Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

We're attempting to put together a booklet extolling the virtues of our publications and telling the production story behind each issue. A part of the booklet may carry some publisher's notes on his newspaper experiences.

Reviewing what I might write, the thought crossed my mind that readers may want to know what I like best and dislike most about this business. They may not either, but it is interesting drawing my own conclusions.

I don't find anything competing for top "like" spot with a compliment. A section of ads, a hundred new subscribers, smooth running equipment, happy personnel, even planning a new building doesn't stimulate me like someone saying a kind word.

Thankfully, there are many people who will take the time to call, write or mention an article or ad has pleased them.

What do I dislike most? Proofreading. You probably thought I was going to say criticism. Not so. Even the strongest, unsigned hate letters (and we've received a few) don't bother me like having to read proofs.

It is especially irritating to have to read for errors something that I've written and reread before putting it back for the typesetters.

About criticism... it's not that a caustic word doesn't upset me. It does. I can't say that I in any way enjoy constructive criticism, or agree with those who think this is good. Diplomatic criticism maybe, but let it be very gentle.

Age and experience probably have much to do with our reactions to critical remarks. The mood we're in at the time means something, too.

If words are said in bitterness, I forget them as soon as possible by reasoning out the kind of people who say things like that to a nice guy like me.

If the observation comes with a smile, I chuckle and try to bury my own knife.

If I can see some justification to the criticism, I try to learn from it.

I have not yet learned to stop reading an unsigned letter in the middle and throw it away, but I will.

Last week's storm left a new layer of snow on the Mill Pond dam.

Local soldier receives medal

Albert A. Geoit P.F.C.

Army Private First Class Albert A. Geoit, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Geoit, 5635 Delmas, Clarkston, recently received the combat infantryman badge near Di An, Vietnam.

The badge is a unique and cherished award that is highly coveted by its recipients. The award was originated during World War II to recognize the role of the infantryman.

It can be awarded only to a member of an infantry unit of brigade, regimental or smaller size unit who satisfactorily performed in active ground combat against a hostile force for a period of time.

Pfc. Geoit received the award while assigned to the 3rd squadron of the 17th air cavalry.

Al, or Butch, as he is known at home, is the oldest boy in a family of 14 children. He graduated from CHS in 1968.

He entered the armed forces in June of 1970 and was sent to Vietnam in October.

C.H.S. students sing in all League choir

Nineteen students from Clarkston High School's music department were selected to membership in the Wayne-Oakland County All League Choir.

Other schools represented were: Bloomfield Andover, Brighton, Clarenceville, Milford, Northville and West Bloomfield.

Rehearsals at the individual schools began in fall when music was issued. When each school group had mastered the music, joint rehearsals were scheduled.

On February 18, the all league choir presented their first concert at Brighton. They performed at assemblies at Bloomfield Andover and West Bloomfield on February 23. The last concert of the year was held on February 25 at Northville.

"The anxiety, excitement and resulting friendships have made this a rewarding experience," said Mrs. Pat Race, Clarkston's director.

The group will conclude the year's activities with a large celebration at Brighton this spring.

Trash glass collection March 20

Members of the "Bottles for Building" committee, Mrs. Don Place, Mrs. Jack Belby and Mrs. William Kunse, accompanied Independence Township Supervisor, Gary Stonerock on a visit to the Owens Illinois Glass Co. (O. I.) recycling plant in Charlotte on March 12.

The purpose of the visit was to see at first hand how the trash glass was recycled for further use.

O. I. plant managers welcomed the group and provided them with a tour of the facility. The managers reported that the "Bottles for Building" trash glass collection in Independence Township is the largest community effort of this nature in the state.

On the tour the visitors saw how the worthless glass, called cullet, is added to a batch mix made of sand and soda ash. Though the Charlotte plant is considered of medium size with just 2 furnaces, it can handle up to 100 tons of glass cullet each day. The main products after the reprocessing are soft drink bottles.

The regular monthly pick-up will be held on March 20. The Rotary Club of Clarkston is in charge of this month's collection. Regular collection will begin as usual at 9 a.m.

Residents are reminded to rinse the containers and remove all metal before dividing them by color. The committee requests that plastic containers or boxes be used to place the glass for collection and that paper bags not be used.

Collection will be made in the 28 pick-up areas and there will be 10 drop-off points for those who live outside of these boundaries.

Flyers, listing all points are available by contacting members of the committee.

Citizens who wish to contribute their time and effort are asked to call Man Power Chairman, Tudor ApMadoc at 625-1749; Transportation Chairman, Mrs. Lloyd Bray, 625-2218; Woman Power Chairman, Mrs. Richard Weld, 625-4185; Girl Power Chairman, Mrs. James Easton, 625-3390; or Boy Power Chairman, Roy Fry, 625-1941.

"If you're not part of the solution, you're part of the pollution," said publicity chairman, Mrs. William Kunse. "Please help."

Twp. agenda varied

Take Paramus bids

A wide range of subjects was covered at Tuesday night's Independence Township Board meeting.

Not the least of these was the resignation of Glen Brokenshaw, 5592 Pine Knob Road, from the Planning Commission. He said in his letter that he had to commit more time to study for his work.

On the Paramus area flooding, Supervisor Gary Stonerock said he had been in contact with assistant superintendent Mil Mason and high school principal Bill Dennis concerning run off from school property.

Stonerock said he told them his survey showed the invert southwest of the high school was low enough to help ease the flooding, and the two school representatives said their reports show the invert is too high to help.

Trustee Tom Bullen, who is the contact between the school and township, said, "I still have some optimism we will obtain their cooperation."

Two bids were opened on laying tile in the ditch dug across the Ramon Woodard property, regrading a ditch, opening closed culverts and related work. Lloyd Betts of Holly was the low bidder at $2312.15. This money will be returned to the township general fund once a drainage district is established by the county.

The letter from the Waterford School

District asking twice-a-year tax collections to help schools through the times of year when they ordinarily have to borrow money and pay interest, was rejected by the board. The board felt it would add expense to the township in collections and assessing rolls.

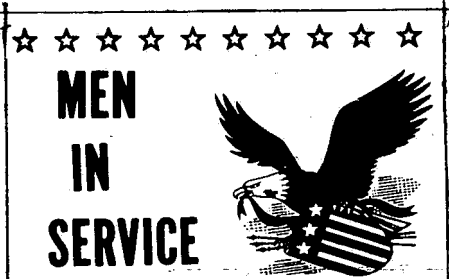

Interim planners have been hired. The firm of Parkins and Rogers, Booker Building, Detroit will work for 3 months on a trial basis for $3900. They will do all the work expected of professional planners. The Planning Commission is going on once-a-week sessions to try to overcome the backlog of questions they face.

The sewer committee has been named... almost. Each township board member has named his choice and one more is to be appointed by the Planning Commission.

The board picked John Lynch, Rick Huttenlocher, Sue Derryberry, Bob Vandermark, and John Adams.

A police study committee is partly named. Three of the six are Lew Wint, Louis Gavar and Mrs. Robert Runkle.

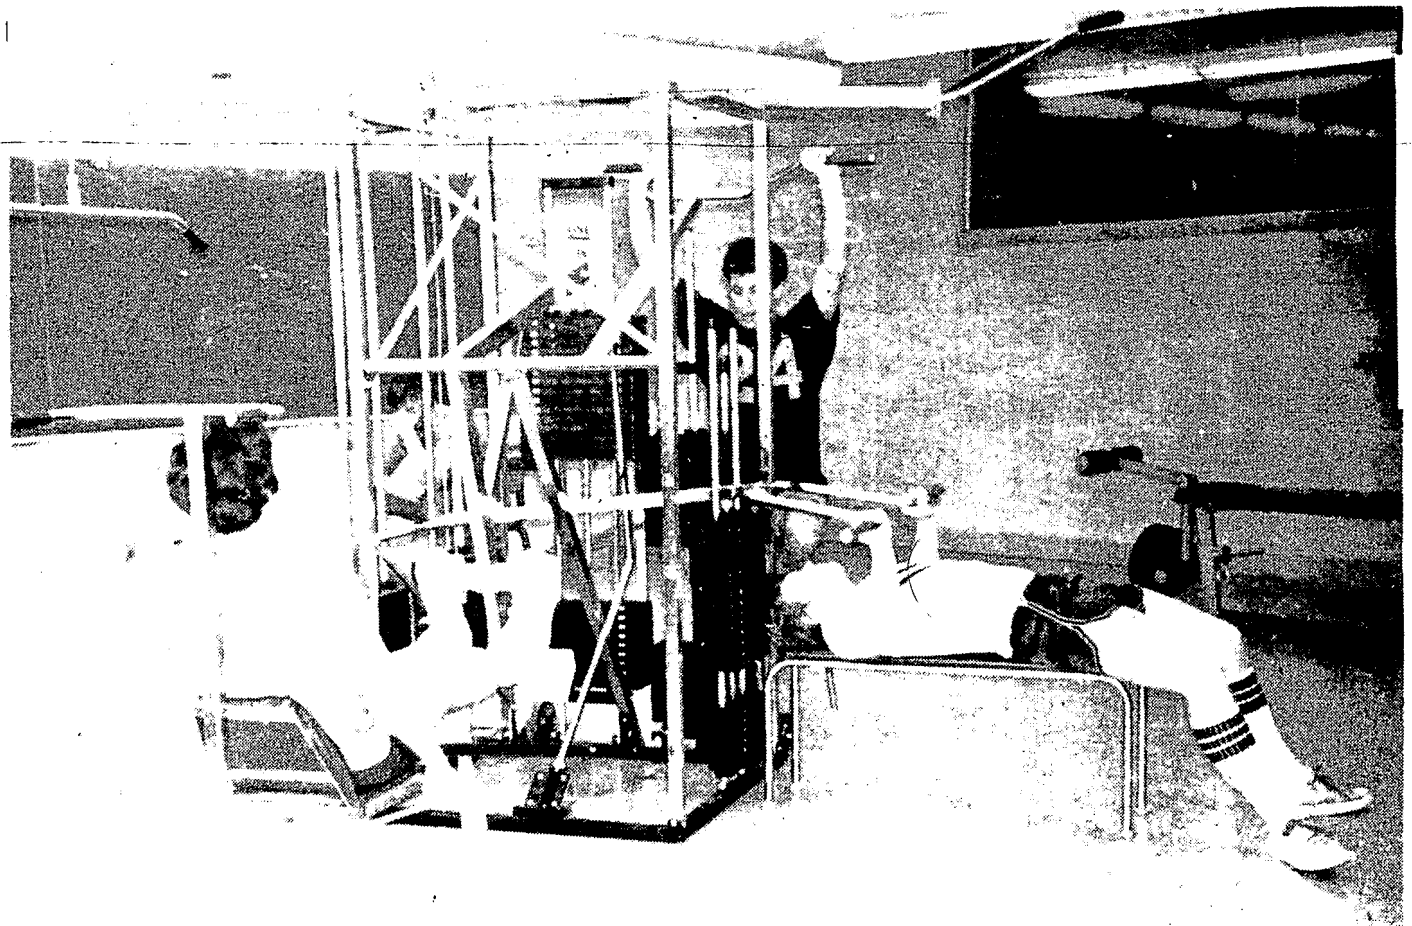

An effort is going to be made, through the new planners, to apply for recreation funds from the state. There are only 2 weeks left to apply. Bullen asked if there had to be a parcel designated for recreation and suggested Waterford Hill Golf Course be named should such a designation be needed.

Marine Pvt. John L. Culvahouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Collin D. Culvahouse of 11350 Andersonville Rd., Davisburg, was graduated from recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego.

Navy Ensign Richard L. Funk, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Funk of 6184 Cramlane Drive, Clarkston, received his commission as Ensign during ceremonies at Naval Officer Candidate School, Newport, R. I.

The new exercise machine has been installed at the Clarkston High School. The machine can process 60 people through an exercise routine in 1 hour. A gift of $1,000 was presented to the school toward the purchase by the Athletic Boosters Club. From left to right, exercisers are Mike Pryomski, Al Watson and Mel Johnson.

Exercise offered in adult ed

The weight and exercise machine that was purchased jointly by the Clarkston Athletic Boosters and the Board of Education has been installed at the High School.

The machine, according to coaches, can exercise 60 students in 1 hour.

Various conditioning programs can be prescribed for any particular sport.

On March 23, the machine will be taken over by the Adult Education Department. An 8-week course will be offered for area residents.

The class will meet each Tuesday and Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m. The charge of $9 will help to defray the cost of the instructor.

Executives, housewives, baseball players, golfers and anyone wishing to get in shape are invited to register on the night of the first meeting.

Are there anymore at home like you?

There was just 1 minute and 27 seconds left on the scoreboard, when the buzzer sounded and number 24, the captain of the team, trotted off the court to the players' bench.

It was March 13, 1971 in the Crisler Arena on the campus of the University of Michigan.

The Wolverines had easily rolled through their last game with Wisconsin to clinch the 2nd place spot in the Big Ten competition and an invitation to the National Invitational Tournament to be played in Madison Square Garden. Already they were rated as the 2nd best team in the school's history.

As number 24 ran off the floor, his teammates gave him affectionate swats, coaches extended their hands and the applause began. And then a near capacity crowd arose and gave Dan Fife a standing ovation. Dan had just completed his final collegiate game.

Tears of pride and affection misted the eyes of Clarkston rooters who have followed his career over the past eight years.

Dan is a hometown boy who made good. He is a hometown boy to be proud of.

"Dugan," as he is known around town, went out in his usual, solid style. He scored 19 points and played his usual aggressive game.

Probably one of the outstanding qualities that he has contributed this year is his handling of the team while on the floor.

Dan takes his position as captain of the squad seriously and it is not uncommon to see him, as he comes down the floor, pointing and positioning his players.

It is moot testament that the squad accept this leadership willingly by the quality and cohesiveness of their play.

There is a slogan that says, "The image of our town begins with me." Dan has taken this challenge. He has done a job not only for his

The soggy pillow

By Jim Fitzgerald

A romantic guy could get his pillow wet.

Stop right there. If you know what the above sentence means, without reading any further, you win a prize. You win the F. Scott Fitzgerald Memorial Trophy, suitably engraved. But it won't be back from the engravers for several weeks. I'll call you.

Scott Fitzgerald was no relative of mine. But he is my favorite novelist. I was hooked by his "The Great Gatsby" many years ago and never shook loose.

Life magazine, and other slick sources, report that this country is currently having a nostalgic fit over the 1920's and 1930's. Ruby Keeler has returned from the dead to tap dance in a Broadway revival of "No, No Nanette," choreography by Busby Berkley, for Lord's sake. There's a W.C. Fields film festival on every channel. And isn't that Ricardo Cortez leering at Delores Del Rio?

I love the memories — and I'm doing my part to keep them alive. Scott Fitzgerald glowed in the 20's, and dimmed in the 30's, always fascinating. So I just read "Zelda," the splendid biography of Fitzgerald's wacky wife, and "The Garden of Allah," the incredible tale of a Hollywood motel written by Sheilah Graham, the gossip columnist who was Fitzgerald's mistress.

Which finally brings us to the subject of the day, that pillow that might have got wet. Here's a paragraph Sheilah wrote about Scott:

family and for himself, but has given the Clarkston community a fine, clean reputation. He has worn a pair of shoes that will be hard to fill.

The challenge to our youth may come from college coaches and faculty.

Are there anymore at home like you?

Thanks, Dan.

Robert Waters has been elected President of Clarkston Village, in the election held on Monday, March 13, 1961.

Mrs. Lee Volberding won the lady's desk at the open house of Gentry's Colonial House. Last weekend was the opening of Gentry's new store specializing in high quality colonial furniture.

The State Highway Department has contacted S. D. Solomon to build the $175,522 grade separation to carry Waldon Rd. over Interstate 75 near Clarkston. Work has already begun on this project.

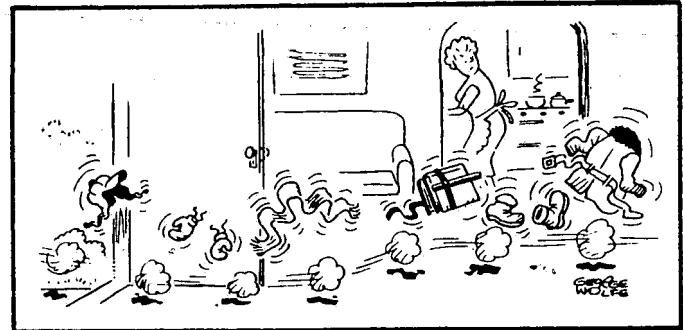

25 YEARS AGO IN THE CLARKSTON NEWS

March 15, 1946

Last Saturday night Independence Township veterans of World War II were welcomed by the Service Mothers of this district at a banquet served in the gymnasium of the Clarkston High School.

Last Sunday afternoon the piano students of Mrs. Charles Mathews were presented in an informal recital at her home. Lanny Leak and Caroline Yoder played two duets with fine performance. They were quite at ease at the piano and their numbers were received with much applause. Others who made the program exceptional were Ann Barrows, John Walter, Phyllis Saxman, Ann Spohn, Mary Porritt, Barbara Rioux, Shirley Terry, Eloise Bradley, Ruth Davies, Adele Thomas, Marjorie Vliet, Katherine LaPlante, Ivan Rouse, Norma Terry, Mary Lou Althouse and Elaine Porritt.

As we write this, the news is that the strike-bound GM plants may soon get into operation. Maybe the long awaited period of plenty may come soon.

ATV's race at Pine Knob

The Grand National All Terrain Vehicle Competition will be held at Pine Knob Ski Resort on Saturday and Sunday, March 20, 21.

There will be 18 heats each day, beginning at 11 a.m.

Of the 400 drivers entered, 17 of the nation's top twenty in point standings are included.

Total prize money amounts to $23,500 — the largest ever in the sport's five-year history.

In addition, there will be All Terrain Vehicles and Trail Bikes awarded on both days as door prizes.

Two events that usually create interest

(apart from the National Open Competition), are the Powder Puff Races and the Under-Sixteen Heats.

Six professional racing teams are coming — The Little Injuns from Pearson, Indiana (that's right, Pearson, Indiana), and the Mississippi Soft Six, captained by millionaire Harrell (Big Tom) Mathis. He made his dough as a "crop-duster pilot," incidentally. Also, Tom Shiflet, the guy who tried to drive a snowmobile from coast-to-coast (until stopped by Mt. Fuji) will be on hand a few days prior.

Admission is $2.00 for adults; children under 12 will be admitted free.

Letters to the editor

Well done

Dear Editor:

I would like to issue a "well done" on your Men in Service Column.

Last month while stopped over in Subic Bay for supplies and repairs, I was able to locate an old friend and classmate of mine from CHS, 2/Cpl. Gary Rowland.

It was really great! I've been away from Clarkston for a year now and seeing an old friend really made my day.

I'm now finishing up my 7th and final Vietnam line period for this cruise and after a brief R and R stop in Hong Kong we will return to Subic Bay, where, hopefully, I will be able to see Gary again before returning to the States.

From Subic it's homeward bound for our ship. It will take us an extra 30 days on our return due to the fact that we will be returning via: Australia, Tasmania, New Zealand and Pago Pago.

It will be a very interesting return, seeing the different countries, but out of them and the many I've already seen, I'd much rather be on my way home to my family and friends in Clarkston.

Sincerely,

Theodore E. Gougeon IC 3 USN

Brilliant

Dear Editor:

From San Francisco to Singapore to Vietnam, my shipmates and I always enjoy the Clarkston News.

The unanimous favorite among the Communications/Electronics Divisions of USS White Plains is "If It Fitz."

The man is brilliant!

Sorry, I'm out of pesos. Will renew my subscription when I can.

C.E.A. Report

Dry Bottoms

By Ruth Montney

Twenty-four seventh grade girls started their sewing experiences in Mrs. Donald Montney's second hour home economics class at Clarkston Jr. High School by cutting and sewing two dozen fitted diapers that will help to clothe babies in an orphanage in Seoul, Korea.

The girls had begun the semester with a two-week unit on babysitting, and this study nicely led into the present work with clothing.

Each girl cut an hour-glass shaped diaper from white, pink or yellow cotton flannelette. They pinned, basted, machine stitched (and ripped out stitches when mistakes had to be corrected) and carried their own project through to completion.

Because this is the first sewing experience for many of the girls, and because flannelette tears very easily — and because babies are really not terribly fussy people — more mistakes in construction were tolerated than will be the case with the second garment — an apron.

If mistakes made would affect neither the wearability of the diaper nor the comfort of the baby, girls were allowed a choice as to whether some corrections might be made.

When all diapers were completed, each was turned in with the name of the seamstress attached. Names were then removed and numbers substituted, so that all could be displayed, and each girl could see her own work as it compared with others', and could participate in grading of the total class's work, as well as her own.

Before starting the sewing project, and as a conclusion to the child-care unit, several class members had brought in sample diapers such as were worn by baby brothers or sisters. Each girl participating demonstrated what she considered the best method of diapering a baby in the particular style of diaper with which she was most familiar.

As a model, the girls dressed "Chocolate," a loveable, dark-skinned, life-sized baby doll that Mrs. Montney had introduced as her granddaughter.

The diapers produced in the home economics class effort will be sent in November, along with many more which the Do-It-Yourself 4-H Club (also of Clarkston Jr. High) are in the process of making. They will be part of a Christmas shipment that is an annual gift, flown by the Flying Tiger Airline, to the Holt Adoption Program Orphanage.

Families in this area that have adopted Korean orphans cooperate in this venture, and through them fabric was made available for the girls' work contribution.

Michigan State Police arrested Vaughn W. Friedley as he entered a basement window at the Ten-Hi Bar, 6761 Dixie Highway, in Independence Township last week.

Friedley, whose last known address was in Pontiac, is being held in the Oakland County Jail after he failed to post $5,000 bond at his arraignment before District Judge Gerald E. McNally.

Examination on breaking and entering charges has been scheduled in Judge McNally's court on March 19.

The arrest was made when police spotted Friedley on a routine check of property.

Spiritual Message

The Rev. Arlon K. Stubbe

"Jesus went into the Temple and began to drive out the merchants... (And) Jesus taught in the Temple every day." St. Luke 19:45, 47

Lent is a time for self-examination and repentance, admissions of honesty about our inner selves. It is a good occasion to take stock of our lives, to list the strong and weak points of our character and our past actions, and determine to change for the better.

Like Jesus in the Temple, we need to drive out of our lives periodically those unholy and cheapened versions of living which have resided in us over the past weeks and months. Most of the time we do not sin on a great or large scale. We do not become tarnished all at once. A more normal escalation of wrongs takes place: a few innocent slips, then one or two conscious attempts to stray from the straight and narrow path, then a couple of deliberate and sometimes pre-planned forays into the "never-never land" of Sin.

Life has a way of going sour, unless we work at keeping it fresh. In addition, then, to cleaning out the underbrush, the "rubbish" of our past mistakes, we need to do something positive also. Jesus' parable of the insane man whose evil spirit left him after therapy points to this need: unless we replace our bad habits with good ones, the bad increases.

Jesus drove the robbers and cheats and money-makers out of the Temple; but he also went back in and taught the people in the Temple daily. In these days of self-scrutiny, we ought to be cleansing ourselves of unings harmful, and replacing them with things worthwhile.

Mrs. Hutchins Rossano of North Main Street has announced the engagement of her daughter, Lee Elizabeth, to Vincent J. Sadovsky, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Sadovsky of Overbrook Drive, Bloomfield Hills. Lee's father is Nicholas A. Rossano of Fenton. The bride-to-be is a graduate of the Leelanau School and studied at Ferris State College. Her fiance graduated from Andover Bloomfield High School and attended the University of Detroit. The couple will be married on May 15.

Mrs. Wayne Carpenter

Kutting Korner

A group of gals were discussing pie crust the other day. Being a little old fashioned, I admitted that I still was making pie like my mother did.

Several recommended the new oil pastry. Maybe you would like to try it.

OIL PASTRY

2 cups all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup salad oil
5 tablespoons of cold water

Sift together flour and salt. (Or don't sift if you use the new flour that doesn't require it.) I do one way or the other just because I am a stubborn Dutchman when it comes to baking.

Pour salad oil and cold water into measuring cup (do not stir). Add all at once to the flour mixture. Stir lightly with fork. Form into two balls.

Flatten dough slightly. Roll each between two 12-inch squares of waxed paper. (First dampen the table slightly so paper won't slip.)

When dough is rolled in circle to edges of paper, it will be right thickness for crust. Peel off top sheet of waxed paper and fit dough, paper side up, into pie plate. Remove paper.

Finish pie shell following directions for single or double crust pies. Makes enough pastry for one eight or nine-inch double crust pie.

During our discussion, somebody said that if you really like flaky pie crust you should try the crust that is made with egg.

The problem was that nobody had the recipe. How about it, can somebody come to the rescue and furnish it for us? Send it to me at the Clarkston News or Oxford Leader, please.

In my search for recipes, I came across one for Bratwurst. I got all excited about trying it out, but then discovered that it required pork casings. I haven't the slightest notion where I could even start to look for them.

I'd like a little help in that direction too. In the meantime, doesn't this sound good as well as easy?

½ pound fresh veal
1 pound pork loin
1½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon grated nutmeg
½ teaspoon mace
Pork casings
Milk

Combine all ingredients; put through grinder 3 times. Mix with about ½ cup water; fill pork casings. To serve, prepare boiled bratwurst. Cover meat with hot water. Bring to a boil and remove from heat immediately. Let stand in the hot water a few minutes until firm. Drain; dip bratwurst into milk. Place in broiler and cook until golden brown under low heat. Serves 4.

Business Women hold "Friendship tea"

Waterford Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association will hold its Hand of Friendship Tea March 21 at Howe's Lanes, 6697 Dixie Hwy., Clarkston.

The tea is a membership event held semi-annually to introduce the organization and the local chapter to business women in this area. At the same time similar events will be held across the country by more than 900 ABWA chapters.

The association founded in 1949 has over 55,000 members. One of its worthy projects is the giving of scholarships to women students. Waterford Charter Chapter has awarded 3 local, worthy recipients.

The tea will feature a program entitled "Spring Into Easter - Enroll Now in Your AWBA."

Brother gives bride in marriage

Sheila Rae Fox was escorted to the altar by her brother, Larry for her marriage to Wayne Evans Carpenter on March 6.

The daughter of Mrs. Janis M. Fox of Buffalo Street designed and sewed her own bridal costume of ivory satin. It featured a lace mantilla veil and headpiece. She carried white roses and lily of the valley.

Penny Jo Fox was the maid of honor in aqua crepe with a Victorian headpiece created by the wearer.

Frederick Jones was the best man and Daniel J. Fox and Rodney Jones ushered.

After greeting their guests at a reception in the parlors of St. Paul's Methodist Church in Rochester following the ceremony, the couple left for a trip through Canada.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray L. Carpenter of Pontiac.

"King of Kings" shown March 21

The classic silent film, "The King of Kings," produced two generations ago by Cecil B. DeMille, will be shown at Sashabaw United Presbyterian Church, 5331 Maybee on Sunday evening, March 21, at 7:00.

This film is an old-timer which deals with the latter part of the ministry of Christ. There is no sound except background music.

Action is considered strong in places. Parents may wish to use discretion about bringing small children.

Visitors from the community are welcome. An offering will be received for expenses.

Camp Fire Girls celebrate 61st Birthday

The Clarkston area Campfire Girls celebrated National Campfire Week by holding a mother and daughter banquet at the Sashabaw Junior High School on Tuesday, March 16. There were 255 girls and mothers present.

Each group made its own table decorations and surprises for their mothers.

Awards were presented to the mothers who have been active in Campfire for 2 years.

The flag ceremony was performed by the Ortonville group.

Entertainment was provided by the Waterford Area Jaycees' 1894 National Washboard Band.

Hear of Sex-Ed for pre-schoolers

Dr. Dorothy Kaufman, author of "Where Babies Come From," was the guest speaker for the Clarkston Cooperative Nursery's parent education meeting this month. Mrs. Kaufman's topic for the evening was sex education for the pre-schooler.

Mrs. Carol Rausch, vice president, announces advance registration for 3 and 4-year-old children for the fall and winter term of 1971. Children 3 years of age by December 1, 1971 will be accepted.

Activities for the boys and girls this month will be a trip to the local fire station, and a tour of the township library.

Dr. John M. Bruggeman and Dr. Susan J. Alexander, the new husband and wife veterinarian team who have taken over the clinic started by Dr. Henry Raskin, check for cavities in Lance, a friendly Irish Setter.

Vet team open clinic

Dr. John M. Bruggeman and Dr. Susan J. Alexander are a husband and wife team of veterinarians. They recently reopened the Springfield Veterinary Clinic just north of Clarkston on Dixie Highway. The animal hospital was previously owned by Dr. Henry Raskin.

Dr. John Bruggeman was raised in Harper Woods, Michigan and graduated from Michigan State University School of Veterinary Medicine. Dr. Susan Alexander was brought up in New Jersey and also attended Michigan State University School of Veterinary Medicine. Both graduated in June of 1970. They have spent the last 8 months practicing in the vicinity of Elkhart, Indiana before moving to Clarkston.

Equine medicine is of particular interest to Dr. John, while Dr. Sue specializes in small animal medicine. Their personal hobbies include the breeding and raising of registered quarter horses and AKC registered Airedale terriers.

Dance benefits Camp Oakland

Oakland County Young Republicans hope to underwrite extensive repair work on docks at Camp Oakland through their charity party on Friday, March 19.

The 1200-member organization will have WXYZ radio's Dick Purtan on hand to help with their fund-raising dance, slated for 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Town and Country Club, 30333 Southfield Rd., Southfield.

The dance will also benefit WTVS, Channel 56.

Labeled "March Modes," the event features music by the Jerry Ross Five Plus One. Purtan will emcee when women's fashions from Kay Baum and new men's wear from The Barn are modeled by ten couples.

Part of their 1971 goal is to raise enough to pay for repairs needed this spring on two twelve-year-old docks on Camp Oakland's Handsome Lake in Oxford, Michigan. Estimated cost of repairs is $1,000.

The docks are used by 500 under-privileged children who also enjoy two weeks of free summer camping at the 300-acre lakeside camp. Also swimming and boating from the docks are 40 young residents of Camp Oakland's Girls' Ranch and Boys' Ranch, and 28 youths undergoing pre-vocational training at the camp's Work Education Center.

Joseph C. Bird Order of Eastern Star will hold their monthly luncheon on Friday, March 19 at the Masonic Temple. This month's menu will be fish and chips, salad, rolls, dessert and coffee. They will be serving from 11:30 a.m. 'til 2 p.m. All this for $1.25, too.

On the same date, a pancake supper is being held as the current fund raising project of the Pine Knob PTA. Pancakes, sausage, applesauce and a beverage are on their menu. Tickets will be available at the door of the Sashabaw Jr. High School and are 75 cents for children through 12 and $1.25 for adults. They will be serving from 5 to 7 p.m. Along with your dinner you will be entertained by 6th grade musicians, who will provide dinner music.

Four days later, at 6:30 p.m. on March 23, Calvary Lutheran Church will be having their annual Father and Son Banquet. This will be a chicken dinner and tickets are available from Judy Brumback, 625-3580, $1.50 for fathers and 75 cents for sons 12 and under.

The speaker for the evening will be Ray Hauesler, head of Auto Safety Engineering for the Chrysler Corp.

George Easton is recovering from knee surgery at Ft. Gordon Army Hospital in Georgia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Easton of Northview Drive.

Rev. William Richards, past pastor of the Clarkston United Methodist Church, is a patient at Ford Hospital in Detroit. He is in room 208-F and I know he would enjoy hearing from his many Clarkston friends.

The Austin Chapter 396, Order of Eastern Star of Davisburg, will sponsor a swiss steak dinner for Master Masons and their friends on Saturday, March 20 at 6:30 p.m. at the Davisburg Masonic Temple.

The Clarkston Jayettes will present 3 performances of their annual puppet show on Saturday, March 20. Edward Johnson of Milford will present his marionettes in a program with "Beyond the Moon" as the theme. Tickets are 25 cents and are available at the door. The performances are at 11 a.m. and 1 and 3 p.m.

The Chatham Club dance held on Saturday night at the CAI building was a great success. Clowns arrived in all shapes and styles. The judges had their hands full picking the winning costumes. Prizes went to Mr. and Mrs. Don Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brumback.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Miller of 8701 Holcomb Rd. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on March 5th. Lifetime residents of Clarkston, they had two daughters, Mrs. Robert Van Deusen of Grand Junction, Colorado and the late Mrs. Dan Addis of Clarkston. They have 6 grandchildren. We wish you many, many more happy years together.

Remember Saturday, March 20 is the third bottle pick-up day. Things will be handled the same as in the last 2 months with pick-ups starting at 9 a.m. Have your glass at the curb by that time. Drop off stations will again be available. If you would like to help on this project, call either Tudor Apmadoc, 625-1749 or Mrs. Lloyd Bray, 625-2218.

With spring just around the corner, things at the Jim Frietag house (or should we call it an infirmary) have got to get better! Since Christmas they have had 4 cases of the mumps, 1 broken arm, and 5 cases of tonsillitis. Oh, the joys of being parents!

As anyone can see, the Chatham Club members were really clowning around at their last party. Prizes for best costumes were awarded to, from left to right, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brumback. That is Bob on the end.

Elementary basketball program ends

The basketball program sponsored jointly by Independence Township and the Clarkston Community Schools ended on Saturday, March 13, after play on 8 consecutive Saturdays.

Approximately 210 boys participated in the program which was directed by 5 Clarkston teachers — Ken Wolven, Bob Brumback, Mort Kinser, Tim Kaul and Jim Ashmore.

Boys who officiated the program were Tom Gates and Tom Smith in the Sashabaw area and Mike Humphreys and Pat Humphreys in the Clarkston area.

Total cost of the program was $280, which was provided by the Township.

The low cost of the program is due to the fact that many boys donated their time every Saturday morning as assistants to the teachers in charge. These boys acted as coaches, actually running the drills and helping individual boys in fundamentals. They also acted as timers and were invaluable in helping the program develop at such a low cost.

The names of these boys are as follows:

Dan Brown, Mark Warren, Gary White, Don Powell, Bill Craig, Jeff Hall, Tom Hall, Dave Partlo, Dave Kirby and Bill Hamilton.

Also assisting were Kevin McMillan, Tim Humphreys, Chuck Leaf, Steve Mauti, Steve Philpot, Don Wilson, Terry Green, Dave Whitehead, Steve Ogans, and Darrel Funk.

At the 30th Professional Photographers' Convention, Alice Sayles tied for first place with Robert Peet of North Branch for Photographer of the Year of Michigan. The portraits submitted were in living color. Leta Calcote, colorist and Sheryl Dow, retoucher at Sayles Studio also took awards at the convention. The Michigan Photographers' Association is a statewide organization.

BUILDING REPORT

The February, 1971 valuation of building in Independence Township increased approximately 40 percent over that recorded for February of 1970.

This year's total was $150,000 compared to $90,900 that was recorded for 1970.

Four private homes valued at $112,000 accounted for the largest part of this year's total.

The totals for February, 1971 were as follows:

4 homes	$112,000
2 additions and remodel.	8,000
1 commercial remodeling	10,000
1 activities bldg.	20,000
Total	$150,000

The Sashabaw Neighborhood Girl Scout Troops had their annual mother-daughter banquet on February 12. The banquet theme was Valentine's Day.

Mr. Jervis and Mrs. Coulter were guests of honor. Each of the honor guests was presented with a funny card and a silly saying, while being introduced.

Mrs. Lowe and Pat Wood played guitars while the girls of troop 733 sang songs.

"It was a truly memorable and enjoyable dinner. The banquet went smoothly and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves. But, then again, thank goodness it's only once a year," remarked a member of the committee.

Sr. Troop 206 is busy planning the annual "Freeze In," scheduled for February 27 and 28. "Freeze In" is an outdoor winter camping event, where the Girl Scouts spend 19 hours camping out in temperatures from 0-32 degrees.

They are provided with bales of hay and sleeping bags and must provide sleeping comfort from their natural surroundings. All their cooking and other activities are done out of doors.

Girl Scouts chosen by the Selections Committee of the Senior Planning Board to represent Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council at Senior Conferences were: "Let it begin with me" at Chicago, Beverly Morse; "Senior Conference" at St. Joseph, Carol Galbraith and Mary Hotchkiss; "Bridging Troubled Waters," at Niles, Sandra Nagel and Shannon Lynch; "Metropourri" in Detroit, Janis Easton.

The Program Committee also announced that the following Girl Scouts had been chosen to represent Northern Oakland Council at National events: "Public Relations - P's and Q's - Vicki Johnson, and "Aboard the Queen Mary," Beverly Morse, Alternate.

TROOP 89

Troop 89 of the Clarkston Neighborhood Girl Scouts held its election of leaders at the January 28 meeting. Newly elected are:

Patrol leader 1, Kim Pursley, ass't., Rachel Byers; patrol leader 2, Diane Dodd, ass't., Katie King; patrol leader 3, Judy Tower, ass't., Cindy Pidd; and patrol leader 4, Mary Hawkins.

Troop 89 elected Holly Hawk treasurer and Michele Richmond as scribe.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

If you hear the sound of Indian dance drums, peaceful or warlike, the bugle call of the charging cavalry, or the creaking of covered wagons, relax; you're not imagining things. The Clarkston Girl Scouts are rehearsing for the World Friendship Pageant to be held February 25 at the junior high gym.

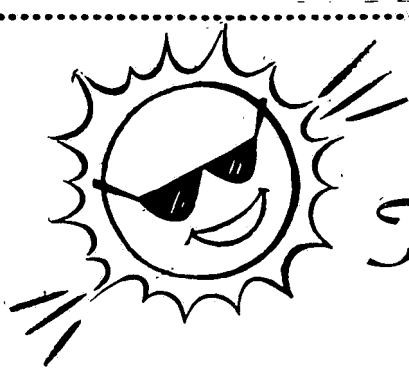

The theme of the pageant is "Our America," highlighting the 59th anniversary of Girl Scouting in the United States and the 50th anniversary of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council.

The public is invited to attend the pageant at the Clarkston Junior High School at 7 p.m. on February 25.

In the midst of our cold, blustery winter weather, Clarkston Girl Scouts are thinking spring. They are thinking day camp!

June 14 through 18 is fun week at Oakland County Sportsman's Club in Waterford. There will be cookouts, crafts, hikes, overnights, dramatics and songfests! The directors promise an escape from the daily grind of household chores for a few hours each day, an opportunity to enjoy the great outdoors and the happy sound of busy, carefree girls.

Call Day Camp Director Dorothy Gallivan, 625-3556; or co-director Betty McLeish, 625-2240. They will be happy to add your name to the list of unit counselors.

Over seven hundred years ago Japanese poets began writing a haiku. A haiku is a vivid word picture of a nature scene. Ecology topic at Garden Club

The Clarkston Farm and Garden Club met Monday, March 1 at the home of Mrs. Clifford Gardner. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Frank Lambert and Mrs. Frank Russell.

The program was a movie on ecology presented by Ronald Spitzer of the Department of Conservation and narrated by Lorne Green. A question and answer period followed.

Several of the members have been attending a creative arts workshop in Rochester and they brought their work to show the club. Among those who attended were Mrs. Florence Hubbard, Mrs. Helen Pettingill, Mrs. Lucia Wilford, Mrs. Helene Russell, Mrs. Helen Woolfenden, Mrs. Dorothy Marra, Mrs. Janete Hitchcock and Mrs. Kaki Whitmer.

Horticultural tips - now is the time to feed house plants. Remember never to put fertilizer on dry soil. Give them a short drink the day before you fertilize.

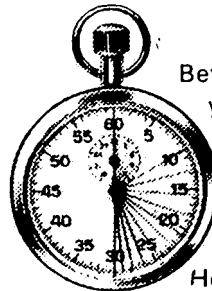

Spring is sprung and the boys do get a little frisky in the school parking lot. This group decided to celebrate the arrival of more clement weather by decorating their cars with white shoe polish.

Another Day . . .

by Constance Lektzian

A pioneer of 1835

It wasn't until 1874 that a formal meeting of the pioneers of Oakland County took place. Long before that day, over their coffee at the Hodges House and at the County's big family gatherings, such an organization had been discussed. It was felt it couldn't come too soon.

Each evolving year death had taken more of the early settlers and with them had gone their individual recollections. Those that remained felt strongly that the trials and tribulations of early Oakland County should be recorded and preserved.

So it was that on January 21st, the Honorable Thomas Drake, acting chairman, chose five men from different townships to work with him to draft a set of by-laws and a constitution. The man representing Independence Township was Nelson W. Clark. It was for his family that the Village of Clarkston had been named.

Once the organizational work was over, the pioneers immediately got to the business that day of collecting and recording personal history. Anyone too feeble to stand long enough to talk of his experiences was requested to have his story written down for future meetings.

Nelson Clark started his speech with the statement that since he hadn't arrived in Oakland County until 1835, he didn't regard himself as one of the older pioneers. He had come to Independence as a millwright and in the space of forty days he built a mill for his brother. A short time after that, he returned East and brought his bride back to Clarkston.

The couple arrived on the 5th of November and on that day moved into their first home, a shabby pole shanty. The condition of the shanty may have been the reason that Nelson started to put up a regular house on the 6th of November.

In the fall of 1831 Linus Jaycox had built the cedar pole shanty near the Village. When he moved out, the hut was left standing for the use of any who came homeless to the region.

It was undoubtedly a dismal spot to live and spurred more than one new husband into action on a home of his own. In three weeks' time, Nelson repaired the Holcomb sawmill, sawed all his lumber and built a house. It was, in his own words "... not modern in style or convenience but... made comfortable by the following January." Some time later he either added on to this house or built anew the house that still stands on Main Street.

This group that organized in 1874 evolved into the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society. Today this organization is still bent on preserving the past of this area. Present day plans are underway to start restoration work on a summer kitchen and wash house, a one-room brick house that stands directly behind the Moses Wisner Home that is headquarters for the Society.

Information is needed about the layout of summer kitchens, equipment used, etc. Someone may remember seeing his mother or grandmother stir up a family dinner in their summer kitchen or set up copper kettles to boil the family laundry. These bits of knowledge would be of great help in the restoration work.

Write or call the WISNER HOME, 405 Oakland Avenue, Pontiac - phone 338-6732. Is it possible that somewhere in the county there is a farm house where such a room is still in existence?

Announce program for Meadow Brook

Thursdays and Saturdays will be classical music nights during the eight-week Meadow Brook Music Festival this summer.

The Detroit Symphony under Sixten Ehrling and guest conductors will be featured on those evenings, and each evening will have a different program. Pianist Andre Watts will open the season as guest artist on Thursday, June 24 and 26.

Vladimir Ashkenazy, the Russian-born pianist, is scheduled for Thursday, July 8 and Saturday, July 10.

Other star soloists scheduled by Kallai for the eighth Festival season are Metropolitan Opera baritone Robert Merrill, who will appear July 1 and 3, and the highly rated 20-year-old Israeli violinist Pinchas Zukerman, who will perform on July 21 and 23.

Cellist Leonard Rose and pianist Rosalyn Tureck will appear July 29 and 31, respectively.

On July 15 and 17, the Detroit Symphony will be guest conducted by Andre Previn, chief conductor of the London Symphony.

Appearing with Previn, who will be returning for his second Meadow Brook appearance, will be two distinguished wind instrument soloists from England, clarinetist Gervase de Peyer and French horn virtuoso Barry Tuckwell. De Peyer will perform on July 15.

This year a series of operas will be presented in concert form with Beethoven's immortal tribute to the unconquerable spirit of man, "Fidelio," providing an exciting beginning.

Hans Schweiger will conduct the two performances that will take place on August 5 and 7. In the lead role of Leonore will be soprano Doris Jung and singing opposite her as Florestan will be tenor William Cochran.

Soloists will also include baritones Morley Meredith as Pizarro and William Justus as Don Fernando, bass Ara Berberian as Rocco, tenor Mallory Walker as Jacquinio and soprano Sylvia Cooper as Marzelline.

The Ann Arbor Festival Chorus of the University of Michigan Choral Union will be under the direction of Donald Bryant.

The final week of the Festival will offer 4 performances, on August 11, 12, 14 and 15, by the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, with the Detroit Symphony in the pit.

Announcements will soon be made concerning this year's Friday night jazz concerts and the Sunday evening "Symphony Pops" concerts.

Conrad Bruce, teacher and coach at Clarkston High School gives his son some constructive ideas on his painting. It was Dad's Day at the Co-op Nursery that meets at Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford.

GOUT

Gout used to be the subject of comic-strip humor, but doctors and their patients are now taking it seriously. For example, it now appears that some form and degree of blood vessel disease can be found in most gout patients. And an acute attack of gout may be the first symptom of leukemia, endocrine diseases, and various metabolic disorders.

The body normally produces uric acid from high-protein foods, and excretes it through the urine and sweat. In some persons, there is an over-production or under-excretion (or both) of uric acid. Urate crystals form in one or more joints, causing a swelling and severe pain: gout.

For some reason, 10% of those with high uric acid levels don't develop gout. But the disease isn't found without concentrations of uric acid.

At present, there is no known cure, but gout can be controlled with diet and drugs that reduce uric acid levels. This requires self-discipline on the part of the patient, and a long-term interest on the part of the doctor.

Despite the recent attention paid to gout, it was noted at a famous Midwestern clinic that only 12% of gout patients were correctly diagnosed before admittance. This suggests that gout is still rarely recognized, except in its acute stage.

Also, recent reports support the theory that heavy drinking may be related to the disease. It's been found that alcohol can produce compounds in the kidney which interfere with uric acid excretion, raising levels to the critical point.

Busy times ahead

By Polly Hanson

After many cancellations and changes of plans, May 21, 1971 has finally been decided upon as the date when the senior class will travel together to Cedar Point, Ohio.

The class sponsors, Mr. William Hartwell and Mr. Larry Rosso, wish to stress that unless there is sufficient participation, this trip will be canceled, just as the previous trips were.

Further information may be obtained from the class sponsors or the class officers: Ted Karbownik, president; Bob Garner, vice president; Debby Thatcher, secretary and Beth Cowen, treasurer.

On May 22, 1971, from 9:00 p.m. to 5:00 a.m., the junior class will be presenting the '70-'71 Junior-Senior Prom. With the theme of "Camelot," this year's prom will have many new features. For the first time, the prom will be held at Addison-Oaks near Lake Orion. The tickets will be $15.00 per couple. This price will include dinner, dancing, use of the park facilities (swimming pool, tennis courts, etc.) and a breakfast served at the conclusion of the prom. The traditional prom pictures will be taken by Ken Winship.

The junior class sponsors are Mrs. Linda Dennis and Mr. George White. Class officers are: Howard Bliss, president; Cheryl Shrapnell, vice president; Kyle Anderson, secretary and Crinker Kojima, treasurer.

Purchased by Student Council, a cassette player with 12 sets of earphones has been added to the facilities of the CHS library. A Student Council committee, headed by Cheryl Shrapnell, has been formed to supervise the ordering of pre-recorded tapes for the player. Students previously used the player to listen to the recordings of the U.S. History review lectures. Now, thanks to Student Council, students may also listen to the recorded works of Shakespeare, Twain and others.

Since the new semester began, there have been some changes made in the leadership of Student Council. Sponsored by Mr. James Wenger, the officers are: Al Watson, president; Nancy Vollbach, secretary and Kim Blasey, treasurer.

After four days of rigorous try-outs last week, the cast for the upcoming spring musical "Gypsy," has been announced.

Under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Gibson, the directing staff includes: Mrs. Pat Race, vocal director; Mr. Keith Sapos, orchestral director; Mrs. Marilyn Katler, choreographer; and Mrs. Marilyn Johnson, accompanist.

The leading roles in the musical include: Ellen Taylor as Louise (Gypsy); Debbie Hoopengartner as Rose; Jim Klark as Herbie; Vicki Rowland as Baby June; Roxanne Head as Baby Louise; Sue Surre as June; and Ron Gray as Tulsa.

Presented by the CHS Drama Club, the Studio Company of Oakland University will be presenting Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream." This occasion will mark the Studio Company's second appearance at CHS. Last year, they presented the Shakespearean comedy, "Twelfth Night."

Two performances of the play will be given in the CHS Little Theatre on April 8, 1971.

Students of CHS, rejoice! School will not be in session on Friday, March 19, 1971. There is a faculty in-service day and it will provide a much-needed vacation for all students.

Students will be glad to be reminded that the CHS yearbook staff met its final deadline and this year's "Hilltopper" will be delivered, on time, in May. A summer supplement is also included in the price of the yearbook. This supplement will be delivered in August and will include such springtime activities as tennis, golf, baseball, the prom and track. The yearbook staff is sponsored by Mr. James Chamberlain. The "Hilltopper" is edited by Carolyn Jorgensen.

Once again, a new club has been formed at CHS. Begun by Mr. James Chamberlain, the Photography Club hopes to teach its members new and proper photographic techniques. Ken Winship is currently instructing the members in the art of photography. All interested students are invited to attend the meetings.

On Friday, March 12, the basketball game of the year took place in the CHS gym. It was a fight to the finish between the girls' varsity basketball team and a team consisting of faculty, mothers and alumni. After a hard-fought battle, the girls' varsity emerged victorious. At this time, we are unable to report a statistically accurate score due to some mysterious meddling with the scoreboard. Better luck next time, ladies?

Briefly told

The Clarkston Youth Assistance Committee will select a teen of the month. Their first winner will be announced in the next issue of the Clarkston News.

Selection for the honor will be made on a rotating basis by the faculty and administration of the Clarkston Senior and Clarkston and Sashabaw Junior High Schools.

The first student to be honored will be from the Clarkston Senior High School.

Basis for the selection will be the youth's ability, concern, leadership and volunteer services that he renders to his school and community.

The annual sale of "salesman's sample clothing" will be held at the Church of the Resurrection on March 26 and 27. This year the samples of name brand merchandise will be of both men's and women's clothing.

The monthly "Trash glass" pick-up will be held as scheduled on Saturday, March 20. The collection is under the supervision of the Bottles for Building Committee. All glass will be taken to the recycling plant at Charlotte and the proceeds will be used to benefit the community. A list of collection points will be found in another part of this paper.

Oakland University's Academy of Dramatic Art in Rochester will audition talented actors and actresses during April and May. Classes will start in September for those who are accepted for the 2-year intensive course of study. Applications are available by writing the Administrative Director of the Academy of Dramatic Art, Oakland University.

The Waterford Optimist Breakfast Club will sponsor their annual oratory contest at 7:30 p.m. on March 24 at the Della Lutes School.

All Junior and Senior High School students are eligible. Applications are available at their schools.

Joseph Drumm, Plant 1 foreman at Price Brothers Company in Clarkston, completed a first-level course Friday in Wittenberg University's Management Development Program.

Areas emphasized in the week-long programs are human relations, economics, communications and business operations.

The Oakland County Ostomy Group will hold its March meeting on Sunday the 21st at 3:00 p.m. in the Oakland County Health Department Auditorium, 1200 N. Telegraph Rd., Pontiac.

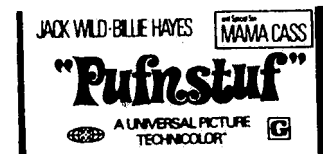

All interested persons are invited to attend.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News, 5 South Main, Clarkston.

Members exhibit art work at PCAC

A preview showing of the second annual Members' Exhibit and a special program on the enlarged "Michigan Outreach" attractions of the Michigan Council for the Arts will highlight the annual meeting for members of the Pontiac Creative Arts Center on Thursday, March 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Audley Grossman, director of the Michigan Outreach program and a member of the state's Council for the Arts will talk on "Outreach Reaches Further." Dr. Grossman will be assisted by Mrs. Dorothy Amarandos, performing arts coordinator for MCA as well as a professional musician and accomplished cellist.

The exhibit includes paintings in all media, sculpture and crafts done by PCAC members and will be judged by Joseph Franz. A Best of Show award will be presented to the winning artist during the brief business meeting. Also on the agenda is the election of directors for 1971-72.

The exhibition will run from March 18 through April 8. Hours for viewing are 1 to 4 p.m. daily except Friday and Sunday.

Deadlines

Because we haven't heard of a newspaper that suddenly materializes with all news, advertising copy and pictures in place and in A-1 condition, it becomes necessary for the Clarkston News to enforce deadlines to insure a smooth flow of copy so that as much material as possible may be printed in proper form. Toward this end, these deadlines are now in effect:

- Display advertising Tuesday, 10 a.m.
- Classified advertising Tuesday, 10 a.m.
- Letters to the editor Monday, 5 p.m.
- Wedding stories, pictures Monday noon
- Other contributed printed pictures Monday, noon
- Church items Friday, 4 p.m.
- Regular columns Monday, 4 p.m.
- Sports page items Monday, 4 p.m.
- Teen activities Friday, 4 p.m.
- Other contributed items Monday, 4 p.m.

Earlier submission of news items is greatly appreciated, with the result that more attention can be given to them. Special items will be accepted after the deadline, but will be used ONLY if time and space are available.

Requests for pictures to be taken by the News staff should be made as soon as possible and never less than 24 hours before the appointed time.

Strike up the band

by Jean Sura

I had a date the other night. The "last of the world's great spenders" took me to a college band concert. It was held in a school gymnasium.

"Gee," I said when he asked me, "I just love John Philip Sousa. I can hardly wait."

"John Philip Sousa?" said my husband (I suppose you guessed that he was my date), "listen, baby, you date yourself when you talk that way. This is a symphonic band and they will be playing a complete concert, in depth."

"The trouble with you is that the last time you went to a band concert one of our boys was in the fifth grade and all you kept saying through the whole program was something about his needing a new sport coat because his arms were sticking too far out the sleeves when he held his horn and that you would have to lengthen his pants again."

"You're a real connoisseur of good band music. All I ask is that you don't talk during the concert."

I like my band music when all the trombones, cornets and other brass instruments throw their mutes away and really give it a good blast.

I like my band music when the percussionists, those are the drummers, all get up from their chairs and get to work at the same time.

After about twenty minutes of this in-depth concert I said, "Don't you think they have warmed up long enough?"

"Warm up? Oh, for crying in a wet pillow case, they're playing a fugue. That's a very difficult number."

"It may be a fugue to you, but it sounds like they are all trying to play 'Row, Row, Row Your Boat' and forgot the tune."

"And how come most of the boys have long hair, beards and long sideburns?" I asked. "That one looks like Abe Lincoln."

"Ssssssh, they all play professionally to put themselves through college and they have to have the image of a jazz musician."

He got cross with me again when I asked why the French horn soloist put his fist in the bell of his horn and really furious when I asked what all the players were shaking out of their horns.

The conductor announced that the tuba solo would be a high note of the concert but you can't fool me. He should have said that it reached a low pitch.

I got awfully worried when two of the cornetists in the special trio turned their pages and the third just stood there. I was afraid that he had lost his place.

About this time, it either started to get hot in the gym or I was getting warm from the power of suggestion. If that conductor had worn a track warm-up suit, he could have lost twenty pounds. He kept mopping his brow until some kind soul turned on the blowers. The air sure felt good to me, but then the players all started to squirm.

Pretty soon the conductor stopped the music and asked if the blowers could be turned off again. They were blowing the music all over the room.

Before they even started the last number on the program I could tell that it was going to be my favorite. Everybody sort of relaxed. The brass section threw their mutes on the floor and all the drummers found something to play at the same time.

When they were halfway through the number, I leaned over and said, "This is more like it. It is so good that I am getting the beat right through my seat."

"Beat through the seat, huh? Well, my little dodo, if you will glance down the row you will see that the boy behind us has his foot on our bleacher and is tapping it in time to the music.

"You are really something else. Did you flunk out of third grade music?" Come on, it's all over. Let's go."

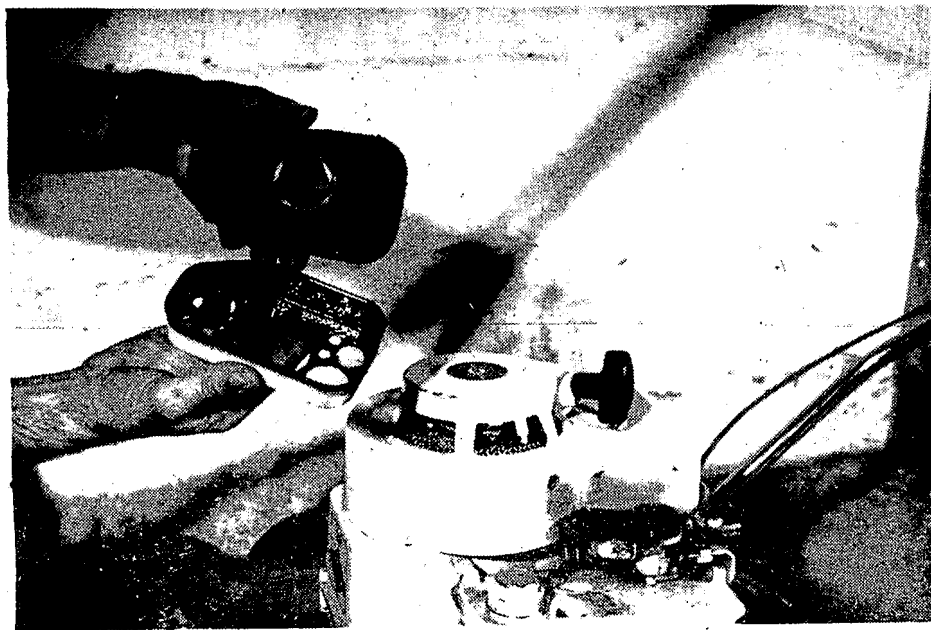

"Are you serious? They haven't played anything by John Philip Sousa. They didn't even play 'The Stars and Stripes Forever.' They don't make band concerts like they used to."

"When I was a kid, my big cousin took me to a band concert in the park. He got me a front row seat. He knew that I liked to suck on lemons and even bought me one. It was a crazy band though. Half of the players stopped playing right in the middle of one number."

"Well, little lady," the policeman said, "are you enjoying sucking your lemon during the band concert? And where is your nice big cousin who brought you? Maybe you'd better take your nice big lemon and go home now."

I didn't mind 'cause there wasn't any music anyway.

Funny thing, though, the band started playing again just as I left the park. I never did figure out what happened to my nice big cousin.

Your lawn mower will breathe easier this coming spring if you give it some attention now. Check the air filter to make sure that it isn't clogged with dust and dirt like the one shown here. Filters come in three types: oil bath, paper, and foam rubber. Your owner's manual will tell you which type your mower has and how to clean it.

Fix mower now

It's time to begin putting lawn mowers and garden tillers in shape, says Steve Bolen, Michigan State University extension specialist.

For equipment powered by an air-cooled engine, the MSU expert suggests that you consider the fuel system first.

"Most problems on small gasoline engines stored for long periods of time are related to the fuel system," Bolen explains. "This is particularly true if the unit was stored with a partially filled fuel tank."

"Fuel stored for a lengthy period of time tends to build gum deposits and varnish formations on the interior surfaces of the tank, fuel lines and carburetor."

To remove these deposits, drain the fuel tank, lines and carburetor and then flush with a commercially available solvent or cleaner designed to dissolve these deposits. In severe cases, it may be necessary to remove the carburetor and soak it for several hours in the cleaner.

It is also wise to give the cooling system a quick check, especially if the equipment was used in extremely dirty conditions.

Bolen suggests that you inspect the air passages and cooling fins around the engine cylinder head and block. All passages should be free of debris. If necessary, remove some metal shields surrounding the engine to thoroughly inspect the air passages.

Oil level should also be checked on all four-cycle engines. Old oil should be drained and replaced with clean, high quality lubricant as recommended by the manufacturer.

On two-cycle engines, it may be necessary to inspect and clean the exhaust parts which occasionally become clogged by carbon deposits. This is a common reason for power loss with these engines.

On all engines it is good practice to inspect, clean and regap, or replace the spark plug. Be sure the plug is tightened properly, Bolen cautions.

Maintenance details, along with other suggestions for improving air-cooled engine performance, can be found in the operator's or owner's manual. "Check this information now to be sure you are ready to go later this spring," Bolen says.

Fathers-sons hear Safety specialist folklore expert

Roy C. Haeusler

Calvary Lutheran Church of Clarkston will feature two nationally-known personalities at their Father-Son Banquet in the church fellowship room on Tuesday, March 23, at 6:30 p.m.

The featured speaker will be Roy Haeusler, Chief Engineer for Safety, Chrysler Corporation and a Clarkston resident. Mr. Haeusler is considered by automotive safety experts as one of the most respected authorities in the field. He has appeared before Congress, and before most of the major safety groups in North America to present his views. He has personally developed some of the safety features now found on all new cars, and has campaigned for most of the others.

Haeusler is chairman of the Automotive Safety Committee of the Society of Automotive Engineers, member of the National Safety Council's Board of Directors, Traffic Conference, Youth Conference, and Committee on Winter Driving Hazards, and member of the Boy Scouts National Health and Safety Committee.

He will show a film on Automotive Safety and discuss the work of the automotive engineer in building safer vehicles.

Tickets to the banquet may be obtained by calling Mrs. Carol Bixby, 625-2083 or Mrs. Jill Stubbe, 625-3163.

Appearing on the same program will be Dr. J. Barre Toelken, one of the nation's foremost experts on folklore and ancient languages, and a recording artist. He will explain the development of folk music and sing some of the songs he has collected in his travels around the world. Dr. Toelken has worked extensively among the Navajo Indians, and spent last summer lecturing on folk songs in Yugoslavia. Toelken, who is a professor of folklore at the University of Oregon, is on a concert tour, and has arranged his schedule so he can appear at Calvary's Father-Son Banquet.
