee.

Mrs. Thomas C. Smallwood

Exchange vows at Clarkston Methodist

Terrie Lynn Gates became the bride of SF 3 Thomas Clark Smallwood in a candlelight ceremony on December 19 at the Clarkston United Methodist Church.

The bride was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gates of Elmdale and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac C. Smallwood, Jr. of Flint.

Rev. Frank A. Cozadd performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with pink and white daisy poms.

The bride's floor length gown was of white satin trimmed with pink rosebuds and Venetian lace. The gown featured a chapel train. Her three tiered veil of silk illusion was held by a matching headpiece and she carried a full cascade of white and pink roses and stephanotis.

Cheryl Goines of Drayton Plains was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Pam Gerber and Mrs. Douglas Conklin of Pontiac.

The maids were identically gowned in gowns featuring a ruby velvet bodice and pink crepe skirt and sleeves. They carried velvet muffs with pink daisy poms trimming the muffs and fashioning their headbands.

Cousins of the bride, Penny Carter and Scott Redenius, both of Pontiac, were the flower girl and ringbearer.

The best man duties were performed by Jerry Cox. Tom Gates, Craig Hutchins, Charles Flora and Eugene Thomas seated the guests.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Clarkston.

After a northern Michigan honeymoon the couple spent the holidays with their parents in Michigan and then left for California, where the groom is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

Engaged

The engagement of Diane M. Shane to Paul M. Stupka is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Max G. Shane of Ellis Road. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew P. Stupka of Yorba Linda Drive, Royal Oak.

The bride attended Western Michigan University and her fiance is a senior at Wayne State University. June 25th has been set for the wedding date.

Around the town

Bid fond farewell

by Donna Fahrner

The Clarkston Jaycee Exhausted Roosters Club held a dinner at the Clarkston Cafe on Wednesday, January 13. The guests of honor were John and Kathleen Heald of Sally Road, who with their family will be leaving Clarkston early in February. Utica, New York will be their new home. They were presented with a gift and a Proclamation, making them honorary members of the Clarkston Roosters. Best of luck to you, Healds.

***

The Clarkston Cafe was a popular spot for celebrations on January 13. Enjoying dinner were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. Harold Ford. It was a birthday for Virginia Leonard and an anniversary for the Andersons. What birthday, we will never know, but the anniversary

(according to Mr. Anderson) was number 106. Really now, Jerry, Olga doesn't look that old.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Lawrence (Sandra Barrie) of 6210 Waldon Rd. have a new little girl at their house. Lisa Lynn arrived on January 7 weighing 7 lbs., 3 oz. She was welcomed home by big brother, Jeffery, age 4 and sister Julie, age 2. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Barrie and Mrs. Audrey Lawrence of Pontiac. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Percy Grey of Livonia.

***

Mrs. Donald Hughson of Heath is recuperating at home after her stay in Pontiac General Hospital. I know she would enjoy hearing from her friends.

***

The Jaycettes are collecting books, new and used, for the unwed mothers' library at the YWCA. They are interested in books on child care, child development, nutrition, dictionaries and any good reading for teenage girls. If you have some books you would like to donate please call Mrs. Jerry Powell, 625-2329, Mrs. Donald Hamaker, 625-4041, or drop them off at the Clarkston News office.

***

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Erickson (Jan Sokol) on the birth of Brad Alan on January 12. He weighed 9 lbs., 3 oz. and was greeted on his arrival home by 3 sisters and 1 brother. Jan is a former resident of Clarkston now living in Lathrup Village.

***

Friends of Mrs. Mae Hood of Kansas City, Missouri will be saddened by her death on Jan. 15. She is survived by Paul Hood of Clarkston, Russell Hood of Kansas City and 6 grandchildren. Mrs. Hood was a frequent visitor in Clarkston and made many friends here.

***

Students at Central Michigan University who have been home since December 18 for Christmas and semester ending, have returned to school and the beginning of a new semester. Among those from Clarkston are Jane Morse, Molly Lynch, Charles Horsch, Dan Hallman, John Craven and Tammy Mahar. After a month's vacation you should be all ready to really hit those books.

Packer heads NHS

Helping a needy child to have a happy Christmas and sponsoring the annual Slave Day and Sadie Hawkins Dance are only 2 of the many activities that the CHS Y-Teens take part in promoting. Sponsored by Miss Joanne Paradiso, the Y-Teens meet every other Wednesday after school. The officers of the club are Dienne Weeks, president; Kay Beattie, vice president; Connie Rembach, secretary and Sue Carlson, treasurer.

The Y-Teens would like to remind all girls to keep their eyes wide open for likely prospects. Remember, the Sadie Hawkins Dance is on February 13, and since this isn't a leap year, this may be your only chance to catch a man!

The girls' basketball team opened their season on a high note with an overwhelming defeat of Waterford Township. The JV won with a score of 42-6 and the varsity topped their opponents with a score of 47-17. And here's a special note for Coach Modesitt: Did you hear about the overworked mathematician? He died of a corollary attack.

The two teams will meet Rochester High on January 15.

***

A meeting of the Clarkston chapter of the National Honor Society was held on Tuesday, January 12, and the following officers were elected: Mike Packer, president; Carolyn Jorgensen, vice president and Pat Saile, secretary. NHS is sponsored by Mrs. Helen Pasineau.

Briefly told

The only Shakespearean play to be staged at Oakland University this season will be "The Merchant of Venice." It will be presented by the Academy of Dramatic Arts' Studio Company in the new Studio Theatre Jan. 27 through 30 and Feb. 3 through 6.

A number of innovations will mark the production, among them the construction of the new theatre's first permanent set which will be a modified replica of the old Globe Theatre in London where Shakespeare's plays first were performed. Featured will be a thrust stage, two-story towers with flags flying, a balcony and a backdrop depicting the city of Venice.

***

The Department of Music at Oakland University will present tenor Richard Conrad in recital on Sunday, Jan. 24 at 3 p.m. in the recital hall of the new Performing Arts Building on the Rochester campus. There is no admission charge.

An exponent of the tenor coloratura repertoire, Conrad will sing music by Bach and Handel, with accompaniment on baroque instruments of the composers' day.

***

T. J. Rademacher, Tom Rademacher Chev-Olds, Inc., Clarkston, attended Oldsmobile's Detroit Zone Dealer Council in Southfield, Michigan on January 11.

The meeting was intended to strengthen communication between the factory and its 3,500-member dealer network.

***

The January meeting of the Clarkston Community Women's Club will be held at the Independence Township Library on January 28 at 8 p.m. The women will tour the new library following their business meeting.

Takes part in co-op program

A Clarkston area student is participating in the earning-while-learning cooperative education program of Michigan Tech University's College of Engineering.

John D. MacGregor of Clarkston, a junior majoring in mechanical engineering, is spending the winter quarter on the job with the Ford Motor Company, Livonia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Herman, 6969 Almond Lane.

The program enables students to gain insight into their vocational choices so that they can more readily decide where their actual job interests lie, explained Dr. James A. Kent, dean of the College of Engineering. Also important is the financial opportunity which is not available in most college programs, he added. The co-op program began in 1969 and now has more than 70 sponsoring industries.

Tex

(conclusion)

By Haslett Hemmor

Little old Tex Bachman being the only one of our mechanics that don't complain when he gits a truck job, old Wilkinson gives him all the big equipment stuff that comes in our garage.

Not that Tex is really little. He's what you'd call maybe normal average, but it still gits me to call a guy "Tex" that's only about my height and heft.

Last week Thursday was the big snow. Laid down twelve and a half inches in town and we got a couple more out at our place.

Plowing out snow is about the only time I use my big old farm tractor. Got a mower, but it's getting so she's got to be welded up again near every time I knock down a bunch of weeds. Probable save time to go out with a hand-operated hedge clipper, Eff tells me every time the old girl breaks down.

Tractor's been pretty reliable, though. Bought it at an auction fifteen, sixteen year back when I foolish bid thinking it had to go for a whole lot more.

Bragged on what a shrewd buy I'd made. "Picked it up for only $525," I told a couple friends. "Worth a good thousand of anybody's dough."

'Course Effie knew we didn't really have no need for a tractor and didn't let up on how I opened up my fat trap once too often, but anyway it's come in mighty handy plenty of times. Got us out one time when I plowed clean down to the main road. County truck didn't come by for two days. Had a toothache, too.

So after the big snow last Thursday night I climb up into the iron saddle, real confident that I'm going to do a big plowing job. Maybe even clean out that long Henderson drive across the road. He's been sickly.

Old girl whines and grunts and wheezes, but she does start. Trouble is I can't git her in gear no way. Even shut it off and try slipping it into first or second but no soap. Shut off, she will go into third but sure won't plow fourteen inches in third. Stalls out pulling herself with the plow up.

Natural, old Eff starts yammering about what a great buy I made at the auction. Won't pay no mind when I say let's look at fifteen years of good reliable service.

For once, the County truck comes by right soon and I bust over to the tractor dealership to try to git a service man out. They just shake their heads and tell me that when the gears go bad it's a big overhaul job. "Got to bring it in" they say, "no outside adjustment like a clutch or nothing. Got to split the whole thing in two to git at the trouble. Two, maybe three hundred dollar job."

So I say forgit it. Not worth that much. And I go back to work. Just happen to git to talking to Tex about it.

"Maybe I'll slip out tonight and take me a peek at the old girl," Tex says. And sure enough, he comes out about nine that night.

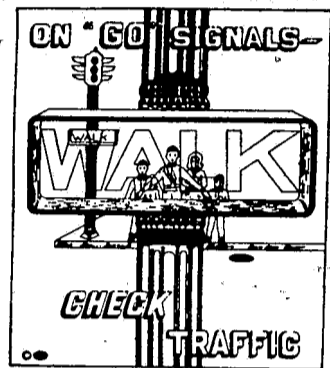

"Where's she at?" he asks me. "Beyond the shed, there," I say. "I'll git you a flashlight but I'm going to have to put some batteries in. Wore out."

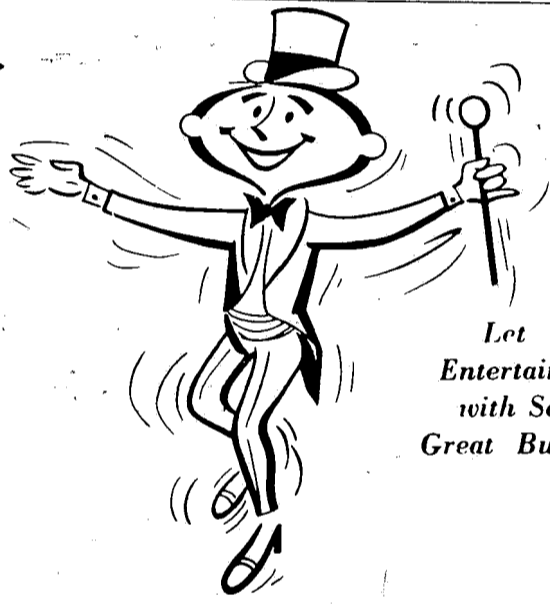

By the time I find the batteries and git them put in, Tex is coming back from behind the shed. "Should do it," he says. "Try her out."

That old tractor shifted like a champ. Ask Tex what he did and he says he just tightened her up a little. Says he don't know just what helped but wasn't much.

Dealer tells me I'm an out and out liar and that old Tex couldn't of done nothing without tearing her down. So I got what he calls a "very fertile imagination." All I know is that Tex didn't do much and didn't take no time at all, but she sure shifts fine now.

From Clarkston

Airbags not answer, Chrysler engineer

By Jim Sherman

"Almost all injuries in auto accidents are unnecessary." That was the statement Roy Haeusler, 7031 Hillside Drive, Clarkston, made to the Oxford Rotarians at their regular meeting last week.

The chief engineer of Chrysler Corporation's auto safety and security department said it was "ridiculous" that lap and shoulder belts are not being used by everyone. The use of belts would practically eliminate injuries.

Haeusler said the auto companies were under pressure to come up with something better, he called them "passive restraints" for passengers. "Thirty percent (50 million) use the belts, but that's not enough," he said.

The companies have to come up with something "automatic" to please legislators, Haeusler explained.

What form these automatic restraints might take is being worked on by the auto companies and suppliers. Haeusler mentioned more padded, wrap around seats, pop-up on impact head restraints, air bags inflatable on impact and helmets.

Protecting the head is the main concern, the engineer said. Head injuries in auto accidents are the major cause of epilepsy.

Of the air bags, Haeusler told the group it was very exciting to hear them explode when set off by impact. The bags inflate and deflate in a half-second.

The objections auto companies have to the bags are at least two-fold. A rolling car may be jostling the passenger about for five seconds, 4½ after the balloon deflates, and people may neglect using seat belts and rely entirely on the air bag to protect them.

"Air bags might be good for a supplement, but not as a replacement for belts," Haeusler stated.

He said the Traffic Safety Council has been especially slow in promoting the use of seat belts. The Chrysler representative also said it might be well if elected officials wore them as an example.

***

Haeusler was also in favor of standardizing bumpers on cars with shock absorbing features. He called it "compromising style for safety," which he said needed across the board approval of the auto makers.

Another important traffic safety device Haeusler asked for would be removing the habitual drinking driver from our roads.

Fifty percent of highway fatalities are caused by the drinking driver, he told the club.

Generalities

by Shel George

Periodically I listen very carefully to conversation. It is amazing and quite funny to hear vague answers given to specific questions. Outwardly these answers seem to be accepted because the conversation goes on.

In the comic strip "Peanuts," Lucy often chides the other characters about "glimmering generalities."

In one recent episode Charlie Brown was complaining.

"What's wrong?" asked Lucy.

"Everything," replied Charlie Brown.

"Be specific," said Lucy.

"I am," retorted Charlie.

One day last week I was working on business problems that involved some elementary math. On one occasion I asked our secretary, "What's half of 57?" her instant reply was "Twenty something."

If you're not big on accuracy, that was an o.k. answer of the general nature.

I read an article recently dealing with the accuracy of public opinion polls. The conclusion was that in most polls "twenty-three per cent of the people are seventy-three per cent correct." I can vouch for that.

The epitome of generalities came to me recently in a conversation with a friend.

This man is the personnel director of a small company. Part of his duties involve hiring of new employees. A job in plant security opened, and the personal references listed by the applicants were contacted.

One former employer must have stayed awake nights to come up with his comments. No doubt he wanted to be honest and yet not hinder the applicant's chance of being hired.

Under the heading on the application blank marked "Comments — other," here's what he said.

"When you come to know this man as I know him, you will come to feel about him as I feel about him."

Therefore, anyway and too!

Do Something

Do Something, you've got a lot to live - you've got a lot to give. CONCLUSION by Edgar Guest states:

You are the fellow that has to decide Whether you'll do it or toss it aside.
You are the fellow who makes up your mind
Whether you'll lead or will linger behind,
Whether you'll try for the goal that's afar,
Or just to be contented to stay just where you are.
Take it or leave it, here's something to do.
Just think it over - it's up to YOU!

Just think it over. During your lifetime you will have 212,000 hours of leisure time. Why not volunteer some of it? Why not get others in the community to do the same. DO SOMETHING.

"DO SOMETHING" is the main project, goal, interest and purpose of the Jaycees. There are many people in the Clarkston community who have these leisure hours also. By filling the needs of the community, others will find that "Service to Humanity is the Best Work of Life." Being a leader for a Cub Scout troop or relieving a mother of her burden of a retarded child for a few hours each week can truly be a "Service to Humanity."

The Clarkston Jaycees in their "DO SOMETHING" program have been involved in such projects as the Drug Abuse program, Village Clean Up, Children's Swimming Program and recently involved in the Bottles for Building and many, many more community projects.

We started this article with the Conclusion, the choice of BEGINNING is yours. THE BEGINNING

You are the person who will have to lead
A program of involvement that your community needs.

There are several ways to take the first step,
But make sure you are willing to accept.

There will be things you cannot foresee,
But this is no problem for a Michigan Jaycee.

At the end of the work you will say to yourself

We did something to give our community civic good health.
DO SOMETHING - become involved!!

Spiritual Message

PRAY WITHOUT CEASING

L. E. Ehmcke, Pastor

We are in the midst of the World Week of Prayer. This means that all around our globe, people are praying in churches, homes, autos, closets, everywhere; and for this specific week, a united prayer thrust is evidenced.

In the promises of prayer, and repeatedly through the Scriptures, we find that God teaches men to pray. Jesus, in preparing the disciples for his death in St. John 15:7, recognizes their need to ask, yea almost makes it an imperative, when He says "Ye SHALL ask what ye will," and then goes on to promise an answer by concluding, "and it shall be done unto you." It ought to encourage our hearts just to know He expects us to come to Him in prayer.

Dr. Samuel Chadwick in his book, "The Path of Prayer," speaks of the conversion of Saul in Acts 9, and states there are three persons in the instance of prayer.

1. The man who prayed. (Saul)
2. The God who answered.
3. The man through whom the answer came. (Ananias)

In the activity of prayer, God may use you in either the first or third category. Even though He may use human instruments, it is always God who answers.

Perhaps today God wants you to be the one who offers the petition, while tomorrow you may be the one through whom He would send an answer to someone else's prayer. It is important that you and I be in position to know what God desires of us.

Always remember, God joyously wants to answer your prayer. It is Christ himself who says, "Ask, and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find..."

"Yes, He answers prayer today in the same old-fashioned way He will grant us our petition if we really pray.

He will hear us when in trouble, and will lift the load of care,

Yes, the God of battles hears, and answers prayer."

Les Miserables

(Miserable ones)

by Jean Sura

Pregnancy has taken over on the "soap operas." I know at first hand.

I was on a "do-it-yourself" cure for the miseries last week - drinking lots of fruit juice and getting bed rest - so I did a little channel flipping between naps.

There is a girl on one program that I am so worried about I may quit my job just to see how she gets out of her mess.

It seems that this poor girl is very pregnant. Her husband is delighted about the whole thing. But - in one segment of the show she was talking to her father-in-law.

"I don't know why you don't hate me after what I have done to your daughter."

"Hm-mm-ph, well, my dear, I must look at the side of the coin that shows you are the wife of my son."

"Do you mean that you can find it in your heart to forgive me?"

"Hm-mm-mm-mm-ph, well, yes my dear. By the way, your mother is dying."

"Oh," said she, clutching her baby-to-be, "Oh no. Mother told me I had to confess to Chuck, my husband, that this was Bill's baby."

And then she cried and sobbed for the rest of the allotted time.

Well, that was like giving a shot of booze to an alcoholic. I had to have more so I was back again at the appointed hour the next day.

It seems that this pretty, little innocent looking girl with the dying mother had gotten pregnant by a married man and then had married the brother of the man's wife.

Only, she happened to forget to tell the guy that she was going to have a baby and it wasn't his.

Got it? Take it slow. It'll come.

By this time all the king's horses couldn't have dragged me away from the set. It ran through my head, "It's no wonder that kids' noses run and cakes get burned with this kind of drama just a switch away."

Anyway, for the next few days the girl cried a lot and I cried a lot. When her husband finally guessed what she was saying through her sobs, you should have seen him act. He wiggled muscles in his face I never knew were there. He pounded a lot of tables and finally, as I left them, they were both crying. I left because I needed another handkerchief.

Do you suppose they advertise for a girl when casting the play, "Must be four months pregnant or want to get that way?"

You men who put in a flimsy day at the office ought to be a little considerate of your wives when you get home.

You think it's easy taking care of a house, husband, kids and worrying about all those poor little girls, their babies and dying mothers to boot.

Clarkston members of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America are busy completing plans for the Jan. 30 "Parade of Quartets." The program will be held at the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium and will present barbershop quartets of international champion fame. # Bozo, Bottles Blend for Building

Sixteen students, winners in the poster contest sponsored by the "Bottles for Building" committee, appeared on the "Bozo the Clown" program on CKLW-TV on January 13. The show was aired on January 15. After the children told Bozo about the program to collect glass for recycling in Independence Township, Bozo presented them with a bottle to assist the project.

Glass piles up in the railway car on January 16 as Independence Township, under the leadership of Mrs. Caroline Place and the "Bottles for Building" Committee, undertake their first collection of waste glass.
