

Jim's Jottings

By Jim Sherman

Richard Milliman, writing for one of his 7 weekly newspapers in Michigan, says there are few enough unadulterated joys left in this world for us common folk.

He points out the sheer joy of watching a fiery red sunset, or, if you get up early enough in the morning, of thrilling to the unequalled beauty and freshness of a spring dawn.

Milliman also lists watching as a child develops his own personality.

Then he brings in the unrivaled pleasure of suddenly finding a gasoline price war. We've been in the midst of one for some time in these parts, and it truly is a joy to get a fillup for less than $7.00.

Gasoline prices have gone up and down so many times station managers either leave the ladder up to their sign permanently or hand-letter a piece of cardboard and set it by the curb.

Milliman goes on to point out the attempt by Rep. James Bradley, Detroit Dem, and a host of others, plus the 1200-member Retail Gasoline Dealers' Ass'n., to push legislation outlawing price wars in gasoline.

I'm with my fellow publisher in hoping the bill doesn't get anywhere. It would take away another of our joys.

As he says, already, the beauty of a flaming sunset and freshness of a brisk dawn are endangered by the encroachment of environmental pollution, and law is slow to find a remedy.

And the joys of watching a child develop also may have numbered days, as the sway to population control and legalized abortion give threat to the once-holy state of motherhood.

Now the joy of a gas price war is threatened, Milliman goes on. Next thing somebody will come up with a legal ban on yet another unexpected pleasure - finding some unexpired time on a parking meter.

The State Highway Dept. told this week of their measure of growth in winter sports activities in the north.

"It is rather obvious," their spokesman said, "that the huge growth in winter sports activities is attracting greater numbers of people from the southern part of the state to the north country. They have left a heavy trail of litter in their wake."

Cleanup crews are finding the heaviest accumulation of litter ever.

Seeks 8 million for damages

Eight million dollars in damages is being asked by Mrs. Sandra Lou Southerland in the suit that she has filed against Oakland County.

The damage suit names Sheriff Frank Irons and Deputy William Elliott as co-defendants.

Mrs. Southerland is the wife of Roger, 25, who was accidentally shot and wounded in the head by Elliott last January 2. The deputy had responded to a call to investigate a fight in front of the Southerland home at 7058 Felix.

Southerland had reportedly attempted to stop the fight between 2 men by firing a shotgun into the air.

When Elliott arrived, according to Sheriff's records, he told Southerland to drop the weapon and a struggle ensued.

Elliott's service revolver fired when he tried to strike Southerland in the head with it, according to the report.

The Oakland County Prosecutor's Office cleared Elliott of any wrongdoing after 3 days of investigation.

According to the suit, Southerland is bedridden as a result of permanent brain damage which prevents him from speaking or moving any part of his body.

Mrs. Southerland's suit contends that he will never be employable and that as an auto body repairman, he was earning upwards of $15,000 annually.

The couple has 2 children, aged 7 and 5.

watch glass pick-up

Volunteer glass trash collectors were out early Saturday morning collecting for the fourth Bottles for Building drive. The Clarkston Jaycees and men from Cranberry Lake Subdivision, along with interested citizens, handled the manpower for this collection.

Residents of Lake Orion, Pontiac and Birmingham viewed the collection in hopes of beginning a glass recycling drive in their areas soon. Brandon Township had viewers there and hopes to begin a drive in May.

Clarkston Pioneers worked overtime to provide a luncheon of hot, homemade sandwiches, cookies and coffee.

Committee members estimated that even with the inclement weather, the collection seemed to have more glass than in March.

The next collection will be held on May 15 and area residents are asked to continue to save their trash glass.

Art Ripley and Ray Welch were co-chairmen for the April pick-up.

Injuries slight

Township truck tumbled

A truck belonging to Independence Township, and driven by a township official, overturned on Sashabaw between I-75 and Pine Knob entrance Saturday. It was being used in the Bottles for Building campaign.

The driver of the truck was Keith Humbert, 6440 Snow Apple. Humbert, a township trustee, and his passengers, Michael Bradley, 10; Gordon Tilley, 8; and Brian Tilley, 7 were assisting with the township-wide glass collection when the accident occurred around 5 p.m.

According to State Police records, Humbert stated that he failed to see signals on the car ahead that had stopped before turning into the drive at 7165 Sashabaw.

The truck swerved, hit the soft shoulder, and upset.

The car was driven by Paula Crawford of 5179 Stevens. A passenger in her car was Jan Hall.

Mike Bradley was treated for contusions and possible concussion by Dr. James O'Neill of Clarkston and released. The others were apparently not injured.

Humbert was ticketed for exceeding the basic speed law.

Damage to the truck has not been estimated.

The Tilley boys are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tilley, 6705 Transparent, and Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bradley, 6334 Snow Apple.

Sewer use year away, Hursfall zoning legal

The Oakland County DPW director has attempted to squelch rumors of sewer hook up delays for Independence Township. The delay rumors related to Detroit's part of the construction in Warren.

To provide trunk lines for acceptance of the Clinton-Oakland interceptor, Detroit has to install some large tile. Rumors have been that costs and land acquisition have caused considerable delay.

R. J. Alexander wrote Independence that Detroit authorities have assured him that their work would be done no later than March 1, 1972. The original date was January 1, 1972.

Alexander said the county DPW is setting May 1, 1972 as the likely date for connecting local sewer lines to the Detroit branch. No lateral work has begun in this township.

Supervisor Gary Stonerock read a statement regarding the attorney's review of various documents presented him concerning former supervisor Duane Hursfall.

In the attorney's opinion Hursfall was involved in a conflict of interest situation in that property he owned was rezoned by the township while he was in office.

The zoning was legal and the conflict not criminal according to the statement. In her original charge before the board, Elva Cooke, Clarkston realtor, suggested the township charge Hursfall rent for conducting business in the township hall office.

The attorney recommended no action regarding rent.

The electrical board didn't approve Ken Winship as electrical inspector for the township. They said his qualifications were lacking for outside journeyman work. Stonerock submitted 3 more names for consideration. They have to be approved by the township electrical board.

Jack Fitzgerald of Detroit Edison, Clark Soulby, township resident, Douge Ainge, electrical contractor, and Bob Kloc, electrician are on the board.

Independence Township taxpayers have a 1 factor for this year's taxes. Assessor Bob Vandermark was successful in getting the county equalization board to eliminate their recommended increase.

Returning book money more work than worth

The court has ruled that book deposit money must be returned to parents.

Because of the ruling, Dr. L. F. Greene, superintendent of Clarkston schools, suggests that deposits not be collected in the future.

Before the start of this school year the Supreme Court interpreted the free education law to mean free textbooks and supplies. Clarkston schools complied, but went with many other schools in charging a fee to go against unusual abuse of books by students.

The fee was $6.00 per student. 6,000 students brought $36,000.

Now Clarkston schools have to attempt to return these deposits to the parents. There are records on all books as to wear and tear and who they were loaned to. The records also tell how much money was collected at each school in the district.

Dr. Greene's suggestion to the Board of Education on how to return the money to parents was to first give each school principal back the amount he collected.

The principal will return the money to the parent by check, thus having a receipt. If a student has destroyed or lost a book, there may be no deposit returned to the parent.

Because of the work involved in this procedure, the superintendent made the further suggestion that deposits not be collected in the future.

Calendars are still available

The Clarkston Women's Club will meet at the Independence Township Hall Thursday, April 22 at 8 p.m. to hear Jane Greenawalt of Oakland University talk of changing role of women today.

The club invites women in the area to attend this meeting.

Members are reminded by Mrs. Don Hughson, publicity chairman, to turn in their calendar sales money. Calendar orders are still being taken by Mrs. Stanley Darling at 625-2578.

Pros & cons of charter twp.

By Jim Sherman

The same factors that prompted enactment of the Charter Township Act in 1947 could be given as "need" for such a form of government in Independence... growth and development.

These elements evident in the period following World War II brought about adoption of this Public Act 359 of Public Acts of 1947. They are likewise evident here, now.

This article is in no way meant to influence, only inform, residents of this township on the merits of Charter Township. It has been prompted by Supervisor Gary Stonerock, who at two recent board meetings has mentioned that this township should be looking in the direction of adopting a charter.

Townships with charters in Michigan border cities. They can be found around Lansing, Battle Creek, Saginaw and Detroit, with the closest being Waterford Township.

Charter townships are said to be the highest form of government next to cities. This apparently means they have more power to serve public needs, more flexibility in administration, more bonding power and regulatory power.

In short, more home rule.

The main opposition to voting a charter for a township is also one of the selling points. The law allows the levying of up to 5 mills without a vote of the people.

This is interpreted on one hand to mean a license to raise taxes on a wholesale basis, and on the other as giving the governing board the ability to raise money to provide services expected and demanded by their constituents.

The rest of the section on millage says that the limitation of millage that can be voted is 10 mills above the 15 mill limitation. Further, present voted millage continues. Any or all of the 5 mills allowable would be above what now exists. In the case of Independence the 1 mill for police and 1 mill for fire would stand as they are.

Charter townships, which can be voted after gaining a population of 5,000, have several other allowances that promoters list as advantages.

It allows for 2 more trustees, making a total of 4. This can presently be voted if the board puts the question on a ballot.

The charter abolishes annual meetings. This, too, can be voted upon, and will be here May 11.

The township could hire administrative assistants and a superintendent. The assistant would be to the supervisor and be in addition to assessors. Up to 2 assistants can be named.

A "superintendent" would be comparable to a city manager. We've heard of no cases where a superintendent has been hired. The supervisor continues to be the head officer of the township, fulfilling all his required duties.

Ordinances enacted by the township would have immediate effect. Presently there is a 30 day wait after publication.

There would be budgetary control in that no expenditures could be made except as appropriated in the budget. The supervisor prepares the budget, and departments of the township are required to submit their needs to him by certain dates. The budget is to be adopted by Nov. 1. An annual audit is also required, as it is now.

A charter township has more licensing power and more enforcement power.

The only salaries in the Act concern trustees. Now getting $1,400 a year here, they would be cut to a maximum of $1,000.

There are many similarities between the two forms of government. Terms of office, petitions, manner of conducting meetings, quorums, voting, attendance, regular and special meetings are conducted the same.

Publications (notices of hearings, ordinances, etc.) continue as now. The duties of the clerk and treasurer are not diminished under a Charter.

Voting on a Charter for Independence

Township will not come this year unless there is a now unseen swell of public support. It is likely in our future, perhaps in the November, 1972 election.

As it is discussed, the Clarkston News will report it, adding whatever information is brought forth and repeating some of the above.

School Bus Safety Week

In proclaiming April 18 to 24 as school bus safety week Michigan's governor, William Milliken said,

"Each day throughout the United States, some 18,500,000 students are transported to and from school by approximately 300,000 school bus drivers, whose primary concern is the safety of their very important passengers.

"In Michigan, an estimated 950,000 students are taken to school and home again daily by approximately 12,000 school buses.

"The drivers of those buses cover an estimated 120,000,000 miles each year in Michigan and have compiled an excellent safety record. Among the primary factors in Michigan's outstanding record are its driver education program, the careful maintenance of buses and the watchful inspection conducted by Michigan State Police."

The governor urged that Michigan citizens exercise constant courtesy and caution concerning school buses in order that children of the state will have the best and safest possible system of transportation, and he further urged that Michigan citizens be aware of the skill and dedication of the thousands of people who make that system possible.

It seems appropriate that we in the Clarkston School District should salute our own school bus drivers, our maintenance crew and our administrators who operate the fleet of 33 school buses. Our drivers transport 4,429 students per day.

These drivers have an enviable safety record. They are well trained and continue their driver education by taking 12 hours of additional instruction each year.

The maintenance crew of 3 mechanics and 1 supervisor keep the buses in top running order adding to the longevity of the buses.

Clarkston's bus fleet has passed the State Police check-up with 100

Uncle Walt must live

It has recently occurred to me, tragically, like a kick in the gut, that some day Uncle Walt is going to die.

Skeezix was 50 years old in February, God help us all, and time stops for no man when he lives on Gasoline Alley.

Little Orphan Annie hasn't aged a minute in 40 years. Egad she hasn't even changed her dress. Dondi was an Italian orphan of World War 2 and the poor kid is still in elementary school today. Charlie Brown has been a little leaguer for 15 years. Dagwood's wife is built better today than she was 30 years ago. And Dick Tracy is the world's only active cop older than J. Edgar Hoover.

That's the way it goes in most comic strips. The characters never age. Except on Gasoline Alley, Uncle Walt found the infant Skeezix on his doorstep in 1921.

Skeezix has always been 5 years older than I, sort of a big brother. We grew up together and went to war together. We've raised our families and wrestled with milk bills together. And now we're beginning to grow old together.

But my father died a few years ago. So what about Uncle Walt? He's been aging right along with Skeezix and me. He's got to be closing in on 80. He can't live forever. Not on Gasoline Alley where everything is honest.

I'm not sure this nation can handle the death of Uncle Walt.

Look what happened a few times on TV. A soap opera star has grown sick of the suds and run away to Hollywood. The writers explained the character's absence by having him killed in a plane crash or dying suddenly of the mange. And there was great wailing and gnashing of upper plates from the public.

percent on the first inspection.

We appreciate the job that you do every day. Frequently we don't take the time to tell you of our appreciation. We welcome this opportunity to salute you.

Preserving Civilization

National Library Week is to be observed April 18-24. Its purpose is, "To create a better-read, better-informed America by encouraging lifetime reading habits and stimulating greater library use." Books have a singular importance unequalled by any other method of human expression. They are the storehouse of the knowledge and wisdom that perpetuates civilization from one generation to the next. An education is impossible of attainment without resort to the knowledge that is accessible nowhere but in the great books that have been produced over centuries. It is no coincidence that suppression of books is a first act of any despot who fears the wisdom of human experience as recorded in books that can be found in virtually any library.

National Library Week serves to remind us that we are indeed a wealthy nation — wealthy because we possess two vital ingredients of liberty — thousands of libraries where the world's knowledge is stored and freedom of the press to utilize that knowledge for the advancement of mankind.

Letters to the Editor

Annual meeting Withdraws bid

Dear Editor,

This is a note in regards to the news item published April 8, 1971, and in regards to my bid on a repair job on Paramus Dr. in Clarkston.

This bid was submitted sealed to the Township Board, and there was no personal involvement in regard to the supervisor's being related by marriage. I bid the job the same as any other jobs bid on.

Now, if the person (I know him) who wrote the letter would like to make issue further, by request, I would be willing to come to a public meeting, so everybody has a clear knowledge of what's going on.

If this person (writer of letter) feels he is right, he should not be afraid of letting the people know who he is by name.

But, I will at this time withdraw my bid, so you taxpayers can pay somebody else the extra $3,000 for the same job. I hope this will awaken some of you taxpayers that it is you, not the Township Board altogether, for high taxes.

Yours truly,
Lloyd C. Betts

Dear Editor,

The annual township meeting is one way the people of Independence Township have of expressing their views to township government, and now we are asked to vote to stop having them.

This is the first step of taking the government away from us. SEMCOG, county home rule and charter township are some of the others. Some of our local officials have proposed all of these; they have joined SEMCOG.

They have suggested we become a charter township, which means to most of us, increased taxes. They have written letters to the county supporting parts of county home rule.

Vote no on the annual township meeting proposal May 11.

I would also like to ask each one of you to join me as a concerned citizen at the township meetings, which are held on the first and third Tuesdays of each month to find out what is happening in our township.

Sincerely,
John Shiff

By Jim Fitzgerald

Housewives demanded that Professor Bob be brought back to life or they would quit buying the sponsor's soap.

That's the type of threat that makes sponsors responsive to public opinion. So now the stars are never killed. If an actress quits, she is simply replaced with another actress. The character's sudden change in appearance is explained by an overdue visit to the most marvelous beauty shop and everyone is happy.

But Uncle Walt cannot be replaced in this manner. His problem is not that he's fleeing to Hollywood. It's that he will begin to lose his believability when Skeezix celebrates his 90th birthday and Walt shows up at the party.

And the final loss of Uncle Walt will create a national uproar many times louder than any caused by a TV death. Soap operas are fleeting things, never lasting more than a few years at the most. But Gasline Alley and Uncle Walt have been with us every day since 1921.

Can you imagine the mourning when Walt is no longer around? It will be the world's most wonderful death scene. What a funeral this will be! Skeezix will get a billion letters of condolence. And several newspaper offices will be stormed and bombed.

Truly, there is a sad day coming. The more I think of it, the more cataclysmic it gets. I think this tragedy must be avoided, for the good of the nation. Uncle Walt must live.

I can't think of any better solution than a heart transplant from Little Orphan Annie. I haven't liked that kid for 40 years anyway, ever since one day I got gosh-awful sick from drinking too much ovaltine.

Win ribbons

Two Clarkston area girls participated in Michigan State University's 23rd annual Block and Bridle Horse Show, held on campus earlier this month.

Lynn Race, riding her registered Buckskin named Sunny Legato, placed 6th out of 39 contestants in Women's Western Pleasure.

The judge didn't guess that she was riding with a broken toe. "I didn't know until that morning if I would even be able to get a boot on my foot," she said.

Carol Taylor rode Miss Mohawk, a registered Appaloosa owned by Marlene Holderness, a secretary on campus. She competed against 37 students in Women's Western Horsemanship. The judge awarded her a 4th place ribbon.

"I was really surprised," said Carol. "In this class, both the horse and rider are judged. Since I have not shown for about 3 years, I felt really out of condition."

Miss Race is a sophomore studying medical technology. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Race of Allen Road.

Miss Taylor is a junior in communication education. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taylor, live on Pine Knob Road.

Blind Aids

If you know a person who is blind, you may be interested in a new type of "catalogue" that lists 300 gift suggestions for those who are without sight.

Distributed by the American Foundation for the Blind, the 39-page pamphlet lists 300 special aids and appliances. Most of these are not new items, but they are often unknown to sighted persons. That's why the catalogue is so useful in locating a gift for the blind.

Some of the items are fairly expensive, such as a machine that enables you to communicate with a person who is both deaf and blind. Others are simple and within the limits of most pocketbooks, such as a checkerboard with raised and lowered squares.

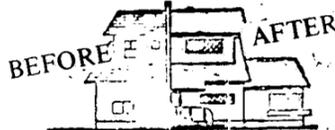

There are watches with braille dials and crystals that spring open, and insulin syringes that permit the blind diabetic to measure the proper dose of insulin without sight.

Other items: a pressure cooker with bouncing weights that indicate the desired pressure; a Scrabble game that can be played with a sighted person; pocket braille calendars; and a Scout compass and a carpenter's level that have audible signals.

A free copy of the pamphlet (either in print or braille) can be obtained from the Foundation at 15 W. 16th Street, New York, New York 10011.

“Teen” title goes to Shelley Connors

April's teen-of-the-month is not yet a teen. However, the accomplishments of Shelley Connors were enough to gain her the title from the Clarkston Youth Assistance Committee.

Shelley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barton Connors, 5840 Warbler, is the second youth to earn the title. Last month David Erickson was named.

Shelley is a seventh grader at Clarkston Junior High and will be 13 on June 8. She has a brother, Corey, in kindergarten. Her father is junior high band director.

The CAYAC gives the following run-down on Shelley: She was runner-up in the Clarkston Junior High spelling bee, just won the county water safety poster contest along with $25, captains the girls' intramural basketball team and is on the winning bowling team in the junior high league at Howes Lanes.

Scholastically, Shelley has been on the honor roll each marking period this year with a B-plus to A average. She also sits in the second chair of the flute section of her school band.

Too, she is a member of the Camp Fire girls.

Shelley's main interest is horseback riding and she is saving money toward attending horse camp at Cottonwood Farms in Dexter this summer.

A committee of school administrators and teachers selects the teen-of-the-month.

While we are in an international mood here is a vegetable casserole that is an interesting change and especially good for taking to potluck dinners.

Ghivetch, a Romanian classic, combines vegetables. "Vetch" is the Romanian term for "root," and potatoes, carrots and onions go into the dish. The seasoning gives the dish its character. The vegetables are baked with beef bouillon rather than water, and garlic and dill are added. A few drops of hot pepper sauce really enliven the taste.

You can substitute your own choice of vegetables in the following recipe. Just keep the proportions about the same.

ROMANIAN GHIVETCH (Vegetable Casserole)

- 1 potato, pared and diced
- 1 carrot, pared and thinly sliced
- 1 eggplant, pared and cubed
- 1 can (17 ounces) Italian plum tomatoes, drained
- 1 unpared yellow squash, thinly sliced
- 2 medium onions, sliced
- ½ cup fresh or frozen green peas
- ½ cup fresh or frozen cut green beans
- 2 ribs celery, thinly sliced
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed beef bouillon
- 1/3 cup olive oil
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 1 teaspoon dried dill weed

Layer vegetables in a three or four quart casserole and sprinkle each layer with salt. Heat together hot pepper sauce, bouillon, olive oil and garlic; add to casserole. Sprinkle dill over the top. Cover casserole and bake in 350 degree oven until all vegetables are tender, one hour or longer. Serve lukewarm or hot. Makes six servings.

If you are really brave (I wasn't) try another Romanian favorite.

MAMALIGA LA CUPTOR (Baked Maize)

- 3 cups water
- Salt
- 1 cup corn meal
- 2 tablespoons butter
- ½ cup of sour cream
- 4 slices of feta cheese
- 4 eggs

Bring salted water to boil and add the corn meal. Cook as you would a porridge, stirring very frequently with a wooden spoon, for 25 minutes.

Well butter a deep ovenproof casserole that can go directly to the table. Pour in the thick porridge. Cover with the sour cream and arrange the thin slices of feta cheese on top. Put in 400 degree oven or under the broiler for 10 minutes.

Separately poach the eggs, and when the mamaliga is golden on top, garnish with one poached egg per person. Serves four.

The engagement of Deborah Lynn Head to Robert Dale Nicoson was announced this week by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Head, Jr., 7759 Maceday Lake Road, Waterford. Mr. Nicoson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Spiritual Message

The Rev. Alexander T. Stewart

"Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven." Matthew 5:3

In the Sermon on the Mount our Lord described the righteousness of those who belong to His Kingdom. And what Christian is there who has truly read the Beatitudes and has not found them terrifying because, if all this is what the Lord requires of us, how shall any of us be able to stand before Him? Who is capable of all these things?

The first thing that we must note is that attaining the righteousness our Lord has set forth can never be a strictly human achievement. It only can be a divine gift. The moment we realize we cannot make ourselves humble, compassionate, pure in heart and so on, we have taken the first step toward the promised blessedness. For knowing that we cannot achieve these goals ourselves, we are in a position to give ourselves over to God so that

He can accomplish them for us. We can't make ourselves humble or capable of loving our enemies; but God in Christ can.

Oh, we are capable of achieving a certain amount of negative goodness, keeping clear of bad principles and bad habits, but even in this we need the grace of God. The only good reason for keeping bad things out of our lives is to leave room for the good things God can give. In His sermon on the mountain Jesus was saying, "Blessed is the person who lets God pour into his life. His gifts of humility, compassion, mercy, etc.

"Blessed are the poor in spirit" was properly the first Beatitude because it means: Blessed is the person who knows he isn't wise, good or strong enough to make himself good and, therefore, relies completely upon God for the positive goodness that he needs.

1900 students in test of drugs, tobacco, alcohol

Clarkston students in grades 6, 9, 10 and 12 filled out a questionnaire this week designed to determine drug use and abuse among junior and senior high students. Tobacco and alcohol are dealt with, also.

In charge of the questioning is William Potvin, assistant principal at Clarkston Junior High School and chairman of the Clarkston Drug Abuse Education committee.

Potvin explained the purposes and procedure of the questioning to the Board of Education last week.

He said, "It will help us decide what direction the administration should take in drug abuse education. We have to look first to where and how the kids got started, and the questionnaire will help us determine this."

All 1900 students in the 4 grades will be tested. The total is used, Potvin said, rather than sampling, to help give a complete picture. The cost to Clarkston schools is about $460. Results will be fed into the computer at the Oakland Schools building on Pontiac Lake Road.

This standard questionnaire has been published by Oakland Schools. 41 questions were selected by representatives from high schools within Oakland County to determine the kind of young people who experiment with drugs, tobacco and alcohol.

Representatives of the school districts met two days in a seminar funded by the Oakland County Drug Abuse Control. Representatives from Macomb, Genesee and Wayne intermediate districts were also present.

The development of the survey instrument was coordinated by Dr. Rodney Roth, Associate Director of Systematic Studies for Oakland Schools, and Ronald Cowan, Director of the Berkley Drug Awareness Program.

"Many drug surveys have been done in high schools across the country," said Dr. Roth, "but the use of different questionnaires has made it difficult to compare studies or high schools. The questions in this instrument will produce the kind of information that will assist school counselors and teachers in identifying the youngster who is likely to turn to drugs and in planning preventive programs."

Previous studies of drug use in Oakland County high schools and junior highs have indicated that the drug-prone youth as a relatively low grade average, he does not participate in school activities, he does not attend church, he dates more frequently than his classmates and he is less likely to be living with both parents. Dr. Roth and Cowan made the earlier studies.

The new questionnaire includes questions about participation in school functions, experience with alcohol, tobacco and drugs. It also asks where youngsters who have used drugs have sought help and how effective the help was.

The instrument can be obtained from Oakland Schools. The drug abuse questionnaire is composed of a booklet which will be loaned to schools and answer forms printed for machine scoring and computer processing.

BOY SCOUT

Troop 49
 Fifteen boys and leaders of Boy Scout Troop 49 went on a 10 mile hike on March 27.
 They made one stop at the Miller farm on Bridge Lake Road.
 During the stop-over, the boys had an opportunity to see the farm animals. The most popular was a shetland pony.
 A swing set in the barn provided plenty of activity but the highlight of the afternoon came when Mr. Miller allowed the scouts to play in the hayloft.

Area junior and senior high school art students were honored Sunday with the presentation of awards at an art exhibit at the Pontiac Creative Arts Center.

The exhibit, which will be on display until May 7 at the Art Center, 47 Williams St., features painting, sculpture, drawings, ceramics and macramés by art students from Pontiac, Clarkston, Lake Orion, Oxford and Avondale.

The sculpture award went to Jeff Hawke of Clarkston High School for a ceramic figure.

All the art on display at the show was created in conjunction with high school art classes.

The Art Center offers classes in painting, sculpture, music, drama and dance to all ages of students from 4- and 5-year-old pre-schoolers through adults. Executive director Derek Wernher said he plans to add classes in photography and jewelry making when the summer session begins in June.

Wernher, whose home is Metamora, is also planning other shows at the Art Center, he said, including one-man shows by major artists.

ACCESSORIES FOR THE WEDDING RECEPTION. Cake boxes, place cards, coasters, cake bags, place mats, ashtrays, stirrers. All available with name and date imprinted. Come in now and place your order at the Clarkston News.

Mrs. Norma Merriman was honored by the Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries' Assn. (International) as the secretary of the year on April 21. Her employer is J. David VanderVeen, manager of the Pontiac-Oakland Airport.

Secretary of the year

The Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries' Association (International) will honor their Secretary of the year April 21, at the Holiday Inn, Bloomfield Township. She is Mrs. Norma Merriman. Mrs. Merriman is a resident of Independence Township. She is married, the mother of 2 college graduates and a recent high school graduate.

Mrs. Merriman, secretary to J. David VanderVeen, Director of Aviation, Oakland-Pontiac Airport, has been employed by the County of Oakland for twelve years. Her great interest in travel probably contributes to the many reasons she finds her job at the airport stimulating.

She is currently president of the Pontioak Chapter, NSA, and has been a member since 1967. During this time, she has served on various committees. She was the first chairman of the Marion High School Future Secretaries' Association. In addition to these activities, Mrs. Merriman has attended several secretarial seminars, workshops and conferences.

She also has completed a Secretarial Review Course at the Detroit College of Business, and an adult education class at Oakland University. She is quick to point out that 99% of the time spent on furthering her secretarial education was done on her own time.

When asked what she considered to be the three most important requirements of a professional secretary, she named loyalty, attitude and initiative, as the most important in her estimation. With these attributes it is easy to understand why management is giving much recognition to the secretarial profession.

The guest speaker for Wednesday's program will be Lynn D. Allen, Oakland County Clerk and Registrar of Deeds.

Over 600 chapters of the National Secretaries' Association (International), which is comprised of 28,000 members, will also be honoring their Secretary of the Year this week.

Trophies to order

Bill Huffman works on a rainbow trout in the shop of the Taxidermy business that has opened its new doors at 8080 Ortonville Rd. Huffman, a taxidermist of 12 years' experience, and a native of South Bend, Indiana lives in Springfield Township. He is a co-owner of the business which was an old and established firm in the Pontiac area.

The other half of the partnership is Bob Armstrong, here putting the finishing touches on the head of a caribou. Armstrong worked for the Hilde Company for the past 20 years. When the founder retired 5 years ago he and Huffman got together and formed the new corporation. About 25 percent of the company business is large game animals from around the world. The Hilde Company clears the salted, field dried hides through customs, then ships them to a tannery in San Francisco. When they return they are mounted to lifelike images in the workshop.

James Burton of Ortonville was a hunting guide in Idaho. Here he begins the process of stuffing the hide of a porcupine. He uses straw and the artistry of a man familiar with animals to give the animal a lifelike quality in its preservation.

Doug Spangler, a 10th grade student at Clarkston High School is a part-time convert to the art of taxidermy. Here he makes a model of a white-tailed deer with laminated paper and glue. When the mold has dried, the tanned hide will be placed over it and arranged in a lifelike pose.

Family skating party benefits football league

A family roller skating party will be held to benefit the Little League Football Program of the Independence Township Athletic Association on April 22.

The party, which will last from 7 to 9:30 p.m., will be held at the Rolladium Roller Rink at 4475 Highland Rd. at Pontiac Lake Rd.

Proceeds from the party will be used to purchase equipment for boys from 9 to 12 who will participate in the program that is being planned for next fall.

A family ticket will cost $1.50 and each family must be accompanied by an adult. Skates can be rented for 50 cents per pair.

A special exhibition by the World Champion Pairs Skating Team, Ron and Gail Robovinsky, and other champions from the Rolladium Skating Club will be presented.

Contest time here for Miss Oakland County

The Miss Oakland County Pageant will be held this year on June 26-27. It will be sponsored by the Oakland County Fair.

The winner of this honor will be eligible to compete in the Miss Michigan contest in Muskegon for state queen honors. The winner of the state contest will go on to represent Michigan in the Miss America event in Atlantic City.

To qualify as an entrant, a young lady must be between the ages of 18 and 28 on September 1. She must be a high school graduate by September 1, single and must never have been married.

Each contestant will be judged in 3 areas—talent, poise and beauty.

According to Robert Newlin, Publicity Chairman for the committee, applications for the Miss Oakland County Pageant and further information can be obtained from Robert Coats, 4829 Parview Drive, Waterford, Michigan 48095. He may be reached by business phone, 674-0461 or at his home, 623-0278.

The deadline for all applications is May 24, 1971.

Abortion reform topic at meeting

The Clarkston Cooperative Nursery held the annual election of officers at their April meeting. Elected were: president, Mrs. Carol Rausch; 1st vice president, Mrs. Judy Pearson; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Jan Weber; 3rd vice president, Mrs. Laura Weld; secretary, Mrs. Connie Walton; treasurer, Mrs. Judy Carter and G.D.C.N.C. representative, Mrs. Mary Ann Heil.

Guest speakers for the evening were Mrs. Ingrid Smith and Mrs. Dorothy Schankler, who held an informal discussion on abortion reform.

The nursery children were taken on a trip to the I.M.A. Sugar Bush farm where they saw the process of maple sap being made into maple syrup and then ate a luncheon of pancakes and sausage topped with maple syrup. The children also had an opportunity to visit the new Northwest Oakland County Vocational Education Center and had a complete tour of the dental department. There they were shown the procedure of a dental office and were individually instructed on the proper way of brushing teeth.

Each group will have a Father's Day, during which time the fathers will take an active part in the nursery day program, under the direction of the teacher, and replace the mothers' role for a day.

Mrs. Judy Pearson, vice president, announced that there were enrollment openings for 3 and 4 year olds with birthdays on or before December 1st. She asked interested parents to contact Mrs. Pearson at 394-0158.

Deal 'em up! Members of the committee for St. Daniel's annual card party deal out a practice hand. The party will be held at the K of C Hall on Maybee Rd. at 2 p.m. on April 25. Tickets, for $1.25, will be available at the door. From left to right are Mrs. Nick O'Dea, Mrs. Leonard Bullard and Mrs. C. William Smart.

— TWO BIG LOCATIONS —

Village voters have 2 questions, Township 5

Registered voters in the Village of Clarkston can vote on only 2 of the five propositions on the May 11 township ballot.

Registered voters in the unincorporated portion of the township (outside the village) can vote on all 5 propositions.

The two proposals village residents can cast their "yes" or "no" on are those dealing with establishment of a Township Park Commission and abolition of the annual meeting. They cannot vote on zoning questions.

Township residents can vote on the meeting and commission questions as well as the 3 zoning proposals.

These 3 are: 1. Allowing multiple dwellings on Waldon Road across from Almond; 2. Allowing a mobile home district on Clintonville Road south of I-75; 3. Allowing commercial zoning and multiple dwellings on what is now Waterford Hill Golf Course.

Voting in all precincts will be from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in this special election.

Social studies changing

The area of social studies is an ever-changing department. A student may involve himself in this department for a full three years.

A student must complete one credit in American History, one-half credit in American Government and one-half credit of another senior social studies.

Therefore, a sophomore may elect geography I and II or world history. A junior must take a year of U.S. History and as a senior he will take a semester of American Government.

Following this, the senior may choose from several electives: economics, comparative government, international relations, labor relations, Euro-Asian studies, current events, family living and psychology.

All of the above said courses may be taken in either the 11th or 12th grades and in any sequence the student wishes.

For a student who desires a strong background in social studies, the opportunity is quite extensive. Parents are invited to call the school for further information.

The next article will examine the foreign language, vocal and instrumental music and physical education departments.

Briefly told

You can get a couple Delmonico steaks free by stopping in for the Kirby Co. of Keego, 1400 Cass Lake Road, grand opening. The news release of April 13 didn't give a time limit.

If your car has over 18,000 pounds per single axle, you can now drive on all county roads. Weight restrictions were lifted at 6 a.m. Friday... you'll be happy to know.

We all still have until May 7 to see the junior and senior high school art exhibit at Pontiac Creative Arts Center, 47 Williams St., Pontiac. However, you missed the April 18 awards show. So did we. The information came April 15.
